ABBREVIATIONS EXPLAINED.

REPORTS.

A.	...	Indian Law Reports, Allahabad Series.
A. L. J.	...	Allahabad Law Journal.
A. W. N.	...	Allahabad Weekly Notes.
B.	...	Indian Law Reports, Bombay Series.
B. H. C.	...	Bombay High Court Reports.
B. L. R.	...	Bengal Law Reports.
Bom. L. R.	...	Bombay Law Reporter.
Bur L. R.	...	Burma Law Reports.
C.	...	Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series.
C. L. J.	...	Calcutta Law Journal.
C. L. R.	...	Calcutta Law Reports.
C. W. N.	...	Calcutta Weekly Notes.
C. P. L. R.	...	Central Provinces Law Reports.
Cor.	...	Coryton's Reports.
I. A.	...	Law Reports, Indian Appeals.
Ind. Cas.	...	Indian Cases.
L. B. R.	...	Lower Burma Rulings.
M.	...	Indian Law Reports, Madras Series.
M. H. C.	...	Madras High Court Reports.
M. L. J.	...	Madras Law Journal.
M. L. T.	...	Madras Law Times.
M. W. N.	...	Madras Weekly Notes.
Marsh.	...	Marshall's Reports.
M. I. A.	...	Moore's Indian Appeals.
Moo. P. C. C.	...	Moore's Privy Council Cases.
N. L. R.	...	Nagpur Law Reports.
N. W. P. H.C.	...	North-West Provinces High Court Reports.
O. C.	...	Oudh Cases.
P. R.	...	Punjab Record.
P. L. R.	...	Punjab Law Reporter.
P. W. R.	...	Punjab Weekly Reporter.
S. L. R.	...	Sind Law Reporter.
U. B. R.	...	Upper Burma Rulings.
W. R.	...	Sutherland's Weekly Reporter.

OTHER ABBREVIATIONS.

Appl.	...	Applied.
Appr.	...	Approved.
Cons.	...	Considered.
D. or Distd.	...	Distinguished.
Disc.	...	Discussed.
Diss.	...	Dissented from.
Exp.	...	Explained.
F.	...	Followed.
(F.B.)	...	Full Bench.
Obs.	...	Observed on.
(P.C.)	...	Privy Council.
R. or Reld.	...	Referred to.
Rel. on.	...	Relied on.
(S.B.)	...	Special Bench.

N.B.—I njab Record and the Punjab Law Reporter, the Cases are known by their numbers an y the pages where they are printed ; (e.g.) 4 P.R. 1910 would mean Case No. 4, in the Record of 1910. The same explanation applies to the Punjab Law Reporter also. It ha e remarked that the Punjab Record and the Punjab Law Reporter have been divided sections, Civil and Criminal.

PRINTED AT THE LAW PRINTING HOUSE
MOUNT ROAD, MADRAS.

Books Received 1928

K UNIVERSITY LIB.
K. DIVISION
Acc No 2011
Date 25-2-70

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY.

DATE LOANED

Class No. [redacted] Book No. [redacted]

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. [redacted]

S. N. DAR, B. A. LL. B.
Vakil High Court.
SRINAGAR (Kashmir)

TABLE

OF

HEADINGS, SUB-HEADINGS AND CROSS-REFERENCES.

The headings and sub-headings under which the cases are arranged are printed in this table in Capitals and Small Capitals respectively. The Cross-references are printed in ordinary type.

APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL ... 1
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—CASES WHERE APPEALS LIE OR NOT ... 10
3.—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE... 21
4.—STAY OF EXECUTION PENDING APPEAL ... 33
5.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 37
Appearance ... 42
Appellant ... „
APPELLATE COURT ... „
1.—ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE ON APPEAL ... „
2.—DUTY OF APPELLATE COURT. 50
3.—OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL ... 58
4.—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT ... 89
5.—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE... 104
6.—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE ... 107
7.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 113
Appellate decree ... 119
Appellate Orders ... „
APPLICATION ... „
Appointed Heir ... 120
APPOINTMENT ... „
APPORTIONMENT ... „
APPROPRIATION OF PAYMENTS ... 121
Approver ... 125
ARBITRATION ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—APPOINTMENT OF ARBITRATORS. ... 137
3.—DUTIES OF ARBITRATORS ... 140
4.—POWERS OF ARBITRATORS ... 143
5.—PRIVATE ARBITRATION ... 146
6.—REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION 156
7.—REVOCATION OF REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION ... 174
8.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 182
Arbitration Act ... 200
ARBITRATOR ... „
Archaka ... „
Architect ... „
Arh ... 201
Arhat ... „
Ariat ... „
ARMENIAN ... „
Armenian Christian ... „
Arms ... „
Arms Act ... „
Army ... „
Army School-master ... „
Arrack ... „
ARRANGEMENT ... „
Arrears of Maintenance ... „
Arrears of Rent ... 202
Arrears of Subscription ... „
Arrears, Sales of land for revenue ... „
ARREST ... „
Arrest before Judgment ... 209
Arrest of Ship ... „
Articles of Association ... „
Articles of War ... 210
Artificer ... „
Artizans ... „
Ascetics ... „
Assam ... „
Assam and Bengal Laws ... „
Assam, Bengal and Agra Civil Courts ... „
ASSAULT ... „
ASSESSMENT ... 211
Assessment, Land Revenue, Madras Act. 213
Assessment of new lands, amending Act IX of 1847 ... „
Assessor ... „
ASSETS ... „
Assignee ... „
ASSIGNMENT ... 214
ASSIGNMENT IN TRUST FOR CREDITORS ... 221

Assignment of Administration Bond ... 222
ASSIGNMENT OF CHOSE IN ACTION ... „
ASSIGNMENT OF DECREE ... 226
Assignment of Revenue ... 228
Assignment, Policies of Insurance (Marine and Fire) ... „
Assistant Commissioner ... „
Assistant Judge ... „
Association ... „
Assurances, Registration of ... „ Asylums, Lunatic ... „
Atet Property ... „
Atrafi Dues ... „
Attached Property ... „
ATTACHING CREDITOR ... „
ATTACHMENT ... 229
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—ALIENATION DURING ATTACHMENT ... 236
3.—ATTACHMENT PENDING APPEAL ... 244
4.—LIABILITY FOR WRONGFUL ATTACHMENT ... „
5.—MODE OF ATTACHMENT ... 247
6.—PRIORITY OF ATTACHMENT ... 252
7.—STRIKING OFF EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS ... 255
8.—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT... 260
9.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 293
ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT ... 306
ATTACHMENT OF PERSON ... 315
Attendance in Court ... 316
ATTESTATION ... „
ATTESTING WITNESS ... 321
Attetpa Property ... „
Attorney ... „
Attorney and Client ... 322
ATTORNMENT ... „
AUCTION-PURCHASER ... „
AUCTION-SALE ... 325
Auditor ... 327
Aulad ... „
Aulad Dukhtari ... „
Aulad Pisari ... „
Authorised Agent ... „
Authorities, Local—Loan (Amendment). 328
Ava ... „
Average ... „
AWARD ... „
Ayakut Accounts ... 379
Ayautaka Stridhan ... „
Babuana Allowance ... „
Babuana and Sohag ... 379
BABUANA GRANT ... „
Bachelor ... 381
Back Fee ... „
Bad Faith ... „
Badi ... „
Badni Contracts ... „
Badni Transaction ... „
Bahi Yaddust ... 382
Bai-bil-wafa Deed ... „
"Bai-bil-wafa" Mortgage ... „
Bail ... „
BAIL-BOND ... „
Bailee ... „
Bailiff ... „
BAILMENT ... „
Bairagis ... 384
Baj Rojgar ... „
BALANCE ... „
Balance-sheet ... 385
Balcony ... „
Banco ... „
Bandhus ... „
Bania and Zamindar ... „
Banian ... „
Banian of a firm ... „
Bank ... 386
BANKER AND CUSTOMER ... „
BANKERS ... 393
Bankers' Books Evidence Act ... 395
Bank Memorandum ... „
BANK OF BENGAL ... „
Bank of Bombay ... 396
Bank, Presidency Act ... „
BANKRUPTCY ... „
Baptism ... 397
Baqquals ... „
Baran land ... „
Baroda ... „
Barred Debt ... „
BARRED DECREE ... „
Barristers ... 398
Bar to suit ... „
Basee Grant ... „
Bastu Land ... „
Bathing Ghat ... „
Batta ... „
Batwara ... „
Batwara Law ... „
BAZAARS ... „
BEAM ... 399
Beawar ... „
Begar ... „
Behar ... „

BELCHAMBERS RULES & ORDERS 399
Belief ... 400
BENAMIDAR ... „
BENAMI TRANSACTION ... 401
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—CERTIFIED PURCHASERS ... 430
3.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 445
BENCH ... 451
Beneficiaries ... „
Benefit of doubt ... „
Benefit Society ... „
Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act. „
Bengal Alluvial Land Settlement Act ... „
Bengal Alluvian and Diluvion Act ... „
Bengal and Assam Laws ... „
Bengal, Bank of, Act ... „
Bengal Calendar ... „
Bengal Civil Courts Act ... „
Bengal Drainage Act ... „
Bengal Embankments Act ... 452
Bengal Excise and Licensing Act ... „
Bengal Excise and Licensing Act(Amendment) ... „
Bengal General Clauses Act ... „
Bengal Indigo Contracts Act ... „
Bengal Irrigation Act ... „
Bengali Will ... „
Bengali Year ... „
Bengal Land Revenue Resumption Act. „
Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act ... „
Bengal Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces Registration Act ... „
Bengal Mofussil Law List ... „
Bengal Municipal Act ... „
Bengal Municipal Amendment Act ... „
Bengal Rent Act ... „
Bengal Rent Recovery, Under-tenures Act ... „
Bengal Rent Settlement Act ... „
Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act ... „
Bengal Steam-boilers and Primemovers Act ... 453
Bengal Survey Act ... „
Bengal Tenancy Act ... „
Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act ... „
Bengal Tenancy (Validation and Amendment Act) ... „
Bengal Zamindari Dak Act ... „
BEQUEST ... „
Berar ... 454
BERAR INAM RULES ... „
BERAR LAND REVENUE CODE ... „
BERAR PATELS AND PATWARIES LAW. ... 457
BETROTHAL. ... 457
Bettiah Raj ... 460
Bhag ... „
Bhagdari and Narwadari Tenures Act ... „
Bhagdari Lands ... „
BHAGDARI TENURE ... 461
Bhagdari Village ... „
Bhajan ... „
BHATTA ... „
Bhet Begari ... „
Bhoomear Tenures ... „
Bhopal ... „
Bhowli Lands ... „
Bhowli Rent ... 462
BHOWLI TENURE ... „
Bhuinhary Register ... „
Bhutan Duras Act ... „
Bhutan Duras Repealing Act ... „
Bible ... „
Bicycle ... „
Bid ... „
Bidders ... „
BIDDING AT AUCTION ... 463
Bigamy ... „
Bill ... „
Bill of Costs ... „
Bill of Exchange Act ... „
BILL OF LADING ... „
Bill of Lading Act ... 476
BILL OF SALE ... „
Bills in Council ... „
Binna Gotra Sapindas ... „
Biraja home ceremony ... 477
Birbhum ... „
BIRT ... „
BIRTH ... „
'Birt' tenures ... „
Biswadar ... „
Blacksmith ... „
Blank paper ... 478
Blank spaces ... „
Blank stamped paper signed by party ... „
Blindman ... „
Blindness ... „
BOARD CIRCULARS ... „
BOARD OF EXAMINERS ... „
Board of Revenue ... 479
Boats ... „
Bohra Brahmans ... „
Bombay ... „
Bombay Abkari Act ... „
Bombay Adultery Act ... „
Bombay Cantonment Act ... „
Bombay Civil Courts Act ... „

Bombay Coasting Vessels Act ... 480
Bombay Disputes ... „
Bombay District Municipal Act ... „
Bombay District Municipal Act Amendment ... „
Bombay District Police Act ... „
Bombay Hereditary Officers Act ... „
Bombay Hindu Heirs Relief Act ... „
Bombay Insolvent Traders Act ... „
Bombay Irrigation Act ... „
Bombay Joint Police Officers Act ... „
Bombay Land Record of Rights Act ... „
Bombay Land Revenue Code ... „
Bombay Legislature ... „
Bombay Levy of Haqqe, Etc., Act ... „
Bombay Local Boards Act ... „
Bombay Local Funds Act ... „
Bombay Minors Act ... „
Bombay Municipal Act ... „
Bombay Municipal, City of, Act ... „
Bombay Port Trust Act ... „
Bombay Presidency ... 481
Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act ... „
Bombay Salt Act ... „
Bombay Salt Duties Act ... „
Bombay Suits Act ... „
Bombay Survey and Settlement Act ... „
Bombay Town Duties, Abolition of, Act. „
Bombay Tramways Act ... „
Bombay University Act ... „
Bombay Village Police Act ... „
BONA FIDES ... „
BOND ... 482
Bond-debt ... 495
BONUS ... „
Books ... „
Books of Account ... „
BOOKS OF SCIENCE ... „
Books, Press, Registration of, Act ... 496
Books regularly kept in course of business ... „
BOTTOMRY BOND ... „
BOUGHT AND SOLD NOTES ... 497
Boundaries Act ... „
Boundaries Act, Burma ... „
BOUNDARY ... „
Boundary Dispute ... 504
Boundary Marks Act ... „
BRAHMOS ... „
Branches ... 505
Breach of Contract ... „
Breach of Contract Act, Workman's ... „
Breach of the Peace ... 506
Breach of Statutory duty ... „

BREACH OF TRUST ... 506
Breach of Warranty ... „
Breeze ... „
Bribe ... „
Bridge ... 507
Bridge Act, Howrah ... „
Bridges and Roads Act, Tolls on ... „
British-born Subjects ... „
BRITISH COURTS ... „
BRITISH INDIA ... „
Brit jajmani bahis ... 508
Broach ... „
Broach and Kaira Incumbered Estates Act ... „
Broach Thakur's Relief Act ... „
BROKER ... „
Brokerage ... 509
BROKERAGE CONTRACT ... „
Brokerage Fees ... „
BROKERS' NOTES ... „
Brother ... 510
Buddhist ... „
BUDDHIST LAW ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—ADOPTION ... 512
3.—ALIENATION ... 516
4.—ANCESTRAL PROPERTY ... 518
5.—DIVORCE ... „
6.—ECCLESIASTICAL ... 527
7.—GIFT ... 531
8.—HUSBAND AND WIFE ... 535
9.—INHERITANCE ... 539
10.—JOINT FAMILY ... 572
11.—MAINTENANCE ... „
12.—MARRIAGE ... 573
13.—PARTITION ... 579
14.—PRE-EMPTION ... 581
15.—WIDOW ... 582
16.—WILL ... „ Budget Estimate ... „
Budget Grants ... 583
Budnee Transactions ... „
BUILDING ... „
Building Lands ... 589
Building Lease ... „
BUILDING ON LAND WITHOUT TITLE ... 590
Building Sites ... „
Bullocks ... 591
Bund ... „
Bundlekhand Alienation of Land Act ... „
Bundlekhand Incumbered Estates Act ... „
BURDEN OF PROOF ... „
1.—GENERAL ... 592

S. N. DAR, B. A. LL. B
Advocate High Court
SRINAGAR (KASHMIR)

2.—ACCOUNTS ... 599
3.—AGENT ... 600
4.—BAILMENT ... 601
5.—BENAMI TRANSACTIONS ... „
6.—BOUNDARY ... 602
7.—CLAIMS TO PROPERTY ATTACHED ... 604
8.—CONSIDERATION ... 607
9.—CONTRIBUTION ... 608
10.—CUSTOM ... „
11.—DEBTOR AND CREDITOR ... 612
12.—DECLARATION OF TITLE ... 613
13.—DECREES AND DEEDS, SUITS RELATING TO ... 615
14.—DOCUMENTS RELATING TO LOANS, SUITS RELATING TO. 620
15.—EASEMENTS ... 628
16.—EJECTMENT ... „
17.—EXECUTION OF DECREE ... 631
18.—FRAUD ... „
19.—HINDU LAW ... 632
20.—HUSBAND AND WIFE ... 645
21.—INTERVENORS ... 647
22.—LANDLORD AND TENANT ... 649
23.—LEGITIMACY ... 677
24.—LIMITATION AND ADVERSE POSSESSION ... „
25.—MORTGAGE ... 693
26.—NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS... 699
27.—PARTITION ... 700
28.—POSSESSION AND PROOF OF TITLE ... 701
29.—PRE-EMPTION ... 719
30.—RENT, SALE FOR ARREARS OF. 721
31.—REVENUE, SALE FOR ARREARS OF ... 722
32.—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE ... 723
33.—WILL ... 724
34.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 725
BURGADAR ... 743
Burial ... „
Burial Ground ... „
Burma ... 744
Burma Boundaries Act ... „
Burma Courts Act ... „
Burma Fisheries Act ... „
Burma Forest Act ... „
Burma Land Revenue Act ... „
Burma Laws Act ... „
Burma Municipal Act ... „
Burman Agriculturists ... „
Burma Recorders Courts Act ... „
BURMESE COURTS ... „
Burmese Law ... 744
Burmese Woman ... „
BURNING GHAT ... „
Business ... 745
Bustoo Land ... „
Butchers ... „
Butwara Chitta ... 746
Butwara Papers ... „
BUTWARA PROCEEDINGS ... „
Byahi Marriage ... „
Byalwafa ... „
Bye-law ... „
Byragi ... 747
Calcutta ... „
Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act ... „
Calcutta Municipality ... „
Calcutta Municipality (Amending Ben... Act IV of 1876) ... „
Calcutta Port Improvement Act ... „
Calcutta Subarban Police Act ... „
Calcutta University Act ... „
Calendar ... „
CAMP ... „
CAMP INQUIRY ... 748
CANAL ... „
Canal and Drainge Act, Northern India. 749
Canal Dues ... „
Canals and Public Ferries Act ... „
Cancellation of deeds ... „
Cancellation of Receipt Stamp ... „
Candidate ... „
Canning's Confiscation Proclamation of 1858 ... 750
Canning's Proclamation of 15th March, 1858 ... „
Canongoe ... „
Canongoe Papers ... „
CANTONMENT ... „
Cantonment Act ... 754
Cantonment Act, Bombay ... „
Cantonment Committee ... 755
Cantonment Court ... „
Cantonment House Accommodation Act. „
Cantonment Joint Magistrates Act ... „
CANTONMENT MAGISTRATE ... „
Captain ... 756
CAPTOR ... „
Carnatic Act, Nawab of ... „ Carpenter ... „ CARRIERS ... „
Carriers Act ... 771
" Carry on business " meaning of ... „ Cash ... „
Cashier ... „

CASTE ... 771
Caste Disabilities Removal Act ... 775
Caste Question ... " CASTE RULES, OFFENDING AGAINST ... " Catalogue ... " Category ... " Cattle ... "
CATTLE TRESPASS ... 776
Cattle Trespass Act ... " Cause List ... " CAUSE OF ACTION ... "
Cause-papers ... 798
CAVEAT ... "
CAVEAT EMPTOR ... 799
CAVEATOR ... 800
Cemetry ... " Census Register ... " Central Provinces ... " Central Provinces Additional Rates Act. " Central Provinces Civil Courts Act ... " Central Provinces Court of Warde Act... " Central Provinces Courts Act ... " Central Provinces Government Wards Act ... " Central Provinces Land Revenue Act ... " Central Provinces Laws Act ... " Central Provinces Municipal Act ... " Central Provinces Tenancy Act ... "
CERTIFICATE ... 801
Certificate by the Tribunal of appeal ... " Certificates, Administration Act ... " CERTIFICATE OF ADMINISTRATION ... "
1.—GENERAL ... 802
2.—CANCELLING CERTIFICATE ... 803
3.—EFFECT OF CERTIFICATE ... 805
4.—ISSUE OF CERTIFICATE ... 808
5.—NATURE AND FORM OF CERTIFICATE. ... 817
6.—PROCEDURE ... 818
7.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 820
CERTIFICATE OF COLLECTOR ... 828
CERTIFICATE OF GUARDIANSHIP. 829
CERTIFICATE OF HEIRSHIP ... 830
CERTIFICATE OF SALE ... "
Certificate of the Conciliator ... 836
CERTIFICATE TO COLLECT DEBTS "
Certified Copies ... 837
Certified Purchaser ... "
CERTIORARI, WRIT OF ... 838
CESS. ... "
Cess Act ... 843
Cess, District Road Act ... "
Cess in lieu of Village Fees Act ... 843
Cess, Madras Irrigation, Act ... " CESSION OF BRITISH TERRITORY. "
Cestui que trust ... 845
Ceylon ... "
Ceylon Ordinance (II of 1889) ... " Ceylon Registration Office ... "
Chairman ... 846
Chakran holding ... "
CHAKRAN LAND ... "
Chalgeni lease ... "
CHALLAN ... 847
Chamber ... " Chamber Judge ... " CHAMPERTY ... "
Chance ... 860
Chandavand ... " CHANGE ... " Change of Attorney ... " Change of case in appeal ... "
CHANGE OF LAW ... "
Channel ... 861
CHARGE ... "
CHARIRAMNA HOLDINGS ... 867
CHARITABLE BEQUEST ... 868
Charitable Endowment ... 870
Charitable Funds ... 871
Charitable Gifts ... " Charitable Institution ... " CHARITABLE TRUSTS ... " CHARITIES ... 872
CHARTER PARTY ... "
Chastity ... 878
Chattel ... " Chauhans ... " Chdar Andazi ... " Cheating ... " Chelas ... "
CHEQUE ... 879
Chhimba ... " Chhor Chithi ... " Chief ... "
Chief Commissioner ... " Chief Constable ... " Chief Court ... " CHIEF COURT, JURISDICTION OF PUNJAB ... "
Chief Judge ... 880
Chiefship ... " Child ... "
Child-witness ... 881
Chinese Buddhist ... " CHINESE LAW INHERITANCE ... "
Chingleput ... 882

Chit ... 882
Chit Agreement ... „
CHIT FUND ... „
CHITTAGONG ... 883
Chittahs ... „
Chose-in-action ... 884
CHOTA NAGPUR ... „
Chota Nagpur Incumbered Estates Act „
Chota Nagpur Incumbered Estates Act (Amending Act VI of 1876) ... „
Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act ... „
Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act ... „
Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act ... „
Chota Nagpur Tenures Act ... „
Chowdhris ... „
Chowdhuri ... „
Chowkidar ... „
CHOWKIDARICHAKRAN LANDS ... 885
CHOWKIDARI TAX ... 890
Chowkidari Village Act ... „
Chowpatti Foreshore ... „
Christian ... „
Christian Marriage Act ... „
Chudasama Gameti Garasias ... 890
Chundavand ... „
Chur ... „ CHURCH ... „
Church of England ... 891
CHUR LANDS ... „
Circuit Committee ... 892
Circulars ... „
Circular Order, No. 104 of 1860 of the Judicial Commissioner of Oudh ... 893
Circular Order No. 41 of 1866 ... „
Circular Order No. 25 of 1870 ... „
CIRCULARS OF HIGH COURT ... „
Circular Orders ... „
Citation ... „
City Civil Court Act, Madras ... 894
City Land-Revenue Act, Madras ... „
City of Bombay Improvement Act ... „
City of Bombay Municipal Act ... „
City of Madras Municipal Act ... „
Civil Appeals Act ... „
Civil and Criminal Justice Act, Aden ... „
Civil Circulars ... „
CIVIL AND GENERAL CIRCULARS. 895
CIVIL COURT ... „
Civil Courts Act, Bengal ... 896
Civil Courts Act, Bombay ... „
Civil Courts Act, Central Provinces ... „
Civil Courts Act, Madras ... „
Civil Courts Act, Transfer of certain suits to ... „
CIV. PRO. CODE (ACT VIII OF 1859). „
CIV. PRO. CODE (ACT X OF 1877) ... 912
CIV. PRO. CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) 918
CIV. PRO. CODE (ACTS V OF 1908, XIV OF 1882, X OF 1877, XXIII OF 1861 AND VIII OF 1859) ... 970
Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act ... 2472
Civil Procedure Code and Limitation Act, Amendment Act ... „ Civil Procedure, Repealing Enactments relating to ... „

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

DATE LOANED

Class No. [redacted] Book No. [redacted]

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. [redacted]

THE ALL INDIA DIGEST 1811—1911.

SECTION II.—CIVIL.—VOL. II.

Appeal to Privy Council.

1.—GENERAL.

2.—CASES WHERE APPEALS LIE OR NOT.

3.—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.

4.—STAY OF EXECUTION PENDING APPEAL.

5.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See APPEAL.

See APPELLATE COURT.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 109 to 112 and O. XLV.

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.

——1.—General.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 596, 598, 599—Appeal to Privy Council—Requirements of law, re-admission of.—The admission of an appeal to the Privy Council is not a matter as to which the High Court has any discretion, provided the requirements of the law are satisfied. If they are satisfied, an appeal lies under s. 596 as a matter of right. The application for a certificate that these requirements are satisfied is merely preliminary and ancillary to the admission of the appeal. THURAI RAJAH v. JAINILABDEEN ROWTHAN, 18 M. 484. [R., 3 C. W.N. 24.]

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 596—Appeal to Privy Council—Grounds necessary for.—The mere existence of a point of law cannot by itself be taken as sufficient for giving a right of appeal to the Privy Council in the ordinary course of procedure under the Code. Nor does the fact of the respondent having consented to the issue of a certificate under s. 600 give validity to it in the absence of the necessary requirements for a right to prefer such an appeal. S. 596 of the Code requires that, in order to give such a right, there must be in dispute, either directly or indirectly, an amount of Rs. 10,000. If the decree affirms the Court below, another condition is affixed, viz., that the appeal must involve some substantial question of law. The presence of such a question does not give a right when the value is below the above mark; the requirement of it restricts the right when the higher decree affirms the lower. Under the provisions in ss. 595 and 600 of the Code, an appeal may, however, be granted by the High Court certifying that the case is fit for appeal "otherwise," i.e., when not meeting the conditions of s. 596. These provisions are intended to meet special cases; and to certify that the case is of that kind, though it is left entirely in the discretion of the Court, is a judicial process which could not be performed without special exercise of that discretion, evinced by the fitting certificate. BANARSI PRASAD v. KASHI KRISHNA NARAIN, 23 A. 227=28 I.A. 11, P.C.=5 C.W.N. 193. [Appr., 5 O.C. 168; R., 23 A. 415, 24 A. 236=A.W.N. 1902, 46, 31 C. 305=8 C.W.N. 225.]

(3)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596—Appeal, when lies to Privy Council.—When there is no question of law, and when there are two concurrent findings of fact of the Courts below, the decree that was pronounced by the lower Court and affirmed by the High Court must be sustained, and no leave ought to be granted to appeal to the Privy Council. KARUPPANAN SERVAI v. SRINIVASAN CHETTI, 25 M. 215, P.C.=29 I.A. 28=6 C.W.N. 241.

(4)—Decree against absent defendant—Pleader having no instructions—Application under s. 108, Civ. Pro. Code, to set aside, dismissal of—High Court's order of remand under s. 562, whether appealable to Privy Council.—On the adjourned date of the hearing of this suit, defendant was absent, and on his pleader informing the Court that "he had no instructions to proceed with the case," the Court went on, as in absence, heard evidence for the plaintiff, and gave him a decree for the claim. An application by the defendant to set aside the decree under s. 108 of the Civ. Pro. Code, was disallowed without opportunity given to him to satisfy the Court in terms of s. 108 that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing at the hearing, the theory of the decision being that the applicant had in fact appeared so that the decree could not be regarded as having been passed ex parte. The order dismissing the above application was reversed on appeal by the High Court which held that the decree was an ex parte one and passed an order remanding the case for disposal on the merits. On this order of remand by the High Court being appealed against, the Judicial Committee held that the appeal was not maintainable, because there was no final order or decision of an ultimate Court of Appeal within the requirements of s. 595 (a) of the Civ. Pro. Code, and the mere fact that the High Court, apparently on the assumption that it was such an order, had certified the sufficiency of the amount and value of the suit, could not render appealable the order not fulfilling the statutory conditions for an appeal to the Privy Council. The Judicial Committee agreed with the High Court that the lower Court was in error in having disposed of the case without considering whether the defendant was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing at the adjourned hearing, and laid down that what was remanded by the order of the High Court was merely the application to set aside the decree, and that it was that application which the first Court should, under the remand, proceed to dispose of, by allowing the defendant to proceed to satisfy the Court of the conditions specified in s. 108, and, then, if that be done by setting aside the decree. RADHA KISHAN v. THE COLLECTOR OF JAUNPUR, 23 A. 220=28 I. A. 28=5 C.W N. 153, P.C. [Diss., 1 S.L.R. 115, 34 C. 403=11 C.W.N. 329=5 C.L.J. 247=2 M.L.T. 123; D., 17 C.P.L.R. 1, 8 C.W N. 621.]

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(5)—Commission of enquiry re imputation against Native States—Appeal.—Where a Commission is appointed by the Viceroy for the information of his own mind in order that he may not act in its political and sovereign character, otherwise than in accordance with the dictates of justice and equity, it is not a Court, and, even if it were, no appeal lies from it to His Majesty in Council. In re the petition of MAHARAJAH MADHAVA SINGH, 1 A.L.J. 691 P C.=32 C. 1=31 I.A. 239=8 C.W.N. 841=6 Bom. L.R. 768.

(6)—Value of suit for purpose of appeal to Her Majesty in Council—Certificate for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council—Question of misjoinder of parties and causes of action not sufficient ground for granting.—The plaintiff instituted 19 suits of a cognate character against certain persons. The value of each suit was below Rs. 10,000, but the aggregate value of all was above that amount. One of these suits was decided against the plaintiff on the ground of multifariousness consisting in misjoinder of parties and causes of action. The plaintiff applied for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council. Held, that the decree in respect of which the certificate was prayed for did not involve directly or indirectly a claim to property of the value of Rs. 10,000, and that the question of misjoinder of parties and causes of action was not of such importance or difficulty as to justify the Court in certifying that the case was a fit one for appeal to Her Majesty in Council. ABU JAFAR v. PARBHU NATH, 1 O. C. Sup. Vol. 18.

(7)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 595 (=s. 109, present Code)—Appeal to Privy Council, leave to—Order refusing to vary or discharge report of Registrar—Belchamber Rules and Orders, r. 617—Valuation of appeal in three similar but unconsolidated suits.—Where a Court, under rr. 615 and 617 of Belchamber's Rules and Orders (2nd Edn.) merely refused to re-open a Registrar's report, held, such decision is not a final decree within the meaning of s. 595, Civ. Pro. Code, and it does not impose any peculiar liability on the applicant, and the power of interference given by r. 617 is discretionary and not compulsory. Where an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council is made in three separate suits, which are not consolidated, though the question to be decided are the same in all of them, it is necessary to show that in each of these suits, the amount or value of the matter in dispute in the appeal to the Privy Council is Rs. 10,000 or upwards. THE ROYAL INSURANCE CO. v. AKHOY COOMAR DUTT, 6 C.W.N. 41. [R., 75 P.R. 1904=137 P.L R. 1904.]

(8)—Case below appealable value in original Court—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=S. 110, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908), construction of—Special leave to appeal—Substantial question of law—Practice—Application for special leave to be first made to High Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 600 (=O. XLV, r. 3, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908)—Interest subsequent to decree—Value of subject-matter.—Where the value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance is below Rs. 10,000, the appealable value, the conditions prescribed by S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, are not fulfilled and High Court cannot grant the certificate of leave The word 'and' in the first part of S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, means 'and,' and not 'or.' [R., 31 C. 305, 13 C. W.N. 1127.] The practice of the Judicial Committee is not to give special leave to appeal in cases which are not otherwise appealable, unless there is some substantial question of law of general interest involved. [R., 10 O C. 308, 10 C.L.J. 336=4 Ind. Cas. 459.] Where a party in an Indian case comes for special leave to appeal, the case being under appealable value, and, therefore, not to appeal as of right, he should, in the first instance, apply to the High Court for leave to appeal, on the ground that it is otherwise a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council; but this rule will not bind the Judicial Committee, although that course has not been taken. As a rule, however, that course ought to be followed. [R., 31 C. 305, 13 C.W.N. 1127.] Semble:—Interest falling due subsequent to the date of the decree in the original Court cannot be taken into consideration in determining the value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance within the meaning of S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code. MOTICHAND v. GANGA PRASAD SINGH, 24 A. 174, P.C. = 6 C.W.N. 362 = 29 I.A. 40.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(9)—Value at variance with value fixed for Court fees—Perpetual injunction—Practice—S. 7, sub-s. 4 (d), Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (= S. 110, New Code).—Notwithstanding the fact that having regard to s. 7 of the Court Fees Act sub-s. 4, the value of a suit for a perpetual injunction was fixed at less than the appealable amount, the petitioner, having regard to the nature of the relief sought, is entitled to show the real value of the subject-matter when he applies for a certificate for leave to appeal to the Privy Council. HARI MOHAN MISSER v. SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH, 31 C. 301.

(10)—Valuation of appeal—Right to include claim for mesne profits in ascertaining value of appeal—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code.—In an action for ejectment, on the termination of certain leases, the property was valued at Rs. 5,460, but in addition, the plaintiff claimed mesne profits. He obtained a decree for possession and mesne profits in the Court of first instance, and in execution proceedings he put in a claim for mesne profits for over Rs. 30,000. Nothing, however, was done as regards this claim, as there was an appeal, and the execution proceedings were stayed pending the appeal, which was ultimately successful. On plaintiff's application for a certificate that the case is a fit one for appeal to Privy Council, held, that the plaintiff is entitled to take into account the claim for mesne profits, with a view to ascertaining whether the value of the matter in dispute reaches the statutory amount of Rs. 10,000 and that the certificate must be granted, as the decree involved, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to, or respecting, property of the value of Rs. 10,000 or upwards, within the meaning of S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code. DALGLEISH v. DAMODAR NARAIN CHOWDHRY, 33 C. 1286.

(11)—Several suits dealt with in the same judgment—Aggregate value exceeds Rs. 10,000—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code.—Where, although, if each case be taken separately, the value is below Rs. 10,000, yet, if taken collectively, the aggregate reaches that amount, and the cases are all dependent upon the same judgment, the case falls within s. 596 of the Code, and leave to appeal to Privy Council should be granted in each of the cases. DEO NARAIN SINGH v. GUNI SINGH. 34 C. 400. (4 C.L.R. 125, 8 C. 210, 11 C. 407, R.)

(12)—Permission of appeal to Privy Council—Amendment of decree by way of amplification of its wording—Affirmation—Insufficient time given to produce evidence—Foreclosure proceedings—Defective notice—Substantial question of law—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 596.—Held, that, where on appeal, the decree of the first Court has been so far amended as to include therein expressly, plaintiff's rights in the Shamlat Deh and Shamlat Patti with other appurtenant rights as claimed, but has otherwise been confirmed on all points, the decree has been practically affirmed within the meaning of the last clause of s. 596, Civ. Pro. Code—the addition made is simply an amplification of its wording and does not amount to a variation so as to give right of appeal to His Majesty in Council. Held, also, that none of the following defects is fatal to the foreclosure proceedings and constitutes a substantial question of law under s. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, that the notice was bound to state the actual area claimed and not merely the 1½ Biswas' share actually entered in the mortgage-deed and that as there were two deeds of mortgage, two separate notices were required, notwithstanding the fact that the second deed was one of further charge only. Held, further, that a vague assertion to the effect that sufficient opportunity was not given for producing witnesses cannot be treated as a substantial question of law. DIWAN ABDUL HAKIM v. HARI LAL, 62 P.W. R. 1908.

(13)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Decisions concurrent—Reasons for decisions divergent—Substantial question of law—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 110.—Where the decrees are concurrent, but the reasons for the decisions are divergent, leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council cannot be granted, unless the applicant shows that some substantial question of law is involved in the appeal. BANGA CHANDRA DHAR v. PUKAI BEPARI, 13 C.L.J. 501. (25 A. 109, 30 I.A. 35, R.)

(14)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Consolidation for pecuniary value—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. XLV, r. 4.—Where the fundamental question in the cases, which goes to the root of the matter, is common to all the suits, and the cases are tried together and decided by the same judgment, the suits will be consolidated for the purpose of pecuniary valuation under O. XLV, r. 4 of the Code, though a substantial question of law arises in some of the suits only, and not in the others. BANGA CHANDRA DHAR v. JAGAT KISHORE ACHARYYA CHOWDHURY, 13 C.L.J. 503. (8 C. 210, R.)

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(15)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Subject-matter of suit—Value—Foreclosure suit—Principal sum secured less than Rs.10,000—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 110.—In a suit to enforce a mortgage security, where the proceedings are entirely in rem and the mortgagor is not sought to be made personally liable, the value of the subject-matter in dispute is the amount claimed, when such amount falls short of the value of the mortgaged property, while it is the value of the mortgaged property when the amount due under the mortgage exceeds the value of the property. BENOY LAL ROY CHOWDHURY v. KAMALAPATI BANERJEE, 13 C.L J. 505.

(16)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—'Final Order'—Receiver, order appointing—Fit case—Certificate—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 109, cls. 1 & 3.—A 'final order' within the meaning of cl. (a) of s. 109 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, means an order which finally decides any matter directly at issue in the case in respect of the rights of the parties. An order appointing a Receiver is not an order of this description. s. 109, cl. (c) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, covers special cases, such, for example, as those in which the point in dispute is not measurable by money, though it may be of great public or private importance. To certify that a case is of that kind, though it is left entirely in the discretion of the Court, is a judicial process which cannot be peformed without special exercise of that discretion, evinced by a fitting certificate. Where the question in controversy was whether a Receiver should or should not be appointed in respect of the subject-matter of the litigation, and the Courts took divergent views upon the matter, certificate as to the fitness of the case for appeal to His Majesty in Council was refueed. MAHOMED MUSAJI SALEJI v. AHMED MUSAJI SALEJI, 13 C.L.J, 507. (13 C.L.J. 90, R.)

(17)—Appeal to Privy Council—Security tendered by decree holders to take out execution—Test—Report by Nazir.—Where a Lower Court on remand admits as sufficient, security tendered to enable the decree-holders to take out execution in a case appealed to the Privy Council, which security it had rejected as insufficient before the case was remanded, it must give specific reason for this act and satisfy itself of the sufficiency of the security or otherwise, using the Nazir's report for its assistance. CHOWDHURY BROJO MOHUN LUTPUTTY v. SOODA MOOYEE DEBEE, 5 W.R. Mis. 42.

(18 & 19)—Appeal to Her Majesty in Council—Application for stay of execution before admission of appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 608.—Under s. 608 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the High Court has no power to stay the execution of a decree in respect of which leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council has been asked for, and a certificate granted to the petitioner, but the appeal has not yet been admitted. Per Mahmood, J.—An order for stay of execution would not be passed under s. 608, even though, at that time, the appeal had been admitted, if, at the time when the application for stay was made, it had not been admitted. KUMAR LAL v. RANI, A.W.N. 1890, 92.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(20)—Practice—Appeal admitted by special leave—Power of the High Court to stay execution—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), Sch. I O. XLV, r. 13.—Where an appeal is admitted by special leave of His Majesty in Council, the High Court has power to stay execution of the decree appealed against. NITYAMONI DASI v. MADHU SUNDAN SEN, 8 A.L J. 449, P.C, = 13 C,L,J. 529 = 13 Bom. L.R. 419.

(21)—High Court granting compromise and withdrawal of appeal—After an appeal from a decree of the High Court by an infant-appellant has been admitted by Her Majesty in Council, the High Court can, if it thinks the compromise beneficial to the infant-appellant, accept a compromise which provides among other things that the appeal to the Privy Council should be withdrawn, and can thereupon strike the appeal off the file. NARAINSAWMY PILLAI v. CUPPUSAWMY PILLAI, 4 M.L J. 112, P.C.

(22)—Civ.Pro.Code, 1882, ss. 595, 596 (ss. 109, 110, Civ.Pro.Code, 1908,—Appeal below Rs.10,000—Certificate of fitness—Documents to be looked at—Form of certificate—Judicial discretion.—If anything of less value than Rs. 10,000, is directly or indirectly involved, it will not give the Court jurisdiction to grant leave to appeal to the Privy Council. The mere existence of a substantial question of law is not sufficient to give the Court jurisdiction where the amount involved is less than Rs. 10,000. (23 A. 227 = 27 I.A. 11 = 5 C.W.N. 193, P.C., R.) [R., 24 A. 236 = A.W.N. 1902, 46.] In considering under what section of the Civ. Pro. Code, the certificate of fitness was given by the Court, it is the certificate itself and not the order for the certificate which has to be looked at. In granting a certificate under s. 600, Civ. Pro. Code, the Court must exercise its judicial discretion upon the matter. Unless the certificate upon which the leave to appeal is based is in such a form as to justify that leave, the Court must find that leave was not properly given and the appeal must be dimissed. RADHA KRISHN DAS v. KRISHN CHAND, 5 C.W N. 689, P.C. = 28 I.A. 182 = 23 A. 415.

(23)—Rules regarding Privy Council Appeals, 14 W.R.H.C. Rules, p. 1.

—Reference to Civil Court of question of apportionment of compensation money—Decree of High Court affirming decision—Appeal to Privy Council—Appealable value—Amount indirectly involved—See ACT I OF 1894, 11 C.W.N. 525 = 34 C. 466.

—Deposition of Chief—Appeal—See ACT OF STATE, 1 A.L.J. 691, P.C = 32 C. 1 = 31 I.A. 239 = 8 C.W.N. 841 = 6 Bom. L.R. 763.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

—if lies from Governor-General's Agent in Bhopal—See ARBITRATION—MISCELLANEOUS, 12 C.W.N. 585, P.C. = 7 C.L.J. 520 = 138 P.L.R. 1908 = 10 Bom. L.R. 581 = 18 M.L.J. 266 = 99 P.W.R. 1908 = 14 Bur. L.R. 146 = 4 M.L.T. 25 = 80 P.R. 1908 = 35 C. 648 = 35 I.A. 83.

—Security from successful party—See ATTACHMENT — ATTACHMENT PENDING APPEAL, 3 B.L.R. F.B. 45 = 12 W.R. 16, F.B.

—High Court's certificate to—effect of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 13, O. XVII, r. 2; O. XLI, r. 23, 5 C.W.N. 153 = 28 I.A. 28 = 23 A. 220, P.C.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XX, r. 3, 2 O.C. 235.

—against Punjab Chief Court's order of remand—Such order not a final decree—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 23, s. 109, 52 P.R. 1907 = 34 P.L.R. 1908 = 119 P.W.R. 1908.

—Application for leave to, dismissed with costs—Order as to costs how to be enforced—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 11 C.W.N. 856 = 34 C. 860.

See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 10 C. 106.

—Concurrent findings of fact by lower Courts, not interfered with on—Document termed wajib ul-arz but really not such, produced to prove family custom—See CUSTOM, 8 A. 516, P.C.

See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIAN, 15 W.R. 19, P.C. = 6 B.L.R. 190.

—Time from which period of—is to be reckoned—See LIMITATION—GENERAL, 13 W.R. 17, P.C.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4, 5, 12, art. 179, 19 B. 301.

—Suit for damages for more than Rs. 10,000 dismissed on appeal—Amount of damages not assessed by first Court—Special leave to appeal—Value of subject-matter in dispute—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—GENERAL, 33 C. 893, P.C.

See REVIEW — REVIEW BY JUDGE OTHER THAN JUDGE IN ORIGINAL CASE, 13 B. 330.

—No—lies to His Majesty in Council from the Courts in Kathiawar or from the decision of the Governor of Bombay in Council on appeal—See SOVEREIGN POWERS, 10 C.W.N. 361 = 8 Bom. L.R. 129, P.C. = 3 A.L.J. 250 = 33 C. 219 = 3 C.L.J. 395 = 16 M.L.J. 115 = 1 M.L.T. 115.

See STAY OF EXECUTION, 5 C.W.N. 562.

See VALUATION OF SUIT, 5 B.L.R. 305.

—on question of waiver—Question of fact—See WAIVER, 11 C.W.N. 739, P.C. = 6 C.L.J. 11 = 9 Bom. L.R 651 = 2 M.L.T. 193 = 17 M.L.J. 353 = 14 Bur. L.R. 1 = 34 C. 709.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not.

(1)—Appeal to the Queen in Council from the decision of a single Judge of the Sudder Court.—An appeal lies to the Queen in Council from the decision of a single Judge of the Sudder Court, upon the admissibility of a special appeal. The Bombay Act III of 1843, enacts that such refusal is final, yet, not having received the sanction of the Crown: Held, that its finality was confined to the Sudder Court, and did not affect the prerogative of the Crown, or deprive the subject of his right of appeal to the Queen in Council. MODEE KAIKHOOSCROW HORMUSJEE v. COOVERBHAEE, 4 W.R. 94, P.C. = 6 M.I.A. 448. [R., 25 M. 457.]

(2)—Act XL of 1858, order under—Appointment of guardian — No value—No appeal to Privy Council.—An appeal from an order under Act XL of 1858 appointing a guardian and manager bears no value, and cannot be carried to Her Majesty in Council. MUSSAMUT PEAREE DAYE v. HURBUNS KOER, 14 W.R. 299.

(3)—Order rejecting application for review of judgment—High Court's Charter Act, s. 39.—Under s. 39 of the High Court's Charter Act, an appeal to the Privy Council lies from an order of the High Court rejecting an application for a review of judgment. The petition of appeal should be presented within six months from the date of the order. NAZEER ALI KHAN v. RAJAH OJOODHYARAM KHAN, 1 W.R. Mis, 13. [Appl., 12 M.I.A. 107; F., 5 W.R. Mis. 17.]

(4)—S. 15, High Court's Act, order under—Appeal to Privy Council.—An appeal will lie to Her Majesty in Council from orders made by the High Court under s. 15 of the High Courts Act. GIRDHAREE SINGH v. HURDAY NARAIN SAHOO, 21 W.R. 263. [Diss., 30 C. 679.]

(5)—Letters Patent, 1865, cls. 39, 42—Appeal to Privy Council—Review of judgment—Proceedings to be transmitted to England.—By the Full Bench (per Jackson, J., dubitante):—An order made by the High Court, on an application to review its judgment in a case of appeal previously heard, is not an "order made on appeal" within the meaning of cl. 39 of the Court's Charter, so as to enable the Court to admit an appeal against such order to Her Majesty in Council. [F., 30 C. 679; R., 21 W.R. 263.] In a case where an appeal to the Privy Council has been admitted against a regular decree made in appeal, such proceedings as applications for review of the judgment and the order of the Court thereon ought not to form part of the records to be transmitted to England. RAJA SYED ENAET HOSSEIN v. RANI ROUSHAN JEHAN, 1 B.L.R. 1, F.B. = 10 W.R. 1, F.B. [Rel. on, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 264 = 11 W.R. 145.]

(6)—Order admitting appeal to Privy Council—Competency of High Court to recall order.—Where an appeal to the Privy Council has once been admitted, the High Court cannot, by reason merely of a different view of the law since taken by a Full Bench, recall the order which it has made. In the matter of the petition of WOOMATARA DEBEA, 6 W.R. Mis. 120.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

— 2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(7)—Letters Patent, 1865, cls. 15, 39—Appeal to Privy Council.—Cl. 39, Letters Patent, 1865, does not give a right of appeal from a decree passed by the High Court in the exercise of the original jurisdiction, if an appeal will lie to the High Court under cl. 15; but an appeal lies directly to the Privy Council from the decree passed by the Division Bench of the High Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction, whether an appeal lies to the High Court or not. In the matter of the petition of THE COURT OF WARDS ON BEHALF OF DARBANGA 7 B L.R. 730=16 W.R. 191.

(8)—Letters Patent, 1865, cls. 15 and 40—Appeal to Privy Council from interlocutory orders of single Judge—Appeal to High Court from same.—By cl. 40 of the amended Letters Patent of the High Court, an appeal cannot be allowed to the Privy Council from an interlocutory judgment or order of a Judge of the High Court, without the High Court in the first instance hearing an appeal from such order and deciding upon it under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, except in those cases in which, by reason of the number of the Judges who have made such order, an appeal under cl. 15 is given directly to the Privy Council. Semble:—The High Court will, in the exercise of the discretion vested in it by cl. 40, Letters Patent, refuse to allow an appeal to the Privy Council on a mere question of practice, such an order for the production for the document. Except where the Code of Civil Procedure with its Amending Acts, allows an appeal from the orders of a single Judge of the High Court, no appeal lies to the High Court, under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and, the rules of the High Court from an interlocutory order of a Judge in chambers ordering the production of books and papers. SONBAI v. AHMEDBHAI HABDIBHI, 9 B H.C. 398. (8 B.L.R. 433, F.) [Appl., 14 B. 555; D., 12 B.C 129, 1 M. 148; R., 11 A. 375, 11 Bom. L.R. 248.]

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 595—Final decree—Leave to appeal to Privy Council.—Where the decree passed by the High Court is not a final decree within the meaning of s 595, Code of Civil Procedure, leave will not be granted to the parties to appeal to the Privy Council against such decree. TIRUNARAYANA v. GOPALASAMI, 13 M. 349. [R., 1 O.C. 207, 10 C.L.J. 336.]

(10)—Concurrent findings of fact—No question of law—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—No appeal will lie to the Privy Council, if, upon the concurrent findings of the lower Court and the High Court upon questions of fact, no question of law arises. SUKALBUTTI MANDRANI v. BABULAL MANDAR, 28 C. 190. (23 C. 918, P.C., F.) [F., 59 P.R. 1905=177 P.L.R. 1905; R., 48 P.R. 1904.]

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

—2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(11)—Malicious prosecution, Suit for—Question involved one of fact.—The only question involved in an action for malicious prosecution is one of fact. It is quite true that, according to English law, it is for the Judge and not for the jury to determine what is a reasonable and proper cause in an action for malicious prosecution. The jury finds the facts, and the Judge draws the proper inference from the findings of the jury. In that sense, it is a question of law. But, where the case is tried without a jury, there is really nothing but a question of fact, and a question of fact to be determined by one and the same person. MODY v. THE QUEEN INSURANCE COMPANY, 4 C.W.N. 781, P. C.=25 B. 332=2 Bom. L R, 939. [R., 28 C. 591=6 C.W.N. 159; 30 B. 37=7 Bom. L.R. 655; Appl., 24 M. 549.]

(12)—Remand order of High Court for retrial on merits—Interlocutory decree not appealable to Privy Council without permission—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 595, cl. (c), certificate of fitness for appeal to be obtained under.—In this case, the lower Court rejected the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the genuineness of the alleged mortgage was not proved. The High Court, on appeal, finding the mortgage-deed proved, and the claim not barred, reversed the lower Court's decree and remanded the suit to that Court for trial on the merits and the passing of a new decree. On the question arising whether, from such remand order of the High Court, an appeal lay to the Privy Council, it was held that such an appeal was not maintainable as a matter of right, under s. 595 of the Civ. Pro. Code, even though the value of the subject-matter of the suit exceeded Rs. 10,000. The High Court, although it decided that the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee existed between the parties, and directed the accounts to be taken, left it to the Court below to pass the proper decree according to the result. Whether or not the High Court, whilst directing accounts to be taken, could have passed the final decree, the actual decree as passed was so worded as to reserve the consideration of the proper and final decree to be passed to the Court below, and such a decree could not, in strictness, be regarded otherwise than as an interlocutory decree, and, therefore, not appealable without the permission of the Court. MAHANT ISHVARGAR BUDHGAR v. CAUDASAMA AMARSANG, 8 B. 548. [F., 13 M. 349; R., 1 O.C. 207, 25 A. 629=A.W.N. 1903, 159, 52 P.R. 1907=34 P.L.R. 1908=119 P.W.R. 1908.]

(13)—Privy Council Appeal—Final decree, judgment or order—Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, s. 595, cl. (a).—An order of the High Court directing execution to proceed, is not a final decree, judgment or order within the meaning of cl. (a) of s. 595, Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877. JOGESSUR SAHRI v MUSSAMAT MURACHO KOOER, 1 C.L.R. 354. [R., 18 C. 469.]

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(14)—Suit for possession and mesne profits.—Where a plaintiff sued for possession of property with wasilat, and did not (it being under the rules unnecessary for him to do so) includes the wasilat in the valuation of the suit; and the suit was valued at Rs. 5,815, but with the wasilat would have been valued at over Rs. 10,000; Held that, on appeal from a decree in favour of the plaintiff, there was matter in dispute in excess of Rs. 10,000. ANONYMOUS, 1 Ind. Jur. O S 58; GOOROO. DASS ROY v. GHOLAM MOWLAH, Marsh 24 =1 Hay 103.

(15)—Interlocutory order — Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council — Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 594, 595 and 596.—No leave could or ought to be granted by the High Court for appealing to the Privy Council from an interlocutory order, for instance, an order of the High Court cancelling, on the ground of want of jurisdiction, a District Judge's order in execution-proceedings, transferred to his own file from that of a Subordinate Judge, and remitting the case for the disposal of the execution petition on the merits, with a direction that the record of the case should be returned to the Subordinate Judge. PALAK DHARI RAI v. RADHA PRASAD SINGH, 2 A. 65.

(16)—Civ. Pro. Code (X of 1877), ss. 595, 600—Interlocutory order in partnership suit not a final decree or order.—The order passed by the High Court on appeal, in this suit for accounts, that the plaintiffs cannot be permitted to get their accounts taken in the manner suggested by them, unless they would consent to give the defendants certain credit in their accounts, was held to be not such a final order within the meaning of cl. (b) of s 595 of the Civ. Pro. Code, as to entitle the plaintiffs to the certificate of appeal to the Privy Council applied for by them under s. 600 of the Civ. Pro. Code. ABEN SHA SABIT ALI v. CASSIRO BABA SAHEB HOLKAR, 6 B. 260. [R., 8 B. 548, 1 O.C. 205, 52 P.R. 1907 = 34 P.L.R. 1908 = 119 P.W.R. 1908.]

(17)—Final decree — Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 595 (a).—In a suit for filing an award made on a private reference to arbitration, the Court of first instance passed an order directing the filing of the award, but without passing a judgment and decree according to the award. The plaintiff's application to the Court to supply the omission and give judgment accordin to the award and a decree to follow it, was erroneously styled an application for review of judgment, which was granted. On appeal from such order on the ground that the reveiw had been improperly granted the High Court held that the order of the lower Court was not appealable, as it was not passed on review of judgment, but really passed on an application to have judgment and decree passed upon the basis of the award which had been filed in Court. Held that such order of the High Court was not a final decree such as would authorise an appeal to the Privy Council. RAMADHIN MAHTON v. GANESH, 4 A. 238.

(18)—Decree for account—"Final" decree, meaning of — Appeal to Privy Council — Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 595, 601—Leave to appeal to Privy Council refused by High Court—Application for special leave to appeal · Crown's prerogative right to admit appeal—Practice.—Where a decree for an account, though not declaring in terms the liability of the defendant, directs accounts to be taken which the defendant had contended ought not to be taken at all, it must be held that it contains within itself an assertion that, if a balance is found against the defendant on those accounts, the defendant is bound to pay it. The form of the decree (though the account had not been taken under it) being as if it affirmed the liability of the defendant to pay something on each one of the several claims of the plaintiff, it is a "final" decree within the meaning of s. 595, Civ. Pro. Code (1882) for purposes of appeal to the Privy Council. [F., 17 A. 112=5 M.L.J. 20, P.C., 36 C. 493=12 C.W.N. 1102=2 Ind. Cas. 553, 7 Ind. Cas. 622; Appl., 8 C.L.J. 168=35 C. 618=12 C.W.N. 545; R., 22 C, 928, 4 Bom. L.R. 212, 109 P.L.R. 1903, 10 C. L.J. 336, 21 M.L.J. 1; D., 11 O.C. 169.] Where a party, on the refusal of the High Court to grant the necessary certificate for appealing to the Privy Council, applies to the Privy Council for an exercise of the prerogative right of the Crown to admit an appeal, held that the application may be granted in a case where it is found that the Court below has refused the certificate for a reason which, in the opinion of the Privy Council, is an unsound one. Held, further, that leave could also be granted on any other ground (if any should appear) besides the one last mentioned. RAHIMBHOY HARIBHOY v. C. A. TURNER, 15 B. 155, P.C. = 18 I.A. 6.

(19)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 600, 601—Order of High Court refusing certificate to appeal to Privy Council—Remand order by High Court, whether final order for purposes of admission of such appeal.—Plaintiff's case was that the property in suit was the subject of gift under a will in favour of certain persons who also figured as defendants. The contention of the main defendants amounted to the denial of any such valid gift having been made under a will to the grantors of the plaintiff. The High Court, differing from the Court of first instance, decided that there had been a valid gift as alleged by the plaintiff and remanded the case to that Court under s. 562 of the Code. Leave to appeal to the Privy Council having been applied for, the High Court refused it on the ground that the order objected to was not a final order. On a petition to the Privy Council for special leave to appeal from the High Court's order refusing the certificate, the Judicial Committee granted such leave, on the ground that the order complained of, although it purported to be an order of remand by the High Court to the first Court, was in effect a final decree for the purposes of appeal to the Privy Council. The decision of the High Court went far to conclude the whole case inasmuch as the will in question was the cardinal point of the suit, and as after the decision of the High Court that could never be disputed again, their order was a final one, even though there might have been other subordinate inquiries to make, and the High Court should not have refused the certificate to appeal, on the sole ground that the order objected to was one of remand which, according to the usual practice, could not be treated as a final order. SAYYED MUZHAR HOSSEIN v. MUSSAMMAT BODHA BIBI, 17 A 112=22 I.A. 1, P.C. (15 B. 155=18 I.A. 6, R. & F.) [F., 22 A. 405, 35 C. 619=12 C.W.N. 545=8 C.L.J. 168; R., 29 C. 758=5 C.W.N. 617, 25 A. 629, 23 A.W.N. 159, 11 O.C. 169, 31 A. 545, 10 C.L.J. 336; D., 18 A. 19=15 A.W.N. 134, F.B., 1 O.C. 206, 52 P.R. 1907=34 P. L. R. 1908=119 P.W.R. 1908, 6 M.L.T. 94=6 A.L.J. 786.]

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(20)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596 (=s. 110, New Code)—Leave to appeal to Privy Council—Decree dismissing appeal to High Court for default of prosecution, if amounts to affirming of Lower Court's decree.—In a petition for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, the question for determination was whether the decree sought to be appealed from was one affirming the decision of the Court immediately below. The circumstances were as follow:—On the day of the hearing of the appeal by the High Court, the necessary papers had not been translated nor printed owing to the negligence of the appellant, and consequently the appeal could not be supported. The appeal was dismissed thereupon. Held that the decree of the High Court was one affirming the decision of the Court immediately below, within the meaning of s. 596, Civ. Pro. Code. BENI RAI v. RAM LAKHAN RAI, 20 A. 367=A.W.N. 1898, 77.

(21)—Pleadership examination—Notification that candidate has passed—Cancelment of notification on ground of error—Appeal to Privy Council—Civ. Pro. Code, Ch. XLV.—Where, owing to a miscalculation in the number of marks, a candidate for the Pleadership Examination was erroneously declared in the Gazette to have passed, and on discovery of the error, the declaration was cancelled in respect of such candidate, and his application to the High Court for inclusion of his name in the list of successful candidates was refused, such refusal was one to which Ch. XLV of the Civ. Pro. Code, did not apply, and in which the High Court was not concerned to give or refuse leave to appeal to the Privy Council. In the matter of the petition of SUKHNANDAN LAL, 6 A. 163, F.B.=A.W.N. 1884, 15.

(22)—Interlocutory order of High Court—Appeal to Privy Council against such order.—Under the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, the High Court has no power to give leave to appeal to the Privy Council from an order of the High Court directing a hearing on the merits that order not being a decree, but an interlocutory order. Nor has it any such power under cl. 31 of the Letters Patent, as its provisions have been, by implication, repealed by the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877 and by Act VI of 1874. TETLEY v. JAI SHANKAR, 1 A. 726. [R., 52 P.R. 1907=34 P L R. 1908=119 P. W. R. 1908.]

(23)—Privy Council Appeals Act—Construction.—The words "Court of highest civil jurisdiction in any Province" in Act II of 1863 have reference to the general jurisdiction of the Courts, and not to the finality of their decisions in particular cases; and a Subordinate Court under the Oudh Civil Courts Act (XXXII of 1871) cannot admit an appeal to the Privy Council even where its decision is final. (Note)—In the Privy Council Appeals Act of 1874, the words "Court of final appellate jurisdiction" were substituted. HARDEO BUX v. JAWAHER SINGH, 3 C. 522=4 I.A. 178, P C.

(24)—Act X of 1877, s. 596—Appeal to Privy Council—Value of subject-matter—Three suits, involving same question of title, against same defendant—Stay of execution—Appeal to Privy Council—Power of High Court—Restitution of possession of property.—The aggregate value of three suits amounted to more than Rs. 10,000, though the value of each suit was under that sum. As the decree in each case involved indirectly a question of title to property of the amount or value of Rs. 10,000, the Court granted leave to the defendant to appeal to the Privy Council under the second clause of s. 596 of Act X of 1877. [R., 33 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67, 34 C. 400.] Under s. 608, the Court can stay execution of a decree of the High Court in a suit subsequently taken on appeal to Her Majesty in Council. Quære:—Whether the Court is competent to order restitution of possession of property already taken in execution of its own decree pending an appeal to the Privy Council? KHAJAH ASHANULLA v. KAROONAMOYI CHOWDHRY, 4 C.L.R. 125. [R., 33 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67, 34 C. 400.]

(25)—Question of law.—The substantial question of law, in order to give a right of appeal to the Privy Council, in a case where the appellate Court in India has confirmed the decree of the Court of first instance, is not limited to a question of law arising out of the facts as found by the Court. A question of law arising on the evidence taken in the case, irrespective of the findings thereon, is enough to give a right of appeal. MORAN v. MITTU BIBEE, 2 C. 228. [Cons., 23 A. 94=A.W.N. 1901, 8; R., 20 B. 699.]

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 596—"Affirming" judgment of lower Court—Appeal to the Privy Council—Where there were questions of law and of fact involved in a case, and the lower Court decided against plaintiff on two issues of fact which it considered sufficient for disposing of the case, without trying the remaining issues, and the High Court decided in favour of the plaintiff on these two issues, but decided against him on a further question of fact and finally came to the same conclusion on the facts as the lower Court, though not agreeing with that Court on all its findings and its reasons, held, on an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, that the High Court did not "affirm" the lower Court's judgment within the meaning of s. 596 of the Code and that there were moreover substantial points of law entitling the plaintiff to appeal, although such questions of law might not be material for the decision of the case. ASHGAR REZA v. HYDER REZA, 16 C. 287. [F., 20 B. 699; Diss, 48 P R. 1904; D., 21 C. 523, 20 A. 367.] See also, GOPINATH BIRHAR v. GOLUCK CHUNDER BOSE, 16 C. 292 (Note). [Diss., 28 C. 190, 48 P.R. 1904; R., 23 A. 94=A.W.N. 1901, 8.]

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(27)—Order in execution-proceedings—Appeal to Privy Council.—An order passed by the High Court in the Miscellaneous Department in execution-proceedings, in which the amount or value involved exceeds Rs. 10,000 as well, as any other cases in which the Court shall admit an appeal when the amount or value below Rs. 10,000 is appealable to the Privy Council. MUSSAMMAT VELAETY BEGUM v. RUGGHONATH PERSAD, B L R. Sup. Vol. 747=2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 263=8 W.R. 147. [R., 1 C.L R. 354.]

(28)—Appeal to Privy Council—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596—Substantial question of law.—Per Jardine, J.—Where the High Court in appeal has confirmed the decree of the lower Court, and has taken substantially the same view of the facts, and where, upon the facts as found by both Courts, no question of law arises, leave to appeal to the Privy Council should not be granted. Per Ranade, J.—There is a distinction between the confirmation of a decree and the affirmation of the decision and findings of the Court of first instance, by the High Court. The substantial question of law referred to in s. 596 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, need not directly arise out of the concurrent findings of fact; but it is enough if it is involved in those findings, and can, if the appeal is allowed, be raised in the course of the argument. In re VISHWAMBHAR PANDIT, 20 B. 699. (16 C. 287, 2 C. 232, 17 C 247, 18 C. 23, R.) [R. 23 A 94=A.W.N. 1901, 8.]

(29)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596 (=s. 110, new Code)—Appeal to Privy Council—Substantial question of law—Non-production of succession certificate before lower Court—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), s. 4.—The High Court affirmed a decision of the Court below which granted execution of a decree to a representative of the decree-holder without the production of a succession certificate, under s. 4 of Act VII of 1889, upon its being shown to the High Court that such succession certificate had been obtained by the decree-holder before the order appealed from had been passed, and upon the certificate being produced in the High Court before the appeal was determined. The judgment-debtor applied for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council against this order. Held that the objection, that an application for execution was improperly granted by reason of the non-production of the succession certificate before the lower Court, does not raise a "substantial question of law" within the meaning of s 596, Civ. Pro. Code, so as to admit of an appeal to the Privy Council. SHUJA ALI KHAN v. RAM KUAR, 20 A. 118 =A.W.N. 1897, 220.

(30)—Ss.—596, 600, Act XIV of 1882 (Civ. Pro. Code)—Findings of fact of two Courts in effect the same—No point of law involved—Finding of appellate Court not in terms coinciding with that of original Court, not a ground of appeal to Privy Council.—Where the findings of fact of two Courts (though not concurrent) are in effect the same, and there is no point of law involved, the simple fact that the finding of the appellate Court does not in terms coincide with the finding of the original Court is not enough to give a right of appeal to the Privy Council, though the value of the suit is over the appealable value. THOMPSON v. CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS Co., 21 C. 523. (16 C. 287, D.)

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 596—Concurrent finding of fact by lower Courts—Leave to appeal to Privy Council, whether could be granted by High Court.—Where the question at issue between the parties, which was merely one of fact, had been decided against the defendant-appellant by both the Courts below, no appeal being open to the appellant under s. 569 of the Civ. Pro. Code, unless he could show to the High Court that there was a substantial question of law involved, leave to appeal to the Privy Council should not, in such a case, be granted by the High Court. KUAR NIRBHAI DAS v. RANI KUAR, 16 A. 274, P.C.

(32)—Concurrent findings of fact—No question of law.—An appeal to Privy Council cannot be entertained, if no question of law, either as to the construction of documents or any other point, is raised, and if there are concurrent findings of the two Courts below on the oral and documentary evidence submitted to them. TULSHI PERSAD BHAKAT v. BENAYEK MISSER, 23 C. 918. P.C.=23 I.A. 102. [F., 28 C. 190; Cited, 48 P.R. 1904.]

(33)—Appeal to Privy Council when lies—Value of property.—If the value of the whole of a certain property is above Rs. 10,000, an appeal lies to the Privy Council in respect of a part of the same property. ONOOROOP CHUNDER MOOKERJEE v PERTAB CHUNDER PAL, 6 W. R. Mis. 4. [Appr., 10 C.W.N. 564=2 C. L.J. 257.]

(34)—Under-valuation of property—Special appeal—Appeal to Privy Council.—Where defendant, having the means of proving the real value of property, makes no objection to plaintiff's under-valuation, and in special appeal herself under-values it, she cannot be heard to represent the real value for the purpose of securing an appeal to Her Majesty in Council. In the matter of RANEE BHUGOBUTTY DEBIA, 14 W R. 62.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(35)—Leave to appeal to Privy Council—Subject-matter of suit under appealable value—Practice—Decision would govern other suits.—Where the appeal, though valued at less than Rs. 10,000 involved indirectly questions respecting property of the value of Rs. 10,000, leave to appeal to the Privy Council would be granted. ANANDA CHANDRA BOSE v. BROUGHTON, 9 B.L.R. 423.

(36)—Burden of proof as to valuation—S. 39, Charter Act.—To establish a right of appeal to Privy Council, it is for the party to show that the valuation is such as he states it to be. The High Court refuses, under s. 39 of the Charter, to allow an appeal because the whole property which would be reduced in value in the event of the appeal proving successful, was not worth less than Rs. 10,000 RAJA REEDHNATH SAHEE v. GOPEE SAHOO, 19 W.R. 191. [R., 6 Bom. L.R. 403.]

(37)—Value of suit—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 596—Where the value of the properties in suit with mesne profits exceeds Rs. 10,000, and the plaintiff has, by reason of the defendant having given the properties in two sets in patni to two different persons, been obliged to bring two suits for their recovery, held, an appeal lay to the Privy Council. JOOGUL KISHORE v. JOTENDRO MOHUN TAGORE, 8 C. 210. [R., 3 O. C. 96, 34 C. 400.]

(38)—Leave to appeal to Privy Council, allowed though amount under appealable value.—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council was granted, though the amount involved was under the appealable value, on the ground of an important question of law being involved in the case, and on the ground that five other suits, along with which the case had been tried and decided, were appealable as of right BYJNATH v. GRAHAM, 11 C. 740. [F., 34 C. 400 ; R., 137 P.L.R. 1904=75 P.R. 1904; D., 1 O.C. Suppl., Vol. 18.]

(39)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 596—"Vaule of the subject-matter of suit"—Civil Courts Act (Madras Act III of 1873), s. 14.—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1893), s. 14, cannot be permitted to control the construction to be put upon s. 596 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the test under that section, whether or not an appeal lies to the Privy Council, is to consider what the real market value of the subject-matter in dispute is. PICHAYEE v. SIVAGAMI, 18 M. 237, F. B. [F., 60 P. R. 1905=150 P. L.R. 1905 ; K., 31 C. 301]

(40)—Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Civ.Pro.Code, s. 596—Aggregate value of two decrees against same property.—There were two applications praying for certificates of leave to appeal to the Privy Council from decrees passed by the High Court in two first appeals. The petitioner in both the applications was the same person. The property affected by both the decrees was the same and no distinction was, under the circumstances, possible, as to which part of the property was affected by one of the decrees and which part by the other decree. The aggregate value of the two decrees, however, amounted to upwards of rupees ten thousand, and it was held that, under the circumstances, the case was one which should be certified as being a fit one for appeal to the Privy Council, because the decree to be passed by the Privy Council, on such appeal would be one involving directly or indirectly claims or questions to or respecting property exceeding ten thousand rupees in value. In the matter of the petition of KHWAJA MUHAMMAD YUSUF, 18 A. 196=A.W.N. 1896, 39.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeals lie or not—ctd.

(41)—Final decree passed by Recorder of Rangoon in exercise of original civil jurisdiction—Appeal from—Subject-matter exceeding appealable amount.—An appeal from such a final decree, where the estate is valued above Rs. 10,000, lies to the Privy Council, and not to the High Court. ESOOF HASSHIM BOOPLY v. FATIMA BIBI, 24 C. 30=1 C.W.N. 8.

(42)—Final order passed on appeal by High Court on question relating to execution of decree—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 244, 595, 596.—An order passed on appeal by the High Court on a question raised in execution of a decree under s. 244 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is a "final decree" within the meaning of ss. 2 and 595 of the Code. Therefore, though the subject of a suit in the Court of first instance is below the value of Rs. 10,000, yet, an order of the High Court on a question raised in execution of the decree in such suit would be appealable to the Privy Council, if it involved a claim or question relating to property of a value exceeding Rs. 10,000. RAM KIRPAL SHAKUL v. RUP KUAR, 3 A. 633 F.B.=A.W.N. 1881. 32. [D., A.W.N. 1886, 286, A.W.N. 1901, 19.]

(43)—Leave to appeal to Privy Council.—No appeal lies from the order of Judge of a High Court in the Privy Council Department certifying a case to be fit for appeal to Her Majesty. MOWLA BAKSH v. KISHEN PERTAB, 1 C. 102. F, 11 A. 375, 17 C. 455.]

(44)—Application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council—Decision of High Court, varying the decision of the lower Court—Right to appeal as a matter of right—Variation in judgment, however slight, whether gives right of appeal.—Where the decree of a lower Court is not wholly affirmed by the judgment of a High Court, but is varied only in one particular, the person against whom such variation is made is entitled as of right to a certificate of appeal to His Majesty in Council. NARPAT SINGH v. KALKA BUX SINGH, 9 Ind. Cas 1080. [8 C. W.N. 294, 62 P.W.R. 1908 ; Not F., 10 O.C. 65, F.]

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——2.—Cases where appeal lie or not—cld.

(45)—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Action of parties concerning valuation of suit.—The action of the parties cannot affect the question of jurisdiction. In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, no appeal lies to the Privy Council as of right, although the suit was valued above Rs. 10,000 and the valuation was relied on by the defendant. MOWLA NEWAZ v. SAJIDUNNISSA BIBI, 18 C. 378.

(46)—Appeal from Judicial Commissioner, Oudh—St. 3 & 4, Will 4, c. 41, s. 4.—An appeal to the Privy Council from the Judicial Commissioner of Oudh was allowed under St. 3 & 4, Will 4, c. 41, s. 4. NOWAB TAJDUN BOHOO v. MIRZA JEHAN, 8 M.I.A. 274, Note.

(47)—Dismissal of Moonsiff—Special appeal not entertainable by the Judicial Committee.—An order of the High Court, Calcutta, under s.26, cl. 2 of Ben. Reg. V of 1831, dismissing a Moonsiff for corruption in the exercise of his functions as Judge, is final, and there is no jurisdiction in the Judicial Committee to admit a special appeal therefrom. In the matter of SREE HOHUN GHUTTUCK, 13 M.I.A. 343.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 27, s. 110, 21 C. 484.

See CONSOLIDATION OF SUITS, 18 W.R. 21.

See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIAN, 8 W.R. 29.

See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 9 A. 93, F.B.

See REVIEW — PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 18 W.R. 494.

——3.—Practice and Procedure.

(1)—Petition for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Practice as to contents of petition.—The substantial question of law which it is proposed to submit to the Privy Council should be stated in the petition. On the Original Side of the High Court, all such petitions should be signed by Counsel, and on the Appellate Side they should be signed by Counsel or pleader. MIRZA ALI AKBAR KHAN BAHADUR v. ABDUL LATIFF SHUSTRI, 12 B.H.C. 8.

(2)—Leave to appeal to Privy Council—Misconception of ground—Practice.—Where the Judicial Committee finds that special leave to appeal to that Board has been granted under a misconception of the case or of the ground of appeal, they will dismiss the appeal without hearing it on the merits. RAMBAL SINGH v. BALBHADDAR SINGH, 25 A. 1=29 I.A. 203, P.C.

(3)—Privy Council appeal - Objection that appeal had become incompetent--Final admission—Record, transmission of—Practice.—After an appeal to His Majesty in Council had been admitted, but before the transmission of transcript record to England, it was objected by the respondent that he had attained the status of a Sovereign Prince, so that the suit could not be continued against him in any Municipal Court, and he prayed that the appeal may be declared to have abated. Held, that, although the High Court retained jurisdiction over the appeal for interlocutory matters, it would not make the order for abatement, but would transmit the petition with a report upon the truth or otherwise of the allegations made therein, to be dealt with by the Judicial Committee upon the hearing of the appeal. SAMARENDRA CHANDRA DEB v. BIREDRA KISHORE, 10 C.L.J. 830=4 Ind. Cas. 456.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(4)—Power of High Court to admit without security-bond—Practice in Bengal.—In Bengal, the High Court has no authority to receive a petition of appeal to England without the usual security-bond duly registered as provided by Rule No. 8 of the 7th December, 1858. RAJAH SAHEB PERSHAD SEIN v. RAJHA RAJENDRO KISHORE, 7 W.R. 338.

(5)—Ss. 603, 610, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Security-bond—Surety's right to question the validity of bond.—A surety, who is not a party to an appeal to Privy Council nor to the proceeding by which the appeal is admitted, is not prevented from questioning the validity of the security-bond in execution-proceedings, notwithstanding the admission of the appeal under s. 603, Civ. Pro. Code. Security-bonds which are found to be invalid cannot be enforced against sureties. GIRANDRA NATH MUKERJEE v. BEJOY GOPAL MUKERJEE, 26 C. 246=3 C.W.N. 84.

(6)—Privy Council appeal—Security-bond, extension of time to file—Power of High Court—Sufficient reasons for delay—Computation of time—Date of decree, meaning of—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. XLV, r. 7.—The High Court has power to extend the time for depositing costs in Court, but it ought not to do so without some cogent reasons. (11 C.W.N. 1104, 10 C. 557, 14 M. 391, F.) Where a petition for filing security-bond out of time stated that the delay was caused by a misapprehension of the appellants about the date of re-opening of the High Court and that, none of the appellants' men being present in Calcutta on that date, the bond was not filed, held,—that these were not reasons over which the applicant had no control, and that the delay was not due to a mistake which would be regarded as not unreasonable or caused by negligence; that they were therefore not cogent reasons such as to justify the extension of time. "Date of decree" in O. XLV, r. 7, Civ. Pro. Code, means the date on which the decree is pronounced, and not that on which it is signed. HARENDRA LAL ROY CHOWDHURY v. SM. HARI DASI DEBI, 14 C.W.N. 820=5 Ind. Cas. 844. (7 C. 547, F.)

(7)—Security for costs in Privy Council appeal — Government promissory note — High Court rules, appellate side, Part II, Ch. IV, Rule XX.—The market value of Government Securities, given as security for respondent's costs in an appeal to Privy Council, must be Rs.4,000 on the date of their deposit. CHUTTERPUT SINGH v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR, 9 C. L. J. 559 =4 Ind. Cas. 64.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

—3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(8)—Security from decree-holder for costs—Continuance of attachment.—During the course of a suit for damages, plaintiff applied that security might be required from the defendants under S. 81, Act VIII of 1859, and on their failure to give it, their property was attached. Plaintiff's suit was decreed in the first Court, but dismissed on appeal by the High Court. He then appealed to the Privy Council, and prayed to the High Court either to continue the attachment, or to require security from the defendants, pending the result of the appeal. Held, that the Court was not competent to adopt either course. DITTIA HURRUCKMAN SINGH v. MODHOOSOODUN PYNE, 12 W. R. 16. F.B.

(9)—Time—Evidence—Leave for appeal to the Privy Council can be granted by the High Court, if prima facie evidence that subject-matter of the suit is above the value of Rs. 10,000 is offered within 6 months from the passing of the decree appealed against. In the petition of KISHEN BUNDHOO ROY and KISHEN CHAND ROY, 6 W. R. Mis. 17.

(10)—Privy Council—Application for leave to appeal—Appealable value — Decision indirectly involving amount.—Defendants, who were co-shares of the plaintiff in the zemindari, having purchased certain holdings from the tenants, the plaintiff sued them for their share of the rent due from one such holding, amounting to Rs. 230. The High Court, reversing the decree of the lower Court, dismissed the suit on the ground that, as there was no contract of tenancy between the parties, there was no relation of landlord and tenant between them. The plaintiff, in applying for leave to appeal to the Privy Council, proved that there were other holdings similarly purchased by the defendants, and that the decision of the High Court would have the effect of depriving him of rents of all such holdings amounting to Rs. 800 a year, which, capitalized, came up to over Rs. 10,000. Held, that the decision indirectly involved a claim or question to or respecting property of the value of Rs. 10,000 or upwards, and leave ought to be granted. SRINATH PAL CHOWDHURY v. GRINDRA CHOWDHURY, 14 C. W. N. 651=6 Ind. Cas. 598.

(11)—Privy Council — Leave to appeal—Appealable value—Right of party to prove value of subject-matter contrary to valuation in plaint or memo. of appeal—Mesne profits pending suit if to be added.—The valuation made in conformity with the stamp law does not prevent a party from obtaining leave to appeal, by proving that the real value of the subject-matter does not fall short of the appealable amount. But a defendant, who had previously adopted the value given in the plaint for the purpose of an appeal preferred by him, should not be allowed to contest that valuation, on the principle that a party cannot both approbate and reprobate. In a suit for recovery of possession of immoveable property with mesne profits, the subject-matter to be valued would include mesne profits claimable from the institution of the suit to the date of the delivery of possession or until the expiration of three years from the date of the decree with interest. KUMAR BASANTA KUMAR ROY v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 14 C W.N 872=6 Ind. Cas. 792.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

—3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(12)—Privy Council Appeal—Value of subject-matter of suit in first Court—Possible increase in quantity of land by alluvion—Increase of value after institution of suit—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 110, O. XLV, r. 5.—In estimating the value of the subject-matter of an appeal to the Privy Council, only the lands which existed when the suits was instituted are to be taken into consideration, and not also the lands which possibly may be formed by alluvion in the course of future years. The amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal is dependent on the amount or value of the subject-matter in the Court of first instance, and the High Court will not take into account the increase in the value of the land in suit in the interval between the institution of the suit and the filing of the application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. ASHUTOSH BURDHAN ROY, 5 Ind. Cas. 645.

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 595, 596—Subject-matter of value below Rs. 10,000—Certificate of fitness for appeal to be looked to—Form of certificate—Whenever the amount in dispute is less than Rs. 10,000, the High Court can have no jurisdiction to grant leave to appeal to the Privy Council. The mere fact that there is a substantial question of law is not sufficient where the subject-matter of dispute is of value less than Rs. 10,000 to make the case a fit one for leave to appeal. In such cases, for determining whether the High Court has properly granted such leave, the Judicial Committee will consider and act upon the certificate itself and not the order for the certificate; and, unless the certificate upon which the leave to appeal is based is in such a form as to justify that leave, the Committee would hold that the leave has not been properly granted. RADHA KRISHN DAS v. RAI KRISHN CHAND, 23 A. 415, P.C.=5 C.W.N. 689=28 I A. 182. (28 I. A. 11=23 A. 247, R.) [R., 24 A. 236=A.W. N. 1902, 46; F., 5 O.C. 168.]

(14)—Appeal to Privy Council in forma pauperis—Procedure—Semble.—Although the Courts in India admit a party to appeal to England, in forma pauperis, yet the appellant ought to make special application to the Queen-in-Council, for leave to prosecute such appeal in forma pauperis. MUNNI RAM AWASTY v. SHEO CHURN AWASTY, 7 W.R. 29 P.C.=4 M.I A. 114.

(15)—Application to appeal in forma pauperis — Unstamped paper — Procedure — Costs.— Application to appeal to Privy Council in forma pauperis may be made to High Court on unstamped paper accompanied by certificate of Counsel ; security for costs being given, and costs of translation deposited. In re JOWAD ALI, 8 W.R. 48.

(16)—Application for leave to appeal—Amendment of estimate of costs.—In applying for permission to appeal to the Privy Council, petitioner has no right to amend the estimate of costs made by the clerk of the Privy Council Department ; and the plea of oversight does not excuse non-compliance with the rules of the Court. In the matter of GOUR SURN DASS, 19 W.R. 305.

(17)—Appeal to Privy Council—Time—Privy Council Rules.—Rule (1) of the Privy Council (the first of the rules of 10th April 1838) is imperative and leaves the High Court no discretion in the matter. It says expressly that no appeal shall be allowed unless the petition for this purpose be presented within six calendar months from the date of the decree complained of. A petition of appeal presented on the first day the Court resumed its sittings after the Durga Puja vacation—the six months period expiring during the vacation, was held to be too late and leave could not be given to appeal. TAMVACO v. SKINNER, 1 B L.R. O.C. 39.

(18)—Privy Council appeal filed during vacation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 5 and sch. II, art. 177—Vacation—High Court when closed.—When an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council was filed in the Privy Council Department of the office of the High Court during the long vacation, when the Court was notified as closed, but the offices were open, the applicant was entitled to the benefit of the second paragraph of s. 5 of the Limitation Act. MAHARAJA RAVANESHWAR PRASAD SINGH v. BAIJ NATH RAM GOENKA, 10 C.L J. 120 = 3 Ind. Cas. 401.

(19)—Appeals from Vice—Admiralty Courts—Time for appeal.—The fifteen days, within which appeals with regard to Vice-Admiralty. Cases are required to be asserted, count from the date of the pronouncement of the decree, and not from that on which it is reduced to writing and signed. [Rel. on, 17 C. 66.] And where the parties appeared before the Registrar, without protest for assessment of damages in accordance with an appellate decree of the High Court in a Vice-Admiralty matter, the proceedings before the Registrar were held to be themselves sufficient to prevent an appeal as of right. THE OWNERS OF THE SHIP OF "BRENHILDA" v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO., 7 C. 547 = 8. I. A. 139. P.C. [Rel. on, 17 C. 66.]

(20)—Privy Council appeal filed during vacation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 5 and sch. II, art. 177—Vacation—High Court when closed.—The second paragraph of s. 5 of the Limitation Act, 1877, applies to art. 177. When, therefore, an application for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council was filed in the Privy Council Department of the office of the High Court during the long vacation, when the Court was notified as closed, but the offices were open, the applicant was entitled to the benefit of the second paragraph, s.5 of the Limitation Act. RANI VENKATA RAMANIA v. KHERODE MULL, 10 C. L. J. 118 = 3 Ind. Cas. 400. [F., 10 C.L.J. 120.]

(21)—Computation of six months allowed for appeal to Privy Council.—The period of six months allowed for appealing to the Privy Council must be calculated from the date on which the decree was pronounced or dated should be excluded. In re RAMANOOGRA NARAIN, 13 W.R.P.C. 17.

(22)—Appeal time expiring during High Court's vacation—Procedure.—If the period for appeal expires while the High Court is closed for a vacation, the petition of appeal may be filed on the first open day. LUCHMUN CHUNDER GIR v. KALEE CHURN SINGH, 12 W.R. 293.

(23)—Act IX of 1871, s. 5—Scope of section—Power of High Court to extend time fixed for deposit.—S. 5 of Act IX of 1871 (=s. 5 of Act XV of 1877) applies only to suits, applications and appeals. It does not apply to a deposit of fees for translation of the records in a Privy Council appeal, for which no application is necessary. The High Court has no power to extend the time fixed for the deposit, when once the time has expired. In the matter of petition of LALLA GOPEE CHAND, 2 C. 128. But see SOORJMUKHI KOER, In re, 2 C. 272.

(24)—S. 603, Civ.Pro.Code—Appeal to Privy Council—Discretion to be exercised for cogent reasons.—The petitioner instead of depositing the whole amount as required by s. 602, Civ. Pro. Code, applied to the Court at the last stage to extend the time to deposit the balance. The Registrar received the whole amount after the day fixed for it had expired. Held, there must be very cogent reasons to exercise the discretion to extend the time, and owing to the absence of such reasons in the present case, the Registrar was ordered to return the deposit and the appeal was not admitted. VENKATACHALAM v. MAHALAKSHMAMMA, 14 M. 392. [F., 14 M. 391 ; D., 13 M. 510.]

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 600, 602—Extension of time to deposit—Appeal to Privy Council.—Time for making the deposit, required by s. 602, Civ. Pro. Code, for preferring an appeal to the Privy Council, may be extended for cogent reasons, such as would lead the Court to believe that party was diligent in due time to be prepared to lodge the deposit within the limited period, and that he was prevented from making it, by circumstances, accidental or otherwise, over which he had no control, or

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

owing to mistake which the Court would consider not unreasonable or caused by negligence RANGASAYI v. MAHALAKSHMAMMA, 14 M. 391. (11 I.A. 7 = 10 C. 557, 14 M. 392, F.)

(26)—Appeal to Privy Council—Dismissal—Restoration—Power of High Court.—The High Court has no power to restore appeals to Her Majesty in Council, dismissed or struck off the file for default in making deposit. In re SREEKANT ROY, 7 W.R. 47.

(27)—Time expiring during holidays—Extension of time for making deposit—S. 11, Act VI of 1874.—The Court has power, when the time for making the deposit of costs of appeal expires during holidays, to allow, in the exercise of its discretion the deposit to be made on the reopening day. [Appr., 10 C. 557 = 11 I.A. 7, P.C.] The requirements of s. 11 of Act VI of 1874 = s. 602 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, are not absolutely imperative; they are directory only. The Court has, therefore, a discretion, in a proper case, to extend the time. (N.B.)—Act VI of 1874 was repealed by Act X of 1877, Civ. Pro. Code. In the matter of the petition of SOORMUKHI KOER, 2 C. 272. [D., 7 A. 79 = A.W.N. 1884, 303.]

(28)—Act VI of 1874, s. 11.—Dismissal of appeal to Privy Council, for default in deposit of security and in transcribing record. Case where an appeal was ordered to be struck off the file on an appellant not appearing to show cause why the proceedings on an appeal should not be stayed, where he had not made any deposit to defray costs of transcribing under s. 11, Act VI of 1874, had taken no steps to prosecute the appeal and not deposited any security for costs. THAKOOR KAPILNATH SAHAI v. THE GOVERNMENT, 1 C. 142.

(29)—Letters Patent, s. 15—Permission to appeal to Privy Council—Appeal against such leave—Act VI of 1874, s. 11.—Where an appeal has been filed under the Letters Patent, s. 15, against the grant of a certificate to an applicant for permission to appeal to Privy Council, the applicant has no reason to contend that the six weeks prescribed in Act VI of 1874, s. 11, will not begin to run till such appeal is finally disposed of. The Court has no jurisdiction to enlarge the time specified in s. 11, Act VI of 1874. FUNEENDRO DEB ROY KUL v. JOGENDRO DEB, 23 W.R. 220.

(30)—Appeal to Privy Council—Extension of time for giving security—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 602.—The term of six months, allowed by s. 602 of the Civ. Pro. Code, for giving the security and making the deposit required therein, is not intended in any rigorous or exact sense, but may be extended for proper reasons. FAZUL-UNNISSA BEGAM v. MULO, 6 A. 250, F. B. = A.W.N. 1884, 71 (11 I.A. 7 = 10 C. 557, R.) [R., 15 A. 14; D., 7 A. 79, F.B.]

(31)—Giving security in appeal—Extension of time—Powers of Court—Civ. Pro. Code (1877), s. 602.—The words in the Civ. Pro. Code, relating to the time within which security in appeal is to be given, are directory only; and although the rule is not to be departed from without cogent reason, the Court, from which the appeal is preferred, can, at its discretion, extend the time. BURJORE AND BHAWANI PERSHAD v. BHAGANA. 10 C. 557. P. C = 11 I.A. 7. (2 C. 272, Appr.) [F., 1 L.B.R. 329, 11 C.W.N. 1104; R., 14 M. 391, 78 P. R. 1909, 15 A. 14 = A.W.N. 1892, 152; D., 7 A. 79 = A.W.N. 1884, 303, F.B.; Appl., 87 P.R. 1908 = 27 P.L.R. 1909 = 153 P.W.R. 1909.]

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(32)—Period of appeal expiring during holidays—Appeal admitted on first day after re-opening—Costs incurred—Objection as to limitation taken when record about to be transmitted—Duty of High Court—Limitation as applied to the admission of Privy Council Appeals.—Case where it was ruled that an objection as to limitation could not be raised against an application for the admission of an appeal to England after its admission and after the appellant had incurred large costs and when it was ready for transmission to England, but that it should be allowed to go on subject to the orders of the Privy Council. RAJAH RAJ KISHEN SINGH v. HURO SOONDUREE DOSSEE, 15 W.R. 255. (3 B.L.R.O.C. 126 D.)

(33)—Consolidation of appeals to Privy Council—Extension of time for appeal.—The High Court can neither consolidate a number of appeals to the Privy Council nor can it admit such appeals where the time for filing them has expired, without the permission of the Privy Council. PRAN NATH ROY CHOWDHRY v. KASHEENATH CHOWDHRY. 2 W.R. Mis. 26.

(34)—Petition of appeal to Privy Council—Due diligence.—On the filing of a petition of appeal to the Privy Council, due diligence must be exhibited in transmitting the appeal to the Privy Council. Otherwise, on the application of the respondent, the High Court has the power to strike the petition off the file. GOBARDHAN BARMONO v. SRIMATI MUNUN BIBI, 3 B.L.R.O.C. 126. (On appeal 5 B. L. R. 76 = 14 W.R. 34). [D., 15 W.R. 255.]

(35)—Privy Council, appeal to, after expiry of the prescribed time—Jurisdiction of High Court.—The High Court has no jurisdiction in a matter where a petition of appeal to the Privy Council was returned, on the ground that it was not accompanied with the sum certified, or a sum probably sufficient to meet the expenses of translating and transcribing the proceedings of the case, and the application was renewed after the time prescribed for the appeal had expired. MUHAMED MUDSUR v. RAM LAL ROY, 6 W.R. Mis. 50.

(36)—Restoration of appeal to Privy Council—Discretion of High Court.—After an appeal to the Privy Council has been dismissed for default or for any reason removed from the file of the High Court, the High Court has the power to restore the appeal and should exercise its discretion in each particular case. RADHA BINODE MISSER v. KRIPA MOYEE DEBEA, 7 W.R. 531.

Appeal to Privy Council - continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(37)—Dismissal for default of appeal to Privy Council—Jurisdiction of High Court to re-admit it.—Held that the High Court has no authority to re-admit an appeal to the Privy Council, which has once been dismissed for default. In the matter of the petition of MUSSAMUT BOLAKUM, 6 W.R. Mis. 121.

(38)—Appeal to Privy Council—Striking off for want of prosecution.—Where the usual draft notice, which was sent by the Registrar to the attorney of the party that filed his petition of appeal to the Privy Council, and intended for being served on the opposite party, was never returned as approved or otherwise to the Registrar, nor were any steps taken to prosecute the appeal, held, the opposite party was entitled to an order striking off the appeal for want of prosecution. MOORAJEE POONJA v. VISRANJEE VISENJEE, 12 C. 658.

(39)—Appeal to Privy Council—Delay in prosecuting.—S. 30 of the Charter of the late Supreme Court is still directory on the High Court with regard to Privy Council appeals. Until a petition of appeal to the Privy Council presented to the High Court is admitted and allowed, a party has no right to appeal to His Majesty in Council. The Court may remove from the files a petition not prosecuted within a reasonable time. GOBAR DHAN BARMONO v. SRIMATI MANI BIBI, 5 B.L.R. 76=14 W R. O.C. 34. (On appeal from, 3 B L R. O.C. 126). [R., 10 C.L.J. 331; D., 15 W.R. 255.]

(40)—Privy Council appeal—Review.—Where an application for review has been rejected and no appeal to the Privy Council was filed against that order, the papers relating to the review are not on the appeal of the case to be sent to England, as they do not form a part of the record. FAKIRUDDIN MOHAMMED ASAN CHOWDHRY v. NAJUMUNNISSA CHOWDHRAIN, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 264=11 W.R. 145. (1 B.L.R. F.B., F.; 3 M.I.A. 1. R.)

(41)—Appeal to Privy Council—Translating documents—Evidence.—In an appeal to the Privy Council, the appellant must not be put to the expense of translating and transcribing papers and account books, regarding which it is impossible to say that they are material or relevant or even part of the evidence in the case; but the respondent may have the option of translating them at his own expense. In the petition of RAJ COOMAR BABOO DEO NUNDUN, 7 W.R. 90.

(42)—Superfluous documents — Printing of Privy Council records in India.—Superfluous documents in record of appeal to Privy Council to be avoided and suitor's money spared. MUSSAMUT HUMEEDA alias BEBEE KHAJOO v. MUSSAMUT AMATOOL MEHDEE BEGUM, 17 W.R. 106.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(43)—Application, that limited meaning should be placed on endorsement by Bench Clerk on certificate—Practice.—Where an application, that a particular limited meaning should be placed on an endorsement by a Bench Clerk on certain exhibits printed in the paper book (relating to a suit), was presented to the High Court, the said Court left the matter to the hands of their Lordships of the Judicial Committee for dealing with the same. RATTAN KOER v. CHOTAY NARAIN SINGH, 21 C. 476.

(44)—Translation of records.—It is not necessary that razeenamahs, safeenamahs, and security-bonds in respect of appeals to the Privy Council should be in English. MEER MAHOMED TUKEE CHOWDHRY v. LUCHMEEPUT SINGH DOOGUR, 7 W. R. 291.

(45)—Leave to appeal granted ex-parte—Right of respondent.—If leave to appeal be obtained ex-parte, the respondent may, as a matter of course, present a counter-petition to dismiss. SIBNARAIN GHOSE v. HULLODHUR DOSS, 6 M I.A. 207.

(46)—Mode of decision—Assumed probabilities and no evidence.—Where a case turned upon the validity of the bond on which plaintiffs sued, the decision of the High Court in favour of defendant was reversed, as based upon the assumed probabilities of the case instead of the evidence before them, and in forgetfulness of the most startling improbability of all, viz., that the defendant should, if his case of fraud and forgery were true, have failed to attempt to substantiate it by his own testimony and that of his brother. RUGHOOBUR DUTT CHOWDRY v. FUTTEH NARAIN CHOWDRY, 18 W.R. 120.

(47)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 568—Fresh evidence, admission of, by appeal Court, with assent or without objection—Regularity, if may be questioned on further appeal—Question of fact, differing decisions on—Materials not same in both Courts—Interference on appeal by Privy Council—Practice.—Where the Appellate Court, with the assent of both sides, examined three witnesses and also admitted documentary evidence, and there was nothing to show that the admission was objected to at the time. Held, that it was not open to a party, on appeal to the Privy Council, to take exception to the regularity of this procedure. Where, on a pure question of fact, viz. the genuineness of a will, two Courts in India differed, but the materials before them were not, owing to the admission of fresh evidence by the Appeal Court, entirely the same, the Judicial Committee could not reverse the appellate judgment, unless satisfied that it was wrong. Not being so satisfied, they dismissed the appeal. JAGARNATH PERSHAD v. HANUMAN PERSHAD. 13 C.W.N. 830. P.C.=10 C.L J. 74=6 M.L.T, 7=11 Bom. L.R. 861=36 C. 833=3 Ind. Cas. 465=19 M. L J. 485.

B. N. DAR, B.A. LL.B.
[illegible] Court.
[illegible]

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(48)—Privy Council appeal—Death of parties—Substitution, application for—Admission, final order for—Record, transmission of—Civ Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXII.—After the final order for admission of an appeal to His Majesty in Council has been made by the High Court, and before the transcript of the record has been transmitted to England, the High Court has power to entertain an application for substitution of the legal representatives of parties who have died meanwhile. O. XXII of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, has no application to this matter. No question of limitation can consequently arise. Any order for substitution made by the High Court, however, is subject to the rules of the Judicial Committee and such directions as may be given by their Lordships at the hearing of theappeal. The history of the practice in this matter, reviewed. JADUNANDAN KOER v. RAMJIBAN LAL, 10 C.L.J. 331. [R., 10 C.L.J. 330.]

(49)—Competency—Power of Local Court to admit appeal—Question of competency left open by a Local Court—Objection at hearing—Dismissal of appeal—Value of appeal—Action for injunction against infringement of trade-mark.—Where the Local Statutes contemplate that appeals to lie to the Privy Council shall be allowed by the Local Court satisfying itself as to its competency and the Local Court, in its order in one case, expressly left the question of competency open, Held, by the Judicial Committee, that the appeal was not competent. E. W. GILLET COMPANY, LIMITED v. LUMSDEN, 10 C.W.N. 7=13 M.L.J. 461. P.C.

(50)—Privy Council—Practice—Decision on facts—Genuineness of will—Onus on appellant—Failure to discharge—Statement of reasons by the Judicial Committee.—Where a Division Bench of the High Court, after a prolonged and elaborate enquiry, arrived at the conclusion that it could not believe the evidence of the principal witnesses called before it in support of a will propounded by the appellant before the Privy Council, Held, that the onus was on the appellant who invited Judges, who had not heard or seen the witnesses, to overrule the decision of Judges who had to show that the decision was erroneous. That in this case that onus had not been discharged. Having regard to the intricacy of the case and the elaborate arguments presented, the Judicial Committee thought it desirable to state in outline the salient features of the evidence and the reasons for their conclusion, although it might have sufficed if they had only said that the appellant had not succeeded in discharging the onus that lay on him. NOGENDRA NATH MITTER v. KUMUDINI DASI, 13 C.W.N. 782, P.C.=5 M.L.T. 384=3 Ind. Cas. 997.

(51)—Privy Council appeal—Special leave, High Court, jurisdiction of—Receiver, application to appoint—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), ss. 109, 112 and O. XLV, r. 13.—Where, after refusal by the High Court to grant leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council, special leave has been granted by the Judicial Committee, the High Court has no power to entertain an application for appointment of a Receiver of the property in dispute, under r. 13 of O. XLV, Civ. Pro. Code of 1908. The changes introduced in the Code of 1908 do not in this matter affect the law as it stood under the Code of 1882. TEGA SINGH v. BICHITRU SINGH, 10 C.L.J. 326=1 Ind. Cas. 482. (27 C. 1, Appl.)

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(52) —Privy Council appeal—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 109, cl. (a)—Remand order—Final order.—The term "final order" in s. 109, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, denotes an order which finally decides any matter directly at issue in the case in respect of the rights of the parties. An order of remand may be a final order within the meaning of this section, if it decides in effect finally the cardinal point in the suit or an issue which goes to the foundation of the suit. Whether a particular order falls in this category must depend upon its contents. When the fundamental question in the case was whether the suit was barred under s. 244 of the Code of 1882, and the first Court held that the suit was so barred, but the lower Appellate Court took a contrary view and remanded the suit for trial on the facts, and this order was subsequently affirmed by the High Court, Held, that the order of the High Court was a final order within the meaning of s. 109 of the Code of 1908. SARATMANI DEBI v. BATA KRISHNA BANERJI, 10 C.L.J. 336=4 Ind. Cas. 469.

(53)—Dismissal of the appeal—Amendment of the decree under appeal—Absence of petition of appeal by the respondents.—Their Lordships dismissed the appeal, but amended the decree appealed against, by providing for interest subsequent to the decree, in accordance with the prayer in the petition for special leave to appeal presented by the respondents, who did not lodge their petition of appeal as required under the Judicial Committee Rules, 1908. KASIM AHMED JEWA v. NARAIN CHETTY, 12 Bom. L.R. 646, P.C=12 C.L.J. 231=20 M.L.J. 630=37 C. 623=8 M.L.T. 229=7 Ind. Cas. 814.

(54)—Original decree reversed in High Court but restored in Privy Council—Execution of decree.—A decree of the first Court reversed in the High Court, and restored in appeal to the Privy Council, is re-affirmed in its integrity, and the defendants generally are entitled to execute it, though only one appealed to the Privy Council. LUCHMEEPUT SINGH BAHADOOR v. KHOOBUNNISSA, 14 W.R. 280.

See BURDEN OF PROOF—CONSIDERATION, 2 B. L. R. 111, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 282=12 W. R. 6, P.C.

—Order of remand only deciding on preliminary points—Material point yet remaining for decision—Order not final—Appeal to Privy Council disallowed—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 2, 109, sch. I, O. XLV, 6 A.L.J. 786=6 M. L.T. 94=31 A. 545=3 Ind. Cas. 967.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——3.—Practice and Procedure—concluded.

See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865—CALCUTTA, ss. 39, 15, 9 C.W.N. 566 =32 C. 963.

—Security for respondent's costs, sufficiency of—See RULES OF HIGH COURTS AND SUPREME COURTS—CALCUTTA, 13 C.W.N. 629=9 C L.J. 560=36 C. 653=2 Ind. Cas. 844.

——4.—Stay of execution pending appeal.

(1)—Stay of execution—Practice—Application for stay of execution.—Applications for stay of execution ought always to be made, in the first instance at any rate to the Court in India, which has ample power to deal with the matter according to the circumstances of the particular case, and has knowledge of details which the Board cannot possess on an interlocutory application. VASUDEVA v. SHADAGOPA, 8 Bom. L.R. 497=4 C.L.J. 101, P.C.=10 C.W.N. 945=16 M.L.J. 299=1 M.L.T. 204=29 M. 379=33 I.A. 132.

(2)—S. 4. Reg. XVI of 1797—Issue of execution by Sudder Court—Security from decree-holder pending appeal.—Within six months of decree and prior to the admission of an appeal therefrom to England, the Sudder Dewanny Court, upon an ex parte application, without notice, issued an execution order, putting the decree-holder in possession. This was done without calling for security, as provided by s. 4, Beng. Reg. XVI of 1797. The appellant, on the admission of the appeal, applied to the Sudder Court for security from the party in possession pending the appeal, but that Court held that, as the decree-holder was in possession under an execution order, which could not be appealed from, they had no power to interfere. On petition, the Judicial Committee, in the circumstances, and upon affidavit of waste, made an order, declaring that it was competent to the Sudder Court to require security to be given for protection of the property pending the appeal, notwithstanding execution of the decree had issued, and gave permission to the appellant to apply to the Sudder Court with an intimation of that opinion. MUSSUMAT JARIUT-OOL-BUTOOL v. MUSSUMAT HOSEINEE BEGUM, 10 M.I.A. 196.

(3)—S. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797—Appeal to Privy Council. Execution of decree—Taking of security,—Where an appeal to the Privy Council from a decree of the High Court has been admitted and is still pending, the Court of original jurisdiction which made the decree first appealed from has jurisdiction to issue execution. Such Court, in the exercise of its discretion, where it has notice of the appeal to the Privy Council, should not issue execution without giving the parties against whom execution is sought, an opportunity of applying to the High Court under s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797. J. P. WISE v. RAJ KISHEN ROY, 6 W. Mis. 84.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——4.—Stay of execution pending appeal—continued.

(4)—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4—Execution of High Court's decree—Appeal to Privy Council—Setting aside execution.—After execution has once gone out under a decree of the High Court subsequently appealed to Her Majesty in Council, it is beyond the power of the High Court, and not within the scope of s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797, to set aside the execution. JOYNARAIN PATTUR v. RUSSEEK MOHUN BANNERJEE, 8 W.R. 144.

(5)—Special leave—Injunction—Stay of execution proceedings—High Court's jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. XLV.—Where, after the refusal by the High Court to grant leave to appeal to His Majesty, special leave has been granted by the Judicial Committee, the High Court has no power to entertain an application for an injunction staying certain proceedings in execution, pending disposal of the appeal by the Privy Council. KUNWAR RAGHUBIR SINGH v. MUSSAMAT MOTI KUNWAR, 7 Ind. Cas. 188. (27 C. 1, 10 C.L.J. 326, 4 Ind. Cas. 452, Rel. on.)

(6)—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4—Power of High Court to take security from respondent in appeal to Privy Council, or to suspend decree.—The High Court reversed a decree for possession of a zemindari which a plaintiff had obtained, who thereupon appealed to the Privy Council. The High Court could not, therefore, under s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797, order security to be taken from the defendant, respondent in the appeal to the Privy Council, for the due performance of such orders as the Privy Council may pass in the appeal, or to suspend the decree reversing the decision of the first Court. NIL KISHEN THAKOOR v. BEER CHUNDER THAKOOR GOSSAIN. 2 W.R. Mis. 23.

(7)—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4—Furnishing security—Powers of Court to attach property—On an appeal being preferred to the Privy Council, the High Court cannot, on the parties failing to furnish security as referred by s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797, attach any other property held by the appellant beyond the property in dispute. BABOO KOROO LAL v. KANT LAL, 5 W.R. Mis. 37.

(8)—Possession under decree—Appeal to Privy Council—Security.—A party, who has been formally put in possession of the disputed property in execution of a decree by taking out execution before an appeal to the Privy Council was preferred and admitted, cannot be required by the High Court to furnish security. HURO SOONDAREE DEBIA v. MR. AND MRS. J. STEVENSON, 5 W.R. Mis. 13.

(9)—Taking of security—If an appeal is preferred to the Privy Council, before any execution issues, it is not necessary that security to the extent of the whole sum decreed should, in every instance, be given by the decree-holder. It will suffice if security is taken to the extent of the value of the property seized, and the costs, &c., of the appeal to the Privy Council and any other costs which the Privy Council may order the decree-holder to pay. If security is taken for less than the full amount decreed, an order should be made restraining the decree-holder from issuing any process of execution with a view to realising any sum in excess of that for which security shall be given. MUSSAMUT MOLKA v. MUSSAMAT SUMPUT, KOONWAREE, 6 W.R. Mis. 62.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——4.—Stay of execution pending appeal —continued.

(10)—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4—Procedure to be adopted on the admission of appeal to the Privy Council.—All that the Court can do, when an appeal to Her Majesty in Council has been admitted, is to proceed under s. 4, Regulation XVI of 1797, to stay the execution of the decree on the appellant giving security, or to order that the respondent, in executing his decree, shall give security for the due performance of the decree of Her Majesty in Council. In the matter of the petition of RAMNATH CHOWDHRY and RUGHOOBUR MOOKEJEE, 6 W.R. Mis. 17.

(11)—Appeal to Privy Council—High Court's power to stay execution of Lower Court's decree —Taking of security—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4. —The first Appellate Court gave a decree in part for the plaintiff. The plaintiff preferred a second appeal to the High Court, which reversed the Lower Court's decree and remanded the case without making any order as to the costs of the appeal. The plaintiff appealed to the Privy Council against the order of remand. The first Appellate Court however proceeded with the case and dismissed the whole suit. The defendant took out execution for costs due to him under the decree. Held, that it was not competent to the High Court under s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797 to suspend the execution of the decree or to direct the taking of security. In the matter of the petition of ONOOROOP CHUNDER MOOKERJEE, 6 W.R. Mis. 45.

(12)—High Court taking action on motion to stay execution—Power of Sudder Amin to order execution—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4.—Where the High Court has taken action on an application of an appellant to the Privy Council to stay execution of decree on giving security, the Principal Sudder Ameen has no authority to make an order on an application to execute. Under s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797, a decree-holder may have a decree executed on application to High Court. DEBEE PERSHAD v. UMURTHNATH CHOWDHRY, 8 W.R. 275.

(13)—Security from decree-holder put in possession—Pendency of appeal to Privy Council.—The High Court can require security from a decree-holder put in possession, pending an appeal to the Privy Council but it may not require security from a decree-holder pending an appeal to the Privy Council, unless some good cause appear. SOORUJ MONEE DAYEE v. SUDANUND MOHAPATTUR, 12 W.R. 296. [F., 19 M. 140, 30 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——4.—Stay of execution pending appeal —continued.

(14)—Judgment-debtor retaining property pending appeal to England on sufficient security, Death of—Widow offering life-interest as security — Insufficiency — Funds for prosecuting appeal—Legal necessity—Reversioner. MUSST. PHOOL KOER v. DABEE PERSHAD, 12 W. R. 187.

(15)—Security from decree-holder—S. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797—Practice as to calculation of amount.—In a Privy Council appeal, the security to be taken from the decree-holder must be regulated by s. 4, Reg. XVI of 1797 The practice with respect to calculation of amount stated. AMEEROONISSA KHATOON v. A. D. DUNNE, 14 W. R. 361.

(16)—Security prior to executing High Court's decree under appeal to Privy Council—Application to order security refused—Grounds.—Application for decree-holder pending decision of appeal to give security refused; Ainsle, J., following the Full Bench Ruling at page 111, 6 W. R. Miscellaneous Rulings, and Paul, J., (whilst declining to follow that ruling), considering the application premature, because merely put on the file of the High Court without the appeal being admitted. BURRA LALL v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 16 W. R. 289. (6 W. R. Mis. 111, F.B., R.)

(17)—Deposit of security for mesne profits and costs—Security after decree—Refund of deposit. —The decree-holder (respondent to England) was required immediately to elect between furnishing security and drawing the sum deposited by the appellant on account of wassilat and costs, and (upon failure to do so) allowing the appellant to obtain a refund of the deposit upon giving the like security. A party who seeks to obtain security after the decree has been executed must show special circumstances, e.g., waste or improper dealing with the property. JUGGO LALL OOPADHYA v. JANKEE BEBEE, 17 W. R. 521. [F., 33 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67.]

(18)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 608—Order for security to be furnished by respondent in Privy Council appeal—Liability of third parties giving security for mesne profits—Contract Act, s. 130.—It is competent to the High Court to make an order under s. 608, Civ. Pro. Code, requiring security from the respondent in a Privy Council appeal for the restitution of the property which has been put into his possession in execution of the decree appealed against and for mesne profits, in case the Privy Council appeal should be decided against him. [F., 33 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67.] When third parties pledge certain of their properties to secure the claim which the respondent in the above case may have for mesne profits but give no personal guarantee, it is not competent to them to put an end to the security under the provisions of the Contract Act relating to revocation of a surety. NARAYANAN CHETTI v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTI, 19 M. 140.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——4.—Stay of execution pending appeal—concluded.

(19)—Cross-decrees—Appeal to Privy Council—Procedure.—Where there is an order of Court to stay execution of a decree obtained by a party who has appealed to the Privy Council from another decree against himself, if the holder of the decree appealed against attempts to execute it, the proper procedure is to bring the order before the Division Court to which the application is made to execute that decree and abide by its order. DWARAKANATH ROY v. WOOMA SOONDUREE DOSSIA, 14 W.R.329.

(20)—Power of Civil Court to stay execution—Appeal to Privy Council against decree of High Court, pending.—A Civil Court has no power to stay execution, in cases where an appeal has been made to the Privy Council against a decree of the High Court. MUTTEALAUMMAL v. CHELLAYAMMAL, 5 M.H.C. 98.

—Application for leave to, as—See PAUPER, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 149.

——5.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Death of appellant—Revival of appeal.—After an appeal to England, and before any petition of appeal was lodged, the appeal abated by the death of the appellant. Appeal revived by the appellant's special administratrix. TROUP AND OTHERS v. THE EAST INDIA CO., 4 W.R. 111, P. C. =7 M.I.A. 104.

(2)—By the Master of the Supreme Court from an order of dismissal.—An order made by the Judges of the Supreme Court of Madras, dismissing the master of that Court from his office, for alleged official misconduct in the taxation of a bill of costs, being made by the Court at its own instance, is not an appealable grievance, within the Madras Charter of Justice of December 1800. An appeal having been allowed by the Court below, and referred by Her Majesty to the Judicial Committee for adjudication in the ordinary way, their Lordships, though of opinion that there existed no Charter right of appeal, thought it a fit case for the allowance of a special appeal; and having heard the case upon the merits, directed a petition for special leave to appeal to be presented to Her Majesty; which, on being referred to them, they recommended the allowance thereof, and that the appeal be placed in the same plight and condition as that orginally referred to them. In re MINCHIN, 4 M.I.A. 220.

(3)—Privy Council—Appeal—Certificate—High Court—Substantial point of law—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596—S. 596 of the Code of Civil Procedure requires that in order to give a right of appeal to the Privy Council where a point of law is found to exist there must be in dispute either directly or indirectly an amount of Rs. 10,000. If the decree affirms the Court below, another condition is affixed. viz., that the appeal must involve some substantial question of law. BANARSI V. KRISHN, 3 Bom. L.R. 154.

Appeal to Privy Council—continued.

——5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(5)—Privy. Council—Appeal—Leave of the High Court—Special leave to appeal—Practice.—The practice of the Privy Council in advising His Majesty to exercise His prerogative, and to give special leave to appeal, is that it does not do so unless there is some substantial question of law of general interest involved. Where a party approaches the Privy Council for special leave to appeal, the case being under appealable value, and, therefore, not an appeal as of right, he should in the first instance apply to the High Court for leave to appeal, on the ground that it is otherwise a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council. In re MOTICHAND, 4 Bom. L.R. 159.

(5)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—High Court's jurisdiction—Subject-matter of value less than Rs. 10,000—Practice.—S. 596 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not give the High Court jurisdiction to grant leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council in case where any less value than Rs. 10 000 is directly or indirectly involved. RADHA KRISHN CHAND, v. KRISHNA 3 Bom. L.R. 469.

(6)—Appeal—Privy Council—High Court—Leave to appeal.—It is not competent to a High Court to grant leave to appeal to the Privy Council, upon the ground that "there seems to be a point of law:" this is contrary to the provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. KARUPPANAN v. SHRINIVASAN, 4 Bom. L. R. 248.

(7)—Decision—Interpretation—Decree affirming the decision of the Court immediately below—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 596.—The natural, obvious and prima facie meaning of the word, "decision" is the decision of the suit by the Court; and in s. 596 of the Civ. Pro. Code the term bears the same meaning. A decree is to be regarded as affirming the decision of the Court immediately below, when the appellate Court confirms the order passed: the fact that the reasons given by the appellate Court are not the same in respect of some matter of fact makes no difference TASSADUQ v. MANICKCHAND, 5 Bom. L.R. 100.

(8)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—The High Court granted leave to appeal to the Privy Council, where the case involved a question of law and the point in dispute though not measurable by money, was of considerable importance, e.g., the extent of the control acquired by one who has built a Parsi fire-temple. NAVROJI v. KHARSEDJI, 6 Bom. L.R. 286.

(9)—S. 594, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Appeal—Privy Council — Certificate to appeal—High Court—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882)—Memorandum of Association Act (XII of 1895).—The term 'decree' in s. 594 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, includes an order passed by the High Court under the Memorandum of Association Act, 1895, or under the Companies Act, 1882. The High Court granted leave to appea to the Privy Council on the grounds that the questions involved might seriously affect the financial and commercial position of the Company in question, and that it was of importance to Indian Companies generally that their rights should be precisely defined in relation to the point that arose in the case. BOMBAY BURMA TRADING CO. v. DORABJI, 5 Bom. L. R. 348=27 B. 415.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(10)—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—High Court should record reasons in refusing the leave.—The High Court should, in refusing a certificate for leave to appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, state the grounds on which they refused it. In re VENGANAT, 8 Bom. L.R. 374=10 C.W.N. 545=29 M. 194, P.C =4 C.L J. 305=33 I.A. 67.

(11)—Leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council—Value of the matter in dispute in appeal—Decree involving some claim or question to, or respecting property of the prescribed value.—S. 596, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—To determine the value prescribed by s. 596 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the decree is to be looked at as it affects the interests of the party prejudiced by it. Where the detriment to the party seeking relief is estimated at less than Rs. 10,000, the value of the matter in dispute in appeal is not of the prescribed value, the decree itself does not involve any claim or question to or respecting property of the prescribed value, and the case does not fulfil the requirements of s. 596 of the Code. DE SILVA v. DE SILVA, 6 Bom. L.R. 403.

(12 & 13)—Final decree passed on appeal—High Court—Appeal—Privy Council—S. 595, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. An order passed by the High Court, refusing to admit an appeal presented beyond the prescribed period, is not a "decree passed on appeal" under s. 595 (a) of the Civ. Pro Code, and is, therefore, not appealable to His Majesty in Council. KARSONDAS v. GANGABAI, 9 Bom. L R. 566=32 B. 108.

(14)—Concurrent judgments on fact.—The Privy Council will not interfere with the concurrent judgments of Original and Appellate Courts, upon matters of fact, in the absence of any contravention of law or procedure, unless very definite and explicit grounds for that interference are assigned. MOUNG SHA HUYEEN v. MOUNG PANNYO, 28 C. 1, P C.=27 I. A. 166=4 C.W N. 808=2 Bom. L.R. 985=7 Sar. 786. [D., 5 C.W.N. 692.]

(15) — Appeal from interlocutory orders—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 108.—No appeal lies to Her Majesty in Council from an order which is a purely interlocutory order, directing procedure; such appeal only lies if the order is a final order in the sense of s. 595 (a) as modified by s 594 of the Civ. Pro. Code. The mere fact that the High Court, apparently on the assumption that it was such an order, have certified the sufficiency of the amount and value of the suit, cannot make appealable an order which does not fulfil the statutory conditions. The application of defendant, under s. 108 of the Civ. Pro. Code, to set aside an ex-parte decree was dismissed by the Subordinate Judge. Against that order of dismissal an appeal was taken to the High Court by the defendant. The High Court set aside the order of the Subordinate Judge and ordered that "the case be, and it hereby is, remanded, under s. 562 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to the Court of the said Subordinate Judge to be disposed of on the merits." Held, on the construction of this order, that what was remanded was merely the application immediately before the Court, to wit, the application to set aside the decree, and that it was that application which the Subordinate Judge would under the remand, proceed to dispose of, by allowing the respondent to endeavour to satisfy him of the conditions specified in s. 108 and then, if that be done, by setting aside the decree. RAI RADHA KISHEN v. COLLECTOR OF JAUNPUR, 3 Bom. L.R. 78.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(16)—Leave to appeal—Interlocutory order—Jurisdiction.—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council can be given where the order appealed from transferring a case from one Court to another is interlocutory, and raises a question of jurisdiction, MUNICIPAL OFFICER, ADEN v. ABDUL KAREEM, 6 Bom. L. R. 85=28 B. 292.

(17)—Privy Council appeal—Security bond for respondents costs—Liability of surety in execution.—The amount secured by a bond (for the costs in respect of an appeal to the Privy Council) cannot be recovered in the execution department of the Court having charge of the execution of the Privy Council decree. The proper remedy of the decree-holder against the surety is by a seperate suit. RADHA PERSHAD SINGH v. PHULJURI KOER, 12 C. 402. (2 A. 604; Diss., 7 M. 284. Appr.) [F., 15 C. 497, 23 C. 212; Cons., 15 M. 203, 25 M. 409.]

(18)—Abandonment, on appeal, of a part of amount of claim—Reduction of claim to below prescribed limit of appealable amount.—Where the defendants, having a bona fide intention to appeal in respect of the whole amount decreed, obtained the certificate and admission of their appeal as competent within the Code of Civil Procedure, and afterwards, in the printed case, and at the hearing, withdrew part of their appeal, confining it to an amount below the prescribed limit, the appeal is not thereby rendered incompetent. KALKA SINGH v. PARAS RAM, 22 C. 434, P. C.=22 I. A. 68=5 M.L.J. 14=6 Sar. 545.

(19)—Order in Council reversing decree of High Court — Petition for amendment.—An order in Council which dismissed a suit and reversed a decree of the High Court setting aside a transfer of a testator's estate by the executors, as illegal, named in his will to the Administrator-General, appointing a Receiver and directing accounts against the executors, should not be amended on petition. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. PREM LALL MULLICK, 22 C. 1011, P. C. = 22 I. A. 202 = 5 M.L.J. 157 = 6 Sar. 660.

Appeal to Privy Council*—continued.

——5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(20)—Appeal to Privy Council—Security for costs of respondent—Execution of Privy Council decree against surety—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 253 and 610.—Under ss. 253 and 610 of the Civ. Pro Code, an order or decree of the Privy Council can be executed against sureties, who, on behalf of the opposite party, have given security, either for costs or for the whole decree-amount, that might become due from such party —Per Spankie, J., and Straight, J.—Contra. The words of s. 610 seem simply to provide for the enforcement of decrees or orders of the Privy Council, according to the same method as original decrees are executed by the Court passing them, but they create no liability and establish no specific responsibility, in the surety, such as is created by s. 253. BANS BAHADUR SINGH v MUGHLA BEGAM, 2 A. 604, F B. [Diss., 12 C. 402, 15 C. 497; F., A.W.N. 1885, 13, 17 A. 99, = A.W.N. 1895, 19; Cons., 15 M. 203; R., 3 A. 809, 13 M, 1, 25 B. 409, 2 Bom. L.R. 203. 31 B. 128; D., 7 M. 284, 32 C. 494 = 9 C.W.N. 372 = 1 C.L.J. 118.]

(21)—Subject-matter of suit trifling—Refusal of leave to appeal.—The Supreme Court, in overruling the objections to the jurisdiction of the Court, refused leave to appeal; the subject-matter of the action being trifling, and under the amount required by the rules of the Privy Council. Upon petition, the Judicial Committee granted leave to appeal, but upon terms of the appellant paying the respondent's costs of the appeal, to enable him to appear to prevent the question being argued ex parte. SPOONER v. JUDDOW, 4 M.I.A. 383.

(22)—Rules of Ecclesiastical Courts in Doctors' Commons—Quære. — Whether the rules of Ecclesiastical Courts in Doctors' Commons relating to the doctrine of pre-emption of appeal, apply to an Ecclesiastical cause in the Supreme Court at Calcutta, so as to deprive a party of the Charter right to appeal within six months from the decree, &c. CASEMENT v. FULTON, 3 M.I.A. 395.

(23)—High Court's rules for admitting Privy Council appeals.—Circulates rules recently passed by the High Court regarding the admission of appeals to Her Majesty in Council. Civ. Cir. No 27, dated 5th September 1870. 14 W.R. Civ. Cir. 13.

—Subject-matter not exceeding Rs. 10,000—Certificates granted in connected cases—Same question involved—Leave to appeal—See CIV. PRO. Code, 1908, ss. 109, 110, 5 Ind. Cas. 583.

—Interpretation of decree—Res judicata—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 109 (c), O. XLV, r. 3, 8 Ind. Cas. 485.

Appeal to Privy Council*—concluded.

——5.—Miscellaneous—concluded.

—Poverty, whether sufficient reason for extension of time allowed for the deposit of security for respondent's costs in—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLV, r. 7, 44 P.R. 1910 = 70 P.W.R. 1910 = 6 Ind. Cas. 723 = 118 P. L. R. 1910.

—Order dismissing appeal on default—Effect—Limitation for execution of decree—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 181, 183, 7 A.L.J. 1001, F.B = 7 Ind. Cas. 926.

Appearance.

—Order directing party to appear in person—Omission to mention section—Effect—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. III, r. 1, O. VII r. 15, O. X, r. 4, 6 A.L.J. 340 = 2 Ind. Cas. 463.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 13, Marsh 32.

—Application for adjournment by pleader, whether an—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 17, 19, 11 C.W.N. 329, F.B. = 5 C.L.J. 247 = 2 M.L.T 123 = 34 C. 403.

—Non-attendance in Court—Appearance by agent—See PARTIES TO SUITS—MISCELLANEOUS, Marsh 627.

Appellant.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXII, r. 5 12 A. 200.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 10, 8 A. 203, F.B. = A.W.N. 1886, 310.

—Absence of, procedure to be followed in—See DISMISSAL OF SUITS, 7 Bom. L.R. 933.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 171, 3 C.L.R. 440.

Appellate Court.

1.—ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE ON APPEAL.
2.—DUTY OF APPELLATE COURT.
3.—OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL.
4.—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT.
5.—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.
6.—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE.
7.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See APPEAL.

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 96 to 112 and O. XLI to XLV.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 27.

See EVIDENCE.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional Evidence on appeal—ctd.

(1)—Opportunity given to parties for adducing evidence—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 353—Sufficiency of evidence.—When parties have had an opportunity to put in such evidence as they consider sufficient on the material issues of a case, it ought to be held sufficient under s. 353, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, to enable the appellate Court to pronounce a satisfactory judgment. BEEBEE ZAHRAH v. BHUJWAN DOSS, 16 W.R. 211.

(2.—Ex-parte decision of case without considering evidence—Memo of objections not filed—S. 354, Act VIII of 1859.—The appellate Court cannot decide a case ex parte without considering that evidence, because a memorandum of objections under s. 351, Act VIII of 1859, has not been filed. WOOMASH CHUNDER ROY v. JONARDUN HAJRAH, 15 W.R. 235. [Diss., 1 A. 165 ; R., 5 N.W.P. 114.]

(3)—Evidence improperly admitted in lower Court.—The lower appellate Court was not competent to reject the documentary evidence which had been admitted by the Court of first instance merely because it had been admitted after the first hearing of the case or after the date on which it had been ordered to be produced. HANOOMAN SINGH v. FEEL, 3 Agra, 148.

(4)—S. 355, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Evidence taken in ministerial capacity—Defendant's right to object.—Lower Court taking evidence under s. 355, Act VIII of 1859, acts in a ministerial capacity ; and defendant may object to the documentary evidence when submitted to appellate Court. RAMJOY SURMAH v. RAJAH PRANKISHEN SINGH ; BARODA DEBIA v. RAJAH PRANKISHEN SINGH and PRONNODA DEBIA v. RAJAH PRANKISHEN SINGH, 2 W. R. 80.

(5)—Discretion of lower appellate Court to allow parties to adduce fresh evidence.—It is within the discretion of a lower appellate Court to allow the parties an opportunity to adduce fresh evidence, if it is satisfied that the interests of justice require that course. MOHUNT DAMOODUR DASS v. RITTO SINGH, 24 W.R. 325.

(6)—Evidence, not sufficient for determination of appeal—Additional evidence.—Where the evidence upon the record is not sufficient to enable the appellate Court to pronounce a judgment upon a regular appeal, the appellate Court may require the Court, against whose decree the appeal is made, to take additional evidence, defining the points to which such evidence is to be confined, in order to enable the appellate Court finally to determine the case. NARASIMHARAV KRISHNARAV v. ANTAJI VIRUPAKSH, 2. B.H.C. 61.

(7)—Munsif decreeing plaintiff's claim on defendant's admission and on perusal of document of former suit—Reversal by Judge on appeal—Taking fresh evidence—Course to be pursued on appeal.—Where a Munsif, without framing issues or examining the plaintiff, passed a decree in his favour upon an admission made by the defendant, and upon inspection of a document that was upon the record of a former suit, but the Judge, on appeal, reversed the decree of the Munsif on account of the insufficiency of evidence, the document, in his opinion, not being admissible. It was held that the Judge ought not to have reversed the Munsif's decree without first exercising his power of taking fresh evidence under s. 355 of the Code of Civil Procedure. APPA valad KASHINATH v. VITHOBA valad TUKARAM, 6 B.H.C.A.C. 88.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional Evidence on appeal—ctd.

(8)—Kaboolent—Refusal to summon witnesses—Additional evidence.—When a defendant in a suit in which the genuineness of the kaboleut is disputed appeals from a Deputy Collector who refused to summon certain witnesses, the Judge ought to direct that the witnesses or their evidence should be sent up, the evidence being confined to the rate and time of payment and the rent to which payment had been appropriated. MOHUN MUNDUR v. BRIJ BHOOKUN SINGH, 9 W.R. 127.

(9)—Partnership—Supplemental evidence in appeal.—In a suit to recover money, where certain goods being attached by order of the Court, two other persons claim them as their property and are made defendants, and the lower Court finds that the proof of their partnership has failed : Held, in appeal, that plaintiff's case cannot now be supplemented by examining parties or books not produced in the Court below. VELAET ALI KHAN v. MATADEEN, 10 W.R. 402.

(10)—Party refusing to produce documents before first Court, whether could be permitted to put them in during appeal.—During the hearing of the appeal in this case, the High Court ruled that the defendants, the Shevaks of the temple, could not be allowed to put in as evidence certain account-books which they had, in the Court of first instance, refused to produce. After succeeding in his resistance to the production of documents, a party cannot be allowed, when the hearing has been finished and his adversary has been perhaps driven to establish his case on a quite different footing, to turn round during the appeal and request that such documents may be admitted. MANSHAR GANISH TAMBEKAR v. LAKSHMIRAM GOVINDRAM, 12 B. 247.

(11)—Sale-deed—Collusion—Presumption as to, without inquiry—Possession.—Where plaintiff has purchased B's right in a 4-anna share of property, the rights and interests in which are sold in execution and purchased by defendant, and B, the vendor, admits the sale to plaintiff —Held that the lower appellate Court did wrong in presuming collusion between B and his vendee, and ought not to reject the deed of sale without examining the writer and witnesses; and that it ought to decide plaintiff's possession at any time under the deed. RAM LALL JHA v. ISSUR CHUNDER DEY, 10 W R. 481.

Appellate Court—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—ctd.

(12)—S. 355, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Construction—Right to adduce further evidence.—The true interpretation of Civ Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355 is that, when a Court sees that, by some inadvertence or mistake, a party has not produced some evidence which he was capable of adducing and that he is likely to be prejudiced by that omission or mistake, which was simply unintentional, undesigned, and accidental, the Court should allow such further evidence to be taken. GOWHUR ALI KHAN v. MUSSAMUT SAKHEENA KHANUN, 15 W R. 507.

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, O. IX, r. 13 (=old s. 108), Order under—Appeal against order—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355.—The Court declined, on appeal from an order rejecting an application under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, to set aside an ex-parte decree in order to receive an affidavit which had not been previously tendered, and held that s. 355 was not meant to apply to such a case. SHEPHARD JOHN LESLIE v. WILLIAM OSMAND ALLENDER, 17 W.R. 390.

(14)—Ejectment—Admission in appeal of defendant's document denied in lower Court—Substantial error of law.—In a suit for ejectment, held that the admission in appeal of a pottah on the ipse dixit of the defendant after his vakeel had deposed on oath in the first Court that defendant had no documents whatever, is a substantial error in law; and that even if the Subordinate Judge had a right to admit it, he was wrong in deciding the case on it without evidence of its genuineness. SERAJOOL HUQ v. SHAIKH KERAMUTOOLLAH, 19 W.R. 87.

(15)—Court satisfied with evidence of party—Court to receive all evidence adduced by party—Appellate Court.—A Court of first instance ought not, because it is satisfied with the evidence given by one of the parties, prevent him from putting in all the evidence he wishes, so that his case may be brought fairly before the appellate Court. Where a party has been prevented by the first Court from putting in all his evidence, and the evidence on the record is not deemed sufficient by the appellate Court, the latter does wrong in refusing the evidence which was excluded by the first Court. BRIJ SOONDUR ROY v. BIBEE KAIMOONNISSA, 23 W.R. 63.

(16)—Taking of additional evidence when required by appellate Court.—When a lower Court disposes of a case upon the merits as proved by evidence not legally admissible against the defendants and the appellate Court considers it proper to allow the plaintiff to adduce further evidence, it may either take such further evidence itself, or send the case back to the lower Court to take such evidence.

Appellate Court—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—ctd.

RAMJOY SURMAH MOZOOMDAR v. RAJAH PURAN KISHEN SINGH, W.R.F.B. 124.

(17)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355—Evidence.—On an appeal to the High Court, that Court, acting under the power conferred by s. 355 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Act VIII of 1859, ex mero motu, called for and examined fresh witnesses. Held, that such power should be cautiously exercised, and the reasons for exercising it recorded or minuted by the High Court on the proceedings; as, first, the witnesses may be such as the parties to the suit do not wish to call; and, secondly, the new evidence may not be sufficiently extensive to satisfy the ends of justice. SREEMANCHUNDER DEY v. GOPAULCHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, 7 W.R. 10 P.C. = 11 M.I.A. 28.

(18)—Fresh evidence—Review—Act VIII of 1859, s. 355.—The Privy Council should not lightly admit fresh evidence. GOBIND SUNDARI DEBIA v. JAGADAMBA DEBIA, 3 B.L.R. P C. 25.

(19)—Examining defendant in appeal on material evidence—Act VIII of 1859, s. 355—Illegal procedure.—A Judge examining in appeal a defendant who failed to give material evidence which he might have given in the Court below acts erroneously. JUGOBUNDHOO DEB v. GOLUCK CHUNDER HOLDAR, 10 W.R. 228.

(20)—Additional evidence—Appellate Court.—An appellate Court ought not to receive additional evidence not before the Court of first instance without a special reason which should be recorded. JOOG MAYA DEBIA v. RAM CHUNDER CHATERJEE, 10 W.R. 378.

(21)—Reasons to be stated for taking fresh evidence—Procedure.—A lower appellate Court should state fully its reasons for calling for fresh evidence, but in point of law, it is sufficient to state that such reasons exist. SHIB CHUNDER MAHTOON v. KASHEENATH KURMOKAR, 12 W.R. 245.

(22)—Recording reasons for reception of further evidence—Condition.—For their reception of further evidence by an appellate Court, it is not necessary that the reasons for doing so should be recorded. MR. W. CHARDON v. AJEET SINGH, 12 W.R. 52.

(23 and 24)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 355—Admission of additional evidence by appellate Court.—It is irregular for an appellate Court to receive, without very substantial reasons, evidence, however material and important, not produced in the lower Courts. But the High Court declined to set aside a decision based on such evidence, on the ground that the decision of the Court below was justified by sufficient evidence independently of the evidence improperly admitted. MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA BANWARI GOBIND BAHADUR v. BHABATARINI DASI, 5 B.L.R. App. 54 = 14 W.R. 19.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—ctd.

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355—Reasons for admitting fresh evidence on appeal.—The provision of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act VIII of 1859, s. 355) which requires the Judges who admit fresh evidence on an appeal to record their reasons, though not a condition precedent to the reception of the evidence, is yet one that ought to be strictly complied with. GUNGA GOBIND MUNDUL v. THE COLLECTOR OF THE TWENTY-FOUR PERGUNNAHS, 7 W.R. 21, P.C. = 11 M.I.A. 345.

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 359—Recording reasons for additional evidence—Necessity.—It is the duty of the Court to record its reasons for additional evidence taken under s. 355, Act VIII of 1859, but it is not a condition precedent to the admissibility of the evidence. BANEE PERSHAD v. LALLA JOGESSUR DAS, 11 W.R. 47.

(27)—Defendant's evidence imperfectly taken in first Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355—Judge to examine defendant and record reasons.—Where the evidence of a defendant in the first Court has been so imperfectly taken that the lower appellate Court can form no decision, the Judge under s. 355, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, must himself examine the defendant, and record his reasons for so doing. MOHESH CHUNDDR DOSS v. MADHUB CHUNDER SIRDAR, 13 W. R. 85.

(28)—Record of reasons for sending for evidence—Procedure.—A Judge sending for a map or other evidence must record his reason for doing so, and this evidence must be received in the presence of the parties in open Court and afterwards kept in the record. GUNPUT ROY v. RAM DEVUR ROY, 21 W.R. 416.

(29)—Discretion as to fresh evidence.—Although fresh evidence of facts should be rarely required by appellate Court, the matter is within its discretion. SHOOKRAH SHAIKH v. NUND COOMAR BANERJEE, 23 W.R. 246.

(30)—Additional evidence, record of, by lower appellate Court—Interference by High Court—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 568.—Where an appellate Court, though it is not satisfied that the evidence is necessary either under cl. (a) or (b) of s. 568, still allows additional evidence to be taken, the second appellate Court will interfere; but where this does not appear to be the case, and there is simply an omission on the part of the appellate Court to record its reasons for allowing additional evidence to be taken, the second appellate Court will not interfere. HAFIZ ABDUL KARIM v. SRI KISSEM RAI, 11 C. 139. [R., 1 O.C. 199.]

(31)—Record of additional evidence by first appellate Court.—Civ. Pro. Code. 1882, s. 568—Provision directory only—Procedure in second appellate Court—The provision of s. 568 of the Civ. Pro. Code, as to an appellate Court recording its reasons for admitting additional evidence, is mandatory or directory merely, and not imperative. The record of additional evidence by a first appellate Court will not make the hearing in the second Court a first appeal, so as to allow the parties to go into facts. GOPAL SINGH v JHAKRI RAI, 18 C. 37. (7 M. 52, Not F.) [F., 24 C. 98.]

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—ctd.

(32)—First Court's refusal to summon witnesses of plaintiff—Additional evidence on appeal—s 355, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859.—The first Court's refusal to summon five of plaintiff's witnesses, notwithstanding that it postponed the case for 10 days, although fifteen other witnesses were present, is a sufficient reason within Act VIII of 1859, s. 355, for the lower appellate Court to send for and take their evidence. ABELAKH ROY v. GUGGUN BHUGGUT, 22 W.R. 268.

(33)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 355—Additional evidence in appellate Court.—Where the lower appellate Court "considered it necessary, for the purpose of proper decision" to examine certain persons, held that it was a sufficient reason within the meaning of s. 355, Act VIII of 1859, for requiring the additional evidence. RADHANATH DHUBI v. RAM GOBIND PAL, 8 B.L.R. A.C. 218.

(34)—Rejection of evidence taken by appellate Court in presence of parties—Record of reasons.—Evidence taken by a lower appellate Court in the presence of parties or their agents should not be rejected on appeal, merely because the Court omitted to record its reasons for admitting it. BHUGWAN CHUNDER GHOSE v. RAJ COOMAR GOOHO, 13 W.R. 303.

(35)—Appeal — Practice — Registration — Certificate of sale registered after decree but before appeal.—The plaintiff, as purchaser at a Court's sale, sued in 1871 for possession of certain immoveable property, and put in evidence a sale certificate, dated 20th September, 1865. The claim was disallowed on the ground that the certificate was not registered, though registration of it was compulsory. On the 9th February, 1875, the plaintiff filed an appeal in the High Court against that decree, and on the 26th July, 1875, applied to that Court for permission to give in evidence a new certificate of sale, issued on the 1st February, 1875 regarding the same property as that to which the certificate of the 20th September, 1865, related. Held that, as the new certificate was issued after the first Court had made its decree, the High Court ought not to receive it, or to suggest or facilitate any application to the lower Court for a review of its decree on documentary evidence which had no existence when that Court made such decree. Quære.—Whether, under the circumstances of this case, the Subordinate Judge, who issued the new certificate of the sale on the 1st February, 1875, ought to have so issued it in order that the plaintiff might register it, the plaintiff having already lost, by his own laches, the right to register the original certificate. Quære—Whether the Court of first instance ought to have received the second certificate if it had been issued and tendered in evidence subsequently to the filing of the suit, but previously to the original hearing. LALBHAI LAKHMIDAS v. NAVAL MIR KAMALUDIN HUSEN KHAN, 12 B.H.C. 247. [D., 6 B. 139, 10 B. 444; R., 9 B. 472.]

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—ctd.

(36)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 142 A—Evidence—Document rejected by first Court as inadmissible—Effect of document continuing on record.—Where a document produced and tendered in evidence by the defendants was rejected by the first Court with an endorsement showing why it was rejected, but, however, on account of some oversight on the part of some officer of that Court, or by reason of the defendants not having asked for the return of the document, it was allowed to remain on the record, the mere fact of its being found among the papers could not be taken to have avoided the necessity which the defendants were under to tender it in evidence to the lower appellate Court, if they wanted to rely on it. HAR GOBIND v. NONI BAHU, 14 A. 356 = A.W.N. 1892, 42.

(37)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 568—Fresh evidence—Discretion of Appellate Court.—The Appellate Court might take fresh evidence or direct the lower Court to take it, where the evidence has been taken so imperfectly by the Court of first instance that the Appellate Court cannot pass a satisfactory judgment on the issues raised in the case. SRINIVASACHARIAR v. RANGAMMAL, 18 M. 94.

(38)—Civ Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), ss. 562, 568, 569—Exclusion of evidence, by Court of first instance, whether sufficient ground for reversal of decree—Additional evidence, record of.—Where there has been a trial and adjudication on the evidence taken by the Court of first instance and the issues have been decided and decree passed, on appeal from such decree it is not competent to the appellate Court, to reverse such decree and remand the case for re-trial, simply on the ground of the exclusion, by the lower Court, of certain evidence which the parties had desired to produce S. 562 of the Civ. Pro. Code is inapplicable to such a case. The proper course for the appellate Court to take would be to act either under s. 568 or s. 569 of the Code by itself taking the evidence considered to have been wrongly excluded or directing the lower Court to take it. SESHAN PATTAR v. SESHAN PATTAR, 23 M. 447. (23 M. 445, D.) [R., 30 M. 54 = 16 M.L.J. 479 = 1 M.L.T. 268, F.B.]

(39)—Reversal of decision on preliminary points—Appeal—Re-trial of suit on merits—Evidence of defendants—Admissibility.—Where a suit is re-tried on its merits after reversal of decision on a preliminary point, evidence may be received even from defendants who have appeared, and a fortiori from one who has not appeared. KOONJ BEHAREE AWESTEE v. TARINEE KANT LAHOREE, 8 W.R. 285.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——1.—Additional evidence on appeal—cld.

(40)—Evidence of payment of rent—Decree in former suit—Remand by Appellate Court—Additional evidence.—A decree passed in a previous suit, when it declares the rent payable by a ryot, is evidence of the rent still payable by him, unless the landlord pleads that the jumma, as settled by the decree, has since been altered and succeeds in proving the plea. In an appeal, a Judge is competent to take additional evidence himself and should not remand a case for such evidence being taken. CHUNDER COOMAR ROY v. ZEEMNUTOOLLAH SIRDAR, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 95.

(41)—Tender of evidence by defendant—Decision by first Court without receiving evidence—Duty of Appellate Court.—When the Court of first instance decides a case in favour of a defendant without receiving certain evidence tendered by him, the Court of Appeal should allow him the opportunity of adducing that evidence. MOKEEM TANDAL v. NAWAB SYED ALI AHMED, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 133.

(42)—Defendants taken unawares by issue—Procedure.—Lower Appellate Court, which considers defendants taken unawares as to an issue in a suit for land, should call for evidence and not dismiss case. PEAREE MOHUN MOOKERJEE v. HURO PERSHAD ROY CHOWDHRY, 23 W.R. 99.

(43)—Admissibility of documentary evidence—Objection—Jurisdiction of appellate Court.—Where no objection was taken as to the admissibility of documentary evidence, in this case a decree, and the plaintiff and the defendant having respectively put in different portions of the proceedings in regard to that decree and having referred to and built up arguments upon those different portions, the appellate Court had no jurisdiction to exclude it. BIRCHANDRAROI MAHAPATTAR v. BANSI DHAR ROY MAHAPATTAR, 3 B L.R A.C. 215. [F., 8 Ind. Cas. 26.]

—Suit for dissolution of marriage on the ground of adultery—Production of additional evidence in appellate Court—See ACT IV OF 1869, ss. 3 (2), 55, 4 A. 306 = A.W.N. 1882, 86.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court.

(1)—Judgment, contents of—Judgment upon the facts—Reasons for findings—Relief actually granted.—It is not sufficient for an Appellate Court merely to state that it is not prepared to say that the decree of the Lower Court was wrong or against the weight of evidence as alleged in the appeal, but it should form its own judgment upon the fact and give its own reasons for its findings. Further, it is not sufficient for an Appellate Court to merely set aside the decree of the Court below, but it should state the relief actually granted. U BEIN v. AVETCHE CHETTY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 590.

(2)—Method of determining appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 574.—It is the duty of the Court of first appeal to consider the pleas in appeal before it, to examine the evidence for itself, and to express its own view as to the weight and value of the evidence with special reference to the requirements of s. 574, Civ. Pro. Code. The provisions of that section are imperative and require the Court not only to have present to its mind, but also to state in express terms, the various points in the case, and after going fully into the evidence and after weighing it, to pass a decision on each material point. MAHADEO PRASAD v. SARJU PRASAD, A.W.N. 1886, 171. [R., 9 A. 26, 8 A. 576, F.B.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(3)—Disposal of appeal—Method of.—An Appellate Court should not merely run through the grounds of appeal The points for decision should be clearly set out, with the determination of each, and the reasons. Unless the lower appellate Courts do their duty by dealing thoroughly with the cases before them, much trouble and expense are caused to litigants, as the unsuccessful party is sure to take advantage of any omission to come up in revision, and the application has to be admitted, because the lower appellate Court has not made it clear that the case has been properly considered and disposed of. CIVIL REVISION NO. 48 OF 1893, U.B.R. 1892=1896, Vol. II, 6.

(4)—Method of dealing with questions of fact in appeal.—In dealing with questions of fact which turn entirely upon the evidence given on the trial, the High Court ought not merely to consider whether the lower Court has come to the same conclusion as that to which it should have come, if it had originally heard the witnesses, but, before reversing the decision, it ought to be satisfied that the Court was clearly wrong. OOTUM v. MULLICK GHOLAM HOSSEIN, 2 Hay 359.

(5)—Appellate Court need not look at evidence generally—Decision of lower Court only to be considered.—A Judge of appeal is not an arbitrator required to look at evidence on both sides, and determine which is preferable: he has to deal with the decision of a properly-constituted Court, which, if not shown to be erroneous, ought to be affirmed. SHETABDEE BISWAS v. MOLAMDEE MUNDUL, 25 W.R. 30.

(6)—Not bound to meet every argument of lower Court—Remand for meagreness of judgment of lower Court.—An appellate Court is not bound to meet categorically every argument advanced by the first Court. The meagreness of the lower appellate Court's judgment warrants a remand only when the judgment does not show that the evidence has been considered. KRISHNENDRO ROY CHOWDHRY v. DIGUMBUREE DEBIA, 16 W.R. 18. [R., 21 W.R. 260.]

(7)—Necessity for first appellate Court to examine grounds stated by first Court.—A mere general and sweeping statement of opinion is not a sufficient disposal of an appeal pending before a Court of first appeal. It is the duty of the Court to deal with the matter of examining the grounds stated by the first Court, and, if it differed in its conclusion, showing that those grounds were not supported by evidence or that they were insufficient in themselves, or that they were overbalanced by other considerations arising out of the proved or admitted circumstances of the case. RAJA SETH GOKULDAS v. MT. JANKEE, 9 C.P.L.R. 142. [R., 2 N.L.R. 87].

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(8)—Conditions of interference with first Court's judgment.—The duty of the appellate Court is not to interfere with the judgment of the first Court until it is perfectly satisfied in its own mind that the conclusion arrived at by the first Court is erroneous. If there is any doubt in the case, the benefit of that doubt ought to be given to the respondent and not to the appellant, for it must be presumed in law that the judgment of the lower Court is right until the contrary is shown. No doubt the appellate Court may make further enquiries, but such enquiries ought to be made with discretion, and only in those cases in which the appellate Court finds itself unable to do justice to the parties on the evidence and materials as they stood upon the record. TAYUBUNNISSA BIBI v. SHAM KISHORE ROY, 7 B.L.R. 621=15 W.R. 228.

(9)—Appeal—Exercise of judicial discretion by lower Court, appellate Court how far bound to interfere with.—Whenever an appeal against an order based on facts is given from a subordinate to a superior Court, the discretion vested in the former is absorbed in the latter whose duty, therefore, it is to weigh the facts which form the basis upon which the subordinate Court proceeded and arrived at its own independent conclusion. The mere circumstance that the lower Court is vested by law with judicial discretion does not by itself debar the Court, to which a first appeal lies, from reviewing the facts and judging for itself, and this even where the lower Court has acted after proper enquiry and due consideration of the facts put before it, and not capriciously or with prejudice. KIRANI AHMEDULA v. SUBABHAT, 8 B. 28. [R., 19 B. 790.]

(10)—Judgment upon finding of facts.—An appellate Court should, in every case take into consideration the advantage the Court of first instance has had in seeing the witnesses and observing their manner of giving evidence, but it is bound to exercise its own judgment upon the evidence. N.L.C.N. CHAKAPPA CHETTY v. MAUNG SHWE PA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 64 (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 314 and 418, R.)

(11)—Caution to be used by a Court of Appeal in reversing a first Court's finding of fact on oral evidence.—If, in the Court of first instance, there was clear and distinct evidence upon the one side, and possible evidence which the appellant might think to be as clear and distinct upon the other side, nevertheless, if the Judge, in his discretion, having the opportunity of seeing the witnesses, and of observing their demeanour, has come, on the balance of testimony, to a clear and decisive conclusion, those who undertake to reverse that conclusion on the ground that the Judge has erred in giving credence to the one class of witnesses rather than to other, undertake an almost impossible task. TAN AUNG RI v. RAM CHANDRA DE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 314. (Alice and the Princess Alice, L. R., 2 P. C. 245, F.) [R., L. B. R. 1893—1900, 64, 209, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 416.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(12)—Lower Burma Courts Act.—It is improbable that a trader would have lent so large a sum of money on a verbal deposit. Caution to be used by a Court of civil appeal in disturbing a finding of fact by a Court of first instance. BUX ALLY v. LALL MAHOMED, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 416. [R., L. B. R. 1893—1900, 209.]

(13)—Appellate Court—Finding of fact by lower Court.—A Court of second appeal is bound by a finding of fact of the lower Court. FAKIR LAL GOSWAMI v. W. C. BONNERJI, 4 C.W.N. 324.

(14)—Privy Council, practice of—Appeal on questions of fact.—The rule of the Privy Council not to disturb a judgment of a Court in India upon a question of fact, unless it is clear from the probabilities of the case that the judgment is wrong, however necessary as regards a Court of Appeal far removed from India, would hardly be extended as one equally necessary and applicable with the same strictness to a Court of Appeal in India. SARODA SOONDERY v. TINCOWRY NUNDY, 1 Hyde 223.

(15)—Credibility of witnesses—First Court's decision important.—In cases turning on the credibility of witnesses, the Appellate Court gives great weight to the decision of the Courts below. WOMESH CHUNDER ROY v. DEENDAYAL PORAMANICK, 2 Hay 12.

(16)—Credibility of witness—First Court's opinion entitled to weight.—On question of credit due to witness, the opinion of Courts which witnessed the demeanour of witness is entitled to the consideration of the Appellate Court. GOPEE NATH MOOKERJEE v. BODDHUMUNTMAL, 25 W. R. 26.

(17)—First Court believing testimony of witnesses—Duty of Appellate Court for discrediting them.—Where credit has been given to witnesses by the Court of first instance, the lower appellate Court must state its reasons for disbelieving them. MUSSAMUT HOYMOBUTTY DOSSEE v. SREEKISHEN NUNDEE, 14 W.R. 58.

(18)—High Court, practice of—Appeal on questions of fact—Credibility of witnesses.—The High Court, sitting in appeal on questions of fact, was guided by the same rules as those of the Privy Council when they sat upon motions for a rule for new trials from the old Supreme Court. The High Court, sitting in appeal, will not disturb a judgment upon a question as to the credibility of witnesses, unless it be manifestly clear, from the probabilities attached to certain circumstances in the case, that the Court was wrong in the conclusion drawn from such evidence. The High Court, sitting in appeal, will look upon the decree of a Judge as to facts in the same light as the verdict of a jury; and, though some of the reasons given for the conclusion arrived at be erroneous, the High Court in appeal will not say that the decree is against the weight of evidence, if sufficient reason for such decree still remain. HEERALALL CHUCKERBUTTY v. MOHESH CHUNDER GHOSAUL, 1 Hyde 105.

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(19)—Distinct findings—Appellate Court—Conjecture.—The Appellate Court ought not, upon mere conjecture, to disturb the distinct findings of the Judge of the first Court who had personally examined the witnesses. LAL MAHOMED BEPARI v. SHOILA BEWA, 11 C.L.R. 104. [R., 7 A. 649, F.B. = A.W.N. 1885, 151.]

(20)—Reversal of decision on important question of fact—Record of reasons.—An Appellate Court in reversing a decision on an important question of fact must show distinctly its grounds of action. MUNSOOB BIBEE v. ALI MEAH, 17 W.R. 357.

(21)—Appeal on merits—Duty of Appellate Court to form judgment on facts and give reasons.—When the Legislature gives an appeal on the merits of a case, it is the duty of the Appellate Court to form its own judgment upon the facts and to give its own reasons for its findings. The addition of a new maker to a joint and several promissory note, after issue, is a material alteration which makes it void. U PA v. MYA MYAING, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 343. (Gardner v. Walsh, 8 E. & B. 83, F.)

(22)—Confirming Lower Court's finding—Reasons to be given.—The Court of appeal must give its own reasons for arriving at the conclusion it does and it is not enough to record what the first Court had found and to add to it in a general way that it sees no reason to differ from that finding. MAN SINGH v. BHUP SINGH, 91 P.R. 1882. See, also, PIR WALI SHAH v. SULTAN, 91 P.R. 1882, Note. [R., 28 P.R. 1886.]

(23)—Judgment of Appellate Court.—An Appellate Court is bound to state the grounds of its concurrence with a Lower Court's finding where it is supported by no satisfactory evidence. KHELLUCK CHUNDER GHOSE v. NUND RAM SEIN, 2 W.R. 7.

(24)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 551—Judgment to state points for determination and reasons for the conclusion.—A Court of appeal is bound, in case disposed of under s. 551 of the Code of 1877, to pass a judgment stating the points raised in the appeal and giving its reasons for the findings arrived at. BADRUDDIN v. FATTEH MUHAMMAD, 24 P.R. 1881. (100 P.R. 1879, F.)

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(25)—Reasons for agreeing with lower Court on question of fact.—Where a case turns on weight of evidence, the Appellate Court is not bound to give reasons for agreeing with lower Court on question of fact. SYUD SHAH EKBAL HOSOEIN v. BUNSEE SAHOO, 25 W.R. 12.

(26)—Appellate Court agreeing with the Lower Court—Reasons given by the Lower Court found sufficient—Reference to the same sufficient—Contract to sell—Sale on approval—Contract.—Where the Appellate Court finds that the points urged in appeal were disposed of by the Court below which has given sufficient reasons to support its decision, it can adopt those reasons as its own by reference to the Lower Court's judgment, without stating those reasons at length, and need not set out every argument urged before the Court and its reasons for overruling it. Where a document runs thus:—"8th March, 1882—Received from M.S. two seers of blue stones to the value of ten thousand rupees on approval for one week at my risk, after which the stones to be either returned or purchased outright by me," it amounts to a contract to sell, though not a complete sale on the 8th March and the contract was to sell all the stones for Rs. 10,000, on approval, and the defendant could only be released by returning the whole when the time allowed for approval expired. POLLARD v. MUHAMMAD SADIK, 28 P.R. 1886. (91 P.R. 1882, R.)

(27)—Interference with part of decree not appealed.—An Appellate Court should not interfere with a part of a decree not appealed against. MA TON v. MAUNG LU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 7.

(28)—Nature of a suit—Plaint—Pleadings.—In dealing with a suit, the Appellate Court must look, not to the mere wording of the plaint, but to the issue which was settled for trial, and to the manner in which the case was dealt with by the lower Court or Courts. RAJA RUP SINGH v. RANI BAISNI, 7 A. 1, P.C. = 11 I.A. 149 = A.W.N. 1884, 246 = 4 Sar. 533. [R., 111 P.R. 1900, 2 L.B.R. 4.]

(29)—Appellate Court, decision by, on different point—Question important to parties not to be ignored.—An appellate Court should not ignore a question which was treated as most important by both parties to the suit and by first Court and decide the case on a totally different point. LUCKHEE DOSSEE v. MAHOMED AFZUL, 2 W.R. 2.

(30)—Express determination of point appealed.—An appellate Court is bound to expressly determine the point on which the appeal was preferred. HURREHUR MOOKERJEE v. OOMA MOYE DOSSIA, 12 W.R. 525.

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(31)—Suit for share of ancestral property—Appellate Court to try same issue as lower Courts.—In a suit for a share of ancestral property, where the first Court tries whether the plaintiff ever had joint possession and dismisses the claim as barred by limitation, the Lower Appellate Court is bound to try the same issue. GOPAL CHUNDER CHATTERJEE v. KAJ COOMAREE DEBIA, 4 W.R. 101.

(32)—Duty of Judge to consider matters urged before him—Appeal—False statement—Spurious document.—A Judge is bound to go into all matters raised before him in an appeal, even if appellant appears to have made a false statement, and seeks to palm off a spurious document. JEANUND CHOWDHRY v. SYUD ABDOOL LUTEEF, 15 W.R. 243.

(33)—Decree for rent—Under-tenants—Where a person holds decrees for rent against his under-tenants, he is bound to pay in his turn to his superior holder. And, when the superior holder brings a suit to recover arrears of rent due, it is no answer to say that he has not been able to execute the decrees which he had against the under-tenants. An Appellate Court should not ordinarily travel beyond the record, or take up points which are not the subject of appeal before it. KASHINATH ROY CHOWDHRY v. ROY DWARKANATH CHUCKERBUTTY, 7 W.R. 61.

(34)—Decree in favour of respondent—Cross-objections not filed—Duty of Court.—The Appellate Court must not accept the facts found by the Court of first instance as incontestably proved, in a case where a decree is in favour of the respondent, for the simple reason that no cross-objections to the decree under s. 561 of the Civ. Pro. Code, have been filed by the respondent. BHOGJI v. BAPUJI, 13 B. 75.

(35)—Lower Court bound to follow particular law proceeding contrary to it—Rectification of error.—If a Lower Court, with power under a particular law only, passes an order opposed to the procedure enjoined in that law, it is the duty of the Appellate Court at once to rectify the error of the Court below. HUREE BINDHOO MYTEEBHOOMEE v SOORJO MONEE PAT MAHADAYE, 4 W.R. Act X, Rul. 37.

(36)—Decree by lower appellate Court—Satisfaction of decree directed to be made from sale-proceeds—Ascertainment of value of property to be sold—Execution department.—A lower appellate Judge decreeing a suit in satisfaction of a decree-holder's claim from the proceeds of a house should himself determine and adjudge the value of the house, and not refer that duty to the execution department. LALA MITTERJEET SINGH v. SONATUN DOSS, 15 W.R. 124.

(37)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 359—Complicated facts—Compliance with section.—The terms of s. 359, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, should be complied with by Appellate Courts where the facts of a case are complicated. TATUR KHAMAS v. LOKE NATH, 15 W.R. 181.

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—continued.

(38)—Appeal—Evidence rejected in part by first Court—Duty of appellate Court to examine.—A plaintiff obtaining a decree which is appealed against is not bound to bring a complaint because the Court of first instance does not accept a portion of the evidence; but the Appellate Court must examine such portion. OOMABUTTE v. PARUSHNATH PANDEY, 15 W.R. 135.

(39)—Presentation of appeal petition on insufficient stamp—Rejection.—A petition of appeal, if presented on a paper insufficiently stamped, must not be rejected, but the appellant must be required to supply the deficient stamp duty. ANUND MOHUN GHOSE v. DOORGA DOSS DUTT, W.R. 1864, Mis. 4.

(40)—Partial appeal—Determination of the question in appeal.—Where in an appeal against part of a decree the party in whose favour the decree is made, is made sole respondent, the Appellate Court has only to determine whether, as between appellant and respondent, the order of the first Court is correct. KISHORE SINGH v. POOKHUN SINGH, 10 W.R. 432.

(41)—Event happening after the passing of order—Appellate Court, duty of—Decree-holder, purchaser—Ex parte decree, setting aside—Sale, reversal—Order setting aside ex parte decree, reversed—A Court of appeal is not only competent, but may, under certain circumstances, be bound to take cognizance of an event, which has happened since the order, questioned on appeal, was passed by the Subordinate Court. When the decree-holder is the purchaser in execution of an ex parte decree, upon reversal of the decree, the sale falls through. The fact that, before the judgment-debtor applies for reversal of the sale, the plaintiff succeeds in obtaining another decree of similar character against the defendant, does not validate the title based upon the decree which has been reversed. But this does not apply when the order or reversal of the decree is set aside by a superior Court and the decree is ultimately restored. HAZARI MULL v. JANKI PROSAD, 6 C.L.J. 92. (27 C. 810, D.; 31 C. 499, R.) [F., 6 C.L.J. 662, 6 C. L. J. 102.]

(42)—Appeal barred by law—Power of Appellate Court to interfere—Jurisdiction.—Where an appeal is barred by law, an Appellate Court cannot interfere in any matter legitimately arising out of the case, unless there is want of jurisdiction. KURUM CHAND KOLEEAH v. HUREE MOHUN GHOSE, 2 W.R. Mis. 45.

(43)—Submission of evidence at hearing in open Court—Right of parties.—The Judge of an Appellate Court should allow the parties or their pleaders to submit the evidence at the hearing in open Court, with every comment and argument they think necessary. LALLA JUGGESSUR SAHOY v. GOPAL LALL, 15 W.R. 54.

(44)—Omission by first Court to examine witnesses—Decree dismissing suit—Appellate Court reversing such decree, duty of.—Where,

Appellate Court—continued.

——2.—Duty of Appellate Court—concluded.

after recording that many of the witnesses for the defendants were unnecessary and so refraining from examining them, the Court of first instance has dismissed the suit,—the first Appellate Court, before reversing the decision of the lower Court, discrediting the evidence of the defendants on its record, should afford the defendants an opportunity to supplement the evidence given in the first Court, by the testimony of those witnesses, whom that Court had declared it unnecessary to hear. The lower Appellate Court must proceed with the case, as one in which the first Court had refused to examine the witnesses tendered by the parties. KHUDA BAKHSH v. IMAM ALI SHAH, 9 A. 339=A.W.N. 1887. 61. [F., 22 B. 253.]

—Event happening after the passing of order challenged in appeal—Duty of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 90, 6 C.L.J. 102.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, rr. 8 (2), 10 (2), (3), 5, 11, 10 (4), O. VII, rr. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, s. 107 (2), O. XXII, r. 11, 1 L.B.R. 252.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, O. XLI, r. 22, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Civ. Pro. Code, 15.

See CONTRIBUTION, SUITS FOR—MISCELLANEOUS, 11 W.R. 131.

—Evidence—Trying different suits together—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 C.L.R. 33.

See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 49 P.R. 1873.

—Reversal of decree by—See JUDGMENT—LANGUAGE OF JUDGMENT, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 653.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 6 B.H.C. A.C. 9.

—Ex parte decree for plaintiff without hearing all available witnesses—Dismissal of suit by Appellate Court—Its duty to remand the case to lower Court to be re-tried to give opportunity to plaintiff to examine all witnesses—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, A.W.N. 1908, 140=5 A.L.J. 468=30 A. 367.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 1 L.B.R. 38.

—Suits heard together, evidence in—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—PRACTICE AS TO OBJECTIONS, Marsh 455=2 W.R.P.C. 19, 9 M.I.A. 287.

See REMAND, 8 W.R. 303.

—Evidence conflicting—See WILL—EXECUTION, 21 C. 279.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal.

(1)—Tacit admission in lower Court—Recession in appeal.—Where parties allow a suit to be conducted in the lower Court as if a certain fact was admitted, they cannot afterwards in appeal question this fact and recede from their tacit admission. KANAI LALL KHAN v. SASHI BHUSON BISWAS, 6 C. 777=8 C.L R. 117.

Appellate Court –continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(2)—Absence of objection in lower Court—Raising objection in appellate Court.—A party could not be heard in the appellate Court upon items to which he took no exception in the Lower Court. VENKATA REDDI v. VENKATA-RAMAYYA, 1 M.H.C. 418. [Diss., 6 B.H.C. A.C. 149, 6 M.H.C. 36.]

(3)—New question of fact in special appeal.—A new question of fact cannot be allowed to be raised in the special appeal stage, with a view to form a basis for a presumption which it is desired to plead. HUREE MOHUN DASS .v KOOTESSUR GOPE, 24 W.R. 318.

(4)—Objection in special appeal surprising plaintiff.—An objection not taken early in a suit cannot be allowed in special appeal, where it would be a surprise on plaintiff. BAKER MAHOMED C. SEETUL CHUNDER SIRCAR, 25 W.R. 28.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 567—Objections not raised before first Appellate Court—Grounds of second appeal.—Where the plaintiffs, appellants in a second appeal, had failed to take certain objections before the first Appellate Court, with regard to certain findings of the Court of first instance upon remand, they ought not to be permitted to raise those objections, for the first time, as grounds of their second appeal, because they had failed to raise those objections in proper time under s. 567 of the Civ. Pro. Code. MUHAMMAD ABDUL HAI v. SHEO BISHAL RAI, 10 A. 28=A.W.N. 1887, 234.

(6)—Mortgage—Objection to suit not taken in lower Courts, taken for the first time in appeal.—An objection that the appellant ought to have enforced his rights inthe previous suit—wherein he had been made a party—and, therefore, the present suit was barred,—not having been raised in the Courts below, was not allowed to be taken for the first time in the appeal to the Judicial Committee. KEDAR LAL MARWARI v. BISHEN PERSHAD, 31 C. 332, P.C.=31 I.A. 57=8 C.W.N. 609=8 Sar. 599.

(7)—Grounds urged for the first time at hearing, admissibility of.—In an appeal against a decree in a suit based on hundis, the appellant petitioned the appellate Court for the first time to be heard on two additional grounds, viz, (1) that the suit did not lie because the presentation of the hundis for payment was not proved and (2) that no interest ought to have been allowed. Held, neither of the grounds was allowable at the hearing of the appeal. RAM DAS v. MATHURA DAS, 6 P.L.R. 1905.

(8)—Second appeal—Grounds advanced for first time in second appeal.—Where the points urged in the memorandum of second appeal were not raised in the Court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court, held, that those points could not be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. BHADORIN v. LACHMAN SINGH, A.W.N. 1882, 103.

Appellate Court—continued.

—3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(9)—Appeal—Admissiblity of plea not put forward in first Court.—An appellate Court ought not to allow the plaintiff to put forward a case in appeal which he had not set up in the Court of first instance. DHARAMRAJ KUNWAR v. SUMERAN SINGH, 21 A. 386=A.W.N. 1899, 133.

(10)—Alteration of plea for first time in appeal—Alienation of joint family property—Objection to alienation by co-parcener not party to alienation.—Four out of five joint owners of an ancestral house united in selling a portion of it to the respondent. The fifth owner the appellant-defendant resisted the vendee's claim to possession on the single ground that the property was separate and belonged not to him or to any of the four vendors, but to one M who had sold it absolutely and exclusively to him. Issue was taken on these pleadings, and both Courts found in favour of the respondent. For the first time, it was pleaded in second appeal that, on the finding that the house was joint property of the appellant and the vendors to the respondent, the sale was bad, as the vendors were incompetent to deal with joint estate without the concurrence of the appellant. Held, that even if the appellant should otherwise be allowed to alter radically his defence as maintained hitherto in the suit, he still should not be allowed the benefit of that plea, for, he had himself dealt with the property without the consent or concurrence of his co-sharers, and adversely to their interests in the property, by taking a sale-deed of it himself, and that it would not lie in the mouth of such a person to claim the avoidance of the transfer to the respondent on that ground, and that all the equities were in favour of the respondent. PATI RAM v. AMBA PRASAD, A.W.N. 1886, 88.

(11)—Appeal—Point not taken in lower Courts.—It is not open to an appellant to raise in second appeal a point which has not been taken either in the Court of first instance and not found against or in the grounds of appeal to the lower Appellate Court. PEDDA OBI v. CHINNA REDDI, 5 M.L.T. 79=2 Ind. Cas. 618.

(12)—Objection not taken for want of opportunity—Objection on appeal.—Held that a defendant was entitled to take, in the Appellate Court an objection he had no previous opportunity of taking until the case was heard on appeal. LOWA JHA v. BISSESHUR SINGH, 11 W.R.6. [R., 13 W.R. 303.]

(13)—Objection not raised in Lower Courts—Nor raised in grounds of appeal.—An appellate Court cannot hear an objecton, which is not raised either in the Lower Courts, or urged in the grounds of appeal. JOY TARA DOSSEE CHOWDHRAIN v. ROY CHUNDER GHOSE, 1 W.R. 36.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 542. (=O.XLI, r. 2, new Code)—Second appeal—Point not raised in memo of appeal.—S. 542 was meant to confer upon Courts the power to decide appeals upon grounds other than those set forth by the appellant in the memorandum of appeal, and that power is to be exercised by the Court alone, and not to enable the appellant to take the respondent by surprise by urging matters of which he had no notice. BANSIDHAR v. SITA RAM, 13 A. 381=A.W.N. 1891, 147. (A.W.N. 1887, 213, A.W.N. 1889, 78, R.)

(15)—Grounds of appeal, new point not taken in.—The Court, if an objection that the Lower Court has admitted evidence which was not admissible was not raised as one of the grounds of appeal, will refuse to allow the matter to be gone into. BROHMO DUTT v. DHARMO DAS GHOSE, 26 C. 381=3 C.W.N. 468. [Affirmed. 30 C. 589=7 C.W.N. 441=5 Bom. L.R. 421=30 I.A. 114, P.C.]

(16)—First Court's refusal to summon witnesses— Right to summon to be insisted upon—A plaintiff complaining in special appeal of the first Court's refusal to summon witnesses must show that he insisted on his right at every stage of the case, both in the first and Lower Appellate Courts. The plaintiff may, at any stage of a case, before hearing, apply for issue of summons to witnesses irrespective of the number of applications already made; and the Court must comply with such application if any time be left before the hearing. ONOOROOP CHUNDER MOOKERJEE v. HERA MONEE DOSSEE, 11 W.R. 418. [Appr., 15 W. R. 447.]

(17)—Right to apply for summons to cite witnesses.—A party is entitled, at any stage of the case, before the hearing, to apply for a summons to cite witnesses, without reference to the number of such applications which he may have previously made, and it is the duty of the Collector to comply with such application, if any time be left before the hearing of the case. ANURUP CHANDRA MUKHOPADHYA v. HIRAMANI DASI, 3 B L.R. App. 38.

(18)—Omission by Court of first instance to examine witnesses—Fact not brought to notice of first appellate Court—Objection if can be taken in second appeal.—After the examination of some only of the witnesses on the plaintiff's side, the Subordinate Judge gave a decree in his favour. On appeal, the decree was reversed, the District Judge being of opinion that the plaintiff had not sufficiently proved his case. The fact that the lower Court omitted to examine all the witnesses cited by the plaintiff was not brought to the notice of the District Judge when the appeal was heard. The plaintiff preferred a second appeal to the High Court and urged that the evidence excluded by the Court of first instance might be taken. Held that it was the duty of the plaintiff to have brought the facts to the notice of the lower appellate Court, and not having done so, he could not, in second appeal, take the objection in order to have the chance of a second trial. The High Court in these cases refused to set aside the decree, there being, in their opinion, no sufficient reasons therefor. GULAM v. HAJI BADRUDIN, 13 B. 336. [F., 5 Bom. L.R. 264; D., 3 S.L.R. 106.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(19)—Special appeal—Objection not taken in Court below.—An objection that a judgment of the first Court is erroneous under a Full Bench Ruling of the High Court cannot be taken for the first time in special appeal. NARATTAM DAS CHOWDHRY v. ROSO PYARI CHOWDHRAIN, 3 B. L. R, A. C. 271.

(20)—Remand—Sufficient reason for—Not raising question in Lower Court.—Where there is a sufficient reason for a question not having been raised in the Lower Courts, the case should be remanded with a view to its being determined. BONOMALEE BAZADUR v. KYLASH CHUNDER MOJOOMDUR, 24 W. R. 72.

(21)—Point raised for first time in appeal—Admissibility—Practice.—A point not raised in any of the lower Courts, but raised for the first time in the memo of special appeal, will not be considered by the appellate Court. MAHADAJI v. VYANKJI GOVIND, I B. 197. (7 M.H.C. 348, 7 M.H.C. 1, D.)

(22)—Act X of 1859—Procedure—Notice—Admissions—Special appeal—Objection not taken in Court below.—In a suit for enhancement of rent, a plaintiff must frame his suit, and prove his case in exact conformity with the provisions of the law which enable him to increase his profits, and a Court administering a law like Act X of 1859 is bound to satisfy itself that its decrees are exactly borne out by the provisions of the law. The system of procedure in this country is not such that, if a defendant fails to dispute or contest a point, he thereby admits it. On the contrary, if he allows judgments to go by default, the plaintiff is just as much bound to prove his case. The High Court in this case allowed objections to be taken by a defendant which had not been taken in either of the lower Courts. BHUBAN CHANDRA SHOME v. RAMDAYAL SHAMANTA, 5 B.L.R. App. 62=14 W. R. 55.

(23)—Plaint not disclosing cause of action—Objection in special appeal—Duty of Court.—An objection that the plaint discloses no cause of action may be taken for the first time in special appeal, Where an objection or ground goes to the root of the plaintiff's case, admitting for the sake of argument all the allegations of plaintiff to be true, such an objection or ground may be taken and entertained at any time at which a suit has vitality, and before it has passed through its last stage of review and the functions of the Court regarding it have ceased. If any such objection is overlooked by the counsel of the parties, it will be the duty of the Court to consider it. SHEIKH JAN ALI v. KHONKAR ABDUR RUHMAN, 6 B.L.R. 154 = 14 W.R. 420.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(24)—Defect in plaint—Dismissal of suit in appellate Court.—Where a suit for possession of a share of certain land purchased at a sale in execution of a decree, in which no boundaries or limits of the lands sued for, were given, was dismissed by the lower appellate Court, held that such dismissal was improper as the copy of the sale certificate filed with the plaint contained all the necessary particulars, and the objection should not have been entertained at all as it was raised for the first time in the lower appellate Court. AWANDA RAI v. NAIGU RAI, A.W.N. 1882, 242.

(25)—Mixed question of law and fact, whether could be raised by way of objection in second appeal.—In this case, the plaintiff also contended in second appeal that the defendant who was the son of the mortgagee, purchased without the consent of the Court and that the sale was, for that reason, void. The objection being one involving a mixed question of law and fact and not having been taken in the Courts below, the High Court held that it could not be raised for the first time, in second appeal. VASANJI HARIBHAI v. LALLU AKHU, 9 B. 285. [F., 1 N.L.R. 1.]

(26)—Question raised before appellate Court, mixed one of law and fact, not raised before first Court.—It is doubtful whether the appellate Court should allow questions of mixed law and fact, not raised in the first Court, to be raised before it. UMRAO BIBI v. MAHOMED RAJABI. 27 C. 208 = 4 C.W.N. 76. [R., 1 N.L.R. 1.]

(27)—Mistake of law—Point not taken in Court below.—When parties before the Privy Council allege that a mistake has been made on a point of law, if they have not raised the point in the Court below, although it is certainly open to them to raise it before their Lordships, yet their Lordships ought to be satisfied that the Judge below has really made the mistake imputed to him and that the wrong decision complained against is attributable to such mistake. BABOO PUHLWAN SINGH v. MAHARAJAH MOHESHUR BUKSH SINGH AND MAHARAJAH MOHESHUR BUKSH v. MEGBURN SINGH, 16 W.R. 5, P.C. = 9 B.L.R 150.

(28)—Legal objection, when can be raised.—An objection to the plaintiff having no cause of action may be taken at any stage of the suit. (6 B.L.R. App. 73, Rel. on.) The House of Lords in England has decided that a legal question may be raised even in the ultimate Court of appeal, which has not previously been taken. CHAMPA KUAR v. MINA MAL, A.W.N. 1887, 1,

(29)—Objections taken for first time in second appeal—Practice.—An objection based upon a point of law may be raised in second appeal, and the Court must take notice of it, if it does not involve the taking of any additional evidence on matters of disputed facts. GAVDAPPA v. GIRIMALLAPPA, 19 B. 331. [R., 25 B. 202, 1 N.L.R. 1, 1 S.L.R, 142.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(30)—Legal objection first taken in appeal.—An objection founded on law only may be raised by a party to a suit in the Court of appeal, although it has not been made in the Court below. DINDAYAL PARMANICK v. SURENDRA NATH ROY, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 78, Note = 10 W.R. 77. [D., 3 B.L.R. 78.]

(31)—Legal plea, raised for first time in second appeal—Duty of Court.—A legal plea cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal, when it would be necessary for the Court to ascertain many points of facts, before it could properly adjudicate upon such plea. The uniform practice of the Court is to allow legal pleas in second appeals for the first time only when they require no new points of fact for determination, and those pleas can be disposed of on the materials on the record. MAHABIR TIWARI v. JHANGUR, A.W.N. 1887, 213. [R., 13 A. 381.]

(32)—Objection—Special appeal.—An objection, not taken in cross-appeal before the lower appellate Court, cannot be taken in special appeal. But if the case be remanded for a new trial, such objection may then be taken before the Court of first instance. DURGA RAM ROY v. RAJA NARSING DEB, 2 B.L.R. A.C, 254 = 11 W.R. 134.

(33)—Objection in grounds of appeal not urged—Special appeal.—An objection taken in the grounds of appeal, but not urged, cannot be brought forward in special appeal. NABO KRISTO SIRCAR v. KALA CHAND DOSS, 12 W.R. 470.

(34)—Plea of under-valuation in special appeal—A plea of under-valuation not pressed in the first Court cannot be raised in special appeal, though urged in the Lower Appellate Court. SOORJO KANT BANERJEE v. KRISTO KISHORE PODDAR, 14 W.R. 423.

(35)—Objections in appeal—Pro-forma defendant.—In appeal, objections cannot be raised by a pro-forma defendant, if he has neglected to raise the same in the regular suit. DEOKEENUNDUN ROY v. KALEE PERSHAD, W.R. 1864. Mis. 34.

(36)—Enhancement, suit for—Objection as to non-joinder of parties.—In a suit for enhancement, the objection that plaintiff sues without joining his co-sharers with him as parties is not allowed to be taken for the first time in the Lower Appellate Court. GOUR KISHORE DUTT v. SHAIKH AKBUR, 22 W.R. 489.

(37)—Suit for kabooleut at enhanced rate—Decree for lower rate—Objection—Appellate Court.—If a suit for a kabooleut at an enhanced rate is decreed for a lower rate than that claimed, the technical objections that the suit should be dismissed as the plaintiff had failed to prove the specific rate he sued for, if not taken in the Lower Appellate Court, cannot be allowed in special appeal. NIZAMUT ALI v. ROMESH CHURN ROY, 11 W.R. 430.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(38)—Omission of performance of ceremonies.—Held that, as no objection to the omission of any of the usual ceremonies of adoption or to the age of the adopted son was taken before the lower Court, its decision was not open to those objections when taken on appeal. KONWER DURYAO SINGH v. KONWER KARUN SINGH, 1 Agra 31.

(39)—Special appeal—Issues—Fresh Objection.—Where the question whether the alienation of property by a father without the son's consent is valid under the Mitakshara Law is not raised in the lower Courts, such invalidity cannot be admitted as a ground of objection in special appeal. When a plaintiff goes to trial in the Courts below on one issue only, he is not entitled, in special appeal, to complain that another matter of evidence has not been considered by the Lower Appellate Court. Where no issue is raised in the lower Courts which could be the foundation for a declaration of right, the non-decision of a claim to such declaration is no ground of special appeal. PURIAG DUTT v. BROJO KOONWAR, 9 W.R. 503.

(40)—Issue not raised or tried in lower Court—Appellate Court's decision.—Where no ground is taken or issue raised on a particular point in the lower Court, the Appellate Court cannot for the first time go into that question. MAHOMED MIRA RAVUTHAR v. SAVVASI VIJIA RAGHUNADHA GOPALAR, 23 M. 227=27 I.A. 17=4 C.W.N. 228=10 M.L.J. 1, P C.=2 Bom. L.R. 640=7 Sar. 661. [Expl., 6 C L.J. 111; R., 25 M. 244, F.B., 1 C.L.J. 85 10 C.W.N. 209=3 C.L.J. 240. 36 C. 226=13 C.W.N. 18=9 C.L.J. 244=4 M.L.T. 421, 150 P.W.R. 1909, 132 P.R. 1906=11 P.L.R. 1907, 32 M. 242=5 M.L.T. 248; D., 14 C.P.L.R. 42.]

(41)—Issue as to tender of pottah—Appellate Court.—The issue whether a pottah is tendered or not, if not raised in the first Court, cannot be raised in the Lower Appellate Court. RADHIKA PROSUNNO CHUNDER v. NEHALEE CHURN DEY, 15 W.R.410.

(42)—Raising entirely new issue.—A plaintiff cannot be allowed in special appeal to raise an entirely new issue on the ground that the Court below has not tried the real point in the case. GOODRI KHAN v. THE COLLECTOR OF GYA, 24 W.R. 480.

(43)—Ground raised for the first time in appeal—No reference in peleadings or issues.—A ground raised for the first time in appeal, not having been referred to in the plaint or pleadings or put in issue between the parties, will not be listened to. TIKA RAM v. THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF BARA BANKI, 26 C. 707 P.C.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

=26 I.A. 97=3 C.W.N. 573=1 Bom. L.R. 692=1 Sar. 520. [R., 78P.R. 1904.]

(44)—Objection taken to right of appeal at close of argument.—The High Court declined to entertain the objection (taken when appellant's argument was closed) that no appeal lay to it on the ground that the amount or value did not exceed Rs. 5,000. CHUNDER NATH MISSER v. SIRDAR KHAN, 18 W.R. 218.

(45)—Filing of copy of deposition in Lower Court—No objection raised thereto—Admissibility of it in evidence in Appellate Court.—Where no objection is raised in the Lower Court to the admissibility of a copy of the deposition of a person who is alive, held, it can be admitted in evidence in the Appellate Court. FUKEEROODDEEN MAHOMED AHSUN CHOWDHRY v. KURREEM BUKSH CHOWDHRY, 5 W R. 43.

(46)—Suit for possession on invalid mortgage executed during attachment—Objection to validity of attachment—Objection to validity of attachment for the first time in appeal.—Where, in a suit for possession of property upon a foreclosed mortgage against a purchaser at an execution-sale, it was pleaded in defence that the mortgage having been made during the pendency of an attachment of the property was null and void under s. 240 of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1859, the plaintiff could not, for the first time in appeal, object to the validity of the attachment on the ground of the requirements in s. 239 relating to the intimation of the attachment not having been affirmatively proved to have been complied with. Quære.—Whether it is not for the plaintiff in the above suit seeking to oust the defendant from possession to prove the non-compliance with the formalities in question? RAMAKRISHNA DAS SURROWJI v. SURFUNNISA BEGUM, 6 C. 129, P.C=7 I.A. 157=4 Sar. 151.

(47)—Plaint acted upon by first Court without objection—Dismissal of suit by Appellate Court.—A lower Appellate Court does right to dismiss a suit for under-valuation, although the plaint has been admitted and acted on by the first Court without objection by the parties. MEWA LALL v. BEHAREE LALL, 14 W.R. 195.

(48)—Hindu widow—Suit for possession and declaration—Appeal—Issues.—In a suit by a Hindu widow for possession and declaration of title: Held that defendant could not be allowed to come in and urge for the first time in appeal that by a family-custom or kulachar females were excluded from inheriting. TIKAIT DURGA PRASAD SINGH v. MUSSAMAT DURGA KUNWARI, 9 B.L.R. 306, Note=13 W.R. 10. [D., 20 W.R. 155.]

(49)—Suit to recover possession of land—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction.—A suit to recover possession of lands, which the plaintiff alleged, he had leased to the defendant, the manager of an indigo factory, and also of other lands over which he had given a zuripeshgi lease, is undoubtedly cognizable by the Civil Courts, and the Revenue Courts have no

Appellate Court—continued.

—— 3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

jurisdiction in the matter. Where the defendant made no objection in the lower Courts to the manner in which plaintiff had calculated damages, the question could not be gone into in special appeal. CHARLES MACDONALD v. RAJARAM ROY, 3 B.L.R. App. 28. (Case No. 362 of 1867, R.)

(50)—Notice—Objections—Special appeal.—That the service of notice has not been proved is an objection which, if not taken in the Court of first instance, cannot be allowed either in special appeal or in the lower appellate Court, if the case be remanded to that Court. C. J. DUMAINE v. UTTAM SING, 5 B.L.R. App. 44=13 W.R. 462. [R., 2 M. 346.]

(51)—Suit for enhanced rent and kabuliát—Exception to notice.—Where, in a suit for a kubooleat at an enhanced rent, the defendant took no exception to the notice, and his defence was not prejudiced by any informality therein, the Lower Appellate Court, in reversing the first Court's decision on the technical ground that the notice was not properly served is bound to go into the merits. SHAMA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. DEGUMBUREE DEBIA, 21 W.R. 368.

(52)—Objection as to informality of notice.—The informality of a notice of enhancement accepted by a ryot cannot be urged for the first time in special appeal. KASHEENATH DEB v. MOHARANEE SHIBESSUREE DEBIA, 8 W.R. 503.

(53)—Suit to contest enhancement—Irrigation expenses.—Held that, in a suit for enhancement, the plea of increased expense on account of irrigation cannot be admitted for the first time in special appeal. KUNCHUN SINGH v. SHEORAJ, 1 Agra Rev. 7.

(54)—Suit for enhancement—Suit depending on two grounds—One ground overruled—Revival of such ground.—A suit for enhancement having been dependent on two grounds, one of which was overruled, while the case was dismissed on the other, it was not open to the defendant, on the overruling of the second ground on appeal by plaintiffs, to revive the first ground. TOREE MAHTOON v. BABOO RAM SAHOY SINGH, 25 W.R. 110.

(55)—Defective evidence—Consent—Case may be decided on it—Objection, stage when it should be made.—Where defendant agrees to treat defective evidence as sufficient, the Judge may decide the case upon it, even though in itself insufficient. Objection to evidence should be made in the first instance, and not delayed till the special appeal. SHEETUL PERSHAD MITTER v. JUNMEJOY MULLICK, 12 W.R. 244.

(56)—Objection to quality of evidence.—Objections to evidence as not being the best, should not be allowed in special appeal, but should be taken at the time when the evidence is offered. AVUDH BEHAREE SINGH v. RAM RAJ TEWAREE, 18 W.R. 105.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(57)—Objection to admissibility of secondary evidence—A defendant who does not object to the admission of secondary evidence at the time it is admitted cannot be allowed to object to it in special appeal. LOCHUN SINGH v. HET NARAIN SINGH, 24 W.R. 232.

(58)—Inadmissible documents—Objection first taken in special appeal.—Objection taken for the first time in special appeal to the evidence of documents inadmissible as legal evidence, and not bearing on the point to be decided, must be accepted. MUNRAKHUN ROY v. JUGGUT DOSS, 10 W.R. 124.

(59)—Deposition admitted without objection in Court below—Special appeal — New point—Limitation.—A deposition in another suit admitted and used by the first Court without objection, cannot be objected to in special appeal. Where the Lower Appellate Court's judgment is good and sound, the High Court will not allow a new point in special appeal. The limitation prescribed under Act VIII of 1859 is inapplicable to a suit for declaration of right and confirmation of possession. WUZEER JEMADAR v. NOOR ALI, 12 W.R. 33. (7 W.R. 256, D.) [Cons., 21 W.R. 133.]

(60)—Objection to document, when to be raised.—An objection to a document filed as evidence must have been pressed at every stage in the lower Courts before it can be admitted as a ground of special appeal. JOYKISHEN MOOKERJEE v. RAJKISHEN MOOKERJEE, 12 W.R. 315.

(61)—Objection to genuineness of document taken in first Court, grounds in support of, raisable for first time in appeal.—Where an objection to the genuineness of a document has been raised by a party in the Court of first instance, it is competent to him to take any ground in the Appellate Court in support of such objection, although the ground, as such, may not have been put forth by him before the first Court. HAIMABATI DASI v. GOVINDA CHANDRA, 2 C.W.N. 695

(62)—Objection not taken in Lower Courts—Objection taken in special appeal—Act X of 1859, s. 4.—Where a plea under s. 4, Act X of 1859, is set aside by the evidence of certain papers not objected to in the lower Courts, they cannot be objected to in special appeal. GODAYI JOARDAR v. G. MEARS, 10 W.R. 50.

(63)—Evidence in another suit—Evidence in lower Appellate Court.—Evidence in another suit, the reading of which was not objected to in the first Court, may be read as evidence by the Lower Appellate Court. RUGHOONATH PERSHAD v. HUREE MOHUNT, 10 W.R. 37.

(64)—Objection to evidence first taken in special appeal.—An objection to evidence not taken in the lower Court against the admissibility as evidence of khusrah butwarra papers cannot be allowed in special appeal. CHADEE SINGH v. BEHAREE TEWAREE, 10 W.R. 90.

S. N. DAR, B.A. LL.B.
Vakil High Court.
SRINAGAR (KASHMIR)

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(65)—Evidence received by consent—Calculations in the neighbouring village.—Where both parties to a suit adduce calculations made in neighbouring villages as evidence to establish their respective cases, they cannot afterwards object to them in special appeal. ANAR MOLLAH v. JAMES HILLS, 10 W.R. 139.

(66)—Decrees used as evidence by first Court—Objection in special appeal.—Where certain decrees are used as evidence by the first Court without objection being raised either there or in the Lower Appellate Court, objection is not allowed to be taken in special appeal. MUKDOOMUNNISSA v. NOKHY SINGH, 24 W.R. 296.

(67)—Objection to secondary evidence—When to be raised—An objection to secondary evidence must be raised in the Court of first instance, and cannot be allowed in appeal. KISSEN KAMINEE DASSEE v. RAM CHUNDER MITTER, 12 W.R. 13.

(68)—Special appeal—Inadmissibility of evidence—Ground not taken in Court below.—As the plea as to the inadmissibility of the evidence for want of registration was not specifically taken in the Court below, it could not be allowed in special appeal. GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDRY v. SRIMATI AMINA KHATUN. 3 B.L.R. App. 125. [Not F., 2 N.L.R. 121.]

(69)—Evidence taken by one Judge—Transfer of suit to another Judge who pronounced judgment—Irregular procedure—Objection taken for first time in second appeal.—Where a case was tried by a Munsif, before whom the entire evidence was taken and nothing remained to be done except giving judgment, and the Munsif instead of giving the judgment himself transferred the suit under the orders of the Judge to the additional Munsif, and that officer pronounced judgment, and it appeared that this objection was raised for the first time in second appeal, held that the proceedings were irregular and the procedure was wholly indefensible, that all the proceedings should be set aside and that the case should be re-tried by the Munsif who had succeeded the Munsif who originally tried the case and took the evidence. RAGHUBIR RAI v. THAKUR RAI, A.W.N. 1887, 13.

(70)—Suit for possession of julkur—Plea of res judicata—Judicial decision, copy of copy of—Objection—Adverse possession, plea of, not raised in pleadings—Plea raised in appeal.—In a suit to recover possession of a julkur in which defendant raised the plea of res judicata, basing it upon a judicial decision against a predecessor of the plaintiff of which decision defendant filed a copy of a copy. Held, that, as plaintiff did not object to the admission of the document as evidence at the proper time, it was too late to raise the objection in the Appellate Court. Plaintiff cannot, for the first time, in the appellate stage, found his title on adverse possession for a long time, where such a case was not set forth in the pleadings, and is inconsistent therewith. PROTAB CHUNDER BOROOAH v. THE COLLECTOR OF GOWALPARAH, 22 W.R. 216.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(71)—Refusal to take evidence—Ground of appeal.—The fact that the Court of first instance refuses to take evidence offered, should be made the ground of regular appeal, and it should not be first set up in special appeal. LALLA DEBEEDEEN v. SHEO GHOOLAM SINGH, 2 N.W.P. 206.

(72)—Technical objection not taken in Court below.—This Court will not entertain a technical objection which was not taken in the Court below, where it might have been amended. DHURM DAS PANDEY v. MUSSUMAT SHAMA SOONDRI DEBIAH, 6 W.R. 43, P.C. =3 M.I.A. 229.

(73)—Technical objections as to form—Objection not raised in lower Court.—Objections not raised in lower Court cannot be entertained. Bona fide execution proceedings cannot be questioned merely upon technical objections as to form. NARENDRA NATH PAHARI v. BHUPENDRA NARAIN ROY, 23 C. 374. (18 C. 500, D.)

(74)—Unstamped document—Penalty levied and document admitted in evidence by original Court.—After the penalty has been levied and a document admitted in evidence, no objection that the plaintiff should be non-suited, as it was founded on a deed of gift insufficiently stamped, can be raised in special appeal. SUDAMA v. KESHO, 102 P.R. 1879. [R., 116 P.R. 1888, 121 P.R. 1882, 51 P.R. 1904, 126 P.R. 1884, 157 P.R. 1882, 120 P.R. 1894; F., 26 P.R. 1882.]

(75)—Evidence—Objection as to stamp in special appeal.—Where a petition has been accepted by both the lower Courts as good and valid evidence of a mortgage, no objection on the score of its not being engrossed on a proper stamp can be permitted in special appeal. DUMA SAHU v. JEONARAIN LAL, 4 B. L. R. A.C. 27, Note=12 W.R. 362.

(76)—Objection as to non-registration of document—Document relied on by first Court.—An objection based on the non-registration of a document relied on in the first Court's judgment, if not raised in the lower Courts, cannot be raised in special appeal. JOY GOPAL MOOJOOMDAR v. THAKO MONEE DABEE, 11 W.R. 381.

(77)—Ground of limitation not taken in lower Courts—Whether arguable in second appeal.—When the appellant neglected to say anything about limitation in the lower Courts, he cannot be allowed to raise the point in second appeal. PO MYA AND MA MYIT v. MA LE, 5 L. B. R. 82=3 Ind. Cas. 711. (2 L.B.R. 238, D.)

(78)—Unregistered bond not objected to in lower Courts—Inadmissibility in evidence—Costs.—An unregistered bond, even though not specifically objected to in either of the Courts below, is not admissible as evidence, and the lower Court is wrong in giving effect to it. A party omitting to take objection at an earlier stage to the admission of an unregistered bond as evidence, and succeeding on the footing of this objection in special appeal is not entitled to the costs of such appeal. OOMATOOL FATIMA v. GHUNNOO SINGH, 19 W.R. 22.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(79)—Objection that document is improperly stamped.—The plaintiff appealed against a dismissal of his suit to the Judge, who reversed the decision of the Court below, and gave the plaintiff a decree. The defendant thereupon appealed to the High Court on the ground that a document had been admitted in evidence in support of the plaintiff's case, which did not bear a proper stamp. Held, that the defendant, having omitted to take the objection before the Judge, could not appeal on this ground. RAMBREM LAL v. ABLUCKH SINGH, Marsh 267=2 Hay 148.

(80)—Copy of copy put in evidence—Objection to admission cannot be taken for first time in appellate Court.—The lower appellate Court in this case excluded a document on the ground that it was a copy of a copy; but as in the Court of first instance its reception was not at all objected to, it was held by the High Court that it was not within the province of the appellate Court to raise or recognize such objection in appeal. CHIMMAJI GOVIND GODBOLE v. DHINKAR DHONDEV GODBOLE, 11 B. 320. [F., 5 M L.J. 81; R., 24 B. 591, 15 C.P.L.R. 123, 3 L.B.R. 49.]

(81)—Refusal to examine defendant's witnesses—Irregularity—Objection not raised in lower Courts—Special appeal.—A Munsiff who, on being satisfied that plaintiff's case cannot be established, refuses to examine defendant's witnesses, commits a great irregularity; but if the point is not raised in the Lower Appellate Court, it cannot be taken in special appeal. GOOROO DOSS AKHOOLEE v. PURANMUNDUL 12 W. R. 363.

(82)—Refusal of first Court to examine witnesses—Objection in special appeal.—Plaintiff failing to mention the first Court's refusal to examine his witnesses in his grounds of appeal to the Lower Appellate Court cannot urge it as a plea in special appeal. OSMAN SINGH v. CHUMMUN MAHTOON, 15 W. R. 87.

(83)—Execution of decree—Partial execution.—A decree cannot be executed for an aliquot portion. (3 B. L. R. 114, 23 W. R. 342, R.) But, where the objection on that ground to the execution of a decree was not raised either in the original court or in the lower appellate Court, nor in the grounds of appeal to the High Court, the High Court refused to allow the objection. ROY GOODUR SAHOY v. DHUNNESHUR KOER, 7 C. L. R. 117.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(84)—Execution-sale—Irregularity in publication—Objection first taken in appeal.—An objection to the validity of an execution-sale of land, on the ground of the omission to state the amount of the revenue on it in the sale proclamation, cannot be taken for the first time before an appellate Court. MACNAUGHTEN v. MAHABIR PERSHAD SINGH, 9 C. 656=11 C.L.R. 494=10, I.A. 25 P.C.=Sar. 417, [F., P.L.R. 1900, 157; R, 7 A. 641, 10 A. 506, 18 C. 188, 20 C. 86 P.C. 29 C. 73, F.B., A.W.N. 1906, 3=28 A. 273=3 A. L. J. 140.]

(85)—Execution of decree—Non-compliance with formalities required in execution—When objection to be raised.—An objection to the execution of a decree on the ground that the requisite formalities have not been complied with by the decree-holder should be taken in the lower Courts so as to afford the decree-holder an opportunity to show that they have been complied with. VENKATAPPIAH v. JAGANNADHA RAO, 12 M.L.J. 24.

(86)—Special appeal—Objection.—In this case as the decree-holder's application for execution on the bond without a regular suit was not objected to in the Court below, but assumed by the judgment-debtor as a proper ground on which to apply for execution, the objection was not allowed in special appeal. MUSSAMAT KHEDU v. KALU SAHU, 3 B.L.R. App. 112=12 W.R. 71.

(87)—Objection as to misdescription of parties—Point not affecting merits of case.—The objection as to misdescription of parties, not having been taken in the Courts below, was disallowed, when raised on second appeal, as a point not affecting the merits of the case. PRESIDENT OF THE TALUK BOARD, SIVAGANGA v. NARAYANAN, 16 M. 317. [F. 16 M. 474; R, 3 M.L.T, 223, 22 B. 269, F.B. 22 B. 636, 25 B. 142, 4 M.L.T. 209, F. B., 32 M. 371=19 M. L.J. 333; D., 28 M. 551.]

(88)—Special appeal—Objection of want of certificate of guardian raised for the first time ineffectual.—In special appeal, the objection that the guardian has not obtained a certificate was raised for the first time, it will not be assumed, for the purpose of reversing the decree, that such is the case. The general presumption is that the proceedings in the Court below have been regularly conducted until their irregularity be shown. THUMMUN v. GOLAB RAO, 2 N.W.P. 89.

(89)—Jurisdiction—Objection.—Where the defendant objected to the jurisdiction in the first Court, but took no objection to the jurisdiction before the lower appellate Court, the High Court considered the objection to the jurisdiction was waived. MOHAMMED HOSSEIN, v. RAJA AKHAYA NARAYAN PAL, 2 B.L.R. App. 42=18 W.R. 37, Note. [F., 18 W.R. 35; R., 54 P.R. 1883.]

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(90)—Objection as to jurisdiction in special appeal—Presumption.—Wherever an objection to the jurisdiction is raised for the first time in the High Court on special appeal, every presumption in favour of the jurisdiction of the Court below should be made. PEAREE LALL v. E.G. ROOKE, 12 W.R. 199=3 B.L.R. 303; On special appeal from E.G.ROOKE v. PEAREE LALL, 11 W.R. 434=3 B.L.R. App., 43.

(91)—Jurisdiction—Objection taken in appeal after remand.—An objection affecting the jurisdiction of the Court may be taken for the first time on appeal after remand. CHOWDHRY WAHID ALI v. MULLICK INAYET ALI alias CHAMMAN, 6 B.L.R. 52=14 W.R. 288. [R., 23 B. 22.]

(92)—Objection to jurisdiction, taken by plaintiff for first time on second appeal.—It was urged for the defendant in this case that the objection to the jurisdiction of the Court could not be taken by the plaintiff, or, at any rate, not on second appeal for the first time. Held that, as a general rule, an objection to jurisdiction, the invalidity of which is patent on the face of the proceedings, can be taken at any stage of the proceedings. Also, as, in this case, the plaintiff had presented his application in the proper Court, he had every right to object to the jurisdiction of the Judge to whom it was transferred for disposal. SHRI SIDHESWAR PANDIT v. SHRI HARIHAR PANDIT, 12 B. 155. [Diss., 17 M. 309=4 M.L.J. 91; Not F., 5 Ind. Cas. 155=57 M.L.T. 132; F., 9 P.R. 1901=1 P.L.R. 1901; Appr., 16 C. 457. U.B. R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Execution of Decree 5; R., 13 B. 499, 5 P.R. 1903, Rev. =144 P.L.R. 1903, 2 Ind. Cas. 677, 7 A.L.J. 675; D., 16 B. 731.]

(93)—Jurisdiction to go into point not taken in lower Courts.—The second appellate Court has no jurisdiction to go into the point as to which the parties have neither joined issue nor discussed in either of the lower Courts. VENKATASUBRAMANIA VATHIYAR v. SUBRAMANIA IYER, 3 M.L.T. 314.

(94)—Court's power to dismiss suit at any stage on point of jurisdiction.—As a general rule, a Court cannot set aside any order passed by it of its own motion, but this rule does not apply to matters involving questions of jurisdiction, limitation, res judicata, etc., which take away jurisdiction. RANCHOD MORAR v. BEZANJI EDULJI, 20 B. 86.

(95)—Objection to jurisdiction not raised—Costs.—Where the objection to jurisdiction was not taken in the first Court or in the grounds of appeal to the High Court, and was raised by the Court itself and not by either of the parties, the order in the above case was set aside without costs. JOY NARAIN SINGH v. MUDHOO SUDEN SINGH, 16 C. 13.

(96)—Point not taken in Courts below, taken for first time in second appeal—Costs.—Where the Subordinate Judge awarded a fourth share to the plaintiff (adopted son), and the defendant (natural son) in his appeal to the District Court did not raise any question about the correctness of that award, but contended in second appeal that, under any circumstances, the plaintiff was entitled only to a fifth share, held that, under the circumstances and having regard to the nature of the question, the point might be allowed in the second appeal but that the appellant could not be allowed the costs of the appeal. GIRIAPA v. NINGAPA, 17 B. 100. [R., 17 B. 303, 27 B. 452.]

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(97)—Deputy Collector determining land suit but stating Revenue Court incompetent to consider question—Appeal—Benami and equitable liability.—When a Deputy Collector determined a question relating to an interest in land, although he had given an opinion that a Revenue Court was not competent to entertain the question, the appeal was held to lie to the Judge; as this objection however was not raised in the Lower Appellate Court, it was not admitted in special appeal. The Revenue Courts were held not competent to try a question of benamee and equitable liability. HURISH CHUNDER ROY v. POORNASOONDUREE DEBEE, 18 W.R. 35. [F., 18 W.R. 125.]

(98)—Suit not entertainable in any Court—Act XVIII of 1873, s. 206—Applicability—The plaintiff's claim, instituted in the Civil Court, to eject the defendant, a quondam tenant, and to recover mesne profits, not being entertainable in any suit in any Court, the provisions of s. 206 of Act XVIII of 1873 that the objection that a suit was instituted in the wrong Court shall not be entertained by the appellate Court, unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance, were held not to be applicable. RAM AUTAR RAI v. MUSSAMMAT TALIMUNDI KUAR, 7 N.W.P. 49.

(99)—Second appeal—Point raised neither in pleadings nor before lower Courts.—Where a point is one that is raised neither in the pleadings nor before either of the lower Courts, and goes exclusively to the jurisdiction of a Court, it cannot be raised on second appeal. AZIZUDDIN HOSSEIN v. RAMANUGRA ROY, 14 C. 605. (7 A. 170, Appr.) [R., 32 M. 425.]

(100)—Objection as to jurisdiction, first taken in appeal.—When the objection to the entertainment of a suit is apparent on the face of the plaint and has reference to the jurisdiction of the Court, though it is not taken in the Court of first instance but only in appeal, the Appellate Court must consider it. RAMAYYA v. SUBBARAYUDU, 13 M. 25.

(101)—Jurisdiction — Second appeal—Suits Valuation Act, VII of 1889, s. 11—Where defendant did not object to the valuation of the suit for purposes of jurisdiction in the Court of first instance, held, with reference to s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, that it was not open to the High Court to entertain such objection in second appeal. MUTHUSAMI MUDALIAR v NALLAKULANATHA MUDALIAR, 18 M. 418. [R., 35 P.R. 1901=47 P.L.R. 1901].

Appellate Court—continued.

—3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

102)—Qualified admission of claim—Suit for kubooleut—Objection taken first in appeal.—In a suit for a kubooleut where the defendant in the Courts below pleads, not that the plaintiff is not entitled to a kabooleut, but that he is not entitled to the rates claimed, he cannot, in special appeal, ask for the dismissal of the suit. GHOLAM ALI v. ASGUR ALI, 11 W. R. 105. (10 W.R. F.B. 14, R.)

(103)—Suit for kabuliat at an enhanced rate—Special appeal—Technical objection.—Where a suit for a kabuliat at an enhanced rate decreed for a lower rate than that claimed, the objection that the suit should be dismissed as plaintiff had failed to prove the specific rate he sued for, if not taken in the lower appellate Court, cannot be allowed in special appeal. NIZAMAT ALI v. RAMESH CHANDRA ROY, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 78=11 W.R, 430. (10 W. R. 77, D.)

(104)—No tender of patta—Objection raised in appeal—Practice.—Where, in a suit for a kabuliat, no issue was raised whether a patta was tendered before the institution of the suit, and it did not appear that the defendant ever wanted to raise such an issue in the first Court, it was not right for the first appellate Court to raise, at the instance of the defendant, an issue involving the tender of a patta, because such an issue was not necessary for the right determination of the suit upon the merits. RAMANATH RAHIT v. CHAND HARI v. BHUYA, 6 B. L.R. 356=14 W. R. 432. [R., 2 M. 346.]

(105)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 119—Ex-parte decree—Re-hearing—Appeal—Objection taken for first time in special appeal.—A plaintiff having taken out execution of an ex-parte decree, the defendant applied under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, to have it set aside and eventually succeeded. After this, the case came on for re-hearing and the suit was dismissed both by the Court of first instance and the appellate Court. The plaintiff then came up in special appeal, contending that sufficient enquiry had not been made before the application for re-hearing was admitted. On appeal before the Judge the plaintiff did not raise the objection that the Munsiff ought not to have entertained the petition of the defendant under s. 119, Civ. Pro. Code, as it had not been presented in time. Held that it was too late to raise the objection on special appeal and that it would not be doing justice, which the Court is bound to do in administering the law, to restore an ex-parte decree which two Courts had, on subsequent trial on the merits, found should not be renewed ; and that the Munsif's order admitting the case to a re-hearing was not open to appeal. BORA KHASIA v. JATA SIRDAR, 8 B. L. R. 79=15 W. R. 315.

Appellate Court—continued.

—3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(106)—Procedure—Appeal—New ground of relief.—When the ground on which the suit was brought failed, and in appeal a new ground is taken, which was not urged in the plaint, nor at the hearing in the Court of first instance, the appellate Court cannot entertain it. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. NUNJA, 5 M. 163. [R., 20 M. 299, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 518.]

(107)—Limitation—Plea of—Issue decided against defendant—Objection to finding.—Where a defendant pleads limitation on the simple fact of possession for 12 years and upwards, and the issue is found against him, he cannot in special appeal object that the finding did not dispose of the issues. KISTO MOHUN KURMOKAR v. NOYAN TARA DOSSEA, 10 W.R. 389.

(108)—Objections which are matters of fact—Special appeal.—Objections which are entirely matters of fact, and which go to the substance of plaintiff's claim, cannot be admitted for the first time in special appeal. BENODE PUTNAIK v. DOYANIDHEE BULLIOR SINGH, 9 W.R. 493.

(109)—Plea of limitation raised for first time in second appeal.—Where the plea of limilation is raised for the first time in second appeal, the Court cannot go into it. SHIVAPA v. DOD NAGAYA, 11 B. 114. [Expl., 34 C. 941=11 C. W.N. 959=6 C.L.J. 237.]

(110)—Merger—Plea first taken in special appeal.—A plea of merger ought not to be raised for the first time in special appeal. H. RUSHTON v. W.L. ATKINSON, 11 W.R. 485.

(111)—Act X of 1859, ss. 78, 23, cl. 4—Jurisdiction—Misjoinder—Ejectment — Cancelment of lease—Pleas in special appeal.—The lessor sued, under Act X of 1859 (s. 23, cl. 4 and s. 78), to recover an alleged balance of rent and cesses due under two leases, and interest, and claimed the ejectment of the lessees from the possession of the properties comprised in both leases, and (by an additional statement of claim) for the amount of arrears due by asamis at the commencement of the leases, basing the latter claim on a stipulation contained in the leases that, whatever arrears should at the date of the execution of the leases be shown to be due from the asamis in a list prepared by the putwari, such arrears should be paid by the lessees, either by instalment or in one payment, as the lessors should think fit, that the lessees should make no objection to the payment of such arrears, and that if the lessees failed to pay such arrears they should pay the expenses of the servants of the lessors who might proceed to the villages for the purpose of realizing the arrears. Held that this latter claim was only cognizable by a Civil Court. The Court refused to admit in special appeal the plea that the lessor should have instituted separate suits to recover the arrears of rent due on each lease, as it allowed the objection that the leases could not be declared forfeited for the aggregate of the arrears of rent and cesses due on both leases, but that the forfeiture of each was incurred in respect of the arrears due on it, and that the lower Courts should have, therefore, determined and declared in their decrees what was the amount of arrears due in respect of rent and cesses on each lease separately. GULABI SINGH v. NORMAL CHEND, 6 N.W.P. 342.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(112)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 44—Misjoinder of causes of action—Objection raised for first time in appeal—Maintainability.—Any objection as to misjoinder of causes of action, if not taken in the Court of first instance, should be considered to have been waived, and should not be allowed to be taken for the first time in appeal. DHONDIBA KRISHNAJI PATEL v. RAMACHANDRA BHAGVAT, 5 B. 554. [F., 16 A. 130].

(113)—Objection of misjoinder of causes of action, not raisable for first time in appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 44.—An objection that, under the provisions of s. 44, Civ. Pro. Code, the causes of action joined together should not have been so joined unless with the leave of the Court, being an objection of a dilatory character and quite beside the merits, should always be taken in the Court of first instance and not for the first time in appeal after the parties have been put to the expense and trouble of a hearing on the merits. When the party has failed to raise such plea of misjoinder in the first Court, he must be taken to have waived it then. MAULA v. GULZAR SINGH, 16 A. 180= A.W.N. 1894, 11. (5 B. 554, F.)

(114)—Intervenor—Party to suit—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 73—Deposition of witnesses taken irregularly—Notes of evidence—Special appeal.—A plaintiff cannot object in special appeal to an intervenor having been improperly made a party under s. 73, Act VIII of 1859, when he neither took this objection in the first Court nor in the Lower Appellate Court. Nor is the objection that the deposition of the witnesses was not taken in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, but only notes of evidence, one which can be taken in special appeal. SHAIKH LALL MAHOMED v. SHAIKH PEER NUZUR, 18 W. R. 112.

(115)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 207—Discretion of Court executing joint decree to arrange for execution by decree holder.—It is entirely in the discretion of the Court executing a joint decree to make arrangements under s. 207, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, regarding its execution by one of the decree-holders, and to take necessary steps for the protection of the interests of the rest; and if it does not choose to do that, it cannot be pronounced wrong in special appeal. HEERA ROY v. BABOO GUJADHUR PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH, 24 W. R. 286.

(116)—Misjoinder of causes of action—Second appeal.—A plea of misjoinder of causes of action should not be allowed to prevail in second appeal, where it is clear that the parties have not been prejudiced by the irregularity. MAGALURI GARUDIAH v. NARAYANA RUNGIAH, 3 M. 359.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(117)—Misjoinder — No objection in lower Court—Appeal.—Where a misjoinder of parties was not objected to by the defendant in the lower Court, the appellate Court should consider the case on the merits. ABDUL KARIM v. MANJI HANSRAJ, 1 B. 295.

(118)—Transfer of parties—Consent—Objection in special appeal.—The defendant assenting to the Court's order making her one of the plaintiffs, and appealing as such cannot object to the transfer in special appeal. RAKHAL DOSS MUNDUL v. PROTAB CHUNDER HAZRAH, 12 W.R. 455.

(119)—Judgment-debtor not objecting to want of notice of enquiry.—Judgment-debtor objecting to what the Ameen had done in enquiry respecting mesne profits, but not to want of notice of enquiry, cannot urge this latter ground in appeal. SHARODA MOYEE BURMONEE v. WOOMA MOYEE BURMONEE, 8 W.R. 9.

(120)—Objection taken for first time in appeal—Nature—Effect.—Where the objection relating to a mid-year sale was taken for the first time in the appellate Court, held, that as a defect fatal to the whole proceedings appeared in the notice, the objection was competently raised before the High Court. CHARN MOZUMDAR AHSANULLA KHAN BAHADUR v. HARI, 20 C. 86, P.C.=19 I.A. 191=6 Sar. 252. (9 C. 656, D.)

(121)—Act V of 1861, s. 42—Suit against Police Officer—Objection under s. 42.—In a suit against a Police Officer, objection under s. 42, Act V of 1861, if not taken in the Lower Court, cannot be made a ground of appeal. NARAIN DEEN TEWAREE v. RAJAH RAM DASS, 8 W.R. 425.

(122)—Plea of want of notice, objection as to.—The plea of want of notice cannot be taken for the first time in special appeal. THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF MORADABAD v. CHUTRI SINGH, I. A. 269.

(123)—Objection of want of notice to quit—Second appeal.—Objection of want of notice to quit may be taken for the first time in second appeal, but the plaintiff must be given an opportunity to meet that defence. ABDULLA v. PAKKERI, 2 M. 346. [F., 12 M. 353, 18 B. 110; App., 15 B. 407.]

(124)—Notice to quit — Special appeal.—Where a tenant denies his landlord's title and persists throughout in a vexatious and aggressive course of conduct towards him, he will not, in a suit for ejectment, be allowed in special appeal to assert that he has not been served with a notice to quit, that objection not having been taken in the Courts below. RAM NUFFER BHATTACHARJEE v. DHOL GOBIND THAKOOR, 1 C.L.R. 421.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(125)—Ejectment suit—Holding over suffered—Cultivation—Notice to quit.—In a suit for ejectment, defendant was not allowed to take in special appeal the objection (not taken before) that plaintiff having allowed him to hold over and cultivate could not eject him without sufficient notice to quit. CROWDY v. OMRAO ROY, 18 W.R. 148.

(126)—Second appeal—Objection of want of proper notice to quit raised for first time in appeal—Practice.—In a suit for ejectment, the objection by the tenant of want of a proper notice to quit may be raised for the first time even in second appeal. (2 M. 346, 12 M. 353, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 122, R.) In the present case, the objection was not taken in the written statement, nor apparently even in the memorandum of appeal. It was, nevertheless, in fact, dealt with by the appellate Court. Held that the High Court in second appeal would allow the defendant to take the objection as to want of notice. VITHU v. DHONDI, 15 B. 407. [R., 18 B. 110.]

(127)—Suit by receiver—Error in frame of suit—Objection.—Where the receiver of an estate, after permission to bring a suit on behalf of the parties interested, sues in his own name, an objection to this error in the frame of the suit, if not taken in the Court below, cannot be raised in appeal. JUGGUNNATH PERSHAD DUTT v. C. S. HOGG, 12 W.R. 117. [R., 34 C. 305; D., 5 C.L.J. 270.]

(128)—Objection taken too late in second appeal.—Where an objection as to the form of a suit could have been, but was not, taken before the first appellate Court, held, it was taken too late when the case was before the second appellate Court. AHMAD HOSSEIN KHAN v. NIHAL UD-DIN-KHAN, 9 C. 945, P.C. = 13 C.L.R. 330 = 10 I.A. 45 = 4 Sar. 442.

(129)—Objection as to non-joinder—Not objection on merits—Special appeal.—The objection that plaintiff cannot sue without the co-sharers joining him does not go to the merits of the case and cannot be allowed for the first time in special appeal. NANOO ROY v. JOOMUCK LALL DOSS, 18 W.R. 376 = 12 B.L.R. 292, Note. [F., 19 W.R. 91, 22 W.R. 489.]

(130)—Technical plea as to liability of company taken too late.—Where a decree for wasilat was given against the manager of an unregistered Trading Company, and the plea that the Company was not a corporate body, and, therefore, not liable without a disclosure of the names of the parties constituting the Company, was not taken until the execution stage: Held that the plea was a technical one, and taken too late to be of any weight in a Court of Equity. MR. D. R. TRIPP v. NURSING CHUNDER MITTER, W.R. 1864, Mis. 7.

(131)—Defect of parties, ground of, in special appeal—Obiter.—The objection as to the defect of parties after the case had passed through two Courts is not one affecting the merits of the case so as to be a ground of special appeal—Per Prinsep, J. BOYDONATH BAG v. GRISH CHUNDER ROY, 3 C. 26. [R., 159 P.R. 1889.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objections first taken in appeal—ctd.

(132)—Non-joinder—Objection raised for first time in appeal.—Where, in a suit by one member of an undivided family, to recover land belonging to the family, the objection to the non-joinder of the other members is not taken at the hearing, it cannot be taken in appeal. PARAMASIVA v. KRISHNA, 14 M. 498 = 1 M.L.J. 782. [R., 2 N.L.R. 45, 9 C.L.J. 623.]

(133)—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 85—Suit on mortgage, effect of non-joinder of the necessary parties—Objection as to non-joinder, raisable on appeal.—The imperative provisions of s. 85 of the Transfer of Property Act compel any person suing on a mortgage to bring into one suit, so far as he had notice of their interests, all the persons interested in the property; and so the omission to join as a party a person who was a necessary party to the suit is a fatal omission by reason of which the suit would be liable to dismissal; and it is the duty of the Court to dismiss a suit brought in contravention of the section, unless it chooses to exercise the discretion vested in it by s. 32 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and to bring upon the record the party omitted from the suit. GHULAM KADIR KHAN v. MUSTAKIM KHAN, 18 A. 109 = A.W.N. 1896. 7. (13 A. 432, 16 A. 478, 11 A. 537, R.) [Not F., 3 Ind. Cas. 291; R., 1 O.C. 53, 5 C.W.N. 423, 3 L.B.R. 241, 12 C.W.N. 911.]

(134)—Ex-parte decree—Transaction resulting in decree collusive and benamee—Technical objection on the ground of no appeal.—In a suit for possession by right of foreclosed mortgage, where plaintiff got an ex-parte decree against one of the defendants (A), and the Lower Appellate Court, finding as a fact, that the mortgage-transaction was benamee and collusive, dismissed the claim: Held that plaintiff could not in special appeal urge that his suit should not be dismissed as against A's share, on the technical objection that A has not appealed. RAM LOOCHIN SOOR v. NITTYA KALEE DEBIA, 12 W.R. 210.

(135)—Decree for partition—Acquiescence in proceeding before Commissioner.—After a complete acquiescence in the proceedings before a Commissioner, appointed in pursuance of a preliminary decree for partition, the defendant was held not entitled to take objection to the appointment of the Commissioner. GYAN CHUNDER SEN v. DURGA CHURN SEN, 7 C. 318 = 8 C.L.R. 415. [R., 24 C. 725, F.B.]

(136)—Policy of insurance—Jettison.—Where the plaintiffs could not recover on a policy for a partial loss, except as for jettison, and that point was not taken in the Court below, the point could not be raised in appeal. MACKINNON v. DUN DAS, Bourke A.O.C. 155.

(137)—Objection to sale of religious office.—Though the objection, that the sale of a religious office is invalid, is taken for the first time in appeal, it may be considered, where it is of great importance, and goes to the foundation of plaintiff's right of suit. KUPPA v. DORASAMI, 6 M. 76.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(138)—Suit for enhanced rates, dismissal of —No claim for arrears at old rates—Complaint against old rate not being granted.—Where a landlord's claim for arrears of rent at enhanced rates is dismissed by the first Court, and no claim is made for arrears of rent at old rates in appeal to the Judge, he cannot in special appeal object that such arrears were not decreed to him. BEEJOYA GOBIND BURAL v. JANNOBEE BROMONYA, 8 W.R. 252. (1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 426, R.)

(138-a)—Suit for money on bond being asset of factory purchased by plaintiff—Allegation not proved—Objection.—A plaintiff who obtains a decree in a suit for the recovery of money on a bond alleged to be an asset of a factory purchased by him, where it is objected for the first time in appeal that he had filed no evidence to prove his allegation, ought to have an opportunity of adducing proof. CHUNDER COOMAR ROY v. MOULVIE KUBEEROODDEEN, 10 W. R. 332.

(139)—Plea of misconstruction—Special appeal.—In a suit for enhancement, an entirely new plea of misconstruction of the terms of the lease cannot be admitted in special appeal. SATOORAM MOJOOMDAR v. PREONATH BANERJEE, 10 W.R. 424.

(140-141)—Plea of res judicata taken for first time in second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 13, 542.—The plea of res judicata, though not taken in the memorandum of appeal, and even when it is not urged in either of the lower Courts, may be entertained by the High Court in second appeal, and may be considered and determined, either upon the record as it stands, or after a remand for findings of fact. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL v. CHATTER SINGH, 4 A. 69, F.B = A.W.N. 1881, 116. [R., 20 B. 86, A.W.N. 1898, 410, 31 C. 428, 1 S.L.R. 142 ; D., 21 A. 446.] See also, KOYLASH NATH CHUND v. MONMOHINEY DOSSEE, Marsh 276 ; MONMOHINEY DOSSEE v. KOYLASHNATH CHUND, 2 Hay. 154.

(142)—Plea of res judicata, Waiver and revival of.—A plea of res judicata waived by a defendant in the Court below may be revived in the Appellate Court in answer to the plaintiff's appeal. When the Court proceeds and gives its decision on a waiver of a plea of res judicata, its decision is binding as between the parties. MUGNO MOYE DEBYA v. HUR CHUNDER RAOOT, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 146.

(143)—Practice—Appeal—Allowance of ground of appeal not taken in the lower Courts—Res judicata.—In this appeal, the High Court allowed to be argued before it a ground of appeal raising a question of res judicata, which had not been raised in either of the Courts below, and referred issues to the lower Appellate Court to ascertain if such plea were well founded. TEK NARAIN RAI v. DHONDH BAHADUR RAI, A.W.N. 1898, 104. [R., 21 A. 446.]

Appellate Court*—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(144)—Objection to plaintiff's right of suit raised for first time in appeal—Suit cannot be defeated.—When a decision unfavourable to the defendant has been given in the lower Court and he seeks in appeal to bring forward, for the first time, an objection to the plaintiff's right to sue which he declined to urge in the Court below, he cannot be permitted at that stage of the case to defeat the suit by such an objection. PAREYASAMI v. SULUCKAI TEVAR, 8 M.H.C. 157.

(145)—Objection to competency to sue.—Incompetency to sue is a defect not admitting of cure or palliation, but that plea being of a material preliminary nature and involving the plaintiff's locus standi in Court was held to be admissible though pleaded orally for the first time on appeal. RADHA KISHEN v. BUKTAWUR LALL, 1 Agra 1.

(146)—S. 242, Contract Act—Denial of plaintiff's partnership rights.—A plea raised by the defendant that, under s. 242, Contract Act, plaintiff had no right as a partner could not be allowed for the first time in special appeal. BUDDUN SAHU v. RAMPERTAB SAHU, 25 W.R. 511.

(147)—Application for removal of obstruction to Magistrate—Reference to Civil Court—Objection to jurisdiction of Civil Court—Presumption.—Where a party who applies to a Magistrate for the removal of an obstruction, having been referred to the Civil Court, brings a suit there and obtains a decree declaratory of his right of way, and it is objected that the suit is not cognisable in the Civil Court, held, that the presumption to be made was that the plaintiff had a right to bring the suit in the Civil Court. TRILOCHUN DOSS v. GUGUN CHUNDER DEY, 24 W.R 413. [R., 9 M. 463, 2 B. 120, 9 C.W.N. 303.]

(148)—Agent's right of suit—Questioning right in special appeal.—An agent's right of suit, if not questioned in the initial stage of a suit, cannot be raised in the special appeal. SOORENDRONATH ROY v. RAGHOOBUR DYAL AWUSTEE, 15 W.R. 392.

(149)—Practice—Objection as to plaintiff's right to sue taken for first time in appeal.—Where the plaintiff admitted the fact of his insolvency, an objection taken by the defendants for the first time in second appeal, that the plaintiff had no right to sue, having taken the benefit of the Insolvency Act, was permitted by the High Court. SADODIN AND ANOTHER v. SPIERS, 3 B. 437.

Appellate Court—continued.

—3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(150)—Questioning one's own act, objection against—Special appeal—Cause of action.—Where plaintiff was present at certain Survey Proceedings, which were his own act, he cannot sue for amendment of a thak demarcation; and this objection can be raised by the defendant even in special appeal. SOODUKHINA CHOWDHRAIN v. ISSUR CHUNDER MOJOOMDAR, 12 W.R. 24.

(151)—Objection to declaratory decree in second appeal.—In a suit merely for a declaration of right, where the first Appellate Court orders the plaintiff to pay up the full amount of Court-fees as for a suit for possession (without, however, the suit being amended), and eventually gives him a declaratory decree, an objection by the defendant to the maintainability of a merely declaratory suit, cannot be allowed in special appeal. SARASUTI v. MANNU, 2 A. 134.

(152)—Public road — Obstruction—Special damage.—No one has a right to sue for obstructing a public road without showing that he has suffered some particular inconvenience in consequence of that obstruction. PARBATI CHARAN MUKHOPADHYA v. KALI NATH MUKHOPADHYA, 6 B.L.R. App. 73.

(153)—Right of suit by daughter during life-time of insane mother.—Where a daughter sues for possession of property (left to her by her father), during the life-time of her mother (who was insane), the defendant cannot question in special appeal the plaintiff's right to bring the suit during her mother's life-time, where the objection is not taken in the first instance. KALICOOMAR SIRKAR v. BIRMOMOYE DOSSEE, 1 W.R. 23. [R., 9 W.R. 190, F.B.]

(154)—Objection as to plaint disclosing no cause of action raised first in special appeal—Chittahs—Boundary disputes — Possession—Evidence of title.—An objection that no cause of action is disclosed by the plaint cannot for the first time be raised in special appeal. Chittas are evidence of titles in boundary-disputes, if they are properly accounted for and are properly introduced and verified. Possession is a good title as against every person who cannot establish a better possession. Chittahs are not admissible in evidence when, for want of time, they are ordered to be filed; and they may be rejected or returned after inspection. Object of s. 129, Act VIII of 1859, defined. SOODUKHINA CHOWDHRAIN v. RAJ MOHUN BOSE, 11 W.R. 350. [D., 11 W.R. 550, 12 W.R. 24.]

(155)—Second appeal—Plea of non-disclosure of cause of action by plaint—Maintainability of plea.—Where a defendant has denied the whole claim, the plaintiff must prove it in toto; and the defendant can in second appeal contend for the first time that the plaint does not disclose

Appellate Court—continued.

—3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

a cause of action. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. SUKHDEV, 21 A. 341. F.B. = A.W.N. 1899, 151. [D., 31 P.W.R. 1907.]

(156)—Second appeal—Objection raised at hearing—Cause of action—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 542—Per Pearson and Straight, JJ., Spankie, J., dissenting.—The High Court can, under s. 542 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, entertain and consider at the hearing of a second appeal, the question whether the plaintiff has any cause of action to sue (this being a question of law), though such question has not been raised by the defendant either in the Courts below or in the memorandum of second appeal. LACHMAN PRASAD v. BAHADUR SINGH, 2 A. 884. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 265, 1 L.B.R. 184.]

(157)—Decision in special appeal of case on point not raised below.—A case is not to be decided in special appeal upon a question which was not raised or tried or considered by the lower Courts. SHIB SUHAYE SINGH v. NURSINGH LALL, 22 W.R. 352. [R., 24 W.R. 72.]

(158)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Separate suit for question provided by section—Validity of jurisdiction.—Where a question provided for by Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11, is made the subject of a separate suit, held, that though the form of proceeding is wrong, there is not a want of jurisdiction which can be made a ground of objection in appeal. PURMESSUREE PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH v. JANKEE KOOER, 19 W.R. 90. [F., 14 C. 605, 22 C. 483, 18 A. 106; R., 8 C.L.J. 20, 5 C.L.J. 328, 32 M. 425.]

(159)—Transfer of Property Act (Act IV of 1882), s. 55 (2) — Vendor and purchaser.—When a purchaser has failed to prove fraud, misrepresentation or concealment on the part of his vendor on which he relied to have the sale set aside, he cannot, in second appeal, set up a new case founded on his right under the covenant for title given him by the Transfer of Property Act, s. 55 (2). MAHOMED v. SITARAMAYYAR, 18 M. 50.

(160) — Pleas not taken in Courts below—Alluvial lands — Resumption proceedings.—Where a defendant has by his answer put his defence upon a certain ground and issues for trial are framed by the Court to meet the case so pleaded, the Judicial Committee, as the final Court of appeal, will not determine the appeal on any other issues or grounds, which have not been taken or considered in the Courts below. Where, in a suit for recovery of possession of alluvial lands, the only point raised by the defendant in the Courts below was one as to the identity of the lands, that is, whether they were included in certain resumption proceedings as appertaining to the plaintiff's estate, it was held that the defendant could not, in appeal before the Privy Council, raise the question as to whether the lands had been improperly settled by Government with those whom the plaintiff now represented. SRIMATI DASI v. RANI LALANMANI, 2 B.L.R. P.C. 64=11 W.R. P.C. 27=12 M.I. A. 470. [F., 21 W.R. 59, 15 M. 503.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(161)—Transfer of execution proceeedings from Sudder Amin's Court to Sub-Court—Jurisdiction.—Where the Judge after the Sudder Ameen's Court of Gya ceased to exist, made an order transferring certain proceedings in execution to the Subordinate Judge, held, he had no power to do so and that the appellant could take that objection in special appeal. SHAIKH HAMIDOODDEEN v BHADAE SAHOO, 18 W.R. 345. [F., 15 C. 177.]

(162)—Transfer of — Issues — Evidence — Objection in Appellate Court. — Although the transfer by the Judge of a case from the file of the Moonsiff to that of his own Court, and finding decision by the Judge upon issues framed by an evidence taken before the Moonsiff is improper, yet if no objection be taken to such irregularity at the time, it must be presumed that the parties consented to the action of the superior Court, and they will not be allowed to take exception for the first time to the Court's proceedings on appeal. YAKOOB ALI v. LUCHMAN DASS, 6 N.W.P. 80.

(163)—Lower Appellate Court's jurisdiction in valuation matters.—Jurisdiction is not given to Lower Appellate Court in respect of entering on a matter of valuation of its own accord. KALEE COOMAR CHATTERJEE v. KRISTO KISHORE PODDAR, 14 W.R. 196.

(164)—Question of institution fee on suit not to be raised in Appellate Court.— Where no question of valuation for the purpose of determining the amount of institution-fee payable on a suit has been raised either in the Court of first instance or in the grounds of appeal, the Appellate Court is not competent to raise such a question. KALA CHAND SEN v. ANUND KRISTO BOSE, 22 W.R. 433. [Diss., 7 C. 348.]

(165)—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 12—Objection as to deficiency of Court-fees for plaint, not raisable for first time in appeal.—On the objection raised in this appeal that the suit was barred by limitation by reason of the plaint having been on stamped paper of insufficient value, and the deficiency not having been made good until after the expiry of the period of limitation, it appeared that the deficiency had not been discovered till the case was on appeal before the High Court, and that, as soon as the mistake was discovered, the parties had made good such deficiency. The High Court held that the plea of limitation could not be allowed to be raised at that stage. It was open to the defendant to have raised the objection as to valuation before the decision of the suit by the Court of first instance, and it is not competent to the Appellate Court to allow such plea to be raised before it for the first time. Under s. 12 of Act VII of 1870, the decision of the Court of first instance upon a question relating to valuation not affecting the question of category is final. WILAYAT ALI KHAN v. UMARDARAZ ALI KHAN, 19 A. 165=A.W.N. 1897, 33. [R., 12 C.W.N. 37=6 C.L.J. 351.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(166)—Objection as to will being made verbally—Technic.—Where in a suit to recover certain property, both the lower Courts find that it was left to defendants by way of gift, and the plaintiffs object that, under the Hindu Wills Act, a verbal will of this kind is not legal, held, that the plaintiff cannot now throw the defendant's case on a technical ground that the alleged gift was really a will. RADHA BULLUBH CHUCKERBUTTY v. BANEE MADHUB CHUCKERBUTTY, 23 W.R. 230.

(167)—Withdrawal of suit improperly permitted—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 373—Plea taken for first time at hearing of second appeal.—Where the plea that the plaintiff had been improperly allowed to withdraw his former suit with liberty to bring the present suit, had not been taken in the lower Courts or in the memorandum of second appeal, held, that it could not be urged at the hearing of the second appeal. Quære.—Whether the words in s. 373 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, "or where there are sufficient grounds" enable a Court to permit a plaintiff to withdraw from his suit, not merely where it must fail by reason of some formal defect, but also on the ground that the defence to the suit was such that he could not have succeeded in his suit had he gone on with it. ZAHUR UNNISSA v. KHUDA YARKHAN, 3 A. 528=A.W.N. 1881, 18.

(168)—Objection depending on facts to be found but not found—Special appeal.—An objection which depends on facts which had to be found and had not been found, cannot be allowed to be taken in special appeal. AZIZUNNISSA KHATUN v. SHASI BHUSHAN BOSE, 2 B.L.R. App. 47=11 W.R. 343.

(169)—Second appeal—Question of due diligence.—The Court can go into the question of due diligence on the part of a judgment-creditor in second appeal. KADUMBINI DABYA v. KOYLASH CHUNDER PAL CHOWDRY, 6 C. 554 =8 C.L.R. 19.

(170)—Objection as to invalidity of document, whether can be raised for first time in appeal.—The Court is bound to take notice, in regular appeal, of the positive invalidity of a document created by a statute (e.g., the Registration Act), even though no objection may have been raised to its admission in the Court below. BASAWA and GURBASAWA v. KALKAPA, SHARBANA and SIDOJI, 2 B. 489. [R., 2 A. 554, 2 N.L.R. 121.]

(171)—Objection as to admissibility of document, not taken in first Court, if allowable subsequently.—If no objection be taken in the first

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

Court as to the admissibility in evidence of a document, such objection cannot be entertained on appeal, the more so, if it appears from the written statement, of the very party objecting, that he has himself relied on it. HRIDOY KRISHNA DAS v. PRASANNA KUMARI CHOWDHURANI, 28 C. 142. (19 A. 76, P.C., D.) [F., 15 C.P.L.R. 123.]

(172)—Cause of action—Objection in special appeal.—An objection that the plaint discloses no cause of action, being one which affects the jurisdiction of the Court, may be taken at any time, even in the special appeal stage. PARBATI CHARAN MUKHOPADHYA v. KALI NATH MUKHOPADHYA, 6 B.L.R. App. 73.

(173)—Non-existence of cause of action.—The plea of the non-existence of a cause of action may be raised for the first time on appeal. BASUMAL v. LACHMAN DAS, 11 P.R. 1873.

(174)—Fraud—Pleading—Question of fraud not to be raised first in Appellate Court—Practice.—A question of fraud cannot be allowed to be raised in the Appellate Court when it was not alleged in the written statements and no issue raised regarding it. PANDIT PRAYAG RAJ v. GOUKARAN PERSHAD TEWARI, 6 C. W.N. 787.

(175)—Whether fraud can be considered for the first time in appeal.—In a case where the plaint made no charge of fraud and collusion, and no issue was framed on it, and the Lower Court did not make mention of it, the Court of appeal refused to take it into consideration. JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE v. MAHESH CHANDRA DUTTA, 23 C. 480 [R., 2 N.L.R. 49.]

(176)—Objection as to plaintiff not being interested in suit.—The defendant in a suit for possession having objected that plaintiff (H) had parted with his interest, the Court gave effect to the objection and L was treated by defendant as having been substituted as plaintiff, although no specific order for that purpose was to be found in the record. Having been defeated in the lower Courts, defendant objected in special appeal that there was no evidence of the conveyance to L: Held that, after what the defendant has done, he is bound to accept L as plaintiff and cannot be allowed now, or in the Lower Appellate Court, to take an objection which does not go to the merits of the suit. HYDER BUKSH v. THE COLLECTOR OF DARJEELING, 24 W. R. 2.

(177)—Objection to account not taken in first Court.—Where no objection is taken before the first Court to an account which is there prepared as agreed to by both parties, it cannot be taken in the Appellate Court. HUREEHUR MOOKERJEE v. RAJKISSEN MOOKERJEE, 23 W.R. 251.

(178)—Adoption—Adopted a married man at the time of adoption—Objection as to validity of adoption cannot be taken for first time in second appeal.—An objection which involves a mixed question of law and fact, in respect of which there is no finding in the Courts below, cannot be entertained in second appeal. Consequently, an objection that an adoption is invalid, because the adoptee was a married man at the time of adoption, is not allowable for the first time in second appeal. KANHAYA LAL KURMI v. MT. SATIYA, 1 N.L.R. 1. (1 W.R. 136, 9 B. 285, 22 C. 483. 27 C. 205, F.; 17 B. 303, 19 B. 331, 18 B. 679. 11 C.P.L.R. 56. 11 M. I.A. 475, 12 M. I. A. 475, 14 C. 586, R.)

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—ctd.

(179)—Practice—Plea taken for the first time in second appeal—Joint Hindu family—Share in joint family property not alienable without consent of co-parceners or until partition.—Where in second appeal there was raised for the first time a plea, based upon the findings of fact of the lower Appellate Court, that an alienation of certain joint family property, the subject of the suit, was bad in law as having been made without the consent of one of the co-parceners, the Court refused to allow the plea to be taken, on the ground inter alia that the objecting co-parcener had on a previous occasion himself alienated a portion of the joint family property. MOHAN LAL v. MADAN MOHAN LAL, A. W. N. 1899, 221. (A.W.N. 1886, 88, F.)

(180)—Appeal—Plea of coercion and public policy to avoid sale-deed—Neither raised by pleadings nor in the grounds of appeal—Whether entertainable.—Held, that an Appellate Court ought not to decide a case on a plea that a deed was void as it was obtained to hush up crime and was, therefore, against public policy, where such a plea was not raised by the pleading or in the grounds of appeal to that Court. BHAGWANTI v. JAGARNATH, 6 A.L J. 636 = 8 Ind. Cas. 510.

(181)—Practice—Objection—Waiver.—Where a party having a good objection, such as an absence of tender before suit, to urge to the prosecution of a suit, omits to do so in the first instance, such omission is fatal to his availing himself of it as an objection on appeal. NAWAB MAHOMED AMUNOODEEN KHAN v. MOOZUFFER HOSSEIN KHAN, 8 B.L.R.P.C. 570 = 14 W.R.P.C. 5. [R., 20 B. 86.]

—Proceedings before village conciliator—Their nature — Certificate—Computation of limitation—Limitation Act, XV of 1877, art. 144—Onus of proof of objection to jurisdiction of Court—Second appeal—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, ss. 46, 47, 48, 13 B. 424.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, ss. 4, 39, 26 M. 363.

See U.P. ACT XII OF 1881, s. 9, A.W.N. 1884, 45.

See ARBITRATION—MISCELLANEOUS, 11 P.R. 1869.

See ARREST, 8 W.R. 318.

—Objection in special appeal taken for first time at hearing—Arbitrator's procedure—See AWARD, 1 A. 535.

Appellate Court—continued.

——3.—Objection first taken in appeal—cld.

See BILL OF LADING, 8 W.R. 35.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, A. W. N. 1886, 188.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXIII, rr. 7, 15, 20 B. 86.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, EXEMPTION FROM, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 91.

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM, 22 M. 515, P. C. = 26 I.A. 55.

See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, A. W. N. 1884, 327.

—Partition suit for property of grandfather without impleading him—Death of grandfather before trial—Objection on appeal to frame of suit—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 8 M. 214.

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, A. W. N. 1883, 282.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT — EJECTMENT, 18 B. 110.

See LIMITATION—QUESTION OF LIMITATION, 1 M.H.C. 358.

See MISJOINDER—OF PARTIES, A. W. N. 1882, 113.

See MISJOINDER—OF PLAINTIFFS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, 24 C. 540.

—Hindu widow—Interest provided by unregistered "rukahs"—Appeal, plea taken for the first time in—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 2 O.C. 209.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 6 M. I. A. 232.

See PRE-EMPTION—RIGHT TO PRE-EMPT, 36 P.R. 1889.

See RESISTANCE TO EXECUTION OF DECREE, 1 B.L R.A.C. 206=10 W.R. 318.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—TRANSFER OF RIGHT, 22 P.R. 1898.

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 1 O. C. 1061.

—Second appeal, new pleas first taken in—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 42, 4 O. C. 207.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 34, 139 P.R. 1890, 2 P.R. 1891.

—Unstamped hundi, admission on appeal—Objection in second appeal disallowed—See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 34, cl. 3, 5 M. 220.

See SUITS VALUATION ACT, 1887, s. 11, 2 C.P.L.R. 18.

See WILL—MISCELLANEOUS, 15 B. 697.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court.

(1)—Clear record of reasons by first Court—Appellate Court not to upset judgment on assumption of falsity of evidence.—Where the first Court records its reasons distinctly, the Lower Appellate Court ought not to upset the judgment on the assumption that the tenants gave false evidence in favour of the shareholder. J. P. WISE v. MUSST. RUBAA KHATOON, 19 W.R. 299.

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(2)—Conditions for Appellate Court to reverse finding on facts.—The Appellate Court cannot reverse the finding of the Lower Court, unless it is clear that the finding of the Lower Court is entirely against the evidence. BAGH SINGH v. FATTA, 28 P.R. 1873. But see MOHUNT RADIKA DAS v. BHUGWAN DAS, 7 P.R. 1874.

(3)—When Appellate Court should reverse finding on facts.—In regular appeal, the Appellate Court is as much a Judge of the facts as the original Court and is bound to give its judgment on the facts with reference to the recorded evidence, independently of the decision of the Court of the first instance; and it is at liberty to reverse such decision, although there is no glaring mistake of the effect of the evidence in the Court below. MOHUNT RADIKA DAS v. BHUGWAN DAS. 7 P. R. 1874. But see, BAGH SINGH v. FATTA, 28 P.R 1873.

(4)—Joinder of causes—Same defendant—Same matter—Separate trial on merits—Joint trial.—Where a number of cases are instituted against the same defendant relating to the same matter, and plaintiff applies to have them all tried together, held that the cases should be tried together; failing which each case should be separately tried on its merits. NEHAL SINGH v. SYED ALAI AHMED, 15 W.R. 110. [R., 22 C. 511.]

(5)—Judgment in one case when to govern another—Consent of parties.—Where both the parties and subject-matter are different, a Judge should not, without the consent of the parties, allow his judgment in one case to govern his decision in another. SOORENDRANATH ROY v. PURMANUND GHOSE, 15 W. R. 342.

(6)—Amending plaint in Appellate Court.—A plaint cannot be amended in an appellate Court. ABDUL GAFUR v. MUSST. NUR BANU, 1 B.L.R. A.C. 78=10 W.R. 111.

(7)—Prayer for declaratory decree without consequential relief—Appellate Court cannot dismiss suit—Amendment of suit.—A Court of appeal must not dismiss a suit, because it is one praying only for a declaratory decree without any consequential relief, where the defendants had not taken that objection, but must allow the plaint to be amended. LIMBA Bin KRISHNA v. RAMA Bin PIMPLU, 13 B. 548. [F., 14 M. 46; R., 15 M. 15, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 231, 5 Bom. L.R. 329, 12 C.L. J. 74=14 C.W.N. 1057; D., 15 M. 255, 19 A. 429, 26 C. 845.]

(8)—Return of plaint for presentation to proper Court.—An Appellate Court has jurisdiction to return a plaint for presentation to the proper Court. KRISHNA RAO AMRIT BUTY v. RAGHUNATH SADASHIV, 6 C.P.L.R. 105. (7 C. 157, 9 B. 266, F.)

Appellate Court*--continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(9)—Act X of 1877, s. 57 (a)—Return of plaint after trial on the merits.—If the Appellate Court thinks that the Lower Court ought to have returned the plaint under s. 57 (a) of Act X of 1877, it can direct its return, notwithstanding a trial upon the merits of the case. SHADI v. MUSSUMMAT AISHAN, 55 P.R. 1878. [R., 118 P.R. 1881; Appr., 90 P.R. 1884.]

(10)—Plaint insufficiently stamped—Failure to supply deficiency—Dismissal of suit—Civ Pro. Code, 1877, s. 578.—The fact that a plaintiff has paid too small a Court-fee on his plaint, and that he, as respondent, failed or refused to supply the deficiency when called upon to do so, is only an error or irregularity which does not affect the merits of the case, (s. 578 of the Civ. Pro. Code), and does not justify the Appellate Court in dismissing his suit without going into the merits MEHDI HUSAIN v. MADAR BAKSH, 2 A. 889.

(11)—Appeal—Levy of deficiency in stamp duty—Court Fees Act, s. 6.—It is competent to the Appellate Court to levy the deficient stamp duty, when the memorandum of appeal is not sufficiently stamped. CHENNAPPA v. RAGHUNATHA, 15 M. 29=1 M.L.J. 598. [R., 19 C. 780, 24 M. 331, 4 O.C. 108, 159 P.L.R. 1901, 25 M. 380, 123 P.R. 1907=82 P.W.R. 1907=3 M.L.T. 63.]

(12)—Decree dismissing a suit, when can be set aside by.—A decree dismissing a suit should not be set aside, unless the Court of Appeal is in a position to decree the plaintiff's claim in whole or in part or to direct the lower Court to take action of some kind. KAUNG HLA v. KA TI, 3 L.B.R. 11=1 Ind. Cas. 357.

(13)—Dismissal of whole suit against all defendants—Ground common to all defendants—Suit for possession of lakheraj lands.—One of the defendants (A) admitted with the plaintiff that the lands in dispute were lakheraj, and not the mal lands of the other two defendants; but he pleaded limitation on the ground of his possession under a purchase from the plaintiff's ancestor more than 12 years ago. The first Court having decreed the suit, defendant A alone appealed, and the Lower Appellate Court not only decided in his favour, but dismissed the plaintiffs whole claim under s. 337, Act VIII of 1859. Held that the decision of the first Court did not proceed on a ground common to all the defendants, so as to justify the dismissal of the entire suit by the Lower Appellate Court. SREEMUTTY DOYAMOYEE DOSSEE v. ESHUR CHUNDER MUTTYLOLL, 1 W.R. 203.

(14)—Party to suit—Appeal to set aside whole decree—Power of Appellate Court.—A party to a suit is competent to appeal to set aside the whole decree, and it is competent to the Appellate Court, on such appeal, to set aside the whole decree. DAYAL CHAND SAHOY v.

Appellate Court*—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

NABIN CHANDRA ADHIKARI, 8 B.L.R. 180=16 W.R. 235.

(15)—Suit against two defendants—Decree exonerating one of the defendants—No appeal by plaintiff against the exonerated defendant—Exonerated defendant made liable on appeal by the other defendant—Power of Appellate Court to make exonerated defendant liable.—The plaintiff filed a suit for profits against two defendants, the lambardars of a certain village. The Court of first instance dismissed the claim as against one of the defendants, the present appellant. The other defendant against whom the whole of the plaintiff's claim had been decreed, appealed, making the exonerated defendant (the present appellant), a party to that appeal. The lower appellate Court held that both the defendants were jointly liable to pay profits to the plaintiffs. The present appeal was preferred against that decree. Held, that, when a suit has been dismissed against one of two defendants by the Court of first instance and the defeated plaintiff has not appealed against that part of the decree, the addition of the defendant, against whom the suit has been dismissed, to the array of the parties does not empower the appellate Court to pass against him a decree, which the Court of first instance declined to pass and in the decision of which Court, the plaintiff chose to acquiesce. FARZAND ALI KHAN v. BISMILLAH BEGAM, 27 A. 23=1 A.L.J. 358=A.W.N. 1904, 155. (8 C.W.N. 495, F.B. Diss.; 2 A. 487, 5 A. 266, F.) [F., 4 A.L.J. 772=30 A. 48=A.W.N. 1908, 4=3 M.L.T. 176; R., 3 N.L.R. 85, 12 O.C. 260.]

(16)—Power to make co-defendant liable upon appeal by a defendant—Mortgage-suit.—In an appeal by defendants Nos. 2 to 8 against the decision of the 1st Court in which the real contest was whether defendant No. 1 who was joined as a respondent with the plaintiffs or defendants Nos. 2 to 8 were liable for the mortgage-debt, the Appellate Court has power to alter the decree of the 1st Court so as to make defendant No. 1 liable and to direct that a decree to recover the mortgage-debt against defendant No. 1 be made in favour of plaintiff. ISHWARDHARY SINGH v. BIBI SAHEBZADI, 12 C.W.N. 720=35 C. 538.

(17)—Appeal by one defendant—Power to reverse whole decree.—On an appeal by one defendant, the appellate Court need not confine itself to that part of the case concerning the appellant but may reverse the whole decree. BHUPA v. CHETU, 26 P.R. 1881.

(18)—Powers of appeal by one defendant—Reversal of whole decree—Place of suing—Hundis.—One of several defendants might obtain a reversal of the whole decree if it proceeded on any ground common to all the defendants. A suit on a hundi is not to be brought in a place where the contract was entered into, but at a place where it is to be performed and a breach of such stipulated performance occurred. Meaning of 'cause of action' discussed. BANKA MAL v. CHUAH MALIK, 71 P.R. 1883. (10 P.R. 1886, 104 P.R. 1886, 29 P.R. 1867, 2 P.R. 1868, 56 P.R. 1868, 57 P.R. 1874, 118 P.R. 1881, 147 P.R. 1882, Cited) [F., 132 P.R. 1883.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(19)—Appeal of one defendant—Reversal of entire decree.—An appellate Court cannot, on the appeal of one defendant only, reverse the whole of a decree which has been passed against two defendants on a ground not common to both. ABDOOL ALI v. SYED BANOO, 2 W.R. 287. [F., 11 W.R. 238.]

(20)—Ss. 244 (c), 545, 647, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Stay of execution—Appeal from order, in execution pending.—The Appellate Court can stay execution, during the pendency of an appeal before it, from an order in execution. PASUPATHI NATH BOSE v. NANDA LAL BOSE, 28 C. 734=5 C.W.N. 67. (1.A. 178, F.B., 11 W.R. 494, R.) [F., 3 C.L.J. 67=33 C. 927; R., 3 C.L.J. 29, 34 C. 1037, F.B.=11 C.W.N. 1030=6 C.L.J. 298, 3 C.L.J. 29; D., 31 C. 1081, 9 C.W.N. 123.]

(21)—Execution of decree—Decree, addition to, or alteration of—Appellate Court.—It is not competent to the Appellate Court in a matter arising in execution to add to or alter the decree. BECHARAM PAUL v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER GHOSE, 5 C.L.R. 522.

(22)—Power of, to take notice of facts transpiring during pendency of appeal—Discretion—Mortgages executed on the same day—Priority—Joint tenancy or tenancy in common when neither proved to have been executed before the other.—As a general rule, a Court of Appeal, in considering the correctness of the judgment of the Court below, will confine itself to the state of the case at the time such judgment was rendered, and will not take notice of any facts, which may have arisen subsequently. But the Court will, in exceptional cases, depart from this rule, specially where, by so doing, it can shorten litigation and best attain the ends of justice. Plaintiff was given leave to amend his plaint, so as to adopt his case and prayers for relief to the new facts, the amendment not altering the nature of the case. When two mortgages are executed on the same day, that which was executed first takes priority, and evidence may be given to ascertain which was in fact executed first. Where this cannot be ascertained, the mortgagees would take as joint tenants or tenants in common. RAM RATAN SAHU v. BISHUN CHAND, 11 C.W.N. 732=6 C.L.J. 74. [F., 6 C.L.J. 102, 662; Expl., 13 C.W.N. 815.]

(23)—Powers of—Objection as to invalidity of agreement, defendant not raising—Agreement involving inquiry into other's property—Fraudulent object.—An Appellate Court could, of its own notion though not urged by the defendant, take objection as to the invalidity of an agreement and discuss a suit on that ground, for a

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

Court cannot be asked to enforce an agreement unenforceable by law, whether such plea is set forth in the defence or not. When the object of an agreement is fraudulent, it is void under ss. 17 and 23, Indian Contract Act, even though it may involve or imply no inquiry into the property of another. A promise made, without any intention of performing it, is a false representation and amounts to fraud under s. 17, Contract Act. SAHIB RAM v. NAGAR MAL, 63 P.R. 1884. [D., 96 P.R. 1902=17 P.L.R. 1903.]

(24)—Practice—Remand — Appellate Court, whether to deal with whole appeal after return of findings.—In an appeal where the respondent filed objections under s. 561, the Civ. Pro. Code, the Court, without delivering judgment, remanded an issue with reference to the objections, stating, however, that the appellant was, in its opinion, entitled to succeed. It was apparent that, at that time, the appeal could not have been argued out, and the true meaning of the facts as found could not have been present to the mind of the Court. Held that, upon the return of the findings on remand, the Court could not treat the appeal as already decided, and the objections the sole matter for consideration, but should consider the question which has been raised by the appellant and the objections raised by the respondents, and decided the whole case. But, from this ruling, it must not be inferred that, where Judges have heard arguments on some of the issues and have come to or expressed their views on those issues and have remanded another issue or issues under s. 566, the same Judges should be bound to hear the case de novo, on the return of the remand. In such a case, the counsel may be confined to the findings on remand. LACHMAN PRASAD v. JAMNA PRASAD, 10 A. 162=A.W.N. 1887, 295. [F., 80 P.L.R. 1902.]

(25)—Appeal from order of remand—High Court's power to confirm first Court's adjudication upon preliminary point.—Upon an appeal from the order of an Appellate Court remanding a case, disposed of by the first Court on a preliminary point, the High Court is not limited to consider merely the form of the remand order. It can go into the merits of the adjudication, by the first Court, on the preliminary point and might allow the successful party to retain the benefit of the first Court's decree, if it is found that the Appellate Court's order is defective. LOKI MHATO v. AGHOREE AJAIL LALL, 5 C. 144=4 C.L.R. 465. [F., 14 B. 14, F.B., 20 M. 152, 1 P.L.R. 1903=1 P.R. 1903, 85 P.R. 1895, 6 P.R. 1892, 3 A. 655, F.B.; Appl., 17 C. 168; R., 26 C. 361.]

(26)—Power of remand — Limit—S. 562, Civ. Pro. Code.—The powers of remand given to an appellate Court under this section should be exercised only when the lower Court had decided the case on a preliminary point and not on the merits or on a point preliminary to a trial of a case on merits. Exclusion of evidence of facts would not of itself justify a remand. MUHAMMAD v. FATTEH MUHAMMAD, 46 P.R 1885.

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(27)—Remand order not specifically appealed against—High Court's power to question, in second appeal, validity of order.—The High Court has power to question in second appeal the validity or otherwise of the order of remand, although there was no specific appeal made against the order under s. 588 (28) of the Code. CHEDA LAL v. BADULLAH, 11 A. 35. [R., 12 A. 510, 24 C. 725.]

(28)—Remand — Objection to finding — Appellate Court, powers of—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 566, 567, 578—Error or irregularity. —See this case noted at p. 14, supra, under 1 A. 165, which it follows. Even assuming that an Appellate Court acts irregularly in not accepting the findings returned by the Lower Court on remand the irregularity is one which does not affect either the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, and is cured by s. 578 of the Civ. Pro. Code. AKBARI BEGAM v. WILAYAT ALI, 2 A. 908. [F., 6 A. 383 = A. W.N. 1884, 127, 6 A. 391 = A.W.N. 1884, 129.]

(29)—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside—Ordering of security for decree—Legality of—Ss. 560, 108, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—As s. 560, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, enacts that an appellate Court may re-hear an appeal heard ex parte on such terms as to costs or otherwise as the Court thinks fit to impose, the word 'otherwise' empowers such Court to impose terms other than those relating to costs, covering an order as to furnishing security for the due performance of the decree. As an original Court can direct the payment of the decree into Court before hearing an application to set aside ex parte decree, an appellate Court has like powers. BAWA NARAIN SINGH v. GANGA RAM, 70 P.R. 1885.

(30)—Appeal from partial decree by plaintiff—Power of appellate Court to reduce decree further.—Where a decree was passed allowing a certain amount and disallowing the remainder, and the plaintiff appealed from the decree disallowing a portion, and the defendant did not appeal, held that it was not competent to the appellate Court to further reduce the amount, as the defendant had not appealed. SITA RAM v. BANNO BIBI, A.W N. 1881, 40.

(31)—Modification of claim before Appellate Court.—It is competent to the Courts to allow a plaintiff to modify his original claim for the direct settlement of a superior proprietary right in an estate into one for a sub-settlement of a sub-proprietary right. GOURI SHUNKER v. THE MAHARAJA OF BULRAMPORE, 4 C. 839. P.C. = 6 I.A. 1 = 3 Sar. 873. [R., 13 A. 108.]

(32)—Original jurisdiction, exercise of, by Appellate Court—Right of appeal to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner.—Where, in an appeal from the decree of a Court first instance, the Deputy Commissioner set aside the decree of an original Court of competent jurisdiction and then passed a new decree in proceedings styled a regular suit in the Court of the District Judge, held, that an Appellate Court cannot give itself jurisdiction to try the case as an original suit under its original jurisdiction in this manner. The further decree thus made in the suit is a pseudo-original decree. It does not follow that, because an Appellate Court in an appeal from an original decree, calls its proceedings a regular suit, that appellate proceedings do become an original suit, or that its further decision in such pseudo-original proceedings becomes less liable to appeal in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner. MOIDEEN BAWA v. ALLANDOO, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 229.

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(33)—Original jurisdiction, exercise of, by Appellate Court—Right of appeal to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner.—In an appeal from a decree passed by Court of first instance, the Appellate Court set aside the original decree in the suit and then, styling its further proceedings an original suit, passed a decree as if in an original suit. On application being made to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner for stay of execution of that further decree, held, —that the further proceedings, though styled an original suit, must be treated as a continuation of appellate proceedings in the same appeal from an original decree already passed in the same suit. The application for stay of execution of pseudo-original decree passed in such further appellate proceedings by a Court of first appeal is properly made to the Court of second appeal, that is, the Court of the Judicial Commissioner. MOIDEEN BAWA v. ALLANDOO, L.B.R 1893—1900, 231.

(34)—Decree not prepared by Court of first instance—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court.—The mere fact of the absence of a decree giving effect to the decision of the Court of first instance, does not prevent the appellate Court from entering into the case, nor from remanding the case to the first Court for preparing a decree. KADIR BAKSH v. KIFAITULLAH, A.W.N. 1884, 224. (5 A. 520, R.)

(35)—Jurisdiction—Appellate Court dealing with matters not before it in appeal.—An appellate Court is not competent in its decree to deal with any portion of the decree of the first Court which is not before it either by way of appeal or by way of objection under s. 561 of the Civ. Pro. Code. TIRATH RAJ v. KUNJ BEHARI, A.W.N. 1893, 144. (11 A. 35, 9 C. 635, R.)

(36)—Jurisdiction—Appellate Court not entitled to decide matters not brought before it by way of appeal or objection.—Where a plaintiff appealed in respect of a portion of his claim which had been dismissed by the Court of first instance and the defendant did not file any objection as to that part of the plaintiff's claim which had been decreed, it was held that the Court of appeal had no jurisdiction to consider the propriety of the decree so far as it was in the plaintiff's favour. BALDEO SINGH v. KEOLA, A.W.N. 1899, 125.

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(37)—Issue not raised between parties in first Court.—A Lower Appellate Court is not justified in determining an appeal upon an issue which was not raised between the parties in the Court of first instance. MUSSAMUT USTOORUN v. BABOO MOHUN LALL, 21 W.R. 333.

(38)—Declaration by appellate Court of right not in issue between parties—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 565.—S. 565 of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1877 (identical with the same section in the latter Code of 1882) does not enable an appellate Court to declare a right in favour of one of the parties, where no issue has been fixed on the point, and the right has not been set up before the lower Court. THE OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v. KRISHNA CHANDRA MOZUMDAR, 12 C. 239, P.C. = 12 I.A. 166 = 4 Sar. 657. [D., 9 A. 434.]

(39)—Appeal by one defendant—Decree in favour of other defendants.—An appellate Court, in a case where the Court of first instance did not proceed in its decision on ground altogether common to all the defendants, would not be legally justified in giving virtually a decree in favour of the other defendants also. BOYDONATH SURMAH v. OJAN BIBEE, 11 W.R. 238. (2 W.R. 287, 7 W.R. 49, 366, F.)

(40)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 542—Memorandum of appeal.—The High Court confined the appellant to the ground of objection set out in the memorandum of appeal (which was that the suit was barred by limitation), and refused to give him permission to urge another ground, as it had not been urged by him on first appeal in the lower appellate Court. BHAWANI GIR v. DALMARDAN GIR, A.W.N. 1881, 40.

(41)—Appellate Court's power to raise points in favour of ex parte respondent—Court to confine itself to points put in issue.—An appellate Court must confine its decision to the points put in issue by the parties before it. It cannot, of its own motion, raise points in favour of a respondent, who remains ex parte. DURGA PRASAD v. KAIRATI, 1 A. 545 = 2 Ind. Jur. 680.

(42)—Lower Appellate Court, competency of, to raise points not taken in first Court.—Held that, as an ordinary rule, a Judge should not (except as to jurisdiction) take up points in bar not taken in the first Court or not urged in the trial there. RANEE SURNOMOYE v. SING KROOP BEBEE, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 133.

(43)—Suit instituted in Court without jurisdiction—Reference to arbitration, and decree in accordance with award passed therein—Finality of decree.—Where a suit, instituted in a Court having no jurisdiction, is referred to arbitration, and a decree passed in accordance with the award passed therein, it is competent for the appellate Court, the finality of the decree according to the award notwithstanding, to entertain the question whether the lower Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. KALIAN DAS v. GANGA SAHAI, 5 A. 500 = A.W.N. 1883, 100. (4 A. 283, R.; 7 C. 157, 7 C. 428, Diss.)

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(44)—Act XXIII of 1861, ss. 5, 6, 7, 37—"Powers"—"Jurisdiction"—Non-payment of expense of notice—Talabana—Application to have appeal re-heard.—S. 37 of Act XXIII of 1861 does not apply to cases where the subject which is being dealt with by the Court is not the actual appeal itself and cannot, therefore, be rightly treated as standing in an analogous position to that of the original suit itself; and further the same section has not the effect of making s. 7 of the same Act applicable to cases where the appellate Court has passed an order under ss. 5 and 6 dismissing the appeal. The word "powers" in s. 37 is not synonymous with "jurisdiction," and especially in other parts of Act XXIII of 1861 and in Act VIII of 1859, it does not comprehend jurisdiction. In a case in which a memorandum of appeal had been filed, but owing to the expenses of service not having been deposited, no notice had been served on the respondent, and he did not appear, the Judge, under ss. 6 and 7, Act XXIII of 1861, dismissed the appeal. About a month after this, the appellant presented a petition, explaining the reasons of his default and praying that, on payment of the talabana, his appeal should be restored, but the Judge rejected the prayer. Held, that the application to have the appeal re-heard was essentially one for review of judgment, and the decision of the Judge rejecting it was final. KALIKRISHNA CHUNDER v. HARIHAR CHUKERBUTTY, 1 B.L.R., A.C. 155 = 10 W.R. 160. (2 W.R. Mis. 23, 3 W.R. Mis. 23, 2 W.R. 254, R.)

(45)—Suit within Munsif's jurisdiction—Principal Sudder Amin rejecting plaint—Appeal Court's power to order such Amin to try as Munsif.—A Court hearing an appeal from an order made by a Principal Sudder Ameen rejecting a plaint, because the suit was within the Munsif's jurisdiction, may at the same time, direct the Principal Sudder Amin to try the suit as a Munsif. MODOOSOODUN SURMA GHOSAL v. SEEDHESSURE DEBEA, 4 W.R. 85.

(46)—Decision of suit by first Court—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court.—Where a Court of first instance hears and finally determines a suit, it is not competent to the Court of Appeal to adjudge the case on the allegations found in the plaint. SUTTROGHUR PUTTEE v. MANICK RAM GANGOOLY, 1 W.R. 198.

(47)—Appeal — Costs — Power of the High Court on second appeal to consider propriety of

Appellate Court—continued.

—4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

order of Lower Court as to costs.—It is competent to the High Court on second appeal to interfere with that portion of an appellate decree which relates to costs. DUNGAR MAL v. RAM CHANDAR, A.W.N. 1893, 130. (A.W.N. 1893, 110, R.)

(48)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 591—Appeal from decree—Competency of Appellate Court to deal with unappealed interlocutory orders of lower Court.—It is competent to an Appellate Court, when dealing with an appeal from a decree, to deal with any question which may arise as to any error, defect or irregularity, in any order of the lower Court, affecting the decision of the case. The Court must have such power, because s. 591 provides that an objection to such order may be made a ground of objection in the memorandum of appeal, and the fact that a miscellaneous appeal might have been, but has not been preferred from such order, cannot make any difference in the power of the Appellate Court to deal with such order in the course of the regular appeal. HAR NARAIN SINGH v. KHARAG SINGH, 9 A. 447 = A.W.N. 1887, 89. (7 C. 148, R.) [R., 10 A. 223, 12 A. 510, 14 B 232, 15 B. 145, U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 310 ; D., 12 A. 200.]

(49)—Reversal of lower Court's decision re party not appealing.—An Appellate Court has no power to reverse the decision of the Lower Court as regards a party who has not appealed. LALLA RAM SURAN LALL v. MUSSAMUT LOKEBAS KOOER, 18 W.R. 39.

(50)—Title not set up—Finding for defendant.—An Appellate Court cannot find for defendant on a title not set up. MAHABEER MISSER v. JUGGUR NATH MISSER, 25 W.R. 11.

(51)—Power of Appellate Court to try on issue in bar, overlooked by first Court.—Case where it was held that there was no necessity for a Lower Appellate Court to remand a suit to the Court of first instance to try an issue in bar, which had been overlooked by the first Court, as there was sufficient evidence to enable the Appellate Court to do so. BROJO SOONDUR HOOM ROY v. GOUR KISHORE HOOM ROY, 2 W.R. 161.

(52)—District Judge not to ignore on appeal directions of co-ordinate Court of appeal.—A District Judge has no authority, when hearing an appeal from a Munsiff's Court, to vary or ignore the directions made by an appellate Court of co-ordinate jurisdiction. BROJO SOONDUR GOSSAMEE v. JUGGUT CHUNDER DEY, 21 W.R. 199. [R., 32 M. 318.]

(53)—Finality of award of wassilat.—A Judge cannot disturb the award of wassilat, which is a final award so far as the Appellate Court is concerned. PUNCHANUN BOSE v. OOMANATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 14 W.R 160.

(54) — Caste questions — Jurisdiction of appellate Court.—On questions of caste, a lower appellate Court has a right to come to a finding based on history or the custom of the country. ROGOONATH DOSS MOHAPATTUR v. BYDONATH DOSS MOHARATHA, 14 W.R. 364.

(55)—Local inquiry — Interference with results.—Appellate Courts ought not to interfere with the result of a local inquiry, except upon very clearly defined and sufficient grounds. MONKEE DUMBER SAHEE v. MONKEE BHULLUNDUR SAHEE, 15 W.R. 423.

(56)—First Court's decision based on careful inspection of suit land—Appellate Court—Not to reverse such decision.—An appellate Court ought not to reverse a first Court's decision based on careful inspection of the land in dispute, except on a very clear opinion on the evidence, and for sufficient reasons recorded. BRINDABUN BHAROTEE v. RAJAH DHUNUNJOY NARAIN BHUNJO DEO, 18 W.R. 452.

(57)—Overt act justifying declaration of title not alleged by plaint—Cause of action apparent—First Court deciding on merits—Incompetency of Lower Appellate Court to dismiss claim.—Where although the plaint mentions no overt act justifying the plaintiff's request for a declaration of title, it appears on the admitted facts that there is a cause of action, and the Court of first instance adjudicates on the merits, held that it is too late for the Lower Appellate Court to dismiss the claim on the ground of the above defect in the plaint. SHOME DUTT CHOWDHRY v. SURB NARAIN CHOWDHRY, 24 W.R. 252.

(58)—Suit for partition revived, after plaintiff's death, on behalf of his minor sons with permission of first Court—Appellate Court not competent to object to revival of suit.—When a suit for partition of family property is, upon the death of the plaintiff, revived on behalf of his minor sons with the permission of the Court of first instance, and a decree for partition given, it is not open to the Appellate Court to reverse the decree upon the ground that, as a partition can be enforced on behalf of minors only when it can be proved to be necessary for the protection of the minor's interest, such suit does not survive to minors ; because the Court of first instance has allowed the suit to be revived, considering that it has been brought on grounds which entitled the minors to the partition. PARVATHI v. MANJAYAKARANTHA, 5 M.H C. 193.

(59)—Addition or substitution of parties—Powers of Appellate Court.—An appellate Court can add or substitute new applicants or respondents, even after the expiry of the period of limitation. THE COURT OF WARDS v. GAYA PRASAD, 2 A. 107.

(60)—Appeal from one Civil Judge to another.—One Civil Judge is not empowered to hear an appeal from another Civil Judge. DAWALA v. RAO SAHIB BALWANT RAO BHUSKUTE, 12 C.P.L.R. 10. [Diss., 3 N.L.R. 53.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(61)—Neglect to prove genuineness of conveyance in lower Court—No help from Appellate Court.—The appellate Court cannot relieve parties of the consequences of their neglect in the lower Court to prove the genuineness of conveyances. MISREE BEGUM v. PUNNOO SINGH, 8 W.R. 362.

(62)—Unstamped receipts for rent—Evidence—Stamp duty and penalty—Powers of Appellate Court.—Where a party to a suit does not apply to a Court of first instance to receive certain unstamped receipts in evidence offering to pay the requisite stamp duty and penalty, an appellate Court cannot admit such documents on payment of such duty and penalty. BABOO GOUR PERSHAD SINGH v. LALLA NUND LAL, 7 W.R. 439.

(63)—Original Court receiving stamp duty and penalty—Appellate Court not empowered to question.—Where the Court of the first instance determined what the stamp was and received the penalty accordingly, the appellate Court is incompetent to question its decision. MOOLA MULL v. GUNPUT. 66 P.R. 1866.

(64)—Act XVIII of 1869 — Unregistered acknowledgments of barred debts admitted in evidence.—Where the Court of first instance admitted in evidence an unstamped acknowledgment of a debt which embraced items more than three years old, and consequently barred by limitation, the Appellate Court is precluded from questioning whether the acknowledgment had under the provisions of Act XVIII of 1869 been wrongly admitted in evidence as unstamped. DYAL SINGH v. MANGAL SINGH, 28 P.R. 1878.

(65)—To enlarge time for payment prescribed in decree—Appeal from mortgage-decree—Formality of order making decree absolute—Practice.—The Transfer of Property Act, 1882, not being in force in Burma outside Rangoon, it is quite clear that this Court has no power in execution of enlarging the time prescribed for payments by its decree of the 14th December, 1896. There can, however, be no doubt that the Privy Council has the power of enlarging the time, and that any Appellate Court deciding an appeal from a mortgage decree has similar power. Where that Act is not in force, it is not the practice to pass a final order making the decree absolute, and, if such an order is passed, it is merely a formal order. KADIR MOIDEEN v. CHARLES WIDIKEND NEPEAN, L B R. 1893—1900, 420. (15 B. 644, 13 B. 106, 17 B. 547, 18 A. 223, 455, 20 B. 279, 7 B. 532, 13 C. 13, 11 B. 172, R.)

(66)—Principle on which account taken in error—Correction of error.—Where there has been an error in the principle upon which an account has been taken, the appellate Court will correct such error, if it had been expected to in the Lower Court. VENKATA REDDI v. VENKATARAMAYYA, 1 M.H.C. 418. [Diss., 6 B.H.C. 149, 6 M.H.C. 36.]

Appellate Court—continued.

—— 4.—Powers of Appellate Court—contd.

(67)—Power of Court under s. 354, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, to decide a question in absence of any objection under s. 348, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Verbal objection under s. 348, Civ. Pro Code, 1859, sufficient.—The plaintiff, who sued for the possession of certain land alleged to have been purchased from the defendant for Rs. 300 valued his claim at Rs. 150 and stamped his plaint accordingly. The Lower Court, being of opinion that the defendant had no legal power to sell the land, gave a decree for Rs. 300 in favour of the plaintiff. The Deputy Commissioner, to whom the plaintiff prepared an appeal asking for possession of the land instead of a refund of the purchase-money, not only dismissed it, but also set aside a money decree for Rs. 300 without any written objection taken by the defendant under s. 348, Civ. Pro. Code. Held, Per Lindsay, J., that the defendant not having taken objection under s. 348, the Deputy Commissioner could not reverse the money decree of the original Court, which would accordingly be affirmed. Held, Per Campbell, J., that, as plaintiff did not pray for a refund of the purchase-money, the stamp on his plaint being insufficient to cover the amount, and also, as the plaintiff himself appealed from the decree awarding him Rs. 300 instead of possession, the Deputy Commissioner could reverse the decree without giving the plaintiff other relief and that a verbal objection under s. 348, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, was valid. Held, Per Cunningham, J., that the Deputy Commissioner had power to reverse the order of the first Court, as, under s. 354, the Appellate Court may raise and decide any question of fact essential to the right determination of the suit upon the merits. RAMJEE DASS v. CHOOHUR, 78 P.R. 1870.

(68)—Suit— Survey award — Possession — Limitation—Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 12.—Where a plaintiff sued not only for the cancelment of a survey award, but also to be restored to possession of land wherefrom he had been subsequently dispossessed, his suit was held not to be barred because not brought within three years of the award, the latter claim being a different cause of action, to be governed by the limitation of twelve years in cl. 12, s. 1, Act XIV of 1859. An Appellate Court can suo motu raise the question of limitation for the first time, where it appears on the face of the plaint that the suit is barred. MAZUFFUR ALLY v. GIRISH CHUNDRA DAS, 1 B.L.R A.C. 25=10 W.R. 71.

—Powers of, in India—See MAD. ACT I OF 1908, 3 Ind. Cas. 736.

—Power of appellate Court to enter into question of misconduct or corruption of arbitrator—See AWARD, 13 P.R. 1906.

—Appellate Court, whether has power to remand a case for second decision except as provided by s. 562, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, ss. 562, 564, 138 P.R. 1908.

Appellate Court—continued.

——4.—Powers of Appellate Court—concld.

—Powers of, under ss. 566. 568, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 65, O. XXI, r. 94, O. XLI, rr. 25, 27, 9 C.L. J. 464=4 Ind. Cas. 168.

—Power of, to review its order of remand, on filing of appeal, after remand and subsequent decision by original Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 105, 5 M.L.T. 75=32 M. 318 =2 Ind. Cas. 525.

—First Court allowing document on which suit based to be produced at a late stage—Appellate Court, if may reject and on what ground —Dealing with case as if there was no evidence when in fact there was—Revision—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, O. VII, rr. 14, 17, 18, and s. 99, 13 C.W.N. 737=10 C. L. J. 33 =2 Ind. Cas. 946.

—Court of second appeal, power of— See CIV PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, rr. 8 (2), 10 (2) (3) (5) (11), 1 L.B.R. 350.

—Preliminary point—Remand— Amendment of plaint in appeal—Power of Appellate Court to amend plaint—Suit for rent converted into one of ejectment—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. VI, r. 17, O. VII, r. 11, O. XLI, r. 23, s. 107 (2), O. XXII, r. 11, 19 B. 303.

—Power of, to act under s. 158, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVII, r. 3, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 10 O.C. 245.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIX, rr. 2, 3, O. V, r. 6, 3 M.H.C. 167.

—Power of, to go behind first Court's order setting aside award for judicial misconduct of arbitrator—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, sch. II, r. 15, 66 P.R. 1907=159 P.L.R. 1908= 148 P.W.R. 1907.

See COMPROMISE—ENFORCING, W.R. 1864, 146.

See DOCUMENT, L.B R. 1893—1900, 551.

—Document received and acted on by lower Court—Court of appeal to be slow to interfere with lower Court's discretion—See ESTOPPEL —ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT, 6 C.L.J. 621.

See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865 —N.W.P., 17 A. 475=A.W.N. 1895, 104.

See PLAINT—RETURN OF PLAINT, 73 P.R. 1876, 55 P.R. 1878.

—Appellate Court—Powers of remanding case—See REMAND, 5 M.H.C. 313.

—Power of, to question admissibility of document, admitted by Court of first instance —See STAMP ACT, 1899, ss. 12 (3), 36, 61, 108 P.R. 1908.

—Appellate Court, competency of, to decide on ground not urged by appellant—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 41, 17 A. 280=A.W.N. 1885, 69.

Appellate Court—continued.

——5.—Practice and Procedure.

(1)—Court of first appeal—Mode of disposal of appeal.—A Court of first appeal should determine an appeal on the evidence and merits of the case, and not merely on a preliminary point. RAM NARAIN v. BHAWANIDIN, 9 A. 29, Note=A. W. N. 1882, 104. [Appr., 7 A. 136, 7 A. 765. F.B., 9 A. 26; R., 7 A. 649= A.W.N. 1885, 151, F.B.]

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 574—Court of first appeal—Disposal of appeal not on merits—Validity of.—Where a Court of first appeal did not decide the appeal on the merits, failed to comply with every one of the provisions of the section and disposed of it, by saying that the suit was a bit of wanton liligation with nothing tangible, upon which the claim could be grounded, the appeal was remanded for adjudication on the merits. SHEOAMBAR SINGH v. LALLU SINGH, 9 A. 30 Note=A.W.N. 1882, 158. [Appr., 7 A. 136, 7 A. 765, F.B., 9 A. 26; F., 27 A. 691=2 A.L.J. 635=A. W. N. 1905, 159, 27 P.W.R. 1907, 2 P.R. 1903=12 P.W.R. 1908 =96 P.L.R. 1908; R., 7 A. 649=A.W.N. 1885, 151, F.B., 16 M. 207.]

(3 & 4)—Materials on record to guide Appellate Court.—An Appellate Court can determine the appeal only upon the materials on record. RAKHAL MONI DASSI v. ADWYTA PROSAD ROY, 30 C. 613=7 C.W.N. 419. (5 C.W.N. 877, F.)

(5)—Lower Court's procedure—Presumption. —The rule is to presume that lower Court has done its duty; neglect of duty cannot be assumed at the mere suggestion of the appellant. RAJAH RASH BEHARI LAL SINGH v. NABAYI PADDAR, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 99=11 W.R. 465.

(6)—Appellate Court reversing judgment of lower Court—Mere suspicion insufficient— Before an appellate Court could reverse the decision of the lower Court, it is bound to satisfy itself that that decision was wrong. It is not enough for the appellate Court to think that there are circumstances raising suspicion. GOVINDAN NAIR v. CHERULI ACHAN, 9 M.L. J. 126.

(7)—Change of case in appeal.—The plaintiff set up in the Court of first instance a deed of sale, executed in favour of his niece, by a Mahomedan pardanashin lady, during the latter's severe illness, of which she died a few days afterwards. That Court pronounced against the validity of the deed as a deed of sale on a consideration of the whole evidence. In appeal before the High Court it was contended that, though apparently it was a deed of sale, it was really a deed of gift, that as such it was good, and that it was drawn up as a deed of sale for the purpose of giving effect to a gift which, otherwise, it would be difficult to make under the Mahomedan Law. The High Court refused to allow the contention to prevail. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that the plaintiff could not be allowed to change his plea in appeal. MUSSAMUT MUMEEROONISSA BEGUM v. MIRZA SYUFFOOLLAH, 16 W.R. 32, P C.

Appellate Court—continued.

——5.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(8)—Concurrence of two Courts—S. 353, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859.—Per Campbell, J.—If two Courts had not concurred as to the facts relating to a particular issue, only one Court having determined it, the Chief Court should accept the defendant's appeal, in order that the lower Appellate Court might remand the case to the original Court for a finding on the point left undecided by the latter Court. An appellate Court cannot find as to a fact not touched by the lower Court but should refer an issue to the lower Court, and on the return of the finding should either concur in or dissent from that finding In the latter case, a second regular appeal would lie; in the former, the finding as to the fact would be conclusive. Per Boulnois and Lindsay, JJ.—The procedure of the lower Appellate Court could not be disturbed under s. 353, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, such Court could come to a finding upon a fact left untouched by the original Court, provided there was sufficient evidence on record; and Act IX of 1873 (Punjab Appeals Act) did not change the procedure. GANDA SINGH v. HARSA SINGH, 79 P.R. 1876.

(9)—Appellate Court—Power to reverse part of decree not appealed against.—In a suit to recover money due under an hypothecation bond against the mortgagors and against the transferee of the hypotheca, a decree was passed against the mortgagors on a confession of judgment, the suit being dismissed as against the purchaser. On appeal by the mortgagee as regards the exemption of the purchaser from liability, the lower appellate Court dismissed the whole suit. Held that the lower appellate Court was not justified in disturbing the decree against the confessing defendants who were not before it in appeal. MATA DAYAL v. JOKHU, A.W.N. 1881, 157.

(10)—Whether fraud can be considered for the first time in appeal.—In a case where the plaint made no charge of fraud and collusion, and no issue was framed on it, and the lower Court did not make mention of it, the Court of appeal refused to take it into consideration. IMDAD HUSAIN v. AZIZ-UN-NISSA, 6 M.L.J. 43, P.C =23 C. 483=23 I.A. 8=6 Sar. 669. [R., 2 N.L.R. 49.]

(11)—Interlocutory decree not appealed from—Final decree—Interest.—It is not too late, on an appeal from a final decree, to raise a question as to interest decided in an interlocutory decree not appealed from. SHAH MUKHUN LALL v. BABOO SREE KISHEN SINGH, 11 W.R. 19, P.C.=2 B.L.R. 44=12 M.I.A. 157.

(12)—Practice—Local inquiry—Interference in appeal.—An appellate Court in India ought not to interfere with the result of a local inquiry except upon clearly defined and sufficient grounds and such grounds must be expressed in the judgment. RANI SERATSUNDARI DEBI v. PRASANNAKUMAR TAGORE, 6 B.L.R. 677, P.C.=18 W.R. 2C=13 M.I.A. 607. [F., 15 W.R. 423; D., 17 W.R. 472.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——5.—Practice and Procedure—continued.

(13)—Practice—Errors of procedure.—The errors of procedure of the Courtof first instance are not to be remedied, where they have not been made a ground of complaint before the lower appellate Court. ANURUP CHANDRA MUKHOPADHYA v. HIRAMANI DASI, 3 B.L.R. App. 38.

(14)—Practice—Suit decreed in part—Appeal by defendant only—Appellate Court whether decree more to plaintiff than was decreed by lower Court.—Where a suit decreed in part, and the plaintiff's accept the decree and do not appeal but the defendants prefer an appeal, the Appellate Court cannot pass a decree giving to the plaintiffs more than was decreed in their favour by the original Court, because the appellate Court is not seized of the whole case and cannot pass any such order as will place the appellants-defendants, in a worse position than they were in when the decree of the first Court was passed. ISHRI MAL v. BHAGWAN MAL, A.W.N. 1887, 214.

(15)—Practice—Lower Court entertaining suit without jurisdiction—Procedure of appellate Court.—An Appellate Court deciding that a suit was entertained by the lower Court without jurisdiction, should return the plaint to the plaintiff, so that it may be presented to the proper Court. BHAI MAHKKOR v. BULAKHI CHAKU, 1 B. 538. [R., 8 C. 126, 7 C.L.J. 152.

(16)—Written statement not to be called for by Appellate Court—Party who can read it as evidence.—A written statement cannot be called for by an Appellate Court or read as evidence against any party to the suit, save the person by whom it is made, and those who are bound by admissions made by him. JUGGESSUR MOOKERJI v. GOPEE KISHEN SEIN, 5 W.R. 50.

(17)—Appeal—Decision of Lower Court upheld on other grounds—Amendment—Objection in appeal.—Where a Judge in appeal upholds the decision of a Lower Court, he may do it on any ground whatsoever, that is to say, he may come to the same conclusion, but through a different channel. But it is quite a different thing when an amendment is allowed, and no appeal has been preferred against it, to ask the Court to go out of its way and admit an objection taken at the last moment. ASAD ALI MIRDHA v. TOYPARI BIBI, 13 C.L.R. 328.

(18)—Objection to validity of document—Reg. XVIII of 1827, s. 10—Merits of case, objection to.—Under Act VIII of 1859, it is an objection on the merits of the case to object to the validity of a document under Bom. Reg. XVIII of 1827, s. 10 as apart from its inadmissibility in evidence or a prohibition to Courts of justice or public officers to act upon it. GIRDHAR NAGJIS SHET v. GANPAT MOROBA, 11 B.H.C. 129.

(19)—Cases of the nature cognizable by Small Causes Courts.*—A second regular appeal can be

Appellate Court—continued.

—5.—Practice and Procedure—concluded.

preferred in cases of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes. DEVI DITTA MULL v. GOLAB SINGH, 48 P R 1869.

(20)—Modification of decision of first Court by Appellate Court.—A party can only prefer a second regular appeal under s. 5, Act IX of 1873, when he is aggrieved by and seeks to impugn the portion of the decision of the first Appellate Court which modifies the decision of the Court of first instance. MUSSAMMAT JANI BEGAM v. MUSSAMMAT MUNNI, 71 P.R. 1877.

(21)—Modification on point material to merits of case—Act IX of 1873, s. 5.—A Judicial Assistant on appeal modified the decision of the first Court on a point material to the merits of the case; held that a second regular appeal on the whole case lay under s. 5, Act IX of 1873, to the Commissioner. ILAHIA v. SADHARA, 57 P.R. 1878.

(22)—Judgment of Lower Court—Grounds for reversal—Defect in investigation—Insufficient finding.—An Appellate Court should find some sufficient and significant facts before it reverse a judgment of the lower Court, and should show a proper basis for its conclusions. MUSSAMMAT ANISUL FUTWA v. MUSSAMAT CHANDO, 8 B.L R. App. 8.

(23)—Memo of appeal to be incorporated in appellate Courts.—Memorandum of appeal to be embodied in decrees of lower appellate Courts. Cir. No. 4, dated, the 16th January, 1867, 7 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 2.

—Plaint not properly verified, amendment of—Procedure of appellate Court—Defect in verification, whether justifies dismissal of suit —See PLAINT—VERIFICATION AND SIGNATURE, 18 A. 396=A.W.N. 1896, 102.

—Appellant dead at time of remand—Trial of issues by first Court without substituting legal representatives—Procedure of appellate Court — Fresh remand—Practice — See REMAND, A.W.N. 1885, 164.

—Witness—Omission to summon witness—Appeal on ground of such omission—Appellant to show that witness not summoned could have given evidence in his favour—See WITNESS—SUMMONS TO AND ATTENDANCE OF WITNESS, A.W.N. 1896, 120.

—6.—Rejection or admission of evidence.

See EVIDENCE.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.

(1)—Enlargement of time for filing documents —Appeal.—An appellate Court has no power to interfere with an order of a Court of first instance, enlarging the time for filing documents. GOUR SURUN DOSS v. KANHYA SINGH, 2 W.R 237.

(2)—Document once received without objection —Rejection for want of stamp on appeal—Irregularity.—A document once received without objection should not be rejected on appeal, because it is not stamped, when the irregularity does not affect the merits of the case. HUR CHUNDER GHOSE v. WOOMA SOONDUREE DOSSEE, 23 W.R. 170. [F., 25 W.R. 554.]

(3)—Power of appellate Court to reject unstamped document admitted by lower Court.—Where a document executed on an unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper before Act X of 1862 came into force was admitted in evidence by the lower Court but was rejected by the appellate Court: Held that an appellate Court has no power to reject such a document. UMBAH v. HURJAS, 21 P.R. 1866; and NARAIN DOSS v. BUNT LALL, 79 P.R. 1870.

(4)—Admission of insufficiently stamped document by lower Court—Admissibility in appeal.—Where a document was admitted in evidence by the Subordinate Judge without objection by either party, and no objection was made in the memorandum of regular appeal to the District Court, the latter Court cannot exclude it from its consideration, and cannot decline to regard it as evidence in the cause, on the ground that it was not sufficiently stamped. KASTUR BHAVANI v. APPA, 5 B. 621.

(5) Evidence — Admissibility of document subject to payment of stamp duty—Finality of decision of Court of first instance. Where a Court of first instance admitted a document subject to the payment of stamp duty, the decision was final and could not be reviewed by the appellate Court. LAKSHMI NARAYANA AIYAR v. SUPPARA GAUNDEN, 2 M.H.C. 321. [D., 3 M H.C. 71.]

(6) Unstamped documents.—The want of stamp in a document admitted as evidence, where the error of receiving it unstamped did not affect the merits of the case, is not a ground for reversing a decision. MARK RIDDED OURRIE v. S. V. MUTU RAMAN CHETTY, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 126=11 W.R. 520. [F., 5 B.L. R. App. 10, 16 W.R. 6, 25 W.R. 376; R., 13 B. 449, F.B.; Disc., 2 A. 554.]

(7) Act X of 1862, s. 14—Act VIII of 1859, s. 350—Suit-bond unstamped—Appeal.—An appellate Court has no power to reverse a judgment of a Court of first instance, merely on the ground that the document on which the suit was based did not bear a stamp at all. SRINATH SAHA v. SARODA GOBINDO CHOWDHRY, 8 B.L.R App. 10. (3 B L.R. A. C. 126, 235, Rel. on.) [D., 11 B.H.C. 125.]

(8) Reception in evidence of unstamped pro-note— irregularity not affecting the merits Appellate Court's powers.—The reception in evidence of an unstamped pro-note is an irregularity not affecting the merits. Such an irregularity does not justify an appellate Court in reversing the decree of the Court of first instance. AFZAL-UN-NISSA v. TEJ BAN, 1 A. 725.

Appellate Court—continued.

——6.—Rejection or admission of evidence —continued.

(9)—Exclusion of documents insufficiently stamped—Rights of parties not put an end to—Stamp thought unnecessary by first Court—Appeal.—The exclusion under the stamp law of dooument unstamped or insufficiently stamped is not intended to create or put an end to the rights of parties. A document admitted by the first Court as not requiring a stamp cannot be questioned in appeal. ENAYETOOLLAH v. SHAIKH MEHJAN. 16 W.R. 6. [Appr., 13 B. 449, F.B., 3 C. 787 ; D., 11 B.H.C. 129.]

(10)—Stamp Act, ss. 34, 50.—When an instrument has been admitted in evidence, and judgment delivered, its admission can be questioned only by the appellate Court in a proceeding under s. 50 of the Stamp Act REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 564, F.B. [F., 13 B. 449, F.B., U.B.R. 1897=1901, Vol. II, 559.]

(11)—Stamp Act, s. 34, cl 3—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 578—Unstamped hundi, admission on appeal—Objection in second appeal disallowed.—An unstamped hundi, which is admitted in evidence upon an erroneous construction of the law, cannot, under cl. 3, s. 34 of the Stamp Act, be allowed to be called in question in second appeal. Nor can the Court entertain the objection, as it is not one affecting the merits of the decision. RAMASAMI v. RAMASAMI. 5 M. 220. [F., 8 M.L.J. 66 ; Appr., 13 B. 449, F.B., 17 B. 235.]

(12)—Stamp Act (X of 1862), s. 17, cl. 1—Document liable to stamp duty, unstamped—Objection for first time taken in appeal—Maintainability of.—The Stamp Act (X of 1862) prohibits an unstamped document from being received in evidence or acted upon in any civil proceeding in a Court of justice, except on payment of the proper amount of stamp duty and penalty which every Civil Court is by s. 17, cl. 1, empowered to ascertain and receive. It is imperative on the High Court hearing the suit on appeal to give effect to this provision, though the objection be pointed out for the first time on the hearing of the appeal. ADINARAYANA SETTI v. F. J. V. MINCHIN, 3 M.H.C. 297. [R., 5 M.H.C. 391.]

(13)—Objection to document after examination of witness upon it.—An Appellate Court cannot object to a document after witnesses to it have been examined and dismissed without being questioned as to its genuinenesss. LALLA MOHADEO PERSHAD v. SUTTANUND, 17 W.R. 502.

(14)—Appellate Court to give reasons for admitting rejected evidence.—It is the duty of an Appellate Court to give its reasons for admitting evidence rejected by the Court of first instance. LAWA JHA v. BISSESHUR SINGH, 11 W.R. 6. (7 W.R. 21, P.C., F.)

(15)—Reception in evidence of unstamped and unregistered document—Objection in first appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 350—Civ. Pro. Code 177, S. 578.—An appellate Court may admit, and consider an objection to the reception, in evidence, of an unstamped and unregistered document. SAFDAR ALI KHAN v. LUCHMAN DAS, 2 A. 554=5 Ind. Jur. 92. (3 B.L.R. 126, Disc.) [R., 2 N.L.R. 121.]

(16)—Unregistered documents wrongly admitted in evidence—Power to reject.—Where the Lower Court admitted in evidence unregistered documents required by law to be registered, and decreed the claim : Held that the appellate Court has power to reject the documents wrongly admitted by the first Court. SARBALAND KHAN v. CHANDA SINGH, 84 P.R. 1877. [F., 123 P.R. 1882.]

(17)—Rejection of document—Tender of Stamp duty and penalty before Appellate Court—Stamp Act, arts. 5, 11,—Where the amount of Stamp duty and the penalty on a document were not tendered, when it was first offered in evidence and rejected, an Appellate Court has no authority to direct the reception of the instrument on a subsequent tender of the amount. CHAMPABATY v. BIBI JIBUN, 4 C. 213. (1 B.L.R. 58, F.B.=10 W.R. 51; 7 W.R. 439, F.)

(18)—Documents admitted in evidence on payment of stamp-duty and penalty—Subsequent rejection—Validity—Stamp Act (I of 1879), s. 39, proviso 3—Remand—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 578.—The plaintiff sued to recover a sum of Rs. 653-7-0 due on 3 khatas signed by the defendant. On an objection having been taken by the defendant that the khatas sued on were not duly stamped, the Subordinate Judge admitted them in evidence on payment by the plaintiff of the proper stamp duty and penalty, as required by s. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), holding that the khatas were bonds within the meaning of s. 3 of the Act. His successor in office held that the khatas were promissory notes and could be stamped only on the date of their execution. Being of opinion that they had been illegally admitted in evidence on payment of stamp duty, he dismissed the suit. On appeal, the District Judge held that the Subordinate Judge, having once admitted the khatas in evidence on payment of the requisite stamp duty, was precluded from calling in question their admissibility by the terms of proviso 3 to s. 34 of the Stamp Act. The Lower Court's decree was reversed and the case remanded for trial on the merits. On appeal to the High Court against the order of remand, held, (1) that the khatas sued on cannot be rejected, when once they had been admitted on payment of the requisite stamp duty and penalty, and (2) that the order of remand not being one which affected the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, it was not competent to the High Court to interfere with it under s. 578 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. DEVACHAND v. HIRACHAND KAMARAJ, 18 B. 449, F.B. [F., 18 B. 737, 8 M. L. J. 66.]

(19)—Suit incorrectly valued—Reversal of decree of first Court—Jurisdiction.—A Lower

Appellate Court—continued.

—6.—Rejection or admission of evidence —continued.

Appellate Court was held to have done a wrong in reversing a decree of the first Court, on the ground that the suit had not been correctly valued, where the error in valuation did not affect the jurisdiction of the Court which tried the case. SUBAH ROY v. BULDEO SINGH, 24 W. R. 225.

(20)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 350—Stamps—Interference of High Court.—Under s. 350, Act VIII of 1859, the High Court does not interfere where the Lower Appellate Court's decision on the question of stamps does not affect the case on the merits. KHAN MAHOMED SHAHA v. LALL MAHOMED, 16 W.R. 179.

(21)—Supplemental plaint—Additional stamp—Irregularity.—Where defendants object that a plaint is under-valued, and a supplemental plaint with the required stamp is put in and received, the irregularity does not affect the merits of the case, or call for a reversal of the Moonsiff's decision. GUDADHUR BANERJEE v. RANEE PREMOMOYEE DEBIA, 10 W.R. 286.

(22)—Under-valuation of suit--Powers of appellate Court—Jurisdiction—Civ. Pro Code, 1859, s. 350.—S.350, Act VIII of 1859, did not operate to prohibit a Court of Appeal from modifying or reversing a Lower Court's decision on the ground of under-valuation if the proper valuation would take the suit beyond the jurisdiction of that Court. HUREE PANDEY v. BASSOO, 11 W.R. 257.

(23)—Jurisdiction—Valuation—Ad valorem duty—Stamp duty—Appellate Court—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, s. 12, cl. II.—Where a Munsiff ruled erroneously that a suit instituted in his Court had been correctly valued, and it appeared that, if the suit had been correctly valued, the munsiff would not have had jurisdiction to entertain it, the Lower Appellate Court, having regard to cl. II, s. 12 of the Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, ordered that the appeal should be decreed, the plaint retained until the plaintiff should pay the additional stamp duty, when the suit would be made over to the Subordinate Judge for re-trial. Held that the order was a proper one. BROJO COOMAR SEN v. ESHAN CHUNDER DAS, 3 C.L.R. 79.

(24)—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870—Decision of first Court as to stamp on plaint, how far binding on Appellate Court in valuing appeal.—In fixing the Court-fees payable on a memorandum of Appeal, the appellate Court is not bound by the decision of the Court of first instance as to the stamp on the plaint. In the present case, the High Court held that the plaint had been over-valued by the first Court, and, as the suit was one for possession of lands and mesne profits, the appeal had to be stamped as in a suit for the recovery of land and money, in which, as regards the alternative relief sought, the larger of the two reliefs sought must determine the amount of the stamp. MOTIGAVRI v. PRANJIVANDAS, 6 B. 302. [F., 15 B. 82; R., 20 B. 265, 30 M. 61=16 L.J. 462=1 M.L.T. 426.]

Appellate Court—continued.

—6.—Rejection or admission of evidence —concluded.

(25)—Rejection by Appellate Court of evidence believed by recording Court.—An Appellate Court ought not to reject an important and respectable witness, who has been believed by the Court who heard his evidence, on some supposed discrepancy in the record of it, which did not occur to that Court, and which, if his attention had been called to it, he might have been able easily to explain. RUN BAHADUR SINGH v. LUCH KOER, 11 C. 301, P.C.=12 I. A. 23=4 Sar. 602. (On appeal from 6 C. 406.) [R., 9 Bom. L.R. 393.]

(26)—Evidence—No objection taken to admissibility of document in first Court—Competency of appellate Court to raise or entertain objection.—No objection was taken in the Court of first instance to the admission of the copy of a document. In an appeal from the decree of the first Court, the appellant contended that the copy was not admissible in evidence in the absence of any satisfactory explanation for the non-production of the original. Held that it was not competent to the appellate Court to raise or entertain the objection to its admissibility. But there was nothing to prevent the appellate Court from considering what weight was due to the document as evidence in the absence of the original. ITTICHIRI AMMAH v. KALIANI, 5 M.L.J. 81.

(27)—Evidence—Documentary evidence—Conduct amounting to tacit waiver of proof—Necessity for formal proof.—Where the genuineness of a document relied on by a party was not disputed by the opposite party, and the only question was as to its binding character, the opposite party must be deemed to have tacitly waived its proof by consenting to its admission in the first Court and could not be permitted to question its admissibility for the first time in the appellate Court. VIRARAGHAVA AIYANGAR v. RAMASWAMI AIYANGAR, 10 M.L.J. 242.

(28)—Appeal—Tender of documentary evidence—Rejection.—Where a sale-deed, which the defendant alleged to be a fraudulent document, was withheld in the Court of first instance, although it had been returned unregistered to the plaintiff by the Registration officer during the pendency of the suit, held that the plaintiff was not entitled to tender it in evidence for the first time in the appellate Court. IMRAT KHANUM v. MUHAMMED SARFARAZ KHAN, A.W.N. 1882, 5.

—Appellate Court—Fresh evidence—Remand on ground arising subsequent to lower Court's decree—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 27, 9 M.L.T. 317.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLE, 6 W.R. 64.

—Admission of document in evidence as being duly stamped—Competency of appellate Court to question the admissibility — See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 24, cl. 3, 13 B. 493.

Appellate Court—continued.

——7.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Delivery of judgment out of Court—Error in procedure—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 350.—In a suit for possession of land, the Judge, after hearing the evidence and admitting the documents on both sides, intimated that he should examine the place to satisfy himself with respect to the boundaries. He did make such examination, the defendant attending, but the plaintiff being absent; and he afterwards delivered his judgment in favour of the defendant out of Court. Held that the mere circumstance that the judgment was delivered out of Court did not constitute an error under s. 350, Act VIII of 1859, and was no ground of appeal. NILMONEY SINGH DEO v. BHOBANY CHURN PANDA, Marsh 327=2 Hay 305.

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 45 (=O. II, r. 6, new Code), 578(=s 99)—Attachment of joint family property in execution of decree against one only—Joint suit by others for raising attachment on ground of prior partition—Misjoinder of causes of action.—Where ajoint suit was brought by two persons for a declaration that their shares in property attached in execution were not liable to attachment on the ground of a previous partition between them and the judgment-debtor, and no objection was taken to the frame of the suit, it was held that the suit ought not to have been dismissed, but that the plaintiffs ought to have been allowed to amend the plaint by striking out the name of one of them; and also that, where the Court irregularly proceeded to try the suit as it was framed, and the irregularity did not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, the defect was cured by s. 578, Civ. Pro. Code, BEHARI LAL v. KODU RAM, 15 A 380= A.W.N. 1893, 150. [R., 18 A. 131, 3 O. C. 215. 2 C.L.J. 602.]

(3)—Appellate Court—Errors affecting or not the merits of case—Filing appeal without copy of decree—Cure of irregularity.—The appellant filed an appeal against the judgment of the Court of the first instance without a copy of the decree. Subsequently the decree of the Court of the first instance was filed within the time allowed for appeal and accepted by the Judge. Held that the irregularity was cured and the appeal should not have been dismissed on the ground of such irregularity. LULLEE v. RAM PERSHAD, 2 Agra 34.

(4)—Right to begin—Burden of proof—Irregularity not affecting merits—Powers of Appellate Court—Civ Pro. Code, 1877, s. 578.—If, when the burden of proof in a suit is on the one side, the Court allows the other side to begin, with the result that a case different from that which is set up by that side is proved, and the suit is in consequence decided against that side, it is not competent for the appellate Court to reverse the decision of the original Court; for, the irregularity in procedure is one not affecting the merits of the case; and in any case, the appellate Court could not ignore what had taken place in the lower Court, but must decide the suit in the shape in which it came before it. MAKUND v. BAHOPI LAL, 3 A. 824=A.W.N. 1881, 86. [Appr., 14 B. 206; R., 25 B. 202, 15 C.P.L.R. 24, 25 A, 159, 5 Bom. L. R. 177.]

Appellate Court—continued.

——7.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 578—Appellate Court—Omission to state reasons.—Where the point for decision in a suit was very simple, held that the fact that the first appellate Court adopted the view of the original Court, without stating its reasons, would not amount to such an error of law within the meaning of s. 578, Civ. Pro. Code, as would affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court. ROHIMONI DABI v. ZAMIRUDDIN, 8 C.L R. 597.

(6)—Practice — Judge's liberty to make different case for appellant.—A Judge is not at liberty in appeal to make a different case for the appellant from that which she alleged for herself in the lower Court. KACHUBHAI bin GULABCHAND v. KRISHNABA KOM BABAJI, 2 B. 635.

(7)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 574—Remand of suit by Appellate Court—No objections by either party to findings of lower Court—Duty of Appellate Court to hear appeal.—The Court of first appeal, considering that the issues framed in a suit were useless, framed fresh issues and remanded the suit to the lower Court for findings after taking evidence. On the appeal coming on for final hearing, as neither party filed any memorandum of objections, the Appellate Court dismissed the appeal. Held that the Appellate Court was wrong in holding that it was absolved from hearing the appeal, by the absence of a memorandum of objections. SUBBAYYA v. RAMI REDDI, 22 M. 344. [R., U.B.R. 1905, 3rd Quarter, C.P.C. 574.

(8)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 348—Absence of objection or appeal by defendant against amount awarded to plaintiff—Power of Appellate Court on plaintiff's appeal—Practice.—Where the defendant has not appealed against the amount found by the lower Court to be due from him to the plaintiff, nor has taken objections to such amount in the plaintiff's appeal, it is not competent to the appellate Court to reduce the amount decreed to the plaintiff by the Court of first instance. NYANCHANDRA v. NARAYAN, 4 B. 293.

(9)—Improper procedure—Suit by raiyat for rent.—In a suit by raiyat against a zamindar for rent, the Court of first instance gave the plaintiff a decree for a part of his claim. The plaintiff appealed against the disallowance of the residue. The Judge on appeal reversed the decree and dismissed the suit, although no objection was made by the defendant to the judgment of the Court below, merely saying that a claim for rent by a raiyat against a a zamindar was absurd. On appeal to the High Court, the decree of the Judge was reversed, and the original decree established. HEM CHUNDER v. AHMED REZA, Marsh 332=2 Hay 429.

Appellate Court—continued.

—7.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(10)—Limitation—Appeal presented out of time—Admission—Objection at hearing.—Notwithstanding that an appellate Court might have admitted an appeal beyond the prescribed time, if it be shown to such Court by the opposite party that the appellant had obtained leave for the admission of the appeal by any misrepresentation or suppression of fact, or if he could show that there was no sufficient cause of any sort or kind, or if he showed that the appellate Court had made any mistake in admitting the appeal, though the appellant himself had not been guilty of any fraud, the Court may set aside its own order and direct that the petition of appeal should be removed from the file. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. MUTUSAWMY 4 B L.R. App. 84=13 W.R. 245. (2 B.L R. A.C. 184, Not F.) [R., 6 B. 304, 5 C.L.J. 380=34 C. 216.]

(11)—First Court's finding not appealed against—Interference.—The finding of a Court of first instance not appealed against should not be interfered with in appeal. KALEE DASS ROY v. KHIRODA SOONDUREE DEBIA, 16 W.R. 300.

(12)—Arbitration—Award—Appeal—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 325, 327.—A Civil Court's order rejecting an application to file an arbitration award is not appealable. RAJ KUMAR SINGH v. KALI CHARAN SINGH, 2 B.L.R. App. 20 (b)= 11 W.R. 57.

(13)—Appellate Court differing from Lower Court—Reasons to be given in judgment.- An appellate Court, when differing from the judgment of the lower Court, must give its reasons. LALLAH SOOKLOLL SINGH v. BUNSHEEDHUR, W.R. 1864, 347.

(14)—Non-disclosure of cause of action in plaint—Decree upon merits—Ground for reversal of decree.—The fact that, in a suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of title to property, the plaint did not make it clear that the defendant denied the plaintiff's title, though it might have justified the original Court in rejecting the plaint under s 53 of the Civ. Pro. Code, could not be made the sole ground for the appellate Court reversing the original Court's decree in the plaintiff's favour, where the dispute sufficiently appeared from the proceedings before the lower Court. SHAH AHMED SUJAD v. TAREE RAI, 7 C. 348. [F, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 337, 2 C.L.J. 534.]

(15)—Order in exercise of judicial discretion—Order refusing to admit appeal after time—High Court, powers of.—Where, after a proper enquiry and due consideration of the facts alleged by the appellant, the District Court, in the exercise of its discretion, held that the delay in presenting the appeal was not satisfactorily accounted for, held that such order refusing to admit the appeal was not one which the High Court could reverse on appeal, even if it thinks that it would, under the circumstances, have treated the appellant more leniently. No error of law had been committed by the District Judge; nor had he exercised his discretion capriciously or without sufficient material in law to satisfy himself whether or not there was sufficient cause for the delay. The order was the result of the exercise of a judicial discretion vested in the Judge, and was, therefore, clearly one with which the High Court could not interfere. RANCHODJI v. LALLU, 6 B. 304. [R., 23 B. 513, 3 C. C. 37, 9 L.B.R. 313, 31 B. 33=8 Bom. L.R. 858.]

Appellate Court—continued.

—7.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(16)—Appellant referred to fresh suit—Order accepted by parties—Effect.—Where an appellate Court refers an appellant to a fresh suit, the order, if accepted by the parties, is binding on them. RAJIB SARKHEL v. RAJAH NIL MONEE SINGH DEO, 20 W.R. 440.

(17)—A suit to re-open a pathway was decreed by a Munsil after evidence legally taken; but the Judge reversed this decision in appeal on the information given to him by persons whom he found on the spot in dispute, which he had gone to inspect. Held that the Judge's evidence not having been taken on solemn affirmation was legally worthless. LALLA MEWA LALL v. SREE MAHATO, 23 W.R. 152.

(18)—Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.), ss 52, 54—"Reversed," meaning of.—The word "reversed" in Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, ss. 52 and 54, means reversed in respect of that part of the arrears which is contested in the appellate Court. PATTAREY SIRCAR v. MAHARANEE SURNO MOYEE, 24 W.R. 185.

(19)—Decision on preliminary issue of fact—No appeal against decision—Special appeal—Consent obtained by duress.—The decision of an appellate Court on a preliminary issue of fact, which was not at the time appealed against, and which on a subsequent special appeal was not altered or noticed by the special appellate Court, is conclusive between the parties, and the issue determined cannot be re-opened on a second special appeal. An award of the late Raja of Satara founded upon a deed of consent, set aside, on proof being given that the consent had been obtained by duress. SUBNAJI bin BAHIRJI et al v. BHAVANRAO bin ANANDRO, 1 B H.C. 173.

(20)—Decree of appellate Court—Parties that have not appealed.—An appellate Court is competent under s. 337 of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1859 (=s. 544 of the Code of 1877), to draw up a fair decree even as regards the rights of parties that have not appealed. JOYKISTO COWAR v. NITTYANUND NUNDY, 3 C. 738= 2 C.L.R. 440.

(21)—Act X of 1859, s. 23, suit under—Appeal.—An appeal lies to the Judge from a decision of a Collector in a suit under cl. 1, s. 23, Act X of 1859. RAJOO NAIK v. MOHUNT KHOSALEE RAM DOSS, 1 W.R. 210.

Appellate Court—continued.

——7.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(22)—Where an original suit is brought for a sum exceeding Rs. 5,000, or for property exceeding that value, and the decree is for a less sum, or for property of less value, an appeal according to s. 22, Act VI of 1871, will lie to the High Court. RAMPERSHAD SINGH v. NEERBHOY SINGH, 18 W.R. 261.

—Power of Appellate Court to refer to arbitration—See AWARD, 12 C. 173.

—Refusal by original Court to allow plaintiff to examine defendant as witness—Dismissal of suit—Duty of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1859, ss. 148, 162, 6 M.H.C. 299.

—Order of appellate Court under s. 57 returning plaint—Whether appeal lies—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 107 (2), O. XXII. r. 11, s. 104, O. XLIII. r. 1, s. 106, 25 A. 174, F.B. =A.W.N. 1902, 222.

—Decision of, in analogous cases, duty of inferior Court to await decision of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 11 C.W.N. 112= 8 C.L.J. 43.

—Execution of decree of—Restitution—Mesne profits—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 144 (1), 4 Ind. Cas. 376.

See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, O. VI, r. 17, O. VII, r. 11, s. 107 (2), O. XXII, r. 11, 5 C.W.N. 273.

—Power of, to alter effect of decree for redemption, on appeal from order in execution thereof—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 35, 3 L.B.R. 129.

—Report of Commissioner—Order confirming the report—Appeal—Appellate Court, power of, to deal with findings of fact by the Commissioner—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXVI, rr. 11, 12, 5 C.W.N. 692.

—Power of—to call upon the respondent to furnish security for the due performance of any decree, which may be made on appeal, notwithstanding that the lower Court's decree, has been already executed—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 5, 6, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 3 C.L.J. 67=33 C. 927.

—On dismissal of an appeal under s. 551 of the Code, the decree appealed against becomes merged in the decree of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O XLI, r. 11, s. 114, O. XLVII, r. 1, 4 C.L.J. 566.

—to give reasons for its decision—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 31, 17 B. 428.

—Judgment of, contents of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 31, 1 L.B.R. 204.

See CO-SHARERS—SUIT BY CO SHARERS, 4 A. 289=A.W.N. 1882, 36.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—REVERSIONERS, 8 A. 365=A.W.N. 1886, 129.

—Declaratory suit—Remand—Discretion of Appellate Court—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—WHEN DECLARATORY SUITS LIE, 4 C. 190, P.C.=3 C.L.R. 31=5 I.A. 149.

Appellate Court—continued.

——7.—Miscellaneous—continued.

Construction of decree—Not bound by explanation of Judge—See DECREE—DECREE, CONSTRUCTION OF, 1 B. 158.

—Suit for pre-emption—Deposit of purchase-money—Powers of—See DECREE—DECREE, FORM OF, 2 A. 744.

—Decision of, whether can be based on suggestion by a pleader as to a matter of fact—See EVIDENCE — MISCELLANEOUS, 11 C.W.N. 130, P.C.=1 M.L.T. 429=29 A. 29=9 Bom. L.R. 80=17 M.L.J. 32=5 C.L.J. 4.

—Execution of decree—Decree confirmed by appellate Court—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, A.W.N. 1882, 126.

—Power of—to stay proceedings in pursuance of an order appealed against—See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT, 1890, ss. 4, 7, 12, 47, cl, (a), 3 C.L.J. 29.

—Power of—to vary decree in accordance with subsequent occurrences—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 6 B. 113.

—Issue not raised by parties before lower Court—Power of, to try issue—Practice—See ISSUES—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1885, 126.

See ISSUES—ADDITIONAL ISSUES, 11 W. R. 61.

—Appellate Court, findings of, not conclusive when unaccompanied by reasons—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 9 B. 527.

—Defective judgment of Lower Appellate Court—Remand by High Court—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 10 C. 932.

—Judgment of first—not satisfying provisions as to first appeals—Validity—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 9 A. 26.

—Remand for finding—Duty of—to examine it in the absence of memo of objections—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 20 M. 496.

—Appellate Court—Reasons for judgment—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 1 B. L.R.S.N. 2 (c).

—Judgment of appellate Court—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 22 M, 12= 8 M.L.J. 183.

—Duty of—See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 4 M.H.C. App., 56.

See JUDGMENT—FORM AND CONTENTS, 1 C.W.N. 691.

—Powers of—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 22, 2 A. 487.

—Meaning of—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—PERIOD FROM WHICH LIMITATION BEGINS TO RUN, 9 C. 100.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM, 8 B. 408.

Appellate Court—concluded.

—7—Miscellaneous—concluded.

—Suit for increase of maintenance by member of Malabar tarwad—Necessary parties—Joinder by appellate Court—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 7 M. 428.

—Case made in plaint—Relief on a different title—Duty of—See PLAINT—AMENDMENT OF PLAINT, 8 C. 871.

—Under-valuation of relief claimed in plaint—Rejection of plaint by—See PLAINT—REJECTION OF PLAINT, A.W.N, 1885, 294.

—Documents received without objection by lower Court—Right of—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 6 C. 666=7 C.L.R. 497.

—Suit for pre-emption—Appeal by purchaser for enhancement of purchase-money—Duty of—to extend time for payment of purchase-money when confirming decree of first Court—See PRE-EMPTION—PURCHASE MONEY, 48 P.R. 1906. F.B.=104 P.L.R. 1906.

Appellate Decree.

See APPEAL.

See APPELLATE COURT.

—Dismissal of appeal—Presumption as to, incorporating terms of original decree—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869, s. 52, 13 C.W.N. 1060=4 Ind. Cas. 12.

—in favour of respondents, whether enures for the benefit of respondent who did not appeal—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 2 (h), (e), (d), 5 Ind. Cas. 102=7 M.L.T. 296.

Appellate Orders.

See CIV. PRO. CODE. 1908, O. XXI, rr. 97, 99, 21 B. 392.

Application.

(1)—Interpretation put on the word "application" as used in Civ. Pro. Code, and Limitation Act not depending on Succession Certificate Act.—Both the Civ. Pro. Code and the Limitation Act having been passed long before the Succession Certificate Act, whatever interpretation may be put on the word "application," as used in the Civ. Pro. Code, and the Limitation Act, it could in no way depend upon the Succession Certificate Act. HAFIZUDDIN CHOWDHRY v. ABDOOL AZIZ, 20 C. 755.

(2)—Suits, applications, and appeals, distinction between limitation—Jurisdiction.—The distinction taken for the purposes of limitation between suits, appeals and application by the Limitation Acts, has no bearing upon a question of jurisdiction. BALAJI v. RANCHODDAS, 5 B. 680.

(3)—Limitation Act—Appeal.—The Limitation Act draws a clear distinction between what are styled "application" and what are styled "appeals." LAKSHMI v. ANANTA SHANBAGA, 2 M. 230.

—Application as further appeal—Grounds of admissibility—See APPEAL—GROUNDS OF APPEAL, 136 P.R. 1908, Note.

Application—concluded.

—Right of party to present application in person where there is an attorney—See BELCHAMBER'S RULES AND ORDERS, r. 329, 1 C.W.N. 303.

—to sue as pauper—Power of High Court in revision—Order under s. 409 on—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 2 L.B R. 333.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908 s. 14, 1 A. 97.

—Order striking off an application, and one dismissing it for default, no substantial distinction between—See MESNE PROFITS—SUITS FOR MESNE PROFITS AND ASSESSMENT IN EXECUTION, 12 C.W.N. 3=7 C.L.J. 301.

Appointed Heir.

—Right of sons of—to succeed to adoptive grandfather—See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB (ADOPTION), 124 P.L.R. 1906=51 P.R. 1906.

Appointment.

(1)—Power of—Will—Creation by will.—A general power of appointment may be exercised by will executed previously to the creation of the power and that too by mere residuary gift. DINSHAW v. DINSHAW, 9 Bom. L.R. 488=31 B. 472.

(2)—Appointment of Munsiff's officers—Appeal to Judge.—All officers of a Munsif's Court are appointed by him subject to the Judge's approval; and if any person is aggrieved by the Munsif's order the Judge should hear the party and decide whether the Munsif has rightly exercised his discretion in his appointment. In the matter of GOOROO DOSS BHUTTACHARJEE, 11 W.R. 158.

—Power of appointment given to testatrix by will of her husband if "property" within the meaning of—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. I, Item II, 25 M. 515.

—Deed of, construction of—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 9 Bom. L. R. 1071.

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 17 B. 600.

—Power of appointment—Validity—Rule of construction—English Law—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 16 B. 492.

See HINDU LAW—WILL, 15 B. 326, 19 B. 647.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882 s. 53, 22 C. 185.

—Will—Testator's direction—Power of—Execution of—See WILL—CONSTRUCTION OF, 4 C. 514.

—Power of—See WILL—CONSTRUCTION OF, 18 B. 1.

Apportionment.

(1)—of rent—Basis—Present assets of different portions of tenure—Landlord and tenant.—An apportionment of rent should be on the basis of the present assets of the different portions of the tenure which passed into different hands, and not on the basis of the assets of the different villages at the time of creation of the original tenure. HARI KISHUN BHAGAT v. TILUKDHARI LAL, 7 C.W.N. 453.

Apportionment—concluded.

—Apportionment of compensation money between zemindar and partnidar—See ACT X OF 1870, 7 C. 585=9 C.L.R. 227.

—Amount of compensation under the Land Acquisition Act—, between zemindar and patnidar—Principle—See ACT X OF 1870, 14 C. 749.

—of compensation between landlord and tenant—See ACT X OF 1870, 17 C. 144.

See ACT X OF 1870, part of IV, ss. 15. 59, 16 B. 525.

—Separate suits by landlords, after partiton for—of consolidated rents, arrear and future, etc.—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885. s. 188, 27 C. 479=4 C.W.N. 494.

—Principle of—Of mesne profits and interest thereon, where decree for mesne profits was satisfied by some, out of the entire body of persons liable, by payments made from time to time—See MESNE PROFITS—GENERAL. 7 C.L.J. 454, P.C.=35 C. 303=35 I.A. 32.

See MESNE PROFITS—RIGHT TO MESNE PROFITS, 9 C.L.R. 1.

See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 1 L.B.R. 210.

—Mortgage—Division among mortgagors and apportionment of mortgage debt—Acquiescence by mortgage—Effect—Liability of mortgagors—See MORTGAGE — ACCOUNTS BETWEEN MOTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE, 15 B. 257.

—between all the properties mortgaged—See MORTGAGE—MARSHALLING, 9 C. 406=11 C. L.R. 565.

—Mortgage decree—Several parcels of mortgaged property—of debt—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 4 C.L.R. 294.

—Government-revenue, doctrine of contribution and—See SALE—SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE OR CESS—PURCHASERS, RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF, 6 C. 389=7 C.L.R. 456.

—of rent—Transfer of lessor's interest by operation of law—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 2 (d), 36, 33 C. 786.

—Mortgage-debt—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 85, 30 C. 755=7 C.W.N. 723.

Appropriation of Payments.

(1)—Sale or mortgage of goods not in existence — Charge—Lien—Appropriation—Gooas consigned to vendee—Attachment by consignor's decree-holder in the course of transit—Plaintiffs advanced money to defendant No. 1 under the agreement that he would cut and send timber to the plaintiffs, who would sell and appropriate the sale-proceeds towards the discharge of a debt owing by defendant No. 1. In pursuance of the said agreement defendant No 1 despatched some logs to plaintiffs, and while these were in the course of transit, defendant No. 2 attached them in execution of a decree against defendant No. 1 and they were purchased by defendant No. 3: Held, that the plaintiffs acquired a right to the timber as soon as it was cut, and the timber being specifically appropriated for the satisfaction of plaintiff's debt, they had a valid charge created on it. This charge is unlike the sort of lien mentioned in the Contract Act, which an unpaid vendor, a bailee, a factor, a banker, an agent, a pawnee or finder of goods, has on the goods in his possession. The question whether there has been appropriation of goods by their owner for the benefit of a particular creditor is one of fact, and the law does not require any particular mode or form of appropriation. If there has been a specific appropriation, the consignor, if he is still in possession of the goods, will hold them merely as trustee for the consignee. A contract to sell or mortgage goods, answering a particular description, which are to come into existence in the future, passes property in such goods when they actually come into existence. MARADUGULA VENKATA RATNAM v. KOTTAYA RAMANNA, 9 Ind. Cas. 255=9 M.L.T.276=21 M.L.J. 413. (21 B. 287, 11 W.R. 171, 16 M. 429, 31 C. 667, R.)

Appropriation of Payments—continued.

(2)—Unappropriated payment, application of —Earliest debt.—An unappropriated payment should be applied to the earliest debt although such debt is barred by limitation. S. MOONEAPPAH v. V. VENCATARAYADOO. 6 M.H.C. 32.

(3)—Rule.—Payments unapplied by either the debtor or the creditor should be appropriated to the earlier items making up the debt due. This rule is not impaired by the decisions in the cases of Mills v. Fowkes, 5 Bing. N.C. 455, and Nash v. Hodson, 6 De G.M. & G. 474; 25 L.J. Ch. 186. HIRADA KARIBASAPPAH v. GADIGI MUDDAPPA, 6 M.H.C. 197.

(4)—General payment of rent, how appropriated.—Where a tenant makes a general payment of rent in one year without saying to which the money is to be applied, the money may be applied to satisfy the previous years' arrears if any. MR. ROBERT AHMUTY v. MR. K. BRODIE, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 14.

(5)—Payment of rent—Presumption in respect of.—Payment for rent cannot be credited to arrears of previous years beyond the term of limitation. Payments for rent are presumed to be for current years and surplus payments for past year. TARA MONEE DOSSEE v. KALLY CHURN SURMA, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 14.

(6)—Though one person may be the representative of two idols, money brought into Court as the property of one idol cannot be applied by the representative of that idol to pay the debts of the representative of the other. MOONSHEE MAHOMED AKBAR alias TENOO MOONSHEE v. KALEE CHURN GEEREE GOSSAMEE MOHUNT, 25 W.R. 401.

Appropriation of Payments—continued.

(7)—Creditor and debtor—Payments appropriated towards interest—Absence of evidence of appropriation by creditor at the time—Creditor's right.—Even in the absence of evidence that any appropriation was made by the creditor at the times when the various sums were paid by the debtor, the creditor can be allowed to make out his account on the basis that, when each sum was paid, portion of it was appropriated towards the interest then due. YARANASI SEETHAMMA v. SREESHTALURVIJIARAGHAVA CHARYULU, 7 M.L.T 199 = 5 Ind. Cas. 940. (8 B.L.R. 110, F.)

(8) —Contract Act, 1872, ss. 59, 60, 61—Circumstances indicating appropriation to a particular debt.—Certain persons engaged in the manufacture of indigo, and requiring money for such manufacture, hypothecated to A and B an Indigo factory and its appurtenances together with the Indigo crop of the following season, and the deed provided that the mortgage-money should be paid on demand with certain interest, and that all payments made by the mortgagors should go first towards satisfaction of the interest, and the balance credited to principal. The mortgage transaction was throughout conducted by A alone, but both mortgagees contributed half the amount advanced. It was agreed that the proceeds of the crop hypothecated should be sent to A, and transmitted by him as agent for the mortgagors to Calcutta for sale in the market; and it appeard that at the time of the advance one main object of A was to make it certain that the indigo should be transmitted to Calcutta through him, and that the deed was executed for the purpose of preventing the mortgagors from disposing of the crop in any other way. The indigo was accordingly sent to Calcutta through A, and its price was from time to time sent to and received by him from the broker. Between the dates of the mortgage and the first of such receipts, A made, on his own account, further advances to the mortgagors; and the arrangement was that as against these advances the cash received by him was to be applied. In a suit by A and B to enforce the mortgage, the defendants having pleaded payment: Held that A's receipt and payment to himself of the moneys received by him as the price of the indigo must be regarded as payments by the mortgagors to him on account both of the mortgage-debt and of the subsequent advances; and that his power to appropriate such payments to either the former or the latter debt was not affected by the circumstance that he had associated B with him in advancing the mortgage-money, or that he alone had acted as the mortgagor's agent in receiving the price of the indigo. Held, that the terms of the mortgage-deed and the circumstances in which it was executed, the relations of the parties, the fact that the very thing which was to be handed over to A was to be given as part security for the debt, the mode in which the indigo was consigned to him for transmission to Calcutta, and the fact that at the time when its price was realised it had passed away into the hands of purchasers, and that A could not have supposed that he had any charge or lien upon it in their hands, constituted circumstances within the meaning of s. 60 of the Contract Act, 1872, indicating that the payments where to be applied to the mortgage-debt; and the option of appropriation therefore did not open up to the mortgagees as it might otherwise have done. BANSIDHAR v. AKHAY RAM, A W.N. 1890, 62. (5 A. 27, 10 A. 133, R.)

Appropriation of Payments—continued.

(9)—Rents paid by tenant without any specification—Credit by landlord.—Moneys paid by a tenant as rent without any specification may be credited by the landlord as he thinks fit. RANEE SHURNO MOYEE v. KASHEE KANT BHUTTACHARJEE, 7 W.R. 511.

(10) Law before Act IX of 1872.—A creditor entitled to appropriate payments made by a debtor to any account which he might have against him unless the debtor at the time of payment stipulated that the payment should be credited to a particular account in which case the creditor would not be entitled to disregard the request. GOPAL DAS v. WURYAM SINGH, 101 P.R. 1867.

(11) Current account—No election as to appropriation of payment—Court empowered to appropriate it to time-barred items.—Held that in the case of current accounts, if no election as to the appropriation of a payment is made by either debtor or creditor, the Court can appropriate the payment to the discharge of the first item on the debit side though that item is time-barred. NOUBUT v. KHUBEE, 27 P.R. 1872.

(12)—Current accounts—Money paid by debtor to creditor without any stipulation—Creditor entitled to credit it to barred items.—Held, that money paid to a creditor in a case of current account without any specific appropriation by the debtor might be appropriated as the creditor thought fit and the creditor might apply in payment of items barred by limitation. If the amount paid was only sufficient for part-payment of a debt or item, the rest of the debt was not revived without the assent of the debtor. GYAN CHAND v. KURM BHAGGUN, 78 P.R. 1870.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 59, 2 Bom. L.R. 706.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 59, 611 Ind. Cas. 909.

—by creditor to one or other of debts—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 60, 26 C. 39, P.C. = 25 I.A. 179 = 2 C.W.N. 633.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 60, 13 C. 164.

See CREDITOR, 4 M.L.T. 326.

—Payment of half notes—Effect—See CURRENCY NOTES, 5 Ind. Cas. 202 = 33 M. 196 = 8 M.L.T. 316.

—Effect of sending half notes—See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR 5 M.L.T. 32 = 19 M.L.J. 233 = 2 Ind. Cas. 611.

Appropriation of Payments—concluded.

See GUARANTEE, 4 C. 560 = 3 C.L.R. 361.

—Suit by olient for return of money deposited with advocate—Plea of appropriation for advance fees—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ADVOCATE, 32 P.R. 1897.

—Payment of money by debtor—Appropriation of payment for interest—Discretion of creditor—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 20, A.W.N. 1881, 119.

—Towards interest—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 20, 6 A.L.J. 207 = 31 A. 285 = 1 Ind. Cas. 137.

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY—SURETY, RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF, 1 Agra 17.

—to specified arrears—Amount if may be credited towards previous arrears—See SALE—SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT—GENERAL, 15 C.W.N. 443.

Approver.

—Suit against—Evidence at criminal trial if admissible—Sessions Court's finding, if binds Civil Court—Civil suit, if barred—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANOUS, 13 C.W.N. 501 = 4 Ind. Cas. 523.

Arbitration.

1.—GENERAL.
2.—APPOINTMENT OF ARBITRATORS.
3.—DUTIES OF ARBITRATORS.
4.—POWERS OF ARBITRATORS.
5.—PRIVATE ARBITRATION.
6.—REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION.
7.—REVOCATION OF REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION.
8.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See APPEAL—ARBITRATION.

See AWARD.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, sch. II.

See RIGHT OF SUIT — AWARDS, SUITS RELATING TO.

——1.—General.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 506 and 510 Arbitration.—Held, that when parties apply orally to the Judge to refer the suit to arbitration, and the Judge reduces their application to writing, and then makes a reference to arbitration, it is not open to him, having regard to the provisions of s. 510 of the Civ. Pro. Code, to supersede that reference, the arbitrator having declined to act. Held, further, that the second paragraph of s. 506 is directory only. ABDUL HAMID v. RIYAZ-UD-DIN, 4 A.L.J. 691 = A.W.N. 1907, 273 = 30 A. 32. (6 M.I.A. 134, D.; 27 C. 61, 23 B. 699, R.)

(2)—Withdrawl of suit—Change of circumstances pendente lite—Arbitration.—Where, by the death of a party or some other change of circumstances pendente lite, the plaintiff may be enabled to claim a larger or different relief, permission under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, may be granted; but it cannot be granted where arbitration-proceedings have intervened, and the defendant has acquired a right, in virtue of the award passed therein, to have the suit finally determined. KALIAN SINGH v. LEKHRAJ SINGH, 6A. 211 = A.W.N. 1884, 28. [R., 9 A. 253.]

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(3)—Arbitration—Misconduct of arbitrator—Omission to take evidence and to give party an opportunity of proving his case—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 521.—The word "misconduct" as used in s. 521 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is not confined to misconduct of a fraudulent, or improper character, but it includes action on the part of an arbitrator which is, upon the face of it, opposed to all rational principles which should govern the procedure of a person to whom matters in dispute have been referred for decision. Where an arbitrator has taken no evidence upon such matters, and has not allowed a party an opportunity of proving his contention, he is guilty of "misconduct" within the meaning of the section, and the Court, upon objection being made, should consider whether there has been any real arbitration-proceeding, and whether the arbitrator has arrived at his conclusions upon legal and proper materials. Where the lower Court had failed so to consider such an objection, the High Court in the exercise of its revisional powers under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code, set aside the decree affirming the award, and the award itself, and directed the case to be restored to the lower Court's file for determination. DEOKI NANDAN v. RAJ KUMAR, A.W.N. 1889, 124.

(4)—Arbitration—Extension of time to an arbitrator to make and file an award—Delegation of power by Court to arbitrator to extend time—Award, validity of—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), sch. II, rr. 3 (1), 8.—When a case is referred to arbitration, the Court should itself fix a date for making the award, and where the award is not completed within the time fixed, the Court itself should, in extending the time, fix a particular date for the making of the award, and not leave it to the discretion of the arbitrator to enlarge the time for himself. Time can only be extended until the award has not been made and filed; no extension can be allowed in a case where the award has been made and filed beyond time. Where an award has not been properly made and filed according to law, it is a nullity and the decree passed on the basis thereof should be set aside. GUR DAS v. GARUL DHUJ, 9 Ind. Cas. 241.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 508—Arbitration—Order of reference not fixing a period within which the award is to be made—Appeal.—Where an order of reference to arbitration made by a Court omits to fix a date for the delivery of the award, such omission is not a mere irregularity, but is a defect fatal to the order and to all subsequent proceedings founded thereon. LUCHMAN DAS v. ABPARKASH, A.W.N. 1908, 59=5 A.L.J. 144=30 A. 169. (8 A. 548, F.; 18 I.A. 55=13 A. 300, R.)

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(6)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 520, and 521—Enforcement of award of compensation in a seduction case—Courts have only to look to the provisions of s. 520 and s. 521 Civ. Pro. Code.—There is no authority for the view that arbitrators can take cognizance only of claims in respect of which the Regular Courts will give relief. In deciding whether an award should be enforced or not, the Courts have only to look to the provisions of ss. 520, 521, Civ. Pro. Code and determine whether any of the grounds mentioned or referred to in those sections is shown against the award. The fact that the applicant could not have sued the respondent for damages cannot be regarded as "an objection to the legality of the award." The Buddhist Dhammathats provide for the payment of compensation for seduction, and though such cases are not now decided according to Buddhist Law, compensation for seduction is still frequently paid by private arrangement between the parties or their families, and there is nothing immoral in such an arrangement. According to English Law, the consideration of past co-habitation and previous seduction does not make a bond void. Such consideration is not held good so as to support a promise not under seal, but it is not illegal. MI HLA WAING v. NGA KAN. U.B.R. 1908, 2nd Quarter, Civ. Pro. p. 19.

(7)—Arbitration out of Court—Filing of award—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), sch. XI, s. 20—Arbitrator, duty of—Misconduct of arbitrator—Award based partly on private enquiries, if valid—Award, a final decision.—In arbitration proceedings, both sides must be heard, and each in the presence of the other. However immaterial the arbitrator may deem a point, he should be very careful not to examine a party or a witness upon it except in the presence of the opponent. If he errs in this respect, he exposes himself to the gravest censure, and the smallest irregularity is often fatal to the award. Where the award recites on the face of it that the arbitrator held, partly on evidence taken before him, and partly on private enquiry, that the will executed by a certain person was genuine: Held, that it was not competent for him to do so and the award was vitiated. An arbitrator must be careful to see that his award is a final decision on all matters requiring his determination. The obligation so to decide depends upon the question whether the submission requires that all or only some of the matters in dispute are to be determined by him. The position is different where the arbitrator is empowered to make one or more awards at his discretion. Where the award leaves undecided one of the cardinal points in controversy, the award is incomplete and cannot be sustained. GANES NARAIN SINGH v. MALIDA KOER, 13 C.L.J. 399.

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(8)—Arbitration—Award—Question arising between two firms—Enquiry as to matters outside jurisdiction—Not affecting validity of award—Such enquiry when necessary and proper—Its scope—Firm—What it means—S. 239, Contract Act, 1872—Whether affected by O. XXX, Civ. Pro. Code 1908—Guarantee broker paying claim in full—Award in respect of claim so paid, valid—Accountability as between guarantee broker and person paid—Guarantee broker also partner—Effect—Disputes under several contracts—Single submission and one award—Validity—Civ. Pro. Code, provisions of—Not strictly applicable to arbitration proceedings—Questions affecting arbitrator's jurisdiction—Not final.—The mere fact that arbitrators had taken evidence, which proved to cover matters outside their jurisdiction, would not necessarily invalidate the award or make their proceedings improper, if the award itself is within their jurisdiction. Where the arbitrators have to decide between two firms, they must perforce enquire who the partners are, to discover whether they have jurisdiction, whom they must serve with notices of meetings, and the scope of their enquiries. They may have even to take evidence outside the jurisdiction of the subject which they have to decide. It is because a firm is merely a collection of the individuals having implied powers of agency, one for the other, that a submission to arbitration in the firm's name does not necessarily bind the partners. S. 239, Contract Act, makes it clear that a partnership is a collection of individuals "called" collectively a "firm." A firm has no existence as legal-entity—as a corporation. The provisions of O. XXX, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, do not alter the legal condition of a partnership. The firm's name is merely a legal devise for collectively connoting the individuals composing it. Where G & Co., received in full the amount owing to them by B & Co., from the guarantee brokers, and after such receipt obtained in award against B & Co., held that such receipt would not invalidate the award, as G & Co. would have to account to the brokers for anything which they received from B & Co. The fact that the guarantee broker is also a member of the firm B & Co., will not alter the application of the rule. The decision of the arbitrators on a question of their own jurisdiction is not final and can be raised in the objections raised to the filing of the award One submission of disputes under several contracts and a single award are not invalid. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be applied strictly to proceedings in arbitration. Where the question whether, as between the various partners in the firms, any agreement existed by which the liability of each was limited, is one going to the root of the jurisdiction of the arbitrators, the Court must independently consider the question apart from the decision of the arbitrators which does not bind the Court. MESSRS. D. GRAHAM & CO. v. KEWALRAM, 4 S.L.R. 196=9 Ind. Cas. 712.

Arbitration*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(9)—Arbitration—Suit part-heard—Agreement of parties to be bound by Court's decision after local inspection—Judgment of Court—Nature—Award—No review—No appeal—No second appeal—Power of High Court to revise—S. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=s. 115, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908).—Where, in a part-heard suit before a Munsif, both the parties agreed to be bound by any decision of the Court which it may arrive at after an inspection of the locality in dispute, and also agreed not to raise any objection to the same or to prefer an appeal, and where the Court, after making a local inspection, gave a certain judgment: Held, that the Munsif's judgment was in the nature of an award, and that it was not open to the Munsif to alter that award when made or to review his decision. (9 C. 575, R.) Held, also, that no appeal lay to the District Judge and that the District Judge acted without jurisdiction when he entertained the appeal and made an order of remand. (23 B. 752, F.) Held, also, that no second appeal lay to the High Court but that the High Court was competent to interfere suo motu under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=s. 115, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908). BAIKANTHA NATH GOSWAMI v. SITA NATH GOSWAMI, 38 C. 421.

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 521—Arbitrator receiving evidence from one party in the absence of the other—Judicial misconduct—Setting aside award—Appeal—Appellate Court's power to go behind first Court's order setting aside award.—A Court is perfectly justified in setting aside the award of the arbitrators, on the ground that the latter had been guilty of judicial misconduct in having taken the evidence of one party in the absence of the other which was wholly unavoidable, and in having omitted to give the latter sufficient opportunity to produce his own evidence. Quære:—Whether an Appellate Court had power to go behind the order of the first Court, setting aside such an award. SOBA RAM v. RAM DAS, 66 P.R. 1907=159 P.L.R. 1908. (2 A. 181, 3 A. 636, 28 A. 408, 22 M. 202, 8 C.W.N. 390, R.)

(11)—Appeal—Award, application to file, order refusing—Civ. Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), s. 525.—An appeal lies against an order refusing to grant an application to file an award under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code. SHEO SAHAI MAHTON v. KIRTARTH BHAGAT, 7 C.L.J. 486. (29 C. 167, R.; 3 C.L.J. 450=33 C. 757, F.; 6 A. 186, 26 A. 205, Not F.)

(12)—Ch. XXXVII, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, discussed—S. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, decree under—Appeal—Finality of award—Application under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Art. 158, Limitation Act, 1877—Powers of arbitrators.—Ch. XXXVII, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, deals with arbitration under 3 heads:—

Arbitration*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(I) Where the parties to a litigation desire to refer to arbitration any matter in difference between them in the suit. In that case all proceedings from first to last are under the supervision of the Court. (II) Where parties without having recourse to litigation agree to refer their differences to arbitration and it is desired that the agreement of reference should have the sanction of the Court. In that case all further proceedings are under supervision of the Court. (III) Where the agreement of reference is made and the arbitration itself takes place without the intervention of the Court, and the assistance of the Court is only sought to give effect to the award. There is one great difference which must be kept in view, re reference to arbitration between cases (I), and cases (II) or (III). In cases falling under (I), the agreement to refer and the application to the Court founded on it must have the concurrence of all parties concerned and the actual reference is the order of the Court, so that no question can arise as to the regularity of the proceedings up to that point. In cases failing under (II) and (III), proceedings described as a suit and registered as such must be taken in order to bring the matter—the agreement to refer or the award as the case may be—under the cognizance of the Court: that is or may be a litigious proceeding—cause may be shown against the application—and it would seem that the order made thereon is a decree within the meaning of that expression as defined in Civ. Pro. Code. [F., 27 M. 255=14 M.L.J. 356, 33 C. 11, 29 M. 303, 9 Bom. L.R. 259; Expl., 1 S.L.R. 149; R., 30 C. 218, 7 C.W.N. 180, 9 O.C. 205, 4 L.B.R. 130, A.W.N. 1907, 177, 1 S.L.R. 86, 12 O.C. 40; R. and D., 26 A. 205, 2 C.L.J. 80.] No appeal lies from a decree upon an award pronounced under s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, except in so far as the decree may be in excess of, or not in accordance with the award. The principle of finality which finds expression in this section is in accordance with modern decisions, and now-a-days, no Court will sit as a Court of Appeal on awards in respect of matters of fact or in respect of matters of law. (Adams v. Great North of Scotland Railway Co., (1891) L.R.A.C. 31, F.) [F., 27 M. 255=14 M.L.J. 356, 33 C. 11, 29 M. 303, 9 Bom. L. R. 259, 2 C.L.J. 142, 8 C.W.N. 916, 33 C. 899, 29 A. 457=A.W.N. 1907, 117=4 A.L.J. 455; R., 9 O.C. 205, 4 L.B.R. 130, A.W.N. 1907, 177; 1 S.L.R. 86, 26 A. 205, 2 C.L.J. 80, 32 M. 510=19 M.L.J. 480=6 M.L.T. 176=4 Ind. Cas. 871, 2 C.L.J. 61, 27 B. 287, 8 C.W.N. 390, 29 B. 285=6 Bom.L.R. 1132, 10 C.W.N. 601=2 C.L.J. 153, 33 C. 498, 33 C. 757=10 C.W.N. 609=3 C.L.J. 450, 7 C.L.J. 486, 31 M. 479=4 M.L.T. 328=18 M.L.J. 485, 11 O.C. 116, 12 O.C. 40; Cons., 11 C.W.N. 220; Expl., 1 S.L.R. 149, 28 A. 21=2 A.L.J. 450=A.W.N. 1905, 165; Diss., 26 A. 205.] Where a decree is passed by a Court in accordance with an award, an application by the unsuccessful party to the High Court (here, the Chief Court of the Punjab) under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, is virtually an application to set aside an award, and as such is incompetent. Such an application is more objectionable than an appeal. Art 158, Act XV of 1877, governs such an application. [F., 4 A.L.J. 105; Not F., A.W.N. 1903, 4. 1 S.L.R. 86.] Arbitrators are not bound to give an award on each point referred to them. They have to give the award on the whole case. They may be Judges of law as well as Judges of facts and an error in law does not vitiate an award. GHULAM KHAN v. MUHAMMAD HASSAN, 29 C. 167, P.C.=6 C. W.N. 226=29 I.A. 51=12 M.L.J. 77=4 Bom. L.R. 161=8 Sar. 154.

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 525 and 526—Destruction of award after presentation in Court—Whether ground for refusing to file award—Whether parties can be referred to regular suit.—An application was made to file an award, under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code. The Court declined to file it on the ground that the records of the case containing the award were destroyed by fire. Held, that, since the award had already become part of the record of the Court, the Court could not refuse to file it under s. 526, Civ. Pro. Code, and refer the parties to a regular suit. (12 M. 331, D.) The mere fact of the destruction of the records of the case does not necessarily show that the investigation will be either long or difficult. LEKHRAJ KHUBCHAND v. KHUBCHAND MANGHIR MAL 1 S.L.R. 167. (7 Bom. L.R. 644, R.)

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 523—Order refusing to file agreement to refer to arbitration—Appeal.—Held, that an appeal lies against an order refusing to file an agreement to refer to arbitration. KHALKA BAKSH SINGH v. SUAMBAR SINGH, 11 O.C. 116. (5 A. 333, 26 A. 205, 29 C. 167, 9 O.C. 205, R.)

(15)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 526—Order refusing to file award—Appeal.—An appeal lies against an order refusing to file an award under s. 526 of the Code, inasmuch as it is a decree. MAUNG NGE v. RANGANATHAM CHETTY, 4 L.B.R 180. (25 C. 757, 33 C. 757, 27 M. 255, F.; 28 A. 21, Diss.; 29 C. 167, 18 C. 414, R.)

(16)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 521, 591, 32—Arbitration—Award—Award set aside upon ground not contemplated by s. 521—Appeal.—In a suit pending in the Court of a Munsiff, the matter in dispute between the original parties was referred to arbitration. To this arbitration a third person who had been brought upon the record as a defendant under s. 32 of the Code of Civil Procedure was not a party. An award was made dismissing the plaintiff's claim, but on an objection being preferred to the effect that all the parties to the suit were not parties to the arbitration, the Munsiff set aside the award, proceeded with the suit, and on the merits granted the plaintiff a decree. An appeal against this decree by the defendant was dismissed. Both Courts found that the defendant who had been added under s. 32 had no interest in the subject-matter of the suit. The plaintiff appealed, on the ground, inter alia that "the Courts below had no jurisdiction to set aside the award so far as the parties to this appeal are concerned." Held that an appeal lay, and was not barred. RAMIAWAN v. NAWAL SINGH, A.W.N. 1908, 242=5 A.L.J. 644=4 M.L.T. 400. (18 A. 19, 22 A. 366, D.; 22 M. 202, 18 M.L.J. 228, R.)

(17)—Award, jurisdiction of Court to file—Depends on value of entire matter submitted—Omission to give notice to parties or acceptance of a fee by the arbitrators cannot invalidate the award.—The proper Court for presentation of an application for filing an award is to be determined by its pecuniary jurisdiction with respect to the entire matter to which the arbitration related and not to the amount allowed under the award. (31 C. 203, R.) An award does not become invalid by the mere omission to give notice of the arbitrators' meeting to a party, who had previously informed the arbitrators of his cancellation of his muchilika for, and his withdrawal from, submission to arbitration, nor is an award rendered illegal by reason of the acceptance, by the arbitrators, of the offer of a fee for their services, such acceptance not involving any misconduct on their part. SUBRAYA PRABHU v. MANJUNATH BHAKTA, 29 M. 44.

(18)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 523—Agreement in writing to refer difference to arbitration—Award, objection to filing of—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 158—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal to District Judge—Jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 510—Arbitrators, appointment of by Court—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 510—Arbitrators, number of.—The parties entered into an agreement in writing that certain differences between them should be referred to the arbitration of five persons named in the agreement. The agreement was filed in Court under s. 523 of the Civ. Pro. Code. Before the Court's order was passed, three of the arbitrators resigned and three other persons were substituted for them by the Court on the application of the parties. On the day fixed for the filing of the award, an arbitrator named by the defendant did not appear. The Court struck out the name of one of the arbitrators nominated by the plaintiff. The remaining arbitrators made an award, in accordance with which the Court passed a decree, disallowing the defendant's objections on the ground that they were not filed within ten days from the date of the filing of the award. The defendant appealed to the District Judge. Held, that the defendant was not precluded from appealing to the District Judge from the first Court's decree, because he had not applied to set aside the award within the ten days allowed by art. 158, sch. II of the Indian Limitation Act. The agreement, referred to in s. 523 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is an agreement in writing that any differences between the parties shall be referred to the arbitration of the persons named in the agreement or to be appointed by the Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which the agreement relates. In this case there being no clause that the difference should be referred to the arbitration of any persons to be appointed by the Court, the Court, under s. 524 of the Civ. Pro. Code, had no jurisdiction whatever to appoint fresh arbitrators, nor, under s. 570 of the Code, could it reduce the number of the arbitrators fixed by the agreement. Held, further, that, where a decree has been made upon a judgment given upon an award and which is not in excess of and is in accordance with the award, an appeal from such decree will lie on the ground that the so-called award upon which the judgment and decree are based, is, from one cause or another, no award in law; held, therefore, that an appeal lay to the District Judge from the decree, which was not in excess of the award. SHEOPAL KUAR v. BHAYATARA BAKHSH SINGH, O.C. 355.

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(19)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 510—Arbitration—Refusal of umpire to act—Power of Court to appoint a fresh umpire. Held, that s. 510 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not apply only to cases where a person has signified his assent to take upon himself the duties of an arbitrator or umpire and, after so signifying his assent, dies, or refuses or becomes incapable to act. FAYAZ UD-DIN v. AMIN-UD-DIN, A.W.N. 1908, 159=6 A.L.J. 351. (18 C. 324, Diss.)

(20)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 520—Award by arbitrators in excess of their authority—"Such other and further relief," meaning of.—Plaintiffs sued for a declaration that the alienee of a Hindu widow got no more than the life-interest of the widow, and that the alienation was invalid and inoperative except for her lifetime. They also added a prayer for "such other relief as the Court deemed fit." The matter "in dispute in the case" was referred to arbitration. The arbitration passed the following award, "we direct that defendant No. 1 do pay Rs. 1,500 to the plaintiffs, and that the sale for which the suit is brought be declared valid, binding and absolute." Held that the arbitrators had exceeded their jurisdiction, and that the words "such other and further relief," though wide, cannot be held to include a request to the Court to create an obligation which is not alleged to exist. TIKAM DAS v. PHATUMAL, 1 S.L.R. 209. (31 C. 433, 24 A. 229, R.)

(21)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 509, 522—Difference of opinion, no provision for—Judgment not in accordance with award—Appeal.—When the arbitrators have given an unanimous award, the award is not a nullity, because no provision has been made in the order of reference for a contigency that has never arisen, viz., that the arbitrators might have differed. S. 522 of the Code does not allow an appeal on the ground that the judgment is in excess of the award, but only on the ground that the decree is so. BEPIN BEHARY SEN v. KRISHNA BEHARY SEN, 8 C.L.J. 475. (17 W.R. 30, F.; 4 W.R. 4; 14 W.R. 150, 8 A. 64, D.)

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(22)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 508 et seq—Arbitration—Award—Award set aside—Court not empowered to make a second reference on the same submission.—The parties to a suit pending in the Court of a Munsiff referred the matters in dispute between them to arbitration. An award was made and delivered; but it was afterwards discovered that one of the plaintiffs had died before the termination of the arbitration proceedings, and the Munsif accordingly set aside the award. Held that the Munsif had no power to make a second order on the same agreement of the parties again referring to arbitration the matters in dispute between them. PACHKAURI RAM v. NAND RAI, A.W.N. 1908, 228=3 A.L.J. 658. (21 A. 314, D.; 2 A. 181, 27 M. 112, R.)

(23)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 520 and 522—Award remitted by Court for revision—Decree in terms of revised award—Appealability of remittal—Construction of s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code.—When an award, remitted by Court under s. 520, Civ. Pro. Code, is revised by the arbitrators, and a decree has been passed by the Court in terms of the revised award, the terms of s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, preclude an appeal on the ground that the order of remittal is wrong and that the award as originally submitted should have been accepted and acted upon. (22 M. 203, D.) When the decree is in accordance with the award, the policy of the law is to refuse appeal on the ground that an order under s. 520, Civ. Pro. Code, has been improperly made or improperly refused. The provisions of s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, should be strictly construed. SUBBIAH IYER v. SUBRAMANIA AIYER, 4 M.L.T 328=18 M.L.J. 485=31 M. 479. (29 C. 167, R.)

(24)—Arbitration—Award founded on agreement between the parties subsequent to reference.—The plaintiff and defendants in a suit agreed to refer the matters in dispute between them to the arbitration of one S.F. After the reference had been made, the parties came to an agreement and submitted this agreement to the arbitrator, who drew up his award in accordance with its terms. The award, however, also dealt with certain matters which arose subsequently to this agreement. Held that the award was a good award and was not vitiated by the fact of its having been founded on a previous agreement between the parties. MIHR ALI SHAH v. MUHAMMAD HUSEN SHAH, A.W.N. 1892, 79.

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 522 (=sch. II, r. 16, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908)—Arbitration—Award not necessarily to be made a rule of Court.—Where it is established that the parties have agreed to a reference and the arbitrators have made an award, so long as the validity of that award is not questioned, it is binding upon the parties to it. It is not necessary that the award should be made a rule of Court under s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. BHIKHARI DAS v. GOVIND RAM, A.W.N. 1892, 238.

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

—Order of Court referring dispute to—Decision of majority—See ACT XX OF 1863, s. 16, 7 M.H.C. 173.

See ACT XX OF 1863, ss. 14, 16, 12 M.L.J. 431.

—Enhancement suit—Reference to arbitration—Jurisdiction of arbitrators to settle equitable rent—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 30, 6 C.W.N. 614.

See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, ss. 13 (c) and (d), 15, 19 B. 553.

—Award on—under if valid when delivered after specified time—See U. P. ACT XIX OF 1873, s. 221, 14 A. 347=A.W.N. 1892, 20.

—Court acting as arbitrator by consent of parties—Decree—Appeal— Review—Remand—See APPEAL—GENERAL, 9 Ind. Cas. 296.

See APPEAL—GENERAL, 84 P.R. 1901.

—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 523 and 526, difference between, as regards appeal—Revision—See APPEAL—ARBITRATION, 58 P.W.R. 1907, F.B.=1 P.R. 1908.

See APPEAL—CASES WHERE APPEAL LIES OR NOT, 88 P.R. 1902, F.B.

See APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, 47 P.R. 1883.

See APPELLATE COURT — MISCELLANEOUS, 2 B.L.R. App. 20 (b)=11 W.R. 57.

—Death of one of the parties to the agreement — Abatement—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 99, 8 A.L.J. 678.

—Arbitrators not named in the agreement—Effect—Ambiguity—Power of Court to appoint arbitrator—Three agreements to refer to arbitration relating to one transaction—Joinder of different causes of action—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 141, O. II, r. 3, sch. II, cl. 17, 85 P.L.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 655.

—Retirement of some of the arbitrators before expiry of time fixed for filing award—Presentation of award by umpire—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, sch. II, rr. 9, 18, 1 A.L.J. 29=A.W.N. 1904, 49.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, sch. II, r. 20, 20 B. 304.

—Witnesses before arbitrators—The Court can issue commission for examination of witnesses in cases referred to arbitration—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXVI, r. 1 and sch. II, r. 1, 7 Bom. L.R. 560.

—Appeal from decree based on award—Further reference to arbitration—Bad award—Remand—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 23, A.W.N. 1905, 164=2 A.L.J. 477.

Arbitration—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

—Undue influence what constitutes—Submission to—Through fear of criminal proceedings—Voidability—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 16, 19, 23, 22 A. 224=A.W.N. 1900, 52.

—Contract to refer to arbitration, agreement in the nature of—Validity—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 28, 11 C. 232.

—Reference to—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 145, 7 C.W.N. 461.

—Agreement between debtors and creditors—Validity—See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 2 A. 173.

—Suit for partition—Decree on award—Direction in decree to deliver moveable property—Part of such property lost—Alteration of decree—See DECREE—ALTERATION OR AMENDMENT OF DECREE, 17 B. 657.

—Contract—Breach of stipulation—Reference to—Award—Effect—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY DEEDS, ETC., 8 C. 809.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1894, 38.

—Power of guardian to submit matters to—On behalf of minor—Reference to Registrar—Practice—See GUARDIAN — DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIAN, 19 C. 334.

—Proceedings—Power of senior members to bind junior members—Good faith—See HINDU LAW—JOINT-FAMILY, 9 M.L.J. 34.

—Hindu Law—Partition of joint family referable to—by father as managing member—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 16 A. 231=A.W.N. 1894, 60.

—Kumaon Rules, 1894, Rule 17—"Final decree"—Retirement of some of the arbitrators before expiry of time fixed for filing award—Award presented by umpire—See KUMAON RULES, 1894, A.W.N. 1904, 49.

See MAMOMEDAN LAW—INHERITANCE, A.W.N. 1883, 115.

See REMAND, 7 A. 523=A.W.N. 1885, 139.

See REVISION—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1888, 123.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—AWARDS, SUITS CONCERNING, 2 Agra 340.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 11 B. 199.

—Agreement to refer made pending suit—Such agreement a bar to the continuance of the suit—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, A.W.N. 1904, 9.

—Agreement to refer future disputes to—Maintainability of suit—Burden of proof—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 35 P.L.R. 1911=25 P.R. 1911=55 P.W.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 736.

—Power to extend time—Umpire—See UMPIRE, 4 M. 311.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1890, 78.

Arbitration—continued.

—— 2.—Appointment of Arbitrators.

(1)—Power of Court to appoint new arbitrators.—The Code of Civil Procedure does not empower a Court to appoint a new arbitrator in the place of one who has refused to accept his appointment. RADHA KISHEN v. DAULAT RAM, 110 P.R. 1900. (6 M 414, 18 C. 324, 17 M. 498, R.)

(2)—S. 510, Civ. Pro. Code—Arbitrators appointed without consent—Refusal to act—Power to appoint new arbitrators—Where a Court referred a case to arbitrators named by the parties, without ascertaining before the reference was made, whether they would act or not, and the arbitrators subsequently declined to act, it has no power to appoint new arbitrators, when one of the parties object to the substitution of new arbitrators. PUGARDIN v. MOIDIN, 6 M. 414. [Appr., 18 C. 324 ; R., 17 M. 498, 38 P.L.R. 1901, 110 P R. 1900, 6 A.L.J. 351=A.W.N. 1908, 159.]

(3)—Power of appellate Court to refer to arbitration—S. 582, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Formalities prescribed by Civ. Pro. Code, to be complied with.—Under the provisions of s. 582, Civ. Pro. Code, the appellate Court can refer a case to arbitration if the parties to the appeal pray for such reference. (3 M. 78, 12 C. 173, F.) The formalities prescribed by Act XIV of 1882 (Civ. Pro. Code) for awards should be strictly complied with. SURESH CHUNDER BANERJEE v. AMBIKA CHURN MOOKERJEE, 18 C. 507.

(4)—Bengal Chamber of Commerce, arbitration by—Rules—Umpire, appointment of—Failure to appoint, effect of.—The rules of the Arbitration Tribunal of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce were construed to contemplate the appointment of the umpire before the arbitrators entered upon the reference and not on their disagreement. If the terms of a reference provide that the umpire is to be appointed before the arbitrators enter upon the reference, the same cannot go on until such umpire is appointed, and the award of the arbitrator cannot be made a decree of the Court. CHOONI LAL v. MADHORAM, 13 C.W.N. 297=36 C. 388=1 Ind. Cas. 391.

(5) —S. 522—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Arbitration—Award—Appeal—Application to Court to appoint a new arbitrator.—Where a party to a suit has agreed to an arbitration and has selected an arbitrator, he cannot ask the Court to appoint another arbitrator. It is only under s. 510 of the Code that the Court can appoint a new arbitrator. SHIAM SUNDER LAL v. BHAIRON SINGH, A.W.N. 1906, 51=3 A.L.J. 185. (10 B. 381, F.)

(6)—Award objected to on the ground that one of the arbitrators was interested in the case.—If parties appoint an arbitrator with full knowledge of material facts as to his connection with or even interest in the subject-matter, they cannot object to the award on the ground of that connection or interest. AH KIN SHOK v. MAUNG TA HIN, U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 8.

Arbitration—continued.

——2.—Appointment of Arbitrators—contd.

(7)—Award—Act VI of 1857—Land acquisition—Judgments of arbitrators separately recorded—What is a valid award—Suit for recovery of acquired land three months after award—Award held null—Fresh arbitration.—The separately recorded opinions, on different dates, of arbitrators (appointed, under Act VI of 1857, to assess the value of land taken for a public purpose) who have never met or consulted together do not constitute an award under the Act. An award to be good must contain the joint judgment of the arbitrators up to the latest period previous to the execution of the award. Where a suit for the recovery of land taken, or compensation for being deprived of it, was filed after the expiration of three months from the date of an award, and the Court held the award to be null, the Court, following the procedure laid down in s. 31 of Act VI of 1857, referred the parties to a fresh arbitration. FATMA BIBI v. THE COLLECTOR OF SURAT, 8 B.H.C. A.C. 79. [R., 9 B.H.C. 177.]

(8)—Duty of Judge, before and after referring a case to arbitration—Before arbitrators are appointed by a Judge, he should find out whether they are willing to accept the office. Where the Judge nominates an arbitrator without the consent of the parties, such nomination is illegal. When a case is referred to arbitration, it is the Judge alone who has got the sole power of appointing fresh arbitrators. Quære:—Whether a Judge who proceeds under s. 319, Act VIII of 1859 (Civ. Pro. Code), to appoint arbitrators is not bound to nominate, where some arbitrators resign, an equal number of fresh arbitrators, except where the parties consent to have a smaller number for the decision of their case. TROYLUCKHO NATH ROY v. THE COLLECTOR OF BEERBHOOM. W.R. 1864, 338.

(9)—Parties not agreeing as to nomination of arbitrator—Nomination by Judge—Inference.—Where the two parties to a suit did not agree in naming anybody as arbitrator and the Judge nominated an arbitrator under s. 214 of Act VIII of 1859, the inference arises that he did so at their desire. SUROOP RAM DEB v. GOBIND RAM DEB, 7 W.R. 13.

(10)—Arbitrators not consented to by parties—Invalid award.—The Code gives no power to a Court to enforce arbitrators on an unwilling suitor. The award of arbitrators so appointed will not be enforced. SHEONATH alias BURRAY KAKA v. RAMANATH alias CHOTAY KAKA, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 161=5 W.R. P.C. 21=10 M.I.A. 413.

(11)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 315, 318, 319—Arbitration—Death of umpire—Recall of reference—Consent—Power of Court.—The matters in dispute in a suit for partnership account were referred by consent to certain persons and an umpire for arbitration. The award was not made within the prescribed period and the umpire died. Then, on the application of one of the parties which was opposed by other, Court ordered the recall of the order of reference and appointed a new arbitrator to settle the dispute. Held that the subsequent order of the Court was not an order recalling the reference under s. 318, and then referring it afresh under s. 315, but it was an order under s. 319 appointing a new arbitrator in the place of the old ones, for which the consent of all parties was not necessary. Under s. 319 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court is competent to appoint an arbitrator or arbitrators either in the place of an arbitrator or in the place of arbitrators. RAMPERSHAD v. JUGEERNAUTH, 6 C.L.R. 1.

Arbitration—continued.

——2.—Appointment of Arbitrators—contd.

(12)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 316—Arbitration—Order of reference—Jurisdiction.—An order referring a suit to arbitration should provide for the appointment of an umpire in case of any difference of opinion among the arbitrators, and should declare that the decision shall be with the majority. A matter referred to arbitration cannot be dealt with by the Court, unless the reference be fruitless, in which case the suit may be brought back on the file of the Court without any reference to the arbitration proceedings. The Court referring a matter to arbitration cannot sit in appeal from the decision of the arbitrators, nor has a lower appellate Court jurisdiction to go into the merits of the case. HARADHAN DUTT v. RADHANATH SHAHA, 2 B.L.R. S.N. 14=10 W.R. 398.

(13)—S. 510, Civ. Pro Code, 1882—Appointment of arbitrator by Court.—S. 510 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies only in cases where a person has signified his assent to take upon himself the duty of an arbitrator and, after so signifying his assent, dies or refuses, or becomes incapable to act, or leave British India under the circumstances therein referred to. The power of the Court to appoint a new arbitrator, under s. 510 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in the place of another, arises only when the latter had given his consent to take up the office. BEPIN BEHARI CHOWDHRY v. ANNODA PROSAD MULLICK, 18 C 324. (6 M. 414, Appr.) [F., 31 P.L.R. 1901; R., 17 M. 498, 110 P.R. 1900; Diss., 6 A.L.J. 351=A.W.N. 1908, 159.]

(14)—Arbitration—Delegation of work by arbitrators, invalid.—Where a contract provides that the matters in dispute should be referred to two arbitrators, and that if the arbitrators differ they should appoint an umpire, it is not a compliance with such a provision for the arbitrators to refer the matter to the Chamber of Commerce, and for the latter body to select, a gentleman to deal with the dispute. J. G. SMITH v. LUDHA GHELLA DAMODAR, 17 B. 129. (L.R. 2 Q.B. 367, D.)

(15)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 319 - Umpire—Leaving the country with no intention to return.—When a person has gone to England, and remains there and there is no evidence to show that he has any intention of coming back to India, he renders it impossible for himself to act as umpire and is incapable of acting as umpire within the meaning of s. 319, Act VIII of 1859. GADADHAR MOITRY v. GANGAPRASAD MOITRY, 4 B.L R. O.C. 89.

Arbitration—continued.

——2.—Appointment of Arbitrators—concld.

(16)—Small Cause Court—Dismissal of suit by—Appointment of arbitrators before new trial granted—Jurisdiction of.—Where the Court of Small Causes dismissed the plaintiff's suit and appointed arbitrators before a new trial was granted, held that such appointment was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. KHEEMA v. KUNHYA, 19 P.R. 1869.

(17)—Arbitrators' remuneration—Lien of award.—When there is no express agreement to remunerate an arbitrator, he has no right of action for his remuneration. But his remedy is by way of refusing to deliver the award till he is remunerated and he has a lien on the same for the payment of his reasonable charges. KIRKPATRICK, In re, 22 P.R. 1897.

——3.—Duties of Arbitrators.

(1)—Arbitrator's power to alter course of legal devolution.—An arbitrator has no power to alter the course of legal devolution in a mode at variance with the ordinary principles of the law by which the parties are governed, in the absence of a special custom prevailing in the family. He has no power to make property which is divisible by law, indivisible for ever. JAFRI v. ALI RAZA, 3 Bom. L.R. 311.

(2)—Arbitrator not bound to give award on each point—Award on whole case—Error in law, effect of, on award.—Where a case is referred to arbitrators, they are not bound to give an award on each point: they have to give their award on the whole case. They are Judges of law as well as Judges of facts, and an error in law does not vitiate an award. GULAM JILANI v. MUHAMMAD, 4 Bom. L.R. 161.

(3)—Arbitrators to confine themselves to order of reference—Order of reference defective—Proper procedure.—Arbitrators appointed under an order of reference in the course of a suit can exercise no greater power than is vested in them by the referring order. Their powers are confined to the said order and can neither be enlarged nor narrowed by the view the arbitrators may themselves take of their duties. Where the reference order itself is defective, the proper course is to set aside all proceedings in arbitration and proceed according to s. 510, Civ. Pro. Code, 1877. RAM DITTA v. MUSSAMMAT BHAGAN, 3 P.R. 1883. [Cited, 91 P.R. 1888, 35 P.R. 1884.]

(4)—Summons to attend court—Failure to attend, an offence.—The arbitrators in a civil suit, who were summoned several times to attend Court, having made default, were convicted by the Court, whose order was disobeyed, under s. 174, Penal Code. Held that no

Arbitration—continued.

——3.—Duties of Arbitrators—continued.

offence has been committed and that, even if an offence has been committed, the Court whose order was disobeyed could not try the offenders. MUSSAMMAT SUBHAN BIBI v. RAHIM BUKSH, 18 P.R 1875, Cr.; MUSSAMMAT BEGUM KHATUN v. ABDUL KI, 2 P.R. 1871. [R., 4 P.R. 1907, Cr.]

(5)—Delay or inattention of arbitrators—Misconduct.—Arbitrators do not render themselves to a charge of misconduct by mere delay or inattention. WALI MUHAMMAD v. SOHARA, 41 P.R. 1875.

(6)—Application to set aside an award disclosing no legal ground, effect of—Duty of Court in case of a specific allegation of misconduct—Open disregard of proved law not a misconduct.—An order ignoring an application to set aside an award disclosing no legal ground for the order applied for, was upheld in this case correct. A specific allegation of misconduct or corruption by the applicant will oblige the Court, before passing a decree to record whether or not the allegation is supported. Open disregard by arbitrators of proved law or custom does not amount to misconduct under s. 324 of Act VIII of 1859: (Semble, it might be ground for remitting the award under s. 323). The Court accepting the award is the proper Judge of the propriety of remitting it. SECUNDUR BEG v. MUSSAMMAT RAJEE, 12 P.R. 1869.

(7)—Arbitrators should ascertain points at issue and make a finding on each point—S. 323 of Act VIII of 1859.—When a case in referred to arbitration, the arbitrators are bound to ascertain upon what points the parties are at issue, and upon each of these points they should come to a finding. If a Court regards an award as unobjectionable, such Court must deliver judgment in accordance with the terms of such award, and not modify the same. An award, defective and illegal on the face of it, should be at once remitted to the arbitrators, under s. 323 of Chap. 6 of Act VIII of 1859. LUCHMEE NARAIN v. PYLE, 2 N.W.P. 150.

(8)—Arbitrators—Duty of—Evidence.—It is the duty of arbitrators in hearing evidence to act according to the terms of the agreement in pursuance of which the dispute is placed before them. KRISHNA KANTA PARAMANIK v. BIDYA SUNDARI DASI, 2 B.L.R. App. 25.

(9)—Judgment to follow award — When award can be questioned by way of appeal.—A judgment in accordance with an award cannot be appealed against, except in cases of the illegality of the award, or of irregularity in the procedure of the Court. The only ground for appealing against a judgment following an award is that the decree is in excess of the award or that it is not in accordance with it. GHULAM JILANI v. MUHAMMAD HASSAN, 74 P.R. 1894, F.B. (23 W.R. 429, 8 B.L.R. 315, 16 C. 482, 17 B. 357, 6 M. 414, 11 M. 144, 15 M. 348, 4 A. 283, 6 A. 174, 8 A. 449, A.W.N. 1892, 151, R.; 14 P.R. 1882, F.B.,

Arbitration—continued,

——3.—Duties of Arbitrators—continued.

Disappr.) [R., 1 P.R. 1908, F.B. = 58 P W.R. 1907, 3 P.R. 1910. Rev.; Disappr., 84 P.R. 1901 = 112 P.L.R. 1901.]

(10)—Judgment not in accordance with award appealable.—A decree, if not in accordance with the award, though professing to follow the same, is appealable. If the Court has to determine matters not referred to arbitration in order to pass a decree embodying all the provisions of the award, it must remit the award to the arbitrators for re-consideration. MUSSAMMAT GONDI BAI v. THAKAR DASS, 60 P.R. 1896.

(11)—An item based on a budnee allowed as set-off—Court disallowing that item as illegal—Proper procedure.—Where, in a suit for a balance of account, the arbitrators allowed as a set-off an item founded on a budnee or wagering transaction and the Court, disallowing the item as illegal, decreed the rest in terms of this arbitrators' award: Held, that the budnee set off had been rightly disallowed for illegality, but that the proper procedure was to remit the award for the re-consideration of the arbitrators on account of the illegal matter apparent on the face of it. Held, also, that the refusal of arbitrators to amend their award would amount to misconduct under Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 324. RAM KURN v. ZAHIRA, 101 P.R. 1868. [R., 89 P.R. 1883.]

(12)—Award — Omission to give notice—Ss. 516 to 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Omission to give notice as required by s. 516, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, is a material irregularity. (14 A. 343, 20 A. 474, 3 M. 59, 11 M. 144, 15 M. 354, U.B.R. 1892—1896 Vol. II, 9, R.) The spirit of ss. 516 to 522, Civ. Pro. Code, appears to require that, if an award has to be remitted, the notice to be issued under s. 516 should be issued, when the award, in its final shape, is filed in Court. MA SHWE ME v. MAUNG TOK THO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 24.

(13)—Arbitration to effect partition—Arbitrator must effect complete partition—Partial partition valid, if such was intention of parties—As it is not ordinarily the intent of the parties that some matters only should be determined and that they should be at liberty to go to law for the rest, it follows that, where a reference is made to arbitration, the arbitrator is equally bound to make a final decision upon all the matters referred to him in order that is award as to any should be effectual. But, if, in the reference to arbitration, there be a clause empowering the arbitrator to make one or more awards at his discretion, the Courts, unless there be something repugnant to such a view, will hold that the arbitrator may make a valid and final award on one matter only. The strict rule of English law cannot be applied to India, where the submission to arbitration is not written by one who is conversant with the law. Consequently, the Court will rather look to the probable intention of the parties and to what the justice of the case requires. Thus, an award of the arbitrators will be upheld as regards the property, divided, even though the whole has not been divided, if, from the nature of the property and other circumstances of the case, a partial partition was the probable intention of the parties. Further, if a question is not brought before an arbitrator for decision, the fact that he does not decide the question does not detract from the finality of his award. MUKUND RAM SUKAL v. SALIGRAM SUKAL, 2 C.P.L.R. 202.

Arbitration—continued.

——3.—Duties of Arbitrators—concluded.

(14)—Arbitration award, when reversible by Court—Co-defendants—Rival claims.—A Court cannot reverse the award given by an arbitrator, which is binding on all those who consented to the arbitration, unless the provisions of s. 324 of Act VIII of 1859 apply. The technical rules of the Court are not binding on an arbitrator. His duty is to give an equitable award. A Court, when dismissing the plaintiff's suit, cannot adjudicate on the rival claims of two co-defendants. REEDOY KRISTO MUJOOMDAR v. PUDDO LOCHUN MUJOOMDAR, 1 W. R. 12. [D., 9 A. 253; R., 7 W.R. 401.]

(15)—Arbitrators, application by—Order in respect of costs of reference—Confirmation by Court.—The Civ. Pro. Code does not authorise arbitrators to apply to the Court for confirmation of their order, which makes the hearing of a reference conditional upon payment of their fees. STEEL v. ROBERTS, 6 C. 809=8 C.L.R. 439.

See ARBITRATION—REVOCATION OF ARBITRATION, 5 P.R. 1876.

——4. Powers of Arbitrators.

(1)—Power of arbitrator to administer oath other than in prescribed form.—An arbitrator has no power to administer an oath other than in the prescribed form. WALI-UL-LA v. GHULAM ALI, 1 A. 635=2 Ind. Jur. 468.

(2)—Award by private arbitration if binding—Revocability—Delegation of power by arbitrators.—There is no reason why an award made by private submission should not be perfectly valid and binding on the parties, though the parties may not have sought to enforce it by summary proceedings under s. 327, of Act VIII of 1859, Civ. Pro Code. A submission to arbitration is revocable before the award is made. Where there is no agreement by the parties to be bound by the award given by the majority of the arbitrators in order to make the award binding, it is necessary that all the arbitrators should concur. Arbitrators have no power to delegate their authority to others. BABOO SURUBJEET NARAIN SINGH v. BABOO GOUREE PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH, 7 W.R. 269.

(3)—Arbitrator—Award—Vaildity—Delegation.—Though an oral award may be given and a note or minute of it taken for record, still, if the arbitrators resolve that their award is to be put in the form of a document to be signed by them as the final expression of their decision, nothing but that document can be treated as the award. One arbitrator cannot delegate his powers of decision to another. When the arbitrators have been appointed by agreement, and no provision has been made for a difference of opinion, the award is invalid, unless it is unanimous. MA THET TIN v. MA SAW KIN. U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Arbitration, p. 1. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 18, 276, R.)

Arbitration—continued.

——4.—Powers of Arbitrators—continued.

(4)—Want of power of private arbitrator to procure attendance of witnesses—General rule—Exception.—The general rule is when parties chose to abide by the settlement of matters in dispute made by a private arbitrator, they in effect agree to accept all the limitations of the position of such a Judge among which is the want of power to compel the attendance of witnesses. The following is an exception to that general principle. Where the issue in the case was as to the validity of the award on account of the conduct of the arbitrator in not examining all the witnesses wanted, according to his undertaking to examine them, held that the award was not valid under the circumstances. MA SAT KYU v. MAUNG TUN GYI, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 4. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 10.]

(5)—Reference to arbitration by the Judge—Parties to the suit referring other matters to the same arbitrators—Separate award to be given—Where a Judge refers a case to arbitration and the parties to the case appoint the same persons as arbitrators in respect of some other matters not connected with the case, the arbitrators must give separate awards instead of mixing them up and giving a general one. ROGHOO NUNDUN LALL SAHOO v. BUNWAREE LALL SAHOO, 3 W.R. Mis. 27.

(6)—Matter not in difference referred to—Decision void.—In respect of the decision of arbitrators in a matter not in difference between the parties, nor referred to them, held it was void. MOSHAHEL SINGH v. KONOMUTTY BEWA, 15 W R. 172.

(7)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 312, 322—Award—Interest—Costs.—The questions of costs of the reference and award may be dealt with by the arbitrators, only when all the matters in difference between the parties have been referred to them, under an order of Court. Then, they may also award interest after date of submission. MOHAN LAL v. NATHURAM, 1 B.L.R. O.C. 144.

(8)—Costs—Omission to fix scale of costs.—An award directed that the defendant should pay the costs of the suit, of the reference and of the award, without fixing the scale. On application to the Court to do so, the case was sent back to the arbitrator for that purpose. Held that, when the order of reference gives the arbitrator full discretion over costs, he alone can fix the sale. BARRUTT CHUNDER DOSS v. DAMJEE PITTUMBER, Bourke O.C. 7—Cor. 160.

Arbitration—continued.

——4.—Powers of Arbitrators—continued.

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 317 et seq.—Where, by an order of reference made pending a suit, all matters in difference between the parties are referred to an arbitrator by the Court under Act VIII of 1859, s. 317, et seq., the arbitrator has power to deal with the costs of the suit. MUDDOOSOODUN CHOWDHRY v. KOYLAS CHUNDER SHAW; KOYLAS CHANDER SHAW v. MUDDOOSOODUN CHOWDHRY, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 12.

(10)—Question of costs not referred to arbitration, arbitrators not competent to deal with—Exces of jurisdiction of arbitrators—Exercise of extraordinary jurisdiction of High Court—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 520, 521, 526.—S.526 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), specifies the causes enumerated in ss. 520, 521, as those which may be urged against filing an award, but it does not say that the award may be remitted nor, without express authority, can a Court send back an award to private arbitrators over whose proceedings it has no control. The only course, in such cases, is to refuse to file the award. The High Court therefore upheld the contention in this case that as the award in question gave costs to one of the parties, and the submission did not leave this question to the arbitrators, the lower Court should have refused to file the award itself. No appeal being entertainable as from an order under s. 526, the High Court will generally, in such a case, if there has been a disregard of law amounting to an excess of jurisdiction, or a perversion of the purpose of the legislature, hold itself ready to interfere by way of exercising its extraordinarily jurisdiction. DAGUSA TILAKCHAND v. BHUKAN GOVIND SHET, 9 B. 82. [Appr., 11 M. 220.]

(11)—Costs, power of arbitrators to deal with.—Where a suit, as a whole, is generally referred to arbitration, the arbitrators have power to go into the question of costs. But they have no such power, when only one or more specific issues are referred to their decision, the question of costs not being one of such issues. HAR GOLAL v. SODHI KARTAR SINGH, 91 P.R. 1888. (19 P.R. 1880, 3 P.R. 1883, R.)

(12)—Civ. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 518, 522—Arbitrators, power of, to direct payment in instalments—Decree under s. 518, when appeal lies from.—Where the arbitrators appointed in the course of a suit to recover money gave an award in favour of the plaintiff, but made the money payable by the defendants in instalments, and, on objection by the plaintiffs, the first Court modified the award, so far as it related to the payments in instalments, on the ground that that was not a matter referred to arbitration, it was held that the Court should not have modified the award, as it did, since, under the terms of the reference, the arbitrators were given full powers, not only as to the amount to be paid, but also to the mode of payment. The plea that no appeal lay from the decree of the first Court under s. 518 of the

Arbitration—continued.

——4.—Powers of Arbitrators—concluded.

Civ. Pro. Code, was held unsustainable, since the decree of that Court was not in accordance with the award and was appealable with reference to s. 522 of the Code which disallowed appeals "except in so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with the award." These words in s. 522 have been intended to enable the Court of appeal to check the improper use of the power conferred by s. 518. JAWAHIR SINGH v. MUL RAJ, 8 A. 449 = A.W.N. 1886, 210. [F., 12 O.C. 23; R., 74 P.R. 1894.]

(13)—Arbitrator, power of, to direct payment by instalments—Award, meaning of—Civ Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 518 and 522.—Held, that the word "award" in the last sentence of s. 522 of the Code, means the award as given by the arbitrators, and not as amended by the Court under s. 518 of the Code. (8 A. 449. F.; 13 P.R 1906, R.) Held further, that, where all matters in dispute between the parties to a suit for money due on a bond were referred to arbitration, the arbitrator had power to determine not only the amount to be paid, but also the mode of payment, and could therefore direct payment by instalments. RAM SARUP v. BINDRA PRASAD, 12 O.C. 23 = 1 Ind. Cas. 328.

——5.—Private Arbitration.

(1)—Arbitration not started with Court sanction—Necessity for agreement in writing.—In arbitrations not started with the sanction of the Court the agreement need not be reduced to writing before it can be binding. MUDHOO MANJEE v. RAJAH NILMONEE SINGH DEO, 18 W.R. 533.

(2)—Award of private arbitrators—Suit to set aside—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 525.—An award by private arbitrators not appointed by a Court of Justice may be filed under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, and a suit will lie to enforce it MAUNG KYAN PON v. MAUNG YAN NYEIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol II, 10. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 13, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 4, Rel. on.)

(3)—Private arbitration—Validity—Evidence of arbitrators.—A submission to private arbitration may be perfectly valid, though not put in writing, and a private award made in pursuance of such submission will be respected and treated as valid by the Courts if duly performed, and the possession of the contested property be held under them. The arbitrators may be competent to prove as well the submission as the making of the award, though no ikrarnama was ever executed. BAHAL SINGH v. SHIBO RAM SINGH, W.R. 1864, 76.

(4)—Submission of points in dispute to.—There is nothing in Act VIII of 1859 to prevent parties, who have a suit pending in Court, to submit the subject-matter of that suit and other matters in dispute to arbitration under s. 327. THAKOOR DOSS ROY v. HURRY DOSS ROY, W.R. 1864, Mis. 21. [Appl., 6 C. 251; F., 4 B. 1; R., 26 B. 76, 3 Bom. L.R. 431.]

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), ss. 506, 523 and 525—Parties to suit, power of, to agree to refer to private arbitration.—Ss. 523 and 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), contemplate arbitration without the intervention of the Court by "any persons" with respect to "any matter" and contain no express exception as to parties to a suit or to matters in litigation in a suit or proceeding actually pending, and there is nothing in s. 506 of the Code showing any intention on the part of the Legislature to forbid arbitration by the parties to a suit without the intervention of the Court. Consequently, the mere circumstance of matters having been agreed to be referred to arbitration during the pendency of a suit in which they were in litigation, is not of itself a sufficient reason for the Court's refusing to file such agreement to refer. HARIVALABDAS KALLIANDAS v. UTAMCHAND MANEKCHAND, 4 B. 1. [Diss., 30 C. 218=7 C.W.N. 180; R., 6 C. 251 =7 C.L.R. 92, 26 B. 76=3 Bom. L.R. 431, 8 Bom. L.R. 777.]

(6)—Private award, partly good and partly bad—Validity.—In the case of a private award, it is open to the Court to affirm such of the portions of the award as are good and reject those that are bad, and it is not necessary that it should affirm the award in its entirety or reject it altogether which would be the case with an award under the Civ. Pro. Code. MIRAN BAKHSH v. RAHIM BAKHSH, 18 P.R. 1892. [R., 84 P.R. 1907.]

(7)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 327—Private award—Grant of new trial—Disposal of case in defendant's absence—Oral pronouncement of judgment—Subsequent writing of judgment—Award not enforceable.—In the case of a private award, where the arbitrators grant a new trial, and dispose of the case in the absence of the defendant, and a year after allowing the new trial one day verbally pronounce their judgment to one party, and another day to the other, and on a subsequent date write out the award which is signed on a particular date by one arbitrator who sends it to others elsewhere for signature on a different date, held that the award ought not to be enforced under Act VIII of 1859, s. 327. NADER ALI v. MAJOO, 21 W.R. 377.

(8)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), ss. 525, 526, "show cause," meaning of—Omission of some of the arbitrators to sign award, not fatal to award—Award on private arbitration—Omission to decide principal items of dispute, effect of.—In cases under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the Legislature cannot be taken to have intended that a mere allegation of the existence of cause, without any inquiry whatever into the validity of the cause alleged, should be taken as sufficient to prevent the filing of an award. The words "show cause," wherever they occur in the Civ. Pro. Code, have been used in their well understood and technical sense signifying not merely to allege cause, nor even to make out that there is room for argument, but both to allege cause and prove it to the satisfaction of the Court. Two main objections were taken to the arbitration award directed to be filed by the lower Court in this case. The first of them was that the award was drawn up and signed by four only out of seven arbitrators, and that the remaining three were not asked to sign and never did sign it. But, as was contended by the other side in support of the award, it was not effected by the document in question, nor on the date on which it was signed. The actual award was an oral award made by all the arbitrators on a previous day, and the drawing up of the document was a purely ministerial act to give effect to the judicial act already completed. Consequently, the omission to take the signatures of the minority of the arbitrators to be document which formed the merely formal record of the award, could not vitiate the award itself. The other objection was that the award had left undetermined an important matter referred to arbitration, viz., the partition of certain field lands regarding the division of which the parties were at issue, and the High Court allowed the objection and held that the fact of the award having left undetermined one of the main subjects of dispute and reference, constituted sufficient cause shown against the award, such as is mentioned in s. 520, cl. (a) of the Code, and affecting the award in an important particular, and that, as the High Court had no power to remit the award to the arbitrators for re-consideration and amendment, the lower Court's order for filing the award should be set aside. DANDEKAR v. DANDEKARS, 6 B. 663. [F., 9 C. 575, 11 C. 166, 8 A. 340=A.W.N. 1886, 107, 16 A. 231=A.W.N. 1894, 60; Appl., 20 B. 208; R., 7 B. 316, 7 B. 341, F.B., 9 B. 82, 2 C.P.L.R. 202, 16 C. 482, 21 C. 213, F.B., 17 A. 21=A.W.N. 1894, 187. F.B., 20 B. 596, 28 B. 287=6 Bom. L.R. 15, 27 A. 526= 2 A.L.J. 416=A.W.N. 1905, 86; D., 17 B. 674, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 276.]

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

(9)—Private award, Plea of, whether tenable.—A private award is a good plea to a suit in which plaintiffs seek to recover property, being part of the subject-matter of the award in favour of the defendant ALAM KHAN v. MUHAMMAD NAWAZ KHAN, 32 P. R. 1888. (56 P.R. 1886, D.)

(10)—Private arbitration—Award—Time for enforcing the award.—An award of private arbitration must be enforced within 6 months from the date of the award. BHYRUB JHA v. HUNOOMAN DUTT JHA, 3 W.R. 123.

(11)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 327—Enforcement of award, suit for.—S. 327, Civ. Pro. Code, is not imperative, and there is no doubt that a suit lies to enforce an award made without the intervention of a Court of Justice. PALANIAPPA CHETTY v. RAYAPPA CHETTI, 4 M.H.C. 119. [F., 20 W. R. 420, 20 M. 490; R., 8 M.H.C. 81, 21 C. 213, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 11, 18 M. 423, U.B.R. 1906, Specific Relief, 30, p.3.]

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

(12)—Award by arbitrators—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327.—S. 327, Act VIII of 1859, does not provide that no arbitration-award shall be binding upon the parties unless filed in Court. It gives the sanction of a decree to all awards duly filed. Awards not filed, when pleaded, require to be regularly proved. SOOPHUL SINGH v. METHOO SINGH, 1 W.R. 163.

(13)—Award of arbitration, when valid without Court's intervention.—If possession under an award of arbitration is shown, it would suffice to make it a valid award without the intervention of the Courts. MOHESH CHUNDER MOITER v. BULORAM MOITER, 6 W.R. 94.

(14)—Private arbitrations—Validity.—Arbitrations not brought into Court under s. 327, Act VIII of 1859, are not necessarily invalid. RAMYAD SAHOO v. DOOLAR SAHOO, 9 W.R. 441.

(15)—Award not filed under Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 327—Validity of award.—An award of arbitrators is not a nullity, because it has not been filed in Court under the provisions of Act VIII of 1859, s. 327. NURSINGH GARIWAN v. PUTTOO OSTAGUR, 20 W.R. 420.

(16)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 520, 521, 525, 526, —Application to file award—Objections to filing, impeaching identity of award—Court not competent to inquire into.—S. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code makes no provision for the trial of a question of whether the reference to the arbitration has been really made or whether the award is prima facie void. The provision that is made by s. 526, which must be read along with s. 525 of the Code as its intended complement, is that the award must be filed, unless one of the objections specified in ss. 520 and 521 is established. These objections all relate to a case in which the reference and the award are accepted facts. In this case, when application was made to the Subordinate Judge to file the award, an objection was taken which, in the result, impeached the identity of the award, and the Judge, after an investigation, decided against the objections, and ordered that the award should be filed. The High Court set aside the order, directing that the award be not filed or be deemed not to have been filed. SAMAL NATHU v. JAISHANKAR DULSUKRAM, 9 B. 254. [F., 17 B. 674, 17 A. 21=A.W.N. 1894, 187, F.B.; Appr., 21 C. 213, F.B.; Expl., 29 B. 621=7 Bom.L.R. 644; R., 10 B. 381, 18 M. 423, 20 B. 596, 25 C. 757, F.B., 13 C.P. L.R. 53, 6 Bom.L.R. 15,28 B. 287, 19 M.L. J. 394=6 M.L.T. 137=2 Ind. Cas. 92.]

(17)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 520, 521, 525, 622—Objection to filing award—Misconduct—Application agreed to be tried as regular suit—Appeal--Second appeal.—When an application is made to the Court to file an award under s. 525, Civ. Pro, Code, 1882, and an objection is made to the filing of it upon any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 or 521, the proper course for the Court to pursue is to dismiss the application, and to leave the applicant to bring a regular suit to enforce the award, in which all the objections to its validity may be properly tried and decided. (15 W.R. F.B., 9, 13 W.R. 85, 21 W.R. 183, 12 W.R. 85, 3 C. 377, R.) But, where the first Court, instead of dismissing the application as it ought to have done, fixed an issue for trial in this general form—"whether the award could be filed and enforced?"—and had proceeded to try the questions at issue, precisely as if it had been a regular suit brought to enforce the award and both the parties had consented to that course and had brought forward all the arguments and evidence on both sides which they could have brought forward in a regular suit, and the first Court, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the application, and the first appellate Court decided that the award was valid, held that it could not be objected in second appeal that the lower Courts had acted without jurisdiction and that the proceedings of the lower Courts could not be set aside under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, even if any application had been made under that section. HURO NAUTH ROY v. NISTARINI CHOWDHRAIN, 13 C.L.R. 14.

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

(18)—Partnership—Reference to arbitration.—Partners may, in a partnership deed, agree that future disputes arising between them with reference to partnership transactions shall be settled by reference to arbitration; and when once they have so agreed, they are bound by such agreement and by any proceedings that may be adopted thereunder. And when the agreement, though not naming the arbitrators, provides for their appointment in a particular manner, and they are afterwards so appointed in writing, though contrary to the will of one of the disputing parties, this has the same effect as if the arbitrators were named in the agreement itself. G. S. JONES v. LEDGARD, 8 A. 340 = A.W.N. 1886, 107.

(19)—Ss. 520, 521, 525, 526, Act XIV of 1882 (Civ. Pro. Code) — Application for filing a private award—Objections raised in a verified written statement falling within s. 521—Practice — Arbitration private. — Where an application is made to a Court for filing a private award, and objections are raised in a verified written statement, and the objections are such as fall within s. 521 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the Court is not bound to hold its hand and reject the application, but it is the duty of the Court to inquire into the validity of the objections raised, and thereupon determine whether the award should be filed or not. (By the Full Bench). Per Prinsep, Piggott and Macpherson, JJ.—Where the objection taken was that the matters in dispute had never been referred to arbitration, held, that the Court had no jurisdiction under s. 525 to deal with it, and that it should reject the application and refer the parties to a suit.

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

Per Ghose, J.—When the Court refuses to file an award, such order of refusal is not a decree, and is not open to appeal. Quære.—Whether in that case, the proceedings could be regarded as proceedings in a suit properly so called. Per Petheram, C.J.—S. 526, Civ. Pro. Code, creates a mode by which the award, when made, to be enforced. SURJAN RAOT v. BHIKARI RAOT. 21 C. 213, F.B. [F., 26 B. 596, 25 C. 757, F.B.; Appr., 33 C. 757=10 C. W.N. 609=3 C.L.J. 450; R., 16 A. 234, Note =A.W.N. 1894, 60, 17 A. 21, F.B.=A.W.N. 1894, 187, 18 M. 423, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 5, 13 C.P.L.R. 53, 28 B. 287, 2 C.L.J. 80; Disappr., 112 P.L.R. 1901, F B.=84 P. L.R. 1901; Diss., 25 C. 757, F.B.]

(20)—Arbitration—Reference out of Court—Application to file award—Objection as to validity of submission and award—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 521, 522, 525, 526—Practice.—Where on an application to file an award under ss. 525 and 526 made by arbitrators under a private reference the respondent questions the factum and validity of the submission itself and also the award, and such objection is, in the opinion of the Court, neither frivolous nor colourable, the Court has no jurisdiction to deal with it and must refer the parties to a regular suit. (9 B. 254, 21 C. 213, F.; 17 A. 21, Not F.) And the Court is not bound to go into evidence on the objections raised, even though it had issued notice under s. 525 of the Code. TAJPUR v. MAHOMED JAMAL, 20 B. 596. [Not F., 112 P.L.R. 1901, F.B.; R., 25 C. 757, F.B.=2 C.W.N. 529, 13 C.P.L.R. 53, 29 B. 621=7 Bom. L.R. 644, 11 C.L.J. 131; D., 6 Bom. L.R. 15=28 B. 287.]

(21)—Ss. 525, 526, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Reference to arbitration, denial of—Jurisdiction for determining factum of reference—Order under s. 525 amounting to decree—Appeal.—When an application is made under s. 525 and notice is given to the parties to the alleged arbitration, the Court's jurisdiction to order the award to be filed and to allow proceeding to be taken under it, is not taken away by a mere denial of the reference to arbitration on an objection to the validity of that reference. (17 A. 21, F.) [Appr., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 5 (6); R., 13 C.P.L.R. 53, 112 P.L.R. 1901, F.B. =84 P.R. 1901, 29 C. 278=6 C.W.N. 235, 28 B. 287, 31 C. 516, 2 C.L.J. 80, 2 C.L.J. 431, 28 A. 621=A.W.N. 1906, 136, 1 S L.R. 149, 36 C. 713=13 C.W.N. 654=9 C.L.J. 563, 46 P.R. 1909=72 P.L.R. 1909, 29 B. 621.] An order, under s. 525, rejecting an application to file an award on the ground that there has been no valid reference to arbitration, amounts to a decree within the meaning of s. 2, Civ. Pro. Code. An appeal lies from such order. MAHOMED WAHIDUDDIN v. HAKIMAN, 25 C. 757, F.B.=2 C.W.N. 529. (25 C. 141, F.) [F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 297, 23 M. 101, 100 P.R. 1907=17 P.L.R. 1908, 4 L.B.

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

R. 130, 7 C.L.J. 486; R., 112 P.L.R. 1901, F.B.=84 P.R. 1901, 27 M. 255, F.B.=14 M. L.J. 356, 10 C.W.N. 601=2 C.L.J 153, 33 C. 757=10 C.W.N. 609=3 C.L.J. 450, 9 O.C. 205, 13 C.P.L.R. 53, 2 C.L.J. 80, 80 P.R. 1909, 46 P.R. 1909=72 P.L.R. 1909.]

(22)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 329—Motion to amend award—Power of Court.—Where, on the ground of obvious errors in an award, a motion to amend it was made the Court held that it had no power under Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 327, to amend or remit it for the re-consideration of the arbitrators, but only to file and enforce the award or reject it. ALLARAKHIA v. JEHANGIR, 10 B.H.C. 391. [Appl., 3 M. 68; F., 27 A. 526=2 A.L.J. 416=A.W.N. 1905, 86.]

(23)—Award in criminal matter—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 327.—When a complaint has been preferred to a Criminal Court, and the Magistrate has directed that the subject-matter of the complaint be referred to arbitration, if the parties consent and proceed to such reference, the award may be enforced under the provisions of s. 327, Act VIII of 1859. SHEO NUND RAI v. MAHANUND RAM, 1 Agra 45.

(24)—Filing private award in Court—Amendment of plaint taking case out of scope of Ch. 37 of the Civ. Pro. Code. 1877—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 520 (a), 525, 526—Appeal.—Where, by the amendment of a plaint, permitted by the Court after the first hearing, a case under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is converted into one beyond the scope of Ch. 37 of the Code, a decree passed in such a suit is appealable. Where a private award determines matters not referred to arbitration, an application, under s. 525, for the filing of such award, is liable to be dismissed. JUALA SINGH v. NARAIN DAS, 4 A. 541. [F., 27 A. 526=2 A.L.J. 416=A.W. N. 1905, 86.]

(25)—Awards—Power of arbitrators—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327.—The parties submitting to an arbitration are at liberty, if they choose, to allow the arbitrators to take seriatim the matters in dispute, and, so to say, to deliver a series of awards. The Court has power to file an award, in the above circumstances, though all the matters submitted to arbitration had not been decided. BRIMOTI SHOSHEMUKHI DABIA v. NOBIN CHUNDER ROY, 4 C.L.R. 92.

(26)—Private arbitration award filed in Court—Practice before execution ordered.—Where a private arbitration award is filed in a Court, the prescribed course is for the Court to give judgment upon it, and pass a decree; not to order execution before such decree has been passed. SAHEB RAM JHA v. KASHEE NATH JHA, 21 W. R. 295 [R., 2 A. 471.]

(27)—Civ. Pro, Code, 1882, s, 526—Private award—Order refusing to file such award—Appealability.—An order under s. 526 of the Code, refusing to file an award of arbitrators

Arbitration—continued.

—5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

made out of Court, is appealable as a decree. MUL RAJ v. LADHA MAL, 100 P. R. 1907=17 P.L.R. 1908. (26 A. 205, Diss.; 27 M. 255, 29 M. 303, 25 C. 757, 33 C. 757, 84 P.R. 1901, F.B.=112 P.L.R. 1901, F.; 25 P.R. 1902, P.C., R.)

(28)—Power of Civil Court to finally adjudicate—Private arbitration during suit—Whether can be regarded as adjustment.—Every Civil Court has power to proceed to finally adjudicate on a civil suit, unless under some provision of Civ. Pro. Code or any other Act, its jurisdiction is ousted. The only bar a reference to arbitration not made a rule of Court can be said to create is that which was provided for in the last clause of s. 21, Specific Relief Act, which will be inapplicable to a case when reference is made during pendency and not before the institution of a suit. A mere reference to arbitration where there is no distinct agreement that the proceedings should be abandoned could not be regarded as an adjustment within the meaning of s. 375, Civ. Pro. Code. The adjustment contemplated by that section should be of such a nature as to enable the Court then and there to dispose of the suit finally; a mere reference to arbitration is no adjustment, if it leaves the matter in as unsettled a condition as before and more so when one of the parties defies the reference itself. An equitable bar to the continuance of the suit that the parties had agreed to forego further legal proceedings cannot be pleaded if there is no express agreement to that effect. BUDHA v. HAKU, 130 P. R. 1882. [F., 50 P.R. 1891.]

(29)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327—Private arbitration-award—Small Cause Courts—Jurisdiction.—A Small Cause Court has jurisdiction, under Act VIII of 1859, s. 327, to entertain an application to file a private arbitration-award relating to a debt not exceeding the amount cognizable by such Court, if the defendant resides within its jurisdiction. ELAM PARAMANICK v. SOJAITULLAH SHAIKH, 1 B.L.R. A. C. 43=10 W.R. 85. [F., 13 W.R. 233=4 B.L.R. App. 82, 10 B.H.C. 54.]

(30)—Reference to arbitration of matter in suit—Award therein, bar to further proceedings—Specific Relief Act, s. 21.—Where the parties to a suit refer the matter of such suit to arbitration, without the intervention of the Court, and an award is passed dismissing the plaintiff's claim, such award is a bar to further proceedings in the suit. (S. 21, Specific Relief Act). SALIG RAM v. JHUNNA KUAR, 4 A. 546=A. W. N. 1882, 135. [Not F., 4 O.C. 17; F., 27 A. 53=A. W. N. 1904, 160=1 A.L.J. 389.]

(31)—Ss. 522, 526 and 622—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Award, private—Application to file—Objection under s. 520—Matters left undetermined—Disallowance of objection—Decree directing award to be filed—Appeal—S. 522, when applies—Practice—Mofussil Courts—Original side—Revision, power of, of High Court—Exercise suo motu.—Per Curiam (Rampini and Pratt, JJ., contra)—An appeal lies from an order passed under s. 526, Civ. Pro. Code, merely directing the filing of an award made on a submission to arbitration without the intervention of a Court of Justice. Upon an application under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, to have a private award filed, the opposite party objected that the arbitrator had left undetermined certain matters referred to him for decision. The objection was overruled and the award was ordered to be filed and a formal decree was drawn up containing the following direction: "It is ordered that the arbitration award in this case be filed in Court." This decree was set aside on appeal, the lower appellate Court holding the objection to be a valid one: Held, Per Curiam (Maclean, C J., and Sale, J., contra)—That no appeal lay from the decree of the first Court and the lower appellate Court had no authority to interfere with it. Per Maclean, C.J., and Ghose, J.—When an award has been ordered to be filed under s. 526, the party, in whose favour it is, must proceed to obtain a judgment and consequent decree under s. 522, and if that decree is according to the award, then there is no appeal from it. Per Ghose, Rampini and Pratt, JJ.—The decree in this case was substantially a decree in accordance with an award as contemplated by s. 526, read with s. 522. Per Sale, J.—No decree expressly incorporating the terms of the award is required to be drawn up in pursuance of the order to file the award made under s. 526, nor is the clause restricting the right of appeal in the case of a decree made under s. 522, applicable to an order to file an award made under s. 526. Per Rampini and Pratt, JJ.—No appeal lies from an order directing an award to be filed under s. 526, except when the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award, although an order refusing to file the award, is appealable. Per Maclean, C.J.—An order directing as well as one refusing the filing of an award stand on the same footing as regards appealability. (6 C.W.N. 226=29 C. 167=29 I.A. 51, Cons.). Per Curiam.—The High Court can interfere under s. 622, of its own motion and in the absence of an application under that section. JANOKEY NATH GUHA ROY v. BROJO LAL GUHA ROY, 10 C.W.N. 609, F.B. =3 C.L.J. 450=33 C. 757. [Diss., 58 P.W.R. 1907=1 P R. 1908; F., 126 P.R. 1907=88 P.W. R. 1907=50 P.L.R. 1908, 7 C.L.J. 486; Cons., 11 C.W.N. 220; R., 1 S.L.R. 86, 149, 100 P. R. 1907=17 P.L.R. 1908, 4 L.B.R. 130; D., 4 L.B.R. 249=14 Bur. L.R. 129.]

(32)—Reference to private arbitration by parties pending a suit—Arbitration—Award—Application to file the award—Such application is foreign to the suit—Practice.—Ch. XXXVII of the Civ. Pro. Code governs references to arbitration. It contemplates two classes of references: one by the parties to a suit who obtain an order from the Court for a reference to arbitration; the other when persons agree in writing that the difference between them shall be referred to arbitration. Parties to a suit as well as persons not engaged in litigation may agree to refer matters in dispute between them to private arbitration. But the mere fact that litigants may agree to a private arbitration, does not make that arbitration an arbitration in the suit unless there is an order of reference as contemplated by s. 506. The parties to a suit during the pendency thereof referred the matters in dispute to a private arbitration. The arbitrator having given his award, the plaintiff applied to have the award filed and for a decree in terms of the award. The defendant objected to the award on several grounds. The Subordinate Judge asked the plaintiff to pursue the remedy given him by law to enforce the award and dismissed the suit:—Held, that as there was no order of reference, the reference was governed by ss. 523—526 of the Civ. Pro. Code; and under those sections, it was necessary for an application to be made as provided by s. 525. Held, further, that it was not open to the Court to treat the application as made in the suit; the application was completely foreign to the suit. The Court had, therefore, no power on that application to dismiss the suit. SHIVLINGRAO v. RANGO, 8 Bom. L.R. 777.

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—continued.

(33)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 522 and 526—Private arbitration—Awird made a rule of Court—Appeal.—When an award made in a private arbitration has been made a rule of Court and a decree passed thereon no appeal will lie except so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award. In this respect there is no difference between a decree based upon a private award and a decree based upon an award made through the intervention of the Court. BAHADUR SINGH v. NEGI PURAN SINGH, A.W.N. 1908, 54=5 A. L.J.160=30 A. 151. (27 A. 526, D.)

(34)—S. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Award—Submission without the intervention of Court—Order refusing to file—No appeal.—No appeal lies from an order refusing to file, under s. 525 of the Code, an award passed upon a submission made without the intervention of the Court. BASANT LAL v. KUNJI LAL, 2 A.L.J. 450=A.W.N. 1905, 165=28 A. 21. (6 A. 186, 26 A. 205=A.W.N. 1903, 234, F; 29 C. 167, Expl; 18 C. 414, R.) [Not F., 4 L.B.R. 130; R., 9 O.C. 205, 1 S.L.R. 149, 7 A.L.J. 425; D, 126 P.R. 1907=88 P.W.R. 1907=50 P.L.R. 1908.]

(35)—Ss. 522, 525, 526, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Arbitration award, private—Decree—Appeal.—When a Court has ordered a private arbitration award to be filed under s. 526, Civ. Pro. Code, and has drawn up a decree in accordance with the award, no appeal lies against such decree except in so far as the decree may be in excess of, not in accordance with the award. Quære.—Whether this rule is not limited to cases of misconduct and has any application when the cause shown against the filing of the award has denied the submission to arbitration or the genuineness of the award. (18 M. 423, R.) S. 526 should be read with s. 522, the provisions of which are, by implication, made applicable to cases under the former section; the Court must proceed to give the judgment according to the award and upon the judgment so given, a decree shall follow, from which decree, no appeal lies, except in so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award. The decision of the Full Bench in 25 C. 757, in so far as it affirmed the decision in 25 C. 141, has been overruled by the Privy Council in the case of 29 I.A. 51. Semble.—An order of refusal by a Court of first instance to file an award under s. 526, Civ. Pro. Code, is a decree, against which an appeal lies. (27 M. 255, 2 C.L.J. 80, F.; 26 A. 205, D.) The bar as to appeal provided by s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, is applicable only when a decree has been made in accordance with the award by the Court of first instance and not when a similar decree has been made by a Court of appeal in reversal of the order of the first Court setting aside the award. CHINTAMONI ADITYA v. HALADHAR MAITI, 2 C.L.J. 153=10 C.W.N. 601. [Appr., 33 C. 899, 33 C. 757=10 C.W.N. 609=3 C.L.J. 450; R., U.B.R. 1906, 4th Qr., Civ. Pro. Code, 52, 1 P.R. 1908=58 P.W.R. 1907, F.B., U.B.R. 1905, C.P.C. 40.]

Arbitration—continued.

——5.—Private Arbitration—concluded.

(36)—Private award regarding family property—Penalty for breach of terms of agreement—Enforcement.—The parties to a private award regarding some family property agreed among themselves that the terms of the agreement should be complied with in a certain way and also agreed to a summary mode of enforcing the penalty prescribed for the breach of the conditions. When application was made to the Court for enforcing the penalty, both parties tried to take advantage of it and an objection was taken that the penalty should be enforced by a regular suit. Held that such an objection cannot be entertained in special appeal. BABOO KOYLASHPUTTY NARAIN SINGH v. BABOO BEER NARAIN SINGH, 6 W. R. Mis. 41.

See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 47, 8 B. 20.

See COMMISSION, 3 B.L.R. App. X 3 (a).

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—SMALL CAUSE COURT SUITS, 4 B.L.R. App. 82=13 W.R. 233.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration.

(1)—Arbitration—Act XVIII of 1873 (N.W.P. Rent Act)—Act XIX of 1873 (N.W.P. Land Rev. Act).—The general law, which allows parties to suits, if they are so minded, before issue joined, to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration, and after issue joined, with the leave of the Court, applies also to suits under Act XVIII of 1873, which does not prohibit such reference. Per Stuart, C.J. contra. GOSHAIN GIRDHARIJI v. DURGA DEVI, 2 A. 119, F.B.

Arbitration*—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(2)—General reference to arbitration—Powers of arbitrator.—Under a general reference of all matters in difference, the arbitrator is not confined within the rules of law and equity, but has greater latitude than the Courts of Law in order to do complete justice between the parties; and he may take into consideration all moral questions in forming his judgment, and decide according to equity and good conscience, e.g., he may relieve against right which lies hard upon one party, but which, having been acquired legally and without fraud, cannot be resisted in a Court of Justice. Such being the powers of arbitrators, the effect of their award also is powerful. An award is a final and conclusive judgment as between the parties respecting all the matters referred by the submission. It binds the rights of the parties for all time without appeal, except where it is provided expressly that it shall have a temporary effect only. (Russel on Arbitration's, 4th edition, pp. 110 and 476, R.) PARMESHRI v. LACHUMI, A W.N. 1884, 148.

(3)—Arbitration—Reference—Award—Powers of arbitrators—Award—Decree.—The Code of Civil Procedure deals with arbitration under three heads: (1) where the parties to a litigation desire to refer to arbitration any matter in difference between them in the suit. In this case all proceedings from first to last are under the supervision of the Court; (2) where parties having recourse to litigation agree to refer their differences to arbitration and it is desired that the agreement of reference should have the sanction of the Court. In that case all further proceedings are under the supervision of the Court; (3) where the agreement of reference is made and the arbitration itself takes place without the intervention of the Court and the assistance of the Court is only sought in order to give effect to the award. There is a difference between these three classes. In cases falling under head 1, the agreement to refer and the application to the Court founded upon it must have the concurrence of all parties concerned and the actual reference is the order of the Court. So, in this class, no question can arise as to the regularity of the proceedings up to that point. In cases falling under heads 2 and 3 proceedings described as a suit and registered as such must be taken in order to bring the matter—the agreement to refer or the award as the case may be—under the cognizance of the Court. There is or may be a litigious proceeding—cause may be shown against the application—and it would seem that the order made thereon is a decree within the meaning of that expression as defined in the Civ. Pro. Code. GHULAM JILANI v. MUHAMMAD, 4 Bom. L.R. 161.

(4)—Ss. 312 and 325, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859. scope of—Agreement to settle suit.—Ss. 312 and 325 of Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, are enabling, and were not intended to be restrictive or exclusive. Parties, who are sui juris, are competent, before decree, to make any agreement as to the settlement of the suit. JOGES SUR BANERJEE v. KULYANEE CHURN DEO, 24 W.R. 41. [R., 1 Bom L.R. 261.]

Arbitration*—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(5)—Duty of Court in passing judgment on award—Matters to be referred to arbitration—Principle.—In passing judgment on an arbitration-award, the Court must confine itself to the plaintiff's claim on which it must give a decision. Whatever matters the parties may agree to refer to arbitration, they can only apply to the Court to refer such matters as are in difference between them in the suit, or any of such matters. TARANATH CHOWDRY v. MANICK CHUNDER DOSS, 14 W.R. 469.

(6)—Arbitration—Act VIII of 1859, s. 313—Parties.—An application for arbitration as provided by s. 313, Act VIII of 1859, is wholly invalid, unless made by all the parties materially interested. BAIKANTHNATH CHATTERJEE v. SHEIKH NAZIRUDDIN, 1 B.L.R.S.N. 11 (b) = 10 W.R. 171.

(7)—Application made during hearing—Civ. Pro. Code. 1859, s. 313—When an application for reference to arbitration is made in open Court at or during the final hearing of a suit, in the presence of all parties, and they consent thereto, a written authority, such as that referred to in s. 313 of Act VIII of 1859, would not be required. MIRZA AKBER BEG v. BUNDA ALI, 2 N.W P. 419; JEYSANKIRA DEVI v. NAGANNADA DEVI, 1 M. 106 = 1 Ind. Jur. O S. 136.

(8)—Submission in writing—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 326—S. 326 of the Civ. Pro. Code made all submission to arbitration by an instrument in writing practically a rule of Court. PESTONJEE NUSERWANJEE v. MANOCKJEE AND CO., 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 69.

(9)—Application, how and by whom to be made.—The application for a reference to arbitration must be made in Court by an instrument in writing by the parties in person or their pleaders specially authorized in that behalf. BHRIGOO ROY v. BHAGRUTH UPADHYA, W. R. 1864, Act X, Rul, 41. [D., 27 C. 61.]

(10)—Oral application of parties.—A reference on the oral application of the parties in person is valid. NATHA SINGH v. JODHA, 24 P.R. 1878.

(11)—Letters submitting to arbitration—Stamp not required—Verbal agreement, evidence of.—Letters written by parties authorising the arbitrators to arbitrate between them do not require to be stamped. Each letter is to be read as against the party writing it, and operates as a submission to arbitration by that party. Together they might be used as evidence of a verbal agreement to submit to arbitration. GANGA RAM KUSHABA RANGOLE v. NARAYAN BABAJI RANGOLE, 19 B. 32.

(12)—Appointment of an umpire, what it implies.—Where an umpire is appointed, the implication is that, under the provisions of ch. VI of Act VIII of 1859, the parties agree to be bound by the award of the umpire or of the majority of the arbitrators. BUSSAWA SINGH v. BOODHOO, 9 P.R. 1869.

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(13)—Arbitration—Consent of all parties necsssary to reference—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 506.—The appointment of arbitrators being virtually a statutory delegation of authority by a Court of Justice to persons who are appointed by the parties as their Judges, such delegation must be in strict conformity with the provisions of the statute which allows such delegation; and therefore, if "all the parties" do not, consent to refer to arbitration, the arbitration is invalid under s 506, Civ. Pro. Code, and the award that follows thereupon is, therefore, also not binding on the parties. DEO NANDAN v. BHIRGU RAI, A.W.N. 1887, 215. (4 A. 302, 10 W.R. 463, Rel. on.) [R., 24 A. 229.]

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code 1882, s. 506—Application by pleader not specially authorised—No acquiescence.—Where a pleader who signed the application for reference to arbitration was not as required by s. 506, Civ. Pro. Code, specially authorised to put in such an application, and there was nothing to show that the reference to arbitration was acquiesced in by the subsequent conduct of the party, held that there was no valid reference to arbitration. SHEO DAS MISSER v. BIRJ NANDAN PERSHAD, 7 C.W. N. 343. (24 C. 469, D.)

(15)—Submission signed by mukhtar not specially empowered—Effect of award.—The signing by a mukhtar, not specially empowered to refer a case to arbitration, of the submission, rendered, under s. 313, Civ. Pro. Code, the award not binding on the principals. WAZEERA v. MOOKUM, 11 P.R. 1869.

(16)—Agent's power to refer to—Custom of trade judicially recognised—Existence of—Contract Act, s. 188—Effect.—Where a custom exists among European importers of Karachi to the effect that no European firms in Karachi will import goods from Europe except on an indent containing an agreement to submit disputes to arbitration, and has been judicially recognised, held, that, in the case of an agent dealing with European firms importing goods, the effect of s. 188 of the Indian Contract Act is to confer upon him the authority to refer the disputes to arbitration, that being a lawful thing necessary for the purposes of doing business. An agent dealing with such firms cannot do business at all unless he agrees to a submission of matters in dispute to arbitration. THOMAS BETRAM SHIMWELL v. BANIRAM GOVINDRAM, 3 S.L. R. 5=1 Ind. Cas. 937.

(17)—Recognised agent—Power to refer to arbitration—Suit for declaration—Jurisdiction.—The recognized agent of a party has power to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration. Where the plaintiff's suit for a declaratory decree for title was dismissed in accordance with the award of arbitrators, it cannot be contended in appeal that the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain a suit for a mere declaratory decree, as in that suit a relief in the form of perpetual injunction was also asked for and as there was nothing in s. 42 to deprive the Court of its jurisdiction. HARI SINGH v. MUSSAMMUT LACHMI, 1 P.R. 1882. [R., 92 P.R. 1885.]

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(18)—Recognised agent.—A party to a suit may file an application to refer the case to arbitration through a recognised agent, who need not be specially authorised like a pleader. RAM DAS v. ABBASS KHAN, 51 P.R. 1893.

(19)—Next friend—Power to refer.—There is nothing in the Civ. Pro. Code which prevents a next friend, suing on behalf of a minor, from referring the matter (minor's interests) to arbitration. HAIDAR v. MAUJU, 92 P.R. 1885. (64 P.R. 1870, F.B., 1 P.R. 1882, 48 P.R. 1882, R.)

(20)—One plaintiff absent—Arbitration—Special authority.—One plaintiff can assent to an arbitration on behalf of another plaintiff only where there is special authority. The Court cannot allow a case, as regards an absent plaintiff, to be decided by a reference to arbitration. GOUR CHUNDER PUTEETUNDO v. JOOGAL CHUNDER alias SHAMA CHURN GHOSE, 1 W.R. 80.

(21)—Unauthorized reference—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 313—Mooktears—Without special authority.—Where a reference to arbitration was made by mooktears of the parties without holding special authority for that purpose as provided by law (s. 313, Act VIII of 1859) from their clients respectively: Held that such reference to arbitration was unauthorised and illegal, and not sufficient to remove the bar of limitation. RAM PERSHAD v. NAZEER HOSSEIN. 1 Agra Rev. 63. See, also, SHUNKER v. HUR NARAIN, 1 Agra Rev. 49.

(22)—Reference to arbitration—Consent of parties, not pleaders—Act X of 1859, if provides for reference.—In referring a matter to arbitration, all the parties to the suit must accord their written consent: the consent of the pleaders is not sufficient. Quære—Does Act X of 1859 empower a Judge to refer a case to arbitration. MONSHEE GAZEE v. HAMEED BUKSH, 16 W.R. 160. [Diss., 27 C. 61.]

(23)—Want of express consent.—The Judge intimated that he should refer the suit to arbitration, and allowed a certain time to the parties to object to that course. No objection was made within such time, and, thereupon the Judge referred the cause to arbitrators named by him. After the day fixed, the defendants objected. Held that the reference was not warranted, there having been no express consent by the parties. DEGUMBUR CHATTERJEE v. RAM PREA DEBEA, Marsh 517=2 Hay 583.

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(24)—Voluntary submission to arbitration—Submission by coercion, effect of.—For a binding award, the parties must voluntarily refer to arbitration; coercion of any sort by the Court will vitiate the reference. ALI BUKSH v. KADIR BUKSH, 28 P.R. 1868.

(25)—Negotiations between parties to suit not to be considered—Refusal to submit to arbitration—Presumption.—Nothing passing between the parties to a suit in an attempt at arbitration or compromise ought to affect the merits of the case as eventually tried before the Court. No presumption can be raised against a party from his refusal to withdraw from the determination, and submit to arbitration. MOHABEER SINGH v. DHUJJOO SINGH, 20 W R. 172.

(26)—Conditions for valid decree on award.—The provisions to be observed in order to the validity of a decree on an arbitration award are that the award should be filed, that the judgment should be passed according to the award and that upon that judgment decree should follow and be carried into effect in the same manner as other decrees of Court. HIMATTOLLAH CHOWDHRY v. BIBEE HEERUN, 13 W.R. 62.

(27)—Reference to arbitration—Provision in cases of aifference among arbitrators.—A Court referring a matter to arbitration must provide for difference of opinion among the arbitrators by enabling a majority to decide the case. FUTTEH SINGH v. GANGO, 4 W.R. 4.

(28)—No provision as to difference of opinion—Effect.—A reference to arbitration is fruitless, if no provision is made as to the procedure in case of difference of opinion. The defect cannot be rectified by the Court authorising the arbitrators to appoint an umpire and to make an award subsequently and without the consent of the parties or their pleaders. MUSSAMMAT BEGAM BIBI v. GHULAM GHAUS, 191 P.R. 1882. [D., 67 P.R. 1886.]

(29)—Agreement — Umpire — Difference of opinion.—Where an agreement to refer to arbitration provides for an umpire, the latter's opinion as to the question referred to will, in cases of difference of opinion, prevail, even though he may not side with the majority. GULAB SINGH v. DHUNI CHAND, 46 P.R. 1889.

(30)—Award by arbitrators—Disagreement—Oral evidence—Admissibility.—An oral stipulation that, in case the arbitrators are not unanimous, the decision of the majority should prevail is admissible in evidence. It does not contradict or vary the express terms of the document, the reference to arbitration being a written submission and providing for the appointment of three arbitrators for deciding the matter in dispute. MA ME HMYIN v. U. NANDA MYIZU, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 8. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 18, 21 C. 213, 25 C. 757, 16 C. 482, R.) [F., 2 L.B.R. 105.]

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(31)—Ss. 318, 326, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—s. 28, Contract Act—Written agreement to refer to arbitration—Order of reference—Award not filed—Order superseding reference—Suit subsequently brought—Agreement not a bar.—An agreement made in writing by the plaintiff and defendant before suit to refer the matter of disputed accounts between them to arbitration was filed in the District Court under s. 326, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, and an order of reference was made. The arbitrators filed no award and about 2 months after, the order of reference was made, the Court, under s. 318, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, superseded the reference and recalled the suit. The plaintiff subsequently sued in the Small Cause Court for the recovery of money received by the defendant for plaintiff's use. Held, that the agreement to refer did not preclude the plaintiff from suing under s. 28 of Indian Contract Act and that the order of the District Court amounted to a rejection of the petition to file the agreement. RAI BHAG SINGH v. ASSA SINGH, 37 P.R. 1876.

(32)—Parties agreeing to refer to—Arbitrarily altering the mind—Breach of agreement—Suit for damages.—On an agreement by the parties to refer their differences to arbitration, the Court should, on the application of one of the parties, file the agreement and proceed under s. 326, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, unless sufficient cause be shown against the agreement by the other party and the fact that such party has altered his mind arbitrarily and without good reason is not a sufficient cause within the section. In case of an arbitrary breach of agreement, a suit for damages will lie. PEER BUKSH v. JUMAL, 80 P.R. 1870.

(33)—Petition of arbitrators not an award.—A report from the arbitrators to the effect that the parties had by their advice settled the dispute amicably between them and executed a document embodying the terms of the settlement not being an award cannot be enforced. ABDUL REHMAN KHAN v. GULAM KADIR KHAN, 79 P.R. 1877.

(34)—Agreement signed by some defendants—Disposal of case as regards others by Court, legality of.—Where only three out of four defendants in a suit signed the agreement to refer to arbitration and the award, followed by a decree, was appealed against, held the decree of a Court dismissing the appeal as regards the three defendants, who had submitted to the arbitration on the ground of the award being final and remanding the case as regards the fourth for a decision on that party's assent was bad in law, as it would give rise to more than one and probably conflicting decisions in the same suit. KHAN MUHAMMAD v. JALAL-UD-DIN, 3 P.R. 1892. (4 P.R. 1882, F.B., 170 P. R. 1883, R.)

(35)—Application to file award—Objections—Revision—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, sch. II, ss. 14, 16.—On an application to file an award, the Court has no power to enquire into and decide objections other than those mentioned in ss. 14 and 16, 2nd Sch., Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, when a party has another remedy open to him, the High Court will not invariably, though usually, refuse to interfere under (s. 622 of 1882), s. 115, Civ. Pro. Code. NARAIN DAS v. MANOHAR LAL, 21 P.R. 1898, F.B. (134 P.R. 1888, 42 P R. 1893, Overruled.) [Overruled, 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901; R., 51 P.R. 1899, 13 P.R. 1903=57 P.L.R. 1903.]

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(36)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 522, 523, 591—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Power of Court to deal with—Finality of award—Appealability.—A Court is bound to go into the question of the factum of an agreement to refer to arbitration. Though a decree based on an award is final, yet, if it could not be shown that there was no valid or legal award, regularly and properly arrived at by arbitrators, it can be appealed against like any other ordinary decree. ATMA RAM v. JAMITA, 134 P.R. 1888. (48 P.R. 1882, R.) [Cited, 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901; Overruled, 21 P.R. 1898, F.B.]

(37)—Award, acceptance of—Subsequent objections—Procedure of Court.—Where a suit is referred to arbitration and an award had been filed, it is an irregular procedure on the part of the Court to adjourn the case for filing objections against the award, when both parties express their willingness to accept the award. If such irregularity is committed at the instance of any party to the suit, such party is (estopped) by his conduct from questioning the proceedings of the Court. SHEO NARAIN v. SHEO RAM, 15 P.R. 1899.

(38)—Date fixed for filing award—Holiday—Filing on following day proper.—Where the date fixed for filing an award falls on a Court holiday, it may properly be filed on the following day and such filing will be held to be within time. MUHAMMAD YUSAF v. KARIM BAKSH, 78 P.R. 1899.

(39)—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Plea of fraud—Investigation by Court.—In an application to file an agreement to refer a dispute to arbitration, if the defendant raises any objection, such as, that it was obtained by fraud, misrepresentation, etc., the Court is bound to investigate the matter and adjudicate upon his objections. The defendant's bare allegation that his consent was not a free and intelligent consent is not a sufficient cause for not filing the agreement, till the Court adjudicates upon it. RAM PATTER v. BASAKAMAL, 49 P.R. 1893. (13 P.R. 1888, F.) [Overruled, 21 P.R. 1898, F.B.; R., 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901.]

(40)—Remuneration of arbitrators—Power of Court to order.—The Court cannot, when there is no agreement by parties to pay any sum as remuneration to arbitrators, order deposit or payment of money for such purpose. MUL CHAND v. NARINJAN DAS, 94 P.R. 1894.

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(41)—Consent to refer to arbitration—Additional property—Mutual mistake.—When a dispute after succession was referred to arbitration, and it was found after the award that the property was larger than was supposed at the time of the reference, held that the plaintiff, though a party thereto, could claim her share in the additional property. MA PWA v. MA BWIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 196.

(42)—Condition as to payment of costs—Legality of.—The Court has no power to hold back a reference to arbitration or attach to it a condition as to payment of costs. The power to deal with costs is limited to an order after the filing of the award. KAUSHIA v. PIRA, 11 P.R. 1886, Rev.

(43)—Arbitration award—Reference by Tahsildar—Ultra vires—Hindu Law—Mother's share—Right to inherit—In a mutation case, the parties made an application to the Tahsildar, who was a Magistrate of second class, stating that they would be bound by the award of one P. The Tahsildar made a reference to arbitration. Held, that the Tahsildar had no power to make the reference, and the award, not having been made on private reference, was ultra vires. The share which a Hindu mother gets on partition between her sons is her stridhan. MATHURA PRASAD v. GANGA RAM, 7 A.L.J. 69=5 Ind. Cas. 519.

(44)—Withdrawal from the arbitration.—The parties to a suit agreed through their attorneys to refer the suit to arbitration; and Judge's order was by consent of both attorneys signed in order to carry out that agreement. The defendant was present at the two meetings of the arbitrators but afterthat he changed his attorney, and sent notices to the plaintiff and to the arbitrators withdrawing his assent to the arbitration and took out summons alleging that as he did not sign a special authority to his attorney to sign the consent order that order was not binding upon him: Held, that the objection was not valid and the order of reference would stand good. Semble.—When a party has seen an order of reference to arbitration and authorized his attorney to consent to it, even though he does not sign it, that writing may be regarded as a special authorization in writing to his attorney to consent to the terms referred to therein. BHANMAL v. MATHURADAS, 1 Bom. L.R. 261.

(45)—One of the arbitrators unable to act—Superseding reference.—If one of the arbitators becomes unable to act, the Court can supersede the reference and decide the case itself. MEHTAB v. MUSSAMMAT MADAN, 24 P.R. 1875.

(46)—Arbitrator—Referee—Consent order—Referee unable to act—Court's jurisdiction to proceed with the hearing.—There is a great difference between the appointment of an arbitrator and of a valuer or referee: the first is appointed to decide differences which have arisen, the second to prevent differences arising.

Arbitration—continued.

—6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

Where, a consent order is taken out, by the parties to a suit, referring the dispute to a referee, and it becomes impossible for the referee to act, it is competent to the Court to set the consent order aside and to proceed with the further hearing of the suit. SHANTARAM v. JAMSETJI, 4 Bom. L. R. 212.

(47)—Arbitration—Invalid reference and award—Appeal from decree passed in accordance with such award.—Where there is no valid reference to arbitration and no valid award, the decree passed in accordance with it cannot be maintained, and an appeal lies against such decree. SHIB LAL v. CHATURBHUJ, 6 A.L.J. 496=2 Ind. Cas. 363=31 A. 450. (6 A.L.J. 333, R.)

(48)—Ss. 462 and 506, et seq—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Guardian and minor—Arbitration—Authority of guardian to agree to a reference to arbitration on behalf of the minor.—Semble: that s. 462 of the Code does not apply to proceedings under Chapter XXXVII of the Code. A minor party, therefore, will be bound by the consent of his guardian to refer the matters in dispute to arbitration, if there is no fraud or gross negligence, although the Court has not, under the provisions of s. 462, sanctioned the agreement to refer. HARDEO SAHAI v. GAURI SHANKAR, A.W.N. 1905, 171=2 A.L.J. 493=28 A. 25.

(49)—Award—Decree—Appeal—Second submission, effect of—Infructuous arbitration—Order of remand good.—In a suit to recover money, the parties referred the matter to arbitration. An award was made and a decree passed in the terms thereof, the Court of first instance having overruled all objections to the validity of the award. Upon appeal to the District Judge on the ground that there was no valid award in law, the parties agreed to refer the matter to a fresh arbitration. The second submission having proved infructuous, and the suit having been remanded for trial on the merits, held, that the effect of the agreement to refer the matter to fresh arbitration was that the decree and the award upon which the decree had been founded, were both set aside and could not be regarded as subsisting; the course open to the Judge was either to try the case on the merits or to refer the matter to arbitration. The Court adopted the latter course, and the arbitration having proved infructuous, the only other course open to the Court was to remand the case for trial on the merits. RAHIM BAKSH v. RAM NATH, 2 A.L.J. 477=A.W.N. 1905, 164.

(50)—Execution of decree—Costs, question as to, referred in, by agent of judgment-debtor having no express power to refer it to—Subsequent ratification by principal of his agent's reference of the question of costs to arbitration—Civ. Pro. Code, Ch. XXXVII.—The respondents held a decree against the husband of appellant No. 1, in which there was a question as to costs incurred in an appeal to the Privy

Arbitration—continued.

—6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

Council. In execution-proceedings of this decree, the decree-holders and the agent of the judgment-debtor applied to have this question of costs referred to arbitration. The agent was not specially authorised to refer the matter to arbitration. The reference was, however, subsequently ratified by his principal, the judgment-debtor. The award was objected to, on behalf of the appellants, on two grounds. Firstly, that Chap. XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to arbitration did not apply to execution-proceedings; secondly, the award was illegal and void ab initio because it was made on the application of an agent not specially authorised in writing to make such an application. Held, that Chap. XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to arbitration applies also to execution proceedings. Held, further, that where the principal, subsequent to the reference, ratified the conduct of his agent, such ratification cured the defect in procedure. MUSSAMMAT SATTAR-UN-NISSA v. SHAIKH MUHAMMAD RUHULLA, 8 O C. 263. (17 A. 106, P.C., Expl.; 9 M. 451, 24 C. 469, 23 B. 629, R.)

(51)—Agreement to refer under mistake—Right to set it aside.—An agreement to refer to arbitration made under a mistake of law may be set aside, but not an award made in pursuance of the reference. MANBODH v. BARI BOHU, 3 C.P.L.R. 89.

(52)—Reference of question of fact during pendency of appeal.—During the pendency of an appeal, any question of fact in issue between the parties may be referred to arbitrators for decision by them. KAPILESHWAR v. JOHARMAL, 1 C.P.L.R. 118. (7 A. 243, Not F.; 21 W R. 210, F.)

(53)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 506, 522—Reference to arbitration—Reference not at instance of all parties to suit—Decree in terms of award—Appeal.—In a suit for an account of a partnership business, the matter in dispute was referred to arbitration at the instance of the plaintiff and some of the defendants. The legal representative of one of the defendants, who had died, was not a party to the reference. The arbitrators having made an award, a decree was passed in terms thereof. The question was whether there was an appeal against the decree. Held, that the petition requesting the Court to refer the matter to arbitration in a case for winding up of a partnership should not have been granted except on the application of all the parties. The legal representative of the deceased defendant not being a party to it, the reference was illegal and the award was void. There was therefore an appeal against the decree notwithstanding that it was in conformity with what purported to be an award. INDUR SUBBARAMI REDDY v. KANDADAI RAJAMANNAR AYYANGAR, 26 M. 47=12 M.L.J. 396. [Diss., 6 M.L.T. 176; R., 17 C.P.L.R. 147, 17 M.L.J. 394; F., 32 M. 510=19 M.L.J. 480.]

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(54)—Suit for removal of trustee—Reference to arbitration by Court—Jurisdiction.—The District Judge has jurisdiction to refer to arbitration a suit for the removal of a trustee. NAMBI AIYANGAR v. NARAYANA, 11 M.L J. 337.

(55)—Application of a party—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 375, 506 and 523.—Where one of the parties to a suit applied to the Court for an order referring the matters in dispute in the suit to arbitration, stating that there had been an agreement between the parties to make such a reference, and the Court passed such an order under s. 375, Civ. Pro. Code, held that the Court was not competent to make the order under s. 375; and that neither s. 506 nor s. 523, Civ. Pro. Code, applied, as, under both the sections, the agreement to refer to arbitration must be in writing, and s. 523, Civ. Pro. Code, did not apply to the agreement as there was a pending suit (6 C.W.N. 276, F.; 4 B. 1, Diss.) Per Maclean, C.J.—A mere agreement to refer to arbitration is not an agreement within the meaning of s. 375, Civ. Pro. Code, (26 B. 76, D). Per Hill and Stevens, JJ.—Since the application was not made with advertence to s. 375 or with a view to the adjustment of the suit within the meaning of that section, the Court was wrong in passing an order under that section. Quære:—Whether an agreement to refer to arbitration would under no circumstances be an adjustment of the suit within the meaning of s. 375, Civ. Pro. Code? FAKIR CHAND DEY v. TINCOWRI DEY, 7 C.W.N. 180.

(56)—Question of title referred to arbitration—What it implies.—Where parties agree to refer the question of title to arbitration, it is implied that possession will be given up, if the decision be adverse to the defendant. If defendant refuses to deliver up possession, a new cause of action arises, and one different from any mentioned in Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 27. RAJ NARAIN ROY v. MOODHOO SOODAN MOOKERJEE, 20 W.R. 19.

(57)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 523, cl. 4—Agreement to refer future differences to arbitration, if within section—Naming of arbitrator, if necessary.—S. 523 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, is not confined to cases in which a dispute actually existing at the date of the agreement is agreed to be referred to arbitration. And although the section does not contemplate an agreement to refer future differences being filed until differences have actually arisen, still, when a difference has arisen, it is immaterial whether the agreement to refer is contained in a previously existing agreement entered into for the purpose of determining the existing dispute. And the words "any difference" must be taken to embrace alike any present difference and any future difference arising out of the contract. Although giving its widest meaning of "designated" or "described" to the word

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

"named" in the section, still, when the agreement provides only for the future appointment or election of arbitrators, it cannot be said that they are "named" and therefore the agreement does not fall within the section. The last clause in s. 523 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, is not happily worded, nor does it adapt itself readily to, or fit in with, the provisions of its earliar clauses. It appears inferentially to give the parties power by agreement to nominate their arbitrator, even when they have agreed that their differences shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the Court. In such a case, the Court must appoint their nominee, which is not unreasonable. This is the only mode of reading the section so as to make it harmonious throughout. FAZUL BHOY MEHRALI CHINOY v. THE BOMBAY AND PERSIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, LD., 20 B. 232, F.B.

(58)—Will—Probate, application for—Caveat—Reference to arbitration—Award, effect of.—Where against the application for probate of a will by the executor, a caveat was filed denying the execution of the alleged will, and the matter was duly registered as a regular suit and both the parties subsequently referred "the dispute" to arbitrators and an award was made that the alleged will had not been executed, held that the award was binding on the executor, and that the Testamentary Court had jurisdiction to try the question of the award, and was not limited to the question of the execution of the will, as contended by the executor who wanted to proceed with the suit in spite of the award. GHELLABHAI ATMARAM v. NANDUBHAI, 20 B. 238.

(59)—Arbitrators appointed without intervention of Court—Disagreement—Appeal from order of Court filing award—Code of Civil Procedure, ss. 525, 526, 522.—When parties have agreed to refer a matter to arbitrators appointed without the intervention of a Court, and the agreement makes no provision for difference of opinion, it must be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that unanimity was intended. U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 18, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 5, F.) S. 522 no doubt applies where the Court has made a reference to arbitration. Ss. 526 and 522 do not operate to bar an appeal from an order filing such an award, when the objection is that by reason of want of unanimity the award is void. MUANG THA AUNG v. MAUNG THA SHUN, 2 L.B.R. 105. (25 C. 141, 16 C. 482, R.)

(60)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, Ch. VI—Power of Court to refer dispute to arbitration.—Held (in accordance with the opinion of the Full Bench) that the lower Appellate Court was competent to refer the matters in difference in the suit to arbitration, under the provisions of Act VIII of 1859. Ch. VI. CHIRANJI LAL v. JAMNA DAS, 7 N.W.P. 243, F.B.

Arbitration—continued.

——6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

(61)—Award—Appeal.—It is competent for an appellant, in his appeal against a decree, to contest an order of the Court setting aside an arbitration award. MAUNG TA HIN v. AH KIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 310. (9 A. 447, 10 A. 97, 14 B. 232, 7 C. 148, 23 C. 335, 24 C. 725, 7 M.I.A. 302, 14 W.R. 327, Rel. on.)

(62)—Plaintiff objecting to arbitration—Reference to arbitration—Validity of award.—Where, notwithstanding that plaintiffs actively object, a case is submitted to arbitration, the award is invalid. (Quære) Is an Appellate Court authorised to refer to arbitration a case pending in appeal? SREEMUTTY HACHUN BANOO v. ABDOOL HAKIM, 19 W.R. 321.

(63)—Reference to arbitration in appeal, Civ. Pro. Code, s. 582—An Appellate Court may, with the consent of the parties, refer matters in dispute in appeal, to arbitration, as s. 582, Civ. Pro. Code, imposes the same duties on Appellate Courts as it does on Courts of First Instance. SANKARALINGAM PILLAI, Petitioner, 3 M. 78. (12 B L.R. 266, Diss.) [F., 18 C. 507; R., 12 C. 173.]

(64)—Suits under the Civ. Pro. Code of 1859—Reference to arbitration under Code of 1877—Suit for Kabuliat—Decree in terms of the award of arbitrators.—Though the chapter on reference to arbitration in the Civ. Pro. Code of 1877 does not refer to suits instituted under the old Code, Act X of 1859 (Bengal Rent), yet parties to a suit under the latter Act are at liberty to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration, through the Court and a decree passed in terms of the award is valid. (W.R. 1864, Mis. Rul. 21, 4 B. 1, R.) Where, in a suit for a Kabuliat, the matter was referred to arbitration, a decree in terms of the award was held valid though the rate of rent in the award was less than that demanded by the plaintiff, where the rate determined by the arbitrators is fair and equitable. KHEMNA GOWALA v. BUDOLOO KHAN, 6 C. 251=7 C.L.R. 92.

(65)—Suit for removal of member of devastanam Committee—Arbitration—Award.—A District Court may refer to arbitration, and the arbitrators may decide the question of the dismissal from office of the members of a Devastanam Committee. Also, interest prior to date of suit on the sums misappropriated by the members of a committee, though not asked for in the plaint, may be awarded, provided the whole amount awarded does not exceed the amount of damages claimed therein. PERUMAL NAIK v. SAMINATHA PILLAI, 19 M. 498. [F., 11 M.L.J. 337=12 M.L.J. 431.]

(66)—Suit instituted in Court without jurisdiction—Reference to arbitration, and decree in accordance with award passed therein—Finality of decree.—Where a suit, instituted in a Court having no jurisdiction, is referred to arbitration, and a decree passed in accordance with the award passed therein, it is competent for the Appellate Court, the finality of the decree according to the award notwithstanding, to entertain the question whether the lower Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. KALIAN DAS v. GANGA SAHAI, 5 A. 300=A.W.N. 1883, 100. (4 A. 280, R.; 7 C. 157, 7 C. 428, Diss.)

(67)—Ss. 506, 578, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Reference to arbitration made by Court on verbal application—Effect.—Para 2, s. 506, Civ. Pro. Code, which says that every application for an order of reference shall be in writing, is directory only, as to the form of application to be made. Non-compliance with its provisions does not render the reference a nullity. Absence of a written application to the Court under that section, when the parties otherwise consent to the reference to arbitration, does not render the reference void, such non-compliance amounting only to an irregularity which would be cured by s. 578, Civ. Pro. Code. Such non-compliance does not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court. SHAMA SUNDRAM IYER v. ABDUL LATIF, 27 C. 61=4 C.W.N. 92. (6 M.I.A. 134, 16 W.R. 160, R.; W R. 1864, Act X, Rul 41, D.) [F., 4 A.L.J. 691=A.W.N. 1907, 273=30 A. 32; Appr., 4 P.R. 1907=20 P.W.R. 1907; R., 5 O.C. 13.]

(68)—S. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Illegal award—Appeal—Reference by unauthorised agent—Implied ratification by principal.—An appeal will lie from an award, which is illegal and void ab initio (17 B. 357, F.) [F., 1 Bom. L.R. 261, 2 N L.R. 81; R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 548, 112 P.L.R. 1901=84 P.R. 1901, 5 O.C. 13.] When a principal is aware of the reference to arbitration on the application of his agent not authorised to do so, and tacitly ratifies the action of his agent in applying for such reference, he cannot then question the legality of the order of reference. SATURJIT PERTAB BAHADOOR SAHI v. DULHIN BULAP KOER, 24 C. 469. (9 M. 451, R.) [F., 8 O.C. 263; D., 28 C. 303=5 C.W.N. 268, 7 C.W.N. 343.]

(69)—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Plea in bar of suit—Specific Relief Act, s. 21.—Before s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act could be pleaded in bar of a suit for damages for breach of a contract according to whose terms the parties had agreed to refer any disputes between them to arbitration; it must be shown that the plaintiff had refused to refer to arbitration. The filing of the plaint is not such a refusal. KOOMUD CHUNDER DASS v. CHUNDER KANT MOOKERJEE, 5 C. 498=5 C.L.R. 284. [F., 80 P.R. 1906=70 P.L.R. 1907; R., 11 B. 199, U.B.R. 1897=1901, Vol. II, 542.]

(70)—Reference to—by Court against the protest of a party—Award on such arbitration not binding—Civ. Pro. Code (VIII of 1859), ss. 312, 314.—No power is vested in the Court of the Civil Judge at Lucknow, under the provisions of ss. 312 and 314 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act VIII of 1859) which is in force in

Arbitration—continued.

— 6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

Oudh, to refer the decision of any issue raised in a suit to arbitrators nominated by the Court against the protest of one of the parties. An award founded on such a reference, held, on appeal, not binding on a defendant and set aside, as the parties must either name the arbitrators or consent to the nomination of them by the Court. SHEONATH v. RAMNATH, 5 W.R. 21, P.C.=10 M.I.A. 413=1 I.J.N.S. 161=1 Suther. 616=2 Sar. 134.

(71)—Matters beyond jurisdiction—Filing of agreement to refer to.—The matters comprised in an agreement to refer to arbitration must be those over which a Civil Court must have jurisdiction to give a final adjudication. An agreement dealing with matters beyond its jurisdiction cannot be ordered to be filed. In such a case, the Court has no power to strike out that portion of the agreement which was in excess of its jurisdiction and accept the other portion, unless the parties agreed to do so. PARTAB SINGH v. DEVI SINGH, 5 P.R. 1883. [F., 56 P.R. 1886.]

(72)—Agreement—Matters beyond jurisdiction—Effect of award.—Where an award deals with matters beyond the jurisdiction of the Court and is thus partly illegal, it is illegal as a whole. FATEH SINGH v. KARM CHAND, 56 P.R. 1886. (5 P.R. 1883, F.) [D., 32 P.R. 1888.]

(73)—Omission to pass order of reference—Defect fatal—Ss. 508, 509, 512, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—The omission to pass an order of reference to arbitration will vitiate the whole arbitration proceedings and there can be no legal award without such order. HARCHAND RAI v. CHUTTAN LAL, 35 P.R. 1884. (3 P.R. 1883, R.)

(74)—Omission to pass order of reference—Legality of award—Procedure—S. 524, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—An award passed without an order of reference by the Court is illegal and the proper order for the appellate Court to pass is to remand the case in order that, after making an order of reference, it might proceed under s. 524, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. RALLA RAM v. BADHAWA MAL, 67 P.R. 1886. (191 P.R. 1882, D.) [R., 22 P.R. 1891.]

(75)—Reference to arbitration—Filing of award and decree passed in accordance with it, over-ruling defendant's objections—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 520, 521.—Where a Subordinate Judge, overruling certain objections made by the defendant, made a decree in favour of the plaintiff, in accordance with the award, held that it was not competent to the District Judge to hear an appeal from such decree. ASSADULLAH KHAN v. AHMADULLAH KHAN, A.W.N. 1882, 93. (4 A. 283=A.W.N. 1882, 34, F.)

(76)—Reference to—Omission as to time within which award to be submitted—Validity of award—Bombay Regulation, VII of 1827.—In order to enable the Zillah Court, under Bom. Reg VII of 1827, to give an award the force of a decree of Court, the deed of submission to arbitration must contain all the conditions required by that Regulation. S. 3, cl. 1, of Bom. Reg. VII of 1827, enacts, among other things, that the deed of reference must contain "the time within which the award is to be given." A deed of submission to arbitration contained no provision for the time when the award was to be made by the arbitrator; held to be bad, and an award made under it, which had been ordered to be enforced as a decree of Court, directed to be taken off the file, as the Court had no jurisdiction except upon fulfilment of the requirements of the Regulation. NUSSERWANJEE PESTONJEE v. MEER MYNOODEEN KHAN WULLUD MEER SUDROODEEN KHAN BAHADOOR, 6 M.I.A. 134.

(77)—Question of limitation when to be raised.—All question of limitation must be presumed to have been disposed of prior to the first reference to arbitration. JAGMANDHAR DAS v. PIARI LAL, A.W.N. 1881, 17.

(78)—Award—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 520—Limitation—Court not competent after award to dismiss suit on point of limitation.—After a suit has been referred for decision to arbitrators with the consent of parties and of the Court and an award has been delivered, it is not competent to the Court to dismiss the suit on a point of limitation. RAMJATAN RAI v. SHEOBALAK RAI, A.W.N. 1897, 162. (S.D. A.N.W.P., 1864, 472, R.)

See ACCOUNTS — MISCELLANEOUS, 35 P.R. 1867.

—Suit to remove trustee—Reference by Court of entire suit to arbitrator—Legality of reference—See ACT XX of 1863, s. 16, 26 M. 361.

See U. P. ACT, XIX OF 1873, ss. 222, 223, 231, A.W.N. 1882, 82.

See APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, 109 P.R. 1883, 130 P.R. 1883, 170 P.R. 1883.

—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Appeal from order of reference—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 2, sch. II, r. 17, 126 P.R. 1907=98 P.W.R. 1907=50 P.L.R. 1908.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 3, sch. II, r. 5, 10 P.R. 1899.

—Reference to arbitration in pending suit—Interest of minors involved—Order of reference not made by Court—Validity of award—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, O. XXXII, r. 7, 24 M. 326.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, sch. II, rr. 1, 17, 30 C. 218.

Authority of guardian to agree to arbitration on behalf of a minor—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXII, r. 7; sch. II, r. 1, A.W.N. 1905, 171=2 A.L.J. 493=28 A. 85.

Arbitration—continued.

—6.—Reference to Arbitration—continued.

—Decree in accordance with award—Reference to arbitration by guardian ad litem of minor without Court's sanction, validity of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXIII, r. 4; O. XXXII, r. 7, sob. II, r. 1; O. XLI, r. 23, 4 P.R. 1907 = 20 P.W.R. 1907.

See COSTS—TAXATION OF COSTS, 61 P.R. 196.

—Will—Application for probate by executor—Executor whether could submit to arbitration—Question of execution of will—Admissibility of evidence to explain written document—See EXECUTION, 21 B. 335.

—Reference to—Invalidity of award—Second reference without consent—Validity of second award—See FOREIGN COURT—JUDGMENT OF, 2 M.L.T. 269=30 M. 292.

—Partition suit referred to arbitration—Death of arbitrator after making partition—Application to determine partition—Right of minor plaintiff to account—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 27 C. 1013.

—Termination of pleader's authority—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—PLEADER—AUTHORITY TO BIND CLIENT, A.W.N. 1888, 199.

See LIMITATION—QUESTION OF LIMITATION, 3 N.W.P. 177.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, A.W.N. 1885, 19.

—Dispute about succession to trusteeship cannot be referred to—Award—Application to file award—Jurisdiction of Court—What matters can be referred to—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF, 6 Ind. Cas. 219=7 A.L.J. 761.

See REMAND, 22 W.R. 207.

See RES JUDICATA—MATTERS IN ISSUE, 13 B. 242.

—Reference by Court to—Munsarim's power to fix date for hearing—Effect of sch. 2, cl. 8, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908—See REVISION—GENERAL, 13 O.C. 341=8 Ind. Cas. 876.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—AWARDS, SUITS CONCERNING, 3 N.W.P. 92.

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE, 6 A. 101=A.W.N. 1883, 226.

—Withdrawal of suit before award with liberty to bring a fresh suit—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 1 A.L.J. 257.

—Arbitration—Refusal to refer—Suit in respect of matter agreed to be referred—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 8 A. 57=A.W.N. 1885, 331.

—Suit referred to arbitration—Withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring fresh suit—Subsequent suit for same matter, maintainability of—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 9 A. 168=A.W.N. 1887. 13.

Arbitration—continued.

—6.—Reference to Arbitration—concluded.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 19 P.R. 1896, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol II, 542 P.L.R. 1900, p. 451, A.W.N. 1882, 58, A.W.N. 1898, 133.

See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, ss. 261, 234, 12 P.R. 1894.

See WAIVER, 6 M.I.A. 134.

—7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration.

(1)—Submission to arbitration—Withdrawal—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 326—Revocation.—A submission to arbitration is not countermandable when it has been made a rule of Court under s. 326, Civ. Pro. Code. If a revocation by deed can set aside a deed by which a person binds himself to abide by the decision of arbitrators, revocation by parol may set aside a parol agreement. ALLA AIYAPPA v. NUNDULA PERAIYA, 3 M.H.C. 82. [Appl., 1 N.W.P. 252.]

(2)—Submission or reference to—Whether revocable.—A party is incompetent to revoke a regular submission to arbitration. PARS RAM v. ASA RAM, 9 P.R. 1870.

(3)—Power to revoke arbitrators' authority.—A party to an agreement to refer a matter in dispute to arbitration has power to revoke, at any time before the award, the authority of the arbitrators appointed by him. KOEGLAR v. THE CORINGA OIL CO., 1 C. 42. (On appeal, 1 C. 466.) [D., 17 B. 129.]

(4)—Revocation of arbitrators' authority to arbitrate.—A revocation of the authority of arbitrators must be clear and distinct. If it is ambiguous or doubtful, it cannot operate as a revocation. KELLIE v. FRASER, 2 C. 445.

(5)—Award — Validity — Setting aside.—When parties to a suit agree to refer the same to arbitrators and bind themselves to abide by their decision, the award of the arbitrators cannot be set aside lightly or for a mere formal defect. If the arbitrators act in excess of their authority, the award will be good and valid so far as it refers to matters within the scope of their arbitration and the rest may be thrown out as invalid,—but the award will not on that score become wholly invalid. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, LAHORE v. BUTA, 65 P.R. 1899.

(6)—Remitting award, proper Court for.—The propriety of remitting an award should properly be judged by the Court accepting such award. SECUNDUR BEG v. MUSSAMMAT RAJEE, 12 P.R. 1869; CHOOHUR SINGH v. JEET SINGH, 64 P.R. 1870. [F., 1 P.R. 1882; R., 92 P.R. 1885, 92 P.R. 1903.]

(7)—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Lapse by long efflux of time.—When nine months were allowed to run without either party taking active measures to carry out an agreement to refer a dispute to arbitration, the plaintiff cannot be debarred from prosecuting his suit. JEORAKHUN LOLL v. MUTTRA PERSHAD, 1 N.W.P. 252.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(8)—Arbitration—Reference of existing dispute—Binding character of reference.—An agreement to refer an existing dispute to arbitration is as binding and capable of enforcement as any other lawful contract; and a submission of such a dispute to arbitration once made is not, without just and sufficient cause, revocable. NAGASAWMY NAIK v. RUNGASAWMY NAIK, 8 M.H.C. 46. [R., 10 B. 381, 27 M. 112=13 M.L.J. 311.]

(9)—Effect of—Plaintiff revoking consent to arbitration.—A plaintiff's revocation of his consent to arbitration does not put an end to the arbitrator's power. MUSSAMUT ABLAKHEE KOOER v. OODEN SINGH, 15 W.R. 331.

(10)—Arbitration—Revocation of submission, whether permissible.—Where parties had agreed to submit the matter in difference between them to arbitration, no party to such agreement could revoke the submission unless for good cause; and a mere arbitrary revocation of authority would not be permitted. (12 M. I.A. 112, R.) Where the parties selected a vakil's clerk as an arbitrator on the vakil's promising to assist him in every way, and subsequently one of the parties sought to revoke the submission on the ground that the arbitrator was being unduly influenced by his master, held that there was no sufficient cause under the circumstances for the revocation. SULTAN MUHAMMAD KHAN v. SHEO PRASAD, 20 A. 145.

(11 & 12) Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 506, 508, 510, 521—Arbitration, reference, to—Revocation of authority of arbitrators when and how can be made.—Where an order of reference to arbitration has once been made under s. 506 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, it is not competent to the Court under the second paragraph of s. 508 of the Code to "deal with" the matter in difference between the parties "except as provided" in the sections of chapter XXXVII of the Code, following s. 508. There is no section of that chapter which authorise the Court to revoke the authority conferred on the arbitrator, and to appoint a new one; s. 510, which permits the appointment of a new arbitrator, applies only in cases falling strictly within the purview of that section; i.e., where the scope and object of the reference cannot be executed. Even under s. 510, the authority conferred on the arbitrator can be revoked, only "for good cause," such as where an arbitrator "refuses or neglects or becomes incapable to act, or leaves British India under circumstances showing that he will not probably return at an early date." And the enactment of the second paragraph of s 508 of the Code, which does not occur in the corresponding s.315 of Act VIII of 1859, has the effect of rigidly restricting the Courts to the exact procedure laid down when dealing with cases in which the appointment of a new arbitrator becomes necessary. In the present case, a reference was made under s. 506 of the Code by both the parties to the suit. It was signed by the defendant and the plaintiff's pleader who, however, happened to possess no special authority in writing to consent to such a reference. The Court, therefore, postponed making any order to a certain date, and the required authority having been obtained and submitted by the pleader within that time, the order was made. Sometime after, the defendant applied to revoke the authority of the arbitrator and to appoint a new one, on the ground that after signing the reference he became aware of certain circumstances connected with the arbitrator which showed he was not likely to act impartially. Held, that the objection not having been taken till the order of reference was made, i.e., till the plaintiff's pleader produced the necessary authority, his failure to do so implied acquiescence in the course adopted by the Court, and that such acquiescence amounted to a fresh submission; and that, as no charges of misconduct or partiality imputed to the arbitrator had been made out, the authority could not be revoked. HALIMBHAI KARIMBHAI v. SHANKER SAI, 10 B. 381. (9 Bom. H.C 177, 8 W.R. 171, R.) [R., 1 Bom. L.R. 261, 3 A.L.J. 185=A. W.N. 1906, 51.]

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(13)—Reference by Court—Revocation at party's suggestion—Award set aside and matter tried as suit—Examination of arbitrator as witness.—A reference to arbitration made under an order of Court cannot be revoked at the instance of a party. If an arbitration award is set aside, and the matter is tried as a suit, the arbitrator cannot be examined as a witness as to the grounds of his decision, but only to prove any admission which may have been made before him. NIL MONEE BOSE v. MOHINA CHUNDER DUTT, 17 W.R. 516. [R., 10 B. 381.]

(14)—Submission to—Preliminary award—Revocation of agreement to submit to arbitration.—A and B, two partners, agreed to submit certain differences to arbitration. The arbitrators entered into consideration of the matters referred to them, and gave a preliminary decision, which the parties to the arbitration submitted to and acted on; as, however, the arbitrators could not agree upon all the points referred to them, they were requested by A to make their award within ten days or to appoint an umpire. Some delay took place in the appointment of the umpire, when, A sent notice to withdraw from the arbitration and cancel the agreement, upon which B applied by petition to the Court, under the 326th section of the Civ. Pro. Code, to make the submission to arbitration a rule of Court, which was ordered. Held, that it was not in the power of A, at his mere will and pleasure, to revoke the authority of the arbitrators, in whose appointment he had concurred, and has acquiesced in, and acted upon, their preliminary award. PESTONJEE NUSSURWANJEE

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

v. MANOCKJEE & CO., 10 W.R. 51, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 112=1 I.J. N.S. 69=2 Suther 164=2 Sar. 390. (On appeal from 3 M H.C. 183). [F., 15 W.R. 331. 7 A. 273. 17 C. 200 ; Cons., 21 W.R. 395; R., 22 W.R. 522, 7 M.H.C. 257, 8 M H.C. 46, 10 B. 381, 11 B. 199, 17 B. 129, 20 A. 145, 27 M. 112=13 M.L.J. 311, 29 A. 13=3 A.L.J. 613=A.W.N. 1906, 253 ; D., 9 A. 253.]

(15)—Agreement to have case decided on the evidence of third person—Revocation of agreement—Act X of 1873 (Oaths Act), ss. 8, 12—Arbitration—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, Chapter XXXVII—An agreement to have a case decided on the evidence of a third person given on oath, is in the nature of a reference to arbitration under the Civ. Pro. Code, and would be valid and binding on the parties to a suit if all of them join in it. The provisions of ss. 8, 12 of the Oaths Act have no application to such a case. (Per Stuart, C.J.) Such an agreement does not constitute a reference to arbitration and is not governed by the provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code, relating to arbitration ; and assuming it to be made under the Oaths Act, there is nothing to prevent the parties from revoking it. (Per Oldfield, J.) LEKHRAJ SINGH v. DULHMA KUAR. 4 A. 302. [Appr. 29 A. 49=3 A. L.J. 654=A.W.N. 1906, 280 ; R., 18 A. 46. 85 P.R. 1903=143 P.L.R. 1903.]

(16)—Revocation by Court—Illness of arbitrators—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 318.—Where one of the arbitrators had been ill and the time for sending it in elapsed before they could make their award, the Court superseded the arbitration and recalled the suit. JOSEPH v. SREERKER, Bourke O.C. 359.

(17)—Submission to arbitration—Long and unreasonable delay on the part of a party to prosecute proceedings—Revocation — S. 523, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Aid of Court Sought in appointment of arbitrator.—Generally, a submission to arbitration can be revoked on good and sufficient grounds. The claimant, in a reference to arbitration, is the person on whom, ceteris paribus, it is incumbent to promote the conduct of the proceedings. Where there is a long, unexplained and unreasonable delay on the part of a party to prosecute proceedings before the arbitrator, and the other party did not conduce to it or consent to it, the latter is, prima facie, entitled to decline to go on with the reference and to insist on revoking the agreement to refer to arbitration. [F., U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 542, 29 C. 278.] So, an agreement to refer having been duly revoked, it is no longer competent to the Court to order the agreement to be filed under s. 523, Civ. Pro. Code. It seems, in a case in which no arbitrator has been named in an agreement and the aid of the Court is sought for the appointment of an arbitrator, the Court ought to have allowed the parties an opportunity of being heard as to the selection of an arbitrator. O.R. COLY v. V. A. DACOSTA, 17 C. 200.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(18)—Withdrawal from submission to arbitration—Sufficient cause.—A party is not entitled to withdraw, without good cause shown, from a submission to arbitration. Where an arbitration award is about to be pronounced, and a party withdraws on the ground that the arbitrator is entering into foreign matters, and that a minor is likely to be interested who will not be bound, the grounds do not constitute a good cause for withdrawal. RAM COOMAR SHAHA v. KALA CHAND SHAHA. 21 W.R. 395.

(19)—Arbitration—Suit to restrain proceedings in aribtration—Maintainability.—The parties to the suit agreed to refer the disputes between them in another suit to the arbitration of five persons named by them, and did not agree to accept the decision of any less number of persons so nominated. Three only of the arbitrators nominated were proceeding with the arbitration and one had declined to act. The suit, which was one to put an end to the arbitration, was maintainable. The Court which made the reference released in favour of the plaintiffs in the suit in which the reference was made the attachments existing on debts due to the defendant in that suit, at the instance of the three arbitrators, who proposed to authorize the plaintiffs to collect those debts, and directed the debtors to pay their debts to the plaintiffs. It was held that, assuming that the reference permitted the arbitrators nominated to authorize either of the parties to collect the debts attached, inasmuch as the agreement was unaccompanied by any stipulation that a less number than the whole of the arbitrators could determine whether such permission should be given, the act of the three arbitrators which led to the issue of the order could not be supported, and that the last portion of that order was ultra vires and must be declared void. The Court of first istance in its decree "prohibited the arbitrators from giving an award." As they were not parties to the suit, in substitution of that order, it was ordered that the defendants be enjoined from proceedings in the award before the arbitrators, and from collecting the debts released in their favour from attachment. PARMESHAR DAT v. HARI NAIK, 7 N.W.P. 357.

(20)—Omission to disclose—Interested character of arbitrator.—Omission of an arbitrator to disclose the fact that he was consulted, engaged, or retained by the defendants' respondents, previous to the arbitration, is such a misconduct as to vitiate the award. MAUNG LU GYI v. MAUNG LU NGWE. U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 13 (25 C. 141, F.)

(21)—Refusal of some arbitrators to act—Civ. Pro. Code, 1895, s. 319—Refusal to nominate other arbitrators—Withdrawal from arbitration.—Where some of the arbitrators named in an arbitration-agreement refuse to act, and the parties do not agree to appoint others instead of them, it is not incumbent upon the Court to appoint other arbitrators, unless both parties agree, the provision of s. 319 being not obligatory, but simply permissive: Held, further, that, under such circumstances, the refusal on the part of one party to nominate other arbitrators does not amount to a withdrawal from the agreement to proceed to arbitration. SADA SOCKH v. SHIVA DYAL, 1 Agra 109.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(22)—Arbitration—No award—Agreement to withdraw suit—Effect.—In a suit, an order was made by the Court, with the consent of the parties, directing all matters in dispute between them to be referred to three specified arbitrators who were to make the award within six months after the date of reference, and in case of difference of opinion between the arbitrators, an umpire was to be appointed. The arbitrators only met once but did not make any award, and at that meeting the parties entered into an agreement in writing to settle all matters in difference among themselves. The agreement was left with the defendants and they had not come to any settlement as agreed on. Thereupon the plaintiff applied to have the case put down on the file of the Court for re-hearing. Held, that the suit was still pending and that should be brought again before the Court. GOPINATH NANDI v. SHIB CHANDRA NANDI, 6 B L.R. App. 74.

(23)—Award—Application to set aside—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 324—Time within which application must be made.—In an application to set aside an order, made by a Judge in chambers, extending the time (of ten days) for making an application, under s. 324 of Act VIII of 1859, to set aside an award on the ground of misconduct of one of the arbitrators and of the umpire: Held, the words of the section being in their ordinary import obligatory and there being nothing in the other parts of the Code to show that such construction was at variance with the intention of the Legislature; and a similar provision having been held by the Courts in England to be imperative that the application to set aside the award must be made within the ten days, provided the Court be then sitting; and if not, on the first day of its sitting after that time; and that there is no power to enlarge the time to make such application. EDALJI SHAPURJI v. TULSIDAS SUNDARDAS, 2 B.H C. 270.

(24)—Difference between English and Indian Law — Reference to arbitration—Revocation only for good cause shown—Death of either party — No revocation — Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 361, 365, 367, 523—Reference to arbitration without intervention of Court—Death of party — Effect—Procedure.—Under the English Law, the authority of an arbitrator is revoked by the death of any one of the parties to the submission before an award is made. This was a corollary of the rule of common law that the authority of an arbitrator might, at any time before the award was made, have been revoked at the pleasure of any party to the submission, whether the submission was by agreement in writing, by bond, deed, Judge's order or order at nisi prius. This rule was due to the disfavour with which contracts to refer to arbitration were formerly looked upon in England as contracts tending to oust the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts. But in India the policy of the Legislature has always been different, and the English common law rule has not been followed. According to the law here, the submission of an existing dispute once made is not without just and sufficient cause revocable even in the case of a submission which has not been made a rule of Court, and consequently, where the matter has become the subject of a suit, the submission can be revoked only with the leave of the Court for good cause shown. Therefore, contracts to refer to arbitration should not in this country be treated as being essentially of a personal nature. On the death of a party to the reference, the question whether the legal representative of the deceased party is or is not entitled to enforce the contract to refer, is a question which would depend upon whether the right dealt with in the reference is of a merely personal nature, or is one which survives to the legal representative. The members of an undivided Hindu family entered into an agreement in writing to submit to the decision of certain persons the disputes which had arisen between them with reference to the partition of their joint property and to abide by the partition to be made by them. One of the parties to the reference applied to the Court to have the agreement filed. With the consent of the other party, the application was numbered as a suit and the matter was referred to the decision of the arbitrators named. Pending the proceedings before the arbitrators one of the parties to the reference died. The daughter's son of the deceased, alleging himself to be his (deceased's) adopted son, applied under s. 365 of the Code, to have his name entered on the record in the place of the deceased (plaintiff). The adoption thus set up was denied by the defendant. Held, that the proceedings could not, under s. 361 of the Code, be held to abate by reason of the death of a party, and as the right to partition, which was the subject-matter of the submission, survived to the deceased plaintiff's adopted son, if there was one, the Court was bound to proceed under s. 367 of the Code to determine the question whether the applicant was the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff. VENKATA SATYANARYANA v. VENKATA RANGAYYA, 13 M.L.J. 311.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(25)—Arbitrator, holding private and secret enquiries—Misconduct.—An arbitrator making private enquiries is guilty of legal misconduct for which an award is liable to be set aside. DAYA KISHEN v DHARAM DAS, 4 A.L.J. 169 = A.W.N. 1907, 75.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—continued.

(26)—Reference to arbitration—Petition for superseding arbitration—Power of Court.—The parties having referred the matter in dispute to arbitration, an umpire was called in. The defendant, alleging that the umpire had been tampered with by the plaintiff, requested the Court to supersede it. Thereupon the Court itself decided the case. Held that the Court has no power to supersede it and that the case must be remanded for disposal according to the reference. KASHMIRI DAS v. MUSSAMMAT PARAS, 28 P.R. 1874.

(27)—Arbitration—Arbitrator's ignorance of law not a ground for setting aside an.—The fact that arbitrators are ignorant of the law is not a reason for setting aside an award. FUTTOO v. GHOLAM SULTAN, 47 P.R. 1867.

(28)—Submission to—Revocation of—Good cause—Collusion of arbitrator.—A submission to arbitration can be revoked for good cause and not arbitrarily. Where the arbitrator is in fraudulent collusion with the defendant, the submission can be revoked. BANSI DHAR v. SITAL PRASAD, 3 A.L.J. 613=A.W.N. 1906, 253=29 A. 13. (12 M.I.A. 112,F.)

(29)—Reference to, for examination of accounts—Award without inspection, effect of.—A submission to arbitration having been with the object that certain accounts should be examined, on the arbitrators not inspecting them, the Chief Court annulled the award and the decree following it. CHARANJI LAL v. BAMJI DAS, 5 P.R. 1876.

(30)—Arbitration, reference to—Application before Commissioner — Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), sch. II—Reference to arbitration—Withdrawal from.—An application for reference to arbitration, to be operative, must be presented to the Court. It cannot be entertained by a Commissioner appointed to examine a witness. Parties can withdraw from a reference to arbitration, when there has not been a completed agreement for reference, for instance, when it is not yet settled upon what terms as to remuneration, the nominated arbitrator is to act. ASUTOSH DEB SARKAR v. APURBA KUMER DEB SARKAR, 10 C.L.J. 449=4 Ind. Cas. 370.

(31)—Arbitration, reference to—Award not submitted on due date—Setting aside of order of reference—Procedure to be followed by Court.—Where a reference to arbitration falls through owing to non-submission of the award on the date fixed for submission, the course the Court should follow is to fix a date for the hearing of the suit, so as to enable the parties to appear and adduce evidence in support of their respective cases. Where this procedure was not followed, the High Court set aside the order of dismissal of the suit for default of appearance. GOPAL LAL MANDAL v. SURESH CHANDRA MUKERJI, 12 C.L.J. 624.

Arbitration—continued.

——7.—Revocation of reference to arbitration—concluded.

(32)—Award of arbitration, when can be set aside.—When the parties agree to refer matters to arbitration and to be bound by the decision of the majority, the award given by the arbitrators cannot be set aside on the ground of error, or because only two out of three arbitrators signed the award. KAZEE SYED NASER ALI v. MUSST. TINOO DOSSIA, 6. W.R. 95.

(33)—Ex-parte decree in accordance with award whether can be set aside by review.—A judgment, given in accordance with an award, cannot be set aside by a review, even though it was passed in the absence of the defendant to whom due notice was given to file objections. SIDHU RAM v. GAMAN, 98 P.R. 1900.

(34)—Arbitration award—Setting aside of—S. 324 of Act VIII of 1859, Civ. Pro. Code.—Under s. 324 of Act VIII of 1859, an award given by the arbitrators cannot be set aside on the ground of the said arbitrators having decided the case against the written statement of the defendant. GOOROO CHURN DEY v. RAM DHUN PAUL, 7 W.R. 28.

See PUN. ACT XVII OF 1887, ch. X, 52 P.R. 1898.

—Reference to arbitration of matters in dispute in pending suit—Revocation of reference—Power to permit withdrawal, with liberty to bring fresh suit—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 1, s. 89, sch.II; rr. 1, 5, 9 A. 168=A.W.N. 1887, 13.

—Contract to refer to—What amounts to revocation of the contract—Rights of parties—Limitation—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 21, 6 Ind. Cas. 420.

——8.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Court to recommend, not to order.—A Court has only power to recommend a reference to arbitration but cannot compel the parties to adopt such a course. KAZEE KASIMOODEEN v. HAJOODEEN, 52 P.R. 1869.

(2)—Notification No. 1225 of 26th Sep. 1886, persons admitted to act under, if recognised agents.—Persons acting under Notification 1225 of 26th Sep. 1886 are recognised agents, and their principals are bound by the agents' submission to arbitration. No special authority in writing is necessary. CHOOHUR SINGH v. JEET SINGH, 64 P.R. 1870. [F., 1 P.R. 1882; R., 92 P.R. 1885, 92 P.R. 1903.]

(3)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 506—Application in writing, want of—Jurisdiction—Waiver of the condition required by the Act—Consent to be recorded in writing.—Under s. 506 (Act X of 1877), a case can be submitted to arbitrators only by means of an application in writing, and in the absence of such writing the reference by the Court and the proceedings of the arbitrators will be without jurisdiction; and a decree based on the award will not be conclusive.

Arbitration—continued.

— 8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

The consent of the parties to make the reference without a writing will not give the Court any jurisdiction to delegate its own functions to arbitrators, and to pass a decree upon their award; a consent in writing is essential to enable the Court to make an order of reference so as to render the award following it capable of being turned into a final decree. MIR AMANULLAH v. CHOTA MIRZA, 67 P.R. 1879. [R., 109 P.R. 1883.]

(4)—Plaintiff and one of the defendants consenting to—Award against all—Lower Court striking out name of non-consenting defendant—Procedure illegal.— Where the plaintiff and one of the defendants, in a suit for breach of betrothal, referred the matter to arbitration and where the arbitrators awarded damages against all the defendants, the Court that tried the suit passed judgment upon the award but against the consenting defendant only. Held that the lower Court erred in procedure and that it should remit the award under s. 323, Civ. Pro. Code, for illegality on the face of it. NARAIN v. KANHA, 3 P.R. 1872.

(5)—S. 316, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Deed of reference containing a provision in case of disagreement among arbitrators — Court itself deciding case — Finality of proceedings.—A reference to arbitration recited that, if there be a difference of opinion between the arbitrators, an umpire should be appointed either by the arbitrators themselves or by the Court, or that the Court itself might decide the case. On the arbitrators differing in opinion, the Court adopted the last alternative. Held that, under the circumstances of the case, the decision was not final under s. 316 of Act VIII of 1859, that the arbitration was inoperative and that the decision passed by the Court was open to appeal. KANH SINGH v. RUTTUN SINGH, 96 P.R. 1868.

(6)—Question in issue not referred to arbitrators in reference—Procedure of Court.—The Court is not wrong in passing no order on a question at issue omitted from reference to arbitration, and on which the award contains no decision. RAJ NARAIN ROY v. JUGGESSUR MOOKERJEE, 14 W.R. 247.

(7)—Award—Submission—Completion—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 315, 318, 320.—It has been held in numerous English cases that if, after the time for making an award has expired, the parties attend further meetings before the arbitrators with full knowledge of the circumstances, and without making any objection, they are precluded from saying that the authority of the arbitrators is at an end. S. 320, Act VIII of 1859, does not say by whom the award is to be submitted. There is nothing in the language of the enactment which makes it necessary that the arbitrators should personally submit the award to the Court. Submission to the Court under s. 320, is not necessary to the completion of an award under ss. 315 and

Arbitration—continued.

—8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

318. These two sections show that the act contemplated the award as completed before it is actually submitted to the Court. Although an arbitrator may deliver an award to one of the parties, he ought not to hand over with it the proceedings, depositions and exhibits in the suit. S. M. JAGAT SUNDERI DASI v. SONATAN BYSAK, 5 B.L.R. 357. [R., 13 B. 119]

(8)—Right to object to validity of submission in Chief Court without such objection in Lower Appellate Court.—An award, on a reference to arbitration by a mukhtar, not specially empowered to refer the case to arbitration, who signed the submission or ikrarnamah was held under s. 313 of Act VIII of 1859, not to bind his principals. If the principals did not object to the validity of the arbitration in the lower Appellate Court but relied on the merits of the case they were not precluded from taking such objection in the Chief Court as they had not adhered to the award. WAZEERA v. MOOKUM, 11 P. R. 1869.

(9)—Judgment in terms of award when final—Agreement without provision for award of majority being binding, Effect of—Objections to award—Omission to dispose of—Decree—Appeal.—If there is no provision in an agreement to refer to arbitration that the award of the majority shall be binding, the inference is that only a unanimous award is binding. A judgment in terms of an award is not conclusive, unless the proceedings immediately preceding the decree have been strictly regular, and all the legal conditions observed. The appeal against the decree passed by the Court considering the question raised by the defendants, whether there was a case for remitting the award was not barred under s. 325, Act VIII of 1859, or s. 522, Act X of 1877. HARDHYAN v. MEHR CHAND, 57 P.R. 1879.

(10)—Award in plaintiff's favour—Award set aside on defendant's objections—Plaintiff's acquiescence—Plaintiff debarred from insisting on award.—On a reference to arbitration in the original Court an award was made in the plaintiff's favour; the defendant objected to it on the ground that the arbitrators had excluded certain evidence deed that they had not acted together. The award was set aside and the suit dismissed subsequently on a full investigation. The plaintiff, first objected to the cancellation of the award but subsequently acquiesced in the proceedings. The lower appellate Court considered the award final and gave plaintiff a decree accordingly. On the defendant's appeal the plaintiff's acquiescence was held to debar him from insisting upon the award. MOTI v. UTMA, 117 P.R. 1876.

(11)—Case referred to arbitrators — When Court to remand the case to them for re-consideration—Refusal to re-consider — Effect.—S. 323 of Act VIII of 1859 authorizes a Court to remand a case to arbitrators for reconsideration, where there are mistakes which it cannot amend under s. 322. And if the arbitrators refuse to reconsider, their award is void and is of no effect. MOHUN KISHEN v. BHOOBUN SHYAM, 7 W.R. 406.

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(12)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 325, 324—Award—Reconsideration of award.—A judgment passed in accordance with an award under s. 325 of Act VIII of 1859, in disregard of provisions of s. 324 of that Act, is not legal and it will be set aside. After passing judgment in pursuance to an award, such award cannot be re-submitted to the arbitrator for reconsideration and correction. POHKAR PERSHAD v. PUNCHUM RAE, 2 N.W.P. 285.

(13)—Different awards—First Court trying case anew—Decision upheld—Sending back case to arbitrators.—Where arbitrators give in different awards, and the Court of first instance having tried the case anew its decision is upheld in appeal, the case cannct, in special appeal, be sent back to the arbitrators with a provision for difference of opinion. THAKOOR DAS v. RAM JEEBUN CHUCKERBUTTY, 14 W.R. 150. [D., 8 C.L.J. 475.]

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 323 and 324—Remitting award.—Where there is no illegality apparent on the face of an award, a Court cannot remit it for reconsideration by the arbitrator, nor can it set aside the award and proceed to determine the suit itself. NANAK CHAND v. RAM NARAYAN, 2 A. 181, F.B. [R., 3 A. 636, 22 M. 202, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 548, 66 P.R. 1907=159 P.L.R. 1908=148 P.W.R. 1907, Suppl., 5 A.L.J. 658=A.W.N. 1908, 228=30 A. 505.]

(15)—Arbitration — Remission of award—Refusal of arbitrators to reconsider—Appeal questioning propriety of order of remission—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 520, 521.—S. 520 of the Civ. Pro. Code, empowers a Court to remit an award for reconsideration upon some grounds specified therein, but upon no others; and under s. 521, an award, remitted under s. 520, becomes void on refusal of arbitrators to reconsider it. S. 520 gives no unreserved discretion to a Court in the matter of remitting awards for reconsideration; and the refusal of the arbitrators to re-consider the award will render it void only when the order remitting it was one which could be properly made under s. 520. Where, therefore, a Court remits an award for reconsideration, and the arbitrators refuse to reconsider it, and the Court proceeds with the suit and passes a decree, the question whether the award was properly remitted under s. 520 or not, is one which could be entertained in an appeal from such decree. ABDUL RAHMAN v. YAR MUHAMMAD, 3 A. 636=A.W.N. 1881, 34. [F., 22 M. 202, 31 M. 345=18 M.L.J. 228 =3 M.L.T. 315; R., 66 P.R. 1907=159 P.L.R. 1908=148 P.W.R. 1907, Suppl.]

(16)—Reference to arbitration through Court—Decree passed on incomplete award—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 2, 520, 523, 522, 524.—A decree cannot be passed upon an incomplete award.

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

Such a decree, however, is a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code; for it is a formal expression of the adjudication upon the rights of the parties, and decides the suit to the extent covered by the award. It is, therefore, appealable on that ground and also on other grounds, where it happens to be in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award. When an award is imperfect or incomplete and leaves undetermined some of the matters referred to arbitration, the Court should not confirm it, but must remit it to the arbitrator to determine such matters also. SADIK ALI KHAN v. IMDAD ALI KHAN, 3 A. 286.

(17)—Procedure where reference will be fruitless.—If it appears that a reference would turn out to be fruitless, the Court may would proceed with the case to final judgment. MEHTAB v. MUSSAMMAT MADAN, 24 P.R. 1875.

(18)—Submission to—Submission made only by some members of the partnership—Submission not binding on those members who do not submit.—One of several partners in a partnership cannot bind the others by a submission to arbitration even of matters arising of the business of the firm. It is no part of the ordinary business of a trading firm to enter into a submission to arbitration. DATOOBHOY v. VALLU, 1 Bom.L.R. 828.

(19)—Manager of joint Hindu family—Power of, to bind family by reference to arbitration.—A manager of a joint Hindu family has the power to bind the family by a reference of its dispute with any outsider regarding any family property to arbitration, provided such reference be for the benefit of the family. Any minors in the family would be bound by the reference and consequently by the award made upon it. BALAJI v. NANA, 5 Bom L.R. 95=27 B. 287.

(20)—Procedure at — Arbitrators deriving information from a third person—Presence of the referring parties — Award — Arbitrator—Delegation of duties—Ministerial acts.—It would be prudent and discreet for arbitrators, when they desire to put themselves on the best footing of information as to matters of law to ask all the parties to be present when they communicate with any gentleman whom they may see upon that subject. But if they cannot be shown to have acted with improper partiality or for any other purpose than that of being correctly informed about the law, and avoiding mistakes of law, and if they cannot be shown to have been misled as to the law, their award should not on that ground be set aside. An arbitrator may delegate to a third person the performance of acts of a ministerial character. BUTA v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF LAHORE, 4 Bom. L. R. 673.

(21)—Failure of arbitration—Record coming back into Court—Dismissal of suit with costs—Notice—Validity of dismissal.—Where an arbitration fails, and the record comes back into the Deputy Commissioner's Court, that officer has no power to dismiss the suit with costs, without giving notice to the parties, or fixing a date for the hearing. MUDDUN MOHUN SINGH v. KANAYE DASS CHUCKERBUTTY, 2 W.R. 231.

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(22)—Subsistence of Munsiff's award quashing award—Award not existent.—As long as the order of a Munsiff quashing an arbitration-award subsists in full force, the award cannot be said to exist as a binding award between the parties. MR. D FITZ PATRICK v. MR. E. MACNAGHTEN, 21 W.R. 261.

(23)—Refusal to enforce award of arbitration—Law prior to Act VIII of 1859—Limitation.—The refusal to enforce an arbitration award did not under the law previous to Act VIII of 1859, bar the award being used to base a suit. A mere agreement to refer to arbitration, if it contained no acknowledgment of the plaintiff's right of possession, did not save limitation; but the time during which the case was before the arbitrators, and the plaintiff was trying in another from to enforce the award, may be deducted from the period of limitation. RAMDHONE SIRCAR v. SEETANATH SIRCAR, W.R. 1854. 283.

(24)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, sch. II, r. 16—Refusal of arbitrator to sign award—Legality of award—Decree passed on such award—Appeal.—Held, that no appeal lies from the decree of a Court passed in accordance with an award, in a case where five arbitrators were nominated and two of the arbitrators appointed by one party refused to sign it, but no misconduct was alleged against the umpire and the other two arbitrators who did sign it. KAMTA PRASAD v. JODHA SINGH, 7 A.L.J. 890=7 Ind. Cas. 99.

(25)—Decree in accordance with the award—No appeal lies—Arbitrator delegating authority.—Where a decree is in accordance with the award no appeal lies. Where parties to an arbitration agreed to accept certain estimate and valuation made by a certain person, and the arbitrator proceeded to examine that person as a witness and accepted his estimate and valuation: Held, that the arbitrator was thereby not guilty of delegating his authority to that person. HAFIZ HAJI MUHAMMAD FAKHARUD DIN v. MURLIDHAR, 5 Ind. Cas. 621.

(26)—Arbitration—Award—Appeal—Revison—Tearing original and making fresh award—Taking evidence in absence of parties—Corruption or misconduct—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, second schedule, paras. 15 and 16.—Held, that a decree passed in accordance with an award, after finding that there was no misconduct or corruption of the arbitrators, to whom a case is referred for arbitration on the application of the parties, is neither subject to appeal nor to revision, and that an Appellate Court's action to interfere with it in any way even with the consent of the parties is ultra vires ab initio. Held, also, that, on the objection of any party, the arbitrators can reconsider their award after it is made, but before it is submitted to the Court. Thus a fresh award is valid and legal even if it is different in its terms from the original one. Held, further, that it does not amount to misconduct of an arbitrator if he takes evidence in the absence of the parties, with their express or implied consent. DIAL CHAND v. KHUDA BAKHSH, 73 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 963. (92 P.R. 1903, 25 C. 141, F.; 148 P.W.R. 1901, 18 B. 299, R.)

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(27)—Arbitrator's award made after the death of one of the parties—Nunc pro tunc, whether applicable to the award—Submission to arbitration, revocation of, by the death of a party.—Where a submission to arbitration has been made a rule of Court, the death of one of the parties does not work a revocation. Where, an agreement to refer having been filed in Court, the Court appointed an arbitrator, who, after finishing his enquiries and hearing the arguments of the pleaders of the parties, reserved his report and award, and then one of the parties died; held—that, under the circumstances of the case, the death of a party did not make the award void, and the doctrine of nunc pro tunc was applicable as in the case of a judgment of Court. HARA KRISHNA MITRA v. RAM GOPAL MITRA, 14 C.W.N. 759=6 Ind. Cas. 170.

(28)—Arbitrators not acting—Award filed by other—Validity of.—Where it is provided that the two arbitrators should both file an award, an award filed by an arbitrator and the umpire is invalid, if it is found that the second arbitrator has taken no part in the proceedings. GANDA MAL v. FATTEH ALI SHAH, 55 P.R. 1882. [D., 112 P.R. 1885.]

(29)—Onus probandi—Improper consent—Practice of Privy Council.—Plaintiff and defendant were owners of adjoining Zamindaries. The question in the suit related to certain lands, each party claiming the same as part of her or his Zemindari. The Collector of the District, by an award, decreed the lands in dispute to the plaintiff. This award was set aside by the Civil Court, whose judgment was upheld by the Sudder Adawlut Court, from which the present appeal to the Privy Council was preferred. The respondent alleged that his consent to the arbitration was procured by means of threats and undue influence exerted on him by persons in authority. Held, the burden of proof as to threats and undue influence lay on the respondent and that he failed to discharge the burden. It was contended for the respondent that an agreement in writing referring the matters in dispute to the arbitration of the Collector, was not taken from him and that it should be inferred that his free consent was not given. There was, however, evidence in the case which showed that consent had been given by the respondent for the arbitration. On this part of the case their Lordships observed:—"In the examination of questions like these, their Lordships are of opinion that it is their duty to look to the broad principles of justice and equity; and, whilst they are always willing to pay due deference to the Regulations which in part constitute the law of India, to discourage, in proceedings of this description, mere technical objections which affect not the merits of the case, and, more especially, to discountenance the invention of new grounds of dispute which have occurred in the course of the litigation, and which were not even mentioned at the commencement of it, as the cause for promoting the suit," it being satisfactorily established by other evidence in the case that the Zemindar gave his consent to the arbitration in adequate terms and in a sufficiently formal manner and did not retract his consent at any subsequent stage. It also appeared that the Zemindar himself was present at some of the sittings of the arbitration. RANEE PURVATHA VARDHUY NAUCHIAR RANEE AND ZEMINDAR OF RAMNAD v. JAYAVERA RAMAKOMARA ETTAYAPA NAICKER ZEMINDAR OF YETTIAPOORAM, 4 W.R. 31, P.C.

Arbitration—continued.

—8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(30)—Determination of Court to go on with suit after first arbitration—Court not bound to consider result of second arbitration.—Where the Court determined to go on with the suit after an award had been made under an arbitration, it had nothing to do with a fresh attempt at arbitration and was not bound to consider the result of the second arbitration. MT. HASANBIBI v. TALEWARKHAN, 4 C.P. L.R. 105.

(31)—Arbitrator—Refusal to act, what amounts to—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 522.—Where an umpire, after completing the enquiries, falls ill and returns the file, but subsequently signs the award and submits it, within the time fixed by the Court for the delivery of the award, held that he has not refused or neglected to act. The mere fact that an arbitrator declines to sign an award which has been arrived at by the majority of the arbitrators, does not show that he has refused to act as arbitrator GHISSA v. BHAWANI DAS, 1 A.L.J. 683.

(32) — Arbitration — Arbitrators deriving information on matters of law without consulting all parties to reference — Delegation of ministerial acts to third person.—It would be prudent and discreet for arbitrators, when they desire to put themselves on the best footing of information as to matters of law, to ask all the parties to be present when they communicate with any gentlemen whom they may see upon that subject. But if they cannot be shown to have acted with improper partiality or for any other purpose than that of being correctly informed about the law, and avoiding mistakes of law, and if they cannot be shown to have been misled as to the law, their award should not on that ground be set aside. (Rolland v. Cassidy, (1888), L. R. 13 App. Cas., F.)

Arbitration—continued.

—8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

[R., 34 C. 305=5 C.L.J. 270.] An arbitrator may delegate to a third person the performance of acts of ministerial character. Such delegation does not amount to misconduct on the part of an arbitrator. BUTA v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF LAHORE, 29 C. 854=7 C.W.N. 82=4 Bom. L.R. 673.

(33)—Institution of suit—Agreement to refer arbitration—Instituting a second plaint—Dismissal of suit on merits—Appeal on merits—Dismissal of appeal—Second appeal insisting reference to arbitration—No ground of special appeal.—In a suit for possession of real property in the Court of the Assistant Commissioner the parties before the issues were settled, agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. In the next month, an amended plaint claiming proprietary right which was presented to the Assistant Commissioner was transferred to the Deputy Commissioner. Subsequently the plaintiff applied to the Court to file the agreement under s. 326, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859; or to refer the case under s. 312. The defendant having objected to this, the Court tried the case on the merits and dismissed it. An appeal was preferred to the Commissioner on the merits without making alluding to the reference to arbitration. On being dismissed, an appeal was preferred to the Chief Court on the ground that the case should have been referred to the arbitrators. Held, that there was no ground of special appeal and that the Chief Court could not revise the orders of the Court below. CHAJJU MAL v. KASHI RAM, 57 P.R. 1876.

(34)—Award—Decree passed thereon—Appeal—Appeal from Governor-General's Agent in Bhopal to the Privy Council—Native State—No appeal lies from a decree passed in accordance with the award made by an arbitrator to whom matters in dispute in the suit had been referred for decision Quære:—Whether an appeal lies to His Majesty in Council from a decision of the Governor General's Agent at Sehore in Bhopal. HANSRAJ v. SUNDER LAL, 12 C.W.N. 585, P.C.=7 C.L.J. 520=138 P.L.R. 1908=10 Bom. L.R. 581=18 M.L.J. 266=99 P.W.R. 1908=14 Bur. L.R. 146=4 M.L.T. 25=80 P.R. 1908=35 C. 648=35 I.A. 83. [Appl., 1 Ind. Cas. 693; R., 12 O.C. 40.]

(35)—Award set aside by Court of first instance—District Courts setting aside such decision—Decision on merits.—Where a suit was referred to arbitration and an award was made thereon, the defendant applied to set aside the award. The award was set aside, and, the suit having come on for decision on the merits, it was determined in favour of the defendant. The plaintiff appealed and the District Judge, in appeal, decided that the Munsiff was wrong in setting aside the award and, without going into the merits, reversed the decree of the Munsiff and entered judgment in accordance with the award in favour of the plaintiff: Held, the District Judge had authority to inquire into, and decide as to the propriety or otherwise of a decision of

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

a Munsiff setting aside an award, K. ACHUTHAYYA v. N.S. THIMMAYYA, 3 M.L.T 315 = 18 M.L.J. 228 = 31 M. 345. (3 A. 636, 5 A. 293, 11 C. 172, 14 W.R. 327, 8 C.W.N. 392, 26 B. 551, 22 M. 202, F.; 28 A. 408, 4 A.L.J. 256. Diss.) [F., 5 A.L.J. 644 = A.W.N. 1908), 242 = 4 M.L.T. 400.]

(36)—Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899), s. 14—Bengal Chamber of Commerce, arbitration by the—Rules of the—Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899), ss. 5, 6 and 35, sch. I, arts. 5 and 43—"Submission" required to be proved and stamped—Award made out of time—Enlargement of time after expiry of original time—Concealment of names and appointment of arbitrators—Notification of time and place of hearing—Evidence, refusal to hear, when misconduct—Award against a firm—Jurisdiction of Court to set aside award, if may be ousted.—Contract-notes which contain a provision for the submission of disputes to arbitration ought each to bear eight annas stamp under art. 5, sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, as an agreement not otherwise provided for in the schedule. Although the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, has made the procedure for the enforcement of an award simpler than the old practice of instituting suit for the purpose, it is still necessary to prove that the arbitrators acted under a valid submission, before an award can be made a decree of Court under the Act. The rules for the guidance of the arbitration 'tribunal' of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce were construed to contemplate the parties being notified of the names and the fact of the appointment of the arbitrators. Where the arbitrators appointed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce under its rules did not appoint a time and place for the hearing of the reference, held, that the arbitrators failed in their duty in not doing so. Whether the arbitrators should or should not hear evidence and the parties by counsel of otherwise must depend on the particular circumstances of every case, the arbitrators exercising, in a judicial manner, their discretion in the matter. The refusal to hear evidence in a case where the arbitrators cannot decide a matter in dispute without hearing evidence would amount to a misconduct on the part of the arbitrators. It is improper for the arbitrators not to hear evidence to ascertain as to who are the persons liable on a contract entered into in the name of a firm. An award made againt a firm, without ascertaining as to who are the persons who constitute it, is, on the face of it, bad and no Court can make a decree in such circumstances upon the award, against a firm. It is not competent for the parties by an agreement to oust the jurisdiction of the Court vested in it by s. 14 of the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, to set aside an award, if misconduct on the part of the arbitrators were shown or if it were shown that the award was improperly procured, when the parties desire that the award should

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued,

be enforced under the provisions of the Act, HURDWARY MULL v. AHMED MUSAJI SELAJI, 18 C.W.N. 63 = 1 Ind. Cas 371. [R., 13 C.W.N. 297 = 36 C. 388 = 1 Ind. Cas. 391]

(37)—Award—Examination of arbitrator as to whether a portion of his proceedings was an award—Admissibility in evidence—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s.526—second schedule, s.21 of Code of 1908)—Appeal against order filing award.—Although an arbitrator cannot be examined to show what he intended by his award, yet, he can give evidence on the question whether a particular portion of his proceedings was an award at all. An appeal lies from an order directing an award to be filed under s. 526, Civ. Pro. Code (=second schedule, s 21 of Code of 1908). TULSI DAS NARSI v. MADAM SUBANNA CHETTY, 6 M.L.T. 187 = 2 Ind. Cas. 92 = 19 M.L.J. 394. (27 M. 255, 29 M. 303, F.)

(38)—Arbitrators—Award—Decree—Allegation of misconduct on the part of arbitrators—Appeal.—No appeal lies from a decree which follows an award made according to law, even where the Court passing the decree disallows the application by one of the parties who seeks to attack the award by reason of the arbitrator's alleged misconduct. WALJI v. EBJI, 6 Bom. L.R. 1132 = 29 B 285.

(39)—Award of arbitrators—Enforcement—General rights of inheritance.—A plaintiff may sue for damages and losses sustained in respect of the ancestral property, under his general rights of inheritance, whether adjudicated upon by a previous award of arbitration or not; as regards lands, he may institute a suit either for enforcing the award or upon his general rights. But he cannot sue for moveables by a suit to enforce an award of arbitration. RAM COOMAR SINGH v. DEWAN RAM JEEBUN SINGH, 5 W.R. 165.

(40)—S. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Arbitration—Award—Filing of award—Dispute as to the factum of arbitration and award—Jurisdiction of the Court to deal with the objection—Separate suit.—When an application is made under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, to file an award as an award made in the matter which has been referred to arbitration, the question, if raised whether the matter has been referred to arbitration and an award has been made thereon, is one which the Court to which the aforesaid application has been made, can and ought to decide. MANILAL v. VANMALIDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 644 = 29 B. 621.

(41)—Award—Filing of award—Assumption of factum of refernce and award—Dispute as to validity of award on account of matter alleged to have existed prior to reference—Objection falling outside the scope of ss. 520 and 521—Jurisdiction of the Court to deal with such objection.—A claim based on a promissory-note was referred to arbitration without the intervention of a Court of justice and an award made thereon. The plaintiff applied to the

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued,

Court of the Subordinate Judge to file the award. In showing cause under s. 526 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the defendant maintained that there was no consideration for the promissory-note and that the award was sham and fraudulent. The Subordinate Judge in view of these objections declined to file the award. The plaintiff then applied to the High Court under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code: Held, (1) that the question whether there was no consideration for the promissory-note having been decided by the arbitrator in the plaintiff's favour, the matter could not again be investigated or considered by the Subordinate Judge; but that would not entitle him to say that the award should not be filed; (2) that if the objection that the award was sham and fraudulent meant that there was corruption or misconduct of the arbitrator, then it would fall under s. 521 (a) of the Civ. Pro. Code and would have to be investigated by the Subordinate Judge on the application before him. ANTAJI v. NARAYAN, 7 Bom. L.R. 793.

(42)—Arbitration — Award — Application to have the award filed—Record-of-rights extract to be annexed to the application—Bombay Land Record-of-rights Act (Bombay Act IV of 1903), s. 10.—It is not necessary to annex a record-of-right extract, required by s. 10 of the Bombay Land Record-of-rights Act, 1903, to an application in the case of proceedings under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. HARIDAS v. SUBRAYA, 9 Bom. L.R. 885.

(43)— Arbitrators—Award— Misconduct of arbitrators—Revision —An order under s. 521, Civ. Pro. Code, setting aside an award made under ch. XXXVII of the Code on a reference to arbitration in the course of a suit on the ground of the arbitrator's misconduct is not subject to revision under s. 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882. DAMODAR v. RAGHUNATH, 4 Bom. L.R. 267 = 26 B. 551.

(44)—Decree in accordance with award—Suggestion of majority treated as surplusage—Review refused—Appeal.—Where a Munsiff gives a decree in accordance with an award dealing with a suggestion of two out of the three arbitrators as surplusage, and refuses a review, held his decision was final. SURBOREE KANT BHUTTACHARJEE v. ANADYA KANT BHUTTACHARJEE, 12 B L.R. Ap. 10 = 20 W.R. 226.

(45)—Arbitration award—No reference by all parties — Final decree — Evidence. — An arbitration award not made on a reference by all the parties to the suit cannot be converted into a final decree under ch. VI, Act VIII of 1859, though it is evidence against any party agreeing to the reference. BEEJOY CHUNDER BANERJEE v. BHYRUB CHUNDER BANERJEE, 15 W.R. 427.

(46)—Judgment according to compromise come to an arbitration—Effect of judgment.—A judgment based on any compromise come to in course of arbitration proceedings, is binding on parties to the compromise. NEM ROY v. LALMUN ROY, 25 W.R. 376. [R., 17 M.L.J. 469.]

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(47)—Benefit desired from award—Failure to apply under s. 327, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Effect.—Failure to make an application under s. 327, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, where benefit is desired from an arbitration award, will necessitate the person relying on the award to prove it in the usual way. LALLA MEWA LALL v. SREEMAHATO, 25 W.R. 152.

(48)—Civ. Pro. Code. 1859, s. 216—Appointment of umpire—Plurality of arbitrators.—Appointment of umpire under Act VIII of 1859, s. 216, is necessary where there are two or more arbitrators. MAHABUR MISSER v. JUGGUR NATH MISSER, 25 W.R. 11.

(49)—Construction of arbitration award—Instalments—Interest.—Where a sum found due under an arbitration award was to be paid in annual instalments, and, if one was in default, the judgment-creditor was to be entitled to recover upon the whole sum at the rate of 1 per cent. interest per mensem (instead of 6 annas), and a default took place after annual kists had been paid for several years: held that interest at 1 per cent. per mensem must be paid on the balance due at the time of the default, from the date of the award. ANUCK CHUNDER ADHICARRY v. PUDMO LOCHUN MOOKERJEE, 10 W.R. 111.

(50)—Intervenor not bound by award—Decree in regular suit.—An arbitration-award is not binding on an intervenor as a decree in a regular suit. HAREE PERSHAD MUNDAL v. BAISHTUB DOSS LAGA BAWAJEE, 17 W.R. 233.

(51)—Small Cause Court Judge granting new trial — Subsequent reference to arbitration—Failure to make award—Effect.—Where a Small Cause Court Judge, after granting a new trial, refers the matter to arbitration and the arbitrators fail to make any award, a fresh judgment should be given by the Judge. SURBO CHUNDER ACHARJEE v. RAM BUKSH CHITLANGEE, 24 W.R. 469.

(52)—Award—Objections—S. 324, Act VIII of 1859.—Before setting an award aside a Court should make full enquiry into the objections raised against the award. And the Court should not hastily assume that the mere circumstance of the arbitrator having some interest in the matter at issue would necessarily bring the award within the provisions of s. 324 of Act VIII of 1859, and render it liable to be set aside. SENUK KACHEE v. OREE DOOBEY, 2 N.W.P. 241.

(53)—Extension of time for delivery of award.—Time for delivery of an arbitration-award may be extended at the discretion of a Court. ANUND MOHUN PAUL CHOWDHRY v. RAM KISHEN PAUL CHOWDHRY, 2 W.R. 297.

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(54)—Award—Irregularity of procedure—Objecton waived by parties.—Any irregularity of procedure may, according to the rulings of the English Courts, be waived. Case where it was held that in attending and taking part in the proceedings, when and after witnesses are examined by one or two of the three arbitrators, in the absence of the others or other, the defendants-respondents in this case waived any objection which they might have taken to the proceedings on this ground. MAUNG MYIN v. MAUNG YAN AUNG, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 21. (15 C. 319, R.)

(55)—Award — Decree—Appeal — Waiver—Estoppel.—When the validity or legality of an award is questioned, an appeal lies from a decree passed in accordance with it. (25 C. 141, F.) The examination of a witness by two out of three arbitrators in the absence of a third and the refusal of the arbitrators to examine witnesses already examined amount to misconduct within the meaning of s. 521, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. (7 W.R. 269, 8 W.R. 171, 12 M. 113, D.) Though an arbitrator may have been guilty of some irregularity in the course of reference, it will not vitiate the award if the conduct of the parties be such as to show that they waive any objection on account of it. Waiver must be clearly made out, full knowledge of the defect must be proved, and where a party objected to evidence received in his absence, etc., his not receding from the reference and allowing the remaining business to be transacted ex parte was not treated as an acquiescence in the irregularity. MA MI TU v. MAUNG NAING, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 14. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol I, 290, R.) [Overruled, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Civ. Pro. Code, 40.]

(56)—Award by arbitrator agreed upon by both parties—Undue influence of arbitrator—Burden of Proof.—An award, made upon an agreement to submit, to the arbitration of the Collector of the District, a dispute respecting the boundaries of certain lands lying between two Zemindaries, upheld; the agreement to submit to arbitration having been deliberately entered into, acted upon, and acquiesced in by both parties; the onus probandi, that the consent of one of the parties to the award was obtained by threats and the undue influence of the Collector lies upon the party, setting up that charge. THE ZEMINDAR OF RAMNAD v. THE ZEMINDAR OF YETTIAPOORAM, 7 M. I.A. 441.

(57)—Arbitration—Refusal by one of the arbitrators to act—Award passed by remaining arbitrators, if valid—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 510.—Where a matter in dispute was referred to arbitration and one of the three arbitrators named by the parties refused to act, and an award is passed by the other two, held there was no valid award on which a Court could pass a decree. The course which the Court should follow under such circumstances is that pointed out by s. 510, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. SAT KUMAR v. ATMA RAM, A.W.N. 1885. 60.

Arbitration—continued.

——8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(58)—Arbitration—Two arbitrators appointed by each party—Umpire—Umpire empowered to agree with one set of arbitrators or the other—Umpire awarding larger sum than either set—Effect.—In an action for dissolution of partnership and for an account, the parties agreed to a reference to arbitration. The plaintiffs appointed two arbitrators and the defendants appointed two, and it was agreed that if two of the arbitrators should differ from the other two, the question was to be settled by an umpire, who should agree with the opinion of one set of arbitrators, and had no power beyond that. The plaintiffs' arbitrators made no award. The defendants' arbitrators awarded Rs. 6,757-15-3. whereupon the matter went before the umpire, and he awarded to the plaintiffs Rs. 7,357-15-7, and consequently did not agree with the arbitrators who made the award. Held that the arbitration was futile and that the lower Court was wrong in treating it as a good arbitration. JANNAT BIBI v. ABDUL AZIZ, A.W.N. 1857, 197.

(59)—Arbitration—Judgment affirming award—No opportunity afforded of substantiating objections—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 522—Where certain objections to an award alleged misconduct and corruption on the part of the arbitrator, and others involved questions of fact and law, and the Judge overruled such objections without giving the objector any opportunity of substantiating them, and gave judgment affirming the award. Held, that, as there was no judicial disposal of the objections, the Judge was not competent to give judgment in the matter, and his decree was a bad one in law, and an appeal lay therefrom, notwithstanding the concluding portion of s. 522 of the Civ. Pro. Code. RAM MANOHAR MISR v. LAL BEHARI MISR, A.W.N. 1889, 15.

(60)—Arbitration—Illegal award—Judgment—Appeal—Effect of certain arbitrators resigning before enquiry completed.—Where an award is illegal, an appeal against the judgment based thereon can be maintained. Although it is true that the question referred to arbitration may be decided by a majority of the arbitrators, still all the arbitrators should be present, or else the award will be of no effect. In the present case, two issues were referred to the arbitration of four persons and an umpire. One of the issues only was determined by them, two of the arbitrators and the umpire being of one opinion and the other two of a different opinion. The Court thereupon returned the case to the arbitrators, for a finding on the other issue. The finding was returned by the umpire and the two arbitrators who agreed with him in the first issue; and the other two arbitrators did not take any part in the matter, and in fact, gave in a formal resignation. Held, that the award was not proper, and that a decree cannot be passed thereon. GAYADIN v. HANUMANDIN, A.W.N. 1884, 50.

Arbitration—continued.

—8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(61)—Merger—Pro-note accepted in full satisfaction of claim—Suit on pro-note dismissed for insufficient stamp—Determination of all rights—Subsequent conduct of defendant, effect of—Arbitration—"Dispute arising under indent"—Claim not recoverable at law.—A pro-note was accepted by plaintiff in full settlement of his claims against defendant under an indent which contained an arbitration clause. Plaintiff sued defendant on the pro-note, but the suit was dismissed on the ground that the note was insufficiently stamped. Plaintiff thereupon made an ex-parte reference to arbitration, purporting to act under the indent. The arbitrators delivered their award and plaintiff then sued defendant to have the award filed. It was contended for plaintiff that, subsequent to the execution of the pro-note, defendant so altered it as to convert it into an instrument of higher value than it bore. Held, that, as soon as plaintiff accepted the pro-note, all obligations and rights under the contract were determined. The subsequent conduct of defendant might possibly have furnished ground for a suit in tort, but it could not revive the rights and obligations under the indent which had been extinguished prior to the commission of the tort. Obiter dictum:—The question whether a dealer should pay a claim which is not recoverable at law is not a "dispute arising under an indent," and could not, therefore, be referred to arbitration under the clause of indent. EWART RYRIE AND CO. v. TARACHAND DHANRAJ, 9 Ind. Cas. 896.

(62)—Award by majority—Minority giving no opinion—Validity of award.—The award of a majority of arbitrators, where it is provided that the decision should rest with the majority, is not invalid merely because no separate opinion is given by the dissenting arbitrators. KANHYA LAL v. SETH HARBHAGWAN DASS, 112 P.R. 1885. (55 P.R. 1882, D.)

(63)—Arbitration—Objections to award on ground of collusion—Decree upon award—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 522.—No appeal lies from a decree passed upon an award of arbitrators under s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, where misconduct of the arbitrators that was set up was disproved. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN v. IMAM ALI KHAN, A.W.N. 1888, 131. [R., 18 A. 422, 5 O.C. 13.]

(64)—Application to remit award to abitrators—Time for remission—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s 320.—An application that an award be remitted to the arbitrators, in order that the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits in the suit which had not been submitted with it to the Court under Act VIII of 1859, s. 320, should be so submitted, ought to be made within ten days after the award has been originally submitted; otherwise if the award be good on the face of it, the Court will give judgment upon it. BANEY MADHUB ROY v. HURRY MOHUN ROY, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 16.

Arbitration—continued.

—8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(65)—Agreement to dispense with appeal—Validity of, ss. 523, 524, Civ. Pro. Code—Contract Act, s. 28, exceptions 1 and 2.—A stipulation, in an agreement to submit to arbitration, which was filed in Court, that there should be no appeal against the decision of the arbitrator, by either party, is not such as would prevent the Court from setting aside the award on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrator. [R., 11 Bom. L.R. 273.] Exceptions 1 and 2 of s. 28 of the Contract Act do not legalise such an agreement. RANGA v. SITHAYA, 6 M. 368.

(66)—Recommendation by arbitrator upon questions referred—No award—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 525.—A so-called award, signed by an arbitrator, which merely recommended a solution of the questions referred, cannot be treated as an award upon an application under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code. NUNDOLOLL MOOKERJEE v. CHUNDER KANT MOOKERJEE, 11 C. 356.

(67)—Arbitration—Extension of time after expiration of period fixed—Omission to fix time for delivery of award—Acceptance of award by Court—No objection by parties—Effect—Arbitrator first tendering and then withdrawing resignation—Effect of.—An order extending the time was made after the expiry of the time fixed therefor, and it did not fix any positive date for filing the award. Held, that the adoption of the award by the Court amounted to an extension of time for delivery of the award to the date on which it was in fact delivered, and to a ratification of what had been done by the arbitrators, and also that the parties, having made no objection to the action of the Court, should be deemed to have waived any objection to the award. The mere circumstance that an arbitrator had first tendered and then withdrawn his resignation, did not formally divest him of his character as arbitrator. HAR NARAIN SINGH v. BHAGWANT KUAR, 10 A. 137 = A.W.N. 1888, 28. (23 W R. P. C., 429, R.)

(68)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327—Arbitration.—Award—Appeal.—Where in an application under s. 327 of Act VIII of 1859, to file and enforce an award, made on a reference to arbitration without the intervention of a Court, the Court directed that the award should be filed, but did not make a decree enforcing the award under the provisions of ch. VI of Act VIII of 1859. Held, that the order of the Court did not amount to a decree and was not appealable. (N.W.P. 1868, p. 353, F.B., F.) Per Spankie, J.—S. 327 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859 applies only to those cases where the reference to arbitration is admitted, and not to cases where it is denied that the reference or the award was made. In such cases the enforcement of the award must be by suit. HUSSAINI BIBI v. MOHSIN KHAN, 1 A. 156. [D., 3 A. 427; R., 17 A. 21; Disappr., 84 P.R. 1901, F.B.=112 P.L.R. 1901.]

Arbitration—continued.

—— 8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(69)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 520, 591—Legality of order remitting award—Appeal—No finding on some issues—Illegality.—An order remitting an award is an interlocutory order under s. 591, and the legality of such an order can be challenged in an appeal from the ultimate decree passed on the merits. [F., 31 M. 345=3 M.L.T. 315=18 M.L.J. 228; R., 66 P.R. 1907=159 P.L.R. 1908, 5 A.L.J.644=A.W.N. 1908, 242=4 M L.T. 400; D., 31 M. 479=4 M L T. 328=18 M.L.J. 485.] An award which contains no finding on some issues on the ground that no evidence was let in with reference to them, but determines the whole matter in issue, is not illegal, and the award cannot be remitted for re-consideration. GEORGE v. VASTIAN SOWRY, 22 M. 202.

(70)—Award of arbitrators—Decree not according to award — Jurisdiction of.—Where the arbitrators directed that the plaintiff should recover a certain amount to be realised from certain property mortgaged to the defendants and the Court passed a personal decree for the amount against the defendant held that the Court could not pass a decree inconsistent with the award. GIRDHARI LALL v. IMRAT MUL, 39 P.R. 1873.

—Whole case entrusted to arbitrators — Costs—Power to award—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 89, sch. II, r. 16 (2), 97 P.L.R. 1909=111 P.W.R. 1909.

—Award of arbitrators—Suit for specific performance of contract of sale—Subsequent suit for possession—Maintainability—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, sch. II, r. 20, 4 N.L. R. 14.

—Application by arbitrator for extension of period allowed for making award—Dismissal for default—Legality—See CIV PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 8, sch. II, r. 8, 29 P.L.R. 1910=8 Ind. Cas. 224.

--Application by parties to Court of first instance after reference by appellate Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 25, A.W. N. 1906, 221, —Agreement of parties to suit to refer matters in dispute to decision of Court—Appeal against decision of Court—See COURT, 10 C. W.N. 835.

—Whether Judge has power to refer dispute as to who should be the guardian of a minor to—See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT, 1890, ss. 11 (1), 13, 17. 46, 5 A.L.J. 101=A.W.N. 1908, 51=3 M.L.T. 203=30 A. 137.

—Stipulation that award of arbitrator shall be accepted as final—Validity—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—BOMBAY, 11 Bom. L.R. 273=34 B. 13=3 Ind. Cas. 837.

Arbitration—concluded.

—— 8.—Miscellaneous—continued.

—Father's power as managing member to refer a partition question to—Award—Whether sons bound—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 6 Ind. Cas. 123.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 5 W. R. Act X, Rul. 13.

—Appeal—Cardinal principle in construction of submission to arbitration—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865—BOMBAY, 11 Bom. L.R. 1=1 Ind. Cas. 14=34 B. 1.

—Effect of award of—not filed in Court—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 113, 120, 181, 4 C.L.J. 162=33 C. 881.

—Partition by—Whether binding on persons not parties—See PARTITION—GENERAL, 8 Ind. Cas. 439.

—Award of arbitrators when requires registration—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, ss. 17, 49, 71 P.R. 1906=111 P.L.R. 1907.

—Setting aside an award for arbitrator's misconduct—High Court's powers of revision—See REVISION—GENERAL, 5 A. 293=A.W. N. 1883, 39.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, ss. 21, 39, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 544.

See TRANSFER OF CIVIL CASES, 6 W.R. 290.

Arbtiration Act.

See ACT IX OF 1899.

Arbitrator.

See ARBITRATION.

See AWARD.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, sch. II.

(1)—Resignation, retracting of.—An arbitrator has full power to retract his resignation of office before it is accepted. MAHARAJAH JOY MUNGUL SINGH v. MOHUN RAM MARWAREE, 15 W.R. 57.

—Award — Validity — Delegation—See ARBITRATION—POWERS OF ARBITRATORS, U. B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Arbitration, p. 1.

—Misconduct of—See AWARD, 5 O.C. 13.

—Reference to—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 1, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 284, 286.

Archaka.

—Archaka managing affairs of temple—Presumption as to his being trustee as well—See HINDU LAW RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 2 M.L.J. 251.

See HINDU LAW RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 4 M. 391.

Architect.

See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT, 19 M. 78.

Arh.

Mortgage—Construction of document—"Mustaghraq" "Rehan"—Power of sale in default not expressly given—See MORTGAGE—FORM OF MORTGAGES, 13 A. 28=A.W.N. 1890, 216.

Arhat.

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1887, sch. II, art. 39, 204 P.R. 1889.

Arlat.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT, A.W.N. 1905, 269=28 A. 264.

Armenian.

(1)—In India.—Armenians in India, although Asiatics, are subject to the English Law. NICHOLAS v. ASPHAR, 24 C. 216. (9 M.I.A. 387, R.)

Armenian Christian.

—Succession to property of Armenian Christian residing in Oudh at the time of the annexation—Lex Loci with reference to the English Law of Succession—Territorial Law of Oudh on the introduction of British rule—See SUCCESSION, 6 O.C. 305.

Arms.

—Sale of arms in execution of decree by Nazir of Court—Sale by public servant in discharge of his duty—Indian Arms Act, XI of 1878, s. 1, cl. (b)—See ACT XI OF 1878, s. 1, cl. (b), 9 B. 518.

Arms Act.

See ACT XI OF 1878.

Army.

—Suit for debt against an officer in the—See LIMITATION—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1897, 203.

Army School-master.

—Soldier—Cantonment Court of Small Causes—Jurisdiction—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 6 M.H.C. 83.

Arrack.

—Agreement of partnership between licensee, to vend toddy and licensee to vend arrack—Rule prohibiting such agreement—Legality of agreement—See MAD. ACT I OF 1886, 24 M. 401.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1886, s. 24 (e), 26 M. 430.

Arrangement.

—Agreement.—An arrangement is not necessarily an agreement. It is a preparatory measure or negotiation. CHABILDAS v. DAYAL MAVJI, 6 Bom. L.R. 557.

Arrears of Maintenance.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, s. 488.
See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE.
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MAINTENANCE.
See MAINTENANCE.

—Right to sue for—See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE, 2 Bom. L.R. 945, 10 Bom. L.R. 770.

Arrears of Rent.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
See RENT.

—Levy of, by sale of the occupancy—See BOM. ACT V OF 1879, s. 56, 8 Bom. L.R. 360, 30 B. 466.

—due under sub-lease payable to lessor's zamindar are debt—Liability to be attached and sold under s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908. s. 60, 5 A.L.J. 265=A. W.N. 1908, 129.

—Suit to recover—See INAMDAR, 5 Bom L.R. 700=28 B. 92.

—Execution of decree—Transferable tenure—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TRANSFER OF TENANT'S INTEREST, 3 C.L R. 146.

—Limitation for suit to recover—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 110, 6 Bom. L.R. 241.

Arrears of Subscription.

—to a newspaper, limitation for a suit to recover—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 42, 7 Bom. L.R. 190.

Arrears, Sales of land for revenue.

See ACT I OF 1845.

Arrest.

See ATTACHMENT.
See CIV. PRO. CODE.
See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

(1)—Where arrest in execution has not been specifically objected to in the lower Court, the High Court will not interfere. DWARKANATH DOSS BISWAS v. UNNODA CHURN DOSS, 8 W. R. 318.

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 245 B, 337-A—Execution of decree.—Where notice has been issued to the judgment-debtor under s. 245-B, Civ. Pro. Code, to show cause why the decree should not be executed by his arrest and imprisonment, and he alleges some reason, and enquiry is made in Chambers under s. 337-A, the Court, when not satisfied with his reason, is bound under s. 337-A, to cause his immediate arrest. GUBBOY v. RAMDOYAL CHOWBAY, 2 C.W.N. 588.

(3)—Arrest — Privilege—S. 642, Civ. Pro Code.—A plaintiff in a suit at Madras, a native of Patna, on receipt of a letter informing him that his presence was required at Madras, to prosecute his suit, left Calcutta and arrived at Madras on the 24th October. Case posted to 27th October was adjourned for seven weeks, and he therefore remained in Madras awaiting the disposal of the suit till 10th November when he was arrested. Held, he was privileged, under s. 642, Civ. Pro. Code, as a suitor, so as to be exempted from arrest. In the matter of SIVA BUX, 4 M. 317. [Not F., 6 A.L.J. 912.]

(4)—Exemption from arrest—Defendant in summary procedure suit—Arrest under writ of Small Cause Court—Exemption therefrom governed by English law.—A party to a suit.

Arrest—continued.

even though only a defendant in a suit nnder the summary procedure sections of the Civ. Pro. Code, that has not obtained leave to defend therein, is entitled to the privilege of exemption from arrest upon civil process both on his way to, and return from, the place of trial. It is immaterial for the purposes of a right to the privilege, if the shortest route home is abandoned in favour of a more convenient road. Where exemption from arrest under a writ of a Presidency Small Cause Court is claimed, the matter must be governed by the English Law and not by s. 642 of the Civ. Pro. Code, corresponding to which there is no section in the Small Cause Courts Act. In the matter of SOORENDRO NATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 5 C. 106.

(5)—Arrest and discharge of debtor—Re-arrest.—D M. a prisoner for debt, having been discharged for non-payment of subsistence-money, the execution-creditor applied for a rule nisi for his re-arrest, or for a new writ. Held that a prisoner, once discharged on non-payment of his subsistence-money, cannot be re-arrested, nor can a new writ be issued against him for the former debt, and that the principle that no man shall twice be vexed on the same charge applies here. Per Morgan, J.—That there may be a distinction between the words "release" and "discharge" in Act VIII of 1859, and that the arrest of the person is not the full satisfaction here that it is under English law. In the matter of DWARKALALL MITTER, Bourke O. C. 109.

(6)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 642 — Exemption from arrest on civil process redeundo.—An insolvent, discharged and immediately re-arrested on a warrant obtained by a judgment-creditor, is not privileged from arrest as being on his way back from Court, under s. 642, Code of Civil Procedure. SAMARAPURI v. PARRY AND COMPANY, 18 M. 150, F.B.

(7)—Arrest and imprisonment, distinction between—Immunity from further process, created only by actual confinement.—The Civ. Pro. Code preserves a distinction between arrest and imprisonment, and the immunity from further process is only generated by actual confinement. E. CHENGALRAYA CHETTI v. W. SUBBIAH, 6 M.H.C. 84. [F., 23 C. 128.]

(8)—Act XI of 1865, s. 18—Defendant examined as witness by plaintiff—Immunity from arrest.—A defendant in a suit who is summoned by and examined as a witness for the plaintiff is entitled to protection from arrest on civil process during the time reasonably occupied in going to, attending at, and returning from the place of trial. APPASAWMY PATTAR v. P.E. GOVINDAN NAMBIAR, 4 M. H.C. 145.

(9)—Warrant of arrest, power of detention under — Illegal detention.—The warrant of arrest in execution of decree empowers the Sheriff only to arrest the defendant in execution, and detain him for such reasonable time as is sufficient to allow of his being brought before the Court, and having an opportunity of applying for his discharge; the detention of such prisoner by the Sheriff after such reasonable time, without further authority of law, is illegal. In re SUMBOO CHUNDER HALDAR; In re DURGAPRASAD MITTER; In re RAKHAL DOSS, Bourke O.C. 59.

Arrest—continued.

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882)-ss. 342, 481—Computation of period of imprisonment in execution of decree—Imprisonment under arrest before judgment, period of, subsequent to decree, to be taken into account in favour of judgment-debtor.—An arrest which commenced as one before judgment under s. 481 of the Civ. Pro. Code, becomes, after the decree, arrest under and for the decree itself. Where therefore, the special period of limitation in the chapter of the Civ. Pro. Code, on arrest before judgment, viz., six months, which is imposed in s. 481, terminates while the defendant is still detained under that section, and he is re-arrested in execution under s. 336, the period of the prior imprisonment which has elapsed after the passing of the decree, must be counted, and, when that period plus the new period amounts altogether to six months, then s. 342 applies and the defendant must be liberated. The time to be counted is the time of actual imprisonment. GHANASHAMDAS GOORSAMULL v. JOHARIMULL KEDVRI NATH, 7 B. 431.

(11)—Arrest, privilege from—Small Cause Court, Calcutta, control of High Court over—Act X of 1877, s. 642—High Courts, Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1875, s. 148 (c).—Where a defendant in a suit in the High Court was arrested in execution of a decree of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, while attending before an arbitrator appointed by the High Court to take a reference in the suit, it was held that he was privileged from such arrest while so attending, and that the High Court had power to direct his release from custody. Small Cause Courts in the presidency towns are subject to the order and control of the High Courts. In re JUGGESSUR ROY, 5 C.L.R. 170. (1 C. 78, F.)

(12)—Order for arrest before judgment, form of—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, 1882, s. 487 (1859, ss. 78 and 276)—Commitment in execution of decree.—An order for the arrest before judgment of a debtor made in the form directed by s. 78, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, is, after judgment has passed, a commitment in execution of a decree within the meaning of s. 276. RAMPERSAUD ROY v. CALLACHAND DOSS, Bourke O.C. 423.

(13)—Court not competent to release judgment-debtor once put in jail—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 349—Distinction between arrest and imprisonment.—The Civ. Pro. Code does not empower any Court to release a judgment-debtor when he has once been put into jail except as provided by s. 341 of the Code. The circumstance that, throughout the Code, the terms "arrest" and "imprisonment" are employed as denoting different things, and further, that in ss. 344 and 355 both "arrest" and "imprisonment" are mentioned where the provisions of the sections are intended to apply in either case, precludes the interpretation of the term "arrest" in s. 349 of the Code as including imprisonment. MAHOMED HUSSEIN v. RADHI, 12 B. 46.

Arrest—continued.

(14)—Arrest under civil process of mofussil Court on Sunday, legality of.—An arrest under civil process of mofussil Court on a Sunday is in this country perfectly legal. ANONYMOUS, 4 M.H.C. App. lxii.

(15)—Instalment-decree, arrest and imprisonment in case of—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 341.—In the execution of an instalment decree, it is not competent to the holder of the decree to get the judgment-debtor arrested and imprisoned separately for default in the payment of each instalment. S. 341 of the Civ. Pro. Code, read in connection with the definition of a decree as given in the interpretation-clause, shows a clear intention on the part of the Legislature that the judgment-debtor should not be imprisoned more than once under the same decree pronounced by the Court as its adjudication of the rights of the parties. DAMODAR SHALIGRAM v. MALHARI, 7 B. 106.

(16)—Arrest of pilot brig—Privilege from arrest—St. 21 & 82 Vic. c. 126.—A Government brig employed in supplying pilots to vessels at the Sandheads was arrested under proceeding in rem. Held that the brig, by 21 & 22, Vic. c. 126, had become the property of the Crown, and as such was entitled to the same exemption from arrest as all other Queen's ships, and that the proceedings in rem was therefore illegal. BROWN v. THE PILOT BRIG "KEDGEREE," 1 Hyde 253.

(17)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), ss. 2, 230.—Execution by issue of attachment and arrest at the same time—Discretion of executing Court—Duty of Appellate Court.—S. 230 of Act X of 1877 leaves it to the discretion of the Court executing a decree to refuse execution at the same time against the person and property of the judgment-debtor; where, however, the executing Court makes such an order of refusal, such order being a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code, an appeal lies therefrom and the Appellate Court is bound to consider whether the lower Court has exercised its discretion properly. CHENA PEMAJI v. GHELABHAI NARANDAS 7 B. 301.

(18)—High Court's power to release prisoner committed to custody by P. S. C. Court—When a prisoner, committed to jail by a Presidency Small Cause Court in execution of a decree of that Court, is brought before the High Court in obedience to a writ of habeas corpus ad subjiciendum, it is competent to the High Court to release him from jail on the ground that, at the time of his arrest, he was privileged from arrest. In the matter of OMRITOLALL DEY, 1 C. 78.

Arrest—continued.

(19)—S. 341, Act XIV of 1882 (Civ. Pro. Code)—Circumstances under which judgment-debtor imprisoned in execution of decree, obtaining release, immaterial—Court not empowered to arrest the judgment-debtor a second time under same decree.—The Civ. Pro. Code contemplates as immaterial the circumstances under which a judgment-debtor, who is imprisoned in execution of a decree against him, obtains his release. Under the Civ. Pro. Code, there is no power in the Court to order a second arrest of such judgment-debtor under one and the same decree. In the matter of BOYLE CHUND DUTT, 20 C. 874. (12 C. 652, F.) [Not. F., 26 B. 652; D., 23 C. 128.]

(20)—Damages for arrest, suit for—Special circumstances under which maintainable.—The plaintiff must, in a suit for damages on account of injuries resulting from an arrest in pursuance of a decree of Court, show that the original civil action out of which the alleged injury arose has been decided in his favour; that there was no reasonable and probable cause for the arrest, and that the injury sustained was something other than what has or might have been compensated for by an award of the costs of suit; that in fact there has been "some collateral wrong" RAJ CHUNDER ROY v. SHAMA SOONDARI DEBI, 4 C. 583. [R., 19 B. 717.]

(21)—S. 341, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Judgment-debtor arrested and released immediately without being imprisoned—Second arrest.—Under s. 341, Civ. Pro. Code, the immunity of a judgment-debtor from a second arrest depends not only upon his having been arrested but upon his having been imprisoned under the arrest. RAJENDRO NARAIN ROY v. CHUNDER MOHUN MISSER, 23 C. 128. (12 C. 662, 20 C. 876, D.; 8 M. 21, F.) [R., U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 281.]

(22)—Mahomedan debtor, arrest of, on a Sunday, not illegal—Lord's Day Act (XXIX Car. 2, c. 7).—The arrest of a Mahomedan debtor within the original jurisdiction of the High Court on a Sunday is not illegal.—Per Holloway, J.—The provisions of the Lord's Day Act (XXIX), Car. 2 c. 7, do not apply in this country. Even if the substantive portions of the statute were applicable, it did not follow that s. 6 would be. The mode of execution of a judgment is exclusively determined by the Court of process. Per Kernan, J.—As between natives of India, the Lord's Day Act does not apply. PARAM SHOOK DOSS v. RASHEED-OOD-DOWLAH BAHADOOR, 7 M.H.C. 285. [R., 30 A 136=A.W.N. 1908, 43=5 A.L.J. 106 =1 M.L.T. 211.]

(23)—Arrest in execution of decree—Practice—Delegation by Nazir to peon—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 343—Endorsement of particulars of arrest by Naib Nazir.—A Nazir directed to arrest a judgment-debtor in execution of a decree is not debarred, by anything in the Civ. Pro. Code, from authorising a deputy to execute it for him, and the endorsement of the deputy's name on the back of the warrant is sufficient prima facie

Arrest—continued.

evidence of the delegation. An arrest is not rendered illegal by the circumstances that the endorsement of the execution of the warrant is made, professedly under s. 343 of the Civ. Pro. Code, by an officer other than the one who was entrusted with its execution. Instructions as to the manner in which Nazirs should delegate their authority to their deputies, and as to the care to be exercised in the selection of persons entrusted with the duty of executing warrants of arrest. ABDUL KARIM v. J. BULLEN, 6 A. 385 = A.W.N. 1884, 133. [Appr. 22 C. 596.]

(24)—Civ. Pro. Code, s 341—Arrest of judgment-debtor—Discharge—Non-payment of subsistence allowance--Re-arrest.—The discharge of a judgment-debtor after arrest and before imprisonment, on account of the non payment of subsistence allowance by the creditor, is no bar to the debtor being re-arrested. SUBBA v. VENKATA, 8 M. 21. [F., 23 C. 128, 26 A. 317 = A.W.N. 1904, 22.]

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 336, 344, 638—St. 11 & 12, Vict. c. 21—Discharge of judgment-debtor arrested under decree of High Court—Where a judgment-debtor arrested in execution of a decree of the High Court in its Original Civil Jurisdiction and brought before the Court, claims to be discharged on the grounds that he intends to apply to the Court to be declared an insolvent, either under the provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code, or of st. 11 and 12, Vict., c. 21, he is entitled to be discharged on complying with the conditions of s. 336 of the Civ. Pro. Code. Ex parte PINSENT, 8 M. 276.

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 336, 341, 344, 349—Judgment-debtor--Discharge from imprisonment.—A judgment-debtor who is arrested can be released on furnishing security under ss. 336 and 349. But if he is committed to jail, he can be discharged only under s. 341. In re QUARME 8 M. 503. [F., 12 B. 46.]

(27)—Married woman—Imprisonment for debt.—The Civ. Pro. Code does not exempt married women, against whom personal decrees have been made, from arrest or from being sent into civil custody, in default of payment of the amount decreed. LAKSHMANA v. KULLAMMA, 9 M. 99.

(28)—Warrant of arrest—Imprisonment in jail not named in warrant—Effect.—Where a sheriff's officer, of his own motion, delivered over to the officer in charge of the Alipore jail a debtor committed to the Presidency jail, held, the imprisonment was unlawful, and the prisoner was entitled to be discharged in consequence. SHAMSONNESSA BEGUM v. ANNE LOVE, 11 C. 527.

(29)—Judgment-debtor arrested and imprisoned in execution of decree—Fresh application for arrest.—A judgment-debtor once arrested and imprisoned in execution of a decree cannot be again arrested under a fresh writ of attachment on the same decree. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. JUDAH, 12 C 652. [F., 20 C. 874; D., 23 C. 128, 26 B. 652.]

Arrest—continued.

(30)—Judgment-debtor arrested and discharged—Subsequent alienation by him—Liability to re-arrest—Appeal against order of arrest.—A judgment-debtor, arrested in 1871 and discharged after his examination (his estate not being taken possession of), cannot be re-arrested in execution of the decree for any subsequent act of alienation. [Not F., 1 Bom. L.R. 463.] There is no appeal against an order of re-arrest. VENKATAKRISHNA v. COELHO, 6 M. 170.

(31)—Arrest of master and part owner of ship where ship was lost—Repairs of ship, suit for price of.—In an action for repairs, where the ship had been lost, the Court granted an order for personal arrest of the defendant, the master and part owner, under s. 80 of Act VIII of 1859, CHARRIOL v. COURTOIS, Cor. 123.

(32)—Absconding debtor.--Where a defendant, against whose person an attachment in execution has been issued, absconded, a second attachment against his moveable property was granted, and the writ of attachment against the person was not recalled. GREGORY v. HADJEE ESSUFF COONJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 244.

(33)—Small Cause Court decree—Immediate execution—Refund.—In authorizing immediate execution of a Small Cause Court decree, the Legislature did not intend that the debtor should be protected from arrest until he could return home. Where a judgment-debtor has paid the amount of a Small Cause Court decree, he is not entitled to a refund merely because he was arrested before he reached home. G. A. DEPENNING v. DEBENDRONATA MOITRO, 9 W.R. 549.

(34)—Re-arrest of judgment-debtor—No petition from decree-holder.—A Judge is incompetent to re-arrest a judgment-debtor without any petition or motion of the decree-holder, SHIB RAM MUNDUL v. RUHMUTOOLLAH, 16 W.R. 68.

(35)—Contempt of Court—Arrest of party on way to Court—Privilege—Writ of attachment.—The defendant in a suit was brought up in arrest under a writ of attachment for contempt in not having obeyed an order of the High Court directing him to give an account of, and pay into Court, certain money and property belonging to the plaintiff in that suit. He was arrested on his way to Court to defend the suit. Held, that the defendant was not entitled to be released, on the ground that his arrest took place when he was on his way to Court. Being in contempt, he had no privilege from arrest under a writ of attachment issued on account of that contempt. JOHN v. CARTER, In re A. M. CARTER, 4 B.L.R O.C. 90.

See ACT VI OF 1888, 16 C. 85.

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT, 1 N.W.P. 91.

—Order negativing exemption from—Appealability--Power of Court to release—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 135, 20 M.L.J. 136 = 5 Ind. Cas. 909 = 8 M.L.T. 122.

Arrest—concluded.

—Non-payment of subsistence-money—Arrested person discharged from Court-house—Effect—Discharge from jail—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 58, 9 B. 181.

—Release from—for non-payment of subsistence allowance—Right to re-arrest—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 58, 26 A. 317.

—Application for arrest of judgment-debtor—Illness whether ground for refusing application—Discretion of Court to issue notice to show cause against the application—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 59, O. XXI, r. 37, 14 O.C. 36=9 Ind. Cas. 746.

—Returning from Court, what does not amount to—Exemption from arrest—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 135, cl. (2), 6 A.L.J. 912=32 A. 3=3 Ind. Cas. 46.

—Damages—and imprisonment of wrong person—Liability of person setting Court in motion—See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, 8 M.H C. 38.

—Arrest under satisfied decree by mistake of officers of Court—See FALSE IMPRISONMENT, 9 B. 1.

—Pardanashin lady, arrest of—Entry into zenana—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 336—See PARDANASHIN WOMAN, 7 C. 19=9 C.L.R. 25.

See PARDANASHIN WOMAN, 1 B.L.R. F. B. 31=10 W.R. F.B. 21.

—Payment into Court to prevent arrest—Voluntary payment—See PAYMENT INTO COURT, 4 B.L.R. App. 25=13 W.R. 29.

See SUBSISTENCE MONEY, 4 M.H.C, 76, 4 B. 65.

—Arrest in execution of decree—Warrant initialled and not signed by proper officer—See WARRANT, 8 A 293=A.W.N. 1886, 106.

—Suit for damages for breach of contract—Arrest under s. 477, Civ. Pro. Code (1882) of defendant before judgment—Summons not served on defendant—Application for withdrawl of suit under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Objection by defendant — Procedure — See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT, 15 B. 160.

—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 168—When warrant of arrest may be issued to a witness not appearing after summons—See WITNESS—DEFAULTING WITNESS, 5 M.H.C. 104.

Arrest before Judgment.

See CIV. PRO. CODE. 1908, s. 95, O. XXXVII, rr. 2, 3, 18 B. 717.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O.XXXVIII, rr. 1 (6), 2, 5 B.L.R. 215=13 W.R. 278.

Arrest of Ship.

See SALVAGE, 17 C. 84.

Articles of Association.

See COMPANY—ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION AND LIABILITIES OF SHAREHOLDERS.

Articles of Association—concluded.

—Construction of—See ACT VI OF 1882, s. 61, 3 M L.T. 250=31 M. 66.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, sch. I, art. 8, 22 A. 131=A.W.N. 1900, 15.

Articles of War.

See ACT V OF 1869.

Artificer.

See ACT XIII OF 1859, 4 B.L.R. App. 1.

Artizans.

See COMPANY--FORMATION AND REGISTRATION, 1 B. 550.

See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 43 P.R. 1868.

Ascetics.

—Trust for religious purposes, what constitutes—Succession to property of Hindu religious mendicant, who is not hermit or—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 3 O.C. 281.

—Succession among ascetics—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 C. 539=6 C.L.R. 28.

—Sudra ascetic—Devolution of property—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 22 M. 302.

—Order of Nihangs in Gorakhpur—Succession to property of number—Necessity of proving that deceased was a member of the order—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 16 A. 191=21 I.A. 17, P C.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 5 N.W.P. 50.

—Observations on the origin, growth and functions, of mutts and ascetic orders in India—See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 10 M. 375.

—Application for administration by preceptor's preceptor — Custom, Proof of—See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION, 28 C. 608=5 C.W.N. 873.

Assam.

—Land in Assam—Declaration of title—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT, 7 C. 437=9 C.L.R. 218.

—Occupancy-right in—Pykes—Their rights and privileges—See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—GENERAL, 15 C. 100.

Assam and Bengal Laws.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1905.

Assam, Bengal and Agra Civil Courts.

See ACT XII OF 1887.

Assault.

(1)—Assault by parties in concert—Common cause of action.—An assault by parties acting together as to time, place and assault, is a single act and the cause of action common to all the parties. RAMESSUR BHUTTACHARJEE v. SHIB NARAIN CHUCKERBUTTY, 14 W.R. 419.

G. N. DAR, B. A. LL. B.
Vakil High Court.
SRINAGAR (Kashmir)

Assault—concluded.

(2)—Suit for compensation—Damage for assault—Criminal prosecution.—A person who is assaulted can pursue his civil in addition to his criminal remedy; but if punishment in person has been resorted to, that must always be an important element in mitigation in subsequently estimating the amount of penalty to be inflicted in pocket. MISR RAMJI v. JIWAN RAM AND KIDAR NATH v. MISR RAMJI, A.W.N. 1881, 131.

—for—Beating with shoe—See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUIT FOR, 6 C.W.N. 915.

—Suit to recover damages for assault—See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, A.W.N. 1893, 62.

See DAMAGES—MEASURE AND ASSESSMENT, 6 W.R. 95.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 3 M.I.A. 164.

—Insult—Suit for damages—Cause of action—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 22, 36, 120, 5 Ind. Cas. 124.

—Suit for damages for, misjoinder of parties and causes of action—See MISJOINDER OF PLAINTIFFS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, 3 Bom. L.R. 878=26 B. 259.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—SMALL CAUSE COURT SUITS, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 31=12 W.R. 477.

Assessment.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See RENT.

See REVENUE.

(1)—Exemption from.—Where lands are continued to an Inamdar and his lineal male descendants, free from assessment, the Government are not debarred from levying assessment when the lands pass to a third person. MAHADEV v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 1 Bom. L.R. 528.

(2)—Payment of, by mortgagee.—Apart from special stipulation, a mortgagee is under no liability to pay assessment as between himself and his mortgagor; and if he does pay it for the purpose of preserving his security, then he is ordinarily entitled to add that amount to his mortgage-money, and to require that he should be paid it before he can be redeemed. Where the mortgagee agrees to pay a certain sum as assessment and the assessment is subsequently increased, he is entitled to add the amount of the excess payments so made to his mortgage security. NILAWA v. KRISHNAPPA, 8 Bom. L.R. 350.

(3)—Suit for arrears of.—An Inamdar suing for arrears of assessment is not entitled to a charge on the lands of, but only to a money-decree against, the occupants; hence, no personal decree can be passed against an occupant in respect of assessment for the years previous to his coming on the holding. VINAYAK v. LAKSHMAN, 5 Bom. L.R. 700=28 B. 92. [F., 6 Bom. L.R. 423.]

Assessment—continued.

(4)—Levy of—By Government.—Where the grantee on the assurance of the assessment being kept at a fixed amount undertakes to keep an embankment in repair and expends his money thereon, it is not open to the Government to levy further assessment on his lands. SECRETARY OF STATE v. DATTATRAYA, 3 Bom. L.R. 923=26 B. 271.

—Non-payment of—Forfeiture consequent upon non-payment—Re-grant of the lands to the holder—Relation between the mortgagee of the first holding and the holder under the re-grant—See ACT V OF 1879, s. 56, 8 Bom. L. R. 360=30 B. 466.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1876, ss. 75, 77, 79, 7 C. 322=9 C.L.R. 193.

—of tax by Municipality—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts to review same—See BEN. ACT III OF 1884, ss. 85 (a), 87 (d), 116, 12 C.W.N. 709=7 C.L.J. 631=35 C. 859.

—Suit to cancel an—by a Municipality—See BEN. ACT III OF 1884, ss. 113, 116, 21 C. 319.

—Owner of building required to set it back—Corporation to make full compensation to—Assessment of compensation—"Any damage he may sustain—See BOM. ACT III OF 1872, 14 B. 292.

—Prohibitory—See MAD. ACT II OF 1864, 27 M. 386.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1876, s. 7, 26 M. 389.

—Liability of District Forest Officer to be assessed by Municipal Council—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, sch. A, 25 M. 747.

—Voluntary payment of, by plaintiff for his own benefit and merely to forestall the defendant, does not give him a right to sue for the payment—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 69, 70, 1 Bom. L.R. 371.

—of damages may be approximately stated in plaint with offer to pay additional Court-fee if more damages are found due—S. 50, Civ. Pro. Code does not prevent it—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 11, 17 M.L.J. 625.

—of damages, prinoiples regulating—See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, 6 C. L. J. 398.

—Sale of zamindari land for arrears of revenue and purchase thereof by Government—Irrigation from existing source, right to, by way of easement—Government's right to assess ryots in occupation—See EASEMENTS ACT, 1882, s. 13, 26 M. 51.

—Increase of, after hundred years—Legality—See GRANT—RESUMPTION OF GRANTS, 8 M.L.T. 378.

—Inherent right of Sovereign to assess revenue on land—Rate of assessment right of Government to enhance—Foras—Toka land in Bombay—See LAND REVENUE, 9 B. 483.

Assessment—concluded.

—Unauthorized occupation of Government land—Levy of penal—Suit to recover payments made—Necessity for proof of coercion—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 14, 16, 13 M.L.J. 269.

—Liability of mortgagor to pay enhanced assessment — See MORTGAGE — USUFRUCTUARY, 8 M.L.T. 420=7 Ind. Cas. 871.

—Grant of — Consideration in shape of services rendered—Sale—Gift—Registration—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 56 (6) (b), 123, 12 Bom. L.R. 9=5 Ind. Cas. 599=34 B. 287.

Assessment, Land Revenue, Madras, Act.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1876.

Assessment of new lands, Amending Act IX of 1847.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1868.

Assessor.

See ACT X OF 1870.

See ACT X OF 1870, 17 B. 299, 8 B. 553, 17 C. 380, 10 C. 769.

Assets.

(1)—Government compensation for abolition of pilgrims' tax held to be assets, and to be divided among the grantees' heirs. MAHARANEE INDERJEET KOOAR v. MUSSUMATH ISMUDH KOONWAR, 3 W.R. 14, P.C.=10 M.I.A. 329.

—Administrator-General—Right of retainer in satisfaction of his own claim—See ACT VIII OF 1855, 2 M.H.C. 255.

—Suit for refund of—Realized in execution—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 38, 39. 41, O. XXI, rr. 4, 5, s. 73, 1 C.L.J. 315.

See COMPANY—WINDING UP OF COMPANY, 18 C. 31.

—Whether an impartible estate is—in the hands of a successor for payment of debts contracted by a previous holder—See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATES, 16 M.L.J. 339 =1 M.L.T. 272=29 M. 453.

—Decree against Karnavan — Undivided family—Share of deceased Karnavan not assets in the hands of his sons—Tarward property not—in the hands of successor—See MALABAR LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 5 M. 223.

Assignee.

—Representatives of, if competent to carry on execution-proceedings—Conveyance authorising assignee to carry on all execution-proceedings, effect of—Rights of representatives of—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 C.L.J. 396=3 Ind. Cas. 324=14 C.W.N. 752.

Assignment.

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—PROMISSORY NOTES—ASSIGNMENT.

(1)—Power-of-attorney to receive money becoming due.—A document authorizing a person to receive on behalf of another such sums as should become due in the course of execution of a contract for work is a power-of-attorney, and not an assignment. BHAGVANDAS KISHORDAS v. ABDUL HUSEIN MAHOMED ALI, 3 B. 49.

(2)—Defences in suit by assignee.—The defendant, in a suit by the assignee can set up, against the latter, all the defences that he would have had against the assignor, at any rate, those available to him up to the date when notice of the assignment was given to him. KANHAIYA LAL v. DOMINGO, 1 A. 732.

(3)—Executory Contract involving personal considerations — Assignment.—Rights arising out of a contract cannot be transferred, if they are coupled with liabilities or if they involve a relation of personal confidence NAMASIVAYA GURUKAL v. KADIR AMMAL, 17 M. 168=4 M. L.J. 31.

(4)—Of decree for arrears of rent—Execution by assignee—Bengal Tenancy Act, s. 148 (h).—The mere fact of an assignment of a decree for arrears of rent having been made before the Bengal Tenancy Act will not protect the assignee, who proceeds to execution afterwards, from the operation of s. 148 (h) of that Act; but execution will proceed if, before that Act came into force, the assignment had been recognised by the executing Court under s. 232, Civ. Pro. Code. KOILASH CHUNDER ROY v. JADU NATH ROY, 14 C. 380. [Cons., 1 C.L.J. 500.]

(5)—Assignment by bond—Liability of assignor.—Three bonds, two of them being hypothecation-bonds and the third a simple bond, were assigned to the plaintiff's predecessor-in-title for Rs. 300, with an undertaking on the part of the transferor to produce evidence to prove the bonds, and to be responsible in case of any damage incurred. The transferor realized a certain amount as interest subsequent to the transfer, and the claims on the hypothecation-bonds were reduced by the Court, and the claim under the simple bond was dismissed altogether, but the transferee did not prefer an appeal. Held that the first Court was right in decreeing the claim of the vendee for the interest realized by the vendor under one of the bonds subsequently to its sale, and that, as he had not appealed as regards the simple bond, he was not entitled to realize that amount. HARDEO v. KISHEN LAL, A.W.N. 1881, 90.

(6)—Assignment of interest pendente lite—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 372.—If a plaintiff in a suit sells his right to prosecute it, the purchaser must carry on the suit in his vendor's name. But if it is desired to bring the vendee's name upon the record, the Court must be satisfied that consideration had been paid and that there had been a bona fide transfer. In such cases, evidence of the necessary proceedings under s. 372, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, having been taken must be adduced, and the preliminaries essential for giving the vendee a title to carry on the suit must be complied with. RAMJI MAL v. HAZARI LAL, A.W.N. 1885, 242.

Assignment—continued.

(7)—Discharge of prior debt—Consideration for transfer—Remission part of the debt by assignor's creditor—Who is entitled to the benefit of the reduction.—Where a person transfers his property, the consideration in part for the transfer being the discharge of a debt due to his creditor, the assignee, and not the assignor, is, in the absence of anything in the nature of a contract, entitled to any remission made by the creditor of the assignor. CHENCHURAMAYYA v. SUBBARAMAYYA, 9 M.L.T. 79.

(8)—Mortgage—Suit on — Parties—One defendant, also assignee from another defendant—Claim under assignment--Court's duty to adjudicate on—Assignee already party—Not necessary to be again made party as such.—Where, in a mortgage suit, the assignee of a mortgage claiming under an assignment made by a defendant in her favour was also himself a defendant and put forward his claim as such assignee. Held, that the Court was bound to adjudicate upon his claim and that it was unnecessary to make him, who was already a party, again a party expressly as assignee. SAMINATHAIER v. ADINARAYANA-SAMIER, 9 M L.T. 410=9 Ind. Cas. 643.

(9)—Validity of, by way of mortgage—Conditional assignment — Assignee's right — Law applicable to the Punjab.—An assignment of the assignor's interest in a certain sum due from a third party, "until certain advances made by the assignee to the assignor had been paid off with interest," is a conditional assignment. And a charge or a conditional assignment is not such an assignment as gives the assignee all the rights which, under the Judicature Act, he can have, only when the assignment is absolute, i.e., when it absolutely vests the property in him. So, a person, to whom a non-negotiable promissory-note is assigned by the payee, as security for a debt due from the payee to the assignee, until the debt due to the assignee remains unpaid, cannot, as such an assignment is only conditional, sue the maker of the pro-note, in his own name, for recovery of the amount due on the note. (12 P.R. 1894, 1 A. 732, R.) Neither the Judicature Act nor the Transfer of Property Act is, in terms, in force in the Punjab, and the Court is at liberty to adopt such provisions of the one or the other, as appear to it to be consonant with the general principles of law and equity. NIHAL CHAND v. ALI BAKSH, 9 P.R. 1907=41 P. W. R. 1907=28 P.L.R. 1908,

(10)—Plea of assignment without consideration—Benami transactions—Sham transaction—Fraud.—An assignee of a debt suing the debtor cannot be defeated by a plea of the latter that the assignment is without consideration. This principle has no application where the assignment is impeached not merely on the ground of being benami but on the ground of being a sham transaction, intended to defeat the provisions of an Act and prejudice the rights of the person so impeaching it. In such a case, the transaction is substantially assailed on the ground of fraud. To cases like these the rule in Mulji v. Nathubhai, 15 Bom. 11 applies. SATU VITHUJI v. DAGDU BHAGU, 9 Bom. L.R. 462.

Assignment—concluded.

(11)—Execution—Application in accordance with law—Assignment of decree by some of decree-holders to one of them—Refusal of those who did not assign to join assignee in execution—Failure to prove validity of assignment, effect of—Parties.—Some of the decree-holders in a suit assigned the decree in favour of one of them. The others having refused to join the assignee in execution, he applied for execution, making them defendants. Held, (1) that this was an application in accordance with law; (2) that the failure of the assignee-decree-holder to prove the validity of the assignment did not make his application any the less in accordance with law. VASHA KUTHIYAKATH UDUMAN HAJEE v. ASHI KALAKATH MAMIKUTTI, 5 Ind. Cas. 120. (12 M.L.J. 348, R.)

(12)—Assignment of decree—Order refusing recognition of—Appeal.—An appeal lies against an order refusing to recognise an assignment of a decree. UNNAMALAI AMMAL v. KANDASWMY MADPANOR, 6 Ind. Cas. 199=8 M.L.T. 66. (25 M. 383, F.)

(13)—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 130, 131, 134—Assignment of debt—Recognition of assignment by debtor-Notice of assignment to debtor—Notice for payment of debt to assignee, conditioned on non-payment by the assignor—Notice by transferee as effectual as by assignor.—An assignment of a debt lawfully due and owing by a person to the assignor binds the debtor, who is thenceforward liable for its payment to the transferee. The debtor cannot refuse to recognise the transfer, provided he has notice of it, and payment to the assignor, after notice of assignment will not absolve the debtor from liability to the transferee. If the debtor has paid the original creditor before notice of assignment, he can plead such payment in discharge of his liability, although, at the time of payment, the right had vested in the assignee. Notice of assignment may have conditions or qualifications attached to it. Where the assignor notified to his debtor that the money due to him should be paid to his assignee, provided it was not paid already by the assignor himself: Held, that the notice was perfectly valid as a notice of assignment and did not entitle the debtor to refuse payment to the assignee if he knew that the assignor had not paid the amount himself. Under s. 131 of the Transfer of Property Act, the transferee can sign the notice if the transferor refuses to do so, and he need not set out the circumstances under which he gives notice. If the transferor gives an invalid notice, the transferee is entitled to give a legal notice, so as to prevent the original debtor from defeating the assignment. Obiter.—The Transfer of Property Act does not lay down what the debtor is to do when the fact of the assignment or its validity and operation is in dispute, but there can be no doubt that, in such a case, if he has received a duly signed notice of the alleged assignment, the only safe course for him is not to pay either of the claimants but to ask them to interplead. If he pays one of them he does so at his peril, and he will be obliged to pay over again to the right person, if the person to whom he paid had no title. R. GOPALAKRISHNA IYER v. D. GOPALAKRISHNA IYER, 4 Ind. Cas. 420=7 M.L.T. 97=33 M. 123. (11 B. 1. R.)

Assignment—continued.

(14)—Rights of third party to impeach—Assignment defrauding the third party.—Ordinarily an assignment cannot be impugned by a third party when the assignor admits. But it is otherwise where the question is whether the transaction to which the assignment relates is colourable and intended to defraud that third party. GAURISHANKAR v. HIRALAL, 12 Bom. L.R. 822=1 Ind. Cas. 957.

(15)—Of debt—Plea that no valid assignment took place—Parties—Suit for dissolution of partnership—Sale of outstanding debts of partnership before preliminary decree under s. 215, Civ. Pro. Code, is invalid.—In a suit by the plaintiffs for recovery of money as assignees of the creditors, the defendants, the debtors are entitled to plead that the plaintiffs arenot in fact or law assignees of the debts in suit. In order to have this clearly and satisfactorily tried and decided, the obvious course would be to join the original creditors as defendants. In a suit for an account of a dissolved partnership, a decree should be passed under Civ. Pro. Code, s. 215, in accordance with form No. 132 in sch. IV; and it should direct an account to be taken of the dealings and transactions between the parties, and of the credits, property and effects due and belonging to the late partnership, and it should direct the appointment of a receiver of the outstanding debts and effects. A sale of outstanding debts of the partnership cannot be legally ordered or carried out until an order, in accordance with s. 215, sch. IV, No. 132, Civ. Pro. Code, deciding that there is to be a dissolution from a certain date, has been passed. Any sale so ordered would ipso facto fall to the ground if no decree for dissolution were passed, and the suit itself were dismissed. The purchaser under such sale would have no locus standi to sue the debtor. MUL CHAND v. PIYARE LAL, 77 P. L.R. 1903=23 P.R. 1903. (20 M. 313, R.) privity is created by the transfer to him, and not by his obtaining possession. Similarly, when the assignee in turn assigns over, his privity of estate ceases, and, consequently, his liability also ceases in respect of breaches of covenant committed after he has assigned over. This principle applies both to agricultural and non-agricultural leases, although the Transfer of Property Act does not apply to an agricultural lease. SALDANHA v. SUBRAYA HEBBARA, 17 M.L.J. 258=2 M.L.T. 363=30 M. 410. (1 M.H.C. 21, 3 C.L.R. 285, Not F.; 17 M. 296, R.)

(16)—Lien on present and future property.—In equity there can be a valid assignment of property to be subsequently acquired. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA v. THE DELHI COTTON MILLS COY., LTD., 57 P.R. 1902.

(17)—Of mulgeni tenure—Assignee's liability arises by transfer to him and not by obtaining possession—Transfer of Property Act, s. 109 (j).—The liability of the assignee from a lessee arises by reason of his privity of estate, and this

Assignment—continued.

(18)—By co-owner without objection by others—Assignment of whole of the debt due to a shop—Validity.—Where a co-owner assigned the whole debt due to a shop to the plaintiff, and the other co-owner who was made a party to the suit did not question the assignment, it was held, that, under such circumstances, the assignment was good for the whole amount. MALAI KOLANDAI CHETTI v. ROYAR PILLAI, 3 M.L.T. 294.

(19)—Assignment admitted by assignor—When can be impugned by a third party—Pleadings.—Ordinarily, an assignment cannot be impugned by a third party when the assignor admits it. But a third party is entitled to impugn it when the transfer is a colourable one and has been entered into with the object of defrauding him. JWALA PRASAD v. BHARAT SINGH, 10 Ind. Cas. 226.

See ACT XXIII OF 1871, s. 12, 6 A. 630=A.W.N. 1884, 209, 7 A. 886=A.W.N. 1885, 281.

—Suit on a promissory-note—Suit by assignee—Assignment found to be not made in fact—Effect—See ACT X OF 1873, 3 M.L.T. 163.

—Assignment of Government revenue—Rights of assignee—See MAD. ACT II OF 1864, 7 M. 258.

—Mismanagement of trust—Management made over to Municipality—Suit by Municipality on a mortgage document belonging to trust—Maintainability of suit on document without assignment in writing—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, s. 26, 3 M.L.T. 241=31 M. 111.

—Assignment pendente lite—Addition of assignee as co-defendant after period of limitation, effect of—See PUN ACT XVI OF 1887, ss. 53, 60, 3 P.R. 1907, Rev.=4 P.W.R. 1907, Rev.=44 P.L.R. 1908.

—Act IV of 1900 (Punjab descent of jagirs), s. 8, cl. 3—Sub-assignment—Liability to be attached in execution—See PUN. ACT IV OF 1900, s. 8, cl. 3, 117 P.R. 1907.

—of Government revenue—Rights of assignee—See U.P. ACT III OF 1901, ss. 58, 99, 8 A.L.J. 534.

—Assignment by mortgagee of mortgage-debt without consideration—Benamidar's right to sue on such assignment—See BENAMI TRANSACTION—GENERAL, 12 C.W.N. 409.

Assignment—continued.

—Endorsement on bond "the balance due should be paid into the hands of my son," whether can be treated as assignment of bond —Assignee's right of suit—See BOND, 1 Ind. Cas. 212.

—Rights of third party to impeach—See CHAMPERTY, 8 A.L J. 652.

—Rights of assignee of decree—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 49, O. XXI, r. 2, 7 Ind. Cas. 55=12 C.L.J. 312.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 58, 9 B. 179.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 64, 73, 15 C. 771.

See CONTRACT — ILLEGAL CONTRACTS, 13 B. 42, 99 P.R. 1901.

—of contract—See CONTRACT — MISCELLANEOUS, 9 Bom. L.R. 114.

—Contract to assign pattas—Legality of contract of insurance—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 M.L.T. 393.

—of personal contract without promisor's consent—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 17 C. 115.

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 1 Hyde 178, 1 Agra 79.

See DECREE — DECREE, CONSTRUCTION OF, A.W.N. 1883, 198.

—Distinction between attachment and assignment of decree — See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 A.L.J. 564=2 Ind. Cas. 626.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE— MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1881, 101, A.W.N. 1883, 262.

See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIAN, 12 B. 686.

—Joint family property—Mortgage by father alone—Transferee from father acquiring title by adverse possession—Right to question validity of mortgage—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 8 A.L.J. 901, F.B.

—Deposit of policy as security for debt—Subsequent assignment of policy to another creditor—Priority—See INSURANCE, 12 Bom. L.R. 717=7 Ind. Cas. 952.

—of lease—See LEASE — MISCELLANEOUS, 7 Bom. L.R. 313=29 B. 391.

—Limitation—Minority — Right to sue—Personal exemption—by minor—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 6, 8, A.W.N. 1901, 12.

—Assignment pendente lite—Addition of assignee as co-defendant after period of limitation, effect of—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 22, 3 P.R. 1907=42 P.W.R. 1907=3 P.L.R. 1908.

—Fraudulent, of debt not really existing—Assignee whether bound to assume non-existence of debt as set forth in debtor's written statement—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 62, 95, 97, 18 M.L.J. 19=31 M. 230=4 M.L.T. 80.

Assignment—continued.

—Claim merged in judgment—Assignment of right under judgment whether original cause of action be alienable or not—Assignment of decree for maintenance—See MAINTENANCE, 14 C.W.N. 918=12 C.L.J. 130=6 Ind. Cas. 826.

—of invalid mortgage—Rights of assignee as against mortgagor and subsequent mortgagee for consideration—Scope of s. 53, Transfer of Property Act—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1908, 116=5 A.L.J. 305=30 A. 297.

—Assignment of mortgage, amount of consideration of, for the purpose of registration—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 8 B. 610.

See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 4 A. 462=A.W.N. 1882, 106.

See MORTGAGE — REDEMPTION, 4 O.C. 210.

—by mortgagee for lesser consideration—Right of assignee to recover entire amount due to his assignor—See MORTGAGE—USUFRUCTUARY, 8 M.L.T. 420=7 Ind. Cas. 871.

See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 C.L.R. 18.

—of hundi — See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—HUNDIS, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 247.

—of property in promissory-note, whether can be effectively made on mere delivery of it to plaintiff, for a suit to be filed on it, for no consideration — See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—PROMISSORY NOTE—GENERAL, 14 Bur. L.R. 25.

—Endorsement on pro-note—Intention to effect a transfer—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—PROMISSORY-NOTE — GENERAL, 1 M.L.T. 329=16 M.L J. 554=30 M. 75.

—Promissory-note payable to two persons—Endorsement by one payee in favour of the other—Suit by endorsee as such—Right of endorsee to sue as assignee of chose in action —Admissibility of endorsement as evidence of assignment—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881, s. 51, 24 M. 654.

—of business of firm—Liability of assignee for debt not shown in books of firm—See NOVATION, A.W.N. 1881, 52.

—Money-bond—Bona fide—Assignor if liable to be made party to suit by assignee to enforce bond—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 1 M.H.C. 140.

See PARTIES TO SUITS—ADDING PARTIES TO SUITS, Marsh 251=2 Hay 111.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 1 B. 267, 2 B. 97, 3 B. 312, 23 C. 450.

—Determination of validity of, after notice to parties—Effect—See RES JUDICATA—GENERAL, 7 M.L.T. 224=6 Ind. Cas. 286.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—CONTRACTS, SUITS ON, 15 B. 1.

Assignment—concluded.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, sch. I, art. 44 (b), 8 M. 104, F.B.

—Assignee of property mortgaged not a debtor—See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT, 1889, s. 4, 19 C. 336.

—of trade-mark without the business confers no right—See TRADE MARK, 13 C.W.N. 82=4 Ind. Cas. 318.

—of executory contract, legality and validity of—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 3, 10 C.W.N. 755=33 C. 702.

—Hindu reversioner's contingent right—Assignment of such right—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 6, 25 C. 778.

—of mortgage-right pending suit on mortgage—Insufficient attestation of the mortgage-deed—Discovery of this defect after assignment—Suit by assignee for refund of purchase-money—Special covenant protecting assignor from liability—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 55, 59, 1 M.L.T. 416=17 M.L.J. 167=30 M. 284.

—Lease—Liability of assignee for rent—When ceases—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 108 (j). 14 C.W.N. 831=12 C.L.J. 256=37 C. 683=7 Ind. Cas. 198.

—Notice of assignment of debt, object and effect of—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 131, 10 A. 20=A.W.N. 1887, 270.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 131, 10 M. 289, 12 C. 505.

—of a right to recover subscription—Right of holder of a charge—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 134, 7 M.L.T. 125=5 Ind. Cas. 834.

—Right of assignee of actionable claim, to recover only price actually paid—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 135, 9 A. 476=A.W.N. 1887, 67.

—Assignment of mortgage for less amount—Right of assignee to lien for larger amount—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 135, 22 M. 301.

—of foreign judgment—Right of assignor to whole amount of judgment-debt—Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882, s. 135, cl. (d) foreign judgment whether covered by—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 135, 23 M. 449=10 M.L.J. 77.

—Fiduciary relationship—By married woman—See TRUSTEE, Bourke O.C. 292.

Assignment in trust for Creditors.

(1)—Assignment by debtor of property to trustees—Effect—Subsequent attachment.—A bona fide assignment by a debtor of his entire property to trustees for the benefit of his creditors divests him of any interest which can be the subject of attachment subsequently issued in execution of a decree against such debtor, until the trusts of the deed of assignment have been carried out. BAMANJI MANIKJI et al v. NAVROJI PALANJI, 1 B.H.C. 233. [R., 10 B. H.C. 327, 3 Bom. L.R. 905.]

Assignment in trust for Creditors—continued.

Assignment of Administration Bond.

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT, 1890, ss. 35, 36, 37, 7 Bom.L.R. 803=30 B. 164.

Assignment of chose-in-action.

See ASSIGNMENT.

See ASSIGNMENT OF DECREE.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 131 to 135.

(1)—Purchaser of defendant's interest after decree of lower Appellate Court in plaintiff's favour—Right of Purchaser to prefer special appeal.—The plaintiff sued the defendant for khas possession of land and got a decree in the lower appellate Court. Two days after this, the rights and interests of the defendants in the property were sold in Court auction; and the purchaser preferred a special appeal to the High Court, without joining the defendant as a party to the appeal. Held, that the purchaser could not maintain the appeal without joining the defendant as a co-appellant or co-respondent. GAJADAR PRASAD v. GANESH TEWARI, 7 B.L.R. 149=15 W.R. 485.

(2)—Transfer of Property Act, ch. VIII, s. 131—Contract Act, s. 60—Assignment—Notice—Plea of settlement.—An assignment of a chose in action cannot affect the original debtor so long as he has no notice of the same. The institution of a suit by the assignee is itself notice of assignment. Where, in a suit by an assignee against the original debtor, the latter pleads settlement of the debt in question with the assignor and want of notice, the Court, before going into the question whether he had notice of assignment or not must first decide whether there was any such settlement; if it finds there was no such settlement, notice is immaterial. The Contract Act had no bearing on the assignment of debts, and though the Transfer of Property Act was not in force in the Punjab, yet, the law applicable to the assignment of debts in the Punjab was the same as that contained in Ch. VIII and s. 131 of the Transfer of Property Act. JHOKI RAM v. MALICK KADAR BAKSH, 12 P.R. 1894. [R., 144 P.R. 1906, 9 P.R. 1907, 11 P.R. 1907=9 P.W.R. 1907.]

(3)—Decree for rent—Right of assignee-decree-holder to carry on suit.—Where an ex-parte decree for rent has been sold by the decree-holder, the assignee of the decree-holder may carry on the suit instead of the landlord. BINODE BEHAREE MOOKERJEE v. BEER NARAIN ROY. 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 52.

(4)—Promise by a debtor to pay money when received from his debtor not an assignment.—A promise by A, a debtor, to pay money to his

Assignment of Chose-in-action—continued.

creditor when B, A's creditor, pays the amount due to A does not constitute an assignment of the debt due by A to B. It simply holds out to the promisee the expectation that he will receive the money when paid by B. MOOL CHUND v. JAMYUT SINGH, 63 P.R. 1873. [Cited. 60 P.R 1884.]

(5)—Equitable assignment of debt—Assignee entitled to priority over assignor's creditors.—Plaintiffs M and B, all these three made an agreement among themselves that M is to borrow money from plaintiff to enable him to carry out a building contract for B, and that whatever becomes due to M from B up to the 20th December 1872 should be paid to plaintiff. Before that date and before any money was paid by B to M the defendant obtained a decree against M and attached what was due from B to M. Plaintiff sued to establish his right to receive the money from B. Held that the original agreement amounted to an assignment to plaintiff of B's debt to M and that he had a right to the money in preference to the defendant. LAKHA v. SOBHA, 66 P.R. 1875.

(6)—Money-bond—Right of obligee to assign bond without obligor's consent.—A common money-bond may be assigned to any person without the consent of the obligor, and the assignee may sue upon the bond. KRISTNA CHETTI v. BALARAMA CHETTI, 1 M H.C. 139.

(7)—Purchaser of moiety of right to damages.—Where the plaintiff purchased from a certain person a moiety of whatever the latter might obtain as damages from the defendants for the breach of a contract. Held that such a transfer did not confer on the plaintiff a right to sue the defendants for a moiety of the damages. BHEKAREE SINGH v. MUHOSSEIN ALLY, 1 Hay 482.

(8)—Amalgamation of joint debt and personal debt.—A joint debt cannot be amalgamated by a colourable assignment with a personal debt, so as to give the assignee the right to sue in respect of both debts. SREEHURRY PAUL v. NILMONEY SEN, 1 Hyde 169.

(9)—Wrongful attachment of property—Assignment of right to sue for damages.—A mere right to sue for damages for injury caused by a wrongful act, such as a wrongful attachment, cannot be made the subject of sale or assignment. PRAGI LAL v. FATEH CHAND, 5 A. 207=A.W.N. 1882, 219.

(10)—Chose-in-action or actionable claim—Defences in suit by assignee.—Such a pronote is, however, an actionable claim or chose-in-action, and can be acquired. And just as in England, Courts of equity allow the assignee of a chose-in-action to sue in his own name, he can do so in this country, where the Courts are both Courts of law as well as Courts of equity. [F., 13 B. 42; R., 28 M. 544=15 M.L.J. 384, 9 P.R. 1907=41 P.W.R. 1907.] The defendant, in a suit by the assignee can set up, against the latter, all the defences that he would have had against the assignor, at any rate, those available to him up to the date when notice of the assignment was given to him. KANHAIYA LAL v. DOMINGO, 1 A. 732.

Assignment of Chose-in-action—continued.

(11)—Assignment of mere right to sue invalid—Public policy.—An assignment merely with a view to litigation, to a person who, but for the litigation, would have no interest whatever in the subject-matter of the assignment, was held invalid as against public policy. GOCULDAS JAGMOHANDAS v LAKHMIDAS KHIMJI, 3 B. 402. (4 I.A. 46, R.) [Cons., 2 N.L.R. 17; D., 13 B. 42.]

(12)—Hindu Law—Assignment of debt—Right of assignee to sue in his own name.—Under the Hindu law, the assignee of a debt may sue the debtor in his own name. KADARBACHA SAHIB v. RANGASAMI NAYAK, 1 M.H C. 180. [F., 13 B. 42; Appr., 4 M.H.C. 176; R., 9 Bom. L.R. 114.]

(13)—Assignment of—Practice—Rights of assignee—Lien, holder of—His rights.—In the practice of the Courts of this country, it is lawful to assign choses-in-action when there is neither fraud against individuals, nor special violation of the rules of public policy. The assignee of a claim for rents can sue under Act X of 1859. Where a factory is pledged as security for rent due on a land, and the person having the lien obtains a decree and cannot realise the amount due under the decree from the estate of the lessee or his assigns, he must institute a suit in the Civil Court. HURRINATH MUZOOMDAR v. MESSRS. MORAN & CO., W. R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 127. [D. 27 C. 827 F.B.]

(14)—Chose-in action—Assignment.—Choses-in-action are assignable in this country as also in England, although at law the assignee cannot sue in his own name. JUG MOHUN LALL v. MUSSAMUT BUDDAM KOER, 9 W.R. 243.

(15)—Suit to recover seer land—Suit by proprietor—Civil Courts—Suit to enforce contract.—In a sulehnamah between B, the assignee of the plaintiff, and the defendant and a third party, it was agreed that as B held less seer land than the other two persons, there should be an equal division between the shareholders within a certain time, and in case no division took place, that B should be entitled to damages. The plaintiff sued to recover possession of certain seer land and a certain sum as damages for the breach on the contract. Held, that if the suit was regarded as one brought by a proprietor, who had purchased a certain share, the suit was not cognizable in the Civil Courts; and that if on the other hand it was a suit to enforce a contract made with B, which contract did not convey any right in specific lands the cause of action was one not legally assignable. JURBUNDHUN SINGH v. SHEORAJ SINGH, 5 N.W.P. 184.

(16)—Purchaser of putnidar's rights—Sale during pendency of suit—Effect—Right of suit.—The purchaser of a putneedar's rights and interests in a putnee sold during the pendency of a suit brought by the latter against his tenants acquires the putneedar's right to carry on the suit. WILSON v. THE GOVERNMENT, 12 W.R. 122.

Assignment of Chose in action—continued.

(17)—Title declared valid—Subsequent attack—Sale of decree—Execution by vendee—Rights of judgment-debtor as against purchaser.—When a title has been declared valid, it cannot be attacked, on other grounds, which are not newly discovered, but which were available, and might have been taken when the former suit was under trial. If A has sold his decree to B, and ratified it by his own admission in Court, it is not for the judgment-debtor to contest the right of the purchaser to execute it; his only valid plea would be payment to the original decree-holder. SUNNOBURNESSA KHANUM v. MEHER CHUND, W.R. 1864, 313.

(18)—Decree-holder transferring interest to stranger—Certificate—Filing of copy of decree—Purchaser—Presumption of genuineness of sale.—If a decree-holder does not apply to a Court to certify a transfer of his interest to a third party, the Court can take no notice of such transfer. A decree holder applying for execution need not file a copy of his decree, and when a professed purchaser of the decree files a copy and the alleged deed of sale, no presumption arises as to the genuineness of the sale. KHETTUR MOHUN CHUTTOPADHYA v. ISHUR CHUNDER SURMA, 11 W.R. 271. [R., 18 C. 639, 10 C.L.J. 396.]

(19)—Assignee of decree—Admitting assignee to execution.—The Court is not bound to admit the assignee of a decree to execution thereof. If there is no dispute, or if it can decide the dispute, it may admit him to carry on the decree. BISHTOO CHURN BHOOSUN v. KISHEN GOPAL MISSER, 13 W.R. 207.

(20)—Act X of 1859—Decree under Act—Assignment.—No law forbids the assignment of a decree under Act X of 1859. In the matter of JUNMEJOY MOOKERJEE, 14 W.R. 215. [R., 1 C.L.J. 500.]

(21)—Transfer of plaintiff's interest—Written statement — Transferee's appeal — Parties.—Where plaintiff's interest has been transferred with his assent, and the written defence is afterwards put in without demur, the original plaintiff need not be associated with the transferee in an appeal by the latter. MONEEROODDEEN MOJOOMDAR v. PARBUTTY CHURN GHOSE, 15 W.R. 121.

(22)—Purchaser of plaintiff's right after suit dismissed—Appeal against dismissal—Joinder of parties.—The purchaser of plaintiff's rights after a suit has been dismissed cannot appeal against the order of dismissal without joining the original plaintiffs as appellants. DHUNNOO SOWDAGUR v. SUNNOO BIBEE, 15 W.R. 106.

(23)—Quære.—Whether the speculative purchase of a right of appeal can be recognized by a Court of Justice where third parties purchase the rights and interests of plaintiffs in a suit which is dismissed, and file an appeal in which they describe themselves as plaintiffs, appellants, together with the original plaintiffs, and the original decree is confirmed with costs: held that the purchasers take the risks and liabilities of the plaintiffs from the commencement, including liability for all costs awarded against plaintiffs generally without limitation. TROYLUCKHONATH BANERJEE v. BRINDABUN CHUNDER SIRCAR CHOWDHRY, 18 W.R. 438.

Assignment of Chose in action—concluded.

(24)—Assignee of right to receive rent—Right of suit.—The assignee of a zamindar's right to receive rent has a right in a Civil Court whether the assignment has been effected by the intervention of the Civil Court or the private act of the zemindar. REEDOY MONEE BURMONEE v. HUGH SIBBOLD, 15 W.R. 344. [F., 4 C. W.N. 10; D., 27 C. 827.]

(25)—Civil Courts—Courts of law and equity—Equitable assignment of chose in action.—Civil Courts in this country, being not merely Courts of law but of equity also, can assign choses in action, which, if legally saleable, are equitably assignable also. MUNRUNJUN SINGH v. LEELANUND SINGH, 11 W.R. 5.

(26)—Suit by assignor—Conditional assignment—Assignor's right to sue.—When an agreement of assignment provided that the assignor should sue for the benefit of the assignee who is to supply funds for and enjoy the fruits of litigation, the plea that the assignor having parted with his property and rights in the subject-matter of suit is not entitled to sue will not avail. It will hold good only in the case of an unconditional assignment of which notice had been given to the debtor. MUHAMMAD SADIQ v. POLLARD, 1886 P.R. 183.

See CHAMPERTY, 4 B.L.R. O.C. 1=12 W.R. O.C. 13.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—STAY OF EXECUTION, 8 W.R. 202.

See HINDU LAW—CONTRACT, 4 M.H.C. 176.

Assignment of Decree.

See ASSIGNMENT.

See ASSIGNMENT OF CHOSE IN ACTION.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 16.

(1)—Assignment of decree pending proceedings in execution by decree-holder—Right of transferee to go on with execution—Power of executing Court to question validity of transfer or assignment—Ss. 244, 588, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Appeal by judgment-debtor—Second appeal by assignee or transferee of decree—"Decree-holder" includes person to whom decree is transferred.—The executing Court can, under the provisions of s. 244, Civ. Pro. Code, go into the disputed question of the transfer of the decree. If there is an assignment of a decree pending proceedings in execution, nothing in the Code debars the Court from recognising the transferee as the person to go on with the execution. The omission of the transferee, if it is an omission, to make a formal application for execution, is merely an error of procedure, and does not affect the merit of the case. On a Court determining a question as to a valid transfer of the decree as well as one relating to the satisfaction of the decree between the judgment-debtor and the person whom he found to be the decree-holder's representative, an appeal by the judgment-debtor lies before the lower Appellate Court, and it is bound to determine all the questions raised in it, including the question of representation if raised. If the appealing party is found by the first Court to be the decree-holder's representative, and the lower Appellate Court has not found that he is not so, a second appeal lies to the High Court. [R., 15 C.P.L.R. 69, 6 A.L.J. 71.] A decree holder as defined in the Procedure Code includes any person to whom the decree is transferred. DWAR BUKSH SIRKAR v. FATIK JALI 26 C. 230=3 C W N. 222 [R., 3 O.C. 32; F., 27 C. 670, 25 M. 529.]

Assignment of Decree—concluded.

(2)—Right of assignee—Equities.—Where a decree is assigned, the assignee takes the decree subject to any equities or limitations attached to it. SUBARAYA AIYAR v. SRINIVASA RAGHAVAIYANGAR, 10 M L.J. 211.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 148, cl. (h), 6 C.W.N. 91.

See BENAMI TRANSACTIONS—GENERAL, 4 B.L.R. App. 40.

—Satisfaction of decree by set off of another decree before assignee was brought on record—Validity of satisfaction as against assignee—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 49, O. XXI, r. 18, 7 M.L.J. 227.

—Assignment of decree by joint-holder—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 16, 19 M. 306=6 M.L.J. 17.

—Attachment, effect of, on execution application by assignee—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 53, 7 M.L.T. 83.

—Assignee of decree before presentation of appeal—Application to bring assignee as respondent—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXII, r. 10, 18 A. 36=A.W.N. 1895, 232.

—Effect—Decree attached by third party—Assignee's remedy—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 23, 27, 6 M.L.T. 273.

—Pending appeal—Assignee made party-respondent—Liability of assignee for costs—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 20 B. 167.

—for costs—See COSTS—MISCELLANEOUS, 24 A. 288=A.W.N. 1902, 47.

—Whether its validity can be questioned after assignee is made substituted decree-holder—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 12 C. W.N. 625.

—Execution of decree—Assignment of decree for costs—Costs realised by assignee—Decree reversed in appeal—Costs cannot be recovered by way of execution—See RESTITUTION OF RIGHTS BY MOTION, 20 A. 139=A.W.N. 1897, 222.

Assignment of Revenue.

See REVENUE, A.W.N. 1881, 63.

Assignment, Policies of Insurance (Marine and Fire).

See ACT V OF 1866.

Assistant Commissioner.

See BUR. ACT XI OF 1889, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 285.

Assistant Judge.

—Case referred for trial to—by the District Judge under s. 17 of Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869)—Powers of Assistant Judge in respect of case so transferred—Jurisdiction—See DISTRICT JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 15 B. 107.

Association.

See COMPANY.

—Meaning of—See ACT VI OF 1882, s. 4, 8 A.L.J. 32=9 Ind. Cas. 25.

—Illegal—Chief fund consisting of more than 20 members—Association for gain—Non-registration under Act VI of 1882—See ACT VI OF 1882, s. 4, 1 M L.T. 106.

See COMPANY—FORMATION AND REGISTRATION, 1 B. 550.

Assurance, Registration of.

See ACT XVI of 1864

Asylums, Lunatic.

See ACT XXXVI OF 1858.

Atet Property.

See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE, L. B.R., 1872—1892, 223.

Atrafi Dues.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 81 P.R. 1888, 108 P R. 1887.

Attached Property.

See ATTACHMENT.

—Suit to establish right to,—Value of suit for purposes of jurisdiction—See VALUATION OF SUIT, 142 P.R. 1906=11 P.W.R. 1907=63 P.L.R. 1907.

Attaching Creditor.

(1)—Attaching creditor—Official assignee—Priority.—A judgment-creditor has no priority over the Official Assignee in respect of property attached by him previous to the passing of the vesting order. FREDERICK PEACOCK v. MADA GOPAL, 29 C. 428, F.B.=6 C.W.N. 677. (15 C. 202, F.; 28 C. 419, Overruled; 5 B.L. R. 691, 10 C. 150, D.) [F., 29 B. 405=7 Bom. L R 488; R., 26 M. 673=13 M.L.J. 278, 7 O C. 314, 5 C.L J. 80=11 C.W.N. 163, 5 P W.R. 1909=6 P.L.R. 1909; D., 30 M. 413=17 M.L.J. 334=2 M.L.T. 365.]

Attachment.

1.—GENERAL.
2.—ALIENATION DURING ATTACHMENT.
3.—ATTACHMENT PENDING APPEAL.
4.—LIABILITY FOR WRONGFUL ATTACHMENT.
5.—MODE OF ATTACHMENT.
6.—PRIORITY OF ATTACHMENT.
7.—STRIKING OFF EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.
8.—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT.
9.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, ss. 47, 50—54, 60—64 and O. XXI.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.

——1.—General.

(1)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 214—Attachment—Description of property attached.—Per Peacock, C.J., and Mitter, J. (Division Bench) :—In attaching property, a reasonably accurate description of the property is all that is required by s. 214, Act VIII of 1859. NGA THA YAH v. F. N. BURN, 2 B.L.R. F.B. 91=11 W.R. F.B. 8.

(2)—Attachment confers no title.—Attachment only prevents alienation, it does not confer title. MOTI LAL v. KARRABULDIN, 25 C. 179, P.C. =24 I.A. 170=1 C.W.N. 639=7 Sar. 222. [F., 29 C. 428=6 C.W.N. 577; Expl., 5 C.L.J. 80=11 C.W.N. 163; R., 26 M. 673, 7 O.C. 314, 11 P R. 1906=4 P.L.R. 1906, 19 M.L.J. 401=32 M. 429.]

(3)—An attachment does not confer any title ; it merely prevents alienation. FREDERICK PEACOCK v. MADAN GOPAL, 29 C. 428=6 C. W.N. 577, F.B. (25 C. 179, R.) [F., 29 B. 405= 7 Bom. L.R. 488; R., 26 M. 673=13 M.L.J. 278, 7 O.C. 314, 5 C.L.J. 80=11 C.W.N. 163, 5 P.W.R. 1909=6 P.L.R. 1909; D., 30 M. 413 =17 M.L.J. 334=2 M.L.T. 365.]

(4)—Execution sale—Validity—Jurisdiction of attaching Court.—An attachment and sale of property situate outside the limits of the Court that passed the decree is improper and without jurisdiction and will have no validity as against a sale in pursuance of even a subsequent attachment in execution of a decree of a Court within whose limits the property is situate. OBHOY CHURN COONDOO v GOLAM ALI, 7 C. 410= 9 C.L.R. 361.

(5)—Application for removal of attachment, dismissal of owing to non-subsistence of attachment, whether bars a fresh applcation for removal of a second attachment.—At the time when the Court originally rejected the plaintiff's application for removal of the attachment placed by the defendant over his property, no attachment was in fact subsisting, it having been withdrawn by the Court on account of the defendant's failure to pay the necessary Court-fees. The decision against the plaintiff under the circumstances, was void of any effect and one that could not properly be regarded as res judicata at all. So, where a second attachment was placed on the same property by the defendant, the plaintiff was not precluded from again applying to remove such attachment. The second attachment by the judgment-debtor, after the first had been withdrawn, was a new and distinct act giving rise to a new cause of action or complaint to the plaintiff on which he was entitled to a fresh enquiry and decision. KASHINATH MORSHETH v. RAMCHANDRA GOPINATH, 7 B. 408. [F., 13 B. 72.]

Attachment*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(6)—Right of a creditor attaching a decree—Reversal of decree on appeal—Remedy of creditor.—G attached, in execution of a decree against R, a decree, got by the latter against M. Before G could reap the fruits of his attachment, an appeal, which had been preferred against the attached decree, was concluded by a compromise between R and M, the effect of such a compromise being to reduce the amount due to R under the original decree by a very large sum. The attaching creditor, G, protested against the compromise, but the appellate Court passed a decree on the basis of the compromise, disallowing the objection of G. G, now, proceeded to execute the original decree, which he attached. The execution Court refused to execute the decree, on the ground that it had been re-placed by the decree of the appellate Court based as it was on the compromise. Hence this appeal. Held, whatever might be the inconvenience or loss to which the attaching-creditor might be put by the compromise of the appeal, the original decree was no longer subsisting, the same having been re-placed by the decree of the appellate Court, and the attaching-creditor was without remedy. He was himself to blame for having attached a decree as to the reversal of which, on appeal, there was a chance. GANPAT SHAH v. RAM CHAND, 22 P.L.R. 1905.

(7)—Execution of decree—Ss. 268, 617, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=O. XXI, rr. 46, 48; s. 113, new Code)—Power of S.C. Court to attach salary of Railway servant not fallen due—Salary disbursable outside jurisdiction of Court.—The salaries of Railway servants residing and working for gain and actually getting their pay within the local jurisdiction of a Court can be attached in execution of a S. C. Court decree passed by such Court, if the attachment is made at or about the time when the agent of the disbursing officer goes to hand the money to the Railway servants within the jurisdiction of that Court. But if the attachment is of salary not actually fallen due, it can be made only by the Court having jurisdiction at the place where the disbursing officer has his office. An attachment by a S. C. Court of the salary of a Railway servant which has not accrued due and which is disbursable outside its jurisdiction, by a prohibitory order under s. 268 Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to the officer whose duty it is to disburse the salary, is invalid. (3 C.L.R. 30, 6 A. 243, F. ; 10 W.R. 447, R.) When a disbursing officer who has submitted and conformed to such an order subsequently discovers that the attaching Court had no jurisdiction, he is not bound to pay the money kept in deposit with him into the attaching Court. ABDUL GAFUR v. ALBYN, 30 C. 713=7 C.W.N. 821. [F., 28 B. 198=5 Bom. L.R. 803.]

Attachment—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(8)—Execution of decree—Attachment of property of third person—Right of owner to follow such property in the hands of an auction-purchaser.—Where property, not of the judgment-debtor, but of a third person was attached in execution of a decree and the owner having objected, his objection was summarily rejected on the sole ground that it was preferred on the day fixed for the sale and the property was sold: Held, that the owner was entitled to follow the property into the hands of the auction-purchaser and to recover either the property itself or damages. RAM PRASAD v. HAR BHAGWAN, A.W.N. 1893, 148.

(9) — Attachment in execution of decree—Second attachment applied for by assignee of decree—Onus of proving continuance of first attachment.—Although where the assignee of a decree wishes to execute it, it is incumbent on him to apply under s. 232, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, yet, if, at the date of the assignment, the judgment-debtor's property is already under attachment, it is not necessary for the assignee to apply for a fresh attachment. On a second attachment of property previously attached, it lies upon the decree-holder or assignee, if the question is raised, to show that his second application was unnecessary by reason of the first attachment being still subsisting, and that the first attachment had not been taken off. HAFIZ SULEMAN v. SHEIKH ABDULLAH, 16 A. 133=A.W.N. 1894, 13. (12 B.L.R. 411, R.) [R., 23 A. 114=A.W.N. 1900, 214.]

(10)—Mortgage-debt attached in execution of decree against mortgagee—Mortgaged property, not attached, effect of—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 274 (O. XXI r. 54).—The sale of a mortgage-debt described as such in execution of a decree carries with it the security without attaching the mortgaged property under s. 274, Civ. Pro. Code, since a debt secured on immoveable property is itself immoveable property. BALDEO DHANRUP MARWADI v. RAMACHANDRA BALVANT KULKARNI, 19 B. 121. [F., 18 P. R. 1909=22 P.W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 450 ; R., 14 C.P.L.R. 5, 26 B. 305 ; D., 13 Bom. L. R. 233.]

(11)—Execution of decree — Attachment—Sale—Sale cancelled by appellate Court—Re-sale—No second attachment necessary.—Certain properties were attached and sold in execution of a decree. The Court confirmed the sale and ordered the execution proceedings to be struck off the file of pending cases, but expressly maintained the attachment. On appeal, the appellate Court set aside the sales. Held, that the attachment remained in force after the cancelment of the sales and that no re-attachment was necessary before the respondent could apply for re-sale of the property in execution of his decree. ATA HUSAIN v. THE BANK OF UPPER INDIA, A.W.N. 1881, 5.

(12)—Attachment in execution—Effect thereon of an order striking execution proceeding off the file.—Whether an attachment in execution proceeding subsists or is removed by an order striking the execution proceedings off the file, must be decided with reference to what appears to have been the object and intention of the order. When, therefore, certain properties were attached in execution of a decree, and the proceedings struck off the file, and afterwards an application was made again to attach the property, and granted, held that the first attachment was not subsisting and that a private sale of the property before the second attachment was not void. ZIB-UN-NISSA v. JAIRAM GIR, 1 A, 616. (N.W.P. 1869, p. 51, F.) [R., A.W.N. 1885, 57, 8 O.C. 152.]

(13)—Held by the Full Bench (Markby, J., dissenting) that a private bona fide alienation of property during the continuance of an attachment is null and void only as respects the attaching creditor and those who claim under or through the attachment. ANUNDOLALL DASS v. RADHAMOHUN SHAHA, 11 W.R. O.C. 1.

(14)—Subsistence of attachment, period of—Application for second attachment—Effect on first attachment.—An attachment subsists, if not expressly abandoned by the party at whose suit it is issued, until an order for its withdrawal is passed. Where a judgment-creditor applies for a second attachment of his own accord, the first must be deemed to be abandoned ; but where the second attachment is taken out only because the Court requires him to begin de novo, the first attachment remains in force. JHOBOO SAHOO v. RAM CHURN ROY, 11 W.R. 517. [F., 15 W.R. 222.]

(15)—Wrongful attachment and sale—Invasion of right—Attachment—Effect on owner's title—Sale—Owner's title passes by.—Where the attachment itself is wrong, the sale of properties so attached is a fresh and greater invasion of the rights of the lawful owner. The person injured might have sued but is not bound to sue. (31 A. 10, R.) The attachment gives the creditor only certain rights. The title to the properties continues in the owner and will so continue, even if his objection to the attachment be disallowed. (18 M.L.J. 590, R.) The sale passes the title. It affects the owner's title differently and to a greater degree than an attachment. ANANTHARAZU GARU v. NARAYANARAZU GARU, (1911) 2 M.W.N. 531.

Attachment—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(16)—Procedure—Will—Probate— Appreciation of evidence—When an appellate tribunal will disturb the finding of the Lower Court on a pure question of fact — Judge approaching evidence with strong pre-possession and pre-conceived theories—Erroneous procedure.—Where the questions at issue depend entirely on the proper appreciation of the evidence of the witnesses examined in the case, it is an obvious duty of the appellate tribunal not to disturb the conclusion of the Court of trial, unless it is satisfied that the Judge of first instance who had the witnesses before him has, in dealing with the evidence, adopted an erroneous procedure and has decided against the clear weight of the evidence. Where the District Judge approaches the evidence in support of the will with strong pre-possession against its authenticity, based on what he considers to be suspicious circumstances connected with its appearance and the tenor of its contents, and rejects that evidence mainly on certain pre-conceived theories of his as regards the general credibility of witnesses belonging to a certain class, the method adopted by the District Judge in dealing with the case is clearly wrong. RAMASWAMY CHETTIAR v. KARUTHALACHI, (1911) 2 M W N. 495.

—Decree for share of rent—Void attachment—Alienation made during—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869, ss. 63, 65, 2 C.L.R. 325.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1880, s. 10, 20 C. 325.

See BEN. ACT I OF 1895, 5 C.W.N. 291=28 C. 217.

—of profits of vatan, removal of, on Collector's certificate—See BOM. ACT III OF 1874, s. 10, 4 B. 426.

—for non-payment of kist—Payment of kist subsequently — Detention of property attached in consequence of orders of superior officer—Liability of village officer for damages—See MAD. ACT II OF 1864, s. 60, 26 M. 263.

See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, s. 205-B, 24 A. 136=A.W.N. 1901, 183.

See U.P. ACT XII OF 1881, s. 56, A.W.N. 1885, 262,

--Suit for possession on invalid mortgage executed during attachment—Objection to validity of attachment for the first time in appeal—See APPELLATE COURT—OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL, 6 C. 129, P.C.=7 I.A. 157.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1859, ss. 270, 271, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 100.

—Execution — Illegal acts committed—Jewels attached not mentioned in attachment list—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 14 M.L.J. 295.

—Decree against Karnawan as senior member and manager of tarwad—Objection by members of tarwad to attachment of tarwad property—Release of attachment—Suit to set aside order—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 24 M. 658.

Attachment—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 17, A.W.N. 1888, 155.

—Decree-holder first attaching property—Priority not forfeited by delaying to obtain order for sale—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 73, 6 M.H.C. 348.

See CLAIM TO PROPERTY ATTACHED, 4 B. L.R. F.B. 175=13 W.R. F.B. 63.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 70, A.W.N. 1885, 219.

—Suit for declaration, that certain property was joint ancestral property and not liable to attachment in execution of certain decree—No consequential relief — Court-fee payable thereon—See COURT FEES, 13 A, 389=A.W.N. 1891, 139.

See COURT FEES, 4 B. 515, F.B.

See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, 20 M. 157, 1 Agra 104.

—Order re management of property attached, under s. 146—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—CALCUTTA, 29 C. 382=6 C.W.N. 469.

—Property of insolvent attached during insolvency proceedings—Dismissal of petition—Validity of—See INSOLVENCY—CLAIMS OF ATTACHING CREDITORS AND OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, 20 M. 452=7 M.L.J. 229.

—before and after judgment—See INSOLVENCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 61=10 W.R. 353.

—Money due to insolvent deposited in Court—Attachment by creditors—Right of Official Assignee—See INSOLVENCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 72, Note=12 W.R. 103.

See INSOLVENCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 C. 213=8 C.L.R. 213.

—of a chose in action—See JURISDICTION OF SUBORDINATE JUDGE, 3 Bom. L.R. 462.

—of rebel's property—See LIMITATION—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 Agra 46.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 11, 11-A, 125, 122 P.L.R. 1904=32 P.R. 1904.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 13, A.W.N. 1885, 305.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 29, 42, 27 M. 346.

—Order of Magistrate for—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 47, 3 Agra 65.

—Time within which to set aside an attachment before judgment—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 164, 8 Bom. L.R. 567.

—In execution of decree— Claim to attached property—Effect of order under Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 246—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 2 A. 455.

Attachment—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

—Suit by trustees of deed for benefit of creditors to set aside attachment—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 3 Agra 104.

See PAYMENT INTO COURT, 15 B. 681.

—Possession—Lands under attachment by Magistrate—See POSSESSION — GENERAL, 1 C.W.N. 569.

— Decree against owner — Attachment of property in execution—Running of time in favour of trespasser not arrested by attachment —Adverse possession— See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 11 M.L.J. 344.

See BEN. REG. VIII OF 1819, 2 Hay 347.

See BOM. REG. XXIX OF 1827, s. 6, 11 B. 222.

See MAD. REG. II OF 1802, s. 18, cl. 4, 1 M.H.C. 150.

—Execution of decree—Objection to suit to establish right of judgment-creditors—Subsequent suit by one of the judgment-debtors to recover possession as against the objector—See RES JUDICATA—PARTIES, A.W.N. 1890, 177.

See RES JUDICATA— RES JUDICATA IN EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS, 14 M.L.J. 359.

—Resumption and re-grant of Inam lands—No title to lands acquired by grantee—Attachment placed on village by Government, limited to exemption from assessment—See RESUMPTION—EFFECT OF RESUMPTION, 11 B. 235.

—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 88 and 89—Property of alleged absconding offender attached and sold under an illegal warrant—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1904, 159.

—Revenue sale for patni—Darpatnidar's decree for compensation—Attachment by patnidar's mortgagee—Priority—See SALE—SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT—SURPLUS PROCEEDS OF SALE, RIGHT TO 7 C. 173=8 C.L.R. 341.

Execution of money-decree—Sale without attachment void—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 10 A. 506= A.W.N. 1888, 195.

—Sale of property without attachment, invalidity of—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 5 A. 86, F.B.,= A.W.N, 1882, 186.

—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 18 C. 188, 21 A. 311= A.W.N. 1899, 84.

—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 295—of fund before judgment—Assignment of fund—By other creditors subsequent to assignment—Rights of assignee and attaching creditors—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—PROCEEDS OF SALES, RIGHT TO, 16 B. 91.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—WRONGFUL AND INVALID SALES, 18 B. 458.

Attachment—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

—Warrant of—Not signed by Judge but by Munsarim—Irregularity—Invalidity of sale—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE —SETTING ASIDE SALE, 7 A. 506, P.C.

—Omission to cause attachment—Validity of sale of mortgaged property not affected—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 21 C. 639.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 12 C. 317.

—Suit for damages — Small Cause Court Suit—Wrongful attachment of property in execution of decree—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 6 A. 10=A.W.N. 1883, 172.

—of moveable property in execution—Suit to establish right—Small Cause suit—Jurisdiction—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 5 A. 462.

—of moveable property—Suit by claimants—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 167 P.R. 1882.

—of trust-property—Mortgagor keeping with mortgagee part of mortgage-money on trust—See TRUST PROPERTY, 7 P.L.R. 1905.

See VALUATION OF SUITS, 3 Agra 104.

See WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT, 29 C. 244 =6 C.W.N. 164.

—Without and of suit for attached property —Subsequent and sale—See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT, 8 C. 871.

——2.—Alienation during attachment.

(1)—Attachment of immoveable property—"Private alienation"—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 276.—Where, after attachment of immoveable property in execution of a decree the matter in dispute between the judgment-debtor and the appellant was referred to arbitation and a decree, passed in accordance with the award, ordered the judgment-debtor to execute a conveyance of the property to the appellant, held, per Straight, J. The conveyance to the appellant could not be regarded as a "private alienation" as these words mean a voluntary sale, gift or mortgage in contravention of the order of attachment, and not the enforced execution of a conveyance in obedience to a decree. Per Spanki, J.—The conveyance to the appellant is not an invountary one, since it has arisen out of the voluntary exercise of the will of the parties who have given their consent to abide by the award of the referee. DURBAN ALI v. ASHRAF ALI, A.W.N. 1881, 75.

(2)—Alienation by judgment-debtor before attachment.—There is no bar to alienation of property by the judgment-debtor under the Procedure Code, so long as that property has not been attached, unless it was shown that the alienation was intended to defraud creditors. BHABA NATH ROY CHOWDHRY v. DURGA PROSONNO GHOSE, 16. C. 826.

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd.

(3)—Attachment of property—Subsequent sale—Vaildity.—An alienation of property, which was previously attached in execution of a decree, is void. LALLA RUNG LAL v. LALLA AMBIKA PERSHAD, 1 W.R. 212.

(4)—Withdrawal of attachment—Alienation unquestionable.—The withdrawal of an attachment implied, and also understood to be withdrawn by the decree-holder, bars objection against the validity of alienation of the attached property by mortgage or otherwise. JUGUNNATH v. GHASEE RAM, 1 N.W.P. 30.

(5)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 119—Sale of attached property—Setting aside of decree under which attachment was made.—The effect of granting an application made under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, is to declare that there has not been yet a vaild decree in the suit. Where a decree is set aside, and a new trial granted on an application under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, any attachment made under the decree falls to the ground, and the validity of a sale of the property attached is not affected. LALA JAGAT NARAYAN v. TULSIRAM, 1 B.L.R. A.C. 71=10 W.R. 99. [R., 7 C.L.R. 424 ; D., 15 M.L.J. 377.]

(6)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 240—Attachment—Alienation.—By the Full Bench (Markby, J., dissentiente) :—A private bona fide alienation, for value, of property attached in the manner pointed out by s. 240, Act VIII of 1859, made during the continuance of the attachment is, by virtue of that section, null and void, not as against all the world, but only as against the attaching creditor or persons who may acquire rights under or through the attachment. ANANDLAL DAS v. RADHAMOHAN SHAW, 2 B.L.R. F.B. 49=11 W.R.O.C. 1. [Affirmed, 10 B.L.R. P.C. 134 ; F., 4 B L.R. A.C. 20=12 W.R. 457 ; 13 W. 134 ; R., 23 M. 478 ; D., 16 B. 91.]

(7)—Private bona fide alienation of attached property—Void against creditor and his heirs only.—A private bona fide alienation of property during the continuance of an attachment is null and void only against the attaching creditor and those claiming under him. BAL MOKUND MOHUNT v. RAMHIT DASS, 13 W.R. 134.

(8)—Private sale after attachment—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 276—Sale with knowledge and consent of decree-holder.—Plaintiff held a mortgage of certain properties, and sued on his mortgage and obtained a decree enforcing his mortgage. The defendant was a prior mortgagee in possession. After the property was attached under the plaintiff's decree, the defendant bought the property. Plaintiff brought a suit to have the sale to the defendant declared invalid, so far as affecting his right of sale under his decree. It appeared that the sale to the defendant had been made with the full knowledge and consent of the plaintiff and with a view to satisfy his decree. It also appeared that the defendant had applied to the Court executing the decree to be allowed to deposit the purchase-money in Court and so far showed his bona fides. Held that though the sale would, under ordinary circumstances, not affect the plaintiff's right as it was made subsequent to the attachment, but as, in the special circumstances of the case, it appeared that the defendant was led by the conduct of the plaintiff to believe that the latter had no objection to the sale, the plaintiff was not in a position to object to the purchase. FAKIR SAHU v. GANESH PRASAD, A.W.N. 1886, 176.

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd.

(9)—Sale by owner of property before attachment—Knowledge of execution.—The owner of any property is not precluded by law from selling it before attachment, even though he knows that a judgment-creditor is seeking to get process of execution against it. RAM BURUN SINGH v. JANKEE SAHOO, 22 W.R. 473. [F., 24 C. 825 ; R., 25 B. 202.]

(10)—Execution of decree more than twelve years old—Attachment more than nine years old—Presumption.—An attachment more than nine years old, in execution of a decree more than twelve years old, will be presumed by the Court, in the absence of other information, to have been removed, and the execution proceedings to have come to an end. MUSSAMMUT COONJESSUR KOONWAR v. LUCHMEE NARAIN SINGH, 20 W.R. 418. (20 W.R. 135, P.C., F.)

(11)—Second attachment of property—Prior attachment proceedings—First creditor's lien preferable.—Where some property was made the subject of a second attachment while proceedings in execution on account of a prior attachment were in progress, held that first creditor's lien, dating from his latest attachment, which preceded second incumbrance, should be satisfied before the second creditor's claim. MUSST. MATONGINY DASSEE v. CHOWDHRY JUNMUNJOY MULLICK, 25 W.R. 513. [Appl., 8 C. 395 ; F., 9 C. 230]

(12)—Construction of Privy Council Ruling—Delay caused by decree-holder's willingness to give debtor time to repay.—Held that the Privy Council Ruling (20 W.R. p. 133), does not include such a case as that in which the delay is caused by the decree-holder's willingness to give his debtors every indulgence and every opportunity of re-paying their debt : nor does it bind the Court to hold (where a second kistbundee is executed by the judgment-debtors before the first execution proceedings are struck off) that, in consequence of the long interval in question, the decree-holder can only count from the date of the second kistbundee and so lose the benefit of his decree in favour of a mortgage-bond, which pledged to third parties the judgment-debtors' rights in property attached under the decree, and which was executed at a time when the property was under attachment, and the third parties were aware of the fact. MOHARANEE INDURJEET KOOER v. LUCHMUN SINGH, 24 W.R. 56.

Attachment—continued.

—— 2.—Alienation during attachment—contd.

(13)—Decree satisfied—Subsequent alienation—Right of attachment after judgment—Decree payable by instalments—Attachment for one instalment—Payment—Right of Court to continue attachment.—If the debt to secure which an attachment has been made is satisfied, a subsequent alienation of the property attached is not void, merely because the attachment has not been formally withdrawn. [R., 16 B. 91, 23 M. 478.] The right of attachment after judgment exists for the purpose of realizing sums actually due under a decree, and not for that of securing property, so that it may at some future period be made available for the realization of moneys not yet due, but which are to become payable under the decree. Where the total amount payable under a decree was payable by instalments and all the instalments which had become due, and in respect of which the property was attached were fully satisfied, when the alienation took place, by the amount which was paid into Court and drawn out by the decree-holder, and the Court afterwards ordered that the attachment on the property was to continue until all the subsequent instalments which should thereafter become payable under the decree should be satisfied, held that the Court had no power to make any such order and that such order could not in any way affect the validity of the alienation. RAMDHAN MITTER v. KAILAS NATH DUTT, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 20=12 W.R. 457.

(14)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 239, 240—Invalid attachment — Alienation—Undertaking not to alienate—Mortgage—Charge.—W, under a decree against A, obtained an order for the attachment of the estate belonging to A. The attachment was not an attachment made known in the manner required by s. 239 of Act VIII of 1859. The property was advertised for sale on 24th November, 1864. Three days before that day, A put in a petition, reciting that the decree-holder had agreed to give him time on condition that the attachment would remain good and that he would not in any way alienate the attached property until the whole of the decree was satisfied. On the 26th of the same month, A mortgaged a portion of this property to R. Subsequent to the date of the mortgage, W sold the decree to L. The execution case was then struck off. On the 18th February, 1866, fresh proceedings in execution were taken by L, the property was attached and ultimately sold to P. The mortgagee R having taken steps to foreclose the mortgage, P, to prevent the foreclosure, paid into Court the amount of the mortgage and now sued to recover back that amount with interest from him. Held that A's petition did not create a charge on the property and that the plaintiff had no right or title whatever as against the mortgage to R which was not null and void. RAMESWAR SINGH v. RAMTANU GHOSE, 4 B.L.R.A.C. 24 =12 W.R. 491. (12 W.R. 362, R.) [Appr., 7 A. 702.]

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd.

(15)—Mortgage after attachment—Act VIII of 1859, s. 240.—A mortgage made after attachment is alienation under s. 240, Act VIII of 1859 and is null and void. The alienation contemplated by s. 240, Act VIII of 1859, is null and void, not only as against the creditor but in regard to the whole world. MANNOO LALL v. BEET BHUNGUN SINGH, 9 W.R. 544.

(16)—Attachment that will defeat subsequent alienation, nature of—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240—Written order.—For an attachment to be relied on under s. 240, Act VIII of 1859, it must be shown to have been duly made by a written order issued and published. DWARKANATH BISWAS v. RAM CHUNDER ROY, 13 W.R. 136

(17)—Alienation during attachment—Effect against attaching creditor—Rights of prior and puisne attaching creditors—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240.—When property is alienated privately while under attachment the alienation is null and void only as regards the attaching creditor and those who claim under or through the attaching creditor as such. (17 W.R. 313, F.) The fact that a puisne attaching creditor, mentioned, in his application for attachment and sale of certain property of his judgment-debtor, that the same property had already been attached at the instance of another execution-creditor, will not entitle the puisne creditor to claim through the first attaching creditor. A puisne attaching creditor cannot be regarded as claiming through a prior attaching creditor, though the assignee of an attaching creditor's rights, or the next of kin of a deceased attaching creditor, may be said to so claim. Act VIII of 1859, s. 240, favours an attaching-creditor (subsequent to, and in defiance of, whose attachment the private alienation, thereby declared void, has been made), and of those claiming under or through him, and not puisne attaching-creditors, whose attachment is made later than such private alienation. Ss. 270 and 271 of the Civ. Pro. Code cover only cases where there has been a sale under the first attachment. BALAJI v. GAJANAN, 11 B.H.C. 169. [R., 16 B 91.]

(18)—Alienation during attachment voidable.—When certain property is alienated while under attachment, the alienation is not absolutely void, but voidable only; it is capable of confirmation. SYUD MAHOMED ALI v. GOKUL CHAND, 1 N.W.P. 18.

(19)—Alienation of attached property for satisfaction of decree, not invalid—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240.—An alienation of attached property made to satisfy the decree, in respect of which the attachment has been made, is not invalid under s. 240 of the Code of Civil Procedure. PURMESHUR RAI v. HIDAYUTOOLLAH, 1 N.W.P. 114. [R., 11 B. 285, F.B.]

(20)—Alienation of attached property after decree—Satisfaction—Alienation not void—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240.—On satisfaction of a decree under which attachment of his property had been made. The judgment-debtor reported the satisfaction to the Court, and on the following day he executed a mortgage of his property. The day after the execution of the mortgage the attachment was removed by the Court. Held, that the mortgage, if bona fide, was not null and void under s. 240 of the Code of Civil Procedure. BULDER SINGH v. KANAHA, 1 N.W.P. 125.

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd

(21)—Alienation of property after attachment—Validity.—Any alienation of property made after it has been attached in execution of a decree is illegal. JADUBANUND ROY v. BEEJOY GOBIND CHOWDHRY, 7 W.R. 510.

(22)—Purchaser of rights of mortgagor—Sale of property under attachment—Evidence.—Where the purchaser of the rights of a mortgagor sold in execution is ousted after foreclosure, and urges in appeal that the mortgagor had no power to alienate the property as it was under attachment for debts prior to date of mortgage, he must show that the attachment was made by himself or in execution of the decree under which he purchased, otherwise it is held to be no sufficient evidence of attachment. MOORUL SINGH v. MOHUN KOER, 9 W.R. 167.

(23)—Alienation of attached property—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 236, 240.—If, during the pendency of a suit, a third party, in execution of a former decree, attaches a plaintiff's share of the claim under s. 236, Civ. Pro. Code, any alienation of the share, while the attachment is in force, is null and void. MONOHUR LALL v. JUGGOMOHUN LALL, 9 W. R. 307.

(24)—Private alienation of property after attachment—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240.—Although, under the provisions of s. 240 of Act VIII of 1859, a private alienation by sale of property after attachment, can be impugned by the holder of the decree in execution of which it was attached, if obstructive of the execution; but not because it obstructs the execution of another decree obtained by him subsequently to the date of the alienation. MUSSUMAT MAHBUBAN v. MUSSUMUT RAHEEMUN, 6 N. W. P. 217.

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240—Execution of decree—Alienation after attachment.—While certain immoveable property was under attachment, the judgment-debtor mortgaged it for value to the Mussoorie Savings Bank with the knowledge of the attaching creditor, the Delhi Bank, which acquiesced in and benefited by the mortgage. The property was subsequently released from attachment, but was again attached, and was brought to sale in execution of the decree held by the Delhi Bank and purchased by the defendants. The Mussoorie Savings Bank sued the auction-purchasers, claiming the right to bring the property to sale on the ground of its being under mortgage to the bank prior to its purchase by the defendants.

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd

It was held that, under the circumstances, the defendants must take the consequences of having purchased the property without having satisfied themselves as to its condition. Had it not been for the conduct of the Delhi Bank, however, the rule that a private bona fide alienation for value of property attached under Act VIII of 1859, is, by virtue of s. 240 of the Act, null and void only as against the attaching creditor or persons who may acquire rights under or through the attachment, would have saved the defendants, notwithstanding that the sale took place in pursuance of a second attachment. DHURRUM DASS v. THE MUSSOORIE SAVINGS BANK, 6 N. W. P. 296.

(26)—Sale of attached property—Release of property—Validity of sale.—A deed of sale conveying attached property is not made valid by the release of the property. MAHARAJAH DHEERAJ MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR v. SURNO MOYEE DOSSEE, 15 W.R. 222.

(27)—Lease granted by judgment-debtor of property under attachment, void by reason of s. 276, Civ. Pro Code.—Leases granted by a judgment-debtor, while the property leased was under attachment, are private alienations thereof, void by reason of the prohibition in s. 276 of the Civ. Pro. Code. That section is not limited to cases in which the alienation is unfavourable to the judgment-creditor. It altogether prohibits any alienation. DEBI PRASAD v. BALDEO, 183 A. 12=A.W.N. 1896, 13. [Appr., 20 A. 349; R., 13 C.P.L.R. 145, 15 C.P.L.R. 6.]

(28)—Purchaser subsequently put into possession by Civil Court—Rights of ownership—Period of attachment—Purchasers subsequently put into the possession who received from the Collectorate the rents of an antecedent period do not thereby exercise rights of ownership for the period during which the property remained under attachment in charge of the Collector. SOOLOCHUNA DAYEE v. DURP NARAIN BOSE, 12 W.R. 95.

(29)—Attachment by decree-holder having lien on property—Validity of alienation by judgment-debtor during pendency of attachment.—The holder of a decree, reserving a lien on immoveable property, can attach the property, though he cannot bring it to sale otherwise than by a suit brought under s. 67 of Act VIII of 1859. Consequently, an alienation of the property by the judgment-debtor, while it has been under such attachment, is avoid against all claims enforceable under the attachment. AMRIT RAO v. RAO YESHWANT, SINGH, 4 C.P.L.R. 69.

(30)—Sale of attached property by judgment-debtor and payment to creditor—Withdrawal of creditor from execution—Effect on sale.—Where a portion of attached property is sold by the judgment-debtor, and a part of proceeds paid to the decree-holder, who withdraws from the execution, the sale is not invalidated by the attachment. PRANNATH MITTER v. SHUMBOO CHANDER NATH, 7 W.R. 430.

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—contd.

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 274, 276—Attachment of immoveable property—Private alienation.—Private alienation, after attachment, is not affected by such attachment, if such order is not fixed in the Court-house or in the Collector's office as required by law. BIRMH DEO v. GOPI NATH, A.W.N. 1881, 65.

(31-a)—Attachment—Alienation before attachment—Allegation of fraud.—A transfer of immoveable property made before attacement of that property, for a valid and subsisting debt, must be held good as against a person who has purchased it in execution-sale. If fraud is alleged it is on the person alleging it to prove it. FARIDUNNISSA v. ALADAD KHAN, A. W. N. 1881, 77.

(32)—Attachment of decree—Notice of attachment not served on judgment debtor—Attachment proceedings struck off—Alienation of decree—Validity.—Where a decree of a Revenue Court in favour of the judgment debtor was attached by the decree-holder, but the notice of attachment was not served on the judgment-debtor, and the decree holder taking no further steps, the case was struck off the file, a subsequent alienation of the decree by the judgment-debtor would not be invalid. RAO KARAN SINGH v. BAQAR ALI KHAN, A W.N. 1881, 158

(33)—Civ. Pro. Code 1859, ss. 235, 239 and 240.—Held that the alienation of property cannot be declared void under the provisions of s. 240, Act VIII of 1859, where no attachment order has issued or notified in the manner prescribed by ss. 235 and 239 of the said enactment. Where there was no attachment after the manner prescribed in Act VIII of 1859, but the property was advertised for sale and the judgment-debtor encumbered the property with lien, held that the decree-holder could sell the property, but subject to liens which were not otherwise proved to be collusive. SAHOO CHUND v. GEETUM SINGH, 2 Agra 206.

(34)—Mortgage, prior and subsequent—Execution—Sale under first mortgage—Priority—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 240—"Null and void," meaning of.—Plaintiff had a first mortgage of half of a mouza, and a second of the whole. Subsequently, the mouza was sold in execution of a decree obtained by her under s. 53, Act XX of 1866, upon her first mortgage, and which wrongly ordered the sale of the mouza and purchased by defendant with notice of the second mortgage. Held that the defendant was not entitled to have the second mortgage held void against him, but that, as purchaser under the sale of eight annas, he was entitled to have priority over the second mortgage. The expression "null and the void" in s. 240 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, means not null and void against anybody, but only against the attaching creditor. Property which was attached in execution of a decree was subsequently mortgaged. Subsequent to the mortgage, the property was again attached and sold in execution of another decree. Held that the purchaser of the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor under the sale took it subject to the mortgage, which mortgage was null and void only as against the first attaching creditor. GURU PRASAD SAHU v. MUSSAMAT BINDA BIBI, 9 B.L.R. 180=18 W.R. 279. [R., 12 C. 317.]

Attachment—continued.

——2.—Alienation during attachment—cld.

——3.—Attachment pending appeal.

(1)—Setting aside of decree on appeal—Release of attachment under decree.—The setting aside of a decree on appeal and ordering a re-trial of the suit operates ipso facto as a release of any attachment made in pursuance of the decree. RAJA GOKULDASS v. KARANSEE, 9 C.P.L R. 120. (10 W.R. 99, R.)

(2)—Appeal to Privy Council—Security from successful party.—During the course of a suit for damages, plaintiff applied that security might be required from the defendants under s. 81, Act VIII of 1859, and no their failure to give it, their property was attached. Plaintiff's suit was decreed in the first Court, but dismissed on appeal by the High Court. He then appealed to the Privy Council and prayed to the High Court either to continue the attachment, or to require security from the defendants, pending the result of the appeal. Held that the Court was not competent to adopt either course. In re DITTA HARAKMAN SINGH, 3 B. L R. F.B.45=12 W.R. F.B. 16. [Appr., 4 B. L.R. O.C. 92; R., 11 P.R. 1871.]

——4.—Liability for wrongful attachment.

(1)—Suit for damages—Stay of sale pending attachment—Question of damages—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 73.—In a suit for damages arising out of a wrongful attachment, the usual rule is to award an amount which will be as near as can be estimated to that by which the plaintiff is the worse for the defendant's wrong-doing, provided that the harm suffered by the plaintiff is a natural and probable consequence of the defendant's wrong-doing. The principle of the rule is the same as of s. 73 of the Contract Act (3 B. 74, R.) A Court need not have much compassion for the trespasser and is bound to be exact in assessing damages. The fact that a plaintiff causes a sale in execution to be stayed pending the attachment would not in any way affect his right to damages for wrongful attachment. K. MAMU NAINA v. RAMAN CHETTY. 8, Ind. Cas. 1206.

(1-a)—Liability for attaching without sufficient ground—Party not bound to release his property wrongfully attached—Failure to release does not mitigate wrong-doer's liability.—Where an attachment before judgment is made without sufficient ground for assuming the property to be the defendant's, the parties attaching are rightly ameroed in damages. Parties whose property has been wrongfully attached are not bound to release it, and their declining to do so does not shift the responsibility of the illegal acts of those attaching it. VELAET ALI KHAN v. MATAEEN RAM, 13 W.R. 3.

Attachment—continued.

——4.—Liability for wrongful attachment— continued.

(2)—Attaching stranger's goods—Liability of the judgment-creditor and Court officer.—The judgment-creditor, his attorney or agent and the officer of the Court will be held responsible for attaching the goods of a stranger in execution. CHAJJU MALL v. KARM CHAND, 20 P.R. 1877.

(3)—Damages—Half costs to plaintiff.—Damages were held to have been rightly decreed on account of wrongful attachment as well as half costs to plaintiff. KANGALEE CHUNDER SHAHA v. KOONJESSUREE NURTAKEE, 17 W.R. 150.

(4)—Order attaching pension—Payment of money to decree-holder—Attachment illegal—Power of Appellate Court to order refund.—In execution of a decree, the defendant's pension was attached to the decree-holder. The Lower Appellate Court held that the attachment was illegal and ordered its refund. But the Chief Court held that the Lower Appellate Court could not summarily order a refund of it. TABA SHAH v. RAI SARAMPAT RAI, 60 P.R. 1876.

(5)—Irregularity in attachment will not necessarily make it void—Reg. VII of 1825, s. 7—Limitation Act (XIV of 1859), s. 1, cl. 5.—In 1852, K sued A and M to recover the amount with interest of a bond executed by M (who was A's general agent) in the name of H on the permission of plaintiff for the purpose of paying off the debts of A. The Principal Sudder Ameen decreed the case against M with costs, and released A from K's claim In appeal to the Sudder Court, the plaintiff obtained a decree with interest and costs against A as well as against M. In execution, K prayed, on 2nd December, 1858, for the attachment and sale of certain estates. A notice having been ordered to issue, K represented that the judgment-debtor was attempting to alienate her estates, and prayed that orders might be passed to prevent alienation of the estates mentioned in her application for execution. A process of attachment was issued accordingly on 20th March, 1859, but without security being first demanded, as prescribed in Reg. VII of 1825, s. 7. In September 1861, one B A, who had objected to the attachment, petitioned the Judge, and obtained an order, dated 14th September, 1861, releasing the attached properties as being his in virtue of a hibbanama from A and in his possession. From this order K appealed, but the appeal was struck off on 29th November 1862. On review the first order was upheld, but it was declared that this would not be a bar to a regular suit. She accordingly sued for a reversal of the Judge's order, for the cancelment of the deed of gift as being collusive, and for the sale of the property in question as that of her judgment-debtor A. The suit was decreed, and an appeal preferred to the High Court: Held that the order of 28th March 1859 was wrong in ordering attachment without first requiring security; but the irregularity did not affect the jurisdiction of the Court, or render the attachment void. Held, further, that plaintiff had a right of appeal from the order of 14th September, 1861; that the appeal was wrongly rejected on 29th November, 1862, and it saved her from the operation of the law of limitation while it was pending; and as she brought her suit within a year from that time, she was within the period prescribed by Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 5. BIBEE KHODAJAMNISSA v. R. F. STEVENS, 20 W.R. 433.

Attachment—continued.

——4.—Liability for wrongful attachment— continued.

(6)—Caveat emptor, Applicability of—Attaching creditors, responsibility of—Decree-holder, liability of, for improper attachment—Warranty of title of judgment-debtor—Revision by High Court—Small Cause Courts Act, s. 25.—Per Lindsay, A.J.C.—The rule of caveatemptor had no application in India in the case of ordinary sales of goods by private contract. In India the attachment is made at the risk of the attaching creditor and he is responsible for any results which can be traced to an unlawful attachment carried out upon application made by him. In the case of sale in execution in India, although there is no warranty given by the Court or by the officer entrusted with the duty of carrying out the sale, there is a warranty by the decree-holder that the property does belong to the judgment-debtor. The property is sold as the property of the judgment-debtor on the representation to that effect made to the Court by the decree-holder who is taking out execution. A stranger whose property is sold behind his back without any authority does not need to have the sale set aside. Where the decree-holder pointed a carriage as the property of the judgment-debtor and the property was thereupon attached and sold and purchased by the plaintiff's predecessor-in-title, but subsequently a suit brought by a third person claiming the carriage as his own was decreed and the purchaser lost the carriage, held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the purchase-money from the decree-holder. Per Piggott, J.C.—It is no doubt dvisable that the High Court should in exceptional cases assert a general power of revision in suits tried by Small Cause Courts, where the decision arrived at appears to be capricious or perverse or arrived at in defiance of well-known principles of law. But it is not at all an adequate ground for interference under s. 25, Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, that the presiding Judge of the Small Causes Court had before him for determination a doubtful issue of law, and that his decision on the said issue, though honestly arrived at and upon a reasonable and fair consideration of the law applicable to the point and the authorities thereon, is one which this Court might not have been prepared to affirm if the matter had come before it in a second appeal. BRIJ MOHAN LAL v. MUSAMMAT MUNNI BIBI, 14 O.C. 343.

Attachment—continued.

——4.—Liability for wrongful attachment— concluded.

—Dismissal of application for execution—Power of Court to continue attachment—Effect of Court's error of law—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 57, 66, 16 C. W. N. 428.

See COMPENSATION, L. B. R. 1893—1900, 411.

See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, 8 B.H.C.A.C. 177.

—Attaching creditor—Only person entitled to execute attached decree—Original decree-holder not so entitled—Limitation—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 9 M. L. T. 312=21 M.L.J. 577=9 Ind. Cas. 786.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—WRONGFUL AND INVALID SALES, 5 N.W.P. 211.

——5.—Mode of Attachment.

(1)—Attachment of property—Suit for sale—Procedure.—An attachment can issue in respect of property, even though it might not be liable to sale without instituting a suit for sale. CHUNDRA NATH DEY v. BURRODA SHOONDURY GHOSE, 22 C. 818. [R., 25 C. 262, 31 M. 33=3 M. L. T. 107=17 M. L. J. 503.]

(2)—Sale without attachment — Civ. Pro. Code, 1859 s. 203.—Property must, under Act VIII of 1859, be attached before being sold in execution of a decree, the words "attachment and sale" in s. 203 being taken together and not read distributively. DENONATH RUCKIT v. MUTTY LALL PAUL, 1 Hyde 158=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 125.

(3)—Attachment of debts in execution of decree—Ss. 236, 207, Act VIII of 1859—Joint decree—Execution—When the property sought to be attached consists of debts, a written order under s. 236 of Act VIII of 1859 shall be issued for the parties. Till the debtor receives this order, he was bound to pay the amount of his debt to the creditor whose right to receive it had been declared by a decree of Court, and it was no part of the duty of the debtor to make enquiries whether his creditor was or was not entitled to receive the money. Though one of two or more decree-holders may, with the permission of the Court, take out execution of a joint decree under s. 207, Act VIII of 1859, the execution must be for the whole decree, and not for any fractional share to which the decree-holder may consider himself entitled, the Court making such order as may be necessary for protecting interests of other decree-holders. THACOOR DASS SINGH v. LUCHMEEPUT DOOGUR, 7 W. R. 10.

(4)—Attachment of property in execution of decree—Sale—property not in the jurisdiction of the Court which passed decree—Procedure.—After an attachment under s. 235 of Act VIII of 1859 is made in execution of a decree, the next process is the due issue of the sale proclamation for bringing the property to sale. If the property is not within the jurisdiction of the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree, the course which the decree-holder must follow is that prescribed by s. 285 of Act VIII of 1859 and the following. MOOKTAKESHEE DEBEE v. KUNUCK MONEE DEBEE, 7 W. R. 267.

Attachment—continued.

——5.—Mode of Attachment—continued.

(5)—Lessee hypothecating shares of zamindari—Shares sold for arrears of rent due to Court of Wards — Attachment unnecessary—Collector's power.—Where the shares of a zemindaree hypothecated by the lessee are to be sold for arrears of rent due to the Court of Wards, no attachment is necessary, and the Collector has not the power to attach. JOGESSUR SUHOY v. GOPAL LALL, 13 W.R. 173.

(6)—Attachment of revenue paying estates—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 213—Information to be given by attaching creditor.—A judgment-creditor attaching an estate paying revenue to Government must give the special information indicated in the latter clause of S. 213, Act VIII of 1859, as well as that required by the first clause, the section being cumulative in respect of estates paying revenue to Government. AJOODHYA DOSS v. SHEO PERSHUN SINGH, 11 W.R. 175.

(7)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 213—Sufficiency of description—Lakheraj tank—Identification of.—S. 213, Act VIII of 1859, intends that the description of property in a notice of attachment should be sufficient to identify it. A lakheraj tank with four banks, the boundaries of which are given, is sufficient identification. MAHARAJAH DHIRAJ MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR v. BURODANATH MUNDUL, 18 W.R. 411.

(8)—S. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Attachment—Sanction of Court not obtained.—The words of s. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, were not intended to alter and do not in fact alter, what has been the practice of the Court, which is to require that persons attaching property in the hands of the Receiver of the Court should previously obtain the permission and sanction of the Court and to regard an attachment not so authorised as a breach of the injunction and therefore a comtempt of Court. The Court will refuse to recognise such attachment. MAHOMED AZOHURUDDEEN v. MD. NOOROODDIN, 21 C. 85. (16 B. 577, F.) [R., 27 B. 556, 32 C. 198, P.C.=2 A.L.J. 190=9 C.W.N. 225.]

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 268, 274 (=O. XXI, rr. 46, 54, new Code)—Mortgage-debt, attachment of.—The attachment of the rights and interests of a mortgagee under a mortgage without possession, must be effected as prescribed in s. 268, Civ. Pro. Code; and s. 274 of

Attachment—continued.

—5.—Mode of Attachment—continued.

the Code has no application. KARIM-UN-NISSA v. PHUL CHAND, 15 A. 134=A.W.N. 1893. 51 (1 A. 348, D.) [R., 18 A. 469=A.W.N. 1896, 154. 14 C.P.L.R. 5, 26 B. 305=4 Bom. L.R. 18.]

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 263, 274—Attachment under wrong section—Sale in execution—Validity.—Plaintiff sued for sale under a mortgage, on his title as auction-purchaser at a Court-sale, of the rights and interests of the mortgagees under the mortgage. Setting aside the decrees of both the Courts below which had dismissed the suit on the ground that the rights of the mortgagees, judgment-debtors in the previous case, by reason of the attachment previous to the sale having been made under s. 274 instead of under s. 268 did not pass to the plaintiff, the purchaser at such sale, the High Court held that, whether the attachment ought to have been made under the one section or the other, all the parties interested knew that the rights and interests of the mortgagee under the mortgage were being put up for sale; and those interests having been sold and the sale having been confirmed and a certificate granted to the plaintiff, he was, so far as that point was concerned, entitled to maintain the suit. SHEO CHARAN LAL v SHEO SEWAK SINGH, 18 A. 469=A.W.N. 1896, 154. (5 A. 142, 5 A. 86, 10 A. 506, 15 A. 134, R.) [R., 14 C.P.L.R. 5, 23 A. 25.]

(11)—Attachment under s. 239 of Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859)—Irregularities—If attachment could be set aside.—In an application under s. 239, Civ. Pro. Code, (Act VIII of 1859) to declare an attachment of immoveable property void because the forms prescribed in the section have not been gone through, held, that the proceedings cannot be set aside, where the irregularities complained of are immaterial and not productive of any substantial injury or injustice to the applicant. MUSSAMMAT KORANEE BIBEE v. BHOOBAN MOHINEE DOSSEE, 6 W.R. Mis. 52.

(12)—Irregularities in attachment—Attachment of more property than is necessary.—Where the decree-holder wantonly attached more property than was necessary for the discharge of his claim, the Court may order sequestration of only a portion of the property attached. PURSOTUM DOSS v. RAJA OODEY NARAIN MULL, 1 Agra. Mis. 3.

(13)—Judgment debtor residing and receiving salary outside jurisdiction of executing Court—Procedure for executing decree by attachment of salary or otherwise.—There is no provision in the Civ. Pro. Code, enabling a Court to issue a prohibitory order to the officer disbursing salary to the judgment-debtor when such officer resides beyond its local jurisdiction, in order to obtain satisfaction of the decree against the judgment-debtor also residing beyond such jurisdiction. In such a case a copy of the decree must be sent to the Court having local jurisdiction either by reason of the judgment-debtor residing within such jurisdiction or of his having assets, including salary available for the satisfaction of the decree, and that Court can execute the decree in any of the ways provided for in the Code. GOPAL v. T. H. LAVET, 12 B. 45 Note.

Attachment—continued.

—5.—Mode of Attachment—continued.

(14)—Equity of redemption, sale and attachment of, in execution—Civ. Pro. Code.—1882, ss. 266, 274—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 60.—The equity of redemption in mortgaged premises is immoveable property liable to be attached and sold, falling within the scope of s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. The attachment of such property is effected under s. 274 of the Code by an order prohibiting the judgment-debtor from transferring or charging the attached property in any way and all other persons from receiving the same from him by purchase, gift, or otherwise, such order being proclaimed and notified as there directed. The "equity of redemption" of the mortgagor or as it is called in s. 60 of the Transfer of Property Act "the right of the mortgagor to redeem" the mortgaged premises is not vested in the mortgagee, nor does he hold it in trust for the mortgagor. When the right to redeem only is attached, the mortgagee cannot come in and ask to have the attachment raised under s. 280 of the Civ. Pro. Code, but it is otherwise when the property itself is attached. PARASHRAM HARLAL v. GOVIND GANESH, 21 B. 226. [R., 26 B. 305, 33 B. 311=11 Bom. L.R. 26=5 M.L.T. 228.]

(15)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 274—Attachment of immoveable porperty—Omission to affix copy in Collector's Office.—Where a copy of the order for attachment of immoveable property in execution of a decree is not fixed up in the Office of the Collector of the District in which the property is situated, such a defect, though it might render the attachment ineffectual for the purpose of avoiding subsequent alienations, cannot affect the validity of the attachment as against the judgment-debtor, and the execution-proceedings cannot be declared ineffectual on that ground. RAI BALKISHEN v. RAI SITA RAM, 7 A. 731=A.W.N. 1885, 210. [R., 11 C.W.N. 163=5 C.L.J. 80.]

(16)—Suit to establish right to attached property—Jurisdiction.—In a suit to establish the plaintiff's right to property attached in execution of a decree, the jurisdiction of the Court must be decided with reference to the amount of the decree in execution of which the property is attached, and not the value of such property. GULZARI LAL v. JADAUN RAI, 2 A. 799. (S.A. No. 320 of 1876 decided the 16th May, 1876, F.) [F., 15 C. 104, 55 P.R. 1906=71 P.L.R. 1906; Criticised, 94 P.R. 1908, F.B.=74 P.W.R. 1908; D., 7 A. 230, F.B, 9 A. 140=A.W.N. 1886, 328, 17 A. 69.]

(17)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 136—Decree—Collector.—In attaching a decree under Act VIII of 1859, the Civil Court should apply the provisions under s. 136 alone and the Collector has no power to attach such a decree. JOY KALEE DASSEE v. BABOOANNUND CHUNDER 9 W.R. 133. [App., 12 W.R. 329; R., 14 C.W.N. 96, 10 C L J. 226.]

Attachment—continued,

——5.—Mode of Attachment—continued.

(18)—Property in possession of mortgagee—Attachment to be effected by prohibitory order—An attachment of property in the possession of a mortgagee should be made by a prohibitory order and not by actual seizure. BEHARILAL v. RATTIRAM, 1 C P.L.R. 85.

(19)—Execution of decree — Attachment of judgment-debtor's monies in deposit in Collectorate—On application by a judgment-creditor for attachment of money in deposit in a Collectorate at the credit of the judgment-debtor, a Judge who is moved to apply to the Accountant-General for the purpose ought not to refuse on the ground that the money is confiscated to Government. KRISTO DOSS KOONDOO v. INDRO NARAIN CHOWDHRY, 18 W.R. 189.

(20)—Burden of proof as to ownership of moneys.—Where an application is made to a Court to attach, as owing to A, money placed by B in hands of C, it is incumbent on the applicant to prove that the money belongs to A and not to C. ZAHOOROODEEN AHMED v. KALEE DOSS BANERJEE, 25 W.R. 20.

(21)—Reasonable and probable cause, what is. The fact that statements stated in an application for attachment was true, and that nothing was concealed which the Court ought to have known, is evidence that the applicant had reasonable cause upon those facts for the application. CHOUDHAREE SHEORAJ SINGH v. DWARKA DASS, 4 N.W P. 42.

(22)—Attachment of property in the custody of a Court—Civ Pro Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, r. 52—Any other attachment irregular and ineffective.—A obtained a decree against B, in the Township Court and attached B's paddy in execution thereof. Subsequently, C obtained a decree also against B in the Sub-Divisional Court, and attached the same paddy by putting the bailiff of the Sub-Divisional Court in possession. The next day the paddy was sold by the bailiff of the Township Court under A's decree, and A withdrew the sale-proceeds. On C's suing A for his rateable share in the sale-proceeds: Held, that A was not liable for taking no notice of an irregular attachment. As the attached paddy was in the custody of the Township Court, C ought to have made his attachment by notice to that Court under O. XXI, r 52. MAUNG TAUNG BO v. VYRAVEN CHETTY, 11 Ind. Cas. 859.

—by actual seizure—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Execution of decree, 1.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TRANSFER OF LANDLORD'S INTEREST, 1 M.H.C. 24.

Attachment—continued.

——5.—Mode of Attachment—concluded.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—JOINT DECREES, 6 W.R. Mis. 18.

See MANAGER—MANAGER OF ATTACHED PROPERTY, 19 W.R. 37.

—Life-interest, not attachable by notice to trustee of funds—See OFFICIAL TRUSTEE, 12 M. 250.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—SETTING ASIDE SALE, 8 W.R. 310.

——6.—Priority of Attachment.

(1)—Rival judgment—creditors — Priority—Judgment debtor's rights.—The judgment of one judgment-creditor who has secured attachment must be satisfied before the proceeds can be available in satisfaction of a later attachment by another creditor. The mere fact of attachment does not destroy a judgment-debtor's right in the property. SHUNKUR SAHOO v. MUNGUL SINGH, 15 W.R. 158.

(2)—Attachments—Priority in order of time.—The first attachment of property in execution of a decree, has priority over any subsequent attachment by a different Court. ADJOODHYA SAHOO v. SHEIKH BAICHOO, 2 N. W. P. 259.

(2-a)—Attachment before judgment of joint property—Application for removal of the attachment by another buyer from one of the owners—Value of attached property—Costs in the miscellaneous proceedings not to be awarded in the regular case—The plaintiffs sued the judgment-debtors for moneys advanced to them and obtained an attachment before judgment on certain bricks. They were attached on the fields where they were stacked. The first defendant applied for removal of attachment and obtained it. The plaintiffs then brought the present suit to have their right to attach the bricks declared, or in the alternative for the value of the bricks. The first defendant set up that the attached bricks were his, having been bought at different times by him for value before the attachment from one of the judgment-debtors to whom alone they were said to have belonged. The District Court gave the plaintiffs a decree for Rs. 4,575, being the value of the bricks at the contract rate, which was for delivery at Rangoon and included cart-hire to Rangoon. He also gave the plaintiffs a decree for the costs incurred by them in the proceedings for removal of attachment and he allowed them their costs of suit calculated on the total amount: Held, (1) on the facts that the bricks where the property of the judgment-debtor, at the time of the attachment; (2) that the District Judge was in error in allowing the plaintiffs the value of the attached bricks at the rate in their contract, which was for delivery in Rangoon and included cart-hire to Rangoon, and that not more than the value of the bricks at the brick-fields should have been allowed; (3) that the allowance to the plaintiffs of the costs in the removal of attachment-proceedings was not justified as these costs had been provided for in these proceedings. RUGBEER MISSER v. MAREAPPA PILLAY, 11 Ind. Cas. 828.

Attachment—continued.

——6.—Priority of Attachment—continued.

(3)—Ss. 84, 270, Act VIII of 1859,—Attachment prior to decree—Fresh attachment after decree—Attachment before judgment.—Held (Norman, J., dissenting) that a judgment-creditor, who has caused the property of his debtor to be attached prior to decree, under s. 84, Act VIII of 1859, is bound, after decree, to attach the property a new before he can proceed against it in execution The attachments mentioned in s. 270, Act VIII of 1859, refer to attachments after decree only, and not to attachments before judgment. SREERAM MANICK v. TINCOWREE ROY, 13 W.R.F B. 9.

(4)—Attachment before and after judgment—Priority.—One of the creditors of a certain debtor attached his property before decree. Subsequently another creditor attached the same property in execution of his decree. In a claim for priority between the two, held, that the creditor, who attached the property in execution of the decree was entitled to priority, which should be determined from the date of attachment, after decree. KESREE CHUND v. POORUN CHUND, 68 P. R. 1868.

(5)—Separate attachments simultaneously made—Rateable distribution—Civ. Pro Code, 1859, s 270.—Where two separate attachments in execution of separate decrees are simultaneously placed on property, the proceeds of the sale of such attached property should be rateably distributed between the parties in proportion to the amount of their respective decrees; and the attachment obtained by one of the parties before judgment does not operate to confer on him a right to priority over the other in the distribution of the sale-proceeds under s. 270 of Act VIII of 1859. BUKHT RAM v. MUSSAMMAT BUDDAMO, 2 N. W. P. 368.

(6)—Effect of—Rights of attaching creditor—Interference with right—Measure of damages—S. 244, Civ. Pro. Code—Applicability to person not party to proceedings—Power of executing Court to commit for contempt.—Although an attaching creditor does not by attachment acquire priority over other creditors coming in later (29 C. 428, 26 M. 473, R.), he acquires a right to have the whole of the attached property applied in satisfaction of his debt, if no other creditors come forward, and in any case, to have a rateable proportion so applied. In this sense, an attaching creditor is said to have a charge on the attached property (5 C. 148, 12 M L. J 24, R.), and he has also the right to prevent the attached property passing by survivorship (4 M 302, 11 C. W. N. 163, R.), a person, who interferes with that right, as by carrying away the crops attached, violates a legal right and commits an actionable wrong. The amount of damages will depend upon the evidence, but cannot exceed the value of the attached property. S. 244 of the Civ. Pro. Code does not apply where the person violating the right of an attaching creditor is not a party to the original suit. (3 I. A. 241, D.). An attaching Court has no inherent power to commit for contempt. SANKARALINGA REDDY v. KANDASAWMY THEVAN. 17 M. L. J. 334=2 M. L. T. 365=30 M. 413. (26 M. 494, R.) [R., 8 C. L. J. 20, 32 M. 429=19 M. L. J. 401=2 Ind. Cas. 18.]

Attachment—continued.

——6.—Priority of Attachment—continued.

(7)—Right of prior attaching creditor to sale-proceeds as against holder of decree charging lands.—Held by a Division Bench, that the attaching creditor is not entitled to the sale-proceeds, as against the holder of a decree charging the lands attached, on the ground of the priority of his attachment, if the charge had been created prior to the attachment. RAM KISHAN v. BHAVANI DAS, 1 A 333. F. B.

(8)—Attachment by more than one judgment-creditor of property of judgment-debtor in Court—Priority—Second attachment subsequent to Payment—Order by the first attaching Court—Power of Court having custody of property over it.—Where the property of a judgment-debtor lying in Court was attached by more than one judgment-creditor, in execution of decrees of different Courts, the question of priority is to be decided only by the Court in whose custody the property is, and not by the attaching Court. But where the judgment-debtor's property was attached and a payment order was made by the attaching Court, previous to the other attachment in execution of the decree of the other judgment-creditor, the Court in whose custody the property is, would cease to have any power of disposal over it, and any order by such Court on the question of title or priority would be wrong. GOPEE NATH ACHARJE v. ACHCHA BIBEE, 7 C. 553=9 C. L.R. 395.

(9)—Property attached by different decree-holders—Sale under second attachment—Rights of creditor making first attachment.—When property is attached by two different decree-holders, and sold at the instance of the one who made the second attachment the claim of him who made the prior attachment must be satisfied first, but he cannot again sell the rights and interests of his debtor in the property. UNNOPOORNA DASSEA v. GUNGA NARAIN PAUL, 2 W R. 296.

(10)—Execution of rival decrees in same Court—Priority of attachment—Mortgage-liens—Execution-sales.—Where rival decrees were being executed in the same Court, and the properties mortgaged were attached by all the mortgagees and advertised to be sold, held that the mouzahs were sold unencumbered with the respective liens of the mortgagees and the lien over the property was transferred to the sale-proceeds. MODHOO SOODUN SINGH v MOKUNDEE LALL SAHOO, 23 W.R. 373. [D., 10 C. 567.]

(11)—Execution of decree—Writs of attachment—Priority of one over another—Criterion—Time of lodging of writs in office of Sheriff—Time when writs reach Sheriff's hands.—In considering which of two writs of attachment in execution of a decree is to have priority over the other. the time when the writs are lodged in the office of the Sheriff is the criterion by which priority is to be determined, and not the time when such writs reach the hands of that officer. NARSINGDAS MULTANCHAND v. NAHANUBAI, SUMARMAL; JOHARIMAL v. NAHANUBAI, 7 B.H.C.O.C. 183.

Attachment—continued.

—6.—Priority of Attachment—concluded.

(12)—Attachment—Finality of attachment where previous pledge on money in deposit and a decree on such pledge exist—Res-adjudicata—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 7.—Where the plaintiff obtains a bond for a sum of money from K, who pledges as security certain fees in deposit in the Collectorate, and defendant No. 2, in execution of a decree against K, attaches those fees, the attachment is not final, but merely to prevent the money being taken out of Court. Where the plaintiff sues K for a sum of money, K pledging as security certain fees in deposit in the Collectorate and obtains against K a simple money-decree and then sues K and defendant No. 2, who had meantime, under s. 16, Beng. Act VI of 1862, attached those fees in execution of his decree against K; Held that the causes of action in the two suits were not identical nor against the same party. LALLA TEELUCK-DHAREE LALL v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 230=11 W.R. 149. (1 W.R. 315, 6 W.R. 312, 5 W.R. 115, 10 W.R. 27, F.) [F., 13 C. 262.]

(13)—Rival decree-holders attaching property—Interval of four hours between two attachments—Priority—Creditors not entitled to share pro-rata.—One of two distinct decree-holders attached the property of a judgment-debtor four hours before the other had attached it. Held that the decree-holder, who first attached it, was entitled to be satisfied out of the proceeds of the sale and that the creditors could not share the proceeds pro rata. In re NANAK CHUND, 54 P.R. 1872.

(14)—Priority of attachment, effect of—Sale on subsequent attachment.—Priority of attachment does not give a decree-holder a right to set aside a sale on a subsequent attachment, but only a right to be paid first from proceeds of sale. LALLA JOOGUL KISHORE LALL v. BHUKHA CHOWDHRY, 9 W.R. 243.

See APPEAL—DECREE AND EXECUTION OF DECREE, 6 W.R. 21.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1905, s. 73, 8 W.R. 501.

—7.—Striking off execution-proceedings.

(1)—Order striking off execution-Proceeding, effect of.—The striking an execution-proceeding off the file is an act which may admit of different interpretations according to the circumstances of the case; and when a Court, which has to consider in an execution-proceeding whether a previous attachment has not come to an end by the dismissal of some execution-proceedings in the interval, and which has no opportunity of considering the circumstances under which those execution-proceedings were dismissed, holds that the attachment is still subsisting, the order of the Court cannot be held to be bad in law. MOHUNT BHAGWAN RAMANUJ DASS v. KHETTER MONI DASSI, 1 C.W.N. 617.

Attachment—continued.

—7.—Striking off execution-Proceedings.—continued.

(2)—Striking off case in execution—Effect.—On a case being struck off, on the termination of the proceedings in execution, the owners of an estate (previously attached) can deal with it as an unattached estate. JAIN SINGH v. TEELUCK DHAREE PATTUCK, 1 W.R. 318.

(3)—Execution case—Striking off—Attachment—Release.—There is no authority in Act VIII of 1859 for saying that an attachment is at an end because the execution case is struck off the file. In executing an ex-parte decree, dated 22nd September, 1864, plaintiff obtained an order for attachment in December of that year. On 12th May, 1866, defendant prayed under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, to have the judgment against him set aside. His petition having been rejected, he appealed to the Judge, who remanded the case for trial upon which the Munsiff struck the execution case off the file. The plaintiff having appealed from the decision of the Judge to the High Court, the Judge's order was set aside, and the case remanded. In February 1868, the Judge found that defendant, not having come within 30 days after the first process to enforce the judgment, could not come in under s. 119. Plaintiff then applied for an order for the sale of the property. Held that, when the Judge's order of remand was set aside after the finding to which he came in February 1868, it was the Munsiff's duty to allow the execution to proceed in the ordinary course; and that, whether the case was formally restored to the file or not, the order of attachment revived when the Judge's decision of 20th August, 1862, was reversed. SHEIK GOLAM YABEYA v. MUSSAMAT SHAMA SUNDARI KUARI, 3 B.L.R. App. 134=12 W.R. 142.

(4)—Agreement between decree-holder and judgment-debtor—Postponement of sale—Order striking off case—Effect.—A judgment-debtor, on the very date on which the sale was advertised to take place, paid a part of the money due on the decree, and obtained a postponement of the sale by the consent of the decree-holder, on the express provision suggested by the judgment-debtor himself that the attachment should continue, a provision accepted by the decree-holder. Held that a mere formal entry on the record showing that the case was struck off the file was not of any effect. MOTHOOR MOHUN PAL CHOWDHRY v. SHURROOP CHUNDER PAL, 6 W.R. 291.

(5)—Removal of attachment—Dismissal of application—Civ Pro. Code, ss. 102, 283—Courses open to applicant.—If an application for the removal of an attachment is dismissed under s. 102, Civ. Pro. Code, the only course open to the applicant is either to apply under s. 193 for an order to set the dismissal aside, or to file a regular suit under s. 283 W.S. THANEGA CHELLUM MOODALIAR v. K. T. NARAYANAN CHETTY, 1 L.B.R. 70.

Attachment—continued.

——7.—Striking off execution—Proceedings —continued.

(6)—Revival of attachment on reversal of sale in execution of decree.—An attachment, once legally made, is revived upon the reversal of the sale in execution. RAJAH MOHESH NARAIN SINGH v. KISHNANUND MISSER, 2 Ind Jur.O.S. 1=5 W.R P.C. 7=Marsh 592=9 M.I.A. 324.

(7)—Sale, reversal of—Attachment, revival of.—Held that, by the setting aside of a decree, the parties are remitted to the position in which they stood immediately before the sale, and therefore an attachment once legally made revives. GUNNO SINGH v BABOO MUDDUN MOHUN SINGH, W.R. 1864, 26. [F., 12 W. R. 142.]

(8)—Suit struck off the file—Effect on attachment previously made.—When a suit has been struck off the file for neglect of the party to pay in the tulubana for the service of the necessary sale-processes, an attachment previously made cannot subsist. PURBHOO DOSS v. GOMA BHUJUN SINGH, 5 W.R. Mis 4.

(9)—Attachment in execution of decree—Mere dismissal of application for execution, whether affects the continuance of the attachment.—Where, on an application for execution of a decree, the attachment of certain property has once been ordered, the fact that, subsequent to such attachment, the Court happened to merely strike the execution case off its file of pending cases, without expressly releasing the attachment or saying that the decree was incapable of execution, cannot have the effect of affecting the continuance of the attachment, so that, when the order striking the petition off the file is reversed on appeal, the decree-holder is restored to his original position with the right to claim the benefit of the continuing attachment. THE BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. SHEO PRASAD, 19 A. 482=A W N 1897, 124. (N. W.P. 1873, 72, 14 B.L.R. 425, 12 W.R. 142, R.; [R., 9 C. L. J. 239]

(10)—Execution of decree - Attachment, when subsists—Striking off the file—If property is once attached, the attachment will subsist if not expressly abandoned by the party at whose suit it was made until an order is issued for its withdrawal, even although no further steps are taken on the attachment within a reasonable period. If an execution case is struck off with the consent of the judgment-creditor, or in such manner as the law provides, or if the judgment-creditor subsequently applies of his own accord for a second attachment treating the first as non-existent, then, the first must be deemed to have been abandoned. If, on the contrary, the judgment-creditor did not intend to abandon his first attachment and takes out the second attachment merely because the Court insists on his beginning de novo, then, the first attachment remains in force notwithstanding the issue of the second. JHATU SAHU v. BABO RAM CHARAN LAL, 3 B.L.R. App. 68=11 W.R. 517. [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 340.]

(11)—Execution in progress set aside totally—Property released from attachment.—Where execution has been set aside in toto after being proceeded with to a certain point, the property is not under attachment for benefit of decree-holder. KHADEM HOSSEIN KHAN v. KALEE PERSHAD SINGH, 8 W.R. 49.

(12)—Execution-cases—Stay of sale—Continuance of attachment.—Execution-cases in which sale or other proceedings are stayed for a fixed period, at the request of the debtor, and with consent of the decree-holder, should not be struck off the file till the period has expired; and, if struck off by an order providing continuance of attachment, sale may follow within the period without a fresh attachment. CHUMUN LALL CHOWDHRY v. DOMUN LALL, 9 W.R. 205.

(13)—Execution struck off for convenience of Court—Attachment if put an end to.—An order striking an execution-case off the file for the convenience of the Court does not put an end to the attachment. J. DACOSTA v. KALEE PERSHAD SING, 12 W.R. 260.

(14)—Appeal—Interim order striking off attachment—Release from attachment.—An order striking off an attachment pending an appeal does not release the property from attachment. SHEW NARAIN SINGH v. A. B. MILLER, OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, 17 W.R. 234.

(15)—Sale of attached property, stay of—Striking off of execution-application—Effect.—Where a sale of attached property is stayed by the Court upon the application of the judgment-debtor, on condition of the attachment remaining in force, the subsequent striking off of such application from the file would not affect the decree-holder's rights. MUNGUL PERSHAD DICHIT v. GRIJA KANT LAHIRI, 8 C. 51. P. C.=11 C.L.R. 113=8 I.A. 123=4 Sar. 249. [D., 35 C. 1060=8 C.L.J. 193=12 C.W.N. 216, Note.]

(16)—Execution of decree—Postponement of sale does not operate to remove attachment.—Property had been attached in execution of decree; the parties had applied that the sale might be postponed, but the Court executing the decree ordered the sale to be postponed, and the "case to be struck off the file." Held that as there was no order passed directing the removal of the attachment, and as it appeared that it was the intention of the Court, and of the parties that the attachment should continue, the direction that the case should be struck off the file of pending cases did not operate to remove the attachment. AHMUD HOSSEIN KHAN v. MAHAMED AZEEM KHAN, 1 N.W.P. 48. [F., 1 A. 616.]

Attachment—continued.

——7.—Striking off execution—Proceedings —continued.

(17) — Attachment — Execution-case struck off the file—Effect on attachment.—By an order of the Court a case of execution of decree, in which an attachment had been taken out, was struck off the file. The plaintiff never asked for, or consented to the withdrawal of the prior attachment, nor did the Court by any formal order withdraw the same. Held, that the attachment was not terminated by the order which struck the case off the file of pending cases. MOOKHESUR RAI AND ANOTHER v. RAMPHUL SAHOO, 5 N.W.P 70.

(18)—Striking off execution — Effect —An attachment by a judgment-creditor ceases when his execution-case is struck off the file. BABOO LUCHMEEPUT v. BABOO LEKRAJ ROY, 8 W.R. 415.

(19)—Attachment of money in Deputy Collector's hands—S 237, Civ Pro. Code, 1859—Dismissal of suit.—An attachment of money in the hands of a Deputy Collector without any such direction, as is enjoined by s. 237, Act VIII of 1859, ceases to be binding when once the suit is dismissed. LUCHMEEPUT SINGH DOOGUR v. HUMPHREY, 14 W.R. 101.

(20)—Decree establishing right to attach after property released from attachment--S. 246, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Effect —The effect of a decree establishing a right of attachment after the release of the property from attachment under Act VIII of 1859, s. 246, is to set aside the order of release, and restore the state of things which had been disturbed. MAHOMED WARRIS v. PITAMBUR SEN, 21 W.R. 435. [F., 23 C. 829, 10 B. 400, 31 A. 367 ; R., 6 A.L.J. 434.]

(21)—Execution of decree pending appeal to Privy Council—Suit to cancel alienation during attachment.—While an appeal from a decree was pending before the Privy Council, the decree-holder (M) applied for execution and attached the property of the judgment-debtor (B), who thereupon obtained an order of the High-Court for stay of sale until security could be furnished. The decree-holder having failed to furnish adequate security, the execution-case was struck off. The appeal to the Privy Council having been dismissed, the decree-holder revived execution-proceedings, adding costs and interest to her original claim. Upon this a third party intervened, and objected to the attachment, on the ground that he had obtained a mokurruree pottah of the property from B's representative. The objection having been allowed, under Act VIII of 1859, s. 246, M brought a suit to have the mokurruree declared to be invalid and fictitious. Held that plaintiff is not required to cause M's admitted proprietary right to be sold before she can maintain this suit, and that the act of the Court in striking off the execution-proceedings only for the convenience of business, and leaves in tact all the proceedings taken up to that stage : nor does the decree-holder abandon the attachment, which was therefore subsisting when the mokurruree pottah was granted. Accordingly the alienation of the property by the pottah is invalid and inoperative. SOONDUR SINGH v. MUSSAMUT BUHOORIA ALUM BASHEE KOOER, 24 W.R. 36.

Attachment—continued.

7.—Striking off execution—Proceedings —concluded.

(22)—Property under attachment — Execution struck off—Attachment not put an end to. —Where property is under attachment, the mere fact of the execution-case being struck off the file does not put an end to the attachment. JUGOBUNDHOO SEIN v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER DOSS, 17 W.R. 15.

(23)—Munsif declining to reverse predecessor's attachment order—Jurisdiction of District Judge.—A Judge has no power to interfere with a Moonsiff's order declining to reverse an order of attachment of a former Moonsiff, when nothing else is before the Judge. GHOONA MAHOMED SIRCAR v. SHURNO LUTTU DEBIA, 16 W.R. 311.

(24)—Attachment before and after decree—Striking off execution sale proceedings.—Held that attachment issued after suit supersedes the attachment order obtained during the pendency of the suit, and that the former was taken off the property when the sale-proceedings were struck off the file. RAM JEWAN v. RAM LALL, 2 Agra 190.

See EXECUTION CASE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 340.

——8.—Subjects of attachment.

See ACT XXIII OF 1871.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 60.

(1)—Annuity charged on estate—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 205—Grantor's heir.—An annuity, which is a charge upon an estate, can be attached, under s 205, Act VIII of 1859, at the instance of the grantor's heir by whom it is payable. MAHARAJAH DHERAJ MAHTAB CHAND BAHADOOR v. SREEMUTTEE DHUN COOMAREE BIBEE, 17 W.R. 254.

(2)—Civ. Pro Code, s. 266—Sale of immoveable property to Court of Wards—Annuity payable in return to vendor, liable to attachment in execution.—Where a judgment-debtor sold his immoveable property to the Court of Wards for consideration, part of which was present payment, and another part an annuity payable to the judgment-debtor, such annuity was held to fall within s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, as being money belonging to the judgment-debtor, and a stipulation in the deed of sale by which the judgment-debtor undertook not to alienate, such annuity was held to be wholly inoperative to defeat the claim of the judgment-creditor. HAR SHANKAR PRASAD SINGH v. BAIJNATH DAS, 23 A. 164=A.W.N. 1901, 10 (27 C. 98, 6 B.L.R. 646, R.; 14 M.I.A. 40, D.) [D., 31 A. 304=6 A.L.J. 227 =1 Ind. Cas. 186.]

Attachment –continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(3)—Stipends allowed to members of Mysore family, if attachable.—The original stipends allowed by the Government to the members of the Mysore family cannot be attached. HAJEE MOHAMED KUZULBASH v. SHAZADA MOHAMED BUSEEROODEEN, 7 W.R. 169.

(4)—Reg. IV of 1831, s. 3, Act XXIII of 1838 —State stipend, whether liable to attachment — The stipend of a Carnatic stipendiary is not liable to attachment in execution of a decree against him, it being one of the description of personal grants expressly protected from attachment in satisfaction of any decree or order of a Court by s. 3, Reg. IV of 1831, extended by Act XXIII of 1858. MOHAMED ABDUL VAKAB SAHIB v. RAMASAWMY AIYANGAR, 4 M.H C. 277.

(5)—Allowance granting maintenance from grantor's estate—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 205 —An allowance granting by means of a deed a regular maintenance from the grantor's estate and recoverable from it, is property which may be attached under s. 205, Act VIII of 1859. ENAET HOSSEIN v. NUJEEBOONISSA BEGUM. 11 W.R. 138. [F., 17 W.R. 254.]

(6)—S. 266, cl. (g), Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Political pension—Oudh loans, 1838 and 1842, payments due under—Political pension—Liability to attachment for debt—Exemption from s. 266 (g), Civ Pro. Code, 1882—No distinction observed between state property and private property vested in the Sovereign of Oudh —Although it is probable that the enactments of s. 266 (g) of the Civ. Pro. Code, were not meant to cover pensions payable by a foreign State, when remitted for payment to their pensioner in India, they certainly include all pensions of a political nature payable directly by the Government of India. A pension, which the Government of India has given a guarantee that it will take, by a treaty obligation contracted with another Sovereign Power is in the strictest sense a political pension. [F., 1 O.C. 170, 26 M. 69; R., 26 M. 423.] An allowance payable by the Government of India under an arrangement effected between the King of Oudh and the Governor-General in 1842 for the benefit of members of the King's family and household and their respective heirs in perpetuity, and payable to one of such heirs, who has inherited it, as his share in the interest in the Oudh loan of 1842, is a political pension within the meaning of s. 266 (g), Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. The arrangement of 1842 cannot be treated as merely a provision out of the King's private estate for the maintenance of members of his family; there having been, in a State like that of Oudh, no distinction observed between State property and private property vested in the Sovereign. BISHAMBAR NATH v. IMDAD ALI KHAN, 18 C. 216. P.C.= 17 I A. 181=5 Sar. 619. [F., 1 O.C 170; 26 M 69; R., 26 A. 617=A.W.N. 1904, 144= 1 A.L.J. 338.]

(7)—Decree against representatives of deceased Yeomiahdar—Arrears of Yeomiah pension due to estate of deceased, not subject to attachment in execution of decree.—Arrears of Yeomiah pension due to the estate of a deceased Yeomiahdar which have accidentally accumulated, are not subject to attachment in satisfaction of a decree of a Civil Court obtained against the representatives of the Yeomiahdar. REFERRED CASE No. 33 OF 1870, 5 M.H.C. 371. [F., 26 M, 69]

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(8)—Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871), s. 11—Tora garas hak, whether exempt from attachment as pension.—The word "pension" in s. 11 is used in the sense of a periodical allowance or stipend granted, not in respect of any right, privilege, perquisite, or office, but on account of past services or particular merits, or as compensation to dethroned princes, their families and dependants. So, a tora garas hak in the hands of a mamlatdar, granted to him for his rendering certain services when required, cannot constitute a 'pension' within its meaning in s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1871 so as to be exempt from attachment under a decree of a Civil Court. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. KHEMCHAND JEYCHAND, 4 B. 432. [F., 5 M. 272, 30 M. 153=2 M.L.T. 33, 31 A. 382=6 A.L.J. 519= 5 M.L.T. 388; R., 16 B. 731, 21 M. 105, A.W. N. 1902, 161, 26 A. 617=A.W.N. 1904, 144= 1 A.L.J. 338, 8 C.W.N. 665.]

(9)—Agreement by Government to pay money in lieu of tora garas haks—Act XXIII of 1871, s. 4.—The claim against the Government in this suit, which was based on an alleged agreement made by Government, viz., an agreement to pay moneys from the Government treasury in lieu of the tora garas haks which the garasias used to levy directly from the villages, was held to fall within the prohibition contained in s. 4 of the Indian Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871) against Civil Courts entertaining any suit relating to any grant of money made by the British Government, whatever may have been the consideration for such grant, and whatever may have been the nature of the payment, claim, or right for which such grant may have been substituted. MAHARAVAL MOHAN SANGJI JEYSANGJI v. THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY, 4 B. 437. Note. (On appeal 5 B. 408=8 I.A 77=4 Sar. 230). [F., 4 B. 432; R., 4 M. 341, 17 A. 1, P.C., 22 B. 496, 29 B. 480=7 Bom. L.R. 497.]

(10)—Claim against Government for money in lieu of tora garas haks—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Indian Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871). —The plaint in this case contained an express prayer for a declaration, not that the Government should collect and pay over the garas to the plaintiffs, but that the plaintiffs are entitled to take it hereditarily, from the Government treasury and, in fact, treat themselves as entitled to a grant of money out of the treasury in lieu of the levy which their ancestors were making from the villages, and such claim was held to come within the scope of the prohibition of the jurisdiction of Civil Courts by the Indian Pensions Act, in respect of suits relating to grants of money made by Government. MANSANG MADHAVSANGJI v. THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY, 4 B. 443, Note. [F., 4 B. 432],

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(11)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), s. 266—Pension—Saleable property — Attachment.—"Saleable property" means property which, if sold, would pass to the purchaser. In the case of pensions not exempted from attachment, it is only arrears actually accrued due that are attachable in execution of a decree. BHOYRUB CHUNDER ROY v. MADHUB CHUNDER SEN, 6 C.L.R. 19. (14 M.I.A. 40=7 B.L.R. 186, F.)

(12)—Bonus, attachment of.—A bonus granted by the Government is not a pension, and if proceedings in execution had commenced prior to 1st June, 1882, the bonus is attachable. KHASIM v. CARLIER, 5 M. 272. [R., 30 M. 153=2 M.L.T. 33.]

(13)—Pensions when attachable—Law before Act, XXIII of 1871.—Before Act XXIII of 1871 it was held that a pension was liable to attachment though not in anticipating of its becoming due and that it could also be attached when the amount was in deposit in the Government treasury at the pensioner's call. GOORDIT SINGH v. BISHESHUR, 79 P.R. 1867.

(14)—Act VI of 1849 (Pensions)—Kinds of pensions liable to attachment.—All pensions, except military and naval pensions and superannuation allowances, were held liable to attachment under ordinary process or proceedings in bankruptcy in the hands of the Treasuary Officer. NIZAKUT-UL-NISSA v. RAM SAHAI, 100 P.R. 1869.

(15)—Pension paid to judgment-debtor and in his possession not attachable—Ac. XXIII of 1871, s. 11.—Money paid to a judgment-debtor on account of his pension cannot be attached and so also while it is at the treasury, though waiting his call. KALI MALL v. SHAZADA JILAL-UD-DIN, 30 P.R. 1874.

(16)—Pension paid to the pensioner or his agent, attachable—Act XXIII of 1871, s. 11.—The money paid on account of pension to the pensioner or his agent ceases to be money due on account of the pension the moment it is so paid. It is exempted from attachment so long as it remains in the Treasury officer's hands and has not been paid to the prisoner or his agent. The moment it is paid it loses its privilege and becomes subject to attachment. LALLU MAL v. MAHOMED SHERDIL KHAN, 87 P.R. 1877. (30 P.R. 1874, Diss.).

(17)—Power of executing Courts—Pensions by authorities other than British—Attachment.—S. 60 (g), Civ. Pro. Code (1908) contemplates pensions payable by the British Government only. So a sum of money paid as a charity allowance out of the revenues of the Mamdot Estate may be attached. HAZARI MAL v. KHAN BAHADUR KHAN, 58 P.R. 1884. [R., 47 P.R. 1893.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(18)—Execution of decree—Political pension.—Held, that a pension awarded by the Deed of Trust, dated the 23rd November 1839, on the part of Mohammad Ali Shah, King of Oudh, printed at page 149, Aitcheson's Treaties, is a political pension and, as such, it cannot be attached in execution of a decree against the pensioner. JAFAR MIRZA v. BHAGWAN DAS, 1 O.C. 170.

(19)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 (g)—Political pension—Right of creditor to attach pension due at date of pensioner's death.—An application was made to attach the amount due to a deceased judgment-debtor as arrears of Malikana due from Government. Held that the character of the fund remained uncharged as long as it remained in the hands of Government irrespective of whether the intended beneficiary was alive or dead. Consequently, the amount in the hands of the Collector was not liable to attachment. VALIA THAMBURATTI v. ANUJANI KUNHUNNI, 26 M. 69. [R., 12 O.C. 323.]

(20)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266(g)—Attachment of pension payable in British India to descendants of former Royal family in Ceylon—Validity of attachment—Pensions Act, XXIII of 1871, s. 11—Pensions not granted or continued by Indian Government—Exemption from attachment under Act.—The descendants of two families who at one time occupied the throne of Ceylon applied for the release of attachment of pensions payable to them in British India. The attachment was effected in execution of a decree obtained against them in British India. Held, that as the pensions attached were "political pensions" within the meaning of s. 266 (g), they were exempted from attachment. Per Sir Arnold White, C.J.—If the Government of India be regarded as merely the agent of the Ceylon Government for the purpose of paying these pensions, the Courts in British India would not have any jurisdiction to proceed by way of attachment since the rights of the pensioners (assuming them to be enforceable at law) would only be enforceable in Ceylon. Per Benson, J.—S. 266 (g), Civ. Pro. Code, does not restrict the exemption to political pensions granted by the Government in India and the Courts in British India would not be justified in adding such a limitation to the plain words of the section. Per Sir Arnold White, C J.—Pensions not granted or continued by the Indian Government are not exempt from attachment by virtue of the provisions of s. 11 of the Pensions Act, 1871. MUTHUSAMI NAIDU v. PRINCE ALAGIA MANAVALA SIMMALA RAJA, 26 M. 428. (5 B. 219, 18 C. 316, R.)

(21)—Pensions Act, XXIII of 1871, ss. 8 and 11—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266—Grant of zemindari—The words "pension" in s. 11 of the

S. N. DAR, B. A. LL. B.
Vakil High Court.
SRINAGAR (Kashmir)

Attachment*—continued.

——8—Subjects of attachment—continued.

Pensions Act and s. 266 (g), Civ. Pro. Code, implies periodical payments of money by the Government to the pensioner in the manner prescribed by s. 8 of the Act. Where, as a return for good services, land was granted once for all under a sanad by the Government, held that the grantee took the proprietary right in the subject of the grant which was transferable and attachable. Quære—Whether, if the grant had been of land revenue, different considerations would not have arisen? LACHMI NARAIN v. MAKUND SINGH, 26 A. 617=1 A.L.J. 338. (4 B. 432. A.W.N. 1902. 161, 17 I.A. 181, 18 C. 216, R.) [F., 30 M 153=2 M.L.T. 33, 6 A.L.J. 519=31 A. 382=5 M.L.T. 388.]

(22)—Decree against predecessor—Liability of jaghir in execution.—The jaghir is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree against the predecessor, as assets in the hands of a jaghirdar approved by Government. NILMONI SINGH DEO v. BAKRANATH SINGH, 9 C. 187. P.C =9 I.A. 104=4 Sar. 335. (On appeal from 5 C 389) [R., 10 C. 677, 9 B. 198, 5 Bom. L.R. 983, 5 C.L.J. 583=34 C. 753.]

(23)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 (g)—Pensions Act, XXIII of 1878, s. 11—Jaghir income—Attachment of assigned land revenue in the hands of lambardars—Neither the Civ. Pro. Code, nor the Pensions Act exempt jaghir income from attachment in execution of a decree Quære:—Whether assigned land revenue is liable to be attached in the hands of the lambardars of a village before reaching the assignee? KUNDAN LAL v. DALIP SINGH, 57 P.R. 1884. [F., 133 P.R. 1888; R., 47 P.R 1893.]

(24)—Grant by Government to compensate for resumption of rent free land—Pension—Liability to attachment.—A grant of annual sum made by the Government in return for their having, by mistake, resumed certain rent-free lands of the grantee, is not a "pension" within the meaning of s. 11 of the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871). Such a grant is liable to attachment in execution of a decree against the grantee. JIBAN KRISHNA GHOSH v. SRIPATI CHARAN DEY, 8 C.W.N. 665. [R., 2 M.L.T. 33=30 M. 153.]

(25)—Execution of decree—Attachment of estate yielding periodical payment.—When an estate yielding a periodical payment is attached, the execution of the decree is continuable under the original attachment, and it is not necessary to file a fresh application for each payment. JAMNADAS v. LALITARAM, 2 B. 294.

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266 (g)—Gratuities, liability of, to attachment in execution of decree.—S. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, prohibits the attachment of all gratuities allowed by Government, whether they are allowed to pensioners or granted in consideration of past services. BAWAN DAS v. MUL CHAND, 6 A. 173=A.W.N. 1884, 16.

Attachment*—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(27)—Gratuity sanctioned but not yet paid, whether liable to attachment in execution—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266—Trasfer of Property Act, s. 123,—Indian Contract Act, s. 90.—A gratuity sanctioned in favour of a Railway employee subsequent to the 1st July, 1882, but not yet handed over to him by the District Paymaster to whom it had been sent for such payment, could not be attached in execution of a decree against the employee, as, being a gift of moveable property, it was not evidenced by a registered instrument, and had not been completed by delivery, and as the Paymaster was not authorised by the employee to hold the money on his behalf. JANKI DAS v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY, 6 A. 634=A.W.N. 1884, 210. [R., 5 Bom.L.R. 454.]

(28)—Books of account.—Books of account cannot be taken in execution. In re PESTANJI CURSETJI SHROFF, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 42. [Appr., 3 N.W.P. 334; Diss., Rat. Un. Cr.C. 43.]

(29)—Account books are subjects of attachment, but not of sale.—Although a Court will not allow account books to be attached and brought to sale as mere waste paper; yet, to prevent a judgment-debtor from making away with his books and defeating a decree holder, it will be competent to a Court executing a decree, if execution is applied for by attachment of debts to require the judgment-debtor to produce his books in Court, and leave them in the custody of the Court. ABJOODHYA PERSHAD v. MIDDLETON COHEN AND CO., 3 N W.P. 334.

(30)—Civ. Pro. Code (X of 1877), s. 266, proviso (c), property of agriculturist specifically mortgaged, not exempted under.—In enacting the provisions of s. 266 of Act X of 1877, it cannot have been the intention of the Legislature to prohibit the sale of property specifically mortgaged. The operation which the Legislature has intended cl. (c) of the section to have, in favour of an agriculturist, cannot be so extended as to prohibit the sale of the house-material, etc., of such a person, under a decree for sale passed on a specific mortgage of the house executed by him. BHAGVANDAS v. HATHIBHAI, 4 B. 25. [Diss., P.L.R. 1900, p. 357; D., A.W.N. 1888, 154.]

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266, cl. (c)—Exemption in favour of agriculturist debtor, whether extends to his representative—Scope of clause.—The use of the word "materials" in cl. (c) of s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, has not the effect of limiting the exemption in the clause so as to exclude the house itself in which the agriculturist lived, and the buildings which he used in the exercise of his calling. The provision cannot be construed to exempt merely loose materials of buildings and those only. While the house stands, he cannot attach it as a house without attaching the materials of which it is composed. Nor does the exemption cease to operate on the death of the agriculturist, provided the property came into the hands of his heir, also an agriculturist. Where the original agriculturist judgment-debtor is dead, the decree-holder proceeds against his representative as liable under the decree, and the representative, taking the place of the deceased as to liability under s. 266 takes his place also as to the protection afforded by cl. (c) of the section. Consequently, if, having become owner, he is in good faith occupying the house, sought to be attached, as an agriculturist, it continues to be exempt from attachment. RADHAKISAN HAKUMJI v. BALVANT RAMJI, 7 B 530. [R., 12 B. 363, 13 C.P.L.R. 30, 59 P.R. 1902; D., A.W.N. 1888, 154.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(32)—House occupied by agriculturist as such—Agriculturists' town residence.—A house occupied by an agriculturist as an agriculturist cannot form the subject of attachment. The town residence of an agriculturist is liable to attachment. MANECKLAL v. MANILAL, 7 Bom. L. R. 685.

(33)—Execution of decree—Attachment of agriculturist's house—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266 (c).—Where, upon an agricultural tenant leaving the village, the zamindar, according to custom, was entitled to re-enter upon the tenant's premises which reverted to him, and such premises are sold in execution of a money-decree against the tenant, held that the interest of the zamindar was not affected by the sale which was prohibited by s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and to which he was no party. TOTA RAM v. CHAIN SUKH, A.W.N. 1888, 154.

(34)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 (c)—Building site—Building-site of houses occupied by agriculturists not liable to attachment and sale in execution of decree.—A creditor holding decree against the representatives of an agriculturist, attached the site of their house, and pleaded that, under s. 266 (c), Civ. Pro. Code, the materials of houses and other buildings belonging to, and occupied by, agriculturists, were alone exempt from sale and prayed that the site under the house may be sold. Held that the house and its materials were exempt from attachment and that the attachment of the site could not affect the tenant's immunity from the attachment of the materials of the house forming the house as it stood. KRISHNA v. KANSHI RAM, 59 P.R. 1902. (7 B. 530, R.)

(35)—Fodder, liability of, to attachment in execution of decree—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 (b).—Held, that in execution of a decree against an agriculturist, fodder was liable to attachment whether in whole or in part. WASIL v. MUHAMMAD DIN, 93 P.R. 1904. [R., 82 P.R. 1907.]

(36)—Bombay Bhagdari Act (V of 1862)—Execution of decree against bhagdar—Attachment of gabhan (home-stead) appurtenant to Bhag—Validity—Civ. Pro. Code, 1822 s. 266 (c).—In execution of a decree obtained against a bhagdar, his bhag was attached, as also the gabhan or site of the dwelling house, as a part of the bhag. The judgment-debtor applied to have the attachment raised from the gabhan, alleging that he was an agriculturist, and claiming protection from attachment in respect of gabhan of his house under s. 266 (c) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. Held that the gabhan was liable to attachment. The judgment-debtor occupied the house in the character of a bhagdar and not as an agriculturist. The object of the Bombay Bhagdari Act (V of 1862) was not that execution of a decree against a bhagdar should be prevented altogether, but that it should proceed against the bhag as an indivisible aggregate, including the gabhan, and where a bhagdar holds in that character it predominates over his other character as an agriculturist. Moreover, it was for agriculturists in the strictest sense, and for an agriculturist in that sole character, that the protection afforded by s. 266 (c) of the Civ. Pro. Code, was intended. JIWAN BHAGA v. HIRAV BHAIJI, 12 B. 363. [R., 13 C.P.L.R. 30.]

(37) Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), ss. 278, 287—Person served with prohibitory order in respect of debt, application not maintainable by, under s. 278—Duty of Court.—No application can be made, by a person served with a prohibitory order in respect of an alleged debt due by him to the judgment-debtor, as for the raising of the attachment under s. 278 of the Civ. Pro. Code. Where, however, the property of which a sale is sought is a debt, and the Court receives notice from the alleged debtor that no such debt exists, the Court should satisfy itself as to the existence, or otherwise, of the debt, and if it comes to the conclusion that the debt does not exist, should abstain from proceeding to sale. HARILAL AMTHABHAI v. ABHESANG MERU, 4 B. 323. [F., 10 M. 194; R., 14 C.P.L.R. 124, 27 M. 67.]

(38)—Vendor's right to purchase money—Debt—Attachment—Civ. Pro. Code 1877, ss. 266 and 268.—Where it is agreed, that the purchase-money on a sale of immoveable property shall be payable after the execution of the conveyance, then, so long as the conveyance remains unexecuted, the vendor's right to the purchase-money is a contingent right, which, under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, cannot be attached and sold in execution of a decree, and sale of such a right cannot convey anything to the purchaser. AHMAD-UD DIN KHAN v. MAJLIS RAI, 3 A. 12. [F., A.W.N. 1888, 154.]

(39)—Execution against vendor—Property held by vendee—Attachment—Limitation.—Held that, where a party holds possession of a property for 21 years under a sale from another, it cannot be attached in an execution against that other. ACHUMBEET LAL v. RADHA KISHEN, 6 W.R. 161.

(40)—Civ Pro. Code, 1877, s. 266—Attachment of debt arising out of claims over which British Courts have no jurisdiction.—Claims over which no Court in British India has jurisdiction are not debts liable to be attached under the section. Thus debts due to a British subject by the Gaikwar or other Government or its subjects are not debts which, under this section, are liable to attachment in execution of a decree. But, it must be noted that the mere circumstance that the garnishee is, at the time of the application for attachment, beyond the limits of British India, would not of itself render the debts not liable to be attached. GHAMSHAMLAL v. BHANSALI, 5 B. 249. [R., 26 M. 423.]

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(41)—Debt secured by mortgage of immoveable property not moveable property.—A debt secured by mortgage of immoveable property is not moveable property, within the meaning of the execution sections of the Civ. Pro. Code. SRINATH DUTT v. GOPAL CHUNDRA MITTRA, 9 C 511=12 C L.R. 445. [F., 9 M. 5; Disappr., 26 B. 305; Cons., 10 M. 169, 14 C.P. L.R. 5; R., 20 C. 805.] But see DEBENDRA KUMAR MANDEL v. RUP LALL DASS, 12 C. 546.

(42)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 274=O. XXI, r. 54, new Code—Attachment in execution of money decree—Incorrect description of property—Effect of subsequent purchase of same property by stranger under another decree.—Where the judgment-debtor had only muafi interests in a village, but the holder of a money decree in attaching the judgment-debtor's interests therein incorrectly described them as zamindari interests and a sale of the zamindari interests was held subsequently, the attachment was not a good attachment, under the section, of the muafi interests of the judgment-debtor; the auction-purchaser could not be held to have purchased those muafi interests; and the title of certain persons who had obtained a pre-emptive decree in respect of the muafi interests must prevail over that of the auction purchaser. HARGU LAL SINGH v. MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN, 13 A. 119=A. W. N. 1891, 16.

(43)—Debt secured by collateral hypothecation of land—Immoveable property—General Clauses Act, 1868, s. 2 (5).—A debt which is made a charge on land, constitutes a "benefit to arise out of land," within the meaning of those words in s. 2 (5) of the General Clauses Act, 1868, and is, therefore, immoveable property for the purpose of attachment and sale under the Code of Civil Procedure. Quære:—Whether the debt could be sold apart from the security as immoveable property? APPASAMI v. SCOTT, 9 M. 5. [Not F., 26 B. 305; Appr., 19 B. 121; R., 10 M. 169, 14 C.P.L.R. 5.]

(44)—Attachment applied for—No further steps taken—Mortgage by judgment-debtor—Effect.—On an application for execution of a simple money-decree, fresh attachment was ordered to be made, on 6th December, 1873. On the 31st December following, the judgment-debtor filed a petition praying that, in accordance with an arrangement made with the judgment-creditor, the execution proceedings might be stayed for another month, he promising not in the meantime to alienate the property. This was acceded to by an order of that date and the execution case struck off, the proceedings being stayed for a month. Nothing was done by the decree-holder until the 30th November, 1874, when a fresh application for attachment and sale was made. The Court directed execution to be taken out. But, subsequently, the judgment-creditor failed to prosecute the matter, and eventually, on the 31st May, 1875, the Court, on the ground of negligence of the judgment-creditor, again struck the case off the file. In the meanwhile, on the 2nd February, 1874, the judgment-debtor had mortgaged the property in question. Held that the attachment did not subsist on the date of the mortgage and the mortgagee had a lien over the mortgaged property. The circumstances that the judgment-debtor induced the judgment-creditor from time to time to put off the sale of his property, by promising that he would not sell the property to anybody else, could not convert such promise into a mortgage. GANGAGOTTI PAL v. RAM SUNDER DUTT, 8 C. L. R. 157.

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(45)—Application for and sale of property under mortgage decree—Common error of Courts—Claim to such property under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code.—It is not necessary for the holder of a mortgage-decree to apply for the attachment and sale of the mortgaged property. The decree contains or ought to contain, a direction for sale; and it only remains for the decree-holder to apply for the sale to be proclaimed. If he unnecessarily applies for an attachment, which is granted, a claim to the property cannot be brought under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. S.R.M.A.N. MUTHAPPA CHETTY v. S.A.R.M. PALLATHAPPA CHETTY, 2 L.B.R. 138. (14 C. 631, 18 B. 98, 4 B. 515, R.)

(46)—Property in possession of mortgagee, legality of attachment of.—An attachment of property mortgaged even when in a mortgagee's possession is not illegal. BIHARILAL v. RATTIRAM, 1 C.P.L R. 85.

(47)—Civ. Pro Code, s. 268—Debt attached in execution of decree—Payment of amount out of Court to proper person, effect of.—Under s. 268 of the Civ. Pro. Code, a debtor prohibited to pay the debt due by him might pay the amount of the debt into Court, and such payment would discharge him as effectually as payment to the party entitled to receive the debt. Also where, instead of paying the amount due by him into Court, the debtor, after the issue of the order of attachment pays that amount out of Court, to the person who would have been entitled to withdraw it from the Court, if it had been paid into Court, and the payment is certified to the Court, such payment out of Court becomes, by reason of the certification of it to the Court, equivalent to a payment into Court within the meaning of s. 268 of the Code so as to constitute sufficient compliance with the requirements of that section. FIDA HUSAIN v. MAULA BAKHSH, 21 A. 145 = A.W.N. 1899, 12.

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(48)—Partnership debt, attachment of.—An uncertain sum, which may or may not be payable by one member to another of a partnership, not shown to have been wound up, cannot be attached or sold in execution of a decree. DWARIKA MOHUN DAS v. LUCKHIMONI DASI, 14 C 384 [Diss., 13 M. 417 ; R., 20 C. 693, 158 P.L.R. 1903]

(49)—Attachment of debt due to judgment-debtor by third person—Order of Court on garnishee admitting debt — Procedure when garnishee denies debt—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 267 268, 503.—Where a decree-holder has attached in execution a debt payable to the judgment-debtor by a third person, the power to the Court, implied in s. 268 of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1882, to make an order for payment of the debt which the garnishee is to obey has been held to justify also an order for payment to the judgment-creditor, when the garnishee admits the debt to some amount or does not deny the debt in toto. If however the garnishee denies the debt, there is no other course open to the judgment-creditor than to have it sold, or to have a receiver appointed under s. 503. TOOLSA GOOLAL v. JOHN ANTONE, 11 B. 448.

(50)—Money in the hands of agent, attachment of—Civ. Pro Code, s. 266.—The fact that, when a principal sues to recover a balance in the hands of his agent, he may, until the agent's accounts are produced, be unable to specify the particular amount of the balance in the agent's hands, does not render it the less a debt due to the principal. Such a debt in the hands of an agent or a vendee is capable of being attached by a creditor of the person to whose order or for whose benefit the money is held. Such debt, even where it happens to be unascertained, is capable of being ascertained, and is, as such, attachable under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code. MADHO DAS v. RAMJI PATAK, 16 A. 286 = A.W.N. 1894, 84. (14 M. I. A. 40, 6 M.I.A. 510, 5 B.L.R. 382, Disc.)

(51)—S. 268, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (= O. XXI, r. 46, present Code)—Moveable property must belong to judgment-debtor—Government Promissory Notes in the Bank of Bengal.—Where certain Government Promissory Notes in the custody of the Bank of Bengal were declared to belong to the plaintiff, and the plaintiff applied for execution of the decree by attachment, s. 268, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, was held to be applicable only to cases where the property, in the possession of a third party, belonged to the judgment-debtor, and not to cases where it was declared to be plaintiff's. The only remedy open to the plaintiff to recover possession of moveable property decreed to belong to him and not in the possession or power of the judgment-debtor, is to proceed by suit against the person in whose possession or power it is. RAJA PUDMANUND SINGH v. CHANDI DAT JHA, 1 C.W.N. 170.

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(52)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 205, 233 to 238—Attachment of decree.—A decree comes under the term "property" in s. 205, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, and is, therefore, liable to attachment and sale in execution. For the purpose of attaching the decree itself, and the money when it came into Court, the form of attachment under s. 237 is perhaps the most appropriate. PRINCE GHOLAM MAHOMED v. INDRACHAND JAHURI. 7 B L.R. 318 = 15 W.R. 84 [R., 21 A. 405 = A.W.N. 1899, 157.]

(53) —Sale of, decree — Appeal—Remedy of party dissatisfied.—A decree belonging to a judgment-debtor may be attached and sold, it being a part of the judgment-debtor's effects and not falling under the head of immoveable property. An appeal does not lie for setting aside a sale of a decree under Act X of 1959. The party dissatisfied with such order may proceed under s. 104, Act X of 1859. BUNSHEE MOHUN DOSS v. HUR CHUNDER DOSS CHOWDHRY, W.R. 1864, Mis. 28.

54)—S. 266, Civ. Pro Code, 1882—Whether offerings which may in future be made to a Hindu idol, liable to attachment.—Offerings which may in future be made to a Hindu idol, being voluntary, or entirely uncertain. The right to receive such offerings is not a "saleable property" within the meaning of s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code. So, such offerings cannot be attached in execution of a decree for money against the idol. SHOILOJA OJHA v. PEARY CHARAN DEY, 29 C. 470 = 6 C.W.N. 728.

(55)—S. 232, Act VIII of 1859—Mesne profits to be ascertained in execution—Attachment pending ascertainment.—Mesne profits to be ascertained in execution of a decree may be decreed under s. 232, Act VIII of 1859; and a decree-holder may, pending ascertainment, apply for attachment of judgment-debtor's property. SHANODA MOYEE BURMONEE v. WOOMA MOYEE BURMONEE, 8 W.R. 9.

(56)—Future rents and profits, attachment of —Prohibitory order to ghatwal, in execution proceedings against him —Attachment of future rents and profits due to a ghatwal as such, cannot be made in execution of a decree against him. (23 C. 873, 27 C. 39, F.) So, in execution proceedings against a ghatwal, it is not proper to issue a prohibitory order to the ghatwal not to receive any rents and profits from the raiyats, and, also, to the raiyats, not to pay their rents to him, without a Receiver being appointed for collecting rents and profits as they fall due from time to time. UDOY KUMARI GHATWALIN v. HARI RAM SHAHA, 28 C. 483. [R., 30 A. 246 = A.W.N. 1908, 101 = 5 A.L.J. 251 = 4 M.L.T. 10.]

(57)—Civ. Pro. Code, s 273—Decree—Execution—Judgment-debt — Sale—Procedure.—

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

A decree for money, though it be a judgment-debt, is not liable, as a "debt" to sale in execution of a decree. [F., 20 C. 111, 16 B. 522.] The judgment-debt could be rendered available in execution without attachment, and s. 273 is imperative as to the procedure to be adopted to secure the judgment-debt and make it available to satisfy the claim of the attaching decree-holder. TIRUVENGADA v. VYTHILINGA, 6 M. 418.

(58)—Execution of decree—Effect of attachment of money-decree—Civ. Pro. Code (1877), ss. 266, 273.—Although debts are mentioned in the category of property liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, (s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877), yet it is apparent from the provisions of s.273 that the sale of a money-decree is not contemplated as the result of its attachment, and that an attachment in the mode therein ordained cannot lead to a sale. SULTAN KUAR v. GULZARI LAL, 2 A. 290. [F., 16 B. 522, 20 C. 111; R., 28 A. 771=3 A. L J. 585=A.W.N. 1906, 237=1 M.L.T. 247; D., 21 A. 405=A.W.N. 1899, 157.]

(59)—Civ. Pro, Code. 1882, ss. 266, 273—Attachment of money-decree—"Saleable property"—Subsequent adjustment—Effect.—A money-decree cannot be sold after being attached, by reason of the particular procedure prescribed by s. 273 of the Code. But that procedure is clearly confined to money-decrees. All other decrees are both attachable and saleable as "saleable property" under s. 266. (2. A 290, 6 M. 418, R.) [R., 27 B. 556=5 Bom. L.R. 529, 2 C.L.J. 499, 28 A. 771, F.B =3 A.L.J. 585=A.W.N. 1906, 237=1 M.L.T. 247, 5 M. L.T. 278=1 Ind. Cas. 535.] An adjustment of a decree for money subsequent to the attachment of the same under S. 273 of the Code cannot be recognised by the Court. GOPAL NANASHET v. JOHARIMAL, 16 B. 522.

(60)—S. 411, Act XIV of 1882 (Civ.Pro.Code)—Court not justified in selling decree in forma pauperis for money on application of Collector in pursuance of order in his favour for realisation of Court-fees.—As s. 411 provides that persons, who have been successful as paupers, shall, so far as the subject-matter of their success is concerned, be liable to satisfy, out of what they recover, the amount of the fees which have been for a time, pending the decision of their suit, remitted to them, it seems that the provisions of that section do not justify the Court in selling a decree in forma pauperis upon the application of the Collector, in pursuance of an order made in his favour at the time when such decree was passed. JOTINDRO NATH CHOWDHRY v. DWARKA NATH DEY, 20 C. 111.

(61)—Appointment of manager to minor's estate—Points to be considered.—The Court has to consider, not only the nearness of kindred, but the suitableness of the person whom it may appoint to the office of the manager of a minor's estate. KHOODEE MONEE DOSSEE GHOSSAMEE v. KOYLAS CHUNDER GHOSE, 4 W.R. Mis., 22.

(62)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 268, 273—(O. XXI, rr. 46, 53, new Code)—Revenue Court's decree, nature of—Non-liability to attachment and sale under Civil Court's decree.—The words "decree for money passed by another Court" in s. 273, Civ. Pro. Code, are not wide enough to include decrees of Revenue Courts; and, therefore, a Revenue Court decree is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a Civil Court decree. (16 A. 496; R., 7 B.L.R. 318, A.W.N. 1885, 123, 2 A. 290, D.) But a Revenue Court decree, before it is executed and the proceeds deposited in Court, stands in the position of an ordinary debt, and may be dealt with under the provisions of s. 268, Civ. Pro. Code. ALIA BIBI v. ABU JAFAR, 21 A. 405=A.W N. 1899, 157. [R., 22 A. 192.]

(63)—Expectancy, sale of—Hindu Law—Power of guardian.—Quœre.—Whether a mere expectancy can be the subject of a sale, and if so, of a sale by a guardian acting or purporting to act on behalf of an infant. DOOLI CHAND v. BIRJ BHOOKAN LAL AWASTI, 6 C L.R. 528 P.C. [R., 8 C. 12, 10 C.P.L R. 1.]

(64)—Hindu Law—Sale of expectancy.—The Judicial Committee expressed that they were not prepared to affirm that an expectancy could be made the subject of a sale, still less that it could be made the subject of a sale, highly speculative as such a sale must be, by a guardian acting or purporting to act on behalf of an infant. DOOLI CHAND v. BIRJ BOOKUN LAL AVASTI, 10 C L R. 61, P.C.

(65)—Sum to be paid in future.—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 205.—A sum receivable by way of assignment is not liable to be attached and sold in execution of decree. SHAM CHUNDER BABOO v. TEELUCK CHUNDER BABOO, 2 Hay 142.

(66)—Civ. Pro. Code 1859, s. 205—Property liable to be attached in execution of decree.—It is said in Macpherson's Civil Procedure that unproved assets may by seized by attachment; but it is also said that mere rights of suit cannot be attached. These two apparently but not really, conflicting positions, may be reconciled by reading the direction as applying to liquidated demands in their nature definite and certain, though sub lite and unproved. Future property cannot be attached nor a mere expectancy nor a mere right of suit. The attachment must operate at the time of attachment, and not be anticipatory so as to fasten on some future state of property in which the suit may result. An existing debt, though payable at a future day, may be attached, whilst a salary, wages, or money-claim accruing due may not be attached. A claim which may accrue under a binding award cannot be attached and sold in execution. SYUD TUFFAZAL HOSSEN KHAN v. RAGHUNATH PRASAD. 7 B.L.R. 186 P.C. 14 M I A. 40=2 Suther. 434=2 Sar. 656=R. & J's No. 10 (Oudh). [F., 6 C.L.R. 19, 14 C. 384 ; R., 8 B.H.C.A.C. 150, 10 B.H.C. 139, 22 W R. 214, 2 B. 540, 13 M. 447, 18 B. 739, 20 C. 693, 27 C. 38. 8 O C. 409, 9 C.W N. 703, 13 C.W.N. 966=10 C.L.J. 180=36 C. 936, F.B., 14 C.W.N. 918=12 C.L.J. 130=6 Ind. Cas. 826=38 C. 13; Diss., 16 A 286 ; D., 10 A. 462.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(67)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 cl. (l)—Execution of personal decree against Hindu widow—attachment of land assigned to her without absolute power of disposal for her maintenance—Illegality—Land assigned to a Hindu widow for maintenance with proviso against alienation is land over which she has no power of disposal, and, as such, is exempt from attachment under s. 266, cl. (l) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, in execution of a money-decree against her. DIWALI v. APAJI GANESH, 10 B. 342. [F., 15 M.L.J. 7 ; R., 15 A. 371, 16 A. 443, 9 C.W.N. 309, 12 C.L.J. 146 ; D ; 20 C. 273.]

(68)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 s. 266. cl. (l) (= s. 60 n. new Code)—Attachment of property made over to Hindu widow in lieu of maintenance.—The rights and interests which have been made over to a Hindu widow by the family to which she belongs, in lieu of maintenance, cannot, under s. 266 (l) Civ. Pro. Code, be attached and sold in execution of a decree against her. GULAB KUAR v. BANSIDHAR. 15 A. 371=A. W.N. 1893, 149. (10 B. 342, R.) [Not F., 14 C.P.L.R. 114.]

(69)—Decree against members of joint Hindu family, sale in execution of—Rights of purchaser.—A sale in execution of a decree against some of the members of a joint Hindu family of the interest of those persons in the family-property does not give the purchaser a right to recover possession of a definite quantity of land. Quære.—May not the creditor of a member of a joint Hindu family have, under Act VIII of 1859, s. 206, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, some remedy against the property to which his debtor may be entitled? KALEE PUDO BUNERJEE v. CHOITUN PANDAH, 22 W.R. 214.

(70)—Reversionary interest—Execution of decree—R. C. D. a Hindu, died possessed of property, leaving, as his heiress, his widow, R. D. He also left four daughters, two of whom died in the life-time of their mother, each leaving a son. R D. died, leaving her surviving two daughters, P.D. and J.D., who succeeded to the estate of R C.D. Held, that J.B., one of the sons of J. D., had no such interest in the property as could be attached and sold in execution of a decree against him. BHOOBUN-MOHUN BANERJEA v. THAKOORDOSS BISWAS, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 277=16 W.R. F.B. 18, note.

(71)—Civ Pro. Code, 1859, s. 205—Sale in execution—Reversionary interest.—The interest of an heir, according to Hindu Law, expectant on the death of Hindu widow in possession, is not property and therefore not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree. RAM CHANDRA TANTRA DAS v. DHARMO NARAYAN CHUCKERBUTTY, 7 B L.R. 341, F.B.=15 W. R.F.B. 17. [Appr., 2 Ind. Cas. 865 ; R., 8 B. H.C O.C, 140, 2 B. 67, 17 A. 125, 22 B. 984 ; D., 10 A. 462.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(72)—Reversioner's right—Sale in execution of decree—Validity.—The right of the reversioner of a Hindu widow, being purely contingent on his surviving her, cannot be the subject of sale in execution of a decree. KORAJ KOONWAR v. KOMUL KOONWAR, 6 W.R. 34.

(73)—Hindu Law—Attachment of undivided share—Death of the judgment-debtor—Survivorship.—Where the undivided share of a co-parcener in the family is attached in execution of a personal decree against that co-parcener, and the co-parcener dies before the property is brought to sale, the effect of the attachment is to bring the interest of the judgment-debtor under the control of the Court for the purpose of executing the decree, so as to preclude the accrual of a title by survivorship. BAILUR KRISHNA v. LAKSHMANA, 4 M. 302. (6 I. A. 88, F.) [R., 30 M. 413=17 M L.J. 334=2 M. L.T. 365, 32 M. 429=19 M.L.J. 401.]

(74)—Son's right to succeed by survivorship.—A son's right to succeed by survivorship to his father's property is too remote to be sold in execution of a decree. BABOO GOUR SURUN DASS v. BABOO RAM SURUN BHUKUT, 8 W. R. 263.

(75)—Execution of decree—Grant to Hindu widow for maintenance for life—Reversionary interest of grantor liable to attachment and sale—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266 (k.) (=s. 60 (m), new Code)—"Expectancy"—A granted, to a Hindu widow, a life-interest in the usufruct of certain lands. In execution of a decree against A, his interest in the lands was attached and sold : held, that the interest which A had in the land was not a mere expectancy within the meaning of the section, but a vested interest similar to that which a mortgagor or lessor has in the lands mortgaged or leased, and that such interest was liable to attachment and sale. KACHWAIN v. SARUP CHAND, 10 A. 462=A. W.N. 1888, 200. (6 W.R. 34, 15 W. R. F. B., 17, 14 M.I.A. 41 R.)

(76)—Gift of family house to mother—Attachable interest—Remainder—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 266—Hindu Law.—R executed a deed to his mother by which he made over to her the family house which was admittedly the only ancestral property remaining in the family, as a provision for her maintenance, and she was to support herself by the rent, etc., of the house. There were no words giving her the power to alienate the property. Held, that the house should be considered revertible to R on his mother's death, that R had a saleable interest in the house during the mother's life, that his interest in the house during the mother's life was capable of being attached under s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, and that such an interest did not fall within the description of an expectancy or of a merely contingent or possible right or interest. ANNAJI DATTATRAYA v. CHANDRA BAI, 17 B. 503. (11 B. H.C. 199, 2 I.A. 256, 18 C. 164, R.) [Expl., 32 C. 1051=9 C.W.N. 784=2 C.L.J. 50; R., 19 B. 36, 1 Bom. L.R 303, 3 Bom. L.R. 790, 6 Bom. L.R. 625. 6 Bom. L.R. 975=29 B. 306, 1 S.L.R. 211, 9 O.C. 119, 22 B. 934.]

Attachment—continued.

—8 —Subjects of attachment—continued.

(77)—Execution of decree—Hindu widow—Maintenance—Attachment and sale—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s 266, cl. (l).—Held that an interest in the income of immoveable property assigned by way of maintenance to a Hindu widow by the members of her family is not capable of being attached and sold in execution of a decree against the widow. GULAB KUMAR v. BANSIDHAR, A.W.N. 1893, 149=15 A. 371. (10 B. 342, R.)

(78)—Crim. Pro. Code s. 146—Attachment of immoveable property by Magistrate—Right to profits of such property accruing during attachment.—Where immoveable property has been attached by a Magistrate under the provisions of s. 146 of the Crim. Pro. Code, pending the decision of a Civil Court in respect thereof, such Magistrate is not entitled, after the final decision of the Civil Court, to retain in his hands the profits derived from such property during attachment. In the matter of the petition of AVADH NARAIN LAL, A.W.N. 1893, 100.

(79)—Civ. Pro. Code, s 272—Attachment of letters in Post Office—Claim by sender.—Certain registered covers sent through the Post Office were attached at the instance of the judgment-creditors of the addressees, before they were delivered to the addressees, and while they were in the hands of the Post Master. The senders of those covers had, the day before, applied for their return to them. The senders, under these circumstances, could have no claim for the return of these covers, which were held by the Post Master in trust for the addressees, and the attachment was properly placed under s. 272, Code of Civil Procedure. NARASIMHULU v. ADIAPPA, 13 M. 242.

(80)—Prospective right of maintenance—Contingency—S. 205, Act VIII of 1859.—A prospective right of maintenance cannot be attached, and a contigency of this kind is not included in Act VIII of 1859, s. 205, as something capable of attachment. MONESSUR DOSS v. MAHARAJAH KISHEN PROTAB SAHEE, 23 W. R. 427.

(81)—Decree for maintenance—Right to attach future maintenance—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 205, 243.—A creditor holding a decree against a party who is entitled to an allowance by way of maintenance under a decree of Court though entitled to attach such sums as have already become due on account of maintenance, is not entitled to an order to attach and sell prospectively his judgment debtor's rights to maintenance, but the Court may properly make an order, in view of any instalment of allowance about to become due under the decree, that the person chargeable should not pay such sum to the judgment-debtor, and may forbid the judgment-debtor to receive the sum, so that the amount may either be paid to such person as the Court may direct, or an arrangement be made under s. 243 of Act VIII of 1859 for the collection or administration, if necessary, of the amount of the maintenance. MANISWAR DAS v. BABOO BIR PERTAB SAHU, 6 B. L. R. 646=15 W.R. 188 [F. 24 W.R. 5; R., 12 C. L.J. 130=14 C.W.N. 918=38 C. 13=6 Ind. Cas. 826; D., 23 A. 164.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(82)—Arrears of maintenance, if liable to attachment in execution of decree.—Arrears of maintenance already accrued due are liable to be attached in execution of a decree, although the right to future maintenance is not so liable. KASHEESHUREE DEBIA v. GREESH CHUNDER LAHOREE, 6 W. R. Mis. 64.

(83)—Right to future maintenance, if saleable in execution—The right to maintenance being a personal one, such a right to future maintenance cannot be sold in execution of a decree. MUSSAMUT DULOON KOONWUR v. SONGOM SINGH,, 7 W. R 311.

(84)—Allowance when can be attached—Instalment of maintenance becoming due—Attachment.—No allowance can be attached until it is actually due and paid to the judgment-debtor; but when an instalment of maintenance is about to become due, the Court may make an order for non-payment by the party chargeable, and its non-receipt by the debtor. CHUKOWREE MISSER v. MUSSAMUNT NUMOODAH KOOER, 24 W. R. 5.

(85)—Money-allowance for maintenance.—A was liable to pay B, a widow, a monthly allowance for maintenance. B obtained a decree against A, as heir of her husband for a debt of her husband. Held, without deciding as to whether a money-allowance for maintenance can be attached in execution of a decree, that, under the circumstances of this case, he was not entitled to attach the maintenance under the decree. KOMAREE DABEE v. GREESH CHUNDER LAHOORY. Marsh 200=1 Hay 583.

(86)—Arrears of maintenance, attachment of.—Arrears of maintenance, may, as debt due to a widow, be attached in execution of decree against her. HOYMOBUTTY DEBIA CHOWDHRAIN v. KOROONA MOYEE DEBIA CHOWDHRAIN, 8 W.R. 41.

(87)—Heritable right to monthly allowance—Lability to be sold in execution—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266.—A heritable right to receive a monthly allowance derived from a person's deceased wife, to whom it was assigned in lieu of her share of landed property, is not a mere right to maintenance nor any thing else exempted under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and is therefore saleable in execution of a decree. SALAMAT HOSSEIN v. LUCKHI RAM, 10 C. 521. [R., 12 M. 250.]

Attachment—continued.

——8 —Subjects of attachment—continued.

(88)—S. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—"Debt," meaning of—Maintenance allowance due at a future period, attachment of—Effect.—The debt referred to in s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, is a perfected and absolute debt, not merely a sum of money which may or may not become payable at some future time, or the payment of which depends upon contingencies which may or may not happen. An attachment must operate at the time of attachment upon some existing debt, and it must not be of an anticipating character, so as to fasten upon some future state of property. (14 M.I.A. 40, F.) Where an attachment was made of a maintenance-allowance which might become papable after the date of attachment, and which maintenance was payable only during the lifetime of the grant, held, that there was no legal attachment of that money. HARIDAS ACHARJIA CHOWDHRY v BARODA KISHORE ACHARJIA CHOWDHRY, 27 C. 38=4 C.W.N. 87. [F., 28 C. 483, 9 C.W.N. 703; R., 12 C.W.N. 145 =7 C.L.J. 658, 30 A. 246=A.W.N. 1908, 101 =5 A.L.J. 251=4 M.L.T 10; D., 23 A. 164 = A.W.N. 1901, 50.]

(89)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 205—Partnership—Decree-holder, partner of judgment-debtor—Attachment in execution of decree.—Where a decree-holder, a partner of the judgment-debtor—sought to attach in execution of his decree, the share of the judgment-debtor in the assets of the partnership business, the business then being in the hands of the Receiver of the Court under a decree for dissolution and winding-up. Held that such share of the judgment-debtor was not property within the meaning of s. 205, Act VIII of 1859, and, therefore, not liable to attachment in execution. ABBOTT v. ABBOTT AND CRUMP. 5 B.L.R. 382. (2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 277, 3 B.H.C 42, 4 B.L.R. F.B. 175, 4 B.L.R.O.C. 83, R.) [Not F., 13 M. 447; Appr., 8 B.H.C A.C., 150; R., 16 A. 286=A.W.N. 1894, 84.]

(90)—Law of procedure—Partnership-property—Mode of attachment—The law of procedure does not go to the extent of authorising the judgment-creditor to take property out of the possession of a person entitled to immediate possession not being the judgment-debtor. The attachment of a share of partnership-property should be by a prohibitory order, not by actual manual seizure. THAMA SINGH v. KALIDAS ROY, 5 B.L.R. 386.

(91)—Partnership—Money decree against individual partner—Partnership-property, if liable—Suit by other partners on attachment of partnership-property—Amendment of plaint in appeal.—A decree obtained personally against one of the several partners of a firm cannot be executed by attaching property belonging to the firm. All that the judgment-creditor of one partner could seize would be the right, title and interest of his judgment-debtor in the partnership, which could not be ascertained until an account is taken of all its dealings and transactions and until all its debts and liabilities are discharged. On such attachment of partnership property, the proper course to be taken by any of the partners other than the judgment-debtor is, not to seek to establish his exclusive title to the whole of that property, but to sue for a dissolution of partnership and an account, with a view to ascertain the amount due to the judgment-debtor in respect of his share. Where, however, such a plaintiff had sued in the former way, i.e., for the declaration of his title to the whole of the attached property, he was, on appeal, allowed by the High Court to amend his plaint as for dissolution of partnership and accounts. KARIMBHAI v. THE CONSERVATOR OF FORESTS, N.D., 4 B. 222. (4 B. 227, Note 1, F.; 4 B. 229, Note 2, R.). [R., U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II., 431; D., 13 M. 447.]

(92)—Holder of decree against one of several partners, not competent to attach debt due to firm—Remedy open to other partners on such attachment.—The lower appellate Court, having found that the subject of attachment in this case was the joint property belonging to the entire partnership, as such, ought not to have held as it did, that such property could be attached in execution of a money-decree obtained against one only of the members of the partnership. The creditor could get only what belongs to his debtor, and so all that could be seized in execution by him is the right, title and interest of his judgment-debtor, as a member of the partnership, which could not be ascertained until an account was taken of all the partnership dealings and transactions. The decree holder, if he desires execution to proceed against the share of his judgment-debtor in the partnership at large, must do so by taking out proper proceedings for such purpose. SITARAM v. ATMARAM BAJI, 4 B. 227 Note 1. [F., 4 B. 222.]

(93)—Partnership—Decree against one partner—Joint property of firm if liable.—The sale of partnership joint property in execution of a decree obtained against one of the partners of the firm does not transfer any part of the joint property to the purchaser so as to entitle him exclusively to take it or withhold it from the other partners. But it confers on him an equitable right to call for an account and settlement of the partnership concerns, and thus to entitle himself to that interest in the property which, upon the final adjustment and settlement of the partnership concerns, shall be ascertained to belong to his judgment-debtor, and nothing more. HARIBHAI v. ARDESIR UKADJI, 4 B. 229, Note 2. [R., 4 B. 222.]

(94)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266—Unascertained interest in a partnership—Court-sale—Validity.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

—The right to an account of a partnership business is a vested and heritable interest. Though a partner is not at liberty to introduce a new patner into the firm without the consent of the other partners, his interest in the partnership may be legally transferred. The effect of such transfer is that it is operative for all purposes but that of forcing him as a partner on the other partners without their consent, the relation of partners being one of mutual confidence and fiduciary in its character. A partner's unascertained interest in partnership business is saleable property, and a Court is entitled to sell it under s. 266, Code of Civil Procedure. It is not necessary that the quantum of a vested interest should be certain to make it saleable by Court. PARVATHEESAM v. BAPANNA, 13 M. 447. (14 C. 384, Diss.) [R., 20 C. 693, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 431.]

(95)—S. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, Act XIV of 1882—Sale of unascertained interest in partnership—Share of partner liable to be attached and sold by execution-creditor.—The interest of a partner in a partnership business is liable to be seized and sold in England, in execution of a personal decree against that partner in favour of third parties, and there is nothing in the Civ. Pro. Code to prevent a similar course of proceeding in India. The words in s. 266 of the Code, "saleable property.....belonging to judgment-debtor" are sufficiently wide to include the interest which he possesses in partnership business. It is true that a partner cannot himself sell his share so as to introduce a stranger without the consent of co-partners, but the share may be sold with their consent, or by the Court. Therefore, the share of a partner in a partnership business being saleable property under s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, it can be attached and sold in execution of a decree against that partner, provided the execution proceeded in a proper manner. JAGAT CHUNDER ROY v. ISWAR CHUNDER ROY, 20 C 693. (14 C. 384, 3 C. 193, P.C., 14 M.I.A. 40, 13 M. 447, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 431, 158 P.L.R. 1903.]

(96) — Decree dissolving partnership.—"A decree dissolving a partnership" can be attached. SIDLINGAYA v. SHANKARAPA, 5 Bom. L.R. 529=27 B. 556.

(97)—Execution of decree—Perishable articles not to be taken in attachment.—Articles of such a perishable nature that they cannot be kept for fifteen days and sold, according to the Civ. Pro. Code, ought not to be taken in execution. SADASHIV MORESHVAR v. HANSO bin SHRAVAN, 5 B.H.C. A.C. 156.

(98)—Country liquor.—"Country liquor" is subject to attachment. PURSHOTTAM v. BALVANT, 10 Bom. L.R. 13=32 B. 157.

(99)—Tenant having hereditary interest in property paying quit-rent and performing duty—Beneficial interest,—Where a tenant has an herepitary interest in property, paying a small quit-rent for it, and holding it subject only to the duty to the zemindar of furnishing a few men in aid of the regular police, the interest is a beneficial one, which can be attached and sold by the tenant's creditors. RAJA RAMESSUR NATH SINGH v. GOLAMEE SAHOO, 24 W. R. 309.

(100)—Ship-owner, interest of, in mortgaged ship—Sale under prior mortgage.—A ship-owner having mortgaged his ship has still an interest in her seizable in attachment under the Civ. Pro. Code. An attachment on a vessel in respect of the mortgagor's right and interest does not affect the validity of a sale under a prior mortgage. AUHIN v. AHMED MAHOMED, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 241.

(101)—Equitable right—Objection arising out of proceedings outside a suit—Cross-appeal—Reg. II of 1806—Priority—Attachment of property—Attachment of profits.—An equitable right should be urged before decree, and not afterwards in execution when rights of third parties have accrued. No objection arising out of proceedings outside a suit can be entertained by way of cross-appeal. Reg. II of 1806 does not give a judgment-creditor holding an attachment made prior to judgment any priority over another who comes in and attaches the same property. A party attaching property attaches the profits also; and profits passing into the pockets of the original owner when he is allowed to remain in possession are not specifically liable for the judgment-debt under the attachment. RAM COOMAR GHOSE v. GOBINDNATH SANDYAL, 12 W.R. 391.

(102)—Doors and windows of building—Liability for separate attachment in execution.—The doors and window-shutters of a pucca building cannot be attached in execution of a decree, forming part, as they do, of an immoveable property, and having no separate existence. PERU BEPARI v. BONUO MAIFARASH, 11 C. 164. [F., 13 M. 518=1 Weir 730.]

(103)—Judgment-debtor's property becoming subject of suit—Attachment of such.—The fact of a judgment-debtor's property being the subject of an existing suit, is no hindrance to its attachment in execution; but it is in the Court's discretion to order its sale at the fittest time. RAM CHUNDER v. NUND LALL BOSE, 19 W.R. 132.

(104)—Right of property in another's possession—Transferable claim — Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266—A right to get by division a piece of land reserved by a donor for his own use in his deed of gift (but possession of which was with the donee) was held to be a transferable claim and, therefore, capable of being attached and sold under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code. RUDRA PERKASH MISSER v. KRISHNA MOHUN GHATUCK, 14 C. 241. [R., 16 A. 315, F.B.]

(105)—Property in judgment-debtor's zenana—Liability to attachment.—Act VIII of 1859 does not exempt from attachment of property in a judgment debtor's zenana. DOORGA CHURN MITTER v. HOREE MOHUN GOOHO, 17 W.R. 86.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(106)—Execution of decree — Exemption of property from attachment — Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266—Before property of a judgment-debtor can be exempted from execution under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the Court issuing execution should first express its opinion that such property is necessary for the debtor to earn his livelihood. BAKHIR MOHAMMED v. DOORGA-CHURN SHAHA, 10 C. 39 = 13 C L.R. 200.

(107)—Receiver of High Court, property in hands of—Property in the hands of a Receiver of the High Court cannot be attached by a Court in the Mofussil, by means of a process issued without the leave or sanction of the High Court. A proceeding by way of attachment is an interference with the possession of a Receiver. HEM CHUNDER CHUNDER v. PRANKRISTO CHUNDER, 1 C. 403. [D., 26 C. 127.]

(108)—Right to receive money for ever—Attachment in execution—Civ Pro Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 237 = s. 272 of the Code of 1882.—An attachment under s. 237 of Act VIII of 1859 (Civ. Pro. Code), was not applicable to a right to receive money from Government for ever; such an attachment would be good only with respect to any specific amount, then payable or likely to become payable. [D., 10 C. 521; R., 12 M. 250.] Semble—In such cases, the attaching creditor ought to proceed under s. 235 or s. 236 of the old Code, so that the debtor might have noticed that he was not at liberty to alienate his rights. NILKUNTO DEY v. HURRO SOONDEREE DOSSEE, 3 C. 414 = 1 C L.R. 412. [R., 12 M. 250.]

(109)—Civ Pro. Code, s 268—Decree—Execution—Attachment—Deposit by servant of Railway Company—Rights of attaching creditor.—Where monies or other valuable securities are deposited as security for the due performance of their duty by servants in the employ of a Railway Company, the Court may, in execution of a decree obtained against the depositor, place an attachment on such deposits, subject to the lien of the Company, but cannot proceed to order the sale thereof until the deposit is at the disposal of the judgment-debtor free from the lien of the Company, and if the deposit carries interest, and the interest is not, under the terms of the contract, between the employer and employee, at the disposal of the employer, order may be made for payment to the judgment-creditor of the interest as it, from time to time, falls due. KARUTHAN v. SUBRAMANYA, 9 M. 203.

(110)—Attachment after issue of cheque to third person—Right of holder of cheque to recover money paid to decree holder — Attachment of monies due under a contract after sale thereof to another—Right of vendee to obtain refund from attaching creditor.—Under a general power-of-attorney, the plaintiff was entitled to receive money as it became due in respect of works done by a contractor. On the completion of the contract, the plaintiff was given a cheque for the amount found due. Some time after, a creditor of the contractor served the officer who issued the cheque with a notice attaching moneys due by him to the contractor. The officer stopped payment of the cheque and paid the amount to the attaching creditor. Held, that the cheque having become the property of the plaintiff before the date of attachment, he was entitled to the refund of the amount from the attaching creditor. [R., 28 B. 264.] Monies due under a contract were attached by the judgment-creditor of the contractor. The attachment took place after the sale of the contract to a third person. Held that the vendee was entitled to a refund of the amount realized by the attaching creditor. BHAGVANDAS KISHORDAS v. ABDUL HUSEIN MAHOMED ALI, 3 B. 49.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(111)—Materials vested in third person, not liable to attachment.—Where a person deposited upon the works of another certain materials for the purpose of their being used in carrying out a contract with such second person, and the latter had received such deposit by the advance of the value thereof: Ruled, that such materials had vested in the person with whom they were deposited, as a purchaser, and were not liable to attachment under a decree against the depositor. SMALL CAUSE COURT REFERENCE, 2 N.W.P. 337.

(112)—Civ. Pro Code, 1877, ss. 272, 277—Attachment of property—Court's discretion.—On an application by a decree-holder to attach money in deposit with the Collector, the Court has no discretion, under s. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, either to grant or refuse the application, but it is vested with discretion either to direct or not to direct that a portion of the money thus attached should be paid over to the decree-holder. NOOR JEHAN BEGUM v. MASHITHY KHANAM, 8 C.L.R. 17.

(113)—Civ. Pro. Code s. 266 — Standing crops — Immoveable property—Standing crops are, for the purposes of the Code of Civil Procedure, immoveable property. MADAYYA v. YENKATA, 11 M. 193. [F., 15 A. 394 = A.W.N. 1893, 145, 1 N L.R. 131; Appr., 14 A. 30 = A.W.N. 1891, 417; R., 22 C. 877, 11 C.P. L R. 89, 7 C.L J. 152.]

(114)—Small Cause Courts Act, IX of 1887, Sch II cl 6—Small Cause Courts, whether could attach and sell standing crops—General Clauses Act, I of 1868—On the points arising for determination as to whether standing crops are moveable or immoveable property for the Small Cause Courts Act and the Civ. Pro. Code, whether a Small Cause Court can pass a decree for enforcement of lien against such crops or make a valid attachment and sale of the same in execution of its decree, it was held, that standing crops are immoveabl property in the sense of the General Clauses Act, I of 1868, of Sch. II (6) of Act IX of 1887, and of the Civ. Pro. Code, and it is therefore not competent to a Small Cause Court to try suits for enforcement of lien against standing crops or to attach the same in execution of its decree, treating them as moveable property. CHEDA LAL v MULCHAND, 14 A 30=A.W.N. 1891, 174. (11 M. 193, R.) F, 15 A 394=A.W.N. 1893, 145, 11 C.P.L.R 89 ; R., 22 C. 877.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(115)—Vritti—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s 266, cl. (f)—Non-liability of vritti to attachment and sale in execution of decree—Vritti, nature of.—The upadhikpana vritti on the river Godavari at Nasik was held to be a "right of personal service" within the meaning of cl. (f) of s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, and hence was protected from attachment and sale in execution of a decree [F., 12 B. 366 ; R., A.W.N. 1889, 169, 23 B. 131.] The vritti is an hereditary priestly office by virtue of which certain religious ceremonies were performed on the river Godavari on behalf of pilgrims who paid fees to the holders of such offices for the performance of the ceremonies at or about the time of their performance. By law and usage, a certain relationship grows up between certain pilgrims or worshippers and a particular priest, and when such relationship exists, such pilgrims or worshippers are called yajmans, or clients of the priest, whose right to perform the religious ceremonies in question for such yajmans becomes exclusive against rival priests, so far that, under the Hindu Law as applied and followed in the Bombay Presidency, if any such yajmans accept the religious services of another priest, they must compensate the priest whose yajmans they are by paying to him a reasonable fee. GANESH RAMCHANDRA DATE v. SHANKAR RAM CHANDRA, 10 B. 395.

(116)—Jotishi vritti—Nature of right—Right if liable to attachment in execution of decree—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s 266 (f).—Jotishi vritti is a right to take certain emoluments as a reward for personal service. Such a right is not liable to be attached under s. 266 (f) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. Semble :—The most correct view of vrittis under the Hindu law would be to regard them as generally extra commercium. GOVIND LAKSHMAN JOSHAI v. RAMKRISHNA HARI JOSHAI, 12 B. 366. [F., 23 B. 131.]

(117)—Attachment of right of suit.—A right of suit cannot be attached under the Code of Civil Procedure. ARRATOON CARAPIET v. PANNALALL SEAL, 14 W R. 152.

(118)—Right of action not attachable—A right of action cannot be attached in execution of a decree. MR. E.J. DRURY v. HARADHUM BHUTTACHARJEE, 3 W.R. Mis. 18.

(119)—Mere right to sue—Sale—Attachment.—A mere right to sue is not a subject of attachment and sale in execution of a decree. SYUD MAHOMED HADEE v. SHEO SEVUK DOOBEY, 6 N.W.P. 95.

Attachment —continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(120)—Mesne profits, right to sue for—Inalienable in execution—Civ. Pro. Code, s 266.—The right to sue for mesne profits is a "right to sue for damages" within the meaning of s. 266 (e) of the Code, and is incapable of being sold in execution of a decree, so that an execution-purchaser of such a right cannot maintain a suit to enforce the right. SYAM CHAND KOONDOO v. THE LAND MORTGAGE BANK OF INDIA, LIMITED, 9 C. 695=12 C.L R. 440.

(121)—What is not attachable in execution of a decree—Directions by Court.—A judgment-debtor's right to appeal and his right to future maintenance are not attachable in execution of a decree by the decree-holder. It is not for the Courts to prescribe to the decree-holder what course he is to take for the realization of his claim, or what property he is to attach and sell in execution. BIPRO PROTAB SAHEE v. DEO NARAIN ROY. 3 W R. Mis. 16. [F., 7 W.R. 311, 6 W.R. Mis 64.]

(122)—Salary of telegraph officer due for past services—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s 236.—The salary of a telegraph officer which is due for past services is a debt which may be attached under s. 236, Act VIII of 1859. HUSSEN BHAMJEE v. MR. W. HICKS, 18 W.R. 124. [F., 24 W.R. 446.]

(123)—Salary of peon under Mamlatdar—Entire salary attachable.—The whole salary of a peon in the service of a Mamlatdar under Government is liable to attachment as it becomes due. TEJRAM JAGRUPOJI v. KUSAJI bin GINGJI et al, 7 B.H.C. A.C. 110. [Expl., 21 M. 393.]

(124)—Civ. Pro. Code. 1882, s. 266 cl. (h)—Percentage received by khot, if liable to attachment in execution.—A khot is not a "public officer," and the percentage received by him for collecting the assessment on dhara lands is not "salary" within the meaning of s. 266, cl. (h) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. So, such a percentage is attachable in execution RAVJI MORESHWAR v. SAYAJIRAV GANPATRAV, 13 B. 673.

(125)—Hereditary office — Official remuneration — Liability to civil process—Collector—Special protection.—The official emoluments of the officiating hereditary officer is not liable to civil process while in the hands of the Collector or other disbursing officer, but when it goes into the hands of the hereditary officer himself, no special protection is given to it. GANPATLAL v SAMPATRAM, 10 B.H.C. 400. [R., 12 O.C. 323.]

(126)—Salary due—Debt—Ss. 236, 237, Act VIII of 1859—Creditor's remedy.—A judgment-debtor's salary which has become due is a debt within the meaning of Act VIII of 1859, s. 236, which indicates the remedy open to the judgment-creditor. S. 237 has no bearing on such a case. KALU SHAIKH KHANSAMA v. W. H. BEATSON, 24 W.R. 446.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(127)—Civ. Pro. Code, (XIV of 1882) s. 266—Wages of private servant not attachable in advance under.—The salary or wages of a private servant does not become liable to attachment until it becomes due and a debt exists. There is nothing in s. 266, Civ. Pro Code, to indicate that, under that section, salaries even of public officers or Railway servants can be attached before they become due. Salaries or wages cannot be attached in advance of their becoming due except under the special provision in s. 268, which, however, applies only to the case of the salary of a public officer or a Railway servant and not to the case of the wages of a private servant. AYYAVAYYAR v. VIRASAMI MUDALI, 21 M. 393. [R., 31 A. 304 =6 A.L.J. 227.]

(128)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266 (h)—Attachment of salary.—Under s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, cl. (h), a moiety of the salary of a public officer, drawing half-pay on sick-leave, is liable to attachment. BEARD v. EGERTON, 6 M. 179.

(129)—Army Act, 1881. s. 151 (3)—Civ. Pro. Code. s 266. Expl. (b)—Debtor subject to Military law—Attachment of moiety of salary under Rs. 20 per mensem.—As cl. (b) of the proviso to s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, provides that nothing in that section affects the Army Act, 1881, the attachment by a Civil Court of half the salary (which does not exceed Rs. 20 a month) of a judgment-debtor subject to Military law, is legal. VIRARAGAVA v. RAMUDU, 9 M. 170.

(130)—S. 266, Civ Pro. Code, 1882—Pay of Officer of "Indian Staff Corps"—Public officer—Whether his pay liable to attachment—Repealed s. 151, Army Act, 1881—Officer of regular forces—Pay—Attachment.—An officer of the Indian Staff Corps is a Public Officer within the meaning of cl. (h), s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, read with the interpretation clause. The pay of an officer of the Indian Staff Corps is liable to attachment. A moiety of the pay of such an Officer, received from the Indian Government, is liable to attachment under Civ. Pro. Code, subject to any unsatisfied decree under the repealed s. 151 of the Army Act, 1881: [F., 25 M. 402.] The pay of an Officer of the regular forces is not liable to attachment. CALCUTTA TRADES ASSOCIATION v. RYLAND, 24 C. 102=1 C.W.N. 138. [Not Appr., 59 P.R. 1897.]

(131)—Decree against military officer—Execution in terms of the decree—St. 40. Vic. (Mutiny Act). Cl. 7, s 99—A decree against a military officer, passed in view of the terms of the Mutiny Act, 1877, cannot be executed otherwise than in accordance with its terms. Where, therefore, a decree directed that the judgment-creditor should be paid by the stoppage of half the military officer's pay for the current or future months, execution could not be taken by attachment of his property. MERCER v. NARPOT RAI, 1 A. 730.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(132)—Attachment of military officer's pay in hands of Pay Master—Provision for stoppage.—The pay of a military officer cannot be attached in the hands of the Pay Master in the execution of a decree, where the decree makes no provision for its stoppage. BANSI LAL v. COLONEL MERCER, 7 N.W.P. 331.

(133)—Attachment of moiety of pay of officer of the Indian Staff Corps—Army Act (1881), ss. 136. 151—Army (Annual) Act, 1895, s. 4—Civ. Pro. Code ss. 2, 266.—By s. 136 of the Army Act as amended by s. 4 of the Army (Annual) Act of 1895, Civil Courts have got power, under s, 266, proviso (i), Civ. Pro. Code, to attach one moiety of the salary of an officer in the Indian Staff Corps. WATSON v. LLOYD, 25 M. 402. (24 C. 102, F.)

(134)—Execution of decree—Soldier's pay, liability for attachment of—Warrant officers—Assistant Surgeons in the Indian Subordinate Medical Department—Army Act, s 144.—The respondents, judgment-debtors, were Assistant Surgeons in the Indian Subordinate Medical Department. The question was whether the whole or any portion of their pay was liable to attachment in execution of the decree. Held, that the respondents being warrant-officers were "soldiers" as defined by the Army Act, and therefore their pay was exempt altogether from attachment under the proviso to s. 144 of the Act. MURRAY & CO., LD. v PRINS. E. G.A. 14 O.C. 82. (25 M. 402, 24 C. 102. R.)

(135)—Native grass-cutter—Attachment of pay, legality of.—Neither the Army Discipline and Regulation Act of 1879 nor the Indian Articles of War, 1869, prohibits the attachment of the pay of a native grass-cutter, attached to the Artillery of H. M's British Army while cantoned in British India and not on active service. THALLI v. GANGA, 41 P.R. 1882.

(136)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 2 and 266—Army Act, 1881, st. 44 and 45, Vic. Ch. LVIII, ss 136 and 151 (3)—Army (Annual) Act. 1895, st. 58. Vic. Ch. VII, s. 4—Attachment of pay of Military Officer.—A Captain in the Indian Staff Corps is a public officer within the meaning of s. 2, Civ. Pro. Code, and a moiety of his salary is attachable under s. 266 (i). S. 136 of the Army Act, 1881, as amended by Army Act 1895, is not in conflict with the provisions of s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code. CAPTAIN T E. MADDAM v. THE CALCUTTA TRADES ASSOCIATION, 143 P.L R. 1902.

(137)—Execution against civil pay of non-commissioned officer—Legality.—Execution of a decree against the civil pay of a non-commissioned officer employed in the Civil Department, and residing beyond Military Cantonments, is in conformity with law. COHEN v. MCCARTHY 14 W.R. 231.

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(138)—Salaries of Railway employees—Attachment—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Courts—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 236, 239, 240—Attachment of debts—Procedure —Salaries or other debts actually due from a Railway Company to any of its servants can be attached in satisfaction of Civil Court decrees under s. 236, Act VIII of 1859. A Small Cause Court need not make the High Court or any other Court the medium of attachment. It is a mistake for a Small Cause Court to direct the Chief Paymaster of a Railway Company to attach the pay due to the judgment-debtor (a servant of the Company). The order of attachment of pay due to the judgment-debtor, the servant of a Railway Company, must be made by the Small Cause Court and a copy served upon the debtor. Debts are to be attached by written order made by the attaching Court, prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debts, and the deotor from making payment to any other person, until the further order of the Court. Such written order is to be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house and a copy is to be addressed, directed and sent registered by post to the Agent of the Railway Company at the Head Office of the Company, notwithstanding the Head Office is out of jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court. In the matter of J. HOLLICK, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 108=10 W.R. 447. [Diss., 6 A. 243, F.B.; Expl., 30 C. 713=7 C.W.N. 821.]

(139)—Salary of Railway officer.—The salary of a railway servant who resides within jurisdiction, but in the hands of a disbursing officer who holds his office beyond jurisdiction is not attachable. SAYADKHAN v. DAVIES, 5 Bom. L.R. 803=28 B. 198.

(140)—Salary of officer of Small Cause Court, Calcutta—Execution of decree of High Court.—The pay of an officer of the Small Cause Court will be set aside by an order of the High Court, in satisfaction of the judgment obtained in that Court. KOOMKURRUN v. MICHAEL, Bourke O.C. 259.

(141)—Official salary, attachment of.—Before the salary of an office is in deposit in the office, no prohibitory order can be issued for its attachment, HURDEO DASS v. CLIFTON, 113 P.R. 1868.

(142)—Execution of decree—Attachment of salary—Small Cause Court—Civ. Pro Code, ss. 223, 268.—A Small Cause Court must follow the procedure prescribed in s. 223, Civ. Pro. Code, in all cases where execution is sought against persons or property outside its local jurisdiction. It cannot, therefore, attach, under s. 269, the salary of a person which is disbursed outside its local jurisdiction. PARBATI CHARAN v. PANCHANAND, 6 A. 243, F.B. (3 C.L.R. 30, F.) [F., 30 C. 713; R., 11 C.P.L.R. 148, 28 B. 198.]

(143)—Execution of decree—Attachment—Money contributed to a Provident Fund—Burden of pooof.—Certain creditors of a deceased employee of a Railway Company sued and obtained a decree against his widow and children for a debt owing by the deceased. In execution of that decree, they sought to attach certain moneys which, under certain rules framed by the Company, had been contributed to the Provident Fund of the Railway Company by the deceased debtor. Held, that the attaching creditors were bound to show that the property sought to be attached was property which was attachable under the decree which they had obtained, and that, in order to do so, it was necessary for them to produce the rules under which the deceased had made the contributions to the Fund which it was sought to attach. BINDRABAN v. THE INDIAN MIDLAND RAILWAY COMPANY, A W.N. 1897, 88.

Attachment—continued.

——8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(144)—Compulsory deposits—Provident Funds Act (IX of 1897).—'Compulsory deposit' under the Provident Funds Act, 1897, by a railway servant, after he has retired from service, is liable to attachment. MILLER v. B.B. & C.I. RY., 5 Bom. L.R. 454.

(145)—Compulsory deposits. — Compulsory deposits under the Provident Funds Act, 1897, is not liable to attachment. VEERCHAND v. B.B. & C.I. RAILWAY, 6 Bom. L.R. 921=29 B. 259.

(146)—Property in trust with managers—No execution against such property.—Property placed in trust with parties as managers, but not beneficial owners, cannot be taken in execution of a decree against them. MOHUPUT SINGH v. SHAIKH ETBAREE CHOWDHRY, 19 W.R. 226.

(147)—S. 622, Civ. Pro Code, 1882—When can attachment of trust property be made.—In execution of a personal decree against the judgment-debtor, there can be no attachment of trust property. If, under such circumstances, trust property was attached, the attachment would be an irregularity of procedure which would justify the interference of the High Court under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code. The mere fact that a trustee in carrying on the business of a trust had rendered himself personally responsible for the business debts would not of itself give creditors a right to proceed against the trust-property. Before the judgment-creditors could obtain a decree which they could execute, against the trust-property, they would have to show (1) that the debt was incurred in the regular course of the trust business, (2) that the trustee had a right to be indemnified from the trust property to the extent of the claim, and (3) that the creditors were entitled to stand in the shoes of the trustee in respect of the indemnity and to be recouped out of the trust estate. [In re Johnson Shearman v. Robinson, (1880), L.R. 15 Ch. D. 548; Strick Land v. Symons, (1884) L.R. 26 Ch. D. 245, R.; Raybould v. Turner, (1900) 1 Ch. 199, D.] In the matter of SHARD, 28 C. 574. [R., 31 C. 1084, 9 C.W.N. 9, 35 C. 320=12 C.W.N. 256 =3 M.L.T. 156.]

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—continued.

(148)—Property held by judgment-debtor in trust for specific purpose—Attachment of surplus after fulfilment of trust.—Where a decree is made against the trustee personally, the corpus of the trust estate cannot be sold to satisfy the judgment-creditor's claim, nor can any specific portion of the corpus of the estate be taken out of the trustee's hands, because there was or might be a margin of profits coming to him personally after performing the trust. BISHEN CHAND BASAWAT v. NADIR HOSSEIN, 15 C. 329=15 I A. 1, P.C. [R., 6 C.W.N. 663.]

(149)—Shebait—Hindu idol—Right of worship—Sale.—Rights of worship of a Hindu idol cannot be sold in execution of a decree for the personal debt of a shebait. KALI CHARAN GIR GOSSAIN v. BANGSHI MOHAN DAS BABOO, 6 B.L.R. 727=15 W.R. 339. (7 W.R. 266, R.) [R., 5 B. 393, 10 B. 395, 1, C W.N. 493, 23 B. 131, 20 W.R. 280=12 B.L.R. 65; D., 21 W.R. 365, 6 B. 298.]

(150)—Attachment under s. 236, Act VIII of 1859—Money payable to sirdars as wages of coolies.—Money payable to sirdars as the wages of coolies over whom they are sirdars does not constitute a debt to the sirdars but debts to the coolies themselves, even where a sirdar is entitled by custom or contract to have the wages of coolies paid to him, in order that he may deduct the amounts due to him by the coolies for food supplied. Money payable as above is, therefore, not attachable under s. 236, Act VIII of 1859, in execution of a decree against the sirdar. SAJIMAN v. GOPAL, 1 B L.R S.N. 15=10 W.R. 149.

(151)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s 266, cl. (i)—Labourer-wages—Attachment in execution.—Plaintiff obtained a money-decree against the defendants, who were spinners who had entered into an agreement with a certain company to receive payment on the number of pounds of cotton spun by them calculated at a certain rate for every 100 pounds. He attached in execution of the decree, the moneys due to the defendants under the said agreement. The defendants contended that the said moneys were their 'wages' and as such were exempt from attachment under cl. (j), s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code, 1877. Held that the defendants were 'labourers' within the meaning of the section, as they earned their daily bread by personal, manual labour and in an occupation which required little or no art, skill, or previous education; that their remuneration was none the less 'wages,' because the amount was made to depend upon the number of pounds of cotton spun; and that therefore, the moneys were exempt from attachment. JECHAND KHUSAL v. ABA AND BAIKA, 5 B. 132.

(152)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s.266, Mangalyasutra of Hindu married woman, not attachable under—Having regard to the universal practice amongst Hindus for a married woman to wear the neck ornament, called Mangalyasutra, during the life-time of her husband, without ever removing it, such ornament must be regarded as part of her necessary wearing apparel under s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, so as to be exempted, under the section, from attachment in execution. APPANA v. TANGAMMA, 9 B. 106.

(153)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 205 and 273—Wearing apparel—Attachment.—Necessary wearing apparel is not liable to attachment under s. 205 of the Code of Civil Procedure. GANGARAM VEIJI v. PARBHU DAYARAM, 9 B.H.C. 272.

(154)—Execution against husband—Ornaments forming wife's stridhan not to be taken under execution—Personal right of husband to take same.—Ornaments on the person of a Hindu wife, if forming part of her stridhan, cannot be taken under an execution against her husband. On certain occasions, however, the husband may take them, but the right is personal to him. TUKARAM bin RAMKRISHNA v. GUNAJI bin MHALOJI, 8 B H.C. A.C. 129.

(155)—Property beyond jurisdiction.—"Property situated outside the jurisdiction of the Court" is not liable to attachment. RAJA v. JANKIBAI, 5 Bom. L.R. 570.

—Provident Fund established by Calcutta Corporation to which Provident Funds Acts applies is not liable to—See ACT IX OF 1897, 12 C. W.N. 633=35 C. 641.

—Superstructure of house in Bhagdari village, not subject to attachment—See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, 21 B. 588, F.B.

—Attachment of moveable property—Doors of a house—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, s. 103, 13 M. 518.

—Crops growing on inam service lands not to be attached in execution—See MAD. ACT III OF 1895, s. 5, 23 M. 492.

—Allowance of ward granted by Court of Wards, attachment of, in execution of decree against him—Code of Civil Procedure, s. 266—See U.P. ACT III OF 1899, s. 22, 7 O.C. 174.

See APPELLATE COURT—MISCELLANEOUS. 15 A. 380=A.W.N. 1893, 150.

See ASSIGNMENT IN TRUST FOR CREDITORS, 1 B.H.C. 233.

—by inferior Court of property already attached by Superior Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1909, ss. 73, 63, O. XXI, rr. 58, 62, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 161.

See GHATWALI TENURE, 9 C. 388.

See HEREDITARY OFFICE, 10 B.H.C. 299.

—Hindu Law—Mitakshara—Grandson's interest in ancestral property—Right to enforce partition—Saleability of interest—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 5 A. 430, F.B.

—Lease prohibiting alienation by sale or gift—Lessee "having saleable interest" under s. 266, Civ. Pro. Code—See LEASE—CONSTRUCTION OF LEASE, 20 C. 273.

Attachment—continued.

—8.—Subjects of attachment—concluded.

See MORTGAGE — SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY, 18 C. 164, P.C. = 17 I.A. 201.

See TITLE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 234.

—9.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Effect on transfer of ownership.—An attachment effects no transfer of ownership, it is rather a prohibition of transfer, since it is a process preparatory to sale by which intermediate transfers or charges are prevented and the title to the property kept in statu quo. SHIVLAL v. MULAJI, 1 Bom. L.R. 154.

(2)—Effect on attaching creditor.—The attachment of any property does not per se create any interest in the attaching creditor but merely gives him the right to take further proceedings which might enable him to recover the amount of his judgment-claim. JITMAL v. RAMCHAND, 7 Bom. L.R. 488 = 29 B. 405.

(3)—Objections to — Inquiry into.—Where objection is taken by mortgagee to attachment by decree-holder, the Court should inquire into the nature of those objections. CHHAGANLAL v. MOTI, 2 Bom. L.R. 476.

(4)—Objection to attachment — Procedure.—The proper procedure in case of objection to an attachment was held in this case to be first to make a summary enquiry, and, on a prima facie objection being established to refer the objector to a regular suit. JUGOOL KISHORE v. DWARKA DAS, 44 P.R. 1866.

(5)—Execution of decree — Attachment — Objections to attachment dismissed for default — Power of Court to restore such application to the file — Remedy of objector — Procedure — Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 103, 278, 623, 647 — Revision in civil cases — Chief Court's powers of revision — Practice — Punjab Courts Act, 1884, s. 70.—An objector, whose objections under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to an attachment of certain property in execution of a decree have, owing to his absence on the date fixed for hearing, been dismissed in default, cannot avail himself of the remedy provided by s. 103 of the Civ. Pro. Code, because the procedure prescribed for original suits by the Code does not apply to execution proceedings under Ch. XIX. On the failure of a person making an application within Ch. XIX to prosecute it, it is incumbent on to dispose of it by dismissing it in default; in such a case, the objector can only make a fresh application to obtain his relief, if he is not otherwise barred, but, when such an application has been disposed of on the merits, the Court cannot entertain another of a similar nature or alter or set aside its order except on review under s. 623, the provisions of which apply to such proceedings. (17 A. 106, P.C. 15 A. 84, F.B., F.). Held, also, that it is the general policy of the law and the usual practice of the Superior Courts that the latter should interfere on the revision side in the interests of justice, only in those cases where there is no other remedy or the remedy is cumbrous or expensive and to refer the applicant to it would be tantamount to denying him his relief. COATES v. KASHI RAM, 76 P.R. 1903. (12 C.L.R. 148, 6 A. 233, R.) [R., 128 P.R. 1906, 70 P.R. 1904, 29 P.R. 1908 = 71 P.W.R. 1907 = 61 P. L.R. 1907; D., 97 P.R. 1907, 144 P.R. 1908, 28 P.R. 1910.]

Attachment—continued.

—9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(6)—Execution of decree — Attachment — Mortgage of attached property — Civ Pro. Code, 1882, s. 276 — Objection to validity of attachment — Burden of proof.—An objection was made to the sale of certain property in execution of a decree to the effect that the property sought to be sold has been mortgaged to the objector and he had also purchased from the mortgagor his remaining interest in the property. The decree-holder replied that the objector's mortgage has been made while the property was under attachment, and was, therefore, void as against him by reason of s. 276 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The Court executing the decree raised for the objector the question whether the attachment relied upon by the decree-holder had been properly effected. Held that it was for the objector to establish that what was prima facie a legal attachment was in fact not so. An order under s. 274 of the Code having been drawn up, it was to be presumed, until the contrary was shown, that the requirements of the law had been complied with in effecting the attachment. PIRTHI NATH v. SRI KISHAN LAL, A.W.N. 1899, 127.

(7)—Attachment in execution, necessity of the existence of the decree at the time of.—At the time when an attachment was made in execution of an ex parte decree, and even when the order for attachment was made, the said decree was not in existence, the same having been set aside prior to the attachment. Held, neither the attachment nor the order for it could have any force or validity; nor could the fact, that the decree had been transferred for execution to another Court, give the said attachment any additional validity. The attachment was null and void, not having been based on any decree in existence at the time of such attachment. Also, the fact that a renewed decree was subsequently passed in terms of the decree which was set aside, could not render the attachment valid, the renewal not having the effect of restoring original decree. CHETTIATILL MUHAMED v. KUNHI KORU, 29 M. 175.

(8)—Attachment in execution — Subsequent attachment of same property by same decree-holder as precautionary step — Subsisting character of prior attachment.—Where a decree-holder who had attached the judgment-debtor's property, again applied for attachment of the same property as a precautionary step, expressly stating in the petition that the former attachment was in law subsisting, but that, if the Court thought it necessary, a re-attachment might issue, the subsequent attachment so effected did not put an end to the prior attachment. MAHOMADSHA KHAN SAHIB v. SRINIVASULU, 13 M L J 221.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(9)—Execution of decree—Attachment of property—Subsequent transfer of property to jurisdiction of another Court—Certificate of non-satisfaction by attaching Court—Effect on subsisting attachment.—An attachment validly made creates a real charge in favour of the attaching creditor. Such an attachment cannot cease merely because the land attached is transferred from the jurisdiction of the Court which attached it to that of another Court or because the Court to which the decree was sent for execution certifies that it is unable to complete the execution of the decree. VENKATAPPIAH v. JAGANNADHA RAO, 12 M.L.J. 24.

(10)—Attachment in execution — Release of attachment on claim petition—Appeal against order—Compromise between decree-holder and claimant—Mortgage by claimant subsequent to release—Right of mortgagee.—In execution of a decree, certain property was attached. The widow of the judgment-debtor put in a claim to the property, alleging that it belonged to her in her own right, having been purchased by her from her husband in part satisfaction of her dower. The claim was allowed and the property ordered to be released from attachment. The decree-holder thereupon appealed to the High Court against this judgment and that Court framed an issue and remanded the case for trial. It did not set aside the order of the lower Court. Whether that was to be done depended upon the finding upon the issue framed. The issue was never tried; the decree-holder and the claimant came to a compromise, whereby the decree-holder was to take only a certain amount out of the total amount due to him under the decree and the agreement was to be taken as a part of the original decree, capable of being executed. Thereupon, the Court struck the case off the list of pending suits. Subsequently, the decree-holder applied for sale of the property. The sale proclamation recited that the said claimant had mortgaged the property and the mortgagee had obtained a decree upon the mortgage. In the sale that followed, the decree-holder purchased the property and now sued for possession from the above said mortgagee-decree-holder, who had purchased and taken delivery in execution of his mortgage decree. It was framed by the Court and the High Court that the sale to the widow was benami and not in good faith for consideration. It was also found that she had been registered in the Collectorate as the owner of the property and all the usual acts of ownership had been exercised in her name. She was for all purposes the apparent owner. Held that the order striking the case off the list of pending suits could not have the effect of reversing the order releasing the property from attachment. As the case was before the High Court, the District Judge had no power to reverse his order. Even if the order was intended to give effect to the compromise, the compromise did not operate to revive or restore the attachment and make it effective upon the mortgage by the widow. The liability of the widow under the compromise was different from her liability as the representative of her deceased husband. Held also that the plaintiff who had purchased only the right to redeem the property could not sue to recover possession of it freed from the mortgage. MIR MAHOMED HOSEIN v. KISHORI MOHAN ROY, 5 M.L.J. 101, P.C.

(11)—Undivided share in joint Hindu family—Order of attachment of such share, effect of, on survivorship—Attaching creditor and arrangements made behind his back.—An undivided share in a joint Hindu family can be attached in execution, and, even before sale, an attachment and order for sale suffice to create such a charge as will defeat the right of survivorship. An attaching creditor, who has taken actual possession of a share, cannot be deprived of any part of it by an arrangement made by his debtor behind his back and subsequent to the acquisition of his rights. Per Ranade, J.—An attachment placed by a judgment-creditor, before a suit for partition is instituted, has the effect of a sort of judicial hypothecation which cannot be disturbed by the results of any partition suit to which such judgment-creditor is not a party. PARIKH GIRDARLAL v. THAKOOR FATEHSING, 2 Bom. L.R. 32.

(12)—Wrongful attachment—Property stolen during attachment—Liability of the decree-holder—Cause of action—Damages—Certain crops were wrongfully attached at the instance of a decree-holder. During the subsistence of the attachment, the crops were stolen: Held, that the decree-holder, who had obtained the wrongful attachment, was responsible for the value of the crops: Held, further, that a complete cause of action for the recovery of the attached property accrued in favour of the plaintiff at the date of the wrongful attachment, and it was not impaired by any subsequent occurrence for which the plaintiff was not responsible. BISHAMBAR DAS v. GODDAR, 6 Ind. Cas. 789. (3 B. 74, F.; 17 C. 436, 17 I.A. 17, R.)

(13)—Attachment—Liability of creditor—Sale—Damages—English and Indian Law not similar, regarding procedure on attachment.—In England, a judgment-creditor is not responsible for the consequences of a sale, under a judicial order, of goods illegally taken in execution in satisfaction of his debt. (Walker v. Olding). There, the execution of decree for money is entrusted to the Sheriff, an officer who is bound to use his own discretion, and is directly responsible to those interested for the illegal seizure of goods which do not belong to the judgment-debtor. In India, under s. 483, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, warrants for attachment in security are issued on the ex parte application of the creditor who is bound to specify the property which he desires to attach and its estimated value. So, the attachment, whether legal or illegal, is the direct attachment of the creditor, for which he becomes immediately responsible in law. If the goods attached do not belong to the debtor, the litigation and delay, and consequent depreciation of the goods are the natural and necessary consequences of the unlawful act of the creditor. KISSORI MOHUN ROY v. HARSUKH DAS, 17 C. 436, P.C. =17 I A. 17=5 Sar. 472. [R., 7 C.P.L.R. 77.]

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(14)—Act VI (B C.), 1862, s. 16—Attachment.—Where plaintiff obtains a bond for a sum of money from K who pledges as security certain fees in deposit in the Collectorate, and defendant No. 2, in execution of a decree against K, attaches those fees, the attachment is not final, but merely to prevent the money being taken out of Court. LALA TILAKDHARI LAL v JAMES FURLONG, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 230=11 W.R 149. [F., 13 C. 262.]

(15)—S. 88, Act VIII of 1859—Attachment made prior to Act VIII of 1859.—Held that the provisions of s. 88 of Act VIII of 1859 were not applicable to an attachment made prior to that Act coming into operation. KISHEN CHUNDER SINGH ROY v. M.R.G.M. GASPER, W R. 1864, 224.

(16)—Notice of attachment or its withdrawal.—Attachment or withdrawal of attachment in execution was ordered to be notified to District Collector. 25 W.R H.C Rules, Cir. No 3, dated 8th February, 1876, p. 4.

(17)—Execution-proceedings—Property attached by one creditor—Another creditor's claim under s. 295, Civ. Pro Code, 1882—Latter creditor obtaining order for rateable share of assets in sale proceeds of property attached by former—Withdrawal of attachment, private alienation after—Right of assignee—Transfer for good and valuable consideration in favour of one creditor—Obvious effect of such transfer to delay claim of less active creditor—S. 274, Civ. Pro. Code.—On the application by a judgment-creditor for execution of his decree and for attachment of the judgment-debtor's property, (the property which was immoveable) was duly attached under s. 274, Civ. Pro. Code; subsequent to this, another decree-holder holding a decree against the same judgment-debtor, filed an application for execution and in this application he set out the facts that the former judgment-creditor had already applied for execution of his decree and had succeeded in having the property attached. He, therefore, prayed that the said property might be held to be attached also in respect of his application of execution, and that he might be permitted to share rateably in the proceeds of the sale of the property (s. 295 of the Code). Held that, when the decree, in execution of which the property was attached was satisfied and there had been a withdrawal of the attachment, the latter decree-holder, obtaining an order in accordance with his prayer for a rateable share in the assets in the proceeds of sale of property attached by the former creditor had no right to claim the benefit of the attachment. Where after the removal of such attachment, such property was assigned to a certain person, held, that the assignee had a good title as against the latter decree-holder. An alienation obtained by one creditor for a genuine consideration which is not inadequate, is not necessarily void, because its obvious effect will be to defeat or delay the claim of a less vigilant creditor. LAHORI MAL v. GANGARAM, 81 P.R. 1908=148 P.W.R. 1908. (7 A. 702, 15 C. 771, 25 A. 431, 23 M. 380, 6 P.R. 1901, 21 P.R. 1875, 25 B. 202, R.)

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(18)—Attachment and sale of mortgage bond—Lien of purchaser on mortgaged property after attachment under s 268 of the Civ Pro. Code.—A debt secured by a mortgage, by a lien upon immoveable property, more especially when the mortgagee is not in possession, cannot be regarded as immoveable property within the meaning of s. 274, so that such a debt, sold in execution after an attachment made under s. 268, would carry with it the lien. DEBENDRA KUMAR MANDAL v. RUP LAL DASS, 12 C. 546. [F., 20 C. 805, 19 B. 121, 18 M. 437; Cons., 14 C.P.L R. 5, 26 B. 305; R., 18 P.R. 1909, 29 C. 1, F.B.]

(19)—S. 274, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Attachment—Sale in execution of decree—Purchaser of a mortgage bond rights of.—Non-attachment under s. 274, Civ. Pro. Code, by a purchaser of a mortgage bond (whereby certain immoveable property is given as collateral security for an advance) at a sale in execution of a decree, will not affect his right to have the collateral security enforced by the sale of the properties hypothecated. KASINATH DAS v. SADASIV PATNAIK, 20 C. 805. (12 C. 546, F.) [F., 18 M. 437; R., 18 P.R. 1909.]

(20)—Attachment—Release—High Court without setting aside release order framing issue and remanding the case—Compromise—Issue not tried—Mortgage bona fide of property released from attachment—Recognition—Title of mortgagees.—Where an attachment of a lower Court is released by a superior Court, and the High Court on appeal, without setting aside the release order, frames an issue and remands the case for a finding on it, which in consequence of a compromise is never tried and the case is simply ordered to be struck off the file, the compromise may not operate to revive or restore the attachment, so as to make it effective on any alienation prohibited by it. Where, under such circumstances, a mortgage of the property released from attachment is subsequently taken bona fide for value and without any notice of the doubtfulness of the mortgagor's title, and where the conduct of those who question the mortgage both before and after it, shows the mortgage to have been recognized by them, the mortgagees have a good title as bona fide mortgagees and auction-purchasers in execution of their decree. MAHOMED MOZUFFUR HOSSEIN v. KISHORE MOHUN ROY, 22 C. 909, P.C. = 22 I.A. 129.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(21)—Attachment—Power of attaching Court to set aside attachment—Legality of order declaring right to property attached—Interference by High Court under s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861.—During the pendency of a suit, certain lands were attached. Though the suit was dismissed, the defendant omitted to get the attachment set aside. On his death, his widow sold the lands to another. The lands remained in the undisturbed possession of the purchaser for thirty years. The legal heir of the said defendant thereupon applied to the Court to set aside the attachment and get him back the lands. The Court not only set aside the attachment but also directed the petitioner to be put in possession of the lands on the ground that the widow had no right to sell them. Held that as no appeal lay against the order, the High Court could interfere under s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861. Held also that the Court which made the attachment was competent to remove it. Held, further, that the Court had no right to direct the transfer of possession of the lands to the petitioner. The Court could not have gone on to decide as to the widow's right to sell, but must have confined itself to setting aside the attachment. Ex parte CHELLAPPERUMAL PILLAI, 1 M.H.C. 135.

(22)—Attachment for arrears of rent—Liability of person collecting profits.—When an estate is attached for arrears of rent, the party who collects the profits is liable for what remains after payment of rents. NOBOKISSORE ROY v. NILMOONEE SIRCAR, 2 W.R. 245.

(23)—Attachment for arrears of rent—Payment to prevent sale.—Where the purchaser of a jote jumma, to save the tenure from sale under a decree against defendant obtained by the patnidar for arrears of rent due before the purchase, pays the amount of the decree, held that the payment was a voluntary one made without legal necessity, and was not recoverable by sale against the defendant. RAM BAKSH CHATLANGI v. HRIDOY MANI DEBI, 8 B.L.R. 10, Note = 10 W.R. 446. [R., 15 W.R. 341]

(24)—Notice of attachment for arrears of revenue.—All orders for attachment of estates for arrears of revenue should be notified to the Collector in whose district the estate lies. Civ. Cir. No. 2 dated 10th January 1871, 15 W.R. Civ. Cir. 1.

(25)—Attachment of holding before judgment—Surrender of holding during attachment—Surrender invalid if holding transferable—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 64.—In a suit for money, a holding of the defendant was attached before judgment. During the continuance of the attachment, the defendant surrendered the holding, and the landlord settled it with another person. The plaintiff obtained a decree and in execution purchased the holding. Held, that, if the holding was transferable, a surrender of it after attachment could not, in view of the provisions of s. 64 of the Code of 1908, affect the position of the decree-holder-purchaser or create in the landlord and his new tenant any preferential right. INDRA NARAIN v. NUT BEHARY JANA, 8 Ind. Cas. 76.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(26)—Attachment—Claim—Disallowance—Suit for declaration—Cause of action.—In execution of a decree, a certain house was attached as the property of the judgment-debtor. The respondent preferred a claim and it was disallowed. Thereupon he paid the amount of the decree into Court on behalf of the judgment-debtor and the house was released from attachment. The respondent then instituted the present suit for a declaration that the house belonged to him, and to have the order disallowing his objection to its attachment set aside. The defendant (the decree-holder) contended that the suit was not maintainable, as the house having been released from attachment, there was no cause of action. Held that the suit was not maintainable against the decree-holder whose proceedings in the execution department, which had never had any operation in respect of the house in question, did not furnish the respondent with a cause of action. KALLIAN v. MAKBUL HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1883, 14.

(27)—Execution of decree—Attachment of decree held by judgment-debtor against third party—Death of holder of decree attached after attachment—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 273.—In execution of his decree, a decree-holder attached a decree held by his judgment-debtor against a third party, which decree he caused to be transferred from the Court which passed it, the High Court of Calcutta, to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Benares, which was executing his own decree. Subsequent to such transfer, the judgment-debtor, holder of the attached decree, died. Held that, in executing his judgment-debtor's decree, the decree-holder was under no obligation to bring upon the record the representatives of such judgment-debtor. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. JAWAHIR LAL, A.W.N. 1900, 99. (12 A. 440, R.)

(28)—Attachment of immoveable property in execution of decree—Sale—Nothing realised in the sale—Question whether attachment is in force or not—Question of law or fact—Ajmere Court's Regulation I of 1887, ss. 21, 17.—Where, under s. 21 of the Ajmere Court's Regulation I of 1877, a reference was made to the High Court in the following terms, viz.—"Whether an attachment ceases when nothing can be realised by a sale, or remains in force till the property is formally released by the Court which caused the attachment to take effect,"—the High Court in reply to the reference, observed that the question referred was one not properly coming within the scope of s. 17 of the Regulation, not being a question of law or usage having the force of law, but a question of fact to be decided by a consideration of the circumstances of the case. SHAM LAL v. HAMID, A.W.N. 1885, 57.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(29)—Execution of decree—Attachment of property under decree of Small Cause Court—Subsequent attachment under decree of High Court—Claim to attached property by what Court decided—Jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 272(=O 21, r. 52, New Code)—In execution of a decree obtained in the High Court, the plaintiffs, on the 2nd March, 1895, attached certain goods as belonging to the defendants. This property had been already attached on the 22nd February, 1895, in execution of a decree obtained by one R against the defendant in the Court of Small Causes. The attachment of the plaintiffs on the 2nd March, 1895, was, therefore, effected by a notice under s. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, addressed by the Prothonotary of the High Court to the Registrar of the Small Cause Court. The claimant was the landlord of the house in which the attached property was lying, and the defendants were his tenants. He had, on the 28th February, 1895, lodged in the Court of Small Causes a claim to the said goods as mortgagee in possession, and on the 25th March, 1895, a consent order was passed by the Chief Judge of that Court directing that R's attachment should stand subject to the claimant's claim. On the 22nd April, 1895, the claimant applied to the Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court to issue a notice to the plaintiffs under s. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, to attend in order to determine the question of priority of claim to the said property as between the said claimant and the plaintiffs, but the Chief Judge declined to grant the application, being of opinion that he could not interfere in a High Court suit. The claimant then field his claim in the High Court, and took out this summons to remove the plaintiff's attachment. Held that, under s. 272, Civ. Pro. Code, the Small Cause Court was the only Court to decide the question of priority between the claimant and the plaintiffs. JEYNARAYAN MEGHRAJ v. ISMAIL KURIMALI, 19 B. 710.

(30)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 243—Attachment—Ground of rejecting application.—A mokuraridar having failed to make due payment of her rent to the zamindar, the dar mokuraridar paid the rent and obtained a decree against her for the amount. In satisfaction, he attached the very property of which he was her lessee. Upon this, the mokuraridar petitioned the Judge, under s. 243, Act VIII of 1859 offering to place this and other property under the management of the Court, so that after the payment of a small yearly sum for her maintenance the profits should be carried to account in payment of the sum due. The Judge refused to make such an order. Held that the circumstance of her having other property of inferior value such as could be more conveniently dealt with for the purpose of saving the property under attachment, was a ground, not for rejecting but for complying with the judgment-debtor's petition. To save a particular property from sale, a judgment-debtor must show the value and condition of other properties in her possession, and the Judge must consider how and by what arrangement such a disposal of different portions of such property may be made, so as to avoid the sale of the property already attached. DEBKUMARI BIBI v. RAM LAL MOOKERJEE, 3 B.L.R. App. 107=12 W.R. 66 (1 B.L.R.F.B. 7, Diss.)

Attachment—continued.

— 9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(31)—Attachment before judgment—Execution of decree—Sale by Munsiff under Small Cause Court decree—Attachment by Subordinate Judge pending sale, a nullity—Jurisdiction—Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 285, 490.—Where property is placed under attachment before judgment, it is not necessary to re-attach it after the passing of the decree. Where property had been attached before judgment by the Subordinate Judge, the decree being passed afterwards and the property was sold in execution of a Small Cause Court decree by the Munsiff to whom that decree had been transferred, held, that a re-attachment by the Subordinate Judge being unnecessary, the Munsiff had no jurisdiction to sell the property pending attachment by a higher Court, and the sale was a nullity. DURPATI BIBI v. RAMRACH PAL, 6 A.L.J. 703=3 Ind. Cas. 31 =31 A. 527.

(32)—Attaching creditor—Right to sue for a declaration that another attaching creditor has no right to attach—Attachment, effect of.—The plaintiff attached the property in dispute in execution of a simple money-decree. Another judgment-creditor of the same judgment-debtor attached the same property. The plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that the property was not saleable in execution of the decree of the second judgment-debtor. It was found that the decree was not tainted by fraud. Held, that the plaintiffs had no cause of action, as the second decree was a decree by a competent Court and was not tainted with fraud. (25 B. 337, R.) Attachment prevents only voluntary alienation attempted or proposed. It does not give a locus standi to a person attaching property in execution of a simple-money-decree to dispute a decree of a competent Court. LACHMI DAYAL v. HARDANNI LAL, 25 A. 347 =A.W.N. 1903, 61. (25 C. 179, R.)

(33)—Attachment in execution—Objection by judgment debtor—Release from attachment—Decree-holder's remedy—Civ Pro Code, 1877, ss. 278 to 283—Suit to establish right.—Where property attached in execution of a decree is released, on the objection of the judgment-debtor to the effect that it was in his possession not as his own property, but as superintendent of an endowment, the decree-holder's remedy is not by way of appeal against the order releasing the property, but by means of a suit under s. 283 of the Civ. Pro. Code, to establish his right to proceed against such property.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

For, though the objection was made by the judgment-debtor, it was one to be dealt with under ss. 278 and 279, &c., of the Civ. Pro. Code. SHANKARA DIAL v. AMIR HAIDAR, 2 A. 752. (6 B.L.R. 721, 6 B.L.R. 725, 6 W. R. 61, F.) [F., 7 A. 36, 15 C.W.N. 437, 6 C. W.N. 63 ; R., 8 A. 626=A.W.N. 1886, 228, 10 M. 117, 16 C. 1, 23 B. 237, 1 O C Sup. Vol. II; D, 7 A. 547=A.W.N.(1885, 132, 9 A. 605, 16 C. 603.]

(34)—Property released from attachment—Subsequent decree declaring it liable to be attached—Effect of decree.—Where property has been released from attachment in execution of a decree, and, in a subsequent suit brought for the purpose, a decree is obtained declaring it liable to be attached, and sold in execution of the former decree, the effect of the decree in the latter suit is to set aside the order which released the property from attachment, thus leaving matters as they were before that order was passed. WOOMA CHURN CHATTERJEE v. KADAMBINI DABEE, 3 C.L.R. 146. (6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 59, 20 W.R. 90, 22 W.R. 46, Cited.)

(35)—Time up to which attachment by Criminal Court in cases of disputed possession will be in force—Certificate under Act XXVII of 1860—Right to possession.—An attachment of land under s. 319, Act XXV of 1861, remains in force until right of possession is decided in a regular suit. A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, gives no right to possession. KRISTO CHUNDER MAHATA v. MUSSAMUT OBINESSUREE DEBIA, 11 W.R. 532.

(36)—Attachment in execution of decree—Order releasing part of property from attachment, right of execution-creditor to set aside, whether affected by stoppage of execution-proceedings of the subsisting decree.—The order obtained by the first defendant in this case releasing a share in the vatan in question from the attachment secured by the plaintiff in execution of his decree would operate as a decree in favour of such defendant unless set aside by suit and, under s. 283 of the Civ. Pro. Code, plaintiff had the right to file a suit within a year to set that order aside. Plaintiff had withdrawn his execution darkhast temporarily, but such temporary cessation of his execution-proceedings could not deprive him of his right to continue the suit. The plaintiff's decree being yet subsisting and operative, if he continues the suit and succeeds in it, he can subsequently renew the execution-proceedings and re-attach the interest (if any) which he shall have been in such suit declared entitled to attach. BALAJI v. MOROBA, 21 B. 58.

(37)—Priority of—Attachment before judgment—Insolvent—Re-attachment — Priority.—A creditor obtained an attachment before judgment and then followed the decree. The debtor meanwhile applied to be declared an insolvent and was adjudicated accordingly. The Insolvent Court attached the same property.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

The said creditor had re-attached the same after decree and attachment by the Insolvent Court and pleaded priority over other creditors on the ground that the effect of the original attachment followed by decree was to create a charge on the property and convert him into a secured creditor. Held that the Court is not entitled to any priority and there is no illegality in the order of the Insolvency Court directing a distribution pro rata amongst the scheduled creditors. SUNDER SINGH v. CHARANJI LAL, 93 P R. 1882. (37 P.R. 1871, R.) —Attaching creditor whether should be made party in apportionment proceedings—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 54, 7 Ind. Cas. 481=12 C. L.J. 545.

Effect of—Invasion of person's right—Cause of action—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 18, 73, 88, 9 Ind. Cas. 663.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, s. 38, 8 M. 573.

—Rent—Attachment for a larger sum than is due—Validity—See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, ss. 39, 16, 14, 17 M.L.J. 479=3 M.L.T. 29=31 M. 22.

—Blacksmith's inam in proprietary estate whether liable to be attached in execution—See MAD. ACT III OF 1895, ss. 3, 5, 5 Ind. Cas. 41=7 M.L.T. 264.

—and sale of property in execution—Suit by claimant in possession to establish title—See BURDEN OF PROOF—POSSESSION AND PROOF OF TITLE, 6 B. 215, F.B.

—for recovery of excess amount drawn by Commissioner as fees—Power of Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 36, 37, O. XIV, r. 7, 6 Ind. Cas. 386.

—Power to realise property attached by two Courts of different grades—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 63, 1 Ind. Cas. 78.

—before judgment on insufficient grounds —Order for compensation when to be made—Revision—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 95, 115, 17 M.L.J. 310.

—Position of attaching creditor—Right to notice—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 14, s. 47, O. XXII, r. 10, 20 M.L.J. 524=7 Ind. Cas. 66=8 M.L.T. 237.

—prior to judgment—Application for rateable distribution—Ss. 213, 295 and 490, CIV. PRO. Code (1882)—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XX, r. 13, s. 73, O. XXXVIII, r. 12, ss. 115, 136, 4 M.L.T. 348.

—Conditions necessary for—See Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, O. XXXVIII, r. 5, 11 C.L.J. 19=5 Ind. Cas. 181.

—before judgment of property outside jurisdiction — See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXVIII, r. 5, s. 113, O. XLVI, r. 1, 3 L.B.R. 255.

—before sale, necessity for—Execution of compromise decree—See COMPROMISE—EFFECT OF, 6 C.L.J. 95=11 C.W.N. 879=36 C. 886.

Attachment—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

—of debt stops not running of interest—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 2 (c), 37, 38, 67, 4 M.L.T. 335.

—Right of creditor attaching the debtor's property before judgment—See CONTRIBUTION, SUIT FOR—GENERAL, 7 A.L.J. 409=6 Ind. Cas. 113=32 A. 479.

—Objection to, successful—but costs not allowed—Recovery of costs—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, A.W.N. 1908, 18=5 A.L.J. 140.

—Suit for damages for wrongful attachment—See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR. 3 A. 504.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EXECUTION BY AND AGAINST REPRESENTATIVES, 4 C.W.N. 151.

—Necessity of fresh—before issue of a sale proclamation, when a previous application for execution under which an—was made is dismissed for default—See EXECUTION OF DECREE MISCELLANEOUS, 33 C. 666.

—Effect on, of execution-proceedings being struck off—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS. 11 C.W.N. 163=5 C.L.J. 80.

—Whether enfranchised Inam is liable to—in execution of a decree of Civil Court—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 M.L.T. 132.

—of decree—Failure of attaching creditor to execute the attached decree—Attached decree barred by limitation—Right of decree-holder to claim damages from attaching creditor—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 5 Ind. Cas. 56=7 M.L.T. 262.

—Distinction between attachment and assignment of decree — See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 A.L.J. 564=2 Ind. Cas. 626.

—Personal right—Hindu widow's right of residence—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 4 M.L.T. 485.

—Attachment for amount larger than due—Effect—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 M.L.T. 429.

—Limitation for suit for compensation for unlawful attachment—Attachment not a continuing wrong—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 23, art. 29, A.W.N. 1907, 194=4 A.L.J. 548 =29 A. 615.

See LIS PENDENS, 6 B. 567.

—in execution of money-decree, if creates a charge—See LIS PENDENS, 14 C. W. N. 677= 11 C.L.J. 528=6 Ind. Cas. 40.

—Right to maintenance when attachable—See MAINTENANCE, 12 C. L. J. 146=7 Ind. Cas. 80.

—Attachment, wrongful—Sheriff's right to poundage—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 37 C. 649=7 Ind. Cas. 876.

Attachment—concluded.

——9.—Miscellaneous—concluded.

—by a Court without jurisdiction—Effect—Effect of due confirmation of sale—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—SETTING ASIDE SALE, 13 O.C. 43=5 Ind. Cas 798.

—Attachment of mortgage-debt—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 18 M. 437=5 M.L.J. 60.

—Suit to declare moveable property not liable to attachment—See SMALL CAUSE COURT MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 9 M. 206.

—Small Cause Court's power to award compensation for erroneous attachment before judgment—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 77 P.R. 1907=50 P.W.R. 1907=30 P.L.R. 1908.

—Insolvent's salary when exempt from—See ST. 46 AND 47, VIC. C. 52, 8 Ind. Cas. 438.

—Conditional order of—Transfer of suit—Power of Court to deal with—See TRANSFER OF CIVIL CASES, 6 Ind. Cas. 746=20 M. L. J. 980.

—of property mortgaged in 1879—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 2, 67, 99, 10 M. 129.

See WILL—CONSTRUCTION, 8 W.R. 276.

Attachment before judgment.

See ATTACHMENT.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXVIII.

(1)—Attachment before judgment, effect of.—An attachment before judgment places the property in the custody of the law, but does not alter the right to it. In the matter of GOCOOL DASS SOONDERJEE PETUMBER MUNDLE v. GOCOOL DAS SOONDERJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 32=Bourke O.C. 24.

(2)—The effect of attachment before judgment is to ensure that the property attached shall be forthcoming at the time of pronouncing the decree, to abide whatever order the Court shall make upon it. JIVA RAMJI v. JADVAJI NATHA, 1 B H.C. 224. [R., 8 B.H.C. O. C. 140, 20 B. 403.]

(3)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s 83—Extent of Court's disposal—Vesting order in insolvency, nature of—Assignment in trust for creditors.—In an attachment before judgment, under the 83rd and subsequent sections of Act VIII of 1859, the Court does not interfere with the legal disposal of the property attached, beyond declaring that possession shall not be taken without its previous sanction, undertaking only that, if no subsequent order to the contrary be made, the property shall be forthcoming, at the time of pronouncing the decree, to abide whatever order it shall make about it. A vesting order in insolvency is in effect an assignment in trust for the benefit of creditors, and as such paramount to the right of an attachment before judgment-creditor; as it is more equitable that property under the control of the court should be applied for the benefit of all the creditors, than for the exclusive advantage of one. SAVA RAMJI v. JADHAVJI NATHU; EX PARTE GAMBLE, OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, 2 B.H C. 142. [R., 8 B.H.C O.C. 140. 16 B. 1.]

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(4)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 89—Effect.—S. 89, Civ. Pro. Code renders an attachment before judgment ineffectual as a bar to process of execution against the property attached in satisfaction of a decree in another suit, whether obtained before or after the attachment. ANONYMOUS, 6 M.H.C. 135.

(5)—Sale of property—Whether further process required.—If there are no conflicting attachments, a sale of property under a decree may legally follow without further process on attachment previously to decree. M. S. MUSTAN SAIB v. BENJAMIN BROOKS, 7 M.H C. 347.

(6)—Civ. Pro. Code, O. XXXVIII, r. 10 (= s. 489, Civ. Pro Code, 1882) Attachment after judgment necessary.—The law requires that attachment after judgment should issue although a plaintiff may have already obtained attachment before judgment. MUSSUMMAT SATBHAWAN v. SAHOO BANARSEE DOSS, 2 N.W.P. 365.

(7)—Priority—Civ. Pro Code, 1859, s 81.—N.S, and subsequently J.S, filed plaints and obtained attachment orders against J P's property. J S, who got a decree on the 13th and an order for sale on the 16th of February, claimed priority. Claim disallowed. Held that, of several creditors who have attached a debtor's property under s. 81 of Act VIII of 1859, the one who first obtains judgment is entitled to priority. JUGGURNAUTH SHAW v. ISSURCHUNDER ROY, Bourke O.C. 146; LUTCHMEEPUT DOGAREE v. KENARAM SEN, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 393 = Bourke O.C. 92.

(8)—Attachment before judgment — Suit against member of a joint Hindu family—Death of defendant before decree—Right of survivorship.—In a suit against a member of a joint Hindu family, not in his capacity as manager or representative, an attachment before judgment of family property was obtained. The defendant died before decree. Consequently, the right of survivorship took effect before the attachment became effectual for the purpose of execution. RAMANAYYA v. RANGAPPAYYA, 17 M. 144. (8 M. 554, F.) [R., 16 C. P. L. R. 19 D., 26 M. 604.]

(9)—Suit on hypothecation-bond—Attachment before judgment of property other than hypotheca—Sale of hypotheca not necessary to prove insufficiency—Civ. Pro. Code 1882, s. 483.—Where before the decree in a suit upon a hypothecation-bond, the plaintiff applied under s. 482 of the Civ Pro. Code, for an order of attachment of certain immoveable property belonging to the defendant but not hypothecated under the bond, it was held that, though the Court should act with extreme caution in ordering attachment of non-hypothecated property, and should be thoroughly satisfied, before making such an order under s. 483 of the Code, that the hypothecated property would be insufficient to discharge the debt, it would not be necessary for the purpose, that the sale of the hypotheca should have actually taken place. BESHAMBAR SAHAI v. SUKH DEVI, 16 A. 186 = A. W. N. 1894, 20.

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(10)—Execution of decree—Money deposited in Court, attachment of—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 483, 484, 486—"Property" meaning of.—S. 272 of the Civ. Pro. Code, which, by reason of the provisions of s. 486, applies to the attachment of property deposited in a Court, directs that the attachment shall be made by a notice to such Court requesting that such property may be held subject to the further order of the Court which ordered the attachment. Where, however the property ordered to be attached is deposited in the Court which made the order for attachment, that order is itself sufficient notice that the property ordered to be attached is to be held subject to the further orders of the Court, and it is not necessary that a separate formal notice should be drawn up. The word "property" as used in ss. 483, 484, is wide enough to include property of every description moveable or immoveable, whether in the actual possession of the defendant or in the possession of some other person on his behalf, and the words in s. 494 as to the Court requiring the property sought to be attached to be produced and placed at its disposal, refer only to such property as is capable of being produced in Court. OHEDI LAL v. KUARJI DICHIT, 17 A. 82 = A.W.N. 1895, 14.

(11)—Company in liquidation, not made party to suit against defendant as Company's manager—Property of Company attached before judgment—Application of liquidator to raise attachment dismissed — Reversal of order of attachment on appeal.—Plaintiff, respondent, instituted this suit against the defendant in his own individual capacity and as manager of the Company of which applicant was the liquidator. Though plaintiff's claim was professedly against the Company, he did not make the Company, which was then in liquidation, a party to the suit. On plaintiff's application under s. 483 of the Civ. Pro. Code, to attach before judgment the Company's factory, the lower Court, though the Company was no party to the suit, issued notice to the defendants under s. 484 and conditionally attached the Company's factory until further order. No notice of the application or of the order of attachment made upon it was given to the liquidator of the Company, who, under s. 177 of the Companies Act, was engaged in winding up its affairs and was charged with the duty of distributing its assets. The liquidator, however, applied to raise the attachment, and the lower Court made the Company a party to the suit, disallowed his objections, and confirmed its previous attachment order. On the Company through its liquidator appealing to the High Court from this order confirming the attachment, it was objected that no appeal lay, as the liquidator's remedy was by suit under ss. 283 and 487 of the Code ; it was held that, though the above objection may hold good if the Company were not a party to the suit, yet, the Court having made it a party, the Court's order amounted to one made against the Company under s. 485, so that an appeal would lie from it under s. 588 of the Code. MIR ALI v. BIHARI LAL, 21 B. 273.

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(12)—Attachment, effect of—Necessity of subsequent attachment—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 89.—R R filed a plaint against I R on the 15th, and obtained a decree on the 27th of February and a prohibitory order was made against I R's property on the 18th of March, subject to three prior attachments ; one by J S, whose plaint was filed on the 30th of January, and who obtained a probibitory order on the 13th and a decree on the 16th of February ; a second by N S, who filed his plaint and obtained a prohibitory order on the 30th of January, and obtained a decree on February 22nd ; and a third by K S, who also filed his plaint and got a prohibitory order on January 30th, and a decree on February 28th for an order for the sale of the goods on notice to the other three plaintiffs ; and the Court ruled that N S and K S were entitled to priority over R R. Held that the process in attachment before judgment is in all respects the same as in cases of attachment after judgment, and the effect in binding the property attached, so as to prevent alienation, is the same. That an attachment, whether before or after judgment, places the property in the custody of the law. That if the property have been attached before judgment, there is no need of a second attachment in the same suit after judgment. That the words "attachment before judgment" in s. 89 of Act VIII of 1859 must be read as equivalent to "attachment in pending suits," or, in other words, the phrase "before judgment" must be read as meaning "until after judgment." RAJCHUNDER ROY v. ISSURCHUNDER ROY, Bourke O.C. 139.

(13)—Attachment before judgment—Power of High Court to attach property out of ordinary original civil jurisdiction.—The High Court has no power to attach before judgment a defendant's property situate outside the limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction. HAJI JIVA NUR MUHAMMAD v. ABUBAKAR IBRAHIM MEMON, 8 B.H C.O.C. 29.

(14)—Ss. 483 to 490, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Private alienation of property attached before judgment during attachment—Effect of attachment whether before or after decree.—When property is ordered to be attached before judgment, a private alienation of the property so attached during the continuation of the attachment void as against all claims enforceable under attachment. The effect of an attachment, whether it be before or after decree is the same, provided that in the former case, a decree is made for the plaintiff, at whose

Attachment before judgment—continued.

instance the attachment takes place. GANU SINGH v. JANGI LAL, 26 C. 531. (Bourke O.C. 139, R.)

(15)—Execution of decree in presidency town—Act XXIII of 1840.—It is competent to the High Court under Act XXIII of 1840, to order a warrant of attachment before judgment issued by a Mofussil Court to be executed within the limits of the High Court's ordinary original civil jurisdiction. In re R. J. ABRAHAM, 6 B. H C. A.C. 170. [Not F., 8 B.L.R. 335 ; Cons., 8 B.H.C. O.C. 29.]

(16)—Grounds of application - Suit not commenced—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 81—In an application made under s. 81, Act VIII of 1859, the Court must be satisfied that a removal of goods is being made, or about to be made, with a view to evade the execution of a decree in a specific suit, though it is not necessary that the suit should be actually commenced at the time of their removal. RAMNARAIN PODDAR v. LEVY, 2 Hyde 183.

(17)—Attachment before judgment—Property within jurisdiction.—The words "any portion of his property" in the latter part of s. 483, Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, mean any portion of the property of the defendant which is within the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is pending. KEDAR NATH DUTT v. SEEVA VEYANA RANA LUCHMUN CHETTY, 1 C.L.R. 336. [R., 5 Bom. L.R. 570.]

(18)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 483 and 484—Attachment before judgment - Property not within jurisdiction.—Under the provisions of ss. 483 and 484, Civ. Pro. Code, a Court cannot attach before judgment, property not situated within its jurisdiction. KRISHNASAMI v. ENGEL, 8 M. 20. [F., 5 Bom. L.R. 570, 3 L.B.R. 255 ; R., 1 L.B.R. 310.]

(19)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 484 (=O. XXXVIII, r. 5, new Code)—Attachment—Security—"Conditional attachment," meaning of.—The defendants were, on 10th March, 1881, called on to furnish security for the fulfilment of a decree that the plaintiff might obtain against them, or to show cause on the 28th March, 1881, why the security should not be furnished. To this direction, the order was appended, which is provided by the form at the end of the Code for a provisional attachment. The defendants, to avoid the attachment, gave security on the 12th March, 1881, for satisfaction of the decree, and the attachment was not carried out. On the 28th March, 1881, they showed cause why security should not be furnished but the Subordinate Judge, as security had been furnished thought the matter was at an end, and that he could not cancel the security-bond. Held by the High Court that the Sub-Judge was not right ; that the security given under such circumstances was not the security expressly provided under s. 484 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and did not preclude the defendants from showing cause why no security should be furnished, because the continuance of the order beyond the 28th March 1881, was subject to the revision of the Sub-Judge on that day, so too should the continuance of the security given in substitution for attachment. S. 484 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, speaks of a "conditional attachment" as within the competence of the Court. This might mean an attachment to be made conditionally on the security not being furnished nor cause shown by the prescribed day, or it might mean an immediate attachment of a provisional kind conditioned to become plenary if security should not be furnished, or cause shown according to the terms of the order. The form at the end of the Code for a provisional attachment shows that the latter was the intention of the Legislature. LOTLIKAR v. LOTLIKAR, 5 B. 643.

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(20)—Grounds for granting application—Defendant leaving jurisdiction to avoid or delay process—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 74, 75 —Applications under ss. 74 and 75, Act VIII of 1859, on the ground first mentioned in s. 74, must show at least that defendant is about to leave the jurisdiction, with a view to avoid process, or to delay the plaintiff in the prosecution of his suit. Evidence sufficient to support this must be adduced in all cases. TEENARAM v. RAMRUTTON, 2 Hyde 181.

(21)—Malicious arrest before judgment—Remedy.—When a person thinks himself aggrieved by a malicious arrest on mesne process, or malicious attachment of property prior to decree, he is not compelled to apply for redress under the provision of s. 98 of the Civ. Pro. Code. If he choses, he may institute a suit for compensation without having recourse to that special provision of law. To maintain such a suit, legal not actual malice should be proved. A creditor is not entited, merely because he has a just demand against his debtor, to mave the Courts to put in force the extraordinary process of arrest or attachment on mesne process; he must also have good reason to believe that his debtor is about to depart from the jurisdiction of the Court, or to deal with his property in such a manner that it will be unavailable for the satisfaction of the claim against him. GOUTIERE v EMILE ROBERT JOSEPH CHARRIOL, 1 N.W.P. 91. [R., 2 N.W.P. 353.]

(22)—Defendant leaving India—Good cause—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss 74, 80.—When it appears prima facie that the defendant is going to leave India with intent to remain absent so long that the plaintiff will or may be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant, he will be ordered, unless he show good cause to find security for the amount of the claim and the costs of the suit. And "good cause" must be either that he is not going to leave India, or not for so long a time as will obstruct, or be likely to obstruct, the plaintiff, should he succeed or that the suit is not a bona fide one; or that, even if it is, the institution of it has been vexatiously delayed till the defendant is about to depart from India, in order to embarass or coerce him. SPENCE'S HOTEL COMPANY v. ANDERSON, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 294, Note.

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(23)—Defendant leaving jurisdiction — Civ. Pro Code, 1859, s. 80.—It is not necessary for the plaintiff to show that the defendant intends to obstruct or delay the plaintiff in execution of his decree, in order to justify an application to the Court for his arrest before judgment under Act VIII of 1859, s. 80. It is enough if his going away will have that effect. AGRA AND MASTERMAN'S BANK v. MINTO, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 265.

(24)—Defendant leaving the jurisdiction—Repairs of ship, suit for price of.—The defendant having employed the plaintiffs to do repairs to his ship on the promise that they would be paid for out of the proceeds of a letter of credit from the owners for that purpose, afterwards drew bills on the credit for other purposes — The defendant being about to leave Calcutta, on the application of the plaintiffs an attachment order was issued against him and the proceeds of the bills in the hands of P's agent.—CALCUTTA DOCKING COMPANY v. PASSMORE, Bourke O.C. 125=Cor. 151.

(25)—Civ Pro. Code, 1882, s. 483—Attachment before judgment—Power to be sparingly exercised.—The power given to the Courts under s. 483 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, should be exercised sparingly and with the utmost caution. The Court should be thoroughly satisfied, before it proceeds under that section, that the defendant is really disposing of his property with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him. SHOSHEE SHEKHORESWAR ROY v. HARO GOBIND BOSE, 13 C.L.R. 356.

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code 1882, s. 493 (=O. XXXVIII, r 6 new Code)—Attachment before judgment, when terminates.—An attachment before judgment, like a temporary injunction, becomes functus officio, as soon as the suit terminates RAM CHAND v. PITAM MAL, 10 A. 506=A.W.N. 1888, 195. (A.W.N. 1887, 297, Appl.; 3 I.A. 230, 14 W.R. 384, 9 C. 656, R.)

(27)—Civ Pro Code, s. 648—Residence.—Where an officer proceeding from Burma to England on leave, stayed for a few days at Madras on the way, this amounted to a residence for the purposes of s. 648 of the Civ. Pro. Code, so as to render him liable to arrest before judgment. EVERET v. FRERE, 8 M 305. [R., 14 B. 541, 1 L.B R. 222, 29 M. 239=16 M.L J. 238=1 M.L.T. 71.]

(28)—Attachment before judgment subsistence of, in case of re-attachment —Although it is usual to re-attach property already attached before judgement, the proceeding implies no abandonment of the first attachment. RAMAKRISHNA DAS SURROWJI v. SURFUNNISSA BEGUM, 6 C. 129, P.C. 7 I.A. 157.

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(29)—Attachments, priority among.—Where one of several writs first reaches the sheriff, it has priority, and he has no power to deprive it of such priority and transfer it to another by first executing a writ delivered to him later. DWARKANATH SHAW v. PRANKRISTO PAUL CHOWDHRY, Bourke O C. 260.

(30)—Attachment before judgment—Execution—Competency of Court.—A Court which cannot attach primarily in execution of its decree cannot attach in anticipation of it. MARTHAMMA v. KITTU SHEREGARA, 6 M.H C. 91.

(31)—Objection that property not transferable if to be taken then or on application for execution—Civ Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 483, 487, 488, 490.—When property is attached before judgment, the defendant is not bound to take exception to the attachment on the ground that the property is not transferable. Attachment before judgment stands on a different footing from attachment in execution in this respect. In such a case the proper time to take this objection is when the decree-holder applies for execution. BASIRAM MALO v. SRIMATI KATYAYANI DEBI. 15 C.W.N. 795.

(32)—Civ. Pro. Code, (Act XIV of 1882), s. 488—Suit, dismissal of—Reversal on appeal, effect of—Court's inherent power—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. 21, r. 58—Sale without attachment, order for—Validity—Objection as to legality of proceedings.—It is obligatory upon the Court to withdraw an attachment before judgment upon the dismissal of the suit. The reversal of the judgment of dismissal on appeal does not operate to revive an attachment which has been cancelled under s. 488 of the Code. Hence a decree-holder is not entitled to bring the properties to sale without a fresh attachment thereof. If a Court is invited by a decree-holder to sell property which has not, as a matter of fact, been duly attached, and the Court is apprised of that circumstance by a person claiming to be interested therein, the Court has inherent power to investigate the matter. When a sale of immoveable property has actually taken place, and its validity is impeached on the ground that it was not attached, the absence of attachment does not, by itself, vitiate the sale. But the position is different when objection is taken to the legality of the proceedings before the sale has taken place. The duty of the Court, under such circumstances, is to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Code when there is still ample time left for necessary action. SASIRAMA KUMARI v MEHERBAN KHAN, 13. C.L.J. 243.

(33)—Power of Court to attach before judgment, property outside jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 483 and 648.—A Court has power to attach before judgment, property outside its jurisdiction. It has been the practice in the Calcutta High Court to adopt such procedure. RAM PERTAB JHOWAR v. MADHO RAI, 7 C.W.N. 216. [Diss., 5 Bom. L.R. 570, 3 L.B.R. 255, U.B.R. 1907, C.P.C., 13, 4 M.L.T. 348=31 M. 502.]

Attachment before judgment—continued.

(34)—Priority—Attachment after decree if necessary—Act VIII of 1859.—An attachment previous to decree has nothing whatever to do with the question of priority between rival decree-holders, so far as that question depends upon mere priority of attachment. On the 27th June, 1866, the plaintiff sued B and on the 27th August, 1866 obtained an attachment before judgment over his property. On the 29th June, 1866, the defendants instituted a suit against the same person B. Both suits were tried together and both the plaintiff and the defendants obtained decrees against B on the same day. The said property of B was attached in execution of both decrees and the executions were completed simultaneously. The property was sold and the proceeds of sale in execution, so far as they could go, were paid to the plaintiff and defendants rateably. The plaintiff now sued to make the defendants refund so much as would completely satisfy his decree against B, on the ground that he had first attached the property and was therefore entitled to priority over the defendants. Held that both the parties having obtained their decrees at the same time and having attached the property at the same time in execution, were equitably entitled to have the proceeds of the execution divided between them, and that the party who obtained an attachment prior to decree was not, in consequence of his having done so, entitled to priority. Under Act VIII of 1859, though an attachment before judgment will remain in force after decree so as to keep property in the custody of the Court, the person who attached it must, if he wished to proceed against the property in execution of his decree, attach it de novo proceeding in precisely the same manner as any other person holding a decree against the defendant would have to proceed, if he wished to attach that property. SRI RAMWANIK v. TIN COWRI RAI, 4 B.L.R. F.B. 63=13 W.R. F.B., 9. [Expl., 21 W.R. 66=14 B.L.R. 323; R., 2 N.W.P. 365.]

(35) Of property outside jurisdiction—S. 648 Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—The property of a defendant, which is not within the jurisdiction of the Court cannot be attached before judgment under the provisions of s. 648, Civ. Pro. Code. A. M. MADAR SAIB BROTHERS & CO. v. MOONA ABDUL KASSIM, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 56.

(36)—Attachment before judgment of property situate outside the Court's jurisdiction—Allowable under the new Code—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), ss. 46 and 138, O XXXVIII, r. 5—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss. 483, 648.—Though the property, referred to in cl. (b) of O. XXXVIII, r. 5 of the new Civ. Pro. Code, must be property within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction, no such restriction is imposed with regard to the property mentioned in cl. (a). The rule clearly permits the attachment before judgment of property situate either within or without the legal limits of the Court's jurisdiction. The removal from the new rule of this restriction as to the locality in which property capable of being attached under it must be situate, which there was in the corresponding s. 483 of the old Code, has altered the law. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY v. MUTHU VEERAPPA CHETTY, 10 Ind. Cas. 794.

Attachment before judgment—concluded.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 63, 73, 29 C. 773=6 C.W.N. lxvii.

—Compensation for, obtained on insufficient grounds—Power of Small Cause Court to grant —See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 95, 26 M. 504.

—Attachment before judgment on insufficient grounds—Award of compensation—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE. 1908, s. 95 : s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 24 M. 62=10 M.L.J. 355.

—Before judgment—Compensation for unnecessary attachment—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE. 1908, s. 95, O. XLIII, r. 1, s. 104, A.W.N. 1905, 197=2 A.L.J. 602=28 A. 81.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 136, 1 L. B.R. 310.

—in suits for money-decrees in Subordinate Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XL, rr. 1 to 3, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 432.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 12 B. 400.

See INJUNCTION—UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 6 W.R. Mis. 1.

See INSOLVENCY — MISCELLANEOUS, 8 M. 554, Bourke O.C. 149.

—Insolvency of defendant before decree—Right of Official Assignee to attached property —See INSOLVENCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 20 B. 403.

—Suit for damages—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 49, 19 M. 80=6 M.L.J. 12.

—Affidavit in support of application for—Plaintiff in examination stating that affidavit is based upon hearsay—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE, 27 M. 223=14 M L.J. 24.

Attachment of person.

See ARREST.

See ATTACHMENT.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

(1)—Judgment-debtor—Maximum period of imprisonment.—Where a judgment-debtor has been on several occasions, imprisoned in execution of a decree, for more than the maximum period for which he can be legally kept in prison, he is entitled to be released. KHODA BUKSH v. SHEIK SHUKR OLL-LAH, 5 N.W.P. 220.

(2)—Execution-decree—Powers of Court.—A Court is not bound to grant a second application for execution, unless satisfied that the failure of the first process is not attributable to the applicant's own fault. BYJNATH PUNDIT v. KUNHYA LALL PUNDIT, 9 W.R. 527.

Attachment of Person—concluded.

(3)—It is optional with a judgment-creditor to proceed in the first instance against either the person or the property of the judgment-debtor, and the Small Cause Court is bound to issue execution according to the nature of the application made in writing after passing of decree. The Court may refuse execution against person and property at the same time, or against the person, when application for immediate—is made verbally at the time of passing decree. J. DAVIS AND CO. v. M. A. MIDDLETON, 8 W.R. 282.

Attendance in Court.

—As to attendance of civil prisoners when required as parties to suits or witnesses in civil suits Cir. No. 45, dated the 12th October, 1866, 6 W.R. Civ. Cir. Order, p. 12.

Attestation.

See ESTOPPEL.

See EVIDENCE ACT, s. 68.

(1)—Hindu Law—Attestation of gift-deed by vendee—Effect on vendee's title.—The attestation of a deed of gift of certain immoveable property, by subsequent vendee of the same property from the donor, could not affect the vendee's title, where the gift had not been completed by delivery of possession. ALEAJI GANGADHAR v MUKTA, 18 B. 688.

(2)—S. 68, Evidence Act—Mortgage—Proof.—Where only one attestor proved a mortgage-bond attested by more than two witnesses and where its due execution was not denied, held, that having regard to s. 68 of the Evidence Act the document may be taken as properly proved. NUND KISHORE LAL v. KANEE RAM TEWARY, 29 C. 355=6 C.W.N. 395.

(3)—Meaning of.—Attestation means that what is said to be attested happened in the presence of the attesting witness. DINAMOYEE DEBI v. BON BEHARI KAPUR, 7 C.W.N. 160.

(4)—Attesting witness—Mortgage—Evidence (Act I of 1872), s. 68—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 59—Writer of the deed—A person who is present and witnesses the execution of a (mortgage) deed and whose name appears on the document, though he is therein described merely as the writer of the deed, is a competent witness to prove the execution of the deed. He need not be described in the deed as an attesting witness. RAJ NARAIN GHOSH v. ABDUR RAHIM, 5 C.W.N. 454. (20 A. 532, R.)

(5)—Of mortgage-deed, question as to the validity of—Applicability of maxim "omnia præ sumuntur rite et solenniter esse acta"—Entry in the record-of-rights by settlement officer, effect of.—One of the issues in this case was, whether the mortgage-deed sued upon was genuine and for consideration. The first Court did not go into the question of consideration but held the mortgage to be invalid because the attesting witnesses were not proved to have seen the mortgagor sign the deed. Plaintiff appealed and the lower Appellate Court remanded the case directing further evidence to be taken. The first Court complied but again came to the conclusion that valid attestation of the deed had not been established by the plaintiff. Held, under the circumstances of the case (viz., the mortgagor, the mortgagee, the scribe and one of the attesting witnesses of the deed in question were all dead and the surviving witness had no clear recollection of the circumstances attending the execution, neither the evidence of that witness nor that of the other persons, examined to show what happened when the document was written and executed, contained anything which tended to establish positively that the attesting witness did not see the mortgagor sign), for the purpose of deciding whether the mortgage-deed was duly attested or not, the maxim "omnia præsumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta donec probetur in contrarium" might be applied so as to presume due attestation, the maxim being applicable, in such cases, under all circumstances except where the attestation required by law has been either actually proved or disproved. As to the other issue in the case, whether the mortgagor had the legal right to mortgage the land, it had to be determined whether he held proprietary or mere tenant rights in the land mortgaged by him. Held, the fact that, in the record by the settlement officer, under s. 72 of the Land Revenue Act, a person has been styled as a tenant is no bar to that person establishing, subsequently, that his status was not that of a tenant but that of a proprietor. (10 C.P.L.R. 33, F.) The said record is merely a statement as to the condition of facts as ascertained by the officer in the course of his inquiry and is of no final or conclusive effect whatever on the status or the right of the person concerned. SETH MUL CHAND v. MT JANKI, 2 N.L.R. 65. [Appl., 5 N.L.R. 3; R., 6 N.L.R. 152.]

Attestation—continued.

(6)—Mere attestation of a deed does not necessarily import an assent to all the recitals contained therein. IMAM ALI v. BAIJ NATH RAM SAHU, 10 C.W.N. 551=3 C.L.J. 576=33 C. 613.

(7)—Attesting witness — Party to deed cannot be attesting witness—Meaning of attestation—Pardanashin lady—Execution behind parda—How to be attested—Document to be explained to, and understood by. Pardanashin lady—Payment of interest—Agent duly authorised—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 20—A person, who is a party to a deed, cannot be regarded as an attesting witness; therefore, a co-executant cannot be considered as an attesting witness. When an instrument is required to be attested, the meaning is that a witness would be present at its execution and shall testify that it has been executed by the proper person. (3 Bom. L. R. 513, Rel. on.) Where, according to the custom of the country, pardanashin ladies are unable to appear before male witnesses, a document, which by independent testimony is conclusively proved to have been executed by a pardanashin lady, may reasonably be deemed to have been attested by witnesses who were present outside the parda, and who before attestation satisfied themselves that there was no fraud, and that the document had been actually executed by the lady screened off from their gaze. (13 C.W.N. 40, 3 Ind Cas. 309, 3 Ind. Cas. 311, 14 C.W.N. 165, F.) In the case of deeds and powers executed by Pardanashin ladies, it is requisite that those, who rely upon them, should satisfy the Court that they had been explained to, and understood, by those who executed them. In a case where such a lady had the advice of her eldest sister who joined her in the transaction of a mortgage, and the husband of the eldest sister looked after the matter for the benefit of both, and the money was paid into the hands of the ladies and was urgently needed to meet the expenses of the litigation then pending in respect of the estate of their father: Held, that the mortgage-deed executed by the lady under such circumstances was valid. Payments of interest on the mortgage-money made by the lady's sister's husband, who held a power-of-attorney from both the sisters, were held to be made by an agent of both the ladies duly authorised within the meaning of s. 20 of the Limitation Act, 1877. NAWAB SARURJIGAR BEGAM v. BARODA KANT MITTER, 5 Ind. Cas 589=11 C L.J. 563=37 C. 526=14 C.W.N. 974.

(8)—Estoppel—Attestation, whether amounts to a guarantee of title in the vendor.—The mere attestation of a deed of sale executed by a person does not in law amount to a representation by the attestor that the vendor has a good title to the property, so as to create an estoppel against the attestor. Plaintiff attested a sale-deed executed to second defendant by the third and fifth defendants. Later he obtained a mortgage of the same property from the first defendant, who was found to be the real owner, and sued to enforce his mortgage: Held, that the mere attestation by plaintiff in second defendant's sale deed did not amount to a representation of good title in the vendor, and that the plaintiff was entitled to enforce his mortgage. DEENABANDU CHOUDARI v. VINAYAKA DOSS, 7 Ind. Cas. 174=8. M.L.T. 171=M W.N. 1910, 333.

(9)—Estoppel—Attesting a deed as witness.—The mere fact of a person attesting a deed is not in itself sufficient proof that he consented to it or knew its contents, and does not necessarily import his assent to all the recitals therein. MEWA SINGH v. BHAGWANT SINGH, 5 Ind. Cas 252. (9 C. 463; 3 B L.R. 57, P.C.=12 W. R. 47. P.C.=13 M.I.A. 209, F.; A.W.N. 1888, 294, D.) added to them, there must be a signature made in token of such presence and observation. (5 N.L.R. 3, F.; 5 C.W.N. 454, Diss.; 7 C.W.N. 160, 33 C. 861, R.) Meaning of "attested" in s. 59, Transfer of Property Act, and s. 68, Evidence Act discussed. In the absence of proof to the contrary, Indian Courts presume that the word 'gawah' (witness) means that the necessary steps of attestation have been performed, namely, that each witness was present, and, having therefore seen the executant sign the instrument, thereafter subscribed his own name thereon as a witness of that fact; or, in other words, the presence of a name subscribed to an executant's signature on an instrument, such subscription having prefixed to it (in full or in abbreviated form) some such word or words as 'gawah' (witness), or 'in the presence of,' raises an implication which takes the place of the express declaration of facts contained in the attestation clauses appended to more formally executed instruments. (14 C.P.L.R. 42, 2 N.L.R. 65, R.) But such an implication is absolutely repelled in the case of a scribe of the body of an instrument, who has signed the same before execution merely in acknowledgment of the fact that he is such a scribe. His subsequent presence at the execution will not make his said signature an act of attestation for the purposes either of s. 68, Evidence Act or of s. 59, Tr.P.Act. AJAB v. MANGAL, 6 N.L.R. 152.

(10)—Attestation—Essentials of—Necessity of signature—The word "gawah" "witness" prefixed to executant's signature—Due execution—Presumption—When repelled—Signature of scribe—Whether attestation—Evidence Act, s. 68—S. 59, Transfer of Property Act—A witness competent to prove the execution of a deed of mortgage can only be an attesting witness, and mere presence at, and visual observance of, execution, do not amount to an attestation;

Attestation—continued.

(11)—Description of property in transfer deed—Liability of attestor to be bound by description.—The attestor to a document transferring property is not by the mere fact of attestation bound by the description of the property contained therein. GANPAT SINGH v. GOPAL, 1 C.P.L.R. 67.

(12)—Estoppel—Attestation—Recitals in instrument.—Mere attestation of a document cannot amount to an estoppel. RAM SARUP v. KISHEN SAHAI, A.W.N. 1883, 142.

—of witness after execution of bond—Material alteration—Validity of bond—See CONTRACT—ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, 15 B. 44.

—Hypothecation-bond—Forged—Effect of—See CONTRACT—ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, 15 M. 70.

See CUSTOM, 2 Agra 217.

See DEED—ATTESTATION OF DEEDS, 1 C.W.N. 81, 2 C.W.N. 603.

—S. 59, T.P. Act, 1882—required by—See DEED—ATTESTATION OF DEEDS, 27 C. 190.

—Knowledge of contents of document—Effect of signing document as witness—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, 7 A.L.J. 664=7 Ind. Cas. 264.

—Surety-bond—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s 68, 26 C. 222=3 C.W.N. 228.

—Writer of document signing his name at the foot of it, but above the executant's signature, if attesting witness—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 68, 5 N.L.R. 3=1 Ind. Cas. 179.

Attestation—continued.

—Attestation, effect of—Attestation not constructive fraud—See FRAUD—FRAUD, ELEMENTS OF AND PROOF OF, 1 A. 303.

—Estoppel—Gift by Hindu widow—Attestation of deed by reversioners—Effect—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 20 M. 269.

—of deed, if amounts to consent—Consent of reversioner—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 13 C.W.N. 931=3 Ind. Cas. 415.

—Hindu Law—Alienation by widow for necessity—Reversioner's consent and—Suit by reversioner for declaration that sale does not affect his rights—Estoppel—Evidence Act, 1872, s. 115—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, A.W.N. 1898, 294.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, A.W.N. 1899, 218.

—Attorney—Striking an attorney off the rolls—Falsehood in a deed—of the deed by an attorney—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY, 10 W.R. 43, P.C. =1 B.L.R. P.C. 55.

—to a written will by a Cutchi memon is not necessary—See MAHOMEDHN LAW—CUTCHI MEMONS, 7 Bom. L.R. 553.

—Joint Hindu family—Of sale-deed by father—Son's right of pre-emption—See PRE-EMPTION—LOSS OF RIGHT TO PRE-EMPT BY WAIVER, ETC., 1 O.C. 252.

See SCRIBE, 5 C.W.N. 454.

—Writer's statement in document as written by him, whether sufficient attestation—See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 3 (4), cl. (b), 17 A. 211, F.B.=A.W.N. 1895, 61.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, Sch. I, art. 11, 8 M. 87, F.B.

—Copy of document, filed with plaint—By Court or its officer—Stamp duty not leviable—See STAMP ACT, 1879, art. 22, 15 B. 687.

—Co-executant if may attest execution by other—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 58, 14 C.W.N. 1046=7 Ind. Cas. 735.

—of mortgage-deed before execution by mortgagor—Effect of such—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 58, 59, 100, 9 C.W.N. 697=32 C. 729.

—A document to operate as a valid mortgage ought to be attested by at least two witnesses—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 58, 59, 100, 9 C.W.N. 1001.

—effect of, to a deed of mortgage—Witnesses should attest the mortgage-deed in the presence of the mortgagor after having received from him a personal acknowledgment of his signature—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 4 Bom. L.R. 869=27 B. 91.

—of mortgagor's signature—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, A.W.N. 1896, 89.

Attestation—concluded.

—Evidence relating to—Of mortgage-deed—Burden of proof—Applicability of maxim omnia rite esse acta—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 2 N.L.R. 10.

—should be by two independent witnesses—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 10 Bom. L.R. 943=33 B. 44.

—Absence of, from a mortgage-deed does not convert a mortgage into a charge—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 7 Bom. L.R. 934.

—Mortgage-deed—Necessity for attestation by witnesses of execution—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 14 C.P.L.R. 42.

—What is the meaning of—and how is it to be effected—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 4 C.L.J. 41=33 C. 861.

—of zurpeshgi patta executed by pardanashin lady—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 13 C.W.N. 40=3 Ind. Cas. 309.

—by marksman by means of his mark—Sufficiency of—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 1 N.L.R. 14.

—of mortgage-deed, when valid—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 3 M.L.T. 300=18 M.L J. 219=31 M. 215.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 26 A. 69=A.W.N. 1903, 201.

—Instrument not attested as required by s. 59, Transfer of Property Act—Effect—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 59, 100, 31 M. 337.

—Forged attestation, effect of—See WILL—ATTESTATION, 7 M. 302.

See WILL—REVOCATION, 27 P.R. 1883.

Attesting Witness.

See ATTESTATION.

(1)—An attesting witness is a witness who has seen the deed executed and who signs it as a witness. RANU v. LAXMANRAO, 10 Bom. L.R. 943=33 B. 44.

See DEED — EXECUTION OF DEEDS, 20 A. 532=A.W.N. 1898, 148.

See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, 138 P.R. 1889.

—Witness—Scribe of a deed—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, A.W.N. 1897, 146.

—Proof of execution of mortgage-deed—Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, ss 70, 114—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 7 C.W.N. 384.

Attetpa Property.

See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE, 1 L.B.R. 93.

Attorney.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY.

Attorney and Client.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY AND CLIENT.

Attornment.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

(1)—Mortgage—Redemption—Notice of attornment to tenants—Registration—Evidence.—Where on the redemption of a mortgage, the mortgagee executed a document which purported to be a notice of attornment to the cultivating tenants of the lands redeemed: Held that the document, though unregistered, would be admissible in evidence for its own proper purpose of proving the attornment, though not for the purpose of proving that the mortgage charge was satisfied. ANTAJI v. DATTAJI, 19 B. 36.

—by tenant for number of years to person other than registered proprietor—Right of registered proprietor to compel tenant to accept pattah and execute muchilika—See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, ss. 1, 3, 7 M L.J. 243.

See ESTOPPEL—DENIAL OF TITLE, 3 N.W.P. 153.

—Tenant attorning to mortgagee—Suit for rent against son of tenant—Liability of son on father's tenancy until notice of surrender to landlord—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ABANDONMENT, ETC. OF TENURE, 8 B. 164.

Auction Purchaser.

See SALE.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

(1)—First and second mortgages—Sales in execution of decrees enforcing mortgages—Priority between auction-purchasers—Of two auction-purchasers, purchasing the same property, sold simultaneously in execution of two mortgage-decrees, the one, who purchases in execution of the decree enforcing the earlier mortgage, has a prior right to possession over the other. JANKI DAS v. BADRINATH, 2 A. 698.

(2)—Right to avoid under-tenure—Test—Act XI of 1859, s. 37.—An auction-purchaser's title to avoid an under-tenure and eject a tenant depends on whether the tenure is protected under s. 37, Act XI of 1859, and whether the tenant has a right of occupancy. SHEO PURSHUN SINGH v. MAHARAJA RAJENDRO KISHORE SINGH, 12 W.R. 123.

(3)—Purchaser at sale by Court—Same status as judgment-debtor's—Plea of limitation against judgment-debtor applies against purchaser also—Prescriptive title not established by plaintiff—Effect.—As a purchaser at an auction sale held by a Court only acquires the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor in the property sold, a plea of limitation that would be good against the judgment-debtor is good also against the purchaser. When a person fails to establish a prescriptive title in a suit in which he is plaintiff, it does not follow that the defendant is entitled to recover the subject-matter of such suit in an action brought by him. SHRIDHAR VINAYAK v. BABAJI bin JIVAJI, 6 B. H.C.A.C. 220.

Auction Purchaser—continued.

(4)—Priority between—Certificate of sale.—As between competing auction-purchasers the principles which govern preference are the same as those which regulate the claims of priority among mortgagees. Independently of any preference secured by reason of registration or possession, the purchaser must redeem all charges created before the sale. He must be held to have made his bid with full knowledge that the property was burdened with debts and he can only claim possession by paying off those debts. His certificate of sale confers on him no right to require the latter mortgagees or those purchasing under them as auction-purchasers to return back the money he paid either personally or out of the property. BAIJANATH v. BHIMAPPA, 3 Bom. L.R. 92.

(5)—Priority of, over previous unregistered mortgage.—A purchaser in possession under a registered sale-deed has priority over a person who claims under a prior unregistered mortgage unaccompanied by possession of which the purchaser had no notice. KARBASAPPA v. DHARMAPPA, 2 Bom. L.R. 223.

(6)—Estoppel--Purchase at Court auction of defendant's properties—Genuineness of documents—Whether purchaser bound by findings of Court as to genuineness of documents in a suit to which the defendant, and not purchaser, was a party.—The purchaser in Court auction of defendant's interest in certain properties is not bound by findings of Court as to genuineness of documents, in a suit to which the defendant, but not the purchaser, was a party. In re PALAMPADIYAN NEDUNKULATHIL KUNHIMAMMU, 8 Ind. Cas. 846=9 M.L.T. 207. (6 B. 193, D.)

(7)—Rent for the period between the dates of sale and its confirmation.—An auction-purchaser is not entitled to the rent accruing due between the auction-sale and the confirmation of that sale. LALLA JUGGILAL v. HUKUM CHAND, 9 Ind. Cas. 25. (24 A. 475, A.W.N. 1902, 145, 7 Ind. Cas. 65, 2 C.W.N. 589, R. & F.)

(8)—Rights of auction-purchaser under Act I of 1845—Modification by s. 1 of Act X of 1859.—The rights which an auction-purchaser has under Act I of 1845 are modified by s. 1 of Act X of 1859. RAJEMONEE DOSSEE v. GOLUCK CHUNDER SIRCAR, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 102.

—Accretion—Right of—at revenue sale—See ALLUVION—GENERAL, 8 C.W.N. 676.

—being also decree-holder, whether party within meaning of s. 244, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 7 C.L.J. 436.

—Sale not set aside—Auction-purchaser's right to recover possession by suit—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 90, 6 A.L.J. 799=6 M.L.T. 99=3 Ind. Cas. 24=31 A. 599.

—Right to sue for possession—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 95, 5 A.L.J. 20=A.W.N. 1908, 12=30 A. 72.

Auction Purchaser—concluded.

—Position of, as regards recovery of possession of property purchased by him—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, rr. 95, 96, 6 A.L.J. 71, F.B.=5 M.L.T. 185=31 A. 82=1 Ind. Cas. 416.

—at Court-sale of attached property, whether bound by estoppels binding on judgment-debtor—Rights—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 66, 70, 11 Bom. L.R. 26=5 M.L.T. 228=33 B. 311=1 Ind. Cas. 106.

—Title of, when accrues—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 92, 94, s. 65. 7 C.L.J. 1.

—Priority between — See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 2 Bom. L.R. 30.

—Sale certificate—Rate of rent—Estoppel—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, 10 C.L.J. 605=4 Ind. Cas. 739.

—Rights of—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 L.B.R. 22.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 10, 15 C. 703.

—Lis pendens—Applicability to — See LIS PENDENS, 15 C. 94.

—Right acquired by, before confirmation of sale, nature of — See PRE-EMPTION—GENERAL. 10 O.C. 273.

—Right of, to prove what passed by sale—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 9 C.L.J. 346=1 Ind. Cas. 62.

Auction-sale.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

See SALE.

(1)—Court auction—Withdrawing from bid.—A bidding at an auction is a mere offer which may be retracted before the hammer is down. In the absence of any law or rule to the contrary, this rule applies to Court auction also. AGRA BANK v. HAMLIN, 14 M. 235.

(2)—Agreement between person not to bid at a sale by.—An agreement between persons not to bid at an auction-sale under the execution of a decree is no ground for setting aside the sale or even for opening the biddings. Where persons act in concert at an auction-sale in such a way as to prevent the best price being obtained, the auction does not amount to fraud, nor is it an irregularity contemplated by s. 311, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. MAHOMED v. SAVVASI, 2 Bom. L.R. 640.

(3)—Combination of bidders—Cause of action—Pleadings—Fraud—Specific allegations, want of.—Allegations of fraud must be specifically pleaded, general allegations, however strong may be the words, being insufficient to amount to an averment of fraud, of which any Court ought to take notice. (15 C. 533, F.) The fact that a combination amongst bidders at an auction sale has been formed to bid at the auction, does not, of itself, give rise to an action at the suit of the vendor. LALA JYOTIPRAKAS NANDE v JOHWMULLI JOHURY, 13 C.W.N. 87=36 C. 134=1 Ind. Cas. 784. (6 C.L.J. 111, R.)

Auction-sale—continued.

(4)—Auction sale—Payment of purchase-money—Rent of the property sold—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 54, 55.—One of the conditions of sale at an auction provided that "upon payment of the purchase-money in manner aforesaid the purchaser shall be entitled to the rents and profits—from the day of such payment." Held, on a construction of the above clause, that the words "the day of such payment" meant the day of actual payment and not the stipulated day of payment. Held, further, that there was no suggestion of wilful delay, want of good faith, nor negligence or other misconduct disentitling the vendor to the interest clearly payable to him under the conditions, and that at the same time there was nothing in the conditions which deprived him of the rents and profits to which, under the Transfer of Property Act, he was entitled until the Transfer of ownership. Semble:—It would be well that conditions of sale should be so framed so as to avoid the inequitable consequence of a vendor being entitled both to the rents of the property and interest on the unpaid purchase-money. EMPRESS S. & W. CO. v. ATHAIDES, 7 Bom L. R. 845.

(5)—Property purchased at an auction authorized by Court—Payment of the purchase-money—Possession taken by the purchaser—Re-sale, order of—Certificate of sale.—Subsequent to a partition suit, all the parties to it applied on the 12th December, 1895, to the Civil Court at Poona that a certain property of theirs called "Woodlands" be sold by an auctioneer at an early date and the proceeds deposited in Court, as the property was going out of repairs. The Court granted the application and ordered an auctioneer to sell the house by auction and deposit the purchase-money with the Nazir of the Court. Conditions of sale were specially framed, some of which were, that the purchaser should deposit with the auctioneer 25 per cent. of the purchase-money, that the balance should be paid to the auctioneer within 15 days of the date of sale that the purchaser might require the certificate of sale within 15 days of the date of sale, and that on payment of the purchase-money the purchaser would be entitled to possession and to a conveyance executed by all the parties. The auctioneer advertised the property for sale, and on the 6th February, 1896, the auctioneer reported to the Court that on the 3rd February, 1896, the last day of the sale, "Woodlands" was purchased by Pirozsha (applicant), who had deposited Rs. 2,000 and signed an agreement to pay the balance and complete the sale within 15 days. The auctioneer, therefore, prayed that certificate of sale be granted to the applicant. On the 22nd February, 1896, Pirozsha sent to the pleader, mentioned in the conditions of sale, a cheque for the balance of the purchase-money with instructions not to pay the money till the conveyance was executed. The pleader gave the cheque to the auctioneer, asking him not to cash it at once. The pleader then took steps for the preparation of the conveyance, which was finally approved of by the parties. The auctioneer kept the cheque to himself; but he finally cashed it and deposited the sum in the Bank of Bombay. In the meanwhile, Pirozsha obtained possession of "Woodlands," repaired it and let it for the hot season to a tenant. He then pulled down "Woodlands" and built on its site one or two new houses at a very large expenditure. On the 1st March, 1898, Framji, one of the parties in the partition-suit, applies to the Court reciting the sale effected by the auctioneer, that the purchase-money was not paid according to the conditions of sale nor was the sale confirmed by the Court, that the purchaser did not pay the money in time nor did he obtain a conveyance, and prayed that the whole transaction be declared useless and a division of the whole property be made. The Subordinate Judge held that as the balance of the purchase-money was not paid within 15 days, there had been no valid sale, and also that the possession of the property was not given to the purchaser. He, therefore, ordered the property to be resold: Held, (1) that in fact the purchaser did obtain possession and that Framji was aware that the purchaser being in possession had spent large sums of money on building one or two new houses; and as the condition of sale was that "upon payment of the purchase-money the purchaser shall be entitled to possession" the point of possession being given was of no weight; (2) that the purchaser cannot be regarded as a trespasser; because he did pay the whole purchase-money to the auctioneer, to whom according to the conditions of sale he was to pay it; (3) that the order of re-sale passed by the Subordinate Judge should be reversed and the certificate of sale should be granted to the purchaser. PIROZSHA v. JEEVANBAI, 1 Bom. L.R. 446.

Auction-sale—continued.

(6)—Transfer of Property Act, s. 54—Rights and liabilities of bidder and auctioneer.—So far as the rights and liabilities of vendor and purchaser are concerned, an auction-sale of immoveable property is not different from a contract of sale under the Transfer of Property Act. As soon as the auctioneer, acting as the agent of the vendor, lets the hammer fall and thus accepts the bid of the purchaser, a contract of sale is created. It does not create of itself any interest in or charge on such property. The vendor becomes a trustee for the purchaser of the estate and the vendee acquires a right in personam against the vendor, not a right in rem affecting or binding the property of third parties. But the legal estate in the property passes only after the execution of a deed of conveyance and if the property is injured before such execution, the purchaser takes the risk. BUDU SINGH v. HARDIAL SINGH; 52 P.R. 1897. [R., 45 P.R. 1902=42 P.L.R. 1902; Cited, 45 P.R. 1902=42 P.L.R. 1902.]

—Auction-purchaser how far a representative of decree-holder or judgment-debtor—Mortgage decree or money-decree—Party to suit or stranger as purchaser—Difference—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 8 Ind. Cas. 429.

Auction-sale—concluded.

—when complete—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908. O. XVI, r. 12, 7 Ind. Cas. 100=7 A.L. J. 1152.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 71, 77, 84, 86, 7 C. 337=9 C.L R. 23.

--Execution—Auction-sale of equity of redemption—Representation by auctioneer—Purchase under misapprehension induced by such representation — Duty of Court — See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 19, 6 A.L.J. 34, P.C. = 13 C.W.N. 249=5 M.L.T. 126=9 C.L.J. 165= 11 Bom. L.R. 227=36 C. 323=19 M.L.J. 115 =5 L.B.R. 25=1 Ind. Cas. 122=36 I.A. 32.

—Guardian, purchase by, of property at auction—Sale in execution of decree against minor —Trustee purchasing trust property at auction-sale without permission of Court—Trusts Act, 1882, ss. 53, 88—See GUARDIAN — MISCELLANEOUS, 6 O.C. 252.

—Auction-purchaser obtains no guarantee of title—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 134, 7 Ind. Cas. 570.

—Date of auction-sale under art. 166, Limitation Act—What date meant—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 166, 1 P.W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 12.

—Conditions of sale at an, should be circulated among the intending purchasers—See MORTGAGE—SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY, 6 Bom. L R. 557.

—Suit for possession on basis of purchase in Court-auction—Limitation—See POSSESSION —ADVERSE POSSESSION, 9 Ind. Cas. 271= 9 M.L.T. 359.

See SALE—SALE BY AUCTION, 16 C. 702.

—Agreement not to bid against one another, nature and effect of—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 6 C.L. J. 111.

—Title of purchaser at—when commences—Liability to pay Government revenue—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 C. 141, F.B.

Auditor.

—Auditor of the company—Damages for misfeasance or neglect, when officer can be held liable for—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 36, 18 A. 12=A.W.N. 1895, 136.

Aulad.

See WILL—CONSTRUCTION, 114 P.R. 1900.

Aulad Dukhtari.

See HINDU LAW—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 O.C. 132.

Aulad Pisari.

See HINDU LAW — MISCELLANEOUS, 6 O.C. 132.

Authorised Agent.

—Appeal in forma pauperis—Presentation of appeal by authorised agent and not by advocate, vakil, attorney or suitor—Appellant a pardanashin woman—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT—N.W.P. 1865, s. 8, 24 A. 172 =A.W.N. 1901, 203.

Authorised Agent—concluded.

Authorities, Local—Loan (Amendment).

See ACT V OF 1907.

Ava.

—Kingdom—if territory of Native prince or state—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXVI, rr. 5, 7, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 73=10 W.R. 385.

Average.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 30 (a), 21 C. 986.

Award.

See APPEAL—ARBITRATION.

See ARBITRATION.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, sch. II.

(1)—Award, construction of.—The principles which would apply in the construction of an award settled by counsel or a solicitor in England, should not be applied in construing an award drawn up by an unprofessional arbitrator in India. The construction of the award should be in accordance with what may reasonably be supposed under the circumstances of the case to have been the intentions of the arbitrator. ABDUL MAJID KHAN v. KADRI BEGAM, 20 A. 245=A.W.N. 1898, 34.

(2)—Arbitration awards—Effect of award—Signature of award by parties.—Held that the parties having signed the award of arbitration must be bound by that until it is legally set aside and, until it is set aside a suit to enforce rights irrespective of the award is not maintainable. GOLAM ALI KHAN v. IMAM ALI KHAN, 2 Agra 224.

(3)—Arbitration—Award—Mutuality of obligation of parties.—A person, who has not consented to be bound by the terms of an award, cannot be bound by it and cannot claim any benefit under it. HIRA SINGH v. GANGA SAHAI, 6 A. 322, P.C.=11 I.A. 20. (On appeal from 2 A. 809.) [R., 12 A. 1, F.B., 10 C.L.J. 41.]

(4)—Boundary dispute—Arbitration—Award —Ambiguity—Acceptance.—A dispute arose between two adjoining proprietors as to the boundary of two estates; thereupon both the proprietors joined in a petition to the Settlement Officer to appoint arbitrators for the purpose of settling the boundary between the estates. In pursuance of this request, the Settlement Officer appointed arbitrators who made an award in which they said: "Having in the presence of karpurdazes of both the parties, taken down the depositions of the witnesses of both parties on the disputed locality, and made investigation and inquiry on the spot, and having observed the aspect of the place, we have ascertained as follows."

Award—continued.

They then proceed to lay down the boundaries thus:—"Going along west from the high peak of Sathoo Pahar which is on the south of Lufshapara, one comes to a gurh called Rajgurh. On the south of it is Doobiadihi, in Mahomedabad. On the north of that gurh is Kolarkoonda, in Belputta. On the west of it is Perma hill, on the east, south and west is Mahomedabad. On the south is Belputta." At the end of the award, there was this statement: "Decision of the arbitrators confirmed," dated and signed by the Deputy Collector. Upon the award being made, both the parties petitioned the Settlement Officer to lay down solid brick pillars along the line settled by the arbitrators, in order that the boundary should remain a perpetual record of their rights. The Settlement Officer, without complying with this request, made the following order:—"That, if the petitioners construct the pillars themselves, there will be no likelihood of objection hereafter. It is not necessary for the Court to pass any order in this matter." Held, (a) that both the parties had accepted and adopted the award; (b) that the arbitration was intended by both parties not merely to determine possession at the time, but to determine the right to the land between the parties and that the effect of the award was the same; and (c) that there was no such patent ambiguity on the face of the award that it cannot be enforced. RAMRUNJUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAMPROSAD DASS, 13 C.L.R. 26, P.C.

(5)—Award, execution of decree based on—Civ Pro Code (Act X of 1877), s. 526—Limitation—Inapplicability of art. 178 of the Limitation Act—Before effect can be given to an award by execution proceedings, there must have been a judgment according to the award and a decree following theron. Also, the judgment-debtor against whom an order for execution has been obtained behind his back is not precluded from contending that there existed no decree which would be executed. Held also that, under the Codes of Civil Procedure, both of 1859 and of 1877, it is the duty of the Court to pass judgment on an award filed in Court, and it is not necessary for the Court to be set in motion, in order to do so. Consequently, such an application when made to the Court is not subject to the limitation prescribed by art. 178 or any other provision of the Limitation Act. ISHWARDAS JAGJIWANDAS v. DOSIBAI, 7 B. 316. [F., 30 B. 415=8 Bom. L. R. 218; R., 7 B. 341; D., 1 Bom. L.R. 84.]

(6)—Award of arbitrators, maintenance granted in perpetuity under—Award, whether could be given effect to as a decree.—The arbitrators who passed the award in this case had recognized the right of the grantees to maintenance and decided that their allowance should be increased because their family having become large, their allowance, which had from time to time varied, had become insufficient. It was sought to enforce this award as a decree, but it was held that that could not be done, since no Court could pass a decree fixing a grant of maintenance in perpetity. Also, the allowance could not have been intended by the arbitrators to continue beyond the lifetime of the parties, and, all such parties being dead, the award could no longer be given effect to. An allowance fixed by a decree as maintenance is ordinarily liable to be varied, if circumstances be established which render it equitable to so vary the amount. MADHAVRAV DESHPANDE v. RAMRAV DESHPANDE, 7 B. 151.

Award—continued.

(7)—Arbitration—Refusal of arbitrator to act—Arbitrator's presence at meetings—Award of remaining arbitrators, whether legal—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 510.—The presence of all the arbitrators at all meetings, and above all, at the last meeting, when the final act of arbitration is done, is essential to the validity of the award passed by them. When one of the arbitrators refuses to act, the only course open to the Court is to appoint a new arbitrator, or supersede the arbitration altogether and proceed with the case. An award passed by the remaining arbitrators would be invalid, and the Court cannot pass a decree in accordance therewith. NAND RAM v. FAKIRCHAND, 7 A. 523=A.W.N. 1885, 139. (6 W.R. 95, 6 A. 468, R.) [F., 1 O.C. 181; Appr., 12 M. 113.]

(8)—Arbitration awards—Ground for setting aside award—Delay in returning plea of jurisdiction or limitation.—An award made by the consent of the parties cannot be set aside merely by reason of its having been sent in a week later than the date appointed when such delay is not owing to misconduct or corruption. When an award has been made, no plea of jurisdiction or limitation can be raised before the Court, which is to pass its decree according to the award. AMMEN CHUND v. MENDHOO KHAN, 1 Agra Rev. 53.

(9)—Partnership—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Power of Court in which award is filed—Act VIII of 1859, s. 326.—Where the partners of a firm in their partnership-deed agreed to refer their disputes to arbitration, and the reference made in pursuance of this agreement gave the arbitrators a power to make partition, but omitted a power to sell, held, on the award being made a rule of Court, that the Court had no power, under s. 326 of Act VIII of 1859, to order the sale of certain property of which the arbitrators were unable to make partition, and the sale of which they recommended on that ground. CHUMIMONY DOSSEE v. NISTARINEE DOSSEE, 3 C.L.R. 357.

(10)—Arbitration award—Partition—Right of way—Easement of necessity.—Where the house and lands of a joint Hindu family were partitioned by the Court according to an award made by an arbitrator to whom the parties had agreed to refer the matter, held, in a subsequent suit, that the Court could not go behind the award and allow one of the members of the family to claim a right of way from the family house to a public road, through the lands allotted by the award to another member, such right of way not having been granted by the award, and there being no such right of way of necessity. GOPAL CHUNDER ROY v. BROJENDRO COOMAR ROY, 3 C.L.R. 338.

Award—continued.

(11)—Application to set aside award—Extension of time for applying to set aside award—Civ Pro Code, 1859, s. 324.—In an application to set aside an order made by a Judge in chambers, extending the time (of ten days) for making an application under s. 324, Act VIII of 1859 to set aside an award on the ground of misconduct of one of the arbitrators and of the umpire :—Held that the words of the section being in their ordinary import obligatory, and there being nothing in the other parts of the Code to show that such construction was at variance with the intention of Legislature, and a similar provision having been held by the Courts in England to be imperative, that the application to set aside the award must be made within the ten days, provided the Court be then sitting, and, if not, on the first day of its sitting after that time, and that there is no power to enlarge the time to make such application. EDALJI SHAPORJI v. TULSIDAS SUNDERDAS, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 234=2 B.H.C. 285, 2nd Ed., 270.

(12)—Fraud.—To set aside an award, there must have been some fraudulent suppression of evidence or other mal-practice of the successful party, which should be definitely stated in the plaint. HUR CHURN DASS v. HAZAREE MUL, 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 12.

(13)—Setting aside award for inconsistency.—An award given by arbitrators can be set aside for corruption or partiality, but not on the ground of inconsistency. DEBRAJ ROY v. KARTICK CHUNDER SIRCAR, W.R. 1864, 183.

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 322, 323, 324.—Where by the terms of a reference to arbitration all matters in difference are referred to the arbitrator, the Court will not modify (s. 322) remit (s. 323), or set aside (s. 324) the award, on the ground that the arbitrator in his discretion has awarded damages to the plaintiff, and at the same time make him pay all the costs, when it is not shown that he exercised the discretion given him improperly. MOHENDRANATH BOSE v. NUSSEE MANGEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 224.

(15)—Arbitration—Refusal to affirm awar ground for—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859 ss. 325, 327.—The refusal to affirm an award, in a suit referred to arbitration, under the Code of 1859, amounts to a judgment upon the whole subject-matter of the suit ; and, so, an appeal lies therefrom. The reference having been made in a suit, there is no means of enforcing the award, if it were not confirmed. [Diss., 11 C. 172 ; R., 11 A. 375, 11 A. 377, Note.] The improper reception in evidence, by arbitrators, of a document not legally admissible, is not in itself a sufficient ground for refusing to confirm the award of arbitrators. HOWARD v. WILSON, 4 C. 231=2 C.L.R. 488.

N.B—B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 505=6 W.R. Mis. 83, distinguished on the ground that, there, the application to confirm the award was made in a case referred (not in a suit, as in 4 C. 231, but) by agreement of parties.

Award—continued.

(16)—Ss. 521, 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Judgment on award—Appeal—Appointment of arbitrator—Award when not binding on defendant.—An appeal lies against a decree passed in terms of an award, when the award is not valid and legal. (9 C. 905, 11 C. 37, 16 C. 482, 6 A. 174, 15 M. 348, R.) [Overruled, 29 C. 157, P.C.=6 C.W.N. 226=29 I.A. 51 ; F., 25 C. 757, F.B., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 290, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 14; R., 84 P.R. 1901 =112 P.L.R. 1901, 5 O.C. 13, 2 L.B.R. 105, 29 B. 285, 6 Bom. L.R. 1132, 10 C.W.N. 601 =2 C.L.J. 153, 33 C. 493.] In cases of arbitration where a person is appointed by two parties to exercise judicial duties, there should be uberrima fides on the part of all the parties concerned, in relation to his selection and appointment, and every disclosure, which might in the least affect the minds of those who are proposing to submit their dispute to the arbitrament of any particular individual, as regards his selection and fitness for the post, ought to be made, so that each party may have every opportunity of considering whether the reference to arbitration to that particular individual should or should not be made. When the arbitrator is the retained pleader of the plaintiff, and when there is no disclosure of that fact before the appointment of the arbitrator, to the defendant who goes to arbitration consequently in ignorance of that fact, the award is not valid and binding on the defendant. KALI PROSONNO GHOSE v. RAJANI KANT CHATTERJEE, 25 C. 141. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 13, 29 C. 278]

(17)—Appeal—Jurisdiction of District Judge.—Jurisdiction of a District Judge in respect of an appeal from the finding of the first Court on the question of misconduct by arbitrators. RAM YAD SINGH v. NIRANJUN KOOER, 22 W.R. 420.

(18)—One of the arbitrators not being present.—Where one of the arbitrators was never present during the course of the arbitration, and only signed the award after completion, the Moonsiff was held to be justified in setting aside the award under Act VIII of 1859, s. 324, and the ruling of the High Court at 8 W.R. p. 171. RAM GUTTEE MUNDUL v. THAKOOR DOSS MUNDUL, 22 W.R. 418.

(19)—Arbitration — Setting aside award—Surmise—Revocation of reference—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 508.—An award can be set aside only on the ground of corruption or misconduct on the part of the arbitrator, and not on the mere suspicion that he was partial. Where the parties have agreed to arbitration, and an order of reference has been made by the Court under s. 508, Civ. Pro. Code, neither of the parties could arbitrarily, and without proper reasons, withdraw from the agreement. NAINSUKH RAI v. UMADAI, 7 A. 273=A.W.N. 1885, 12. (12 M. I.A. 190, F.) [F., 10 A. 8 ; D., 9 A. 253.]

Award- continued.

(20) — Arbitration-award—Appeal — High Courts powers of revision.—A judgment passed by a Munsiff in accordance with an arbitration-award is not subject to an appeal to the Judge. A judgment of a Judge reversing a judgment of the lower Court passed in accordance with an arbitration-award was accordingly set aside by the High Court, under its extraordinary powers of revision under the Charter Act, as passed without jurisdiction. In the matter of the petition of SHEIK ILAHI BAX, 5 B.L.R. App. 75 = 14 W.R. 33. [R., 18 A. 422.]

(21)—Civ Pro. Code, ss. 514, 521, 522—Decree in terms of award—Appeal—Extension of time for presenting award—Evidence—Objection to award.—S. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure pre-supposes, the existence of an award as the basis of the decree, and it cannot apply to a case, in which there has been no award in law or in fact. [F., 2 N.L.R. 81; R., 18 M. 423, F. B., 20 B. 596, 25 C 757, F.B., 5 O.C. 13; D., 17 B. 357.] An order made by a Court, upon an application for an extension of time presented within time, is not bad in law by reason of its being made after the expiry of the term which it purported to extend. [Expl, 15 M. 384.] It is not a valid objection to an award that the arbitrators have not acted in strict conformity to the rules of evidence. SUPPU v. GOVINDACHARYAR, 11 M. 83. [R., 9 Bom. L.R. 757, P.C. = 6 C.L.J. 13 = 11 C.W.N. 841.]

(22)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 521—Absence of one of the arbitrators, effect of, on award.—The presence of all the arbitrators at all the meetings being essential to the validity of the award, where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct, one of them in absenting himself from the meetings and the others in examining witnesses in his absence, the award was held liable to be set aside as invalid. THAMMIRAJU v. BAPIRAJU, 12 M. 113 [R., 1 O.C. 181, U.B.R, 1897—1901, Vol. II, 14.]

(23)—Arbitration—Misconduct of arbitrators—Award, ground for setting aside—Where the arbitrators held their first meeting without giving notice to the defendant, and sent a notice on that day that the next meeting would be held the next day, whereupon the defendant's attorney protested and asked the arbitrators not to proceed, as he intended to make an application to the Court to set aside the reference, and without answering the letter of protest and without taking any notice of it, the arbitrators made their final award, held, the arbitrators did not give the defendant a fair and reasonable opportunity of being heard, and were guilty of such misconduct as was sufficient to vitiate the award. [F., 29 C. 278.] Semble.—The ex parte meeting was alone sufficient to warrant the Court in setting aside the award. SM. TOOLSIMONY DASSEE v. SM. SUDENI DASSEE, 3 C.W.N. 361.

(24)— Arbitrator taking evidence in the absence of opposite side—Misconduct-Validity of award—Setting aside of award—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 521.—It is a well-established principle of law that an arbitrator ought not to hear or receive evidence from one side in the absence of the other side, without, if he does, giving the side affected by such evidence the opportunity of meeting and answering it. This proposition is subject to this qualification that the parties may agree that a reference may be conducted in any particular way, and such an agreement may be either express or implied from their conduct during the arbitration; and they may also expressly or by conduct, waive their objection to an irregular course of conduct on the part of the arbitrator. CURSETJI JEHANGIR KHAMBATTA v. W. CROWDER, 18 B. 299. [R., 73 P.W.R. 1910.]

Award—continued.

(25)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 508, 521, 514—Duty of Court directing reference to fix a date for delivery of award—Effect of failure.—The rule laid down in s. 508 that a Court, directing an arbitration by its order of reference, shall fix a time for the delivery of the award, should be regarded as not mandatory but directory only. It amounts to no more than the imposition of a public duty on the presiding officer of a Court of justice, and any neglect of it, through mistake or error on his part, could not, under the last clause of s. 521, affect the substantiality of the proceedings of the arbitrators or their award. [F., 18 M. 22.] Under s. 514, the Court, of its own motion or on the application of the parties, may extend the time for making the award, even after the time fixed therefor has expired. HAR NARAIN SINGH v. BHAGWANT KUAR, 10 A. 137 = A.W.N. 1887, 28 [Doubted, 2 N.L.R. 81.]

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 508, 516—Arbitration—Omission to fix time for making of award—Signatures of arbitrators.—An award is not invalid merely because no time was fixed for the making of the award. S. 508 of the Civ. Pro. Code is only directory and not mandatory. (10 A. 137, F.) If all the arbitrators agree to an award, they need not sign it in the presence of each other. MUTHUKUTTI NAYAKAN v. ACHA NAYAKAN, 18 M. 22.

(27)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 514 — Award—Extension of time.—When a suit has been referred to an arbitrator, and the arbitrator fails to make the award within the appointed time, a subsequent extension of time at the request of the parties is not illegal, and the award of the arbitrator made after enlargement of time and within the time so enlarged is not invalid. LAKSHMI NARASIMHAM v. SOMASUNDARAM, 15 M. 384 = 2 M.L.J. 45. [F., 2 N.L.R. 81; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 24.]

(28)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 514—Extension of time for making award on arbitration, power of Court to grant.—Under s. 514 of the Civ. Pro. Code, a Court has power from time to time to extend the time for making an award. Such power may be exercised by the Judge at any time before the award is actually made, and whether before or after the expiry of the time previously limited for making the award.

Award—continued.

RAM MANOHAR MISAR v. LAL BIHARI MISR, 14 A 343=A.W.N. 1892, 18. (18 I.A. 55=13 A. 300, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 24, 2 N.L.R. 81.]

(29)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 508, 521—Delivery after time fixed—Validity of award.—At the instance of both parties, a suit was referred to arbitration. The arbitrator made and completed the award within the time fixed, but did not file it in Court until two days after the time specified in the order for the purpose. Held, that the award was valid. The word "delivery" in s. 508 of the Code was used in the sense of making the award and not in that of filing it in Court. Under s. 521, it was not the filing of an award beyond the time fixed that invalidated it, but the omission to make the award within the period allowed. ARUMUGAM CHETTI v. ARUNACHALAM CHETEI, 22 M. 22=8 M.L J. 287. [F., 27 A. 459=2 A. L J. 201=A.W.N. 1905, 47, 89 P.R. 1907; Rel. on, 8 C.W.N. 916; R., 26 A. 105.]

(30)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 315, 318—Award—Time for sending in award.—It is necessary that a time should be fixed in the order of reference for the making of the award. Where, no time is fixed for sending the award in the order of the Court referring a case to arbitration, the award itself falls to the ground. GANGAGOBINDA v. KALIPRASANNA NAIK, 1 B L R.S.N. 18 (b)=10 W.R 206.

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 315—Time for delivery of award not fixed—Validity of award.—Where the lower appellate Court omitted, in its order referring the case to arbitration, to fix a time for the delivery of the award, as directed by s. 315 of Act VIII of 1859, but both the parties permitted the reference to proceed and took part in the proceedings, without making any objection until after the award was delivered, and when the omission in the order of reference could work no injury to either party, the High Court saw no reason why the omission should be held to avoid the award. MUBARIK ALI v. KADIR BAKSH, 7 N W.P. 351

(32)—Order of appellate Court remitting case to original Court to pass decree upon award of arbitrator—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss 2, 582—Award filed out of time, validity of—Power of appellate Court to refer to arbitration.—Where an appellate Court passed an order directing a case, which had been referred to arbitration by the original Court, while the case was pending on the file of such appellate Court, to be sent back to the original Court with orders to pass a formal decree in accordance with the award of the arbitrator, held, such order amounted to a decree under s. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code, so that a second appeal would lie therefrom. Where an award was filed after the time fixed by the Court, such period not having been enlarged, held, such award was bad in law; and an order by the Court recalling the record after the expiry of the time fixed could not be taken as an indication of the enlargement of the time. [R., 13 B. 119.]

Award—continued.

Semble.—An appellate Court can refer a case to arbitration at the instance of parties under s. 582 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 3 M. 78, approved and 12 B.L.R. 266, distinguished, on the ground that it was decided under the older Codes, the corresponding sections of which were not so wide as s. 582 of the Code of 1882. BHUGWAN DASS MARWARI v. NUND LALL SEIN, 12 C. 173. [F., 18 C. 507.]

(33)—Civ. Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), s, 521, meaning of the word 'made' in—Delivery of award within fixed period.—The provisions of ss. 508 and 514 of the Code of Civil Procedure contemplate the 'delivery' of the award passed by the arbitrators on a reference made to them pending a suit. The rule, under s. 521, that no award shall be valid unless 'made' within the period fixed by the Court, must therefore be taken to require that the award must not only have been made and signed by the arbitrators, but also, must have been 'delivered' within that period. The award, in the present case, therefore, which was signed by only two out of three arbitrators within the time fixed for its delivery in a complete state, and was not filed till the day after the expiry of the limit fixed by the Court, was held to be invalid as an award not made within the fixed period. BEHARI DAS v. KALIAN DAS, 8 A. 543=A.W.N. 1886, 179. (R., 22 M. 22, 26 A. 105=A.W.N. 1903, 205, 27 A. 459=2 A.L.J. 201=A.W.N. 1905, 47; D., 13 B. 119.]

(34)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 508, 514, 521—Award invalid as not made within prescribed period, decree passed on, appeal lies from.—The provisions of ss. 508 and 514 of the Code of Civil Procedure require that there shall be an express order of the Court fixing the time for delivery of the award, or for extending or enlarging such time. The mere fact that the Court has happened to pass a decree on such an award cannot be taken as affording a presumption that an extension of time had in fact been given. The award, in the present case, was invalid, as not having been made within the time prescribed by the Court, and there was, consequently, no award for the Court, to pass a decree on. The decree passed, under the circumstances, was therefore not one made in accordance with an award, so as to preclude an appeal being preferred against it. CHUHA MAL v. HARI RAM, 8 A. 548=A W.N. 1886, 179. (6 A. 174, R.) [F., 30 A. 169=5 A.L.J. 144=A.W.N. 1908, 59; Appl., 13 A. 300=18 I. A. 55; R, 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901, 26 A. 105=A.W.N. 1903, 205, 89 P.R. 1907.]

(35)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 508, 521, 622—Award made after time allowed—Validity of.—In all cases, an award, if it is to be valid, must be made within the time allowed by the Court, unless such time has been enlarged at the request of the parties or on the Court's own motion SIMSON v. VENKATAGOPALAM, 9 M. 478. [Expl., 11 M. 85; R., 13 B. 119; D., 15 M. 384.]

Award—continued.

(36)—Matter in dispute referred to arbitration—Award made but not filed within time allowed by Court—Validity.—Where the matter in dispute was referred to arbitration by the Court, and the arbitration made but did not file the award within the time allowed by the Court, held that the award was valid, although it was not filed within the time. UMERSEY PREMJI v. SHAMJI KANJI, 13 B. 119. [F., 8 C.W.N, 916, 27 A. 459=2 A.L.J. 201=A.W.N. 1905. 47, 89 P.R. 1907 ; Appl., 22 M. 22; R., 26 A. 105.]

(37)—Award decree upon—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s 522—Arbitration—Parties not all joining in reference—Award, validity of.—The question whether, under s. 522 of the Civ. Pro Code, an appeal lies against a decree given in accordance with an award, must depend upon whether the award, upon which the decree was based, was a valid and legal award. (9 C. 905, 6 A. 174, F.) [R., 16 C. 482, 20 B. 596, 24 C. 908, F.B., 25 C. 141, 25 C. 757, 27 C. 61.] Where an objection to the validity of an award, on the ground of all the parties to the suit not having joined in the reference, was overruled, and judgment passed in accordance with the award, held, an appeal would lie from such decree dismissing the objection and confirming the award. (5 W.R. 130, 6 W.R. 25, 10 W R. 463 and 4 C L.R. 65, laying down that an award, though all the parties may not have joined in the reference, is nevertheless good, not entirely approved). The Court, however, did not differ from the above decisions in this suit, under the special circumstances of the case. JOY PROKASH LALL v. SHEO GULAM SINGH, 11 C. 37. [R., 9 C.W.N. 873.]

(38)—Award—Submission to arbitration by one of several defendants only—Validity.—When a suit was instituted for possession against A and his tenants, the plaintiff and A agreed to refer the matter to arbitration and an award was made by the arbitrators. Held that the fact of the tenants not having joined in the submission to arbitration did not vitiate the award and that, as between the plaintiff and A, the award was final. BISHOKA DASIA v. ANUNTO LALL PANI, 4 C.L.R. 65. [Doubted but F., 11 C. 37.]

(39)—Arbitration—Reference of pending suit to arbitration.—Where plaintiffs claim a 6-anna share of land belonging to a mouzah, and 262 beegahs are found to belong to that talook, and, pending the suit, all the defendants, except one O, agree to arbitration, upon which it is found that 44 beegahs more belong to the plaintiffs. Held that plaintiffs may recover as against all the defendants, including O, a 6-anna share in 262 beegahs, and as against all, except O, a 6-annas in the 44 beegahs. Quære.—What is the effect of an award arrived at in a pending suit referred to arbitration by an order of Court otherwise than by consent of all the parties? DOORGA CHURN THAKOOR v. KALLY DOSS HAZRAH, 10 W.R. 463.

Award—continued.

(40)—Appointment of arbitrators not asserted to—Judgment based on arbitration-award—Binding character of decree on non consenting parties—Number of arbitrators.—Where the appointment of arbitrators is not consented to, and the judgment proceeds on the arbitration award, the decree is not binding on the non-consenting parties. Where four arbitrators are appointed and only two act, the award is invalid. RASH BEHARY ROY v. DOORGABUR ROY, 14 W.R. 211.

(41)—Suit on accounts stated—Arbitration, Reference to—Decree varying award—Silence when decree pronounced—Validity of award.—An appeal will lie from a decree which varies an award by containing a direction for payment by instalments, which is not contained in the award. The plaintiff in the suit, which was one on accounts stated, agreed to refer to arbitration the question whether the accounts were correct or not. It was unnecessary for the arbitrators to determine whether the account stated was proved. The decree was passed on the very day the award was filed. The plaintiff was not estopped from taking objections to the award by reason of his silence when the decree was pronounced. The award was held invalid, among other reasons, because it purported to be the award of four persons, whereas the order of reference was addressed only to three. PHIRAN v. BAHORAN, 7 N.W.P. 367.

(42)—Agreement of reference to arbitration—Appeal—Reference not providing for difference between arbitrators—No difference actually—Award not bad.—Where the parties to a suit come into Court, and agreed to a reference to arbitration, the case when so settled, is not open to appeal. The mere absence of a clause in the order of reference providing for a difference of opinion between the arbitrators cannot vitiate the award where there is no such difference ; nor can an award be considered null and void on account merely of a difference of opinion. GOUR CHUNDER BHUTTACHARJEE v. SODOY CHUNDER NUNDEE, 17 W. R. 30 [F., 8 C.L.J. 475.]

(43)—Arbitration—Award by majority—Refusal of minority to act.—A decision by a majority of arbitrators, to whom the parties have agreed to refer their suit for arbitration, is not binding on them, when two of them refuse to act, and there is no provision that the decision of the majority should prevail. GURUPATHAPPA v. NARASINGAPPA, 7 M. 174. [R., 12 C.P.L.R. 112.]

(44)—Arbitration—Willingness of arbitrator—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 510.—One of the most essential principles of the law of arbitration is, that the adjudication of disputes by arbitration should be the result of the free consent of the arbitrator, to undertake the duty assigned to him. And the finality of an award is based entirely upon the principle, that the arbitrators are judges chosen by the parties themselves, and that such judges are willing to settle the disputes referred to them. So when arbitrators refuse to act, but subsequently make an award in obedience to an order of the Court directing them to proceed, their proceedings are null and void. SHIBCHARAN v. RATIRAM, 7 A. 20= A.W.N. 1884, 212.

Award—continued.

(45)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 522.—S. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, which provides that no appeal shall lie from a decree upon an award, except in so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with the award, assumes that the award has been regularly and properly arrived at by arbitrators duly appointed. PUGARDIN v. MOIDIN, 6 M. 414. [R., 15 M. 348, 74 P. R. 1894]

(46)—Finality of award—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 327=s 525 of the Code of 1882.—The circumstances that four only out of five arbitrators make an award and that they, within a short time after the award, express a doubt as to the correctness of their decision by intimating their readiness to re-consider their decision, are extremely strong and valid objections to the finality of the award tending to show that it was not a valid one. An appeal lies against a decree passed on such an award. BOONJAD MATHOOR v. NATHOO SHAHOO, 3 C. 375=1 C.L.R. 455. (8 B.L.R. 315 Cons.) [Appl. 3 A. 427; R., 7 C. 136=8 C.L.R. 505, 4 A. 283, 6 M. 414, 10 C. 74=13 C.L.R. 14, 18 A. 422, F.B.]

(47)—Judgment upon award—Appeal—Valid award, example of—A judgment upon a legal award of arbitrators is final; but where the legality of the award is in question, a judgment in accordance therewith is appealable. [Appr. 11 C. 37; R., 15 M. 348, 17 B. 357, 20 B. 596, 25 C. 141, 5 O.C. 13.] Where a reference to the arbitration of five persons authorised the absence of any two of them, and the pleaders on either side in the case, who were among the arbitrators, ceased to sit as arbitrators with the consent of the parties, but argued the matter before the other three arbitrators, held, the award made by the other three was a valid one. DEBENDRA NATH SHAW v. AUBHOY CHURN BAGCHI, 9 C. 905=12 C.L.R. 525.

(48)—Arbitration—Agreement not providing for difference of opinion—Appointment of umpire by Court—Award not concurred in by one arbitrator—Decree—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 508, 509, 511, 523.—In an agreement to refer matters to arbitration, only two arbitrators were named, and no provision was made for difference of opinion, by appointing an umpire or otherwise. An application having been made for filing it in Court, it was numbered and registered as a suit, and an order of reference was made by the Court. The arbitrators not agreeing, an umpire was appointed by the Court on the application of one of them. An award was eventually made by the umpire and one of the arbitrators, without the concurrence of the other, and submitted to the Court which passed a decree in conformity with it. Held—(a) that the decree was appealable, as there was no legal award such as the law contemplated (6 A. 174 R.) as the agreement to refer gave the Court no power to appoint an umpire, and required that the award should be made by the arbitrators named by the parties; (b) that the Court could not provide for differences of opinion between the arbitrators under the provisions of s. 509 and the other sections preceeding s. 523, Civ. Pro. Code, for these sections are applicable to cases coming under s. 523, only in so far as they are consistent with the agreement filed under that section. MUHAMMAD ABID v. MUHAMMAD ASGHAR, 8 A. 69= A. W. N. 1886, 2. [D., 8 C. L. J. 475.]

(49)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Submission to arbitration—Umpire to be selected from persons named in submission—Appointment by Court as umpire of person not named in submission—Validity.—A party to a suit submitted to arbitration the matters in dispute between himself and the other parties thereto, on the terms that an umpire should be selected from seven persons whom he named. These terms were not objected to by the other side. Arbitrators were agreed upon and one of the seven persons named in the submission, was appointed an umpire. But the umpire and some of the arbitrators declined to act. Fresh arbitrators were then chosen, but no umpire; and the arbitrators being equally divided in their opinion on the case, the Court of its own motion appointed as umpire a person not named in the submission. The party, who submitted to arbitration, objected to the appointment of the umpire, but the Judge overruled the objection and passed judgment in accordance with the umpire's award. Held that, as it was stipulated as an essential part of the submission that an umpire should be chosen from seven persons named, the power of the Court to appoint an umpire, under s. 319, Civ Pro. Code was controlled and limited by that stipulation; and that, as the umpire appointed was not one of the seven persons named in the submission, there was no valid award. C. D. BARRACHO v. A. D. SOUZA, 7 M.H.C. 72.

(50)—Arbitration—Awards—Award by umpire and one arbitrator—Refusal of arbitrator to attend.—Held that an award made by one of the arbitrators and the umpire in the absence of second arbitrator who declined to attend was not a valid award. BUSUNT RAI v. GRIDHAREE SINGH, 3 Agra 93.

(51)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 521—Power to set aside an award.—A Court has no power to set aside an award, except for some one of the causes set forth in s. 521, Civ. Pro. Code. KUPU v. VENKATARAMAYYAR, 4 M. 311.

(52)—Disagreement among arbitrators.—Partial disagreement of two arbitrators does not nullify their award as a whole. SHEIKH PONAOOLLAH v. SHEIKH ZUMEEZOODDEEN, 2 W.R. 32.

(53)—Arbitration-award—Act VIII of 1859, s. 325,—Applying the principle that every judicial act which is done by several Judges, ought to be completed in the presence of the whole of them, it may be said that an award of arbitrators to be legal must be completed and signed by each in the presence of the whole of them. An arbitration-award is not legal, if not signed by the arbitrators sitting together at one place and at the same time. In the petition of MAHARAJA SIR JAI MANGAL SINGH BAHADUR, 3 B.L.R.A.C. 82=11 W. R. 433. (9 W.R. 29, Appl.)

Award—continued.

(54)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327—Arbitration—Award.—If on a reference to arbitration, the case has been regularly heard by all the arbitrators sitting together, and an award has been drawn up and signed by them, the mere omission of the arbitrators to sign the award at the same time and in each other's presence, does not invalidate the award. BHABASUNDARI DASI v. MAKHUNLAL DEY, 8 B.L.R. 128. [R., 18 M. 22.]

(55)—Arbitration—Award—Act VIII of 1859, s. 325—Objections.—An award should be a single instrument complete in itself, signed conjointly by the arbitrators, and in the presence of each other. An arbitrator should not allow documents entrusted to him by the Court to be removed from the nathi and an award returned should be accompanied by all books, etc., pertaining to it. [Cons., 8 B.L.R. 128; Expl., 7 C. 166=8 C.L.R. 505; R., 17 C. 832. 8 B.L.R. 315=15 W.R. F.B. 9.] Under s. 325, a Judge cannot pass judgment till all objections to the award have been disposed of, or within 10 days of the submission of the award. MAHARAJA SRI JAI MANGAL SINGH v. MOHAN RAM MAWARI, 8 B.L.R. 130, Note=12 W.R. 397=8 B.L.R. 319, Note.

(56)—Arbitration—Award arrived at before withdrawal of party from submission—Fair copy of award subsequently made—Validity of award.—Where a valid award has been made, its validity cannot be impeached because the arbitrators choose subsequently to do an act required neither by the law nor by the terms of submission. The submission to an arbitration contained no specification of any particular method of awarding. The arbitrators, having arrived at a decision, prepared a rough draft of the decision and dated and signed the same. Subsequent to this and before a fair copy of the awad was made, the defendant intimated to the arbitrators that he withdrew from the submission. The fair copy bore the same date as that of the rough draft, but was signed by only four out of the five arbitrators. Held that the arbitrators had come to a decision upon the matters submitted to them previously to the withdrawal of the submission. The affixing of the same date to the fair copy as that of the original rough draft showed clearly that the arbitrators conceived their purely judicial functions to have ended on that date. There was a valid award binding upon the parties. KULA NAGABUSHANAM v. KULA SESHACHALAM, 1 M.H.C. 178.

(57)—Award not signed by all arbitrators.—An award is illegal where it is not signed by all the arbitrators, and there has been no agreement to abide by the decision of the majority, or that the voice of the umpire should prevail. MEM ROY v. BHARUT ROY, 22 W.R. 129. [R., 25 W.R. 376]

Award—continued.

(58)—Arbitrator basing his award on proceedings in previous enquiry.—Where an arbitrator imports into his proceedings a previous enquiry alleged to have been made by him, and relies upon admissions made in the former proceedings, his award is held to be bad, and the decision based upon it is to be set aside. KANHYE CHAND GOSSAMEE v. RAM CHANDER GOSSAMEE, 24 W.R. 81. [R., 12 C.L.R. 564.]

(59)—Objection in special appeal taken for first time at hearing—Arbitrator's proceaure.—Where, in a suit decreed on an award, an objection vitally affecting the arbitrator's procedure was for the first time urged at the hearing, not having been preferred in the lower Court and even in the memorandum of special appeal, held that the Court could not ignore it. WALIUL-LA v. GHULAM ALI, 1 A. 535.

(60)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 522—Decree on award—Appeal—Award—Legality of—Reference to suit.—The effect of s. 522, Code of Civil Procedure, is, that it is not enough for the Appellate Court to satisfy itself as to the mere correspondence of the decree and the award, but the Appellate Court must look so far behind the decree as to satisfy itself that the award is a legal award. [R., 74 P.R. 1894, 18 A. 422, 25 C. 141, 22 M. 172, 5 O.C. 13.] The legality of an award is not affected because the arbitrator referred the parties to a separate suit with reference to certain matters in which he found the parties had a common interest. VENKAYYA v. VENKATAPPAYYA, 15 M. 348.

(61)—Arbitration—Submission—Award not disposing of all the matters referred—Consent of parties.—The ground for holding an award to be invalid on account of its not disposing of all the matters referred, appears to be that there is an implied condition in the submission of the parties to arbitration that the award shall dispose of all. This condition may be waived by the consent of the parties before the arbitrators. MAKUND RAM SUKAL v. SALIQ RAM SUKAL, 21 C. 590, P.C.=21 I.A. 47=6 Sar. 423.

(62)—Partner, whether can bind firm by submission to arbitration.—Although a partner is entitled, on behalf of the firm of which he is a member, to sue for the recovery of a debt due to the firm, he has no power, without special authority, to bind the firm by submission to arbitration. It must be shown that the reference to arbitration was either an act necessary for, or such as is usually done, in carrying on the business of the firm. (Stead v. Salt, 1825) 3 Bing. 101; Strangford v. Green, 29 Car. II 2 Mod. 228, R.) RAM BHAROSE v. KALLU MAL, 22 A. 135=A.W.N. 1900, 12. [R., 103 P.L.R. 1902; D., 3 S.L.R. 5.]

(63)—Suit to enforce Civ. Pro. Code—Award by Ecclesiastical authority.—Even where the

Award—continued.

Code of Civil Procedure is in force it has been held that the special procedure relating to arbitration and awards is not imperative upon a plaintiff, but that he is at liberty to bring a suit to enforce an award. (See 4 M.H.C. 119). Much more would this be so where there is no special procedure for the pursose of making awards, decrees of Court. An award by Ecclesiastical authorities on a secular matter is not exempt from the usual rules regarding arbitration. MAUNG PU v. U DE WAINDA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 11.

(64)—Suit to set aside an—Grounds for impugning an award.—The improper omission to take evidence vitiates an award. As stated in Russell on the Power and Duty of an Arbitrator, (7th Ed., 665): "The award may be impeached if the arbitrator make his award without having heard all the evidence, or having allowed the party reasonable opportunity of proving his whole case. There being prima facie ground for impeaching the award because of the rejection of evidence, it was incumbent on the other side to meet the objection and show that it was not well-founded. It is necessary in a country where arbitration is so frequently abused, to make sure that when a prima facie case is established against the validity of an award it is conclusively rebutted. MA THAN v. MAUNG PYO, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 13. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901 Vol. II, 10.]

(65)—Arbitration—Award of arbitrators—Ground for setting aside award.—An award should not be set aside as invalid on the ground that the inquiry was somewhat perfunctory. Had there been an application to examine witnesses, and this had been refused, probably this procedure on the part of the arbitrators would have amounted to misconduct invalidating the award and making the reference voidable. The fact that the Buddhist law as administered in our Courts was not followed is not a good ground for setting aside the award. (18 I.A. 72, R.) The fact that the award does not follow strict law as to the fractions of partition is not a good ground for putting aside the award. It is often desirable that parties should resort to arbitration rather than come to Court. The arbitrators have local knowledge. The parties, their witnesses, and the arbitrators cannot fail to be usefully influenced by public opinion in their village, and such arbitration often affords a better means of getting at the truth of facts than a suit in a Court of law. It is therefore on this ground undesirable to lightly set them aside. Moreover, the agreement to refer to arbitration is a contract, and the award in the absence of good cause must be treated as a part of the contract. MA YU v. MA KALAMA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 15. (9 A. 253, R.)

(66)—Arbitration—Award of arbitrators.—Where a reference to arbitration was made to four elders and no provision was made that, in case they did not agree, the award of a minority or of a majority should be binding, the award, unless made by all four elders, could not be enforced. MAUNG KAN v. MA HMWE CHON,

Award—continued.

U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 18. [F., 2 L.B.R. 105; R., U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol.II, Arbitration 1; U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, Arbitration 5.

(67)—Arbitration—Award of arbitrators.—A contract was made by the parties to refer the matter in dispute to three arbitrators, who were named, and it was provided that in case there was disagreement, the decision of the majority was to be binding on the parties. One of the arbitrators refused to have anything to do with the arbitration, and the other two, acting by themselves gave a decree in favour of the plaintiff-respondent in this case. It appears that the Judge considered that the clause providing that the decision of a majority of the arbitrators should be binding made is of no consequence whether one of the arbitrators refused to act or not. The District Judge before whom the case went on appeal took the same view Held, that an enquiry and decision by two of those persons in the absence of the third must be invalid. The enquiries, arguments, influence, and opinion of the absent arbitrator might be most material to the cause of, at any rate, one of the parties to the reference. Although the opinion of the majority was to prevail, all were to arbitrate, that is, to take part in the enquiry and decision. MAUNG KYE v. MAUNG THA ZI AUNG, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 19.

(68)—Limitation.—A general reference to arbitration in Upper Burma does not necessarily include a power to throw out a claim on the preliminary point of limitation unless the matter is expressly provided for. But if the reference can be taken as including the power of determining a preliminary point of limitation, there would still be an implied understanding that the question would be decided under the law in force in the country and not under a foreign or obsolete law. Unless it is shown to be otherwise it could not be in the contemplation of parties that their rights should be adjudicated upon in accordance with the provisions of any law other than that of the land. MA MIN KU v. MAUNG THA NYUN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 9. [R., 2 L.B.R. 110, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 24.]

(69)—Act IV of 1840 (Bengal), award under—Its nature—Setting aside of.—The award of a Magistrate under Act IV of 1840 (Bengal) on the fact of possession is conclusive on the point. The only way of setting aside the award is by proof of title. SHIB CHUNDER MULLICK v. MODHOO-SOO DUN CHATTERJEE, 1 W.R. 349. [F., 9 C.L.R. 305.]

(70)—Act IV of 1840—Award under Act bars recovery of property attached in execution—Where there has been an award under Act IV of 1840 (Bengal), held that it was a bar to the recovery of property attached in execution of a decree and that it obliged a party to bring his suit to set aside the effect of that award within three years from the date of that award. SHEIKH JAINNOO DDEEN AHMED v. AMEEROONISSA, 2 W. R. 182.

Award—continued.

(71)—Award may be set aside in arbitration case if umpire has been appointed without consent of Court and parties. MAHABEER MISSER v. JUGGUR NATH MISSER, 25 W.R. 11.

(72)—Filing of award by arbitrator—No "application." The act of an arbitrator, in handing an award to the proper officer to be filed, is notan "application" within the meaning of the Limitation Act. ROBERTS v. HARRISON, 7 C. 338=9 C.L.R. 209. [R., 8 A. 492. 8 A. 519, 13 A. 78.]

(73)—Decree in form of award—Appeal—Procedure.—There is no appeal from a decree, which is passed in terms of the award, except in the cases mentioned in the Act. Applications for extensions of the period for the submission of the award and orders thereon should be in writing. The Court should review its proceedings on the application of a party, prejudiced by the action of the Court, in curtailing the legal period in which objections to an award are to be delivered. MONJI PREMJI SAIT v. MALIYAKIL KOYASAN KOYA HUJI, 3 M. 69. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 24.]

(74)—Civ. Pro. Code. ss. 622, 525 and 526.—The refusal to file an award, on an application under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, is an order and not a decree. No appeal lies against it, but the High Court can interfere under s. 622. [Overruled, 27 M. 255=14 M.L.J. 356.] An award in which the invalid portions are independent of, and separable from, the valid portions, is perhaps enforceable but not by summary proceedings under s. 526. MANAVIKRAMA v. MALLICHERRY KRISTNAN NAMBUDRI, 3 M. 68. [F., 27 A. 526=2 A.L.J. 416=A.W.N. 1905, 86; Cons., 22 M. 299; R., 7 B. 316, 7 B. 341, 2 C.L.J. 80.]

(75)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 508, 514, 521 (=sch. II, ss. 38. 15, new Code)—Award made after time fixed by Court, validity of.—S. 508 is not merely directory, but is mandatory and imperative; for, otherwise, s. 521 which declares that no award shall be valid unless made within the period allowed by the Court, would be rendered inoperative. Under s. 514, the Court has power to extend the time for the delivery of the award, only so long as the award is not completed. The Court is not competent to exercise that power after the award was made and delivered. An award made after the time fixed by the Court for the delivery thereof, is invalid. (8 A. 548, Appr.) The fact that the Court happened to pass a decree on such an award cannot be taken as affording a presumption that an extension of time had in fact been given. The Court ought to take judicial notice of the invalidity of the award, notwithstanding that neither party has taken any objection thereto. RAJA HAR NARAIN SINGH v. CHAUDHRAIN BHAGWANT KUAR, 13 A. 300 P.C.=18 I.A. 55=6 Sar. 14. [F., 15 M. 384, 2 N.L.R. 81; Cons., 16 B. 263; Appl., 13 A. 400, 14 A. 347, 25 C. 141, 34 C. 941=11 C.W.N. 959=6 C.L.J. 237; R., 22 M. 22. 14 C.P.L.R. 42, 8 C.W.N. 916, 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901,

Award—continued.

26 A. 105=A.W.N. 1903, 205, 31 C. 849=8 C.W.N. 705, A.W.N. 1905, 47=27 A. 459=2 A.L.J. 201, 7 Bom. L.R. 688, 33 C. 498, 2 N.L.R. 121, 89 P.R. 1907, 30 A. 169=A.W.N. 1908, 59=5 A.L.J. 144, 3 S.L.R. 106; D., 14 A. 343, 119 P.L.R. 1902=88 P.R. 1902, F.B.]

(76)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 525—Suit on award.—When a plaintiff's application to have an award made a rule of Court is opposed by one of the defendants, and he is referred to a regular suit, and a suit is brought in the alternative on the award and on the merits, he must not be allowed to withdraw his prayer for a decree on the award, as he must succeed or fail on it, and, if it is not unenforceable, a decree should be passed in terms of the award. NARASAYYA v. RAMABADRA, 15 M. 474. [R., 19 P.R. 1907=46 P.L.R. 1907.]

(77)—Jurisdiction to examine award on grounds other than those specified in ss. 520 and 521, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—The Court has jurisdiction to inquire into the genuineness of an award or its validity on grounds other than those specified in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civ. Pro. Code. CHINTAMALLYA v. THADI GANGIREDDI, 20 M. 89=7 M.L.J. 61. [F., 16 M. L.J. 474, 29 B. 621, F.B.; R., 13 C.P.L.R. 53, 84 P.R. 1901=112 P.L.R. 1901; D., 13 M.L.J. 275.]

(78)—Award purporting to be considered award of arbitrators—Award really representing only settlement agreed to by parties.—Where an award purported to be the result of a judicial consideration by the arbitrators themselves of the issues which they formulated on the statements of the parties and on the depositions of certain witnesses, whereas it was found that no evidence was taken and the arbitrators did not hold any sittings at all, and that the award was only an adoption of a settlement arrived at and signed by the parties to the reference, held that this did not prevent the award being valid and binding between the parties. GOBARDHAN DAS v. JAI KISHEN DAS, 22 A. 224=A.W.N. 1900, 52. [R., 1 S.L.R. 160.]

(79)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 520, 521, 526—Award, when Court could refuse to file.—S. 526 of the Civ. Pro. Code, requires that not only should one of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 or 521 be alleged, but it must also be established. It is only when the alleged ground has been "shown," that is, proved to the satisfaction of the Court, that the Court should refuse to file the award. JAGAN NATH v. MANNU LAL, 16 A. 231=A.W.N. 1894, 60. (9 C. 575, 6 B. 663, F.; 10 C. 74, 9 C. 557, Diss.) [R., 17 A. 21; 18 A. 422, 18 A. 414=A.W.N. 1896, 116, 13 C.P.L.R. 53.]

(80)—Civ. Pro. Code, Ss. 510, 521, 525, 526—Application to file award—Court-fee.—An application for enforcing an award under s. 525 Civ. Pro. Code, is not considered a suit, though it is to be numbered and registered as a suit, and might be stamped as an application. PALUT BHAGUT v. MONOHUR BHAGUT, 13 C.L.R. 171.

Award—continued.

(81)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 327—Award—Summary enforcement of rights arising under award.—Rights arising under an award are on the same footing as other rights except in so far as the Legislature has otherwise provided; and the provision in the Civ. Pro. Code of 1859, enabling a summary enforcement of such rights, contained nothing indicating an intention to bar the ordinary remedy by suit where an application for the summary enforcement had been made and refused. KOTA SEETAMMA v. KOLLIPURLA SOOBIAH. 8 M.H.C. 81. [R., 21 C. 213, 18 M. 423, F.B.]

(82)—Withdrawal of party, no ground for refusing to file award—Appeal—Lower Court ordering award to be filed.—Revocation of assent by one of the parties to an award is not a sufficient cause for refusing to file the award. (3 M.H.C. 183, F.; 12 M.I.A. 112, Appr.) [F., 8 M.H.C. 46.] No appeal lies from the order of the Civil Court ordering an award to be filed. SANTAIYA v. RAMARAYA, 7 M.H.C. 257.

(83)—Award of arbitrators directing partition, signature of parties by way of assent to—Chargeable as instrument of partition.—An award of arbitrators directing division of property between plaintiff and defendant in this case, who stood in the relation of nephew and uncle, happened to be signed by the arbitrators and by the interested parties by way of assent to its terms. The award so signed was held to amount to an instrument of partition and to be chargeable with stamp-duty accordingly. AMARSI v. DAYAL, 9 B. 50. [F., P.L.R. 1900, p. 459; R., 6 C.P.L.R. 95, 160 P.L.R. 1906.]

(84)—Hindu law—Disqualified heir—Inheritance.—A person who is not a party to an award, is not bound by it, and cannot claim any benefit under it. An award which is manifestly against the law cannot deprive a person of his legal rights nor confer on him rights which the law does not give him. An award which decides a right of inheritance in favour of a person disqualified under Hindu law, as against another person assenting to such award, cannot be construed into a gift by the latter to the former, for there could be no gift of property which is decided not to belong to the donor. A person, not a party to an award, cannot be said to be represented in it, by his brother who has been adopted into another family. GANGA SAHAI v. HIRA SINGH, 2 A. 809, F.B.

(85)—Award directing execution of conveyance of immoveable property—Attachment after filing award—Decretal order enforcing award—Execution of conveyance in pursuance of order—Private alienation—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 276.—By the Full Bench.—Where subsequent to the passing of an award directing the execution of a deed of conveyance of certain immoveable property, such property is attached in execution of a decree, the execution of the conveyance in pursuance of a decretal order passed by the Court in accordance with the award subsequent to the attachment, is not a private alienation of such property (within the meaning of s. 276) which would be void as against a claim enforceable under the attachment. QUARBAN ALI v. ASHRAF ALI, 4 A. 219, F.B. (N.W.P., 1869, p. 81, Appr.) [R., 22 P.L.R. 1905.]

Award—continued.

(86)—Refusal to file award under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code (1882)—Effect—Contention that an award was invalid for the party, in whose favour it was made, never applied to file it, not sustainable.—The refusal of an application for the filing of an award, under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, merely leaves the award to have its ordinary legal validity; and it cannot be contended that an award is not to be relied on as a defence in a suit relating to the subject-matter dealt with by it only, because such an application has not been granted. Where separable claims, namely, a claim to share property by right of inheritance, and a claim for the office of lambardar, had been disposed of, on the reference of the present parties, without the intervention of a Court, by the award of an arbitrator between them, and an application under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, had been rejected, for the reason, among others, that the claim for the office of lambardar was not a matter of civil jurisdiction, held, however, that the present suit, which was based on the claim to share property by right of inheritance, was barred by the award made. MUHAMMAD NEWAZ KHAN v. ALIM KHAN, 18. C. 414, P.C. = 18 I.A. 73 = 6 Sar. 26. [F., 11 Bom. L.R. 20, 33 B. 401 = 11 Bom. L.R. 406, 13 M.L.J. 275; Appr., 14 M.L.J. 356; Cons., 25 C. 757, F.B.; R., 17 A. 21, F.B. = A.W.N. 1894, 187, 28 A. 21 = 2 A.L.J. 450 = A.W.N. 1905, 165, 9 O.C. 205, 33 C. 881 = 4 C.L.J. 162, 4 L.B.R. 130.]

(87)—Award on one point only—Remission to arbitrator—Refusal by him to act—Procedure.—Where plaintiffs and defendants claimed under the same landlord and the question between them was which of the two had the better title to the land in dispute, the case cannot be concluded by the arbitrator's finding upon the question of possession alone out of the several points referred to him, and a Court will be acting rightly, on the arbitrator refusing to complete the award, in deciding the case itself. JANARDEN MUNDUL DAKNA v. SAMBHU NATH MUNDUL, 16 C. 806.

(88)—S. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Illegal award—Appeal.—An appeal will lie from an award, which is illegal and void ab initio. SATURJIT PERTAB BAHADOOR SAHI v. DULHIN BULAP KOER, 24 C. 469. (17 B. 357, R.) [F., 1 Bom. L.R. 261, 2 N.L.R. 81; R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 548, 112 P.L.R. 1909 = 84 P.R. 1901, 5 O.C. 18, B.]

(89)—Decree, construction of—Assignment of villages forming part of an impartible estate—Maintenance of a junior member of a joint Hindu family—Agreement—Decree founded on arbitration-award—Revenue payable by whom and local rates and cesses by whom—The Privy Council refusing to set aside an agreement for maintenance made between two branches of a family, held, by the true construction of a certain decree (founded on the award of arbitrators, between a talukhdar—owner of an impartible estate and head of a joint Hindu family—, and a member of a junior branch of that family), which declared the talukhdar's ownership, and the assignment by him of certain villages to the junior member, free of liability in respect of revenue, and which was the foundation of the title of either party, that the profits at the villages assigned belonged to the junior member, that the revenue was to be paid as between the two, by the talukhdar with subsequent enhancements without benefit to him from the increase in the yield of the land assigned, and that the local rates and cesses should be paid by the junior member himself. LOKNATH v. BISSESSAR NATH, 27 C. 103, P.C.=26 I A. 268=7 Sar. 569. [R., 31 C. 111.]

Award—continued.

(90)—Award of arbitration—Time to file—Limitation Act (XV of 1877,) art. 176—A party to an arbitration should have a period of six months to enforce the award, under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code, from the time he is in a position to enforce it. DUTTO SINGH v. DOSAD BAHADUR SINGH, 9 C. 373.

(91)—Application to file award in Court, dismissal of—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 525, 526.—On an application made under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro. Code for filing an award in Court, if it appears that there is a reasonable dispute between the parties on any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 or 521, the application should be dismissed. ICHAMOYEE CHOWDHRANEE v. PROSUNNO NATH CHOWDHRI, 9 C 557.

(92)—Remission of award to arbitrators for re-consideration—Neglect of arbitrators to comply with orders of remission.—Where an award was remitted to the arbitrators for re-consideration with an express injunction that a full inquiry was to be made and where the arbitrators took no evidence, but made their second award merely on the strength of a local inspection. Held that the award so made as above described must be set aside. SUJAN RAI v. JHABBA, A. W.N. 1893, 45. [R., 18 A. 422.]

(93)—Decision of Collector under butwara law not award.—The decision of a Collector under the butwara law is not an award within the meaning of Act XIII of 1848. PULTOO ROY v. GREEDHAREE SINGH, W R. F.B. 12.

(94)—Suit to set aside an, made without intervention of Court—Cause of action.—There is nothing in the section of Ch. 37, Civ. Pro. Code, whether s. 325 or another, permitting a suit to set aside an award. The suit allowed by s. 325 is one to file an award, which is a different thing. The question is whether under the ordinary common law or any special enactment a suit will lie to set aside an award made without the intervention of a Court. The Specific Relief Act, Chs. IV and V set out certain cases in which contracts may be rescinded or cancelled; but nothing is apparent which would bring this award within such classes of cases. If endeavour is made to enforce the award by suit or otherwise, a cause of action may arise or the suit may be resisted. MA THA HMWE v. MA EIN THA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 480.

Award—continued.

(95)—Appeal against order directing award to be filed—Decree made upon award—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 520, 521, 525, 526, 622—Objection to filing award—Objection as to jurisdiction and vagueness of agreement—Court's powers—Illegal exercise of jurisdiction—Agreement not defining arbitrator's powers—Enforcement of award—High Court's interference.—Under the provisions of the Code, no appeal will lie against the order directing the award to be filed. There is an appeal against a decree made upon an award (1) when the decree is in excess of the award; (2) when it is not in accordance with the award; or (3) when there is no valid award. (F., 2 N.L.R. 81; R., 18 A. 414=A.W.N. 1896, 116. 20 B. 596, 25 C. 141, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 5, 2 L.B.R. 105.] Assuming that in a proceeding under ss. 525 and 526, the Court has power to consider such objections as are mentioned in ss. 520 or 521, an objection that the value of the property in suit was Rs. 500 only and that therefore the application should have been made in the Munsiff's Court, and not in that of the Subordinate Judge, or an objection that the agreement of submission is vague and indefinite and does not clearly set out the matters in dispute, does not fall under either sections. [R., 21 C. 213, F.B.] With regard to the first objection mentioned above, even if no appeal lies, the High Court can interfere with the decision of the lower Court where it has acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally in assuming jurisdiction without taking evidence. Where the agreement does not clearly define the powers of the arbitrator, the award should not be allowed to be enforced under ss. 525 and 526 of the Code, and the High Court can under s. 622 interfere with the order of the lower Court in the matter. BINDESSURI PERSHAD SINGH v. JANKEE PERSHAD SINGH, 16. C. 482.

(96)—Pendency of suit before arbitrators—Binding nature of the award—Decision of case on merits after the giving of award—Legality—Where a suit is pending before arbitrators, a person who is made a co-plaintiff on his own application and makes no objection to the arbitration is bound by the award. A Civil Court acts without jurisdiction when it decides a case on its merits after an arbitration award. SHITANATH BISWAS v. KISHEN MOHUN MOOKERJEE, 5 W. R. 130.

(97)—S. 588. Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Judgment of single Judge of High Court appeal from—S. 15, Letters Patent, 1865. right of appeal under.—An order of a single Judge of the High Court in the exercise of original civil jurisdiction refusing to set aside an award is a judgment according to cl. 15, Letters Patent and is appealable. TOOLSEE MONEY DASSEE v. SUDEVI DASSEE, 26 C. 361=3 C.W.N. 347.

Award—continued.

(98)—Panchayet—Bombay Regulation VII of 1827.—An award made by a Panchayet, settling a disputed boundary to land forming an island, claimed by the inhabitants on the respective banks of the river, under circumstances, set aside, as having been made contrary to the provisions of Bombay Regulation VII of 1827. The decision of the Sub-Collector, appointed by the Government to settle the boundary, annulling the award of the Panchayet, and assigning a boundary, confirmed on appeal. THE MOKUDDIMS OF KUNKUNWADDY v. THE ENAMDAR BRAHMINS OF SOORPAL, 7 W.R. 8 P.C.=3 M.I.A. 383=1 Suther. 164=1 Sar, 292.

(99)—Judgment in accordance with award—Pronouncement of—In appellant's absence—Irregularity—Second award differing from first—Legality of.—The objection that an award was confirmed and judgment, passed in appellant's absence if not urged in the lower Court cannot be allowed in second appeal as it is merely an irregularity and not a fatal error where the Court refused to accept the award on the ground of its incompleteness and ordered to file a second award after investigation, such second award, confirmed after the expiry of time for objections, is legal though it may differ from the first award. KALA SINGH v. POHU, 50 P.R. 1881.

(100)—Judgment—Arbitrations—Review.—A judgment passed in accordance with the award of arbitrators is open to review. BUTA v. GUNI DAS, 111 P.R. 1881.

(101)—Private award—Propriety of decree thereon under s. 525, Civ. Pro Code, 1877.—A private award passed in an arbitration made without the intervention of Court is too indefinite to be converted into a decree under s. 525, Civ. Pro Code, 1877. DHARAM DAS v. AJUDHIA PERSHAD, 77 P.R. 1882. [R., 34 P.R. 1910=11 P.W.R. 1910.]

(102)—Appeal—Award—One of the arbitrators signing blank paper—Arbitrator, absence of one, from part of hearing—Civ. Pro. Code, (Act XIV of 1882), s. 516—An appeal lies, when there is no award in fact or when there is a void award. When there was no proper compliance with the requirements of s. 516 of the Code, the award was ineffectual and in fact void, and an appeal lay from the decree or judgment based upon the award made by the arbitrators. S. 516 of the Code contemplates an award in writing properly signed by the persons who make it. Where an award had already been made and a judicial decision arrived at, a subsequent embodiment of the decision of the arbitrators in certain papers which already bore the signature of one of them and was signed subsequently by the others, did not vitiate the judicial act of the arbitrators. The absence of one of the arbitrators from a part of the hearing vitiates the judicial character of the proceeding. Where the absent arbitrator signs a blank paper on which the decision is written out by the other arbitrators, the award is void. BENODE LAL PAKRASI v. PRAN CHANDRA PAKRASI, 14 C.L.J. 143.

Award—continued.

(103)—Arbitration—Submission out of Court if revocable—Agreement to refer to arbitration if of personal nature—Legal representative of deceased party, if and when bound by award—Arbitrator, when can make alteration in award—Award, completion of, what constitutes—Minor, if can enter into submission—Guardian's power to submit to arbitration on behalf of his ward—Award, effect of—Verbal submission to arbitration, affecting immoveable property, if valid—Registration Act (III of 1877), s. 17—Registered agreement to refer to arbitration—Variation—Evidence Act, s. 92—Pleadings, amendment of—Award vitiated, if can be waivd—Waiver—Proof, necessary—Incomplete award—Submission to arbitration, construction of—Award, unreasonableness of—Award, when cannot be set aside for not deciding a question.—The submission of an existing dispute, once validy made, is not revocable without just and sufficient cause, even in the case of a submission which has not been made a rule of Court. (12 M.I.A. 112, R.) Agreements to refer to arbitration cannot, therefore, be rightly deemed as essentially of a personal nature, revocable at the mere will of a party. Whether a legal representative of a deceased party is or is not bound by, or entitled to enforce, the contract to refer to arbitration, depends upon the nature of the right which forms the subject-matter of the reference; that is, upon the question, whether the right is purely personal or survives to the legal representative. If, upon the death of a party to arbitration-proceedings, his representative in interest becomes a party thereto and proceeds with the investigation, the award is binding upon him. When the arbitrator has made, or made and published, his award as a completed instrument, his power is wholly at an end. If after executing the award the arbitrator exercises a fresh judgment on the case and alters the award in any particular, the alteration is merely nugatory, and his act is like a spoliation by a mere stranger. Until the arbitrators have finally published their award as their final determination, they may make alterations therein. What consitutes a completion of the award may depend upon the terms of the submission, and upon the facts and circumstances of the individual case. As an infant is unable to bind himself by contract, he cannot enter into a submission, which will render the award absolutely binding on him. In the case of a pending suit, the Court may authorise a submission to arbitration so as to render the award binding on the infant. A guardian may submit to arbitration on behalf of his ward so as to bind both himself and the ward; though, where the guardian is, in his individual capacity, a party to the submission, and his interest in the controversy submitted, happens to be adverse to that of his ward, he has no power to submit on behalf of his ward. An award can only bind the parties to the arbitration. A verbal submission to arbitration, as a result of which title to immoveable property is likely to be affected, is valid. The allowing an amendment of pleadings is in the discretion of the Court ; but the discretion is judicial and not arbitrary ; and an erroneous exercise of it is capable of correction by a Court of appeal. Leave to amend ought to be granted, unless the party applying is acting mala fide or by his blunder has done some injury to his opponent which cannot be compensated by award of costs ; otherwise, whether the original omission arose from negligence, carelessness, or accidental error, the defect may be allowed to be remedied if no injustice is done to the other side. Though an arbitrator may have been guilty of some irregularity in the course of the reference, it will not vitiate the award, if the conduct of the parties be such as shows that they have waived any objection on account of it. The waiver must be clearly made out, and the party must be shown to have full knowledge of the defect which he is said to waive. The arbitrator must be careful to see that his award is a final decision of all matters requiring his determination, and his failure to determine any of them may completely vitiate his award ; this would be specially the result where there is such a connection and inter-dependence between the various matters covered by the submission that the decision and disposition of some of them only, to the exclusion of others, would operate to produce injustice between the parties. But this principle has no application, if the submission can be construed to empower the arbitrator to make several awards. An award is none the less final, though it does not execute itself or preclude all future controversies ; if it leaves nothing to be done but the performance of some ministerial act, it is not faulty for want of such finality and certainty ; the principle applicable is certum est quod certum reddi potest. (That is sufficiently certain which can be made certain). The Court is always reluctant to entertain the objection that the award, as distinguished from the submission, is unreasonable. An award will not be set aside if the question undecided was not notified to the arbitrator as a matter in difference or the parties showed by their conduct that they did not mean him to decide it. RAMJI RAM v. SALIG RAM, 14 C L J. 188.

Award—continued.

(104)—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal.—Where the judgment of a Court is in accordance with the award, it is not appealable. JAGMANDAR DAS v. PIARI LAL, A.W.N. 1881, 17.

(105)—Sch. II, r. 20 (=Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, Ch. 37 and s. 525)—Filing private award—Amendment of plaint taking case out of scope of Ch. 37—Appeal.—Where, on an application to file a private award in Court under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, the Munsif ordered the applicant to amend the plaint, after the first hearing, misunderstanding the provisions of s. 525, by which amendment the case was taken out of the scope of s. 37, Civ. Pro. Code, held that, under the circumstances, an appeal lay from the order of the Court of first instance. GANESH LAL v. NARAYAN DAS, A.W.N. 1881, 29.

Award—continued.

(106)—Award declaring title—Subsequent suit for possession—Period of limitation.—An award which only establishes the right of the plaintiffs to certain shares without directing that possession should be given in accordance with its provision, cannot operate or be enforced as a decree. In a subsequent suit for possession, the award can be used as the evidence of their right, but cannot extend the period of limitation. MOHAN v. MOHSIN ALI, A.W.N. 1881, 70.

(107)—Arbitration—Compromise by parties before arbitrator—Award on compromise—Decree on award—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 521, 522—Appeal.—Where an arbitrator passes an award in accordance with a compromise to which the parties to the arbitration had agreed and a decree is passed on the award by the Court under s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, such decree is not open to appeal. DEONARAIN RAI v. JAISRI RAI, A.W.N 1885, 259.

(108)—Awards, power of Courts to question legality of.—Courts of Justice, in dealing with arbitration-awards, are not in the position of a Court of appeal or revision, nor are they called upon to consider whether such adjudications are consistent with their own views of the rights of the parties which became the subject of arbitration. The Court can interfere with the award only on the ground of corruption or misconduct, or other circumstances similar in nature to those mentioned in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, and well recognised as constituting sufficient reasons for setting aside arbitration awards. PARMESHRI v. LACHMIN, A.W.N. 1884, 148.

(109)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 522—Award—Decree in accordance with award—Award bad in law—Appeal.—A submission to arbitration provided for the appointment of two arbitrators, one to be chosen by each party, and an umpire ; and it was further provided that in case of a difference between the arbitrators "the opinion of the arbitrator with whom the umpire agrees shall be considered conclusive." At the last sitting of the arbitrators an application was made for an adjournment on the ground of the illness of one of the parties. No order was passed upon this application ; it was simply recorded. The umpire thereupon requested the arbitrators to record their opinions separately or jointly, and make the same over to him the same day at or before 4 o'clock. The defendants' arbitrator left the meeting, and did not record any opinion upon the subject-matter of the arbitration ; but it did not appear that there was any disagreement between the arbitrators. The plaintiffs' arbitrator recorded an opinion, and the umpire, apparently without communicating with the other arbitrator, accepted that opinion and submitted an award, upon which a decree was passed. Held that this was no award in law, and that an appeal would lie from a decree passed in accordance with it. HAFIZ-ULLAH v. RAHMAT-ULLAH, A.W.N. 1903, 159.

Award—continued.

(110)—Arbitration—Award — Circumstances necessary to render an award complete and effectual—Publication.—In India, as in England, it is necessary to the validity of an award that it should be not only signed and executed by the person making it, but also published. By publication is meant, generally speaking, a delivery to some of the parties to the award ; and probably a holding of it by the arbitrator after notice to the parties for the purpose of delivery might be held to effectuate the award. FATIMA KUBRA BIBI v SAHA WILAYAT HUSAIN, A. W.N. 1899, 30.

(111)—Suit to recover money due under an award—Suit to recover unsecured debt—Limitation—Act XV of 1877 (Indian Limitation Act), sch. II, art. 113.—Held that an award on an arbitration for the division of the property of a deceased person amongst his heirs, by which award it was provided that certain specified persons amongst the heirs should become liable for the payment of a certain specified debt due by the deceased, did not give the creditor a fresh cause of action based on the award for the recovery of such debt, but at most a fresh starting point for limitation in respect of a suit to recover it. GOPAL LALJI v. RAMAN LALJI, A.W.N. 1897, 144. (5 A. 263, 16 A. 3, R. & Diss.)

(112)—Mere dissatisfaction does not render an award ineffectual—Agreement to repudiate.—Held that an award has the force of a binding contract or final judgment unless there has been an agreement to repudiate it, the mere expression of dissatisfaction with it by both the parties, being insufficient to render it ineffectual. POKERDAS v. BOLUMAL, 1 S.L.R. 236.

(113)—Suit to enforce—Award—Suit for the enforcement of an award—Specific performance—Specific Relief Act, ss. 21, 30 —Where in suit on an award to recover a certain sum of money allowed by the arbitrator, it was contended among other things that having regard to ss. 21 and 30 of the Specific Relief Act, the plaintiff was not entitled to have the award enforced: Held, that the objection proceeded on the assumption that the suit was one for specific performance, which in fact it was not ; but it was a suit for the recovery of money and for relief incidental thereto. FARDUNJI v. JAMSETJI, 5 Bom. L R. 705=28 B. 1. [R., 19 M.L J. 220.]

(114)—Non-delivery of—Non delivery of verdict—Liability to be sued—Fraud.—Defendant passed a bond, in 1889, in favour of plaintiff, payable in two years. In 1893, the plaintiff brought a suit on the bond ; but soon withdrew it as the parties agreed to refer their disputes to the arbitration of defendants 1 to 4. The arbitrators delivered no written award ; and in consequence the plaintiff brought a suit against the defendants 1 to 5 alleging that the arbitrators gave only an oral award and that acting in collusion with defendant 5 they omitted to give a written award whereby his original claim was time-barred. The lower appellate Court awarded plaintiff's claim against defendants 1 to 4, but dismissed it against defendant 5: Held, dismissing the claim as against defendants 1 to 4, that they could not be presumed to have acted fraudulently merely because they failed to satisfy the Court that their delay was due to the negligence of the parties. SAVALAPPA v. DEVCHAND, 3 Bom. L. R. 691=26 B. 132.

Award—continued.

(115)—Award—Objections to it—Alleged misconduct of the arbitrator—Dismissal of objections—Decree in accordance with the award—Incompetency of appeal from such a decree.—Parties to a suit nominated a sole arbitrator whose appointment was duly confirmed by the Court. The arbitrator submitted his award, to which the appellant filed a great number of objections which were all more or less frivolous. In some the arbitrator was charged with misconduct, but, on the face of the objections, it was perfectly clear that there was no misconduct within the meaning of that expression in the Chapter on Arbitration in the Civ. Pro. Code, nor anything that could justify the Court in setting aside or remitting the award. Those objections were considered and disposed of by the Court, which passed a decree in accordance with the award. From that decree the appellants appealed to the Chief Court of the Punjab, which dismissed the appeal on the grounds that the appeal could not lie, inasmuch as it did not appear that the decree was in excess of or not in accordance with the award. Held, that the decision of the Chief Court was perfectly right. HANSRAJ v. SUNDAR LAL. 10 Bom. L R. 581=12 C.W. N. 585=7 C L.J. 520=138 P.L.R 1908=35 C. 648, P.C.=35 I.A. 88=80 P.R. 1908=99 P.W. R. 1908=18 M.L J. 266=4 M L.T. 25=14 Bur. L R. 146. [R., 12 O.C. 40 ; Appl., 1 Ind. Cas. 693.]

(116)—Appeal from an award.—An appeal does not lie from a decree propounded under s. 522 of the Civ. Pro. Code, except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award. GHULAM JILANI v. MUHAMMAD, 4 Bom. L.R. 161.

(117)—Time fixed for filing—Expiry of time on a holiday—Civ. Pro Code, 1882, s. 521.—When the time fixed by a Court for filing an award expires on a day on which the Court is closed, and it is filed on the next day, held, that the award must be taken to have been filed within time. MUHAMMAD YUSAF v. KARIM BAKHSH, 9 P.L.R. 1900.

(118)—Order to file—Amendment of decree—Jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 206, 522, 525 526.—On an application made under s. 525 of the Code of Civil Procedure that an award be filed in Court, the District Judge made an order that the award be filed and a formal order was drawn up to that effect. The applicant made an application for execution of the formal order (which she called the decree of the District Judge). Her application was rejected on the ground that there was no decree capable of execution She then applied to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner under s. 206 of the Code of Civil Procedure to amend the so-called decree of the District Judge, so as to bring it into confirmity with the judgment. Held, that the Court had no power to grant the application under s. 206 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the order of the District Judge having been made under s. 526 of the Code, and the formal order giving effect to it being in conformity with the same. Held that, having directed the award to be filed, the District Judge should, as the next step, have pronounced judgment in accordance with the award, upon which a decree could follow under the provisions of s. 526 read with s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held, further that on the application of any of the parties to the suit, the District Judge could proceed to give effect to the award in the manner contemplated by s. 522 of the Code. GULAB KUAR v. THAKUR SHEO RATAN SINGH, 4 O.C. 82.

Award—continued.

(119)—Award, validity of—Private reference—Some of the plaintiff's parties—Stamp, want of, objection in second appeal.—An award on a private reference, made by some of the plaintiffs and the defendants, is binding on the rights of the parties to it. The award is not invalid on the ground that all the plaintiffs were not parties to it. An objection as to want of stamp cannot be taken for the first time in second appeal. JADU NATH CHOWDHRY v. KAILAS CHUNDER BATTACHARJEE, 10 C.L.J. 41=2 Ind. Cas. 414=37 C. 63=14 C.W.N. 75

(120)—Construction of document—Award—Term in an award granting pre-emption to the co-owners over the joint family property—Property sold through Court in execution of decree—The condition of pre-emption attaches to private and voluntary sale—Court-sale not effected by the provision.—An award, which effected partition of certain family property, provided, among other things, that, in the case of a sale by any of the co-sharers of his portion of the house of residence, he should sell it to his co-sharer for Rs. 1,800, and that he should not sell it to an outsider until the expiration of two months from the date of a notice in writing saying that they (co-sharers) were not willing to buy it. The share of one of the co-sharers was subsequently sold in execution of a decree against him and purchased by an outsider. The other co-sharer then sued to have it declared that the purchase at the Court-sale was not binding upon him: held that the privilege, which the award conferred upon the co-sharers of becoming purchasers by pre-emption attached to sales made privately and willingly, and not to sales in invitum. VITHAL NARAYAN KARANDIKAR v. MARUTI NARAYAN KALE, 12 Bom. L R. 582=7 Ind. Cas. 663=34 B. 567.

(121)—Private award—Suit based thereon independently of the summary procedure under s. 515, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Limitation for such suit—Decree appealable—Award affecting property out of British India—Held, that a suit can be brought upon a private award independently of the summary procedure authorized by s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=Cls. 20 and 21 of sch. II to Act V of 1908), and the decree passed therein is appealable, although there is no appeal from a decree passed in a mere summary proceeding under Ch. XXXVII of the Code (=sch. II of Act V of 1908). The difference between the two proceedings is:—(a) An award can only be filed, as the result of a summary proceeding, provided that it is free from each and all of the defects under s. 520, Civ. Pro. Code (=Cls. 14 and 15 of sch. II to Act V of 1908), and it can only be so filed within six months of its being given. (b) A suit, however, can be well based upon a defective award—the Court having power to rectify its defects—and it can of course be brought at any period which the law for the limitation of suits permits.—Obiter: Held, also, that an award affecting property in a Native State cannot be converted into a decree by a British Indian Court so far as that property is concerned. WAZIR ALI v. SHEIK MULKYAR, 11 P.W.R. 1910=34 P.R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 597=183 P.L.R. 1910. (77 P.R. 1882, R.)

Award—continued.

(122)—Arbitration—Award—Minor bound by the award—Grounds for setting aside award—Inequality of benefit under award—Erroneous view of law taken by arbitrators.—An award, which was open to no reproach but which affected the interests of a minor, was set aside at the minor's instance on the grounds that he (the minor) derived an inequality of benefit under it and that the arbitrators had, in making the award, taken an erroneous view of the law. On appeal:—Held, that neither ground was sufficient to invalidate the award: since the validity of the award must be determined in the light of the circumtances as they existed at its date, and not as they transpired some years after it had been passed by the arbitrators. SAKRAPPA LINGAPPA HEBSUR v. SHIVAPPA BASAPPA, 12 Bom. L.R. 984=3 Ind. Cas. 647. (2 M.I.A. 181, R.)

(123)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), Ch. XXXVII—Award—Finality of—Appeal—Revision.—In no case will an appeal lie from a decree passed in accordance with the terms of an award of arbitration after objections have been heard and disposed of, and no question arsies under s. 522. But an application for revision will lie if the Court which passed the decree has committed an error in procedure or misused its jurisdiction. When the Court passing a decree in accordance with an award has disposed of all the objections made within the time prescribed under art. 158 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act, revision does not lie on the ground of error in procedure for the Court not having considered an application containing further objections filed after the prescribed time. PANNA LAL v. MUSSAMMAT SOMAN, 120 P.L.R. 1902, F.B.=89 P.R. 1902. [R., 1 P.R. 1908=58 P.W.R. 1907, F.B., 41 [R. 1905=63 P.L.R. 1905; Cited, 92 P.R. 1903.]

Award—continued.

(124)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), Ch. XXXVII—Award—Finality of—Powers of arbitrators.—A suit for possession, by partition, was referred to arbitration, and the arbitrator nominated by the parties was agreed to be the "sole arbitrator to decide the matters in dispute in this suit, including the determination what joint property, moveable and immoveable, of every description, except the immoveable property, outside British India is to be partitioned." The arbitrator finally submitted his award on the 29th June, 1900. The Court disposed of objections made by the defendants and passed a decree in accordance with the award. The defendant appealed to the Chief Court and prayed that the memorandum of appeal be treated as an application for revision, if it should be held that an appeal did not lie. It was contended on behalf of the appellants, (1) that they submitted to arbitration under pressure, unwillingly agreed to the appointment of the arbitrator, and the submission to arbitration was therefore bad, (2) that the Punjab Courts had not jurisdiction to entertain the suit, and the reference to arbitration was therefore void, and (3) that costs should not have been decreed against them. Held, (1) that the objections now taken, that the appellants submitted to arbitration under pressure; that they unwillingly agreed to the appointment of the arbitrator, and that the submission to the arbitration was bad, were not taken in the original Court, and could not be taken on appeal. The object of taking these objections was to set aside the award, and to allow them to be taken for the first time on appeal would be to defeat the provisions of art. 158, sch. II of the Limitation Act. (2) That an appeal did not lie on the objections taken in the original Court. (3) That the arbitrator was seized of the whole matter in dispute between the parties, except so much as was specifically excluded, and the question whether the suit was competent was one of the issues in the suit, and was as such referred to arbitration. The fact, that the issue as to competence was framed and decided by the original Court before the submission to arbitration, did not affect the arbitrator's competence to decide it as one of the issues between the parties, and the arbitrator was not bound to give an award on each point. (4) That the Civ. Pro. Code contains no mandatory provision as to reference similar to that as to the award being made within the period allowed, and the appellants could have objected that there had been no reference to arbitration, and their failure to do so did not entitle them to appeal on the ground. (5) That the order referring the suit to arbitration provided that the costs should abide the result of the finding of the arbitrator. It had not been shown that the decree for costs was not in accordance with the award. (6) That the reasons for holding that the objection on the ground that there was no reference to arbitration could not be entertained on appeal applied equally to the application for revision, and on the finding that there was a reference to arbitration, an award and a decree in accordance with that award, which the Court below had no alternative to passing, the application to set aside the award having been refused, no revision lay. (25 P. R. 1902, R.) Per Anderson, J.—The whole case was referred to the arbitrator. He was competent to decide the question of jurisdiction which had not been finally decided before the reference to arbitration. As regards revision, held, that no application lay, the original Court not having failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law or having acted illegally or with material irregularity in connection with the case. Per Kensington, J.—The original Court had found in fact that there was no misconduct, and with the decree based on this finding the Chief Court had no authority to interfere either by way of appeal or revision. SETH HANSRAJ v. GANGA RAM, 119 P.L.R. 1902, F.B.

Award—continued.

(125)—Decree in terms of award, appeal from—Arbitrator, misconduct of—Award, grounds of setting aside—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 521 and 522—Appeal.—Held, that a decree, which is in terms of an award, is not appealable on the ground of the misconduct of the arbitrator. The terms of s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, seem to require that a distinction shall be drawn between an award which has no legal effect being void ab initio, and an award which has legal effect unless and until it is set aside on any of the grounds mentioned in cls. (a) (b), or (c) of s. 521, Civ. Pro. Code. The award referred to in the final words of s. 522, providing that there shall be no appeal from the decree, except in so far as it is in excess of, or not in accordance with, "the award," clearly includes an award which the Court which passed the decree has been asked to set aside on some one or other of the grounds mentioned in cls. (a), (b), or (c) of s. 521 and which the Court has refused to set aside on the grounds on which it was asked to do so. The decree referred to clearly includes a decree which has followed on a judgment in accordance with such award. Where therefore the Court has refused to set aside an award on the grounds mentioned in cls. (a), (b) and (c) of s. 521 and has given judgment in accordance with the award, the decree which follows on the judgment so given is one from which no appeal lies, except in so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, such award. JAGAN NATH v. GAJADHAR, 5 O.C. 13.

(126)—Of arbitrators—No application for filing it in Court—Whether it can be pleaded in subsequent suit — Deeds—Material alteration after execution and without privity of party to be affected by it, effect of—Deeds which have a continuing effect, and deeds taking effect at once—Distinction—Costs—Relief given to plaintiff not being that which he claimed—Practice.—An award of arbitrators can none the less be pleaded in a subsequent suit, and if valid must be given effect to, though no application for filing it in Court has been made, or such application has been unsuccessful, if its validity has not been actually put in issue on such application. (18 C. 414, P.C.F.) A material alteration made in a written instrument after its execution and without the privity of the party to be affected by it, prevents the party in whose custody the instrument has been, from making any use of it at all. (12 C.P.L.R. 33, F.) But there is a distinction between those deeds or clauses of a deed which have a continuing effect, or are executory, such as a covenant to pay a sum of money, and those which produce their full effect at the instant of execution, such as a a conveyance of land. For no case can be found in which a deed or clause of a latter nature has been prevented from taking effect because the deed was altered after execution, so that an altered deed may be given in evidence to prove any effect produced by it in its orginal form at the instant of its execution, or of any right which existed aliunde, and of which it is evidence. (25 A. 580, F.) In a suit brought by the plaintiff against the defendant the relief given to the plaintiff was not that which he claimed. Held, each party should bear his own costs throughout. GANPAT v. RAMAKRISHNAPURI, 6 N.L.R. 1=5 Ind. Cas. 425.

Award—continued.

(127)—Suit on award—Want of jurisdiction in arbitrators can be pleaded—Binding character of award—Award operates from its date—Award directing partition effects severance at its date.—In a suit to enforce an award, it is open to the defendant to urge and show that the award is not binding upon the parties for want of jurisdiction in the arbitrators. An award is equivalent to a judgment, whether it has passed into a decree or not. It is binding upon the parties. When it directs partition to be effected, it dissolves the joint family ; and from the moment of its date, it severs their joint interests. BHAURAO JIVAJI TIVLE v. RADHABAI LAXAMAN JIVAJI, 11 Bom. L.R. 408=33 B. 401=2 Ind. Cas. 431. (18 C. 414, 11 Bom. L R. 20, F.)

(128)—Arbitration — Construction—Various pieces of evidence held admissible—Award filed in Court six months after passing of Oudh Estates Act, 1869.—On the construction of an award made by a body of Oudh taluqdars, original grants by a talukdar to a younger member of his family and the holding for three generations in succession by the descendants of that member of land in lieu of maintenance, were held to justify the presumption that such grants were intended to be absolute. The various pieces of evidence that were held admissible were.—(a) Certain old pattahs (granted previous to the Mutiny) were releveant as ancient documents coming from proper custody. (b) The state of possession which followed upon the grants made by the pattahs, in the absence of any clear words of limitation in them, was relevant evidence on the question of their construction. (c) In construing the final award directing the right of maintenance to the younger branch to continue as before, it is legitimate to refer, not only to evidence of antecedent possession bearing upon that point which is independent of the proceedings in the submission, but to those quasi-judicial acts of the arbitrators upon which their ultimate award was based. Though an award made by a body of Oudh talukdars on a point decided by them and approved by the Financial Commissioner, but filed in Court more than six months after the passing of the Oudh Estates Act, 1869, would not come within the provisions of s. 33 of the Act, it would not on that account be invalid, for, though it was not res judicata, yet it was obligatory upon both parties to the submission and upon those whose interests they respresented. ARDAWAN SINGH v. PARTAB SINGH, 6 M L J. 79, P.C.=23 C. 838=23 I.A. 64=7 Sar. 24. [R., 2 O.C. 149.]

Award—continued.

(129)—Award by arbitrators—Petition for withdrawal of suit—Civ Pro.Code 1882, ss. 373, 520 and 521, Ch.XXXVII.—The general powers relating to withdrawal of suits conferred upon the Court by s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, are, when an award has been duly made by an arbitrator to whom the case is referred for arbitration, limited by the particular provisions contained in ss. 520 and 521 of Ch. XXXVII of the Code. Where by consent a suit was referred to arbitration and the arbitrators made the award within the time limited for making it and the plaintiff put in a petition of objection to the award under s. 521, Civ. Pro. Code, and before any order had been made on that petition, he put in an application for permission to withdraw the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, and that application was granted under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code. Held that the order was made without jurisdiction. DEBI CHURN MANNA v. BIJRA PRASAD JANA, 7 C.W.N. 186.

(130)—Order on application to file award—Civ.Pro.Code, 1882, s. 525.—An order made on an application to file an award under s. 525 of the Civ. Pro.Code, is a decree within the meaning of that expression as defined in the Civ. Pro. Code, and an appeal lies against such order. PONNUSAMI MUDALI v. MANDI SUNDARA MUDALI, 27 M. 255. F.B.=14 M.L.J. 356. [F., 29 M. 303, 126 P.R. 1907=88 P.W.R. 1907=50 P.L.R. 1908, 4 L.B.R. 130, 7 C.L. J. 486. 10 C.W N. 601=2 C.L.J. 153, 2 C.L.J. 80, 9 O.C. 205, 33 C. 757, F.B.=10 C.W.N. 609, 3 C.L.J. 450, 100 P.R. 1907=17 P.L.R. 1908, 58 P.W.R 1907, F.B.=1 P.R. 1908, 1 S.L.R. 86, F.B , 1 S.L.R. 149, 2 Ind. Cas. 92 =6 M.L.T. 137=19 M.L J. 394.]

(131)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 506 (=sch. II, s. 1, new Code)—'All the parties to the suit' meaning of—Decree based on award—Appeal—Judicial determination.—The words "all the parties to the suit" in s. 506, Civ. Pro. Code, must refer to the succeeding words, "any matter in difference between them in the suit." The section refers to all the parties to a suit who are interested. (1887), A.W.N. 215, R.) Therefore, where the decree based on an award was attempted to be set aside on the ground that all the parties to the suit did not join in the submission, held that as the persons who were not parties to the award, never put in any appearance in the Court, and there was no matter in difference between them and any other of the persons who submitted the matter in difference between them to arbitration, the objection was not valid. [R., 1 S.L.R. 209 ; D., 29 A. 423=4 A.L.J. 347=A.W.N. 1907, 147, 17 M.L.J. 394.] Where it was alleged that the Court passing a decree on an award refused to summon two of the arbitrators in accordance with a request made by one of the parties to the arbitration, that there was no judicial determination by the Court, and that consequently an appeal lay, held that there was the judgment of the Court, which was a judicial determination, and that, although there may have been some irregularities preceding the judgment, as the decree was in accordance with and was not in excess of the award, no appeal lay therefrom. PITAM MAL v. SADIQ ALI, 24 A. 229=A.W.N. 1902, 19.

Award —continued.

(132)—Arbitration and award — Suit for specific performance of award—Assessment of compensation impossible.—The arbitrator in a dispute between the owner and the lessee of a village made an award on the questions submitted to him to the effect that the lessee should surrender possession at a fixed time within the terms of the lease, that the lessee should pay the sum of Rs. 800 to the lessor, and that as to arrears of rent due from the tenants, the lessee should obtain decrees and execute a conveyance of them to the lessor who was to pay to the lessee the aggregate amount of the decrees. Certain terms of the award having been performed, the lessee sued for the specific performance of the remainder. He filed with his plaint a number of decrees obtained by him against the tenants together with a sale-deed conveying those decrees to the defendant and prayed that the defendant might be ordered to accept the conveyance and pay the amount of the decrees. Held that even if the award were bad, the defendant having acted on it and accepted the benefits it gave him, had precluded himself from impeaching it ; also that the case was not one in which it was possible to assess compensation in money for the breach of the particular condition in the award, and that the plaintiff was entitled to specific performance of the award. (Bell v. Denner (1886), 54 Law Times Reports, 739, F.) BRIJ MOHAN LAL v. SHIAM SINGH, 24 A. 164=A.W.N. 1901, 208.

(133)—Award beyond terms of reference—Ultra vires.—An award that goes beyond the terms of the reference to arbitration made to the arbitrators and deals with questions in excess of those so referred is to that extent ultra vires. MUHAMMAD MUMTAZ ALI KHAN v. FARHAT ALI KHAN, 23 A. 394, P.C.=8 C. W.N. 881=28 I.A. 190=8 Sar. 85.

(134)—Award prohibiting partition, when effective—Devolution of property, if alterable by award—Arbitrator, effect of entry made by, in award already made.—An award prohibiting partition of an estate liable to partition cannot have any binding effect except upon parties who have agreed among themselves to abide by it. An arbitrator's award cannot have the effect of making property which is divisible by law, indivisible for ever. It is not competent to an arbitrator to alter the course of legal devolution of property in a mode at variance with the ordinary principles of law governing the parties, in the absence of special custom prevailing in the family. [Appl., 33 C. 498 ; R., 13 P.R. 1906.] An entry made by an arbitrator in the schedule of the property, after he had made his award, to the effect that a particular portion had been given to the defendant as a dower and was her separate property, was held to be no part of the award and to confer no title on the defendant. The arbitrator, after having made his award, was functus officio, and had no jurisdiction to make the entry which he did. JAFRI BEGAM v. SYED ALI RAZA, 23 A. 383, P.C.=5 C.W.N. 585=28 I.A. 111=8 Sar. 27.

Award—continued.

(135)—Suit to enforce award—Suit for specific performance of contract.—A suit founded on an award is not a suit for the specific performance of a contract, any more than is a suit based upon a sale-deed a suit for the specific performance of the contract of sale, and the mere fact that the title of the parties to the property had been declared by the award sued on could not make any difference. SHEO NARAIN v. BENI MADHO, 23 A. 285=A.W.N. 1901, 83. (23 M. 593, F.; 5 A. 263, 16 A. 3 D.) [F., 15 C.P.L.R. 115, 7 O.C. 369, 33 C. 881=4 C.L.J. 162 ; R., 10 O. C. 218, U. B. R. 1909, Limitation 9 ; D., 26 A. 497=A. W. N. 1904, 72.]

(136)—S. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Appeal—Arbitration—Decree in accordance with award—Legality or validity of award.—In a suit, in which there were several defendants, one of the defendants alone appeared and the others did not enter any appearance at all. The plaintiff and the defendant who appeared, applied for a reference of the case to arbitration and the suit was accordingly referred and a decree was passed in accordance with the award. Held, the defendants, who did not appear, could not challenge the decree by way of appeal on the ground that they were not parties to reference and that, consequently, there was no legal and valid award. It was also decided in this case, that it was unnecessary to go into the question, whether the award was or was not valid by reason of the fact that some of the defendants did not join in the reference. CHAIRMAN OF THE PURNEA MUNICIPALITY v. SIVA SANKAR RAM, 33 C. 899. (29 C. 167 =29 I.A. 51, P.C., F.; 2 C.L.J. 153, 2 C.L.J. 142, Appr.; 9 C.W.N. 873, Diss.) [F., 11 C.W. N. 1152.]

(137)—Binding character of award—Award not an agreement but a judgment—Parties cannot nullify an award by non-action, but must agree mutually to treat it as nullity.—An award is not a mere agreement but is equivalent to a judgment. It is binding between the parties in all matters which it professes to decide. When once a matter has been decided between the parties, the parties ought to be concluded by an adjudication whatever it may be. In order that the parties should be remitted to their previous rights, it is not enough that the award was not enforced or that even both parties objected to it. There must be positive evidence that both parties agreed that the former state of things should be restored. LALDAS JIBHAI v. BAI LALA, 11 Bom. L. R. 20=5 M L.T. 226=1 Ind. Cas. 105. (19 M. 290, F.)

Award—continued.

(138)—Ss. 522, 523, 525, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), s. 70—Arbitration—Award—Application to file—Objections to filing of award—Appeal—Revision.—An application was made under ss. 523 and 525 of the Code, before the arbitrator had made his award. At the hearing, objections were raised, inter alia, that the award dealt with matters not referred to arbitration and that there had been a previous award. The Court, without deciding the objections, passed a decree in accordance with the award. On appeal, the application was dismissed on the ground that the reference to arbitration did not cover the matters dealt with by the award. On further appeal, it was contended that the appeal against the decree of the Original Court was not competent, that the appeal was barred by time and that the award was valid. Held, (1) that the proceedings being under ss. 523 and 525 of the Code, an appeal lay as to the fact of reference and the award being covered by the reference. (84 P. R. 1901=112 P. L. R. 1901, F.; 25 P. R. 1902, P. C. D.); (2) that the appellant was entitled to deduct the time spent in making the review of judgment and, allowing the time so spent, the appeal was within limitation; (3) that it was not necessary that the award should have been given before application was made under ss. 523 and 525, Civ. Pro. Code, that it was not shown that there had been any previous final award and that the agreement to refer included all the matters in dispute. The lower Appellate Court held that the objections filed by the defendant to the award were filed within time and should have been disposed of by the Original Court. Held, that this finding was correct but this question could not be dealt with an appeal. On revision, the Chief Court directed the Original Court to receive the objections and dispose of them according to law. BHAGWAN SINGH v. RAM KAUR, 38 P. L. R. 1906. [D., 80 P.R. 1909.]

(139)—Arbitrator deciding by lottery, if is an—I.C.A., s. 30—Wager—Agreement to decide suit by lottery is a wagering contract and void as opposed to public policy.—Suit for possession of land. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that there was an award by an arbitrator on reference made to him. As a fact the arbitrator only put a lottery on the parties agreeing to it and he who got the price ticket had the property. Held, that there was no arbitration, and that there was no decision by the arbitrator which can be called an award. Held, also, that the agreement to settle the dispute by lottery was ab initio void and forbidden by s. 30, Indian Contract Act. KALURAM v. RAM DAYAL, 3 N.L.R. 107=3 Ind. Cas. 55. (22 M. 212, R.).

(140)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 522—Award—Decree in accordance with award—Defendant not appearing to file objections—Ex-parte decree.—Where the defendant did not appear and file objections to an award, and decree was passed in accordance with the award under s. 522, Civ. Pro. Code, the decree cannot be said to have been passed ex parte and the order reviewing it was held to be illegal. SIDHU RAM v. GAMAN, 10 P.L.R. 1901.

(141)—Order rejecting application for filing award in Court under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, appeal from—Memorandum of appeal to be treated as application for revision under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code.—Certificate under s. 8, cl. (c), Act XIV of 1891, two Judges hearing application for revision, in the absence of. At the end of the memorandum of appeal from an order rejecting an application that an award may be filed in Court under s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, the appellant stated that even if no appeal lay, the Court was justified in interfering with the order of the Court below in the exercise of its revisional powers under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code. Held, that the Court could not deal with the case in the exercise of its revisional powers under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code. Held, that an appeal did not lie. Held further, that an application for the revision of the order of the lower Court would not be a proceeding which it was incumbent upon the two Judges, sitting together, to hear in the absence of the certificate referred to in s. 8, cl. (c) of Act XIV of 1891. MAHARAJ SINGH v. LOCHAN SINGH, 1 O.C. Sup. Vol. 22.

(142)—Ss. 508, 514 and 521, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 158—Award made and filed after expiry of time fixed—Appeal.—When a suit was referred to arbitration by a Court in compliance with an application of the parties, it fixed a time for the making of the award. The award, however, was made and filed in the Court after the time fixed by it. Neither party had applied for an extension of time nor had any order been made, by the Court itself, for extension, before the expiry of the time fixed. Held, that an award made after the expiry of the time fixed by the Court, is ab initio void. It cannot be validated by an acceptance thereof by the Court after the expiry of the time, nor by an order made by the Court, for extension of time, after the making of the award, because, when an award has once been completed and delivered into Court it has no power to grant an extension of time under s. 514, Civ. Pro. Code. (13 A. 300, 11 M. 85, F.; 15 M. 384, 14 A. 343, R.) A decree passed on such an invalid award is appealable. (29 B. 285, 16 C. 482, 24 C. 469, 17 B. 357, 18 A. 422, R.) Where an award is made after the expiry of the time prescribed by the Court for the making thereof, the Court ought to take judicial notice of its invalidity (13 A. 300, F.), notwithstanding the fact that neither party has taken any objection thereto. Art. 158 of the Limitation Act is inapplicable to such a case. KEWAL LODHI v. BAIJ NATH, 2 N.L.R. 81.

Award—continued.

(143)—Ss. 518, 522, 588 (26). Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Modification of award under s. 518—Appeal—Power of appellate Court to enter into question of misconduct or corruption of arbitrator.—An appeal, under s. 588 (26) of the Civ. Pro. Code, is limited solely to the question of the correctness of the order passed under s. 518; s. 522 of the Code does not allow an appeal from a decree based upon so much of an award as disposes of the matter referred to arbitration. The word 'award' in the last sentence of s. 522 means the modified award where the original award is modified. The concluding sentence of s. 522 of the Code does not empower an appellate Court to enter into the question of the corruption or misconduct of an arbitrator merely because he has delivered an award, which includes an adjudication on a matter not submitted to him. KALU v. KHAIR DIN, 13 P.R. 1906.

(143-a)—Judgment—Arbitrators—Review.—A judgment passed in accordance with the award of arbitrators is open to review. BUTA v. GUNI DAS, 111 P.R. 1881.

(144)—Ss. 521, 588—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Award—Objection of award—Award set aside—Appeal.—Held, that no appeal lies from an order under s. 521 of the Code setting aside an award. GANGA PRASAD v. KURA, A.W.N. 1906, 64=3 A.L.J. 168=28 A. 408. (8 C.W.N. 390, F.; 10 A. 8, Overruled.)

(145)—Ss. 522 and 525—Civ Pro. Code, 1882—Award, order refusing to file, appeal from—Application to file an award—Appeal.—An order dismissing an application under s. 525 of the Code, to have an award filed in Court is not a decree and is not appealable. In s. 522, the words "upon the judgment so given a decree should follow" refer to a judgment according to the award and not to a judgment or decision that the award is invalid and not binding on the parties. RAM SEWAK DAS v. DHARM DAS, 9 O.C. 205-B. (27 M. 255, 18 C. 414, P.C., 29 C. 167, 26 A. 205, 28 A. 21, 25 C. 757, R.) [R., 11 O.C. 116.]

(146)—S. 522—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Decree made in accordance with an award—Appeal against the decree depends on the validity or otherwise of the award.—As soon as an award has been made and filed in Court, the powers of the arbitrators come to an end; they become functus officio, and it is not open to a dissentient arbitrator to come in afterwards, and sign the award, nor has the Court any power to allow him to so sign it. The award, if so signed subsequently, becomes illegal and invalid on that account. The question, whether, under s. 522 of the Code, an appeal lies against a decree made in accordance with an award, depends upon whether the award itself is valid and legal. The said section pre-supposed a valid and a legal award, and not an award, upon which no decree could be pronounced. RAMESH CHANDRA DHAR v. KARUNAMOYI DUTT, 33 C. 498. (13 A. 300-18 I.A. 55, 23 A. 383, 25 C. 141, 29 C. 167=29 I.A. 51, R.)

Award—continued.

(147)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 521 and 522—Arbitration—Award—Finality of—Appeal—Revision.—The words of s. 522 of the Civ. Pro. Code are very clear and stringent and forbid an appeal except into so far as the decree does not respond with the award. Where the determination of a matter by the award is not included in the decree an appeal to that extent lies against the decree but the appellant has no right to open the whole case on appeal. A revision application against a decree based on arbitration award on the ground of material irregularity is competent but it must have reference to the proceedings of the lower Court and not to those of the arbitrator. The language of s. 520 of the Civ. Pro. Code does not make the remitting of the award compulsory on the Court but leaves it a discretion. A wrong exercise of discretion does not give any party right to apply for revision. When the parties to a dispute refer the whole case to the arbitrators, and the arbitrators erroneously decide a matter which does not actually fall within the scope of the case, their error is not one which can be corrected by the Court. SITA RAM v. DHANI RAM, 38 P.L.R. 1904.

(148)—Award not filed in Court within six months, enforcement of specific performance—Joint property, suit for division of—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 113—Civ. Pro. Code (1882), s. 525.—The fact that an award has not been filed in Court does not make it invalid, the provisions of s. 525, Civ. Pro. Code, being not imperative. (20 M. 490, 20 W.R. 420, F.) Held also that a suit to enforce an award cannot be treated as a suit for specific performance of contract within the meaning of art. 113 of the second schedule to the Limitation Act of 1877. (22 A. 285, F.) Held also that where by an arbitration a property has been awarded jointly to some members of the family alone, a suit can be brought by any of such members against the others for the division of that property alone without including the property which jointly belonged to the whole family. THAKUR SHEO NARAIN SINGH v. THAKUR BISHUNATH SINGH, 7 O.C. 369. (23 A. 216, F.)

(149)—Suit to set aside—Evidence recorded by umpire alone—Duty of arbitrators—Invalid award.—In a suit to set aside an award, on the ground that from the commencement to the close of the proceedings the arbitrators did not attend a single sitting and that the umpire alone recorded the evidence in the case: Held, that until all the arbitrators and the umpire attend every sitting, hear all the evidence bring their minds to bear on the points at issue, and give an award according to their judgment on the merits of the evidence, there can be no award, in fact, made by them. HARPAL SINGH v. AMIR SINGH, 1 O.C. 181.

Award—continued.

(150)—Arbitration—Award—Ss. 508, 521, 522, Civ. Pro Code, 1882—Appeal.—An award passed without the submission to arbitration of all the parties interested in the subject-matter of it, and without an order of the Court as prescribed by s. 508, referring the matter in dispute to the determination of arbitration and fixing a time for the making of an award, is not an award in law. Held, therefore, that, where an award is made without the submission of all the parties, and without fixing a time for the making, and a decree is made in accordance with it, an appeal is not thereby barred. NEGI PURAN v. HIRA SINGH. 6 A. L.J. 333=1 Ind. Cas. 146. [R, 31 A. 450=6 A.L.J. 496=2 Ind. Cas. 363.]

(151)—Award made by financial Commissioner in dispute regarding maintenance—Rules of the British Indian Association—U.P. Act, I of 1869, s. 33.—Against SS, a Talukdar, A and S put in claims to be entitled to shares in the estate. Their claims were dismissed by the Financial Commissioner, Mr. Davies, on the 27th August, 1867, but he advised them to accept any maintenance awarded to them by the Committee of Talukadars. Subsequently on the 9th January, 1869, the Financial Commissioner made the following award in respect of their claims:—"The shares in compliance with Mr. Davies' order have applied to the Talukadars' Committee.....The case has now come to me for disposal, not judicially but as supervisor of the Talukdars' proceedings.....A who is childless will receive for his life a two annas share in the estate. S and his heirs will receive in perpetuity a 3 annas share in the same estate. On the death of A, his share will be divided equally, one anna will revert to S S and his heirs and successors, and one anna will go to S and his successors." A died and one anna accordingly went to S making his share up to 4 annas and one anna reverted to SS. S was put in possession of land having a gross rental equivalent to the profits of a 4 annas share. The plaintiff, the son of SS, sued the defendants, the descendants of S alleging that the award of the 9th January, 1869, was in the nature of an award for maintenance and must be read subject to the rules of the British Indian Association framed in 1867 and that S having died he was entitled under those rules to 25 per cent. of the gross rental from the first generation of his heirs as rent payable by the defendants to himself. The defence set up was that the Financial Commissioner was acting purely as an arbitrator and not as in any way connected with the British Indian Association and that the rules of British Indian Association could not be read

Award—continued.

into that award the effect of which was to confer a share in absolute proprietary right on S and his heirs. Held, that the Financial Commissioner when making his award of 9th January 1869 was acting as a private gentleman and not in official capacity and that his award should not be treated as an award made by the British Indian Association or read subject to the rules of that Association. GANGA BAKHSH v. DALIP SINGH, 7 O.C. 218, [R., 9 O.C. 179.]

(152)—Award—Provision in award to pay a certain sum—Person not a party thereto, whether can take benefit of it—Implied trust.—Where, in an award to which the plaintiff was no party, a provision was made that defendant should pay Rs. 100 to plaintiff on the responsibility of his share of the property, and it was intended entirely for the benefit of the defendant's brother. Held, that there was no trust created in favour of the plaintiff, and that he acquired no interest under the award as he was no party to it. SHRINIVASAYYA v. SITAMMA, 5 M.L.T. 199. (11 I.A. 20=6 A. 322, R.)

(153)—Power to extend time "for making award"—Arbitration Act (IX of 1899).—The Court is competent to extend the time for "making" the award, even after the award has been made by the arbitrator. SETH UTOOMAL VASOOMAL v. SETH HARIDAS ASANAND, 4 S.L.R. 26=7 Ind. Cas. 595. (13 A. 300, 14 A. 343, 9 M. 475, R.)

(154)—Legality of award opposed to Hindu law of inheritance.—An award of arbitrators cannot be questioned on the ground that it is opposed to the Hindu law of inheritance. MT. JANKI v. PUSA alias UMRAO, 14 C.P.L.R. 94. (1 C.P.L.R. 130, 8 C.P.L.R. 102, R.)

(155)—Binding force as against parties to submission—Effect of signature to award—Validity of award made in excess of authority.—An award of arbitrators derives its binding force as against the parties entirely from the previous submission of the latter to the jurisdiction of the arbitrators and the subsequent signatures of the parties in token of consent does not in any way affect the character of the document. It is neither more binding upon the parties when signed by them nor less binding when they do not sign it. It is binding in the former case because it is the judgment of a tribunal to which the parties had unconditionally submitted before adjudication and not because they have subsequently acknowledged the justice of the decision. Where the arbitrators had been directed by the parties to divide certain properties and had not been directed to do anything more a decision by them as to the respective shares of the parties without making a complete division of the property is not valid. JAGANNATH v. RAMBUX, 6 C.P.L R. 95. (2 C. 386, D.)

(156)—Validity of award by majority.—An award to be valid must be the unanimous

Award —continued.

award of all the arbitrators unless the agreement of reference allows a majority to give a decision. RAMA v. MANA, 12 C.P.L.R 112. (19 W.R. 47, 7 M. 174, F.) [Cited, 4 N.L.R. 184.]

(157)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 2—Arbitration—Award—Objections against—Order disposing of objections — Appeal — Revision — Order—Decree.—The plaintiff preferred objections to an award in a case referred to arbitration through Court. The Court, by an order dated the 15th February, 1910, having considered the objections, passed an order in these terms "I refuse to set aside this award." The case was adjourned to several dates for arguments on other aspects of the dispute, but before any order was passed, the plaintiff appealed against the order refusing to set aside the award. In reply to the plea that the order was not appealable it was contended that the order was a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2, cl. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and it was also urged that the appeal may be treated as a revision. Held, that the contention was not valid and an appeal was not competent against the order; for it could not be held to be a decree. Held, also that the appeal could not be treated as a revision; for where in arbitration proceedings an appeal is not allowed, revision would be still more objectionable. NARPAT RAI v. DEVI DAS, 1 P.L.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 385=12 P.W.R 1911. (25 P.R. 1902, P.C., F.)

(158)—Reference under mistake of right—Mistake one of law—Award not to be set aside.—Where an award was made in pursuance of an agreement to refer, the award could not be set aside on the ground that the parties to the agreement labored under a mistake that all instead of one of them were entitled to the estate in question and the mistake was one of law and not of fact. MANBODH v. BARI BOHU, 3 C P.L.R. 89.

(159)—Res judicata—Order refusing to file award—Suit to enforce it—Whether barred.—An order of a Court refusing to file an award does not operate as res judicata in respect of a subsequent suit brought to enforce it, inasmuch as no appeal lies from the order refusing to file it. SHIB CHARAN DAS v. RAMCHANDAR SARUP, 8 A.L.J. 315. (28 A. 21, 32 A. 484, R).

(160)—Setting aside award—Misconduct of arbitrators—Mere suspicion not sufficient—Express or implied fraud or corruption necessary.—To induce the Court to interfere with an award on the ground of misconduct there must be something more than suspicion. The misconduct must amount to corruption or fraud or to something from which fraud or corruption might be inferred. The mere fact that an arbitrator is indebted to one of the parties is not sufficient to set aside an award, though it may be a matter of suspicion. MUKUND RAM SUKAL v. SALIGRAM SUKAL, 2 C.P.L.R. 202.

(161)—Reference to arbitration without intervention of Court—Order of Assistant Collector, first class, directing award to be filed—Whether appeal from such order lies to District Judge.—Held, that no appeal lies to the District Judge from an order of an Assistant Collector, first class, directing that an award made on a matter referred to arbitration without the intervention of the Court should be filed. GOBARDHAN PRASAD v. GUR PRASAD RAM, 8 A.L.J. 1090.

Award—continued.

(162)—Award—Special performance—Suit on an award not a suit for specific performance of a contract—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), sch. I, arts. 113, 116, 120—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 30.—A suit for recovery of money, payable to the plaintiff under the terms of an award based upon a registered agreement to refer to arbitration, and which has not been paid, is not a suit for enforcing the specific performance, but one for compensation for non-compliance with the terms of the award, and for purposes of limitation is governed either by art. 116 or art. 120 of the Limitation Act. S. 30 of the Specific Relief Act lays down that, when the question is one of specific performance, the Court has the same powers, and should proceed upon the same principles, in the case of an award as in the case of a contract. The way to consider the question is to take the terms of the award before the Court and to see whether, if the same terms had been embodied in a contract between the parties, the suit is or is not one in which specific performance of those terms is claimed and ought to be decreed. KULDIP DUBE v. MAHANT DUBE, 8 A.L.J. 1138.

(163)—Award, grounds for setting aside of—Arbitrators, powers and duties of—Misconduct of arbitrator—Civ. Pro. Code, 2nd schedule, paras 14, 15 and 20—Limitation Act, art. 158.—Subject to any limitations contained in the instrument of his appointment and to any statutory directions as to the manner in which he is to discharge his duties, an arbitrator may conduct his proceedings in any manner he thinks fit, so long as he acts in accordance with the principles of justice, equity, and good conscience. He is not fettered by rules of practice which Courts of law adopt for general convenience, nor bound by the adjective law laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure and the rules made under it, or the rules relating to evidence to be found in the Indian Evidence Act. He may also, in forming his judgment, act upon merely moral considerations of which a Court of law could not take cognizance. Where the award is good on the face of it, the parties cannot object to the arbitrator's decision either upon law or fact, and the Courts will not ordinarily review his discretion, provided he acts within his authority and behaves fairly to each party. Nor will they interfere with his judgment or any mere ground of mistake. An arbitrator called as a witness in an action on an award might be examined as to every matter of fact with reference to the making of the award, and whether in his estimate of the compensation he took into consideration any matters not included in the reference and therefore not within his jurisdiction, but he cannot be questioned as to the elements which he took into his consideration in determining the quantum of compensation, or so as to scrutinise the exercise of his discretionary power to award compensation. Held, further, that the principles accepted in the English law for regulating the conduct of the arbitrators are not inapplicable to arbitration-proceedings held in this country. Nor are the powers of the Courts in India to review the proceedings of arbitrators any more extensive than they are in England. Held also, that art. 158, Limitation Act, cannot apply to a written statement which a defendant is required to file in answer to an application for the purpose of having the award made a rule of Court. BADRUDDIN HASSAN v. AMIR BEGAM, 14 O.C. 308.

Award—continued.

(164)—Award, private arbitration—Partial enforcement of award by Court—Jurisdiction of Court to give a decree on portion of award—Award, rule of construction of—Liberal construction—Arbitrator, power of—Substantial and complete justice, if sufficient—Award, beyond reference, if enforceable—Objection to the award, if can be taken by the party in whose favour it is made—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 525.—An arbitrator is not bound by mere rules of practice which Courts have adopted for general convenience, and he has greater latitude than Courts of law to do complete justice between the parties according to equity and good conscience. In this view, Courts are never astute to entertain technical objections to awards. The Courts will not review awards upon the merits, they will not constitute themselves as Courts of appeal to examine whether or not the conclusion at which the arbitrator arrived was sound, both in point of law and in point of fact. An arbitrator cannot, however, go beyond the precise questions submitted; it will not do for him to determine any claims or demands, though existing between the parties to the submission, save only those which they have agreed that he shall decide. The submission furnishes the source and prescribes the limits of the authority of the arbitrator. The arbitrator is inflexibly limited to a decision of the particular matters submitted; he cannot taken upon himself an authority which the submission does not confer. Where, the matter in controversy submitted to the arbitrator was whether the plaintiff had a right of way over a specified strip of land, and not whether the plaintiff should have access to a particular part of the village across the land of the defendant, the arbitrator was bound to base his decision upon an investigation of the first question, and he had no authority to lay out a new path on a piece of land over which neither party alleged a right of way. It is only the party prejudiced by the exercise of excessive authority by the arbitrator who is entitled to object to the award by reason of it; the party, in whose favour the erroneous action of the arbitrator operates, cannot be heard to impeach the validity of the award on this ground. Semble:—It is not competent to the Court, in a proceeding under s. 525 of the Code of 1882, to direct that the award be filed in part; the Court is bound to refuse an application made to it for filing the award, if in its opinion the award is open to attack in part. NARSINGH NARAIN SINGH v. AJODHYA PRASAD SINGH, 15 C.L J. 110.

Award—continued.

(165)—Award—Construction—British Indian Association, award made by—"In perpetuity," meaning of—Suit for possession after the death of the grantee—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court—Oudh Rent Act (XXII of 1886), s. 108 (5 A)—Resumption of rent-free grant—Suit for ejectment against transferee.—Under an award of the British Indian Association, the appellant's predecessor-in-title was granted a village rent-free "in perpetuity." Held, that the award did not confer any under-proprietary right; nor did the use of expression "in perpetuity" imply an extension of interest beyond the life-time of the grantee. (8 A 39, 12 I.A. 159, 23 A. 194, 7 O.C. 90, Rel. on; 23 C. 838, 23 I.A. 64, D) A suit for possession of the land, after the death of the grantee, against the transferee of a non-transferable grant, is not a suit for resumption within the meaning of s. 108 (5-A) of the Oudh Rent Act. It is merely a suit for ejectment of a trespasser, and as such is cognizable by the Civil Court. (3 O. C. 48, Rel. on). A talukdar is entitled to sue in ejectment against the transferee of a non-transferable grant alone, without at the same time or previously suing for resumption of the rent-free grant as against the grantee or his heir. SHAMBHU NATH v. RUDRA PRATAB NARAIN SINGH, 12 Ind. Cas 324.

Award directing payment to plaintiff within two months by assignment of debts—Failure to make payment—Interest—See ACT XXXII OF 1839, 8 M.L.T. 405=8 Ind. Cas. 349.

See ACT XXVIII OF 1860, ss. 21, 28, 12 M. 1.

See ACT XVII OF 1873, 19 C. 584, P.C.= 19 I.A. 95, 19 C. 742.

See ACT I OF 1894, 23 C. 526.

Conditions of a valid award under Land Acquisition Act—When it is deemed to be "made"—See ACT I OF 1894, ss. 6, 7, 11, 12, 18, 123 P.R. 1908.

Locus standi to contest the sufficiency of, interest in land whether necessary for—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 18, 10 C.W.N. 195.

An—under ss. 26, 30 or 54 of Act I of 1894 (Land Acquisition) is a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code—See ACT I OF 1894, ss. 26, 30, 54, 53 P.R. 1906=103 P. L.R. 1906.

Under the Land Acquisition Act directing investment of the compensation-money in Government securities, maintainability of appeal against an—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 54, 29 M. 117.

Award—continued.

Made ex parte—Validtiy of ex parte award —See ACT IX OF 1899, s. 4, 10 C.W.N. 814= 33 C. 1237.

Order dismissing application to set aside award, whether decree—See ACT IX OF 1899, ss. 11 (2), 14, 14 Bur. L.R. 129=4 L.B.R. 249.

See BEN. ACT XIII OF 1848, Marsh 323.

Decision under Batwara law—See BEN. ACT XIII OF 1848, W.R. F.B. 12=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 5=Marsh 37.

By Deputy Collector—How far binding—See BEN. ACT VI OF 1880, ss. 3, 44 (2), 55, 56, 8 C.W.N. 669.

In arbitration out of Court — Decree in terms of—Power to grant instalments in payment—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 15-B, 13 Bom. L.R. 352.

See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 47, 8 B. 20.

See C.P. ACT XVIII OF 1881, s. 87, 27 C. 515, P.C.=27 I.A. 39=4 C.W.N. 582.

See C.P. ACT IX OF 1883, ss. 87, 88, 2 C.P.L.R. 116.

Decision on—made by one arbitrator only—Civil suit in respect of same matter—See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, ss. 220, 230, 231, 18 A. 172 =A.W.N. 1896, 14.

An arbitration under, if valid—When delivered after specified time—See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, s. 221, 14 A. 347=A.W.N. 1892, 20.

See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, ss. 222, 229, 231, A.W.N. 1882, 82.

Decree on judgment in accordance with an award—Appeal—See APPEAL—GENERAL, 25 P.R. 1902, P.C.

An award by Court in the form of a decree, no appeal lies against—See APPEAL—ARBITRATION, 1 Bom. L.R. 366=23 B. 752.

See APPELLATE COURT—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 B.L.R. App. 29 (b)=11 W.R. 57.

Suit to set aside an—made otherwise than on a reference under Ch. XXXVII, Civ. Pro. Code, maintainability of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, Ch. XXXVII, 3 L.B.R. 4.

—Application to file award in 1908—Order refusing to file award made in 1909—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 104, 105, 154, 7 A.L.J. 1070=3 Ind. Cas. 8.

Order filing an—Decree based thereon—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 104 (f), sch. II, cl. 21 (1) and (2), 172 P.L.R. 1911.

Award made after expiry of time fixed by Court—Application for extending time to file, award—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 148, 38 C. 522.

Adjustment before award—Decree according to award—Adjustment not certified—Powers of executing Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 2, sch. II, rr. 15, 20, 21, 6 A.L.J. 403=2 Ind. Cas. 608.

Award—continued.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 1, sch. II, r. 20, 31 C. 516.

Compromise amending award—Delay in acting upon its conditions—Effect—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, rr. 1, 3, sch. II, r. 20, 38 P.W. R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 994.

Agreement to refer made by guardian of minor defendant—Sanction of Court not given —Validity of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXII, r. 7, 17 C.P.L.R. 147.

Decree based on — Appeal —Further reference to arbitration — Bad—Remand—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 23, A.W.N. 1905, 164=2 A.L.J. 477.

See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT, 6 M.H.C. 40.

Silent as to costs—Procedure to be adopted by Court—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 35 P.L.R. 1906.

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 31, 10 C. 11.

Appeal from decree in accordance with—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. I, art. 1, A.W.N. 1907, 177.

Order rejecting objections to—Application for revision—Court-fee—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. I, art. 13, 4 P.L.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 388=13 P.W.R. 1911.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 145, 7 C.W.N. 461.

Suit for partition—Arbitration—Decree on —Direction in decree to deliver moveable property—Part of such property lost—Alteration of decree—See DECREE—ALTERATION OR AMENDMENT OF DECREE, 17 B. 657.

Empire—Decision by—Binding nature of —See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, 4 M. 311.

Right to contest question disposed of by award—See ESTOPPEL — ESTOPPEL BY DEEDS, ETC., 11 C. 386, P.C.=12 I.A. 67.

Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 525—Suit upon an —See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 15 M. 99=1 M.L.J. 591.

Civ. Pro. Code, s. 525—Non-production of award, procedure—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 12 M. 331.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1894, 38.

Award whether evidence against persons not parties—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 26 M. 28.

Against Hindoo widow or daughter—Effect on reversioners—See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION, 4 A.L.J. 365=A.W.N. 1907, 151=29 A. 487.

Award of arbitrators dividing properties of co-parceners and directing enjoyment till a certain period—Reservation of right to re-partition on the expiry of the period—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 4 Ind. Cas. 392=7 M.L.T. 67=20 M.L.J. 29=33 M. 246.

Award—continued.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, A.W.N. 1884, 217, 23 M. 490.

Arbitration — Mortgage-suit — Arbitrator not allowing interest on sum found due—Validity of award—See INTEREST—SPECIAL CASES, 7 C.L.R. 206.

Jurisdiction of High Court—Application to file—See JURISDICTION—SUITS FOR LAND, 2 C. 445.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, A. W.N 1886, 158.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 14, W.R. 1864, 378.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 14. art. 113, 67 P.R. 1889.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 14, 45, 120, A.W.N. 1881, 91.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 45, 3-A. 738.

Judicial—Proceedings of settlement officer as to cess—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 45, 46, 1 Agra 134.

Of settlement officer—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 45, 46, 1 Agra 228.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 45, 46, 2 Agra 8, 2 Agra 258.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 46, 142, 144, 41 P.R. 1881.

Suit to recover money under—Limitation —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 113, 115, 120, 178, U.B.R. 1909, 2nd Quarter, Limitation, 9.

Suit for recovery of immoveable property based upon—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 113, 144, 26-A. 497.

Application to set aside award—Limitation —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 158, 8-A. 64=A.W.N. 1886 2.

Application to set aside—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 158, 5 C.W.N. 813, 36 C. 36.

Whether governed by Mahomedan Law—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, 8 A.L.J. 746.

See MINOR — SUITS BY AND AGAINST MINORS, 9 B.H.C. 289.

See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 4 A. 462=A.W.N. 1882, 106.

See PANCHAYAT, 15 M. 1.

See POSSESSION — ADVERSE POSSESSION, 10 M.I.A. 511.

Signed by the parties—Partition-deed—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, P.L.R. 1900, p. 459.

Creating or declaring title to immoveable property—Registration—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 6 Ind.Cas. 361.

Award—concluded.

Thakbust—See BEN. REG. VII OF 1882; 2 B.L.R.P.C. 111=12 M.I.A. 275=12 W.R. P.C. 6, 2 B.L.R. P.C. 137=12 M.I.A. 292=12 W.R. P.C. 6.

Suit for partition—Award, effect of—See RES JUDICATA—ADJUDICATIONS, 19 M. 290.

Order refusing to file an—Subsequent suit to enforce the—Res judicata—See RES JUDICATA—ADJUDICATIONS, 7 A.L.J. 425=6 Ind. Cas. 127=33 A. 484.

Previous suit for partition based on general right as co-parcener—Right to partition under previous award not included in plaint—Subsequent suit whether maintainable as based on award—See RES JUDICATA—CAUSE OF ACTION, 14 B. 31.

Estoppel—Suit to contest revenue — See RES JUDICATA—MATTERS IN ISSUE, 1 B.L. R.A.C. 1=10 W.R. 22.

Decree on judgment in accordance with an award—Revision—See REVISION—GENERAL, 88 P.R. 1902.

Notice of filing of award not given to parties—Passing of decree—Material irregularity—Revision—See REVISION—GENERAL, 20 A. 474=A.W.N. 1898, 132.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—POSSESSION, SUIT FOR, 10 W. R. 71.

Effect of settlement award—See SETTLEMEET—EFFECT OF SETTLEMENT, 13 C.P.L. R. 81.

See SETTLEMENT — MISCELLANEOUS, 68 P.R. 1871.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 3 N.W.P. 117.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—MISCELLANEOUS, 13 M. 344.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—GENERAL, 6 C.W.N. 614.

Decree by first Court against terms of award—Decree on first appeal in accordance with award, no second appeal lies from—See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—RIGHT OF SPECIAL APPEAL, 10 A. 8=A.W.N. 1887, 240.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—SMALL CAUSE COURT SUITS, 4 B.L.R. App. 82=13 W. R. 233, 7 N.W.P. 157.

Nature of suit founded on—See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 15 C.P.L.R. 115.

On arbitration out of Court, maintainability of suit under Specific Relief Act, s. 30, to enforce an—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 30, U.B.R. 1906, Specific Relief, 30.

Of lugyis—See STAMP ACT, 1899, 1 L. B. R. 84.

Stamp on award directing division of property is an instrument of partition within the meaning of the Stamp Act—See STAMP ACT, 1899, s. 2 (15), 8 Bom. L. R. 869=31 B. 68.

Akut Accounts.

See EVIDENCE—ACCOUNTS, 9 M. 285.

Ayautaka Stridhan.

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHANAM, 7 Bom. L. R. 904=2 A.L.J. 238, P.C.

Babuana Allowance.

See MAINTENANCE, 6 C.W.N. 796.

Babuana and Sohag.

Properties—Inheritance—Darbhanga Raj—See CUSTOM, 3 Ind. Cas. 207.

Babuana Grant.

(1)—Durbhanga Raj—Babuana grant—Mortgage by grantee—Legal necessity—Alienability—Ancestral property.—Property granted as babuana to junior members of the family by the Maharaja of Durbhanga is ancestral property and is governed by the ordinary rules of Mitakshara law to which the Raj itself would be subject but for the peculiar custom necessary for its continuance as a Raj. Such property is alienable for legal necessity. BHABESHWAR SINGH v. RAI BABU GANGA PERSHAD SINGH BAHADUR, 12 C. W. N. 966. (10 C.W.N. 978=33 C. 1158. 12 C.W.N. 958, F.)

(2)—Babuana grant by the Darbhanga Raj—Impartible and alienable—Mortgage by holder to pay off antecedent debt, if binds sons—Right to maintenance if revives on transfer or loss of grant—Sale by Maharaja of grant to realise revenue paid by him on grantee's default—Condition of grant—Custom.—It being conceded that the lands or usufructs granted as babuana to junior members of the Durbhanga Raj family are impartible, descending to the eldest male heirs of the grantees to be held or managed by the persons to whom they descend for the maintenance of the family, and that, on failure of male descendants, they revert to the Raj—and there being no provision express or implied that the interest granted should be inalienable, held, that such grants are alienable. That notwithstanding their impartibility, such grants come, in the absence of some special family custom regulating their enjoyment, within the principle of the Mitakshara law, whereby a father may, in order to satisfy an antecedent debt of his own not being of an illegal or immoral character, mortgage ancestral property, and such transaction may be enforced against his sons by a suit and by proceedings in execution to which they are not parties. There is no authority for the proposition that, on the loss or alienation of babuana property, the right to maintenance of the present and prospective members of the branch against the Raj revives toties quoties. It being a condition of babuana grants that, the holder should pay Government revenue due in respect of the property granted through the Maharaja, it cannot be permitted that the subject of the grant should be enjoyed and the condition upon which it was made disregarded. It cannot therefore be disputed that, if, on the failure of the holder to pay revenue, the Maharaja has to pay it, he may recover the amount by suing the holder for it and putting the property granted to sale in execution of the decree obtained by him. Property, though impartible, may be alienable. (8 I. A. 248, 15 I.A. 51, 3 C.W.N. 415=26 I.A. 83, Rel. on.) Held, that a custom of inalienability of babuana property was not proved in this case. DURGADUT SINGH v. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR AND TARADUT SINGH alias TARANANDJI v. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR, 13 C.W.N. 1013, P.C.=6 M. L.T. 68=11 Bom L R. 901=6 A L.J. 847=36 C. 943=10 C L J. 233=19 M.L.J. 567=36 I.A. 176. (15 I.A. 51, R.)

Babuana Grant—continued.

(3)—Alienability—Hindu Law—Mitakshara—Babuana property, if ancestral in the grantee's hand—Interest of co-parcener, attached before death—Claim—Release from attachment—Right of decree-holder to follow property—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 280—Regular suit.—Property granted as babuana in accordance with the kulachar of the Durbhanga Raj to junior members of the family for their maintenance is alienable, subject to the ultimate claim of the grantor, as reversioner, on the extinction of the grantee's descendants in the male line. (9 C.W.N. 567=32 C. 683, F.) Such property is ancestral property in the hands of the grantee, and a son of the grantee acquires an interest in it at his birth. When the undivided property of a joint Mitakshara family was attached in execution of a decree against a co-parcener, the fact that the property was, before the judgment-debtor's death, provisionally released from attachment under s. 280, Civ. Pro. Code, does not prevent the decree-holder from working out his rights acquired by virtue of the attachment, if, subsequently to the judgment-debtor's death, the order under s. 280, Civ. Pro. Code, is set aside in a regular suit. RAM CHANDRA MARWARI v. MUDESHWAR SINGH, 10 C.W.N. 978=33 C. 1158. (6 I. A. 88, 23 C. 829, Rel. on.) [F., 12 C.W.N. 966, 35 C. 823=8 C.L.J. 124=12 C.W.N. 958, 6 A.L.J. 434; R., 5 C.L.J. 80=11 C.W.N. 163.]

(4)—Revenue and cess, liability for—Durbhanga Raj—Contribution—Interest—Tenure-holder—Proprietor.—Held, in respect of a babuana grant of certain mehals in the Darbhanga Raj, that the plaintiff Maharaja and the defendants (holders of the babuana grant) are neither co-proprietors, nor are the latter tenure holders under the former; that, in accordance with the sanad, the defendants must pay all Government dues, (including cesses), through the plaintiff, and if the plaintiff pays the amount, he is to be fully reimbursed by the defendants; that interest on cesses payable by the defendant should be allowed at the rate of 12 per cent. per mensem, as in a contribution suit. LALITESHWAR SINGH v. MAHARAJA RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR, 13 C.W.N. 118=4 Ind. Cas. 331.

Babuana Grant—concluded.

(5)—Babuana grant of ancestral property—Grantee's estate, nature of—Custom—Burden of proof—Partition—Babuana grant, nature of.—Per Curiam.—Landed property acquired by a grandfather and distributed among his sons does not, by such gift, become their self-acquired property so as to enable them to dispose of it to the prejudice of the grandsons. (6 M.I.A. 165, F.) A Babuana grant of ancestral property by the owner of an impartible estate to enure for the benefit not only of a junior member of the family but of his male descendants in the direct line does not lose its ancestral character by the grant. It does not become self-acquired property in the hands of the grantee or his direct male decendants. Hence the other members of the family have the rights in it which they can claim under the Mitakshara Law, that is, the right to restrain alienation except in cases of legal necessity and the right to claim partition : and the original grantee has no power to dispose of the property by Will. (33 C. 1158. F.) The custom which operates in the case of the Raj itself does not apply to a Babuana grant without the requisite proof which is necessary in such cases. The burden of proof lies upon the person seeking to establish the particular custom and to take this out of the ordinary category of Hindu family property. Per Brett, J.—A babuana grant is made to a junior member of the family and to his decendants in the male line for their maintenance. The grant is not of a portion of landed property to pay off a certain fixed sum of money which the grantee is entitled to claim on account of his maintenance from the Raja, but it is a grant for the maintenance of the grantee and his male decendants so long as there are any. LALITESHAR SINGH v. BHABESHWAR SINGH, 8 C.L.J. 124=12 C.W.N. 958=35 C. 823. [F., 12 C.W.N. 966.]

Alienability of — See GRANT — MISCELLANEOUS, 9 C.W.N. 567=32 C. 683.

Bachelor.

Adoption by widower or—See HINDU LAW —ADOPTION, 4 M.H.C. 270.

Back Fee.

Stipulation for, and acceptance of, validity of —See ACT XVIII OF 1879, ss 6, 12, 13, 27, 28, 29, 30, 45 P.W.R. 1907, F.B.=33 P.L.R. 1907=61 P.R. 1907.

Bad Faith.

See INSOLVENCY — INSOLVENCY UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 3 B.L.R. App. 14 (b).

Badl.

See HINDU LAW—GIFT, 6 M. 319.

Badni Contracts.

Nature of —See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 30, 57 P.W.R. 1907=74 P.R. 1908.

Badni Transaction.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 30, 213, 95 P.L.R. 1901=46 P.R. 1901.

Bahi Vaddust.

—prescribes general rules for keeping the "Bahi Yaddust." Civ. Cir. No. 2, dated 14th February, 1870, 13 W.R. Civ. Cir. 3.

Bai-bil wafa Deed.

By plaintiff in pre-emption suit, effect of on right to pre-empt—See MORTGAGE—FORM OF MORTGAGES, 14 A. 195=A.W.N. 1892, 42.

"Bai-bil wafa" Mortgage.

Proceedings of settlement officer upon award before mortgage—Rights of mortgagee—See LIS PENDENS, A.W.N. 1888, 246.

Bai-bil-wafa form of mortgage—Two documents of same date for sale and re-conveyance —Admissibility of parol evidence to show real intention to create mortgage—See MORTGAGE —FORM OF MORTGAGES, 19 A. 434=A.W.N. 1897, 109.

Bail.

Malicious prosecution—Refusal to accept —Judicial Act — Malice — See JUDICIAL OFFICERS, LIABILITY OF, 2 M.H.C. 396.

Appeal under s. 73—Pending appeal—See ST. 11 AND 12, VIC., C. 21, s. 50, 17 B. 334.

Bail-bond.

(1)—Indemnity for a—.—A contract whereby it is sought to indemnify a surety for his bond is illegal under s. 24 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. LAXMANLAL v. MULSHANKAR, 10 Bom. L.R. 553=32 B. 449.

For accused—Forfeiture of—Suit, recovery of amount by surety against principal—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 23, 1 P.R. 1899.

Bailee.

See BAILMENT.

See CONTRACT ACT.

See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 72, 76, 17 M. 445.

Rule as to validity of delivery by the, to one of several joint bailors—Scope of the rule —See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 5 Ind. Cas. 343=7 M.L.T. 253=20 M.L.J. 709.

Hire of boats — Damage — Liability of— See NEGLIGENCE, 2 Hyde 79.

Bailiff.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 3 B. 89.

Power of Judge of High Court to appoint special bailiff—See ST. 24 AND 25, VIC., C. 104, s. 11, 26 M. 120.

Bailment.

See BAILEE.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872.

(1)—Goods damaged by Bailee's negligence—Proof of custom as to liability, admissible.—A certain quantity of wheat purchased by the defendant at plaintiff's request was left in the charge of the defendant who stored it in a room wherein it was damaged by rain-water. The plaintiff sued him in damages. Held that proof of custom or usage of trade as to liability was admissible. GOBIND SAHAI v. RAMJI DAS, 68 P. R. 1876.

Bailment—continued.

(2) — Pawnee — Inter-pleader suit — Small Cause Court—Act IX of 1850, s. 88 —In execution of a decree of the Small Cause Court obtained by A against B, certain goods of B in pledge with C were seized by, and kept in the possession of, a bailiff of the Court. C instituted an inter-pleader suit to recover possession of the goods. Held that the seizure by the bailiff while the goods were in the possession of C entitled C to maintain the suit, and a decree was accordingly given him with costs. BHINJI GOVINDJI v. MONOHAR DAS, 5 B.L R. App. 31 = 14 W.R. 303.

(3)—Gratuitous bailee, duty of—Non delivery of goods—Onus.—A suit cannot be maintained against a gratuitous bailee of goods, for failure to deliver the same, where, having been only bound to account for the manner in which they had been kept he had satisfactorily done so. Peacock, C.J.—It is doubtful whether the defendant in this case was a bailee at all. Per Markby, J.—The defendant in this case was a bailee for custody, but not a gratuitous bailee. MOOLCHAND v. ROBINSON, 1 B.L.R. O.C. 68.

(4)—Principles of law of bailment—Mofussil, applicability to.—The general principles of the law of bailment are applicable in the Mofussil, and are substantially the same as those which prevail under English law. DOOMUN PEADAH v. SHOOK CHAND PAUL, 17 W.R. 90.

(5)—Responsibility of bailee—Burden of proof.—When loss of goods bailed is established by the plaintiff, it lies on the defendants to show that they took as much care of the goods as a man of ordinary prudence would, under similar circumstances, have taken of his own goods of a similar kind, and that the loss occurred notwithstanding such care. TRUSTEES OF THE HARBOUR, MADRAS v. BEST & CO., 22 M. 524.

(6)—*Contract of bailment—Bailee's lien—*Quantum meruit—Contract Act, s. 70.—Where there is an express contract, it must be performed in its entirety, or nothing can be claimed under it, and there is only room for a quantum meruit claimed where no such express contract has been made. Therefore, where a person undertook to repair an organ for a particular sum of money and afterwards refused to repair it for that sum, he cannot claim remuneration for the work done by him, at a certain rate, and would not be entitled to retain the organ till such remuneration is paid SKINNER v. JAGER 6 A. 139 = A.W.N. 1883, 263.

See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 72, 76, 22 A. 361 = A.W.N. 1900, 111.

See CARRIERS, 2 N.W.P. 237, 3 N.W.P. 195.

Bailment—continued.

Bailment of goods—Bailee, whether could sell goods—Rights acquired by vendee from bailee—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 108, Exception 1, 11 B. 704.

Contract of—Bailed goods stolen—Liability of bailee—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 151, 90 P.R. 1900.

Entrusting for repair the driving beam of a sewing machine to coppersmith—Degree of care required of the coppersmith—Burden of proof—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 151, 152, 154, U.B.R. 1908, 1st Quarter, Contract, p. 11.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 178, 3 C. 251.

Currency notes entrusted for a specific purpose—Notes lost by gambling—Trover—Loan—Bona fide holder for value—Costs—See GAMBLING, 6 B.L R. 581.

See HOTEL KEEPER AND GUEST, 22 A. 164 = A.W.N. 1900, 3.

Bailee when not liable for loss of thing bailed — See JURISDICTION — CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, 70 P.R. 1906.

See MASTER AND SERVANT, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 67.

Bairagis.

In Karnal, not an agricultural tribe—See EVIDENCE—ACCOUNTS, 4 Ind. Cas. 495 = 51 P.W.R. 1909.

Hindu Law—Bairagi's rights—See HINDU LAW—GENERAL, 1 B. L. R. A. C. 114 = 10 W.R. 172.

Application for, by his preceptor's preceptor—Custom, proof of—See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION, 28 C. 608 = 5 C.W N. 873.

Baj Rojgar.

Gift for performing the ceremony of, is not valid and is therefore unenforceable at law—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 7 Bom. L.R. 324.

Balance.

(1)—Balance—Acknowledgment—Basis of suit—Examination of previous dealings—Amendment—Interest — Equitable claim — Laches—Revision (Civil)—Failure to exercise jurisdiction—Narrow interpretation of rulings — Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), s. 70 (1) (a).—A brought a suit on a balance claiming the amount acknowledged as due as well as interest. The first Court held that the plaint should be considered as amended so as to include the previous dealings between the parties, and the previous accounts were filed to enable the Court to deal with the claim. The Appellate Court, on the authority of certain rulings, dismissed the suit as not maintainable being on the basis of a balance. Held, (1) that the Appellate Court was in error in holding that it was bound to dismiss the suit; (2) that the narrow interpretation of the rulings by the appellate Court amounted to a refusal to exercise jurisdiction which justified revision under cl. (a) of s. 70 (1) of the Punjab Courts Act; (3) that, as the balance included a good deal of interest and A allowed nearly the full term of six years to run before putting defendant in Court, A was not equitably entitled to charge interest on the balance. There is no hard and fast rule that a suit brought on a balance is in all circumstances not maintainable. The striking of a balance may in itself merely serve to bring a claim within limitation. But in each case it will be a matter for consideration whether the form of suit requires the Court to go behind the balance and to determine whether the items from which it was made up should be examined. Where the first Court considers a suit brought on a balance as amended so as to include the previous dealings, the suit should not be dismissed as not maintainable. AMIR CHAND v. SUNDAR MAL, 7 P.L.R, 1912. (68 P R. 1904 =123 P.L.R. 1904, 119 P.R. 1908, Expl.)

Balance—concluded.

Balance-sheet.

Nikash or— Admissibility in evidence—See STAMP ACT, 1879, sch. I, art. 1, 15 C. 162.

Balcony.

Removal of—When once the balcony is built in defiance of the orders of the Municipality, the person putting it up cannot obtain injunction from the Civil Court restraining the Municipality from removing the same—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 33, 2 Bom. L.R. 572.

Erection of, without permission of the Municipality, prosecution for—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 308, 309, 342, 4 Bom. L.R. 575.

Projection of, over one's own ground or over Municipal ground, so as to overlook another's windows gives a cause of action to the latter for infringement of his easement—See EASEMENTS ACT, 1882, ss. 15, Expl. 1, 16, 17, 18, 2 Bom. L. R. 454.

Abutting of, on a private street and constructed in defiance of the orders of a District Municipality can be removed by the Municipality—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 33, 5 Bom. L.R. 48=27 B. 221.

Banco.

See BENCH, 24 P.R. 1868.

Bandhus.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 22 C. 339.

Bania and Zamindar.

Contract between — Grounds on which a Court can alter such a contract—See CONTRACT —ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, 13 P.R. 1905=80 P.L.R. 1905.

Banian.

In the case of— See LIEN, 30 C. 937= 7 C.W.N. 799.

Banian of a firm.

Lien in the case of a banian of a firm—See LIEN, 18 C. 573=18 I.A. 78, P.C.

Banian of a firm—concluded.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT – DUTIES AND LIABILITIES OF AGENTS, 2 B.L.R. O. C. 7.

Bank.

See BANKER AND CUSTOMER.

Spoliation of —Books—See ACCOUNTS— MISCELLANEOUS, 10 M.I.A. 490.

Receipt—given by—for amount of loan deposited—Terms of contract of loan contained in receipt—Production of receipt whether could be insisted on before payment by—See CONTRACT—CONDITIONS PRECEDENT, 14 B. 498.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR —WHEN DECLARATORY SUITS LIE, 2 B.L. R.A.C 212=11 W.R. 40.

Suit by bank in liquidation— Bank the proper plaintiff in—See PLAINT—FORM AND CONTENTS OF PLAINT, 17 A. 292=A.W.N. 1895, 81.

Duty of—to disclose guilt of person for whom defendant was surety—See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY— DISCHARGE OF SURETY, 15 B. 585.

Banker and Customer.

See BANK.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 59, 60.

(1)—Deposit—Agreement by Banker to buy securities for customer—Failure of Bank—Trust.—A & Co., Bankers, agreed to buy securities for the respondents, whose moneys they held in deposit. Before doing so, however, they suspended payment. Held, that the above agreement did not make A and Co., trustees for the amount in deposit. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. THE SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE, 6 Ind. Cas 240=8 M L.T. 52.

(2)—Remittance to Banker to purchase shares —Failure of Bank—Trust.—Respondent remitted to A and Co., Bankers, a cheque to purchase shares in certain companies. A & Co. bought some shares, and before completing the purchase they failed. Held, that A & Co. stood in the position of trustees to the respondent, and the latter was entitled to a refund of the unspent balance of the money. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. J. W. IRWIN, 6 Ind. Cas. 250=8 M.L.T. 99.

(3) — Deposit — Agreement by Banker to purchase Government promissory notes—Failure of Bank—Trust.—A & Co., Bankers, agreed to purchase Government promissory notes for an amount held by them in deposit on behalf of the respondents, but before they could do so, they suspended payment. Held, that no fiduciary relation was created so as to entitle respondents to claim return of the deposit. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. THE SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL, 6 Ind. Cas. 212=8 M.L.T. 80.

(4)—Fixed deposit—Expiry of period—Bank, whether trustee or debtor.—K had Rs. 1,500 on fixed deposit with A and Co., from 17th

Banker and Customer—continued.

October, 1905 to 17th October, 1906, the conditions being that, after the 17th October, 1906, no interest should be payable unless the deposit was renewed. After 17th October, 1906, K sent up his deposit receipt on due course for re-payment of the money, but before re-payment was made, A & Co. failed. Held, that the money continued to remain as a deposit after 17th October, 1906. A creditor cannot transform his debtor into a trustee by demanding the re-payment of the debt. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. N. KRISHNA BHATTA, 7 M L T. 416, F.B.

(5)—Remittance to Bank to the credit of payee—Payee not customer—Absence of instructions from payee—Nature of payment—Failure of Bank—Effect.—M. R. Co. remitted money to A & Co., to the credit of R, the payee. A. & Co. informed R, who was not one of their customers, that this had been done, and asked for his instructions. Before R could instruct, A & Co. suspended payment. Held, that it cannot be presumed that A & Co., received or were intended to receive the remittance as Bankers. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. D. RAJAM AIYAR, 7 M.L.T. 401, F.B.=6 Ind. Cas. 383=33 M. 299=8 Ind. Cas. 138. (32 M. 68, Not Appl.)

(6)—Money paid under suspense account pending settlement of terms of investment—Nature of payment—Ownership—Meaning of 'in suspense.'—M remitted money to A & Co. As M. and A & Co. could not agree as to the terms on which the latter were to hold the money in deposit, and pending further instructions from M.A. & Co., said they would hold the money in suspense account. Held, per Miller, J. (Munro, J., agreeing), that, when a man pays money into a Bank, whether he is a customer or not, the presumption, in the absence of other evidence, will be that he pays the money in to be held by the Banker, as Bankers ordinarily hold the moneys of their customers, irrespective of the fact that the claimant could have withdrawn the money if he could not come to terms of interest, period, or minimum amount of fixed deposit (32 M. 68. b'.) Money "in suspense" means no more than that the exact terms as to interest and period of deposit were not fixed, and that, once those were fixed, the arrangement would take effect from that date or possibly from the date of remittances. Held, per Abdur Rahim, J. (contra) that money held by a banker to a special suspense account, even though under an agreement which entitles the banker to appropriate the money to his own use whenever he chooses, does not amount to payment to the banker, if the latter has not, in fact, appropriated the money to his own use. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. MELLAPARANGAVUR SARVAJANA SAHAYA NIDHI, LD., 7 M.L.T. 402, F.B. =6 Ind. Cas. 427.

(7)—Money in fixed deposit—Demand at maturity — Whether Banker a trustee for the creditor.—Per Munro, J.—When a person pays money into a Bank, then, if nothing further appears, the money becomes the money of the Banker, who is entitled to mix it with his other money and use it as his own, but is bound to return its equivalent by paying a similar sum to that deposited with him when he is asked for it. In such a case, the relationship between the Banker and the person paying the money is that of ordinary debtor and creditor. The person paying the money, may, however, at the time of payment, give directions to the Banker, which put the relationship upon a different footing and give it a fiduciary character. When this is the case, the money does not become the money of the banker. He is not entitled to mix it up with his own money and use it, and if he does so and afterwards fails, the unspent balance in his hands must be taken to include the money which it was his duty to keep separate and not to use, rather than the money which he had the right to dispose of. It is on this principle that money held by a Banker in a fiduciary capacity may, if he fails, be recovered in full out of the general assets. Such directions as would cause the banker to hold the money in a fiduciary capacity may be given either at the time of payment or subsequently with the same result. Held, that, when a banker receives a customer's demand for re-payment, it was his duty to remit the money at once. After the demand, the Banker held it in the same way as if, on the day the demand was made, the customer had received the money and had then handed it back and asked the Banker to hold the money for him in trust, pending remittance to him at a future date. Per Abdur Rahim, J.—Ordinarily money paid into a Bank on current or deposit account is no longer the customer's money but the Banker's. The banker is a debtor in respect of such moneys, and not a trustee. A creditor is not competent, simply by making a demand for his debt, to turn his debtor into a trustee with respect to the amount, without the debtor having ever at any time accepted such a position. The relationship of debtor and creditor must be taken to continue until it is terminated by payment, unless there is an agreement to hold the amount in trust for the customer, or to apply it in a particular manner as his agent, and something is done towards effectuating the trust or applying it for the specified purpose, and a new and different kind of relationship would be established between the parties in substitution of the old. The position of Bankers and Customers, inter se, discussed. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. RAMACHANDRA IYER, 7 M.L.T. 214=33 M. 134=5 Ind. Cas. 974.

Banker and Customer—continued.

(8)—Direction by customer to purchase Government promissory note with money to his credit with the Bank, and promise by Banker accordingly—Bankruptcy—Insolvency—Banker whether a trustee—Failure by Banker to purchase—Effect.—L had, on the 5th August, 1906, Rs. 600 standing to the credit of his current account with A & Co. On the above date he wrote to A. & Co. requesting them to buy on his behalf a Government promissory note for Rs. 1,000 when the amount of his current account reached that sum. On the 30th September, 1906, L again wrote requesting A & Co. to buy the promissory note as there was then Rs. 1,000 to his credit. On the 10th October, he, not having received any reply to his letter, interviewed some of the officers at the Bank who told him that no reply was necessary as his instructions would be carried out in due course. But in fact A & Co., never brought any promissory note before they suspended payment on the 22nd October, 1906. Per Munro, J.—It was competent to L to give such directions, as would thereafter cause A & Co. to hold the money in a fiduciary capacity. In the face of L's specific directions, A & Co. were not entitled to use the money as their own, but held it in a fiduciary capacity. When money is handed to a Banker for the specific purpose of purchasing securities, the Banker has only a special property in the money so handed to him, and if he became a bankrupt while securities were unpurchased, the money would not go into the general account in the bankruptcy, but the whole amount must be paid to the customer. Per Abdur Rahim, J. (contra). A mere direction by L to A & Co. to buy Government promissory note, followed by a promise on their part to carry out the directions, cannot have the affect of making A & Co., bankers or trustees with respect to the amount in question, without an entrustment or bailment. Some unequivocal act on the part of the debtor is necessary, showing that he had changed his position into that of a bailee with respect to the money due from him. A mere promise to carry out the directions of the customer, so long as he does nothing towards appropriating the money to any specific purpose, will not suffice, for such a promise can have no higher legal effect than a promise to pay the debt. Something has to be done, which would enable the Court to say that a particular sum is held by the Banker as trustee or agent for some specific purpose, and which he is bound to keep apart from his own money. An entry to that effect in the Banker's book might be a sufficient act of separation or appropriation. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. LUPPRIAN, 7 M L T. 151 =5 Ind. Cas. 312 = 33 M 145 = 20 M.L.J 428.

Banker and Customer—continued.

(9)—Honouring a draft genuine to all appearance—Suit by customer for recovery of money—Burden of proof—Forged draft—Plaint, amendment of—Inconsistent pleadings—Handwriting—Value of expert evidence—Principal and agent—Default of principal misleading agent into doing something—Negligence—Signing a blank from—Fraudulent conversion of the form into a cheque—Liability of Banker for honouring such a cheque.—Where a banker pays money on a draft, signed by his customer, and the draft and the signatures thereon are to all appearance in order, the burden of proving, in a suit by the customer to recover the money from the Banker, that the draft was a forgery, lies on the customer. The plaintiffs sued the defendants for the recovery of certain money paid by the defendants on a draft, the signatures on which plaintiffs alleged, were forged. After the plaintiff's case was nearly concluded, the plaintiffs asked for leave to amend the plaint and to raise a plea to the effect that, even if the signatures on the draft were genuine, the draft was not issued by the plaintiffs and was thus not a proper draft. Held, that the amendment could not be allowed, as it would have the effect of putting forward an entirely new case for the plaintiffs inconsistent with the plaint as orginally framed. The opinion of an expert in handwriting should be received with great caution and should not be relied upon unless corroborated. A principal, who has misled his agent into doing something on his own behalf, which the agent has honestly done, would not be entitled to claim against the agent in respect of the act so done. The question to be determined in such cases is whether the agent was misled into doing the act by the default of the principal. (15 W.R. 152, Rel on.) If A employs B on his behalf to deal with articles of a certain description in a particular way, and then A, through inadvertence or otherwise, introduces among the articles with which B is to deal a dangerous counterfeit, not distinguishable in appearance from its companions, A is bound to indemnify B against any loss resulting from his dealing with the counterfeit as if it were a genuine article within the scope of his employment. As between a customer and a banker, who is his mandatory, the duty on the part of the customer arises directly out of contractual relations subsisting between them to take care that any cheque which he should buy him is not in such a form as to offer facilities for being filled up in a way which would mislead the banker if reasonably vigilant. It is negligence to sign a document which somebody else may convert into a negotiable instrument for the honouring of which the banker is to be held liable. The defendants were authorized by plaintiffs to accept and honour cheques signed by M. M left in his office blank forms of drafts signed by him. Another person duly filled up a blank signed form and had the cheque cashed at defendants. Plaintiffs sued defendants for the recovery of the money paid on the cheque. Held, the defendants were not liable. PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK, LTD. v. MERCANTILE BANK OF INDIA LTD., 8 Ind. Cas. 98.

Banker and Customer—continued.

(10)—Current account deposit—Direction to banker to purchase Government pro-notes—Suspension of the Banker before purchase—Fiduciary relation, whether created—Indian Insolvency Act. s. 73—Letters Patent, ss. 15, 18—Appeal from order of Insolvency Commissioner—Division of opinion between Judges hearing appeal—Further appeal, whether lies.—Where the Judges of the High Court, hearing an appeal from an order of the Commissioner in Insolvency, do not agree in their opinion, a further appeal lies under s. 15 of the

Banker and Customer—continued.

Letters Patent. S. 18 of the Letters Patent confers the power which is given by s. 73 of the Indian Insolvency Act, but that does not of itself deny the right of further appeal, and there is nothing in the Letters Patent to prevent the application of s. 15. A mere direction by a customer to his banker to apply money at his credit in a particular way does not alter their relation of banker and customer. There must be something to show that the banker not merely undertook to change his position in the future, but that, by taking some step to apply the money or otherwise, he did effect a change of position. The respondent who had a sum of money in current account with A & Co, Bankers, instructed them to purchase Government pro-notes for the amount. A & Co. replied that they would do so in due course. In the meantime they suspended payment: Held, that the relationship of debtor and creditor was not affected, and that A & Co. did not become trustees to the respondent for the amount. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. A. E. A. LUPPRIAN, 6 Ind. Cas. 387 = 8 M.L.T. 101.

(11)—Banking, nature of—Relation between banker and customer.—Money deposited in a bank is one lent to the banker by the depositor with this condition, that it is to be re-paid whenever called for by cheque. The transaction is one of mutuum. Either party has the right to put an end to the relation of debtor and creditor. The lender has the right to recover the money by drawing a cheque for the amount and presenting it for payment. The borrower can re-pay the money or tender the same whenever he pleases. BRADLEY v. AGRA BANK, 191 P.R 1885.

(12)—Bankers and banking—Insolvency—Fiduciary relationship between banker and customer, when arises—Portion of money to be placed in a fixed deposit, paid in—Failure of Bank before balance sent—Right of depositor to recover portion paid in—Capacity in which Bank receives money from customers in the ordinary course of business.—Where a bank receives money in a fiduciary capacity and is under a duty to keep it separate from its own moneys, and not use it, then, even though the bank, in fact, mixed it, with its own moneys, it can be recovered out of the general assets, in the event of its insolvency, on the principle that, where a person mixed money, which it was his duty to keep separate, with his own money, and afterwards fails, the unspent money in his hands must be taken to include the money which it was his duty to keep separate, and not to use it, rather than the money which he had right to dispose of. In the ordinary course of business a banker is entitled to use moneys paid into his bank as his own, unless there is what amounts to a direction to the contrary, viz, that the money should be held in a fiduciary capacity. S wrote to A & Co., Bankers, enclosing a cheque in his favour for Rs. 627, and asked them to receive the amount in fixed deposit together with Rs. 573 wich he would remit on receiving their acknowledgment, the whole amount to be treated as a fixed deposit for one year, payable to S or Mrs. S either or survivor. A & Co. wrote in reply acknowledging the cheque and stating that, on receipt of the further sum, they would place the total amount in fixed deposit as desired. Before the further sum of Rs. 573 was sent, A & Co., became insolvent. S claimed to be paid the Rs. 627 out of the general assets in the hands of the Official Assignee. It was found that A & Co. had mixed the proceeds of the cheque with their own moneys. The Commissioner allowed the claim holding that the sum of Rs. 627 cannot be regarded as having been placed in fixed deposit so as to disentitle S to withdraw it before the expiry of the period or to entitle him to interest thereon, and that A & Co. received the amount in a fiduciary capacity, and were not entitled to use it, but were under a duty to keep it separate until the balance was received and the whole placed in fixed deposit. Held (reversing the decision) that, under the circumstances, the moneys in question were not held by A & Co., in a fiduciary capacity, and that S was not therefore entitled to recover. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. G. SMITH, 5 M.L.T. 164 = 32 M. 68 = 1 Ind. Cas. 712.

Banker and Customer—continued.

(13)—Relationship between - Plea of limitation.—The relationship between banker and customer is that of debtor and creditor and the right of the customer to recover a deposit could become barred by time. BHOWANI DASS v. BHAI NUNDGOPAL, 17 P.R. 1869.

(14)—Draft—Presentation of forged draft for payment—Banker paying the draft—Forgery committed owing to customer's negligence—Banker's negligence in accepting forged draft—Liability of Banker.—The plaintiffs, a banking company carrying on business in various places in Northern India, opened in November 1904, a current account with the defendants, a banking company in Bombay. It was agreed (inter alia) that the account could be drawn on by the plaintiffs' branches at Lahore, Amritsar, and other places. The plaintiffs sent to the defendants a list of officers authorised to sign for the plaintiffs and the specimen of their signatures. The plaintiffs' branches thenceforward began to operate on the account by drawing order drafts on forms printed for the purpose. In April 1904, MR, the manager of the Lahore branch, left blank advices and drafts signed by him with the accountant to be filled in and issued in case of need during his temporary absence. On his return, he neglected to recover or destroy the said blank forms. M R was later on transferred to the Amritsar branch. During this period, an employee of the Amritsar branch fraudulently got possession of the said blank forms. The word "Lahore" which was printed on them was re-placed by "Amritsar" in rubber stamp; the year date was altered from 4 to 5; the draft was made payable to "bearer" in place of "order;" and the manager's initials below it were forged. The draft form was then filled up for Rs. 10,000 in favour of N, a fictitious name. On the 2nd October, 1905, the defendants received a letter of advice purporting to come from the Amritsar branch of the plaintiffs and to be signed by the manager and accountant of the branch, advising that a draft of Rs. 10,000 was drawn by the said branch in favour of N. On the same day, the draft purporting to be signed by the manager and accountant aforesaid and made out in favour of N or bearer was presented to the defendants for payment. The defendants paid the amount to the person presenting the draft and debited it to the plaintiffs. When the plaintiffs saw the debit in their pass-book on the 17th idem, they made inquiries and came to know that both the letter of advice and draft were forgeries. This they forthwith communicated to the defendant and informed them that they (the plaintiffs) were not liable to be charged with the amount, as the defendants were guilty of negligence in making the payment. The defendants attributed negligence to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs sued to recover the amount from the defendants: Held, (1) that the plaintiffs were not estopped from contending that the completed draft presented to the defendants was not the draft of the plaintiffs. (2) That the negligent act alleged against the plaintiffs was not the proximate cause of the loss. (3) That the proved facts did not bring the case within the principle of estoppel, which arose when the maker of a completed instrument completed it in a negligent manner and voluntarily parted with it and it was fraudulently altered by the person to whom it was handed. (4) That the signing of a paper in blank and its delivery to an agent with instructions to fill it in and negotiate it under certain specified conditions would not estop the signer from repudiating liability, if the agent, in the absence of the specified conditions, fraudulently filled it and negotiated it. THE PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK LTD. v. THE MERCANTILE BANK OF INDIA, LTD., 18 Bom. L.R. 835.

Banker and Customer—concluded.

Relationship between—Current account—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 19, 20, arts. 59, 60, 4 A.L.J. 628=A.W.N. 1907, 263=29 A. 773.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 145, 74 P.R. 1882, Note.

Lien of bankers for general balance of account under s. 171, Contract Act—See ST. 11 AND 12 VIC., C. 21, s. 39, 33 M. 53=5 Ind. Cas. 845=8 M.L.T. 83.

Bankers.

(1)—Purchase of shares through misrepresentation—Fraud—Repudiation.—When a person is induced by fraud to buy shares in a Bank, he is at liberty to avoid the same when the fraud becomes known to him. But, if he does not do so within a reasonable time, he must be held to be responsible for the shares standing in his name and for the promissory notes given by him to the Bank. MAHARAJA SIR PARTAB SINGH v. PROVINCIAL BANK OF INDIA, 72 P.R. 1891. (14 C. 457, F.)

Bankers—continued.

(2)—Bank—Misrepresentation and fraud of director, how far binds Bank.—Where a party is led by misrepresentation or fraud to enter into a contract, it is open to him to repudiate the same on discovering such misrepresentation or fraud. If, after the discovery of the fraud, he takes no steps to avoid the transaction, it will amount to a tacit acceptance and affirmation of the same. The misrepresentation or fraud of the director of a bank cannot affect the Bank, as he is not their agent. PROVINCIAL BANK OF INDIA v. RAO RAJA TEJ SINGH, 127 P.R. 1889. [R., 72 P.R. 1891.]

(3)—Indian Contract Act, s. 171—Banker's lien.—When a person obtains a loan from a bank on the security of certain jewels which he pledges with it and afterwards becomes otherwise indebted to it, he is not entitled to claim the return of the jewels by merely discharging the loan for which they were security, when there are other debts outstanding, unless there is a contract by which the bank has agreed to give up its general lien which it possesses under s. 171, Contract Act. KUNHAN MAYAN v. THE BANK OF MADRAS, 19 M. 234.

(4)—Loss of hundi—Neligence—Criminal act of Bank servant.—A sent a hundi by post to a bank. The bank presented it for payment by one of its servants, B, who brought it back, reporting that payment had been refused. The manager of the bank, with the intention of returning it to A, placed it in an envelope, sealed and stamped, which was laid upon the table ready for the post, it being the custom of the bank to post all letters in that manner. The hundi did not reach A, and it afterwards appeared that B presented it for payment the following day, and obtained cash for it. Held that the bank was guilty of such neglect as to render it liable to A for the amount of the hundi. PEOPLE'S BANK v. OBBARD, 2 Hyde 57.

(5)—Bankers and agents—Moneys of constituent ordered to be invested, mixed with their own funds before insolvency—No breach of trust.—Where the insolvents, carrying on business as bankers and commission agents invested a portion only of the moneys of one of their constituents in securities and satisfactorily explained their not having invested the remainder also as required by the constituent, it was held they held the money as bankers and not as agents and that they were in consequence, justified in not having kept the money separate from their own funds. In the matter of the petition of D. COWIE, 6 C. 70=7 C.L.R. 19.

(6)—Customer—Entry in the pass-book of the cheque as cash—Notice of dishonour—Estoppel.—The plaintiff sent a cheque to his bankers for being cashed and credited to his accounts. The bankers, in their usual course of business initialled the receipt of the cheque in the slip book and also certified the credit of the cheque as in cash in the pass-book before the cheque was actually cashed by them. The cheque was, when presented by the bankers for payment, dishonoured by the drawee, whereupon they notified the dishonour to the plaintiff. The plaintiff, relying upon the entry in the pass book, in the meanwhile delivered a portion of the goods sold by him in consideration of the cheque, and even after the notice of dishonour of the cheque by the bankers continued to deliver the rest of the goods sold: Held, that the bankers were not liable to make good to the plaintiff the amount of the cheque, because the plaintiff's conduct, subsequent to the notice of dishonour, showed that the entry in the pass-book by the bankers did not mislead him to any appreciable extent. Credit given in a pass-book binds the banker, if on the faith of such credit the customer has altered his position, as by drawing on the credit, etc., for, by entering the sums to the customer's credit, they lead him suppose that they have received them on his account. When, however, there has been no such alteration, the banker is allowed to show that the entries were made by mistake; for the pass book is only prima facie evidence against him. MOWJI v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, 2 Bom. L.R. 1041=25 B. 499.

Bankers—concluded.

(7)— Cheque — Post-dated. — A post-dated banker's cheque is available in the hands of its holder and is admissible in evidence with only a one anna stamp. MOTILALL v. JAGMOHAN DAS, 6 Bom. L R. 699.

Payment on forged cheque—Discharge of—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—CHEQUE, 31 C. 249.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, ss. 3 (6), 34, 17 B. 694, F.B.

Bankers' Books Evidence Act.

See ACT XVIII OF 1891.

Bank Memorandum.

See STAMP DUTY, 4 C. 829.

Bank of Bengal.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1862.

(1)—Public debt, branch of Bank of Bengal, a Government Office.—The public debt branch of the Bank of Bengal is as much a Government Office as it was under the separate management of direct Government officer; so that the Bank cannot, in its private capacity, take out of the hands of the Public Debt Office a stolen Government pro-note detained by the Superintendent of the Public Debt Office and held by him as agent of the Government. THE BANK OF BENGAL v. MEN DES, 5 C. 684 =5 C.L R. 586.

(2)—Right to refuse to register a transfer of shares—Act XI of 1876, s 17—Construction.—The Bank of Bengal is entitled, especially after a public notification to that effect, to refuse to register a transfer of shares when the application is made during the time the transfer-books of the Bank are closed under the powers given by s. 21, Act XI of 1876. Although the Bank did not, when the application for transfer of shares was made, assigned the reason mentioned above for the transfer, held, that it was competent for the Bank to avail itself of the plea when a suit was brought subsequently. [R., 26 C. 142.] S. 17 of the Act, entitling the Bank to refuse to register the transfer of shares until payment of any debts due by the shareholder, refers only to debts which are presently payable. MOTHOORMOHUN ROY v. THE BANK OF BENGAL. 3 C. 392=1 C.L.R 507.

Bank of Bengal—concluded.

See ACT XI OF 1876, s 4, 8 C. 300=11 C.L.R. 274.

Poddar of the—not a public servant—See PODDAR OF THE BANK OF BENGAL, 4 C. 376.

Bank of Bombay.

A share-holder has not an unlimited right to inspect register of share-holders—See CORPORATION, 10 Bom. L.R. 636=12 C.W.N. 825=32 B. 466, reversing 9 Bom. L.R. 165.

Bank, Presidency Act.

See ACT XI OF 1876.

Bankruptcy.

See INSOLVENCY.

(1)—Assumpsit by the surviving assignee of a bankrupt, under an English Commission, against a debtor, a native of India, and resident within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Calcutta.—Plea.—Two days after issue joined, the defendant gave notice that he intended to dispute the trading, petitioning creditor's debt, and bankruptcy. At the trial, copies of the proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court, the commission, adjudication and assignment to the plaintiff, and his co assignee, which purported to be certified by the Clerk of the Enrolments, and to be under the seal of the Court of Bankruptcy in England, pursuant to the 2nd and 3rd Will. IV. c. 114. s. 9, were given in evidence; but no proof was given that these copies were authentic, nor was the seal proved to be that of the Court of Bankruptcy in England. A verdict was given for the plaintiff, liberty being reserved for the defendant to move for a nonsuit. A rule nisi was afterwards granted and, after argument, made absolute, and the verdict set aside, and judgment of non-suit entered for the defendant on the grounds that there was no evidence of an act of Bankruptcy,—of trading subsequent to the passing of the 6th Geo. IV. c. 16, and that neither that Act, nor the 2nd and 3rd Will. IV, c. 114, extended to India: Held, on appeal, affirming the judgment of the Court below.—That the plea of the non assumpsit put the bankruptcy and assignment at issue sufficiently without any notice. That the form of the plea "Assignee as aforesaid" was not an admission of the plaintiff's title as assignee of the Bankrupt, but only used in reference to the description the plaintiff had given of himself in the declaration. That the statutes, 6th Geo.

Bankruptcy—concluded.

IV. c. 16. and the 2nd and 3rd Will. IV. c. 114. made to facilitate the proof of bankruptcy and assignment in England, did not extend to the Courts in India, and that in those Courts such evidence of the bankruptcy must be given, as would have been required to prove the fact, if no statutory regulations had been made. CLARK v. MULLICK. 2 M.I.A. 263=3 Moo.P.C. 252=Morton 430=1 Sar. 188.

Order of — Composition deed relating to property in British India governed by the lex loci rei sitae—Composition-deed exempt from registration—See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 16 M. 85=3 M.L.J. 30.

Baptism.

Register of — Statement of date of birth in a, how far evidence of age—Attestation of a sale-deed, when operates as estoppel — See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS, 2 N.L.R. 34.

Baqquals.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 15 A. 327=A.W.N. 1893, 110.

Baran Land.

See PUN. ACT XVI OF 1887, s. 16, 3 P.R. 1899, Rev.

Baroda.

—Testator subject to—State—Will executed at Baroda—Disposition of immoveable property in British India—Jurisdiction of Court in British India—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 56, 57, 20 B. 607.

Barred Debt.

See CONSIDERATION, 6 M. 351.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 25 (3), 23 M. 94.

Barred Decree.

(1)—Order for execution by competent Court—Validity of.—Though the execution of a decree may have been barred at the time of the application, an order for execution, if regularly made by a competent Court having jurisdiction to try the question, is valid if unreversed. MUNGUL PERSHAD DICHIT v. GRIJA KANT LAHIRI, 8 C. 51, P.C.=11 C.L.R. 113=8 I.A. 128=4 Sar. 249. [F., A.W.N. 1882, 151, 7 A. 282, 19 M. 54, 24 M. 669, 24 M. 683=11 M.L.J. 432, 47 P.R. 1906; Appl., 6 B. 586, 8 A. 492=A.W.N. 1886, 156, 13 A. 564=A.W.N. 1891, 164, 3 Bom. L.R. 416, 24 A. 282; Rel. on, 2 C.L.J. 584, 14 Bur. L.R. 35=U.B.R. 1907, 1st Quarter, C.P.C., 1; R., 6 B. 54, 9 C. 65, 6 A. 269=11 I.A. 37, P.C., 7 B. 341, 9 B. 328, 11 C. 376, 13 C. 257, 11 B. 537, 14 B. 206, 15 B. 25, 15 B. 242, 13 M 347, 20 C. 551, 15 A. 84, F.B., 16 A. 443, 89 P.R. 1894, 23 C. 374, 25 C. 789, 27 C. 210, 4 O.C. 333, A.W.N. 1901, 32, 90 P.R. 1902, 31 C. 822, 1 C.L.J. 500, 2 C.L.J. 499, 3 C.L.J. 240=10 C.W.N. 209, 4 C.L.J. 573=34 C. 13, 14 C.W.N. 114, 47 P.R. 1906=86 P.L.R. 1907; D., 7 B. 316, 10 A. 51, 22 B. 83, 28 C. 122=5 C.W.N. 80, 6 O.C. 44, 2 C.L.J. 384=9 C.W.N. 956, 11 C.W.N. 236, 17 M.L.J. 201=2 M.L.T. 167=30 M. 255, 35 C. 1060=8 C.L.J. 193=12 C.W.N. 216, Note.]

Barristers.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—BARRISTERS

Bar to Suit.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, rr. 1 and 2.

Decision as to title in proceeding in execution—Fresh suit not maintainable in respect of title—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 9 B. 458.

Basee Grant.

See GRANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 P.R. 1870.

Bastu Land.

Deposit of rent by raiyat — Suit by rival landlords for rent against the raiyat, maintainability of—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 61, 182, 9 C.W.N. 416.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, LIABILITY TO, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 92.

In a Municipality, to which Bengal Tenancy Act does not apply — Notice to quit or to pay enhanced rent not given—Suit for enhancement of rent must fail—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TENANTS LIABILITY FOR RENT, 9 C.W.N. 303.

Bathing Ghat.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—ENDOWMENT, 1 A.L.J. 44.

Prescription — Bathing ghat dedicated to public—See RIGHT OF SUIT—CUSTOMARY RIGHTS, 20 A. 200=A.W.N. 1898, 25.

Batta.

Claims to Company's batta, whether abwab—See ABWABS, 6 C.L.J. 667.

Whether an abwab — Whether claim for, enforceable at law—See SANAD, 7 C.L.J. 202.

Batwara.

Collector's notice — See ACT XI OF 1838, 5 B.L.R. 135=13 W.R. 381.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 6 B.L.R. 658=15 W.R. 471.

Batwara Law.

Award — Decision under Batwara Law—See BEN. ACT XIII OF 1848, W.R. F.B. 12=1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 5=Marsh 37.

Bazaars.

(1)—Reg. XXVII of 1793—Hauts and bazaars.—Regulation XXVII of 1793 applies only to hauts and bazaars which were in existence when it was enacted, not to those of a later date. CHUNDER NATH ROY v. MOONSHEE ZEMADAR, 16 W.R. 268.

See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 C.W.N. 182.

See BEN. REG. XXVII OF 1793, s. 5, 15 W.R. 48.

Transfer of rights in a — by some only of the co-parcenary body to which the bazaar belonged—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 44, A.W.N. 1900, 81.

Beam.

(1)—Right to project a—Construction over the projection.—Where a person acquires the right to project a beam upon another's lands, he has no right to prevent the other from rearing a construction in his own land which overhangs the beam. RANCHHOD v. ABDULA-BHAI, 6 Bom. L.R. 356=28 B.428.

Beawar.

Trade, custom of — See GUARANTEE, 5 C. 421, P.C.=6 I.A. 238.

Begar.

Nature of—Suit for — See C. P. ACT XVIII OF 1881, s. 4 (3), 6 N.L.R. 117=5 Ind. Cas. 276.

Behar.

Law of pre-emption — See MAHOMEDAN LAW — PRE-EMPTION — NATURE AND EXTENT OF RIGHT, 15 C. 224.

Belchambers Rules and Orders.

(1) See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 2 C.W.N. 33.

(1-a) See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 24 C. 437=2 C.W.N. 57.

(2)—R. 93—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE, 3 C.W.N. 579.

(3)—R. 329—Right of party to present application in person where there is an attorney.—Where there is an attorney on the record, the party cannot present any application in person, even with the consent of the other party. PANCHANON SINGH v. JEEBUN KRISTO BOSE, 1 C.W.N. 303.

(4)—Rule 436—Meaning of "conveyance."—The word "conveyance" in the above Rule means an instrument necessary to transfer the estate, if any, belonging to the party on whose behalf the Registrar executes the transfer to the purchaser. RAM CHUNDER DUTT v. DWARA-KANATH BYSACK, 16 C. 330.

(5)—Rules 476, 477, 605—See INTEREST—SPECIAL CASES, 6 C.W.N. 769.

(6)—Rules 615, 617 (Original Side, 1900) Report to Registrar, effect of mere filing of—Rule to be strictly followed, to vary or discharge Registrar's Report—Practice—Fraud, surprise, or mistake or such other grounds, meaning of—Mistake in not complying with procedure in r. 615.—The mere filing of exception to a Registrar's Report cannot be taken and deemed to be due notice, under r. 615. If it is desired to discharge or vary a Registrar's report, the procedure laid down by r. 615 must be strictly followed. The party so desiring must apply by motion upon notice to be given within the time prescribed by the Rule. The words "fraud, surprise, or mistake or other special ground" in rule 617, refer to fraud, surprise, or mistake or some other special ground incident to, or connected with, or which has resulted in the making of, the certificate or report itself and not to something which has occurred quite outside and independent of the certificate or report. A mistake, though bona fide, in not complying with the procedure laid down in Rule 615, is not a special ground for re-opening the report, under Rule 617. THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY v. AUKHOY KUMAR DUTT, 28 C. 272=5 C.W.N. 337.

Belchambers Rules and Orders—concluded.

(7)—Rule 617 — See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—GENERAL, 6 C.W.N. 41.

(8)—Rules 780, 785—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 33 C. 827.

Belief.

Meaning of "belief in good faith" — See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 13 C.W.N. 931=3 Ind. Cas. 415.

Benamidar.

See BENAMI TRANSACTION.

(1)—Father, the purchaser—Sons' right to maintain suit for possession from vendors.—Where the father is real purchaser of a certain property, his sons having waived his right to be made a party, have a right to maintain a suit for possession from the vendors. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL v. ABDUL RAZAK, 83 P.R. 1883.

(2)—Benamidar, right of suit of for possession.—A benamidar has no right to sue to recover lands. BARODA SUNDARI GHOSH v. DINA BONDHU KHAN, 3 C.W.N. 12=25 C. 874. (16 C. 364, 25 C. 98, F; 18 A. 69, Diss.; 10 C. 697, D.)

(3)—Right of suit—Right of benamidar to maintain suit for ejectment.—A benamidar cannot maintain a suit for possession of immoveable property. A person who is only a benamidar cannot maintain a suit for ejectment. He has neither title nor possession. ISSUR CHANDRA DUTT v. GOPAL CHUNDRA DAS, 25 C. 98=3 C.W.N. 20. (16 C. 364, F.; 18 A. 69, Not F.) [F. 25 C. 874, 7 C.W.N. 229; Appr., 30 C. 265, 30 M. 245=17 M.L.J. 174; Diss., 21 A. 380=A.W.N. 1899, 190, 13 C.P.L.R. 33.]

(4)—S. 310-A, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=O. XXI, r. 89, present Code)—Deposit by benamidar, good deposit.—A benamidar of a person whose immoveable property is sold has a right to apply to have the sale set aside under s. 310-A, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. BASI PODDAR v. RAM KRISHNA PODDAR, 1 C.W.N. 133. [F., 8 C.L.J. 305; Appl., 29 C. 1, F.B.=5 C.W.N. 821.]

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 60, 8 C.W.N. 695.

Execution—Sale for arrears of rent under Bengal Tenancy Act—Purchaser found to be a mere— for judgment-debtor—Sale voidable—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 173, 21 C. 554.

Benamidar—concluded.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 16, 20 C. 388.

See ESTOPPEL—DENIAL OF TITLE, 7 B. L.R. 720=16 W R. 186.

Application for execution by—of purchaser of rights of decree-holder—Right of judgment-debtor—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWER OF COURT, 7 O.C. 229.

Application by—for execution—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—STEP-IN-AID OF EXECUTION, 16 C. 355.

Execution application by — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—STEA IN-AID OF EXECUTION, 9 C. 633=12 C.L.R. 146.

See PARTIES TO SUITS — GENERAL, 21 A. 380.

Suit against a—Real owner made party—Nature of suit not changed—See PRE-EMPTION—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 Ind. Cas. 488.

Suit for redemption by—Dismissal of suit—Second suit by beneficiary—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 13—See RES JUDICATA—PARTIES, 3 L.B. R. 18.

See RES JUDICATA — PARTIES, 15 M. 267=2 M.L.J. 93.

Purchaser from a, the doctrine of purchaser for value without notice applies to — See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 41, 9 Bom. L.R. 388.

Benami Transaction.

1.—GENERAL.

2.—CERTIFIED PURCHASERS.

3.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See BENAMIDAR.

——1.—General.

(1)—Benami transactions, enforceability of.—Benami transactions are not illegal, and effect should be given to such transactions. SHEORAJ SINGH v. AMIR-UD-DIN KHAN, 20 A. 539=A.W.N. 1898, 145.

(2)—Cestui que trust—Act XIV of 1859, ss. 1, 2.—A benami transaction does not create the relationship of trustee and cestui que trust between the benamidar and the real principal. It would be dangerous to hold that a benamidar is a trustee for the real owner within the meaning of s. 2, Act XIV of 1859. UMA SUNDARI DASI v. DWARKANATH ROY, 2 B.L. R. A.C. 284=11 W.R. 72.

(3)—Deeds—Estoppel—English and Indian laws—Benami transactions.—In England where the usage denoted by benami transactions is wholly unknown, it is supposed, and therefore assumed, that all deeds and conveyances truly represent the titles of parties set forth in them. Deeds are called solemn transactions and they are executed after considerable deliberation and under the guidance, and with the advice of able legal advisers. Under such circumstances, it is right to suppose that what is stated in deeds and other similar documents represents the true state of things, and consequently, parties should not be allowed afterwards to question the truth of what has been deliberately stated. But in this country, it being well known that documents are neither so drawn nor executed as in England, and it being equally well known that persons made statements wholly regardless of the truth, for present and ulterior purposes, it would be unsafe and unjust to hold parties strictly to statements made by them in deeds and other documents and to apply the technical doctrine of estoppel in the manner in which the doctrine is applied in cases governed by English law. The tendency of the Privy Council decisions has been to make the law harmonize with justice in each case, and it would be departing from this wholesome and beneficial rule to apply the doctrine of estoppel to cases which are not governed in this country by English law. B. DONZELLE v. KEDARANATH CHUCKERBUTTY, 7 B.L R. 720=16 W.R 186. [R., 3 C.L.R. 9.]

——1.—General—continued.

Benami Transaction*—continued.

(4)—Benami transaction—Estoppel.—Where a person apparently holds a tenure in a zemindaree, is recorded in the serishtah, and is nominally in possession, though in a suit for rent, or as to the state of the property, the zemindar is, at any particular time, unable to prove that such person is a mere name, holding benami for some other persons really interested, or if, in any future years, such zemindar can show that these persons are then really enjoying the profits, paying the rents, and acting as owners, he is not prevented by a decision as to the rents or title in former years from showing what is the state of things in any subsequent years. RAM DHUN MOOKERJEE v. MONEE KORNICA DEBEE, 6 W.R. 266.

(5)—True criterion in benami transactions—Funds out of which purchase-money paid—Possession or receipt of rents of property.—Generally, in very many instances of alleged benami transactions, the true criterion is to ascertain from whose funds the purchase-money proceeded. But it is not the only criterion, where, as in this case, that fact is consistent with the defendant's case, which was that the plaintiff purchased the village for him and intended it to be a gift in return for his services. In such a case, a much more important fact is, the actual possession or receipt of the rents of the property. RAM NARAIN v. MUHAMMAD HADI, 26 C. 227, P.C.=26 I.A. 38=3 C.W.N. 113=7 Sar. 425. [Appr. & D., 29 B. 306=6 Bom. L. R. 975 ; R., 37 P.R. 1909=38 P.L.R. 1909, 158 P.L.R. 1908.]

(6)—Principle of the law of benami.—The law of benami is founded on principles which are not limited to India : it is nothing more or less than an application of the equitable rule that where there is a purchase by A in the name of B there is a resulting trust of the whole to A. It is an accepted rule of guidance in reference to benami transactions to see from what source the purchase money has proceeded; and it must be shown that the person whose money has gone to effect the purchase, furnished it as purchaser. The benami character of a transaction, if it exists, must be legally established DE SILVA v. DE SILVA, 5 Bom. L.R. 784. [F., 7 Bom. L.R. 293.]

Benami Transaction—continued

—1.—General—continued.

(7)—Beneficial ownership—Test—Source of purchase-money.—In Benami purchase in India, the criterion of beneficial ownership is the source from which the purchase-money is derived. AKBUR ALI v. MAHOMED FAIZ BUKSH, 15 W R. 12.

(8 and 9)—Test of benami.—Held that the apparent passing of consideration-money from hand to hand is not sufficient to establish the bona fide character of a sale. It is necessary to see that it is actually the money of the alleged vendee that is really paid to the vendor. MUSSAMUT LUCHMEE KOOAR alias BHUGOBUTTY v. FUTTEH SINGH, 24 W.R. 400.

(10)—Sale for arrears of revenue—Benami purchaser—Effect—Re-purchase by manager of joint Hindu family — Presumption. — Under Reg. XI of 1822, a benami purchase for the defaulting proprietors at a sale for arrears of revenue is not ipso facto illegal and void. Where the manager of a joint Hindu family re-purchases benami, the presumption is that the property so re-purchased is held by him for the benefit of the joint family. KALEE DOSS MOOKERJEE v MOTHOORANATH BANERJEE, 5 W.R. 164.

(11)—Benami purchase—Use of furzee name—Long possession by beneficial owner.—The use of the furzee name is sufficiently disposed of, if the party sets up no claim, and there appears to have been long continued possession on the part of the person claiming to be beneficial owner. MUSSAMUT HOYMOBUTTY DOSSEE v. SREEKISHEN NUNDEE, 14 W.R. 58.

(12)—Title to benami property—Proof.—To make out a title to property, it is necessary for the plaintiff to establish either the alleged Benami, or a subsequent conveyance from the alleged benamidar. MUSSAMUT FUREE DOONISSA v. RAM ONOORA SINGH, 21 W.R. 19.

(13 and 14)—Parties dealing with ostensible owner of property in good faith—Acquiescence of real owner—Effect.—If the parties will stand by and permit another to hold himself out to the world as the real proprietor of an estate, when he in reality is not so, and thus induce persons innocent of the fraud to lend their money upon such faith, they are not entitled to any consideration from a Court of equity and good conscience. NUNDUN LAL v. MR. WILLIAM TAYLER, 3 W.R. 37=1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 56.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(15)—Purchase by father in name of son—Benami purchase—Presumption.—In India, when a piece of land is bought by a parent in the name of his son with his own money, the prima facie presumption is that it was bought benami in the name of the son, and if it is alleged to have been purchased for the advancement of the son, the burden of proving that fact lies on the party asserting it. MEEYAPPA CHETTY v. MAUNG BA BU, 8 Ind. Cas. 450.

(16)—Purchase in the name of son—Presumption.—The principle with respect to Benami purchases between Hindus, laid down in Gopeekrist Gossain v. Gungapersaud Gossain (6 M.I. A. 53) is equally applicable to similar transactions between Mahomedans. Lands purchased in the name of a son, held, on the evidence, Furzee or Benami, in trust for his father, who paid the consideration-money for the purchase and was in possession. Semble:—There is no presumption of an advancement, by the name of the son being used as purchaser, other than in the case of a stranger being used. MOULVIE SAYYUD UZHUR ALI v MUSSUMAT BEBEE ULTAF FATIMA, 13 M.I.A 232.

(17)—Property purchased by Hindu father in minor son's ame—Presumption—Father's death.—Property purchased by the father of a joint Hindu faimly in the name of his minor son is presumed to be benami, and on the father's death becomes the property of the family. BHAGHUT CHUNDER DEY v. HURO GOBIND PAL, 20 W.R. 269.

(18)—Husband and wife—Purchase by husband in the name of wife—Presumption of advancement—Gift.—According to the law as prevailing in the Bombay Presidency, a purchase by a husband in the name of his wife does not raise any presumption of a gift to the wife or of an advancement for her benefit. MOTIVAHU v. PURSHOTUM, 6 Bom. L R. 975=29 B. 306.

(19)—Benami purchase in the name of Hindu wife.—Finding by the Privy Council, contrary to that of the High Court, that a certain purchase in the name of a Hindu wife was benami and that the husband was, in fact, the purchaser. DHARNI KANT LAHIRI CHOWDHRY v. KRISTO KUMARI CHOWDHRAIN, 13 C. 181 =13 I.A. 70, P.C.=4 Sar. 709.

(20)—Lease in the name of wife and son—Gift.—Where a father, paying the consideration-money out of his own funds, obtains a lease in the name of his wife and son, and, on the decease of the former, in the joint names of the same son and his daughter by the deceased: Held that the property was given to his wife and children for their maintenance. ZEEMUT ALI v. MUSSAMAT ALIMOONISSA, 10 W.R. 277.

(21)—Wife ostensible owner—Property husband's—Bona fide purchase.—The purchase of property from a wife as ostensible owner, where the husband consents to the sale and the transaction is bona fide on part of purchaser, is good, even if the property is the husband's. SHAIKH GOLAM RUSSOOL v. SHAIKH ABDOOL RUHEEM, 15 W.R. 19. [D., 7 C.L.R. 560.]

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(22)—Husband and wife—Husband allowing wife to appear as true owner — Subsequent allegation of benami title—Estoppel.—A husband who puts his wife into the position of being the true owner of an estate, and allows her to deal with the world as the true owner, deprives himself of the right to set up, or rely on, his benami title. NIDHEE SINGH v. BISSO NATH DASS, 24 W.R. 79.

(23)—Property in wife's name—Mortgage by wife to satisfy decree against husband—Sale of property.—Property standing in the name of a wife, and mortgaged by her, may be sold by mortgagee in satisfaction of a decree against deceased husband, even after mortgage-debt has been paid off, if discovered to be really the husband's. AMEEROONNISA BEEBEE v. BINODE RAM SEIN, 2 W.R. 29.

(24)—Mahomedan woman acquiring property in wedlock—Title-deeds with lady—Presumption—Benami purchase.—Where property is acquired by a Mahomedan lady in wedlock, and by the daughter, very little evidence suffices to dispose of the presumption from the fact of the title-deeds being with the lady, against the supposition of a benami purchase. MUSSAMUT KUDEERUN v. MUSSAMUT LALLUN, 14 W.R. 366.

(25)—Benami purchase—Purchase in name of mistress—Not sufficient proof that she was intended to be benefited—Title of mistress—Evidence—Proof—Circumstances.—Where money was advanced by a person for the purchase of a certain property, the mere circumstance that the conveyance was made out in the name of his mistress, living under his protection, is not sufficient to raise the inference that he intended to benefit the woman. (25 C. 227, P.C., 26 I.A. 38, 3 C.W.N. 113, 10 C.W.N. 570, P.C., 3 A.L.J. 353, 3 C.L.J. 484, 8 Bom. L.R. 379, 16 M.L.J. 166, 1 M.L.T. 137, 33 C. 773, R.) But the circumstances that the property was registered in the name of the woman who was, therefore, the only person legally entitled to collect the rents, that the person advancing the money possessed a number of other properties none of which was put in the name of the woman, that the value of the property in the woman's name was very small and that the woman's right to the property was not disputed until some six years after the man's death, are enough to show that the title passed to the woman. JITAN PRASAD v. MUSSAMMAT MANBARTA KUER, 5 Ind. Cas. 85.

(26)—Construction of Act, I of 1845, ss. 20 and 21.—Held not to raise a presumption of law against a benami purchase by a Hindu widow in trust for her husband. A Hibbanamah (deed of gift), by a Hindu widow (a Purdha woman) of real estate, purchased by her out of her stridhun, of which she had a disposing power, when in a state of ill-health and shortly before her death, in favour of her brothers, in their wives' names, to the exclusion of her husband's adopted sons; in circumstances raising suspicion of fraud, and in the absence of satisfactory proof that she knew the nature of the deed, pronounced against. GERESH CHUNDER LAHOREE v. MUSSMMAT BHUGGO BUTTY DEBIA, 14 W.R. 7. P.C. = 13 M.I.A. 419 = 2 Sar. 579— 2 Suther. 339.

Benami Transaction*—continued

——1.—General—continued.

(27)—Purchase in name of daughters—Right of bona fide purchaser from daughter.—A, having two daughters, B and C, granted a patni taluk of certain lands in his zamindari to them in their infancy, and transacted the business connected therewith as manager down to the time of his death. After his death, B sold her interest to her sister C, and C sold the patni taluk to D. The heirs of A brought a suit against D for the lands. Held that the lower Court might, upon these facts, infer that the grant of the patni taluk by A to his daughters was by way of provision for them, and that it was not a case in which the daughters held benami for the father. Secondly, that even if it were so, D, acquiring by a bona fide purchase and without notice, had a good title against the heirs of A, since they claimed through the person by whose act the apparent ownership was vested in his vendor. OBHOY CHURN MOOKERJEE v. PUNCHANUN BOSE, Marsh 564 = 2 Hay 630.

(28)—Purchase in the name of uncle and nephew by funds of uncle—Advancement—Presumption.—A purchase with A's funds, in the name of B, will be presumed to be for the benefit of A, the presumption of the English law as to their being an advancement in favour of B being inapplicable in India. A purchase with the funds of an uncle in the names of the uncle and nephew in equal shares will, in the absence of sufficient evidence, be presumed to be wholly in favour of the uncle. BURA MAL v. BHAGWAN DAS. 61 P.R. 1889. [R. 37 P.R. 1909.]

(29)—Transaction between near relations—Possession with owner—Benami transaction—Where parties to a transaction are very near relations to each other, and where possession remains with the owner of an estate, these are facts which go to show that the transaction is a benami transaction. ROOP DHAREE SINGH v. NARAIN SAHOO, 1 W.R. 217.

(30)—Purchase from an ostensible owner—One beneficial owner, a minor—Knowledge of vendee—Bona fide purchaser.—A purchaser from an ostensible owner who was aware of the fact that one of the beneficial owners was a minor at the time of sale and who, in order to remedy the flaw in the ostensible vendor's title secured the consent of the other beneficial owner who was a major, is not a bona fide purchaser. CHUNDEE CHURN DEY v. HURO MOHUN DEEGHAL, 1 W.R. 324. [R., 6 W.R. 30.]

Benami Transaction—continued

——1.—General—continued.

(31)—*Gift—Sale—Intention—Imaginary consideration inserted in a deed of gift—Evidence of intention—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 92—Mother and daughter—Undue influence—Presumption—Unsoundness of mind—Pleadings—*Pardanashin, who is.—The question whether a transaction, which, on its face, purports to be a gift or a sale, is really a benami transaction, is purely one of intention. Notwithstanding that a transaction purported to be a sale and a price was mentioned in the conveyance, it was held, on the evidence to be a gift and not a sale—the question being regarded as purely one of intention. When transfers of property, made by a mother in favour of a daughter, were challenged on the ground of the unsoundness of mind of the donor, but no case of undue influence exercised by the donee on the donor was raised in the pleadings, and evidence was given with reference to the question of unsoundness of mind only:—Held, that the question of undue influence could not properly be discussed and considered upon such evidence. The mere relation of daughter to mother in itself suggests nothing in the way of special influence or control. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee did not treat, as pardanashin, a lady, who had no objection to communicate when necessary, in matters of business, with men other than members of her own family, who was able to go to Court to give evidence and to attend at the Registrar's Office in person to acknowledge her deeds for the purpose of registration. ISMAIL MUSSAJEE MOOKERDUM v. HAFIZ BOO, 10 C.W N. 570 P.C.=3 A.L J. 353=3 C.L.J. 484=8 Bom. L R. 379=16 M.L. J 166=1 M.L.T. 137=33 C. 773=33 I A. 86. [R., 3 Ind. Cas. 330=12 C.L.J. 115, 5 Ind. Cas. 85.]

(32)—Benami possession—Cause of action.—Where the property of one family is conveyed to another by a deed securing the profits to the former, the possession of the latter family is on behalf of the former till, by some unequivocal act, the latter evince an intention to hold on their own behalf. JUGGUNNATH PERSHAD DUTT v. C. S, HOGG, 12 W.R. 117.

(33)—Criterion—Onus of proof.—Held, that the criterion in the case of a benami transaction in India is to consider from what source the consideration-money came. (61 P.R. 1889, F.; 26 C. 227, P.C., R.) Held, that the onus lies on the person alleging himself to be the real owner to prove that the deed was executed benami in favour of another. SHAM LAL v. JOHRI MAL, 37 P.R. 1909=38 P.L.R. 1909=50 P.W R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 732. (43 P.R. 1882, F.)

(34)—Burden of proof in cases of.—The burden of proof is on the plaintiff, who seeks to give to a purchase a different meaning and complexion from those which it bears on its face. This burden must be strictly discharged; in other words, the plaintiff, in order to succeed must put the Court in possession of legal and satisfactory evidence, and it will not suffice to point to matters of suspicion or even to plausible conjecture. RAMABAI v. RAMACHANDRA, 7 Bom. L.R. 293.

(35)—Benami transactions, Purchaser in—Burden of proof.—The benmi system being one of the recognised institutions of the country, a purchaser does not discharge himself of the onus which lies upon him, by looking only to the apparent title. Nor is the onus discharged by the mere fact of the name of the defendant's vendor being alone registered in the zemindar's books as the exclusive owner of the putnee, or of the vendor being only sued by the zemindar for the rent of the putnee. BIBEE JEEBUNISSA v. UMUL CHUNDER CHACKLANUVIS, 18 W.R. 151.

(36)—Assignee decree-holder—Allegation of benami against such holder—Duty of Court.—Allegation of benami ought to be carefully tested before shutting out decree-holder who has taken by assignment. KHAJAH MAHOMED ISSA KHAN v. P. O. ONARET, 8 W.R. 26.

(37)—Claim by father against the execution-creditors of his son, on the ground that his son held the estate benami for him, dismissed.—The Courts look with jealousy on benami transactions, and require from one claiming under such title, strict proof, and he can only recover on the strength of the case he asserts. NAWAB AZIMUT ALIKHAN v. HURDWAREE MULL, 14 W.R. 14, P.C.=13 M I A. 395=5 B.L.R.P. C. 578=2 Suther. 343=2 Sar. 571.

(38)—Presumption in favour of—Against apparent ownership.—Although the habit of holding land benami is prevalent in India, every presumption of such holding against such fact does not justify the Court in making apparent ownership. MOONSHEE BUZLOOR RUHEEM v. SHUMSOONNISSA BEGUM 8 W R. 3, P.C.=11 M I.A. 551=2 Suther. 59=Sar. 259.

(39)—Allegation that a lease is benami—Onus of proof.—Where there is an allegation that a lease is held benami, it is not sufficient for the party in whose name the lease is drawn out to produce the document, but it is necessary for him to prove that he has the beneficial interest in the property. SARODA MOHUN ROY CHOWDHRY v. SHAMA SOONDUREE DOSSIA, 7 W.R. 209.

(40)—Burden of proof—Evidence—Transfer by registered deed—Benami transaction allegation of.—The system of putting property benami is so extremely common in India that the mere fact of a deed being executed in proper form, and apparently effecting a valid transfer to another, is not as good evidence of a real transfer as it would be in other countries, and even a slight quantity of evidence to show that it was a sham transaction will suffice for the purpose. Still such a transfer cannot be considered as nothing. The person who impugns its apparent character must show something or other to establish that it is a benami or sham transaction. A transfer by a registered deed, admitted to have been executed, but alleged to have been benami and merely colourable, was held, on the evidence, to have been valid and effective, in the absence of evidence showing the contrary. UMAN PARSHAD v. GANDHARP SINGH, 15 C. 20=14 I.A. 127, P.C.=5 Sar. 71=R & J's No. 98. [R., 7 O.C. 134, 8 O.C. 94, 3 C.L.J. 594=3 A.L.J. 415=10 C.W.N. 730=8 Bom. L.R. 402 =28 A. 488=1 M.L.T. 171=33 I.A. 97, P.C.]

Benami Transaction—continued

——1.—General—continued.

(41)—Transaction, whether benami—Oral evidence unsatisfactory—Surrounding circumstances and considerations of probability to be looked into.—Where the question was whether a document, which, on its face, was a mortgage-bond, was a genuine or a fictitious transaction, but at the trial persons, who might have been expected to be prominent witnesses, were not called, and the evidence that was called was open to much adverse criticism. Held that, in the circumstances, it was necessary to rely largely upon the surrounding circumstances, the position of the parties and their relation to one another, the motives which could govern their actions and their subsequent conduct. DALIB SINGH v. CHAUDHRAIN NAWAL KUNWAR, 12 C.W.N. 609, P.C.=10 Bom. L.R. 600 =14 Bur. L. R. 151=4 M.L.T. 141=30 A. 258 =35 I.A. 104.

(42)—Benami—Evidence—Suspicion.—Suit by A to establish his right to execute decrees, against B and another, by attachment and sale of lands in the possession of C, B's son, on the ground that the lands were held by C benami, to defeat B's creditors. Evidence was given that C was the real purchaser of the property sought to be attached and not a benami holder for B. Nothing but hearsay evidence was given by A that it was a benami transaction. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that although there may be, with respect to benami transactions, circumstances which might create suspicion and doubt as to the truth of the case, yet that the appellate Court will not decide upon mere suspicion, but upon legal grounds established by evidence, and that, from the evidence in the suit, a bona fide purchase by C was established. FAEZ BAX CHOWDHRY v. FAKIRUDDIN MAHOMED AHASAN CHOWDHRY, 9 B.L R. 456, P.C.=14 M I A. 234= 2 Sar. 733=2 Suther. 490. (11 M.I.A. 43, F.)

(43)—Apparent title in one person—Beneficial title in another, how proved—Burden of proof—Acquisition out of funds supplied by alleged beneficiary, necessity to prove.—Plaintiffs brought this suit to recover a certain coffee garden from their paternal uncle, the defendant. Plaintiffs' father and the defendant had separated and partitioned their ancestral property in 1870, but after their father's death in 1886, the plaintiffs who were very young had lived in the defendant's portection. The plaintiffs' case was that the disputed garden had belonged to their father. Previous to the suit, one of the plaintiffs alone, but describing himself as the guardian of his minor brother, had executed a sale-deed in favour of the defendant, in which the disputed property was described as having been enjoyed by plaintiffs' father and as belonging to the plaintiffs after his death. It was nobody's case that this was a real sale. The High Court, in decreeing the suit in plaintiffs' favour, relied inter alia on this document as containing an important admission of plaintiffs' title in the property. Held that the High Court was right in so using the document. Held also that in order to displace this apparent title in the plaintiffs and to establish a beneficial interest in himself, it was incumbent upon the defendant to show by satisfactory evidence that the funds out of which the garden was purchased and developed were his own funds. PULIYAMPATTI NARANIER v. KUPPIER, 9 C.W.N. 89 P.C.

(44)—Attachment of property in wife's name—Onus of proof—S. 106, Evidence Act.—A decree-holder attached, in execution of his decree, properties standing in the names of the judgment-debtor's wife and certain other person. The latter put in a claim petition and, on its rejection, instituted a suit. The question to be decided in that suit was whether certain property, which stood for many years in the name of the wife, and which now stood in her name and also in another's name, was held benami for her husband. Held that, under s. 106 of the Evidence Act, the onus lay on the plaintiffs to show that the purchase-money was supplied by the wife, the first plaintiff, and that the properties had been in enjoyment of the plaintiffs, as these were matters peculiarly within the knowledge of the plaintiffs; and that, as they had failed to discharge the onus, it should be taken that the purchase-money was supplied by the husband and that the properties had all along been in his enjoyment. SANJIVAROYA PILLAI v. BALAMBIKA AMMAL, 17 M.L.J. 339, (6 W.R. 312, 8 C. 545. R.)

(45)—Presumption—Burden of proof—Benami transactions among Mahomedans.—Suit in ejectment by the ostensible owners. It was alleged by the plaintiffs that the property in dispute was purshased by their father. The defendant contended that the purchase was made out of his funds, but in the name of plaintiff's father. It was found as a fact that the purchase was made by the defendant with his funds. The parties were Mahomedans. Held that, in benami transactions in India, the criterion, for finding who the real owner is, is the source from which the purchase-money has come, the presumption being that a purchase made by A with his money, but in the name of B, is for the benefit of the former, and that, from the purchase by a father, whether a Hindu or Mahomedan, with his money but in the name of his son, no presumption, such as the English Law would draw, of an advancement in favour of the son, can be drawn. The party, therefore, who wishes to succeed as real owner, must prove that the purchase-money belonged to him. (6 M.I.A., Appl.) SAYYUD

Benami Transaction—continued

—1.—General—continued.

UZHUR ALI v. BEBEE ULTUF FATIMA, 13 W.R 1. P.C.

(46)—Benami Purchase—Onus probandi—Life-interest.—Plaintiff sued for the recovery of certain property on the allegation that, though the property was purchased by A, his adoptive mother, benami in the name of B, yet that she purchased it out of her own separate income so as to make it her property, and that plaintiff, as her heir, was on her death entitled to the property. The defendant denied that the purchase was made with the money of A, and averred that the property was purchased with the money of B, the person in whose name the purchase stood. Held that the defendant's answer was substantially an argumentative traverse of the truth of the plaintiff's story, and that the material issue was, not whether the defendant's averment of purchase with the money of B was made out, but whether the plaintiff's story of purchase by A, with her own money benami in the name of B was true. Held, further, that, even if A purchased the property with her own money, yet nevertheless, if she purchased it with the express intention at the time that, after her death, it should go to B, in whose name she purchased it, that it would not be a purchase benami within the meaning of the real issue in the case, and that it would make no difference in point of law whether A did or did not reserve a life-interest and control over the disposition of the proceeds of the property during her life. RAJAH CHUNDERNATH ROY v. RAMJOY MOZOOMDAR, 15 W.R. 7, P.C. = 6 B.L.R. 303 = 2 Sar. 613.

(47)—Sale to wife—Benami—Onus of proof —Purchase without enquiry from Hindu widow —Validity.—In a suit for a declaration that certain sales were benami where the property of a husband was sold to realise a fine and passed from hand to hand until it was finally sold to the wife who moreover was in possession of the property when the sale of the husband's rights and interests took place, it was held that the plaintiff was entitled to a clear finding as to whether the wife held the property in her own right or as a trustee for her husband. Held, further, that the onus of proving from what source the money came lay on the wife. An enquiring purchaser from a Hindu wife, her husband living at the time of the purchase, is in no sense a bona fide purchaser without notice. BINDOO BASHINEE DEBEE v. PEAREE MOHUN BOSE, 6 W.R. 312.

(48)—Purchase in name of son by Hindu or Muhammadan father—Presumption of benami purchase—Onus of proof to the contrary.—When a purchase is made by a Hindu or Muhammadan in the name of his son, the presumption is in favour of its being a benami purchase, and it lies on the party in whose name it was purchased to prove that he is solely entitled to the legal and beneficial interest in the estate. It is possible that the transaction was a real one, and that the purchase was intended for the benefit of the son; but the burden of proof lies with more than ordinary weight on the person alleging the bona fides of such a transaction, and, when the rights of creditors are in issue, very strict proof of the nature of the transaction should be required from the objector to such rights. NAGINBHAI v. ABDULLA, 6 B. 717.

Benami Transaction—continued

—1.—General—continued.

(49)—Benamidar—Right of suit.—A person to whom a debt has been assigned, though he is a benamidar for somebody else, may sue in his own name to recover the debt. Provided that the defendant is not in any way prejudiced and is allowed to raise any defence which would avail him against the person really entitled, there is no objection to such a suit. SIVASANKARAM PILLAI v. PANCHAMI KESIYAR, 8 M. L.J. 302.

(50)—Right of benamidar to sue in his own name.—A benamidar is entitled to sue in his own name, unless there are special circumstances on account of which he ought not to be permitted to sue. THAKUR ROHINI SINGH v. VISHWANATH BRAHMIN, 13 C.P.L.R. 33. (22, B. 820, F.)

(51)—Benamidar's right to sue or execute a decree.—A benamidar is not entitled to sue, nor can he apply to execute a decree on the basis of an assignment in respect of which he is a benamidar for another person. In re MUTHU KUMARA ASARI, 9 Ind. Cas. 40 = 9 M.L.T. 137.

(52)—Benamidar—Right of suit—May bring suit on contract or mortgage, but not title-suit—Person using fund in his hand, not a benamidar.—A person suing on a title to immoveable property, who is really a benamidar and has no legal or equitable title in the property, cannot maintain the suit. But a person, who enters into a contract with another who lends him money, and in pursuance of that contract gives him a lien on his own immoveable property, cannot be heard to say that somebody else supplied the funds which were lent to him. Therefore, a suit for recovery of money due on a mortgage may be brought by the person named in the mortgage-deed, although he be in fact only the benamidar of the beneficial owner. A person is perfectly at liberty to use the funds in his hands, whether they belonged to the joint family of which he is a member or to anybody else, and if he invests the funds in mortgages, it cannot be said that he is a benamidar. HARA GOBIND SAHA v. PURNA CHANDRA SAHA, 1 Ind. Cas. 522 = 11 C.L J. 47. (24 C. 644, F.; 30 C. 265, Expl. & F.)

(53)—Suit for land—Right of suit—Limitation Act, art. 149—Suit by assignees from Government—Applicability of article to such a suit.—The question, whether a benamidar should be allowed to sue or not, cannot be made to depend upon the question whether the subject-matter of the suit is land or not, but must depend upon his showing whether the facts of the case are such as to give him some right to sue under the general Law, e.g., it may be shown that the facts are such as to entitle him to sue as an agent of an undisclosed principal on a contract made by him or the facts may be such as to constitute him a trustee for the real owner. Where the legal estate is vested in the benamidar, he is in fact a trustee and as such entitled to sue. The mere fact that a purchase of land is in the name of a certain person is not sufficient to vest the legal estate in the benamidar and constitute him a trustee, viz., where land is purchased benami in the name of a minor the land is not vested in him as trustee. (15 M. 54, 21 M. 30, 3 W.R. 159, 25 C. 98, 30 C. 265, 15 M. 261, 30 M. 88, 16 C. 365, 25 C. 874, 18 A. 69, 19 M. 154, 31 I.A. 203, 28 M. 505, R.) Art. 149 of the Limitation Act does not apply, where the plaintiff derives his title by purchase from Government. KOOTHAPPERUMAL RAJAH v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 17 M.L.J. 174=30 M. 245. [F., 31 M. 461; R., 12 C.L.J. 357=7 Ind. Cas. 166.]

Benami Transaction—continued

—1.—General—continued.

(54)—Benamidar, right of suit by—Mortgage—Conveyance without consideration, test of.—A benamidar cannot bring a suit for recovery of a mortgage-debt. A mortgagee assigned over his interest under the mortgage to the plaintiffs, who instituted the present suit against the mortgagors for recovery of the mortgage-debt. It was found that the assignment was a benami transaction and was intended to put the mortgagors into difficulty. Held, that the plaintiff's suit was rightly dismissed. (9 C.W.N. 477=32 I.A. 113=27 A. 271, D; 6 M.I.A. 53, P.C., 16 C. 364, 30 C. 265, 15 B. L.R. 10=2 I.A. 113, R.) The mere non-passing of consideration is not sufficient to show that a transaction is benami. MUNSHI BASIRUDDIN AHMED v. MAHOMED JALISH PATWARI, 12 C.W.N. 409.

(55)—Right of suit of benamidar for recovery of possession.—In the mofussil and generally in the Courts of this country, the benamidar is treated merely as a person in whose name any property stands, without his having any legal or equitable title in the same. A benamidar as such is not entitled to maintain a suit for recovery of possession of immoveable property, of which he is merely a benamidar. MOHENDRA NATH MOOKERJEE v. KALI PROSHAD JOHURI, 30 C. 265=7 C.W.N. 229. (6 M.I.A. 53, R.; 16 C. 364, Expl.; 24 C. 34, 22 B. 672, D; 18 A. 69, 21 A. 380, Diss.; 3 W.R. 159, 10 W. R. 469, 25 C. 98, 874, F.) [Expl., 30 M. 245 =17 M.L.J. 174; R., 10 O.C. 263, 12 C.W.N. 409.

(56)—Claim based on title for possession of immoveable property—Right of benamidar to sue in his own name—Res judicata.—There is nothing in law to prevent a benamidar from suing in his own name for the recovery of immoveable property on title. Such a suit is permissible, and when it is so instituted by the benamidar, it must be held to have been instituted with the consent and approval of the beneficiary, against whom any adverse decision on the title set up will take effect as res judicata. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, it is to be presumed in the case of a suit by a benamidar, that it had been instituted with the full authority of the beneficial owner, and that any decision come to would have the effect of res judicata as against the real owner. NAND KISHORE LAL v. AHMAD ATA, 18 A. 69=A.W.N. 1895, 160. (3 W.R. 159, 16 C. 364, 10 W.R. 469, 10 W.R. 220, 6 M.I.A. 53, 18 W.R. 454, 10 C. 697, 15 M. 267, R.) [Diss., 25 C. 98=3 C.W.N. 20, 25 C. 874; F., 21 A. 380, 28 A. 44=A.W.N. 1905, 173=2 A. L.J. 702; Appr., 28 A. 44=2 A.L.J. 702=A. W.N. 1905, 173, 3 L.B R. 18; R., 1 O.C. 10, 22 B. 672, 22 B. 820, 13 C.P.L.R. 33. 4 O.C. 100, 30 C. 265, 17 M.L.J. 174=30 M. 245, 10 O.C. 263.]

(57)—Benamidar, sale by—Suit for declaration by real owner.—Where certain decrees which had been assigned to a servant were executed by him a number of times and were sold by him, and the master sued for a declaration that he was the real purchaser of the decrees and that the servant was only a benamidar for him, held that the questions to be tried in such a case were: (1) Who was the real purchaser? (2) By whose funds where the decrees purchased? (3) Did the master, by any acts, declarations or omissions known to the vendees, intentionally cause, countenance or favour the belief before the date of the purchase by them, that not he, but his servant was the real, as well as the ostensible, owner of the decrees? MADAN GOPAL v. PARSHADI RAI, A.W.N. 1881, 126.

(58)—Benamidar, holder of—Promissory note entitled to sue on.—The holder and payee of a negotiable instrument ought not to be put to proof as to whether the money advanced was his own. The payee and holder of a promissory note, therefore, is not to be debarred from suing on it merely by reason of the fact that a third person is really interested in it. BOJJAMMA v. VENKATARAMAYYA, 21 M. 30. [Appr., 30 M.88=16 M.L.J. 508= 1 M.L.T. 377, F.B.; R., 28 M. 205=15 M.L.J. 249, 10 O.C. 263; D., 30 M. 245=17M.L.J.174.]

(59)—Suit for rent.—Benami purchasers of land cannot intervene in a suit for rent brought by the persons in whose name the purchases were made. WILLIAM SMITH v. MOKHUM MAHTOON, 18 W.R. 526. [Diss., 22 W. R. 440.]

(60)—Benamidar—Right of suit—Suit for possession by one co-sharer of his share, if maintainable—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 32 (5) 90, 115—Statements about birth and death of relatives admissible—Presumption in favour of old documents—Copies, whether presumption applicable to copies when originals destroyed—Adverse possession—Assertion of absolute title by

Benami Transaction—continued

——1.—General—continued.

life-tenant—Estoppel—Contract without power of performance—Subsequent acquisition of power—Lessee having notice of deed forming part of title of lessor—Constructive notice of contents of deed—Transfer of Property (Act IV of 1882), s. 43—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 18.—A benamidar cannot maintain a suit for the recovery of the property. (16 A. 364, 25 C. 98, 3 C.W.N. 20. 25 C. 874, 3 C.W.N. 12, 30 C. 265, 7 C.W.N. 229. F.) A suit, which is not really for setting aside alienations, but for recovery of property on the ground that the life-tenant could not confer any title that would subsist after her death, and that the plaintiffs are entitled to possession since her death, is maintainable by one co-sharer for his share only. The wording of s. 32 (5) of the Evidence Act, "relation to the existence of any relationship" is wide enough to include statements about the birth and death of relatives, which events either commence or terminate the relationship. (20 C. 758, 24 C. 265, 1 C.W.N. 370. F.) The terms of s. 90 of the Evidence Act are wide enough to include copies within its mischief; therefore the presumption allowed by the section may be applied where the original of a document sought to be proved has been destroyed and only secondary evidence of its contents in the shape of a certified copy is available (5 C. 886, 6 C.L.R. 199, 22 A. 294, F.) An assertion of absolute title by a life-tenant does not constitute adverse possession against the reversioners. (27 C. 156, P.C., 26 I.A. 216, 4 C.W.N. 274, F.) A person, who enters into a contract without the power of performing it at the time, is bound to perform it if he subsequently acquires the power. (8 C. 138, 10 C.L.R. 66, 2 C.L.R. 382, 5 C. 252, 4 C.L.R. 150, 4 B. 34, 3 A 805, R.) A lessee or a purchaser having notice of a deed forming a part of the chain of title of his lessor or vendor, has constructive notice of the contents of such deed. SHEO LAL SINGH v. CHOWDHRY GOOR NARAIN, 7 Ind. Cas. 218. (16 M. 301, 19 I.A. 221, 20 C. 1 Rel. on.)

(61)—Suit by benamidar—Decision therein binding upon beneficial owner.—So long as the benami system is to be recognised in this country, the proper rule is that, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, it is to be presumed that the benamidar has instituted a suit with the full authority of the beneficial owner, and the decision in the suit would be as much binding upon the real owner as if the suit had been brought by the real owner himself. GOPINATH CHOBEY v. BHUGWAT PERSHAD, 10 C. 697. (10 W.R. 220, 19 W.R. 434, 5 C.L.R. 102, Discussed.) [Appr., 20 C. 418; R., 13 C.P.L.R. 33, 15 M. 267=2 M.L.J. 93, 18 A. 69=A.W.N. 1895, 79, 21 A, 380=A.W.N. 1899, 130, 4 C.W.N. 283, D., 25 C. 874, 11 C.W.N. 215.]

(62)—Decree against benamidar.—Beneficial owner—Bound by the decree—Subsequent suit for redemption.—A decree passed against a benamidar, in a suit brought against him, binds the beneficial owner, just in the same way as a decree in a suit brought by a benamidar. Where a decree gave the benamidar an opportunity to redeem, and he did not avail himself of it, held, that the beneficial owner could not maintain a suit to redeem. KANIZ FATIMA v. WALI-UL-LAH, 4 A.L.J. 689=A.W.N. 1907, 272=30 A. 30. [R., 2 Ind. Cas. 990, 5 A.L.J. 167. Note.]

(63)—Benami transaction—Heir when bound by act of ancestor.—In some cases the heir of one who purchases benami may be bound, as between him and a bona fide purchaser without notice from the benamidar, by that act of his ancester, irrespective of any act or omission of his own whatever, and even although a minor when his ancestor's conduct was acted on by such purchaser. CHUNDER COOMAR v. HURBUNS SAHAI, 16 C. 137.

(64)—Sudder Court's Circular Order of 29th July 1809—Effect of, on benami transaction.—The Sudder Court's Circular Order, dated 29th July, 1809 was intended to discourage the institution of suits under names purely fictitious, but does not apply to cases in which property in question belonged to a third party who distinctly repudiated all interest therein. SYUD MAHOMED JAWAD ALI v. SYUD SAIF ALI, 4 W.R. 102.

(65)—Vendor and purchaser—Covenant by benamidar—Liability on covenant.—When a benamidar and the real owner execute a sale of certain property, and give a covenant for quiet enjoyment in these terms "should there be any hindrance in your enjoying the same, we shall settle and remove such hindrance," and the vendee is sued in enjectment and has to settle with the plaintiff who has obtained a decree, the vendee is entitled to proceed against the benamidar on the covenant. SOMASUNDRAM AYYAR v. FISHER, 19. M. 60=5 M.L.J. 222.

(66)—Covenant by benamidar—Bindingness on real owners.—All the covenants made by a benamidar in the sale of a property are not necessarily binding upon the true owners; though there may be circumstances in which a person whose name does not appear upon a contract may be liable to perform its conditions. BISSESSUREE DEBIA v. GOBIND PERSHAD TEWARE, 21 W.R. 398.

(67)—Decree—Assignment benami—Execution by benamidar.—The mere fact of a decree being assigned to A for his benefit, although by agreement the name of B was used, will not prevent execution being taken out in the name of the ostensible decree-holder. PURNA CHANDRA ROY v. ABHAYA CHANDRA ROY, 4 B.L.R. App. 40. [Not F., 16 C. 355; R., 2 C.P.L.R. 45, 10 C.C. 263.]

(68)—Property really conveyed for support of judgment-debtor—Purchase in son's name—Effect.—Property substantially conveyed for the benefit and support of a judgment-debtor and his family is liable for his debt even though it was purchased in the name of his son. FUKEEROODDEEN MAHOMED AHSAN CHOWDHRY v. KURREEM BUKSH CHOWDHRY, 5 W.R. 43.

Benami Transaction—continued

——1.—General—continued.

(69)—Benamee purchase—Alienation—by benamidar—Indicia of ownership.—A decree of foreclosure in respect of property mortgaged by a benameedar by conditional sale is good and binding against the auction-purchasers of the rights and interests of the real owner, unless they can show fraud. If property is purchased in the name of a benameedar, and the indicia of ownership are in his hands, the true owner can only get rid of the effect of an alienation by showing that it was made without his acquiescence, and that the purchaser took with notice of the fact. BHUGWAN DOSS v. UPOOCH SINGH, 10 W.R. 185.

(70—Suit by woman for money on bond in her name—Plea that woman did not lend, Validity of.—Where a woman sues to recover money advanced on a bond executed in her name, it is open to the obligee to plead that the money was not lent by the woman, but that the bond was merely an acknowledgment of indebtedness from him to her husband. BHOOBUNESSUR ROY CHOWDHRY v. JUGGESSUREE CHOWDHRAIN, 22 W.R. 413.

(71)—Suit on bond—Plea as to execution in favour of stranger—Procedure.—In a suit upon a bond where defendant pleads that the bond, though executed in the name of the plaintiff, was really executed in favour of a third party, if it is found that plaintiff is not the real holder, the suit must be dismissed. JUDOO NATH DEY v. GIRIJA BHOOSAN MITTER, 23 W.R. 446. [R., 3 C.L.R. 9.]

(72)—Decree for costs—Mortgage-decree—Benami purchase by judgment-debtor—Lis pendens—Charge.—P L brought a suit against H, and, while it was pending, executed a bond in favor of R C hypothecating the property in dispute. The suit was dismissed with costs; and another suit was brought by one P M upon the bond, and while it was pending, the property in dispute was sold in execution of H's decree for costs, and purchased by S. The day after this, i.e., on 10th November, 1868, P M obtained a mortgage-decree which he transferred to R B, who executed it and attached the property in dispute, when S intervened, objecting that the mortgage, the mortgage-decree and the transfer of the decree were all fictitious and collusive, and brought about by P L. This objection having been rejected, a suit was brought on the same ground against R B, P M and the widow of P L to establish S's rights, and to stop the pending sale. The property was, however, sold and purchased by D, who was then made a defendant in the suit. After this D instituted a suit for confirmation of possession. Both the Lower Courts found that R B was a benamidar for P L, and upheld the title of S in preference to that of D. Held that if D had not been made a defendant, he would have been bound by the doctrine of lis pendens by the decree passed in the suit, and that although S by virtue of his auction-purchase was not entitled to the property in dispute, yet he was entitled to a declaration that, so far as the amount of his purchase-money went to satisfy the decree of November 1868, it should be considered a charge on the property. DHONDHAI SINGH v. SHAIKH SULEEMOODDEEN HUSSEIN, 24 W. R. 359.

Benami Transaction—continued

——1.—General—continued.

(73)—Party allowing purchase from him in third party's name—Ownership not disclosed—Right to relief. Onus of proving—A person suffering purchase of property for him in another's name and taking no steps to show to the world that he is the owner must prove a clear right to relief against any one who purchases that property bonâ fide from the ostensible owner. NIDRA DASEE v. ABDOOL WAHED, 25 W.R. 532.

(74)—Estoppel—Benamee—Bond for money lent—Bona fide purchaser of bond without notice—Where in a bond given by A to secure the re-payment of money lent by B to A, it is stated that the money was lent by C, it is no answer to a suit on the bond brought against A by a person who has purchased the bond from C bona fide, without notice, that the money advanced belonged to B. A person who lends money in the name of another must accept the consequences, if an innocent purchaser deals with the person whose name appears on the document as the party entitled to the receipt of the money. DOCHINA KALLY DEBEE v. DINA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY 3 C.L.R. 9.

(75)—Purchase of land in name of benamidar—Declaratory suit maintainable by real owner—Specific Relief Act (I of 1887), s. 42.—Where the plaintiff, a Government Official, acquired lands benami, in the defendants name, intending to conceal his purchase from the Government authorities, although he might have thereby acted dishonestly and in contravention of the departmental rules, he could not be said to have acted illegally, so as to bring his case within the rule of law that a man is precluded from obtaining relief in respect of transaction, the purpose of which was illegal and has been accomplished. Consequently, in the absence of any assertion of possession of the land on the part of the defendant, a suit is maintainable by the plaintiff for the mere declaration of his title to such land. LOBO v. BRITO, 21 M. 231. [R., 33 C. 967 = 10 C.W.N. 650 = 4 C.L.J. 22.]

(76)—Revenue Recovery Act Madras Act II of 1864, s. 38 and Madras Act III of 1884, s. 1 (5)—Revenue sale—Benami—Analogy—Onus of proof—Benamidar—Suit in ejectment on his own account.—In a suit by nominal vendees of a purchaser at a revenue sale, to eject tenants in possession, it is open to the latter to raise the contention that the purchase at the revenue sale was benami for the benefit of the original landlords (registered hakdars of a separately assessed chatram endowment). Though Act III of 1884 provides that a certificate issued to the auction-purchaser under the Act shall be conclusive evidence of title in all Courts, the effect of this provision cannot be greater than that of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code under which third parties are not precluded from setting up the benami character of the sale. [F., 28 M. 526=15 M. L. J 419, 29 M. 473. F. B.=16 M.L.J. 505=1 M.L.T. 234; Expl., 25 M. 655.] Benamidars or their nominal vendees cannot maintain suits in ejectment on their own account. The burden of proving the benami nature of a transaction is on the person who alleges it. TIRUMALAYAPPA PILLAI v. SWAMI NAICKER, 18 M. 469.

Benami Transaction—continued.

— 1.—General—continued.

(77)—Sale by real owner under fictitious deeds—Purchase by third person from the fictious vendees with consent of, and on representations made by, the real owner—Real owner's right to set up his title against second purchaser—Estoppel.—The real owner of some property conveyed the same to his wives under fictitious sale-deeds, and then brought about a sale of the same properties by his wives (the vendees under the fictitious deeds) in favour of a third party, who purchased the same on the representations made by the real owner and on the latter's attesting the sale-deeds. Held, under the circumstances, that the real owner was precluded from setting up his title against the last purchaser; the sale to the latter had the effect of conveying to him the interests of the real owner, which he had purported to convey to his wives under the fictitious deeds of sale and this even as against the holder of a decree against him (the real owner). In such a case, it would be necessary to find whether the last purchaser was a purchaser for valuable consideration and whether he purchased on the strength of the representations made by the real owner and by reason of his assent to the transaction. TULSHI RAM v. MUTSADDI LAL, 2 A.L.J. 97.

(78)—Fraudulent benami deeds by predecessor in-title—Relief.—It is always open to a party to show that a decument simply executed but not carried into effect is a benami and colorable document and to recover possession of property against the party claiming under such document. SHAM LALL MITRA v. AMARENDRO NATH BOSE, 23 C. 460. (18 W.R. 485, 20 W. R. 112. 21 W.R. 422, 24 W.R. 391, 9 C.L.R. 64, R., 13 W.R. 87, Diss; 18 M. 378, 11 B. 708 D.) [R., 20 M. 327, 20 M. 333, 23 B. 406, 28 C. 370, 8 O.C. 278, 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J. 22, 4 N.L.R. 26; cited, U.B.R. 1897=1901, Vol. II, 544.]

(79)—Distinction between fraud attempted and fraud accomplished—Transaction benami. —There is a distinction between those cases, in which the fraud was only attempted, and those in which it was actually carried into effect; in the latter class of cases, the Court would, by granting relief to the wrong-doer, by making itself a party to the fraud. So, a person, who executed the fraudulent conveyance of the property to another person, cannot afterwards sue to recover the property and the transferee will not be disturbed in his possession. GOBERDHAN SINGH v. RITU ROY, 23 C. 962. (21 W. R. 422, F.) [Appr., 23 B. 406; R., 63 P.R. 1898, 1 O.C. 198, U B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 544, 27 C. 231, 28 C. 370, 8 O.C. 278. 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650, 4 C.L.J. 22, 31 M. 97=18 M.L.J. 251=3 M.L.T. 246; D., 3 P.R. 1906 =109 P.L.R. 1906.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(80)—Benami transaction--Colorable transfer in fraud of creditors—Fraudulent purpose given effect—Distinction between fraud attempted and fraud accomplished.--There is a distinction between a case in which the fraud is only attempted and a case where it has been actually carried into effect, (21 W.R. 422, Expl.) Where there is a colorable conveyance in fraud of creditors, and the fraud has been carried into effect, the Court will not permit the real owner to maintain a suit for recovery of the property. KALI CHARAN PAL v. RASIK LAL PAL, 23 C 962, Note. (20 W.R. 112, 21 W.R, 422, 9 C.L.R. 64, 18 B. 372, Diss.) [F., 23 C. 962.]

(81)—Benami transaction fraudulently entered into—Fraud accomplished—Effect.—A party cannot ask the Court to relieve him from the consequences of an accomplished fraud. Fraud is accomplished, if after the attachment, by the decree-holder, of property fraudulently conveyed, by the benamidar, the latter succeeds in the claim permitted to be preferred. So, where a fictitious transaction has been used to accomplish an intended fraudulent purpose, no suit lies afterwards for a declaration that the transaction is fictitious. BANKA BEHARI DASS v. RAJ KUMAR DASS, 27 C. 231=4 C.W N. 289. (11 B. 708, 18 M. 378, 23 C. 962, Note, F., 6 W. R. 287, 13 W.R 87, Cited; 18 W.R. 493, 20 W.R. 112, 21 W.R. 422, 23 W.R. 42, 24 W. R. 391, 12 C L.R. 64, 13 M.I.A. 551, 585, R.) [R., 28 C. 370, 8 C.W.N. 620, 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J. 22.]

(82)—Fraud—Colorable conveyance in fraud of creditor—Fraud, absolutely defeated—Suit by real owner against benamidar—Right of real owner to recover possession of his property—The same not barred by not having first the colorable conveyance set aside—Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877), sch. II, arts. 91 and 144. —A benami conveyance is not intended to be an operative instrument. Where a transaction is once made out to be a mere benami it is evident that the benamidar absolutely disappears from the title. His name is simply an alias for that of the person beneficially interested. If he has done so by means of his alias, then it has ceased to be a mere mask, and has become a reality. It may be very proper for a Court to say that it will not allow him to resume the individuality which he has once cast off in order to defraud others. If, however, he

S. N. BAR, B. A. LL. B.,
High Court,
SRINAGAR (Kashmir)

Benami Transaction—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

has not defraud any one, there can be no reason why the Court should punish his intention by giving his estate away to another, whose roguery is even more complicated than his own. This appears to be the principle of the English decisions. But where the fraudulent or illegal purpose has actually been effected by means of the colourable grant, then the maxim applies. In Pari delicto potior est conditio possidentis. The Court will help neither party. Let the estate lie where it falls. To enable a fraudulent confederate to retain property transferred to him in order to effect a fraud, the contemplated fraud must be effected. Then, alone, does the fraudulent grantor or giver, lose the right to claim the aid of the law to recover the property he has parted with. The purpose of the fraud having not only not been effected, but absolutely defeated, there is nothing to prevent the plaintiff from repudiating the entire transaction, revoking all authority of his confederate to carry out the fraudulent scheme and recovering possession of his property. T. P. PETHERPERMAL CHETTY v. R. MUNIANDY SERVAI, 10 Bom. L.R. 590=12 C.W.N. 562=5 A.L.J. 290=7 C.L.J. 528=14 Bur. L.R. 108=35 C. 551, P.C.=35 I.A. 98=18 M.L.J. 277=4 M.L.T. 12=4 L.B.R. 266. [D., 31 M. 485=18 M.L.J. 576=4 M.L.T 331; F. 30 A. 375=5 A.L.J. 421=A.W.N. 1908, 156.]

(83)—Fraud, plea of, defendant cannot plead fraud as an answer to claim to immoveable property conveyed by him to a.—When a fraud has been carried into effect, a party to it cannot, as plaintiff, plead the fraud to vitiate the transaction. Nor is it open to him, as defendant, to plead his own fraud as an effective answer to a claim to immoveable property conveyed by him to a benamidar. SHIDLINGAPPA v. HIRASA, 9 Bom. L.R. 542=31 B. 405. [D., 31 M. 97=18 M.L.J. 151=3 M.L.T. 246.]

(84)—Benami transaction—No fraud committed in pursuance thereof—Avoidability.—Where a release deed was executed with the sole object of preventing the creditors of the executant from attaching his share in the property covered by the deed, and was neither acted upon nor intended to be acted upon, and where the intended fraud was not actually carried out, held, that, as the fraud though intended was not actually carried out, relief may be given to the party to the fraud, where no interest of third parties is involved. FATIMA BIBI v. S. N. MAHOMED MOIDEEN. U.B.R. 1908, 3rd Qr., Benami Transactions, 1. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 544, F.; 13 M.I.A. 551, 3 L.B.R. 245, R.)

(85)—Benami transfer for illegal purpose of defrauding creditors—Such purpose not carried out—Suit for specific performance of contract to sell property to third person—Right of transferor to resist such suit on the ground that transfer was benami.—Where the owner of property transferred it, benami, to another for an illegal purpose, e.g., that of defeating creditors, and such purpose was not carried out into execution, held, with reference to s. 84 (33 C. 976, R.; 31 B. 405, D.; 20 M. 326, Cons.) of the Indian Trust Act, 1882, that a suit for specific performance of a contract by the transferee to sell the lands to a third person can be successfully resisted by the transferor, on the ground that the transfer was a mere benami transaction. MUNISAMI MUDALIAR v. SUBBARAYAR, 3 M.L.T. 244=18 M.L.J. 151=31 M. 97. (18 M. 378, F.; 23 C. 962, R.)

(86)—Benamee transfer—Fraudlent intention not carried into effect—Suit to recover from benamidar—Estoppel.—When, in order to save his properties from being sold in execution of a decree, from which he had preferred an appeal, the owner executed a deed of relinquishment in favour of another, but, being successful in the appeal, sued the latter for a declaration that the deed of relinquishment was colourable and did not convey title: Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed. When the fraudulent object of a benami transfer has not been carried into effect, the beneficial owner is not precluded from showing the real nature of the transaction. There is no estoppel in such a case. The authorities on the point reviewed by Mookerjee, J. JADU NATH PODDAR v. RUP LAL PODDAR, 10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J. 22=33 C. 967. [Cons., 31 M. 97=18 M.L.J. 151=3 M.L.T. 244; Diss., 3 L.B.R. 245.]

(87)—Benamidar—Suit by or against—Beneficial owner bound by decree—Presumption—Fraud.—When a benamidar institutes a suit for recovery of possession of the property, there is a presumption that he has instituted the suit with the full authority of the beneficial owner. (10 C. 697, F.) That principle has been extended to cases where the suit is against the benamidar. Therefore, the beneficial owner cannot plead that the decree which was passed against his benamidar is a fraud upon her. FAKIR SHAI MONDAL v. CHANDMONI DASSYA. 2 Ind. Cas. 990. (20 C. 418, 30 A. 30, 4 C.W.N. 283, F.)

(88)—Benami transfer—Transfer in fraud of creditors—Benamidar's suit for possession—Plea of transfer being benami.—In a suit by the benamidar for possession of immoveable property, the plea by the defendant that the transaction is benami is good notwithstanding the fact that he has defrauded his creditors by such benami transaction It is competent to him to show the real nature of the transaction in order to defend his possession. Where a plaintiff asks for relief alleging that the transfer on which the defendants relied was a benami transaction, he is precluded from alleging the transaction to be benami and obtaining relief, if he had successfully set up the benami transaction to defeat or defraud creditors. PREO NATH KOER v. KAZI MAHOMED SHAZID, 8 C.W.N. 620. [F., 5 N.L.R. 146; R., 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J. 22.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(89)—Judgment-creditor refused leave to bid at execution sale—Purchase by him benami, invalidity of—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 294.—Where the holder of a mortgage-decree was refused leave to bid for the mortgaged property at the execution sale, but nevertheless purchased it benami, held, he could not sue to enforce the sale. MAHOMED GAZEE CHOWDHRY v. RAM LALL SEN, 10 C. 757. [R., 5 C.W.N. 265, 23 A. 478; D., 21 C. 554; F., 32 M. 242=5 M. L.T. 248.]

(90)—Evidence—Sale in execution—Benamee—Purchase for judgment-debtor.—Where the plaintiff's vendor who bought property in Court auction, knowing that the property was sold a second time in Court-auction to the defendant, lay by and did not bring any action for nearly nine years after the defendant had been put into actual possession of the property under his purchase, held that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover possession, as the above facts coupled with other circumstances, went to show that the plaintiff's vendor was only a benamidar for the judgment-debtor. RAM CHUNDER BYSACK v. DINONATH SURMA SIRKAR, 5 C.L. R. 470, P.C.

(91)—Benami transfer--Purchase for valuable consideration.—A purchaser for valuable consideration may avail himself of the argument that deeds executed benami in fraud of creditors are good between the parties and their heirs if he has no notice of the nominal nature of the original transfer. But it cannot avail a person who knows of the nature of the transaction and makes use of his knowledge to perpetrate a fraud on other minor heirs. RUTTUN DYEE v. ROY GOWREE SUNKUR, 4 W.R. 72.

(92)—Benami lease—Liability of beneficial lessees for rent.—Where the ostensible lessees stood in the position of wives to the beneficial lessees, and it was improbable that three ladies (of whom one was a stranger) should pay a large bonus; and as the ostensible lessees were found not to have paid the consideration-money, the case was held to be benamee; and when the tenure passed away by an execution-sale to a third party, the lessor was entitled in equity to claim the rent from the beneficial lessees. PITAMBER SEN v. DEBNATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 18 W.R. 132.

(93)—Suit on hat-chittah—Allegation of benami.—In a suit on a hath chitta bond, where defendant pleads that plaintiff is only a benamidar for another party who advanced the money, if the bond is not denied, the plaintiff ought to have a decree, others interested being left to proceed against him. But if the case has been tried on the issue whether the money was the plaintiff's or the other party's and plaintiff has failed to prove that the money was his, he may be rightly refused a decree even if there are doubts as to the whole of the money having belonged to the third party. SHAIKH NUBEE BUKSH v. HAZEE TUMEEZOODDEEN, 18 W.R. 125.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(94)—Transaction proved to be benami—Benamidar's name in records—Effect.—A transaction being once established as benamee, the fact that the deeds and proceedings involved bear the benameedar's name is of no essential weight with reference to the question who is the principal. ROHEE LALL v. DINDYAL LALL, 21 W.R. 257.

(95)—Debtor and creditor—Relation between benamidar of creditor and debtor.—The debtor should not be involved in any trust that might exist between his creditor and a third party. But, where the debtor knows that the trustee or the benamidar when he gets money into his hands, intends to apply it to a purpose not legally authorised, and so to commit a breach of trust, he is not justified to paying the trustee or benamidar. But to make good a case of this character it is necessary to bring home clearly knowledge of the contemplated breach of trust to the person making payment, so as to make him particeps criminis and a privy to the breach of trust. SHIVRAM v. AMBAJI, 5 Bom. L R. 315.

(96)—Benamidar plaintiff honestly coming into possession, Suit by—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 317—Bombay Land Revenue Code, s. 182.—S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, and s. 182 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code do not bar a suit where the plaintiff, although originally a benamidar, came honestly in its possession. RAGHO v. VISHNU, 5 Bom. L R. 329.

(97)—Mortgage—Bona fide purchaser without notice—Right of real owner against property in the hands of—Suit against benamidar for money in his hands—Nature—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), arts. 132 120, 62.—Where a stranger, who purchased immoveable property subject to a mortgage paid the mortgage money, bona fide and without notice of the nature of the transaction, to mortgagees who were simply benamidars for the real mortgagees. Held, that the mortgage security can no longer be enforced by the real mortgagees against the immoveable property in the hands of bona fide transferees. Held, that the money retained and received by the benamidar is the mortgage-money, representing an equivalent of the real owner's charge on the immoveable property, and can be followed as such in the hands of the person (benamidar) alleged to be wrongfully withholding the same, held, also, that suit to recover such money from the benamidar is not one to enforce a personal claim (8 A. 503, 55 P.R. 1884, Not Appl.) but one, in effect, "to enforce payment of money charged on immoveable property," and that the suit is governed by art. 132, sch. II, Limitation Act (XV of 1877) or, in the alternative, by art. 120 but not by art. 62. SHAM LAL v. JOHRI MAL, 37 P.R. 1909=38 P.L.R. 1909=50 P.W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 732. (6 A. 442, 6 M. 402, 24 C. 309, 3 A. 170, 15 B. 438, 25 M. 396, 1 A. 333, 25 A. 62, 2 C. 393; D., 33 C. 92; 27 C. 180, 5 C. 597, Appl.)

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(98) — Decree-holder, whether benamidar or not—Question cannot be gone into in execution proceeaings.—The question whether a decree-holder is only a nominal decree-holder for the benefit of somebody else cannot be investigated in execution. VEERABHADRA RAZU v. JAGANNADHA RAZU, 3 M.L.J. 220.

(99)—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), sch. II, art. 62—Right of beneficiary in money paid over by benamidar to another in adjustment of another claim.—A, a benamidar and who had realised the money due under a bond in which B and C were beneficially interested, in a suit by B's representative on the basis of his being solely entitled thereto, compromised the claim, treating such money as B's assets in which A was also interested, and paid a portion thereof to B's representative reserving a portion for himself. In a suit by C against B's representative for recovery of his share of the money due under the bond, held that, though the defendant must be treated as having received the entire sum of the bond from the benamidar under the above transaction, yet it was not obtained for the plaintiff's use, but as assets of the defendant's father's estate, and that, since he received it bona fide and without any knowledge of C's interest, C was not entitled to follow the money in his hands. SUNDAR LAL v. FAKIR CHAND, 25 A. 62=A.W.N. 1902, 185. [R., 8 P.W.R. 1908.]

(100)—Benami—Mortgage with consent and for benefit of real owner—Discharge of mortgage by benamidar—Right of benamidar to charge on porperty for amount paid.—Where, with the consent and for the benefit of the real owner, the benamidar executed a mortgage-deed and subsequently discharged the mortgage by his own money, the benamidar could not be regarded as having paid the mortgage-debt officiously or as a mere volunteer, and was entitled in equity to have it declared that the amount paid by him was a charge upon the property. SUBBAMMAL v. MUTHU PATHAN, 13 M.L.J. 228.

(101)—Contribution—Mortgage by benamidar with consent of and for benefit of real owner—Discharge of Mortgage debt by benamidar—Liability of real owner to pay amount so paid—Right of benamidar to claim charge on property for amount paid by him.—The benamidar of a property mortgaged it with the consent and for the benefit of the real owner. He discharged the mortgage-debt and sued the real owner to recover the sum so paid as a charge upon the said property. Held, that as between the plaintiff and the defendant, the latter was bound to discharge the mortgage-debt and she not having done so the plaintiff discharged the obligation he was under to the mortgagee; and by such payment relieved the property, for the benefit of the defendant, from the incumbrance. Consequently, plaintiff was entitled in equity to have it declared that the amount claimed by him was a charge upon the property. SUBBAMMAL v. MUTHU PATHU, 26 M. 686, Note. [R., 26 M. 686.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—1.—General—continued.

(102)—Benami purchaser -Source of purchase-money—Evidentiary value—Mahomedan grandfather purchasing in the name of grandchild—Father of latter alive—No presumption of advancement—Property admitttedly not purchased for purchaser—Person named in the deed—Beneficiary, prima facie.—The source of the purchase-money is a very important fact in cases of alleged benami, but it is not the only criterion. (26 C. 227, 5 Ind. Cas. 85, R.) Actual possession or receipt of rents of the property is a much more important fact. Where a Mahomedan grandfather purchases property in the name of his grandchild whose father is alive, it cannot be presumed that the purchase was made for the grandchild. There can be no presumption of advancement as between a grandfather and a grandson, the father being alive. But where once it is admitted that the purchase was made not for the benefit of the purchaser himself but for another, then that other would prima facie be the person who is named in the deed. ABID ALI v. ASGAR ALI, 7 N.L.R. 159.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, ss. 37, 53, 15 C. 350.

Purchase of land by agriculturist benami for non-agriculturist—Maintainability of suit for redemption by benami purchaser in his own name—Court fees to be paid as if real purchaser was actual plaintiff—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, 22 B. 820.

Suit against a certified purchaser at a revenue-sale—Real purchaser not precluded from adducing proof as to defendant being a mere benamidar—See MAD. ACT II OF 1864, s. 38, cl. 5, s. 39, 15 M.L.J. 419=28 M. 526.

Purchase at revenue-sale, benamee for another, effect of—See MAD. ACT II OF 1864, s. 38, cl. (5), s. 39, 1 M.L.T. 234=29 M. 473=16 M.L.J. 505.

Plea of, how far it avails against the principle that an assignee of a debt suing the debtor cannot be defeated by a plea of the latter that the assignment is without consideration—See ASSIGNMENT, 9 Bom. L.R. 462.

See BURDEN OF PROOF—POSSESSION AND PROOF OF TITLE, 43 P.R. 1882.

Suit for possession—Allegation by defendant of benami purchase for him by plaintiff—Onus of proof—See BURDEN OF PROOF—POSSESSION AND PROOF OF TITLE, 8 C. 759.

See BURDEN OF PROOF—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 C.L.R. 466.

Suit based on the ground that the certified purchaser is not the real purchaser—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 66, 27 A. 194=A.W.N. 1904, 273=1 A.L.J. 646.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 16 20 C. 388, 21 M. 388=8 M.L.J. 48, 2 C.P.L.R. 45.

Benami Transaction—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

Decree-holder bidding through a benamidar—Misrepresentation of value—Substantial injury—Fraud—Setting aside sale—See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, O. XXI. rr. 66, 70, 90, 6 Ind. Cas. 135.

Effect of—Rights of benamidar—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O XXI, rr. 84 to 88, 90 to 94, ss. 65, 66, 8 M.L.T. 154.

Beneficial owner entitled to apply for setting aside of a sale in execution of a decree for money against benamidar—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 89, 8 C.L.J. 305.

Pro-note—Plea of execution as benamidar—Validity—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 2 (d), 7 M.L.T. 85=20 M.L.J. 144=5 Ind. Cas. 757.

Purchase of land by public officer benamee—Agreement opposed to public policy—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 23, 27 A. 73=1 A.L. J. 412.

Sale of putni taluq for arrears of rent—Payment by mortgagee—Purchase of mortgagor's interest benamee—Suit for contribution against such purchaser—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 69, 34 C. 92.

Benamidar—Right of suit—See CO-SHARERS—GENERAL, 9 Ind. Cas. 487.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLE, 21 M. 373.

Purchase of decree—Declaration that defendant is benamidar for plaintiff—Omission to ask for injunction—S. 42, Specific Relief Act, 1897—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—MISCELLANEOUS, 25 C. 49=2 C.W.N. 76.

Sale-deed—Vendee described as guardian of minor—Benamidar, right of, to sue or appeal in his own name—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, A.W.N. 1905, 173=2 A.L.J. 702=28 A. 44.

See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, A.W.N. 1881, 67, Marsh 569, Marsh 293=2 Hay 157, 16 C. 148.

Tenant—Benami sale to tenant—Landlord whether estopped from asserting tenancy—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY DEEDS, 10 C.L.R. 199.

Admissibility of parol evidence among Hindus to show benami character of conveyance—See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 2 M. H.C. 26.

Benami purchase—Purchase by husband in name of wife—Sale of property in action against husband—Claim by assignee from wife—Proof of collusion between husband and assignee—Validity of claim—See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 2 M.H.C. 27, Note.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, 26 C. 11, P.C.=25 I.A. 225.

Benami Transaction—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

Proof of real transaction—Admissibility of oral evidence—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 92, Provisos (1), (2), 9 Ind. Cas. 161=15 C.W.N. 408.

Whether application by, benamidar saves limitation—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 10 C.C. 263, B.

Execution against stranger on the ground that judgment-debtor was benamidar for him—Legality—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 C.W.N. 774=6 Ind. Cas. 414.

Sale benami in name of third person—Intention to defraud creditors of real purchaser—Collusive decree obtained by benamidar, whether could be set aside by real owner—See FRAUD—EFFECT OF FRAUD, 11 B. 708.

Suit for possession of land based on sale—Plea that sale was a sham transaction—Defrauding of creditors—Validity of plea—Rights of vendor—See FRAUD—PLEADINGS AS TO FRAUD, 18 B. 372.

Right to set aside fraudulent transfer on ground of benamee — See FRAUDULENT TRANSFER, 3 L.B.R. 245.

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 6 P.R. 1893.

Gift of share in a village by husband to wife—No actual deed—Mutation of names in settlement record—Stridhan—Transaction not benami—See HINDU LAW—STRIDHANAM, 10 A. 197, P.C.=15 I.A. 29.

Mortgage created benami for real mortgagee—Benamidar obtaining decree—Suit by real mortgagee against, for declaration and injunction—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 21 M. 353=7 M.L.J. 279.

Suit for rent—Tenant's defence that plaintiff is — Estoppel — See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 Ind. Cas. 846 =12 C.L.J. 428.

Right of, to sue—Adverse order under s. 335, Civ. Pro. Code—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 11, 11-A, 8 M.L.T. 377=8 Ind. Cas. 264.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 47, 2 B. L.R. S.N. 1 (b).

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 62, 25 A. 62=A.W.N. 1902, 185.

Suit against benamidar for recovering rent received—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 62, 120, 17 M.L.J. 224=30 M. 298=2 M.L.T. 332.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—MISCELLANEOUS, 5 C.L.R. 253.

Suit to set aside—Conveyance by a Mahomedan purporting to be for value, but in reality one for no consideration—See MAHOMEDAN

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

LAW—GIFT, 10 C.W.N. 706, P.C.=3 A.L.J. 405=8 Bom. L.R. 387=28 A. 439=9 O.C. 106 =1 M.L.T. 163=4 C.L.J. 295.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT, 19 A. 267, P.C.=24 I.A. 1.

Purchase by benamidar at revenue sale—Whether can be questioned by the real purchaser—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 9 Ind. Cas. 136=9 M.L.T. 136.

Purchase by mortgagee, effect of— See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 9 C.W.N. 201, P.C.=2 A.L.J. 71=7 Bom. L.R. 1=1 C.L.J. 584=32 C. 296.

See MORTGAGE—SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY, 1 A.L.J. 486.

Mortgage by ostensible owner of property —Transfer by benamidar, was not voidable—Notice of benami purchase—See MORTGAGE —MISCELLANEOUS, 4 O.C. 192.

Benamidar, promissory note executed in the name of—Suit against executant and benamidar—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS —PROMISSORY NOTES—GENERAL, 7 M.L.T. 178=20 M. L. J. 369=5 Ind. Cas. 927.

S. 85, Tr. P. Act. 1882—Suit by Benamidar for foreclosure of mortgage, maintainability of—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 24 C. 644.

Benamidar's right to sue for land—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 25 C. 874=3 C.W.N. 12.

Benamidar's suit in sole name of—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 5 C.L.R. 102.

Benamidar—Right to sue—Disclaimer of real owner—Parties—See PARTIES TO SUITS —GENERAL, 16 C. 364.

See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 10 W.R. 220.

See PLAINT—VERIFICATION AND SIGNATURE, 1 B.L.R. A.C. 100=10 W.R. 145.

See PLAINT—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 I.A. 194.

Benamidar mortgagee—Right of suit—See PLEADINGS, 7 Ind. Cas. 167=12 C.L.J. 357.

Purchase with one's own funds—Right to possession—See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION, 8 M.L.T. 283=8 Ind. Cas. 283.

See RENT, SUIT FOR, 5 B.L.R. 234=14 W. R. 12, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 237=11 W.R. 103.

See RES JUDICATA—PARTIES, 5 B.L.R. 321=13 W.R. 157.

Purchaser buying from one in whose name the title-deeds were made out—Possession of the lands with another person—Benamidar—Purchaser's suit for possession—Duty of purchaser—See SALE—GENERAL, 13 Bom. L.R. 256.

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

See SALE—SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE AND CESS—GENERAL, 14 C. 109, P.C.=13 I.A. 160.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 4 W.R. 87, P.C.=6 M. I.A. 510.

See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—SETTING ASIDE SALE, 23 A. 478= A.W.N. 1901, 175, 24 C. 707=1 C.W.N. 534.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—POSSESSION, 10 W. R. 449.

——2.—Certified Purchasers.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 66.

(1)—Benami purchaser—Sale for arrears of revenue—Title—Act I of 1845—Issue—Source of purchase-money.—The full Bench Ruling (11 W.R., p. 16), that a benamee purchaser cannot set up his title in opposition to a certified purchaser, does not apply when a certified purchaser has bought at a sale for arrears of revenue under Act I of 1845. In a suit by a certified purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue, it is not a principle of law to frame the issue as to the source from which the purchase-money came. BRIJO BEHAREE SINGH v. SHAH WAJED HOSSEIN, 14 W.R. 372. [Appr., 12 C. 302.]

(2)—Purchase in stranger's name—Beneficial owner, effect of decree on.—A purchase made in the name of a third party does not protect beneficial owner from the operation of a decree. AMEEROONNISSA-BEEBEE v. BINODE RAM SEIN, 2 W.R. 29.

(3)—Possessory suit — Ostensible allowing defendants to remain in possession—Effect—S. 21, Act I of 1845.—In a possessory suit when the ostensible purchaser under Act I of 1845, stands by ever since his purchase, and for 11 years allows defendants to remain in possession, the onus was held to lie on the plaintiff. 5 W.R. 16 and 11 W.R., Full Bench 16, considered and applied to a case under s. 21 of Act I of 1845. SHAIKH JOHUR ALI v. BINDABUN CHUNDER, 14 W.R. 10.

(4)—S. 21, Act I of 1845—Sale Law.—S. 21, Act I of 1845 is inapplicable to a suit brought to make void a patta granted by the mother of a certified purchaser. BISSONATA SURMA BHUTTACHARJEE v. MR. MORAN, W.R. 1864, 353.

(5 & 6)—Act XII of 1841, s. 22—Act I of 1845 s. 21—Certified purchaser—Managing member of Hindu family.—The repeal of Act XII of 1841 by Act 1 of 1845 took away the defence which the nominal purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue would have had under the former law in a suit by the real purchaser. A purchase at a sale for arrears of revenue under Act I of 1845 made by the managing member of a joint Hindu family in his own name, but on behalf of the joint family, is not affected by s. 21 of that Act; and notwithstanding anything contained therein, the members of such joint family may sue to enforce rights acquired by them, under such purchase, as against the managing member, though he is the sole certified purchaser. BABOO TUNDAN SING v. BABOO PUKH NARAYAN, 5 B. L. R. 546 = 13 W.R. 347. [Affirmed, 22 W.R. 199, P. C. = 1 I.A. 342 = 3 Sar. 390.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(7)—Beneficial purchaser—Long possession of property purchased benami—Effect—S. 21, Act I of 1845—S. 36, Act XI of 1859—Act XII of 1841.—Possession for more than 12 years by a beneficial purchaser of the property purchased benamee, not only extinguishes the nominal purchaser's title, but creates a title which may be inherited by heirs and representatives. S. 21, Act I of 1845, and s. 36, Act XI of 1859, do not apply to a purchase under Act XII of 1841. BOOA RUSSOOLEE v. THE NOWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL, 11 W.R 382. [Appr., 13 W. R. 347 = 5 B. L. R. 546; R., 13 W. R. 310.]

(8)—Act XI of 1859 (Revenue Sale Law), s. 36—Construction—Benami property, liability of.—S. 36 of Act XI of 1859 only prohibits a suit by the true owner disputing the title of his benamidar; it does not preclude a third party from enforcing a claim against the true owner in respect of the benami property. All the previous authorities reviewed. CHANDRA KAMINY DEBEA v. RAMRUTTUN PATTUCK, 12 C. 302. [R., 21 A. 29 = A. W. N. 1898, 187.]

(9)—S. 36, Act XI of 1859—Arrears of revenue—Sale—Attempting to oust certified purchaser.—S. 36, Act XI of 1859, should be construed strictly and literally. (14 M.I.A. 496, P.C., 2 I.A. 154, P.C., R.) S. 36 of Bengal Act XI of 1859 (which is very similar to s. 260 of the old Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859), held, inapplicable, where the real purchaser, being in possession, brought a suit against the certified purchaser's brother, who was managing the property for the plaintiff for an account, and for delivery of certain papers connected with the estates. BRINDABUN CHUNDER NUNDI v. RAM SUNDER MOZUMDAR, 21 C. 375. (2 I.A. 154, P.C., 14 M.I.A. 496, P.C., R.)

(10)—Suit against certified purchaser at revenue sale with only symbolical possession to reconvey estate as per contract—Act XI of 1859, s. 36—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317.—Where the certified purchaser of a taluk at a revenue sale, who had obtained symbolical possession, had agreed with the former owner, who continued in actual possession, to re-convey it to him after the completion of the sale, and the former owner sued for specific performance of the contract, held, the suit, not being one to oust the certified purchaser from possession, was not barred by s. 36 of Act XI of 1859. It was also held that S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, which governed only sales in execution of decrees of Civil Courts held under the Procedure Code, had no application to the case. FAZAL RAHAMAN v. IMAM ALI, 14 C. 583.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(11)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260—Party not a certified purchaser.—S. 260 of Act VIII of 1859 does not preclude a person purchasing benami from setting up his title against a person not being the certified purchaser or person claiming through him. SHOROSUTTY DASSEE v. GOPEESOONDARY DASEE, Marsh 423 = 2 Hay 512.

(12)—Suit for possession—S. 260, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Plaintiff's title impugned as fraudulent and fictitious—Scope of section.—In a suit for possession, s. 260 does not prohibit a defendant from questioning plaintiff's title on the ground of fraudulent and fictitious purchase. It provides for dismissal of a suit brought to question the title of a certified purchaser, but does not prohibit defendant from questioning that title when an auction-purchaser seeks to oust him. MIRZA RHYVAT ALI v. MIRZA SYFOOLAH KHAN, 8 W.R. 130.

(13)—Auction-purchaser—Benamee transaction.—Under s. 260, Act VIII of 1859, a suit by a party claiming to be the real purchaser of immoveable property sold in execution cannot be brought against the certified auction-purchaser. BYKUNT CHUNDER MOOSTAFEE v. KHEMA MOYEE DEBIA, 9 W. R. 360.

(14)—Suit between benamidar and beneficial owner—Act VIII of 1859, s. 206 (Civ. Pro. Code).—S. 260 of the Code of Civil Procedure refers only to suits between a benameedar and the beneficial owner, and not to cases where a gross fraud has been practised upon a third party. SHEETANATH GHOSE v. MADHUB NARAIN ROY CHOWDHRY, 1 W.R. 328.

(15)—Purchase of judgment-debtor's property in the name of another at a Court's sale for benefit of judgment-debtor—Right of judgment-debtor's creditors to such property in execution.—The immoveable property of A at a Court's sale was purchased by B with the money and on behalf of A B subsequently conveyed the property to C for the benefit of A. Held that the property could be taken in execution by the creditors of A. Quære—Whether but for the subsequent conveyance, B, under the operation of ss. 259 and 260 of the Civ. Pro. Code, would not have had a good title against the creditors of A. SATAPPA valad DAU DONGRE v. KARBASAPPA et al, 7 B.H.C.A.C. 21. [R., 22 B. 672]

(16)—Benami transaction—Certified purchasers—Certified purchaser of property—Act VIII of 1859, s. 260.—The certified purchaser of property, which had been a second time attached and sold in the execution of a decree as the property of the judgment-debtors, sued to be confirmed in possession of the property by virtue of his certificate of sale, and to obtain the cancelment of the second sale and the order disallowing his objections to that sale. Held, that the provisions of s. 260 of Act VIII of 1859 did not prohibit the consideration of the circumstances of the first sale, when the question for determination was whether, at the time of the second attachment the judgment-debtors were in possession as owners of the property or merely as lessees of the certified purchaser. GANESH PERSHAD v. SHEO CHURUN LALL, 6 N.W.P. 197.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(17)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260—Execution of decree—Claim to attached property by certified purchaser—Suit by decree holder against certified purchaser—Benami.—S. 260 of Act VIII of 1859, permits the Courts to entertain a suit by a decree holder against the certified purchaser of property to bring the property to sale in execution of his decree as the property of his judgment-debtor, on the allegation that the certified purchaser had purchased the property benami for the judgment-debtor, who had remained in possession as owner from the date of the purchase, and was in possession as such at the time of the attachment. SOHUN LALL v. LALA GYA PERSHAD, 6 N.W.P. 265. [Appr, 18 A. 461, 12 C. 302; F., 21 C. 519, 1 A. 235; D., 21 A. 29=A.W.N. 1898, 187; R., 17 M. 282.]

(18)—Benamee sale—Long possession—Burden of proof—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 259, 260.—Where the heir of an ostensible auction-purchaser seeks to oust defendant, who has been 12 years in possession, and who pleads that the sale was benamee, long possession proves defendant's allegation to be true, and plaintiff must show that his ancestor paid for the property. Ss. 259 and 260, Act VIII of 1859, do not apply to a sale made before that law came into operation. ZOOLFEKAR ALI v. MAHOMED TUKEE, 9 W.R. 438.

(19)—Purchase in execution sale—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 259, 260—Mortgage—Redemption.—Where the purchaser of immoveable property sold in execution of a decree of a Civil Court gets a certificate under s. 259, and sues for possession, defendant (who is in possession) is debarred by s. 260 from pleading that he himself is the real purchaser. The purchaser of an equity of redemption is entitled to redeem, and obtain possession of the land if the mortgage debt has been liquidated before the plaint is signed, or upon paying into Court, within one month, the balance remaining due. JOKHEE LALL v. MUSSAMUT HUNS KOOER, 10 W.R. 167.

(20)—Right of father to prevent property going into insolvent son's hands—Conveyance by him to female owners—Son's creditors, right of—Sale certificate containing mother's name as guardian—Effect.—A father may provide against property, over which he has complete control, going into the hands of an insolvent son; but a conveyance to female members, the father continuing absolute owner, and the son entering into possession on his death, cannot exclude the claim of the son's creditors. Where a purchaser is named in a sale certificate as mother and guardian of her infant son, the title to the property is vested in the minor absolutely. HEMANGINEE DOSSEE v. JOGENDRO NARAIN ROY, 12 W.R. 236.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(21)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260—Certified purchaser's name inserted by fraud.—Held that s. 260, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, did not apply where the name of the certified purchaser has been inserted by fraud. MUSSAMUT KOOSUMBA v. TUFUZZUL HOSSEIN, 13 W.R. 85.

(22)—Auction-purchaser suing for possession—Purchase by defendant fictitious—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260.—Where in a suit for possession by an auction-purchaser defendant's purchase is shown to have been a fictitious transaction, the case does not come under the purview of s. 260, Act VIII of 1859. TARA SOONDUREE DABEE v. OOJUL MONEE DOSSEE, 14 W.R. 111. [Appr., 12 C. 302; D., 21 A. 29=A.W.N. 1898, 187.]

(23)—Execution sale—Fraud—Right of suit—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260—Incumbrances.—Where a mokurrureedar of land sold to satisfy a debt sues to obtain possession, and the purchase is found to be not bona fide but for the party in actual possession, s. 260, Act VIII of 1859, is no bar to the suit, the ground of fraud alone giving plaintiff right to question the legality of the sale. A purchaser of property in the name of another simply pays the debt which as representative of the mortgagor, he is bound to pay, and he does not alter his position with regard to any incumbrance on the estate before his purchase. MUSSAMUT SHAMA KESHEE v. MUSSAMUT RAJ KISSUR, 14 W.R. 179.

(24)—S. 259, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Person entitled to sale certificate under—Certified purchaser.—A person entitled to sale certificate under s. 259, Act VIII of 1859, is entitled to be regarded as "certified purchaser" at any time after acceptance of his bid. BUNDA ALI KHAN v. MUSSAMUT BIBEE AMEERUN, 25 W.R. 493.

(25)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 259, 260—Benamee purchase—Ejectment.—Where a purchaser of immoveable property sold in execution of a decree obtained a certificate under s. 259, Act VIII of 1859, and then instituted a suit to recover possession of the property purchased by ejecting the person who was in possession, held (L.S. Jackson, J., dissenting) that, unless the latter, the defendant in the suit, was in possession under circumstance which amounted to a transfer to him of the title which the plaintiff derived from the purchase, he was debarred by the general provisions of Act VIII of 1859 from pleading that, although the plaintiff was the certified purchaser, he did not purchase on his own behalf, but merely on behalf of and benamee for the defendant, and, therefore, that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover possession. MUSSAMMUT BIHANS KUNWAR v. BIHARI LAL, 3 B.L.R. F.B. 15=11 W.R. F.B. 16. [Reversed, 10 B.L.R. 159, P.C.; Appr., 12 C. 302. 28 C. 370; Not Appl., 14 W.R. 372; Appl., 14 W.R. 10; R., 11 M. 234; D., 14 W.R. 111, 14 W.R. 179.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(26)—Person not actual purchaser at execution sale — Suit for possession as certified purchaser.—One who is not the actual purchaser at an execution sale cannot succeed in a suit to recover possession of the property sold, merely on the allegation of being the certified purchaser. MUTHOORA NATH DASS v. RAICKOMUL DOSSEE, 24 W.R. 278. [R., 1 A. 290.]

(27)—Person making purchase benami—Suit for declaration that he is the real owner—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code.—A person who purchases property in the name of another, in a Court auction and is in possession for more than 12 years, is entitled to maintain a suit for declaration that he is the real owner, against a person claiming under the certified purchaser. S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, is not applicable to such a suit, so as to bar it. KARAMUDDIN HUSAIN v. NIAMUT FATEMA, 19 C. 199. (14 M.I.A. 496, Rel. on.) [R., 22 B. 672.]

(28)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317, suit against representative of certified purchaser not precluded by.—The provisions of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, are provisions in restraint of an ordinary right of suit, and since they expressly forbid the maintenance of a suit only as against the certified purchaser, the Courts would not be justified in extending the scope of the section beyond what the language of the section warrants, so as to give it the effect of barring a suit even as against a person who has derived title through the certified purchaser. SIBTA KUNWAR v. BHAGOLI, 21 A. 196=A.W.N. 1899, 30. [Not F., 31 B. 61=8 Bom. L.R. 873; R., 28 P.L.R. 1904=4 P.R. 1904.]

(29)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 260—Declaratory suit—Certificate of sale—Fraud.—A suit for a declaration that the plaintiff is the real purchaser of the property in dispute and that the name of the certified purchaser was inserted in the certificate of sale by fraud on the part of the defendant, and contrary to the wishes of the purchaser, is maintainable and there is nothing in s. 260 of Act VIII of 1859 to prevent the suit from being entertained MUSSAMAT GOSMIAH v TAFFUZZUL HOSSEIN, 4 B.L.R. App. 32.

(30)—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, scop of.—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, is intended to discourage agreements for the purchase of property, at a Court-sale, in the name of another. It does not prohibit a suit by one, who was no party to the agreement, and whose object is, not to enforce the agreement, but to set it aside as an illegal transaction, made in fraud of his rights, as a member of the family to whom the purchase money belonged. NATESA v. VENKATARAMAYYAN, 6 M. 135. [F., 20 M. 349, 20 M. 362, 9 M.L.J. 298.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(31)—Benamee purchaser—Suit against certified purchaser—Grant of certificate after institution of suit—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317.—Suit against the purchaser of certain immoveable property, in execution of a decree, for a declaration that such purchase was on behalf of the plaintiff. The sale had taken place and the suit was instituted, before Act VIII of 1859 was repealed and Act X of 1877 came into force. The sale certificate was given to the defendant, after the suit was instituted under s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1877. Held, that the suit, when instituted, was maintainable as against defendant, who was not then a "certified" purchaser, under s. 260 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, the law then in force. When defendant duly obtained a certificate under s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, he became a certified purchaser, and the suit could only be maintainable, if the plaintiff could make out a case falling within the provisions of the last part of s. 317. ALDWELL v. ILAHI BAKHSH, 6 A. 478, F.B. =A.W.N. 1883, 125. [R., 17 M. 282, 23 A. 175=A.W.N. 1901, 44.]

(32)—Civ, Pro. Code, s. 317—Benami purchase—Whether third party can plead s. 317.—S. 317 does not render a benami purchase at a Court-sale void ab initio. Its effect must only be taken to be to enable certified purchasers and those claiming under them, to avoid any arrangement made with them in regard to the purchase in the nature of a trust. Therefore, in a suit by a person claiming to be the real owner, against the purchaser and a third party, for possession of property purchased at a Court-sale, the third party cannot plead the bar of s. 317, when the purchaser himself does not plead it. RAMAKRISHNAPPA v. ADINARAYANA, 8 M. 511. [F., 31 B. 61=8 Bom. L.R. 873; R., 17 M. 282, 20 M. 362.]

(33)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, s. 317—Execution sale—Purchase benami—Suit for possession by real purchaser—Maintainability.—The plaintiff, the real purchaser at an execution sale, brought a suit to obtain possession of the property purchased. He made also his benamidar, the certified purchaser, a pro forma defendant. The latter admitted the allegations of the plaintiff and disclaimed all right in the property. The other contesting defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, and added that he was the real purchaser. Held that the suit was not one interdicted by S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code. The matter in dispute was, whether plaintiff or the contesting defendant was the actual purchaser in the name of the pro forma defendant. Although the benamidar was made a defendant, he really occupied the position of plaintiff inasmuch as he supported the plaintiff. The case was within the rule laid down in the case in 14 M.I. A. 496=10 B.L.R. 159 and so not barred. HAZI ARJUN MULLICK v. SHEIKH FARUTULLA, 9 C.L.R. 293.

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(34)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 317, Scope.—S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is intended to prevent fraud and would not preclude a suit, by a creditor of the real owner of property, for a declaration that it belongs to his debtor and not to the certified benami purchaser. KANI ZAK SUKINA v. MONOHUR DAS, 12 C. 204. [F., 21 C. 519, Diss., 16 M. 290 ; R., 21 A. 29 =A.W.N. 1898, 187.]

(35)—Civ. Pro Code (XIV of 1882), s. 317—Purchase at a Court-sale benami for judgment debtors—Subsequent purchaser for value, rights of.—No suit can be maintained by a subsequent purchaser of land against a certified purchaser of the same at a previous Court-sale, on the ground of such purchase having been really made on behalf of some other person. It is not a sufficient reason for not carrying out the express terms of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and to do so would be to allow a fraud to be perpetrated. The object of the section is to put a stop to benami purchases at execution sales, and this object can only be carried out by enforcing it in all cases without regard to consequences RAMA KARUP v. SRIDEVI, 16 M. 290=2 M.L.J. 173. (12 C. 204, Diss.) [Diss., 21 C. 519 ; R., 17 M 282, 9 C.P.L.R. 55, 20 M. 349, 20 M. 362, 21 A. 238=A.W.N. 1899, 42, 9 M.L.J. 298, 8 O.C. 306]

(36)—S. 317. Civ. Pro Code, 1882—Suit by creditor for recovery of amount due on a bond from the assets of a deceased debtor—Execution of decree obtained by creditor—Attachment—Release on the claim of another person—Suit by execution creditor for declaration that the property belonged to his deceased debtor.—The plaintiff lent money to a certain person on a bond and, after the death of that person, sued his sister and heir, for recovery of the amount due on the bond, from his assets, and obtained a decree, in execution of which he attached the property in dispute as the property of his deceased debtor. Thereupon, a claim was preferred to the attached property by another person (the claimant) on the ground that she had purchased it at an auction-sale and obtained certificate for her purchase, and the property, consequently, was released from attachment. Then, the plaintiff sued the heir of the deceased and the certified purchaser (claimant) for a declaration that the property belonged to his deceased debtor and was liable to be sold in execution of the decree obtained by the plaintiff against the representative. Held, that the terms of s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, did not bar the subsequent suit. SUBHA BIBI v. HARA LAL DAS, 21 C. 519. (12 C. 204, 1 W.R. 329, 8 W.R. 130. 6 N.W.P. 265, 1 A. 235, F., 16 M. 290, Diss.) [Appr., 18 A. 461 ; R., 22 B. 271, 21 A. 29=A.W.N. 1898, 187, 5 C.W.N. 341, 26 A. 82, F.B.=A.W.N. 1903, 199.]

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(37)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss 244, 317—Purchase by benamidar with funds of joint Hindu family—Suit for partition of properties purchased.—S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code does not prevent a co-parcener from showing the real nature of a transaction by which other members of the joint family to which he belongs purchased properties in execution sale benami in the name of a third person. Nor does s. 244 prevent such a suit, or prohibit his showing that a transferee of a decree against the family was also a benamidar, though the plaintiff had been made a party in the execution proceedings, since he is not a party to the sham transaction by which such benami transfer was obtained. MINAKSHI AMMAL v KALIANARAMA RAYER, 20 M. 349 =7 M.L.J. 213. [F., 9 M L.J. 298 ; R., U.B. R. 1905, Civil Procedure. p. 56.]

(38)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 317—Right of third person not claiming through parties to prove purchase benami.—S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, does not prevent a mortgagee, suing on his mortgage without impleading purchaser of the hypotheca in an execution sale previous to suit, from showing that this sale was benami for the benefit of the mortgagor himself. Therefore, an assignee of the mortgagee can also show the benami character of such sale. KOLLANTAVIDA MANIKOTH ONAKKAN v. TIRUVALIL KALANDAN ALIYAMMA, 20 M. 362.

(39)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 317 (=s. 66, new Code), protection given to certified purchaser under, does not extend to his transferee.—S.317 of the Code of Civil Procedure debars a suit against a "certified purchaser" by a person claiming to be the real purchaser. A transferee from a certified purchaser, however, does not, by reason of the transfer, obtain his transferor's right, under the above section, to object to a suit being maintained on the ground of the purchase having been made benami. THEYYAVELAN v. KOCHAN, 21 M. 7 =7 M.L.J. 290. [F., 26 C. 950=3 C.W.N. 657, 5 C.W.N. 341, 4 P.R. 1904=28 P.L.R. 1904, 18 M.L.J. 305.]

(40)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317—Purchase in execution as judgment-debtor's agent.—When the purchaser at a Court-sale is the agent of the judgment-debtor, and buys the property as agent, though he advances the money on the understanding that he is to be re-paid, a suit for possession will lie against the certified purchaser notwithstanding s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code. SANKUNNI NAYAR v. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRI, 17 M. 282=4 M L J. 65. [F., 18 M. 436; R., 20 M. 349, 5 Bom. L.R. 329 ; D., 22 A. 434.]

(41)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act XIV of 1882, s. 317.—A obtained a decree on a hypothecation of lands subsequently usufructuarily mortgaged to B. In Court-auction, the equity of redemption was purchased by B's agent with B's money under an agreement to convey the property to B who continued in possession by his tenant. It was held that B could sue, when his tenant was ejected by the nominal purchaser, for execution of a conveyance and for possession, and that such a suit was not barred by s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code. KUMBALINGA PILLAI v. ARIAPUTRA PADIACHI, 18 M. 436 = 5 M.L.J. 200. [R., 20 M. 349, 6 C.W.N. 279 ; D., 22 A. 434 = A.W.N. 1900, 152.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(42)—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Person making purchase benami—Suit for declaration of his right.—A suit by a person, who purchases certain property, in the name of another, at an auction-sale and is in undisturbed possession of the lands for 8 years after the sale, for a declaration of his rights and for an injunction to restrain the other person in whose name he originally purchased from interfering with it, is maintainable. The suit does not come within the scope of s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code. SASTI CHURN NUNDI v. AUNOPURNA, 23 C. 699. (14 M.I.A. 496, R.) [D., 23 A. 175 = A.W.N. 1901, 44.]

(43)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317, scope of—Third party alleging certified purchaser not to be beneficial owner, not within the section.—S. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code contemplates only a suit between the certified purchaser and the person claiming to be the beneficial owner. It cannot therefore have the effect of barring a suit in which a third party asserts that the certified purchaser is not the beneficial owner. THE UNCOVENANTED SERVICE BANK, LTD. v. ABDUL BARI, 18 A. 461 = A.W.N. 1896. 181. (N.W.P. 1874, 265, 1 A. 235, 21 C. 519, R.) [Appr., 26 A. 82 = A.W.N. 1903, 199 ; R., 21 A. 29 = A.W.N. 1898, 187, 21 A. 238 = A.W.N. 1899, 42, 8 O.C. 306.]

(44)—Execution-sale — Declaration that a pleader purchased as trustee for plaintiff, suit for—S. 42, Specific Relief Act, 1877—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—A suit for a declaration that the pleader of the plaintiff purchased a certain property, at an execution-sale, for the benefit and as trustee of plaintiff, is maintainable notwithstanding s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code. The pleader will not be entitled to maintain the purchase as against this client. AGHORE NATH CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAM CHURN, 23 C. 805.

(45)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317—Benami purchase at execution sale—Suit by creditor alleging certified purchaser not real purchaser.—The provisions of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, should not be restricted or qualified beyond the effect of the words found in the section itself. This section does not designate any particular persons or class or persons as being the person or perons who shall not sue. It confines itself to indicating the person who shall not be impleaded as defendant in the suit mentioned therein. The creditor of a judgment-debtor is debarred by s. 317 from suing the certified purchaser on the ground that the latter has merely purchased the property benami for some other person. The object of the section, namely, the putting a stop to benami purchases at execution-sales, can only be carried out by enforcing it in all cases without regard to the question of who the plaintiff might be KISHEN LAL v. GARURUDDHWAJA PRASAD SINGH, 21 A. 238 = A.W.N. 1899, 42. (21 A. 29, Appr. ; 16 M. 290, F.; 18 A. 461, 14 M.I.A. 496. R.) [R., 26 A. 82 = A.W.N. 1903, 199, 8 O C. 306.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(46)—Civ. Pro. Code. s. 317—Benami purchase at Court-sale—Suit by real owner.—When, after obtaining the certificate of sale, the purchaser acknowledges that his purchase is benami and gives up possession, or does some act which unequivocally indicates an intention to waive his right, or to restore the property to the real owner, the fresh act might, by reason of the antecedent relation between the parties, operate as a valid transfer of property, the reason being that benami purchases are not made illegal, though the real purchaser is disabled from maintaining a suit against the certified purchaser at an auction-sale in execution of a decree, on the sole ground that he was only a benamidar. MONAPPA v. SURAPPA, 11 M. 234. [F., 18 M. 436 ; Appr., 13 M.L.J. 354; R., 23 A. 34 = A.W.N. 1900, 190, 4 P.R 1904 = 28 P.L.R. 1904 ; D., 22 A. 434, 23 A. 175 = A.W.N. 1901, 44.]

(47)—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code. 1882, scope of—Suit against person claiming through certified purchaser.—The statutory protection afforded by s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, to a certified purchaser, does not extend to a person claiming through or under him (e.g., heir or mortgagee). DUKHADA SUNDARI DASI v. SRIMONTO JARDAR, 26 C. 950 = 3 C.W.N. 657. (14 M. I. A. 496, 2 I.A. 124, R. ; 3 C.W.N 433, 21 M. 7, F.) [F., 5 C.W.N. 341; R., 8 C W.N. 476, F.B. Not F., 31 B. 61 = 8 Bom. L R. 873.]

(48)—Judgment debtor's property purchased benami by him—Second sale of such property—Formal possession by new purchaser—Suit by latter against judgment debtor—Right of suit.—Where a judgment-debtor bought his property benamee, and it was sold up a second time, and the new purchaser, instead of taking substantial possession, only took formal possession, and then brought a suit against the judgment-debtor on the ground that he was setting up the ryots against him, held that the suit would not lie, it being the duty of the Court to give the auction-purchaser substantial possession. KRISTO GOBIND KUR v. GANGA PERSHAD SURMA, 25 W.R. 372. [F., 10 C.L.R. 258; Expl., 12 C. 169 ; Cons., 10 M. 53 ; R., 10 C. 402, 11 C. 93.]

(49)—N.W.P. Land Revenue Act (XIX of 1873), s. 184, scope of—Benamee purchaser at revenue sales under Act—Suit by mortgage against mortgagors and certified purchasers alleged to be their benamidars, whether precluded by s. 184.—The words "any suit" in s. 184 of the N.W.P. Land Revenue Act XIX of 1873 are not to be limited or qualified by importation of extrinsic matter beyond the words found in the section itself, and with limit the suit to a suit (1) brought against a certified purchaser, and (2) based upon the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of a person other than the certified purchaser. The section cannot be regarded as limited to proceedings between the certified purchaser and the person claiming to be the real purchaser. It would apply so as to preclude a suit between the certified purchaser and a third person alleging that such purchaser had brought the property only benami for some other person, as for instance, a suit by a creditor of the real owner of such property for a declaration that it belongs to his debtor and not to the certified auction-purchaser. (Per Knox, J., (14 M.I.A. 496, N.W.P. 1874, 265, 12 C. 204, 12 C. 32, 19 W. R. 111, R.) S. 184 of the N W.P. Land Revenue Act contemplates a suit between the person claiming to be the real purchaser and the certified purchaser, and not a suit by a creditor of such person in which the creditor seeks to establish that the purchase was in reality made by his debtor, and that the certified purchaser is only the benamidar of the debtor. It does not, therefore, preclude a creditor of the beneficial owner from suing the certified purchaser on the allegation that his purchase was benami for the debtor, and that the latter is the real purchaser. THE DELHI AND LONDON BANK, LTD. v. CHAUDHRI PARTAB BHASKAR, 21 A. 29=A. W.N. 1898, 187. (14 M.I.A. 496, N.W.P. 1874, 265, 12 C. 204, 12 C. 302, 19 W.R. 356, 23 W.R. 358=2 I.A. 154, 18 A. 461, 1, A. 235, 21 C. 519, 2 W.R. 29 R.) [R., 21 A. 238=A.W.N. 1899, 42, 26 A. 82=A.W.N. 1903, 199, 28 M. 526=15 M.L.J. 419, 8 O C. 306.]

Benami Transaction —continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers —continued.

(50)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 317—Benami purchase—Suit against assignee from certified purchaser.—Held, that the protection given by s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code is limited to the case of the certified purchaser being sued on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of any other person and does not extend to certified the purchaser's assignee. MUHAMMAD FAROUGH v. ABDUL HAKIM, 28 P.L R 1904=4 P.R. 1904. (21 M. 7, 21 A. 196, 11 M. 234, 5 C.W.N. 341, 3 C.W. N. 657, 14 M.I.A. 496, R.)

(51)—Purchase benami—Revenue sale.—The law does not preclude a person from contending that the purchase was made for him benami by a purchaser of a revenue sale. VENKATACHALAM PILLAY v. PURSHOTAMA NAICKER, 4 M.L T. 316=19 M.L.J. 270=6 M.L.T. 168=3 Ind. Cas. 124. (29 M. 43, F; 25 M 655, R.)

(52)—S. 66, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908 (=s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882)—Certified purchaser—Interpretation.—The word "certified purchaser" in s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, include the person standing in the shoes of the Court purchaser. HARI v. RAMACHANDRA, 8 Bom.L.R. 873 =31 B. 61.

Benami Transaction —continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers —continued.

(53)—S. 66, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908 (=s. 317 Civ. Pro. Code, 1882)—Benamidar—Bar of suit.—The provisions of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code and s. 182 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code are to be construed strictly and they do not bar a suit where the plaintiff, although originally a benamidar, came honestly into possession. RAGHO v. VISHNU, 5 Bom. L.R. 329.

(54)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 317—Suit by real pruchaser against certified purchaser and persons claiming under independent title—No contest between plaintiff and certified purchaser—No bar of suit.—No suit can be maintained under s. 317 of the Code against the certified purchaser at an auction-sale in execution of a decree on the sole ground that the certified purchaser is only a benamidar. So, where there is no contest between the plaintiff (the real purchaser) and the certified purchaser, and the defendants who contest the suit set up an independent title, there is no bar under s, 317 to the maintainability of the suit, even though the certified purchaser happens to be a defendant therein. RAMALINGA CHETTY v. PACHAIPPA MUDALY, 13 M.L.J. 354.

(55)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act XIV of 1882, s. 317—Mortgagee claiming that mortgagor is real purchaser at Court-sale—Applicability of section.—Where a mortgagee in his suit for sale, claimed that a part of the hypotheca, though it did not belong to his mortgagor at the time of the mortgage, was subsequently purchased by him at Court-sale benamee in the name of his wife, held that the mortgagee, as deriving title through the alleged beneficial owner, was debarred by s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, from setting up this claim against the certified purchaser. RAM NARAIN v. MOHANIAN, 26 A. 82, F.B.=A.W.N. 1903, 198. (18 A. 461, 21 A. 29, 21 A. 238, R.) [R., 8 O.C. 306.]

(56)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317—Suit for declaration against certified purchaser by beneficial purchaser in possession, within prohibition of section.—The basis of this suit was that the auction-purchase in question was made by the certified purchasers on behalf of the plaintiff. The relief claimed was in express terms a declaration that the plaintiff was the real purchaser, and that the certified purchasers were not the real owners; and the suit was held to come within the mischief against which s. 317 of the Code was directed and not to be one exempt from its prohibition. The only ground of the suit which the section prohibits is that the purchase was made on behalf of any other person or on behalf of some one through whom such other person claims, and the section would not apply where the suit was based, not on the ground that the purchase was benami, but upon some other independent ground; but it cannot be held that the section would cover only cases where the plaintiff, being out of possession, seeks to recover possession from a certified purchaser, and that the prohibition therein could not extend to a suit by a plaintiff in possession for a declaration that the certified purchaser out of possession was not the real purchaser. The first paragraph of the section is not to be taken as confined to a suit for recovery of possession. There is nothing in the section which makes it inapplicable to a suit for a declaration of right on the ground that the auction-purchaser purchased the property on behalf of the plaintiff or his predecessor-in-title. BESHAN DIAL v. GHAZIUDDIN, 23 A. 175=A. W.N. 1901, 44. (23 C. 699, 11 M. 234, 5 A. 478, 14 M.I.A. 496, 2 I.A. 154, R.,) [R., 27 A. 443 =A.W.N, 1905, 39=2 A.L.J. 111.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(57)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 317—Suit to recover part of property from certified purchaser, whether maintainable.—In this suit the plaintiffs alleged that the purchase of the property in question was made by the defendant on behalf of himself and on behalf of the mother of the plaintiffs. The defendant pleaded that, with reference to the provisions of s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the suit was not maintainable and it was held that the suit was barred by that section. The fact that the claim in this case was not for the whole of the property of which the defendant was the certified purchaser did not make any difference. It was sufficient that the suit was against the defendant as the certified purchaser of the property claimed, and that on the allegation that the purchase was made on behalf of some other person. The provisions of s. 82 of the Trusts Act (II of 1882) might have helped the plaintiffs had it not been for the provision to that section which declares that nothing therein shall be deemed to affect s. 317 of the Civ. Pro. Code. DURGA v. BHAGWAN DAS, 23 A. 34=A.W.N. 1900, 190.

(58)—Certified purchaser found to be benami —His right of appeal against order setting aside sale.—Though the certified purchaser has been found to be a benami purchaser by the lower Courts, he has yet the right of appealing against an order setting aside the sale. ISWARA PATTER v. KARUPPAN, 2 M.L.J. 258.

(59)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 317—Benami purchaser—Co-parcener of real purchaser, suit by.—S. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, does not debar a co-patcener of the real purchaser from proving that the purchase made in the name of the certified purchaser was really made for the joint family of which he is a member, and from maintaining a suit to recover what belongs to him. Benami purchases at execution sales cannot be taken to affect the rights of members of a joint Hindu family who, by operation of law, and not by virtue of and private agreement or understanding, are entitled to treat as part of their common property an acquisition however made by a member of the family if made by the use of the family funds. KRISHNA AIYAN v. RAGHAVAIYAN, 9 M.L.J. 298, (19 W.R. 356, P.C., 6 M. 135, 20 M. 249, F.

Benami Transaction—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—continued.

(60)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 317 (=s. 66, present Code)—Suit for establishment of title against attaching decree-holder to property purchased benami in name of judgment-debtor—Scope of section—Penal sections, construction of—Bengal Act, VIII of 1885—Sale, void or voidable.—In execution of a decree for arrears of rent, plaintiff purchased property benami in the name of his son R. This property was attached in execution of a decree by the first defendant against R, and the plaintiff preferred a claim which was rejected ; plaintiff brought the present suit to have his title established; R having died his son was made a party. Held, that s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, is no bar to the suit. The protection afforded by s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, only extends to the certified purchaser and not to one who derives title from him. (3 C. W. N. 657=26 C. 950, 21 M. 7, 2 C.W N. 433, R.) [R., 28 P.L.R. 1904=4 P.R. 1904.] Penal sections like s. 317, Civ. Pro. Code, must be construed strictly, and their operation should not be extended beyond what is actually covered by the sections themselves. (2 C.W.N. 343, R.) Where the judgment-debtor purchases the property benami in the name of his son, the sale even if it be held under the Bengal Tenancy Act, is not void but voidable, and could be set aside only by the Court which held the sale. MOKORI DHUR v. SARUP CHUNDER DEY, 5 C W.N. 341. (21 C. 519, F.)

(61)—Bona fide holder of property—Pledge—Debtor, benami owner—Rights of creditor.—Where a creditor innocently holds property in pledge for the payment of his debt, without being aware of his debtor being a benamee owner for others, he has a right to maintain his lien on all the property in satisfaction of the debt. BAMA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. RASHMONEE DEBIA, 4 W.R. 36.

(62)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 260—Sale of property in satisfaction of decree—Offer by purchaser to re-convey in case of money being paid—Contract.—Where the property of a judgment-debtor is sold under a decree to a bona fide purchaser, who undertakes to re-convey the property to the judgment-debtor on being re paid the purchase-money, held that if A accept the proposal, s. 260 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, did not preclude a contract from arising. MOR JOSHI v. MUHAMMAD, 10 B H.C. 344. [R., 22 B. 672.]

(63)—Execution-sale—Auction—purchaser—Ejectment of person in possession, suit for—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 259, 260—Plea.—A purchaser of immoveable property sold in execution of a decree obtained a certificate under s. 259, Act VIII of 1859, and then sued to recover possession of the property purchased by ejecting the person in possession : Held (L.S. Jackson, J., dissenting) that, unless the latter, the defendant in the suit, was in possession under circumstances which amounted to a transfer to him of the title which the plaintiff derived from the purchase, he was debarred by the general provisions of Act VIII of 1859, from pleading that, although the plaintiff is the certified purchaser, he did not purchase on his own behalf, but merely on behalf of, and benamee for the defendant, and therefore that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover possession. MUSSAMAT BAHUNS KOWAR v. BUHOORY LALL, 11 W.R. F.B. 16.

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——2.—Certified Purchasers—concluded.

(64)—Rent-suit— Recognised purchaser — Benami.—Plaintiff, who derived title from A, who was the ostensible purchaser of certain immoveable property at an auction-sale in execution of a decree against B, brought a suit to recover the rent of such property from the talukdars. The appellant was allowed to intervene, alleging that A was the benamidar of a third person from whom he himself had purchased the property. The lower Court however refused to try the question of benami as not being admissible in a rent suit. On appeal, it was held that the question of benami was properly raised in the suit, and ought to have been tried. TARINI KANT LAHIRI v. KRISHNA MONI CHOWDHRANI, 5 C.L.R. 179. (24 W.R. 349. D.)

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 90, 29 C. 682=6 C.W.N. 706

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 94, ss. 65, 66, A.W.N. 1887, 220.

Pre-emption — Suit against ostensible purchaser — Real purchaser not made party — Suit not maintainable—See PRE-EMPTION—MISCELLANEOUS, 8 Ind. Cas. 527.

Release — Document by benami purchaser at Court-sale renouncing his claims in favour of true purchaser—Stamp—See STAMP ACT, 1899, sch. I, art. 55. 24 A. 372, F.B.=A.W.N. 1902, 71.

——3.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Purchase at Court sale—Purchaser at Revenue sale—Benamee, plea of, procedure.—X, a purchaser of the rights of a judgment-debtor in certain lands at a sale in execution of a decree of a Civil Court found Z in possession, the latter having purchased the same at a sale in the Collector's Court and having been put in possession by that Court and alleged that the possession of Z was merely benamee for the judgment-debtor and prayed that he may be put in possession. Held that the question cannot be decided summarily but must be decided in a regular suit brought for the purpose. OMESH CHUNDER ROY v. BIBEE ASHRUFOONISSA, 6 W. R. Mis. 122.

(2)—Step mother purchasing property in name of third party—Intention to benefit—Life interest reserved—Pleadings—Benami purchase—Onus.—Plaintiff brought a suit for the recovery of certain property on the ground that he was the heir of his step-mother, to whom he had made some very liberal allowances for her support and that the property in question had been purchased by her with money belonging to her, but benami in the name of her nephew A, with an intention that the property should go after her death to A and not to her heirs. The defendant set up a case which was not maintained by the evidence at all, that the property had not been purchased with the step-mother's money but had been purchased with the proper money of the person in whose name the purchase was made. Held that the defendant's answer was substantially an argumentative traverse of the truth of the plaintiff's story and that the material issue in the case being whether the plaintiff's story was true, the burden of proving that the purchase was made benami for her was still upon the plaintiff. Held also that though the property was purchased with the money of the step-mother, yet, if she purchased it with the express intention at the time that, after her death, it should go to her nephew A in whose name she purchased it, that would not be a purchase benami within the meaning of the real issue in the case, that would not be a purchase on the terms that the property was to be absolutely heirs, but would be a purchase with the intention of benefiting the person in whose name the purchase was made, and it would make no difference in law whether she did or did not reserve a life-interest and control over the disposition of the proceeds of the property during her life. RAJA CHANDRANATH ROY v. RAMJAI MAZUMDAR, 6 B.L.R. 308, P.C.=15 W.R P.C. 7=2 Sar. 613. [R., 1 M. 166.]

Benami Transaction*—continued.

——3.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(3)—Title—Benamee mortgagee—Pleadings.—Where a plaintiff sued, alleging that a certain deed of mortgage was executed by MB benamee for the benefit of HB, through whom the plaintiff claimed, and also alleging that HB had advanced the money for the marriage out of her own moneys, it was held that, if it was to be shown that the money advanced was the money of MB who executed the mortgage, it was immaterial to consider who was the nominal mortgagee, as the plaintiff could not set up in appeal a title inconsistent with the title set up in the Lower Courts. In the absence of proof sufficient to establish the title of HB, and to show that the money was advanced by HB, the plaintiff's suit was dismissed. BHOWUN DOSS v. SHEIKH MAHOMED HOSSEIN, 13 W.R. P.C. 38=13 M.I.A. 346=2 Sar. 560.

(4)—Benami transactions—Succession.—The law as to benami conveyances taken by a father in the name of a son, whether in Hindu or Mahomedan families, should be considered in all Courts in India as conclusively settled by the decision of the Privy Council in 6 M.I.A. 53. That case however was not applied to the present case in which it was found that a Mahomedan father, who had purchased property with his own funds, had the conveyance drawn up in his son's name with a view to affect the interests of his daughters, and to vary the rule of succession between sons and daughters in his family. RUKNADAWA NOWAB AHMED ALI KHAN v. HURDWARI MULL. 5 B.L R. 578, P C.=14 W.R. P C. 14 =13 M.I A. 395=2 Suther. 343=2 Sar. 571. [R., 6 B. 717, 7 B. 538, 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J. 22.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—3.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(5)—Execution-sale—Plea of benami purchase—Burden of proof—Evidence.—A purchased a talook at a sale, in execuiton of a decree obtained by a judgment-creditor. The assignee of another judgment-creditor, who had obtained a decree in a separate suit against the purchaser sued to set aside the sale, on the ground that the purchase was not bona fide, being made in collusion with the judgment-debtors. Held, on the review of the evidence, that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the decree of the High Court at Calcutta that it was a benamee transaction, or that the purchaser was acting as an agent for the judgment-debtors; and the decree of the Court below reversed. Held, further, that the onus probandi was on the plaintiff to establish the affirmative issue that the money for the purchase of the Talook was supplied by the judgment-debtors, or a third party for them, and not by the purchaser. Evidence, showing circumstance which may create suspicion, is not enough to justify the Court's resting its decree on suspicion only. SREEMANCHUNDER DEY v GOPAULCHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, 7 W.R. 10, P C.=11 M.I.A. 28=2 Sar. 215=1 Suther. 651.

(6)—Benami transaction—Onus of proof—Evidence of ownership—In cases of alleged benami sales effect should be given to the evidence of possession and enjoyment since the purchase, as showing who is the substantial owner. The burden of proof lies on the person who maintains that the apparent state of things is not the real state of things, and the apparent purchaser must be regarded as the real purchaser until the contrary be proved. DEO NATH v. PEER KHAN, 3 Agra 16.

(7)—Purchase of property in the name of son in a joint family—Presumption that it is father's property.—Where a purchaser of a real estate is made by a Hindoo in the name of one of his sons, the presumption of the Hindoo Law is in favour of its being a benamee purchase, and the burthen of proof lies on the party in whose name it was purchased, to prove that he was solely entitled to the legal and beneficial interest in such purchased estate. Purchase of a Talook in Bengal by a Hindoo in his eldest son's name; the conveyance, though in the English form of lease and release, held to be a benamee purchase, and the son in whose name it was purchased declared to be a trustee for the father, and the Talook part of the father's estate. GOPEEKRIST GOSAIN v. GUNGAPERSAUD GOSAIN, 6 M.I.A. 53=4 W.R. 46, P.C.=2 Suther. 13=Sar. 493.

(8)—Benami purchase in name of son—Presumption.—In benami transaction in India, the criterion for finding who the real owner is, is the course from which the purchase-money has come. The principle which respect to benami purchase between Hindus, laid down in 6 M.I.A. 53, is equally applicable to similar transactions between Mahomedans. Lands purchased in the name of a son, whether a Mahomedan or a Hindu, held on the evidence, furze or benami, in trust for his father, who paid the consideration-money for the purchase and was in possession. Semble.—There is no presumption of an advancement, by the name of the son being used as purchaser, other than in the case of a stranger being used. MOULVI SYAD AZHAR ALI v. MUSSAMMAT BIBI, ALTAF FATIMA. 4 B.L.R. P C. 1=13 W.R. P.C. 1=13 M I.A. 232. [R., 10 B.H.C. 344, 5 B. 238, 29 B. 306=6 Bom. L.R. 975.]

Benami Transaction—continued.

—3.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(9)—Transfer benami, fraudulent—Intended fraud, wholly or partially carried into effect—Practice of Courts—Real purchaser in possession for 12 years—Suit against certified purchaser for declaration of right and for confirmation of possession maintainable.—The Courts will assist no man to obtain an advantage from his own fraud. If a colourable conveyance is executed for the purpose of enabling the transferor to defraud his creditors, and if the intended fraud has been wholly or partially carried into effect, the Court will not lend its aid to assist such a transferor, who has defrauded his creditor thus, to get his property back from the transferee, on the ground that the conveyance was colourable. (23 C. 962, note, 27 C. 231. R.) [R., 33 C. 967=10 C.W.N. 650=4 C.L.J, 22.] Where the real purchaser has been in possession for more than 12 years, he can maintain a suit against the certified purchaser for a declaration of his right and for confirmation of possession. GOVINDA KUAR v. LALA KISHUN PROSAD. 28 C. 370. (3 B.L.R. F.B. 15, 14 M.I.A. 496 Appr.)

(10)—Government servant—Acquisition of property in contravention of rules of department—Right to maintain suit against benamidar in respect of said property—Plaintiff, while engaged in Government service, remitted from time to time his savings to the defendant, a relative of his. The latter purchased the plaint-property in his own name with the moneys so received for the former's benefit. Plaintiff, who was in possession, sued for a declaration of his title to the property. Held, that, though the plaintiff in concealing the acquisition of the property from the authorities acted dishonestly and in contravention of the rules of his department, he had not acted illegally so as to bring the case within the principle that a man is precluded from obtaining relief in respect of transaction, the purpose of which was illegal and has been accomplished. As plaintiff was in possession of the property, he was entitled to obtain a declaratory decree. MANUEL S. LOBO v. NICHOLOS BRITTO, 7 M.L J. 268.

(11)—Maintainability of suit by real purchaser against benamidar—No evidence of fraud.—In execution of a decree against plaintiff's

Benami Transaction—continued.

——3.—Miscellaneous—continued.

grandfather, certain property was sold and purchased by defendant's vendor. Plaintiff sued to have it declared that defendant's vendor's purchase was benamee for plaintiff's father. There was no evidence of any fraud about the sale. Held, that, in the absence of fraud about the sale, it is open to a plaintiff to come into Court for relief against a benamee purchaser on the ground that plaintiff was the real purchaser. MUHAMMAD FAROUGH v. GOKAL CHAND. 3 P.R. 1906=109 P.L.R. 1906. (23 C. 962, 20 W.R. 112, 11 B. 708, Cited & F.; 20 M. 323, 20 M, 333, 23 B. 406, 18 B. 372, R. & D.)

(12)—Execution of decree—Benamee sale—Setting aside of such sale—Resale of the property.—A benamee sale of his property made by a judgment-debtor to defraud his creditor is liable to be set aside, and the property is liable to be re-sold in execution of the decree. THE NAWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL v. MUZHUR ALI alias SACTOWREE MEAN, 3 W.R. Mis. 4.

(13)—Nominal sale by benamidars but really by owner—Debts due to vendee—Consideration—Validity of sale.—Where property is sold nominally by benamidars, but in reality by the real owner, and the consideration is the debts due from him to the vendee, held that the sale is perfectly legal as against the real owner, and therefore as against creditors seeking to execute their decree against him after such sale. MONOHUR DOSS v. BHIKHAREE BHAGUT, 24 W.R. 253.

(14)—Mahomedan women—Dower—Exclusive ownership — Burden of proof.— Two Mahomedan women claiming certain properties on the plea that these had been bought with their dower-money, were held to have lost their suit on failing to prove that the money had belonged exclusively to them. ROOP CHAND AOWAL v. MUSSAMUT KARFOOL, 25 W.R. 54.

(15)—Bona fide purchaser for value, who is a.—One who has not obtained either title or possession is not a bona fide purchaser for value. BAHADOOR ALLI KHAN v. MEER NASSER ALLE. 1 W.R. 115.

(16)—Benamee sale after decree — Onus of proof.—In a case of purchase immediately after a decree, where the vendor is only a benamidar, the onus is on the vendee to prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he is a bona fide purchaser for value exercising due care and diligence. MAN TURUNGINEE DABEE v. BOISTUB CHURN BHUDDER, 1 W.R. 110.

(17)—Sale in execution—Benami purchase for judgment-debtor — Re-sale to defendants — Suit by plaintiff for declaration that property was purchased for him.—Onus probandi.—Where a property sold in execution of a decree is believed to have been purchased by the plaintiff benamee for judgment-debtor, and is consequently re-sold to the defendants, and plaintiff sues for a declaration that it was bought with his own money on his own account, the plaintiff is bound to prove his allegations. MUDDUN MOHUN SHAHA v. BHARUT CHUNDER ROY, 11 W.R. 249.

Benami Transaction—concluded.

——3.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(18)—Intervenor—Sale—Benamee — Burden of proof.—The decision of the Privy Council in the case of Sreeman Chunder Dey v. Gopal Chander Chuckerbutty (7 Weekly Reporter, p. 10, P.C.), considered. KADERNATH DUTT v. OKHOY KOOMAR BHUTTACHARJEE, 9 W.R. 202.

(19)—Ism furzi transaction—Onus of proof.—The burden of proof in an ism furzi transaction, is in the first place upon the person who claims against the tenor of the deed. Held, on the admitted fact that the narrative of the deed is not in accordance with the facts, and on other evidence of the appellant, that the burden of proof was shifted on the respondent. SULEIMAN KADR BAHADUR v. MEHNDI BEGUM, 25 C. 473 P.C.=25 I.A. 15=2 C. W.N. 186=7 Sar. 254.

(20)—Purchase from benamidar—Good faith—Burden of proof.—In a suit for recovery of possession of land on the ground of purchase, when it has been shown that the alleged vendor is not the true owner, the plaintiff can only rely on his claim as purchaser in good faith for value from a person who, by the act of the true owners, had become the apparent owner, and in such cases the burden lies upon the plaintiff. RUTTO SINGH v. BAJRANG SINGH, 13 C. L. R. 280, P.C.

(21)—Burden of proof—Benami transaction—Certified purchaser.—He who alleges that a certified purchaser and registered owner is a benamidar must give substantial proof of that allegation. BAIJNATH SAHAY v. RUGHONATH PERSHAD SINGH, 12 C.L.R. 186 P.C.

(22)—Benami sale—Creditors of benamidar, right of—Credit given to benamidar.—A conveyed his property to his son B: the sale was a benami transaction and the property was merely placed in the hands of the son for the benefit of his father. C who held a decree against B having attached the said property as if it belonged to the son, the father filed a suit to have it declared that the property was his. C contended that as the benami transaction was calculated to deceive the public and had deceived him and other creditors, plaintiff ought not, in point of law, to be allowed as against creditors to say that the property belonged to himself. Held that the creditor was bound to prove that he gave credit to B upon the faith that the property did really belong to the latter; in other words, that the acts that had been done benami by the plaintiff and his son were calculated to deceive and had, in fact, deceived him in giving credit to the son. GOLUK CHUNDRA DASS v. BHAGMUT DASS, 11 C. L. R. 106.

(23)—Benami purchases—Suit and applications.—In cases of benami purchases, s.244, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 will not bar a separate suit on the ground of fraud. A separate suit will lie to set aside the sale. MOHENDRO NARAIN CHATURAJ v. GOPAL MONDUL, 17 C. 769.

Benami Transaction—continued.

—3.—Miscellaneous—concluded.

Benami purchase—Fraudulent purchase—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 16.

Presumption in favour of—See GOSSAINS, 2 Ind. Cas. 385=14 C.W.N. 191.

When a mortgage does not amount to—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 85, 128 P.L.R. 1909=115 P.W.R. 1909=4 Ind. Cas. 960.

Bench.

(1)—Trial of reserved cases—District and Cantonment Judges of Small Causes Court not authorised to sit together.—The District and Cantonment Judges of Small Cause Courts cannot sit together for the trial of reserved cases. DOOLO RAE v. FUIKEERA, 24 P. R. 1868.

Beneficiaries.

When to be joined as parties—See HINDU TEMPLE, 12 C.W.N. 946, P.C.=4 M.L.T. 101 =8 C.L.J. 230=31 M. 236=10 Bom. L.R.781.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 37, 45, 12 C. 375.

Benefit of doubt.

To be given to defendant—See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 8 P.W.R. 1910=5 Ind, Cas. 592.

Benefit Society.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, s. 103, sch. A, class (A) (B), 11 M. 253.

Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act.

See ACT XII OF 1887.

Bengal Alluvial Land Settlement Act.

See BEN. ACT XXXI OF 1858.

Bengal Alluvion and Diluvion Act.

See BEN. ACT IX OF 1847.

Bengal and Assam Laws.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1905,

Bengal, Bank of, Act.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1862.

Bengal Calendar.

Suit in time according to—and out of time according to English calendar—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 25, 13 C.L.R. 153.

Bengal Civil Courts Act.

See BEN. ACT VI OF 1871.

Bengal Drainage Act.

See BEN. ACT VI OF 1880.

Bengal Embankments Act.

See BEN. Act VI OF 1873.

See BEN. ACT II OF 1882.

Bengal Excise and Licensing Act.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1878.

Bengal Excise and Licensing Act (Amendment).

See Ben. ACT II OF 1903.

Bengal General Clauses Act

See BEN. ACT I OF 1899.

Bengal Indigo Contracts Act.

See BEN. ACT X OF 1836.

Bengal Irrigation Act.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1876.

Bengal Will.

Construction of practice — See WILL — CONSTRUCTION, 28 C. 621, P.C.=28 I.A. 159=5 C.W.N. 729.

Bengali Year.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 184, art. 2 (b), sch. III, 23 C. 191.

Bengal Land Revenue Resumption Act.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1862.

Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act.

See BEN. ACT XII OF 1841.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1868.

Bengal Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces Registration Act.

See BEN. ACT I OF 1876.

Bengal Mofussil Law List.

This circular transmits Bengal Mofussil Law List and explains the object of so doing. Civ. Cir. Letter No. 1863 B. 24 W.R. Rules and Ors. of the H.C , p. 9.

Bengal Municipal Act.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1884.

Bengal Municipal Amendment Act.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1894.

Bengal Rent Act.

See BEN. ACT X OF 1859.

See BEN. ACT VI OF 1862.

Bengal Rent Recovery, Under-tenures Act.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1865.

Bengal Rent Settlement Act.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1879.

Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1895.

Bengal Steam-boilers and Primemovers Act.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1879.

Bengal Survey Act.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875.

Bengal Tenancy Act.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885.

Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1898.

See BEN. ACT I OF 1907.

Bengal Tenancy (Validation and Amendment Act).

See BEN. ACT I OF 1903.

Bengal Zamindari Dak Act.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1862.

Bequest.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881.

See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865.

See WILL.

(1)—Succession Act, 1865—Contingent, or executory bequests.—In regard to contigent or executory bequest, the Succession Act, 1865, has laid down a hard-and-fast rule, which must be applied, whenever it is applicable, without speculating on the intention of the testator. NARENDRA NATH SIRCAR v. KAMALA BASINE DASI, 6 M.L.J 71, P.C. = 23 C. 563 = 23 I. A. 18 = 6 Sar. 667. [F., 3 C.W.N. 478, 33 C. 947 = 10 C.W.N. 695 = 3 C.L.J. 502.]

(2) — Charitable, void for uncertainty —A bequest for "some one or more charitable, educational or other philanthropic institution or institutions" is void for uncertainty. CHADUNBAI v. DADY, 3 Bom L.R. 902 = 26 B. 632.

Government-securities — Interest accruing before testator's death—See GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, 14 C. 222.

To a class—Construction of a clause in a will giving—See HINDU LAW—GIFT, 3 Bom. L.R. 785.

See HINDU LAW — PRESUMPTION OF DEATH, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 137, Note.

To eldest son to be born—See HINDU LAW —WILL, 3 Bom. L.R. 908.

Direction in will for feeding and paying Brahmins, whether valid—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 12 C.W.N. 1083.

Of ancestral property by undivided father, not binding on son—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 16 M. 353 = 3 M.L J. 139.

To Dharmada—Validity—See HINDU LAW —WILL, 18 B. 136.

Will—to dharam void as indefinite—Claim by reversioner to undisposed of property—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 141, 21 B. 646.

Abatement of legacies—Specific bequest—General bequest—See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, ss. 287, 288, 290, 291, 13 Bom.L.R. 319.

Bequest—concluded.

Masses for the deceased in Calcutta, valid —See WILL—CONSTRUCTION, 2 B.L.R. O.C. 148.

See WILL—CONSTRUCTION, 4 C. 443 = 1 C.L.R. 566, 15 M. 424.

Berar.

Hindu Law of Mitakshara as interpreted in Bombay, lex loci of—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 N.L.R. 31.

Berar Inam Rules.

Rule V (2)—Inam to the lineal descendants of grantee for personal maintenance — Nature of interest conferred upon the claimant—Power of alienation.—An Inam granted under Rule V (2) of the Berar Inam Rules, to a grantee and this direct lineal heirs and undivided brothers, confers upon each holder, in turn, an estate for life only, which is absolutely inalienable, by any process which might take the estate out of the family for whose perpetual maintenance it was made, or as to defeat, delay or incumber the enjoyment thereof by any successor after the alienor. KRISTNAJI v. MANWAR ALI, 6 N.L.R. 72 = 6 Ind. Cas. 821. (2 B. 529, 3 B. 186, R.)

Berar Land Revenue Code.

(1)—Pre-emption in Berar is a right created by statute—Co-occupant in survey number, whose interest is sold by auction for satisfying mortgage-decree, not entitled to sue for pre-emption regarding shares so sold—See PRE-EMPTION—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 N.L.R. 138.

(2)—Ss. 4 and 205—Pre-emption—Sale of separate divided share in a survey number.—The right of pre-emption, under the Berar Land Revenue Code, is not to be limited to cases, where the pre-emptor and vendor are tenants-in-common owning undivided shares of a survey number. It extends also to cases, where the pre-emptor and vendor are owners of separate divided shares in the survey number, if they have their rights derived from a single original title. BAPU v. MARUTI, 3 N.L.R. 135.

(3)—Ss. 6, 127 and 7 (f)—Sale of holding for arrears of land revenue under s. 56—Want of preliminary order of forfeiture under s. 121—Validity of the sale—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts, exclusion of, under s. 171 (f).—Under s. 56, it is the existence of arrears that works a forfeiture and renders the property liable to sale at the Deputy Commissioner's discretion, where a Berar holding was sold for arrears of revenue under s. 56. Held, that the fact, that the order of sale did not contain an express declaration of or feiture, as required by s. 127, did not vitiate the sale, since the liability to forfeiture and sale had already attached by the mere existence of arrears under s. 56, and the validity of the sale cannot be questioned in a Civil Court. RAMALAL v. NAGO, 5 N.L.R. 35 = 2 Ind. Cas. 26. (27 C. 698, 23 C. 775, 20 C. 826, D.)

(4)—S. 7 (f)—See No. 3, supra.

Berar Land Revenue Code—continued.

(5)—S. 56—Ijara leasehold—Non-payment of arrears of revenue—Forfeiture — Subsequent grant by Collector of occupancy right under s. 56 —Mortgage of ijara standing by and taking no steps to prevent forfeiture—Mortgage not enforceable against occupancy right—Scope of s. 56—Rules under s. 216 (1) (d) not affecting equities —Difference between forfeiture and surrender—Land revenue systems, different in Berar and Central Provinces.—One B was the recorded ijaradar of a village. He was living jointly with his undivided brother D and his wife M. B mortgaged his ijara village, by way of conditional sale to A. B failed to pay up arrears of revenue and his ijara was forfeited and the village became khalsa or unalienated land. The Collector, acting under the powers now repealed in rules under s. 216 (1) (d) and (e), granted a right of occupancy to D and M. All the while, A stood by and took no steps to prevent the forfeiture of lands by paying up or assisting in paying or by entering into possession himself and paying up arrears of revenue. A instituted a suit on his mortgage against B, D and M had sought to enforce his mortgage on the occupancy rights of D and M. It was found that the mortgage debt was contracted by B for family purposes and was binding on the family. Held, that A could not enforce his mortgage rights as against the occupancy rights, unless A could prove that D and M, by availing themselves of their position as khatedars gained an advantage in derogation of A's rights, or otherwise by their conduct created an equity in A's favour, and that A was not guilty of contributory negligence leading to the destruction of his security. S. 56 of the Berar Code affords absolute protection against inoumbrances created by the ex-occupant of a forfeited holding, to a purchaser thereof in pursuance of a sale made under the section; but where no such sale is made, the effects of the forfeiture and subsequent acquisition of the forfeited property are to be determined with reference to the ordinary law, and are therefore subject to the control of equities arising out of the conduct of the parties. (30 B. 465, R.) No rule under s. 216 (1) (d) of the Berar Land Revenue Code can be made in abrogation of such ordinary law. The systems of land-revenue are so widely different in the Central Provinces and Berar, that no safe analogy can be drawn from the case-law of the former for the decision of cases in the latter. (17 C.P.L.R. 33, 2 N.L.R. 170, 4 N.L.R. 57, R.) Forfeiture implies the loss of a legal right by reason of some breach of obligation. The conduct of a party who wilfully surrenders is usually different from that of a person who forfeits the estate which he has mortgaged, regarded as a basis for the building up of equities for the mortgagee against the mortgagor. DEORAO v. MT. BANAI, 7 N.L.R. 2.

(6)—S. 56—See CO-SHARERS—GENERAL, 7 N.L.R. 11.

(7)—Ss. 69 and 205—Exchange—"Relinquishment for valuable consideration"—Right of pre-emption.—Where a co-occupant transfers his share, partly in exchange for another field and partly for cash, the transaction, both according to Hindu Law and the Transfer of Property Act, is an exchange. "A relinquishment in favour of a specified person for valuable consideration," in s. 205 of the Berar Land Revenue Code, means a transfer for valuable consideration of the kind described in s. 69. Such a transfer is usually described as a transfer by Razinamah and Kabuliat. A suit for pre-emption on a transfer by way of exchange of a divided share in a survey number does not lie. BABU v. MARUTI, 3 N.L.R. 138.

(8)—S. 78, landlord's duty to give notice under, before enhancing rent—See RENT, 2 N.L.R. 145.

(9)—S. 78, cl. (2)—Berar Jagir estate tenants in—Annual tenant paying rent at a fixed rate for three years after notice to pay enhanced rent.—Where the defendants, annual tenants, paid at the previous rate for two years even after notice to pay enhanced rent was given by the Jaghirdar. Held, that the tenants can either be ejected under s. 78 (2) or their rent could be enhanced by proceeding under s. 78, cl. (4) of the Berar Code. MARUTI v. JAGANNATH, 5 N.L.R. 100=2 Ind. Cas. 996. (5 Berar L.J. 10, R.)

(10)—Ss. 78 (2), 223—Ejectment—Presumption.—In this case, a jaghir was conferred in the 17th Century by Emperor Aurangazeb and the grant was confirmed by the British Government, and a tenancy of lands situated within the jaghir estate commenced 40 years before suit brought by the jaghirdar to eject the tenant. Held, that s. 223 of the Berar Code did not apply and no presumption arises under s. 78 (2). PANDU v. RAJA UDHOJI RAO, 7 N.L.R. 100.

(11)—S. 79—Ejectment suit—Notice to quit—Compliance with section—Whether plaint itself can be accepted as notice—Rights of a party to suit, how ascertained.—The requirements of s. 79 as to notice must be strictly complied with, before a landlord will be entitled to sue to eject his tenant. (8 B. 228, 9 C. 48, 24 C. 720, 27 C. 570, R.) A plaintiff must succeed on the basis of his rights as they stood at the time he filed his suit, and not on rights subsequently acquired. (21 M. 288, F.) So where notice is necessary in a suit by a landlord to eject his tenant, the suit in itself will not be regarded as a notice. UDEBHAN v. JAGANNATH, 6 N.L.R. 17=5 Ind. Cas. 699. (25 W. R. 329, Appl.; 20 W.R. 401, 23 W.R. 400, R.)

(12) S. 127—See No. 3, supra.

(13)—S. 205—Co-occupant of land in Berar —When a co-sharer loses his right of pre-emption. See PRE-EMPTION — MISCELLANEOUS, 6 N.L.R. 86=6 Ind. Cas. 930.

(14)—S. 205—See NOS. 2,7, supra.

(15)—Ss. 206 and 211, sub-s. 1, cl. (a)—Pre emptor—Notice of for closure — Person entitled to such notice—Objection raised by mortgagor for want of notice to co-owner.—The only person, who has a right to object to the failure to give notice, under s. 206 of the Berar Land Revenue Code, in the chapter relating to pre-emption, is the person having the right of pre-emption. Where a mortgagee, having foreclosed, neglects to give the required notice to a co-occupant of the mortgagor, the latter can sue for pre-emption under cl. (a) of sub-s. 1 of s. 211. But the mortgagor, cannot plead a want of notice to the co-occupant as a bar to the foreclosure decree being made absolute. GANGOO v. SAKARAM, 3 N.L.R. 84.

Berar Land Revenue Code—concluded.

(16)—S. 211, sub-s. (1), cl. (a)—See NO. 15, supra.

(17)—S. 223—See NO. 10, supra.

Berar Patels and Patwaries Law.

(1)—S. 20—Proviso—'Social rights, meaning of a—Suit for a declaration as to propinquity of relationship to a patel, not maintainable.—The words "social rights" in s. 20 (proviso), do not include rights of precedence and the like enjoyed by a patel as such, but are intended to indicate such matters as adoption and legitimacy, and the right view is that no one is to be precluded, by the fact that there is a patelship in his family, from getting such questions decided by the Civil Courts, to the same extent and under the same circumstances as he could claim decision of them, if there was no patelship in his family. 3 N.L.R. 131, 22 B 344, F.; 1897 Berar L.J. 13, D.) A suit for a mere declaration that the plaintiff is a nearer heir than a third person to the patel, is barred by s, 20. VESHWANTA v. SITARAM, 5 N.L.R. 79=2 Ind. Cas. 242.

Betrothal.

See MARRIAGE.

(1)—Breach of contract—Money paid under void agreement—Promise to do things legal and also other things illegal—S. 57, Act IX of 1872.—On the failure of the holder's father to perform his part of the contract, the bridegroom brought a suit to recover back the money paid by him to the bride's father in consideration of the marriage of the latter's daughter. Held that the suit was maintainable. The transaction between the parties comprise two distinct and separable sets of a promises within the meaning of s 57 of the Contract Act and while one set that relating to the marriage is lawful, and amounts to a contract, the other set that relating to the pecuniary consideration may be unlawful as opposed to public policy and therefore a void agreement. But whether such agreement be void or not, the person who paid the money is in either case entitled to recover it back in the event of the father of the girl refusing to celebrate the marriage. KAHNA v. KAHN SINGH. 106 P.R. 1879. [R., 82 P. R. 1904, 50 P. R. 1903=95 P. L. R. 1903. 128 P. R. 1889, 46 P. R. 1887; 63 P. R. 1898; Cited and Appr., 194 P. R, 1882; F., 141 P. R. 1890; Cited and F., 50 P. R. 1880.]

Betrothal—continued.

(2)—Suit for breach—Plea of plaintiff's marriage to another woman after contract—Suit not barred by the plea—Mitigation of damages.—In a suit by the plaintiff for damages for breach of betrothal contract, the defendant pleaded that as the plaintiff had married another woman, he refused to complete his part of the contract. Held that by law and custom the plea was not a valid one though it may go in mitigation of damages. KANDLAL v. LAHIA 59 P.R. 1876.

(3)—Suit to recover ornaments presented to betrothed, maintainable—Suit to recover consideration money paid to obtain consent, not maintainable—Under the Punjab Civil Code, a suit will lie to recover ornaments presented by a man to his betrothed in contemplation of marriage but a suit will not lie to recover the consideration money paid to the parents of the bride elect to obtain their consent to the betrothal. GAMAN v. KABOOL. 69 P. R. 1868.

(4)—Money obtained for the purpose of procuring a wife—Contract not performed—Suit to recover money, sustainable.—In a suit by plaintiff to recover money paid to the defendant who agreed in consideration of receiving Rs. 200, to find a wife for plaintiff but did not perform his contract, the Court having found that the defendant never intended to procure a wife for the plaintiff but obtained the money on false pretences. Held, (Boulnois & Lindsay, JJ., dissenting) that a suit to recover back the sum of Rs. 200 was maintainable. GAHU v. HAKU, 86 P. R. 1875.

(5)—Parent making a betrothal contract—Guardian not empowered to make another after parent's death.—Where a parent makes a betrothal contract for his child and dies, the guardian is prevented by the contract from making another for the child. RAM CHUND v. LALJEE, 21 P.R. 1868. [Cited, 197 P.R. 1882.]

(6)—Money paid for the purchase of a bride—Money recoverable by suit—Purchase of a wife not malum in se.—In a suit to recover money paid by plaintiff on account of defendant as a consideration for a bride for defendant the plaintiff knowing for what purpose the money was required, held, that he might recover the money paid, the purchase of a wife not being malum in se and being malum prohibitum by the Punjab Civil Code only as between the parties, to the sale. SHAH GOOB v. IKRAM, 88 P.R. 1867.

(7)—Procuring breach of contract—Suit for damages—Husband not a proper party.—In a suit for damages for breach of betrothal contract, cause of action arises against the parents of the girl and not against the girl's husband. JHANGIE RAM v. DASS RAM, 83 P.R. 1870.

(8)—Betrothal contract entered into by parent alone—Suit for breach—Parties to suit.—Under the Punjab Code, a suit for breach of betrothal contract entered into by a parent on behalf of his child should be brought against the parent alone and not against both parent and child. MAHOMED BUX v. MUSSAMMAT JEEUNT BEEBEE, 59 P.R. 1866.

Betrothal—continued.

(9)—Contract in regard to a child unborn, effect of.—A betrothal contract made in regard to a girl not born at the time of the contract is null and void. DIYALA v. BHAMA, 60 P.R. 1866.

(10) Injured feelings not an independent wrong—All presents included in expenses incurred in gifts.—Damage for injured feelings is not an independent personal wrong, but the consequential damage of the breach of contract. Indemnifications for expenses incurred in gifts relates to all presents made in consequence of the betrothal and no such distinction can be made as that some are given "socially" and others "ceremonially." NUBEE BUKSH v. SUDDEEK, 22 P.R. 1869.

(11)—Breach of marriage contract—Suit for damages—Money paid under agreement.—A suit for damages, arising from the breach of a contract of betrothal will lie, and in calculating damages, money advanced to the girl's father may be taken into account. JESA RAM v. GHAUSAM, 141 P.R. 1890. (128 P.R. 1889, Expl. & D.; 106 P.R. 1879, F.)

(12)—Breach of marriage contract—Suit for damages for such breach—Custom of Aroras—Riwaj-i-am.—According to a custom embodied in the Riwaj-i-am a party to a betrothal (the parties in this particular case being Aroras), is at perfect liberty to cancel the same, if, after betrothal, the boy or girl contracts any disease by which his or her health is permanently impaired. But the onus in such cases lies on the party who asserts such custom and permanent failure of health. CHANDAN MAL v. MITTA RAM, 132 P.R 1888.

(13)—Breach — Damages — Bridegroom — Gambler etc., whether a justification.—A person is justified in breaking a contract of betrothal which offered no prospect of a suitable husband for his daughter when he has taken every means to bring about a suitable agreement. DHOND v. ISHAR DAS, 174 P.R. 1882. [R., 83 P.R. 1909.]

(14)—Breach by guardians—Betrothal entered into by others.—The parents of a girl having betrothed her to the plaintiffs died. The guardian of the girl then broke the contract and pleaded they were no parties to the same and not bound to keep the agreement. Held that they were liable for damages. GANDU v. ISHARDAS, 197 P.R. 1882. (21 P.R. 1868, 7 P.R. 1880, Cited.)

(15)—Parties—Suit for damages for breach of a contract of betrothal.—Where the minor plaintiff sued through his next friend for breach of a betrothal contract entered into between the plaintiff's father and the defendants, the father and uncle of the girl betrothed, held, that the minor plaintiff, for whose benefit and on whose behalf the contract was made, could sue for damages in respect of that breach.

Betrothal—concluded.

(3 P.R. 1909, 174 P.R. 1882, 21 B. 23, 49 P.R. 1905, F.) Held, also, that the party against whom the suit lay was the father of the girl, and not the girl herself, as she was no direct party to the contract, and the person guilty of the breach was the father. NABI BAKHSH v. RAHIM BAKSH, 83 P.R. 1909=42 P.L.R. 1910=133 P.W.R. 1909=3 Ind. Cas. 595.

(16)—Betrothal under Hindu Law—Nature of contract—Specific performance.—Betrothal, under the Hindu Law, is not an irrevocable and binding contract, of which the Court can grant specific performance. In the matter of GUNPUT NARAIN SINGH, 1 C. 74. [R., 21 B. 23.]

Betrothal for marriage — Reciprocal promises of giving girls in marriage, not a reciprocal contingent contract—Damages awardable for breach of each promise—See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT, 11 B. 412.

See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT, 69 P.R. 1866.

See CONTRACT — ILLEGAL CONTRACTS, 19 P.R. 1867.

Effect—Leprosy of father—Right to dispose of girl in marriage—Marriage—No consent of proper guardian—Effect—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 64 P. R. 1884.

Contract of—for marriage—Suit for damges for breach for contract—Suit for declaration that it was void—Liability of father of girl betrothed—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 21 B. 23.

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 1 C. 74.

See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, 147 P.R. 1882.

Suit to establish right to betrothal and marriage of minor—See MINOR—GENERAL, 10 P.R. 1904.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 35 P.R. 1875.

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 24 W.R. 207.

Bettiah Raj.

Right to Saltpetre Mehal — See NIMAK SAYAR MEHAL, 13 C.W.N. 454=36 C. 267=1 Ind. Cas. 967.

Bhag.

Alienation previous to Act — Dismemberment of Bhag—See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, 5 B. 77.

Sale of—See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, ss. 1. 2, 13 B. 203.

Bhagdari and Narwadari Tenures Act.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1862.

Bhagdari Lands.

See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 12 B. 363.

Bhagdari Lands—concluded.

See MORTGAGE—CONSTRUCTION OF MORTGAGE-DEEDS, 18 B. 283.

In Broach District — Succession — Special custom—Males and females, preference between—Hindus and Mahomedans—See SUCCESSION, 5 B. 482.

Bhagdari Tenure.

(1)—Collector incompetent to assign lands in a Bhagdari village.—Held that any interference by the Collector to assign, of his own authority, lands in a Bhagdari village to a tenant for cultivation, is irregular and unauthorised. RAIJI NAROTTAM v. PURUSHOTTAM GIRDAR et al, 2 B.H.C. 231.

See CUSTOM, 5 B.H.C. A.C. 123.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 B.H.C. A.C. 46.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—ACQUISITION OF RIGHT, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 17.

Bhagdari Village.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, s. 3, 1 B. 601.

Bhajan.

Performance of, how far a nuisance—See PUBLIC NUISANCE, 8 Bom. L.R. 89.

Bhatta.

(1)—Payment of—Time from which limitation runs—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 179 (4).—Payment of bhatta is not sufficient to constitute the time from which the period of limitation would begin to run under the Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 179 (4). MALUCKCHAND v. BECHAR, 3 Bom. L.R. 275=25 B. 639. [D., 28 M. 399; R., 11 Bom. L.R. 729.]

Need not be paid to a defendant summoned under s. 7 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 7, 10 Bom. L.R. 1163=33 B. 249.

Bhet Begari.

See CO-SHARERS—SUIT BY CO-SHARERS, 15 C.P.L.R. 14.

Bhoomear Tenures.

See SERVICE TENURE 6 W.R. 137.

Bhopal.

Governor-General's Agent in Bhopal, decision of—Whether appeal lies to Privy Council—See ARBITRATION--MISCELLANEOUS, 12 C. W.N. 585, P.C.=7 C.L.J. 520=138 P.L.R. 1908=10 Bom. L.R. 581=18 M.L.J. 266=99 P.W.R 1908=14 Bur. L.R. 146=4 M.L.T. 25=80 P.R. 1908=35 C. 648=35 I.A. 83.

Bhowli Lands,

Lodgment of returns — See BEN. ACT X OF 1871, s. 5, 9 C. 62=11 C.L.R. 100.

Bhowli Rent.

In kind Bhaoli—See BEN. ACT X OF 1859, ss. 3, 4, 1 A. 301, F.B.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869, ss. 2. 21, 22, 52, 2 C. 374.

Commutation of, into Nakdi rent—Power of Court of Wards—Annulment of commutation, right to — See COMMUTATION OF RENT, 6 C.L.J. 727.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, EXEMPTION FROM, 6 B.L.R. App. 25=14 W.R. 388.

Valuation of crop—See RENT, SUIT FOR, 2 B.L.R. App. 27=11 W.R. 151.

Bhowli Tenure.

(1)—Bhowli land, admittedly held by defendant—Plea of diluviation—Effect of defendant's admission on his liability to pay rent.—Where defendant admits having held certain bhaolee land, but pleads that it was washed away, and the first Court regards the plea as untenable, held that this is not an absolute finding that there has been no diluviation, and the Court is not bound to fix on defendant's statement and hold him liable for rent of the bhaolee land. CHAMROO SINGH v. TOTA ROY, 19 W.R. 430.

Bhuinhary Register.

Ben. Act II of 1889, s. 26—Bhuinhary Register prepared under—Not conclusive evidence of title of person recorded in it—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, 18 C. 91.

Bhutan Duars Act.

See BEN. ACT XVI OF 1869.

Bhutan Duars Repealing Act.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1895.

Bible.

Evidence—Oath — Conscientious objections to take oath on—by member of Church of England—Admissibility of evidence not given on such oath—See OATH, 2 M.H.C. 246.

Bicycle.

Vehicle tax — See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, sch. B., 19 M. 83=4 M.L.J. 293.

Bid.

Court-sale—Acceptance of bid by Officer of Court—Effect—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 84 to 88, 90 to 94, ss, 65, 66, 8 M. L. T. 154.

Arrangement between persons not to bid against each other—No fraud—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 90, 150 P.W.R. 1909.

Bidders.

Combination among — Irregularity— Fraud—See SALE—SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE AND CESS—SETTING ASIDE SALE AND ITS EFFECT, 13 C.L.R. 1.

Bidding at Auction.

(1)—Court auction—Withdrawing from bid.—A bidding at an auction is a mere offer which may be detracted before the hammer is down. In the absence of any law or rule to the contrary, this rule applies to Court-auction also. AGRA BANK v. HAMLIN, 14 M. 235.

Bigamy.

See ACT IV OF 1869.

See MARRIAGE.

Hindu Christian convert relapsing into Hinduism—Marriage of a second wife—No—See CONVERSION, 3 M.H.C. App. 7.

Bigamy — Conversion of Hindu wife to Mahomedanism — Marriage with Mahomedan —See Hindu LAW—MARRIAGE. 18 C. 264.

Bill.

Contingent Bills, Clr. No. 8, dated the 13th May, 1865, 3 W.R. Civil Circular Orders, p. 1.

Printed heading to a—Interest—Notice—See ACT XXXII OF 1839, A.W.N. 1887, 287.

Bill of Costs.

Delivery of—Maintainability of suit by executor of attorney—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY AND CLIENT, 3 B.L.R O.C. 96.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 84, 1 B. 253.

Bill of Exchange Act.

Ss. 2, 7 (1) 23, 59—Rights of holder of the Bill—Non-liability of an undisclosed principal —See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881, ss. 8, 27, 78, 1 M.L.T. 377, F.B.=16 M.L.J. 508=30 M. 88.

Bill of Lading.

(1)—Varying bill of lading—Shipping order —Custom.—In a suit instituted by a shipper to obtain bills of lading from the captain, in accordance with terms of the order granted by the ship's charterers: Held that the captain was entitled to vary the bills of lading in respect of any excess of measurement over the dimensions specified in the order, and that an alleged custom, precluding such variation, after the goods have been received on boardship, was contrary to law. It is the duty of the shipper to comply strictly with the terms of the shipping order. GENTLE v. THOMSON, 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 69.

(2)—Construction—River navigation in India —Difficulties or casualties of navigation.—Plaintiff sued to recover the value of certain hides which were lost in defendant's flat. The bill of lading contained, among other exceptions, the words "difficulties or casualties of navigation and all and every danger and accident of the river and navigation whatsoever." In evidence it was proved that the flat was destroyed by some projection embedded in the river. Held that the casualty was comprised among the exceptions in the bill of lading, and further that, having regard to the dangerous navigation of Indian rivers, parties entering into contracts of a similar nature should protect themselves by insurance. DHAUNSEE v. INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION CO., 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 125=1 Hyde 283.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(3)—Burden of proof as to insufficiency of packing—Damages.—The defendants, by a condition annexed to their bill of lading, stipulated that they should not be responsible for leakage or breakage or other consequences arising from the insufficiency of the address or package. The plaintiff shipped, for conveyance from Hongkong to Bombay, certain goods on board a steamer of the defendants, in packages which were proved to be insufficient. The goods in accordance with a condition to that effect contained in the bill of lading, were transhipped at Galle. On their being landed in Bombay it was found that all the packages were broken, and in a much more damaged condition than is usual in the case of such goods carried from Hongkong to Bombay in similar packages. The contents had to a large extent, escaped from the packages, but were otherwise uninjured. Held that, under a bill of lading in the above form, the onus of proving that the packages were insufficient, and that the injury which they had sustained was the consequence of such insufficiency, lay upon the defendants, but that when the result of the evidence on both sides was to leave it in doubt whether the injury was caused by negligence, or was the consequence of the insufficiency of the packages, the plaintiff was not entitled to recover. THE PENINSULA AND ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY v SOMAJI VISHRAM, 5 B.H.C.O.C. 113. [R., 3 B. 120, 2 C.P.L.R, 141.]

(4)—Steam Navigation Company employed to carry and land cargo—Cargo damaged owing to swamping of boat—Liability carriers.—A Steam Navigation Company was employed by plaintiff to carry cargo from Calcutta to Rangoon and to deliver it into the receiving ship, or to land it at the consignee's expense, their liability ceasing as soon as the goods were free from the ship's tackle. When the ship arrived at port, the consignee not having had his own boats alongside, the goods were put into other boats, one of which, through the negligence of the boatmen, was swamped and the contents damaged. Plaintiff claimed damages. Held that, as defendants were not shown to have neglected the duty of taking reasonable and proper care in the selection of boats, they were not liable for the loss incurred. BULLOCK BROTHERS AND COMPANY v. TOAY AUNG, 24 W.R. 74.

(5)—Goods destroyed by carelessness of carrying Company's servants, suit to recover—Bill of lading, exemption from damage in.—Where the plaintiffs, in shipping glass cases by a steamer of the defendant company, who were not subject to the Carriers' Act, signed a bill of lading with the clause " . . . . loss or damage for any act, neglect or default whatsoever of the pilot, master or mariners or other servants of the company, excepted," held, in a suit on an entire destruction of one of the cases owing to the carelessness of the company's servants, the defendants were protected from liability by their bill of lading. The defendants have a right to impose upon shippers any terms, however unreasonable, which the latter think proper to accept. They may thus free themselves from the consequences of their own negligence or default, however gross or wilfull. JELLICOE v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO., 10 C. 489. [F., 30 M. 79=1 M.L.T. 387 =16 M.L.J. 573; R., 32 M. 95=18 M.L.J. 497=4 M.L.T. 110.]

Bill of Lading—continued.

(6)—Exemptive clause in bill of lading—Effect—Shipping—Negligence of servants of ship—Period of loading—Fitness of the ship.—Certain bags of sugar were imported by the plaintiffs on the 11th and 12th November, 1887 on board the Byculla (which belonged to the defendants) for being conveyed to Bombay. No mate's receipt was given to the shippers at the time of shipment, owing to a dispute as to the exact number of bags put on board. A bill of lading was signed by the defendants on 28-11-1887, which contained an exemptive clause in these terms. "The act of God, the Queen's enemies, and all the perils, dangers, accidents of the sea, and accidents, loss or damage from any act, neglect or default whatsoever of the pilot, master or mariners or other servants of the Company, or from any deviation excepted." The Byculla started on 15-11-1887 and duly delivered the sugar in Bombay, which was found to be wet on its arrival. A suit was instituted by the plaintiffs against the defendants for the damage caused to the sugar. The defence set up was that the exemptive clause in the bill of lading gave protection from liability. On the part of the plaintiffs, it was contended that the bill of lading did not relate to the period of loading that, even if it did, the exemptive clause in the bill referred only to negligence subsequent to the time when the voyage commenced and that the ship was not one "reasonably fit for voyage" according to the ruling in Steel v. The State Line Steamship Company, 3 A. C. 72. Held (1) that, there being no defect inherent in the ship and the case being one of negligent and improper storage, the rule laid down in 3 A.C. 72 did not apply, (2) that the reasonable mode of construing the contract contained in the bill of lading was to treat the exceptions as co-extensive with the liability, and (3) that the defendants were entitled to claim protection under the exemptive clause in the bill of lading because the bill covered the goods from the time when they were put on board to be loaded. HASSANBHOY VISRAM v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, LIMITED, 13 B. 571. [R., 19 B. 639, 1 M.L.T. 387=16 M.L.J. 53=30 M. 79, 18 M.L.J. 497=32 M. 95=4 M.L.T. 110]

(7)—Contract—Liability.—A and Co. at Madras shipped by the B. I. S. N. Steamer "Mahratta" a box of coral to be delivered to their Agent, M at a place B. At the time of shipment, they declared the value and paid enhanced freight on account of such value. By the bill of lading, the Company undertook to deliver the case in good order at B to the consignee M, subject to certain conditions annexed. By one of these conditions, if the consignee did not take delivery when the ship was ready to discharge, the goods might be warehoused at the merchant's risk, and the Company's liability was to cease when the goods left the ship's side. The consignee did not take delivery at the ship's side, and the Company's Agent at B, took the case to the custom-house, as he was bound to do so by the Regulations of the Port. If the Superintendent of the Custom house had been aware that the case contained corals, it would have been placed in an inner room and taken great care of; but the Company's Agent did not know that the case contained corals, and therefore he was unable to give any such information to the Superintendent of the Custom-house. While the case was lying at the Custom-house application was made on behalf of A and Co. to the Company's Agent for delivery of the case upon the usual guarantee. The Agent refused to deliver the case without the production of the bill of lading. Afterwards, the bill of lading was received from Madras and the case was delivered up. In the meantime, while lying at the Custom-house, the case had been opened and a portion of the contents stolen. Held that the Steam Navigation Company were not liable. MACKINNON AND CO. v. MINCHIN, 6 M.H.C. 353. [R., 19 M. 169.]

Bill of Lading—continued.

(8)—Declaration of value and nature of contents.—A was the consignee and holder of a bill of lading by B at Bombay, as master of the steam-vessel John Bright, for the safe carriage and delivery of a box addressed to A, which in fact contained diamonds of the value of Rs. 11,670, three rubies, and three emeralds in all of the value of Rs. 15,940. On the face of the bill of lading was printed, "This bill of lading is issued subject to the following conditions." One condition was that a "written declaration of the contents and value of the goods is required by the owner, and must be delivered by the shipper to the owner's agents with the bills of lading. A wrong description of contents or false declaration of value shall release the owner from all responsibility in case of loss, etc., and the goods shall be charged double freight on the real value, which freight shall be paid previous to delivery." The declaration in this case was contained in the following letter from the shipper to the agent of the shipowner:—"Dear Sir, Be good enough to give me an order for a small box containing diamonds to the value of about Rs. 14,000, to be shipped on board the steamer John Bright for Calcutta, Yours, etc." The box was lost by the negligence of B or his servants. In a suit by A to recover "the value of the goods, viz., Rs. 14,000: Held that all the shipowner was entitled to was that the shipper should make a declaration of what bona fide he believed to be the value. The declaration as to contents was not vitiated by the omission to enumerate all the different species of articles contained in the box. Upon the evidence, the declaration as to the value and nature of the contents was bona fide; therefore A was entitled to recover the value of the diamonds lost. DHUNJEEBHOY BYRAMJEE METHA v. BETHAM, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 305.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(9)—Exceptions in—Damage of goods by oil and chafing—Absence of evidence as to how damage caused—Leakage, meaning of.—The exceptions in a bill of lading under which piece goods were carried from London to Bombay protected the master from leakage, breakage rust, decay, loss, or damage from machinery boilers * misfeasance error in judgment, neglience or default * * * persons in the service of the ship * * * and the ship not being liable for any consequences of causes therein excepted however originating." The piece goods, on their arrival in Bombay, were found to be damaged by oil and by chafing, i.e., by rubbing against other goods in the hold, but evidence to show how such damage was occasioned was not to be had. Held that the term "leakage" did not include leakage from other goods on to the piece goods, nor did "breakage" include damage caused by chafing and that, as no negligence was proved, the master was not protected by the exception "damage from negligence." GRAHAM v. HILLE 10, B.H.C. 60.

(10)—Shipping — Seaworthiness — Leakage while ship in dock—Damage to goods—Bill of lading—Exception—Implied warranty.—About 16th March, 1893, plaintiff shipped certain goods on board the defendant Company's S. S. Mobile, then lying in dock. At that time, the ship was apparently in a sound, seaworthy condition. On the 18th March, 1893, after plaintiff's packages had been loaded, the ship sprung a leak and a considerable amount of water came into the hold and damaged the plaintiff's goods. The ship was at once taken into the dry dock, the cargo was shifted and the leak repaired. It appeared that the leak was caused by the fact that the plate of the ship had been gradually worn thin in one particular spot, so that when from 16th to 18th March, 1893, cargo was loaded, and the ship lay deeper in the water, the pressure became so strong that a hole was made and the water rushed in. The plaintiff sued the defendants for damages. The defendants denied their liability on two grounds, viz., (1) that the ship was in a seaworthy condition when the goods were put on board (2) that they were protected by the bill of lading which contained the following exception, viz.: "Accident, loss and damage from vermin, barratry, jettison, collison, fire, machinery, boilers, steam and all the perils, dangers and accidents of the sea, rivers, land, carriage and steam navigation of whatever nature and kind and accident, loss or damage from any act, neglect or default whatsoever of the pilot, master or mariners or other servants of the Company or from any deviation." Held that the defendants were liable. While the ship was in dock it was not seaworthy, and the exception in the bill of lading did not limit the implied warranty of seaworthiness. VITHULDAS GOBER v. THE BOMBAY AND PERSIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, 19 B. 639.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(11)—Loss of goods by fire—Exception in bill of leading.—Where goods were landed, with the consent of the consignees, at the godowns though strictly against the terms in the bill of leading, and the bill of lading had exempted the ship-owners from liability for loss by fire, they were not held responsible for loss of the goods by fire at the godowns, either as carriers or as wharfingers; as, in the former case, they were protected by the clause in the bill of lading and as, in the latter, the destruction by fire was not due to any default on their part. CHIN HONG &C. CO v. SENG MOH &C. CO., 4 C. 736=3 C.L.R. 585.

(12)—Construction of—Shipowner and consignee.—Where a bill of lading provided that, on failure by the consignees to remove the goods as fast as they are discharged by the steamer, the steamer's agents could land the goods, all the costs being borne by the consignees, held, that the consignees were to be allowed a reasonable time to take the goods before they could be charged for landing and wharfage. For the speedy discharge of their vessel the shipowners were entitled to land and wharf the goods, though not to charge for landing and wharfage, unless the plaintiff had had an opportunity of landing the goods himself. COSSIM HOSSEIN SOORTU v. LEE PHEE CHUAN, 5 C. 477.

(13)—Time for commencing to land cargo—Reasonable time after arrival of ship—Forty-eight hours in case of sailing vessel—Landing of goods at Custom House or other place set apart—Whether such landing is delivery—Course of legislation with regard to landing of goods—Master whether carrier or warehouseman—Liability of master for accidents.—Neither by the custom of the port of Bombay, nor by the provisions of the Customs Act, is the master of a ship bound to wait fifteen days before commencing to land his cargo; but within a reasonable time after the arrival of his ship, forty-eight hours in the case of a sailing vessel, and somewhat less in the case of a steamer, he is at liberty, if the consignee has not then sent boats for them, to land the goods at the Custom House Bandar or other place sanctioned by the Custom authorities; and such landing is not unlawful, or a breach of contract as carrier, on the part of the master. The landing of goods under the above circumstances, and setting them apart on the Custom House Bandar for the consignee, do not constitute a delivery of them to the consignee; but such goods after being so landed, continue in the possession of the master as carrier. Course of legislation with reference to the landing of goods on the Custom House Bandar reviewed. Quære:—Whether (under the special circumstances of this case stated in the text) the goods when so landed remained in the custody of the master in his capacity of common carrier or as a warehouseman. The Master of a vessel who receives goods on board under a bill of lading which exempts him from liability from the loss occasioned by the act of God, the Queen's enemies, fire and all and every other dangers and accidents of the seas, rivers, and navigation, of whatsover nature or kind, and lawfully lands the goods at the port of discharge, is, so long as the goods remain in his custody after being so landed, protected from liability from loss by fire under the above exemption in his bill of lading. THE HONKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION v. BAKER, 7 B.H.O.C. 186.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(14)—Bill of lading, 'landing or cranage charges' under, payable by ship-owner not the consignee—Recovery, the charges from consignee—Ultimate liability of ship owner to consignee.—Plaintiff, in this case, sought to recover from the defendants, as agents for and representing certain steamers, certain sums of money on the ground that they were paid in respect of charges which he had to pay but which were properly payable not by him, but by the owners of the said steamers, before they could give him complete delivery of the boilers under the terms of his bills of lading. The only ground of defence pressed was that there had been a complete delivery to the plaintiff under the terms of the bills of lading. The Small Cause Court passed judgment for the plaintiff subject to the opinion on the question, whether on a true construction of the bills of lading held by the plaintiff, the delivery under the circumstances was a complete delivery to the plaintiff, in accordance with the terms of the bills. The High Court was of opinion that the answer to the question referred to them depended on whether certain charges, called "landing charges," or "cranage charges," which the plaintiff, the consignee, was required by the Port Trust to pay before he could remove his goods, were charges which, as between the consignee and the ship-owner, the ship-owner and not the consignee, was bound to pay, and it was held that, under the provisions of the bills of lading in question and under the circumstances of the case, those charges were charges which the ship-owner and not the consignee was bound to pay, and that therefore the judgment of the Small Cause Court in favour of the plaintiff was right. JAMES SCOTT v. JAMES FINLAY, 7 B. 386.

(15)—"Weight, contents and value unknown—Suit against master—Assignee for value of Bill—Construction of Act IX of 1865, s. 3.—Where a bill of lading purported to be for 50 tons of coals and contained a printed clause "weight, contents and value unknown" and similar words written above the signature of the Master, held that it did not amount to an admission by the Master that he received 50 tons of coal on board. Under the Bills of Lading Act (IX of 1856), s. 3, a bill of lading in the above form is not, in the hands of a consignee for value, conclusive evidence against the Master of the shipment of 50 tons. W. NICOL AND COMPANY v. J.S. CASTLE, 9 B H. C. 321.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(16)—Ship—Bill of lading—Charter party—Incorporation in bill of lading of terms of charter party—Cargo—Freight payable on intake measurement—Discrepancy between intake measurement and measurement at port of delivery—Suit by consignee for excess freight—Evidence—Burden of proof.—K. V., at Moulmein consigned to the plaintiff in Bombay 135 logs of teak timber, shipped on board the defendants' ship, and covered by a bill of lading signed by the defendant. The bill of lading described the 135 logs as marked K. V., and measuring tons 115 12-10, and provided for the payment of freight thereon at Bombay at the rate of Rs. 17 per ton of 50 cubic feet on right delivery. The last clause of the bill of lading was in the handwriting of the defendant, to the following effect: "Marks, number, quantity and measurement unknown: all other conditions as per charter party." The charter party was expressed to be between the owners of the ship and the firm of B of Rangoon as charters of the whole ship, and provided (inter alia) for the payment of freight at the rate of Rs. 18 per ton of 50 cubic feet for all timber, one rate throughout, except 100 tons broken stowage at half freight, by intake measurement. On arrival of the ship at Bombay, the plaintiff as endrosee and holder of the bill of lading and consignee of the goods mentioned therein, paid to the defendant Rs. 1,500, on account of freight, and took delivery of the 135 logs. On measuring them, however, he found that, according to his method of measurement, which was to measure the length, breadth and thickness of each log separately, making no deduction for holes or fractures, the total measurement of the 135 logs came only to tons 58-27-11-6, and not tons 115-12-10, as mentioned in the bill of lading. He claimed, therefore, to be chargeable with freight only on the smaller quantity, Rs. 995-8-0 and to recover from the defendant the difference between that sum and Rs. 1,500 paid on account—Rs. 504-8-0—as for an over-payment of freight. It was proved that the ship took no part in the measurement of the timber at Moulmein, but that all the timber put on board was measured by an employee of the charterers acting apparently as the agent of all the different shippers, and that the measurements in the bills of lading were those supplied by this person to the defendant as the measurements of the different consignments. It was also found that the 135 logs measured by the plaintiff in Bombay were the same 135 logs as were shipped under this bill of lading, and that his measurement of them was correct according to the mode of measurement which he followed. There was no evidence as to what the mode of measurement followed at Moulmein was; nor, except the statement in the bill of lading, as to what was the actual intake measurment thereof this particular consignment. Held that the effect of the last clause of the bill of lading was to incorporate into it the various conditions of the charter party, and as the bill of lading only provided that the freight shall be payable at Bombay at the rate of Rs. 17 per ton for fifty cubic feet without stating anything as to the mode of measurement or as to where the measurement was to be ascertained, the charter party should be looked into, where it was expressly provided that the freight was to be payable "by intake measurement," i.e., the measurement actually taken at the port of shipment. Held further that the burden of proving what the intake measurement was lay upon the plaintiff; and that, in the absence of such evidence on behalf of the plaintiff, the statement of quantity contained in the bill of lading was prima facie evidence of the intake measurement of the timber. CURSETJI RUSTOMJI SETNA v. THOMAS WILLIAMS, 5 B. 313.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(17)—Freight, payment of — Lien of ship-owner.—Where a bill of lading, dated at the port of shipment, contains the words "freight for the said goods being paid, here" it operates as a receipt for the freight. The ship-owner is not bound to deliver the same to the shipper until payment of the sum to be charged for the carriage of the goods; but such sum is not freight, and the ship-owner has no lien for the amount upon the goods, nor the bill of lading which represents them. SOOMAR JAFFER v. ABDOOL KURREEM, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 230.

(18)—Freight, lien, for, on cargo—Advances on account of freight—Master's lien for freight—Charter-party.—By a Charter-party made in London, the ship W was chartered to carry a cargo from Liverpool to Calcutta, where she was to load from the factors of the charterer a full homeward cargo to be carried by her to Europe. Freight for the whole round, out and home, was made payable on safe delivery of the homeward cargo, but at so much per ton of the outward cargo delivered in Calcutta. The master was to have a lien on the cargo for freight, etc, cash not exceeding £800 was to be advanced to the ship in Calcutta on account of freight, but subject to insurance, and £600 was to be advanced by the charterer's acceptance at three months, or in cash under discount, at charterer's option, on the sailing of the vessel from Liverpool, less five per cent. for insurance. The charterer himself loaded the ship, and the master signed a bill of lading which declared the cargo to be shipped by the charterer to be delivered at Calcutta, as the agents of the charterer might direct, unto order or to his assigns, freight, to be paid as per charter-party. In the margin of the bill was written, "Received in advance of the within freight £600 as per charter-party." The £600 had been paid, not in cash, but by the charterer's bill at three months. The charterer became bankrupt and the bill was dishonoured and the fact of the bankruptcy and dishonour was known in Calcutta when the ship arrived there. On the ship's arrival in Calcutta, J. O. & Co., who were the holders for value of the bill of lading, demanded delivery of the cargo.

Bill of Lading—continued.

The master claimed a right of lien, and refused to deliver unless J. O. & Co. would pay the £600 bill which had been dishonoured, and would further advance £800 for the ship's use, and load a homeward cargo, according to the terms of the charter-party. Held that J. O. & Co. took the bill of lading with notice of the charter-party, but that, under the circumstances, the master had no lien, and was bound to deliver the cargo to J. O. & Co. OGLE v. NASHHOLM, Bourke O.C. 171.

(19)—Freight, lien-for, on cargo—Advances on account of frieght, lien of owners.—Goods were shipped deliverable to the order of the shippers or their assigns. The bill of lading stated that "freight for said goods was to be paid as per charter-party, with average accustomed, reserving lien in full on cargo for full amount as stipulated therein." The charter-party showed "that H and Co., undertook to supply a full cargo for the ship, and that R H, agent for the ship, agreed with H and Co. that the said ship should proceed to London dock, or any other suitable dock, for loading salt at party's option, or so near thereto as she can safely get, to be at all times afloat and in safety, and then load for the charterer's agent a full and complete cargo of salt, not exceeding what the master considers sufficient cargo, which the charterers engage to ship, not exceeding what she can reasonably carry with her stores, provisions, and furniture, and being so loaded shall therewith proceeed to Caloutta, or so near thereto as she may safely get, and there deliver as per bills of lading and on being paid freight at the rate of twenty-three shillings per ton. "The freight to be paid thus" £ 500 by charterer's acceptance at two months on sailing, less 2½ per cent. insurance; or cash on sailing, less 5 per cent. interest, and insurance at charterer's option, and the balance in cash on delivery as master requires, at current rate of exchange; 2 per cent. commission to charterers in lieu of consignment. Held that "a sum of money payable before the arrival of the ship at her port of discharge and payable by the shippers of the goods at the port of shipment, is not freight in the strict legal acceptation of the term, with all the incidents of freight in giving the ship-owner the right of lien, unless it is stipulated for." Here the owners had a lien upon the goods for freight, notwithstanding that bill of exchange for £ 500 had been given. THOMAS v. OGLE, Bourke, O C. 100.

(20)—Freight, lien for, on cargo—Advance on account of freight—Dishonour of bills.—The captain of a ship has no lien on the cargo in respect of a portion of the freight stipulated to be advanced, and advanced by bills afterwards dishonoured, nor in respect of a portion of the freight stipulated to be advanced at the port of discharge. A lien cannot arise in any case when the master has not a right to retain the goods till the freight is paid. Such advances are not freight, but advances to be made under discount, and upon the security of the captain's bill on the freighter. The master has no lien at law or in equity in respect of breaches of covenants in the charter-party, other than those relating to the payment of freight for goods actually carried. PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY v. SMALL. Brouke O.C. 309.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(21)—Construction of bill of lading.—Where a bill of lading provides that all claims must be made at the port of Calcutta, the preferring of a claim in Calcutta is precedent to a suit in the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon. MAHOMED ISMAILJEE NADA v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, 9 W.R. 396.

(22)—Damages.—Damages from leakage of boiler to goods shipped by steamer is within the exceptions in the bill of lading. Whether, in case of damage to goods conveyed by steamer, defendants, notwithstanding exceptions in bill of lading, may not be made liable on the implied warranty. Provision in a bill of lading that any claim for short delivery or damage to goods should be made at the port of Calcutta, and not elsewhere, does not affect plaintiff's right of suit in the Court of Rangoon. Objection on this ground cannot be taken for the first time at hearing of appeal. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY v. IBRAHIM MOOSUN, 8 W.R. 35.

(23)—Cargo unclaimed on arrival of ship—Rights of ship-owner.—The master of a ship on its arrival in port is not bound to seek out the consignees of cargo, nor is he bound to wait more than a reasonable time before unloading. If a consignee is not in a position to take delivery in the ordinary way, the master has the option of landing the goods and warehousing them. When he has done that, he can be rendered liable for loss or damage to cargo on two grounds, viz., when negligence can be proved against him, or when it is charged that he has failed to deliver the goods. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY v. IBRAHIM SULAIMAN, 19 M. 169.

(24)—Stipulation relieving ship-owner from liability as soon as goods free of ship's tackle, and before delivery, if enforceable—"Landing agents" at Penang, how far agents of ship owners—Loss of goods after delivery to landing agent but before delivery to consignee.—Where the bill of lading providing that "in all cases and under all circumstances, the liability of the ship-owner shall absolutely cease when the goods are free of the ship's tackle, and thereupon the goods shall be at the risk, for all purposes and in every respect, of the shipper or consignee" and the goods were delivered overside into lighters and taken to the wharf and kept by a "landing agent," and then disposed of without the production of a bill of lading or a delivery order in fraud of the persons entitled, held, that there was no reason why the clause providing for cessor of liability of the ship-owner on the goods being free of the ship's tackle should not be held operative and effectual, although they might have been lost before delivery to the person entitled. The stipulation was one which the parties were perfectly free to make, unembarrassed by any implied condition or any original underlying obligation, such as exists when a ship-owner seeks to relieve himself of liability to the shipper in case his vessel should be found to have been unseaworthy. The position of the "landing agents," at the port of Penang indicated. Semble.—They are intermediaries owing duty to both parties—agents of the shipowners as long as the contract of a freightment remains unexhausted, agents for the consignees as soon as the bill of lading is produced with delivery order endorsed. THE CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO., 13 C. W.N. 733, P.C. = 6 M.L.T. 11 = 19 M.L.J. 316 = 4 Ind. Cas. 475.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(25)—Bill of lading—Interpretation—"Not responsible for marks"—Effect and meaning—Endorsement in blank—Negotiability—Bill of Lading Act—Object of—Whether affects other rights.—Plaintiff ordered from T. & Co., 165 Austrian Rough Boards of different sizes. The goods were shipped to Karachi per S.S. "Gisela." The bill of lading showed that the goods were consigned by T & Co. "To order," and described the goods as "165 pieces white woods planks "marked" 025 imported by E. A. Nathani, Karachi, produce in Austria." Added to the description are the words "Not responsible for marks" printed conspicuously in violet ink. The Bill is endorsed in Blank by T. & Co. On the arrival of the ship at Karachi, several consignment of white wooden planks besides that of the plaintiff were delivered to the Port Trust, which granted receipts showing that altogether 803 "loose wooden pieces" with "marks various" were landed. The plaintiff obtained the bill of hading in respect of his goods from the Bank on payment of the money due to the shipper, and caused his name to be written on the back of the Bill. On presenting the Bill, he obtained delivery of 162 planks bearing his mark, and was offered 3 more not bearing his mark. The plaintiff refused to take delivery of the three planks and sued the Port Trust and the ship for the value of the planks. Held, that by endorsing the bill of lading in blank, T. & Co., rendered it a negotiable instrument, and it could pass from hand to hand by mere delivery, so as to affect the property in the goods, and that the plaintiff who obtained delivery of the bill accompanied by an endorsement became the owner of the goods and was entitled to sue. Held, also, that, as owner of the goods, the plaintiff had open to him, under the Common Law, all the several forms of suit in tort. He could sue the Port Trust in "detinue" for wrongfully retaining the possession of the goods or for "conversion" if they had given to any other consignee. The Bill of Lading Act was intended to meet the case where the goods in respect of which bills of lading purport to be signed, have not been laden on board, and does not affect the rights such as those of the plaintiff. Held also, that the object of inserting the proviso "not responsible for marks" is to prevent the bill of lading having its ordinary effect of being evidence against the ship that goods marked as stated in the body of the bill were actually shipped, and it lies on the plaintiff to prove that the three planks bearing his mark were actually committed to the custody of the Port Trust or were delivered to some other consignee. THE KARACHI PORT TRUST v. ISMAILGI AMEEJI, 3 S.L.R. 203=6 Ind. Cas. 848.

Bill of Lading—continued.

(26)—Carriers by sea—Bill of lading, construction of—Loss by fire—Liabilities of ship-owners for goods after being landed—Ship-owners—Right to charge for lading and wharfing.—Goods were shipped in the defendant's steamer, under a bill of lading which contained a clause protecting the chip-owners from loss occasioned by fire, and a further clause to the effect that the goods "are to be landed from the steamer's tackle by the consignees as fast as the steamer can discharge, failing which the steamer's agents are to be at liberty to land them into godowns—the cost of lighterage, godown rent, etc., thereby incurred to be borne by the respective consignees." The steamer duly arrived at its destination on the afternoon of the 11th December, and at once proceeded to discharge its cargo. It does not appear that notice of the arrival was given to the plaintiff, who was the consignee of the goods. On the 12th, the plaintiff applied for delivery, but was informed that the goods had been landed into the godowns and delivery could not be given, as they were covered up by other cargo. On the evening of the 12th, the godowns were burned down and the goods destroyed. In a suit by the plaintiff for damages for short delivery, held that the defendants were entitled, under the bill of lading, for the speedy discharge of the steamer, to land the goods, and that a reasonable time for delivery not having elapsed before the fire, they were also protected from the loss occasioned thereby, the goods being still in their custody as carriers. Per Pontifex, J.—The ship-owners though entitled to land the goods, were not entitled to charge for landing and wharfing unless the plaintiff had had an opportunity of landing the goods himself. Per Garth, C. J.—If the defendants were at liberty to discharge the goods into the godown, they were also entitled to charge wharfage dues. LEE PHEE CHUAN v. CASSIM HOSSEIN SOORTY, 5 C.L.R. 187.

(27)—Delivery—Bill of lading, exemption in—Shipping Company—Effect.—The obligation of a shipping Company to properly deliver the goods shipped with them, under a bill of lading, is subject expressly to the condition inserted in the bill. Loss of the goods shipped under a bill of lading, containing the words "not responsible for condition and contents," could not be recouped from the shipping Company. CUTLER PALMER AND CO. v. THE BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO., LTD., 25 C. 654=2 C.W.N. 428.

Bill of Lading—concluded.

Liability of carrier for negligence. Effect of conditions in, claiming exemption form liability—See CARRIERS, 4 M.L.T. 110=32 M. 95 =18 M.L.J. 497=1 Ind. Cas. 977.

Provision in the, as to exemption of carriers from liability, effect of—See CARRIERS, 1 M. L.T. 387=16 M.L.J. 573=30 M. 79.

See CARRIERS, 6 B.H.C.O C. 71, 22 W.R 39.

Delivery of cargo not conditional on payment of freight—Insolvency of charterer—Right of Captain of ship to retain cargo for freight due—See CHARTER PARTY, 2 M.H.C. 88.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENT. 4 B.H.C. O.C. 169.

See STAMP ACT, 1899, ss. 2, 7, sch. I. art. 47-A, 30 C. 565.

Bill of Lading Act.

Object of.—See BILL OF LADING, 3 S.L. R. 203=6 Ind. Cas. 848.

Bill of Sale.

(1)—Bill of sale—Endorsement—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15—Suit under—Registration—Onus.—The plaintiff executed a bill of sale of a moiety of her mourasi tenure and an ijara patta of the other moiety, in favour of Mr. Wise. On the strength of the bill of sale and patta, Mr. Wise sued the defendant under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, for possession of the property in dispute, but it was dismissed, whereupon Mr. Wise returned the document to the plaintiff with an endorsement under his signature in these words, "returned, no claim." The plaintiff brought the present suit to recover possession of the said property. The defendant set up in his defence that the plaintiff had no right to sue for a moiety of the property, in consequence of the sale to Mr. Wise; and that the endorsement of the deed of sale "returned, no claim" was not admissible in evidence, as the same had not been registered. Held that the entry was only evidence that the transaction was inchoate and not final, as the same had not been registered, and that the onus was on the defendant to prove his purchase. GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDRY v. SRIMATI AMINA KHATUN, 3 B.L.R. App. 126. (1 B.L.R. F.B. 58, 11 W.R. 280, R.)

Hindu Law — Sale by vendor without possession—Purchaser not entitled to sue in ejectment—Intention to sell mere right of entry, effect of, on purchaser's rights—See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—POSSESSION, 6 B. 380, F.B.

Bills in Council.

Construction of Act—Debates in Legislative Council on the Bill, whether may be referred to—See STATUTES, CONSTRUCTION OF, 18 B. 133 =P.J. 1893, 42.

Binna Gotra Sapindas.

Hindu Law — Inheritance —Samanodakas, who are—Conflict between Samanodakas and bandhus, or Bhinna gotra sapindas—Priority—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 10 B. 372.

Biraja home ceremony.

Whether usual in case of minors—See HINDU LAW — RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 7 C.W.N. 145.

Birbhum.

Ghatwali tenure South of Bhirbum, nature of — Liability for predecessor's debts — See GHATWALI TENURE, 5 C. 389=4 C.L.R. 583.

Birt.

(1)—Birt or Birt-Zamindari—Oudh Talukdar—Rights of person holding under it.—In Oudh, birtias who could show themselves to come with the benefit of the policy of the Government announced in the Circular known as the Record of Rights Circular, No. 2 of 1851—namely, that the Chief Commissioner is clearly of opinion that the birtias who were found in direct engagement with the State at annexation, or who have uninterruptedly held whole villages on the terms of their pottahs under the Talukdars, must be maintained in the full enjoyment of their rights, in subordination to the Talukdars—acquired, upon the annexation of Oudh by the British Government, absolute under-proprietary rights as against the talukdar in the villages in respect of which the birt had been created. RAJA MAHAMMAD v. MURAD BAKHSH, 9 Bom. L.R. 851=11 C.W.N. 931=6 C.L.J. 693=17 M.L.J. 400=4 A.L.J. 737=2 M.L.T. 402=10 O.C. 318=29 A. 708, P.C.=34 I.A. 142.

Meaning of —Registration of birt deed—See REGISTRATION, 8 Ind. Cas 725.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 32 P.R. 1877.

Birth.

(1)—Date of—Amount of proof.—In India it is difficult to prove facts such as the date of birth, after a lapse of many years, and it is unreasonable to require such a class of evidence as will justly be demanded in England. But the evidence must be such as to carry reasonable conviction to the mind. NAWAB SHAH v. NANHI BEGAM, 9 Bom. L.R. 80=11 C.W.N. 130=5 C.L.J. 4=1 M.L.T. 429=17 M.L.J. 32=29 A. 29, P.C.=34 I.A. 1.

See EVIDENCE—HEARSAY EVIDENCE, 13 C. 42, 20 C. 758.

'Birt' tenures.

See LAND TENURE—IN BENGAL, 6 C. 218 =6 C.L.R. 146=7 I.A. 17, P.C.

Right of pre-emption on creation of—See PRE-EMPTION—RIGHT TO PRE-EMPT, 8 C. C. 121.

Biswadar.

See CESS, 2 Agra 325.

Blacksmith.

Inam granted as emolument to village—Limitation or prescription by adverse possession in case of proceedings regarding—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 21 M. 134=7 M. L. J. 196.

Blank paper.

Signing a — Authority to engross on the paper — See DEED — CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 6 C.W.N. 329.

Blank spaces.

Alterations and erasures — Presumption—See WILL—MISCELLANEOUS, 16 B. 652.

Blank stamped paper signed by party.

Stamped paper signed in blank—Liability of obligor—See ESTOPPEL — ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, 5 C. 39.

Blindman.

See WILL—ATTESTATION, 16 C. 19.

Blindness.

When a disqualification—See HINDU LAW —INHERITANCE, 1 B. 177.

See HINDU LAW — INHERITANCE, 1 B. 557, 2 B.L.R. F.B. 103=11 W.R. O.C. 11.

See MALABAR LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 12 M. 307.

Malabar Law—Disqualification for office of Karnavan — See MALABAR LAW — JOINT FAMILY, 15 M. 483.

Board Circulars.

(1)—4—IX para. 27—Rule 38 of the Judicial Commissioner's Court—Application for copy—Copy to be sent by post—Deduction of time for obtaining copy—Limitation Held, that, where a person applies for a copy to be sent by post, he is entitled to have his wish complied with, and if, instead of complying with his request, a notice is posted on the board to the effect that the copy is ready, and that, if the applicant comes within any reasonable time from the date of his application to make inquiries, he is entitled to have the time, up to the delivery of the copy to him personally, deducted from the period of limitation for filing his copy. MUSSAMMAT FATIMUNNISSA v. AJMAD ALI KHAN, 8 O.C. 150.

Board of Examiners.

(1) Duty of, for pleadership examination, on application by a candidate.—Where a candidate applies, to the Board of Examiners for pleadership, to be allowed to present himself for the examination, the Board, for the time being, should form its own opinion as to the fitness of such applicant, and should not reject his application on the mere ground that a previous application by him in some past year had been rejected. In such cases, it is competent for the High Court to order the Board to consider his present fitness for admission, and, if satisfied that he possessed the qualifications prescribed by the rules, to allow him to present himself for the examination. In the matter of RUDRA NARAIN ROY, 28 C. 479.

Pleadership examination — Board of Examiners—Standard of marks required for pass certificate raised without notice to candidates

Board of Examiners—concluded.

—Application by unsuccessful candidates for revision of list of successful candidates—See PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATION, 9 A. 611, F.B. =A.W.N. 1887, 148.

Board of Revenue.

Application for sanction to institute suit—Proof of control of Board of Revenue not necessary—See ACT XX OF 1863, s. 18, 26 M. 166.

Rules framed by—in furtherance of Act I of 1894 not ultra vires—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 55, 30 C. 36=7 C.W.N. 249.

See BEN. ACT IX OF 1847, ss. 1, 6, 14 C. 67, F.B.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, s. 5, 5 B.L.R. 135=13 W.R. 381.

Rule of, regarding assessment of haths ultra vires—See BEN. ACT IX OF 1880, s. 4, 5 Ind. Cas. 254.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1876, s. 7, 26 M. 389.

Powers of—to interfere, in revision, with orders of Assistant Collector in execution under Act II of 1901—See U.P. ACT II OF 1901, ss. 177, 185, A.W.N. 1905, 119=2 A.L.J. 331.

Letter from, showing that jagirs are resumable on the death of grantee—Admissibility in evidence—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 13, 65, 66 (2), 7 C.L.J. 90.

Authority from—to Collector to raise loan on mortgage—Power of Collector to delegate the authority—See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT, 1890, s. 23, 3 C.L.J. 165.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 17 C. 590=17 I.A. 40.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 18 P.R. 1885.

Boats.

Hire of Boats—Damages—Liability of bailee—See NEGLIGENCE, 2 Hyde, 79.

Right of way for boats in the rainy season—Extent of right—Analogy to right of way over land—Direction of right—See PRESCRIPTION—EASEMENTS—WAY, RIGHT OF, 7 C. 145=8 C.L R 375.

Bohra Brahmans.

Custom among Bohra Brahmans of adopting sister's son—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 14 A. 53=A.W.N. 1891, 222.

Bombay.

See POSSESSION—GENERAL, 2 B. 299=P.J. 1880, 57.

Bombay Abkari Act.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1878.

Bombay Adultery Act.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1845.

Bombay Cantonment Act.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1867.

Bombay Civil Courts Act.

See BOM. ACT XIV OF 1869.

Bombay Coasting Vessels Act.

See BOM. ACTXIX OF 1838.

Bombay Disputes.

Headman of village—Acts of, to bind co-sharers—See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—AUTHORITY OF AGENTS, Agra, F. B. 31=Ed. 1874, 23.

Bombay District Municipal Act.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1901.

Bombay District Municipal Act Amendment.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1884.

Bombay District Police Act.

See BOM. ACT VII OF 1867.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1890.

Bombay Hereditary Officers Act.

See BOM. ACT XI OF 1843.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1874.

Bombay Hindu Heirs Relief Act.

See BOM. ACT VII OF 1866.

Bombay Insolvent Traders Act.

See BOM. ACT XXVIII OF 1865.

Bombay Irrigation Act.

See BOM. ACT VII OF 1879.

Bombay Joint Police Officers Act.

See BOM. ACT XV OF 1855.

Bombay Land Record of Rights Act.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1903.

Bombay Land Revenue Code.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1879.

Bombay Legislature.

Power of, to amend the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, providing certain class of appeals to go to the District Court—See BOM. ACT XIV OF 1869, s. 16, 10 Bom. L. R. 924=32 B. 634.

Bombay Levy of Haqqs, Etc. Act.

See BOM. ACT XX OF 1339.

Bombay Local Boards Act.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1884.

Bombay Local Funds Act

See BOM. ACT III OF 1869.

Bombay Minors Act.

See BOM. ACT XX OF 1864.

Bombay Municipal Act.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1865.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1872.

Bombay Municipal, City of, Act.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1888.

Bombay Port Trust Act.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1873.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1879.

Bombay Presidency.

Manu, Mitakshara and Mayukha, how far authorities in Bombay Presidency—See HINDU LAW—AUTHORITIES, 2 B. 388=7 I.A. 112.

Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act.

See BOM. ACT X OF 1876.

See BOM. ACT XV OF 1880.

Bombay Salt Act.

See BOM. ACT VII OF 1873.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1890.

Bombay Salt Duties Act.

See BOM. ACT XVI OF 1844.

Bombay Suits Act.

See BOM. ACT XVI OF 1838.

Bombay Survey and Settlement Act.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1865.

Bombay Town Duties, Abolition of, Act.

See BOM. ACT XIX OF 1844.

Bombay Tramways Act.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1874.

Bombay University Act.

See BOM. ACT XXII OF 1857.

Bombay Village Police Act.

See BOM. ACT VIII OF 1867.

Bona fides.

(1)—Bona fide claim.—The fact that a person adds on to an honest claim based on a substantial foundation, a claim of a disputable character would not go to show that the whole claim is not brought in good faith and, in the plaintiff's estimation, with some prospect of success, so that it could not be said that the claim is not a bona fide one. PROBODE CHUNDER MULLICK v. M. DOWEY, 14 C. 695.

(2)—Meaning of, in its legal acceptation—Purchase from childless widow.—Good faith in its legal sense means much more than mere absence of bad faith. A purchase from a childless widow, who sells without sufficient necessity, cannot be said to be made in good faith. Nothing can legally be said to be done or believed in good faith which is done or believed without due care or attention. If a purchaser from a widow and of a purchaser from such a purchaser does not satisfy himself as to her right to sell he does not act with due care or attention in the matter and therefore does not act in good faith. RAM DHONE BHUTTACHARJEE v. ISHANEE DABEE, 2 W.R. 123.

(3)—Passing of money between parties—Test of bona fides.—The mere fact of the passing of money from one to another does not constitute such a transfer of interest as would indicate bona fides. BROJO LALL SANDYAL v. BHOBO SOONDUREE DEBIA CHOWDHRAIN 17 W.R. 499.

Bona fides—concluded.

(4)—Mortgage deed—Attestation by Registrar—Proof by witnesses.—A finding that a mortgage-deed has been attested by the Registrar of Deeds, and proved by witnesses, is sufficient to prove the bona fides of the deed. MOORUL SINGH v. MOHUN KOER, 9 W.R. 167.

(5)—Motion not bona fide—Effect.—Where a motion is not bona fide, the party moving cannot benefit by the Court's action upon it. BHAROTEE DEBEA v. KURROONA MOYEE DASSIA, 10 W.R. 229.

(6)—Condition in bond for money lent—Right of suit.—An agreement to put a party in possession of certain lands if default be made in the payment of money lent does not preclude that party from suing for the money lent if he elect to do so. ANNASAMI v. NARAYANEN, 2 Ind. Jur. O.S. 12.

Bond.

See INSTALMENT BOND.

(1)—Contract — Bond —Agreement to relinquish portion of claim on payment of certain sum within specified time—Right to claim entire amount due under bond on obligor failing to fulfil condition.—Where it was admitted that the full sum specified in a bond was actually due, the fact of the obligee having, on condition of the payment of half the amount by a certain day, agreed to remit his claim for the other half, could not affect his right to recover the entire sum due on the defendant failing to fulfil the condition. VENGAPPAIYAN v. RAJAPAIYAN, 1 M.H.C. 208.

(2)—Lease from obligor after execution of bond—Collateral security—Right of suit.—Where, subsequent to the execution of a bond, plaintiff takes from the obligor an ijara and a durijara, and executes ijara-kubooleuts, agreeing to accept payment of the bond by setting off the rents due on the kubooleuts, and arranging that at the end of the term of the ijara, accounts should be settled, neither party being free to put an end to the lease; Held that, till the termination of the lease, plaintiff cannot sue on the bond. DYA CHAND OSWAL v. MOOKTEDA DABEE, 13 W.R. 24.

(3)—Bond-debt—Suit by representatives of original bond-holder—Limitation.—In a suit to recover a sum of money alleged to be due on a bond, and brought by the representatives of the original bond-holder against a party to whom the obligor's estate has descended by inheritance, held that the plaintiff's right of suit first arose from the time when the debt became due under the terms of the bond. RAJKRISTO SINGH BAHADOOR v. HURO SOONDUREE CHOWDHRAIN, 13 W.R. 313.

(4)—Bond—Operation suspended until dishonour of hundi—Effect on nature of instrument.—An instrument, which is in the nature of a bond, is not the less a bond because it does not come into operation unless and until the hundi, in respect to which it is passed, has been dishonoured. In a suit on a hundi for the recovery of money, plaintiff claimed interest at a certain rate on the amount of the hundi, and produced in support of the claim for interest, an unstamped document which was a receipt passed by the defendant and containing an agreement on his part to pay interest at a certain specified rate. The Court held that this document was in the nature of a bond and required to be stamped as such before it could be admitted in evidence. LAKSHMANDAS v. RAMBHAU, 20 B. 791.

Bond—continued.

(5)—Bond—Denial of execution by defendant—Suit before specified time—Where a defendant denies the execution of a bond, and plaintiff sues for payment before the specified time, the suit cannot be maintained. SUJEEWUN SINGH v. RUNPAL SINGH, 10 W.R. 351.

(6)—Obligor fraudulently withholding delivery of bond after receipt of money—Obligee's right to sue for refund of money.—If an obligor fraudulently withholds delivery of a bond which has been executed within a reasonable time after receipt of the money, the obligee has a right to sue for the return of the money before the time fixed for payment. SREEMUTTEE PEAREE MONEE DOSSEE v. THAKOOR DOSS DUTT, 21 W.R. 443.

(7)—Suit by obligee against some persons jointly liable to him—Bond taken from other persons liable for share due by them—Effect of such bond on joint liability and on right to contribution inter se.—Where an obligee sues some of the persons jointly liable to him under a bond, and takes another bond from the rest for what he considers to be their share of the debt, he does not discharge the latter from their liability to contribute according to the shares in which they are liable among themselves, nor does his transaction with them (they not being sureties) destroy the joint liability. SHUSHEE MOHUN PAL CHOWDHRY v. RAM KOOMAR KOONDOO, 22 W.R. 193.

(8)—Money raised on bond paid for debt due by stranger—Liability of stranger to person executing bond.—The fact that the money raised on a bond is used to pay a debt due by a third party does not make the latter liable to the party who executed the bond, unless this party joined in the bond at the request of the third party or of some one acting under his authority. GOUR KISHORE DUTT CHOWDHRY v. OZEER ALI, 24 W.R. 99.

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 268, 274—Sale of mortgagee's interest in a hypothecation-bond.—Where the interest of the mortgagee in a hypothecation-bond, by which certain land was made security for the debt, was attached under s. 274, Code of Civil Procedure and sold, the fact that the bond was not also attached as a debt under s. 268 is no bar to a suit by the purchaser of the bond. SAMI v. KRISHNASAMI, 10 M. 169.

Bond—continued.

(10)—Hypothecation-bond fraudulently altered—Suit to enforce lien.—Where the obligee of a hypothecation-bond fraudulently made a material alteration in it by increasing the extent of the property hypothecated, a suit brought by him for the recovery of the money due on such bond by sale of the increased extent of land, was held liable to be dismissed in the form in which it was brought, inasmuch as the bond on which he based his suit had to be rejected, being a forgery, and it was unnecessary to consider in such suit whether he was entitled to any and what relief as regards his claim for money. GANGA RAM v. CHANDAN SINGH, 4 A. 62. [Appr., 35 P.L.R. 1901; Cons., 9 M. 399, F.B., 25 A. 580, F. B.= A.W.N. 1893, 122.]

(11)—Presumption of payment of bond—Parties between whom presumption is raised.—The general presumption of payment of a bond, arising from its possession by the obligor, has much less force when raised between the debtor and the purchaser of the debt at an execution-sale, than when raised between the original creditor and the debtor. DEBENDRA KUMAR MANDEL v. RUP LAL DASS, 12 C. 646.

(12)—Stipulation in bond—Payment—Evidence.—The stipulation in a bond that payments are to be evidenced only by an endorsement on the back of it or by receipt, is objectionable and ought not to be enforced: and the Court may receive oral evidence to prove payments which are not so evidenced by endorsement or receipt. NARAYAN UNDIR PATIL v. MOTILAL RAMDAS, 1 B. 46. (5 M.H.C. 451, Bom. Sp. Ap. 438 of 1872, 1 N. W. P. 146, Appr.) [F., 3 M.L.J. 9, 3 Ind. Cas. 291.]

(13)—Contract—Execution of bond under misapprehension—Failure of consideration—Suit on bond—Maintainability.—The plaintiff sued on a bond for Rs. 67,000 obtained from the defendant, a zemindar, in the following manner. In July, 1864, the late Zemindar died leaving three widows but no issue, and, in September 1864, the Government, with the consent of the widows, recognized the defendant, who was then a minor, as successor to his step-brother, the deceased Zemindar. The widows afterwards became dissatisfied and, in December 1866, executed a bond in plaintiff's favour, by the terms of which they bound themselves to prefer suits and claims with a view to obtain possession of the Zemindari on their own account by ousting the minor, and the terms upon which they agreed to take this action were these:—The plaintiff was to conduct the suit entirely at his own expense and, as soon as the Zemindari should be handed over to the widows, they were to pay the plaintiff one lac of rupees out of the income of the estate as a reward for his pecuniary and other services in assisting them to obtain it; together with a moiety of the savings which the Court of Wards might have effected during the management of the estate, which estate the plaintiff was moreover to keep under his own management, by appointing an agent to superintend it, until the widows should have redeemed it by the payment of the lac of rupees promised ; failing in which, the widows bound themselves and heirs to make a lump payment out of their own funds to the plaintiff of one lac of rupees with interest, together with a moiety of the Court of Wards' savings. Accordingly, in September 1868, the plaintiff brought a suit in the name of the senior widow against the Collector for the Zamindari, and, the minor, on attaining majority, was made the second defendant in the suit by the plaintiff. Before the day fixed for the final hearing of the suit, the widow proposed a compromise with the second defendant on the terms that the widows should have three villages and that the second defendant should settle the present plaintiff's "small" account. A razinama to this effect was drawn up and the young Zamindar (second defendant) was persuaded, by threats of ruining him with litigation, if he did not comply, to sign it, and to give a note of hand for Rs. 62.000. The razinama was on presentation rejected by the Court, the suit proceeded to judgment and decree, and, at the time the present suit was brought, was under appeal. The Civil Judge found that the bond was obtained under undue influence and by threats, and that the defendant received no consideration for it. The suit was accordingly dismissed. Held, on appeal, that, without dissenting from the judgment below on the ground of vicious grounds of determination of the defendant's will, the judgment of the Court might be put on different grounds ; that the contract was made with the woman ; that there was a promise to pay this sum to the plaintiff whom she believed to be her creditor ; that, in pursuance of that arrangement, the document was given. The cause of giving it was the compromise of the suit. That cause had wholly failed. It was a case therefore of suing for the money which, if it had been paid, the defendant could have recovered (Ob causam datorum). CHIDAMBARAM CHETTI v. MUTHUVIRA PUCHAYA NAIKAR, 7 M.H.C. 85, affirmed on appeal, 13 B.L.R. 509, P.C. = 22 W.R. 148 = 1 I.A. 241.

Bond—continued.

(14)—Presumption—Bills of exchange—Mortgage-bond — Novation — Collateral security.—Where a person, who is indebted on certain bills of exchange accepted by him, gives a bond for securing payment of the whole amount with interest, by instalments, the fact that the bills were not to be given back until all the instalments should be paid, raises a presumption that the bond was only intended to be a collateral security, and not a substitution for the obligation arising from the bills of exchange. Such a presumption may be impliedly rebutted by other circumstances. RADHA GOBIND SHAHA v. THE BANK OF BENGAL, 2 C.L.R. 565. (Weston v. Foster, 2 Bing. N.C. 693. Cited.) due under a decree by monthly instalments, each monthly instalment, becomes a separate cause of action, and limitation applies to each instalment separately. Where a decree-holder, after taking out execution, accepted from his judgment-debtor an instalment-bond covenanting to pay a fixed sum monthly for a certain period and providing that, if within that period two consecutive instalments remained unpaid, the judgment-creditor should have power to call for payment of the whole amount due under the bond, and to proceed against any of the debtor's property in satisfaction, held that, on the judgment-debtor's failure to pay five consecutive instalments, it was not imperative on the decree-holder to sell them up at once ; but he might, if he chose, receive payment month by month, and that non-payment of instalments was a constantly recurring cause of action, operative within a limit of three years. MUSSAMAT KHEDU v. KALU SAHU, 3 B.L.R. App. 112 = 12 W.R. 71.

(15)—Instalment-bond—Suit for realization of money under decree—Limitation.—Where an agreement is entered into to pay off money

Bond—continued.

(16)—Limitation Act, XIV of 1859, s. 1, cls. 10, 16—Simple bond payable by instalments—Covenant to pay entire sum on default in payment of single instalment—Accrual of cause of action.—Where a simple bond payable by instalments contained a condition that, on default in the payment of a single instalment, the whole principal sum secured by the bond immediately became due and recoverable with interest, the cause of action for a suit upon the bond arose at the time of failure to pay the first instalment, and the suit was governed by cl. 16 and not by cl. 10 of s. 1 of Act XIV of 1859. KARUPPANNA NAYAK v. NALLAMMA NAYAK, 1 M.H.C. 209.

(17)—Bond for payment by instalments—Default—Suit—Limitation.—Quære, whether a suit on a bond for payment by instalments, with a clause making the whole amount payable on default in payment of any instalments, must be instituted within 3 years from the time of the first default. Payments made and accepted afterwards may operate to waive the effect of a default, and to restore the provision for payment by instalments. HULLODHUR BENGAL v. M.R.C.S. HOGG, 1 W.R. 189. [F., 5 W.R. 45.]

(18)—Payments by debtor under an instalment-bond—Appropriation by creditor — Cause of action—Endorsement without signature—Valid.—Where there is nothing to show that a payment made by a debtor is for any particular instalment under on a bond executed to his creditor or that it is to be credited for any particular part of the general debt, it is open to his creditor to credit such payments made by him (debtor) in one year to a previous year. Such a payment is an acknowledgment sufficient to give the obligee his cause of action. An endorsement without signature cannot be deemed a written engagement which could be registered within the meaning of cl. 10, s. 1, Act XIV of 1859. SHUNBOO CHUNDER SHAHA v. BARODA SOONDEREE DEBEA, 5 W.R. 45.

Bond—continued.

(19)—Instalment-bond given for decree-amount—Suit on bond.—On the 4th August, 1864, A obtained a decree for money, without interest, against nine persons. In execution of the decree, seven out of the nine judgment-debtors filed an instalment-bond, with A's consent. The decree-holder not having taken proper steps, the application for execution was struck off on the 5th July, 1867, the date on which the instalment-bond was filed. On the 27th June, 1870, the decree-holder A again put in an application for execution and the application was dismissed as barred by time. In a suit brought by A for the recovery of the amount due on the instalment-bond against seven of the judgment-debtors who were parties to it, held that the suit was maintainable. ASHIAHARI CHOWDHRY v. JAGESWAR KUMAR, 6 B L.R. App. 32=14 W R. 430.

(20)—Bond payalle in instalments—Election—Limitation.—In a suit brought in 1873, for principal and interest due on a bond executed in 1850, by which the debt was payable by eight annual instalments, on failure of any one of which the whole amount was to be payable on demand, where it appeared that no instalment was paid, and the plea of the defence was that the suit was barred as three years had elapsed from the date on which the last instalment became due, held that the usual clause, that on failure to pay one instalment the whole amount shall be payable on demand, gave a mere election to plaintiff by his act of converting the obligation into a different one; that that election was never exercised, and that the document continued one securing the payment of a debt by instalments as to all of which the action had long been barred; and that it was unnecessary, therefore, to consider whether, in the present case, "on demand" must not be construed according to its meaning at the period at which the words were written. ETHAMUKALA SUBBAMMAH v. RAGIAH, 7 M.H.C. 293.

(21)—Instalment-bond—Whole amount becoming due on default in one instalment—Acceptance after default—Waiver of condition.—When a sum of money is payable under a bond by instalments with a condition that, on default in paying one instalment, the whole amount shall then become due, and default is made, but the obligee subsequently accepts payment of one or more sums as an instalment or instalments due under the bond, such acceptance amounts to a waiver of a condition of forfeiture and puts an end to the cause of action which had accrued, so that the bond is set up again as a bond payable by instalments, and no cause of action under the condition arises until some fresh default is made in the payment of a subsequent instalment. SRI RAJA PAPAMMA ROW GARU v. TOLETI VENKAIYA, 5 M H.C. 198. [Appr., 12 M. 192; R., 3 M. 61, 20 B. 109.]

(22)—Condition of payment by instalments—Default—Penalty.—Where, after default in payment of an instalment upon a bond conditioned that upon such a default the whole amount of the bond should become due, the acceptance on the part of plaintiff, of payment of such instalment, as also of several subsequent ones: reverted the parties to the old arrangement for payment by instalments, or made a new one to the same effect, and that the penalty occasioned by the first default could not be enforced. GYAE CHUND v. JAWAHUR, 2 N.W.P. 83. [F., 5 A. 289.]

(23)—Act XX of 1866, s. 53—Procedure—Jurisdiction.—The obligee of a bond specially registered is entitled, on production of the obligation and agreement, to a decree for the amount due, and the Court has no jurisdiction to alter the terms of the deed, e.g., to declare that such amount shall be paid by instalments instead of all at once. KHETTRA MOHAN BABOO v. RASHBEHARI BABOO, 5 B.L.R. 167 =13 W.R. 252.

(24)—Bond payable by instalments—Stipulation to pay double the amount of debt in default of any instalment—Penalty.—A stipulation in an instalment-bond by which, on default of payment of any one instalment, double the entire amount of the debt is to become payable at once, is in the nature of a penalty. JOSHI KALIDAS v. KOLE DADA ABHESANG, 12 B. 555.

(25)—Bond—Registration—Evidence.—The mere circumstances of a bond not being registered is not sufficient by itself to counterbalance the evidence if it is generally satisfactory in proof of the validity of the bond. GANGA PRASAD v. MAWJI LAL, 9 B.L.R. 426, P.C.= 16 W.R. 30.

(26)—Agreement by plaintiff to advance moneys to defendant to recover defendant's property by litigation—Untrue recital of cash payment in bond—Right to recover money actually advanced—Rate of interest.—Where it was found that the consideration for the bond in question was not paid to the defendant in cash, but that monies were advanced by plaintiff to various persons on behalf of the defendant to recover the defendant's property by litigation, held, that plaintiff was entitled to recover the amounts actually advanced for and on behalf of the defendant; and that, as the recital of cash payment made in the bond was untrue, the plaintiff is not entitled to recover the higher rate of interest provided therein in case of default of payment of principal and interest. MEENAKSI AYEE v. ANDI NADAN, 10 M.L.T. 18.

(27)—Endorsement on bond 'the balance due should be paid into the hands of my son'—Whether can be treated as assignment of bond—Assignee's right of suit.—An endorsement on a bond "that the balance due should be paid into the hands of my son" operates as an assignment, so as to entitle the assignee to sue thereon. SAMINATHA PILLAI v. DORASWAMY NAICK, 1 Ind. Cas. 212. (30 M. 75=1 M.L.T. 813=16 M.L.J. 564, F.)

Bond—continued.

(28)—Suit for money on bond praying for decree for sale of mortgaged property—Suit filed three years after money became repayable—Limitation,—A suit for realization of money due on a bond by a decree for sale of the property mortgaged by the bond was held not barred, though brought later than three years from the time when the money became repayable and was not re-paid. MUSSAMUT CHOHARO DNAMIN v. CHUMUN LALL alias CHUMARI LALL, 21 W.R. 185.

(29)—Bond-suit—Plea of satisfaction from purchase money of property sold to plaintiff by defendant — Plaintiff impeaching sale as bad —Question as to nature of sale to be tried in suit.—Where in a suit on a bond, defendant answers that the amount should be satisfied out of the purchase-money of property sold to plaintiff, and the latter claims to avoid the sale as bad. Held that the Lower Courts are bound to try the question in this suit. MOHUN SENEE v. BAHADOOR SINGH, 18 W.R. 394.

(30)—Bond suit—Decision based on solehnamah whereby creditor obtained land in lieu of money —Nature of suit not changed—S. 27, Act XXIII of 1861.—Where the original suit was for money on a bond, the fact of its having been decided on a solehnamah by which the creditor obtained land in lieu of money does not change the nature of the suit with reference to s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861. TALUN BIBEE v. TENOO BIBEE, 15 W.R. 65.

(31)—Recital in bond—Burden of proof.—In a suit on a bond which recites the fact of due consideration having been paid at the time of execution, defendant denying the payment, defendant should prove his allegation. MANICK LALL BABOO v. RAM DOSS MOZOOMDAR, 10 W.R. 132=1 B.L.R.A.C. 92.

(32)—Creditor lending money on security—Principal and surety—Arrangement between.—A creditor lending money on a joint bond or on several bonds, exercising the right which he possesses to resort to all his security till the debt is re-paid, is not fettered by any arrangement between the principal and the surety or sureties as to the mode in which the principal shall indemnify the surety. NUFFUR CHUNDER MUNDUL v. KISTO CHYTUMRO MOJOOMDAR, 11 W R. 460.

(33)—Witnesses attesting signatures—Proof of bond.—Witnesses simply attesting their own signatures do not legally establish the identity of a bond. RUTTON CHAND BYSACK v. BOCHA BIBEE, 12 W.R. 529.

(34)—Suit for unpaid balance on bond—Plea of benami lease to third party—Bona fides of plaintiff's lease — Issue.—In a suit for a balance on a bound, where defendant's plea was that he had given plaintiff a lease in the name of a third party, held that it was a necessary issue whether the plaintiff was, or was not, to be bona fide lessee. SHEIKH MISRAOODDEEN MAHOMED alias JUROO MEAH v. SHEIKH NAEGLOAR HOSSEIN AND HEIKH ATTUR RUHUMUN. 2 W.R. 39.

Bond—continued.

(35)—Suit to recover a bond—Plaintiff being security for payment—Satisfaction by usufruct of farm—Recovery of bond.—Plaintiff sued to recover a bond. He was security for payment of the bond on hypothecation of usufruct of a farm; and as the bond (save a few rupees) had been satisfied by that usufruct, the plaintiff was held absolved from liability, and the bond was directed to be made over to him on payment of the balance due. KINNO SINGH v. AMEENOODDEEN MAHOMED CHOWDHRY, 1 W.R. 245.

(36)—Native date used in—Calculation according to Native calendar.—Where a bond, by which money lent was agreed to be re-paid within one year, bore a native date only, it was held that the year was to be calculated according to the native calendar of which the bond bore the date. LALJI VIJNATH v. RAVJI ABANI, 6 B H C.A.C. 186.

(37)—Instalments.—Suit upon a bond executed by the defendants to the plaintiff for the payment of a sum of money by instalments. The bond contained a proviso that on default being made in the payment of any one instalment the whole amount should become due. Default was made in the payment of several instalments, but subsequenty payments were made by the defendants and accepted by the plaintiff on account of the unpaid instalments. The defendants pleaded the law of limitation. The suit was brought more than three years after the first default in payment of an instalment had been made, but within three years from the time when, taking into account the payments that had been made, the first instalment claimed became due. Held that these payments as regards both parties must be considered as if made at the time fixed; that the defendants could not rely upon the stipulation as making the whole debt due, and fixing the period from which the time of limitation ran; and that the first of the instaments claimed having become due within three years, the suit was not barred. RAMAKRISHNA MAHADEV v. BAYAJI bin SANTAJT et al, 5 B.H. C.A.C. 35. [Overruled, 1 B. 125, F.B; Not F., 3 A. 514; F., 5 N.W.P. 35; R., 7 B.H.C. 125, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 908, 27 B. 1, F.B.=4 Bom. L.R. 688]

(38)—Stamp Act, s. 3, cl. 4 (b)—Document, Definition of.—A document is a bond which contains a promise to pay a certain sum on demand, not made payable to bearer or order, and in which the signature of the obligor is attested by a witness. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 49, 10 M. 158 F.B. [F., 13 M. 147; R., 3 P.L R. 1902.]

(39)—Stamp Act, s. 3—Bond.—A document which contains a promise to pay, on demand, a certain sum with interest and which bears the signature of the writer and some others as witnesses, is a bond, and liable to stamp duty as such. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 49, 13 M. 147, F.B.

(40)—Suit to recover principal and interest on two several bonds—Issues as to validity of bonds —Opening of, and founding decree upon settled amounts—Necessity for proof of consideration of bonds—Right of obligees and their representatives.—In a suit to recover the amount of principal and interest due upon two several bonds, one of which alone was forthcoming, the other being referred to and vouched by a note of hand of the obligor, the issues, settled and recorded by the Court below for trial were, first, whether the first bond was the deed of the deceased obligor, and secondly, whether the note of hand was under the seal of the obligor and if so, whether it was a valid acknowledgment of the debt claimed on the second bond, and up to what time and at what rate interest was due. The Court below, notwithstanding that the first bond actually proved purported to have been given on an account settled, allowed evidence of the accounts and dealings between the obligor and obligees previous to the execution of both bonds, and having referred the same to an Accountant, repudiated the bonds, but decreed the plaintiffs entitled to a considerable sum, with interest upon the account thus taken: Held, on appeal, by the Judicial Committee, that the Courts below had miscarried, first, in allowing the opening of and founding the decrees upon settled amounts, the only question upon the issues recorded for their judgment being the validity of both bonds, of which they were satisfied, and secondly, that from the frame of the issues, neither the obligees nor their representatives were bound to prove the consideration for the bonds, but were entitled to recover the whole principal and interest due thereon, which was decreed, and the decree of the Court below amended to that effect. SAHAH KOONDUN LALL v. RAJAH AMEER HUSSUN KHAN, 11 M.I A. 120=2 Sar. 239=R. & J's. No. 6 (Oudh).

Bond—continued.

(41)—Suit to set aside a bond—Burden of proof—Failure of consideration.—Suit to set aside a zur i-peshgi (usufructuary mortgage) of certain mouzahs, part of the Raj of the mortgagor, for securing re-payment of Rs. 49,453, under which the mortgagees had been put in possession. The plaintiff admitted his execution of the deed, but alleged that it was executed to secure the amount of a bond previously executed in favour of the mortgagees, as a further security, to indemnify a third party, and security for him for advances in the prosecution of his claim to the Raj; that the conditions of the bond to the mortgagees not having been complied with, there was no sufficient consideration for the bond and deed which he had been fraudulently induced to execute. Held, that, in the first instance, it lay on the plaintiff, who sought to set aside a deed executed by him and perfected by possession, to make out the case alleged by him, and that the onus probandi was upon him to establish, at least, a good prima facie title to the relief prayed for, so as to cast on the defendants the burthen of proving the consideration for the deed. In the absence of clear and consistent evidence on the plaintiff's part, establishing that the deed was obtained fraudulently and without consideration, such deed sustained. KALEEPERSHAD TEWARREE v. RAJAH SAHIB PERHLAD SEIN, 12 W.R. 6, P.C.=2 B.L.R. 111, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 282=2 Suther. 225=2 Sar. 429.

(42)—Bond—Obligee altering endorsement of payment—Effect.—Held, that the ruling in Sheodin v. Ganeshi Lal (N.W.P.S. D. A. Rep., 1859, 73) did not apply to a case where the endorsements of payments in satisfaction of the bond and not the terms of the bond itself, were found to have been altered by the obligee. In the present case, the bond itself was admitted and the defendant confessed his liability for a certain amount. The lower appellate Court was, therefore, wrong in dismissing the suit in toto. KALLU MAL v. KALLU, A.W.N. 1881, 119.

(43)—Bond—Non-production of original—Allegation of part-payment—Burden of proof—Right to begin.—The plaintiff sued upon the copy of a bond for Rs. 1,200. He alleged as to the non-production of the original document that the original obligor and obligee were both dead; that he by adoption represented the latter and the defendants where the heirs of the former; that the defendants had colluded with the widow of the deceased son of the obligee who was in possession of the bond, and refused to give it up. The defendants admitted execution of the bond, but pleaded that the original obligor had made four part-payments amounting in all to Rs. 1,084 which were endorsed upon the bond, and that this was the reason of the non-production of the bond by the plaintiff. The lower appellate Court held that the plaintiff must either produce the bond or prove that it was lost, before he could be allowed to sue on a copy, and as he had done neither, dismissed the suit. Held, on second appeal, that the bond being admitted, there was no obligation on the plaintiff primarily to produce it; on the contrary, it was for the purposes of the defendant's case that the production was required, in order, by the alleged endorsements on the back of it, to prove the payment said to have been made by the original obligee, and that the non-production of the bond by the plaintiff was not in itself, a sufficient ground for summarily dismissing the suit to the exclusion of the consideration of the case on the merits. Even if the allegations of the defendants were true, the plaintiff was entitled to the balance due after crediting the defendants with the four payments set up by them. KARORI MAL v. GHULAM AKHBAR, A.W.N. 1884, 78.

(44)—General hypothecation of moveable and immoveable property, not a mortgage.—A bond which does not specify the property alleged to be hypothecated, but merely engages that the debt may be realised from the moveable and immoveable property of the debtor cannot operate as a mortgage. MAHAMADGU v. JAI RAM, 74 P.R. 1878.

(45)—Bond-paper, whether obligor has a righ of property in—Obligor entitled to cancellation o

Bond—continued.

the bond.—The obligor of a bond has not a right of property in the bond-paper and cannot on payment of the debt recover the document from the obligee. But to prevent fraud the obligor may be entitled to have the bond cancelled. MIRAJDEEN v. MAHOMED BUKSH, 8 P.R. 1869. [F, 69 P.R. 1886.]

(46)—Bond payable within one year.—Where defendant executed a registered bond on 15th March 1873 by which he agreed to re-pay the loan within one year and plaintiff sued on the bond on the 14th March, 1874, it was held that limitation ran from the end of the year and that the suit was within time. SHER JANG v. PARTAB SINGH, 79 P.R. 1875.

(47)—Bond payable within 6 months, on condition of not being paid by another.—Defendant executed a bond to plaintiff on the 29th April 1869, on condition of plaintiffs releasing S from arrest against whom plaintiff had a decree and the bond was payable within 6 months, if S did not pay in the meantime. Plaintiff brought a suit on the bond on the 5th May, 1873, contending that there was litigation between himself and S till 26th October, 1871, in respect of execution of decree and time should run from that date. Held that the suit should have been brought within 3 years after the expiry of the six months. BHAI SAWAYA SINGH v. HIRA NAND, 58 P.R. 1874.

(48)—Bond payable on demand.—When a bond is payable on demand, limitation runs from the date of demand, and not from the execution of the bond. The first and only demand may be with the suit or suit itself. JIWAN SINGH v. ANWAR KHAN, 26 P.R. 1873.

(49)—Bond payable by instalments—Judicial Commissioner's Circular No. 83 of 1859.—Where a bond was payable by instalments and there was no condition that default in the payment of one instalment should entitle plaintiff to sue for the whole, held (overruling circular mentioned above) that the plaintiff's cause of action in respect of each instalment arose on the date on which each became due and not from the date of the bond. RAM DASS v. MOHUR SINGH, 64 P.R. 1869.

(50)—S. 257-A—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Bond in satisfaction decree—Effect.—A bond executed in satisfaction of a decree will be the basis of a fresh suit, though satisfaction of the said decree was not certified. SUKHU RAM v. UMED, 16 P.R. 1900=20 P.L.R. 1900. (16 C. 504, 15 B. 419, 17 M. 382, F.) [R. 29 P.R. 1908=71 P.W.R. 1907=61 P.L.R. 1907; D. 88 P.R. 1904; Overruled, 61 P.L.R. 1907, F.B.]

Suit upon—Place of execution of document to be distinctly stated—See ACT XXIII OF 1861, s. 4, 7 M.H.C. App. 34.

Kistbandi or instalment — for arrears of rent, suit on, not one for rent but for money due under the contract—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 65, 4 C.L.J. 219=33 C. 985.

Bond—continued.

Recital as to receipt of consideration—Onus —See BURDEN OF PROOF—DOCUMENTS RELATING TO LOANS, SUITS, 4 B.L.R. F.B. 54=12 W.R. 25.

See BURDEN OF PROOF—DOCUMENTS RELATING TO LOANS, SUITS, 4 C.W.N. 82, P.C., 80 P.R. 1868.

Alteration of—When is said to be material so as to vitiate it—See CONTRACT—ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, 3 C.L.J. 363=10 C.W.N. 788 =33 C. 812.

See CONTRACT—ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, A.W.N. 1885, 269.

Money—Payment of debt by ijarah lease—Reduction of principal—See CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACTS. 2 C.L.R. 138.

Balance of account struck—Promise to pay interest—Bond—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 25 (3), 135 P.W.R. 1910.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872 s. 74, A.W.N. 1884, 280.

See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY DEEDS, 8 W.R. 316.

Suit for principal and interest under—Assignment of rent due to obligor in lieu of interest, interest not claimable by obligee—See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 9 A. 249=A.W.N. 1887, 27.

Partner signing, signed for himself and as agent of another partner, admissibility of oral evidence as to whether—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 91, 92, 18 M.L.J. 1=3 M.L.T. 259=31 M. 45.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 114, 22 W.R. 265.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 18 W.R. 121.

Payable in instalments—Default—Waiver —Election—See INSTALMENTS, 3 M. 61.

See INTEREST—STIPULATION IN THE NATURE OF PENALTY, 3 A. 260, F.B.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 20, 5 N.W.P. 35.

Payable by instalments — Default — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 75, 3 A.L.J. 463 =A.W.N. 1906, 193.

See PRESUMPTION, 25 A. 155=A.W.N. 1902, 216.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1866, ss. 52, 53, 2 B.L.R. O.C. 151=11 W.R. O.C. 24.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 49, 9 W. R. 111.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 50, N.W. P. 37.

New bond in cancellation of old bonds—Registration refused—Suit on original bonds—Novation — See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 77, A.W.N. 181, 98.

Bond—concluded.

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 5 A. 591=A.W.N. 1883, 142.

Agreement with covenant sounding in damages is not a—See STAMP, 8 C. 284=10 C.L.R. 319.

See STAMP, 82 P.R. 1870.

See STAMP ACT, 1862, art. 10, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 203.

Debt—Containing distinct agreement, stamp duty chargeable on—See STAMP ACT, 1869, s. 14, sch. II, art. 11, 4 B. 19.

Written partly on one and partly on another stamp paper—Admissibility in evidence—Stamp duty and penalty—See STAMP ACT, 1869, s. 49, 7 M.H.C. App. 36.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, 8 B. 297. F.B.

Instrument evidencing a loan of grain—See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 3 (4) (b), 7 B. 137.

Agreement with a penal clause—for amount of penalty — See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 7, sch. I, No. 5 (c), 2 A. 654, F.B.

For re-payment of double the amount borrowed—See STAMP ACT, 1879, s. 23, 26 C. 179.

See STAMP ACT, 1879, sch. I, art. 11, 8 M. 87, F.B.

See STAMP ACT, 1899, s. 2 (22), 3 P.L.R. 1902=14 P.R. 1902, F.B.

See STAMP ACT, 1899, s. 2 (5) (b), 6 Bom. L.R. 841=29 B. 82.

Bond-debt.

See BEN. REG. XV OF 1793, 8 B.L.R. 110, P.C.

Bonus.

Attachment of.—A bonus granted by Government is not a pension and if proceedings in execution had commenced prior to 1st June, 1882, the bonus is attachable. KHASIM v. CARLIER, 5 M. 272. [R., 30 M. 153=2 M.L.T. 33.]

Books.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS. 15 M. 241.

Books of Account.

Of a Corporation, a share-holder has no unlimited right to inspect—See CORPORATION, 10 Bom. L.R. 636=12 C.W.N. 825=32 B. 466, reversing on appeal, 9 Bom. L.R. 165.

Books of Science.

—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 57, 60 — Science, Evidence of books of —Under the provisions of the penultimate paragraph of s. 57 and the first proviso of s. 60 of the Evidence Act, Taylor's Medical Jurisprudence may be referred to. HATIM, 12 C.L.R. 86.

Books, Press, Registration of, Act.

See ACT XXV OF 1867.

Books regularly kept in course of business.

See EVIDENCE—ACCOUNTS AND ACCOUNT BOOKS, 4 B. 576.

Bottomry Bond.

(1)—Priority of shipmaster's lien to that of bottomry-bond holder.—A master of a ship has a lien, on the proceeds of a sale of ship, for wages due to him at the time of the sale, prior to that of a bottomry-bond holder. In the matter of THE SHIP "PORTUGAL," 5 B.L.R. 238.

(2)—Ordinary bottomry-bond by shipmaster—Suit on bond against shipowner—Judge of Moulmein, Jurisdiction of Court of—Admiralty jurisdiction—Vesssel, Liability of.—A suit will not lie on an ordinary bottomry-bond given by the master of a vessel against the owner to recover the amount thereof. Such a suit cannot be brought in the Court of the Judge of the town of Moulmein, which has no admiralty jurisdiction, against the owner personally; and the vessel cannot be declared to be primarily liable or be sold8to satisfy the amound of the bond. GLADSTONE WYLLIE & CO. v. J.W. HARRISON, 24 W.R. 50.

(3)—Hypothication of vessel—Covenant to pay—Uncertainty of agreement—Right to enhanced interest — Construction. — Suit on a bond hypothecating a vessel. The material portion of the bond was as follows:—"You have no connection with the security or seaworthiness (yogyam) of the said ship up to the above stipulated time. If the money is not paid in the said stipulated time, we shall add vattam at Rs. 20 per cent. per annum on the amount of principal and interest accruing on that date, adding vattam once in twelve months until date of payment after the said stipulated time on the hypothecation-security (adamana yogyam) of the said ship, and shall get back this mortgage bond." Default was made in payment on the due date, and the vessel foundered in port sometime after. Held, that the document was not a bottomry-bond. Plaintiff was not entitled to interest at the enhanced rate inasmuch as the portion of the instrument dealing with it was void for uncertainty. ASAN KUTHU SAHIB MERCOYAR v. RAMANATHAN CHETTI, 22 M. 26=8 M.L.J. 159. [R., 25 M. 561.]

(4)—Advance for repair of ship—Master's lien for wages—Priority.—A, the agent for a ship in port at Bombay, lent the master money on a bond, in the nature of a bottomry-bond, which he obtained from the master under pressure of necessity. It appeared that A, at the time of the making of the bond, had funds of his principal's in hand. Held that the master's lien for wages has priority over the bond-holder. In the matter of the "GOOD SUCCESS" MACQUEEN v. FUZZUL MAHOMED ESSAN, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 303.

See JURISDICTION — ADMIRALTY AND VICE ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION, 5 B.H.C. O.C. 64.

Bottomry Bond—concluded.

Ship—Maritime lien—Master's lien for wages and disbursements—Towage—Priority of lien—See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION, 6 B.L.R. 323.

Bought and Sold Notes.

(1)—Bought and sold notes.—Bought and sold notes together may form the contract in accordance with the custom of merchants in Calcutta. So parol evidence was not admissible to vary or add to the terms of the contract which had been thus reduced to writing. JADU RAI v. BHUBOTARAN NANDY, 17 C. 173.

(2)—English law—Brokers' notes—Evidence—Bought and sold notes.—Brokers' notes, as a memorandum, may satisfy the Statute of Frauds, but not exclude parol evidence. Bought and sold notes, unobjected to, may be evidence of the contract, but they do not necessarily constitute the whole contract. JUMNA DOSS v. SRINATH ROY, 17 C. 176, Note.

Of sale of goods—Parol evidence—Fraud—See CONTRACT—GENERAL, 31 C. 614, P.C. =31 I.A. 122=8 C.W.N. 489=6 Bom. L.R. 498=14 M.L.J. 196.

See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 20 C. 854. 3 M.I.A. 448.

Broker's—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, Bourke, O.C. 254, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 221.

See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 9 B.L.R. 245=16 W.R. 414.

See SHARES, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 393.

Boundaries Act.

See ACT I OF 1847.

Boundaries Act, Burma.

See BUR. ACT V OF 1880.

Boundary.

(1)—Suit by lessee to recover land from neighbour—Both lessees deriving under one zemindar—Survey—Question in suit.—In a suit by the lessee of a mouzah to recover land from a lessee of an adjoining mouzah, both making title under one zamindar, and where a survey took place when both mouzahs were in his possession and, neither of the leases, was in existence: Held that the suit involved simply a question of boundary. AMEREE BEGUM v. GOBIND PANDEY, 15 W.R. 35.

(2)—Decree directing boundary pillars to be erected per khusrah—Reference to other similar decrees in construction.—Where a Court finds it very difficult to execute a decree, declaring decree-holder entitled to erect boundary pillars according to a certain khusrah, it is not precluded from taking into consideration other decrees between the same parties in explanation and support of its views as to what the khusrah boundaries were. MAHARAJAH RA-

Boundary—continued.

JENDRO KISHORE SINGH BAHADOOR v. HYABUL SINGH, 17 W.R. 379.

(3)—Description of property by boundaries.—Where a whole estate, bearing a name, is sued for, it need not be described by boundaries. RAMDYAL KHAN v. AJOODHIA RAM KHAN, 2 C.1=25 W.R. 425.

(4)—No claim for declaration of title or for possession—Maintainability of suit—Suit for removal of boundary marks.—This was a suit for the removal of certain boundary marks whereby the plaintiff alleged "hundreds of bighas of land owned and possessed by him and included in his zemindair land passed into the village of the defendant." Held that the suit was brought was unsustainable, seeing that the plaintiff cannot sue for the removal of the pillars without asking for a declaration of right and for maintenance of possession. THAKURI RAI v. MUHAMMAD SAYYID, A.W.N. 1884, 4.

(5)—Sale of land—Land to pass according to—Where land is described in a document by boundaries and the area is wrongly specified, the land within the boundaries will pass whether it be less or more than the quantity specified. BHAYALAL v. DWARKA PERSHAD, 15 C.P.L. R. 163. (15 W.R. 394, 16 W.R.P.C. 5, 18 W. R. 25, R.)

(6)—Survey map—Limits of permanently settled estate.—The Revenue authorities cannot go behind a survey map and question the boundaries of a permanently settled estate as fixed therein. SARAT SUNDARI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 11 C. 784. [R., 30 C. 291.]

(7)—Decree for possession—Boundary.—Where a decree directed that plaintiff should obtain possession of land according to the boundaries given in the plaint, and also specified the quantities of land of which he was to obtain possession, and it turned out that those quantities were not strictly accurate, it was held that the decree should be interpreted as if it were a conveyance of land, stating the boundaries, and then saying that it contains so many acres; and that the plaintiff was entitled to all the land contained within the boundaries stated in the plaint, the mistake in the quantities stated in the decree being merely a false description. PAHALWAN SINGH v. MAHARAJA MUHESSUR BUKHSH SING BAHADUR, 9 B L.R. P.C 150= 16 W.R. 5, P.C.=2 Sar. 683=2 Suther. 442, 660.

(8—9)—Question of—Judicial Committee not interfering on questions of fact—Award of Revenue officers—Onus of proof.—In a question of boundary the Judicial Committee, the Court of last resort, is extremely reluctant to reverse the judgment of an Indian Court, and will not do so, unless they are, upon the facts and evidence, satisfied that the decision of the Court below was clearly wrong. There is a strong presumption against a plaintiff who seeks to set aside an award made by Government Officers on a revenue survey, after full local inquiry, for the purpose of obtaining a rectification of the boundaries between two estates, and the onus of proof that the award was wrong lies on the party impeaching it. RAJAH LEELANUND SINGH v. RAJAH MOHENDERNARAIN SINGH, 13 W.R. 7 P.C. = 13 M.I.A. 57 = 2 Sar. 482 = 2 Suther. 286.

Boundary—continued.

(10-11)—Disputed boundary-Claimant in possession under Magisterial order—Act IV of 1840—Onus of showing better title than that of person in possession.—In a case of disputed boundaries where one of the claimants is in possession by virtue of a Magistrate's order, under Act IV of 1840, it lies on the party seeking to oust him to show a better title to the land claimed than that of the party in possession, RAJAH BURODACANT ROY v. BABOO CHUNDEE COOMAR ROY, 11 W.R. 1, P.C. = 2 B L.R. 1. P.C. = 12 M.I.A. 145 = 2 Surther. 169 = 2 Sar. 402.

(12)—Suit relating to—Of land—Doubt as to identity of land Duty of Judge—Procedure to be followed—Inspection of land—Issuing commission under Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 392.—Witnesses to be called by Court under s. 171, Civ. Pro. Code. 1882.—In case of a boundary dispute, or when there is any doubt about the identity of the land in suit, the Judge should first insist on a good plan, then proceed to the land and require the parties and all witnesses, who will speak about the land, to attend on the spot, or, in some cases, he might issue a commission under s. 392, Civ. Pro. Code, for the local investigation. Proper procedure to be followed in such cases explained. PO GYI v. MAUNG PAW, 6 L. B. R. 1 = 2 Ind. Cas. 347.

(13-14)—Mokurari, pattah, construction of—Conflict between area and boundaries—It is only when the boundaries of a land can be ascertained with perfect certainty that an intention to convey all lands comprised within those boundaries can be inferred; if the boundaries are uncertain the intention should be taken to be to convey the specified quantity of land within those boundaries.—Held, upon a construction of the pattah in the case, that the dimension specified were an essential part of the description of the land conveyed and not a cumulative description of it which was to be governed by the boundaries; Held further that in the circumstances of the case the intention should be inferred to have been to pass the specified quantity of land only. KUMAR RAMESHAR MALIA v. RAM TARAK HAZRA, 14 C. W.N. 268 = 1 Ind. Cas. 650.

(15)—Onus of proof—Disputed boundary—waste and jungle land—Where the lands in question are waste and jungle lands and are situated on the borders of the taluks of the plaintiff and the defendant, and no party has been exercising any act of possession for more than twelve years before the suit: Held, that the ordinary rule regarding the onus incumbent on the plaintiff has no application, that the parties are in the position of counter-claimants, that it is the duty of the defendant, as much as of the plaintiff, to aid the Court in ascertaining the true boundary, and that it is necessary for the Court to take into consideration the evidence adduced by both sides. RADHA KANTA BASAK v. AKHOY CHUNDER DEY. 7 Ind Cas. 165. (21 C. 504. P.C. = 21 I.A. 39. Rel. on.)

Boundary—continued.

(16)—Thak or survey map—Presumption—Dried up bed of river—Isolation from river—Fishery right—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882) s. 13—Changed state—It cannot be presumed as a matter of law that the boundaries of an estate as shown on the thak or survey map are identical with the boundaries as they stood at the time of the Permanent Settlement; but it is open to the Court to presume, in the circumstances of a particular case, that the condition of the locality has not changed materially between the date of the Permanent Settlement and the time of the Revenue Survey. (30 C. 291 = 30 I.A. 44 = 7 C.W.N. 193 = 5 Bom. L.R. 1. R.) The dried up bed of a public navigable river, if not originally part of public domain, becomes private property so as to entitle the owner of the soil to all beels left therein completely isolated from the new course of the river. As the right of fishery, in ordinary course follows the title to the soil, a stranger cannot claim a right of fishery in an inland sheet of water, the bed whereof is in private ownership. The authorities on the subject of how far a right of fishery is affected by a change in the course of river, reviewed. SARAT CHANDRA SINGH v. KSHITIS CHANDRA ROY, 12 C.L.J. 216 = 7 Ind. Cas. 140.

(17)—Suit for possession by fixing boundaries—Court's power to issue commission—Confusion of boundaries—No equity shown by plaintiff.—The plaintiffs sued for recovery, from the defendants, of possession, by severance and demarcation, of a certain extent of land out of the area described in the plaint, allowing the defendants to retain possession of as much land thereout as they can possibly retain consistently with it. The plaintiff could not say himself where the boundary was. Nor did he make out a right in himself to come into Court and ask that the boundaries might be ascertained and possession given to him according to that ascertainment. It was found that, out of a definite plot of land, a certain extent was granted to the plaintiff's ancestor, and a larger extent to the defendant's predecessor-in-title, a long time ago; and it could not be ascertained what the standard of the measurement then was. Held, seeing that the litigants were independent proprietors, and it being impossible to regard them as individuals having such relations, the one to the other, as would entitle the Court to treat the whole and in their possession as a common fund capable of adjustment in the way the plaintiff claimed and finding that the plaintiff had not shown a sufficient equity in himself as against the defendant, no circumstances of fraud or confusion having been made out by the plaintiff, his suit was liable to dismissal. Under the circumstances, the Court could not grant any commission for fixing or adjusting the boundaries. KAVASJI v. HORMASJI, 29 B. 73=6 Bom. L.R. 782.

Boundary—continued.

(18)— Confusion of boundaries. — Where, owing to the negligence of the tenant, the land demised becomes confounded with other lands the tenant, unless he can ascertain the former is bound to make good to the landlord the quantity of the land to which the latter is entitled. ISMAIL KHAN MAHOMED v. L.P.D. BROUGHTON, 5 C.W.N. 846. (9 W.R. 94, 6 M. 263. R.)

(19)—Adjudication as to district boundaries—For settlement purposes — Effect — Commissioner's final order—Nature of—Civ. Pro. Code. 1859, s. 14.—An adjudication for the purposes of settlement and assessment is not authoritative as to civil jurisdiction or proprietary right. The final order of Commissioner of Revenue in respect of resumption, settlement or assessment, is not that of a competent authority within the meaning of s. 14 Act VIII of 1859. G. N. POGOSE v. THE COLLECTOR OF SYLHET, 12 W.R. 150. [R., 18 W.R, 274.]

(20)—Question of disputed boundaries—Onus —In a question of disputed boundaries between the permanently assessed mouzah of a neighbouring zemindar, adjoining the Sunderbuns, the Zemindar having taken a lease from Government of part of the lands as within the limits of the Sunderbuns but afterwards claimed by him as part of his mouzahs the onus upon him to identify the lands so claimed as forming part of his settled estate. RAJA BARODAKANT ROY v. THE COMMISSIONER OF THE SUNDERBUNS. 2 B.L.R. P.C. 33=12 M.I. A. 225=11 W.R. P.C. 14=2 Suther. 184=2 Sar. 413. [Reversed on appeal in 12. M I.A. 242.]

(21)—Suit for declaration of title to purchase lands—Plaintiff entitled to decision merits—Decision on grounds of expediency.—In a suit for a declaration of title purchased land lying between plaintiff's and defendant's houses, the plaintiff has a right to a decision as to his title, and it is not for the Courts to decide on grounds of expediency and convenience. AKA ALI MAHOMED v. FURZUND ALI KHAN, 24 W.R. 141.

(22)—Assessment by landlord—Liability of landlord to point out the lands.—Held that it is incumbent on a landlord, who wishes to assess the lands, to point them out by some definition or boundaries. HURRI MOHUN BANERJEE v. MAHARAJAH SUTIS CHUNDER ROY BAHADOOR, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 124.

(23)—Plaintiff and defendant purchasers from one vendor—Purchase in Collector's sale—Adjoining lands—Unascertained boundary—Right of suit.—Where plaintiff and defendant were in one sense purchasers from the same vendor, although acquiring their titles from sales by the Collector, and defendant was in possession of the original talook, together with the halabadee mehal belonging to the plaintiff, the latter was held entitled to demand as against the defendant an adjudication of a line of boundary. BRIJO MOHUN DOSS v. SHAMANAND SARMAH, 17 W. R. 26.

Boundary—continued.

(24)—Principle of proportion—Jumma.—Where the boundaries of separate talooks held by a tenant or copyholder are unsettled and confused they should be fixed, so that the produce of the land in each should be to the jumma payable thereon as the produce of the whole of the said lands is to the total of the jummas payable. KHEMAMOYEE v. SHUSHEE BHOOSUN GANGOOLY, 9 W.R. 94, [R., 5 C.W.N. 846.]

(25)—Boundary-suit—Previous decision of Privy Council—Subsequent appeal to same—Procedure—Power of Indian Courts—Fresh evidence—In a suit which was one of boundary and which had, after many years litigation, gone up before the Privy Council, held that the first thing to be found was what had then been decided by Privy Council, since no Indian Court could go behind such decision: that so much of the judgment of Calcutta Court as reopened what had been then settled must be set aside; but that fresh evidence on points not thus settled was entitled to consideration. THE COURT OF WARDS v. RAJA LEELANUND SINGH, 25 W.R. P.C. 157.

(26)—Boundary dispute, meaning of—Bom. Act I of 1865—Proper officer to decide dispute—Collector — Encroachment — Jurisdiction of mamlatdar and of Civil Courts—Collector's decision, evidence.—"Boundary dispute," as used in the Survey Act (Bombay Act I of 1865), means a contention between two neighbouring land-proprietors as to where a boundary line or boundary marks has or have been fixed by the Survey officers. After the functions of the latter officers have ceased in a district, the Collector, acting under Act III of 1846, is the proper officer to determine such a dispute, and fix the proper position of the boundary marks. But where a landholder claims to recover from a neighbouring holder land alleged to have been usurped or encroached upon by the latter, the person aggrieved must file his plaint in Court (which, in the case of a claim for mere possession, may be the Court of the Mamlatdar or the ordinary Civil Court), where the determination of the Collector as to the proper position, of the boundary line or marks (although it of itself confers or withdraws no right of possession) affords valuable evidence in adjudicating upon the rights of the parties. PITAMBER DHARI v. SAMBHAJIRAV, 8 B.H.C. A.C. 185. [R., 10 B. 456.]

(27)—Suit relating to disputed boundaries—Appellant's duty.—In suits relating to disputed boundaries, where the decision of the lower Court as to the ownership involves question of the correctness of surveys, maps, recorded description, and such other evidence, the appellant should do more than show points requiring explanation. He should be prepared to show in what respect the decision has been wrong in regard to the evidence, and what other course would be right. RAJKUMAR ROY v. GAVIND CHUNDER ROY, 19 C. 660, P.C. = 19 I.A. 140 = 6 Sar. 140.

Boundary—continued.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875, s. 40, 21 C. 935.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875, ss. 45, cl. (b), 62, 6 C. 453 = 7 C.L.R. 491.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875, s. 62, 13 C. 280.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 103, 19 C. 643.

Rent-suit—Plaint whether to contain exact extent and boundaries of lands—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 148, cl. (b), 5 C.W.N. 121.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 158, 17 C. 277.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1879, ss. 119, 121, 10 B. 456.

Dispute—Arbitration—Award—Ambiguity—Acceptance—See AWARD, 13 C.L.R. 26, P.C.

Dispute—See BURDEN OF PROOF—BOUNDARY, 21 C. 504, P.C. = 21 I.A. 39.

Privy Council—Procedure— Question as to —See BURDEN OF PROOF—BOUNDARY, 10 C. L.R. 169, P.C.

See BURDEN OF PROOF—LIMITATION AND ADVERSE POSSESSION, 2 Agra 177.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 W.R. 426.

See DECREE—DECREE, FORM OF, 4 C. 69.

Erroneous boundary — Acquiescence — Estoppel—Adoption of boundary in settlement of dispute—Effect—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 6 Ind. Cas. 467 = 12 C.L.J. 378.

Sale-deed — Construction — Property specified by boundaries—Area specified—Mistake—Intention — See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, A.W.N. 1883, 38.

Conveyance—Grant—Construction — Boundaries — Certain definition — Inaccuracy of dimensions—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 1 Ind. Cas. 650 = 14 C.W.N. 268.

See EVIDENCE—MAPS, 16 C. 186.

See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 9 W.R. 125.

Jungle land—Duty of Court to settle boundary, when evidence insufficient — See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 36, 11 C.W.N. 230 = 9 C. L.J. 415.

Boundary—concluded.

See GRANT—CONSTRUCTION, 22 A. 96 = A. W.N. 1899, 194.

Effect of boundaries being set forth in a deed —See LANDLORD AND TENANT—GENERAL; 13 C.W.N. 702 = 9 C.L.J. 585 = 2 Ind. Cas. 123.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TENANT TO KEEP HOLDING DISTINCT, 9 W.R. 94.

Not mentioned in plaint — See PLAINT—FORM AND CONTENTS OF PLAINT, 2 C.L.R. 134.

Description of property—Indistinctness of boundaries—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 26 — See PLAINT—FORM AND CONTENTS OF PLAINT, 1 Hay 555.

Jalkar lands—Onus probandi—Magistrate's award—Act XIV of 1840—See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION, 2 B.L.R.P.C. 1 = 12 M.I.A. 145 = 11 W.R. 1, P.C.

See RES JUDICATA — GENERAL, 19 C. 312, P.C. = 19 I.A. 69.

Quantity of land sold exactly described—Boundaries uncertain—Intention of parties—See SALE—GENERAL, 7 Ind. Cas. 574.

See SUNDERBANS, 2 B.L.R. P.C. 33 = 12 M.I.A. 225 = 11 W.R. 14.

See TITLE, 10 M.I.A. 47.

See WITNESS — SUMMONS TO AND ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES, 16 W.R. 109.

Boundary Dispute.

Power of the Collector to determine — See BOM. ACT V OF 1879, s. 121, 2 Bom. L. R. 1083 = 25 B. 312.

Decree of Civil Court defining such boundary —Magistrate, duty of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 145, 6 C.W.N. 161.

Boundary Marks Act.

See ACT XXVIII OF 1860.

Brahmos.

(1)—Marriage — A person having one wife cannot marry another.—A person having already a wife living is not competent, according to the tenets of the Progressive Brahmo faith, to contract a valid marriage with another woman. SONALUXMI v. VISHNUPRASAD, 6 Bom. L R. 58 = 28 B. 597.

(2)—Brahmos, whether Hindus—Unorthodox practice—Effect — Act V of 1881.—A Sikh or Hindu by becoming a Brahmo does not necessarily cease to belong to the community in which he was born. Lapses from orthodox practice in matters of diet and ceremonial observances cannot have the effect of excluding from the category of "Hindu" in Act V of 1881 one who was born within it, and who never became otherwise separated from the religious communion in which he was born. BHAGWAN KOER v. BOSE, 31 C. 111, P.C. = 30 I.A. 249 = 7 C.W.N. 895 = 5 Bom. L.R. 845 = 13 M. L.J. 381 = 84 P.R. 1903 = 135 P.L.R. 1903 = 8 Sar. 543.

Brahmos—concluded.

Son of a—Adopted by Hindu Widow—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 30 C. 999 = 7 C.W. N. 784.

See WILL—EXECUTION, P.L.R, 1900, p. 251.

Branches.

Right to cut branches over-hanging one's roof — Tree held sacred by neighbour's — Whether right affected—Injunction—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 24 A. 499 = A.W.N. 1902, 169.

Breach of Contract.

See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, 1 L.B.R. 21.

See DAMAGES—MEASURE AND ASSESSMENT, 5 A. 238 = A.W.N. 1882, 2, 1 L.B.R. 146.

See DECREE—DECREE, CONSTRUCTION OF, 28 C. 557, P.C. = 28 I.A. 89 = 5 C.W. N. 536.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 30, 115, 12 C. 477.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 66, 116, 3 A. 276.

Vendor and purchaser — Agreement by vendor to refund purchase-money in case of land or rent proving deficient—Suit for refund—Suit for compensation for breach of contract—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 176, 3 A. 712 = A.W.N. 1881, 67.

See PORT OF CALCUTTA, Bourke O.C. 41.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—DUTIES AND LIABILITIES OF AGENTS, 2 Hyde. 289 = Cor. 83 = Bourke O.C. 1.

Suit for damages for against Secretary of State for India—See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1887, sch. II, art. 3, 5 O.C. 403.

Carriers—To convey passengers—Damages —See RAILWAY COMPANY, 26 C. 465 = 3 C. W.N. 781.

Suit for damages for—Arrest under s. 477, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, of defendant before judgment—Summons not served on defendant—Application for withdrawal of suit under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Objection by defendant—Procedure—See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT, 15 B. 160.

Breach of Contract Act, Workman's.

See ACT XIII OF 1859.

Breach of the Peace.

Procession likely to cause — Removal of banners—Suit for damages—See MAD. ACT XXIV OF 1859, ss. 21, 49, 17 M. 37 = 3 M. L. J. 276.

Breach of Statutory duty.

See STATUTORY DUTIES, 5 Bom. L. R. 405 = 27 B. 344.

Breach of Trust.

See TRUST.

(1)—Trustee—Breach of trust—Declaration of liabilities.—The Court will not, at the instance of one of two defaulting trustees, declare the liabilities arising from a breach of trust without having all the parties concerned before it. Nor will the Court pass an order which might in any way tend to be construed as an assent to a breach of trust already committed, even though the breach may have been beneficial to the trust estate. JOHN BOYLE BARRY v. OCTAVIUS STEEL, 1 C.L.R. 80.

(2)—Breach of trust—Justification—Consent of cestui que trust—Damages for breach of trust—Prospective.—The consent or approval of the community interested in the temple affords no justification for acts of breach of trust, though it may perhaps be evidence of the propriety of the act charged. Prospective loss should also be taken into account in assessing damages for breach of trust. RANGA PAI v. BABA, 20 M. 398.

Liability of Administrator-General in respect of — By intestate executor—See ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL, Cor. 97 = 2 Hyde 3 = Bourke, O.C. 11.

See COMPROMISE—GENERAL, 11 W.R. 31, P.C.

See ESTOPPEL—GENERAL, 15 B. 625.
See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 10, 20 M. 398.

Trustees claiming trust property as their own—Breach of trust—See RIGHT OF SUIT—TRUSTS, SUITS RELATING TO, 15 B. 612.

See TRUSTEE, 9 B.H.C. 333.

Breach of Warranty.

See DAMAGES—DAMAGES, SUITS FOR, 29 C. 323 = 6 C.W.N. 495.

Breeze.

Right to south — See PRESCRIPTION — EASEMENTS—LIGHT AND AIR, 14 C. 839.

Bribe.

Advice to bribe to keep back unfavourable evidence—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, ss. 13, 14, 5 C.W.N. 45.

Effect of giving—See LEASE—GENERAL, 3 Ind. Cas. 316 = 37 C. 81 = 14 C.W.N. 101.

Suit to recover money paid as—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 9 Ind. Cas. 623.

Bridge.

Re-building of—Bridge connecting houses situated on opposite sides of a lane— See EASEMENT, 9 P.L.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 402=51 P.W.R. 1911.

Bridge Act, Howrah.

See BEN. ACT IX OF 1871.

Bridges and Roads Act, Tolls on.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1875.

British born Subjects.

Statute of Frauds, s. 4—Applicability to —See ST. 29, CAR. II, C. 3, 1 M.H.C. 27.

British Courts.

—Courts in Kathiawar and Rajkot, whether British Courts.—The Civil Courts in many of the States of Kathiawar, including the State of Rajkot, are purely Native Courts entirely independent of the Courts of British India, over which neither the Government of India nor the Government of Bombay assumes to exercise any control except indeed as an act of State. GHAMSHAM LAL v. BHANSALI, 5 B. 249.

Attachment of debt arising out of claims over which have no jurisdiction—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 5 B. 249.

British India.

(1)—S. 380, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—British Cantonment of Secundrabad.—For the purpose of s. 380, Civ. Pro. Code, the British cantonment of Secundrabad must be regarded as being a place out of British India. HOSSAIN ALI MIRZA v. ABID ALI MIRZA, 21 C. 177.

(2)—Tributary Mehals of Orissa—Mayoorbunj.—The tributary mehals of Orissa, of which Mayoorbunj is one, do not form part of British India. RATAN MAHANTI v. KHATOO SAHOO, 29 C. 400=6 C.W.N. 573.

Jurisdiction—Marriage out of— Validity—Suit for dissolution—See ACT XV OF 1865, ss. 3, 26, 30, 53, 16 B. 136.

Attachment of pension payable in British India to descendants of former Royal family in Ceylon—Validity of attachment—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 26 M. 423.

Jurisdiction— Religious endowment — Property in—Of temple outside British India—Right to officiate in temple—Right to share in property—See HINDU LAW— RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 20 B. 495.

Testator subject to Baroda State—Will executed at Baroda—Disposition of immoveable property in jurisdiction of Court in British India—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 56, 57, 20 B. 607.

See TRIBUTARY MEHALS, 7 C. 523=9 C.L.R. 93.

Brit jajmani bahis.

Suit to set aside sale of—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 49, 126, 6 A.L.J. 614=3 Ind. Cas. 505.

Broach.

Bhagdari lands in—District—Succession—Special custom—Males and females, preference between — Hindus and Mahomedans — See SUCCESSION, 5 B. 482.

Broach and Kaira Incumbered Estates Act.

See BOM. ACT, XIV OF 1877.

Broach Thakur's Relief Act.

See BOM. ACT XV OF 1871.

Broker.

(1)—Guarantee by broker in one transaction, effect of, on subsequent transactions, where signature of broker is forged.—The signing by a broker of a bought note in which the guarantees the fulfilment of a contract on the part of the seller raises no presumption of law in transactions between the same parties which cannot be contradicted, that subsequent bought notes, to which the signature of the broker is forged, containing similar guarantees were signed with the authority of the broker. MCLAREN MORRISON v. VERSCHOYLE, 6 C.W.N. 429.

(2)—Broker, if entitled to commission from both buyer and seller.—A broker, though often spoken of as an agent of both the contracting parties, is deemed primarily the agent of the party by whom he is originally employed. To make the other side liable to pay him brokerage, it must be shown that he has been employed by such party to act for him, or that, on the contract, such party has agreed to pay the brokerage. THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF BOMBAY v. CUVERJI HIRJI, 20 B 124.

Liability of — Burden of proof—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 10 C.W.N. 14.

Position of—See CONTRACT — GENERAL, 8 Ind. Cas. 601.

Contract between—To divide profits—See CONTRACT—ILLEGAL CONTRACTS, 1 Agra 269.

Bought note—See CONTRACT — MISCELLANEOUS, Bourke O.C. 254.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 242, 6 C.W.N. 429.

Market-rate—Record by broker—Evidence—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 10 C. 565.

Contract—Suit by—to recover brokerage—See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—GENERAL, 30 C. 204=7 C.W.N. 297.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—AUTHORITY OF AGENTS, 8 B.H.C. A.C. 19.

Contract through—See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—AUTHORITY OF AGENTS, Bourke A.O.C. 43.

Same broker for both vendor and vendee—Liability of broker—Mistake of renter in transmitting message—Effect—See SALE—GENERAL, 8 M.L.T. 353=8 Ind. Cas. 291.

Broker—concluded.

Broker's sold notes on agreement by sale—Cancellation of stamps—See STAMP ACT, 1879, sch. I, No. 46, sch. II. (cl.) 2, and ss. 11, 34, 14 B. 102.

See ST. 11 & 12, VICT., C. 21, 2 Hyde 177.

Subsequent modification of contract between buyer and seller does not affect commission of —See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—GENERAL, 20 B. 124.

Brokerage.

On wagering contract—See CONTRACT ACT 1872, 1 L.B R. 128.

Brokerage Contract.

—Principal and agent—Agent for raising a loan--Capitalist not ready and willing to advance on terms offered by principal—Remuneration of agents—Time, the essence of contract—Contract Act, s. 55.—Quantum meruit.—Where the remuneration of an agent is payable upon the performance by him of a definite undertaking, he is entitled to be paid that remuneration as soon as he has substantially done all that he undertook to do, even if the principal acquires no benefit for his services, and, except where there is an express agreement or special custom to the contrary, even if the transaction in respect of which the remuneration is claimed falls through, provided that it does not fall through in consequence of any act or default of the agent. Where the agency is in respect of raising a loan, it is essential that the agent procures a person ready and willing to make the loan on the terms proposed; it is not sufficient that he procures a person willing to negotiate about the matter. The defendants granted a letter of authority to the plaintiffs to raise a loan of eleven lakhs on a mortgage of their entire estate. The capitalists with whom the plaintiffs entered into negotiations were not ready and willing to advance the money on the terms offered by the borrowers. They imposed a condition as to the margin of security never proposed or accepted by the borrowers. The transaction ultimately fell through: Held, that the plaintiffs never earned the remuneration claimed by them. The rule of equity, which is formulated in s. 55 of the Contract Act, is to look at the whole scope of the transaction to see whether the parties really meant the time named to be of the essence of the contract. Where the plaintiffs claimed remuneration according to the contract which failed completely, they are not entitled to remuneration on the basis of quantum meruit for their services, which was not the foundation of their claim. KISHEN PRASHAD SINHA v. PURNEUDU NARAIN SINHA, 15 C.L J. 40.

Brokerage Fees.

Allowance of, in estimating compensation of land compulsorily acquired—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 23, 9 Bom. L.R. 1232.

Broker's Notes.

—English Law—Broker's notes — Evidence —Bought and Sold notes.—Brokers' notes, as a memorandum, may satisfy the Statute of Frauds, but not exclude parol evidence. Bought and sold notes, unobjected to, may be evidence of the contract, but they do not necessarily constitute the whole contract. JUMNA DOSS v. SRINATH ROY, 17 C. 176, Note.

Brother.

See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, 7 O. C. 248.

Buddhist.

See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, ss. 332, 190, 1 L.B.R. 193.

Will of—See WILL—FORM OF WILL, 2 B. L.R. A.C. 79=10 W.R. 417.

Buddhist Law.

1.—GENERAL.
2.—ADOPTION.
3.—ALIENATION.
4.—ANCESTRAL PROPERTY.
5.—DIVORCE.
6.—ECCLESIASTICAL.
7.—GIFT.
8.—HUSBAND AND WIFE.
9.—INHERITANCE.
10.—JOINT FAMILY.
11.—MAINTENANCE.
12.—MARRIAGE.
13.—PARTITION.
14.—PRE-EMPTION.
15.—WIDOW.
16.—WILL.

——1.—General.

(1)—Maiden lady bringing up two girls and a boy—One girl's father administering estate under letters of administration—Other girl suing and getting decree for whole estate as keittima adopted daughter of deceased—Suit on behalf of first girl—Boy put on record as party —Decree against second girl directing her to pay one-third share to first girl and another third share to boy.--A maiden lady, deceased, had three persons living with her, (1) S, the daughter of B, with whose father the deceased was living, (2) P, a boy, and (3) L, another girl. On her death Y, the father of S applied, as father and guardian of S, for letters of administration to the estate of the deceased, and obtained it from the Court. A similar application was also made on behalf of L, but was refused. L. thereupon, instituted a suit in forma pauperis against the estate of the deceased, administrated by Y, for possession of the whole of it, as keittima adopted daughter of the deceased. The suit, to which S and P were wrongly not made parties, and which was very badly conducted, was resisted by Y, but was finally decreed in favour of L as the adopted child of the deceased entitled to inherit. Afterwards, the sister of Y, instituted, as next friend of S, the present suit on the ground that, S, not being a party to the former suit, the decrees in it were not binding on her, and that she alone was entitled to the whole estate. P, who wished to put forward his claim, was permitted to be put on the record as second plaintiff in a suit in which the original plaintiff claimed the whole estate. The suit was decreed in favour of S, who was held by the District Judge to have been adopted by the deceased and not L and P. Held that S's right to share in the estate as keittima adopted daughter of the deceased had been proved and that L should make or pay over one-third share of the property, which she had obtained or may hereafter obtain from Y under the decee in the former suit, to the properly constituted guardian of S, that L's right to share in the estate as keittima adopted child having been established in the former suit where S's claim was represented fully, the question of L's right to share in the estate should not have been gone into in the suit. Regarding P, though the evidence of his having been adopted was not so strong, yet, the deceased having brought him up also, and Y, the person who should have known best the position P occupied in the house, having admitted, shortly after the death of the deceased, that P was one of three children adopted by the deceased, held, setting aside the decree of the District Court, that L should make or pay over to P also a one-third share of such property as she had received or should hereafter receive under such decree. MA BU LONE v. MA MYA SIN, 14 Bur. L.R. 9.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(2)—Ancestral estate—Co-heirs—Sale of a divided portion of property belonging to the family—Right of pre-emption—The Dhammathats.—After the division of ancestral estate, the holder of a divided portion is bound (being a member of the family) if he wishes to sell, to offer his share to the original co-heirs; and consequently a sale to strangers, effected without such offer, is invalid if the co-heirs promptly assert their rights. MA NGWE v. LU BU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 76. [F., 14 Bur. L.R. 205=4 L.B.R. 128, 14 Bur. L.R. 91, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 155; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 162, 4 L.B.R. 128. U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Quarter, Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Pre-emption, 1; Cited, 3 L.B.R. 7; Cited & R., 1 L.B.R.50.]

(3)—Right of redemption—Burden of proof.—Where land is handed over in payment of a debt, an option of redemption is left with the original proprietor. When the plaintiff claimed a right of redeeming certain land and the defendant alleged a sale outright, the burden of proof was held to lie on the latter. NGA SHWE KU v. NGA KWYA YWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 78. [Rel. on, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 102; R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 482, 642, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 65, 461.]

See DAMAGES—MISCELLANEOUS, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 114.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

Ownership of property by married couples—Devolution — Letters of administration whether and when can be granted to any person other than survivor of married couple—Proper person to administer estate—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, 4 L.B.R. 293.

Object of granting letters of administration—Right of younger daughter of deceased Burman Buddhist to Letters of Administration during the life-time of the mother—Agreement of parties, whether can change personal law—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, S. 23, 4 L.B.R. 287=14 Bur. L.R. 280.

Suit for redemption—Transfer of Property Act, s. 85—Joinder of parties—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 85, 3 L.B.R. 15.

——2.—Adoption.

(1)—Evidence of adoption—Adoption taking place long ago—Variation in evidence as to time of adoption, effect of.—A suit was instituted for a declaration that the plaintiff was, equally with the defendant, the keittima daughter of a Burmese lady and, as such, entitled to share in the latter's estate equally with the defendant. The Court of first instance gave a decree to the plaintiff. The Chief Court reversed this decree on the ground, that the evidence adduced by plaintiff as to the time and manner of the alleged adoption varied widely and the publicity of the adoption was proved. On appeal, the Privy Council observed that neither ceremony nor written document being required to constitute, or initiate the relation of, keittima adoption, there must be, on the one hand the consent of the natural parents and, on the other, the taking of the child by the adoptive parent with the intention and on the footing that the child shall inherit. On weighing the evidence their Lordships found that the keittima adoption had been proved and that, as the adoption took place long ago, the variation in the evidence as to the time of adoption was not very material. MA ME GALE v. MA SAYI, 32 C. 219, P.C.=4 L.B.R. 172=8 Sar. 743.

(2)—Burmese law and custom—Adoption—Mode of proof—Publicity—Inferences from the facts of the life of parties—Child—Adult.—According to Burmese Law, no formal ceremony is necessary to constitute adoption, and, though adoption is a fact, that fact can either be proved as having taken place on a distinct and specified occasion, or may be inferred from a course of conduct which is inconsistent with any other supposition. But in either case publicity must be given to the relationship, and the amount of proof of publicity required will be greater in the cases of the latter category, when no distinct occasion can be appealed to. In many cases the inferences of the relationship existing, and the publicity of the relationship itself, may naturally be taken from the facts of the life of the parties, apart from the verbal statements of those concerned. Thus when a child who has natural parents leave those parents and its own home, and is brought up in the house of another who treats it as a father would a child, the inference is not difficult to draw, and the facts from which that inference is drawn are public facts necessarily known to all the persons, friends and acquaintances. But in the case of an adult, when the inferences to be drawn from "bringing up" are necessarily absent, and where the consequence of adoption is disinherition of those entitled to succeed by law, it is specially necessary to insist on adequate proof of publicity or notoriety of the relationship. MA YWET v. MA ME, 11 Bom. L R. 1193, P C.=5 L.B.R. 118=10 C.L J. 253=6 M.L.T 302=3 Ind. Cas.797=36 C.978=19 M.L.J. 577=14 C.W.N. 111.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——2.—Adoption—continued.

(3)—Definition and rights of keittima and apatittha sons.—The keittima son has the full rights of inheritance of a natural son whereas the apattitha son has only partial rights of inheritance. The apatittha son has nevertheless rights of inheritance. Looking at the definition of an apatittha son in the Digest of Buddhist Law the term would seem to refer to a foundling, a child casually adopted whether its parents and relatives are known or not, a child casually adopted and brought up in the family of the adoptive parents being abandoned by its natural parents, a child casually adopted through compassion, a destitute child casually adopted. The principle underlying the definition of the term seems to be that an apatittha adoption is a compassionate one, which takes place in consequence of the child being destitute with no one to maintain it through abandonment by, or the decease of, its natural parents, or some such similar cause. Held, in this case, on a consideration of the probabilities and of the manner in which the boy was treated, that the adoption was keitt ma and not apatittha. TET TUN v. MA CHAIN, 5 L.B.R. 216=8 Ind. Cas. 978.

(4)—Some probabilities in favour of alleged adoption—One or two important probabilities against it—Adoption not generally published and not notorious—Valid adopton according to requirements of Burmese Buddhist Law, whether proved.—The plaintiff, an adult, claimed to have been adopted by its uncle. He was able to adduce, from the relationship between himself and his uncle, from the latter's circumstances, from his uncle's public letters, through witnesses, and from other sources, a good deal of evidence calculated to render his contention probable and successful. It appeared, however, that the plaintiff, when called upon to state his father's name, gave, not his adoptive, but his natural father's name, thus making it doubtful, whether the idea of giving up all his prospective rights in his natural parents' property, as the result of the adoption, presented itself to his mind at the time of the alleged adoption; and, also, that his relationship with his uncle was not published generally and was not notorious, as it ought to have been, had it been true. Held, that he failed to prove that he had been validly adopted according to the requirements of the Burmese Buddhist Law. In the absence of anything to show what is necessary to constitute the adoption of an adult, the general principle is that an adult cannot be adopted without his or her consent. But, as an adult (cannot be deprived of any rights without his or her consent) — an adoption depriving rights of inheritance in natural parents' property—it must appear that he or she consented to renounce all his or her prospective rights in his or her natural parents' property. Per Fox, C.J.—Notoriety amongst the people with whom the parties ordinarily mixed in social life is what is required in evidence of the adoption of an adult (11 Bur. L.R. 240=2 L.B.R. 224, F.) Per Hartnoll, J.—When a person claims a share in an estate on the ground that he was adopted as an adult, the burden of proof lies heavily on him, the more especially as such an adoption is not usual even if it is sanctioned by the Dhammathats. MA GYI v. MAUNG PO THA, 14 Bur. L R. 15.

Buddhist Law*--continued.

——2.—Adoption—continued.

(5)—Right to cancel.—Adoption is an institution of Buddhist Law, and for the incidents that govern it, the Court must look to Buddhist Law or to custom, if custom has modified the law. There is no other means of getting light on the subject. Parents who have given a child in adoption to another, are at liberty until the child has grown up to take the child back when they please. MAUNG SEIN v. MA MON, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law, Adoption, 1.

(6)—Ceremonies, Necessity of—Publicity and notoriety essential—Keittima adoption—Proof.—It has been held that no particular ceremony is required for adoption but there can be no doubt that an essential part of adoption is publicity of the relationship and of the intentions of the adoptive parents in regard to the inheritance of their estate by the adopted child. To establish a keittima adoption proof of publicity and notoriety is essential. MA MEIN GALE v. MA KIN, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 34. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol.II,22, R.)

(7)—What is a keittima adopted child—Manugye Dhammathat (pp. 314 and 319, 3rd Edition).—When one party seeks to disturb a decision in revision, it is fair that the other party should be at liberty to put forward grounds of dissatisfaction with it on his side, although he might otherwise have let it stand unchallenged. No particular method of adoption is prescribed by Buddhist Law. Evidence of bringing up and treatment as child of adoptive parents and public recognition as such is sufficient proof of keittima adoption. The duties of an adopted child are similar to those of a natural born child, and seperate living may constitute a disqualification to inheritance by the adopted child; but that the question what constitutes separate living depends upon the circumstances of each particular case. Suggested that possible reason for disqualification may be that separate living on the part of adopted child might indicate severance of the adoption. Ss. 26 & 27 are applicable. MAUNG AING v. MA KIN. U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol II, 22. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 34, 176, U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law — Inheritance, 15, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 135, 142.]

Buddhist Law – continued.

—2.—Adoption – continued.

(8) — Keittima and apatittha children — Evidence — Letters of administration. — An alternative claim to the status of adoption either by the keittima or the apatittha mode may be made in the Court of first instance. Evidence in the case considered, and kinds of evidence necessary to prove adoption discussed with reference to previous rulings. In adoption the publicity of the relationship is the essential point to be established. It has not been laid down at any time that there must be strict proof of a formal and public taking over of the adopted child with a definite pronouncement of the intention of the adoptive parents that the child should inherit, or share in the inheritance of, their estate. If the law required strict proof of the circumstances of the original adoption, proof in these cases, unless there was a formal deed, would usually be a very difficult matter. For, the investigation of these claims is commonly undertaken many years after the date of the alleged adoption. In no case that has been reported in which the adoption has been upheld has there been strict proof of the original giving and taking. No case has been cited in which a child has been taken into a family completely severed from its own family in the life-time of its parents, and openly treated as a child of the adoptive house and not as a mere dependant, and in which it has been held that there has been no intention that such a child should be regarded other than as a waif and stray brought up out of charity. It seems most unlikely that the natural parents would consent to such an agreement. The strictest proof would be required that a son had conducted himself as an enemy to justify a Court in disinheriting him under a law. The mere fact of the institution of a suit by a son to obtain from his mother a share of his father's estate cannot in itself be regarded as unfilial conduct. Nor does the fact that the suit was brought out of time or that a larger share than the law allows was claimed to make it so. Decision between two rival claimants for letters of administration, both legally qualified to obtain them. MA MYE ME v. MAUNG BA DUN, 2 L.B R. 224 = 11 Bur. L R 240. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 142. Cited.) [F., 14 Bur, L.R. 15; R., 5 L, B.R. 118=11 Bom. L.R. 1193.]

(9)—Proof.—Adoption is a mixed question of fact and law. No ceremony or document is required to constitute an adoption, but there must be a r equest from parents and a notorious and public taking and bringing up, in order that, or with the understanding that, they, i e., the children may inherit. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 25, F.) There can be no doubt that an essential part of adoption is publicity of the relationship and of the intention of the adoptive parents in regard to the inheritance of their estate by the adoptive child * * * the law thus most properly requires that adoption shall not be a hole-and-corner matter, but a matter of publicity and notoriety, so that there may be no room for questions to be raised and disputes to be encouraged. (Chan Toon's Leading Cases, 168, F.) Residence together in one house is not sufficient indication of the relation of the parties being that of adopted child and adoptive parent. MA PWA v. MA THE THE, 1 L.B.R. 273. [R., 5 L.B.R. 118=11 Bom. L R. 1193.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

—2.—Adoption—concluded.

(10)—Essentials of valid adoption—Ceremonies —Documentary evidence—Publicity—Intention of publicity.—To constitute a valid adoption the law requires no ceremony, no written document, nothing indeed but a request from parents, and a notorious and public taking and bringing up, in order that, or with the understanding that, they, i.e., the children, may inherit. Just as an open living together is among Burmans presumptive proof of marriage, so also the open bringing up of a child, and supporting such child for so many years, is presumptive proof of adoption, especially where the parents are childless and the child is a niece. MA GUN. v. MA GUN, L B.R. 1872—1892, 25. [R., 1 L. B. R. 273; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 142. U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 23, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 225.]

(11)—Adoption by Buddhist having child—Validity.—A Buddhist can adopt a child, he having a child of his own at the time. MA BWIN v. MA YIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 100.

(12)—Adoption—Proof—Two adoptions valid —Evidence of adoption.—Where it was proved that the plaintiff, who claimed to be the adopted daughter of a Buddhist couple and had lived with the couple from the age of three years, and the plaintiff's mother as well as others has stated that the old couple had told them that they had adopted the plaintiff and that she was generally regarded as their daughter. Held, that the adoption had been amply proved. Inasmuch as even children of well-to-do parents often assist in cultivating the family acres, no inference against adoption can be drawn from the fact that an adopted daughter worked in the fields for her adoptive parents. A second adoption during the lifetime of the first adopted child is not prohibited by Burmese Budhist law, though it is unusual. MA SHWE YIN v. MA SHWE NYUN, 11 Ind. Cas 776.

—3.—Alienation.

(1)—Sale by wife of joint property—Its validity—Consent of husband—Power-of-attorney—Registration Act, s. 33.—It is settled law that a

Buddhist Law—continued.

——3.—Alienation—continued.

Burmah Buddhist, with the express or implied consent of his wife, may dispose of their joint property. It is a common practice for the husband alone to execute deeds of transfer of joint property. Probably it is unusual for the wife tc do so, but if she has her husband's consent, a sale by the wife would be as valid as a sale by the husband. A deed of sale of joint property executed by the wife alone does not require a registered power-of-attorney under s. 33 of the Registration Act. MAUNG TUN MYAT v. RAMAN CHETTY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 37. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 403, R.)

(2)—Widow's right of disposal of property.—By Buddhist law the children have rights in the property as well as the widow. If the children are young and she undertakes to manage for them, she does this under the responsibilities of a trustee. She may use the property for necessary subsistence, but ought not, except for their benefit, to dispose of it otherwise. If however there is family necessity to sell, the sale may be valid as against the children ; but it will lie on the purchaser to prove the necessity. NGA SHWE YO v. MI SAN BYU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 108. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 212, 255, 378, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 171, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, 4 L.B.R 256, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 581 ; D., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115.]

(3)—Assent of heirs.—The law contemplates the devotion of a portion of the estate of the deceased to religious offerings. But the Courts cannot uphold a large expenditure on this account incurred without the assent of the heirs. A suit by one of the co-heirs to recover her portion of the expenditure is maintainable. MI MIN GWUE v. MI SAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 46. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 171, 93, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299, 465, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 397.]

(4)—Poggalika property of priest—Rights of disposal by other members of the same order for funeral expenses of deceased owner.—The poggalika property of an individual priest, cannot on his death be disposed of by another member of the order unless such sale was necessary to meet the expenses of the deceased priest's funeral. U TE LAW KA v. MAUNG PO KA, L B R. 1893—1900, 597.

(5)—Attachment—Suit to establish right to attach property—Sale before attachment valid, if bona fide and for good consideration—Fraud—Burden of proof—Buddhist Law—Sale of his share by co-sharer—One co-heir acting on behalf of all.—There is nothing to prevent an owner from selling or any one from purchasing property before it is attached, provided the transaction is bona fide and for good consideration. The burden of proving fraud rests on the creditor who impeaches the sale. A sharer has an absolute right to dispose of his own share, even while the property is undivided subject to the right of pre-emption by co-heirs. (2 L B. R. 167, F.) It is common to find one or more co-heirs acting on behalf of the general body of co-heirs. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY v. MAUNG SHWE THE, 11 Ind. Cas. 781.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——3.—Alienation—concluded.

——4.—Ancestral Property.

(1)—Sister — Division—Ancestral estate.—The widow is entailed to retain possession against a sister of ancestral estate redeemed by her husband and worked by him, although there has been no actual division by measurement or express agreement. Separate possession and separate living will shift the burden of proving the property to be joint estate on the party alleging the property to be joint. MI PYU v. MI BON DOK, L B.R. 1872—1892, 35. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol, II, 121, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 74.]

(2)—Pre-emption sale.—If ancestral property has passed into the hands of third persons, the heirs of the original owner do not possess an absolute right of buying it back. But if the possessor wishes it to sell, he must offer it first to them who have a right of inheritance in the land. A sharer in undivided ancestral property, if he wishes to sell his share, must first offer his share to his co-heirs, and consequently a sale to strangers effected without such offer is invalid if the co-heirs. promptly assert their rights. NGA MYAING v. MI BAW, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39. [Cited, 3 L.B.R. 7 ; Rel. on, L.B R. 1872—1892, 76; D. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115 ; R., L.B.R, 1872—1892, 378, 108, 1 L.B. R. 50, U.B R 1892—1896, Vol. II, 383, U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Quarter, Buddhist Law—Inheritance —Pre-emption, 1; F., 14 Bur. L R. 91, 14 Bur. L.R. 205=4 L.B.R. 128, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 155, 162 ; Diss., 1 L.B.R. 144.]

(3)—Sale—Consent of all the co-heirs is necessary to the sale of undivided ancestral property.—One co-sharer cannot alienate even his own interest in undivided family estate without consulting has co-sharers and ascertaining their unwillingness to buy him out. This doctrine has its parallel in the rule which prevails in those parts of India which are governed by the strictest Hindu Law where the consent of all the share-holders is necessary even to the alienation of an individual share. MI TE v. PO MAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 41. [F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 162, 14 Bur, L.R. 91, U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Quarter, Bud. Law—Inheritance—Pre-emption 1; R , U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 383, 1 L.B.R. 50 L.B.R. 1872—1892, 108 ; D., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115.]

——5.—Divorce.

See BUDDHIST LAW — HUSBAND AND WIFE.

See BUDDHIST LAW—MARRIAGE.

(1)—Divorce by mutual consent—Partition of property—Atet—Lettetpwa property—Nissayo and Nissito.—In a suit for divorce by mutual consent and for partition of property, held, on the authority of the Manugye, Book XII, s. 3, that, where the relation of Nissayo and Nissito subsists between the husband and the wife with respect to atet property, the wife, if she is the Nissitto, is entitled to one-third of such property; she is also entitled to a third of the undivided ancestral property, which was inherited by her husband during the marriage. The profits of the atet or pany property are letletpwa, and they inherited a property being itself letletpwa, its profits are letletpwa also. The partition of such letletpwa property should be made equally, if it was acquired by the joint exertions of the married couple. EI MYIN v. NGA TWE. U B.R. 1906, Buddhist Law—Divore, 19. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, 10 B L.R. 49, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 146, 39, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist LAW—Inheritance, 1, Affirmed.) [R., 14 Bur. L.R. 117.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

—5.—Divorce—continued.

(2)—Grounds of divorce.—Before a Court can order divorce against the wish of one party there must be proof either of some fault committed against the other of a sufficiently serious nature to justify divorce according to the Dhammathats, or of some evil deed for which a separation of destinies can take place. Mere willingness on the part of one party to pay ko-bo or the price of the body, will not constitute a ground for divorce. It might equally will be held that willingnees to surrender the whole of the joint property constituted such a ground. MI PA DU v. MAUNG SHWE BAUK, L.B R. 1872—1892. 607. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 391, R.) [Cited, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist LAW—Divorce, 6, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 56; R., U. B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Divorce, 3, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28.]

(3)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 60—Buddhist law—Divorce—Wife's share in 'let-tet-pwa' property not alienable but attachable with husband's consent—Decree against wife alone.—The appellant, Maung Lo, in execution of a decree against Ma Aing, wife of respondent, Maung Pyaung, attached a durion garden which stood in the joint names of Maung Pyaung and Ma Aing. Maung Pyaung applied for removal of attachment, alleging that he had been divorced from Ma Aing and that she had no concern with the durion garden in dispute. The application was refused, and Maung Pyaung then brought the present suit for a declaration that the land could not be attached in execution of decree against Ma Aing as it belonged to him. The Township Court found that there had been no proper divorce between Ma Aing and Maung Pyaung. Held, that the Township Court had decided it correctly, as it appeared that Maung Pyaung, after a long married life with Ma Aing, had separated from her a few years ago and had since lived apart from her, but that there had been no formal divorce nor any division of property acquired during coverture. The durion garden in suit was admittedly inherited by Maung Pyaung from his parents several years after his marriage with Ma Aing. Held, that it was not payin but let-tet-pwa property and that Ma Aing had a vested interest in it, and that extent of her interest was one-third. (U.B R. 1904—1906, Bud. Law—Divorce, 19, F.) Held, also, that, if there had been a divorce by mutual consent, Ma Aing would be entitled to receive one-third of the garden as property inherited by her husband during coverture. Held, further, that, although a wife could not alienate her share in joint property without her husband's consent, her interest in joint property was attachable. (U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Execution of Decree, 1 U.B.R. 1904—1906, Bud, Law—Divorce 1, F.) Held, therefore, that, although Ma Aing had not "a disposing power which she may exercise for her own benefit" over the one-third share, in the durion garden, that one-third share, nevertheless belonged to her, and that this was sufficient for the purposes of s. 60 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1908. MAUNG LO v. MAUNG PYAUNG, 8 Ind. Cas. 992.

(4)—Adultery—Cruelty—Whether ground for divorce.—Held, that among Burma Buddhists, the mere fact of the husband committing adultery or taking a lesser wife unaccompanied with cruelty does not of itself entitle the wife to claim divorce. The committing of adultery under the conjugal roof is not such cruelty as is contemplated by the Dhammathats, as affording a ground for divorce. MAEIN v. TE NAUNG, 5 L.B.R. 87=3 Ind. Cas. 715. (4 L.B.R. 340, R.)

(5)—Partition of property on divorce.—Though it often happens that partition of goods evidences a divorce and a deliberate intention to terminate the status of marriage, it is not essential to the validity of the divorce which may be proved by other evidence of intention showing that a termination of married and not a mere temporary separation was deliberately intended. NGA LON v. MA MYAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 206. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 14, 73, R: 8 C. 327, Appr.) [R., 1 L.B.R. 7.]

(6)—Husband or wife, right of, to obtain divorce without fault on, or consent of, other party—Necessity of surrender of joint property.—In this case, the husband sued for divorce. The defendant opposed the suit on the ground that her husband had ill-treated her and forced her to leave him. She also denied that he was entitled to a divorce, by Buddhist Law, and the sole question for decision on appeal was, whether a husband, whatever his own conduct may have been, is entitled, by Buddhist Law, to obtain a decree for divorce against his faultless wife, on condition of surrendering to her the joint property and paying the joint debts. Held, on a consideration of the various texts relating to the question, that the texts in the Dhammathats establish the law, that one of the parties to a marriage can separate from the other, even if the latter does not consent, provided that the properties belonging to both and their liabilities should be divided. There is no insuperable legal bar to divorce against the party desiring it, where that party is prepared to surrender the share of the joint property to which he would, otherwise, be entitled. Held, therefore, that the plaintiff, in this case, having offered to resign the jointly acquired property to the defendant, he may be granted a decree for the divorce sought by him. MI-KIN LAT v. NGA BA SO, U. B. R. 1905. Buddhist Law—Divorce, 3. (U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28, F. 1 L.B.R. 7. U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Bud. Law—Divorce, 6, 12, 2 B. 624, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1909, Buddhist Law-Marriage, 1 U. B. R. 1910, 2nd Quarter, 30, 5 L. B. R. 114.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

—5.—Divorce—continued.

(7)—Child of divorced couple—Rights of inheritance—Maintenance or renewal of filial relations sufficient to entitle plaintiffs to inherit property acquired during second marriage.—There seems to be a great weight of authority in favour of the proposition that a child of a divorced couple is entitled to inherit from the parent, with which he or she lives, and is generally not entitled to inherit from the other parent, (when that other parent has married again and has children by the second spouse) property acquired during the second marriage, and that visiting the other parent and receiving presents or even maintenance from him does not constitute a continuance or resumption of filial relations, such as would entitle the child to inherit such property. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116, 1 L.B.R. 161, F.; L B.R. 1893—1900, 299, 469, Dist.; 2 L.B.R. 85, R.) The fact that the divorced wife and the children received nothing at the time of divorce makes no difference, at any rate so long as it was not alleged that there was any property to divide. MA PAW v. MA MON, 14 Bur. L.R. 236=4 L.B.R. 272.

(8)—Suit for bare divorce—Maintainability.—A suit for bare divorce, without and as distinct from partition of property, will not lie under Buddhist Law. NGA CHIT NYO v. MI MYO TU. U.B.R. 1910, 2nd Qr., 30. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 28, Affirmed; U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Bud. Law—Divorce, 6, Overruled; U. B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Bud. Law—Divorce 12, Superseded; U.B.R. 1904—1906, Bud. Law—Divorce, 3, R.)

(9)—Previously married and not married couple—Iterest in jointly acquired property—Distinction.—There is no distinction in Buddhist Law as to the interest in jointly acquired property between the cases of a couple who have been previously married and a couple who have not been previously married. MAUNG HMON v. MAUNG MEIK, U.B.R. 1902. 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Divorce, 1. [Rel, on, U.B.R. 1907. 4th Qr., Buddhist Law, Marriage — Joint Property, 1, R., 3 L.B.R, 66.]

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 42, 43.—In a suit for divorce the cause of action is concerned with the conduct of the parties and not with the property. In a suit for partition of property the cause of action and the evidence would be entirely different. When under Buddhist law a suit has been brought for divorce without partition of property, a subsequent suit for partition of the joint property, is maintainable. MAUNG THA SO v. MA MIN GUANG, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Divorce. 12. (Chantoon's leading cases, Vol. II, 31. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 6, 22 M. 24, R.) [Superseded, U.B.R. 1910, 2nd Quarter, 30; R., U.B.R. 1905, Fourth quarter, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 3; Diss., 5 L.B.R. 114.]

(11)—Suit for bare divorce without partition—Misconduct of husband.—The rule laid down in U.B.R. 1897—1901; Vol. II, 28, that under Buddhist law a suit for bare divorce without partition of property will not lie, discussed, modified and partly dissented from. Misconduct on the part of a husband which may not in itself be sufficient to entitle a wife under Buddhist law to divorce may nevertheless be sufficient to entitle her to insist on a divorce as by mutual consent. MAUNG PYE v. MA ME, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 6. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28, 1 L.B.R. 7, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 607, Cited). [R., U.B.R. 1909. Bud. Law—Marriage, 1, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Quarter, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 3, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 12. 5 L.B R. 114; Overruled, U.B.R. 1910, 2nd Quarter, 30.]

(12)—As by mutual consent—Parties not previously married—Share of property, wife entitled to.—In the case of a divorce obtained by the wife on account of the misconduct of the husband as by mutual consent, where the husband and wife have not been previously married, the wife is entitled on partition to one-third of property inherited by the husband during coverture and vice versa KIN KIN GYI v. MAUNG KAN GYI, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 1. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, Divorce, 39, F.) [R., U. B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Civ. Pro. Code, 3; Affirmed, U.B.R. 1906, 4th Quarter, Bud. Law—Divorce, 19.]

(13)—Ground for granting divoree.—A divorce cannot be granted merely on the ground of an allegation that the destinies of the husband and wife are not cast together. Nor can a divorce be granted merely on the ground that the husband has not supported his wife for a year, the latter having left her husband's protection without reasonable cause. MATHIN v. MAUNG KYAW YA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 56. (19 C. 469, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 391, 607, R.) [R., 3 L.B.R. 175.]

(14)—Legal representative of deceased debtor—Suit against.—In a suit against the legal representative of a deceased debtor is not necessary to prove that assets have come into the hands of legal representative if there are assets of which he might become possess. But the decree should mention that it is against legal representative in that character. (8 B. 309, F.) Though three years complete separation may of itself effect a divorce without any formal proceeding or declaration at the end of that time, the period could not be reckoned backward beyond the date of the judicial decree, which must be taken as the starting point for the calculation. MAUNG PO MAUNG v. L.H. R.L.P. NAGALINGAM CHETTY, U.B.R. 1892—1896. Vol. II, 53. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 19, 28. 391, 20 W.R. 280, R.) [R., 3 L.B.R. 175.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——5.—Divorce—continued.

(15)—Cruelty.—Where a suit is brought by wife for divorce with claim for half the joint property on the ground of cruelty by husband in taking a second wife, and in imputing adultery to first wife, decree was passed for divorce as by mutual consent and for equal division of property, held that the decree for a divorce as by mutual consent could not be sustained, and that the Court of first instance should have determined, whether the grounds alleged by plaintiff were such as to entitle her to a divorce, and should have granted or refused divorce accordingly. Held, also—That whether the matters alleged by plaintiff constituted cruelty or not in general, she had in this instance, by her conduct, acquiesced in or condoned the conduct of the husband and was not entitled to a decree. Held, further—that there having been no divorce, the husband was entitled to the custody of the property taken away by the wife. MAUNG KAUK v. MA HAN, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 48. (4 A. 374, L. B R. 1872—1892, 19, 103, R.) [R., 4 L.B.R. 340; Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 489.]

(16)—Execution of decree—Attachment of joint property of Buddhist husband and wife in execution of decree against husband alone—Divorce for purpose of defeating creditor.—Practically a Burman wife and husband are for many purposes partners, and if the wife is not included in the proceedings along with the husband, it is much as if a decree were obtained against a partner individually and execution were sought against the partnership property as his solely. If it is sought to make both a Buddhist wife, and husband and the whole of the joint property of both liable for a debt, the wife as well as the husband should be made a party to the proceedings. When a Buddhist wife is not a party to a suit against her husband, and the decree is against the husband alone, only the husband's interest in the joint property of his wife and himself is liable to attachment and sale in execution. MA ME v. MAUNG GYI, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 45. [Cons., U.B.R. 1904. 2nd Qr., B.L.—Divorce, 1; Rel. on, U.B. R. 1907, 4th Qr., B.L.—Marriage — Joint Property, 1; R., 3 L.B.R. 66.]

(17)—Execution of decree—Collusive divorce to avoid attachment of property—Interest of Buddhist husband or wife in property acquired by the other alone upon divorce by mutual consent.—S. 3, Ch. 12, Manugye says:—"A husband and wife both being noble mutually wish to separate. The husband having been allowed to take the clothes and ornaments of his rank, and the wife the clothes and ornaments of her rank, let the remainder of the property be thus divided; if there is any property that was acquired by the husband alone or by the wife alone, let that party who separately acquired it have two shares and the other one." MAUNG THA DUN AUNG v. MA MING, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 41. [Rel. on, U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Divorce, 1.]

(18)—Lettetpwa and payin property—Arbitration award.—Parties who mutually agree to refer questions of the division of property on divorce to the arbitration of lugyis are bound by the award of the lugyis unless and until it is set aside. MAUNG NYAN GYI v. MA TOK, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 43.

(19)—Divorce on grounds of husband's misconduct—Husband previously married—Wife a maiden at time of marriage — Division of property.—The rules regulating the divorce of a husband and wife not previously married should be applied to cases in which one of the parties to the marriage has been previously married, and the other has not been married before. And in that case a wife who obtains a divorce from her husband on the ground of his misconduct is entitled to one-third of his separate property. MA E NYUN v. MAUNG TOK PYU, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 39. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 219, R., [F., U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, C.P.C. 3.]

(20)—Restitution of conjugal rights—Divorce by mutual consent.—Where in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, the question was whether there had been a divorce, and the Court of first instance held that there had been, while the lower appellate Court held that there could have been no consent to a divorce because the girl's mother had brought pressure to bear, and reversed the decree of the Court of first instance, held—in second appeal that what the Court had to decide was whether there was a divorce by mutual consent. It was not necessary that there should be a deed of divorce, or that the divorce should have taken place before elders. MA AMI GYI v. MAUNG HMUT, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 37.

(21)—Rule of Buddhist law with respect to the disposal of property upon divorce on the ground of the wife's adultery, whether the husband and wife had been married from youth, but separated, and subsequently re-united.—There are two rules of Buddhist Law on the subject of a divorce for adultery, one of them relating to the case of husband and wife married from their youth, and the other to the case of husband and wife where there has been a previous marriage by one or both, or at least by the wife. When a woman has been married before, the probability is that she has formed relations through giving birth to children or through the acquisition of property, which ought to be considered when she has entered into a subsequent union which has to be dissolved. On the other hand, when the woman has been only once married there is no body to be considered but herself and the children, and as the latter are the offspring of the husband, it is probably immaterial, so far as they are concerned, to which parent the property goes, as they would eventually inherit from one or the other. The same, mutatis mutandis, would apply in the case of a husband whom the wife was entitled to divorce for misconduct. Where the parties had married no stranger, but only each other, they must be regarded as the husband and wife of youth. MAUNG YIN MAUNG v. MA SO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 34. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 116, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28, R.)

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——5.—Divorce—continued.

(22)—Cause of action.—Under Buddhist Law a suit for bare divorce without division of property will not lie, MA GYAN v. MAUNG SU WA, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 28. (II B. L.R. 129, 10 B. 152, D.) [Affirmed, U.B.R. 1910, 2nd Qr., 30 R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 34, 5 L.B.R. 114, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist law—Divorce 3, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist law—Divorce 6, 12.]

(23)—Suit for divorce—Claim to partition of property—Causes of action distinct.—A suit for divorce and for division of property do not constitute a single cause of action. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 1, Diss.) Partition of property is not an essential feature of a divorce. The termination of the marriage status in itself appears to be a sufficient cause of action, and till this question is settled the grounds for partition of the property do not arise and may vary according as the decree for divorce is based on findings of fact as to which party is in fault. A suit for divorce need not necessarily contain a prayer for division of the property. MAUNG THA CHI v. MA E MYA, 1 L.B.R. 7. [Overruled, 5 L.B.R. 114, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist law—Divorce, 3.]

(24)—Divorce—Validity.—The existence of either of the two conditions, namely, either a decree or order of Court, or a written agreement executed by both parties in presence of respectable witnesses, is not essential to the validity of a divorce between Burman Buddhists. MI HNIN NGON v. NGA AUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 73. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 206.]

(25)—Buddhist law according to Ch. V of the Dhammathat regarding a wife who is mad, etc.—Intimation of divorce by writing—Weakness and distraction of mind.—The mere sending to the wife a writing intimating the intention to divorce her (the wife being at the time out of her mind) does not constitute a valid divorce. MI CHIN MARI v. MITU MA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 74.

(26) — Second marriage — Polygamy. — At Buddhist law where no special custom exists, a husband who in the life-time of his first wife marries a second wife, without the first wife's consent, does not thereby commit a fault against the first wife. Such a second marriage does not in itself constitute in Lower Burma a ground for divorce. MA IN THAN v. MAUNG SAW HLA, L.B.R. 1872- 1892, 103. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 114, 202, 4 L.B.R. 340, 175 =10 Bom. L.R. 41=12 C.W.N. 220, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 48 ; F., 5 L.B.R. 87.]

(27)—Re-marriage—Partition of property—Procedure—Finding on issues.—The presumption in the absence of special facts is that the affairs of people divorcing and re-marrying are settled definitely at the divorce or the re-marriage. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 14, F.) Courts ought to record distinct findings on each issue. MAUNG SHWE LIN v. MI NYEIN BYU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 175. [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 662.]

(28) — Divorce — Inheritance—Children of divorced wife.—It is a principle of the Buddhist law that the children of the divorced wife shall not inherit the property of the father acquired after his marriage with a second or third wife unless they continue to live and to plan and work with him. MA SHWE GE v. NGA LAN AND NGA ON, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 296. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159 L.B.R. 1893—1900, 469, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116, 176 ; Rel. on, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299 ; F., 4 L.B.R. 272, 14 Bur. L.R. 236 ; D., 1 L.B.R. 161.]

(29)—Essentials—Procedure—Plaint— Petition.—A divorce cannot be had merely because one of the parties has no love for the other, or does not comply with the desires of the other. Desertion according to the Manu Kye, is no doubt a good ground for divorce; but there is this condition attached, namely, during the periods of time prescribed therein the husband should not have supplied anything to the wife. If a plaintiff in a suit to divorce establishes any of the grounds which the Dhammathats recognize as good grounds for divorce he would be entitled to a divorce, even if such grounds are not among those particularized in the judgment of the special Court. In suits for divorces the proper procedure is to present a plaint and not a petition for divorce, the case being not governed by the Indian Divorce Act, and the action being one of a civil nature. Where a petition for divorce is presented with a Court-fee required for a plaint, the Court has power to allow the person who has wrongly instituted proceedings in the form of a petition to amend by converting the petition into a plaint. MAUNG SO MIN v. MATA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 610. [R. U.B.R 1905, 4th Qr. Buddhist law—Divorce, 3.]

(30)—Suits for divorce between Burman Buddhists—Indian Divorce Act inapplicable—Commencement by plaint—Divorce—Burman Buddhists—Desertion proper by wife, when a valid ground for divorce—Decision of the Special Court in (Nga Nwe v. Mi Su Ma)—Husband entitled to divorce, when—Buddhist

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——5.—Divorce—concluded.

Law and authority of Dhammathats.—In suits for divorce, among Burmese Buddhists, the proper procedure is to present a plaint, and not a petition for divorce, such cases not being governed by the Indian Divorce Act, and the suits being of a civil nature. A divorce cannot be had among Burman Buddhists merely because one of the parties has no love for the other, or does not comply with the desires of the other. Desertion, according to the Manu Kyay, is not doubt a good ground for divorce, but, there is this condition attached, namely. during the period of time prescribed therein (one year) the husband should not have supplied anything to wife. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896. Vol. II, 56.] The only deeds on the part of the husband or wife which would justify a divorce among Burmese Buddhists are matricide, parricide, killing, stealing, shedding the blood of Buddah rahan, heresy and adultery. If a plaintiff in a suit for divorce establishes any of the grounds which the Dhammathats recognise as good grounds for divorce, he will be entitled to divorce, even if such grounds are not among those particularised in the judgment of the Special Court above referred to. Texts in the Munu Kyay Dhammathat considered. MOUNG TSO MIN v. MAH HTAH, 19 C. 469.

See BUDDHIST LAW--HUSBAND AND WIFE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 27, 49, 391.

See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 212.

Husband's suit for divorce—Wife's denial of allegations of misconduct—Cause of action for suits for divorce and for partition—Whether it is necessary to claim partition in the suit for a divorce—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, rr. 1, 2, 8 A.L.J. 739, P.C.

First suit for divorce—Subsequent suit for partition or other remedies—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908. O. II, r. 2, 5 L.B.R. 114.

Right to guardianship of children after their parents' divorce—See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT, 1890, ss. 17, 19 (b), 5 L.B.R. 133.

——6.—Ecclesiastical.

(1)—Wuttagan land--Duties of Thathanabaing—Res judicata—Limitation.—A piece of wuttagan land was originally the subject of a dedication by plaintiff's grandfather to a monastery and then confiscated and re-dedicated by the Burmese King, and plaintiff, a layman, applied to the Thathanabaing for its restoration. The monks in occupation, the defendants, objected pleading the confiscation, and the Thathanabaing and his council decided that the land should be restored to the plaintiff. Held that the ecclesiastical authorities were competent to make such an order, and the defendants could not object to it, and that questions of res judicata and limitation did not arise in such a case. U TEIK KA v, NGA TIN BYU, U.B.R. 1910, 4th Qr., 78. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 52, R.)

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——5.—Ecclesiastical—continued.

(2)—Civil Court whether can give effect to an order of the Thathanabaing or of any other ecclesiastical authority until such order is confirmed by a judgment and decree of the Civil Court.—A Civil Court cannot give effect to an order of the Thathanabaing or of any other ecclesiastical authority until such order is confirmed by a judgment and decree of the Civil Court. The decision of the Taungbyin Sayadau cannot be treated as if it were a judgment and decree of a Civil Court, and it cannot be executed without even giving the other party an opportunity of showing cause against its execution. So far as the Civil Courts are concerned, the Sanad is merely an authoritative declaration that for the time being the Taunggwin Sayadau is the ecclesiastical who has supreme control as Thathanabaing. SHIN KUTHALA v. SHIN SANDA, U.B.R. 1908, 2nd Quarter, Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 1. [R., U.B. R. 1909, 1th Qr., Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 5.]

(3)—Authority of—Thathanabaing—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.—Where a monastery is thingika property which was dedicated to the monastic body before the sect to which the defendants (schismatics) belonged came into existence, held that, according to ancient custom, the Thathanabaing had authority to decide disputes relating to it. It is not the province of the Civil Courts to decide whether an order of Thathanabaing or any other Ecclesiastical authority is strictly in accordance with the Vinaya or not. A defendant may object to the jurisdiction of a Civil Court, but if he declines to appear to contest the case on the merits, he does so at his peril, and, if, on appeal, the question of jurisdiction is decided against him, he will not be allowed to re-open the case on the merits. U. KUTHALA v. U. SANDA, U.B.R. 1910, 2nd Qr. 35.

(4)—Civil Courts, duty of — Civil Courts should abstain from deciding points which fall within the sphere of Ecclesiastical jurisdiction.—The Civil Courts are bound by the decisions of the Buddhist Ecclesiastical authorities in matters within their competence and they should also abstain from deciding points which fall within the sphere of Ecclesiastical jurisdiction. U. WAYAMA v. AHSAYA, U.B R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical 1. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 42, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 59, 72, R.)

(5)—Award by ecclesiastical superior—Effect either as order of ecclesiastical authority or as ordinary arbitration award—Buddhist priesthood—Succession of one member to another in respect of religious buildings and other kinds of property—Possession—Dispossession — Specific Relief Act, s. 9.—A dispute having arisen between two Buddhist monks, the appellant and respondent, as to the right of inheritance and possession in a monastery and other property left by a deceased member of priesthood, the matter was referred by the Thathanabaing or head of the Buddhist hierarchy to the Megwadi Sayadaw and other Sayadaws or high ecclesiastical dignitaries, for decision. An award was given in favour of respondent-defendant, and the appellant-plaintiff was dispossessd irregularly under orders of the district executive authorities. In the litigation that ensued an unsuccessful attempt was made to confine the matter, to begin with, to proceedings under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. The action was eventually fought on the question of the validity of the decision of the Megwadi Sayadaw, which was impugned as not final on the ground that leave had been given for forther reference on appeal. It was clear enough from the evidence that that award was pronounced by the ecclesiastical authorities appointed by the Thathanabaing or head of the Buddhist church for the purpose. Held.—If it was an ecclesiastical decision in an ecclesiastical matter, the ruling of this Court in Circulars No. 72 of 1893 and No. 84 of 1895 would apply, and there would be no room for questioning the action of the ecclesiastical superiors of the parties within the scope of their authority. If on the other hand, the award was of a secular nature or partly secular and partly ecclesiastical, it would make little practical difference, for it had been shown that the plaintiff himself agreed to the reference to the arbitrators, or whatever was their proper character, being made. Either way the plaintiff was bound. The only cause he could show against the award now was its alleged want of finality, and this objection was founded on the assertion that leave was given to appeal from the decision. By this was meant apparently not exactly an appeal to higher authority but a reference to some other ecclesiastical law expert to hear and decide the case. Supposing, however, that such leave was given by the Megawadi Sayadaw, and that he could give it, which was doubtful from the evidence adduced by the plaintiff himself as to the Thathanabaing objecting to order and refusing to return it to plaintiff, still the plaintiff took no advantage of such permission and he could not, of course, be allowed to keep the matter open indefinitely. Apparently, however, the truth of the matter was that the Thathanabaing gave the plaintiff fifteen days within which to appeal or make a reference. The plaintiff did nothing, and after the expiry of the time allowed, the order of the Thathanabaing was issued to carry into effect the award of the Sayadaws. In whatever aspect, therefore, the award was viewed, it would seem that the appellant-plaintiff has no good cause now for challenging its validity. U. OKGANTHA v. U. THIRI, U. B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 82. [Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 45.]

Buddhist Law —continued,

——6.—Ecclesiastical —continued.

(6)—Ecclesiastical jurisdiction of the hierarchical authorities of the Buddhist community —Suit for ejectment from a Kyaung—Poggalika and Thinkiga gift.—Where the plaintiff-respondents sued to eviot the defendant-appellant from a monastery on the ground that they were the beneficial owners thereof or successors to the original owner to whom the monastery had been given by the King of Burma as a poggalika gift; that they were recognised as such by the Tathanabaing, and that the defendant declined to leave the monastery though ordered to do so by the Thathanabaing, and the defendant denied the status of the appellant and the validity of the Thathanabaing's order, held—that the plaintiffs were the contituted authorities, that it was for the defendant to obey them, subject to appeal to their ecclesiastical superiors, and that the Court of first instance had rightly evicted him. U. TE ZEINDA v. U TEZA, U.B. R. 1892—1896. Vol. II, 72. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 59, 17 M. 222, R.) [R., U.B. R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 1.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

——6.—Ecclesiastical —continued.

(7)— Gift — Poggalika — Thingika — Gifts having reference to a future state of existence are divided into two kinds—Poggalika and thingika —In poggalika gifts, the person to whom the offering is made has a right to keep it. In thingika gifts, it becomes the property of the chief of the assembly of priests. After a supporter of religion has made such gifts, he has no right to any further claim on them." MAUNG TALOK v. MA KON, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 78.

(8)—Suit for ejectment from a kyaung— Poggalika and thingika gifts—The ceremony of making a libation of water in the consecration of land and buildings—Authority of the Thathanabaing and Thudama Council in matters of ecclesiastical discipline and control.—It is the desire of the British Government to protect the Buddhist faith as far as it is in their power to do so. The orders and proceedings of the Buddhist ecclesiastical authorities so long as they keep within their jurisdiction and do nothing contrary to law, cannot be questioned in the Civil Courts. U. TE ZA v. U. PYINNYA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II 59. [R., U.B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 72, U B.R, 1903, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 1, U.B.R. 1909, Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 5. U.B. R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Ecclesiastical, 1.]

(9)—Duly constituted Buddhist ecclesiastical authority—Decision of—Enforceable by Civil Court.—In dealing with cases of this kind, viz., suits to enforce an order of the Tabayin Sayadaw, the Courts have to ascertain that the matter is one within the jurisdiction of the Buddhist ecclesiastical authority and that a duly constituted authority has given a decision. It is not necessary that a decision in a matter within his jurisdiction by a duly constituted Buddhist ecclesiastical authority should be confirmed by a Civil Court. The duty of the Civil Court is to enforce it, if it is shown to be a decision enforceable. WUN CHIT v. U. ZAWTA, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 52.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——6.—Ecclesiastical—concluded.

U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol II, 59, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 42. 45, R.) [Cited, U.B.R. 1910, 4th Qr., 78]

(10)—Ecclesiastical jurisdiction — Suit for ejectment from a monastery—Appointment of Thathanabaing. In a suit by a pongyi to eject another pongyi from a monastery in accordance with a decision purporting to be that of the Thathanabaing, before the Pakan Sadaw, called the Thamudi Thathanabaig and also before 12 Sayadaws, called Thathanabyu Sayadaws, these authorities decided in the favour of plaintiff, the cause being heard ex parte. The suit was to enforce these decisions. The defendant among other pleas, denied the jurisdiction of the Pakan Sayadaw and of the Sayadaws who had given the decisions in question and the Lower Courts held that the Pakad Sayadaw had been duly elected and that the Courts should now recognize him as the Thathanabaing. Held, in second appeal that it was not shown that the Pakan Sayadaw could be recognized by the Civil Courts as Thathanabaing of Burma and that it was not shown that the authority of the Sayadaws had been accepted or recognized. The decision of the Lower Courts was reversed. U THANWAYA v. U KETHAYA, U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. II, 45. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 59, 72, 82, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 42, Cited.) [Affirmed, U.B.R. 1897—1909, Vol. II, 52.]

(11)—Suit for possession of a kyaung—Authority of a Budahist ecclesiastical authorities in ecclesiastical matters.—Until the contrary is established not only the Thathanabaing in Council, but also other Buddhist ecclesiastical authorieies have jurisdiction in eccleslastical matters. This being so, not only should the Civil Courts be bound by the decisions of these authorities in matters within their competence, but they should also abstain from deciding points which fall within the sphere of ecclesiastical jurisdiction. U THATDAMA v. U MEDA. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 42. (U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 59, 72, R.) [Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 47 ; Expl., U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 52.]

——7.—Gift.

(1) — Death-bed gift.—Ordinarily Buddhist Law is not applicable to gifts. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 400, R.) A promise to give for no consideration will be valid in Burma without delivery of possession, provided that, in other respects, it fulfils the conditions specified in s. 25 (1), Contract Act. Whatever law may be applied to ordinary gifts, death-bed gifts must be held to be a question of inheritance, to which Buddhist Law is applicable. MA PWA SWE v. MA TIN NYO, U.B R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Gift, 1. [R., U.B.R. 1908, 3rd Qr., B.L.—Gift, 7. U.B.R. 1907, 1st Qr. B.L. —Gift, 1, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Probate and Administration, 3.]

(2)—Gift, revocation of— Buddhist Law not applicable to gifts—Succession—Inheritance—

Buddhist Law—continued.

——7.—Gift—continued.

Meaning of terms—Burden of proof—Settlement of issues—Need for making parties clearly understand points on which evidence is required.—It is undoubtedly the duty of the Courts to see that the issues framed are clearly understood by both parties, and this is particularly necessary when the issues are of a technical character, or are drawn in a technical manner, and when, as is so frequently the case in Upper Burma, the parties are ignorant and inexperienced in our judicial ways. It may easily happen that a party omits to produce essential evidence from sheer inability to comprehend what is wanted, and care should always be taken to point out distinctly the matters upon which the production of evidence is required. S. 53 of the Civil Justice Regulation specially gives ample powers to the Courts to ensure the production of evidence which they themselves deem necessary in the interests of justice even when the parties fail to do what they ought on their own behalf. Suit by Burmese father for recovery of land transferred ten years before to his daughter and her husband, solely enjoyed by them ever since, and entered in their names and as their property in the revenue records. Suit brought on allegation of temporary transfer, but trial of case confined to question of power of father to revoke gift once made to child and followed by delivery of possession. Held—that the burthen of proof was entirely on the plaintiff, who was bound to show that the ownership of the land was not that of the defendants in possession, and that the question was not one of succession, inheritance, or a religious usage or institution so as to make Budhist law the rule of decision must be found in some other law, if any, for the time being in force, and otherwise in the principles of equity, justice and good conscience. Such other law would, to some extent, by the Contract Act s. 25 and Expl. 1, under which the gift having been actually made would be valid as between donor and donee in the absence of any incident that could be attached to it not inconsistent with the provisions of the Act. Such incidents could not be inferred from the passages in the Dhammathats permitting parents to recall gifts made to their children those passages being of the nature of religious or moral precepts which could not be applied as binding in the practical affairs of life, unless their general acceptance as having such force were proved as a matter of custom among the people. MAUNG AT GYI v. MA U, ME, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 400. [R., U.B.R. 1907, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Gift, 1, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 421, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 377, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Gift, 1.]

(3)—Possession—What is requisite to transfer possession—Thingika gift of mortgaged land—Assent of son to gift by father not necessary—No vested interest possessed by son in father's estate before father's death—Diversion of estate from natural heirs to religious endowment should be strictly looked into.—S. 43 of the sixth chapter of the Manugye Dhammathat deal with the mutual power over the property of each other pertaining to teacher and scholars, parents and children, husbands and wives, masters and slaves It discusses the case of teacher and scholar and says the others are the same. It is obvious that the case treated of is that of joint property, and the object is to lay down some rules of partnership. There is no authority for holding that a son can exercise any restraint over the alienation of property by his father. It is necessary for the Courts to look strictly into transactions by which the estates of Buddhists are diverted from their families. MAUNG HMON v. UCHO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 397. [Cited, U.B.R. 807—1901. Vol, II, 62.]

(4)—A gift by a Buddhist monk to take effect after his death.—A gift made by a Buddhist monk, not accompanied or followed by delivery of possession, and intended to take effect only on the death of the donor, is not valid. U THATHANA v. U AWBATHA, U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. II. 62. (U.B.R 1892—1896. Vol II. 397, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 52. L.B.R, 1872—1892, 70, R.) [R., U.B.R, 1907, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Gift 1.]

(5)—Gift—Validity—Necessity for strict proof especially of transfer of possession, which is the crucial test.—Actual parting with possession is the only true test of the completion of a gift, and Burmans evade that final and crucial test if they possible can. The result is that, as a general rule a genuine gift is not commonly made except for religious purposes and under special circumstances. The safest course in all matters of this kind is to insist on strict proof, and in this case, the evidence was most unsatisfactory. MAUNG SHWE THWE v. MA SAING, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 59. [Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 62.]

(6)—Gift by Buddhist monk.—Under Buddhist law a layman upon embracing a religious life becomes ipso facto divested of all property, which thereupon vests as it would upon his divorce or decease. MA PWE v. MAUNG MYAT THA, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 54. [Cited, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 11.]

(7)—Bona-fide purchaser — Notice — The Courts will protect a bona fide purchaser for value, without notice, against a person claiming under a deed-of-gift not followed by possession. NGA MYAT OK v. NGA BO. L. B. R. 1872—1892, 11.

(8)—Revocation.—The right in property obtained by gift, where the gift has been accepted under a condition to support the donor, will terminate if the donee neglects to fulfil the condition. Every gift from a parent to a child does not raise by necessity the inference that the child is bound, by a condition of the gift, to support the parent in case of need. In cases other than those of inheritance, succession, marriage, and religious usage, the Court should, before applying the Budhist Law, look at the effects of their decisions and consider whether that law is equitable. Although under Budhist law a donor, who has become poor, may revoke his gift, the Court declined to apply the law where a gift of immoveable property had been perfected by ten years' possession, and where the donee's name had been registered as owner. MRA DO AUNG v. SHWE, U. L. B. R. 1872—1892, 22. [Appl., L. B. R. 1872—1892, 197; R., U. B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 400, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 219.]

(9)—Possession—Revenue Register.—Except in the special case of gift made to a child on the occasion of entering the priesthood, a gift is not under Buddhist law complete unless it be followed by a transfer of possession, even though there be a written deed of gift, or though the name of the donee at the instance of the grantor be entered in the revenue register. MAUNG NI v. NGA PO MIN, L B.R. 1872—1892, 44. (4 B.H.C. A.C. 31, R.) [F., L,B.R. 1893—1900, 504; R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 70; Appl., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 197.]

(10)—Priesthood.—Absence of delivery of possession does not invalidate a gift given on the occasion of the child entering the priesthood. The Courts should not, under this law, decree immediate and exclusive possession of the gift to the donee or his representative, as against his parents, the donors. That is to say, the Courts cannot decree possession of the gift to the donee until the death of his parents. NGA PAN U v. MI KYU, L.B R. 1872—1892, 30. [R., U.B.R. 1907, 1st Quarter, Bud. Law—Gift, 1; Appl., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 197.]

(11)—Possession.—Where a gift is made for the purposes of evading the ordinary Budhist rules of inheritance, the Budhist Law applies. There is nothing to prevent a man from making a gift to one or more of his children in the absence of others. A gift of property made by a father to his children holds good, and such property is not liable to partition after his death, provided that delivery of possession has taken place. The law requires strict proof of delivery, and delivery cannot be presumed from mere continuance of possession, at any rate in the case of sons actually living with and dependent on an aged father. MAUNG PAN U v. MA KYI NYO, 8 Ind. Cas. 1200 (U.B.R. 1907—1908, Budhist Law—Gift, 4, R.; U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 59, 3 L.B.R. 8, F.)

(12)—Death-bed gift—Validity.—Held, that, according to the Budhist law the gift of an entire estate to a stranger, made by a person in extremis, though accompained by delivery of possession, is void as against the natural heirs. U. NAGA v. MAUNG HLA. U.B R. 1908, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Gift, 7. (U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Budhist Law—Gift, 1, R.)

(13)—Deed of gift without delivery of possession—Registration of deed, effect of.—It has been held in this Court, in several cases, that delivery of possession is necessary to complete a gift among Buddhists in this province. (L. B. R. 1872—1892, 44, L. B. R. 1893—1900, 9 U B Cir. 87 of 1893, F.) Held that the deed of gift though duly registered does not become effective if no pessession is given. GURA v. SAN TUN BAW L.B.R. 1893—1900, 504. (20 C, 454, F.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

—7.—Gift—concluded.

(14)—Gift to priests—Poggalika and Sangika gifts—Individual and general gifts—Claim on poggalika Kyaung by recipient after he has left the priesthood.—A gift made with a view to future existence, whether poggalika or sangika, always retains its religious character and cannot be claimed back for secular uses. In the case of poggalika gifts the recipient can dispose of the same to any other priest. In the absence of his having specifically disposed of the same to some other priest on his death, the original donor has a right of selecting another individual priest as the recipient of his offering. Failing the exercise of such selection the gift would become angika. Property derived from parents or otherwise acquired purely as defined in s. 409 of the Digest does not become sangika, but reverts to the natural heirs of the deceased. In the case of Poggalika Kyaung the recipient cannot after he has left the priesthood make a gift of it to another priest; it ceases to become his personal property when he leaves the priesthood. MAUNG ON GAING v. U PANDISA, L.B.R. 1893=1900, 614.

(15)—Parents making gift to children at the time of entering priesthood—Delivery of possession also made—Property in donee—Power of disposal.—Where there has been delivery of possession of the property given to children at the time of entering priesthood, the property passes absolutely to the donee, and the parents have no longer any power of disposal over it. HLA U v. AUNG DUN, 6 L.B.R. 32. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 2nd Edition, 30, D.)

(16)—Gift by parent to a Koyin on his entering the priesthood—Possession taken by donee—Gift irrevocable by parents—Subsequent disposition by parents invalid.—In the case of a gift by parents to their son on his entering the priesthood, the parents can only sell and utilize the property gifted, where delivery of possession has not taken place and where the property given remains in possession of the parents. Where there has been delivery of possession of the property given, the property passes absolutely to the donee and the parents have no longer any power of disposal over it. MA HLA U v. MG AUNG DUN, 11 Ind. Cas. 862.

—8.—Husband and Wife.

See BUDDHIST LAW—DIVORCE.

See BUDDHIST LAW—MARRIAGE.

(1)—Lettetpwa and Hanpazon property—Property acquired after marriage, interest of husband or wife in—Power of husband to alienate property which he has inherited after marriage.

Buddhist Law—continued.

—8.—Husband and wife—continued.

—The wife or husband has an interest in property acquired by the other by inheritance after marriage, when they are living together and helping each other. In considering what power the husband has of alienating property which he has inherited after marriage, the Court should be guided by the rules applicable to a partition upon divorce when neither party is in fault. The rule as to equal division upon divorce, only applies to property conjointly acquired after marriage. MAUNG PO SEIN v. MA PWA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 403. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, 113, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295, F.)

(2)—Husband and wife—Power of husband to alienate joint property of himself and wife—Whether alienation, transfer of his share and interest.—In this case, a Burmese Buddhist husband had executed a deed of sale of the hanpazon property of himself and his wife. The lower Courts found that it had not been proved that the wife was aware of, or that she had consented to, the sale. It was, also, clear that the vendee knew that the wife was interested in the land and yet chose to take a conveyance from the husband alone. The following questions had to be decided and they were referred to a Bench of the Court:—(1) whether a Burmese Buddhist husband can validly sell or alienate the hanpazon property of himself and his wife without her consent or against her will (2) Whether such a sale by the husband, made without the consent of his wife, constitutes a valid transfer of his share and interest in the property sold. Held, that no grounds having been made out for disturbing the decision of Mr. Fulton in the case of Ma Thu v. Ma Bu that a Buddhist husband cannot sell the joint property of himself and his wife without his wife's assent, express or implied, the first question must be answered in the negative; i.e. subject to the reservations stated in the above-mentioned Ma Thu's case, a Buddhist husband has no power to make a valid sale of the joint property of himself and his wife without her consent or against her will (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 578, F.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 19, 1 L.B.R. 11 U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 303, R.,) ; and that in view of the various decisions forming distinct authorities for the position that, under Buddhist law, it is competent for a husband to validly alienate his share alone of his joint property of himself and his wife, the second question must be answered in the affirmative i.e. a sale by a Buddhist husband of the joint property of himself and his wife, made without her consent does constitute a valid transfer of his share and interest in the property sold. MA SHAWE U v. MA KYU, 3 L.B R. 66, F.B. (1 L.B.R. 184, Overruled ; U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 45, 204, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II. Ex. of decree 1, U B.R. 1904, Buddhist Law—Divorce 1. 1 L.B. R. 198, 3 L.B.R. 8 B.L.R. 1893—1900, 568, 2 L.B.R. 167, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1907, 4th Quarter, Buddhist law—Marriage—Joint Property, 1.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——8.—Husband and wife—continued.

(3)—Act done by husband in pursuance of common business binding on wife—Sale of immoveable property by husband without knowledge of wife—Apparent acquiescence subsequent to sale, by wife, no proof of consent—Presumption.—For many purposes Burmese husbands and wives may be regarded as partners, and, where the husband manages a business on behalf of himself and his wife, acts done in pursuance of the common business would no doubt bind the wife; but this principle cannot, we think, be applied to such a transaction as the sale of immoveable property belonging to both. In such a case further evidence is required, besides the fact that the transaction was in some way connected with the business, in which it might perhaps be presumed that the wife made no open protest against the sale. Because a wife consents to or acquiesces in a mortgage the presumption does not arise that she also assents to a sale of the property. Nor should apparent acquiescence subsequent to the sale be regarded as proof of consent by the wife to such sale. MAUNG TWE v. RAMEN CHETTY, 1 L B R. 11. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 37, 568, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 578, R.) [R., 3 L.B.R. 66.]

(4)—Divorce—Joint property.—Where husband and wife both assent to divorce and no fault is proved, each is entitled to take back property brought at marriage, and to an equal division of the property that may have been acquired conjointly during marriage. MI DWE NAW v. MAUNG TU. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 14 [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 175, 206.]

(5)—Joint property.—Three years' absence with neglect on the part of the husband to provide the wife with the means of subsistence, is required to give the wife the right of re-marriage. Until the expiration of that period the relation of marriage subsists, unless, of course, it is put a stop to by some formal act of separation. The Burmese law recognizes the husband as the lord of his household. The wife cannot retain possession of joint property in opposition to her husband. So long as marriage subsists the Courts cannot decree an absolute dominion over it to either husband or wife; but the husband, rather than the wife, is entailed to retain possession of it in trust for both. MAUNG KO v. MA ME. L B R. 1872—1892. 19. [R., U.B.R, 1892—1896. Vol. II, 48, U.B.R. 1892—1896 Vol. II. 53 3, L B R. 66, 3 L.B.R. 175. L.B.R. 1872—1893, 126, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 578, U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 303.]

(6)—Divorce—Profession of faith—Apostacy—Estoppel under s. 115 of the Evidence Act.—In a suit for divorce from a Mahomedan husband, brought by a Burmese woman professing the Buddhist faith, but at the time of her marriage simulating conversion to Islam, and married with Mahomedan ceremonies, the Mahomedan Law should form the rule of decision; and the Courts cannot grant a divorce in such a case when no fault is established on the husband's side. KUMAL SHERIFF v. MI SHWE YWET, L.B R. 1872—1892, 49.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——8.—Husband and wife—continued.

(7)—Divorce—Joint Property.—Where a woman has a separate establishment from her husband and takes no share in the management of his business, and performs the duties of a wife no more than by receiving his visits, is not entitled to hold the property acquired by her husband, who carried on his business in the house of his first wife, as joint property. Where a divorce takes place against the wish and without any fault on the part of the wife, the husband may take back his separate property. MAUNG KYIN v. MA SAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 27. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 103, 110; Relied on., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295; Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 138].

(8)—Liability of Buddhist wife for obligations contracted by husband—Wife not privy to obligationer benefited by it—Buddhist law, how far binds Courts.—To hold a wife personally responsible for an obligation contracted by her husband to which it is not shown that she was in any way privy, and from which it is not proved that she received any profit, is certainly not, in accordance with justice, equity, or good conscience. The wife is not personally liable for an obligation contracted by her husband, who had been absent from home three years. In matters other than succession, inheritance, marriage or religious usage, our Courts are only bound by Buddhist Law so far as it is just and equitable. MI NU v. MAUNG SAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 28. [R., 3 L.B.R. 175, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 53.]

(9)—Ancestral estate—Widower—Wife's mother.—On the death of a wife the husband is entitled to retain possession of his wife's share in ancestral estate which has been in their separate possession, to the exclusion of the wife's mother. MI TUN BYU v. NGA YAN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 32. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 74, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121.]

(10)—Wife's duty.—So long as the marriage-bond subsists the "wife is, at Buddhist law, required to do her part in contributing to the joint-comfort and well-being. (Special Court judgment in Civil Appeal No. 10 of 1882, 1, F.) The husband is the lord of the wife. There is no authority for the proposition that while the marriage subsists the wife is to have exclusive possession of the husband's property or the joint property. NGA KAN ZA v. MI LE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 126. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 19, R.)

(11)—Restitution of conjugal rights—Divorce—Rights of divorce on mere caprice.—A suit between a Burman Buddhist married couple for restitution of conjugal rights will lie. This relief is not lost by the plaintiff's temporary abandonment of the defendant for a shorter period than that mentioned in Manu Kye Book 5, Chapter 17. NGA NWE v. MI SU MA, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 391. [R., 3 L.B.R. 175, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 607, 5 L.B.R. 87, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 610, U.B.R. 1909, Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1, U.B.R. 1892—1896; Vol. II, 53. U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Divorce, 3.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——8.—Husband and wife—concluded.

(12)—Joint property.—A Burmese husband cannot sell or alienate the joint property of himself and his wife without her consent or against her will. MA THU v. MA BU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 578. (L.B.R. 1872 — 1892, 19, R.) [R., 1 L.B.R. 11. U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, 303, 1 L.B.R. 184 ; D , 2 L.B.R. 324 ; F., 3 L.B.R. 66.]

(13)—British Burma — Buddhist Law — Maintenance, wife's right to and claim for— Suit by Burmese wife for necessaries and past maintenance—Law applicable—Burma Courts Act. s. 4—By the Buddhist Law of marriage in British Burma, it is the duty of the husband to provide subsistence for his wife and furnish her with suitable clothes and ornaments. On his failing to do so, he is liable to pay her debts contracted for necessaries, unless she has sufficient means of her own. There is no authority for saying that, where the wife has maintained herself, she can sue her husband for maintenance for the period during which she has done so. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31.] A claim by a wife, married according to Burmese rights and customs in a British Burma Court, for necessaries and for past maintenance, was held to be a question "regarding marriage" under s. 4 of the Burma Courts Act, and the Buddhist Law mentioned above was held applicable to the case, in consequence. Semble:—If the above case were to be decided according to the rule of justice, equity and good conscience, the husband would not, in view of the Burmese Law as to the property of married persons, be liable upon the claim. MAUNG HMOON HTAW v. MAH HPWAH, 10 C. 777, P.C. 11 I.A. 109=4 Sar. 505. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31.]

——9.—Inheritance.

(1)—Divorce of parents by mutual consent—Son's right of inheritance.—The mere fact of a divorce having taken place between the parents by mutual consent, with equal division of the parents' joint property, accompanied by the fact that the son by the first marriage has, during his minority, lived with his divorced mother, does not divest the son of his ordinary legal right of inheritance under Buddhist law expressed in the ordinary rule that "on the death of the father who has married two wives in succession, the child of the first marriage is entitled to one-eighth share in property acquired during the continuance of the second marriage" as propounded by Sandford, J.C. in Nga Po Thit's case (B.S.J., 18). MAUNG BA KYU v. MA XAN BYU, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(2)—Children of father by a first and second marriage—Division of property inherited from a grand parent after death of father—Limitation.—Where there are children of one father by a first marriage as well as by a second marriage, the children of the first marriage, should have equal shares with the children of the second marriage in property inherited from a grandparent after the death of the father. MAUNG YE v. MA ME, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 418.

(3)—Legitimate child.—A child begotten in chance intercourse is entitled to inherit where there are no legitimate children. NGA KA YIN O v. MA GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 15. [R., 2 L.B.R. 54.]

(4)—Mother and children. — According to Buddhist law on the death of the father no child other than the eldest can claim a share of the inheritance from the surviving mother. The position of children in relation to their parents discussed. MI SAUNG v. MI KUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115. (L. B. R. 1872—1892, 39, 108, 41, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, 138, 581, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 585, 2 L.B.R. 255, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 212, 255].

(5)—Succession—Parents and children.—On the death of Buddhist parents who have during their life-time divided the bulk of their property, but reserved a share for their own support, that share should be divided among the children according to the ordinary rules of succession without reference to the fact that the parents lived or died with any of the children. KO TI, MA BI, MAUNG PO. v. MA DUT, BAING SAUK, MAUNG SHWE, O, NGA TI DUT, MI BA, AND MI GUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 170. [Appl., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 191.]

(6)—Joint property — Widow—Children by former marriage.—Where a father on the death of his wife marries again and dies, leaving no issue by the second wife, the children of the former marriage take collectively one-eighth share out of the property acquired during the second marriage ; the widow takes the remaining seven shares. MI SO v. MI HMAT THA AND NGA HMYIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892 177. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 18, 110, R.) [R., 2 L.B.R. 174, 4 L.B.R. 189, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295, 299 ; F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361.]

(7)—Kettima son—Thabeta son—Law relating to.—There is nothing in Buddhist Law to render a child whose parents are dead or unknown, incapable of adoption. This was an appeal to recover a share in the estate of the Pakan Mingyi Kadaw (deceased). The estate is in the possession of the first respondent-defendant, who asserts his right to it as being the kittima (adopted) son of the Mingyi Kadaw. The plaintiff-appellant is a relation of the Mingyi Kadaw. Held that the respondent Maung Kan Gyi was legally adopted as a kittima son and as such was entitled to inherit. That he did not conduct himself as an enemy so as to render himself incapable of inheriting. And as it was admitted that a kittima son would oust the appellant from a right to succession the appeal was dismissed. MA TIN SHWE v. MAUNG KAN GYI, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 142. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 22, R.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 25, R.) [Cited, 2 L.B.R. 224.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(8)—Child of first marriage.—On the death of the father, who has married two wives in succession, the child of the first marriage is entitled to one-eighth share in property acquired during the continuance of the second-marriage. NGA PO THIT v. MI THAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 18. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361; R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, 2 L.B.R. 174, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 103, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 177.]

(9) — Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Son of divorced wife—Filial relations—Maintenance by father—Revival of lost rights.—The children of separated parents are included among those children who cannot inherit, and no distinction is made between sons and daughters. The mere fact of a father helping to educate or maintain a son is not sufficient to revive rights which such son had lost in law and intention at the time of his mother's divorce. MI SAN MRA RHI v. MI THAN DA U, 1 L B.R. 161. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 184, 206, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 469, Chan Toon 450, D.; L.B R. 1893—1900, 299, Diss.) [R., 5 L.B.R. 133, 2 L.B.R. 174; F., 14 Bur. L. R. 236, 4 L.B.R. 272].

(10)—Inheritance—Shares of widow and of childen by former marriages.—Where the plaintiff-appellant, the third wife (childless) of her deceased husband sued his children by the two former wives for her share in the estate left at his death and there was no evidence regarding the estate of the deceased at the time of, or during the subsistence of, either of the former marriages, held, (1) that appellant was entitled to a one-fourth share of her husband's payin property possessed by him at the time of her marriage, and to a seven-eighth share of the letletpwa property jointly acquired during her marriage; (2) that in the absence of evidence of deceased's estate before his third marriage, his children by the first two marriages shared equally per capita in the payin and letletpwa property remaining after the widow had taken her share; (3) that in cases like the present one, when payin property changes its character during a marriage, the presumption is that it had become letletpwa of that marriage. The childless widow takes seven-eighths of the property acquired during the third marriage and one-fourth of the property brought by her husband to the third marriage irrespective of the time it was acquired. MA BA WE v. MI SA U, 2 L.B.R. 174, F.B. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 177, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 126, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 6 L.B.R. 1872—1892, 18, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361, L.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

B.R. 1872—1892, 110, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 223, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 312, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 418, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 79, 1 L.B.R 161, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 102, R.) [F., 3 L.B.R. 8; R., 4 L.B.R. 110.]

(11)—Orasa son—Partition—Right of grandson to claim a share on re-marriage of grandfather.—The term orasa has two distinct meanings. It applies to all legitimate natural born children as opposed to adopted illegimate children; and it means also the eldest legitimate son or daughter, or as has been said, the eldest legitimate child. It is in the sense of the eldest son or daughter that it is generally used in the reported decisions. The eldest-born son is the orasa by right; but he does not obtain the complete status as such till he attains his majority, and becomes fit to assume his father's duties and responsibilities and to assist in the acquisition or management of the family estate. If he dies before he attains his majority, or if he is incompetent to fulfil the above conditions, then his next younger brother, subject to the same conditions, succeeds to his position as orasa. If, however, the eldest son attains his majority and fulfils the prescribed conditions, and then dies before this parents, his position as orasa remains unfilled and the next brother does not succeed to it. These principles are consistent with the previous decisions, and they reconcile the rulings and texts which provide for the evolution of the status of orasa, in certain circumstances, and the texts which distinguish between orasa and kanittha children, even after the death of the orasa. It may also be deduced from the texts that it is only when the orasa has attained his majority before the death of his father that he can claim his fourth share of the inheritance, unless the mother marries again. There is no authority which recognises the right of an orasa son, who is a minor at his father's death, to claim from his mother a share on his attaining majority. The principles set forth above seem also to explain the rules concerning the right of grandchildren, to claim a share on the death of one of their grandparents. TUN MAYING v. BA TUN, 2 B.L R. 292. (1886, 1 L.C. 258, 1889, 2 L.C 61, 1901, 2 L.C. 207, 1902, 2 L.C. 210, 1 L.B.R. 198, 2 L.B.R. 255, 1902, 2 L.C. 124, 1 L.B.R. 104, Cited.) [R., U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 11.]

(12)—Illegitimate step-son.—In the absence of legitimate children, illegitimate children are entitled to inherit. (2 U. B. R. 1892—1896, Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 141, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 15 F.) Step-children inherit from their step-parents to the exclusion of collateral heirs. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 1, R.) Therefore, in the absence of legitimate children a step-son, though illegitimate, may inherit from a step-mother to the exclusion of collateral heirs. MA SEIN HLA v. MAUNG SEIN HNAN, 2 L.B.R. 54. [R., U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

—— 9.—Inheritance—continued.

(13)—Children who voluntarily separate from their mother on her second marriage.—When the children of the mother separate from her on the occasion of her second marriage and take their share of the inheritance of their parents and for many years continue to form no part of the second family, they are not entitled to claim any share in the property jointly acquired by their mother and her second husband. MAUNG SHWE YAN v. MA NGWE, U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 113. (L. B. R. 1872—1892, 184, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 176.]

(14)—Descent — Step-children — Step-grand-children—Blood relations.—Excepting undivided ancestral property, the estate of a deceased step-parent or grand-parent goes by descent to the step-children or step-grand children in preference to collateral relatives by blood. Collateral blood relations, or ascendants, can succeed to an inheritance only when there are no possible heirs in the descending line ; step-children are treated as entitled to some share of inheritance like descendants by blood ; and in the absence of natural descendants step-descendants are classed as heirs entitled to succeed, the bond of blood yielding to the more important consideration of having a descendant heir and representative. The rule as to reaching inheritance or obtaining a vested interest applies only where the claimants to inheritance are of different classes, that is in different degrees of propinquity to the deceased. Thus, if there is no nearer heir than a grand-child, all the grand-children belong to the same class and are on an equal footing as heirs, although their parents have died before reaching the inheritance. Where there are no children, but only grand-children surviving, the latter succeed on the same footing as children, although their parents had died without reaching the inheritance or obtaining a vested interest, the principle of Buddhist law on this point apparently being that this rule is requisite only where a distinction has to be made between the claim of different classes of heirs, and its application unnecessary when the nearest heirs all stand in the same degree of relationship to the deceased owner of the estate to be divided. MA GUN BON v. MAUNG PO KYWE, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 66. (U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, R.) [R., U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 193, 126, 157, 146, U.B.R. 1904, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 1, U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Quarter, Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15, U.B.R. 1905, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 11 U.B.R. 1905, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 7 ; F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 531.]

(15)—Question whether mere absence of joint living excludes a child or grandchild from inheritance—Necessity for filial neglect to exclude.—The Buddhist Code does not give any meritorious value to mere living together or make the opposite state of things a reason for exclusion. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 170, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299 R.) There must be some filial neglect to exclude. MA TACK MAUNG TE v. MA NYUN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 193. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, 66, 122, 126, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, 194, 110 R.) [R., U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15, U.B.R. 1904, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance 1.]

(16)—Suit for share of inheritance between second wife of deceased and sons of first wife—Ate Oksa and auk Oksa—Children entitled to three-fourths of the property to which they have a double claim and half of that to which they have a single claim.—The Burmese lawyers recognised the difficulty of treating property acquired by the father by inheritance during his second marriage as either atet oksa or auk oksa. They therefore invented the special rule of equal division for it. The three-quarters rule applies to the atet oksa only. The principle is, that children should get three-quarters of the property to which they have a double claim, i.e., through both father and mother, and half of that to which they have a single claim. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, F.) The second wife held entitled to a half share of her husband's ancestral property inherited during her coverture. MAUNG TUN GYAW v. MA BALO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 188, (U. B.R. 1892—1896, 159, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 126, 461, 469, R.)

(17)—Suit for partition between son of head wife, son and daughter of second regular wife and son of slave-concubine—Shares to which each is entitled—Heirs inherit estate when the person from whom they inherit dies and not when their inheritance is partitioned.—Property is acquired by inheritance not by partition. Heirs inherit an estate when the person from whom they inherit dies and not when their inheritance is partitioned. For the case where there is one head wife with one son, one free concubine with one son, and one slave concubine with one son, the slave concubine's son is entitled to one and a half shares against the head wife's son's four shares and the free concubine's two shares. The system of multiplying shares explained in s. 2 of the Manu Wunnana and s. 230 of the Attathankepa followed. MAUNG TWE v. MAUNG AUNG, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 176. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 113, 116, 126, R.)

(18)—Inheritance— Illegitimate child.— An illegitimate daughter is entitled to share half of her father's estate with his widow. MA SHWE ZI v. MA KYIN THAW, 8 Ind. Cas. 991.

(19)—Share of child of deceased first wife in property inherited during second marriage.—A Burman Buddhist had a child by his first wife. After the death of the first wife, he contracted a second marriage, and by the second wife he had another child. During the continuance of the second marriage, he had inherited certain property from his mother. His second wife pre-deceased him. He died last leaving him surviving the two children one by his deceased first wife, and the other by his deceased second wife. Held, the two children were entitled each to a moiety in the property inherited by the deceased from his mother. MAUNG GALE v. MAUNG BYA, 4 L B.R. 189. (L.B R. 1872—1892, Vol. II, 110, 177, 223, 255, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361, 418, R.) [R., 4 L.B R. 256.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(20)—Eldest representative of eldest child ranking with surviving uncles and aunts.—In Buddhist Law, a grand-child, whose parents have pre-deceased their parents, is entitled to rank with the surviving uncles and aunts, only if he is the eldest representative of the eldest child, the other grand-children taking only one-fourth of the share that their parents would have enjoyed have they survived. MA THIN v. MA NYEIN, 8 Ind. Cas. 594. (1 L.B.R. 198, F.)

(21)—Property inherited by Burman Buddhist father after death of first wife and before marrying his second wife—Share of child by deceased wife —Where a Burman Buddhist inherits property, moveable or immoveable, after the death of his first wife, by whom he had a son, and before his marriage with his second wife, by whom he had children and dies leaving him surviving, his son by his first wife, his second wife, and children by her, it was held that the son by the first marriage is entitled to one-half share of such property. MA LEIK v. MAUNG NWA, 4 L.B R. 110. (2 L.B. R. 174, L.B R. 1872—1892, 110, 6, 255, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 534, R.)

(22)—Inheritance—Child of a divorced couple.—The general rule among the Buddhists, which allows the child of a divorced couple to inherit only from one parent, namely the parent with whom he or she lives, and not from the other, is not confined to cases where one or other of the parents re-marries and has issue by the new marriage. It applies with equal force to a case where the father does not re-marry but lives the rest of his life with a child by an earlier marriage. (4 L.B.R. 272. Appr.) The mere fact that a daughter is on affectionate terms with her father is not sufficient to establish her contention that the family tie giving her a continued right of inheritance in her father's estate was kept unbroken after her mother's divorce. MA HLA HIN v. MAUNG CHIT PO. 8 Ind. Cas. 1202. (1 L.B.R. 161, R.)

(23)—Inheritance—Suit by eldest son for one-fourth share—Limitation Act, art 123.—The Burmese Law of Inheritance, where it conflicts with the Limitation Act, cannot be enforced in the Courts. (L.B.R., 1872—1892, 51, U.B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 9, R.) Art. 123 of sch. II of the Limitation Act applies to a suit by an eldest son for one-fourth share of the estate of his father and mother, on the mother's death. In such a case, limitation begins to run from the date of the mother's death, MAUNG PO MIN v. USHWE LU, 2 L.B.R. 110. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 415, L.B.R. 1993—1900, 625, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 378, 1 L.B.R. 23, R.).

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(24)—Inheritance—Division among children of same parents after parent's death—Division in equal or unequal shares.—The question for decision in this case, was, whether, under the Buddhist Law, Burmese daughters inherited the estate of their deceased parents in equal or unequal shares. Held, on consideration of all the authorities on the subject, that children of the same parents, dividing an inheritance, after their parent's death, take each an equal share. MA KYI KYI v. MA THEIN, 3 L.B.R. 8. (1 L.B. R. 198, F.) [R. 4 L.B.R. 181, 3 L.B.R. 66.]

(25)—Orasa child—Daughter surviving parents with brother, Whether such daughter, orasa child—Share of children of such daughter.—The plaintiffs sued, as the children of the orasa daughter of the original owners, to recover a third of the properties left by them. Held, that the plaintiff's position was untenable. The plaintiffs mother was neither the eldest child nor the eldest daughter of the original owners. She was not even the eldest survivor among a family consisting of daughters only, for, at the time of her mother's death, who survived her husband, she had an adult brother. There is no authority for the suggestion that a second daughter, who is also the fifth child can under any circumstances become an orasa child so long as there is a brother surviving and competent to assume the headship of the family. As there were two children of the original owners still living the plaintiffs could get only one twelfth and not one-third of the properties of the owners, PO SEIN v. PO MIN, 3 L.B.R. 45.

(26)—Suit by children against their widowed mother for protection of joint family property.—When the mother is alive the children are not entitled to partition of inheritance. On the mother attempting to alienate the property improperly they might possibly be entitled to sue to restrain her from parting with it. MAUNG HMU v. MA MIN DOK U.B R. 1892—1896 Vol. II, 174. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 109, R.)

(27)—Exclusion of illegitimate child—Imperfection of birth is not cured by subsequent regular union of parents.—When there are regular heirs, there would be no reason for admitting an illegitimate heir. Illegitimate grand-children are excluded from inheritance of grand-parents when the latter have left legitimate children surviving them. MAUNG PYU v. MA CHIT, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 141. [R., 2 L.B.R. 54.]

(28)—Children of first wife—Daughter of subsequent wife—Shares.—The plaintiff, now respondent, was Ma Meinkale, daughter of one of the wives of Maung Tun E deceased. Maung Tun E left two sons, Maung Chit Saya and Maung Aung Tha, and a daughter Ma Thin On by his first wife, a daughter Ma Meinkale by a subsequent wife, and a widow Ma U Ma without children. The questions that arose in the case were what was the property subject to division, and what share of that property was Ma Meinkale entitled to in accordance with Buddhist law. The Court of first instance, following ss. 7 and 66 of Book X of the Manugye, gave respondent one-fourth of the property after deducting and adding certain items, and the lower appellate Court found the Dhammathats conflicting, but considered respondent entitled to a fourth share of the pay in property. Held, that the rule is to divide the property into four shares of which the children of the first marriage received two and the child of the next marriage and the surviving widow, one each. MAUNG CHIT SAYA v. MA MEINKALE, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 93. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 46, 95, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 102, 2 L. B. R. 174.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(29)—Priority of birth--Rights of eldest son or daughter passing to next eldest as representative of the father or mother.—According to Buddhist Law priority of birth is recognised and certain duties pass by succession to the next eldest son or daughter. The following are the principles as to the succession of the children on the death of the father. First : The eldest son, if competent, is representative of his father and in that capacity is entitled to one-fourth of the inheritance on the death of the father. Second : Where there are both sons and daughters the eldest competent son is perferred to any daughter, Third : The rights of the eldest son or daughter pass to the next eldest as representative of the father or mother. MA MYA v. MAUNG PO THIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900 585. [R., 1 L.B.R. 198 ; Expl.; 2 L.B.R. 292.]

(30)—Divorce— Partition on divorce.—It is dangerous to hold that an only daughter has, after her father's death and before partition with her mother, an interest in the estate capable of alienation. (L.B.R. 1872.—1892, 108, 115, 123, R.) A woman who has obtained a divorce by a decree of the Court cannot be made to relinquished all her property, the forfeiture of property being a punishment for improper desertion. MAUNG PO LAT v. MI PO LE L.B.R. 1872—1892, 212. (1 B. 97, F.) [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 255, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295.]

(31)—Succession—Daughter of divorced wife —Joint property.—Where a husband and wife divorced by mutual consent and the young daughter remained till her father's death in the house of her mother and her mother's second husband and did not renew the filial connection with her own father, and where there was no special contract at the time of the divorce to a contrary effect, the daughter is not entitled to share in the letletpwa acquired after the divorce by the father and the second wife. MI THAIK v. MI TU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 184. [Appl., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 191 ; R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 296, 2, L.B. R. 85, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, 110, L.B R. 1893—1900, 299, 469, U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15, 1, L.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

B.R. 161, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 176, 113, 116 ; F., 4 L.B.R. 272, 14 Bur. L. R. 236 ; D., 1 L.B.R. 161.]

(32)—Daughter removed from her father's family and continuously resident with her divorced mother—Rights in father's family.—A child removed from the father's family, and continuously resident with her divorced mother after she is of an age when she might assist in the affairs of her father's family, appears to be in the position nearly of a child adopted from the father's family into mother's family and, while she acquires or retains rights in her mother's or new family's property, she loses right in the family whence she came. A person is not obliged to claim all that he is entitled to claim. MAUNG HMAT v. MA PO ZON, L.B.R. 893—1900, 469.

(33)—Share of eldest daughter by second wife.—Where there is a son competent to assume the parental duty, an eldest daughter by a second wife cannot claim a share in her deceased father's estate during the life-time of her mother. MA ME v. MA MYIT, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 48. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115, R.)

(34)—Step-daughter—Step-mother — Hnapazon—Joint property.—Property inherited by a father from his ancestor during marriage is not hnapazon or joint property of the husband and wife. On his death, leaving a daughter by a previous marriage and a widow, the daughter is entitled to one-half and the widow to an equal share. In deciding such a case the Court must be guided by analogy in applying the rule prescribed by the Dhammathat for the division between a daughter and her step-father of property inherited during coverture by the mother from her ancestors. MAUNG SHWE NGON v. MA MIN DWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110. (L.B R. 1872—1892, 18, L.B R. 1872—1892, 27, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1906, 2nd Qr. Buddhist Law —Divorce, 13 L.B.R. 1893—1900, 418, 403, 295, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, 102, 159, 4 L.B.R. 189, 110, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 185, 146 ; D., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295 ; Disc., L.B R. 1872—1892, 177.]

(35)—Illegitimate daughter — Concubine.—The Case of the kanina or damsel's son is provided for in the Dhammathats, although not always by mention of the Sanskrit name. When the deceased left legitimate children it was held that his daughter by a damsel not recognized as concubine could not share in the property. MA LE v. MA PAUK PIN, L.B R. 1872—1892, 228. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 114, 184, 1 B. 97, 2 B. 67, 4 B. 656, R.) [R., L. B.R. 1872—1892, 235, 3 L.B.R. 175, U.B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 145.]

(36)—Daughter of divorced husband and wife living with mother and separating entirely from her father.—Daughters of a divorced wife, who live with their mother and do not maintain filial relations with their father, but live entirely separate from him, are not entitled to a share in his estate when there has been a division of property at the time of the divorce. MA PON v. MONG PO CHAN. U.B.R. 1897—1904, Vol II, 116. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 102, 194, 623, 110, 159, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 104, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 176. U.B.R. 906, 3rd Qr. Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 55, 2 L.B.R. 85; F., 4 L.B.R. 272.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(37)—Eldest daughter, claim of, to a share of the general joint estate on the death of the mother—Rights of eldest child—Claim of eldest son to one-fourth share of the general joint estate on the death of the mother, when the father marries again.—The hasty abuse of a father on a single occasion—conduct which was also forgiven and was not made a ground for any public declaration by the father—is not such conduct as to deprive the plaintiff of any rights he had. The principle that a daughter gets a share on the death of her mother and the son on the death of his father simply because the daughter and son perform the family duties of the mother and father respectively, is not to be found clearly enunciated, although, as noted above, there are indications of such a principle. The son gets the father's official and personal belonging when the father dies, and in a corresponding way the daughter takes her mother's official and personal belongings; but as regards the rest, while some Dhammathats are indefinite, others, notably the Vilasa, Kyetyo, Rasi and Dhammathat Kyaw appear to give rights to the eldest child, because he or she is obtained by the prayers of the parents in early married life and helps the parents before other children can. Occasional passages, however, put the daughter in an inferior position to a son. It may not be very clear from the Dhammathats now available that a son can claim a one-fourth share from his father when he lives separately and when the father does not marry again, though this has been held; but we do not think it open to reasonable doubt that when the father does marry again, the eldest son, especially if he be the eldest child, can claim a one-fourth share of the general joint estate of the parents. MAUNG SEIK KAUNG v. MAUNG PO NYEIN. 1 L.B.R. 23. [F., 5 L.B.R. 231; R., 2 L.B. R. 110, 255 6 L.B.R. 198.]

(38)—Partition—Rights of single daughter on death of father.—A daughter, being an only child, is entitled to claim a one-fourth share of her parents' joint estate from her mother, when the latter re-marries after the father's death. MA THIN v. MA WA YON, 2 L B R. 255. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 378, 1 L.B.R. 23. L B.R. 1893—1900, 48, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115, R.) [Cited, 2 L.B.R 292, 3 L.B.R. 15; R., 4 L.B.R. 181.]

(39)—Partition of property between two daughters as sole successors and heirs—What rule of division?—Whether equality or one of the special methods of computation mentioned in the Dhammathats?—If latter, which?—In the absence of proof on this point rule of equality prevalent according to local custom followed.—When the rules are conflicting and uncertain, when there is no proof as to what Dhammathat ought to be followed or what rule ought to prevail, when it cannot be shown that a particular direction is a living rule and not merely a dead-letter, and when the circumstances of the case are not such as are contemplated by the object of the rule, the Courts may safely accept a custom which there is a reasonable amount of evidence to establish if such custom is consonant with equitable principles. The only rule of Buddhist Law shown to be operative in respect of the partition of inheritance between two sisters on the same footing, except as regards age, is that of equality of partition. MA PO v. MA SWE MI, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 79. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 102, 111, R.) [D., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 104; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 146, 2 L.B.R. 174.]

(40)—Eldest daughter's share in property, inherited by her mother from her mother.—A female Burmese Buddhist inherited some property from her mother. She died leaving a husband and five daughters. Held, that the eldest of the daughters was entitled to succeed to one-fourth share of the property. THA TU v. MAUNG BYA. 4 L.B.R. 181. (3 L.B.R. 8, 2 L.B.R. 255, R.)

(41)—Right of daughter of divorced wife to succeed to her father's property as against his sister.—Where the husband divorces his wife, after she was conceived, and dies without other wife, child or grand-child, the child by the divorced wife is to succeed to his estate. If the father lived alone, the child succeeds to the whole estate. If the father lived with his co-heirs, the child succeeds to half and the co-heirs to the other half. Therefore, where a person dies leaving only a sister and a daughter by a divorced wife, they share his property equally. The rule that the daughter of a divorced wife, who lives with the mother and does not maintain filial relations with the father, is not entitled to a share of his estate, does not apply to the above case. MI NYO v. MI NYEIN THA, U.B.R. 1906, Bud. Law, Inheritance, 15. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 22, 159. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116, 135, 193, 166, R.)

(42)—Priority between sister and sister's daughter.—In this case the question for decision was, whether, under Buddhist Law, the daughter of a deceased sister is entitled to any share in competition with the sister of the owner. Held, that, in the case of collateral succession, the general principle of the nearer, excluding the more remote, takes full effect and that, so long as there is a surviving brother, he excludes the children of a previously deceased brother. Applying this principle, the sister excluded the sister's daughter. MA MA GALE v. MA ME, U.B.R. 1905, Buddhist Law, 3. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, 172, D.) [F., 5 L.B.R. 70.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(43)—Position of daughter of divorced wife who lives with her mother or mother's family and not her father.—Under Buddhist Law a child has no vested interest in the father's property and cannot interfere to prevent him from disposing of it, and if that is so it is difficult to see what right there can be to the proceeds of the disposal or what power to control the father's dealing with such proceeds in any way he may think fit. If the father chose to spend all the money obtained by the sale of his property the child could not make him responsible for its reimbursement, and the fact that instead of spending the money the father chooses to keep it or to buy property with it so as to make the money or the property subject to a different rule of inheritance cannot apparently affect the matter. The father might make a gift of such property to the person entitled to inherit it after the conversion, and the person entitled to inherit the original property if it had not been converted could not prevent him. The deceased Maung Myat No left a wife Ma Kywe the defendant, and a daughter by her, Ma U Gywe. He had previously had other wives, of whom one, Ma Kyi Su, was by mutual consent divorced some 16 years before. By Ma Kyi Su he had a daughter, Ma Sein Nyo, the plaintiff, who went to live with her maternal grandmother and mother, who, having re-married, subsequently resided in the same house. Ma Sein Nyo never lived with her father but only visited him from time to time. All Maung Myat No's property was apparently acquired before his marriage with Ma Kyi Su or after his marriage with defendant. His sister Ma Kaung Gywe jointly owned part of the property. She divided it after his last marriage and by an instrument of transfer conveyed her share to him and his wife, the defendant, partly for the purpose of a religious trust, partly in consideration of the payment of debts, and partly as a gift. Plaintiff sued for a three-fourth share of the whole estate. The first Court gave her a half share of the ancestral property and no share of the hnitpazon letletpwa property acquired after the marriage with defendant on the ground that she had not duly maintained the filial relation. Defendant did not appeal and plaintiff appealed unsuccessfully. In second appeal by plaintiff, held—that plaintiff was not entitled to a three-fourths share of the estate as she was not brought into the second marriage by the father, and probably was not entitled to any share at all, the principle of Buddhist law being, in the absence of testamentary power, that the continuance of the family tie for purpose of inheritance should be manifested by plain and unmistakable outward signs, and there being apparently no clear reason for the distinction drawn as to the right of inheritance in respect of ancestral and non-ancestral property; that, if plaintiff was entitled to any share, it was not necessarily a half, the deceased having left not only a widow but also a daughter by his last marriage; that the trust property was not a part of the estate subject to division; that the property transferred by Ma Kaung Gywe was not ancestral but acquired during the second marriage; that the current income of all property being hnitpazon letletpwa any property acquired by the expenditure of such income would be the same. MA SEIN NYO v. MA KYWE. U. B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 189. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 44, 110, 184, 191, 296, U. B R. 1892—1896, Vol II, 194. R.) [R., U.B.R. 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1; R., U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116, 126, 185. 193, U. B. R. 1906, 3rd Qr. Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15, 2 L.B.R. 174].

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(44) — Husband and wife — Survivorship—Succession Certificate Act, s. 4.—Husband and wife, under Buddhist Law, always take from each other by succession and not by survivorship. It is necessary therefore for the survivor to obtain a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, before he or she can recover through the Courts debts due to the deceased. MA NAW ZA v. MA THET PON. L.B.R. 1893—1900, 334. (2 Bur. L.R. 50, R.)

(45)—Succession—Distributive shares amongst widows—Alienation of property by a Buddhist before death—Distribution by Budahist Law of the estate of a deceased Buddhist in certain fixed shares.—A Buddhist cannot dispose of his property by will. MA BWIN v. MA YIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 95. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 429, L.B.R. 1893—1909, 132, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 93.]

(46)—Marriage — Kanwin.—The Buddhist Law favours the equality of the sexes, and in many ways treats marriage as creating a partnership in goods. Kanwin is property set apart at the time of marriage by the bridge room or his parents for the joint purposes of the married pair. Where property is not set apart as kanwin but is simply entrusted by the parents to the bridge room to manage, he and the parent shall share it equally. If he died without children his widow shall take half and his parents half. MA HLA AUNG v. MA E, L. B R. 1872—1892, 219. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 22, R.,) [R. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 39.]

(47)—Succession—Wife's property inherited after marriage—Close analogy of Burmese system with that of Tamil Inhabitants of Jaffna—The question as to the interest taken by a husband in property inherited after her marriage by his deceased wife considered but not decided.—The Burmese rules about woman's separate property of different sorts are somehow connected with the Hindu law. The closest analogy to the Burmese system is contained in the rules of the Tamil inhabitants of Jaffna in Ceylon, called the Thasaivalamy, compiled by the Dutch rulers in A.D. 1707. About these Mr. J. D. Mayne remarks that they probably contain the customary law of Southern India before British Courts introduced Brahman shastrees to interpret Hindu Law in the Madras Presidency. These rules begin by dividing property into three classes; hereditary, when brought by the husband; dowry, when brought by the wife; and acquisition, if acquired during the marriage. The second rule lays down that property inherited by the husband devolves like his hereditary and property inherited by the wife devolves like her dowry. There are so many resemblances between these rules and those of the Burmans as to induce one to suggest that they should be closely studied when the question of the surviving husband's or wife's interest in property on the death of the other comes up for decision. NGA TUN LU v. NGA PO YAUK AND MI MIN THWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 255. [R., 4 L.B.R. 110, 4 L.B.R. 189.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(48)—Husband and wife—On death of one succession of other to inheritance—The only restriction proved from the authorities to exist in regard to the general rule of inheritance by husband or wife from one another relates to impartible immoveable property and not to ordinary partible estate. Deceased husband or wife may have married before or after death of parents, but must have survived them so as to be in reach of inheritance. "Inanimate property applies to land among other things" MI LAN v. MAUNG SHWE DAING, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121. (L.B R. 1872—1892 32, 35, 105, 110, 578, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1906, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law—Divorce, 19, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 79, 66, 146, 164; F., 14 Bur. L.R. 91.]

(49)—Claim of wife to inherit the property of her deceased husband, to whom she was unfaithful.—Under the Buddhist Law a wife who was unfaithful to her deceased husband forfeits whatever rights she had to inherit although there may have been no formal divorce. MAUNG TOK v. MA KIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 116. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 34.]

(50)—Succession—Act X of 1865.—The estate of a Burman Buddhist dying in the life-time of his wife includes the whole of the property acquired during his marriage with her. AH FOON v. MI ANYO E, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 402.

(51)—Power of parents to dispose of their property—Partition—Interest of widow in the family property.—There is, in the parents, an absolute disposing power of the property of the parents, and a parent may even revoke at any time during his child's life, a present given by the parent to the child. On the death of one of the parents the eldest son or daughter may claim his or her share, and the remainder of the property vests in the surviving parent for himself or herself and the remaining children. Although without the consent of the surviving parent the other children cannot obtain their shares, yet the surviving parent may, if so minded, partition the inheritance, retaining his or her share; and as to the part so retained (as the surviving parent's share) it is at his or her absolute disposal. A Burmese Buddhist widow has not an absolute interest in the whole of the family property on the death of the husband, but she has an absolute right in respect of her own share and a life-interest in the remainder, and she has not the right of absolute disposal of the remainder, but only a power of sale in case of necessity. MA ON, MAUNG PYA GYI AND MAUNG GYI v. KO SHWE KO THA DUN, MA WAING, AND MA BWIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 378. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 108, R.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39, Not F.) [R., 2 L.B.R. 255, 110, 1 L.B.R. 23, 4 L.B.R. 128, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 312, U.B.R. 1892,—1896, Vol. II, 138, 171, 4 L.B.R. 256, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 400, 581, 14 Bur. L.R. 205=4 L.B.R. 128, Not F.; L.B.R. 1893—1900. 65; F., 2 L.B.R. 167, 4 L B.R. 287; Cited, 3 L.B.R. 15; Cited & Rel. on, 1 L.B.R. 50.]

(52)—Husband and wife dying without issue—Rights of inheritance to estate of—Divided and undivided ancestral estate.—Held that (1) on the death of a husband or wife without children, the survivor succeeds to the whole of the deceased's estate, including the right of the deceased to a share in undivided ancestral property. (2) The survivor can enforce partition and obtain the deceased's share. (3) If he does so, on his death, his natural heirs alone succeed to the property which fell to his share on partition. (4) If he fails to do so, on his death his heirs are entitled to enforce partition and to obtain two-thirds of the share of the first deceased, whose natural heirs succeed to the remainder. MAUNG WALK v. MAUNG NYEIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol II, 146. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 79, 8 W.R.P.C. 1, R.; L.B.R. 1893—1900. 524.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901), Vol. II, 169, U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Pre-emption 1, U.B.R. 1906, 4th Qr., Buddhist law—Divorce, 19, U B.R. 1905, 2nd Quarter, Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 7.]

(53)—Family of chief wife—Family of lesser wife.—Case where it was held that the separation of residence affords a presumption that a certain Burmese woman had not the status of one entitled to share in the inheritance and that this presumption has not been rebutted by evidence showing a higher status. MA HMON v. MAUNG PAW DUN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 138. (U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 194, Cited; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 27, Cited.) [R., U.B R. 1910, 3rd Qr., Civil 42; Expl., U.B.R. 1897—1901, 160.]

(54)—Position of concubine or lesser wife living along with head wife, and of child of such concubine living with father—Apparent principle of Buddhist Law with respect to marriage.—Effect of subsequent regular marriage after death of head wife on position of offspring of concubine or lesser wife. Held—that such offspring is not the son spoken of in the Dhammathats as brought by the father with him when he contracts a second marriage. Share of such offspring seems to be provided for by the rules relating to the case of a head wife with a free concubine or lesser wife, (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 225, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 194, R.) The provisions of Buddhist law which come nearest this case are those relating to a head wife and a free concubine, and a superior and inferior wife. The former are a little complicated by the introduction of slave concubines, and, any way, the difference between the shares in the two cases is insignificant, only about one-thirty-fifth, so that the proportion of three to two may be accepted. MA SHWE MA v. MA HLAING, U.B.R, 1892—1896, Vol. II, 145. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 488; F., U.B.R. 1910, 3rd Qr., Civil, 42.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued.

(55)—Exclusion of husband from shares in estate of parents—Law when wife predeceases her parents.—If a person dies, leaving children, before the death of his or her father or mother the children are entitled to a share in the grandparents' estate and their surviving parent is excluded. NUANG TE v. MA KYU, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 169. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 146, R.)

(56)—Second wife entitled to share in inheritance with first or chief wife when she has clearly the status of a wife.—A wife of a distinctly inferior class, who is in the position of a concubine and who has a separate establishment, has no claim to inherit a share in her husband's estat; but the mere fact that she lives in a house separate from that occupied by the husband merely raises a presumption that her status is inferior, the presumption being not conclusive but rebuttable. When the husband has lived indifferently with both his wives and when neither of them can really be considered as having lived separately from him, the status of both wives seems to be precisely the same though one may have been the first or chief wife. MA U BYU v. MA HMYIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 160. (U.B.R 1892—1896, Vol. II, 194, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 138, Expl.) [R., U.B.R. 1910, 3rd Qr., Civil, 42.]

(57)—Property inherited by husband during marriage—Interest of widow—Widow share in the joint property.—In property inherited by a Burman Buddhist during his marriage, the interest which his widow takes, when children of the marriage survive their father, is the same as her interest in her deceased husband's share of the property jointly owned by him and her, i.e., a life-estate with a power of sale in case of necessity. MA NYE v. MA YAUK, 4 L.B.R. 256. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 103, 378, 4 L.B.R. 189, R.)

(58)—Death of husband and wife within a short time of each other—Rights of relatives to succeed to estates.—Where, on the death of a husband, his wife inherited all his property, as his widow, but within a very short time after his death the widow also died, leaving her surviving neither descendants nor ancestors, the relations of both may inherit the estate. As has been observed in 2 U.B.R. 1897—1901, 66, the apparent reason of this distinction seems to be that, when husband and wife die within a short interval of each other, their joint interest in the estate is regarded as predominant, whereas when one lives long after the other, the presumption arises that the joint interest has completely merged in the sole interest of the survivor. MA KADU v. MA JON, U.B.R. 1905, Buddhist Law, 7. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 136, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 66, 146, R.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued,

(59)—A Methila nun, whether a woman loses rights to property by becoming—Orasa, meaning of.—The question was whether, under the Burmese Law, a woman by becoming a nun renounced her property and died a civil death. Held, a nun does not occupy a position analogous to that of a monk. The Methila nuns especially undergo no ceremony of ordination as a nun but are simply lay devotees corresponding to religious laymen. Consequently, there is nothing in the Buddhist Law to support the proposition that a woman loses her rights to the property held by her, by reason of her having joined the order of Methila nuns. Held, also, that the eldest born son is the Orasa by right and the eldest son (or eldest capable son), whether eldest child or not, clearly has the special privileges possessed by an Orasa son under the Burmese Law. MI MIN DIN v. MI HIE, U B.R. 1905, Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 11. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, 54, 66, 2 L.B.R. 292, R.)

(60)—Second wife.—When a husband dies, a second wife has a right to share with a first wife in the property of her husband, although none of it had been acquired since the second marriage. Her share in the joint property of the first marriage will be one-fourth as compared to three-fourths falling to the share of the first wife. MI KA v. MAUNG THET, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 6. [R., 4 B.L.R. 110, 2 L.B.R. 774, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 103, U.B.R. 1910, 3rd Qr., Civil, 42.]

(61)—Succession—Right of parents to a share of the property of their deceased children where such parents and children have been living together.—The general rule that property shall not ascend is laid down in the Manu Kye Dhammathat, Book X. ss. 1, 18 and 19, but the rule is not without exceptions. Where, after separation from his adopted brothers and sisters, an adopted son lives with his adoptive mother, such mother succeeds to his property on his death to the exclusion of his adopted brothers and sisters. MI SAN HLA ME v. KYA TUN L.B.R, 1893—1900, 116.

(62)—Monugye Book X, s. 29— Ascent of property when there are no direct descendants.—On the death of a person who leaves no surviving husband, wife, or direct descendants, his parents succeed to his estate in preference to all other relatives. MA PO HMON v. MAUNG KAN. U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 157. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184 L.B.R. 1893—1900, 116, 524 U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 109, 111, 66.) [F., 5 L B.R. 231.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued.

(63)—Authority of Manugye Dhammathat Book X. s. 62 denied—Inheritance can ascend when there are no descendants.—Under ordinary circumstances s. 62, Book X, of the Manugye Dhammathat is unsuited to the conditions of modern life. The rule laid down in Upper Burma Rulings, 1892—1896, Vol. II, p. 184, namely, "that" when it cannot go by descent the inheritance is allowed to ascend" must be taken as a settled principle of law in Upper Burma, MA SA BWIN v MA THI. U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 111. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 157, 172.]

(64)—Claim to share of inheritance before death of both parents—Waiver of interest in portion of estate by surviving parent.—It appears clear enough that the parent can only give the children property of which he or she is in possession. As in the case of any other gift, delivery is essential to its validity, and possession cannot be conferred on the child when the possession of the property is not in the parent. Surviving parent cannot give one heir status to sue another for share of inheritance without being in position to put former in possession of share to be claimed. MAUNG PO SAUNG v. MA NGWE SU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 138. [L.B.R. 1872—1892, 115, 378, R.]

(65)—Inheritance—Absence of descendants, husband or wife—Preferential right of parents to succeed—Exclusion from inheritance—Proof of deliberate neglect of ordinary duties of affection and kindred necessary.—Where a deceased Burman Buddhist has no direct defendants and leaves no surviving husband or wife, the parents should inherit to the exclusion of all other relatives. (L.B.R. 1883—1900, 524, U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 157, R.) When desertion and intentional and deliberate neglect of the ordinary duties of affection and kindred are proved against any one claiming to inherit, his or her right of inheritance is, under the Burman Buddhist Law, lost. SHWE GON v. HNIN BWIN, 5 L.B R. 231=9 Ind. Cas. 442. (9 Bur. L.R. 88, 11 Bur. L.R. 228, R.)

(66)—Jointly acquired property—Payin property or property anterior to second marriage—Step-father's claim to estate of deceased wife, and to estate of deceased step-daughter—Claim of paternal relatives to latter.—Held that as in this case Ma Ein Nyein admittedly had everything and defendant nothing when she took him as her second husband, and as the property in dispute was land acquired by transfer of the proceeds of disposal of other land, the presumption was that the original fund was preserved, the object of investment only being changed and that in the absence of proof the burden of which was on defendant, there was no necessary presumption that any of the property was letletpwa or jointly acquired after the second marriage under the circumstances. Held, also —that the step-father had no good claim as against the relatives of the father of his step-daughter to the estate left by the latter. In the absence of a husband or descendants the estate of the step-daughter must ascend, and her father being dead, must go to the nearest collaterals. The uselessness in general of evidence of the performance of death-bed attentions and funeral obsequies pointed out. When there had been no deliberate and intentional neglect of deceased indicating a severence of the family bond, evidence of that kind may safely be put aside and left out of account. MAUNG CHIT KYWR v. MAUNG PYO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184. [F., 2 L.B.R. 174, 5 L.B.R. 231; R., U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Probate and Administration, 7, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 111, 146, 157, 164, 172; D., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 126, 131; Cited, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 131.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued

(67)—Ascent of inheritance when it cannot go by descent—Parents preferred to brothers and sisters, and grandparents to uncles and aunts.—The Buddhist Law is opposed to the ascent of inheritance, but when it cannot go by descent the inheritance is allowed to ascend, first to the father and mother, and, failing them, to the first line of collaterals, and, in the absence of heirs in that decree, to the grandfather and grandmother and next line of collaterals. MAUNG SHWE BO v. BAUNG PYA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 524. (U.B. Cir. No. 75 of 1895, F.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 146.]

(68)—Suit for possession of land—Heirs on either side being uncles and aunts or their representatives—Shares to which each entitled.—Plaintiffs-appellants sued for possession of six plots of land measuring 80 acres to which they alleged they were entitled, as heirs of Tun Maung, deceased. The Court of first instance dismissed the suit on the grounds that defendant-respondent, as the uncle and guardian of Tun Maung and as having paid his funeral expense was entitled to inherit on Tun Maung's death to the estate he left. On appeal the District Judge confirmed this decision. The principal facts were:—(1) That the land in question came from Tun Maung's maternal grandfather and was in fact his mother's (Mi Yan Gyaw's share of the inheritance, which, on the division after his mother's death, was put down as his share; (2) that at this time Tun Maung's father, Yan Aung, was still alive and consequently that the land in question, his wife being dead, was his property, till he died, when it became that of Tun Maung, the only, or only surviving, son of himself and Mi Yan Gyaw; (3) that from, or very soon after, the partition the land in question came into the possession of defendant-respondent on behalf of Tun Maung, then a minor, and that he has ever since enjoyed the usufruct of it ; (4) that Tun Maung lived partly at least with defendant-respondent when not in Lower Burma. Both parties claimed to have paid the funeral expenses and defendant-respondent also alleged having paid Rs. 112 during Tun Maung's lifetime to pay for his journeys to Lower Burma. The lower Courts held that it was not proved the plaintiffs-appellants paid the funeral expenses, and that it is proved that defendant-respondent did. On this point it was clear from the evidence taken on commission that the funeral expenses were met by contributions from the relations who happened to be at the place in Lower Burma, where Tun Maung died, including plaintiff-appellant Tun Aung and by the people of the village. Held—that defendant-respondent having for many years enjoyed the usufruct of the land in question, could not be allowed to plead payments on deceased's account as a reason for refusing to share the inheritance with any person who might be entitled to share it. Held also—that Tun Maung having inherited the land on the death of his father, his relatives on his mother's side had just as much right to inherit as those on his father's. Held also—that the plaintiff-appellants represent an uncle and an aunt and are entitled to two shares out of six, the remainder being the shares of the remaining four uncles and aunts or their representatives. MAUNG TUN AUNG v. MAUNG YAN PYO, U. B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 172. (U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 1113 1 R.) [D., U.B.R. 1905, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 5.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(69)—Step-grandchildren—Original and joint property—Joint living —Where the question was, to what shares, if any, of the original property of Maung Tun and of the jointly acquired property of Maung Tun and Ma U, the plaintiff-appellant, Ma Kyi Byun, was entitled to, held, that the appellant Ma Kyi Nyun was entitled to a share in the estate of her deceased grand-father, whether original or jointly acquired, with her step-grandmother. Held—also, that under the circumstances stated, the share of the grandchild in the jointly acquired property is one-eighth. Held—also, that the weight of authority inclines to the position that the grandchild's share in the original property is one-half. MA HNIN DOK v. MA U, U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. II, 126. (7 C. 453, U.B.R, 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, 184, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 122, 66, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 164, 176, 185, 193.]

(70)—Brothers and sisters already divided—Estate of divided deceased sister—Equal rights of elder brothers or sisters on failure of younger brothers or sisters—Exclusion of children of brother predeceasing his divided deceased sister. —It is a principle of Buddhist Law that only those closely related should inherit (see Dhammathatkyaw, s. 378, Digest) and that relations of the same degree should inherit to the exclusion of those of a more remote degree, that, for instance, children should exclude grandchildren. There are certain exceptions to these rule (e.g., in cases where there has been no division). In such cases elder brothers within reach of the inheritance would share equally, and one brother so within reach dying before distribution, his children would take per stirpes and not per capita. In cases where there has been division, however, if the eldest brother predeceases his sister, his children cannot succeed to her estate where there is a surviving second brother ; the surviving second brother is the sole heir. In the case of brothers and sisters already divided, the elder brothers or sisters inherit only on failure of younger brothers or sisters ; but the second of such elder brothers or sisters would not exclude one older than himself or herself. The principle that property does not ascend does not operate in such a case, the eldest is not barred from equal rights with the second. MAUNG HMAW v. MA ON BWIN, 1 L.B.R. 104. [F., 5 L.B.R, 70, U.B.R. 1905, 1st Quarter, Buddhist-Law-Inheritance, 5 ; Cited, 2 L.B.R. 292 ; R. & Overruled, 1 L. B.R. 198.]

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(71)—Partition of property between grand-children and step-grand parent—Attathankepa, s. 226—Manu Gyc X 21.—On the authority of s. 226 of the Attathankepa, grand-children are entitled to inherit specified shares of the estate of their grand-parents. MA SA v. MA THET HNOW, U.B.R. 1897 — 1901, Vol. II, 122. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 17. R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897 — 1901, Vol. II, 126, 193.]

(72)—Claims to estate of deceased by widow and by grandchild descended from former wives who had been divorced or separated from—Diversity of rules—Paying property—Meaning of.—Held that as it was not proved that any of the estate was payin of the grand father in the time of the grandmother of the grand-children, the widow alone was entitled to the property. MAUNG KYA NU v. MA BWIN, U B.R. 1892—1896, 110. (L.B.R. 1872—1892. 184, 223, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 103, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 116, 193.]

(73)—Absence of joint living—Ground for exclusion from inheritance of children, grand-children and step-children.—Mere absence of joint living is not sufficient to exclude a child or grandchild from inheritance and filial neglect must be proved. The same rule applies to step-children. MAUNG KYAW YAN, MA MEIN MA GYI, MATHET TU, MA E ME, MAUNG THET PON, U BYA, MA E MYEIN, MAUNG SHEIN v. MAUNG PO WIN AND MA SAN ME, U.B.R. 1904, 3rd Qr , Buddhist Law 1. (U.B.R. 1897 —1901, Vol. II, 193, 379, 66, F.)

(74)—Grand-child of first wife deceased, share of, in the presence of second wife and her child.—The question in this case was as to the share that could pass on inheritance to a deceased Buddhist's grand-child by his first wife on the one hand, and his second wife and her daughter on the other. Held that, under the Burmese Law, a grand-child, whose parents died, after one grand-parent and before the other, are not to receive any share on the death of the surviving grand-parent, only because, and if, their parents had already received their portion. Otherwise, according to the law, nine-twentieths of the atetpa property and one-eighth of the lettetpwa property of the grand-parent would pass to the grand-child. SEIN TIN v. MI ON KRA ZAU, 3 L.B.R. 219.

Buddhist Law—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued.

(75)—Share of grand-daughter in her own grand-parents' estate as against her step-grand-parent.—As against the step-grandparent the grandchild is entitled to one half of her own grandparents' estate. MAUNG RADO v. MA KYIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 164. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 121, 171, 184. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol II, 126, R.)

(76)—Parents predeceasing grand-parents—Grand children representing deceased parents, Shares of.—Among grand-children whose parents have predeceased their grand-parents the only one who ranks with the surviving uncles and aunts is the eldest representative of the eldest child; the others only take one-fourth of the share that their parents would have enjoyed had they survived. MA SAW NGWE v. MA THEIN YIN, 1 L.B R. 198. (1 L. B.R. 50, 23, 93, 104, Chan Too's Rulings 233, 418, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 585. R.) [Cited 3 L.B.R. 219. 2 L.B.R, 292; F., 3 L.B.R. 8; R., 3 L.B.R. 66.]

(77)—Partition of property—Intestacy—Testamentary disposition—Gift without possession—Shares among grand children.—The finding of the lower Courts that a Burman Buddhist has no power to dispose of property by will as she pleases is upheld. The Court refused to uphold an alleged deed-of-gift made by an old woman shortly before her death purporting to convey all her possessions to one member of the family with whom she was living. Under Burmese Law delivery of possession is an indispensable condition to the validity of a gift. MA THI v. MA NU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 70. [Doubted, U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 62 U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 561.]

(78)—Adopted children—Effect of separate living from adoptive parents—Adopted child also a blood relation — Adopted child returning to house of natural parents—Manukye, X. 5—26.—A Burmese Buddhist cannot disinherit his or her children, whether adopted or natural. As regards keittima children, the Manukye and the Attathankepa do not explicitly require joint living of parents and children where there are no direct natural descendants. The requirements of residence might be more safely relaxed in the case of an adopted child who is also a blood relation. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 8, 191, U.B. Circulars, 35 of 1893, R.) The strict letter of the Dhammathats is not to be taken as the present rule of law in this matter.

Buddhist Law—continued.

—9.—Inheritance—continued.

Customs and conditions have modified the ancient rule; and there should be some liberality of construction in questions concerning the maintenance of the bond formed by adoption. Where, therefore, an adopted child who was also a blood relation went to live in her natural parents' house, but maintained her relationship with her adoptive parents, held—that she did not forfeit any rights that by adoption she may have acquired. MA E v. MAUNG SHWE KAING, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 520.

(79)—Adoption—Gift—Proof of possession—Widow's right of disposal of her share of estate.—A kittima adopted son takes the position of natural son when there are no natural children. On death of father leaving widow with eldest auratha son and no other children the widow has an absolute right of disposal over her share of three-fourths of the estate. MAUNG SA SO v. MI HAN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 171. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 108, 378. R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 164.]

(80)—Adopted child—Rights of—Whether extend to collaterals of adoptive parents.—Under the Buddhist Law, the rights of inheritance of an adopted child are not limited to inheritance from his or her adoptive parents, but also extend to inheritance from their collaterals. MA THAW v. MA SEIN, 5 L.B.R. 89=3 Ind. Cas. 716.

(81)—Manugye Dhammathat, Book X, s. 29—Manuwunnana, s. 46—Dhamma Vilasa, s. 58—Adoption.—Adoptive parents stand in the same position as natural parents and have the same rights so long as the relationship constituted by adoption subsists; also parents are entitled to inherit in the absence of direct descendants. MA E DOK v. MAUNG NGWE HLAING, U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. II, 109. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 116, R.) [R., U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 157.]

(82)—Adoption.—An adopted child, by marrying and living separately from his adoptive parents, does not by the mere fact of marriage forfeit his rights of inheritance in his adoptive family. But the burden of proving that he has performed the duties necessary to be performed by an adopted child will be thrown upon him, and, in the absence of such proof, the Courts will disallow his claim to inherit. Mere occasional assistance on the part of the adopted child is not sufficient to preserve his rights of inheritance. NGA MIN GYAW v. ME PI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 8 [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 225, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 135, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 191, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 22, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 520.]

(83)—Partition of property—Laws relating to shares awardable to children and adopted children.—This appeal is based mainly on the grounds that the property in dispute is lettetpwa property and not the payin or attetpa property of the defendants' mother and that the law as to share, awarding plaintiff only one-fourth, has been wrongly applied. The plaintiff-appellant is the daughter of Maung Tha Po, and the defendants respondents are the (adopted) son and daughter of Ma Kywin. Maung Tha Po and Ma Kywin married 25 years or more ago, having at the time the aforesaid children. Maung Tha Po had no property : Ma Kywin owned the land in dispute. Ma Kywin died shortly before Maung Tha Po. Maung Tha Po had no property when he married Ma Kywin and when divorced on two occasions by her, received only small money-payments and no share of land. The lower appellate Court held that the money with which the lands were redeemed could not have been common property of husband and wife, and came to the conclusion that the lands were the payin property of Ma Kywin and granted plaintiff a one-fourth share, as the defendants had admitted plaintiff's claim to that share, though otherwise the plaintiff's claim would have been rejected. Held—in second appeal, confirming the decree of the lower appellate Court that the lands in question were atletpta or payin property. Held, further, that the one-fourth share which the defendants were willing to allow the plaintiff was all she was entitled to, MA EIN SI v. MAUNG WA YON. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 181. (U.B.R. 1892—1896. Vol. II, 184, D.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(84)—Adopted son—Adoptive parents—Natural parents.—Although the plain rule of law is that a keittima son living apart from his adoptive parents losses his claim to inherit their estate, yet it is to be construed with due regard to the circumstances of each case ; and if it is shown that, though living separately, the adopted son maintained the tie of relation with his adoptive parents, he would not be excluded from the inheritance. MAUNG SHWE THWE v. MA SAING, U B R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 135. (U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 22, 176, L.B-R. 1872—1892, 8, 191, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1906, 3rd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance, 15.]

(85)—Adopted child—Second wife.—A second wife has a right to share in the property of a deceased husband with a first wife and an adopted daughter, although the property had been altogether acquired before the second marriage was contracted. (Special Appeal No. 2 of the 4th Qr. of 1871, F.) The publicly adopted child stands in the same position as regards inheritance as the natural child. Where the mother dies, an only daughter is entitled to her mother's personal belongings and also to one-fourth share in the family property while the father lives, and on the death of the father to three-fourths of the remainder. The father's second wife will be entitled to three-sixteenths. MA GUN v. MA GUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 33. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 153, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 103.]

(86)—Adopted son—Separation—Undutiful conduct.—The question whether an adopted son who for many years has lived apart from his adoptive father has been guilty of such negligent and undutiful conduct as to disentitle him to inherit is one of evidence. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 8, 170, 184, R.) The burden of showing that he had not been undutiful lies on the adopted son because of his separate residence for so many years. Such burden would be discharged by giving proof that the father, near his death, acknowledged him as his adopted son and that he acted as such, without dispute, in performing the funeral. A man must not be disinherited on mere suspicion or ambiguous evidence. MAUNG PO SEIN v. MAUNG IN DUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 191. [R., U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 135, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 59, 22, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 520.]

(87)—Shares of elder and younger brother—Adoption—Shares of adopted and natural child.—Where land was taken in mortgage and was let out to tenants by one brother or the other, and further advances on mortgage were made sometimes by one brother and sometimes by the other, the general presumption from the circumstances is that all the immoveable property belonged to the joint estate, and the clearest proof is required that any of it was owned otherwise and was separate property. All the immoveable property ought to be dealt with on the same principle, and it is clear that there is every reason to believe that the whole of it was joint, and that the evidence that one brother rather than the other had most to do with any portion of it at any particular time, practically proves nothing contrary to the general ownership in common. In this case what were virtually two suits for partition were dealt with in one action. Plaintiff, Ma Gyan, claimed the shares of her father, Maung San Aung in the undivided estate of himself and his elder brother, Maung Kywin, first defendant ; the question in this first case was whether certain parcels of land belonged to the common estate or were the separate property of one or the other brother and it was held in second appeal that the same principle must govern all the items in dispute, namely, that, as there was a joint estate of which portions were alternately dealt with by one brother or the other, there was no presumption from such dealing at any particular time that there had been a permanent separation of interests, but on the contrary the continuance of the unity of the estate must be presumed in the absence of clear and distinct proof the other way of which there was none. It was agreed in the Courts below that the respective shares of the elder and younger brother were to be calculated in accordance with s. 163 of the Attathankepa Dhammathat, namely, 437/729ths and 292/729 ths. In what may be called the second case, the questions were whether Ma Gyi, the daughter of Maung Kywin, had been adopted by Maung San Aung, whether that adoption continued up to the time of Maung San Aung's death, and if so, what share of inheritance Ma Gyi was entitled to. As to the first point, Ma Gyi was taken by San Aung as an infant on her mother's death. No formal document was drawn up-

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

but as the parents were brothers this was considered natural enough. There was evidence that the child was brought up as daughter of the house; she never returned to her own father's house; and it was held that the arrangement would never have been allowed unless it was a kittima or full adpotion. With regard to the second point: Ma Gyi married and lived in a different house from San Aung, but the residences were close together, and there was no evidence of interruption of filial relations. It was therefore held that the continuance of the adoptive state must be presumed On the birth of a child of his own, the plaintiff Ma Gyan, a good many years after Ma Gyi's adoption, Maung San Aung might have wished to set aside the adoption, and this he might possibly have done by making suitable provision for Ma Gyi on her marriage, or by arrangement with her own father, or by otherwise coming to an agreement with her in settlement of her claims to inheritance, but, as he had done none of these things, the adoption must be treated as still subsisting. The requirement in the Dhammathats as to joint living must receive a reasonable construction adapted to the changed conditions of modern times in the country, the object of the requirement doubtless being to provide a rough and ready means of settling questions of disputed succession turning on the unbroken maintenance of the family tie. The real issue for determination in such cases is whether the surrounding circumstances proved to exist establish an intentional severance of the family tie or not. The Buddhist in practice has no testamentary power which would prevail against the established rule of inheritance and consequently the conducts of the several parties in their lifetime is of the greatest importance as a guide to what they intended their respective relations should be in respect of rights of inheritance upon the death of the owner of the property to which contending claims are made. MA GYAN v. MAUNG KYWIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 176. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 22. R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 135.]

(88)—Deceased sister's daughter's estate—Exclusion—Surviving brothers and sisters excluding children of deceased brothers and sisters.—Held, that under the Buddhist Law, applying the general principle that only those closely related should inherit and that relations of the same decree should inherit to the exclusion of those of a more remote decree, the surviving brothers and sisters of a deceased sister inherit the estate of the deceased sister's daughter to the total exclusion of the children of the brothers or sisters who predeceased that sister. KAN GYI v. MA NGWE NU, 5 L.B.R. 70=3 Ind. Cas. 680. (1 L.B.R. 104, U.B.R. 1905, Inheritance, 5, F.)

(89)—Claim to share of joint property of brother and sister working together, both being alive—Law of inheritance not applicable.—This suit was brought by a young woman against her brother and his wife for a third of their property. Her parents died when she was a little girl, and her brother kindly brought her up and took care of her, and she gave some help in his work as a toddy-tapper. In return for his kindness she has thus put him in Court. The parents not only left no property, but even died in debt, and the plaintiffs' brother had that burden to discharge in addition to her maintenance. Held,—in second appeal, reversing the decree of the Courts below, that Buddhist law was inapplicable, the suit not coming under the law of inheritance, but being in fact of the nature of a claim to a share of the profits of a partnership, the existence of which was not proved, and that no cause of action was disclosed by the proceedings. MAUNG TAING GYAW v. MA EIN TA, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 102.

(90)—Manugye Dhammathat, Ch. X, S. 26—Partition of property between brothers and sisters—Equality of shares—Adoption—Child given in adoption loses claim to inherit any share of the estate of his natural parents—Evidence—Burden of proof.—The adopted child drops out of his own family and is provided for in that adopting him. The expectations and arrangements of the members of the family he has left are framed accordingly, and it would be manifestly inequitable to let the child adopted into another family come back into his own and disappoint the reasonable calculations for the future which have been made therein. The number of prospective co-parceners in the inheritance of the original family is reduced by the adoption, and the adoptee cannot be permitted to come back and, as it were, to be born again. Apparently an adoptee drops even more completely than a deceased child out of the original family, for the deceased may leave children of his own who are admitted to a certain share, which does not seem to be the case with the children of an adoptee. Held, that in such cases as the present the burden of proof is shifted by a comparatively small amount of prima facie evidence from the claimant to the manager and de facto trustee of the estate. There is nothing against partition in equal shares. MAUNG PAN v. MA HNYI, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 104. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 79 R.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116.]

(91)—Inheritance cannot ascend—Brothers and sisters.—Elder brothers and sisters are postponed to younger brothers and sisters in the law of inheritance. Except where there are no other relations, inheritance cannot ascend. MI A PRUZAN v. MI CHUMRA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 37. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 22.]

(92)—Children of brother and sister—Succession among children—Succession per capita. —The parties in this suit were children of a brother Nga Pa and of a sister Mi Pu. There was another sister Mi U. Maung Pa and Mi Pu predeceased Mi U. The question before the Court was (a difference of opinion regarding some trees having been waived by the applicant) as to the shares which the nephews and nieces of Mi U, who had died leaving property, were entitled to, that is to say, whether they were entitled to equal shares per capita, or whether they could claim only to divide what would have been their parents' shares, supposing Maung Pa and Mo Pu had survived Mi U. Held that the children of Mi U's brother Maung Pa were entitled to half and the children of Mi Pu were entitled to the other half of Mi U's property. MAUNG KYAW v. MA TU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 189. [U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 93, 102, R.)

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(93)—Sale of undivided ancestral property—Pre-emption.—A sharer in undivided ancestral property if he wishes to sell his share must offer it to his co-heirs, and a sale to strangers effected without such offer is invalid if the co-heirs promptly assert their rights. (S.J.L.N. pp. 39, 41, F.) The right of pre-emption is in the co-heirs collectively, and there is no law by which a single co-heir can enforce pre-emption unless the consent of the other co-heirs has been obtained. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 155, F.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39, 41, 76, R.) A co-heir is not estopped from enforcing the right of pre-emption because other parts of the estate have been sold without protest. MAUNG LAW DOK v. MA PO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 162. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 511, U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Pre-emption, 1.]

(94)—Sale of ancestral property to persons not belonging to the family—Pre-emption—On their failing to agree to purchase it, the owner would be free to sell as he thinks fit. MAUNG SHWE NYUN v. MA SO. U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. II, 153. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 26. R; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39, 76, F.) [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. II, 511, U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Qr., Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Pre-emption, 1; F., 14 Bur. L.R. 91, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 162.]

(95)—Sale of undivided estate by eldest co-heir in possession—Suit by other co-heirs to recover their shares—Limitation Act, arts. 10, 142, applicability of.—An undivided estate was in the possession of the eldest of the co-heirs, who sold it without the consent of the other co-heirs. The latter brought the present suit to recover their shares in the estate sold. The question for decision was, whether or not art. 10 of Limitation Act applied to the case. Held, that the suit was governed by art. 142 and not by art. 10, for the vendor was in possession of the property on behalf of the other co-sharers and his sale dispossessed them. MA KO U v. TUN E. 3 L.B.R. 7 (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39 L. B.R. 1872—1892,76 L.B.R. 1893—1900, 26, R.)

(96)—Buddhist Law—Inheritance—Arbitrator's award—Validity and binding effect of award.—Rights of Buddhist co-heirs to contract between themselves irrespective of rules of Buddhist law. Tendency in favour of equality of sharers. Desirability of collecting instance of partition in practice. MAE MYA v. MA KUN, U.B.R. 1892—1896. Vol. II, 102. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, 93 L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, R.) [R., 2 L.B.R. 174.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(97)—Consent of both parties is necessary to a valid marriage.—Among Burmese Buddhists as among other civilised people, a woman, whether a minor or not cannot legally be married without her consent or against her will. MAUNG TAIK v. MA CHO. U.B.R 1897—1901 Vol. II, 197. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 330, R.)

(98)—Land-tax.—There is no law or rule which gives any title to the person who is in possession of land, and who has failed to pay the tax on it, to remain in possession, to the exclusion of the rights of others. It would be a strange doctrine that a man in possession of land should be able to extinguish the rights of others not claiming through him, by omitting to pay the Government Revenue. He, if any one, should be punished for the omission to pay the revenue; to enable him to take advantage of that omission and defeat thereby the claim of others would be to allow him to take advantage of his own wrong. The fact that no revenue has ever been paid on land will not bar the Courts from decreeing a claim to possession of the land based on the law of inheritance. NAG NWE v. MAUNG THA DUN AUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 17.

(99)—Chinese Buddhist dying in Burma—Law applicable to his estate.—Where a suit is brought for a share in the estate of a Chinese Buddhist dying in Burma after having acquired a domicile there, held that it was for the plaintiff to prove that he is entitled to share under the customary law applicable to Chinese Buddhist. S. 13, Burma Laws Act, 1898, commented upon. FONE LAN v. MA GYEE, 2 L.B.R. 95. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 185, 8 W.R. 261, 1 B.L.R. P.C. 26, R.) [R., 2 L.B.R. 261, 4 L.B.R. 124.]

(100)—Family arrangement — Partition.—Among the Burman Buddhists, the father, foreseeing that the heirs may quarrel about the division of the property on his death, not infrequently arranges a special contract before his death among these heirs, whereby they bind themselves, among themselves to accept a certain proportion, or a specified field, or specified area of land, or a certain number of cattle, or particular chattels. The motive of convenience inducing the heirs to accept such an agreement is often aided by a religious awe of the father and a religious feeling of obedience to his wishes. But such an agreement will not usually give them a cause of action against him during his life. MI THIT MI SIN v. MAUNG TO AUNG AND MAUNG GAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 197. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 22, 30, 44, R.,) [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 469.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(101)—Funeral ceremonies — Assistance in sickness—Desertion—Will.—Only when actual neglect or desertion is shown on behalf of those who are entitled to inherit is the person who assists in sickness and buries in death entitled to exclude the heirs from the inheritance. Quære :—Whether the Will as known to English law has any place in the Buddhist law. Whether a Will can cause the devolution of property contrary to the law of inheritance. NGA SAN YUN v. NGA MYAT THIN, L.B.R, 1872—1892, 46. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 70, 95, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 299, 465.]

(102)—Hired attendant ministering during illness and performing funeral ceremonies—Right of inheritance in estate of deceased.—A hired attendant who attends members ofa family during their sickness and buries them with means derived from the family estate does not thereby acquire a right of inheritance in such estate. MAUNG SHWE NO v. MAUNG CHIT TWE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 465.

(103)—Review of judgment — Sufficient reason.—Where it is requisite for the ends of justice, a review can be granted where there is an apparent error of law or where the decision has preceded on a mistaken view of law, but not because of a ruling of law later than the decision of the case nor for the purpose of re-arguing the case on previous materials in the mere hope of inducing the same Court to take a different view. The law in question ought to be sufficiently settled and determinate to permit of its definite ascertainment. Where the law itself is so uncertain that it is impossible to say positively what it really is, the remedy of a review can hardly be properly applicable. (6 A. 292, 24 W.R. 186, 382, 1 B. 54, 11 C. 775, 1 C. 184, 7 M. 307, 10 W.R. 143, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 33, 9 A. 36, 10 M. 357, 14 C. 627, Cited.) Position of the lesser wife or concubine during the life-time of the chief wife and with her consent considered. Illegitimacy is an ambiguous and inconvenient word to employ in regard to Buddhist law. It does not appear in the original Burmese what is meant by the term is incompetency to inherit under certain conditions, or inferiority and postponement of claims to inherit to those of other heirs. Right of son of lesser wife taken during the life-time of the chief wife and with her consent, brought up by father like the offspring of a regular union to share the inheritance with a second wife and child pointed out. MA HLAING v. MA SHWE MA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 153. [R., U. B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, C.P.C., 3 ; Cited, U. B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 488.]

(104)—Attetpa property—Lettetpwa property —Out-of-time grandchild, Share of—Estate of grand parents.—Where the plaintiff sued for three-fourths of the attetpa property of her grandparents and one-eighth of the lettetpwa property, held, that as she was an out-of-time grandchild, i.e., her parents had predeceased

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

the grandfather, she was only entitled to one-fourth of the above shares. MA PU v. MA LE, 1 L.B.R. 93. [Cited, 3 L.B.R. 219 ; R., 1 L.B. R. 198.]

(105)—Lettet-pwa—Atet property—Partition. —A native Judge interpreting the Buddhist law ought not to ignore its difficulties ; he should give reasons for selecting one rule out of several. On the death of a person leaving no widow but a son by his fourth wife and the daughter of a daughter by his first wife, the daughter of the daughter by his first wife, takes one-eighth and the son seven-eights in the lettet-pwa, or joint property acquired during the fourth marriage ; and in the atet, or property acquired by the deceased prior to his fourth marriage, the grand-daughter takes four-fifths and the son one-fifth. NGA SAN ON v. MI SHWE DAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 223. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361 ; R., 2 L.B.R, 174, 4 L.B.R. 189, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 110.

(106)—'Kanwin' or marriage portion—Property gifted as, to bride—Death of bride childless—Husband's right to inherit.—Where a gift of a certain property has been made as 'kanwin' at the time of the marriage ceremony, and such property has been delivered into the possession of the bride, even if the bride dies childless in her parents' house, the husband is entitled to inherit such property as against the parents-in-law. LU GALE v. MAUNG SEIN, 6 L.B.R. 16.

(107)—Partition—Mother marrying twice—Division on second marriage between herself and children by first marriage—Legality - Property acquired thereafter during second husband's life-time—Property acquired after his death—Children after two marriages Mode of division.—H, a Burmese woman, married twice. By her first marriage she had four children, and by the second marriage, she had two children. On her second marriage, she effected a division between the children of the first marriage and hereself. She acquired some properties after such division and during the lifetime of her second husband, and acquired some other property after his death. Held, that a division on the re-marriage of the mother is authorised ; that the children of the second marriage are entitled solely to the property acquired by the mother after the division and before the death of the second husband ; and that, as regards property acquired after the second husband's death, the children of each marriage take per stirpes and not per capita. MA WE v. MANG CHEIK, 6 L.B.R. 28, (4 L.B.R. 110, R.)

(108)—Inheritance—Orasa son — Devolution of the status on the next eldest son—Transmission of right.—If a first-born son dies in infancy, the status of 'orasa' is capable of devolving on the next eldest son and does so devolve when he attains his majority, provided that he is unaffected by any of the disabilities or disqualifications mentioned in the texts on the subject. He can transmit the superior right of inheritance to his own issue in the same way as an 'orasa,' who is actually the first-born of the family, can do. MA HNIN GAING v. MA THA LI, 10 Ind. Cas. 778. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 585, 8 Bur. L. R. 60, 3 L.B.R. 45, 2 L.B.R. 292, F.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—continued.

(109)—Buddhist Law—Succession—Husband and wife--Status of lesser wife living separate from the head wife—Association of husband in public—"Mistress" distinguished from lesser wife or concubine—Presumption arising from separate living of lesser wife—Presumption from second marriage—Marrying two sisters.—In order to get any share in the inheritance, a second wife must prove that her status was superior to that of a lesser wife or concubine. If she succeeds in proving this, she would be entitled to share on equal terms with the chief wife. Separation of residence affords no more than a presumption that the woman has not the status of one entitled to share in the inheritance, which can be rebutted by proof of the existence, of a higher status. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 194, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 138, 160, Expl.) A second contemporaneous wife is not of necessity a lesser wife or a concubine. A lesser wife or concubine, who lives with the husband, gets two-fifths of the inheritance, but when she lives separately, she gets nothing. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 145, Rel. on.) No formal demand in marriage and no ceremony are necessary, or even usual, in the case of persons who have been married before. The chief wife's consent to the second marriage is not required for entitling a second contemporaneous wife to inheritance. There is no such presumption in Burmese Buddhist Law that a Burmese woman, who co-habits with a man who, she knows, is already married, is a mistress and not a wife. There is no prohibition in the Buddhist Law against a man marrying two sisters. It is a mistake to use the word (mistress) with reference to a lesser wife among the Burmans. The Buddhist Law speaks of wives and concubines. The mistress of Western Europe is a different thing from the concubine of the Dhammathats. To convert a wife or even a lawful concubine into a mistress seems to be consistent neither with Buddhist Law nor with the cause of religion and virtue. Where it was found that the husband sometimes lived with the head wife and sometimes with the lesser wife, that he lived with both the wives on two occasions for a number of months, that he took the lesser wife also on his visits to Rangoon, Shwezettaw pagoda, his oil wells, etc., and where it was abundantly clear from the admitted facts that, during a long course of years, the head wife accepted the relations between the lesser wife and the husband without any sign of dissatisfaction : Held, that the lesser wife was satisfactorily proved to be a wife entitled to inherit on an equal footing with the head wife. MI SHWE MA v. MI ME, 12 Ind. Cas. 191.

Buddhist Law—continued.

——9.—Inheritance—concluded.

(110)—Succesession — Attendance during last illness--Giving expenses for funeral rites—Claim to the property of the deceased.—A Burman Buddhist died, leaving no wife, children, brothers or sisters ; the plaintiffs who were his younger brother's children brought a suit for the possession of the property : Held, that the defendant who lived with the deceased and who admittedly attended him in his last illness and also paid the expenses of the funeral with the evident intention of recouping himself from the estate the whole of which was in his possession, should be preferred to the plaintiffs, who failed to attend or visit deceased in his last illness and whose neglect was not cured by their attempt to borrow money for the funeral. MAUNG SHWE THAUNG v. MAUNG TU, 11 Ind. Cas. 777.

See BUDDHIST LAW--DIVORCE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 296.

See PRE-EMPTION — GENERAL, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 26.

Provisional decree — See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT, 1889, s. 4, 2 B.L.R. 164.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 6 (a), 85, 91 (a) (b), U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 581.

——10.—Joint family.

(1)—Marriage of member of—Separate property—Limitation.—It is doubtful whether a Burmese Buddhist family is ever a joint family within the meaning of art. 127, Limitation Act. However that may be, a member of the family who marries certainly ceases to be a member of a joint family. Property acquired by a married son or daughter does not become part of the joint family property ; it is the separate property of the married member. MAUNG AUNG GE v. MA HLA WIN L.B.R. 1893—1900, 415. (6 A. 442, R.)

(2)—Joint ancestral property—Suit for share of, by joint heirs excluded therefrom against other joint heirs—Limitation—Limitation Act, arts. 127, 142, 144.—A suit by Burmese Buddhists as joint heirs, against other joint heirs and their alienees, for recovery of a specific share in joint family property, must be brought within 12 years from the time the exclusion from share became known to plaintiff. A suit by a sharer under Buddhist law for a share against alienees from one of the sharers would, if there was a dispossession when the plaintiff was in possession along with the other sharers, be governed by art. 142 and if there was no dispossession, by art. 144. MAUNG TUN v. MA TAW, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 132.

See BUDDHIST LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 578.

See HUSBAND AND WIFE, 1 L B.R. 184.

——11.—Maintenance

(1)—Wife having means and maintaining herself—Right of suit for maintenance.—By Buddhist law, a suit for maintenance will not

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——11.—Maintenance—concluded.

lie where the wife has means of her own and has maintained herself. KO ONG v. MA YON, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31. (10 C. 777, R.)

(2)—Husband and wife.—It is the duty of the husband to provide subsistence for his wife, and to furnish her with suitable clothes and ornaments. If he fails to do so he is liable to pay debts contracted by her for necessaries; but it appears that this law would not be applicable where she has sufficient means of her own. No authority is found for saying that where the wife has maintained herself she can sue her husband for maintenance for the period during which she has done so. MAUNG HMUN TAW v. MA PWA, L.B.R. 1872—1892 238. [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31.]

(3)—Husband and wife—Maintenance of children.—Where a plaintiff chooses to live separate from her husband and makes her own arrangements, she is not entitled to claim maintenance of the children. So long as the marriage-bond subsists the wife is by Buddhist law required to do her part in contributing to the joint comfort and well being. MAUNG KIN v. MA HNIN YI. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 114. [R., 4 L.B.R. 340, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 126. 2 L.B.R. 46.]

(4)—British Burma—Buddhist Law—Maintenance, wife's right to and claim for—Suit by Burmese wife for necessaries and past maintenance—Law applicable — Burma Courts Act (XVII of 1875), s. 4.—By the Buddhist Law of marriage in British Burma, it is the duty of the husband to provide subsistence for his wife and furnish her with suitable clothes and ornaments. On his failing to do so, he is liable to pay her debts contracted for necessaries, unless she has sufficient means of her own. There is no authority for saying that, where the wife has maintained herself, she can sue her husband for maintenance for the period during which she has done so. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31.] A claim by a wife, married according to Burmese rights and customs, in a British Burma Court, for necessaries and for past maintenance, was held to be a question "regarding marriage" under s. 4 of the Burma Courts Act, and the Buddhist Law (mentioned above) was held applicable to the case, in consequence. Semble.—If the case were to be decided according to the rule of justice, equity and good conscience, the husband would not, in view of the Burmese Law as to the property of married persons, be liable upon the claim. MOUNG HMOON HTAN v. MAH HPWAH, 10 C. 777, P.C. = 11 I.A. 109. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 31.]

——12.—Marriage.

(1)—Seduction—Pregnancy—Damages.—The Specific Relief Act, which is of greater obligation than the Buddhist Law, says distinctly that a contract to marry cannot be specifically enforced. All persons are supposed to know the law, and women ought to know, that if they consent to sexual familiarity without marriage, they take the risk of the paramour ultimately refusing to marry. If there is no promise to marry, the woman who has consented has no right to sue. If there has been a promise to marry, the Court would look at all the circumstances before awarding damages, and the amount, if any, awarded would depend on the circumstances as the Dhammathats very plainly show. When there has been no promise to marry, a Burmese woman cannot recover damages for seduction resulting in pregnancy. NGA PO THAIK v. MI HNIN ZAN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 235. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 533, 14 Bur. L.R. 139 = U.B.R. 1907, Contract 5; F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 499; Cons., U.B.R. 1907, 2nd Qr., Contract, 5.]

(2)—And divorce—Inheritance—Rights of child of wife who has left her husband—Form of suits for share of inheritance.—Under Buddhist law, a divorce may be effected by the voluntary departure of the wife from the husband for a period of one year. If such departure is without good and sufficient reason, the wife loses all claim on the joint estate. The right of a child of the defaulting wife to inherit her father's estate depends on the special circumstances of the case. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 184. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 55, R.) The valuation of an estate upon an application of letters of administration affords no exact criterion of what the share of each person entitled to share in the estate will eventually amount to. Such valuation is a valuation of the property which the applicant expects will come into his hands. Some of the property may never be realized, or perhaps more may come to the administrator's hands. The sharers are entitled to share in what actually does come to his hands. Consequently in a suit by a sharer for his or her share in an estate the taking of an account is almost necessarily involved, and in such a suit there should ordinarily be a prayer asking for an account and for the due administration of the estate under the orders of the Court, as contemplated by s. 213, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. In such a suit all interested parties should also be joined. MA THET v. MA SAN ON, 2 L.B.R. 85. [Overruled. 3 L.B.R. 175; R., 14 Bur.L.R. 236; F., 4 L.B.R. 272.]

(3)—Wife living in house different from that of wife with whom husband messes—Right of inheritance after husband's death, Extent of—Living and eating together—Marriage, Essence of—Separation of residence, Presumption arising from.—Wives who live in separate houses from that of the wife with whom the husband takes his meals are not entitled to obtain, on the death of the husband, anything more than has already come into their possession. Living and eating together is not an essential of marriage, but merely a formal proof of the validity of a marriage. Separation of residence does not afford more than a presumption that the woman has not the status of one entitled to share in the inheritance left by her deceased husband, a presumption which can be rebutted by proof of the existence of a superior status. MA GYWR v. MA THI DA. U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 194. [R., 3 L.B.R. 175, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116, 193. U.B.R. 1910, 3rd Qr., Civil. 42 ; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 138; Expl., U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 160.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——12.—Marriage—continued.

(4)—Suit by respondent plaintiff as wife of deceased to recover his estate from brothers and sisters.—When a divorce has occurred strict proof is required of the renewal of connubial relations, when the question is whether there has been a re-union or not, just as clear proof of marriage in the first instance is required when the point in dispute is whether the status of a wife has been acquired or not. In this case the evidence of a re-union is altogether unsatisfactory, and the circumstances go to show that the probability is all the other way. MAUNG LU GYI v. MA NYAN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 202.

(5)—Ante-nuptial contracts — Proof.—Buddhist Law recognises certain property as the separate property of the wife. It is called "thin thi" and includes what belonged to the wife before marriage, and what has been given specially to her since marriage. It is distinguished from "kan win" which is property set apart at the time of marriage for the joint purposes of the married pair, and from "hnit pason" which is property acquired jointly after marriage. In ante-nuptial contract, it must be proved by clear evidence that, marriage was the consideration of the promise. On grounds of public policy, ante-nuptial contracts which are not the usual incidents of a Buddhist marriage, must be admitted with caution and only on strict proof. MAUNG BA v. MA OK, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1. [Rel. on, U.B.R. 1904, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1.]

(6)—Suit to recover money raised on mortgage of her separate property and lent to husband.—A Burmese wife is entitled to sue her husband during marriage to recover, with interest, money raised on mortgage of her separate property and lent to her husband for his separate use. MA MON v. MAUNG SO, U.B.R 1904, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1. (U.B.R. 1902—1903. Vol. II. Buddhist Law, Marriage, 1. U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 159, R.]

(7)— Restitution of conjugal rights—Ill-treatment and desertion.—Where plaintiff-appellant left the house without any sufficient cause after ill-treating defendant-respondent and since then he has failed to exhibit any sign of affection for her, held that plaintiff-appellant is not entitled to a decree for restitution of conjugal rights. Ill-treatment and desertion by petitioner is a valid plea of justification under Buddhist Law. MAUNG SEIN v. KIN THET GYI, U.B R. 1904, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law, 8. (10 B. 301, 28 C. 751 L.B.R. 1893—1900, 654, 1 L.B.R. 351, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 488, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1909, Buddhist Law—Marriage, 1.]

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——12.—Marriage—continued.

(8)—Restitution of conjugal rights, Suit for—Whether lies--Rights and duties during marriage—Right to divorce.—There is nothing in the Buddhist law (as explained in U.B.R. 1904—1906, Vol. II, Budd. Law, Div., p. 3) as to divorce at the will of one party, without any fault in the other party, on the surrender of all the joint property and payment of all the joint debts. A suit for restitution of conjugal rights naturally lies, and this is not inconsistent with the Buddhist Law. NGA CHIN DAT v. MI KIN PU, U.B.R. 1909, 1st Qr., Buddhist Law, 1. (U.B.R. 1904—1906, Vol. II, Budd. Law—Div. 3, Cons. & Expl.)

(9)—Right of wife to mortgage her interest in joint property without her husband's consent.—The texts declaring that the husband is lord of the wife must be construed in the present day in a strictly limited sense. Practically in respect of their respective rights to property, the Burman Buddhist husband and wife occupy a position of equality. It is settled law that the husband is not at liberty to alienate joint property without his wife's consent, but that he can make a valid transfer of his share and interest in such property. The same rules apply to the case of alienations by the wife. Thus, where a wife mortgaged her interest in a house and land which was hnaparon letletpwa without the consent of her husband, it was held, that the mortgage was valid. NGA SAN YA v. NGA SAN YA. U.B.R. 1907, 4th Qr., Buddhist Law— Marriage—Joint Property, 1. (3 L.B.R. 66, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 45. 204, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. II, Ex. of decree, 1, U.B.R. 1904—1906, Buddh. Law—Divorce, 1. R.)

(10)—Acquisition of property during marriage—Right of widow to dispose of her share of property after death of husband—Property partitioned between widow and her son.—Certain property was required during the marriage of M.S. and M.B. On M. S's death, M.B., had an absolute right to dispose of her share in the property. The property was partitioned between her, and her son. What she obtained came to her in her right of widow. Consequently she could dispose of the property without the consent of her grandson. MAUNG PO U v. MA BA LI, 14 Bur. L R. 57.

(11)—Husband and wife—Desertion of one by the other for a period, whether dissolves the marriage tie—Dhammathats, effect of, custom.—The point referred to the Full Bench in this case was, whether the desertion of the husband by the wife or vice versa, for the period specified in the Buddhist Law Texts has the effect of dissolving the marriage tie ; in the absence of any further and express act of violation on the part of either of them. Held, that, even if the actual texts of the Dhammathats supported the proposition that marriage is dissolved by mere desertion, it must be remembered, in applying the personal law, that it is in course of time apt to change by the development of customs inconsistent with such law. Further, it is quite conceivable that a husband and a wife may quarrel and live apart, each on their own means, without the least desire to proceed to the extremity of a divorce and the idea that marriage can be terminated at all, without the wish of one or the other or the parties to it, is contrary to, and inconsistent with, the fundamental principle of the marriage contract. (Adamson and Irwan, JJ.) Held, however, (Fox, J. dissentiente) that the decision should be based only on the correct interpretation of the texts, irrespective of how the Burmese community may regard the matter and such texts have laid it down that, at the end of three years of continued desertion of a wife by a husband or at the end of one year's continued desertion by a wife of her husband, the marriage of the husband and wife is dissolved without any further and express act of violation on the part of either party. THEIN PE v. U PET, 3 L.B.R. 175, F.B. (2 L.B.R. 85, Overruled; U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 53, 56, 194, 3 I.A. 259, 14 M.I.A. 570, 10 B.L. R. 132, R.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

——12.—Marriage—continued.

(12)—Marriage—Custom—Chinese Buddhits—Validity of marriage with Burmese Buddhist—Necessary facts to be proved.—Where it is sought to establish a marriage between a Chinese Buddhist and a Burmese Buddhist woman, it must be shown that the practices the husband followed differ from those followed by all Chinese Buddhists and are the peculiar characteristics of Burmese Buddhists. No presumption as to his being a Burmese Buddhist can be drawn from the fact that he bears a Burmese name. For it is a matter of common knowledge and experience that Chinamen, long resident or born in Burma, adopt Burmese names. In such a case the customary law applicable to Chinese Buddhists must be followed. MAUNG TUN THA v. MA PU, 8 Ind. Cas. 452 (2 L.B.R 95, F.)

(13)—Marriage of minor without parent's consent — Subsequent co-habitation in parent's house—Proof of consent —A, a minor girl, who eloped from her parents' house with B, returned to her parents' house and lived and co-habited there with B, and ate together with him there: Held, that it was a perfectly valid marriage according to Burmese Buddhist Law, and that the subsequent consent of the parents may be presumed from their conduct towards A and B. Quœre: Whether the consent of the parents is essential to the validity of the marriage of a minor child? MAUNG PHIT PE v. MA TIN, 8 Ind. Cas. 437. (1 L.B.R. 297, Doubted.)

(14)—Burmans—Inheritance—Wife and concubine — Their rights—Maya Nge, whether concubine — 'Letsonmaya,' meaning of the term.— A Burman Buddhist may have at the same time two or more wives, who are on equal footing, though one of them may be styled the head wife, and her status may be superior to that of a free concubine. When a Maya Nge is mentioned in the Dhammathats, it is such a wife that is referred to and not a free concubine. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 6, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 160, R.) In Burma, though polygamy proper is undoubtedly coming to be looked on with more and more disfavour, it is by no means extinct. Of the wives who have borne an equal number of male children, the chief wife is the one first married. A wife who is barren may be "put away" but not divorced, and then another wife may be married without fault, and this rule appears to be the only one according to which a subsequently married wife can be set over a previously married one as his chief wife. The term "letsonmaya" means a wife who lives on terms of equality with her husband. Eating out of the same dish is but one, though perhaps the chief, indicium of such equality. A wife living separately from her husband, who is not entitled to inherit, is not at all a wife but a concubine. Separate residence merely affords a presumption, which, however, may be rebutted, that such a woman is a concubine and not a wife. MI KIN GYI v. MI KIN GYI, U.B.R. 1910, 3rd Qr., 42=8 Ind. Cas. 1169. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 145, Expl; U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 160, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 194, Rel. on.)

Buddhist Law—continued.

——12.—Marriage—continued.

(15)—Husband and wife—Husband's right over wife's payin property—Distinction between maiden wife and eindaungy as regards husband's control over wife's payin—Amendment of plaint—When to be refused—Estoppel.—A Buddhist wife, who is an eindaungyi, may alienate her payin property in any way she likes, without even consulting her husband, provided that she does not give it to a paramour. An amendment of plaint should not be allowed on second appeal, when such amendment involves fresh issues and fresh evidence. Where a husband allowed his wife to receive certain land in mortgage in her sole name and to take the rent, the mortgagor is justified in the belief that the transaction only concerned her and himself and that she had power to reduce the debt if she wished to do so. The husband is estopped from disputing a redemption by the wife. NGA TAN BAW v. NGA KAN, 12 Ind. Cas. 200.

Child of divorsed couple—Rights of inheritance—Maintenance of renewal of filial relations sufficient to entitle children to inherit property acquired by the couple during second marriage—See BUDDHIST LAW—DIVORCE, 14 Bur. L.R. 236=4 L.B.R. 272.

See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 219.

Right of female minor to sue for compensation for breach of promise of marriage, independently of contract—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 2, 10, 10, U.B.R. 1907, Contract, 5.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——12.—Marriage—concluded.

Majority Act, 1875, ss. 2 and 3—Burma Laws Act, 1898, s. 13—Manugye Dhammathat, Chs 6. 28, 30—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, S. 11, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 200.

Decree passed against a wife alone—Husband and wife being Buddhists—Attachment by actual seizure of joint property to the extent of the wife's interests lawful—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, U.B.R. 1902—1903. Vol. II, Execution of decree, I.

House built during coverture on land belonging to wife alone—Presumption of ownership—Power of one of parties to marriage to deal with joint property—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 41, 8 Ind. Cas. 606.

——13.—Partition.

(1)—Between father and daughters, the children of successive wives on the former marrying again.—U Myaing, who had successively married three wives who had pre-deceased him, was on the point of marrying a fourth wife when his daughters by his former wives claimed partition of inheritance. At the time of partition U Myaing had by his first wife two children surviving, by his second wife one child, Ma Tha Zu, and by his third wife Ma E Ma, one child Ma Shwe Sein. There was also a daughter of Ma E Ma by a former husband. All the property to be divided was the jointly acquired property of Ma E Ma and You Myaing. Held, that the property should have been divided into nine shares, of which U Myaing should have kept five, and given two to Ma Shwe Sein, the daughter of himself and Ma E Ma, and two to the children of the first two marriages and the step-daughter. MA TA v. MA THU ZA. L B.R. 1893—1900, 312.

(2)—Husband and wife—Partition of divorce—Property inherited by wife — Payin and Lettetpwa property.—The distinction between a division of property between husband and wife upon divorce and a succession to property by inheritance being sufficiently obvious, this distinction must be kept well in mind in interpreting the texts and rulings as to the various descriptions of property and the division of inheritance of the same under Buddhist Law. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, F.) As between husband and wife property inherited by the wife during coverture is viewed as letletpwa and not payin when a partition of property is made between husband and wife on divorce. It does not by any means follow that property is to be viewed as joint property of the husband and wife if, on the wife or the husband dying during coverture, the estate of the deceased becomes distributed among the heirs. Property inherited by a wife is acquired during coverture if the income of the inherited share is enjoyed during coverture, whether a distribution of inheritance into separate aliquot shares be made between the heirs before she is divorced from her husband or after such divorce. MA NGWE BWIN v.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——13.—Partition—continued.

MAUNG LUN MAUNG, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 295. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 212, R.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 110, 177, D.)

(3)—Of property jointly acquired during one marriage between the children by that marriage and the children by other marriages—Manukye, X, 66, 67—The rule for the partition of property jointly acquired during one marriage between the children by that marriage and the children by other marriages is that laid down in paragraphs 66 and 67, Ch. X of the Manukye's Dhammathat. The children by the marriage during which property is acquired take double the share taken by the children of any other marriage, MA MIN E v. MA KYAW TAHI, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 361.

(3 a)—Burden of proof—Division—Ancestral estate.—The burden of proving the division of ancestral property lies upon the party asserting division. MA HNIN SI v. MA HNIN YI, L. B.R. 1872—1892, 22.

(4)—Title of eldest son who has obtained his one-fourth share to share thereafter in the remainder of the estate.—There is no authority for thinking that the eldest son, after taking his one-fourth share of the estate of his deceased father, retains any right to a further future partition or any right in the remainder of the estate, except the right of pre-emption in case of sale by the remaining co-heirs. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 76, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, F.) In such a claim for pre-emption the co-heirs would have to be made defendants or joined as plaintiffs. MAUNG HMU v. MAUNG PO THIN, 1 L.B.R. 50. [R., 1 L.B.R. 198.]

(5)—Partition—Gift—Mutation of names—Notice to mortgagee of claim—Effect of a subsequent mortgage on family partition—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 41, 123—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42, proviso—Mortgage by third person—Declaratory suit by real owner—Buddhist Law.—A declaratory suit by the real owner that a mortgage effected by the person in possession does not affect the property is not repugnant to the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. It is not necessary in such a case to seek the cancellation of the mortgage instrument or possession of land. Where a Burman Buddhist, on his second marriage, transferred the joint property of himself and his first wife to their daughter by way of inheritance, evidently with the intention of keeping the land out of the hands of his second wife: Held, that the transfer operated as a partition of inheritance and not as a gift. A partition between father and daughter is not invalid merely because the father assigns to the daughter a larger share than she could claim under the ordinary Law of Inheritance, or if the father thinks it expedient to make over the whole of the joint property to the daughter. A transferee cannot be allowed the benefit of the principle contained in s. 41 of the Transfer of Property Act, when the slightest inquiry would have sufficed to acquaint the mortgagee with the fact that the land stood in the real owner's name in the Revenue maps and registers. MAUNG HMWE v. MA LUN AUNG, 11 Ind. Cas. 855.

Buddhist Law*—continued.

——13.—Partition—concluded.

See BUDDHIST LAW—DIVORCE, U.B.R. 1906, Buddhist Law—Divorce, 19.

——14.—Pre-emption.

(1)—Suit for pre-emption under Chinese Customary Law—Suit by Chinaman—Indian Succession Act, ss.5 and 331—Burma Laws Act. s. 13.—In a suit by a daughter for pre-emption of certain properties which had belonged to her father, who was a Chinaman, brought under the Chinese Customary Law, it was held, (1) if the father was not a Buddhist, the provisions of the Indian Succession Act applied to him, and not the law of China, (2) if he was a Buddhist his estate would be exempted from the operation of the Indian Succession Act by s. 331 of that Act, and the Buddhist Law would form the rule of decision. In this case, the father being a Chinese Buddhist, it would be necessary for the plaintiff to show that there is a Chinese Buddhist Law in China applicable to Chinese Buddhists only, as apart from the customary law of the country, applicable to all the inhabitants whether Buddhists or not, and that by that law there is a right of pre-emption in respest of the land in dispute. APANA CHARAN CHODRY v. SHWE NU, 4 L.B.R. 124. (2 L.B.R. 95, R.)

(2)—Pre-emption, widow's right of—Widow's right to inherit.—According to Buddhist Law, a person selling ancestral property, whether it has been divided or not, must offer it to his co-heirs, before selling it to strangers. A sale to strangers effected without such offer is invalid, if the co-heirs promptly assert their rights. (29 M. 298, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 231, 155, 162, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 39, 41, 76, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 26, 1 L.B.R. 144, 7 A. 775, R.) A Buddhist widow is the heir of her husband, whether there are children or not. The eldest son has a right to claim one-fourth on the death of the father, but this fact does not alter the position of the widow. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, 121, 531, U.B R. 1897—1901, 146, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 76, R.) Where the widow has inherited her deceased husband's share, and the co-heirs of the husband have sold their shares to strangers, the widow has the right of pre-emption. Such right to pre-empt will be strengthened all the more by the fact that she has a son by her deceased husband. NGA TIN v. NGA SHWE ON, U.B.R. 1907 Buddhist Law (Inheritance and Pre-emption) 1.

(3)—Right of pre-emption—Right of widow to dispose of family property subject to children's right of pre-emption.—A Buddhist widow has a right of absolute disposal in respect of her own share, after her husband's death, and a life-interest in the remaindar. This decision does not overrule the law relating to the right of pre-emption but is subject to the general rule,

Buddhist Law*—concluded.

——14.—Pre-emption—concluded.

regarding the right of all co-sharers to pre-emption. Where a mother after the father's death sold her right over joint family property to a stranger, held, the son has a right of pre-emption over the whole property. MO THI v. THA KWE, 4 L.B.R. 128=14 Bur. L R. 205. (2 L.B R. 167, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 378, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 65, R.)

——15—Widow.

(1)—Widow's share of joint property absolutely at her disposal—Division of one-fourth share among the eldest son and his brothers—Division of property between the widow and her children on her re-marrying.—The widow has absolute power of disposal over one-half of the joint property of herself and her deceased husband. MAUNG HLAING v. MAUNG THA KA DO, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 65. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 121, 378, R..)

——16.—Will.

(1) — Testamentary power.— A Burman Buddhist cannot make a will. The testamentary power is not in a Burmese Buddhist. MAUNG ME AND MI MIN NYO v. SIT KIN NGA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 429, [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900. 9, 132.]

(2)—Ancestral estate.—The right to share in ancestral estate is not affected by any instructions or Will on the part of a co-heir. LA U v. MI SAUNG MA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 12.

(3)—Chief Commissioner—Validity of Wills made by Burmese Buddhists—No will by a Burmese Buddhist having heirs which dispossess of property, moveable, or immoveable, contrary to the Burmese Buddhist Law of Inheritance should be admitted as valid. There may possibly be some family customs in some remote part of the province, which the Chief Commissioner is unacquainted with, where this rule would not lie. In that case, of course, there will be an exception; and it appears probable that in some cases, as for cruelty or for a blow, a father or mother may legally disinherit an heir; but as a general rule, and without some special act of the Legislature, the Courts are bound to decide questions of inheritance, between Burmese Buddhists solely by the Law of Burmese Buddhists or by well ascertained custom, ANONYMOUS, L.B.R. 1872—1892 430 Note.

Budget Estimate.

Provision to be made in Budget Estimate for the contribution from Government Estates to the Zemindari Dak Fund. Rev. Cir. No. 7, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir. p. 24.

Submission of Budget Estimates by Civil and Criminal Authorities. Cir. No. 32, dated the 18th November 1864, 1 W.R Civ. Cir. Orders p. 4.

This circular directs that all bills of Small Cause Court Judges should be transmitted to the Judge of the District for the purpose of udget Estimate—concluded.

being checked ; but the scale of contingent expenditure estimated for yearly to be submitted to the Court for approval and incorporation in the Budget for the year. Civ. Cir. No. 18, 20 W.R. Rules and Orders of the H.C. p. 8.

Budget grants.

Additional cl. (5-A) to s. 5, p. 24, Board Rules, regarding applications for extra Budget grants. Rev. Cir. No. 6, 20 W.R. Cir. p. 2.

Deduction of probable payments of April 1867 from the Budget Grant for 1866-67—Explanation of the head "Allotment" at foot of monthly Contingent Bill. Cir. No. 21, dated the 28th May, 1866, 5 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 11.

Budnee Transactions.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—GENERAL, 11 P.R 1866.

Building.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—COMPENSATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

(1)—Buildings on land in mofussil—Property in.—Buildings and other such improvements made on land in the mofussil do not, by the mere accident of their attachment to the soil become the property of the owner of the soil. If he who makes the improvement is not a mere trespasser, but is in possession under any bona fide title or claim of title, he is entitled either to remove the materials, or to obtain compensation for the value of the building, at the option of the owner. THAKOOR CHUNDER PORMANICK v. RAMDHONE BHUTTACHARJEE, 6 W.R. 228.

(2)—Erections on land made when objection raised by co-sharer—Pulling down of.—Erections on land made after objection was raised by a co-sharer may be ordered to demolished, if made without permission. KALEE PERSHAD DUTT v. GOUREE PERSHAD DUTT, 5 W.R. 108.

(3)—Laches—Fraud—Mistake as to title—Duty of real owner.—When a man builds a house on land supposing it to be his own, or believing he has a good title, and the real owner, perceiving his mistake, abstains from setting him right, a Court of Equity will not allow the real owner to assert his legal right against the other without at least making him full compensation for the moneys he has expended ; the rule of equity being that a Court will not permit a man knowingly, though passively, to encourage another to lay out money under an erroneous opinion of title. MUSSAMMAT RANI RAMA v. SHEIKH JAN MOHAMMAD, 3 B.L.R.A.C. 18=11 W.R. 375, [Expl., 3 C.P.L.R. 1.]

(4)—Zemindar allowing tenant to build on his sir land—Building being of very small value—Estoppel in equity.—If a man permits another to erect a valuable building upon his land, and with the knowledge that the building being erected, stands by, and does not prevent the other from doing so, then, by the rules of equity which are in this respect the same as the rules of law, he cannot eject that other person. But where a zemindar allowed his cultivating tenant to take up his abode on his sir land for eight years and to construct a building on it of very small value (viz., 2 Rs.) no equitable estoppel arose in such a case and the zemindar was entitled to eject the tenant, the latter not having acquired any title by adverse possession. GOPI v. BISHESHAR, A.W.N. 1885, 100. [Overruled, 21 A. 496=26 I.A. 58; R., 33 C. 1119, 6 A.L.J. 57.]

——Building—continued.

(5)—Land belonging to co-sharers—Erection of building on land by one co-sharer without the consent of others—Removal of building—Rights of other co-sharers—Acquiescence.—In a suit by certain co-sharers against other co-sharers for the demolition and removal of a permanent building which had been erected at considerable cost by the latter, held that, though the Court had a discretion to interfere and direct the removal of the building, that discretion need not necessarily be exercised in every case. As a rule, it will not be exercised unless the plaintiff is able to show that injury has accrued to him by reason of the erection of the building and that he took reasonable steps in time to prevent the erection. GIRDHARI LAL v. VILAYAT ALI, A.W.N. 1885, 277. [Appl., 9 A. 661.]

(6)—Sanction by zemindar to use of waste land for religious purposes—Erection of chabutra on land—Suit for removal.—In a suit by a zemindar of a certain village for removal of a chabutra erected by the defendants (a Mahomedan community) on certain waste land which has been granted by the plaintiff to the defendants for the purpose of saying their prayers only, the Court granted a decree because the defendants had done something in excess of the user of the land permitted them by the proprietor. REHMAT ULLAH v. BADAM SINGH, A.W.N, 1885, 325.

(7)—Building on land belonging to another—Equitable estoppel.—In a suit brought to demolish some buildings erected by defendants on open land belonging to the plaintiffs, where it appeared that the principal plaintiff, in the performance of his office as Municipal Commissioner, had to report on the petition of the defendant for permission to build, and he reported to the Municipality that he had visited the spot, and could find no objection to the defendant's application to build, held that it was clear that the plaintiffs were well aware of what defendant was doing, and that they never interfered, and that the plaintiffs were under those circumstances not entitled to the relief they claimed. MUNNA v. MADAT ALI, A.W.N. 1886, 123.

(8)—Acquiescence.—The absence of objection to the erecting of a permanent building by a tenant during the continuance of an ijara should not be construed as amounting to acquiescence such as might be inferred where the land is in direct receipt of rent from the tenant. KRISHNA KISHORE NEOGI v. MIR MAHOMED ALI, 3 C.W.N. 255. (12 W.R. 495, D.)

Building—continued.

(9)—Stranger building on land of another—Right of owner—Acquiescence—English and Indian Law—Delay in bringing suit, effect of.—It is a well established law in England that if a stranger builds on the land of another, although believing it to be his own, the owner is entitled to recover the land with the building on it, unless there are special circumstances amounting to a standing by so as to induce the belief that the owner intended to forego his right or to an acquiescence in his building on the land. (Ramsden v. Dyson, L.R. 1 H.L. 129 at p. 170; Plimmer v. Mayor, etc., of Willington, L.R., 9 App. Cas. 699 at p. 710; P.J., 1892, p. 348, R.) The same is the law in India also, with the exception that the party building on the land of another is allowed to remove the building. (6 B.H.C. A.C. 80, R.) [F., 6 Bom. L.R. 86=28 B. 298, 2 N.L.R. 4, 9 Bom. L. R. 404; D., 32 B. 32=9 Bom. L.R. 1161.] Delay by the owner in bringing the suit, is not, of itself, sufficient to create an equity in favour of the person spending money on the land and to deprive the owner of his strict rights. PREMJI JIVAN BHATE v. HAJI CASSUM JAMA AHMED, 20 B. 298. (2 M.H.C. 114, Appr. & F.)

(10)—Decree for possession—Leave to remove buildings.—In a decree to put plaintiff in possession, leave cannot be reserved to defendant to remove buildings, &c., unless they were erected by defendant in good faith. RAM DHONE BHUTTACHARJEE v. ISHAMEE DABEE, 2 W.R. 123.

(11)—Building on another person's land by other than a mere trespasser—Notice of adverse claim—Equitable right of removing buildings—Custom of country.—The law in India is that buildings may be removed if there has been good faith on the part of the builder. Maxim of English law quad haerot in salo is not necessarily applicable in this country. MAUNG HNYA v. MA E MYA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 214. (6 W.R 228, 4 A. 55, 2 C. 152, 233, 6 B.H.C. 80, 15 W.R. P.C. 47, W.R. 1864, 20, R.)

(12)—Erection of, by a tenant—Acquiescence.—The owner of a land cannot sue in ejectment when he sees another person erecting buildings upon it, and knowing that such other person is under the mistaken belief that the land is his own property, purposely abstains from interference, with a view of claiming the building when it is erected. BENI RAM v. KUNDAN LAL, 1 Bom. L.R 400.

(13)—Order directing removal of certain buildings — Obstrction to public way — Bona fide question of title--Crim. Pro. Code, Act V of 1898, s 133.—A Magistrate acting under s. 133 of the Crim. Pro. Code, should first of all satisfy himself as to the bona fides of the claim, if any, and then determine whether the parties should be referred to the Civil Court. MATUKDHARI TEWARI v. MADHAB DAS, 9 C.W.N. 72=31 C. 979. 29 C. 279, 17 C. 562, R.)

Building—continued.

(14)—Nature of office — Power of zemindar to dismiss Bulahar.—The office of a bulahar is an office held only during the zemindar's pleasure, and the person holding such an office is removable by the zemindar. SUNOO KHAN v. OODEA, 2 Agra 140.

Removal of—See ACQUIESCENCE, 1 Agra 244.

Acquisition of part of a house or—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 49, cl. 1, A.W.N. 1898, 85.

Compensation given to tenants of land appropriated in respect of buildings owned by them—Claim of zemindars to haq-i chaharum—Custom held to be inapplicable—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 54, A.W.N. 1903, 5.

Registered lease for—Purposes—Lease not being for agricultural purposes, Tenancy Act inapplicable—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, 19 C. 489.

See BEN. ACT II OF 1888, ss. 247, 250, 427, 30 C. 317=7 C.W.N. 329.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, 21 B. 588, F.B.

Owner of building required to set it back, Corporation to make full compensation to—Assessment of compensation—See BOM. ACT III OF 1872, 14 B. 292.

Notice as to intended—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 33, 21 B. 187=P.J. 1895, 375.

Proposed — Notice of—Want of notice — Plan not furnished—Building without permission—Demolition of building—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 33, 19 B. 27.

Suit for injunction to restrain Municipality from removing—Notice of action not necessary under s. 48 of Bombay Act II of 1884—Action under s. 33 of Act VI of 1873—Discretion of Municipality—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—See BOM. ACT II OF 1884, s. 48, 22 B. 230=P.J. 1896, 296.

Taxation—University— Exemption—Charitable purposes—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 143, 144, 16 B. 217.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 298, 299, 301, 18 B. 184.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, ss. 1, 11, 17, M. 54.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, s. 11, 17 M. 73.

Tax on buildings—Standard hypothetical rent—Lying-in Hospital—See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, s. 123, 10 M. 38.

License necessary before commencing to erect building—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1889, ss. 3, 180, cl. 5, 1 M.L.J. 37.

Sanction for constructing—Implied sanction—See PUN. ACT XX OF 1891, ss. 92, 95, 62 P R. 1907=105 P.L.R. 1908=147 P.W.R. 1907.

Building—continued.

Revenue Courts if can partition—See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, s. 124, 22 A. 329=A.W.N. 1900, 116.

Rules framed by Municipal Board of Mussoorie as to within Municipal limits—Order for demolition if erected in contravention of such rules—See U.P. ACT XV OF 1883, s. 55, A.W.N. 1900, 8.

Doors and windows of building—Liability for separate attachment in execution—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 11 C. 164.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. VI, r. 17, O. VII, r. 11, O. VI, r. 18, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 78 P.L.R. 1903.

Erection of—by one — Right of another sharer to sue for demolition—See COMMON LAND, 54 P.R. 1892.

Contractor given additional in divisible work—Variation of original contract—Extension of time fixed for completion of original contract—Building owner not to claim penalties for non-completion within time stipulated—Extension of time on account of extra work—Extension not objected to—Acquiescence by contractor—See CONTRACT — MISCELLANEOUS, 13 M.L.J. 488.

See CO-SHARERS — ENJOYMENT OF PROPERTY BY CO SHARERS. 12 A 436=A.W.N. 1890, 95, F.B., W. R. 1864, 258.

On common land by one co-sharer—Right of other co sharers to demolish—See CO-SHARERS—SUIT BY CO-SHARERS, 2 Ind. Cas. 854.

Co-sharers—Erection of buildings by one co-sharer in spite of protest of others—Right of others to demand demolition of buildings—See CO-SHARERS—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 A. 661=A.W.N. 1887, 253.

Right to build on joint land—Consent of co-sharers — See CO SHARERS — MISCELLANEOUS, 18 A. 115=A.W.N. 1895, 243.

Erected by stranger on land held by joint owners — Purchase by one of the joint owners—Suit for possession against such purchaser—See CO-SHARERS—MISCELLANEOUS, 18 A. 361=A.W.N. 1896, 97.

Suit for removal of structure erected by one of co-sharers of land—Discretion of Court—See CO-SHARERS—MISCELLANEOUS, 8 C. 708.

Suit to set aside lease and for demolition of buildings erected by lessees—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, art. IV, cl. 4, 4 A. 320, F.B.

Landlord and tenant—Belonging to tenant—Right of tenant to mortgage—See CUSTOM (PUNJAB—ALIENATION), 75 P.R. 1897.

Acquiescence—On the land of another—Mere non-interference not sufficient to constitute an estoppel—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT, A.W.N. 1899, 191.

Building—continued.

Compensation—Ejectment—On land of another—Bona fides—See IMPROVEMENTS, 3 C.L.R. 194.

See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, A.W.N. 1883, 249, 6 C.W.N. 308.

Estoppel—Erected on another's land—Acquiescence—Discretion of Court—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, A.W.N. 1904, 70.

Erection of buildings—Obstruction to light and air—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, Cor. 9.

Demolition of building—Professional assistance—Practice and procedure—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 2 B. 133.

Affected by nuisance and smoke of adjacent mill—Combined relief of injunction and damages to occupier—Specific Relief Act, I of 1877—Plaintiff, when barred by laches—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 8 B. 35.

Jurisdiction—Suit to recover land after removing buildings thereon — Not subject-matter of suit—See JURISDICTION—GENERAL, 7 M.L.J. 49.

See JUISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 1 B. H.C. 1.

Erection of buildings by tenant — Effect on tenure—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ALTERATION OF CONDITIONS OF TENANCY, 3 C. 696=1 C.L.R. 577.

Grant of land—Presumption as to nature of tenure — Erection of— See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ALTERATION OF CONDITIONS OF TENANCY, 8 C. 960.

Non-agricultural land—Tenure unprotected—Right of tenant to raise pucca—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ALTERATION OF CONDITIONS OF TENANCY, 9 C.L.R. 221.

Occupancy—tenant—Right to erect — See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ALTERATION OF CONDITIONS OF TENANCY, 10 C.L.R. 25.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ALTERATION OF CONDITIONS OF TENANCY, 7 M.L.T. 223=6 Ind. Cas. 286.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 34 P.R. 1882.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—NATURE OF TENANCY, 11 C.L.R 281.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1881, 97.

On anothers's land—Acquiescence—Estoppel—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1908, 282.

Landlord and tenant —Pucca —Raised by tenant—Permanent right to remain on land—See LANDLORD AND TENANT — MISCELLANEOUS, 3 C.W.N. 255.

Agricultural land—Erection of buildings on holding by permanent occupancy—tenants—Landlord's remedy — See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 24 M. 65.

Building—concluded.

Upon another's land —Right to compensation—See LAND SUIT, 78 P.W.R. 1910.

See LEASE — GENERAL, P.L.R. 1900. 303.

Upon land of another —Estoppel — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 149, 13 Bom. L. R. 92=9 Ind. Cas. 765.

Re-building — What is —See MUNICIPALITIES, 6 N.L.R. 53=6 Ind. Cas. 431.

House built by non-proprietor—House falling into ruins — Non-proprietor's right to site—Burden of proof—See NON-PROPRIETOR, 3 Ind. Cas. 19.

Presumption of ownership — Adjoining — Walls of adjoining buildings built on same foundation—Light and air—Obstruction—See OWNERSHIP, 2 C.L R. 377.

See PRE-EMPTION — SUBJECT OF PRE-EMPTION, 3 Agra 179.

Adjoining each other—Side wall—Right of easement—See PRESCRIPTION—EASEMENTS —HOUSES AND OTHER BUILDINGS, 13 B. 79.

Right to have windows closed—Invasion of privacy, comfort, and ventilation—See PRESCRIPTION—EASEMENTS—LIGHT AND AIR, 2 Agra 269.

Suburban lands let for—Occupancy-rights—See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY — ACQUISITION OF RIGHT, 16 C. 652.

Holders of adjoining plots of land for building, liability of, in respect of party walls—Suit not maintainable for declaration of ownership of wall and for injunction— Order amounting to decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code, right of appeal from—See RIGHT OF SUIT—BUILDING, SUIT TO RESTRAIN, 9 B. 183.

Erection of public—From subscriptions—Suit for subscription—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 C. 64.

Contract for sale—Building upon it before completion of sale—Rights of vendee—See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 1 A.L.J. 688.

Mandatory injunction—Suit for demolition of—Delay in suing—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 55, A.W.N. 1900, 55.

Suit for possession of grove—Permanent on grove—See VALUATION OF SUITS, A.W.N. 1886, 106.

Building Lands.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, LIABILITY TO, 2 B.L.R. App. 39=11 W.R. 183, 2 C.L.R. 31.

Building Lease.

Of contiguous sites—Undertaking of liability for the cost of party-walls—,common covenant, right of lessees to enforce inter se—See LEASE—GENERAL, 6 B. 528.

Building on land without title.

See BUILDING.

(1)—Execution of building by one on another's land—Compensation.— Where a man builds on the land of another, the builder may be allowed to remove his materials or the owner of the soil may take it over at a valuation or content himself with a ground-rent affording to the circumstances of the case and the conduct of the parties themselves. RAMDHAN v. KURA MAL, 38 P.R. 1889 [R., 91 P.R. 1892.]

(2)—Erection of building on another's property—Compensation.—A party in possession erecting buildings upon or making improvements to property, bona fide is entitled for compensation for such buildings and improvements from the rightful owner. If such a person has been induced by the owner of the land to build, there may be an equitable transfer of property from the latter to the former. KUNHYA LAL v. KISHEN CHUND, 42 P.R. 1866. [Cited. 2 P.R. 1885.]

(3)—Erection of a building on another's land—Owner standing by, not preventing—Owner estopped.—Where the owner of a plot of land standing by does not interfere to prevent others building a house thereon, held that he is estopped from demanding that the house be pulled down. BHEEKA SINGH v. HURJUS, 7 P.R. 1866.

(4)—Erection of building on land with the consent of proprietors owning half share—Suit to eject by the owner of a fourth share—Defendants entitled to compensation.—Where plaintiff, the owner of a fourth share in a piece of building ground, sued to eject the defendants, who had built on the land with the consent of the proprietors owning a half share, held that plaintiff was entitled to possession of her fourth share on her paying compensation to the defendants. MUSSUMMAT ZUHOORAN v. BUMSEE, 21 P.R. 1867.

(5)—Proprietor ousting the occupier at pleasure—Usage.—According to the general usage in rural villages, the proprietor cannot oust the occupier of a house at pleasure on payment to the latter of the value of the materials of the building. BUKSH v. FEEDA, 20 P.R. 1868.

(6)—Occupation by persons without title—Erection of buildings—Delay of owner in bringing suits—Relief to which occupier without title is entitled.—Mere delay on the part of an owner of land in suing a person in possession without title, who erects buildings on the land he has illegally occupied, does not entitle the possessor to be maintained in possession. The particular relief to which a possessor so situated is entitled must depend upon the circumstances of the case. GOUHAR v. FAZLA, 53 P.R. 1878. [Cited, 121 P.R. 1885.]

See ACQUIESCENCE, 3 W.R. 71.

See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, ss. 3, 40, 20 P.R. 1894.

Building sites.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1865, 4 B. 514, note.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1868, s. 5, 4 B. 505.

Building Sites—concluded.

Building site of houses occupied by agriculturists not liable to attachment and sale in execution of decree — See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 59 P.R. 1902.

Bullocks.

Impressment of bullocks by village officers for use by Government Abkari Inspector—Suit for damages by owner of bullocks—See JURISDICTION OF SUBORDINATE JUDGE, 21 B. 773.

Bund.

Riparian owner—Erection of bund throwing water on land of proprietor on opposite bank—Injunction to prevent erection—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES. 27 M. 409.

Riparian rights—Prescriptive right—Erection of bunds—Cause of action—See RIPARIAN PROPRIETORS, 4 B.L.R. App. 30=13 W.R. 48.

Bundlekhand Alienation of Land Act.

See U.P. ACT II OF 1903.

Bundlekhand Incumbered Estates Act.

See U.P. ACT I OF 1903.

Burden of proof.

1.—GENERAL.
2.—ACCOUNTS.
3.—AGENT.
4.—BAILMENT.
5.—BENAMI TRANSACTIONS.
6.—BOUNDARY.
7.—CLAIMS TO PROPERTY ATTACHED.
8.—CONSIDERATION.
9.—CONTRIBUTION.
10.—CUSTOM.
11.—DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.
12.—DECLARATION OF TITLE.
13.—DECREES AND DEEDS, SUITS RELATING TO.
14.—DOCUMENTS RELATING TO LOANS, SUITS RELATING TO.
15.—EASEMENTS.
16.—EJECTMENT.
17.—EXECUTION OF DECREE.
18.—FRAUD.
19.—HINDU LAW.
20.—HUSBAND AND WIFE.
21.—INTERVENORS.
22.—LANDLORD AND TENANT.
23.—LEGITIMACY.
24.—LIMITATION AND ADVERSE POSSESSION.
25.—MORTGAGE.
26.—NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS
27.—PARTITION.

Burden of proof—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

28.—POSSESSION AND PROOF OF TITLE.
29.—PRE-EMPTION.
30.—RENT, SALE FOR ARREARS OF.
31.—REVENUE, SALE FOR ARREARS OF.
32.—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.
33.—WILL.
34.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See BENAMI TRANSACTION—MISCELLANEOUS.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
See PARDANASHIN WOMAN.

——1.—General.

(1)—Evidence—Burden of proof—Meaning of the term "burden of proof" explained.—The terms onus probandi, in its proper use, merely means that, if a fact has to be proved, the person, whose interest it is to prove such fact, should adduce some evidence, however slight, upon which a Court could find the fact he desires to have found. It does not mean that he shall call all conceivable or available evidence. It merely means that the evidence he lays before the Court should be sufficient, if uncontradicted, to form the basis of a judgment and decree upon that point in his favour. UNKAR NATH v. MITTHU LAL, A.W.N. 1898, 107.

(2)—Burden of establishing case and duty of introducing evidence—Shifting of burden.—Burden of proof means the burden of establishing a case and as well as the duty or necessity of introducing evidence. The burden of establishing remains throughout the entire case exactly where the pleadings originally place it. It never shifts. The burden of proof in the sense of introducing evidence may shift constantly as evidence is introduced by one side or the other, as one scale or the other preponderates. BHOLA v. BHAGWANT RAO, 13 C.P.L.R. 159. [Expl., 15 C.P.L.R. 1, 1 N.L.R. 169 ; R., 2 N.L.R. 10.]

(3)—Putting greater burden on one party—No prejudice on merits—No ground for reversal of decree.—The mere putting what is perhaps a greater burden of proof on one party than on the other, is no ground for reversing a decree in special appeal, where the decision on the merits has not been affected. SUROOP NARAIN SINGH v. RAM TOHUL MISSER, 18 W R. 106.

(4)—Burden of proof, misplacement of—Remand.—Misplacement of the burden of proof is only a ground for remanding the case, if the circumstances had been such that, by placing the burden of proof on the wrong party, somebody has been mislead or taken by surprise, or had no opportunity of adducing evidence But, where all the parties have had full warning of the points at issue, and full opportunity of calling witnesses and adducing evidence, then, if the Judge, in his judgment, places the burden on the wrong side, that is no ground for a remand. HUKLAL SUKUL v. RAMGOTI DEY ROY, 11 C.L.R. 581.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(5)—Act XXV of 1857, ss. 2 and 8—Queen's Proclamation of 1st November, 1858.—When the quantum of evidence required from either party is to be considered, regard must be had to the opportunities which each party may naturally be supposed to have of giving evidence. (3 I.A. 85, 11 A. 438, R.) Held that a Special Commissioner appointed under Act XXV of 1857, who had made an order under s. 8 of that Act acquitting a person and directing the release of his property, had no power subsequently of his own motion to cancel such order. Held, also, that the effect of the Queen's Proclamation of the 1st of November, 1858, was prospective merely and did not operate to restore property which had been confiscated. JANKI PRASAD v. RAI PARTAB CHAND, A.W.N. 1897, 129. (2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 124, R.)

(6)—Non-examination of parties in a suit, result of—English and Indian practice—Account books, non-production of.—The plaintiff brought a suit for the recovery of certain properties, alleging that he was adopted twenty years before the date of the suit. Held, the burden of proving that the alleged adoption took place twenty years before the trial rested upon the plaintiff. The presumption that would be drawn in England will be to the detriment of a plaintiff who falls to enter the witness-box and face the ordeal of cross-examination. But in cases between natives tried in India, a species of advocacy is tolerated by the Courts of Law here, in which the unworthy effort of the Advocate on each side is to force his opponent to produce his own client, in order that he himself may have the opportunity of cross-examining that client. The result is that, should the opponent refuse to be led into this trap, the parties (the principal witnesses, who possibly could throw light on all these tangled transactions which so perplex those who have to decide these cases), are never examined at all, and the litigation goes forward through tortuous windings to its unsatisfactory and uncertain end. It is a vicious practice, unworthy of a high-toned or reputable system of advocacy, tending to embarrass and perplex judicial investigation, and too often enabling fraud, falsehood or chicane to baffle justice. Having regard to the well-known and often proved habits of the Indian people with regard to the keeping of accounts, recording their most minute transactions, the non-production of any book, in which anything connected with the mater in question is entered, by the party in whose possession it is, covers the parties' case with suspicion. MUSSAMAT LAL KUNVAR v. CHIRANJI LAL, 7 M L.T. 57 =14 C.W.N. 285=11 C.L J. 172=12 Bom. L. R. 244=32 A. 140=20 M.L.J. 182=5 Ind.Cas. 549. P.C.

(7)—Allegation not traversed.—A plaintiff is not relieved from the burden of proving his case by the mere fact of an allegation of his not being traversed. MULJI BECHAR v. ANUPRAM BECHAR, 7 B.H.C.A.C.J 136.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(8)—Noabad Taluqs, Chittagong—Perpetual or permanent settlements—Onus of proving.—If a person sets up as against the Government a permanent or perpetual settlement, it is incumbent on him to make out that case. PROSUNNO COOMAR ROY v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 26 C. 792 =3 C.W.N.695. [F., 13 C.W.N. 235=9 C. L.J. 265; R., 8 C.L.J. 470, 11 C.W.N, 928.]

(9)—Allegation that a contract is different from what it purports to be—Onus.—When a party to a contract alleges that it is different from what on the face of it purports to be, the burden of proving his case lies on him, since there is a presumption that a transaction is in substance what it is in form. ESHOOR DOSS v. VENKATA SUBBA RAU, 17 M. 480. [Affirmed, 18 M. 306, F.B.]

(10)—Act making contract impossible of performance.—The burden of proving that there was an act which rendered a contract impossible of performance lies on the party to the contract who alleges it. WUZEERA v. MOOROODEEN, 77 P.R. 1866.

(11)—Limitation—Suit for cancellation of instrument—Proof of knowledge of facts entitling cancellation of instrument.—When a plaintiff sues for cancellation of an instrument and when he sets out the facts entitling him to have the instrument cancelled and when he alleges that those facts became known to him at a certain time, it is incumbent on a defendant, who pleads limitation, to dislodge the plaintiff from his position and to allege and prove a knowledge prior to the period from which time begins to run. If no evidence were given on either side, the plea of limitation would fail. TANTS v. GAJADHAR, 2 N.L.R. 98. (26 M. 291, 6 A. 406, 17 B. 341, 17 C.518, 24 B. 260, 22 C. 609, 1 C.W.N. 543, R.) [R., 5 N.L.R. 28.]

(12)—S. 40, Punjab Courts Act—Certificate of appeal given on question of onus of proof—Validity.—A Divisional Judge granted a certificate of appeal under s. 40, Punjab Courts Act, stating that a question of law, viz., as to the onus probandi, was involved in the case. But the Chief Court ruled that the Punjab Courts Act did not contemplate the giving of a certificate on the question of onus and mode of decision and that the certificate was, therefore, bad. MUSST. NIKKI v. BISHEN DAS, 41 P.R. 1898.

(13)—Onus on defendant—Plaintiff producing his evidence without waiting for the evidence of the defendant—Whether plaintiff can rely upon the plea that defendant has not discharged his onus—Pleadings.—Where the onus is upon the defendant to prove a certain fact, but the plaintiff, without waiting for the defendant's evidence, takes upon himself to prove it, he cannot subsequently say that the defendant did not discharge his onus. SAJAN KUNWAR v. JOTI PRASHAD, 10 Ind. Cas. 223. (3 A. 824, F.)

Burden of proof—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

See ACT XVIII OF 1854, ss. 11, 43, 3 B. 96.

Erroneous description of goods consigned—Loss of goods by fire—Liability of Railway Company—Burden of Proof—See ACT III OF 1865, s. 9, 3 B. 120.

See ACT III OF 1865, s. 9, 24 C. 786=1 C. W.N. 200, 26 C. 398, P.C.=26 I.A. 1=3 C.W. N. 145.

Opium—Unlawful possessoin of, by member of joint family—See ACT I OF 1878, s. 9, 2 O. C. 99.

See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 72, 76, 22 A. 361= A.W.N. 1900, 111.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1884, s. 57, 20 B. 732.

See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 40, 45 P. R. 1894, 41 P.R. 1898.

See U.P. ACT XXII OF 1886, s. 108, cl. 15, 4 O.C. 1.

See ADMISSION—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 I.A. 74.

Right to begin—Burden of proof—Irregularity not affecting merits—Powers of appellate Court—See APPELLATE COURT—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 A. 824=A.W.N. 1881, 86.

See ABBITRATION—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 M. I.A. 441.

See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, A.W.N. 1897, 88.

See BILL OF LADING, 5 B. 313.

Suit to set aside a bond—Failure of consideration—See BOND, 12 W.R. 6, P.C.=2 B.L.R. 111, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 282.

See CARRIERS, 2 C.W.N. 609.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, s. 353, 5 C.W.N. 91.

Suit by defeated claimant—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 61, 63, A.W.N. 1887, 71.

Judgment-debtor, application by, to set aside sale on ground of irregularity—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 90, A.W.N. 1887, 117.

See COMMON LAND, 37 P.R. 1887, 105 P.R. 1901.

As to payment — See COMPROMISE — GENERAL, 6 W. R. 55, P.C.=3 M.I.A. 347.

See COMPROMISE—SETTING ASIDE COMPROMISE, 2 M.I.A. 181.

See CONSENT DECREE, 6 M.L.J. 131, P.C.

Altered instrument—See CONTRACT—ALTERATION OF CONTRACTS, 3 M.H.C. 247.

Burden of proof—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 16, sub-s. (3), 5 O.C. 307.

Evidence—Burden of proof—Plea of immoral consideration—Shifting of proof — See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 23, 25 (2), 13 M.L.J. 7.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ADOPTION, 79 P. R. 1901.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 42 P.R. 1902, P.L.R. 1900, 322, 56 P.L.R. 1904.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—CESSES, 53 P.R. 1881.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—INHERITANCE, 85 P.R. 1901, 117 P.R. 1901.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—PRIVACY, 174 P.L. R. 1901.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—MISCELLANEOUS, 111 P.L.R. 1903, F.B.=48 P.R. 1903, F.B.

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 19 C. 174=19 I.A. 33, P.C.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—GENERAL, 23 A. 405, P.C.=5 C.W.N. 895= 28 I.A. 136.

See DECREE—DECREE, FORM OF, 6 P. R. 1891.

Evidence necessary where pardanashin lady is seeking to set aside a contract made by her which has been carried out—See DEED—CANCELLATION OF DEED, A.W.N. 1899, 25.

Injunction granted by lower Court—Appeal—Burden of proof—See DISCRETION OF COURT, 12 A. 436=A.W.N. 1890, 95, F.B.

Suit by zamindars to eject defendants as trespassers—Right of zamindars in respect of uncultivated land—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, A.W.N. 1904, 71.

See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 10 W.R 31, P.C.=1 B.L.R. 44, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 448, 8 C. 975=11 C.L.R. 399.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1889, 142.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 13, 40, 41, 42, 43, 3 B. 3.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 90, 102, 6 O.C. 142.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 110, 11 A. 438.

Coercion, force and undue influence—Burden of proof—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 111, 1 O.C. 63.

Money advanced to carry on litigation—Active confidence—Of good faith—Mortgagor and mortgagee—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 111, 8 C.W.N. 569, P.C.=31 I.A. 46=26 A. 180.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 112, 25 A. 403, P.C.=7 C.W.N. 617=5 Bom. L. R. 474=30 I. A. 162.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 244--Property attached —Representatives of debtor—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EXECUTION BY AND AGAINST REPRESENTATIVES, 4 C.W.N. 151.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1899, 220.

Deed for valuable consideration—Allegation that it was to defeat or delay creditors—See FRAUD—FRAUD, ELEMENTS OF AND PROOF OF, 2 C.P.L.R. 63.

See GORABUNDI TENURE, 4 C.L.R. 298.

See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIAN, 11 C. 379. P.C.=12 I.A. 47.

See HOTEL KEEPER AND GUEST, 22 A. 164 =A.W.N. 1900, 3.

See INSOLVENCY—INSOLVENCY UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 4 C. 888.

Adjudication of insolvency under Statue XI, Vic. C. 21—Suit by creditor alleging equitable mortgage—Onus on creditor—See INSOLVENCY—VOLUNTARY CONVEYANCES AND OTHER ASSIGNMENTS BY DEBTOR, 19 A. 76=23 I. A. 106, P.C.

See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, 6 C.L.R. 417.

See LEASE—GENERAL, 2 Ind. Cas. 168, 5 Ind. Cas. 350, 7 A.L.J. 1205=8 Ind. Cas. 716, 1 I.A. 76.

See LIMITATION—GENERAL, 17 A. 677=A. W.N. 1885, 202, 3 I.A. 85.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 28, arts. 91, 135, 147, 83 P.R. 1883.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 46, 142, 144, 41 P.R. 1881.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 47, 6 C.L. R. 93.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 106, 37 P. R. 1897.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 127, 3 Agra 133.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 127, 142, 1 C.W.N. 543.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 134, 148, 8 A. 295=A.W.N. 1886, 98.

Suit between Mahomedans—No presumption of Hindu customs in the absence of allegations —Onus of proof—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM, 10 A. 562.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, 17 A. 93= L.W.N. 1895, 16.

See MALABAR LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 1 M. H.C. 248.

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION, A.W.N. 1882, 83, 6 B.L.R. 371=14 W.R. 425, 19 B. 717, 6 C.W.N. 159, 73 P.L.R. 1902=60 P.R. 1902.

Burden of proof*—continued.

— 1.—General—continued.

See MESNE PROFITS—GENERAL, 5 C.W. N. 720.

See MESNE PROFITS—RIGHT TO MESNE PROFITS, 9 C.L.R. 1.

See MINORITY, 25 A. 407, P.C.=30 I.A. 165 =5 Bom. L.R. 478=7 C.W.N. 681.

See PARDANASHIN WOMAN, 5 C.W.N. 505.

Pardanashin women, denial of execution of deed by—Upon plaintiff when pardanashin woman denies execution of deed—Rule regarding case in which pardanashin woman are sued upon deeds alleged to be executed by them—See PARDANASHIN WOMAN, 7 O.C. 292.

Plaint, plaintiff how far bound by case set up in his—Declaration of proprietary title and ejectment of tenant. suit by talukdar for—Denial of talukdari title and assertion of adverse title by defendant—Onus—See PLEADINGS, 6 O.C. 119.

See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 30 P.R. 1902.

See PROBATE—REVOCATION OF GRANT, 8 C. 880.

Suit for damages against Railway Company-Onus—See RAILWAY COMPANY, 28 C. 401, P.C.=28 I.A. 144=5 C.W.N. 449.

See REGISTRATION, 31 C. 146.

Mortgage—Foreclosure proceedings—Service of notice—Substituted service when permissible —Demand by registered notice—Burden of proof—Evidence—See BENG. REG. XVII OF 1806, 63 P.L.R. 1902.

See RENT, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 275.

Suit against heir for debts of ancestor—Assets—See REPRESENTATIVE OF DECEASED PERSON, 3 M.H.C. 161.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—ACQUISITION OF RIGHT, 187 P.R. 1882.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY — MISCELLANEOUS, 7 M.L.J. 1.

See SALE—GENERAL, 91 P.R. 1902.

Mokhassa tenure—Right of Mokhassadars to hold land irrespective of performance of services —Right of zamindar to dispense with service and resume land — Burden of proof in suit for ejectment—See SERVICE INAM, 26 M. 403.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—GROUNDS OF APPEAL, 4 B.H.C.A.C. 98.

See SPECIFIC RELIFF ACT, 1877, s. 9, 24 A. 501=A.W.N. 1902, 139.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 42, 24 A. 170.

See St. 11 AND 12, VIC. C. 21, s. 24, A.W.N, 1889, 24.

See TODA GARAS HAK, 7 B.H.A.C. 50.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882 s. 85, A.W.N. 1899, 34.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——1.—General—(concluded.)

See UNDUE INFLUENCE, 10 A. 535, 8 C.L. R. 419.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—INVALID SALES. 21 A. 209=26 I.A. 6 P.C., 4 B. 77, note, 1 B L.R.A.C. 95=10 W.R 128.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—NOTICE, 4 C. 897=4 C.L.R. 193.

——2.—Accounts.

See ACCOUNT.

(1)—Suit for money on accounts—Plaintiff to start case.—Where a plaintiff sues for a specific sum of money due on a balance of account, he must start his case and prove the amount due on the account, and, till then, the defendant need not be required to rebut him. RUTTON CHAND BYSACK v. BOCHA BIBEE, 12 W. R. 529.

(2)—Claim based on account stated—Acknowledgment by defendant—Onus on defendant—Duty to produce evidence—Adjournment—Medical certificate.—Where a claim is founded upon a distinct statement of an account signed by the defendant, in which he acknowledges a particular sum to be due to the plaintiff, held that it was for the defendant to produce evidence before the Court rebutting the prima facie case made out against him. Where defendant had known for sometime previously that his case was coming on, and what evidence was necessary, a medical certificate to the effect that he was confined to his bed by lumbago, is held to be no sufficient ground for adjournment. SIMON ELIAS v. JORAWAR MULL, 24 W.R. 202. [R., 31 C. 150.]

(3)—Re-opening accounts settled—Burden of proof.—Where accounts have been taken and settled and a party alleges errors in the accounts, the onus of proving it rests on that party. KOKOO MALL v. SHEIKH NUTHA, 47 P.R. 1866.

(4)—Arrears of rent claimed from defendant—Crediting defendant with rent collection admitted by plaintiff—Burden of proof—The onus is not on the defendant to prove the contrary, but on the plaintiff to prove his allegation that he has in the account, on which he claims arrears of rent from the defendant, credited the defendant with certain collections from the ryots admitted by the plaintiff to have been made by him MAHOMED MOKUREEM v. MR. K. BRODIE, 1 W.R. 219.

(5)—Payment by Bank in issue—Evidence of account books—Correctness of account books, Burden of proof as to—Payment endorsed on documents, proof of—Signature, Proof of.—The fact of payments by a banking firm being distinctly put in issue, the mere general statement of the banker to the effect that his books were correctly kept was held not sufficient to discharge the burden of proof that lies upon him, the books of the firm being at most corroborative evidence, particularly, if he has the means of producing much better evidence. In a suit to recover moneys unaccounted for, where defendants plead payments endorsed on documents, and the endorsements purport to have been signed by the plaintiffs, the formal and regular method of proof is to call on the plaintiffs to admit or deny their signatures, and then to call upon witnesses to state whether they saw the plaintiff sign or could speak to the handwriting or generally what took place. BABOO GUNGA PERSAD v. BABOO INDERJIT SINGH, 23 W.R. 390 P.C.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——2.—Accounts—concluded.

Suit for accounts—See ACCOUNTS — SUIT FOR ACCOUNTS, A.W.N. 1905, 3=27 A. 374.

Suit for accounts—Onus on party having liberty to surcharge—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 13 C.W.N. 309=9 C.L.J. 133=3 Ind. Cas. 241.

——3.—Agent.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

(1)—Suit to recover advances from discharged Gomasta—Burden of proof as to payments and receipts.—In a suit to recover advances alleged to be due from a discharged gomastha who pleads acquittance, plaintiff is to prove the payments to and receipts from the gomastha. ROBERT WATSON AND CO. v. SREEDHUR MUNDLE, 10 W.R. 421.

(2)—Agents collecting monies on account of an insolvent's estate—Bound to prove propriety of expenditure of several items.—Agents entrusted to collect money on account of an insolvent estate are each of them, bound to prove to the assignee or his representative that the expenditure of the several amounts charged in their accounts has been actually and properly made, and the burden of proof lies on such agents. It is incumbent on such agents to offer proof in support of all the items in their account which are impugned, and the propriety, or the actual expenditure, of such items should form the subject matter of issues properly framed. NUJUF ALI v. PATTERSON, 2 N.W.P. 104.

(3)—Principal, suit against, for acts of agent—Authority of agent, proof of.—In a suit against a principal as liable for the acts of an accredited agent of his, the onus lies on the plaintiff to prove that the alleged agent was the duly accredited agent of the defendant in reference to the transaction, the subject of the claim. HATHE RAM v. GOBIND RAM, 3 Agra 131.

See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 76, 127 P.R. 1892.

Contract of Agency—See AGENT, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 1.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 151, 152, U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 397.

See PLEADER—REMUNERATION, 8 P.R. 1873.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——4.—Bailment.

See BAILMENT.

(1)—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 152—Bailment—Accidental, injury to goods bailed, liability of bailee on negligence.—In cases of injury to goods bailed, for determining the burden of proof, each case must be looked at from its own particular circumstances. In some cases, the very happening of the accident causing the injury may be prima facie evidence that some want of care or some negligence must have taken place to cause the accident and in such cases, it lies upon the defendant to account for the happening of the accident and thus to show that he had not been guilty of negligence, and it is for him to give a prima facie explanation in order to shift the burden of proof on the other side. Where he gives such an explanation, which remains uncontradicted by affirmative evidence as to negligence, the mere happening of the accident cannot be taken to establish such negligence as could support a decree against him. SHIELDS v. WILKINSON, 9 A. 398=A.W.N. 188, 44. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 337, 22 A. 164=A.W.N. 1900, 3.]

(2)—Responsibility of bailee — Burden of proof.—When loss of goods bailed is established by the plaintiff, it lies on the defendants to show that they took as much care of the goods as a man of ordinary prudence would, under similar circumstances, have taken of his own goods of a similar kind, and that the loss occurred notwithstanding such care. TRUSTEES OF THE HARBOUR, MADRAS v. BEST AND CO., 22 M. 524.

——5.—Benami Transactions.

See BENAMI TRANSACTIONS.

(1)—Evidence — Admission of signature — Proof of title-deeds—Onus of proof in benamee transactions—Declaratory decree, suit for.—Where, the defendants admitted the execution of a document purporting to be a conveyance by them of certain land to the plaintiff for valuable consideration, but contended that the deed was not intended to have any effect and was merely a benami transaction, held, in a suit for a declaration of his right by a plaintiff in possession of the land, that under the circumstances of the case, the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the deed was what it appeared to be and not a mere paper transaction. MOOKTO KESHEE DEBEE v. ANUNDO CHUNDER CHATTOPADYA, 2 C.L.R. 48.

(2)—Burden of proof—Benami transaction—Certified purchaser.—He who alleges that a certified purchaser and registered owner is a benamidar must give substantial proof of that allegation. BAIJNATH SAHAY v. RUGHONATH PERSHAD SINGH, 12 C.L.R. 186. P.C.

(3)—Purchase from benamidar—Good faith—Burden of proof.—In a suit for recovery of possession of land on the ground of purchase, when it has been shown that the alleged vendor is not the true owner, the plaintiff can only rely on his claim as purchaser in good faith for value from a person who, by the act of the true owner, had become the apparent owner, and, in such cases, the burden lies upon the plaintiff. RUTTO SINGH v. BAJRANG SINGH, 13 C.L.R. 280, P.C.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——5.—Benami Transactions—concluded.

Purchase in name of son by Hindu or Muhammadan father—Presumption of benami purchase—Onus of proof to the contrary—See BENAMI TRANSACTION—GENERAL, 6 B. 717.

See BENAMI TRANSACTIONS — GENERAL, 13 W.R. 1, P.C., 15 C. 20=14 I.A. 127, P.C.

——6.—Boundary.

See BOUNDARY.

(1)—Boundary dispute—Waste lands—General rule inapplicable.—On questions of boundary, where the dividing line in dispute runs through waste lands, which have not been the subject of definite position, the rule as to the burden of proving the affirmative is not applicable. The litigants being in the position of counter-claimants, both parties are bound to do what they can to aid the Court in ascertaining the true line. LUKHI NARAIN JAGADEB v. JODU NATH DEO, 21 C. 504, P.C.=21 I A. 39. [F., 9 C.L.J. 415=11 C.W.N. 230 : R., 18 A. 290,]

(2)—Dispute as to direction of boundary—Boundary alleged to be removed by one party—Wrong statement of general direction, onus as to.—In a dispute regarding direction of a boundary removed by one of the parties to a suit, the onus of proof that the general direction proved by the other party has been wrongly stated by the other lies on the party who removed it. JUDOONATH MULLICK v. KALEE KRISTO TAGORE, 25 W.R. 524.

(3)—Disputed boundaries—Onus on plaintiff to prove right to recover—Failure to discharge onus—No conclusive force as in ejectment.—In a question of disputed boundaries, the onus probandi lies upon the plaintiff to prove, by independent evidence, his right to recover. But in the circumstances, held, that mere failure on the plaintiff's part to support the burden of proof cast upon him, as to part of the lands claimed, was not conclusive as it would be in ejectment, and the case remitted to India for further inquiries. RAJA LELANUND SINGH BAHADUR v. MAHARAJAH MOHESHUR SINGH BAHADOOR, 3 W.R. 19, P.C.=10 M.I.A. 81.

(4)—Privy Council—Procedure—Question as to boundary.—Where a person appeals to the Privy Council from a decision of the High Court fixing the boundary to a certain estate, the Privy Council would not interfere with the High Court's decision, if the evidence of his boundary was of the vaguest and most untrustworthy description, and in a measure inconsistent with the allegation in the plaint as to the quantity which he originally claimed as his estate. It also lay upon him to show in what particulars and to what extent as regards his estate, the thakbust proceedings were wrong. LEELANUND SINGH v. LUCHMUNUR SINGH. 10 C L R. 169, P.C.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——6.—Boundary—continued.

(5)—Boundary dispute between lakheraj and mal lands—Burden of proof—Absence of presumption.—In a question of boundary between a lakheraj tenure and a zemindar's mal land, there would be no presumption either in favour of one or of the other, but manifestly the plaintiff would have to prove his case. BEER CHUNDER JOOL RAJ v. RAM GUTTY DUTT, 8 W.R. 209.

(6)—Suit for land by rectification of survey awards—Failure to prove position of stream forming boundary—Effect.—Where the plaintiff sued to recover a quantity of land by rectification of certain survey-awards, which he averred demarcated erroneously the boundary between his zemindary and the zemindaries of the defendants, it was held, on a consideration of the evidence, that his suit was rightly dismissed, because he failed to prove the position or existence of a stream, which he stated was the true boundary between the zemindaries. RAJAH LEELANUND SINGH v RAJAH MOHENDERNARAIN SINGH, 13 W.R. P. C. 7.

(7)—Burden of proof—Landlord and tenant—Suit for khas possession—Encroachment.—When a landlord sues his tenant for khas possession, alleging that the land in dispute had been encroached upon by the tenant beyond his proper boundaries, the burden of proving the encroachment lies on the landlord. RHIDOY KRISTO MISTRI v. NOBIN CHUNDER SEN, 12 C.L.R. 467. [F., 3 C.W.N. 763; D., 6 C. W.N. 105.]

(8) — Suit for confirmation of right and possession—Burden of proof.—In a suit for confirmation of right and possession in respect of lands alleged to be within plaintiff's permanently-settled talook, held that plaintiff should prove that lands are within his talook. GUNGAMALA CHOWDHRAIN v. MADHUB CHUNDER NAG, 10 W.R. 413.

(9)—Suit for land once forming bed of nullah situate in plaintiff's estate.—In a suit for the possession of land once forming the bed of a nullah, but situated in the plaintiff's settled estate: Held that the defendants, who failed to prove that their julkur settlements did not extend beyond fishery-rights, were not entitled to recover possession of any land which the drying up of the water may lay bare. MUNOHUR CHOWDHRY v. NURSINGH CHOWDHRY, 11 W. R. 272. [R., 31 C. 937=8 C.W.N. 804.]

(10)—Suit for possession—Joint property—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover two parcels of land alleged to have been comprehended in one plot, where defendant's case is that the parcels were divisible into two distinct plots, one held by plaintiff and himself jointly, and the other by himself, exclusively, the burden of proof was held to lie on the plaintiff to show that the plot in dispute formed part of the land held by him and the defendant jointly. GUNGA PERSHAD DUTT v. LOKENATH NUNDEE, 12 W.R. 179.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——6.—Boundary—concluded.

See BOUNDARY, 13 W.R. 7, P.C.=13 M.I.A. 57.

——7.—Claims to property attached.

See CLAIM TO PROPERTY ATTACHED.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code. 1859, ss 235, 239, 270—Plaintiff claiming priority of attachment—Publication of written order.—Where plaintiff claimed priority of attachment under s. 270, Act VIII of 1359, held that he was bound to prove that he had obtained a written order under s. 235, and that he had published that order in the manner prescribed by s. 239, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859. KANHYA LALL PUNDIT v. DINONATH SIRCAR, 17 W R. 23.

(2) Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 246—Unsuccessful claimant suing for confirmation of possession and title—Onus—Question for decision.—Where an unsuccessful claimant under s. 246, Code of Civil Procedure 1859, sues for confirmation of alleged possession and adjudication of title, held that the burden was on the plaintiff at first and that the question of possession at the time of attachment was an important one. TOOFANEE DOSSEE v. MUN RAKHAM BOY, 15 W R. 202.

(3)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Execution of decree—Onus probandi—Right to begin.—By the majority of the Full Bench (Mitter, J., dissenting):—In a proceeding in execution of a decree under s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, the claimant and not the executing creditor, should begin, and he must prove not the title of any third person, but that the property belonged to him, or was in his own possession. NGA THA YAH v. F N. BURN, 2 B.L R. F.B. 91=11 W. R. F.B. 8. [F., 20 W.R. 345; Appr., 21 W.R. 409; R., 17 C. 711, F.B., 20 B. 270.]

(4)—Dismissal of claim—Suit to establish right to attached property—Onus of proof of title.—Plaintiff, in this case, had previously failed in her resistance to the attachment made by defendant of property as that of his judgment-debtor. The defendant having obtained an order maintaining his attachment, it was incumbent on the plaintiff, who impugned that order by the present suit, to prove title under the purchase alleged by her by proving both the payment of the purchase-money and her possession since the purchase, and the lower Court was therefore held to have been wrong in having thrown the burden of proof in the suit on the defendant. GOVIND ATMARAM v. SANTAI, 12 B. 270. [F., 30 A. 321=A.W.N. 1908, 125 =5 A.L.J. 601, 4 L.B.R. 228; Appr., 6 C.P.L. R. 81; R., 18 A. 369=A.W.N. 1896, 106, 13 C. P.L.R. 69, 25 B. 202, 3 Bom. L.R. 832; U.B. R. 1904, 4 Qr. Civ. Pro. Code, 278=5 A.L.J. 358; D., 2 L.B.R. 152.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——7.—Claims to property attached—contd.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 278, 279—Objection disallowed—Suit by objector—Onus of proof.—Plaintiff had intervened in execution claiming a house attached by the defendant decree-holder as his own on the strength of a sale-deed in his favour. The Court executing the decree found that the deed was without consideration and disallowed the claim. On plaintiff bringing this regular suit thereon, it was held that it was for the plaintiff to prove that a real contract of sale had been entered into, plaintiff having, as the intervenor in the Execution Department, failed on account of not having proved consideration, it was for him to prove his title when he brought the regular suit. The finding in the enquiry under s. 279 of the Civ. Pro. Code having been against him, it was for him to get rid of that finding by something more than a mere allegation in his plaint that a certain sale deed had been executed in his favour and registered. RAM NATH v. BINDRABAN, 18 A. 369 = A.W N. 1896, 106. (12 B. 270, R.) [F., 30 A. 321 = A.W.N. 1908, 125 = 5 A.L.J. 601 = 5 A.L.J. 358; R., 12 O.C. 74; D., 2 L.B. R. 152]

(6)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Suit to set aside summary order—Onus—Confirmation of title—Bona fides.—In a suit to set aside a summary order under the provisions of s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, on the allegation that the order was illegal, it is for plaintiff to prove its illegality. Where a plaintiff alleges that he is in possession of property and asks for a declaration of his title only, the bona fides of that title being questioned by the defendant, it is for the plaintiff to make out that that title is really and substantially what it purports to be on the face of the deed on which he relies. MOHIMA CHANDRA KUNDU v. MOULVI NURUDDIN, 3 B.L R, A.C. 70 = 11 W.R. 422.

(7)—Order under s. 246, Civ Pro. Code, 1859—Suit to set aside order—Onus of purchaser.—In a suit to set aside an order made under Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 246, the purchaser is bound to prove purchase and possession of property. TULSEE MONEE DASSEE v. PEARY MOHUN BABCO, 25 W.R. 79.

(8)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 246—Setting aside attachment and sale—Proof of execution of sale deed and passing of consideration.—Onus probandi.—A plaintiff starts his case sufficiently if, seeking under s. 246 Civ. Pro. Code, 1859 to set aside an attachment and sale, he shows that a deed of sale has been executed in his favour by the judgment-debtors, and that consideration-money has passed and possession been given. The onus is on the defendant if he alleges a collusive sale. DIGUMBUREE DOSSEE v. BUNEE MADHAB GHOSE, 16 W.R. 155.

(9)—Ejectment—S. 246, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859—Burden of proof on plaintiff suing to set aside sale of land.—Where the plaintiff filed a suit to set aside a sale of land after he had been unsuccessful in an application made, under s. 246 of the Civ. Pro. Code, to raise an attachment that had been laid on such land: Held that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his title, and not on the purchaser to prove that of the judgment-debtor. NATHU SADASHIV v. RAMACHANDRA ANNAJI, 5 B.H. C.A,C. 76.

Burden of proof—continued.

——7.—Claims to property attached—contd.

(10)—Suit to establish title unsuccessfully asserted in execution-case—Property sold to satisfy decree—Plaintiff's claim based on gift—Burden of proof of title--Prima facie case insufficient.--In a suit to establish a title which was unsuccessfully asserted in an execution-case, to property sold in satisfaction of a decree, where the plaintiff's claim is based on a gift and other titles originating with the judgment-debtor, held it was not sufficient for the plaintiff to make out a prima facie case and leave it for the defendant to demonstrate the fraudulent nature of the transaction relied on, but that the plaintiff must satisfy the Court that there was a genuine bona fide transfer of the property in dispute from the debtor to the ostensible owner. RAM KISHORE SINGH v. RAM SURBO CHATTERJEE, 11 W.R. 454.

(11)—Attachment of goods—Civ. Pro Code, 1859, s. 246—Release—Suit for value of goods—Onus—Res judicata.—M to whom C, his judgment-debtor had made over certain goods, attached the same in execution of his decree as the property of his judgment-debtor, but, on a claim being preferred to the goods by D, and B, under s. 246 of Act VIII of 1859, they were ordered to be released from attachment; they remained, however, in the possession of MD, and B having sued M to recover the value of the goods, the lower Court held that, inasmuch as M, failed to sue within a year to set aside the order of the Miscellaneous Department, and to establish his right to take the property in satisfaction of his decree as belonging to his judgment-debtor, the plaintiff's right to it must be admitted without further enquiry or proof, and decreed the claim on the basis of that order, alone. Held, in special appeal, that the defendant was not debarred, by that order or by the law of limitation, from disputing the plaintiff's right to the goods, and that the plaintiffs were bound to prove their right to a decree, and that the miscellaneous order was not conclusive proof of their right, and still less such an adjudication on the question as precluded a re-adjudication of it. BABU MADHO PARSHAD v. DURGA PARSHAD, 7 N.W.P. 85.

(12)—Exclusion of oral by documentary evidence.—On a claim being denied, satisfactory proof is required of its genuineness, and the ordinary tests of evidence cannot be dispensed with, because the parties have had certain business relations. JAWAL MALL AND SON v. RAJOO MOODALIAR, U.B.R 1892—1896, Vol. II, 230.

(13)—Suit by defeated claimant under s 283, Civ. Pro. Code.—When a plaintiff seeks by a suit under s. 283, Civ. Pro. Code, to establish his right to property, which was attached in execution, after having failed in an attempt to procure the removal of the attachment, the burden of proving that he acquired the property in good faith and for consideration lies on him. NARAYAN GANESH GHATATE v. BHIORAJ, 2 N.L.R. 87. (6 C.P.L.R. 81, 9 C.P.L.R. 142, R.)

Burden of proof—continued.

——7.—Claims to property attached.—concld.

Fraud—S. 110, Evidence Act—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 58, 63, U.B.R. 1904, 4th Qr., Civ. Pro. p. 8.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, 17 B. 94.

Suit by defeated claimant to establish right to property attached—Burden of proving bona fides and good faith of the transaction—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, 9 C.P.L.R. 142.

——8.—Consideration.

See CONSIDERATION.

(1)—Proof of consideration—Onus.—It is the established practice of the Courts in India in cases of contract to require proof that consideration has been actually received, according to the terms of the contract, and a contract under seal does not of itself, in India, import that there was a sufficient consideration for the agreement. A plaintiff, however, suing to set aside a security admittedly executed by himself, must make out a good prima facie case before the defendants can be called on to prove consideration. KALIPRASAD TEWARI v. RAJAH SAHIB v. PRALAD SEN, 2 B.L.R. P.C. 111=12 M.I.A. 282=12 W.R.P.C. 6. [F., 12 W.R. F.B. 25; Appr., 8 B.H.C.C. 1, 31 B. 143=9 Bom. L.R. 65; R., 12 M. I.A. 343, 8 B.L.R. 26, 2 B. 273.]

(2)—Consideration, want of—Onus of proof.—Where, in a suit by the indorsee of a hundi against his immediate indorser, the defendant pleads want of consideration, the onus is on him to prove his plea. GOVIND RAM MARWARI v. MANTORA SAHOO, 1 C.L.R. 429.

(3)—Redemption—Suit by assignee of equity of redemption—Burden of proof as to receipt of consideration.—In a suit for redemption by the assignees of the equity of redemption, the onus of proving that the mortgagor did not in fact receive the moneys which he acknowledged by his execution of the mortgage-deed to have received, is prima facie on the plaintiffs. MUHAMMAD ALLAHYAR KHAN v. MUHAMMAD SAMIUDDIN KHAN, A.W.N. 1887, 245.

See CONSIDERATION, 80 P.R. 1868.

Of non-receipt of consideration for a compulsorily registrable registered deed—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, 8 P.W.R. 1907.

Bond reciting receipt of consideration—Subsequent denial of consideration—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 102, 27 A. 71=1 C.L.J. 423.

Burden of proof—continued.

——9.—Contribution.

See CONTRIBUTION, SUITS FOR.

(1)—Suit for contribution—Payment of Government revenue by one co-sharer—Onus.—In a suit for contribution by one co-sharer for recovery of excess payments of Government revenue made on behalf of other co-sharers to save the estate from sale, the onus was held to be on the plaintiff to prove their shares and the amount of revenue payable thereon. AGHOREE RAM SAHOY v. RAMOLEE SAHOO, W.R. 1864, 309.

(2)—Suit for contribution of Government revenue—Plea of previous payment to plaintiff—Burden of proof.—In a suit for contribution for money admittedly paid by plaintiff into the Government Treasury, on account of defendants' share of the revenue, where defendants plead previous payment to the plaintiff, the onus of proving such payment lay upon the defendants. MOHADEO MISSER v. LAHOREE MISSER, 24 W.R. 250.

(3)—Suit between judgment-debtors for money paid for satisfying decree—Right to possession—Onus.—Where, in a suit between judgment-debtors to recover money alleged to have been paid in satisfaction of decrees obtained against them by J, who had been wrongfully kept from enjoying his share of the property, B answers that he entered in to possession as plaintiff's mortgagee, and plaintiff maintains that the right of possession terminated before the origin of J's claim, the burden was held to lie on A to prove that it so determined. AFZUL KHAN v. BAHADOOR SINGH, 19 W.R. 156.

——10.—Custom.

See CUSTOM.

See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB.

(1)—Suit for maintenance—Custom—Onus on whom lies.—In a suit by a late Raja's brother for maintenance, where it was pleaded that plaintiff's allowance must be diminished, because he was no longer the ruling Raja's brother, held, that it was for the defendant to prove a custom entitling him to diminish the allowance heretofore enjoyed in right of plaintiff's position in the family. RAJAH MOKOND NARAIN DEB v. MOORALEE MOHAN BABOO, 6 W.R. 91.

(2)—Family custom—Burden of proof—Strict proof.—A special family custom involving a departure from the ordinary Hindu Law should be properly proved by the person setting it up. GARURUDHWAJA PERSHAD v. SAPARANDHWAJA PERSHAD SINGH, 5 C.W.N. 33=27 I.A. 238=23 A. 37, P.C.

(3)—Custom opposed to Hindu Law, Burden of proof as to.—A custom opposed to the ordinary Hindu Law must be proved by those who assert it. When, however such exceptional custom has been proved or admitted as binding on a particular section of the community, it is necessary for those who rely on it as against an individual member of that section to show that such member has not, by his own personal action, excluded himself from its operation. Therefore apart from the general principles that a plaintiff must establish the grounds of his claim, it seems rea onable to require proof that individual members are liable on personal grounds to be exoluded from the operation of a law or custom which regulates the section to which they still profess to belong. GITABAI v. SHIVBAKAS, 5 Bom. L.R. 318.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—10.—Custom—continued.

(4)—Custom overriding general law—Onus probandi.—A custom alleged to exist overriding the general law should be proved by those who invoke it in their favour. MUSST. LATTI BEGAM v. NAWAB MAHOMED AZMAT ALI KHAN, 13 P.R. 1875. [R., 144 P.R. 1883; D., 71 P.R. 1878.]

(5)—Hindu Jat—Customary right of representation—Collateral and lineal succession.—A Hindu Jat of the Umballa District who alleges a customary right of representation, extending to collateral as well as to lineal succession, need not give evidence in proof of such a custom. CHANDA v. MUSSAMMAT GUJAR, 91 P.R. 1879. [R., 140 P.R. 1908.]

(6)—Pagvand and Chundavand—Inheritance, General custom as to—Burden of proof.—The general custom as to inheritance is pagvand, that is, per capita, and not chundavand, that is, per stirpes. A party therefore, who alleges the special custom of chundavand must prove it. If not, the general custom of pagvand applies. DHAYAN CHAND v. MEHTAB SINGH, 101 P R. 1879. [R., 125 P.R. 1884, 14 P.R. 1909, 148 P.R. 1908.]

(7)—Near collaterals excluding daughters—Burden of proving custom.—According to the customary rule among the Punjabi Hindus, the near male collaterals of the propositus exclude his daughters and their sons. Therefore, the burden of proving that, by custom, daughters and their sons succeed in preference to nephews lies on him who sets up such custom. PREM SINGH v. MUSSAMMAT CHANDI, 150 P.R. 1879. [R., 9 P.R. 1884, 108 P.R. 1888.]

(8)—Inheritance—Special family custom.—It is incumbent on a person relying upon a special family custom, such as that only one son of the last owner, viz., the fittest or the oldest, succeeds to the whole estate, the others getting only maintenance, to establish regarding such custom that it was ancient, invariable and definite. AARIF KHAN v. AMIR KHAN, 85 P.R. 1901.

(9)—Onus probandi—Custom—Alienation by occupancy tenant—Right of his collateral to set aside alienation.—When a collateral of an occupancy tenant seeks to restrain an alienation by that tenant, as to which the landlord has stood completely aside, it lies upon such collateral to prove that a custom exists under which he is entitle to do so. FAIZ BAKHSH v. DITTA, 115 P.L R. 1901=115 P.R. 1901. [R., 98 P.R. 1907, 38 P. R. 1909=60 P.W.R. 1907.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

—10.—Custom—continued.

(10)—Childless proprietor's right to alienate ancestral immoveable property—Onus probandi.—A childless proprietor's customary right to alienate ancestral immoveable property in favour of some of his collaterals while other collaterals of equal decree exist must be proved by the person asserting the existence of such custom. AMIR v. MUSSAMUT ZOBO, 42 P. R. 1902. [R., 35 P.R. 1907, 92 P.R. 1904, 1 P. R. 1907=31 P.W.R 1907; F., 35 P.R. 1902.]

(11)—Custom whereby widow claims husband's entire estate absolutely—Burden of proof.—A special family custom under which a widow claims the entire estate of her husband as absolute owner with full power of alienation must be established by the person relying on such a custom. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-HAQ v. HABIB-UL RAHMAN, 74 P.R. 1902. [F., 54 P.R. 1903, 18 P.R. 1906.]

(12)—Mortgage—Authority of mortgagor to impose any easement on the property mortgaged whereby the security is rendered in sufficient—Validity of such act—Burden of proof.—It is incompetent to a mortgagor in possession without the consent of the mortgagee, to do any act likely to prove destructive or permanently injurious to the mortgaged property. The validity of such an act, and the non-deterioration of the security thereby must be proved by the mortgagor or his representative in interest. MUSSAMMAT BHAGWAN DEVI v. BUNYADI KHANAM, 85 P.R. 1902.

(13)—Persons not entirely depending on land for support—Custom as to alienation governing such persons, burden of proof as to.—Persons who do not depend entirely on the land for their support will not to presumed to be subject to the general customs of the Punjab, the burden of proof therefore, that such persons are in matters of alienations or successions, governed by custom must be discharged by the party making such allegations. MOTI RAM v. SANT RAM, 103 P.R. 1902. [R., 51 P.R. 1903=174 P. L.R. 1903, 63 P.R. 1910, 54 P.R. 1906, 94 P. R. 1907.

(14)—Setting up custom at variance with ordinary law—The burden of proof is on the party setting up a custom at variance with the law of the community to which he belongs. MT. RUPA v. MOHANLAL, 9 C.P.L.R. 47. [R., 16 C.P.L R. 99.]

(15)—Proof of custom not embodied in wajib-ul-arz.—If a malguzar relies upon a custom, which is not embodied in the current wajib-ul-arz, the burden of proving such custom is on him. BHAYALAL v. CHUNNILAL MARWARI, 16 C.P.L.R. 81.

See BETROTHAL, 132 P.R. 1888.

See CUSTOM, 5 B. 482, 2 Agra 120.

Burden of proof*—continued

——10 —Custom—continued.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—GENERAL, 23 P.R. 1897.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ADOPTION, 22 P. R. 1884, 27 P.R. 1884, 130 P.R. 1884, 35 P. R. 1885, 85 P.R. 1886, 58 P.R. 1895, 33 P. R. 1900.

See CUSTOM— PUNJAB — ALIENATION, 2 P.R. 1881, 26 P.R. 1885, 107 P.R. 1885, 7 P.R. 1886, 6 P.R. 1902=P.L.R, 1901, p. 154, 103 P.R. 1902.

Gift of occupancy right by childless occupancy tenant to nephews in presence of brother —Burden of proof —Custom—See CUSTOM—PUNJUB—ALIENATION, 12 P.R. 1904.

As to Khatries being governed by Customary law of agricultural tribes—See CUSTOM —PUNJUB—ALIENATION, 12 P.R. 1906=103 P.L.R. 1906.

The burden of proving that certain parties are governed by the agricultural custom of the Punjab is on the party who alleges it—See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 79 P. R. 1909=126 P.L.R. 1909=127 P.W.R. 1909 =3 Ind. Cas. 603.

Sale of ancestral land to pay off debt really due—Onus of proving immoral nature of the debts—See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 55 P.R. 1908=105 P.W.R. 1908.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—CESSES, 49 P.R. 1879.

In matter of title to succeed to religious institutions — See CUSTOMS — PUNJAB—INHERITANCE, 143 P.L.R. 1906.

Burden of proof regarding alleged customs among Chima Jats of Deska Tahsil of Sailkot, that adopted son can succeed collaterally in his adoptive father's family —See CUSTOM — PUNJAB — INHERITANCE, 67 P.L.R. 1908= 50 P.R. 1908=104 P.W.R. 1908.

Persons setting up custom opposed to personal law must prove that custom—See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—INHERITANCE, 86 P.R. 1908 =146 P.W.R. 1908.

See CUSTOM —PUNJAB — INHERITANCE, 101 P.R. 1879, 150 P.R. 1879, 77 P.R. 1881, 149 P.R. 1888, 74 P.R. 1902.

The onus of proving that a particular form of vicinage gives a preferential right of pre-emption rests on the person asserting it—See CUSTOM —PUNJAB—PRE-EMPTION, 67 P. R. 1906=88 P.L.R. 1907.

See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—PRE-EMPTION, 17 P.R. 1903.

Of a special custom inconsistent with ordinary rules of inheritance—See CUSTOM—PUNJAB—MISCELLANEOUS, 18 P.R. 1906= 124 P.L.R. 1906.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 32, 49, 60, 23 A. 37, P.C.=27 I.A. 238=5 C.W.N. 33.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——10.—Custom—concluded.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 10 B.H.C. 241.

Custom at variance with Hindu Law—Burden of proof—See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM, 3 B. 34.

Evidence of family or local custom—Onus of defendant—See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM, 4 B. 494, P.C.=7 C.L.R. 1=7 I.A. 162.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 29 C. 828, P.C.=29 I.A. 78=7 C.W.N. 57=178 P.R. 1902.

As to custom invalidating marriage of Rajput with Khatrani woman—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 64 P.L.R. 1908=72 P.R. 1908=47 P.W.R. 1908.

See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 3 B. 232.

Khoja Mahomedans — Presumptions and rules of Hindu Law applicable—Son entitled to sue father for partition—Burden of proving, custom to contrary—See KHOJA MAHOMEDANS, 12 B. 280.

——11.—Debtor and Creditor.

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

(1)—Debtor pleading tender of payment—Interest—Onus of proof.—When a debtor pleads tender of payment as a ground for not being saddled with interest, it is for him to prove such tender. RANEE SHURUT SOONDUREE DEBIA v. THE COLLECTOR OF MYMENSING, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 69.

(2)—Creditor agreeing to an arrangement releasing certain partners of the debtor firm—Burden of proof of such agreement lies on those partners.—The burden of proof that a creditor by agreeing to an arrangement whereby a firm indebted to him conveyed to two of the partners thereof certain property in trust to pay off his and certain other debts, thereby released the remaining members of the partnership lies upon the parties who were originally liable to such creditor. KALAIKHAN v. MADHO PERSHAD, 3 N.W.P. 129.

(3)—Debt proved or admitted — Payment, proof of.—If a debt is proved or admitted, the burden of proving payment lies on the debtor. MOBARIK KHAN v. SEWA RAM, 35 P.R. 1867.

(4)—Deceased Hindu's creditor suing his son —Burden of proving nature of debt.—In a suit by a creditor against the son of a deceased Hindu, it cannot be laid down as a general rule that the burden of proving the nature of the debt lies absolutely either on the creditor or on the son. MAMRAJ v. MUSSAMMAT BALASO, 16 P.R. 1878.

(5)—Suit on bond—Plea of absence of consideration—Admission of plaintiff as to difference of consideration—Shifting of burden.—Where in a suit on a bond, the defendant pleaded want of consideration, held, he was not relieved of ——11.—Debtor and creditor—concluded.

Burden of proof*—continued.

the obligation of establishing his case by the fact of an admission of the plaintiff that the actual consideration was different from that described in the bond. LAL SINGH v. CHAITRAM, 15 C.P.L.R. 24. (3 A. 824, D.; 3 B. 159, 22 A. 370, R.)

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4, 5, 29, cl. (1) (b), L.B.R. 1872—1892, 338.

——12.—Declaration of Title.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLE.

(1)—Evidence—Suit for declaration of title.—Where a plaintiff seeks to be declared the proprietor of land, he must make out that title affirmatively. He is in the same position as any other plaintiff and must make out his case. He must show that he is in possession and that his possession has been as owner. RASSONADA RAYAR v. SITHARAMA PILLAI, 2 M.H.C. 171. [Cons., 6 B. 215; R., 20 B. 798.]

(2)—Title—Evidence.—A plaintiff must succeed, if at all, upon the strength of his own title and not by the infirmity of his opponents. RAHUMTULLA SAHIB v. MAHOMMED AKBAR SAHIB, 8 M H.C. 63.

(3)—Plaintiff to rely on strength of title—Adversary's weakness useless.—The plaintiff in a suit for immoveable property must rely on the strength of his own title and not take advantage of the weakness of his adversary. FUTTEH KHAN v. BADAM, 71 P.R. 1866; and MEGA v. SUDDA RAM, 66 P.R. 1867.

(4)—Suit for declaration of plaintiff's reversionary title—Cancellation of sale-deed.—In a suit for declaration of plaintiff's reversionary title as heir to his uncle's property and for the reversal of a deed of sale from that uncle set up by defendant, the onus was held to be on the defendant. BIJKUNT NATH ROY v. GRISH CHUNDER MOOKERJEE, 15 W.R. 96.

(5)—Suit for possession—Intervenor.—Where, in a suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of title, the principal defendants admit plaintiff's title, but a vendee from such defendants intervenes and claims the property alleging that he is in possession, held that the intervenor cannot question the plaintiff's possession and title until at least he (intervenor) could show possession. LALLA RAM SUHAE SINGH v. LALLA OJOODHYA PERSHAD, 5 W. R. 233.

(6) Party in possession of document—Plaintiff proving prima facie case.—Where the plaintiff could not produce the document on which he relies, owing to the fact that he was not a party to it, and could not, from the circumstances of the case, have obtained possession of the document or of a copy of it, while the same circumstances would lead to the inference that the defendants ought to be in possession of it, then, it would be enough for the plaintiff to make out a prima facie case so as to throw upon the defendants the burden of proving the document by primary evidence, or by secondary evidence on properly accounting for its non-production. RAM PRASAD v. RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD, 7 A. 738 = A.W.N. 1885, 160. (3 I A. 85, R.)

Burden of proof*—continued.

——12.—Declaration of Title—continued.

(7)—Claim under will—Proof.—Persons relying upon a will for their title must establish by the most satisfactory evidence, a fortiori in the case of a will alleged to have been executed by a pardanashin lady, not only that the deceased executed the will, but that he or she executed it with full knowledge of its effect and that he or she was not induced to execute it by the exercise of any undue influence. SYAD MUHAMMAD KHAN v. SYAD BADR-UD-DIN, 149 P.R. 1882. [D., 107 P.R. 1906.]

(8) Gift of share in village—Right to shamilat.—In the absence in a deed of gift of a share in a village of an express statement of the donee's right to shamilat in the village, the burden of showing that the deed carries with it, as accessory thereto, a right to a proportionate share of shamilat lies on the person who asserts the same. FAZAL SHAH v. SIKANDAR ALI, 115 P.R. 1894. (65 P.R, 1889, 239 P.R. 1890 and 1389 of 1890 (unreported, R.) [F., 113 P.R, 1900.]

(9)—Evidence—Displacement of legal title.—A person, who seeks to bar one who is prima facie the legal owner, by evidence of ratification or of facts cogent enough to prove one not a formal, to be a substantial party, must make and prove such a case, for, he is one who seeks to displace a legal title. RAJAN v. BASUVA CHETTI, 2 M.H C. 428.

(10)—Impeachment of sale-deed as colourable transaction—Onus of proof as to want of consideration—Prima facie evidence—Shifting of burden—Indebtedness of vendor at time of sale.—Where the plaintiff impeaches a sale-deed on the ground that the consideration therefor did not pass, the burden lies in the first instance on the plaintiffs to prove want of consideration. If he succeeds in establishing a good prima facie case, the burden is shifted on to the shoulders of the defendant to prove the passing of the consideration and to rebut the evidence on the plaintiff's side satisfactorily. Once the sale-deed is declared a colourable transaction and of no effect, the whole case is practically decided and it is not material to show how deeply indebted the vendor was at the time of the pretended sale or whether his indebtedness was known to the vendee. ESHWAR PATEL v. DADA PATEL, 4 C.P.L.R. 179.

(11)—Suit by defeated claimant to establish his right to property attached in execution.—Where the plaintiff, a purchaser, seeks to establish his right to property, which was attached in execution proceedings as that of a judgment-debtor, after having failed in an attempt to procure the removal of the attachment in the course of those proceedings, the burden of proof lies upon the plaintiff and he must prove the payment of the purchase-money and possession of the property since the transfer to him. DAJIBA PATEL v. DINANATH, 6 C.P.L.R. 81. (12 B. 270, R.) [R., 2 N.L.R. 87, 13 C.P.L.R. 69 ; Affirm., 9 C.P.L.R. 142.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——12.—Declaration of Title—concluded.

(12)—Onus probandi—Claim to get declaration that defendant's name has been entered in Revenue papers by mistake.—Held, that the onus of proving that the plaintiff is in separate exclusive possession of certain land, and that defendant's name has been wrongly entered in the Revenue papers as its joint owner lies on the latter. BHOLA v. BRIJ LALL, 27 P.W.R. 1912.

Disposal of claim to attached property otherwise than on merits—Suit by defeated claimant for declaration of title—Burden of proof—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 60 to 63, 13 C.P.L.R. 69.

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to.

See DECREE.

See DEED.

(1)—Purchase lite pendente—Judgment in suit, effect of—Actual possessor impugning decree giving formal possession—Onus on impugner.—A party purchasing the right, title, and interest of another during the pendency of a suit against that other, is bound by the judgment in that suit. Where a decree in execution of which formal possession has been obtained is impugned by the party in actual possession as fraudulent and collusive, the onus lies on the impugner to prove their allegation. RABIA KHANUM v. MR. J. P. WISE, 23 W.R. 329.

(2)—Misjoinder—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859. s. 9—Burden of proof in suit for declaration of falsity of document.—A lower appellate Court trying together two suits turning on entirely separate documents, it reverses the procedure indicated in s. 9, Act VIII of 1859. In a suit for a declaration that a document propounded by the defendant was false, the plaintiff has the burden of proving that allegation. RAM NIDHEE KOONDOO v. GOLUCK CHUNDER MOSHANTO, 11 W.R. 280.

(3)—Relationship between parties to a conveyance—Purchase-money — Registration — Bona fides not proved.—The relationship between parties to a conveyance of property is not immaterial where the question is whether the purchase is true or fraudulent ; and the mere handing over of purchase-money before strangers, and registration, are not sufficient proof of a bona fide transaction. PRAN KISHEN DEB v. LOKENATH SING MOJOOMDAR, 10 W.R. 445.

(4)—Suit to cancel registered document—Denial of execution by plaintiff—Onus of proof of execution.—Where, in a suit to set aside and cancel a registered document, the plaintiff comes forward and denies execution (after an ineffectual denial of execution before the Registrar), the burden of proving its execution and genuineness is properly placed upon the defendant. MOHIMA CHUNDER DHUR v. JUGAL KISHORE BHUTTACHARJI, 7 C. 786 =9 C.L.R. 471. (10 W.R. 329, 8 B.L.R. App. 26, Diss.)

Burden of proof*—continued

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to.—continued.

(5)—Order finding deed not genuine—Suit to set aside—Bona fide proof.—In a suit to set aside an order of the Small Cause Court in which that Court had held that a certain kobalah was mala fide, the onus is on the plaintiff that it was executed bona fide. ISHAN CHANDRA DAS v. RUKIMUDDIN SOWDAGAR, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 326, Note = 10 W.R. 412. [D., 2 B.L.R. A.C. 326.]

(6)—Duress.—The Sudder Dewany Adawlut having refused to set aside a deed of razinamah for compromising an appeal then pending from that Court to the King in Council, on the ground that it was obtained by fraud and duress : held, on appeal, by the Judicial Committee, that the onus of proving such fraud and duress lay upon the appellant, in proceeding upon his petition in the Court below ; and their Lordships being satisfied that full opportunity for such proof had been afforded him, confirmed the judgment of the Sudder Court, but, under the circumstances, without costs. MOTEE LAL OPUDHIYA v. JUGGURNATH GURG, 5 W.R. 25, P.C. = 1 M.I.A. 1 = 1 Suther. 45 = 1 Sar. 88.

(7)—Sale bona fide — Burden of proof.—Where, after the attachment of the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor in certain property, the plaintiff preferred a claim under conveyances from the judgment-debtor, and it was rejected and the property sold, the judgment-creditor purchasing the same at the auction, and selling it to the defendant, who ousted the plaintiff, who thereupon sued to recover possession, held, that the onus was not entirely on the plaintiff to prove the bona fides of the sale, but that the evidence adduced by the defendant should be examined also. SRIMATI DEBI v. MADAN MOHAN SINGH, 2 B.L.R.A.C. 326. (2 B.L.R A.C. 326, Not. D.)

(8)—Possession claimed under hibba—Presumption of fraud—Duty of Court.—Where the opposite party claims possession, under an alleged hibba, of property asserted by decree-holder to belong to his judgment-debtor, and plaintiff's evidence raises presumption of fraud, the Court should go on to the evidence on the other side. KADUMBINEE DOSSIA v. UNNOPOORNA DAYE, 14 W.R. 289.

(9)—Heba alleged to be a collusive deed of transfer of property—Onus probandi.—Where the authenticity and bona fides of a heba are impugned, on the ground that, at the time the instrument was executed, the executants were in a state of indebtedness, and the registration was delayed until the making of certain decrees against them, held that the parties, whose intention was questioned, were bound to give evidence of a satisfactory kind showing that this extremely suspicious transaction was bona fide intended to convey the property. CHUNDER NARAIN SEN v. AMIRTO LALL SEN, 24 W.R. 292.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to —continued.

(10)—Allegation of want of bona fides of trust deed.—Where it is found on the face of a deed creating a trust that the transaction is bona fide, it is for the creditors who impugn the bona fide nature of the trust to prove their plea. KASHESHUREE DASSEE v. KRISHNA KAMINEE DEBIA, 2 Hay 537.

(11)—Fraud in bye—Mokasa set up by judgment-debtor—Motive made out for fraud—Onus as to bona fides of deed.—Where plaintiff starts a prima facie case by alleging that the bye-mokasa set up by judgment-debtor's wife, was executed in fraud of creditors, and showing a sufficient motive for the fraud, the onus was held to have shifted to the defendant who was bound to prove the bona fides of the deed. GOWHUR ALI KHAN v. MUSSAMUT SAKHEENA KHANUM, 5 W.R. 307.

(12)—Possessory suit—Fraud.—A plaintiff in possession for seven years since her husband's death ought not to be dispossessed on the ground of a fraudulent deed to which her husband and the defendant were parties years previously, to which she was no party. ECHAMOYEE v. HURO SOONDUREE DASSEE, 12 W.R. 155. (3 W.R. 221, R.)

(13)—Decree prejudicial to reversioners—Allegation of fraud—Burden of proof.—Where the reversionary heir of a former proprietor sues for land in the possession of a third party, who obtained it by purchase at a sale in execution of a decree on a bond, both bond and decree being alleged to be fraudulent the burden was held to lie on plaintiff to prove that decree was obtained fraudulently. GRESH CHUNDER CHATTERJEE v. MOHESH CHUNDER NYALUNKAR, 10 W.R. 173.

(14)—Brother in joint family—Transfer of his interest to his brothers to attachment but after decree.—Bona fides—Onus.—Where one brother of a joint undivided family transferred his interest in the joint property to the other brothers after a decree had been passed against him, although before attachment, held that, when a question arose, the onus was on those brothers to prove the bona fides of the transaction. BROJO LALL SANDYAL v. BHOBOO UNNODA PERSHAD BANNERJEE, 17 W.R. 499.

(15)—Suit by judgment-debtor—Allegation of fraud.—Where plaintiff, on her rights and interests being put up for sale in execution of a decree, alleges that the decree is fraudulent and collusive and that no notice had been served on her, held that the plaintiff was bound to prove her case, and that it was not incumbent on the defendant to prove that the decree passed by a competent Court was not collusive or that the notice had been actually served. MOHIMA CHUNDER MULLICK v. BURODA SOONDUREE DOSSEE, 12 W.R. 147.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to —continued.

(16)—Suit for declaration that pottah is false — Prima facie case — Onus on defendant.—A plaintiff suing for a declaration that defendant's pottah is false must make out a prima facie case before the onus can be thrown on defendant to prove the genuineness of his pottah. JOY CHUNDER TUPPADAR v. RAM CHURN DOSS, 15 W.R. 117.

(17)—Suit by Mahomedan widow for share of husband's property—Tumliknamah—Proof.—Where a Mahomedan widow sues the brother of her deceased husband for her share of the husband's property, and where the defendant sets up a tumliknamah by which the deceased conveyed away the property to defendant's son, the burden of proof lay on the defendant. SADUK ALI KHAN v. BIBEE PEAREE, 9 W.R. 142.

(18)—Voluntary settlement deed—Suit to set aside deed—Burden of proof of settler's knowledge as to effect of settlement and its finality.—In a suit by a settler to set aside a voluntary deed of settlement, where there were circumstances to show that the settler had no knowledge of the legal effect of executing such a settlement deed, held that the burden of proving that the settler understood the effect of the settlement and its finality was on the defendant; and as the burden was not discharged, the plaintiff should succeed and the settlement could not consequently stand. (Anderson v. Elsworth, 3 Giff. 154; Forshaw v. Welsby, 30 Beav. 243; Wollaston v. Tribe, L.R. 9 Eq. 44, R.) M gave instructions to the defendants for the trust deed in question, which without containing a power of revocation settled Rs. 30,000, —the bulk of his property—upon the defendants as trustees, to perform his funeral ceremonies, and to carry out certain religious directions and observances, and to pay an annuity of Rs. 25 to his sister and a similar annuity to another person; and with the residue to found a Sanskrit class. Provision was to be made also for payment of Rs. 100 during the life-time of the settler for his maintenance and expenses or such larger sum as he might require for such purposes; but in other respects, it was not to come into operation until after his death. The defendants had a considerable influence over the mind of M, who was their family priest and who always relied upon them for advice in all worldly matters. The settlement deed was prepared and executed in the terms mentioned above. The evidence established that the actual provisions of the deed were explained to the settler, that the settlor was of sound mind, though of weak health, but also that the legal effect of the deed which was to give him an annuity out of his own property during his life-time, and irrevocably to determine the disposition of that property after his death, was not explained to him at any time by any one. Shortly after the execution of the settlement deed, the settler became dissatisfied with what he had done and executed a Will by which he left the Rs. 30,000 to his sister. He also signed instructions and a power-of-attorney under which this suit to set aside the said settlement deed was filed. He died subsequently to the filing of the suit, and his sister and executrix became the plaintiff. The plaint prayed that the said deed should be set aside on the ground of undue influence, etc. Held that the deed must be set aside on the ground that the circumstances of the case threw upon the defendants the burden of proving that M, the settler, understood the effect of the settlement and its finality; and that they having failed to do so, the deed in question must be set aside. BAI MANIGAVRI v. NARONDAS CALLIANDAS, 15 B. 549. [D., 8 Bom. L.R. 652=31 B. 271.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to —continued.

(19)—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 111—Suit for cancellation of instrument—Gift to spiritual adviser—Fiduciary relationship—Undue influence—Burden of proof.—Where a gift was made by the plaintiff, a very old man, in favour of the defendant, who was his guru or spiritual adviser, the desire of the plaintiff to secure benefits to his soul in the next world having been set forth as the only reason for the gift,—in a suit for the cancellation of the deed, it was held that the burden rested on the defendant to show that the transaction was made in good faith and without undue influence; and that, in the absence of such proof, the plaintiff was entitled to the relief asked for. MANNU SINGH v. UMADAT PANDE, 12 A. 523=A.W.N. 1890, 56. (10 A. 535, R.)

(20)—Gift to persons in a fiduciary relationship—Burden of proving absence of undue influence.—A benefit being conferred on a person standing in a confidential relation towards another, every onus is thrown upon the person, filling such a fiduciary character towards another, of showing conclusively that he has acted honestly, and bona fide, without influencing the donor, who has acted independently of him. Where an instrument executed by a widow, after setting apart the rental of villages belonging to her, as her patrimony, for defraying the expenses of her and her deceased husband's tombs, gave to her managing agent, who was her sole adviser, the management of the endowment in perpetuity, with the residue after meeting the above expenditure, for himself, held, that this transaction was within the principle stated above. WAJID KHAN v. EWAZ ALI KHAN, 18 C. 545=18 I.A. 144, P.C.=6 Sar. 46. [R., 30 B. 578=8 Bom. L.R. 525.]

(21)—Burden of proof—Deeds duly executed and registered.—When certain deeds are duly executed and duly registered, the burden of proving that they are not real transactions, lies on those who allege the same. SHAM CHAND PAL v. PROTAP CHANDRA PAL, 25 C. 78, P.C. =24 I.A. 186=1 C.W.N. 594=7 Sar. 217.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——13.—Decrees and deeds, Suits relating to —concluded.

Suit to set aside decree on ground of fraud —Nature of fraud to be proved—See DECREE —GENERAL, 1 N.L.R. 20.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—GENERAL, 6 W.R. 2.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to.

(1)—*Suit for possession—Claim under admitted pottah—Right of lessee to grant pottah—*Onus.—In a suit for possession where plaintiff claims under a pottah the execution of which is not denied by defendant, who contends that the lessor had no power to grant it, the burden was held to be on the defendant. RAJAH MAKOOND NARAIN DEO v. JONARDUN DEY BURNICK, 15 W.R. 208.

(2) — Mortgage-deed, possession under.—Where the execution of a mortgage-deed was admitted and long possession of the mortgagee under that decree was established, held that the onus of proving that the transaction was impeachable lay on the person who impugned it and denied that the money which was consideration for its execution was paid. HURPAUL SINGH v. MUSST. ZAHOORUN, 2 Agra 202.

(3)—Burden of proof—Mortgage-deed — Act III of 1877 (Registration), ss. 59, 60—Evidence.—A suit was brought by a mortgagee upon a mortgage by conditional sale for payment of the mortgage-debt or in default for foreclosure. One of the defendants, who was not one of the mortgagees, but, a purchaser at auction-sale under a Rent Court-decree, filed a written statement in which she pleaded that the plaintiff's deed was executed by the mortgagor, who was a near relation of his, fictitiously and collusively and without consideration. Held that the mere production of the deed of mortgage which had been thus questioned and the fact that the deed of mortgage contained an endorsement certificate by the Registrar in the usual manner under s. 59 of Act III of 1877, were not sufficient to shift the burden of proof on to the defendant. MANOHAR SINGH v. SUMIRTA KUAR, 17 A. 428=A.W.N 1895, 93. [R., 6 C.L.J. 659=3 M.L.T. 38, 5 O.C. 18, 5 C.L.J. 653.]

(4)—Part of consideration paid at time of execution and part before—Presumption—Positive evidence.—Where a part of the consideration-money has been paid before, and the remainder at the time of the execution of a deed, there is more than a presumption that the whole consideration has passed. DOMUN SINGH v. BHUGGOBUTTY DEBEA, 8 W.R. 216.

(5)—Suit on alleged mortgage against bona fide purchaser—Onus of proof of execution of bond and bona fides of transaction.—Where, in a suit on an alleged mortgage against a bona fide purchaser for value, the genuineness of the transaction is questioned, the plaintiff is bound to prove prima facie both the due execution of the bond and the bona fides of the transaction and the defendant need not give affirmative evidence of fraud. BRAJESHWARE PESHAKAR v. BUDHANUDDI, 6 C. 287=7 C.L R. 6. [R. and Expl. 5 C.L.J. 653; R., 6 C.L.J. 659=3 M.L.T. 38.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans. Suits relating to—continued.

(6)—Proof of execution and consideration—Suit on bond.—In a suit on a bond, the plaintiff is entitled to recover upon showing that it was executed by the defendant. The onus lies on the defendant of showing the want of consideration. JUGGUT CHUNDER CHOWDHRY v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER FUTTEHDUR, Marsh 27=1 Hay 57=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 67. See also KURUFOOL KOOER v. RAJKALEE KOOER, 17 W.R. 439.

(7)—Actual right of passing of money—Mode of proving payment of consideration.—Actual sight of the passing of the money is not the only mode of proving payment of the consideration for a bond. MUSSAMAT KURUFOOL KOOER v. MUSSAMUT RAJKALEE KOER, 17 W.R. 439.

(8)—Consideration for bond to be always proved.—The genuineness and due execution of a bond does not dispense with the necessity of proof of consideration therefor. BABOO GHANSAM SINGH v. CHUKOUREE SINGH, W.R. 1864, 197.

(9)—Execution of bond admitted—Receipt of consideration denied—Profits of estate misappropriated by wrong-doer, suit for—Jurisdiction.—Where a defendant admits execution of a bond, but denies receipt of consideration, the onus of proving that consideration passed for the bond lies on the plaintiff. Where a defendant admits having directed plaintiff to pay certain sums of money due by the defendant to third parties, the plaintiff must prove such payments. A suit for profits of certain properties which have been appropriated by a wrong-doer is cognizable by a Civil Court. TEKEAT ROOP MONGUL SINGH v. ANUND ROY, 3 W R, 111. [Appr., 5 W.R 203; R., 7 W.R. 441.]

(10)—Evidence — Loan to young man by professional money-lender—Burden of proof—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 114—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881), s. 118.—In the case of a suit by a professional money-lender against a young man recently come of age, the ordinary presumption that a negotiable instrument has been executed for value is so much weakened that the allegation of the young man that he has not received full consideration is sufficient to shift the burden of proof, and to throw upon the money-lender the obligation of satisfying the Court that he has paid the consideration in full. This is the practical effect of illustration (c) to s. 114 of the Evidence Act, and its explanation. Where the plaintiff in answer to such a defence affirms that he has paid the consideration in full, and is corroborated by his books and witnesses (if any), the onus again shifts. The strength of the case to be rebutted will depend, however, upon the credit to be given to the testimony adduced by the plaintiff as tested by cross-examination, the weight to be attached to his books arising from the manner in which they are kept, and the presence, or absence of suspicious circumstances in connection with them, and upon its inherent probability. When, however, these circumstances concur in the plaintiff's favour, a heavy onus is thrown upon the defendant which can only be met by a perfectly truthful and harmonious statement which the Court feels able to rely upon with confidence. And in the absence of this, the ordinary presumption laid down, in s. 118 of the Negotiable Instruments Act must prevail, viz., that until the contrary is proved, the presumption shall be made that every negotiable instrument was made for consideration. MOTI GULABCHAND v. MAHOMED MEHDI THARIA TOPAN, 20 B. 367. [F., 133 P.L.R. 1901, 5 O.C. 307; D., 9 P.R. 1906=19 P.L.R. 1906.]

(11)—Onus of proof—Payment of consideration—Income-tax returns.—Where the executant of a mortgage-deed denies receipt of consideration in a suit based upon the mortgage, having, however, previously admitted receipt thereof, before the Registering Officer, the burden of proving non-receipt of consideration would not be shifted on to the plaintiff by the mere circumstance that the plaintiff had not mentioned the bond or the interest accruing thereon in the income-tax returns submitted by him. ALI KHAN BAHADUR v. INDAR PRASHAD, 23 C. 950, P.C.=23 I.A., 92=7 Sar. 63. [R., 27 C. 11=3 C.W.N. 660, 5 C.L.J. 653.]

(12)—Bond—Acknowledgment of receipt of cash therein—Proof of advance of part only—Onus.—In a suit upon a bond containing an acknowledgment by the executant of the receipt of the whole sum in cash, where it is proved that only a part of the sum has been received by the defendant, the onus is on the plaintiff to prove in some other way the advance alleged by him. LALA LAKMI CHAND v. SAYID HAIDAK SHAH, 4 C.W.N. 82, P.C. [R., 5 O. C. 307.]

(13)—Evidence—Suit on bond—Amount of debt advanced—Shifting of burden on admission of execution.—In a suit on a bond the plaintiff has to prove the amount of the debt advanced. This is done in the first instance by proof of execution of the bond. It is then for the defendant to give evidence in answer, if he can, that the amount advanced was less than the sum claimed by the plaintiff. In the absence of such proof by the defendant, the plaintiff is entitled to a decree in his favour for the amount claimed by him. SIVARAMAIYAR v. SAMU AIYAR, 1 M.H.C. 447.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—continued.

(14)—Bond—Recital as to receipt of consideration—Onus.—Where, in a suit upon a bond which contained a recital that the defendant had received the consideration, the defendant admitted the execution of the bond but denied the receipt of consideration, held that the recital in the bond was evidence against the defendant, though not conclusive, and that, if he disputed the consideration, the onus lay upon him to show that the recital in the bond which he had executed was not correct. FULLI BIBI v. BASSIRUDI MIDHA, 4 B.L.R. F.B. 84 =12 W.R. 25. (3 M.I.A. 347, 2 B.L.R. P.C. 111, Appl.) [R., 5 C.L.J. 653.]

(15)—Bond—Suit—Written statement—Plea of non-payment of consideration—Admission—Onus probandi.—Where plaintiff sued defendant on a bond which recited the fact of due consideration having been paid at the time of execution and defendant admitted execution of the bond, but pleaded that consideration had not been passed, held that it was upon the defendant to prove that the facts stated by him in the bond were really different from what they were recited to be. MANICKLAL BABOO v. RAMDAS MAZUMDAR, 1 B.L.R. A.C. 92=10 W.R. 132.

(16)—Bond citing receipt of money—Admission of execution—Burden of proof.—Where a bond recites receipt of money, and defendant admits having executed it, a prima facie case arises, which defendant must rebut. RUGHOONATH DOSS v. LUCHMEE NARAIN SINGH, 10 W.R. 407.

(17)—Proof of want of consideration—Suit for money due on bond.—When, in a suit for money due on a bond, both the execution and the receipt of the consideration are denied, the defendant must prove the latter plea, if the execution be established by the plaintiff. KISHENDYAL SINGH v. MONOHUR LALL, 2 Hay 381.

(18)—Bond—Plea of partial failure of consideration.—In a suit on a bond, the defendant, while admitting the genuineness of the bond, contended that a portion of the consideration money was not applied by the obligee for the purpose for which it was agreed to be applied. The Court of first instance threw the burden on the plaintiff of proving that the amount in question which appeared by his books of account, relied upon by the defendant himself, had been in fact subsequently paid, and eventually disallowed the amount. The High Court held that the accounts must be admitted in toto and that the disputed items must be allowed. Held, by their Lordships, that the Court of first instance had acted on an entirely wrong principle. It would have been correct if the plaintiff had relied on his own books as proving his debt; but that was not the case.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—continued.

The plaintiff relied upon the bond, and unless that was displaced, there was no answer to the action. The decree of the High Court was affirmed. RAJESWARI KUAR v. RAI BAL KRISHAN, 9 A. 713, P.C.=14 I.A. 142=5 Sar. 80. [R., 28 B. 294=6 Bom. L.R. 50.]

(19)—Bond—Allegation of loss of document—Plea of discharge—Burden of proof.—Where in a suit on a bond, the plaintiff accounted for the non-production of the bond, by alleging that the defendant had stolen it, and the defendant, admitting execution of the bond, pleaded discharge, the defendent was bound to begin and prove payment, either by production of the bond or by other evidence or by both. CHUNI KUAR v. UDAI RAM, 6 A. 73=A.W.N. 1883, 221.

(20)—Admission of execution of bond—Plea of payment—Burden of proof.—The plaintiff sued on a bond made in his favour by the defendants, which he alleged had been stolen by the defendants. The defendants, while admitting the execution of the bond, pleaded payment and that the bond had been returned by the plaintiff to them. They did not produce the bond, nor did they offer any evidence of the alleged payment. Held that, as the defendants admitted the bond and pleaded payment, the burden of proof of such payment lay on them. SAVJI bin SATU v. PATLU AND MAHADU bin DHARU, 8 B.H.C.A.C. 139.

(21)—Execution of document admitted—Suit on document—Onus of getting rid of admission—Effect of not traversing material allegations—Suit against firm—Names of partners to be specified in plaint—Summons.—Where a defendant admits the execution of a document upon which he is sued, the onus lies on him to get rid of the effect of such admission. A defendant must be taken to admit all material allegations in the plaint which he does not traverse. In an action against a firm, the names of the partners should be specified in the plaint, and a summons served on one or more of its members if resident within the jurisdiction, YEKNATH BABAJI v. GULABCHAND KAHANJI, 1 B.H.C. 85.

(22)—Consideration, Disputed payment of—Misplacement of burden of proof—Acquiescence as to burden—High Court - Second appeal—Practice.—The burden of proof rests on him who impugns the authenticity of a deed, the execution of which by the owners of the property to which it relates is admitted or proved. And the onus should properly be placed on the defendant who disputes payment of consideration when execution and receipts of consideration are admitted by the obligor. Where misplacement of the onus has been acquiesced in by the parties in the Court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court, the High Court would be very reluctant to interfere with the result unless there were reasons to suppose that the error may have produced error in the decision of the case on the merits. GANGADAS v. DAMA, 5 Bom. L.R. 177.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—continued.

(23)—Defendant admitting cause of action—Plea of payment—Onus of proving—Payment—Where a defendant admits the cause of action and pleads payment, the onus is on him to prove discharge by payment. BIBEE MEHER-OONISSA v. ABDOOL GUNEE, 17 W.R. 509.

(24)—Samadaskat—Acknowledgment of debt—Reg. V of 1827, s. 9—Burden of proof as to receipt of consideration.—Where the plaintiff sued to recover money lent, relying upon a Samadaskat, or acknowledgment of debt, given by the defendant: Held that s. 9 of Reg. V of 1827 contained the rule of law applicable to the case, and that the onus lay on the defendant to prove that he had not received full consideration for the acknowledgment of indebtedness which he had subscribed. MOTI KAHANJI v. DIPCHAND VIRCHAND, 5 B.H.C. A.C. 81. [Appr., 14 B. 206; R., 25 B. 202=2 Bom. L.R. 986, 16 M. 234.]

(25)—Admission of execution and registration of bond—Receipt of consideration not proved.—An admission of execution and registration of a bond are not conclusive proof of the receipt of consideration by the executant. It cannot be laid down as a general rule that the onus lies either on the plaintiff or on the defendant. Each case must depend upon its particular circumstances. In re A REFERENCE BY COMMISSIONER, RAWALPINDI, 80 P.R. 1868.

(26)—Registered deed—Question of consideration—Onus.—The consideration for a registered deed of sale will generally be presumed and he who pleads absence of the same must prove it. But, if the plaintiffs took no steps to enforce the sale-deed and did not even attempt to assert their rights under it for a long time (in this case, 20 years) by taking possession, applying for dakhil-Kharij, etc., the onus will be shifted to the other side, and the plaintiffs must prove the passing of consideration. RAM CHAND v. HARNAM SINGH, 68 P.R. 1900. (17 P.R. 1888, F.) [R., 24 P.R. 1902, F.B.]

(27)—Suit on bond—Consideration denied—Onus on whom lies—Where the defendant in a bond suit denies receipt of the consideration in toto or in part, the onus of proving the receipt thereof is equally on the plaintiff. In the latter case, the plaintiff is relieved from the burden of proving the payment of the consideration money to the extent of the sum, the receipt of which is admitted by the defendant, but nothing further. MUSSAMUT JHALOO v. SHAIKH FURZUND ALI, 5 W.R. 203.

(28)—Absence of consideration for a bond.—Generally, if the consideration for a bond is denied by the defendant, the burden of proving the passing of consideration lies on the plaintiff, the mere existence in Indian documents of a formal acknowledgment in no way affecting the onus. But, if the acknowledgment is of a more solemn formal character, viz., registered, the presumption, being in favour of the truth of such declaration, will shift the onus, though the presumption can be rebutted. WAZIR SINGH v. JAI GOPAL, 17 P.R. 1888. (153 P.R. 1882, Cited.) [F., 68 P.R. 1900.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—continued.

(29)—Bill of exchange or promissory note exhibiting the appearance of alteration—Whether the onus lies on the person suing to account for it—Whether in other documents the alteration is presumed to have been made before execution.—If a bill of exchange or promissory note exhibit the appearance of alteration, the onus lies on the person suing to account for it; but in other documents (except wills) the alteration is presumed to have been made before execution. RAJA SHEWBUX BOGLA v. MA MA GYI, 14 Bur. L.R. 213.

(30)—Burden of Proof—Pro-note, execution of—Undue Influence.—In a suit based on a pro-note, held that undue influence must be presumed, when it is found that the defendant, a dissolute young man, was lent money by the plaintiff, a money-lender, while the defendant was still a minor, and was supplied with very large quantities of jewellery in the presence only of the plaintiff's touts and dependants when the defendant was only a few days over 18 years of age, and on obviously false color is given to the transaction. SHEIKH MIRAN BAKSH v. SHEIKH MUHAMMAD HUSAIN, 133 P.L.R. 1901.

(31)—Suit on bond—General insanity—Proof of lucid interval.—In a suit on a bond in which the plea was that the obligor was insane at the time of its execution and was also shown to be generally insane, the onus was held to lie on the party, asserting that it was executed at a lucid interval, to prove that, at the execution of the bond, the obligor was in a condition to arrive at a rational judgment as to its effect upon his position. MUSSAMMAT NUR BHARI v. GOBINDA, 87 P.R. 1888.

(32)—Loan—Lender entitled to decree on loan.—A plaintiff sued for re-payment of a loan, and failed to prove an alleged pledge; he was entitled to a decree, unless the Court thought that the loan itself was not made. A party admitting the receipt of a note for Rs. 1,000 on loan becomes primarily responsible for it to the lender, and it is for the borrower to show that the advance was made, not on his credit, but on that of some other person. LALLA MANOHUR DOSS v. GUNGA PERSHAD, 2 N.W.P. 264.

(33)—Equity of redemption executed with mortgage—Ekrar reserving equity given to mortgagor—Mortgagee having possession of ekrar and claiming land—Mortgagor pleading loss—Onus.—Where an ekrar reserving to the mortgagor the equity of redemption is made out at the same time as the mortgage, and made over to the defendant-mortgagor, but is alleged by the mortgagee, that is, the plaintiff, to have been returned to him as surrender of the equity of redemption and the mortgagor pleads that it was lost and somehow found its way to plaintiff, the presumption was held to be in favour of the plaintiff, who had possession of the ekrar, and the onus was held to be on the defendant to prove the alleged loss of the ekrar. RAJ COOMAR SINGH v. RAM SUHAYE RAM, 11 W.R. 151.

Burden of proof—continued.

——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—continued.

(34)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 206—Act X of 1877, s. 258—Suit by judgment-debtor to recover money paid out of Court—Production of receipt executed by decree-holder, shifting of burden of proof on.—The provisions of s. 206 of Act VIII of 1859 as adopted in the original s. 258 of the Code of 1877 only prevent the Court executing the decree from recognising a payment made out of Court and do not preclude the judgment-debtor from suing to recover money so paid by him to the decree-holder. The production, by the judgment-debtor-plaintiff in such a suit, of a receipt executed by the decree-holder is sufficient to shift to the latter the burden of proving that the statement contained in such receipt to the effect that the decree has been satisfied, is an incorrect statement. DAVLATA v. GANESH SASTRI, 4 B. 293. [F., 7 A. 124; R., 5 M. 397, F. B. 10 B. 155, 11 B. 6, F. B.]

(35)—Contract Act, s. 25—Burden of proving that prior debt was barred.—In a suit on a bond executed to secure a former debt, it lies on the defendant to show that the prior debt was barred. HUBLAL SEEKUL v. RAMKOTI DEY ROY, 11 C.L.R. 381.

(36)—Burden of proof—Validity of contract—Defence of infancy set up—Fraudulent misrepresentation by minor.—The burden of proving that a contract was a valid contract when it was made, lies upon the plaintiff. (6 A.L.J. 693, R.) The defendant, at the date of making a pro-note, represented himself to be of full age, and then, on a subsequent date, while giving evidence before a Court, stated his age to be 22 years. Held, that the statement did not amount to an admission, and the burden of proof did not shift from the plaintiff to the defendant. Semble :—A defendant is not estopped from pleading infancy, by reason of the fact that he had been guilty of fradulent misrepresentation regarding his age. KANHAYA LAL v. GIRDHARI LAL, 9 A L.J. 103.

(37)—Burden of proof—Illiterate women alleged to have made a mark and thumb impression—Denial of execution—Onus probandi on plaintiff.—Where an illiterate woman, who is alleged to have put her mark and thumb impression on a document for Rs. 3 000, denies executing such a document, but admits executing a document which she believed was for ——14.—Documents relating to loans, Suits relating to—concluded.

Burden of proof—continued.

Rs 400 only, the burden of proof lies upon the plaintiff to prove consideration and the genuineness of the transaction. MAUNG BYA v. MAUNG PO, 11 Ind. Cas. 916.

——15.—Easements.

See EASEMENTS.

(1)—Easement—Right of way—Water-course—Onus—Magistrate's order—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 522.—Where the right to have a way of water-course over certain land is disputed by the owner thereof and an order under s. 532 of the Crim. Pro Code, has been passed by the Magistrate in favour of the person claiming the right, the fact of such an order having been made will not be sufficient to relieve the latter from the onus of proving the claim in a subsequent suit by the owner to establish his right to the exclusive use of the land. OBHOY CHURN DEY v. LUKHY MONE BEWA, 2 C.L.R. 555. (21 W.R. 140. Overruled.)

(2)—Act XXV of 1861, s. 320—Suit for declaration that defendant had no right of way—Burden on plaintiff to prove exclusive possession.—In a suit for a declaration that defendant has no right of way over certain land belonging to plaintiff, where the defendant has obtained an order from the Magistrate under Act XXV of 1861 ; s. 320, the onus of proving that he was entitled to exclusive possession lay on the plaintiff and not on the defendant of proving an easement. PUCHAI KHAN v. ABED SIRDAR, 21 W.R. 140. [Overruled, 2 C.L.R. 555.]

(3)—Easement claimed over plaintiff's water—Onus of proof.—In a case where an easement is claimed over plaintiff's water the plaintiff is bound to establish that he acquired it by grant or user. MEGHRAJ SINGH v. RASHDHAREE SINGH, 17 W.R. 281.

(4)—Suit for removal of outlets from aqueduct—Right to exclusive use of water.—In a suit to remove certain outlets in an aqueduct, on the allegation that plaintiff is entitled to the exclusive use of the water, held that the plaintiff was bound to make good the title alleged. MR. P T. ONRAET v. KISHEN SOONDUREE DOSSEE, 15 W.R. 83.

Claim for possession of property—Plaintiff denying defendant's alleged right to easement. —See EASEMENT, 26 P.L.R. 1906.

——16.—Ejectment.

See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR.

(1)—Reg. XVII of 1827—Bom. Act I of 1865—Bom. Act IV of 1868.—Semble—that Reg. XVII of 1827 and Bombay Act, I of 1865, were not applicable to building-sites in towns and cities until Bombay Act I of 1865, was expressly made applicable to such sites by Bombay Act IV of 1868. The law obtaining in India requires that in actions of ejectment the Courts should always enforce the rule that a plaintiff must recover by the strength of his own title ; and a party who might have shifted the burden of proof, if he had proceeded under s. 15 of Act XIV of 1859, cannot, if he let slip that opportunity, obtain the same advantage in an action of ejectment. Semble :—Mere possession as a trespasser is not sufficient to entitle a plaintiff to recover in a suit brought under s. 15 of Act XIV of 1859. There must be in the plaintiff juridical, as opposed to mere physical possession. DADABHAI NARSIDAS v. THE SUB-COLLECTOR OF BROACH, 7 B.H.C.A.C. 82. [Disappr., 8 B. 371; Ap., 9 B.H.C. 53, 5 C.L.R. 278 ; D., 10 C.L.R. 99 ; R., 4 B. 505, 12 C.P.L.R. 52 ; Cited, 7 C.P.L.R. 3.]

Burden of proof—continued

——16.—Ejectment—continued.

(2)—Ejectment suit—Defendant in possession—Onus of proof—Plaintiff to prove his superior title.—In an ejectment suit, the defendant in possession, though a trespasser, is entitled to require the plaintiff to prove that he has a superior title. KALU v. BARSU, 19 B. 803. [R. 10 Bom. L.R. 571.]

(3)—Suit to eject—Plea of permanent occupancy.—In a suit in ejectment where the ownership of the plaintiff is proved and the defendant sets up a right of permanent occupancy, the burden of proving such a right is on the defendant. RANGASAMI REDDI v. GNANA SAMBANDA PANDARA SANNADI, 22 M. 264. [R., 25 M. 507.]

(4)—Suit for ejectment—Proof of possession within 12 years—Onus of proof.—In a suit for possession upon the ground of wrongful possession, the plaintiff is bound to prove that he or some of the persons under whom he claims have been in possession of the property within twelve years before suit. A mere allegation of the tenancy of the defendant under the person through whom the plaintiff claims, will not shift the burden of proof. GOPAUL CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. NILMONEY MITTER, 10 C. 374. (9 I.A. 99, Expl. & D.) [R., 14 B. 458.]

(5)—Ejectment—Proof of title—Plaintiff claiming inam and miras rights—Defendant claiming miras rights—Suit to eject defendant—Onus.—In suits for ejectment, the burden of proving title lies on the plaintiff. Where a person, claiming inam and miras rights over certain lands, sues to eject therefrom the defendant, who claims to have miras rights over the same, the burden of proving the miras rights lies on the plaintiff. MARUTI v. BANUBAI. 4 Bom. L.R. 801.

(6)—Ejectment, suit for—Nij-jote land suit for possession of—Makarraridar—Occupancy raiyat, plea of.—In a suit for ejectment from nij jote lands, where the defence set up a right of occupancy, when the plaintiff was admitted to be a makarraridar of the landlord, it lies upon the defendants to make out that they are occupancy raiyats and are entitled to remain there. BARAIK KAMAL SAHAI v. LILHU CHRISTIAN, 8 C.L.J. 170. (9 C. W. N. 144, 7 C.L.J. 523, R.; 3 C.W.N. 763, Expl.)

Burden of proof—continued

——16.—Ejectment—continued.

(7)—Suit by landlord to eject trespasser—Burden of proving extinguishment of prior tenancy.—In a suit by a landlord against a trespasser, it is not incumbent on the plaintiff to prove that a prior tenancy has been extinguished. HIRA LAL MISRA v. AOLA KUNBI, 14 C.P.L.R. 14.

(8)—Ejectment suit.—The case of Radha Gobind Roy v. Inglis in 7 C.L.R. 364 was a peculiar one having reference to the recovery of alluvial lands which had been diluviated, and there was no intention, on the part of the Judicial Committee, in their decision in that case, to interfere with the general rule that, where a plaintiff claims land from which he alleges that he has been dispossessed, the burden is upon him to show possession, and dispossession within twelve years, or, at least, that the cause of action arose within twelve years. MURO DESAI v. RAMACHANDRA SESAI, 6 B. 508. [R., 9 C, 743=12 C.L.R, 257, 14 B. 458.]

(9)—Onus of proving exclusive right—Court to decide right of defendant to share in house.—In a suit to eject the special appellant from the portion of a house which he claimed to be in possession of as part owner, held that the lower appellate Court was wrong in laying down that it was not called upon to decide whether the defendant was entitled to a share in the house; as the onus of proving an exclusive title to the property lay on the plaintiff. ISUBJI valad MUHAMMAD v. KHATIZA KAMABDULY, 2 B.H.C. 181.

(10)—Ejectment under direct action of Court—Presumption—Onus of proof.—An ejectment alleged to have taken place under direct action of Court, and supported by documents issued by and filed in the Court, must be presumed to have been real and bona fide, until the party ejected proves that all these proceedings were fictitious, and that he never lost possession of the land, but still holds it. SHAIKH BUDUROODDEEN v. HANEEF, MULLICK. 5 W.R. 180.

(11)—Lakheraj land—Suit for possession—Onus of proof.—In a suit for possession of land which plaintiff held as lakherajdar up to the time of his dispossession by the defendant who pleads that the lakheraj was created subsequent to 1790 and that the land is part of his mal land ; held, that it is not necessary to try the validity of the title of the plaintiff, but that the onus of proving his allegation lies on the defendant. OOTTUM CHURN DUTT v. RAM LAL DAN, 6 W.R. 91.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1872, s. 530, 9 C.L.R. 205.

See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, L.B.R. 1893—1900. 360.

Suit by landlord against person not tenant—Nature of proof required of plaintiff — See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 11 C.P.L.R. 22.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——16.—Ejectment—concluded.

Suit for ejectment—Defence setting up a tenure by right of purchase from former tenant—Plaintiff proving that he is owner of land—Defendant to make out that he is tenure holder and he is entitled to remain thereon—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 7 C.L.J, 553.

Suit for ejectment alleging that defendants are merely tenants-at-will—Burden of proof on defendants to show permanent interest—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 8 C.L.J. 513.

——17.—Execution of Decree.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

(1)—Execution of decree—Sale of share in an estate—Rights of sharers—Onus of proof.—Where, in execution of a decree, a share of an estate is sold, and the representatives of the purchaser absorb more land than belonged to that share and bring a suit to declare their rights, held, that there should have been a clear finding as to what was the extent of the share originally purchased, and that, in determining the claim of the representatives to the increase, the burden of a very distinct proof should be laid on them. SREEMUTTY URNOPOORNA v, RAJBULLUL BURDEN, W.R. 1864 151.

(2)—Transfer of decree—Execution—Onus of proof.—A person to whom a decree is transferred must prove his title to execute it if his title be disputed. GANESH MOHAPATTUR v. CHUNDEE CHURN KITUNYA 6 W.R, Mis. 126.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1859, ss. 201, 207, 212, 221, 273, 274, 275, 280, 281, 8 B.L.R, 255=17 W.R. 165.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—STEP IN-AID OF EXECUTION, 2 B.L.R A.C. 194=11 W.R. 70.

——18.—Fraud.

See FRAUD.

(1)—Voluntary payment of money to defendant induced by fraud—Burden of proof.—Where voluntary payment of money to defendant is alleged to have been obtained by fraud and a suit to recover it is instituted, held that the burden was on the plaintiff to prove the case as laid in the plaint and not on the defendant to prove those allegations to be untrue. ANUND MOYEE DEBIA v. SHIB DYAL BUNWAREE, 2 W.R. 2.

(2)—Fraud—Burden of proof.—The persons who seek the interference of the Court on the ground of fraud should prove it. BISHEN SAHU v. ANMOLE PANDEY, A.W.N. 1882, 10.

(3)—Allegation that plaintiff's assignment was fraudulent—Onus.—Where the defendant alleged that the plaintiff's assignment was fraudulent, the onus was on him to prove that the transaction was not bona fide. LALBEHARI DUTT v. SRINATH MOOKERJEE 3 B.L.R. A.C. 73 Note. [D., 3 B.L.R. A.C. 70= 11 W.R. 422.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——18.—Fraud—concluded.

(4)—Onus probandi—Fraudulent sale.—In a suit against a purchaser to set aside a sale in execution of a decree on the ground of fraud, the onus lies upon the plaintiff to make out that the sale was fraudulent. RAMGATI v. SRIMATI IMITARI BANU, 1 B.L.R. S.N. 20 (c).

(5)—Onus probandi—Allegation of fraud.—Where a decree-holder in a suit to establish his claim to certain property as that of his judgment-debtor, alleges that the deed of sale conveying to defendant was fraudulently executed, held, that the decree-holder was bound to prove the fraud. LALA RUDRA PRASAD v. BINODE RAM SEN, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 71, Note=10 W.R. 321. [D., 3 B.L.R. A.C. 70=11 W.R. 422.]

(6)—Property obtained by fraud—Suit by injured party—Limitation.—When a man has committed a fraud and has obtained property thereby, it is for him to show that the person injured by his fraud and suing to recover the property has had clear and definite knowledge of those facts which constitute the fraud at a time which is too remote to allow him to bring the suit. The mere fact that some hints and dues reached the injured party which, perhaps if vigorously and acutely followed up, might have led to a complete knowledge of the fraud is not enough to constitute clear and definite knowledge of it. RAHIMBHOY HABIBBHOY v. CHARLES AGNEW TURNER. 17 B. 141, P.C. = 20 I. A. 1=6 Sar. 259. [R., 27 A. 540=2 A. L.J. 350=A.W.N. 1905, 88, 2 N.L.R. 98, 31 M. 230=18 M.L.J. 19=4 M.L.T. 80, 15 C.W.N. 102=6 Ind. Cas. 154.]

Suit on bond—Plea of fraud and undue influence—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 16. 8 O. C. 210.

Sale of property to defeat creditor's claim—Good faith of purchaser—Consideration—Burden lies on purchaser—See FRAUDULENT TRANSFER, 4 L.B.R. 211.

Fraudulent transfer of property—Fraudulent intention not carried out—Suit to recover such property—Conditions for recovery—Burden of proof—See TRANSFER, 4 N.L.R. 26.

——19.—Hindu Law.

See HINDU LAW.

(1)—Suit to set aside adoption by widow—Onus of plaintiff—Suspicious evidence.—In a suit in which plaintiffs, claiming as heirs of a deceased Hindoo, sought to set aside an adoption effected by the widow as without authority and otherwise improper, the lower appellate Court held that the onus lay with the plaintiffs to prove their affirmation in respect to the adoption: Held that as one of the witnesses to the unnoomutee puttro was convicted of perjury, the plaintiffs were entitled to an opinion from the Judge as to the genuineness of that document, and unless the defendant's case in that respect could be established, the plaintiffs would be entitled to a decree. Held that although the fact of an adoption having taken place and six years having elapsed, may render little evidence sufficient, these circumstances will not warrant the acceptance of suspicious evidence which is open to question. HUR DYAL NAG v. ROY KRISHTO BHOOMICK, 24 W.R. 107. [D., 30 A. 197 = A.W.N. 1908, 79, 5 A.L.J. 200.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(2)—Suit by heiress-at-law — Defendant setting up adverse title by adoption—Onus of proof.—Where A sues as the heiress-at-law of her father and the defendant sets up a title based on adoption to defeat that right, the burden of proving that title rests entirely on the defendant. KRIPA MOYEE DEBIA v. GOLUCK CHUNDER ROY, 4 W.R. 78.

(3)—Claim to property left by widow—Onus probandi—Adoption.—Where property left by a widow is claimed adversely to the natural heirs and against the presumption that the widow had acquired the nucleus from her husband, it is for those who claim it adversely to establish their special pleas and to show that it came into her hands from other sources. Where, in a suit by the natural heirs, the defendant sets up a preferential hereditary right by virtue of adoption, held, he must establish his adoption. BISSESSUR CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAM JOY MOJOOMDAR, 2 W.R. 326.

(4)—Award at settlement in favour of widow —Death of widow leaving daughter—Claim by husband's nephews of widow—Burden of rebutting presumption from award.—Where an award was made at a settlement in favour of a widow, and, on her death, her husband's nephews took possession on the ground that they formed a joint undivided family with her husband, held, in a suit for possession by the widow's daughter, the burden of rebutting the presumption, arising out of the award of proprietary right, lay on the defendants. MT. SARASWATI BAI v. WAMAN RAO, 16 C.P.L.R. 3. (27 C. 515, F.)

(5)—Alienation by Hindu widow—proof of necessity.—Where the validity of alienation by a Hindu widow is the question for the consideration of the Court, the onus of proving the necessity for the alienation rests with the alienee. Where, in such a case, the plea of necessity fails, the Court will not grant a decree for immediate possession, unless a very strong case of waste and deterioration be made out. Quære:—What is sufficient evidence to support a sale by a Hindu widow of property in which she has only a life-interest? CHUTTER DHAREE SINGH v. HARCOOMAREE, 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 99. See also NUND COOMAR SINGH v. GANGA PURSAUD NARAIN SINGH, 10 W.R. 94.

(6)—Allegation by reversioner of improper alienation—Alienee to prove legal necessity for alienation.—Where a reversionary heir sues to recover property on the allegation that it has been improperly alienated, the alienee should show that there was necessity for the sale transaction. NUND COOMAR SINGH v. GUNGA PERSHAD SINGH, 10 W.R. 94.

(7)—Mitakshara school of Hindu law—Suit by son to annul alienation of ancestral property by father—Burden of proof of necessity—Application of purchase-money.—In a suit by a son to annul an alienation of ancestral property by his father, the burden is not on the son to prove the necessity for the sale, but on the purchaser to prove the existence of the necessity; the necessity being shown, it is not for the lender to see to the application of his money, nor could his title be vitiated even though the borrower wasted the loan and neglected to appropriate it to the purpose for which it was borrowed. JAGDEB NARAIN SAHAYE v. LALLA RAM PROKASH, 2 W.R. 292 (6 M.I.A. 393, F.)

(8)—Widow's power of alienation.—It is incumbent on the purchaser of realty from a Hindu widow, to enquire whether the circumstances are such as to confer on her the power of alienation. HEERALALL SHAHA v. JADUR CHUNDER CHENCHKEY, Cor. 119.

(9)—Hindu law — Presumption—Ancestral property—Ex-parte case—Good faith.—Some brothers having possessed property jointly, the presumption is that their representatives are entitled only to the shares which belonged to the brothers under whom they respectively claim. Even when a suit proceeds ex parte, a plaintiff cannot get a decree without proving that he is entitled to the relief he prays for. The first duty of a purchaser from a Hindu childless widow is to satisfy himself as an ordinary prudent man would do, as to her right to sell. If he does not do so, he does not act with due care or attention in the matter, and, therefore, cannot be said to have acted legally in good faith, although he may, in fact, fully believe or take it for granted that all is right. RAM DHONE BHUTTACHARJEE v. ISHANEE, DABEE, 2 W.R. 123.

(10)—Suit by Hindu widow for possession of property—Plea of gift from plaintiff—Onus on defendant of proving free nature of gift.—One P.R., a Hindu, died leaving one of his sons, W.R., him surviving, the other son G.R. having predeceased him. On the death of the son W.R., the inheritance devolved on his widow, the plaintiff, who, however, having obtained possession of only one half of the estate, sued to recover the other half in the possession of the defendant, the widow of the said G.R., the other son. Defendant's title was rested on the ground that the plaintiff had entered into a series of transactions after her husband's death, ceding to the defendant, as a free gift, possession of a moiety of the estate. The Judicial Committee, held that, to succeed on her plea, the defendant must show that the plaintiff, knowing her rights and knowing that she was making a free gift, did so make the gift, that the evidence and the inference from the prior transactions were not only not favourable but were decidedly adverse to the defendant, leading to the conclusion that she had managed to come by a possession to which she was not entitled, and that the defendant having thus failed to discharge the onus of proof which rested on her, plaintiff was entitled to the decree for possessin sought to be obtained by her. DEO KUAR v. MAN KUAR, 17 A. 1=21 I.A. 148 P.C.=4 M.L.J. 272=6 Sar. 489. (4 I.A. 119=2 B. 99, 8 I.A. 77=5 B. 408 Appr.

Burden of proof—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(11)—Alienation by Hindu widow — Legal necessity for sale in question—Onus of proof.—In cases of alienation by a Hindu widow, where the legal necessity therefor is questioned its existence must be shown by the party standing on the conveyance. BISSONAUTH ROY v. LALL BAHADOOR SINGH, 1 W.R. 247.

(12)—Sale of property of widow's husband contested—Debt admitted by widow—Denial by reversioners—Purchaser to prove debt.—In a conteested sale of property for the alleged debt of a deceased husband, where the debt is admitted by the widow, but denied by the reversioners, the purchasers were held bound to prove the debt. MOONSHEE CASSEEMUDDEEN AHMED v. RAM DOSS GOSSAIN, 2 W.R. 170.

(13)—Disputed adoption — Compromise of claim—Consideration.—Where, on the death of a deceased Hindu, objection was taken by the brother of the deceased to an adoption set up by the widow and the funeral ceremonies interfered with, and such objection was with drawn on certain conveyance being executed in favour of the brother, the burden of proving that the brothers objection to the validity of the adoption was groundless and the conveyance therefore without consideration, was upon the person who impeached the conveyance. SUBRAMANIA v. VENKATA, 6 M. 254.

(14)—Adoption—Onus.—In a suit for possession of land by the plaintiff setting up a title by adoption, it lies on the plaintiff to prove the fact of adoption. It is irregular on the part of the Court to ask the defendant to prove his title to half the property, and on his failure to do so, to give the plaintiff half, when the latter had failed to prove his title by adoption. JANA v. MOHAMDA, 89 P.R. 1893.

(15)—Ancestral property, sale of—Duty of purchaser—Consolidation of cases—Rights of parties—Jurisdiction—In justifying the purchase of an ancestral property, it is enough if the purchaser proves that he made bona fide inquiry into the matter as to whether necessity existed, and was led to suppose that it did exist. Where several cases are before a Court, and the subject of suit and the defendants vary with each case, the Court cannot order them to be tried as one case, or make the evidence given in one case evidence, in all the cases without the consent of the parties. The parties to a suit being tried in a Court of first instance have a right to insist on all the advantages of a public hearing of the whole case before the judge who is judicially to determine the matter in dispute between them. SOORENDRO PERSHAD DOBEY v. NUNDUN MISSER, 21 W.R. 196. [Appr., 23 W.R. 1; R., 22 C. 511.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(16)—Duty of purchaser of ancestral property—Sufficient pressure on estate.—The purchaser of ancestral property must see that there is sufficient pressure upon the estate to make the transfer necessary. The fact of there being a decree, an attachment, and a proclamation for sale, is sufficient pressure. SHEORAJ KOOER v. MUCKCHEDEE LALL. 14 W.R. 72.

(17)—Existence of debts—Bona fide sale of ancestral property—Validity.—Where the Court has expressly found the existence of debts, and that the sale of ancestral property was a bona-fide one, the circumstance that there was no actual pressure at the time in the shape of suits by the creditors for the recovery of their debts, is not of itself sufficient to invalidate the alienation. A sale of ancestral property merely for the purpose of procuring funds for the re-purchase of other property formerly belonging to the family cannot of itself be considered as a sale for any of the necessary purposes sanctioned by law. Although, as a general rule, it may lie upon those who claim under an alienation of ancestral property for necessary purposes to show that the transaction was within the limited powers of the party alienating, yet particular circumstances may shift the burthern of proof. No fixed rule can be laid down as to the degree of proof requisite in such cases. KAIHUR SINGH v. ROOP SINGH, 3 N.W.P. 4.

(18)—Suit for share of joint ancestral property—Estoppel in pleadings—Onus.—In a suit for a share of joint ancestral property, where plaintiff claims under one who, when sued on a former occasion as trustee, never pleaded that he was a co-parcener, held that the plaintiff, if not estopped from now contending that the property is joint, has still the entire burden of proving that it is joint. SURNOMOYEE DEBIA v. GUNGA GOBIND ROY, 2 W.R. 264.

(19)—Allegation of joint ancestral property—Onus of proof—Evidence.—In a suit by the widow of defendant's brother for half-share of an alleged joint ancestral property, where it is proved that the original estate was the mother's and the subsequent acquisitions of the defendant were made after her death, held, that the burden of proof lay on the defendant and the Court (in this particular case) was satisfied with a moderate amount of proof on his part. DUKEENA DABEE v. KISHEN CHUNDER SANDYAL, 3 W.R. 97.

(20)—Joint Hindu family—Separation and self acquisition—Onus.—In a suit for possession of properties said to be joint, defendants averring self-acquisition the onus was held to be with the defendants to rebut the presumption in favour of the family having been joint by proving self-acquisition. PEAREE LALL v. BUKHOREE LAL, 12 W R. 124.

Burden of proof—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(21)—Suit property admittedly joint—Presumption as to residue—Onus of proving separate acquisition.—Where a part of the property sued for is admittedly joint, the presumption is that the residue is also joint, the onus lying on the defendant to prove separate acquisition. HEERA LALL ROY v. BIDYADHUR ROY, 21 W.R. 343.

(22)—Rebutting presumption of jointness of Hindu family— Shifting of onus.—The presumption that a Hindu family is joint in food, worship, and estate may be rebutted, and where this is done, the onus is thrown on the opposite side. PROSUNNO MOYEE v. WOOMA CHURN DEB, 23 W.R. 141.

(23)—Evidence— Separate property of undivided member of joint family—Right of widow to succeed on default of male issue—Assertion of different course of descent.—As, under the Hindu Law, the separate property of an undivided member of a joint family descends upon his widow in default of male issue, the person who asserts that a different course of descent is applicable must prove that it is so. KATAMA NACHIYAR v. THE RAJA OF SIVAGANGA, 2 M H.C. 146, Note, P.C.

(24)—Exclusion from joint family property—Onus of proof.—The burden of proving that a member of a joint Hindu family has been excluded from enjoyment of the property for more than the statutory period and as such is not entitled to a share in the family property, is on the person who alleges the fact; and absence standing by itself is insufficient to establish such exclusion. MACHIRAJU v. SIMHACHALAM, 9 M.L.J. 129.

(25)—Allegation that acquisitions made by several members are separate, should be proved by the person who alleges—Defect entitling re-partition to be proved.—Parties who allege that the acquisitions of the several members of a Hindoo family are not to be brought into hotchpot and divided per stirpes, must show that they were acquired in such a manner as to constitute them separate property and impartible, it is incumbent on those parties who admit that a partition has been made of certain portions of the family estate, and seek a re-partition of the portion so partitioned, to show that a condition attached to the partition which rendered it inoperative, or that the members of the family have consented to a re-partition of it. RAI NURSINGH DASS v. RAI NARAIN DASS, 3 N.W P. 217. [R., 28 A. 347 =3 A.L.J. 155=A.W.N. 1906, 34.

(26)—Onus that certain property was joint family property—Limitation Act, 1877, art. 127.—The burden of proof, where there was no contention that the parties were members of a joint Hindu family and where a part of the entire estate had been partitioned, as to the property being joint family property, was held to lie on the plaintiff. SADHU RAM v. MUSST BAINI, 66 P.R. 1898.

(27)—Hindu family emigrating from Mithla to Bengal—Presumption as to continuance of family Custom—Cessation of such custom, onus of proof as to.—The presumption is, that members of a Hindu family, who emigrated from Mithila to Bengal, continue their family customs, and the onus is upon a party who alleges the cessation of such customs to prove that fact. SOORENDRONATH ROY v. MUSSAMUT HEERAMONEE BURMONEAH, 10 W.R. 35, P.C.=1 B L.R. 26 P.C.=12 M.I.A. 81=2 Suther. 147=2 Sar. 372.

(28)—Primogeniture—Rule in derogation of Hindu Law.—Where a custom, such as one of primogeniture, in derogation of the ordinary Hindu Law governing devolution of property is set up by a party, it lies upon him to establish, by clear and unambiguous evidence, that the same in an ancient continuous and invariable rule in the family. SHYAMANAND DAS MOHAPATRA v. RAMA KANTA DAS MOHAPATRA, 32 C. 6. [R., 6 A.L.J. 364=36 C. 590=13 C.W.N. 581, P.C.]

(29)—Family custom — Burden of proof — strict proof.—A special family custom involving a departure from the ordinary Hindu Law should be properly proved by the person setting it up. GARUDHWAJA PARSHAD SINGH v. SUPARANDHWAJA PARSHAD SINGH. 10 M L. J. 267, P C.=23 A. 37=5 C.W.N. 33=27 I.A. 238=7 Sar. 724.

(30)—Hindu Law—Inheritance by primogeniture, onus of proof as to.—The parties in this suit were brothers. The plaintiff claimed that, under the ordinary customary law of the Hindus, he was entitled equally with his brother to the moveable and immoveable property inherited from their father. The defendant set up a privilegium in his family of inheritance by primogeniture. Held that the onus of proof was on the defendant. SUPERUNDDHWAJA PRASAD v. GARURADDHWAJA PRASAD, 15 A 147=A.W.N. 1893, 85.

(31)—Contract—Evidence—Hindu Law and Malabar custom.—In matters of contract the Courts are not bound by the Hindu Law and there is no peculiar law or custom of Malabar which displaces the ordinary rules of evidence as to proof of the liability of principals for acts of their agents. Circumstances determine on whom, in any particular case, the burden of proof lies as to the necessity for the loan. KOMBI v. LAKSHMI, 5 M. 201.

(32)—Alienation by Hindu widow—Duty of purchaser.—A purchaser from a Hindu widow (alienating property as guardian of her minor son and for his maintenance) should satisfy himself as well as he can of the necessity for the sale. Further than this, he is not bound to see to the application of the money. RADHA KISHORE MOOKERJEE v. MIRTOONJOY GOW. 7 W.R. 23.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(33)—Execution of bond by Hindu widow—Burden of proof.—The onus of proving due execution of a document purporting to have been signed by a Hindu widow, lies upon the plaintiff (creditor), who relies upon the signature of the widow as binding the estate which she represented. RAMRATAN SUKUL v. NANDU. 19 C. 249. P.C. = 19 I.A. 9 = 1 Sar. 119. (6 C. 843, R.)

(34)—Mortgagee of widow for advances made to the widow for justifiable purposes—Right of mortgagee as against the Crown—Burden of proof.—A made advances to a Hindu widow in possession, which were secured by a mortgage of the immoveable estate of her late husband's and the advances were applied by her to purposes for which she had power by the Hindu Law to charge or alienate her husband's estate, without the heir's consent, Held, that A was entitled, as against the Crown, who took the estate by escheat on the death of the widow for want of heirs, to possession of the estate under his mortgage, as security for the amount advanced and interest, subject to the equity of redemption by the Crown. The onus probandi lies on the mortgagee to prove, first, that the charge on the estate was the act of the widow: and secondly, that the debt so charged was a competent act of the widow; but the rule which throws the burden of proof on the party who alleges payment to prove it, or that the debt is presumed to be satisfied, unless the contrary is shown by the creditor is not always to be strictly enforced, but is to be governed by the circumstances and probabilities of the case. CAVALY VENCATA NARAINAPPAH v. THE COLLECTOR OF MASULIPATAM, 10 W R. 47, P.C. = 11 M.I.A. 619 = 2 Suther. 103 = 2 Sar. 338.

(35)—Decree against head of joint family—Sale of joint family property in execution—Purchase for valuable consideration—Impugning sale—Onus.—Where joint family property is sold in execution of a decree against the head of the family, and purchased bona fide and for valuable consideration, the onus lies on members of the family who impugn the sale to show that the decree was an improper one. SHEO PERSHAD SINGH v. MUSSAMUT SOORJBUNSEE, 24 W R. 281.

(36)—Ancestral property — Mortgage—Onus probandi—Hindu widow.—In a suit by a Hindu widow to recover a share of property alleged to have been inherited from her husband (J), and which had been mortgaged by her husband's brother (B) and sold under a decree obtained on the mortgage, where the question is raised whether the money for which the property was mortgaged had been borrowed by (B), for his own private use, or for the benefit of the family, held that the onus was on the defendant to show that the plaintiff had derived any benefit from the money. SREEMUTTY SREEMUTTY v. LUKHEE NARAIN DATT, 22 W.R. 171.

(37)—Hindu Law—Mortgage by widow—Suit by representative of mortgagee against reversionary heirs to enforce mortgage—Burden of proof.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—continued.

—In a suit by the heir of a mortgagee against a Hindu proprietor's heirs, in possession after the death of his widow, to enforce a mortgage by her, the burden of proving the money to have been advanced to the widow for a purpose justified by legal necessity is on the plaintiff. It is incumbent on him to adduce sufficient evidence of the nature of the transaction. General evidence, to the effect that the husband died in debt and that the widow substituted new securities at reduced interest for former mortgages, is not sufficient to exempt the plaintiff from having to prove the particulars of the transaction and its justification. The burden of proving that the estate left by the husband is sufficient to meet the claim upon the widow is not thrown upon the defendants. MAHESHAR BAKSH SINGH v. RATAN SINGH. 23 C. 766, P.C. = 23 I.A. 57 = 6 M.L.J. 127 = 7 Sar. 19. (6 M.I.A. 393, Diss.)

(38)—Burden of proof—Suit by reversioner.—Where, after a widow's death, the reversioner sued the donee for the possession of the house, held that the burden was on the donee to prove that the widow had, when she executed the deed of gift, such absolute right of ownership as would entitle her to alienate and deal with the property in any manner which would go beyond her life-interest. GANPAT RAO v. RAM CHUNDER, 11 A. 296 = A.W.N. 1889, 111.

(39)—Sale for arrears of rent due by father—Purchase by son—Onus of proof,—Where property was sold for arrears of revenue due by a father and it was purchased by the son, who, at the time of purchase, was living together with the vendor, it was held that the son must prove that his purchase was bona fide. HUR SUHAYE MISSER v. DEEN DYAL SINGH, 7 W.R. 275.

(40)—Guardian of minors, sale by—Onus of proof—Where the plaintiffs sue to set aside a sale effected by their guardians during their minority on the ground that the transaction was fraudulent and collusive, held, that the onus of substantiating the allgations lay on them. ACHUNTH SINGH v. KISHEN PERSHAD SINGH, W R. 1864, 37.

(41)—Sale of minor's property—Bona fides of transaction.—Where a person, after attaining majority, questions any sale of his property by his guardian during his minority, the burden of proving the bona fides lies on the person who upholds the purchase. ROOP NARAIN SINGH v. GUJADHAR PERSHAD NARAIN. 9 W.R. 297.

(42)—Suit to set aside sale by guardian with the sanction of the Court—Onus of proof on purchaser—Difference between stranger purchaser and creditor-purchaser—Onus of proof of necessity of sale by guardian—S. 18, Act XL of 1858—Onus of proof of fraud.—In a suit to set aside alienations made with the sanction of the Court, under s. 18 of Act XL of 1858 by the guardian, the burden of proving that the alienations were improperly made lies heavily on the plaintiff, when the purchaser is a stranger; whereas in the case of the purchaser being himself the creditor, the onus is shifted on to the purchaser when the plaintiff has established a prima facie case—Per Prinsep, J. [R., 15 C. 40.] Previous to the passing of Act XL of 1858, the purchaser of property from a guardian had, in a suit to recover it by the minor, to prove his good faith and his having satisfied himself, after proper enquiries. of the necessity for the sale. S. 18 of Act XL of 1858 assimilates the law more closely to the English law upon the subject and the purchaser at a sale made with the sanction of the Court, under the section, is not bound to make the same enquiries which duty the section casts upon the Judge making the order—Per Garth, C.J. (Prinsep, J., was a different view.) [F., 6 C. 161; R., 22 C. 545.] Where fraud or illegality is alleged as a ground for setting aside a sale by a guardian made with the sanction of the Court, the onus lies upon the plaintiff to make out a prima facie case and to show that the debt, forming the consideration for the sale, was one for which the minor was not responsible. Per Garth C.J. SIKHER CHUND v. DULPUTTY SINGH, 5 C. 363=5 C.L.R. 374.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—19.—Hindu Law—continued.

(43)—Debt contracted by Karnavan—Presumption—Burden of proof.—In the absence of evidence, there is no presumption of law that a debt contracted by a Karnavan was contracted on behalf of the tarwad. It is for the creditor to show, if it is disputed, that the obligor had authority, from the family, as their agent or manager, to contract debts, and that he assumed to act, in the particular instance, as such agent or manager. When this is shown, it lies on the family to show that, in the particular instance, the obligor was not acting within the scope of his authority. KUTTI MANNADIYAR v. PAYANU MUTHAN, 3 M. 288.

(44)—Heir's title to estate uncontested—Possession obstructed—Conveyance by ancestor—Onus on obstructor.—Where an heir's title to an estate is uncontested, and his possession only obstructed by an alleged conveyance on the part of an ancestor, held that the person in possession who caused the obstruction should prove the fact of the conveyance. KAMINEE MOHUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. KALEE KANT SEIN, 14 W.R. 275.

(45)—Purchaser bound to show what was purchased.—A purchaser of another's right and interest is bound to show what may be properly comprised under that denomination. RAM NATH RAY v. SALEEM AHMED KHAN, 3 N. W.P. 188 [R., 7 N.W.P. 261, F.B.]

(46)—Widow allowed to exercise full rights of ownership—Curtailment of those rights—Onus of proof.—Where a widow has been allowed to exercise acts of ownership, in respect of landed property belonging to her deceased husband incompatible with a mere right to maintenance from his estate, the onus of proof that the widow is entitled to nothing beyond a bare maintenance lies upon the party asserting this. NOWINDH SINGH v. MUSSAMAT SOHUN KOOER, 3 N.W.P. 12.

(47)—Hindu Law—Streedhun—Proof—A Hindu wife, seeking to exempt property from responsibility for her husband's debts, must clearly prove that she had streedhun, and that she purchased the property with her self-acquired funds. BROJOMOHUN MYTEE v. MUSSAMUT RADHA KOOMAREE, W.R. 1864, 60.

(48)—Suit for possession by lakherajdar—Onus of proof.—A person suing as lakherajdar, for possession of land of which he has been dispossessed by the zemindar, is not entitled to a decree, merely on the ground of his possession after the resumption proceedings, but on proof of possession several years before presumption. BIBEE REAZOONISSA v. MOTEE SINGH, 2 W. R. 236.

See CERTIFICATE OF ADMINISTRATION—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1902, 62.

Limitation Act, sch. II, arts. 142, 144—Settlement records and maps, value of as evidence—Separate ownership of land and of trees on land—See EVIDENCE—MAPS, 2 L.B.R. 56.

Fact of adoption admitted—Validity impugned—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 30 C. 999=7 C.W.N. 784.

Suit for declaration of invalidity of alleged adoption—Right to immediate possession obstructed by intervention of widow's estate—Burden of proof that adoption was invalid or never took place lies on plaintiff—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, A.W.N. 1908, 79=5 A.L. J. 200=30 A. 197.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, A.W.N. 1899, 28, 3 B. 273.

Validity of transaction depending on proof of legal necessity—Duty of creditor—See HINDU LAW — ALIENATION, 32 C. 158=9 C.W.N. 330.

Mortgagee—Auction-purchaser and reversioner—Contest between—Infancy of reversioner at the time of the mortgage—Effect—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 6 C.L.J. 490.

Hindu Law—Joint family—Alienation of ancestral property by father—Son's right—Burden of proving immorality—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 6 A. 193=A.W.N. 1884, 23.

Suit on mortgage by father—Liability of son's shares—Onus on creditor of proof of legal necessity for loan—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 9 A. 493=A.W.N. 1887, 116.

Claim under hypothecation bonds executed by limited owners—Extent of liability of estate—

Burden of proof*—continued.

—19.—Hindu Law—continued.

Burden of proving necessity for loan—Consent of reversioners, nature and effect of—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 21 A. 71=2 C.W. N. 729=25 I.A. 183, P.C.

In cases of alienations by a Hindu daughter owning a life-estate—Of legal necessity is on the alienee—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 36 C. 753=2 Ind. Cas. 152.

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 14 A. 420=19 I.A. 196, P.C. A W.N. 1886, 73, 2 B.H.C. 23, 10 W.R. 8, 2 M.H.C. 407, 17 A. 125=A. W.N. 1895, 24, 14 A. 179, F.B. = A W.N. 1892, 49, 4 B. 462, 119 P.R. 1901, 6 B. 520, 6 M. 400, 7 M 39, 13 M. 51.

Family custom allowing adoption—Burden of proof, difference in, according as family is generally subject or not to Hindu Law—See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM, 11 C. 463, P.C.=12 I A. 72.

See HINDU LAW — CUSTOM, 85 P.L.R. 1903=30 P.R. 1903.

Joint Hindu family—Liability of sons for father's debts—Defence of sons that debts were incurred for immoral purposes—Burden of proof on sons and not on creditors—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, A.W.N. 1908, 61=5 A.L.J. 175 =30 A. 156.

Suit by son to set aside mortgage-decree against father—Proof of son's non-liability to pay debt—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 16 C P. L.R. 169.

Hindu Law—Money borrowed by manager of joint family—Onus on creditor to prove loan for family purpose—Series of pecuniary dealings between parties—Nature of evidence required—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 21 B. 808.

See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 16 P.R. 1878.

Gosains—Office of Mahant—Marriage—Forfeiture — Evidence — Burden of proof — See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 5 B. 682.

Party setting up illatam arrangement—On—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 12 M. 442.

Hindu Law—Disqualification from inheritance— Presumption — Leprosy—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 C.L.J. 323.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 9 W.R. 439, 13 W.R. 21, P.C =13 M I.A. 333.

Attachment of Hindu son's interests in execution of decree against father personally—Debt not tainted with immorality—Son's interest not liable to exemption from attachment—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 27 A. 16, F.B.=A.W.N. 1904, 151=1 A.L.J. 310.

Hindu Law—Joint family—Joint or separate property—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, A.W.N. 1905, 212=2 A.L J. 658.

Presumption and onus of proof as to joint family—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 1 Agra 220.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—19.—Hindu Law—continued.

Hindu Law—Presumption as to joint nature of family and its property—Burden of proof as to separate nature of property—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 8 B. 154.

Hindu Law—Property left by will—Members of testator's family setting up that property was ancestral—Onus of proof—Property derived from mother, ancestral nature of—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 12 B. 132.

Law applicable to Khoja Mahomedans in Bombay—Ancestral property—Son's right to claim partition during life-time of father—Custom—Wealth amused in trade by individual, when ancestral—Evidence—Onus of proof—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 13 B. 534.

Cutchi memons—Position with regard to family property, governed by rules of Hindu law and custom—Family firm—Onus on member of family to show he is no partner—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 14 B. 189.

Property alleged to be self-acquisition by one party and contended to be joint property by the other—Existence of ancestral property — Presumption — See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 3 M.L.T. 314.

Member of a joint Hindu family going into trade with funds not belonging to family—whether acquisition of trade joint family property or self-acquisition of acquiror — See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 25 P.R. 1906 =81 P.L.R. 1906.

Presumption of jointness in Dayabhaga families—Proof of exclusion—See HINDU LAW —JOINT FAMILY, 4 C.L J. 56.

Hindu Law — Self-acquisition — Burden of proof—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 9 M. 477.

Importance of—Question of onus in Court of appeal—Practice—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 12 Bom. L.R. 801.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT AMILY, A.W. N. 1898, 60, A.W.N. 1902, 20, 4 O.C. 277, 1 B L.R.A.C 164=10 W.R. 198, 9 W.R. 558; 10 W.R. 436, 6 M.I.A. 53, 10 M.I.A. 490, 11 M.I.A. 369, 85 P.R. 1867, 17 P.R. 1870, 33 P.R. 1870, 2 Hay, 353, 13 A. 165, P.C., 5 B. H.C.A.C., 71, 6 M H C 371, 22 A. 141=A W. N. 1900, 2, 9 C. 237, 2 M. 19, 8 M. 214, 10 M. 251.

Legitimacy — Hindu Law — See HINDU. LAW—LEGITIMACY, A.W.N. 1905, 214.

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE, 3 B 372.

Nambudri Brahmins—Right of junior member to marry—Custom—Burden of proof—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 14 M.L.J. 214.

Custom of succession at variance with lex loci—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 3 A.L.J. 209=28 A. 458=A.W.N. 1906, 83.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 1 W.R. 30, P.C., 9 M.I.A. 66, 5 W.R. 67, P C., 13 M.I.A. 181, 13 M.L J. 75, 3 C.P.L.R. 41.

S. DAR, B.A.L.L.B.,
...High Court,
...AR (Kashmir).

Burden of proof*—continued.

——19.—Hindu Law—concluded.

See HINDU LAW — RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 2 C. 341, P.C.=4 I.A. 52.

Alienation by Hindu widow — Consent of some only of a number of reversioners of equal degree—Want of necessity—Validity of alienation—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 8 O.C. 21.

Acquisitions out of the income of widow's estate—Intention of widow to treat it as separate property or as an accretion to estate—Power of alienation—Bona fide purchaser for value—Burden of proof—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 11 O.C. 310.

Alienation made by widow without legal necessity—Right of son subsequently adopted by her to question—Onus on alienee from widow of proving grounds justifying alienation—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 11 B. 609.

Hindu widow—Acquisitions from property inherited from husband—Her power of disposition—Presumption—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 25 M. 351=12 M.L.J. 5.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 24 M. 441, 6 M.L.J. 127, P.C., 14 M.L.J. 139.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1903, art. 118, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 145=11 W.R. 468.

Hindu Law—Decree on mortgage executed by father—Sons not made parties under s. 85, Transfer of Property Act—Onus on son of proving mortgagee's knowledge of their interests—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 21 A. 193.

See POSSESSION—GENERAL, 9 M.L.J. 33.

——20.—Husband and wife.

See HUSBAND AND WIFE.

(1)—Delivery of Company's paper by wife to husband—Burden of proof of bona fide sale.—In a suit by a wife (a Mahomedan woman) against her husband to recover the value of Company's paper, and personal estate, etc., the plaint alleged, that such paper being her separate property, had been, as she lived in seclusion, endorsed and handed over by her to her husband for the purpose of receiving the interest thereon. The defence of the husband was, that he had purchased such paper from his wife and, on the endorsement and delivery, had paid the full value to his wife, who had appropriated the proceeds to her own use. Held, upon a review of the evidence, that although the wife failed to prove affirmatively the precise case alleged by her in the plaint the husband was bound to show something more than the mere endorsement and delivery of the Company's paper, and that from the relations subsisting between the parties, the onus probandi was upon him to establish, first that the transaction which he set up was a bona fide sale; and second, that he gave full value for the Company's paper so received from his wife. Held, further, that, in the absence of proof of the husband having the means of purchasing the Company's paper, he being at the time in embarrassed circumstances, and of the condition of the wife, a secluded woman, that no purchase had taken place, and that the transaction was fraudulent as against her. MOONSHEE BUZLOOR RUHEEM v. SHUMSHEROONNISSA BEGUM, 8 W.R. 3, P.C. =11 M.I.A. 551=2 Sar. 289=2 Suther. 59. (On appeal from W.R. F.B. 60.)

Burden of proof*—continued.

——20.—Husband and wife—continued.

(2)—Suit by wife against husband—Defence bona fide sale and consideration—Onus on husband—Endorsement of Government securities, scope of general rule as to.—In a suit by a wife against her husband, in which the defence is bona fide sale and payment of consideration money, the onus is on the defendant. The mere endorsement of Government Securities (which, in the case of strangers of third parties, would throw the onus on the person alleging fraud) did not apply when the relation was that of husband and wife. MOONSHEE BUZZUL RUHIM v. SHUMSHEROON NISSA BEGUM, W.R., F.B. 60 (on appeal, 8 W.R. 3, P.C.= 11 M.I.A. 551).

(3)—Property purchased in the name of Hindu wife—Presumption.—Quære.—Whether, in the absence of evidence as to the source of the purchase money, any presumption arises that property purchased in the name of a Hindu wife has been purchased with her husband's money and is his property? Semble.—No presumption arises either way; the burden of proof depends upon the pleadings in each case and the position of the parties as plaintiffs or defendants—Per Field, J., CHOWDRANI v. TARINY KANTH LAHIRY CHOWDRY, 8 C. 545=11 C.L.R. 41. [Reversed, 13 C. 181, P.C.; R., 17 M.L.J. 339; D., 10 C. 686.]

(4)—Mahomedan wife—Suit by wife for recovery of property—Cause of action—Presumption.—In a suit by Mahomedan wife, against her husband after divorce, for recovery of property belonging to her, cause of action arises when she separates from her husband; and, until the husband has proved his right to the property, the presumption is that he only held on behalf of his wife. ABDOOL ALI v. KURRUMNISSA, 9 W.R. 153.

(5)—Possession—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover property on the allegation that the plaintiff's father obtained it in gift from his wife where it had been in the possession of father and son for more than thirty years and the defendant's name had been recorded in the collectorate as heir to the wife, held that considering that the husband and wife had been joint tenants, the plaintiff should prove that his possession was possession on his own account and not that of an agent. VELAET ALI KHAN v. MUSSAMUT AZMUN, 11 W.R. 513.

(6)—Suit for property from husband to wife under kobala—Execution of kobala admitted—Nature of transfer in question—Court not to presume consideration—Plaintiff to prove it.—

Burden of proof*—continued.

——20.—Husband and wife—concluded.

In a suit by a wife to recover property alleged to have passed to her from her husband under a kobala, the execution of which is undoubted, where the question is whether the transfer represented a real or simply a paper transaction, it is not for the Court to presume but for the plaintiff to prove that there was substantial consideration. HUR CHUNDER DUTT v. MUSST. URSHUDOONNISSA BIBEE, 24 W.R. 477.

(7)—Purchase of property by husband in the name of wife—Presumptions—Onus.—Where a Mahomedan husband was found to have paid the purchase-money for a putnee-talook standing in the name of his wife, it was held that his having been in possession of the money was prima facie evidence that the putnee-talook belonged to himself, and not to his wife, and that presumption was not rebutted, by the fact that he purchased the putnee in the name of his wife. RANEE SURNOMOYEE v. LUCHMEEPUT DOOGUR, 9 W.R. 338.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 112, 29 C. 111, P.C. = 29 I.A. 17 = 6 C.W.N. 146.

——21.—Intervenors.

See INTERVENORS.

(1)—Suit for rent—Intervenor supporting defendant's case.—Where in a suit for rent under a kubooleut, an intervenor supports the defendant's case, alleging the rents to have been paid to himself, and not to the plaintiff, the burden of proving such receipt and enjoyment lies entirely on the intervenor and the plaintiff need not establish his title or the kabooleut until the intervention is disposed of. RAM BHUROSE SINGH v. JEWA MAHATOON, 11 W.R. 319. See, also, RADHA KISHORE TALUKDAR v. GOLUCK CHUNDER ROY, 11 W.R. 366.

(2)—Suit for kabooleut—Intervention—Inability to prove possession—Special appeal.—An intervenor in a suit for a kabooleut of certain parcels of land, unable to give conclusive evidence of the actual possession he sets up, is out of Court in special appeal. RADHA KISHORE TALOOKDAR v. GOLUCK CHUNDER ROY, 11 W.R. 366.

(3) Decree under s. 77, Act X of 1859—Ejectment of person enjoying rent—Onus, on whom lies.—Where a person has been formally declared by a decree under s. 77, Act X of 1859, to be in the enjoyment of the rent of the disputed land and consequently in possession, it is incumbent on another person seeking to oust him to prove his title. RUNGO MONEE DOSSEE v. UNNOPOORNA DEBIA, 7 W.R. 149.

(4)—Suit to get rid of Collector's decision under s. 77, Act X of 1859—Burden of proof.—Where a party entitled seeks to get rid of the effect of a Collector's decision in favour of an intervenor under s. 77, Act X of 1859, he must institute a suit to prove his title; it is not sufficient for him to prove a vague allegation of dispossession and put the burden of proving title on the defendant. MOHESSUR MOOKERJEE v. KALEEDOSS MOOKERJEE, 11 W.R. 378.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——21.—Intervenors—continued.

(5)—Suit for rent of mousah—Intervention—Consent—Issues—Special appeal.—A suit for rent of a certain land alleged to belong to a mouzah bought at auction-sale being dismissed owing to the intervention of the defendant who claimed the land as part of her mouzah, both parties consenting to have the case decided on the question whether the defendants mouzah was or was not in existence, though the plaintiffs were bound to prove their own case, it was held that yet the defendant could not make out a new case in special appeal. MOONDUR BEBEE v. HUNOOMAN PERSHAD, 11 W.R. 277.

(6)—Suit by purchaser of lakheraj tenure for rent—Intervention — S. 77, Act X of 1859—Burden of proof.—Where a suit by the purchaser of an alleged lakeraj tenure for rent from his under-tenant is thrown out by the intervention of the superior landlord under s 77, Act X of 1859, all he has to do in a regular suit is to prove that he is entitled to the rent. RAJ CHUNDER GHOSE v. JOY CHUNDER DUTT, 12 W R. 197.

(7)—Suit for possession against plaintiff's vendor—Claim by third party—Such party impleaded—Onus of proof.—In a suit to recover possession of property from plaintiff's vendor, where a third party claims, and is made defendant the burden of proof lies on the intervenor. JUGGODANUND MISSER v. HAMID RUSSOOL, 10 W.R. 52.

(8)—Intervenor—Onus of proof.—In a suit for recovery of possession of property under a registered kobala, the appellant intervened, alleging that he had purchased from the same vendors the disputed property prior to the plaintiff's purchase, and was made a party defendant. Held that, after the plaintiffs had proved their case against the original defendant, it was for the appellant to prove not only his prior purchase, but also his possession under it. BALMA KUNDU DUBAYE v. ADIKUNDA PUNDA, 7 C.L R. 560. (10 W.R. 52, 13 W.R. 362, R.)

(9)—Act X of 1859, s. 77—Suit for kabuliat—Intervenor—Onus.—The plaintiff sued defendant (a ryot) for a kabuliat. The defendant admitted the plaintiff's right to the kabuliat sued for. An intervenor appeared on the allegation that he was in actual receipt and enjoyment of the rents bona fide. Held, that the onus was on the intervenor to prove that he was bona fide in actual receipt and enjoyment of the rents, and not on the plaintiff to prove his possession. SHEIKH BHARULLA alias BAROMIA v. SHEIKH MAGAN, 3 B.L.R. App. 61.

(10)—Suit for rent of share under butwarrah —Reg. XIX of 1814—Dismissal of suit—Non-production of documents—Onus of proof on intervenor.—A suit for rent of a share consequent on a butwara under Regulation XIX of 1814 having been dismissed because plaintiff could not file either jumma-wassil-bakee or kubooleut held that before dismissing the suit, the lower Appellate Court was bound to put the intervenor to the proof that the land appertained to the share which he got from his vendor, who obtained it by inheritance from one of the shareholders and to notice plaintiff's evidence, it being no defence to the intervenor that he was not invited to attend the butwara. HURCHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. MEER MUKRUM ALI, 17 W.R. 143.

Burden of proof—continued.

——21.—Intervenors—concluded.

See MORTGAGE — POSSESSION UNDER MORTGAGE, 12 W.R. 19.

——22—Landlord and tenant.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

(1)—Ryot holding under Zemindar—Allegation of separate title—Onus on whom lies.—When a ryot is holding lands of considerable extent under a zemindar, it is a matter peculiarly within his own knowledge of what that holding consists; and, if he alleges that one or two plots occupied by him are held under a different title, it is for him to show it. RAM COOMAR ROY v. BEEJOY GOBIND BURAL, 7 W.R. 535.

(2)—Suit by lessee of purchaser—Allegation of independent title by defendant.—In a suit by the lessee of the purchaser of the rights and interests of the first defendant in lands alleged to fall within the zemindary so purchased, where defendants allege an independent title, held that the burden of proof lay on the defendant of establishing the title. DEWAN SHUMDAN ALI v. MOTHOORANATH DUTT, 14 W.R. 229. [R., 4 C.L.J. 548.]

(3)—Rival tenants—Admission by one tenant—Resignation of tenancy—Onus of proof.—Two rival tenants, A and B, claimed to hold under the same landlord K. A admitted the tenancy of B, but pleaded resignation by him (B) of his tenancy and a lease to himself. Held that the onus of proving the resignation lay on A. KISHEN CHUNDER SHAHA v. HOOKOOM CHAND SHAHA, W.R. 1864, 47.

(4)—Suit to obtain declaration of tenancy—Onus on plaintiff.—In a suit in which plaintiff seeks to obtain a declaration that defendants had a tenure under him, the burden of proof lies on plaintiff. ROYES MOLLAH v. MUDHOO SOODUN MUNDUL, 9 W.R. 154. [R., 20 B. 798.]

(5)—Transferability of tenure—Onus of proof—Suit for resumption.—There is no presumption that any tenure held is not a transferable tenure; and a landlord suing for khas possession, on the ground that a tenure sold was not transferable, must establish his case. DOYA CHAND SHAHA v. ANUND CHUNDER SEN MOZUMDAR, 15 C. 382. [Not F., 15 C. 89; R., 13 M. 60, 25 C. 896, F.B.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(6)—Transferability of tenure—Onus of proof—Where, in a suit to recover possession of lands belonging to the putni-estate of the plaintiff, which were purchased by the defendant in execution of a money-decree against the holder of a subordinate tenure, the defendant set up that the holding was of a permanent and transferable nature, held, the onus of proof of transferability lay upon the defendant. KRIPA MOYI DABIA v. DURGA GOVIND SARKAR, 15 C. 89. (14 C. 382, Not F.) [R., 13 M. 60, 25 C. 896, F.B., 9 C.W.N. 144, 1 C. L.J. 557.]

(7)—Landlord and tenant—Sale of tenant's interest—Suit to set aside sale—Burden of proof—Transfer of Property Act, ss. 106, 108—Presumption as to tenancy and assignability—Tenancy at will—Permanent occupancy—Course of decisions.—In the absence of a covenant not to assign, a tenancy is presumably a saleable interest, and it lies on the landlord, who seeks to set aside a sale of his tenant's right and to obtain possession of the land, to show what was the nature of the tenancy, how it ceased, and how the right to present possession accrued. [F., 15 M. 95; R., 20 M. 299.] Under ss. 106 and 108 of the Transfer of Property Act, which followed the previous course of decisions, there is no presumption that every tenant in a zemindari village is a tenant-at-will, or that a tenancy is not a saleable interest. [D., 25 C. 896.] According to the course of decisions in Madras, the landlord may determine the tenancy if there is a contract, express or implied, by exercising his will in accordance with his obligations; there is no presumption in favour of a tenancy at will; an occupancy right may exist by custom; a pattadar or raiyat in a mitta is entitled to continue in possession so long as he regularly pays rent and has a saleable interest, and, by reason of special circumstances in evidence, the onus of proof may be shifted, even in regard to a permanent occupancy right, from the tenant to the landlord. APPA RAU v. SUBBANNA. 13 M. 60 [R., 23 M. 318, 30 M. 155=17 M.L.J. 64=2 M.L.T. 25.]

(8)—Suit to set aside a sub-tenure—Specific allegations in plaint about nature of tenure—Onus of proof.—In a suit to set aside an Ousut Neem Howlah sub-tenure, where plaintiff makes specific allegations of the exceptional character of the tenure, and the defendant is in possession under orders of the Revenue Court passed under cl. 6, s. 23, Act X of 1859, held, it was for the plaintiff first to prove the specific allegation of the temporary and extraordinary character of the tenure. HERU SOONDUREE DEBIA v. AMEENA BEGUM, 5 W.R. Act X Rul. 72.

(9)—Suit to recover land—Mokurruree lease—Onus of proof—In a suit to recover land under a mokurruree lease, in which the zemindar (defendant) admits the validity of the lease, but the other defendant also claims a mokurruree interest, the onus lay with the substantive defendant to show that his lease was mokurruree. RUGHOONATH LOBEY v. PURESH RAM MAHATA, 10 W.R 9.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(10)—Allegation of permanent khadim tenure under managers of endowed property — Onus probandi.—Where plaintiffs have long held as khadims under the superior holders or managers of endowed property, and set up a claim to hold a permanent khadim tenure, from which they are not liable to be ejected except for misconduct, the onus probandi is on them. CHAND MEAN v. KHONDKAR ASHRUTOLLAH, 6 W.R. 89.

(11)—Suit for possession of ayma land—Identification by plaintiff.—Where a plaintiff establishes a prima facie case of the identity of ayma land which he claims through his ancestor, who had been allowed by the Collector to retain it, it will rest with defendant to prove that the land is his own, or that it is not the ayma land which the plaintiff's ancestor once held. MOLLA ABDUR RUB v. HURRYHUR MOOKERJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 50.

(12)—Khoti land—Suit against cultivator by Khot—Burden of proof.—Where a Kabulayatdar Khot sued for rent from cultivators holding land in a Khoti village, held that the onus of proving the lands to be Khoti did not lie on the plaintiff; but that it lay with the holder of lands in a Khoti estate to prove that he is exempted from paying rent according to the custom of the country. MUHAMMAD YAKUB v. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL, 9 B.H.C. 278. (Sp. App. No. 455 of 1868, followed.)

(13)—Behar orchard lands — Bhaoli and Nukdee tenure—Onus of proving special nature of tenure.—As there is no presumption that orchard lands in Behar are held on a Bhaoli tenure only and not on a Nukdi tenure, where a zemindar sues for the value of trees cut down in an orchard in Behar, the zemindar should prove the special nature of the tenure. DOMUN SING v. SOOKUN LALL, 2 W.R. 12.

(14)—Orchard land—Possession of planter of trees.—Although generally it may be taken that land, whereon an orchard is planted, belongs to the zemindar, and has been granted to a stranger to plant trees thereon, in which case it reverts to the zemindar after the trees have disappeared and the land has become arable, yet, when it is asserted that the land belongs to the planter of the orchard, having been acquired by purchase, it is for the zemindar to prove that the land belongs to him and was given for plantation; and, in the absence of such proof, the holder or occupant may rely on his long possession. DHUNEE RAM v. AMANUT HOSSEIN, 2 Agra 361.

(15)—Landlord suing for possession—Onus of proof on landlord.—Where landlord sues for possession of land within his estate, the onus is on him to prove that he is entitled to such possession. GUDADHUR BANERJEE v. KANYE DEKHOORIA, 8 W.R. 191.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—22.—Landlordand tenant—continued.

(16)—Talukdar—Suit for possession—Land purchased in execution.—Where a talookdar sues for possession of land contained in an under-tenure purchased by him at an execution-sale, from some of which he has been dispossessed and his title in regard to the remainder is disputed, held that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his case. SHUSTEE RAM PAUL v. NOBOKANT ROY, 14 W.R. 190.

(17)—Suit for nila zamin—Extent of leased lands and nila zamin, onus of proof as to—Absence of proof—Presumption.—In a suit for nila zamin, it is for the landlord to bring evidence of the relative extent of nila zamin and leased lands, and in default of such evidence, the whole must be taken to be leased to the tenant. MR. GEORGE MAXWELL REILY v. BAMA SOONDUREE DOSSEE, 25 W.R. 398.

(18)—Ouster by defendant admitting possession—Permissive possession—Onus—Res judicata—Kabooleut declared genuine by Revenue Court—Jurisdiction of Civil Court to try question.—Where defendant, having ousted plaintiff, admits his alleged possession, but contends that it has been only permissive possession, as that of a tenant, not possession as owner the onus was held to be on the defendant. A Civil Court has jurisdiction to try the genuineness of a kubooleut found by the Revenue Court to be a genuine document. BOISTUB CHURN SEIN v. TRAHEE RAM SEIN, 15 W.R. 32. [D., 13 M. 287,]

(19)—Sale of entire holding for arrears of rent—Claim for divided portion of tenure—Proof of tenancy.—Where an entire holding has been sold for arrears of rent, plaintiff, claiming to hold a divided portion of the tenure, must prove his status as tenant in respect of the share in question. HURHUR SINGH v. MUSSAMAT OOMA KOOER, 16 W.R. 93.

(20)—Kobala held to be mala fide—Burden of proof.—Where a plaintiff in a civil suit relies on a kobala held by a Small Cause Court to be mala fide the burden of proof lies upon plaintiff that the deed was really executed. ESHAN CHUNDER DOSS v. RUKEEMOODDEEN SOWDAGUR, 10 W.R. 412.

(21)—Occupancy for a long time.—An occupancy of upwards of seventy years is sufficient to throw upon those who seek to disturb it, the burden of showing that the tenancy was not accompanied with a right of occupancy. KRISHNASWAMI v. VARADARAJA AND VARADARAJA v. VENKATACHALLA, 8 M. 345, F.B. [D., 16 M. 131, 271.]

(22)—Portion of land in which defendant claimed right of occupancy—Onus.—The onus of pointing out, that portion of the lands in which defendant claimed his right of occupancy lay on him. CHANDRABATI KOERI v. HARRINGTON, 18 C. 349, P.C. = 18 I.A. 27 = 5 Sar. 481.

(23)—S. 23, Act VIII of 1885 (Bengal Tenancy)—Occupancy tenant's right to cut trees—Custom—Onus.—According to s. 23, Act VIII of 1885, the burden of proof lies on the landlord to establish a custom prohibiting the cutting down of trees by an occupancy tenant, and not on the tenant to establish the contrary. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURI v. RAM LAL PAL, 22 C. 742.

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(24)—S. 23, Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885—Right of occupancy tenant to cut trees—Onus.—The onus rests upon an occupancy tenant to prove a custom to cut down trees. PYARI LALL PAL v. NARAYAN MANDAL, 22 C. 746, Note.

(25)—Death of occupancy tenant—Suit for possession—Collaterals—Common ancestor—Burden of proof—Presumption.—On a landlord suing for the possession of a holding in consequence of the death of an occupancy tenant, the defendants claimed it as the collaterals of the deceased. Held that the defendants should prove that a common ancestor of themselves and the deceased had held the land, of the defendants being entitled to no presumption in their favour. DIWAN v. DARA, 83 P.R. 1879.

(26)—Occupancy tenant admitting himself to be tenant at will—Proof of genuineness of admission—Onus of proof.—If a tenant, recorded as one with right of occupancy, should admit that he was a tenant-at-will, the landlord has the burden of proving that the tenant made such admission voluntarily. JYMAL SINGH v. JAMIAH SINGH, 115 P. R. 1879.

(27)—Lakheraj—Onus probandi—Suit for Kubooleut at an enhanced rate of rent—Defendant claiming land as lakheraj—Defendant not bound to give prima facie proof of claim.—UMBIKA CHURN MUNDLE v. RAMDHUN MOHURUR, 11 W.R. 35.

(28)—Onus of proving nature of tenancy.—Where the defendant admitted that he was a tenant, the onus is upon him to show that his tenancy was such as he sets up, namely, a permanent tenancy at a rent which cannot be enhanced. RAJAH KHETTER KRISTO MITTER v. KUMAR DINENDRA NARAIN ROY, 3 C.W.N. 202.

(29)—Landlord and tenant—Suit for ejectment—Burden of proof.—In a suit for ejectment, the landlord must show that, under the terms of the tenancy and in the circumstances that exist, he has a right to eject the tenant, although the latter may allege and fail to prove a right of occupancy. VENKATACHARLU v. KANDAPPA, 15 M. 95. [R., 20 M. 299, 23 M. 318.]

(30)—Proof of zamindari rights—Right to garden planted with trees.—The owner of a bagh in an estate in which he is not possessed of any zamindari rights must, if he claims a higher right than that ordinarily possessed by a tenant planter or the successor of such a planter, produce evidence in support of his claim; but, when the bagh has been admittedly planted by a zamindar and has been, on the sale of his zamindari rights, reserved by him, it is incumbent on the purchaser to prove that, by the reservation, the vendor reserved only the interest which a tenant-planter would have possessed in the bagh. ALI BUKSH v. MUDUN GOPAL, 3 Agra 369.

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(31)—Suit for kabuliat—Lands accreting to zimma tenure with fixed rent—Regulations XI of 1825 and VIII of 1793—Act X of 1859, s. 15—In a suit for a kuboleut on an alleged right to assess lands which have accreted to a permanent zimma tenure, the plaintiff should prove that, under the law of accretion, s. 4, Reg. XI of 1825, the accretions are, either by custom or agreement, liable to be assessed. JUGGUT CHUNDER DUTT v. DESPINO PANIO-TY, 8 W.R 427.

(32)—Acknowledgment of tenancy—Suit for kabuliat.—In a suit before the Collector for a kabuliat, on the ground that the defendant had occupied and cultivated certain lands of the plaintiff, the defendant pleaded that he was coparcener with the plaintiff of the land, but he admitted that he had given a kabuliat for some of the lands he occupied. Held that since by giving the kabuliat the defendant had acknowledged the plaintiff to be his landlord, the onus of proving the plea was upon the defendant. JUGGOBUNDOO MOOZOOMDAR v. GOOROOPERSHAD ROY, Marsh 54. See, also, GUROO PERSAD ROY v. JUGGOBUNDOO MOOZOOMDAR, W.R.F.B. 15=1 Hay 228.

(33)—Suit for kabuliat—Admission of partial tenancy—Onus of proving non-tenancy—Jurisdiction of Collector.—In a suit for Kabuliat when the defendant admits partial tenancy, the onus is on him to prove non-tenancy as to the rest. The Collector has jurisdiction in such a case. GOORO PRASAD ROY v. JUGGOBUNDOO MOZOOMDAR, W.R. F.B. 15.

(34)—Suit for pattah at amulnama rate—Plaintiff to prove fairness of rate—Where a ryot sues for a pottah at the rate fixed by the amulnamah given by defendant, the plaintiff was held bound to prove that the rate was fair. KISHEN PERSHAD SINGH v. MOHUN SINGH, 15 W.R. 420.

(35)—Suit for rent—Waste and lakeraj land—Plea of.—In a suit for rent, when the raiyat pleads that part of the land is waste and lakheraj, the onus is on the landlord to prove that such land has paid rent to him in previous years. MOTEE LALL ADUCK v. JUDOOPUTTEE DOSS, 2 W.R. Act X, Rul. 44. See also GUMANI KAZI v. HARIHAR MOOKERJEE, B.L.R. Sup Vol. 15=W.R F.B. 116=Marsh 527. MIRTOONJOY CHUCKERBUTTY v. BURODA KANT ROY, 6 W.R. Act X. Rul. 18, and BISHESHUR CHUCKERRUTTY v. WOOMA CHURN ROY, 7 W.R. 44.

(36)—Lakheraj land—Suit for enhancement of rent—Onus of proof.—To entitle the plaintiff to recover enchanced rent for that portion of the land which the defendant states is his lakheraj, the plaintiff ought to show that it is his mal land. The Judge must throw the onus of proof, in the first place, on him, and go into the defendant's evidence, only if the plaintiff makes out a prima facie case, and then not look to the validity of defendant's title, but his possession of the land as lakheraj. MIBTOONJOY CUCKERBUTRY v. RAJAH BARODA KANT ROY, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 18.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(37)—Suit for rent—Plaintiff denied to be landlord—Allegation of payment to intervenor—Points to be inquired into.—Where in a suit for rent, defendant denies that plaintiff is landlord, alleging payment to an intervenor, it is not enough that the intervention is set aside; the Court must inquire whether defendant is a ryot of the plaintiff. JAGURDEE v. RADHA KISHORE TALOOKDAR, 13 W.R. 259.

(38)—Suit for rent—Ejectment—Onus as to rate of rent—Abatement.—A tenant sued for rent may set up as answer ejectment by title paramount to that of his lessor; and if evicted from part of the land, the lessor must, on claiming an apportionment, show what is the fair rate of the lands out of which the tenant is not evicted. GOPANUND JHA v. LALLA GOBIND PERSHAD, 12 W.R. 109. [Cons., 24 C. 296; R., 25 B. 269.]

(39)—Rent alleged to be due under arrangement—Arrangement denied—Onus of proving arrangement—Copies of depositions taken when defendant was no party—Evidence.—In a suit for rent alleged as due under an arrangement, repudiated by the defendant, the burden of proving the arrangement is on the plaintiff. Copies of depositions given in suits to which the defendant was no party are no evidence against him in subsequent suits. SHUMBOO GEER GOSSAIN v. RAM JEWAN LALL, 8 W.R. 509.

(40)—Suit for rent by share-holder—Plea of duty to pay in full to person entitled to entire rent—Onus.—In a suit for rent by a share-holder, where defendant contends that he is not bound to pay otherwise than by entirety to the person entitled to the whole rent, held that the burden lay on the plaintiff to show that he had a right to sue for a fractional portion of the rent as he had sued. MUSSAMUT LALUN v. HEMRAJ SINGH, 20 W.R. 76. [Appr., 4 C. 96, F. B.; D., 24 W.R. 350.]

(41)—Landlord and tenant—Rate of rent—Onus.—The mere fact that a tenant some time ago gave a kabuliyat for a limited period at a particular rate of rent, is not sufficient in itself to throw upon the defendant the entire burden of proving what the present rent is, without any evidence on the part of the landlord that the rent specified in the kabuliyat had ever been realised from him. MUKUNDA CHUNDRA SARMA SARKAR v. ARPAN ALI SHEIKH, 2 C.W.N. 47.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(42)—Suit for rent—Plea of payment—Nature and onus of proof.—The tenant, who, in a suit for arrears of rent for a certain year, pleads payment and cites the plaintiff's agent, who deposes to having received moneys from the defendant's under-tenant but not for the year in question, must specifically prove that such payments were in respect of the rent due for the period sued for. The tenant himself should take care, when he makes the payment, that the receipt given by the landlord is in proper form. BIBEE SYEFUN v. RUDDER SOHAY, 7 C. 582.

(43)—Suit for rent—Onus of proof about rate.—In an ordinary case, when a landlord brings a suit to recover rent, it is for him to establish the rate at which he is entitled to recover if there it any dispute as to the rate. But when the defendants were in possession as tiecadars from 1262 to 1281, and the plaintiff never realized any rent from the defendants, whose tenancy was established in a previous litigation between himself and the defendants, held that the plaintiffs should be deemed to have stated the case in having proved that nine annas was the ordinary Hakimee (or landlord's) share in the village, and that it was for the defendants to prove their special plea that the proportion was eight annas and not nine annas. LOCHUN CHOWDHRY v. ANUP SINGH, 8 C.L.R. 426.

(44)—Suit for arrears of rent—Onus of proof.—In a suit to recover arrears of rent from the defendant upon a registered kabuliat, the defendant pleaded that, although he executed the kabuliat, he did not obtain possession of all the lands as described in it. Held, that the onus was upon the defendant to prove his case. BANI MADHUB MOOKERJEE v. SRIDHUR DEB GHUTTACK, 10 C.L.R. 555.

(45)—Suit for rent—Ejectment—Rate of rent claimed in question—Burden of proof on plaintiff.—In a suit for arrears of rent and for ejectment in consequence of non-payment where defendant challenges the rate claimed as well as plaintiff's right to sue alone, held that the burden of proving his right to the rate of rent sued for and that he was the sole proprietor lay on the plaintiff. SHAIKH ASHRUF v. RAM KISHORE GHOSE, 23 W.R. 289.

(46)—Suit for rent—Defendant pleading payment—Onus.—Held, that, in a suit for rent where the tenant pleads payment, the onus is on him. PUREEAG LAL v. RAM JEEAN LALL, 1. W.R. 264.

(47)—S. 30. Reg. II of 1819—Assessment of lakheraj lands—Plaintiff, onus on.—In a suit under s. 30, II of 1819, to assess more than 100 beegahs of land alleged to be plaintiff's mal lands, is the duty of the plaintiff to prove that the lands were his mal lands on or before the 1st December 1790, before the other party can be called upon to prove his title. SOOKHODA DEBIA v. SHEIKH AZEEOODDEEN, 2. W.R. 302.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(48)—Suit for arrears of rent—Deduction for lands washed away—Onus probandi.—In a suit for arrears of rent, where deduction is claimed for lands washed away, the defendant is entitled to such deduction; but the whole onus lies upon the defendant of proving the extent of the deduction to which he is entitled and of showing precisely what lands have disappeared; and the plaintiff in proving that full rent has ever been paid has proved a sufficient prima facie case. MR. THOMAS SAVI v. OBHOY NATH BOSE, 2 W.R. Act X, Rul. 27.

(49)—Rent, collection of—Onus of proof.—Whether the plaintiff's superior tenure is admitted over the whole or only a part of the defendants under tenure, and whether the existence, over a part of that under-tenure, of tenures independent of the plaintiff's under-tenure is pleaded, the onus of proving that rent has been collected direct from the tenant in possession lies upon the defendant. RAJ CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v. SHAIKH ABBAS, 5 W.R. 185

(50)—No allegation by defendant about plaintiffs' knowledge as to amount of deductions—Admission of plaintiff about deductions—Onus of-proof.—Where the defendant never sets forth plaintiff's knowledge of the amount of deductions and the plaintiff admits that deductions of a certain class and description would be made, it is for the defendant, who had made the outlay on account of which the deductions were claimed by him, to prove the amounts. LEKHRAJ ROY v. MR. U. BUCKLAND, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 65.

(51)—Arrears of rent—Onus of proof—Jumma wassil baki papers—Evidence.—In a suit for arrears of rent at a specified rate, the plaintiff is to discharge the burden of proving that the defendant held the said land for which he was liable to pay at the rate sued for. Jumma wassil baku papers are not of independent evidentiary value. SHAIKH NEWAZEE v. L. LLOYD, 8 W.R. 464.

(52)—Act X of 1859, s. 4—Presumption under section—Onus.—The presumption under s 4, Act X of 1859, is not removed by defendant's statement that the orchard was made more than 40 years ago ; the onus resting with the plaintiffs. SOODISHTEE LALL CHOWDHRY v. MUTHOO LALL CHOWDHRY, 8 W.R. 487.

(53)—Rent suit—Sale-deed—Onus on plaintiff—Written statement.—In a suit for rent where a deed of sale is the foundation of plaintiff's right, the plaintiff should establish the deed, in spite of the defendant's failure to object to it in the written statement. ZIMUT HOSSEIN v. KUNEEZ FATIMA, 12 W.R. 5.

(54)—Short lease—Ryot holding over—Onus of proof.—Where a landlord claims rent from a ryot holding under a short lease, for a period after the expiry of his lease, held that such landlord was bound to prove that the latter held on subsequently to the term of the lease. TILUCK PATTUCK v. MAHABEER PANDEY, 15 W.R. 454.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(55)—Rent-suit against shareholder—Intervenor—Decision without jurisdiction—Evidence—Onus probandi.—Where plaintiff's share of rent said to be due to him by defendant, another shareholder, in respect of the occupation of a certain zerait land constituting the holding of the combined shareholders, and the defendant pleaded that the share of the plaintiff was less than what he stated it to be, held that the plaintiff was bound to prove the extent of his share. A ryot, in such a case, resisting the claim of a shareholder to rent could also, for valid reasons, oblige the plaintiff prove the amount of his share ; but in the case of an intervenor, the only onus on him would be to prove bona fide possession. A decision set aside by a superior Court as made without jurisdiction has no probative force between the parties. SOOKRAM MISSER v. W. CROWDY, 19 W.R. 283. [R., 35 751.]

(56)—Execution of kabuliat—Plea of non-liability for rent—Allegation of benamee—Onus of proof of ownership—Where a tenant, who has executed a kabuliat in the name of A, pleads non-liability to A for the rent, on the ground that A is benami for somebody else the onus is on him to prove that somebody else is, and that the ostensible owner is not the real owner. MUSSAMUT INDERBUTTEE KOOER v. SHAIKH MUKHOOB ALI TICCADAR, 24 W.R. 44.

(57)—Rent-suit—Admission of claim—Payment, proof of.—In a suit for arrears of rent where defendant admits that certain sums are due, he is bound to prove payment. ROY MONOHUR LALL v. DHAREE GOALA, 24 W.R. 341.

(58)—Landlord and tenant—Rent, nature of—Burden.—The appellant, a zemindar, sued the respondent, his tenant, for the value of his share of the produce of certain land by way of rent, alleging that the rent was payable in kind. The respondent alleged that the rent of the land in question was payable in coin, admitting, however, that it had formerly been paid in kind. Held, that the burden of proving the charge alleged by the respondent lay on him GRISH CHUNDER v. GANPAT NARAIN, A.W.N. 1882, 113.

(59)—Rent-free land—Demand of rent—Burden of proof.—Where certain land has been admittedly rent-free for fifty years, the burden of proving that rent is due is upon the person demanding it. KEVAL KUKER v. THE TALUQDARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER AND GAGUBHI ABHESANGJI TALUQDAR, 1 B. 586.

(60)—Landlord's right to eject tenant after notice—Exception—Proof.—A landlord is entitled to eject his tenant after notice, unless debarred by certain rights of his tenant. He is not required to prove the absence of the circumstances which entitle that tenant to retain possession NUBO COOMAR GHOSE v. OOZIR SHIKDAR, 23 W.R. 238. [R., 11 C.L.R. 476.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(61)—Suit for ejectment—Plea of gujasta tenure—Burden of proof—Ben. Act VIII of 1869, s. 102—Suit for arrears of rent—Second appeal.—Where, in a suit for ejectment of the defendants on the ground that they were mere yearly tenants without any right, the defendants state that the holding was gujasta and transferable, and the plaintiff fails to establish a prima facie case that the tenants had no such right, and the defendants have produced evidence to show the existence of such a right, held that the plaintiff is not entitled to a decree for ejectment. In suits for arrears of rent, where a question whether the tenancy is a gujasta holding is tried by the lower Court, a second appeal lies, although the value of the suits is below Rs. 100, and the provisions of s. 102 do not apply to them. BYJI NATH SAHOO v. RAMDOUR ROY, 7 C.L.R. 369. [D., 8 C.W.N. 437.]

(62)—Accrual of right of occupancy under s. 6, Act X of 1859.—Held that no right of occupancy under s. 6, Act X of 1859, accrues, where the tenant came into possession under a contract only, or where a right of re-entry is reserved to the landlord. Where, however, there are no such terms, but merely a pottah for a certain number of years, the onus is on the landlord to show that the tenure was such that the express limit of years may be fairly applied to the possession and construed to give the right of re-entry. ROY ODYTE NARAIN SINGH v. UBHARAN ROY, 4 W.R. Act X, Rul. 1.

(63)—Suit for possession and mesne profits—Jurisdiction.—A suit for possession of jote lands from which plaintiff had been ousted and for recovery of mesne profits against a zemindar and others, can be entertained by a Civil Court. A tenant must go out at the expiration of a lease which does not provide for re-entry, unless he can prove a right to further occupancy. PUDDO MONEE DOSSIA v. JHOLLA PALLAY, 7 W.R 283.

(64)—Suit for khas possession—Defendant a ryot—Burden of proof—Right to eviction.—Where a zemindar sues to obtain khas possession of land within his estate, if defendant is a middleman, plaintiff's right follows as a matter of course; but if a ryot, plaintiff must show that such defendant is liable to eviction. LALLA JOYNATH SAHEE DEO v. LUTCHUN CHRISTIAN, 16 W R. 158. [R., 9 C.W.N. 144.]

(65)—Suit for possession—Admission of plaintiff's title—But plea of pattah—Traverse by plaintiff—Onus on defendant.—In a suit for possession where admitting the plaintiff's title the defendant pleads a pottah from the plaintiff's ancestors, which the plaintiff traverses, the onus of proving the pattah is on the defendant. JOY RAM CHUCKERBUTTY v. BISSONATH JASH, 2 W.R. 208.

(66)—Suit by lakherajdar for possession against present putneedar—Onus of proof.—In a suit by a lakherajdar for the possession of land of which he has been dispossessed by the present putneedar and which is in a village whereof the plaintiff had been a former putneedar, the onus is on the plaintiff to prove that the land was lakheraj during the period that he held the village in putnee. NUBO KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. PROMOTHONATH GHOSE, 5 W.R. 148.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(67)—Ousut *talook—Previous claim by right of purchase—Subsequent repudiation of claim—*Onus.—Where a defendant pleaded that the ousut talook in dispute, which they had hitherto claimed as their purchase for valuable consideration, was a mere fiction, the onus probandi was held to lie on them. JUGOBUNDHOO SEIN v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER DOSS, 17 W.R. 15.

(68)—Compromise—Exchange of lands—Onus probandi.—Where a deed of compromise clearly showed that the lands granted to plaintiff were in exchange for the alleged khoodkast and khamut lands of her father, held that the onus probandi was not on the defendants as to the fact of the exchange, but on the plaintiff to start her case by some prima facie evidence. DHUNRAJ ROY v. MUSSAMAT CHUNDRABUTTY KOOER, 17 W.R. 559.

(69)—Suit to establish title to and for possession of rajbaree jute—Burden of proof on plaintiff.—In a suit to establish title to, and for possession of, a jote, which was admittedly the rajbaree jote of defendant's ancestor, held that, the real point being how this jote came into the plaintiff's hands, the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the defendant's ancestor, or his heir relinquished the jote to the zamindar and that the zamindar had authority to puttun this jote to the plaintiff. MUSSAMUT MISREE BEWA v. RAM DOOLAL BISWAS, 18 W.R. 192

(70)—Execution sale of lakheraj land—Purchase—Stranger claiming mourasi tenure in such land—Onus.—Where a party purchases at an execution-sale the rights and interests of a lakherajdar, and another claims a mourasi tenure in the property so purchased, the claimant should prove this mokurari title. If however, the defendant-claimant and his predecessors have been collecting rents from the ryots for a considerable number of years, and the jumma payable to the lakherajdar has, during all that time, remained unchanged, the Court may presume that the defendant has the mourasi right he claims, although he may not be able to produce his pottah to that effect. JUGGESSUR MOOKERJEE v. ANNUND MOYEE DOSSEE, 19 W R. 286.

(71)—Suit for possession—Plea of lakheraj——Burden of proof.—Where in a suit to recover possession of rent-paying land, as per defined boundaries, the defence is that the land is lakhiraj, the defendant's property, independently of the plaintiff, the plaintiff should not merely prove that the defendant's plea of lakhiraj is not made out: but he must also show that he is owner of the particular land he seeks to recover. KHORSHED ALI v. BABOO DHOONDHAREE SINGH, 20 W.R. 457.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(72)—Suit for khas possession—Allegation of defendant holding under expired lease—Onus on plaintiff.—In a suit by a landlord to obtain khas possession, where plaintiff's case is that defendant is holding under a lease the term of which has expired, the plaintiff has the burden on him of proving the determination of the tenure by efflux of time. RAM SEBUK DEY v. CHUNDEE CHURN DEY, 22 W. R. 510.

(73)—Possession Suit for—Title set up against defendant's zamindari rights—Onus on defendant—In a suit for khas possession against a lessee who sets up a title to defeat plaintiff's admitted right as zemindar, the defendant is bound to prove the title so set up. BEHAREE SAHOO v. PURYAG MAHTOON 23 W.R 291, [F., 11 C.L.R. 476, 15 C. 89; R., 9 C.W.N, 144.]

(74)—Act VIII of 1869, B.C., s. 27—Onus as to ejectment from portion of tenure.—Where a suit is brought under Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 27, it is for plaintiff to prove that the land is a part of his tenure, and that he has been illegally ejected. L.G. CROWDY v. RAM BHURO SEE CHOWDHRY, 23 W.R. 883.

(75)—Suit for proprietary right—Admission by tenant during settlement—Onus—S 109, Evidence Act.—Where a suit for proprietary possession of land, the plaintiffs were found to have been recorded in the settlement paper in 1859 as proprietors of the land, and the defendants to have then admitted in writing that the plaintiffs were the proprietors and that they themselves were their tenants-at-will liable to pay malikana, held that it was incumbent on the defendant to prove that the relationship of landlord and tenant had ceased to exist at such a time as would bar the suit under s. 109, I.E. Act. ATTAR SINGH v. RAM DITTA, 110 P.R. 1881.

(76)—S. 23, cl. 5, Act X of 1859—Illegal ejectment only question for decision—Onus on plaintiff.—In a suit under cl. 5, s. 23, Act X of 1859, the only question for adjudication is that of illegal ejectment; the onus being on the plaintiff. ASGUR v. GOLUCK CHUNDER CHOWDRY, 8 W.R. 383.

(77)—Suit for possession—Plaintiff holding over term of lease and raising crop—Defendant appropriating crop on ground of alluvion—Onus.—In a suit to recover possession, where plaintiff has held over the term of his lease and raised a crop which is appropriated by defendant (adjacent tenant), on the ground that the disputed land is his alluvion, the burden of proving that the land held by the plaintiff was removed from the control of the owner of the estate by circumstances which brought it under the defendant tenant's control lay on the defendants (tenant and zamindar). HEMA PANDEY v. GUYADHUR ROY, 24 W.R. 108.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(78)—Suit to set aside settlement and recover khas possession—Validity of settlement proceedings—Onus of proof.—Where the plaintiffs alleged that the suit lands were in the possession of the defendants as chakran lands, that the service in respect of which the lands had been granted had determined, and that they therefore became entitled to khas possession, the Onus would lie on the defendants to substantiate the validity and propriety of the settlement proceedings upon which they relied. NADIAR CHAND SINGH v. CHUNDER SIKKUR SADHU, 15 C. 763.

(79)—Landlord and tenant—Rent, rate of—Onus—Suit for damages for illegal distraint.—In a suit to recover damages on the ground that the plaintiff's landlords, the defendants, had distrained his paddy alleging higher jummas, the onus is on the plaintiff to prove the annual rent payable by him. CHUNDER KANT MUKERJEE v. HEM LAL MONDAL, 1 C.W.N. 463.

(80)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Evidence to be adduced by plaintiff.—In a suit for enhancement of rent, it is incumbent on the plaintiff to give some evidence or data upon which the Court could decide what is a fair and equitable rate of rent. MR. JAMES HILLS v. JENDAR MUNDUL, 1 W.R. 3.

(81)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Onus—Waste lands—Assessment—Occupancy-right.—Where plaintiff sues to recover arrears of rent at enhanced rates, the onus of proving both the quantity and the rate is on him, and not on the defendant. Where rates are to be fixed by a Court of Justice, the plaintiff is not entitled to interest and damages on the ground that the defendant did not pay the enhanced rates demanded by the plaintiff. No assessment can be levied on waste lands, and lands not brought under cultivation are not liable to full rents or any rents at all. The plaintiff having treated the defendant as a tenant having a right of occupancy, and having allowed the first Court to proceed to the determination of fair and equitable rents without raising any question regarding the right of occupancy, cannot, in special appeal, claim the full rates mentioned in his notice, merely because the lower appellate Court has expressed an opinion that the defendant has no right of occupancy. Besides, even in the case of suits for assessment against ryots without rights of occupancy, Courts can only fix the rents according to the rules provided for determining fair and equitable rents. GOLAM ALI v. BABOO GOPAL LALL TAGORE, 1 W R. 56.

(82)—Uniform payment of rent—Presumption of occupancy—How proper rates of rent to be fixed—Onus.—In case of proof of payment of rent at a uniform rate for 20 years, it is to be presumed that the tenant has held at this rate from the time of the Decennial Settlement, until the contrary is proved by the opposite party. The presumption would still arise if such a payment is proved, though the receipts produced may not be proved. The adoption of an average rate from different rates given by several witnesses is not a correct mode of fixing the proper rate. The onus of proving the proper rate is upon the plaintiff, and not upon the defendant; and where the enhanced rate is required to be fixed by a Court of Justice, interest or damages at 25 per cent. should not be awarded. SUMEERA KHATOON v. BABOO GOPAL LOLL TAGORE, 1 W.R. 58. [Cons., 21 W.R. 157.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(83)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Onus probandi.—Where the landlord sues for enhancement of rent and the defendant pleads that the productive powers of the land have been increased by his own exertions, the onus of proving such allegations is on the defendant. NOBEEN KISHEN BOSE v. SHOFATOOLLAH, 1 W.R. 24.

(84)—Estate settled in perpetuity—Sale—Suit by purchaser—Enhancement of rent.—In a suit for enhancement of rent by the purchaser of a moiety of an estate settled in perpetuity according to a jammabundee, many years after the settlement, the plaintiff must show that circumstances have occurred since the settlement which have tended to raise the value of the ryots' lands. RAM LOCHUN PAUL v. MUSSAMUT BROJO MOHINEE, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 118.

(85)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Defendant's plea of mokurari patta—Onus, on whom lies.—Where plaintiff sues to enhance defendant's rent, on the ground that the defendant did not pay the rents paid by others in the neighbourhood for similar lands, and defendant denied his liability to pay such rents owing to his having mokurari pattas, it was clearly for defendant, first of all, to prove those pottas. It is not obligatory on plaintiff to admit or deny anything till defendant, on whom, in such a case as this, the burden of proof entirely falls, proves his allegations as to his pottahs PRAN NATH ROY CHOWDHRY v. MOHEROODDEEN AHMED, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 39.

(86)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Custom set up by defendants—Onus on whom lies.—Plaintiff sued for enhancement of rent. Objection was taken by the tenants that rent had been assessed on lands covered by hedges and ditches, and forming boundaries between fields, and that, according to custom, such land was not liable to pay rent at all. Held, that the onus of proving the custom lay on the tenants. HAROO CHOWDHRY v. JOYESSUR NUNDEE, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 46.

(87)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Power of lower appellate Court.—In such a suit, it is perfectly open to the lower appellate Court dealing with the facts of the case to say whether, taking the receipts which extend over a number of years together and having regard to the fact that the receipts did not specify the years to which the amounts relate, the amounts paid in any particular year were partly for the rents of that year and partly for the arrears due in respect of previous years. In such a suit, the onus is clearly on the plaintiff. He must show that the defendant is holding lands in excess of what he is paying rent for, and in order to do that, he must show for what quantity of land the defendant is paying rent. SURJA KANTA ACHARJEE v. BANESHWAR SHAHA, 24 C. 251.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(88)—Enhancement of rent—Excess land—Plaintiff, onus on.—In a suit for enhancement on the ground that defendant holds lands in excess of what he pays rent for, plaintiff must show that they are included in defendant's tenure, and that he pays rent for a smaller area. SHAIKH AHMED HOSSEIN v. MUSSAMUT BANDEE, 15 W R. 91.

(89)—Suit for enhancement—Defendant alleging protection—S. 16. Act X of 1859.—In a suit for enhancement, where defendant alleges protection under s. 16, Act X of 1859, the onus lies on him and the plaintiff must rebut any presumption which the defendant may raise in his favour under that section. NUBO KRISTO MOJOOMDAR v. TARA MONEE, 12 W. R. 320.

(90)—Enhancement of rent— Presumption——Onus of proof.—In a suit for enhanced rent, the presumption of law established by 20 year's holding at a uniform rate is absolute and unqualified and cannot be got over by showing that the plaintiff did not obtain direct possession of the estate for many years and was for other reasons prevented from suing. It is for the plaintiff to show that the present rent has been varied or fixed at a period subsequent to the Decennial Settlement. DHUN SINGH v. CHUNDER KANT MOOKERJEE, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul, 25.

(91)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Variation of rent—Onus of proof.—In a suit for enhancement of rent, the fact that sums (in respect of rents) were paid in the particular years less than the payments in other years is insufficient to entitle the plaintiff to enhance the rent or to affect the defendant's rights to hold his land at a fixed rent. The onus of explaining such variations lies on the defendant. HURRONATH ROY v. CHITTRAMONEY DOSSEE, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 122.

(92)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Onus of proof.—In a suit for enhanced rent of a taluq which has existed as an ancient taluq, the only question being whether the rent is fixed or variable, held, that the onus is first on the defendant to prove uniform payment of rent by him for 20 years, and then on the plaintiff to prove that the rent has varied since the Permanent Settlement. The defendant is not bound to give specific proof of payment in each of the 20 years, but only such evidence as will satisfy the Judge that the rent has not been changed during 20 years. RASHMONEE DEBEA v. HUBRONATH BOY, 1 W.R. 280.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(93)—Enhancement—Part of land sought to be enhanced rent-free—Shifting of onus.—Where prima facie a tenant holds part of the land sought to be enhanced as paying rent, and part as rent- free, the burden of proof is shifted from the tenant to the landlord. NEHAL CHUNDER MISTREE v. HUREE PRASHAD MANDUL, 8 W.R. 183.

(94)—Onus—Registration in zemindari serishta—Reg. VIII of 1793, s. 51.—Lands, held at a fixed uniform rent anterior to the Decennial Settlement, on failure of evidence of payment of fluctuating rent by the zamindar, on whom the onus probandi lies, held to be a dependent talook within the meaning of s. 51, Bengal Reg. VIII of 1793. It is unnecessary, in order to bring a talook within the scope of that section, that it should be registered at the time of the Decennial Settlement. It is sufficient to show that the tenure existed, and was capable of being registered at the time of that Settlement. RADHIKA CHOWDRAIN v. BAMA SUNDARI DOSI. 4 B.L.R. P.C. 8= 13 W.R. P.C. 11= 13 M.I.A. 248=2 Suther. 293=2 Sar. 524. [R., 21 W.R. 439, 24 W.R. 146.]

(95)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Plea of dependent taluk—Burden of proof.—Where the defendant, in a suit for enhancement of rent, claims to hold the land as a dependent taluk, subject to the payment of a revenue fixed for ever, the onus lies upon the plaintiff (zemindar) to prove its inclusion in the zemindari, at the time of the Permanent Settlement. ASSANULLAH v. BUSSARAT ALI CHOWDHRY, 10 C. 920.

(96)—Suit for—Plea of defendant that certain plots never paid any rent—Onus probandi.—Where a landlord sues for enhancement of rent, and is met by an allegation that certain plots of land never paid any rent at all, he is bound to start his case, and to prove that the land in question had, at some time or other, paid him rent. GUNGADHUR SINGH v. BIMOLA DOSSEE, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 37.

(97)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Plea of lakheraj holding by defendant—Onus on whom lies.—Where the plaintiff sued for enhancement of rent and the defendant pleaded a lakheraj holding as to a portion of the land and put in several documents in support of it, held that, the defendant having put in prima facie evidence, the plaintiff was bound to prove that the disputed land paid rent in former years. SHEEB NARAIN ROY v. CHIDAM DOSS BYRAGEE, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 45.

(98)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Lakheraj title—Onus of proof.—In a suit for enhancement, where the ryot admits a part of the land to be rent-paying and the remainder lakheraj, the zemindar must prove that any part of the land was not exempted from liability to enhancement. DHUM MONEE DEBEE v. SUTTOORGHUN SEAL, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 100.

(99)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Plea by defendant that part of the land is mal—Onus of proof—Limitation.—Where plaintiff sued for enhancement of rent and was met by a plea from the defendant that part of the land was mal land, held, that the plaintiff must prove that he collected rents from his land as mal before he can call upon the defendant to prove his lakheraj title, and that plaintiff even then must sue, subject to the law of limitation. RAM COOMAR GHOSSAL v. DEBEE PERSHAD CHATTERJEE, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 87.

(100)—Rent, enhancement of — Lakhiraj—Burden of proof.—If, in a suit for enhancement of rent, the defendant sets up that certain plots of land, the rent of which is sought to be enhanced, are lakhiraj, and therefore not liable to pay rent, the onus is not on the defendant to prove that the land is lakhiraj but on the plaintiff to prove that the land is mal or rent-paying. The Courts are accustomed to require some prima facie evidence, from defendants raising such defence, that they hold some lakhiraj lands. SRIDHAR NANDI v. BRAJA NATH KUNDU CHOWDRY, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 211=14 W.R. 286, Note. [R., 14 W.R. 285.]

(101)—Suit for—Plea of lakhiraj title to portion of land by defendant—Proof.—Some prima facie proof must be adduced to bar the claim of a plaintiff in a suit for enhancement of rent, where the defendant admits tenancy for one part of the claim and chooses simply to allege a rent-free holding for the other. BEEBEE ASHRUFOONISSA v. UMUNG MOHUN DEB ROY, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 48.

(102) — Suit for enhancement — Plaintiff alleging lands to be mal—Plea of lakhiraj.—In a suit for enhancement, where plaintiff alleges a certain area to be mal, and defendant sets up that a portion of it is lakheraj, the burden was held to be on the plaintiff to show receipt of rent for disputed portion before getting a decree for rent for such portion. In a suit for enhancement, quære—is it sufficient that defendant's plea is a mere allegation of lakheraj, or must it be supported by prima facie evidence. MUN MOHUN DEY v. SHREE RAM ROY, 14 W.R. 285.

(103)—Suit for enhancement of rent—Burden of proof.—in a suit for enhancement of rent where defendant gives prima facie proof of a rent-free title, the burden of proof lies on plaintiff to prove receipt of rent. HEERA RAM BHATTACHARJEE v. ASHRUF ALI. 9 W.R. 103.

(104)—Suit for enhancement of rent —Evidence—Onus of proof.—Where plaintiff sued for enhancement of rent and the defendant adduced in evidence a decree in 1820 between the predecessor of the plaintiff and his predecessor to show that he and his predecessors-in-title had been holding at a rate which was fixed by a sannad prior to the date of the Permanent Settlement, held, that the burden of proving that that decree was not applicable to this particular holding lay on the plaintiff. BHOBOSOONDREE DEBIA v. GOUR KISHORE DUTT, 6 W R. Act X, Rul. 96.

Burden of proof*—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(105) —Suit for enhancement—Onus on plaintiff to prove grounds.—In a suit to recover rent at an enhanced rate, the plaintiff should prove excess of area, increase of productiveness apart from the tenant's agency, and increase in the value of the produce. GOLAM ALI v. BABOO GOPAL LAL THAKOOR, 9 W.R. 65 [F., 9 C. 505; R. 11 W.R. 31. 164; Affirm., 15 B.L.R, 125, Note.]

(106)—Landlord claiming increase of rent for increase of area—Burden of proof—It is for the zemindar, who seeks for an enhancement of rent (or a settlement of rent) on excess lands very many years after the original settlement of the ryot, to show that the lands held by the royt are in excess of the lands originally let to him in consequence of some encroachment or some alluvion increment, or that the previous settlement was made on the basis of a measurement and the rates of rent as applied to the area then determined, while on a fresh measurement made by the same length of measure, it has been found that he is entitled to receive additional rent, which by carelessness or neglect or some other reason he had hitherto lost. GOURI PATTRA v. REILY, 20 C. 579. (Rel. on, 10 C.W.N. 46; R. 5 C.L.J 538; D., 2 C. L.J. 125.]

(107)—Land Acquisition Act (X of 1870)—Chance of enhanced rent—Burden of proof.—The burden of proving the capitalized value of the chance of enhanced rent lies on the landlord. SHAMA PROSUNNO BOSE MOZUMDAR v. BRAPODA SUNDARI DASI, 28 C. 145. [F., 7 C.L.J. 284.]

(108)— Evidence — Remission— Burden of proof.—Where the defendant, in a suit for arrears of rent, alleges remission, the burden of proof lies on the defendant. BUNWARY LALL v. MR. J FORLONG, 9 W R. 239.

(109)—Suit for arrears of rent—Onus.—The onus, in a suit for arrears of rent at an enhanced rate where the defendant set up that he had relinquished all the mal land in his occupation, and that the residue of the land in dispute was lakhiraj, was on the plaintiff to prove that the land for which he sued for enhanced rent was rent-paying, and not on the defendant to make good his defence. MOHAMED ASSAR ALI v. NASSIR MOHAMED, 3 B L R. A C 304. (Marsh 523, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 48, 8 W.R. 183, 3 W.R. 178, D.)

(110)—S. 14, Act X of 1859—Suit to contest enhancement notice—Onus on ryot.—Where a ryot contests a notice of enhancement, under

Burden of proof*—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

s. 14, Act X of 1859, the ryot has the burden of proof on him PRITHEE RAM CHOWDHRY ROY BAHADOOR v. CHIDAM CHUNDER SHAH, 8 W.R. 8.

(111)—Suit-land in geographical limits of leased estate—Mal nature of lands not proved.—The mere fact of particular lands falling within the geographical limits of an estate which is leased, does not show that they are mal lands for which rent is paid. BISHNATH CHOWDHRY v. RADHA CHURN GANGOOLY, 20 W.R. 465.

(112)—Resumption of lakheraj, suit for—Onus of proving lakheraj before 1790.—In a suit for resumption of lakheraj, the onus of proving existence of the lakheraj, before 1790 is on the defendant. OMESH CHUNDER ROY v. DUKHINA SOONDRY DEBIA, W.R. F.B. 95.

(113) — Resumption of Lakheraj lands—Burden of proof, on whom lies—Default by defendant—Effect.—In a suit to resume certain land held as lakheraj by defendant, but without any valid title, held, that the burden of proving the validity of his title lies on the defendant, and that, if the defendant does not appear, on proof of service of notice on him, a decree should pass in favour of the plaintiff. MR. B.C. ELLIAS v. TITHRARAM ROY, 1 W. R. 164.

(114)—Lakheraj land—Resumption and assessment—Onus of proof.—Where the plaintiff (a Rajah) sued to resume and assess lands held by the defendants rent-free under an invalid title, the latter filed his sannad obtained from a former Rajah as evidence of his title to the lands in dispute. Held, that the onus of proving that that a prima facie good title to be invalid and bad lay on the plaintiff who alleged it. BEER CHUNDER JOORRAJ THAKOOR v. SHIBJOY THAKOOR, W.R. 1864, 8.

(115)—Lakheraj lands—Mal lands—Resumption.—In a suit for resumption on the allegation that defendants were in possession as invalid Lakhiraj, the burden of proving that the lands are mal would lie on plaintiff, only where he is the representative of an auction-purchaser. The principle in 8 B L.R. 566=14 M.I A. 152, applied. ARFUNNESSA v. PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE, 1 C. 378=25 W.R. 209. [R., 9 C. 813.]

(116)—Onus of proof—Grant.—Where, in a suit to have the rent assessed, the defendant pleaded, in bar to the jurisdiction of the Court, that the grant, under which the plaintiff originally claimed the lands, was made prior to 1790, it was held that the burden of proving the fact lay on the defendant under the provisions of the Evidence Act, as the objection to the jurisdiction of the Court was raised affirmatively by the above statement. HEERA LALL PRAMANICK v. BARIKUNNISSA BIBEE, 3 C 501=1 C.L R. 596.

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(117)—Resumption of lakhiraj land, suit for —Lakhirajdar claiming under grant prior to 1st December 1790—Burden of proof—Rent-suit —Decree for kabuliat —In a suit by a zemindar to resume land held as lakhiraj, if the lakhirajdar claims under a grant of date prior to the 1st of December, 1790, the onus is on him to prove it. If the lakhirajdar claims under a grant subsequent to that date, the zemindar is not entitled to a decree, until he has shown that the land claimed is part of his zemindaree and at one time was mal land. And in the latter case, the lakhirajdar is not put to proof of his title until the zemindar has established the fact of the land having once, at some time subsequent to 1st December, 1790, been rent-paying land. A suit for rent on the basis of a decree for a Kabuliat cannot succeed, unless it is proved that defendants were called on to give a Kabuliat and refused to do so MAHOMED AKTUR v. G. M. REILY, 24 W.R. 417.

(118)—Lakhiraj grants—Resumption of lakhiraj land—Onus probandi.—Proof of having held land as lakhiraj since 1st December, 1790, i.e., evidence of possession dating back to that date, will be a conclusive bar to a suit for resumption either by Government, or by a purchaser at a revenue-sale, or by any other person. A person seeking to resume lakhiraj land must give prima facie evidence to show the payment of rent for that land at some time since 1st December, 1790. The law relating to lakhiraj grants and the law of limitation applicable to their resumption and assessment, explained and discussed. KAYLASH BASHINY DASSEE v. GOCOOLMONI DOSSEE, 8 C.230= 10 C.L.R. 41, (B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 162, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 109, 14 I.A. 152=8 B.L.R. 566, R.) [R., 9 C. 813.]

(119)—Suit for resumption—Lands alleged to be lakhiraj—Onus of proof.—On an allegation by the defendant that the lands sought to be resumed are lakhiraj, the onus of proving that the lands are mal lies primarily on the plaintiff; judgment would be for the defendant, if the plaintiff fails to make out a prima facie case, in determining which, however, the fact of the defendant being a tenant of the plaintiff's is to be taken into consideration. BACHARAM MUNDUL v. PEARY MOHUN BANERJEE, 9 C. 813=12 C.L.R. 475. (8 B.L.R. 566=14 M. I.A. 153, 6 C. 663, 543, Cited.) [F., 12 C. 182; R., 4 C.L.J. 548; D., 12 C.W.N. 168, Note.]

(120)—Suit for resumption of lands—Defence that lands are lakheraj—Onus of proof.—In a suit for resumption of lands, if the defendant alleges that the lands are lakheraj, the onus is on the plaintiff, in the first instance, to show that the lands are mal, and if he fails to make out a prima facie case, the suit should be dismissed. NARENDRANARAIN RAI v. BISHUN CHUNDRA DAS, 12 C. 182. (9 C. 813, 6 C. 543, 6 C. 666, Distd.)

(121)—Plea of lakhiraj—Burden of proof—Shifting of—Admission of plaintiff's title—Plea set up after suit.— Where defendants plea lakheraj, the rule as to onus may be altered according to circumstances, as where plaintiff's title as landlord has been admitted and the plea not set up until after the suit is brought. GOONOMONEE DOSSEE v. RAJAH BURRODAKANT ROY BAHADOOR, 13 W.R. 191.

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(122)—Resumption of lakheraj, suit for—Proof of collection of mal rents—Rule inapplicable where mal rent only collected.—The Full Bench ruling that, before a plaintiff can resume lakheraj lands, he must prove the collection of mal rents, is not applicable to a plaintiff who collected mal rents from the time the land could bear any. RAM SOONDUR CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAMESSUR ACHARJEE, 8 W.R. 434.

(123)—Resumption of lands—Reg. II of 1805, s. 2, cl. 2—Right of Government to institute proceedings before Revenue Court—Reg. II of 1819—Reg. XIX of 1793—Exclusion of lands as lakhiraj, no evidence in resumption-suit—Reg. XIV of 1825.—The right of Government to institute proceedings by, or before, the Revenue Collector, under Reg. II of 1819, for the resumption of lands for the purpose of assessment to the public revenue, is barred by Reg. II of 1805, s. 2, cl. 2, after the lapse of 60 years from the cause of action. So held by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, on appeal from a decree made by the Special Commissioners upon a claim by Government, when Mahoteran lands were held as Lakhiraj by the Raja of Burdwan before the Company's accession to the Dewanny in 1765, and no claim had been made by Government to resume the lands for assessment till the year 1836. The exclusion of lands, as lakhiraj, from the Decennial and Permanent Settlement, is of no weight, per se, as evidence of exemption to resumption under Reg. XIX of 1793. The general presumption is in favour of the liability to assessment of land, and by Regs. XIX of 1793 and XIV of 1825, the onus probandi lies on a claimant to lakhiraj to establish his title to exemption, not by inference, but by positive proof by a grant to hold as lakhiraj, or by a proprietary right, prior to the grant of the Dewanny (12th of August, 1765) and that the possession was bona fide taken under it, or an enjoyment of lands as such, and descendible to heirs at or since that time. MAHA RAJA DHEERAJ RAJA MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR v THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, 4 M.I.A. 466.

(124)—Suit to resume invalid lakhiraj—Onus probandi.—Where Government, as agent of a zemindar, sues to resume invalid lakhiraj land under 100 beegahs, the onus of proof of the land being mal, when so claimed, is on the zemindar. RAM LOCHAN SIRCAR v. DEENONATH PAL, 2 W.R. 279.

(125)—Suit to assess lands alleged to be illegally usurped by lakherajdar—Onus on plaintiffs.—Where an ordinary zemindar sues to assess lands said to have been illegally usurped or alienated by a lakherajdar, subsequent to the Permanent Settlement, the burden of proof is on the plaintiff. BEHAREE LAL ROY v. KALEE DOSS CHUNDER, 8 W.R. 451.

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(126)—Lakheraj land, assessment of—Suit by auction-purchaser—Onus of proof.—Plaintiff, as auction-purchaser, sued to assess rent on certain lands, which the defendant alleged to be valid lakheraj, held as such from before the Decennial Settlement. Held that the onus of proving the special plea, i.e., possession as lakheraj from the year 1790, lay on the ryot SHAM LAL GHOSE v. SEKUNDER KHAN, 3 W.R. 182. [D. 8 Ap., 1 C. 378; Ap., 5 W.R. 191.]

(127)—Lakheraj holding—Onus—Limitation Act, 1859, s. 1, cl. 14.—In a case instituted after Act XIV of 1859 came into operation, where plaintiff is an auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue coming under cl. 14, s. 1 of the Act, the onus of showing that the land has been held lakhiraj or rent-fee from the period of the Permanent Settlement is on the plaintiff and the suit must be brought within 12 years of the purchase. MR. A.J. FORBES v. SHEIKH MEAH JAN, 3 W.R. 69 [Dsiappr. 25 W.R. 209, 1 C. 378; F., 3 W.R. 182.]

(128)—Lakheraj land—Beng. Reg. XLI of 1795, s. 10.—Where certain land apparently lakhiraj was represented in village papers as part of mal land and included within the boundary of the revenue paying mehal held, on the zemindar's suit for assessment of the land, that the onus of showing that the case came within s. 10, Regulation XLI of 1795, lay on the zemindar. The inclusion of the land in the boundary was not conclusive evidence, nor was it conclusive when the boundary had not been made judicially. The landlord proving it to be so, the plaintiff claiming rent-free possession would be required to prove his rent-free possession (peaceably and without fraud) for sixty years before he can get a decree. BABOO MOHABEER PERSHAD v. BABOO OAMRAO SINGH, 1 Agra 167.

(129)—Rent-free land—Benares.—In a suit for rent of land in the Province of Benares which was rent-free and recorded as such at the Revision of Settlement in 1840-41 and 1842, the zemindar must show that, if it was lakhiraj in 1197 Fasli, there has been a legal resumption and assessment by judicial award; or if mal in 1197 Fasli, he must prove legal resumption and actual levy of rents. The burden of proving this by direct and specific evidence lies on the zemindar. MOTEE LALL v. JANKI ROY, 3 Agra 364.

(130)—Suit to have certain lands declared mal—Burden of proof.—Where it is admitted that the defendants hold certain lands within the plaintiff's zemindari, some of which at least are rent-paying, they ought, if they want to show that any of those lands are rent-free, to give some prima facie evidence of it, before they can call upon the zemindar to prove that the whole or any part of the lands mal. AKBAR ALI v. BHEYEA LAL JHA, 6 C. 66=7. C.L.R. 497. (W. R. Sp. No. 15, 8 W.R. 183, 5 W.R. Act X Rul. 48, F.) [F., 4 C.L J. 548; D., 9 C. 813.]

Burden of proof—continued.

—22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(131)—Suit for rent paying land—Suit by auction-purchaser for land alleged by him to be mal.—In a suit by an auction-purchaser for the khas possession of land alleged to be mal land fraudulently alienated by the former zemindar as lakhiraj, the burden of proving that it to be mal was on the plaintiff. ANDREW v. LYON, 2 Hay 362.

(132)—Suit for possession—Plea of rent-free title—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover possession of land within plaintiff's estate where defendant sets up a rent-free title, held, that the plaintiff was only bound to show that either he or his predecessor had received rent for the land at some time subsequent to the Perpetual Settlement, in which case the onus of establishing title falls on the defendant. RAM NARAIN SINGH v. BISTOO THAKOOR, 15 W.R. 299.

(133)—Suit for possession of resumed lands—Resumption Law if contemplates ejectment or assessment—Regs. II of 1819 and III of 1828.—What plaintiff is required to prove in a suit for possession of resumed lands, in which he contends that the resumption laws contemplate assessment, and not ejectment, it is incumbent on the plaintiff to prove that he had formally applied for a settlement of the lands, but had been refused the same. KHAJA ABDOOL GANNI v. THE COMMISSIONER OF THE SUNDERBUNS, 2 W.R. 239.

(134)—Suit for land as part of putnee—Defendant alleging it to be part of resumed jote land—Land whether mal or lekhiraj—Onus.—Where plaintiff claims land as belonging to his putnee, and defendant alleges that it forms part of the resumed land of a jote for which he has obtained a decree in a resumption-suit; and the question at issue is whether the land is mal as beyond the limits of the decree, or lakheraj as included in the chittahs according to which possession was given to defendant in execution. The onus was held to lie on the defendant. SREEMUTTEE DOSSEE v. RAM NIDHEE KOONDOO, 16 W.R. 183.

(135)—Purchaser at revenue sale—Withdrawal of suit for arrears of rent—Suit for ejectment from defendant's homestead—Assessment and khas possession.—Where the purchaser of an estate at a sale for arrears of revenue, after withdrawing a suit for arrears of rent, sues to eject the defendant from a piece of land on which his homestead was, i.e., to declare the land liable to assessment and to obtain khas possession, held that the onus of proving the land to be mal and of receipt of rent by him and his predecessors lay on the plaintiff. BISSAMBHUR BANERJEE v. KOYLASH CHUNDER BOSE, 23 W.R. 388.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(136)—Suit for establishing lakheraj title to land—Onus probandi.—Where a plaintiff comes into Court to prove a lakheraj title, no proof of possession for years (unless it be carried beyond 1790) as apparent lakheraj can excuse him from proving his title. RAM JEEBUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. PERSHAD SHAR, 7 W.R 458.

(137)—Suit for possession of lakhiraj land—Beng. Reg. XIX of 1793, s. 10.—In a suit to recover possession of land from which the plaintiff had been ousted by the defendant under s. 10, Reg. XIX of 1793, on the ground that it was an invalid lakhiraj created after 1st December, 1790, the zemindar must prove that the lakhiraj was created subsequently to that date, and it was not for the lakhirajdar to prove that the lakhiraj was created prior to that date. MUN MOHINE DOSSEE v. JOYKISSEN MOOKERJEE. W.R. F.B. 174. See also, PREM SHEWUK DOSS v. ISHREE PERSHAD 2 W.R. 303; TAREENEEPERSHAD GHOSE v. KUL LEECHURN GHOSE, Marsh. 215=2 Hay 90.

(138)—Reg. XII of 1793, s. 10—Ousting of lakherajdar—Condition for exercise of right.—Where a zemindar, under the provisions of s. 10, Reg. XIX of 1793, ousts a party long in possession as a lakhirajdar, such zemindar should prove his right to exercise that power before the lakhirajdar before the latter is required to prove his title to hold the land as a valid rent-free grant. MOHUNT PREM SHEWUK DOSS v. ISSUREE PERSHAD, 2 W.R. 303.

(139)—Purchaser at sale in execution of a decree.—The onus of proving that a tenure is lakhiraj is not obviated by the circumstance that the person alleging that it is such, purchased the tenure as lakhiraj at a sale in execution of a decree. LALLA SHEEBLALL v. CHOLAM NUBBEE, Marsh 235=2 Hay 23.

(140)—Validity of lakhiraj tenure.—In a suit to recover possession of land from which the plaintiff claiming to be a lakhirajdar has been forcibly evicted by the land-holder, the plaintiff is not entitled to a decree for possession, unless he can show a prima facie case of lakhiraj tenure. Semble :—If he show such prima facie case, the Court will give a decree for possession and leave the zemindar to dispute the existence or validity of the alleged lakhiraj tenure in a resumption suit. SRINAUTH LALL v. JUNMEYJOY MULLICK, Marsh 550=2 Hay 649.

(141)—Suit to recover lakhiraj lands—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover lands alleged by plaintiff to be lakhiraj, where plaintiffs purchased the land as lakheraj, and were admittedly in possession for a very long time it was for defendant to prove that the lakhiraj title was invalid. MUNSARAM DASS KURMOKAR v. GRIDHAREE RAM DOSS, 10 W.R. 278.

(142)—Suit for possession of lakhiraj land—Title—Onus of proof.—Where plaintiff sues for possession of alleged lakhiraj land, if the alleged lakhirajdar proves possession as purchaser of alleged lakheraj lands, it is not for the Court to put upon him the burden of proving a title: but, if the zemindar wishes that point tried either in such a suit as this or in another suit, he (the zemindar) must accept the onus of proving that the lakheraj is held on an invalid title, and he must do so, moreover, by proving that he collected mal rents from the lands, and that he is not barred by the law of limitation. GOSSAIN SHEO SUHAYE GEER v. MOHADEO SUHAYE, 6 W.R. 294.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(143)—Sutt for recovery of lakhiraj land—Allegation of wrongful eviction—Plaintiff to prove prior lakhiraj possession.—In a suit to recover possession of lakhiraj land on ground of wrongful eviction, plaintiff must prove previous possession as lakhiraj. JOY KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. PEAREE MOHUN DUTT, 8 W.R. 160.

(144)—Ryot holding under invalid lakhiraj evicted—Suit on anterior possession.—A ryot who has held under an invalid lakhiraj and is turned out, cannot sue to recover on ground of anterior possession. SREEMUTHY WOOMA SOONDUREE THAKOORANEE v. KISHORE MOHUN BANERJEE, 8 W.R. 238.

(145)—Suit to declare that certain lands are lakhiraj—Burden of proof.—Where plaintiffs sue for declaration that certain lands are lakhiraj on the ground that defendant obtained a decree in the Collector's Court against them for rent, held that plaintiffs should prove their allegation. HURRENDUR KISHORE BAHADOOR v. KEDARNATH MITTER, 10 W.R. 188.

(146)—Suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of lakhiraj right—Sale for arrears of Government revenue—Rent-free tenures.—In a suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of lakhiraj right against purchasers at a sale for arrears of Government revenue, it is not necessary for the plaintiff to prove affirmatively that the land has been held rent free from the time of the Permanent Settlement. RAM CHURN LALL v. HATEE MAHTOON, 13 W.R. 247.

(147)—Exemption from Government assessment—Lakhiraj from time of Perpetual Settlement—Land to be released from Government assessment must be shown to have existed as lakhiraj at the time of the Perpetual Settlement. ESHAN CHUNDER SHAHA v. HATIMOOZZUMAH KHONDKAR, 13 W.R. 334.

(148)—Suit for confirmation of possession.—In a suit for confirmation of possession and for declaration of plaintiff's lakheraj and mokurrari title and for a declaration that plaintiff has a lakheraj and mokurari title the burden of proof is on him. HUREE NARAIN RAY v. DOORGA CHURN DEGHOORIAH, 17 W.R. 449.

(149)—Lakhiraj Sannad—Possession without payment of rent.—The production of a lakhiraj sannad is not necessary to prove that land is held rent-free : this may be legally established by long and uninterrupted possession without payment of rent. DHUNPUT SINGH v. RUSSOMOYEE CHOWDHRAIN, 10 W.R. 461.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22,—Landlord and tenant—continued.

(150) — Non payment of rent — Proof of exemption—Permissive possession not adverse—Limitation.—Non-payment of rent is prima facie proof of de facto exemption protected by limitation. The Court should be satisfied by the party claiming rent that the remedy claimed is not affected by lapse of time, and that the land was held for some service due and rendered to the zemindar, or otherwise by the zemindar's permission. If the holding were merely permissive, it could not prejudice the zemindar's right. ALI BUX v. MUSMAT ROOP KOOER, 2 N.W.P. 106.

(151)—Suit for resumption of land—Burden of proof.—A plaintiff in a suit for resumption or assessment of land as part of mal zemindari for assessment, is bound in the first instance to prove a prima facie case—(1) of the payment of rent since 1790, or (2) that the land formed part of the mal assets of the estate at the Decennial Settlement. When such a prima facie case is made out, the onus probandi is shifted on the defendant, who, to exempt himself from assessment, must show that his tenure existed rent-free before the first December, 1790. HURIHAR MUKHOPADYA v. MADAB CHANDRA BABU, NABA KRISHNA MUKERJEE v. KAILAS CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE, 8 B.L.R. 566, P.C. = 14 M.I.A. 152 = 20 W.R. 459 = 2 Sar. 713 = 2 Suther. 484. [F., 20 W.R. 465, 24 W.R. 447, 8 C. 230 = 10 C.L.R. 41, 9 C. 813 = 12 C.L.R. 475 = 9 C. 313, 12 C. 182, 10 C.W.N. 434 ; Appl. 1 C. 378 = 25 W.R. 209 ; Discussed, 3 C.W.N. 763 ; Cons., 9 C.L.J. 119 = 35 C. 931; R., 8 C.L.J. 177 ; D., 4 C.L.J. 548.]

(152)—Right of tenant to dig a tank on his land.—In a suit by a zemindar alleging that the defendant, his tenant, had dug a tank on his land, and thereby done him damage by converting the land from its original state where the conversion is admitted by the defendant, but his defence is that he had a right to convert it, the onus is on the defendant to show his right to dig the tank. In the absence of clear proof of the nature of his tenure, he should at least show that the digging the tank is a fair and reasonable use of the land, and one which will not be to the detriment of the zemindar. TARINICHARAN BOSE v. DEB NARAYAN MISTRI, 8 B.L.R. App. 69.

(153)—Khas possession, Suit for—Plaintiff's title as patnidar admitted—Defendant to prove tenancy—Burden of proof—Land in suit contiguous to holding of defendant—Shifting of onus. —The plaintiff's title as patnidar being admitted, the defendant cannot resist plaintiff's claim for khas possession, unless he can show that he has a tenancy which will entitle him to retain possession of the lands. (9 C.W.N. 144, Rel. on.) The mere fact that the defendant holds some land as tenant under the plaintiff is not sufficient to throw upon the plaintiff the burden of showing that, in respect of any other land which the defendant may be found to be in possession of, he has no right as a tenant. The burden of proof lies upon the defendant. (20 W.R. 421, 11 C.L.R. 476, 12 C.L.J. 376, 8 Ind. Cas. 78. Rel. on.) Where the lands sought to be recovered are admitted by the plaintiff to be contiguous to the holding of the defendants, or where they have come to the possession of the defendants by encroachment, the onus is upon the plaintiff to prove that the lands in suit are outside the holding of the defendants. GOBINI DEBI v. LOKENATH, 11 Ind. Cas. 696. (12 C.L.R. 457, 3 C.W.N. 763, R.)

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—continued.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 7 188, 26 C. 832.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, s. 12, 16 M. 271.

See U.P. ACT XVIII OF 1873, ss. 3 (4) (a), 7, 6 A. 286 = A.W.N. 1884, 77.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLE, 5 C. 949 = 6 C.L.R. 260.

See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 3 M.L.J. 222.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—GENERAL, 5 B.L.R. App. 44 = 13 W.R. 462.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, GROUNDS OF, 6 B.L.R. App. 122 = 15 W.R. 109.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, NOTICE OF, 1 B.L.R. F.B. 25 = 10 W.R. F.B. 33, 6 C. 543 = 8 C.L.R. 7.

See LAMBARDAR, A.W.N. 1892, 72.

Suit in ejectment—Tenant in possession of sir land—Burden of proof of facts entitling protection from ejectment—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 1 N.L.R. 32.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 2 C.L.R. 209.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—NATURE OF TENANCY, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 427.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—PAYMENT OF RENT BY TENANT, 9 B. 419, 4 C. 314 = 3 C.L.R. 119.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—PROPERTY IN TREES ETC., ON LEASED PREMISES, 13 A. 571 = A.W.N. 1891, 107, 21 A. 297 = A.W.N. 1899, 72, 23 C. 854.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, 16 C. 223 = 16 I.A. 6 P.C.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TENANTS' LIABILITY FOR RENT, 5 C.W.N. 880.

The—is on the plaintiff, in the first instance, in a suit by a landlord for possession of land on the ground that it is mal and not lakhiraj —See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 C.W.N. 434.

Burden of proof—continued.

——22.—Landlord and tenant—concluded.

Tenant in possession of some land of zamindars—Land not contiguous to holding—Encroachment— Onus — See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 12 C.L J. 376= 8 Ind. Cas. 785.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS. 9 Ind. Cas. 2.

See PATNI TENURE. 6 W.R. 25.

See RELINQUISHMENT OF TENURE, 7 B.L R, App. 11=15 W.R. 454.

Right of occupancy — Long possession—Burden of proof—Landlord and tenant—See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—ACQUISITION OF RIGHT, 11 M. 77.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—POSSESSION, SUIT FOR, 12 C. 24.

Zuri-peshgi lease—Assertion of tenant-right on expiry of lease—Onus probandi—See ZURI-PESHGI-LEASE, 16 C.P.L R. 49.

——23.—Legitimacy.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 112.

(1)—Evidence Act (I of 1872.) s. 112—Legitimacy contested—Onus.— Where a person claims under s. 112 of the Evidence Act, to be the son of a deceased, he must prove that he was born within 280 days after the death of his father; the burden of proving the non-access of the deceased and his wife lies upon him who impugns the legitimacy. NARANDRA NATH v. RAM GOVIND, 4 Bom L.R. 243.

(2)—Where a person is born 223 days after the death of his father, the burden of proof that he is not the son of his father lies on those who contest his legitimacy. TIRLOK NATH v. LUCHMIN KUNWARI, 5 Bom.L.R. 474.

(3)—It is upon the person who claims to be the legitimate issue of his parents to bring forward satisfactory evidence in support of their marriage. In such cases no certain inference can be drawn from the evidence as to the conduct of relations and friends. THAKUR AMJAL ALIKHAN v. NAWAB ALI KHAN, 9 Bom.L.R. 264=5 C.L.J. 1=17 M.L J. 56.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 142 to 144.

(1)—Former suit for rent—Subsequent suit for possession—Jurisdiction—Limitation—Onus of proof.—A suit for possession is not excluded from the jurisdiction of a Civil Court, because a case of rent of the same lands may have been before the Revenue authorities under Act X of 1859. On a plea of limitation by the defendant, the onus of proof is on the plaintiff to show that he has a right to come into Court. BROJENDRO KOOMAR ROY CHOWDHRY v. RADHA GOBINDO SHAH, 1 W.R. 235.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession—continued.

(2)—Suit to reverse award by Survey Authorities—Limitation—Onus of proof.—Where a plaintiff sued to reverse an award of the Survey Department more than three years after it was passed and the defendant specially urged that the suit was not in time, held that it was for the plaintiff to remove the bar to his suit. KUMOLA DASSEE v. SYED AZMUR ALI, 7 W. R. 13.

(3)—Title—Limitation—A defendant setting up title and limitation may succeed on limitation, even if he cannot prove title; the burden of proof that he is within time lies on the plaintiff. NOBOKISHORE DEY v. RAMKISHEN MOHURIR. 3 W.R. 131, [Expl., 11 W.R. 357; R., 12 W.R. 44. 11 B. 469.]

(4)—Limitation—Suit for possession as heir.—In a suit to recover possession of lands as heir, where limitation is pleaded, plaintiff must prove his possession within 12 years prior to suit. BHILOO MUNDUL v. MOTTEE LALL GHOSE MUNDUL, 9 W. R. 251.

(5) Suit for resumption of lakhiraj land—Plea of limitation and twelve years possession—Cause of action—Onus of prcof.—In a suit for resumption of lakhiraj land in which defendants (inter alia) pleaded limitation, alleging that they have been in possession more than twelve years without acknowledging plaintiff as landlord, and both the Lower Courts decree the claim, holding that plaintiff's cause of action arose on the date of a resumption decree obtained by him against the third party: Held that the decision is erroneous in law, as the resumption decree does not give plaintiff a cause of action against the present defendants; and it is for him to show that his claim is not barred. SHAIKH GHOGOOLEE v. SHAIKH MUZHUR HOSSEIN, 24 W.R. 389.

(6)—Suit in ejectment—Burden of proof.—Decrees were made in the year 1816, in suits respecting boundaries of certain mouzahs in two zemindaries, and the boundary line determined. In 1845, a suit was brought by the representatives of one of the parties in the above suits to recover land alleged to be part of one of the Mouzahs, which land, it was admitted by the plaintiff, the defendants had been in possession of since the year 1834. It was pleaded in defence, first, that the land claimed was within the boundary declared by the decrees of 1816 to belong to the defendants; and, secondly, that the plaintiff, or those under whom he claimed, had been in possession; for upwards of twelve years, and that the cause of action was, consequently, barred by Ben. Reg. III of 1793, s. 16. In such circumstances it was held that the issue was wholly independent of the question of boundary. Held, further, that, as the plaintiff sought to disturb the possession of the defendants, admitted by him to have existed for eleven years, but which the defendants alleged was a much longer period, the onus probandi was upon the plaintiff to remove the bar to the action by Ben. Reg. III of 1793, s. 16. by satisfactory proof that the cause of action accrued to him on a dispossession. twelve years before the commencement of the suit, and that he, or some person through whom he claimed. was in possession during that period ; and that no proof of anterior title in his favour, such as would be involved in the boundary question, could relieve him from this onus, or shift the onus on to the defendants by compelling them to prove the time and manner of possession. Although the evidence of witness for the defendants as to possession is of no better character than that adduced by the plaintiff as to dispossession, yet, it lies on the plaintiff to make out his case ; and, as the probabilities of the case in this instance were against dispossession, it was held by the Judicial Committee, affirming the judgment of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, that the plaintiff had failed to prove the dispossession of the defendants, which was necessary to maintain the suit. MAHARAJAH KOOWUR BABOO NITRASUR SINGH. v. BABOO NUND LOLL SINGH, 1 W.R.P.C. 51=8 M.I.A. 199= Suther, 420=1 Sar. 744.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(7)—Suit for possession—Admission of dispossession more than twelve years before suit—Onus of proving possession within period of limitation.—When a suit for possession is instituted more than 10 years after plaintiff had been dispossessed. the burden of proving that he, or some person through whom he claims was in possession at some time within twelve years. NAWAB NAZIR SIDHEE NUZEER ALI KHAN BAHADOOR v. WOOMESH CHUNDER MITTER, 2 W.R. 75.

(8)—Possessory suit—Plea of limitation—Burden of proof.—When defendant in possession pleads limitation as against a party suing for the same, it is necessary for the plaintiff to prove that he has been in possession of the property sued for within twelve years prior to the date of suit, independently of the date of dispossession which he may mention in his plaint. MIRZA MAHOMED HOSSEIN v. SURAHUTOONISSA KHANUM, 2 W.R. 88.

(9)—Possessory suit—Plea of limitation—Chief issue for trial. — When limitation is pleaded in a suit for possession, it should form the first issue to be decided. KEDARNATH ACHARJEE v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER NUNDEE, 2 W R. 153.

(10)—Possessory suit—Dispossession—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover possession where plaintiff alleges that he was in possession, and was forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed, the plaintiff is bound to prove his case before the defendants can be called on to prove theirs. GOOROODOSS ROY v. HURONATH ROY, 2 W. R. 245.

(11)—Suit for possession—Onus of proof—Cause of action.—Where plaintiff sues for possession alleging dispossession by the defendant, held, that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove satisfactorily that the cause of action accrued to him on a dispossession within 12 years of the commencement of suit. JUGODUMBA CHOWDHRAIN v. RAM CHUNDER DEO BUKSHEE, 6 W.R. 327.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(12)—Suit for possession—Plea of adverse possession—Assertion by plaintiff of permissive occupation—Onus—S. 110, Evidence Act.—Where, in a suit for the possession of a house, it is found that the defendant has been in adverse possession of the same for more than 20 years alleging that, though the house was originally the plaintiff's, he (defendant) acquired it by exchange, and the plaintiff asserts that the possession of the defendant was only permissive the onus according to s. 110 of the Evidence Act, lies on him whoasserts that the possession was only permissive. NIHAL SINGH v. JIWANDA. 116 P.R. 1888.

(13)—Suit for redemption—Proof of title—Limitation—Onus.—In a suit for redemption by the plaintiffs, alleging that the father had mortgaged the property to the defendants' grandfather, the defendants pleaded that it was mortgaged by the plainsiffs' grandfather 60 years ago and that, hence, the suit was barred by limitation. It was held that the burden first lay on the plaintiffs to make out a prima facie case of a subsisting title before the defendants could be called upon to prove their defence. RALIA RAM v. RADHA RAM, 88 P.R. 1893. See also, AFLATOON v. JAI RAM, 53 P.R. 1893, RAM CHAND v. BHANA MAL. 71 P.R. 1900. (11 A. 438 R.) [F., 58 P.R. 1905=59 P.L.R. 1905.]

(14)—Redemption—Suit—Plea of limitation —Onus.—In a suit for redemption of property mortgaged many years ago, in which the plea of limitation is set up, the plaintiffs must first prove that the right to redeem still subsists. GHULAM HASSAN v. HAJI MUHAMMAD, 53 P. R. 1894. [R., 8 P.R. 1906.]

(15)—Possession by defendants for more than 12 years—Plaintiff to prove that he was not barred.—Where, notwithstanding the possession of the defendants for more than 12 years, the plaintiff contended that the suit was not barred by limitation, it was for such plaintiff to prove such facts as entitled him to an extension of the ordinary period. ANANT RAM RAJPUT v. TAKATSINGH, 4 C.P.L.R. 57. [F., 3 N.L.R. 182, 5 N.L.R. 103.]

(16)—Plea of limitation—Plaintiff to rebut—Auction-purchaser— Limitation.—Where the plea of limitation is raised to a suit, it is for the plaintiff to set it aside. Where a decree-holder after purchase at an execution-sale of his judgment-debtor's rights and interests, sues for a declaration of title and for possession, and defendant pleads that neither plaintiff nor his judgment debtor was in possession within 12 years prior to the suit, the plea is not rebutted by the fact of the suit having been instituted within twelve years from the date of the auction-purchase. AHMED ALI alias AMANUT ALI v. HAREE CHAND, 21 W. R. 282.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(17)—Possessory suit—Ouster—Burden of proving possession before limitation began—Settlement proceedings—Evidence.—In suits for recovery of possession on the ground of ouster, it is the duty of the plaintiff to prove that he has been in possession at some time within twelve years prior to suit when limitation is raised and adverse possession pleaded against his right of action. The proceedings of a Settlement Amin are no evidence against a person not a party to those proceedings. LALL SINGH v. BABOO MODHOO SOODUN ROY, 8 W.R. 426.

(18)—Limitation— Onus— Oral evidence.—In deciding a plea of limitation, the plaintiff should prove his possession within twelve years of date of suit and it is not for the defendant to prove adverse possession for twelve years. Oral evidence is alone enough to prove possession. DINABUNDHOO SUHAYE v. MR. JAMES FURLONG 9 W.R. 155.

(19)—Possessory suit—Plea of limitation—Plaintiff's failure to prove possession within twelve years—Effect.—In a suit for possession where limitation was pleaded, and there was evidence on both sides of the question, the circumstance that the plaintiff failed to prove possession within twelve years was held to be sufficient to dispose of the suit upon that issue. HUREE MOHUN DASS v. KOTESSUR GOKE, 24 W.R. 318.

(20)—Suit for possession—Burden of proof as to limitation.—In a suit for possession where the bar of limitation is set up by the defendant in possession, the plaintiff was held to be under an obligation to remove such bar, although the defendant's possession be not admitted to have existed for eleven years. BUSSEROONISSA CHOWDHRAIN v. RAJAH LEELANUND SINGH. 14 W.R. 135.

(21)—Suit for possession—Adverse possession by defendant—Contest with Government on resumption question—Onus on plaintiff to rebut statutory bar.—Where defendant admits adverse possession for upwards of 11 years, and plaintiff's cause of action having arisen at the close of a contest with Government which claimed to resume the land, defendant alleges that he knew nothing of the contest, and that he has held possession for 27 years, held that that the plaintiff was bound to remove the statutory bar pleaded by defendant by showing possession on his behalf within twelve years before suit. SYUD AMEER ALI v. MAHARANEE INDUR JEET KOOER, 15 W.R. 43. (1 W.R. P.C. 51, F.) [R., 6 C. 725.]

(22)—Burden of proof—Limitation—Adverse possession.—Where the plaintiff has established his title to land, the burden of proving that he has lost that title by reason of the adverse possession of the defendant is upon the latter.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(Judgment of the High Court at Fort William, affirmed). RADHA GOBIND ROY SAHEB v. INGLIS, 7 C.L.R. 364, P.C. = 3 Suth. P.C. 809. [F., 5 A. 345; Appl., 6 C. 725; D., 9 C. 802 = 12 C.L.R. 337, 9 C. 744 = 12 C.L.R. 257; R., 7 C. 225, 24 C. 256, 26 C. 114, 35 C. 961 = 12 C.W.N. 127 = 6 C.L.J. 735; D., 6 B. 508, 9 M. 175.]

(23)—Limitation—Adverse possession—Burden of proof.—It is for the person who asserts that the plaintiff's claim to a certain share in landed estate was barred by limitation to show that his possession was, for twelve years prior to the institution of the suit, adverse to the plaintiff. IZZATUNNISSA v. MUHAMMAD TAQI, A.W.N. 1881. 90.

(24)—Joint ancestral property—Limitation.—Held that the admission of certain property as being joint ancestral throws the burden of proving exclusive and adverse possession beyond limitation upon the sharer refusing to admit other heirs. DABEE SUHAI v. SHEO DASS RAI, 1 Agra 285.

(25)—Plea of possession.—Onus probandi.—Where a defendant pleaded partly title and partly purchase, but denied that the plaintiff's father or ancestor had been in possession of any portion of the land in dispute for a very long period, and asserted his own possession on ancient titles, held, that the onus of proving possession within the period of limitation lay on the plaintiff. ISHUR CHUNDER BISWAS v. BISSUMBHUR BISWAS, W.R. 1864, 507.

(26)—Suit for possession—Onus of proof—Limitation.—In a suit for possession, the defendant being admittedly in possession, and claiming to be so under a bill of sale dated 45 years ago, the plaintiff is bound to displace the defendant's prima facie title by showing that he has been in possession within 12 years prior to the suit. KEDARNATH MOOKERJEE v. MOHESH CHUNDER PAULIT, 1 W.R. 67.

(27)—Right of plaintiff by inheritance and prescription contested—Plea of proprietorship—Relation of landlord and tenants—Permissive occupation becoming adverse.—The plaintiff claimed certain property by right of inheritance and prescription, but the defendant pleaded a title of proprietorship. The evidence showed that the relation of tenancy originally existed between the defendant and the plaintiff's ancestor. Held, that the plaintiff was bound to prove how the occupation, originally permissive, became adverse, the defendant not being bound to prove that he exercised his right of proprietorship within the period of limitation. KURM NEWAZ v. KURREEM BUKSH, 97 P.R. 1867.

(28)—Suit for possession—Plea of limitation—Possession as tenant—Burden of proving adverse possession.—In a suit for possession where defendants plead limitation, and plaintiff proves that the commencement of the possession of the party through whom defendant claims was as tenant, the burden of proving when the nature of that possession was changed and how it became adverse was held to be on those who set up the plea of limitation. RAMDHUN SATRA v. NOBIN CHUNDER CHOWDHRY, 12 W.R. 250.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(29)—Suit to ejectment—Title to possession— Onus of proof.—In a suit to recover possession of immoveable property by ejecting the defendant, the plaintiff must prove two things; —(1) that he was in possession within twelve years prior to suit ; (2) that he has a title to recover possession. BEER CHUNDER JOBRAJ v. THE DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF BHULLOOAH, 13 W.R. 23. P.C.

(30)—Old documents—Necessity for proof—Burden of proof—Pleader's statements.—The fact of a pottah being 30 years old does not do away with the necessity of proof before it is used as evidence. Where plaintiff files documents relating to lands not identified with the land in dispute, that fact does not shift the burden of proof on to the defendant. The oral statement of a pleader is not enough to satisfy a Judge, acting as a Judge of fact, that certain documents are beyond the power of the parties wishing to use them as evidence. FAZIL SIRDAR v. CHENUM BISWAS, 10 W.N. 237.

(31)—Suit for possession—Limitation—Plaintiff to prove possession.—In a suit for possession of land alleged to belong to the plaintiff's talook where the defendant pleads limitation, it is for the plaintiff to show that he was in possession within twelve years of suit. RAM LOCHUN CHOWDHRY v. JOY DOORA DOSSIA, 11 W R. 283, (3 W.R. 80, F.B., 9 W.R. 124, R.)

(32)—Suit for land in defendant's possession—Cause of action—Limitation—Burden of proof.—In a suit for the possession of an open piece of ground, which must be brought within twelve years from the time the cause of action accrued, the issue is, not that the plaintiff must show that he exercised some right of ownership over the ground within the twelve years preceding the filing of the action, but that he must show when the defendant interfered with his possession and twelve years have not elapsed between the day the defendant interfered with the plaintiff's possession and the date of filing his claim. SAGANGOWDA bin BASANGOWDA v. BASAP bin CHENAPA, 9 B.H.C. 62.

(33)—Suit for possession—Denial of plaintiff's title—Plea of limitation—Limitation to be decided referring to plaintiff's possession—Permanent settlement ordered with party in possession —Presumption.—In a suit for possession where defendant denies plaintiff's title and sets up a defence involving the plea of limitation, the question of limitation does not depend upon whether defendant was in possession, but upon whether plaintiff was in possession. Where defendant admits that the permanent settlement was ordered to be made with the party in possession, and that it was made within twelve years prior to the suit with the party from whom plaintiff claimed, held that, until the contrary is shown, that party is rightly presumed to be in possession, and plaintiff's claim is not barred by limitation. MAHOMED KOBEER v. ABDOOL AZEEN, 24 W.R. 315.

(34)—Possessory suit—Plea of limitation—Duty of plaintiff to prove title and accrual of cause of action within limitation period.—In a suit to obtain possession where defendant pleads limitation, plaintiff is bound not only to prove his title, but also to show affirmatively that his cause of action accrued within twelve years before the commencement of the suit; and he must succeed upon the strength of his own title, not upon the weakness of his opponent's. LUTCHOO KHAN v. W. FOLEY, 24 W.R. 273.

(35)—Burden of proof—Adverse possession—Landlord and tenant.—In a suit for possession, the defendants claimed to hold the land under a valid miras tenure so as to be entitled to the ground-rent from the ryots, and to pay the plaintiff, who was the superior landlord, merely the miras rent. Held that the plaintiff being admitted landlord made a prima facie case, and it lay on the defendants to show either that they had a valid miras tenure, or by reason of their having held as mirasdars adversely to the plaintiff for more than twelve years, the plaintiff, was debarred from questioning their right. The plaintiff must have notice of such adverse holding in order that he may be barred by limitation. OGRA KANT CHOWDHREE v. MOHESH CHUNDER SICKDAR, 4 C. L. R. 40. (2 B.L.R. 111, P.C., F.) [F., 14 C. 323.]

(36)—Suit for possession — Dispossession— Onus of proof.—Under the former Limitation Act the cause of action, and under the present law (Act of 1877) the event from which limitation is declared to run, must have occurred within the prescribed period, and it lies on the plaintiff to show this. Accordingly, where the suit is for possession, and the cause of action is dispossession, the plaintiff is bound to prove possession and dispossession within twelve years; and he cannot, by merely proving possession at any period prior to twelve years before suit, shift the onus to the defendant. MAHOMED ALI KHAN v. KHAJA ABDUL GUNNY, 9 C. 744 = 12 C L.R. 255, F.B. [R., 10 C. 577, 10 C. 374, 8 B. 371, 105 P.R. 1901.]

(37)—Suit for possession—Previous dispossession—Onus of proof.—In every suit for recovery of land on the ground of dispossession, the plaintiff ought to start his case by proving his possession at some time within 12 years prior to suit. BHOOTNATH CHATERJEE v. KEDARNATH BANERJEE, 9 C. 125, (12 M.I.A. 337, R).

Burden of proof*—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(38)—Suit Cased on title—Proof of dispossession alone not sufficient.—In a suit for land based on title, mere proof of possession and dispossession within twelve years before suit would not be sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a decree. ERTAZA HOSSEIN v. BANY MISTRY, 9 C. 130=11 C.L.R. 393. (7 I.A. 73, F.; 5 C.L.R. 278, Diss.) [F., 17 C. 256; Cons. 12 C.P.L.R. 59; Doubt., 78 P.R. 1902=137 P.L.R. 1902; R., 8 B. 371, 12 A. 46, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 619, 3 C.W.N. 158, 26 C. 579.]

(39)—Limitation Act, art. 142—Suit for ejectment—Burden of proof.—In all actions for ejectment where the defendants are admittedly in possession, and a fortiori where they had been in possession for a great number of years, and under a claim of title, it lies upon the plaintiff to prove his own title. The plaintiff must recover by the strength of his own title, and the onus is thrown upon the plaintiffs to prove their possession prior to the time when they were admittedly dispossessed, and at some time within 12 years before the commencement of the suit, and it does not lie upon the defendants to show that in fact the plaintiffs were so dispossessed. MOHIMA CHUNDER MAZOOMDAR v. MOHESH CHUNDER NEOGI, 16 C. 473=16 I.A. 23, P.C.=5 Sar. 321. [F., 3 A.L.J. 363=10 C.W.N 630=8 Bom. L.R. 400=1 M.L.T. 135=16 M.L.J. 272, P.C.; Appl., 2 L.B.R. 56; Expl., 14 B. 458; D., 2 M.L.J. 210, 18 M. 171; 21 M. 53; Discussed, 3 C.W.N. 763; R., 14 A. 193=12 A.W.N. 55, 13 A.W.N. 60, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 360, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 461, 105 P.R. 1901, 59 P.L.R. 1901, 105 P.L.R. 1901=65 P.R. 1901, 27 B. 43=4 Bom. L.R. 721, 24 A. 294=22 A.W.N. 45, 5 Bom. L.R. 225, 9 C.W.N. 111, 3 L.B.R. 27, 53 P.R. 1907=39 P.L.R. 1907, 7 C.L.J. 414=12 C.W.N. 273=3 M.L.T. 212, 14 Bur. L.R. 156.]

(40)—Limitation Act, 1877, arts. 142, 144—Suits for possession—Burden of proof.—Plaintiff, in this case, alleged that the possession he got of the property under a sale was obstructed by the defendants, from whom he now claimed to recover possession of it, together with mesne profits until such recovery. The suit was of the description contained in art. 142 of the Limitation Act and art. 144 did not apply. Plaintiff, therefore, was bound to show that he, or those under whom he claimed, had had possession within 12 years before suit. In cases falling under art. 144, the plaintiff may rest content with proof of title only, in the first instance, the burden lying on the defendants to show that they have had a possession inconsistent with the title of the plaintiff for more than 12 years before suit; where, however, the case is one falling under art. 142, the plaintiff must, at the outset, show possession within 12 years, and cannot rest merely on a proof of title. FAKI ABDULLA v. BABAJI GANGAJI, 14 B. 458. [F., 14 M. 96: R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, 461, 65 P.R. 1901=105 P.L.R. 1901, 27 B. 43, 5 Bom. L.R. 225, 2 N.L.R. 32, 10 Bom. L.R. 571, 123 P.W.R. 1908, 12 Bom. L.R. 956.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(41)—Suit for possession, adverse possession set up in answer to—Extent of onus on plaintiff.—Where a plaintiff comes into Court alleging that he has been dispossessed within limitation, and the defence is adverse possession, the question of limitation becomes a question of title. The plaintiff must at least give some prima facie evidence to satisfy the Court, in the first instance, that he was in possession within twelve years of the suit, before the defendant can be called upon to make out his defence of twelve years' adverse possession. Before going into the question as to whether the defendant had or had not a title by adverse possession, the Court ought to satisfy itself that there is prima facie proof of the plaintiff having had a subsisting title at the commencement of the suit. JAFAR HUSAIN v. MASHUQ ALI, 14 A. 193=A.W.N. 1892, 55. (16 C. 473, 11 A. 438, R.) [F., 28 A. 760=A.W.N. 1906, 234=3 A.L.J. 567; R., 6 O.C. 119, 20 A. 182=18 A.W.N. 19, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 360, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 461, 105 P.R. 1901, 65 P.R. 1901=105 P.L.R. 1901.]

(42)—Suit for possession of tank—Undivided mehal—Burden of proof.—In a suit to recover possession of a tank included in an undivided mehal, where defendants allege separate possession for more than 12 years before the suit, held that, there being a prima facie case that some at least of the share-holders had used the tank, the defendants were bound to prove separate enjoyment by them. BROJONATH PAUL CHOWDHRY v. SREEGOPAL PAUL CHOWDHRY, 12 W.R. 468.

(43)—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), sch. II, art. 142—Plea of adverse possession.—In this suit brought to recover possession of an estate, plaintiff had admittedly a title to maintain the action if she could get over the case made, under the Statute of Limitations, by the defendant. Plaintiff admitted the defendant's possession for seven years before suit, and there was documentary evidence of possession in favour of the defendant for more than five years preceding these seven years, which was exactly similar in character to that which accompanied his seven years' admitted possession, and which went back far behind the period of twelve years sufficient to establish the bar of plaintiff's suit by limitation. This circumstance threw on the plaintiff the burden of rebutting the inference which arose from the fact of the long possession accompanied by such documents. Such burden not having been discharged by the plaintiff, the suit was held to be barred. INNASI MUTHU UDAYAN v. UPAKARATH UDAYAN, 28 M. 10, P.C.=26 I.A. 210=7 Sar. 620. [R., 12 C.W.N. 273=7 C.L.J. 414=3 M.L.T. 212.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(44)—Ejectment—Failure to prove possession within twelve years—Cause of action—Limitation—Onus of proof.—In an action of ejectment, the plaintiff, though he cannot prove that he has been in possession of the land claimed within twelve years, must not on that account of necessity fail. He must, however, show that his cause of action has accrued within that period; and a plaintiff's cause of action arises when another person takes possession of his land, and not before. If any question of limitation arises, the burden of showing that the cause of action had arisen within the legal period of limitation lies upon the plaintiff. PANDURANG GOVIND v. BALKRISHNA HARI, 6 B.H.C. A.C. 123. [Appr., 9 C. 744, F.B.; R., 9 B.H.C. 62, 7 C. 225, 9 M. 175, 6 B. 508, 11 A. 438.]

(45)—Suit for possession—Proof of previous possession.—Mere proof of having been in possession at some time during the twelve years before suit, by the plaintiff in a suit for possession of land, will not shift the burden of proof of title thereto to the defendant. DEBICHURN BAIDO v. ISSUR CHUNDER MANJEE, 9 C. 39 =11 C.L.R. 342. (12 W.R. 472, Cited; 7 I.A. 81, F.) [F., 17 C. 256; R., 12 A. 46, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 619, 26 C. 579, 25 B. 287; Cons., 12 C.P.L.R. 59; Dis. and Doubted, 137 P.L.R. 1902=78 P.R. 1902.]

(46)—Suit by Crown—Cause of action.—Assuming that the Crown has the right to oust any person who, without its sanction, occupies waste land which has not been appropriated for any public purpose, it cannot, by instituting a suit for a declaration of right or ejectment without specifying a date at which the cause of action arose, compel a defendant to prove possession for 60 years. SECRETARY OF STATE v. VIRA RAYAN, 9 M. 175. [F., 19 M. 165; R., 3 M.L.T. 231.]

(47)—Recovery of possession—Evidence of peaceable possession till dispossession—Proof of title, onus of.—In a suit for recovery of possession of land upon proof by the plaintiff of peaceable and continuous possession till dispossession a month before suit, the defendant must show his title to the land. MOHABEER PERSHAD SINGH v. MOHABEER SINGH, 7 C. 591=9 C.L.R. 164. [R., 11 C.L.R. 133, 17 C. 256, 26 C. 579; Cons., 12 A. 46, 12 C.P.L.R. 59.]

(48)—Wrongful custer—Possession, suit for—Onus.—In a suit for possession, it was found that the plaintiff had been some eleven years in possession until he was wrongfully ousted by the defendant, and thus the plaintiff's possession fell short of 12 years, that the plaintiff had not proved the kobala under which he claimed title, nor did the defendant prove his kobala. Held that the defendant was bound to prove his title and that he could not be allowed to take advantage of his own wrongful act in order to shift the burden of proof upon his opponent. If the defendant had, before the wrongful ouster, brought a suit to recover possession of the land, he must have failed, because his title had not been proved and he could not, by wrongfully evicting the plaintiff, throw upon him the burden of proof which would otherwise have lain upon him. BROJO SUNDER GOSSAMI v. KOILASH CHUNDER KUR, 11 C.L.R. 133. (7 C. 591, 7 W.R. 174, 9 W.R 71, 12 W.R. 472, 4 C. 275, R.)

Burden of proof*—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

(49)—Suit for lands under cultivation—Plea of adverse possession—Onus of proof—Contra in the case of unculturable or jungly lands—Onus of proof in the case of lands under cultivation at date of suit, though previously unculturable.—In suits for lands under cultivation, the plaintiff must, on a plea of adverse possession by the defendant, in the first instance, prove that the suit is not barred by limitation; and it is not for the defendant to prove his adverse possession at first. [R., 6 C. 725=8 C.L.R. 90; 7 C. 225, 9 M. 175.] In suit for unculturable or uncultivated lands, on the other hand, the defendant must prove his adverse possession for more than 12 years. In the case of suits for lands under cultivation at the time of suit, but previously jungly or unculturable, the plaintiff must again prove, in the first instance, that the suit is not barred; but on proof by the plaintiff of the land having become culturable within 12 years before suit, the burden is shifted to the defendant who must prove more than 12 years' adverse possession. MAHOMED IBRAHIM v. MORRISON, 3 C. 36.

(50)—Limitation under Reg. II of 1805—Suit by Government against ghautwals—Onus of proof.—According to Reg. II of 1805, 60 years is the period beyond which neither fraud nor any other special allegation will give a cause of action. In a suit by the Government against certain ghatwals, the defendants were found to have been in possession "for a very long time;" and, although they had failed to prove possession in excess of 60 years, the onus was held to lie on the Government to prove possession within 60 years. BROMANUND GOSSAIN v. THE GOVERNMENT, 5 W. R. 136.

(51)—Reversioner's rights purchased—Suit for possession by purchaser—Proof to be adduced by such purchaser against plea of limitation.—To rebut the plea of limitation in a suit for possession by the purchaser of the rights of a reversioner to a widow's estate instituted within one day of the 12 years allowed by the law of limitation, the plaintiff must prove not only that the widow died, but also that she actually held possession up to the time of her death. KALEENATH TALOOKDAR v. JOY DOORGA DOSSIA, 11 W.R. 173.

(52)—Suit for possession of land after submersion—Limitation.—Where the suit was for possession of certain land, on the allegation that it was land belonging to the plaintiff's village, but submerged at the time of the

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

Settlement, it the plaintiff could show the identity of the land submerged with the land which has since been left dry, the onus is on the defendant to show that some other person had been in adverse possession for twelve years before the plaintiff preferred his claim, and that such adverse possession commenced from a time when the plaintiff was in a position to dispute it. HUR SAHAL v. MAHOMED DAIM KHAN, 2 Agra 64.

(53)—Claim to accretion—Duty of plaintiff.—In an accretion-claim plaintiff must establish facts extinguishing defendant's title as well as creating his own right. MUSSAMUT MOWLA KOOMAREE v. MUTTY SINGH, 25 W.R. 129.

(54)—Suit for possession of alluvial land—Magisterial proceedings fixing boundary—Suit to set aside Magisterial order—Effect of decree in suit—Issues— Onus probandi.— Appellant sued to recover a tract of chur-land as parcel of his mouzah of Jogdash, defendant alleging the said land to be a parcel of his Mouzah Ghoogoomaree. About the year 1830, a large tract of land was diluviated by the river Chutol within the mouzahs belonging respectively to plaintiff and defendant; and after re-formation in 1837, a proceeding was taken by the plaintiff before the Magistrate under which he was ordered to be put in possession of a considerable tract of such newly formed land, the Magistrate laying down the boundaries. After nearly 12 years (i.e.,) in 1849, respondent's father brought a civil suit to set aside the Magistrate's decision, and the ultimate finding was that appellant had been in possession of the land described in the Magistrate's order from and since the date of that order; Held that that decree must be taken to have established that the plaintiff was in possession of the land described in the Magistrate's order, and had continued in such possession; the question in the present suit being whether the lands now claimed are identical with those so described; Held, that that issue lay upon the plaintiff, because the foundation of his suit was that, having been in possession, he was dispossessed as a consequence of certain measurements made by Government officers: Held that plaintiff had failed to sustain the burden of proof. He relied principally on the boundaries given by the Magistrate, and certain maps prepared the and later as compared with the Government map of 1853: but the Privy Council were unable to place firm reliance upon any inference drawn from these maps. The Privy Council were also of opinion that, in questions of this kind, where the natural boundaries and land-marks have disappeared, evidence of possession was very important and satisfactory, and that there was no reason to distrust the witnesses of the respondent proving such possession. GRIJA

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

KANT LAHORY CHOWDHRY v. HURRISH CHUNDER CHOWDHRY, 19 W.R. 114 P.C. [R., 13 C.W.N. 281, 2 B. 19, 6 C.L.J. 621; F., 8 C.L.J. 478.]

(55)—Suit for possession of chur-lands reformed on original site after diluvion—Plea of limitation under adverse possession—Onus on plaintiff to prove previous possession.—In a suit for possession of chur-lands as re-formations on the original site of plaintiff's or his vendor's lands, or accretions thereto, where limitation is pleaded by defendant in adverse possession, the onus lies on plaintiff to prove that, before disappearance or diluvion, the land in dispute was in the possession of his vendor. GOKOOL KRISTO SEN MOONSHEE v. M. DAVID, 23 W.R. 443. [R., 7 C. 225, 2 B. 19.]

(56)—Burden of proof—Adverse possession——Diluvion—Re-formation.—In a suit for possession of lands which have re-formed upon the old site after diluvion, the defendant set up adverse possession for twelve years. Held that the burden lay upon the plaintiff of proving that the defendant had not been in possession for the period of twelve years next preceding the commencement of his suit. (8 M.I.A. 220, F.) Where it was not proved that the whole of the lands claimed have re-formed within twelve years, the plaintiff must prove specifically the portion, if any, which has not so reformed. KOOMAR RUNJIT SINGH v. SCHOENE, KILBURN, 4 C.L.R. 390. [F., 11 C.L.J. 373=14 C.W.N. 317=3 Ind. Cas. 15; Cons., 7 C. 225; R., 6 C. 725=8 C.L.R. 90.]

(57)—Suit for possession—Onus of proof—Presumption of possession and ownership.—Proof by the plaintiff, in a suit for possession of land, of the exercise of rights of ownership more than twelve years before suit, when the land had been covered with water, would be prima facie evidence of possession and ownership, so as to raise a presumption of the continuance of the plaintiff's possession down to within twelve years, unless the defendant is able to make out a twelve years' statutory title by adverse possession. MOHINY MOHUN DAS v KRISHNO KISHORE DUTT, 9 C. 802=12 C.L.R. 337.

(58)—Claim to dispossessed land — Burden of proof, shifting of—Proof of possession—Nature—Diluviated and re-formed lands—Possession till diluviation, proof of—Presumption of subsequent possession—Claim to dispossessed land—Plea of limitation—Difference between property capable of actual possession and property incapable of it—Suit for dispossessed alluvial lands—Proof of title and possession by plaintiff till diluviation.—As a general rule, where a plaintiff claims land from which he alleges he has been dispossessed, the burden is upon him to show possession and dispossession within twelve years. [Appr., 6 B. 508; R., 9 M. 875.] Proof of possession within twelve years does not necessarily mean proof of acts of ownership within that time. The nature of the proof of possession must depend upon the nature of the case.

Burden of proof—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

The burden of proof, may, on proof of facts giving rise to a presumption in favour of the party, shift to the other side. In the case of gradually diluviated and re-formed lands, whose diluviation has been more than twelve years before suit, the claimant must, in the absence of proof of possession since re-formation, at least prove possession till diluviation. Where the true owner is in possession at the time of diluviation, there will be a presumption of continuance of possession during submergence; and perhaps subsequently also till dispossession. — Per Wilson, J. [R., 9 C. 744.] Though, generally, the plaintiff must, on being met with the plea of limitation, show his possession within twelve years before suit in the case of property capable of actual and visible possession, yet, in the case of property incapable of actual and visible possession, when the title and possession have been proved to be in a certain person up to a certain point of time—when there has been no transfer of the title to any third person—and there is no evidence of possession having been exercised by any other so long as actual visible possession was possible, the possession of the person having the title will be presumed to continue, until the property again becomes susceptible of actual visible possession.—Per Field; J. On proof of title and possession till diluviation by the plaintiff, in a suit for dispossessed alluvial lands diluviated more than twelve years before suit, the burden of proving reformation more than twelve years before suit and adverse possession during the period was held to be shifted to the defendant, MANO MOHUN GHOSE v. MOTHURA MOHUN ROY, 7 C. 225=8 C.L.R. 126.

(59)—Alluvial land—Limitation.—Where in a suit by plaintiffs to recover possession of alluvial lands on the allegation of dispossession, the defendants denied the plaintiff's title and possession, held the burden of poof, as to possession and dispossession within twelve years prior to suit, lay on the plaintiffs. UDIT NARAIN SINGH v GOLABCHAND SAHU, 27 C. 221=26 I.A. 236=7 Sar. 628. [R., 3 C.L.J. 316, 6 C.L.J. 735=12 C.W.N. 127=35 C. 961.]

(60)—Suit for possession— Presumption—Rights of fishery—Julkur --Suit for possession of lands in a river-bed where the river had changed its course and for getting rid of order of Criminal Court. The plaintiff was all along found to be in possession up to the year in which the criminal proceedings were held. Held that the presumption raised by plaintiffs continued and undisturbed possession of lands in the bed of a river which has changed its course was not rebutted by defendant's allegation that he was entitled to the julkur of the river. JAMES HOGG v. DENONATH KOONDOO, 11 W.R. 566.

(61)—Execution—Possession delivered long after sale—Irregularity—Burden of proof.—Where the right and title of a party are sold in execution, but possession is a delivered to the purchaser more than 15 years after sale, held that this irregularity did not entitle the owner to a decree in a suit to recover the property, unless he could prove possession for more than twelve years before dispossession. ATTOTRAM DOSS v. BALUNKEE DOSS, 14 W. R. 387.

(62)—Suit by Hindu widow for confirmation of her right in her husband's property—Plea of possessory award — Limitation. — A Hindu widow sued for confirmation of her right in certain lands which she declared to be hers in right of her husband. The defendant, pleading that the plaintiff never had been in possession, produced a possessory award of the property, given to her under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859. Held, that it was for the plaintiff to get over the limitation pleaded by the defendant and to show that she was in possession within 12 years. SHANTA MONEE GOOPTAH v. SUTTOABHAMA GOOPTAH, 7 W.R. 34.

(63)—Suit to establish proprietary right—Possession—Limitation.—In a suit to establish poprietary right as against a mokuraridar plaintiff need not prove that he was in actual possession within 12 years. PROTAP NARAIN MOOKERJEE v. KARTICK CHUNDER MOOKERJEE, 10 W.R. 192.

(64)—Limitation—Boundaries.—No proof of anterior title in the claimant such as would be involved in the decision of a question of boundaries in his favour can relieve him of the burden of proving that he was in possession within twelve years prior to suit, or shift it upon his adversaries so as to compel them to prove the time and manner of his dispossession. TARA SINGH v. CHAIDA MULL, 2 Agra 177.

See ABANDONMENT OF TENURE, 38 P.R. 1885.

Proceedings before village conciliator—Their nature—Certificate—Computation of limitation —Limitation Act, XV of 1877, art. 144—Onus of proof—objection to jurisdiction of Court—Second appeal—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, ss. 46, 47, 48, 13 B. 424.

Diluviated land—Possession prior to diluvion —Dispossession— Onus of proof—See DILUVION, 6 C. 725=8 C.L.R. 90.

Possession of ancestral property sold during plaintiff's minority, suit for — Inheritance, knowledge of exclusion from—Burden of proof —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 127, 2 O. C. 348.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 127, 128, 129, 4 M.H.C. 354.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 127, 144, 18 B. 513.

In a suit governed by art. 144 the—is on the defendant to show when the adverse possession he relies on commenced—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 136, 144, 2 N.L.R. 32.

Burden of proof.—continued.

——24.—Limitation and Adverse Possession —continued.

Suit for ejectment—On whom — lies—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 142, 10 C.W.N. 630, P.C.=3 A.L.J. 363=8 Bom. L.R. 400=1 M.L.T. 135=16 M.L.J. 272.

In a suit by vendee for possession—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 142, A.W.N. 1906, 95=3 A.L.J. 334=28 A. 479.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 142, 20 C. 550, P.C.=20 I.A. 38, 59 P.L.R. 1901, 16 B. 343, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 461.

As to standard measurement—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 142, 144, 2 C.L.J. 125.

Extinguishment of title by adverse possession—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 142, 144, 7 M.L.J. 186.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908 arts. 142, 144, 49 P.R. 1884, 23 P.R. 1890, 14 M. 96.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 142, 144, 149, 5 M.L.T. 107=2 Ind. Cas. 314.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 144, 19 C. 660, P.C.=19 I.A. 140, 122 P.R. 1883, 94 P.R. 1884, 116 P.R. 1900.

See SERVICE TENURE, 3 B.H.C.A.C. 49.

——25.—Mortgage.

See MORTGAGE.

(1)—Mortgage-bond—Denial of execution and passing of consideration by third party.—If an action to enforce a mortgage-security is contested by the mortgagor and execution is admitted by or proved against him, the onus lies upon him to prove that the recitals as to the payment of consideration for the deed which he executed are untrue. When it is contested by a stranger, who denies that the bond was executed and also asserts that there was no consideration for the mortgage, the onus is upon the mortgagee to prove his case. BISHESWAR DAYAL v. HARBANS SAHAY, 6 C.L.J. 659=3 M.L.T. 38. (6 C. 268, 17 A. 428, 5 C.W.N. 403, 5 C.L.J. 653, R.; 3 C.W.N. ccxxiv, Diss.)

(2)—Land—Sale—Mortgage.—The burden of proof that a transaction regarding certain land was a mortgage and not a sale is on the person out of possession. MAUNG SHWE THA v. MAUNG THU DAW, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 461, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 78, D.; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 102, 482, 491 and L.B.R. 1893—1900, 85, R.)

(3)—Land ostensibly sold—Mortgage.—Where a plaintiff seeks to redeem land ostensibly sold on the ground of there being a separate oral agreement to treat the transaction as a mortgage, the burden of proof of mortgage is on the plaintiff and the evidence of such mortgage transaction must be clear and credible. The Burmese of the present day in Lower Burma are for the most part well aware of the difference between a sale and a mortgage, and if they intend a mortgage only, it is dangerous for them to execute a deed of sale and rely on oral evidence, which must often be open to doubt, to prove a mortgage. MAUNG SHWE HLAING v. MAUNG SHWE DOK, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 497.

Burden of proof.—continued.

——25.—Mortgage—continued.

(4)—Sale after mortgage—Onus of proof—As the defendant stated that after the land had been mortgaged it was sold to him, he was bound to prove the sale. MIKE v. MI MIN THWE. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 101. [Not F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 511.]

(5)—Land, mortgage or sale of—Tendency of Burmese agriculturist to mortgage rather than to sell his land.—The burden of proof in cases in Lower Burma, in which a Burman agriculturist seeks to redeem land, which he says was mortgaged from a defendant in possession who alleges that it was sold, is, undoubtedly in the first instance on the plaintiff, who must fail if no evidence at all be given on either side. This is clear from s. 110 of the Evidence Act, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 102, F.) But when considering the evidence that is produced, it is the duty of the Court to bear in mind the tendency of the Burman agriculturist to mortgage rather than to sell land outright. The existence of this tendency is undoubted. MAUNG TUN U v. MAUNG NYUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 642. [R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 514, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 85.]

(6)—Alleged sale after mortgage.—A mortgage of land being established, the burthen of proving that it was converted into sale is of course on the person alleging that change in the condition of things. MAUNG LON v. MAUNG CHA, U.B.R. 1896—1892, Vol. II, 575.

(7)—Conditional sale—Absolute sale—Presumption in favour of reservation of right of redemption.—If there is evidence that a sale, apparently absolute, was really conditional, this evidence should not be regarded with suspicion, because such sales are in accordance with the custom or practice of the people. The condition must be strictly proved, and in the absence of proof, no presumption in its favour can rightly be drawn. SHWE NGA v. THA DUN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 511.

(8)—Redemption—Burden of proof—Ownership—Evidence Act, I of 1872, s. 110.—In a suit for redemption of properties in the possession of the defendant, who sets up a sale, the burden of proving the mortgage is on the plaintiff RATAN KUAR v. JIWAN SINGH. 1 A. 194, F.B.

(9)—Mortgage—Redemption-suit.—In a suit for redemption, in the absence of any proof of a mortgage by the plaintiff, the existence of such a transaction between the parties cannot be assumed, in consequence of the failure of the defendant to establish an alleged sale. Very slight prima facie proof on the part of the plaintiff would suffice to shift the entire burden of proof on the defendant, but in its absence a plaintiff seeking to redeem cannot be relieved of the burden. BALAJI NARJI v. BABA DEVLI, 5 B.H.C.A.C. 159. [R., 11 A. 438, 27 B. 271.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——25.—Mortgage—continued.

(10)—Redemption-suit—Denial of mortgage.—Prima facie proof shifts onus.—In suits to redeem, where the defendant denies the mortgage, very slight prima facie proof that a mortgage had been originally made will be sufficient to shift the entire burden of proof on the defendant. RAMCHANDRA v. MOKUND, 3 Bom. L. R. 152.

(11)—Suit for redemption of mortgage—Denial of mortgage—Possession with defendant—Burden of proof—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 110.—Where the defendant in a suit for redemption happens to be in possession of the mortgaged property, affording evidence of his title thereto, the plaintiff-mortgagor alleging that the defendant is merely a mortgagee is bound to show that the specific mortgage has been executed. Mere indefinite statements by him as to the property having been mortgaged, when made without reference to any specific mortgage thereof, are not sufficient to shift to the mortgagee the onus of proving what the terms of the mortgage were, and his right under it to retain the property until he is paid off. In such cases, the law leans in favour of possession, and requires the person who comes in to redeem on his own terms, to make out a clear case and to succeed by the strength of the title he sets up. RAMCHANDRA APAJI v. BALAJI BHAURAV, 9 B. 137. [Appr., 11 A. 436=7 A.W.N. 155; R., 27 B 271.]

(12)—Redemption-suit— Mortgage-deed containing clause for forfeiture of property—Transfer of possession—Transfer of ownership, evidence of—When a transaction begins as a mortgage, then, even though since the date of the mortgage, there has been a transfer of possession from the mortgagor to the mortgagee, and although the mortgage-deed provides for forfeiture of the property on failure to re-pay on demand the amount secured with interest due, there still must be sufficient evidence to show that the intention was to transfer the ownership of the property, if this be alleged by the mortgagee the burden of proof of such outright transfer being on the mortgagee resisting redemption. MAUNG PO TE v. MAUNG PO KYAW, 1 L.B.R. 215. [R., 5 L B.R. 40, L.B. R. 1905—1906, 5.]

(13)—Burden of proof—Suit for possession of land by redemption of mortgage—Plaintiff to prove not only the existence of the mortgage but circumstances entitling him to redeem.—If a plaintiff desires to obtain a decree for possession from a person who obtained possession under him or his predecessor as mortgagee, the plaintiff must prove that he is entitled to redeem the mortgage, or that the mortgage has determined by payment of the whole mortgage-debt, or by the happening of some other event which would determine the right of the mortgagee to hold possession as against his mortgagor. LAL MUKUND SINGH v. JAGESHAR SINGH, A.W.N. 1894, 167. [R., 2 A.L.J. 62=A.W.N. 1905, 14.]

Burden of Proof*—continued.

——25.—Mortgage—continued.

(14)—Possession.—Where a suit was brought to redeem a mortgage, and defendants pleaded possession under a sale, held, under the circumstances, there having been long undisputed possession, that the onus of proving that the possession was less than a proprietary possession and was referable to a mortgage, lay on the person, who claimed to redeem it. RUGHOO NATH RAI v. CHUNDOO LALL, 2 Agra 395.

(15)—Zur-i-peshgi lease—Execution-sale—Possessory suit by purchaser from transferee—Proof of subsistence of mortgage—Equity of redemption — Ejectment of person long in possession—Onus of proving strict legal title—In a suit for possession of mortgaged property instituted by the purchaser of the rights of the heirs of one to whom the rights of the original proprietor are alleged to have been transferred several years ago by an execution-sale, the plaintiff was bound to prove the subsistence of the mortgage and his right, as the representative of the heirs, to the equity of redemption and to possession on payment of what remained due. A person seeking to eject those long in possession ought to prove a strict legal title. ASHRUFFONNISSA BEGUM v. RUGHOONATH SOHOY, 2 W.R. 267.

(16)—Usufructuary mortgagee, Suit by—What the plaintiff should prove.—Held that a plaintiff in possession under an usufructuary mortgage, and suing for the balance due, is bound to prove that he has not realised the amount due under the conditions of the lease from the usufruct. CHUTTER DHAREE SINGH v. SHAIKH SWEER HOSSEIN, 1 W.R. 28.

(17)—Burden of proof—Usufructuary mortgage—Redemption, Reg. XV of 1793, s. 11.—In a suit for possession of immoveable property on the ground that a usufructuary mortgage of it had been satisfied out of the profits of the property, and for surplus profits, the burden of proving that the mortgage-debt has been extinguished lies on the mortgagee. Under the law of the Regulations, the mortgagees were bound to produce and prove their accounts. ABDUL GHANI v. DURGA PRASAD, A.W.N. 1883, 90.

(18)—Usufructuary mortgage—Tender of account—Forcible dispossession by mortgagor—Onus as to interest—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15.—Where a mortgagee sued to recover possession of property of which he was forcibly dispossessed by the mortgagor, who tendered the principal sum of the mortgage-debt, the interest on which it was agreed should be deducted out of the usufruct, the mortgagor making up any deficiency due to the falling short of the profits, and obtained a decree with wassulat held, that the onus was on him to produce the accounts and prove that something was due to him as interest, though he might have sued under s. 15 Act, XIV of 1859. SREEMUTUY PRAN KISHOREE v. CHUNDEE CHURN BISWAS, 19 W.R. 429.

Burden of Proof—continued.

——25.—Mortgage—continued.

(19)—Zur-i-pesbgi ijara lease—Loan under lease—Mortgage of property as security—Suit for sale of such property—Dispossession under decree.—In a suit for the sale of property mortgaged as security for a loan under a zur-i-peshgi ijara lease, and of which plaintiff had been dispossessed under colour of a decree, he having for many years had the usufruct of the land for the purpose of repayment, held that the burden was on him to show that there was anything due to him yet as also to show that the ijara entitled him to sell the property upon some contingency. MUSSAMUT MUJEEDUNISSA v. SYUD DILDAR HOSSEIN, 20 W.R. 178.

(20)—Suit for declaring that mortgage is not genuine—Onus of proof.—When the plaintiffs, on service on them of notice of foreclosure by the mortgagees, bring a suit praying for a declaration that the mortgage was not genuine, held that the burden of proving that the mortgage-deed is a fabrication does not lie on them. GUJADHUR MOWAR v. ZINDA MOWAR, 6 W.R. 69.

(21)—Purchase from mortgagee after foreclosure—Onus of proving transaction to be fraudulent, on whom lies.—In the case of a purchase of the mortgaged property from the mortgagee after foreclosure, where the mortgagor and the mortgagee admit the vendee's title, held, that the onus of proving that the transaction is fraudulent lies on the person who raises such a plea. MUSSAMUT SAHOODUR KOOER v. JOY NARAIN SINGH, 1 W.R. 326. [F., 7 W.R. 441.]

(22)—Attachment by plaintiff — Mortgage alleged by defendant, validity of—Onus.—Where plaintiff alleges that an attachment subsists, and that the mortgage under which defendant claims is invalid, plaintiff should prove his allegation. TOOLSEE DUTT MISSER v. BROJOMOHUN THAKOOR, 9 W.R. 332.

(23)—Suit to establish right to sale-proceeds of attached property—Claim to such property as tenant of land mortgaged—Execution of lease of tenancy—Consideration —The burden of proving consideration as against the mortgagee, who was not a party to the lease, lies on the party to whom the lease was alleged to be executed. THA DUN U v. MR. HEAP OF MESSRS. HEAP & CO. L.B.R. 1893—1900, 501.

(24)—Mortgage—Original mortgage barred by limitation—Renewal of mortgage within time set up.—The land in dispute in this case had been in possession of the applicant-defendant for 46 years, since the year 1208 B.E, and, during all that time, her possession and title had not been challenged till this suit was brought, and the suit which preceded it brought by Ma U Ma, another of the heirs claiming the estate. The exact nature of the action brought by Ma U Ma had not been made clear as it ought to have been, but she claimed as the heir of Ma Win, who was the original owner of the land and who mortgaged it to defendants' predecessors. This mortgage was made in 1164, and redemption would now be barred by limitation. In 1208, some transaction took place and it was on this transaction that the dispute now turned. The plaintiff set up the claim that their predecessor continued the mortgage to defendants' predecessors whereas the defendant alleged that the land was then sold outright. It was clear that the plaintiffs had got to prove the mortgage in 1208 for they set up the mortgage-deed as the ground of their suit, and they would fail in their suit unless they could prove a mortgage at that time. Held that, in the circumstances, the mortgage had to be established by the plaintiffs and this had not been satisfactorily done. The defendants' title did not rest on the old mortgage by Ma Win which was extinct, but on long possession, and the plaintiffs must make out their title to redeem distinctly by proving the new mortgage of 1208. MA ZAN GYWE v. MAUNG THA HMIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 220.

(25)—Mortgage—Burden of proof—Admission by defendant of previous ownership of part of land claimed by plaintiff's predecessor in interest —An admission made by the defendant that a piece of mortgaged land which the plaintiffs sought, as mortgagors, to redeem, once belonged to the plaintiff's predecessor, was held not to shift the burden of proof, that the land was not mortgaged to the defendant, and that it lay on them to prove the mortgage; such admission might perhaps be taken into consideration in estimating the evidence. If the plaintiffs sued not as mortgagors seeking to redeem, but as owners seeking to recover possession, an admission made by the defendant that the plaintiffs' predecessor was, at one time, the owner of a piece of the land in question might avail them. MA HMO v. MAUNG SHWE HMAING, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 222.

(26)—Alleged seizure by force or fraud of mortgage lands.—Onus probandi.—Where A, a mortgagee, alleged that B forcibly took possession of the lands and carried off his documents substituting for them new ones by which A could not prove his title: Held that the onus probandi lay on A, and that the evidence was insufficient to prove that the release of the mortgaged lands was obtained either by force or fraud. RAI IBRAM BULLEE v. AGHA HOSSEIN KHAN, 7 M.L.J. 231.

See BUDDHIST LAW—GENERAL, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 78.

See EVIDENCE ACT. 1872, s. 90, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II. 350.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 91, 102, 114, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 396.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 102, 110, U.B.R, 1896—1901. Vol. II, 412.

Burden of Proof*—continued.

——25.—Mortgage—concluded.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 110, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 514.

Burden of proof—Mortgagee's knowledge of son's interest—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION 5 N.L.R. 117=3 Ind. Cas. 570.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1903, art. 12, 9 M. 460.

See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 3 O.C 173.

Mortgage without possession — Possession subsequently given to mortgagee—Transaction a sale, not a mortgage—Burden of proof on the motgagee—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL 5 L. B.R. 40=2 Ind. Cas. 535.

Taking accounts in suit for redemption—Onus on mortgagee to prove dues from mortgagor — See MORTGAGE-ACCOUNTS BETWEEN MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE, 6 B. 669.

See MORTGAGE—FORECLOSURE. 6 A. 344=A.W.N. 1884, 110, 139 P.R. 1883.

Suit on mortgage—Defendant's plea that he was vendee and not mortgagee—Onus of proof—See MORTGAGE—FORM OF MORTGAGES, 7 B. 73.

Suit for redemption of mortgage of 1846—Plaintiff to give at least prima faice proof that mortgage is redeemable—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 11 O.C. 285.

Suit for possession—Adverse possession—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 2 A.L.J. 62=A. W.N. 1905, 14.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 71 P.R. 1900, 61 P.L.R. 1904, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 565, 570, 579, A.W.N. 1899, 39, 12 A. 189=A.W.N. 1889, 199, 3 Bom. L.R. 152.

Authority of mortgagor to impose any easement on the property mortgaged whereby the security is rendered insufficient—Validity of such act—See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 85 P.R. 1902.

Suit for recovery of land mortgaged—Plea that mortgage was converted into sale—Burden lies on defendant to prove sale—See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 L.B.R. 5.

As to valid attestation of mortgage-deed sued on—Applicability of maxim rite omnia esse acta—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 2 N.L.R. 10.

——26.—Negotiable Instruments.

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881.

(1)—Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, s. 118.—Prseumption—Proof of consideration—Undue influence—Contract Act, 1872, s. 16.—A money-lender admittedly lent money to a dissolute young man during his minority, and, again within a few days of his attaining his majority, supplied him with large quantities of jewellery in the presence only of his (plaintiff's) touts, relations and dependants, and then obviously gave a false colour to the transaction in his claim; held, that under such circumstances undue influence is to be presumed, and the ordinary presumption laid down in s. 118 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, that, until the contrary is proved, the presumption should be made that every negotiable instrument was made for consideration was shifted to the plaintiff, who must, therefore, discharge the onus of proving the actual amount of the advances. MIRAN BAKHSH v. MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN 2 P.R. 1902. [R., 9 P.R. 1906=19 P.L.R. 1906.]

Burden of Proof*—continued.

——26.—Negotiable Instruments—concluded.

In cases of negotiable instruments—Burden thrown on wrong party — Revision — See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS — HUNDIS — GENERAL, 25 P.W.R. 1910=24 P.L.R. 1910 =5 Ind. Cas. 891.

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—HUNDIS —MISCELLANEOUS, 1 B. 295.

Dishonour of hundi after acceptance—Notice of dishonuor—Omission to give notice—Burden of proving absence of damage consequent on omission to give notice—Partnership between drawer and drawee—Acceptor's liability barred by limitation—Drawer whether discharged—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881, s. 98 (c), 26 M. 239=17 M.L.J. 267.

——27.—Partition.

See PARTITION.

(1)—Suit for possession—Butwara proceedings—Burden of proof.—Where in a suit for possession of lands said to have been assigned to the plaintiffs by a partition made by a Collector, the defendants deny that certain plots are included in particular daghs in the butwara chittahs, the burden of proof was held to lie on the plaintiffs to prove their allegation. Where, in respect to a dagh the plaintiffs are admitted to be entitled to a certain quantity of land, and they claim particular lands as assigned to them by the butwara proceedings, the burden lies on them to prove their allegation. BHUGOBUTTY GOOPTA v. SARODA SOONDUREE DEBEA. 11 W.R. 337.

(2)—Suit for possession—Butwara award under Reg. XIX of 1814—Possession given up, plea of Burden of proof.—In a suit for possession on the ground that the lands claimed were allotted to plaintiff's share by a butwara under Reg. XIX of 1814, held that the burden of proving that the defendant had interfered with the possession awarded to him by the Collector lay on the plaintiff. SYUD MOBARUK ALI v. SYAD IMDAD ALI, 16 W.R. 200.

(3)—Village site— Partition—Abadi—Shamilat—Onus.—In a suit for the partition of a village-site in which the defendants plead that the entry in the Settlement Record is incorrect and that the village was a bhayachara village and that there is no divisible Shamilat

Burden of Proof—continued.

——27.—Partition—concluded.

in the village abadi, the burden of proving that there is divisible shamilat in the abadi rests on the plaintiffs. ISWAR SINGH v. ATMA SINGH, 117 P.R., 1894. [R., 136 P.R. 1906.]

(4)—Suit by joint family member for division—Burden of proof that family was undivided.—Where the plaintiff, a member of a Hindu family, suing for a division of the family estate, admitted on the face of his plaint that he had taken possession of part of the family property, and for sixteen years lived separate, the onus probandi, lies on him to show that the circumstances under which he became possessed of his portion of the property were consistent with his statement that the family remained undivided. SOMANGONDA bin DAJAMANGONDA v. BHARMANGODA, 1 B.H.C. 43. [R., 7 B.H.C. 133, 10 B.H.C. 444.]

See BUDDHIST LAW—PARTITION, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 22.

See BUDDHIST LAW—WIDOW, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 35.

See PARTITION—PRIVATE PARTITION, 8 C. 72=10 C.L.R. 81.

——28.—Possession and Proof of Title.

See POSSESSION.

(1)—Suit for possession—Plaintiff's possession and title denied—Onus.—In a suit for possession of land, where plaintiff's title and previous possession are both denied, held that the plaintiff should start his case. R. WALKER v. ATMA RAM MUNDUR, 14 W.R. 478.

(2)—Possession—Prima facie evidence of title—Burden of proof.—Possession is prima facie evidence of title, and is primarily exclusive, and it is for him, who impugns this exclusive title, to show that the possession originated in a way not to affect his own right. KRISHNA CHARYA v. LINGAWA, 20 B. 270. [R., 78 P.R. 1902=137 P.L.R. 1902.]

(3)—Sale—Gift—Onus of proof.—Where a sale has been made to the defendant in possession of property of which a prior gift is alleged to have been made to the plaintiff, held, that the transaction throws doubt on the bona fides of the alleged gift and shifts the onus on the plaintiff to prove his title under the gift before the defendant in possession is called on to prove his title. GOBIND CHUNDER PAUL CHOWDREE v. GOLUCK CHUNDER GOSHAMEE, 1 W.R. 244.

(4)—Allegation of forcible ouster—Burden of proving ouster first.—Where plaintiff alleges forcible ouster in a certain year, he is bound to prove such ouster before defendant need be called upon to prove anything. RAJARAM KALITA v. ROOPA KAGTEE KALITA, 13 W.R. 113.

(5)—Suit for possession—Onus of proof on whom lies.—Where a plaintiff alleges that certain property had been in his possession as Khamar property and that the defendant wrongfully seized them and sold the produce, held that the onus lies on the plaintiff to prove his case. HARADHUN DUTT v. KOONJO BEHAREE LAL SINGH BABOO, 5 W.R. 245.

Burden of Proof—continued.

——28—.Poseession and proof of title—contd.

(6)—Suit for possession—Onus on whom lies.—In a suit for possession, the plaintiff must prove his title to recover the land. BUNGO CHUNDER BOSE v. KASHEE CHUNDER BOSE, 5 W.R. 218.

(7)—Onus of proof—Adverse possession—Nature of possession requiring proof.—The onus of proving a title by adverse possession for the statutory period lies on him who alleges it. The possession required to be proved must be adequate in continuity, in publicity, and in extent to show that it is possession adverse to the competitor. RADHAMONI DEVI v. COLLECTOR OF KHULNA, 2 Bom. L.R. 592.

(8)—Claimant cannot succeed on account of weakness of title of adversary.—A claimant cannot succeed because his adversary's title is weak and a person, who enters upon property which is lawfully in the possession of another, cannot hold it against that other, merely because he cannot prove a satisfactory title. ADJOODHYA PRASAD v. SHEDASS MADAN GOPAL, 1 C P.L.R. 3. (6 B. 215, Dist.) [R., 1 N.L.R. 150.]

(9)—Forcible or wrongful dispossession of land.—The plaintiff was admittedly in possession, and had been so for six years at least, as defendant himself acknowledged. There was evidence that she and her ancestors had been in possession for some 20 years. The defendant denied wrongful dispossession. He said the land had been made over to him by plaintiff and her husband. The burthen of proving this was on him. He had failed to discharge it. There was only the vague evidence of one witness for the defence that plaintiff's husband said he could work the land if he claimed the right over it, and this was contradicted by other evidence for the defence that defendant entered on the land in opposition to plaintiff who took criminal proceedings against him. Wrongful dispossession was, therefore, proved, and plaintiff was entitled to recover possesison at least, and to get back the land permanently, unless her claim could be resisted by a superior title. MA SI v. MAUNG YE BAW, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 233

(10)—Suit for possession—Utility of presumption arsing from title.—Where there is evidence, apparently strong on each side, in estimating the weight due to the evidence on both sides, the presumption which arises from title may in certain circumstances be regarded. But, if there be no credible evidence on plaintiff's side, no question of turning the balance of evidence by the weight of presumption as to title arises. LAXMAN v. MANGAL KHAN, 7 C.P.L.R. 12. (12 C. 38, R.)

(11)—Suit by person in possession for confirmation of title—Onus of proof.—When a plaintiff in possession sues to have his title confirmed, he is none the less bound to prove such title. JOLOKE SINGH v. GURWAR SINGH, 2 W.R. 167.

Burden of Proof—continued.

28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(12)—Proof of title by plaintiff—Burden of proving adverse possession.—In a suit for possession based on title, where the plaintiff proves title, the burden of proving adverse possession is upon the defendant. SARSUTI v. KUNJ BEHARI LAL, 3 A. 345, F.B. [R., 11 A. 438.]

(13)—*Suit for possession—Separate possession—Forcible realisation of rents—*Onus of proving existence of share in separate possession.—In a suit for possession where plaintiff (the wife of one K) alleged having purchased, at a private sale from M and others, a distinct share of a certain talook, together with other rent-free lands, and that she was in separate possession by collecting rents when she was dispossessed by defendant who forcibly realized the rents, defendant stated that, in the same year she had purchased at a sale in execution the rent-free lands of K and others, that she was in possession and knew nothing where plaintiff's lands lay: Held that it was incumbent on plaintiff to prove by documentary evidence the existence of the distinct share said to have been purchased from M, or to bring M into Court to prove what he had sold. RADHIK CHOWDHRAIN v. NISTARINEE DOSSEE, 24 W.R. 126.

(14)—Claim to property attached in execution of decree—Suit to establish judgment-debtor's right.—Where an attaching creditor proves that the judgment-debtor has been in possession and enjoyment of the property attached, and has been using it, to all external appearances, as owner and proprietor, the onus is cast on the claimant to prove his title. MATHURA DAS v. MITCHELL, 4 A 206 = A.W.N. 1882, 17.

(15)—Possession, evidence of—Title—Prima facie proof of possession—Onus of rebutting such evidence.—Possession is evidence of title; and the plaintiff, proving that he had possession and had been forcibly disturbed, makes out a prima facie title which the defendant should rebut. MAHOMED BUX v. ABDOOL KUREEM, 20 W. R. 458.

(16)—Suit for possession of ousut taluk—Dispossession by purchaser of zemindari—Prima facie title in superior landlord—Burden of defeating of such title.—In a suit to recover possession of an ousut talook on the allegation of having been dispossessed by the purchaser of the zemindari right, held that the defendant being shown to be the superior landlord and as such having had prima facie title, it lay on the plaintiff to defeat that right by proving the grant of an intermediate tenure. NISTARINEE v. KALI PERSHAD DASS CHOWDHRY, 23 W. R. 431. (12 W.R. P.C. 7, F.) [F., 7 C. 442.]

(17)—Owner of land with prima facie title to possession—Tenure entitling to possession—Effect.—The owner of land showing a prima facie title to possession can claim a decree, unless the party in possession has a tenure entitling him to retain possession RAM MONEE MOHUR v. ALEEMOODDEEN, 20 W. R. 374. [Ap., 22 W.R. 417; F., 11 C.L.R. 476, 15 C, 89, 13 C. 1; R, 6 C.W.N. 105.]

(18)—Possessory suit on ground of khas possession—Title admitted—Onus of proof.—Where a suit to recover possession, based on the allegation that plaintiff had been in khas possession, is decreed by the first Court, and reversed by the lower appellate Court, on the ground that plaintiff had not proved his khas possession or dispossession, held that the lower appellate Court took a very narrow view of the case and decided it on wrong issue; the plaintiff should not have been called upon to prove khas possession in order to recover land from one who had no title to it, as the plaintiff's title had been admitted. RAJ KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. PEAREE MOHUN MOOKERJEE, 20 W.R. 421.

(19)—Suit for kha*s possession—Plaintiff alleging permanent tenure—Plea of lease from zemindar—Effect—Limitation—Right to* khas possession.—In a suit for khas possession, where plaintiffs allege a permanent tenure, and defendants plead a lease from the zemindar, this plea indicates a good title, unless plaintiffs can prove a better title in themselves. But if plaintiffs establish that their tenure is of a permament character, and that they are not barred by limitation, they must be entitled to khas possession. ASSUROODDEEN v. GOBIND CHUNDER KOONDOO, 24 W R. 123.

(20)—Suit for possession by zemindar—Title admitted—Proof.—In a suit for possession, the plaintiff who was admittedly the zemindar of the land, gave no evidence of her allegation that the land was her zerait, and the defendants failed to substantiate their defence that they had acquired a right of occupancy, nor were they able to prove that they were tenants of the plaintiff. Held that the plaintiff being admittedly the zemindar of the land, her title to the property was established; and unless the defendants establish their defence, or that they were even tenants-at-will under the plaintiff, the latter was entitled to a decree. BATAI ASHIR v. BHUGGOBUTTY KOER, 11 C.L.R. 476. (12 M.I.A. 286, 20 W.R. 374, 20 W.R. 421, 22 W.R. 417, 23 W.R. 238, 23 W.R. 291, F.) [F., 9 C.W.N. 144; Appl., 15 C. 89; D., 13 C. 1, 6 C.W.N. 105, 13 C.W.N. 661.]

(21)—General title—Mokurari tenure—Onus probandi.—Where a plaintiff has the general title to the property in suit, and the defendant sets up an interest as mokuraridar, the defendant has the burden of proof on him. KOONJ BEHAREE RAM v. BUKSHEE LUCHMUN DOSS, 19 W R. 188. [Ap., 22 W.R. 417; F., 20 W.R. 421.]

(22)—Possessory suit—Dispossession—Admission of plaintiff's ownership—Claim to hold possession under jote tenancy—Onus:—Where, in a suit to recover possession of land of which plaintiffs had been forcibly dispossessed, defendants admit the ownership to be with the plaintiffs, and pray to be allowed to hold possession under the jote tenancy, the burden of proof was held to be on them. HUREE MOHUN PODDAR v. GUREEBOOLLA MULLICK, 22 W.R. 417. [F., 11 C.L.R. 476; R., 9 C.W.N. 144.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(23)—Suit for possession of julkur by landlord—Allegation of temporary tenancy in defendants—Plea of miras right—Suit demanding possession from defendants—Notice—Question for determination.—In a suit by a landlord to recover possession of a julkur on the allegation that defendants never had had any but temporary tenancy, and that they had retired from the fishery, where defendants in answer set up a miras right: Held that the suit should be looked upon as a demand for possession from the defendants, or as it were a notice to give up possession, and that the question to be tried is whether the defendants are entitled to retain possession. KALEE KISHORE ROY v. BROJENDRO COOMAR ROY CHOWDHRY, 24 W.R. 266.

(24)—Decree for julkur as part of estate settled—Act IV of 1840 award, adverse possession under award—Original boundaries and modern possession.—To obtain a decree for a julkur, as part of an estate settled with him, of which adverse possession has been obtained by Act IV, award, plaintiff must show, not only original boundaries, but modern possession. RANEE RADHA CHOWDHRAIN v. KISHEN SOONDUREE DOSSIA, 2 W.R. 304.

(25)—Forcible ouster—Suit for possession—Burden of proving title.—Where a person forcibly dispossessed sues to recover possession title must be proved by the party guilty of the forcible dispossession. SHAMA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. THE COLLECTOR OF MALDAH, 12 W.R. 164.

(26)—Possessory suit—Allegation of dispossession—Procedure—Proprietary title and undertenancy.—Proper procedure in a suit for recovery of possession on allegation of illegal dispossession pointed out. Where defendant establishes title as landlord, defendant cannot in a Civil Court succeed on the title of an under tenant. KUBEEROODDEEN AHMED v. NYAN BIBEE, 8 W.R. 354.

(27)—Suit to recover landed property in possession of defendant—Possession within twelve years before suit and title to possession.—Where a plaintiff brought a suit in 1856 to recover landed property which was in the possession of the defendant since 1845 and at the time of the institution of the suit; held that, before the plaintiff could recover, he must prove, first, possession within 12 years before suit; and secondly, title to possession. BEER CHUNDER JOBRAJ v. THE DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF BHULLOOAH, 13 W.R P.C. 23.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(28)—Suit for possession—Question of title.—In a suit to recover possession of land that had been entered upon under a lease, the Court need not go into plaintiff's title, until there are found grounds for believing that defendant's case is a good one. DABJEE SAHOO v. SHAIKH TUMEEZOODDEEN, 10 W.R. 102.

(29)—Illegal dispossession—Suit for possession—Onus.—In a suit to recover possession, where plaintiff proves possession, and dispossession, the onus lies in the first instance on the defendant. RADHA BULLUB GOSSAIN v. KISHEN GOBIND GOSSAIN, 9 W.R. 71. [R., 11 C.L.R. 133.]

(30)—Suit for possession—Onus of proof.—Where A brings a suit to recover possession of land for which he had obtained a decree in a suit with C, but of which he had been illegally dispossessed by B, held that, the dispossession being proved, the onus lay in the first instance on B of proving his title, and that the mere fact that the land was indentical with that decreed to A in his suit with C could not entitle him (A) to a decree in his suit with B. JADUBNATH v. RAM SOONDAR SURMAH, 7 W.R. 174.

(31)—Suit in ejectment—Burden of proof.—Suit by A, to recover real estate in the possession of B, and of his predecessors, whose title had been unchallenged for forty-four years, on the ground that the estate was mortgaged only by A's ancestors, and that B, and those claiming under him, were only usufructuary mortgagees in possession. Held, that the onus probandi was on A, who could only succeed by the strength of his own title, and not by reason of the weakness of B's title. If a party put in evidence, in support of his title, documents proved to be forged, but the other evidence adduced by him is not impeached, the Court, in rejecting the forged documents, will take the unimpeached evidence into consideration and, if satisfied, adjudicate thereon. SEVVAJI VIJAYA RAGHUNADHA VALOJI KRISTNAN GOPALAR v. CHINNA NAYANA CHETTI, 10 M.I.A. 151.

(32)—Possession under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859—Suit for possession—Onus of proof—Where a person obtained possession under an order passed in accordance with the provisions of s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, and another person sues to recover possession of the suit-land from him, held, that it is for the plaintiff to prove everything and that the possession of the defendant cannot be disturbed, unless the plaintiff gives proof of a better title. MOULVIE MAENOODDEEN v. GREESH CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY, 7 W.R. 230.

(33)—Illegal ejectment—Suit for possession—Remedy—S 15, Act XIV of 1859—Possessory suit—Proof of title.—Whether the plaintiff seeks to recover possession simply on the ground of illegal ejectment, his remedy is to bring a possessory suit under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859; otherwise he must show some title to re-enter and that the landlord ejected him without having any right to do so. NUND KISHORE LALL v. SHEO DYAL OOPADHYA, 11 W.R. 168.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(34)—Possessory suit—S. 15, Act XIV of 1859, failure to recover possession in action under—Plea of purchase from plaintiff's father—Onus.—In a suit to recover possession of land of which, plaintiff had failed to recover possession in an action under Act XIV of 1859, s. 15, defendant pleading acquisition by purchase from plaintiff's father, held that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his title and not on the defendant to show that the land in dispute was within the conveyances filed by him. JOKEE MEAH v. JOOGUL KISHORE SURMAH, 20 W.R. 414.

(35)—Agreement to abide by result of one suit—Suits to be analogous.—Where parties to other suits agree to abide by the result of the decision in one, suits should be analogous, so that one decision might decide all the questions at issue. LUCHMAN PRITHEE MUNDUL v. KOOER SREE NUNDUN SINGH, 23 W.R. 383.

(36)—Onus — Possession — Heir-at-law.—Where a defendant in possession of certain property resists a suit for possession thereof, brought by parties who have proved themselves to be the nearest heirs of the last full owner, the onus is on the defendant to prove his title. RAMPROTAB MISSER v. ABHILAK MISSER, 3 C.L.R. 170. (3 B.L.R. A.C. 145, 13 B.L.R. 427, F.)

(37)—Suit by plaintiff for possession as heir of his father—Defendant alleged the plaintiffs to have been adopted by another—Admission by plaintiff of his having been so adopted—Nature of such admissions—Estoppel.—M and his transferees brought to suits for possession of property left by one P, the natural father of M. The defence was that the plaintiff could not inherit, inasmuch as he was adopted by K. The defendant filed several documents, in which the adoption was admitted by M himself. Held, that the burden of proving that the adoption relied upon took place, rested on the defendant. But that burden was, prima facie, shifted by her proving his solemn statements under hand and seal that it did take place. The defendant not being a party to those documents, the said statements did not amount to estoppel, but the party making the statements could rebut the presumption that they were true. The express admissions of a party to a suit, or admissions implied from his conduct, or evidence, and strong evidence against him ; but he could show that those admissions were mistaken or not true. RANI CHUNDRA KUNWAR v. NARPET SINGH, 4 A. L.J. 102, P.C. = 11 C.W.N. 321 = 6 C.L.J. 116 = 17 M.L.J. 103 = 2 M.L.T. 109 = 9 Bom L.R. 267. = 29 A. 184.

(38)—Possession of property—Owner—Mortgagee—Burden of proof.—Where a person is shown to be in possession of property, not as owner of the full proprietary right, but as mortgagee, the burden of proof of qualified ownership lies on the party asserting it. Such a case falls within the scope of s. 110, Act I of 1872. SHEORUTTUN GIR v. DOORGA, 6 N.W.P. 36. [F., 11 A. 438.]

(39)—Suit for redemption by mortgagee against sub-mortgagee—Latter setting up sale of rights—Unregistered deed—Possession—Onus.—Title may be presumed from lawful possession, until want of title or better title is established. Where a dispute is between a mortgagee and a person deriving his rights from that mortgagee, the point at issue is the ownership of the mortgage made by the proprietor. Though the plaintiff may not set up a complete title to the ownership of the land, he is, therefore, not necessarily in the position of a man who has pleaded a limited title and so bound to prove it. JODH SINGH v. SUNDAR SINGH, 122 P.R. 1882. [R., 74 P. R. 1883, 126 P. R. 1884.]

(40)—Proprietors — Claim for possession—Defence of limited title evidenced by unregistered deed.—Suit by a proprietor for possession of lands against persons whom they alleged to be their tenants. Though admitting the plaintiff's proprietary right, the defendants set up a mortgage right, which, however, could not be proved as the deed evidencing the right was unregistered. The plaintiff was held entitled to a decree. SAWAN SINGH v. LEHNA SINGH, 123 P.R. 1882. (58 P.R. 1877, 84 P.R. 1877, F.)

(41)—Suit for possession—Allegation by defendant of benami purchase for him by plaintiff—Onus of proof.—Where, in a suit for recovery of possession on the ground of dispossession, the defendant alleged that the lands were purchased benami for him, by the plaintiff, held, the onus of making out a prima facie case lay on the plaintiff under s. 110, Evidence Act. HURI RAM v RAJ COOMAR OPADHYA, 8 C. 759.

(42)—Benami transaction—Onus.—A person, alleging that a sale is not what it purports to be on the face of it, is bound to prove his allegation. KARIM UD DIN v. HARDHYAN SINGH, 43 P.R. 1882. See also, MUSSAMMAT FAZULUN-NISSA v. HARDHYAN SINGH, 43 P.R. 1882, note. [R., 37 P.R. 1909.]

(43)—Suit to recover possession of property—Title—Burden of proof.—No person can set up his own fraud. Where the plaintiff sued to recover possession of certain property, which she claimed by inheritance from her father, on proof that she had been dispossessed by a benamidar, in whose favour a formal conveyance had been executed by her father, held, that plaintiff's prior continuous and peaceful possession would completely answer the presumption arising from the defendant's recent and unexplained possession, and would shift back upon him the onus of proving that he had acquired the property by a good title from the plaintiff or her father. MAHESH CHANDRA BANDOPADHYA v. SRIMATI BARADA DEBI, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 275=11 W.R. 185. [R., 11 C.L.R. 133.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(44)—Suit for title-deeds—Plea of beneficial interest in property—Onus of proof.—In a suit for title-deeds, where beneficial interest is pleaded in the property purchased in plaintiff's name, held that, if the plaintiff could show that he had held possession from the time of the purchase to the institution of the suit, the defendant must prove that she had herself purchased the property ; else, the burden would lie on the plaintiff to prove that the property was purchased from his own funds. NILMONEE BANERJEE v. SURBO MUNGULA DEBIA, 2 W.R. 31.

(45)—Suit for possession of immoveable property—Adverse possession—Burden of proof.—Suit for possession of plaintiff's share of certain immoveable property left by his paternal grandfather. The plaintiff's right of inheritance under his personal law having been lost (his father having predeceased his grandfather), a testamentary document under which his title, together with the defendants, originated some twenty-eight years before suit was set up by him, Held that he was bound to prove that his claim was within time. DIN MUHAMMAD v. MEER BAKHSH, 30 P.R 1902.

(46)—Suit by purchaser at Court sale—Defendant's plea of purchase under unregistered sale from judgment-debtor—Onus of proof—Adverse possession.—Plaintiff, purchaser at a Court sale, of the judgment-debtor's interest, sought to eject the defendant, who pleaded possession under an unregistered sale by the judgment-debtor. Held that, as the defendant had admitted that he derived his title from the judgment-debtor, the burden of proving a valid sale by the latter lay upon the defendant and that he had failed to prove such a sale, the sale-deed to him being inadmissible as unregistered, and oral evidence being inadmissible in its place. Though, however, the defendant could not establish a title by purchase, it was competent to him to prove a title without the aid of his deed of sale, as a title founded on adverse possession for twelve years. SAMBHUBHAI KARSANDAS v. SHIVLALDAS SADASHIVDAS DESAI, 4 B. 89. [Appr., 4 B. 126, F.B.; R.,6 B. 168, F.B., 9 B. 137; R., 12 B. 569, 11 A. 438, 16 B. 722, 27 B. 452=5 Bom. L. R. 144 ; D., 18 B. 332.]

(47)—Unregistered sale—Possession under—Onus.—An unregistered deed of sale under which a person is in possession, would prima facie be evidence that he held as owner. The burden lies upon him, who claims under a registered sale, to show that the former is not the owner. IMAM BUKHSH v. POKHAR, 26 P.R. 1882. (102 P.R. 1879, F.) [R., 126 P.R. 1884 ; F., 2 P.R. 1885.]

Burden of proof—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(48)—Attachment in execution—Dower—Burden of proof.—In a suit for the sale of property in satisfaction of a decree, where the judgment-debtor made it over to his wife in lieu of dower, and she transferred it to defendant. Held that the onus was on the plaintiff. LYAKUT ALI v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 10 W.R. 423.

(49)—Judgment-creditor getting partial possession without judgment-debtor's opposition—Onus of proof re inability to secure possession of remainder.—Where a judgment-creditor admits having obtained possession of a portion of the land without opposition from the judgment-debtor, the onus lies on him to show that he was unable to obtain possession of the remainder. AMJATT ALI v. AZHUR ALI, 21 W.R. 241.

(50)—Boundary suit—Relation of Government--Government title of prescription of sixty years.—The relation of Government in respect of the twenty-four Pergunnahs, as landlord and tenant, in a suit respecting boundaries with the tenant and another in possession of the land, is such, that the tenant cannot take advantage of the Government title of prescription of sixty-years. GUNGA GOBIND MUNDUL v. THE COLLECTOR OF THE TWENTY FOUR PERGUNNAHS, 7 W.R. 21.P.C. =11 M.I.A. 345.

(51)—Possession, suit to recover—Right of occupation—Miras land—Regulation XVII of 1827, s. 7, cls. 1 & 2—Bombay Act I of 1865.—On the 8th August, 1857, the plaintiff passed a kabuliyat to Government and took possession of certain miras land abandoned by the mirasdar for four or five years previous to that date. The plaintiff continued in possession of his land, and paid the Government assessment from 1864 till 1872. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover possession of the land, he alleged in the plaint that he had taken the defendants as partners in the cultivation of the land, and had been dispossessed by them, but the suit was dismissed by the Courts below. The lower appellate Court based its decision on the ground that, as the plaintiff failed to prove the fact of his alleged partnership with the defendants, he could not succeed, though the Court found in the plaintiff's favour the other facts stated above. Held, in special appeal, that, as the suit was one to establish title and recover possession, the Judge should, on the facts found, and having regard to Regulation XVII of 1827, cls. 1 and 2, and Bombay Act I of 1865, have required the defendants to prove their claim to hold possession as against the plaintiff's right of occupation. TRIMBACK RANU v. NANA BHAVANI, 12 B.H.C. 144. [R., 13 M, 89.]

(52)—Ejectment—Possession — Onus.—Tenants long in possession and paying rent can only be ejected in a suit in a Revenue Court by a person entitled to receive rent. Where, in a suit for ejectment and possession, the defendant admits that the tenure of certain lands formerly held by him has passed to plaintiff, but that the lands in dispute do not form part of the tenure and are held by himself, under another title, held that it lay with the plaintiff to prove his case. The fact of the matter being peculiarly within the knowledge of the defendant did not vary the rule of law in respect to proof, and shift the onus on to the defendant GRIDHAR HARI v. KALI KANT ROY CHOWDHRY. 3 B.L R. A.C. 161.

Burden of proof*--continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(53)—Suit for possession, nature of grant, evidence of—Onus probandi.—Where, in a suit to recover possession of a mouza, granted by the plaintiff's ancestor to the defendant's ancestor as a jagir, on the allegation that it was an ordinary service jagir, the plaintiff filed a kabuliat executed by the defendant's ancestor, which went to support the plaintiff's allegation, and the defendant neither filed the auladad sannad in support of his allegation regarding the nature of the grant, nor accounted for its non-production, held, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree. THAKAR DOYAL v. RAM NARAIN SINGH, 8 C. 375.

(54)—Possessory suit—Jageer tenure—Burden of proving grant—Secondary evidence of pottah granting Jaghir.—In a suit to recover possession of certain lands upon the ground that they were granted as a jaghir tenure by plaintiff's ancestor to one P and his lineal descendants, and that such descendant, had failed: Held that it was necessary for plaintiff to prove the grant alleged in his plaint, without which no cause of action would have been shown; and, as the tenure was created in the usual and proper manner, i.e., by pottah and kabuliat, the latter would be in possession of plaintiff's ancestors. As this was not produced no secondary evidence given of it, and no foundation laid for giving such evidence, it was unnecessary to go further into plaintiff's case. MAHARAJAH JUGGERNATH SAHEE v. MUSSUMUT AHLAD KOWUR, 19 W.R. 140. [D., 8 C. 375].

(55)—Possessory suit—Allegation of management by defendant--Denial of management—Plea of title by purchase—Proof of thirty year's possession—Onus of proof.—In a suit for possession under the allegation that the property in dispute was under the management of the defendant, who denied management, and set up a title by purchase and proved a possession for more than thirty years, held that the plaintiff was bound to prove a possession for his benefit. BABOO KIRAT SINGH v. RAM DOSS, W.R. F, B. 8.

(56)—Suit for share of property on ground of joint living—Burden of proof.—In a suit for a share of property which plaintiff claims to hold through another with whom he lived jointly, the burden of proving that the other had been in possession within twelve years prior to the institution of the suit lay on the plaintiff. JUGGRUR NATH SURMA MOJOOMDAR v. RADHA NATH SURMA MOJOOMDAR, 24 W.R. 241.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(57)—Suit by donee for possession from defendant alleged to be in temporary possession—Proof of donors' title, if necessary—Permissive—occupancy—Remand.—A donee, under a deed of gift, brought a suit to recover a piece of land which he alleged, his donors had given for a temporary purpose to the defendant in possession six years before; and the Munsif found that it was so, and allowed the claim. But the District Judge, in appeal, considering that the plaintiff had failed to prove his donors' title to the land, reversed the Munsif's decree. Held that the Judge was in error in requiring the plaintiff to establish the title of the donors, without inquiring whether the defendant had obtained possession merely by their permission; and that the suit must be remanded for a finding by the District Judge on the point. SAKALCHAND SAVICHAND v. DAYABHAI ICHHAND, 4 B.H. C.A.C. 70. [R., 2 B. 299.]

(58)—Forest Act (Madras Act V of 1882)—Burden of proof—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 149.—Granting that it is incumbent on a claimant to certain land taken up by Government as forest reserve, in the first instance, under ss. 4 to 10 of the Forest Act, to prove some prima facie ground of ownership before Government can be called upon to disprove his title or prove its own, the onus is certainly shifted when the claimant starts with an admitted possession and enjoyment of thirty years. The Government cannot compel the claimant to prove sixty years' possession, but must show a subsisting title of its own, and the presumption in favour of Government is only as regards unoccupied land. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. KOTA BAPANAMMA GARU, 19 M. 165. [R., 13 P.L.R. 1903.]

(59)—Forest Act (Madras Act V of 1882), s. 6—Burden of proof—Presumption of title—Long possession.—Certain land was constituted a reserved forest under the Madras Forest Act, 1882. A person alleging that the jenm title was vested in his family, claimed the ownership. His claim was contested by the Government, on the ground that the land belonged to another family and escheated to Government. It appeared that the claimant's family was in possession for at least sixty years, though he was out of possession for six years prior to the notification. The escheat set up was not proved. Under these circumstances, the claim set up was allowed. Observations on the burden of proof and on the presumption of title arising out of possession. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BAUOTTI HAJI, 16 M. 315=2 M.L.J. 168.

(60)—Act IV of 1840, s. 3—Suit for possession of land attached under section—Burden of proof.—In a suit for possession of land attached under s. 3, Act IV of 1840, by a Magistrate, the burden of proof was held to lie on the plaintiff. MAHARAJAH MAHESHUR SINGH v. BABOO RAMAPUT SINGH, W.R. F.B. 7=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 35.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(61)—Bengal Act IV of 1840, award under —Title, proof of.—The plaintiff averring the defendant to be a trespasser, notwithstanding an Act IV award passed in his favour, may be called on by the plaintiff to prove his right and title to land; and, unless the defendant can establish that he holds the land in lease or in any other tenant right, the plaintiff is justified in regarding him as a trespasser and turning him out. BYDONAUTH SORBHON v. KENOORAM HOLDAR, 1 W.R. 210.

(62)—Possessory suit for land in another's occupation under Act IV award—Plaintiff acknowledged to be owner—Plea of hereditary right to land—Burden of proof.—In a suit by an owner a lakherajdar, to obtain possession of land belonging to a temple in the occupancy of another under an Act IV award, where the defendant claimed the land as sevait, held that the lakherajdar being the acknowledged owner of the land, the onus of proving a right to the possession thereof lay on the party claiming such right. MOOROLEE DHUR PANDAH v. MUTHOORANUND DOSS, 2 W.R. 152.

(63)—Purchaser ousted from possession by alleged donees—Award of Criminal Court—Burden of proof on dispossessors suing out their claim.—A, being in possession of lands, as purchaser, under deeds of sale from B the person last seized, was forcibly ousted from possession by C and D who set up a title to the lands, under an alleged deed of gift from B. A made a complaint to Foujdarry (Criminal) Court, and, under an order of that Court, was again put into possession; C and D being directed to institute a suit in the Civil Court, to establish their claim, which they accordingly did, relying upon their title, and impeaching the deeds of sale. In such circumstances, held by he Judicial Committee, reversing the decree of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlet of Bengal, (without prejudice, however, to any question which might arise between A and any other party claiming under B), that it was incumbent on C and D to prove their right to the lands claimed, before they could put A to proof of his title. RAM RUTTON RAE v. FURROK-OONNISSA BEGUM, 4 M I.A. 233.

(64)—Suit for possession of house with arrears of rent—Plea of sale under kobala—Burden of proving transfer.—In a suit to recover possession of a house with arrears of rent, where defendants plead that plaintiff had sold his rights by a kobala, the execution of which is admitted, it was held that the burden of proving the genuineness of the transfer lay on the defendant, as the plaintiff was found to be all along in possession by realisation of the rent. AJOODHIA SAHOO v. BISSEN LALL, 24 W.R. 212.

(65)—Suit against purchaser in possession for more than twenty-five years—Onus of proof.—In a suit against a purchaser in possession more than 25 years on the ground of having acquired the property in the exercise of the plaintiff's zemindari right upon the relinquishment or abandonment of the property, the onus was held to lie on the plaintiff. MADHUB CHUNDER GHOSE v. NILKANT SHAHA ROY, 2 W.R. 41.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(66)—Suit between zemindars as to salt lands relinquished by Government—Possessory award.—In a suit between zemindars as to salt lands relinquished by Government where one is in possession under a possessory award of the Criminal Authorities, the onus was held to lie on the plaintiff to show that the lands belonged to his zemindari. RAJAH LUCHMUN PERSHAD v. THE MAHARANEE OF BURDWAN, 17 W.R. 181.

(67)—Lessee's right to make contract detrimental to lessor's interests—Suit for title against party in possession under Criminal Court award —S. 530, Act X of 1872.—A lessee has no right to make any contract detrimental to his lessor's interest, which is to take effect after determination of his lease. In a suit for establishment of title against parties in possession under award of Criminal Court under Act X of 1872, s. 530, the onus is on the plaintiff. BABOO HURI RAM v. BHIKAREE ROY, 25 W.R. 20. [F., 9 C.L.R. 305.]

(68)—Party in possession of alluvial accretion under Magistrate's award—Burden of proof.—Where one party is in possession of alluvial accretion under a Magistrate's order, the onus of proof lies on the other party who sued for a declaration of right to and for possession of various titles in such accretions, failing to sustain which either has no case. HURRO SOONDUREE v. SONATON DASS, 25 W.R. 464.

(69)—Suit for possession—Defendant in possession under order under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code—Appeal.—Where the plaintiff sued for possession of land, of which the defendant was, by an order under s. 145, in possession, and has made good his title before such Court, on appeal, it is for the appellant (the defendant) to show that the judgment of such Court is wrong. It is not enough for him to show that the plaintiff's title is not free from doubt, but he must give some acceptable explanation of the circumstances which led the Court below to its conclusion. DINOMONI CHOWDHRANI v. BROJO MOHINI CHOWDHRANI, 29 C. 187, P.C. =29 I.A. 24=6 C.W.N. 386=12 M.L.J. 83=4 Bom. L.R. 187=8 Sar 224. (19 C. 660, F.)

(70)—Suit for possession after order under Bengal Act, VII of 1876.—In a suit for possession by a person, who has been declared to be out of possession under the Bengal Land Registration Act, the plaintiff must make out a prima facie case. MUDUN MOHAN PODDAR v. BHOGGOMANTO PODDAR, 8 C. 923.

(71)—Evidence Act, s. 110 — Possession—Proof of title.—In a suit to prevent the defendants from obstructing the plaintiff in his enjoyment of the fruits of certain trees, which he claimed as heir of a person who purchased that right, the defendants denied the existence of the right, and alleged possession and enjoyment in themselves. Held, that the District Judge, in appeal, having found the possession and enjoyment to be in the defendants, was right in throwing upon the plaintiff the burden of proving his title to the trees or their produce. Rule of evidence with reference to ancient documents stated. LALDAS RAMDAS v. KASHIRAM, 4 B.H.C.A.C. 60.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(72)—Evidence Act, s. 110.—The Evidence Act, s. 110, plainly lays down that the burden of proof lies on the party who is out of possession. NGA KYAW ZAN v. NGA SHAWE ZAN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 102. [Expl., L.B.R. 1893, —1900, 461, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 482; F., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 642, R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 85.]

(73)—Suit for possession—Defendant setting up title under unregistered sale—S. 110 Evidence Act—Onus.—Suit for possession of a certain land. The defendant in possession is shown to have acquired title by purchase under an unregistered sale-deed. The onus of proving that he is not the owner will, however, lie under s. 110, I.E.A. on the plaintiff. PIR BAKSH v. JHANDA MAL, 157 P.R. 1882 (102 P.R. 1879 121 P.R. 1882 R.) [F.; 2 P.R. 1885.]

(74)—Possession—Presumption—Onus of proving that person in possession is not owner—Ss. 109, 110 and 114, I.E.A.—The burden of showing that the defendant, who was admittedly in peaceable possession of a certain land for several years, was not the owner under s. 110, I.E. Act, lies on him who alleges that he was not the owner. But one presumption may be met by another. The Court may also under s. 114, presume if it thought it was probable, under the particular circumstances of any case and the common course of events, that a plaintiff's title, the existence of which is admitted until a certain date, continued in existence and might then put the defendant, though in possession, to the proof of his having acquired a valid title. HASSAN v. FAZAL WAHID, 121 P.R. 1882. (102 P.W.R. 1879. R.) [R., 157 P.R. 1882, 74 P.R. 1883, 126 P.R. 1884; F., 2 P.R 1885.]

(75)—S. 230, Act VIII of 1859—Decree-holder's right to dispossess contested—Regular suit unnecessary—Onus on applicant under section.—In the case of an applicant who, under s. 230, Act VIII of 1859, contests a decree-holder's right to dispossess him, without having to institute a separate suit, the burden of proving his case lies on the applicant. MAHOMED AUSUR v. PROKASH CHUNDER SHAH, 8 W.R. 8.

(76)—Suit for possession—Ejectment and forcible dispossession—Upper Burma Land and Revenue Regulation (III of 1889), s. 23—Waste land—Burden of proof.—Where, in proof of tenancy, a demand of rent and a promise to pay it is alleged, very strict proof should be given in support of it. The lower Courts should carefully notice and examine discrepancies and inconsistencies in evidence themselves, without passing them over and should not leave the task to be performed by the High Court. Claims to waste lands, surrounding or adjoining cultivated fields irrigated from tanks and channels belonging to private persons, should be treated as claims to bobo'aing and not to State lands. MA YAN v. MAUNG KIN U, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 224. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 360.]

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(77)—Dispossession of one share-holder—Act VIII of 1859, s. 230, claim under—Burden of proof.—Where, on the dispossession of one share-holder by another of a certain jalkar in execution of his decree, the dispossessed share-holder sued under s. 230, Act VIII of 1859, to recover possession of the same, alleging that the jalkar was left ijmali, and the decree-holder set up that the jalkar had been formed after the partition, and by diluvion of one of his own villages, held that the burden lay on the claimant to prove his case. UDAI TARA CHOWDRAIN v. KAJA ABDUL GANI, 8 B.L.R. App. 90. (6 W.R. 41, W.R. 1864, 267, R.)

(78)—Suit for possession of julkur—Onus.—In a suit to recover possession, as part of plaintiff's share of a pergunnah, of certain fisheries alleged to be part of a julkur mehal left by partition in the joint possession of all the shareholders, held that the plaintiff must start her case by proving that the fisheries formed a portion of the julkur mehal held ijmalee by the parties and that it was specially necessary for her to establish bona fide possession. WOODOY TARA CHOWDHRAIN v. KHAJAH ABDOOL GUNEE, 12 W.R. 16.

(79)—Attachment and sale of property in execution—Suit by claimant in possession to establish title—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VII of 1859), ss. 230, 246—Onus of proof on purchaser.—In this case, the claimant claimed that the attached property was his and that he was in possession of it when it was attached. His claim was rejected. In the suit that followed to establish his right, he proved his possession but failed to prove the title alleged by him. The Full Bench held that such possession having been proved, it lay upon the defendant to prove a title to the property in himself, or in the judgment-debtor, and in the absence of such proof, the plaintiff (claimant) was entitled to a decree declaratory of his right to the property as against the defendant. Where a person in possession of property, which is attached and sold as that of another, institutes a regular suit to establish his title, his possession in itself affords ground for an assertion of full proprietorship for the purposes of the suit, except so far as the right vested in the judgment-debtor can be shown affirmatively to contract or qualify it. So also, where a dispossessed party proceeds, under s. 233 of Act VIII of 1859, to vindicate the possession of which he has been deprived, although he may, at his option, give evidence of his title, he is not bound to do so, but may rest his right to recover on his possession, and cast upon the decree-holder the burden of proof of title, i.e., his right to disposses the applicant. PEMRAJ BHAVANIRAM v. NARAYAN SHIVARAM KHISTI 6 B. 213, F.B. [Diss., 17 C. 256; F., 1 Bom. L.R. 45; Appr., 1 S.L.R. 107; R., 8 B. 371, 1 C.P.L.R. 3, 13 A. 537=11 A.W.N. 196, 16 B. 722; 7 C.P.L.R. 3, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 32, 20 B. 270, U.B.R. 1892—1896. 619; R., 12 C.P. L.R. 59, 2 O.C. 3, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 270, 2 Bom. L.R. 628, 25 B. 287=2 Bom. L.R. 1121, 3 Bom. L.R. 246, 78 P.R. 1902=137 P.L.R. 1902, 2 L.B.R. 152, 5 Bom. L.R. 225, 3 L.B. R. 27, 9 Bom. L.R. 1801; R., 10 Bom. L.R. 571, 14 C.W.N. 141=2 Ind. Cas. 202.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—contd.

(80)—Suit for confirmation of possession—Lakheraj land—Admission of defendant—Onus on whom lies.—In a suit for confirmation of possession brought by the plaintiff in consequence of certain land within his zemindari having been sold in execution of a decree as lakheraj land, the defendant admitted that the lands in suit were within the boundaries of the plaintiff's zemindari. Held that the onus lay on the plaintiff to prove his possession. BABOO FURSEEDH NARAIN SINGH v. BISSESSUR DYAL SINGH. 7 W.R. 148.

(81)—Confirmation of title, suit for—Plaintiffs asserting possession without proof of title—Bona fide purchaser from ostensible owner—Onus probandi—Where a party asserting possession without evidence of title sues for confirmation of title against a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration without notice from the party in whose name the property stood, the burden of proof first rests with the plaintiff to establish his own title before the defendant can be called upon to do so. LEKHRAJ ROY v. MUTTY MADHUB SEN. 14 R.W. 95.

(82)—Claim as collateral heir—Onus probandi—Court of first instance shifting the burden of proof.—The onus is on a plaintiff, who institutes a suit as a collateral heir, to prove his title as such by descent. Where a claimant brought a suit for possession by right of inheritance, against the alleged adopted son of the last male owner, alleging himself to be the heir and denying that an adoption, purporting to be made by the widow, had been duly authorised by the deceased, the procedure taken by the Court of first instance, in proposing to make the establishment of the plaintiff's title depend upon the failure or success of the defendant in proving the adoption, was held to be an error. KALI KISHORE DUTT GUPTA MOZUMDAR v. BHUSAN CHUNDER alias BEPIN CHUNDER DUTT GUPTA, 18 C .201=17 I.A. 189, P.C.=5 Sar. 607.

(83)—Evidence Act, s. 110—Ejectment-suit—Long possession—Suit for possession—Allegation by defendant that plaintiff's long possession was only as tenant paying rent to him—Payment of rent not proved—Presumption—Finding by Court that plaintiff's possession was that of licensee—Court cannot set up case for parties.—It is usually for the plaintiff who seeks ejectment to prove his title. But when possession for thirty or forty years is proved to have been peaceably enjoyed, the person who has recently dispossessed such plaintiff has to meet the presumption of law, that the plaintiff's long possession indicates his ownership of the property. In an ejectment-suit, where the plaintiff had proved long possession, and the defendant alleged that plaintiff was in possession only as a tenant-at-will paying a certain rent to him, but failed to prove such receipt of rent, the proper inference to be drawn is that plaintiff's long possession was adverse. In the former, case, the finding by the lower Court that plaintiff's long possession was only that of a licensee was held to be improper, for that would be setting up a case for the defendant which he himself never set up. LACHHO v. HAR SAHAI, 12 A. 46=A.W.N. 1888, 43. [Cons., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. Evidence, 110; R., U.B. R. 1905, Evidence, 7.]

(84)—Such suit by purchaser—Onus of proof of exclusion from property within 12 years.—In such a suit by the purchaser of a share in joint family property, the onus of proving that the exclusion, if any, of the vendor from the property, took place within 12 years of the suit lies upon the purchaser.—Per Garth, C. J. RAM LAKHI v. DURGA CHARAN. 11 C. 680.

(85)—Two lesses claiming under same zemindar—Denial by zemindar—Onus of proof.—A and B claimed under leases from a zemindar, who supported the claim of A and denied that of B. Held that B must prove his title. RAM DHYAN MISSER v. MOURAKHUN ROY, 6 W.R. 155.

(86)—Executor de son tort—Possession of some properties of the deceased debtor—Liability to prove extent of property actually received.—Where it was found that the defendants took possession of some properties of a deceased debtor, held that this was sufficient to throw upon them the burden of proving that they did not receive so much of the property of the deceased as would satisfy the debt. Held also that the defendants were liable as executors de son tort. HAVA BHAYI v. LAKSMI DOSS THOPPAIN SAIT. 6 M L T. 362. (3 M. 359, F.)

See BURDEN OF PROOF—DECLARATION TITLE, 71 P.R. 1866, 66 P.R. 1867.

Suit for declaration of title by person whose objections to execution have been disallowed—Burden of proof—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, A.W.N. 1908, 125=30 A. 321=5 A.L.J. 601.

See CIV. PRO. CODE. 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 333.

Claim to attached property — Fictitious sale—Possession at date of attachment—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, 4 L.B. R. 228.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——28.—Possession and proof of title—concld.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 91, 101, 102, 110. L.B.R. 1872—1892, 133.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 110, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 474, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 371, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 416, 418, 421, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol II, Evidence 7.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 144, 27 C. 943, P.C.=27 I.A. 136=4 C.W.N. 597=2 Bom. L.R. 592.

Mortgagee ousted by trespasser—Adverse possession by trespasser against mortgagee, when good also as against mortgagor—Onus of proof—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 144, 18 B. 51.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 482, 494.

Suit for possession—Defence of limitation—Plaintiff to prove subsisting title—See POSSESSION—GENERAL, 3 A.L.J. 567=A.W.N. 1906, 234=28 A. 760.

What plaintiff has to prove in a suit where adverse possession is pleaded by defendant—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 73 P.L.R. 1906.

As to adverse possession among co-sharers—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 39 P.L.R. 1906.

Joint family property—Presumption in favour of joint possession by members—Exclusive possession by some members, effect of, on presumption—Onus of proof on party setting up joint possession—See POSSESSION—EVIDENCE OF POSSESSION AND TITLE, 11 B. 220, Note (a)=P.J. 1883, 259.

See POSSESSION—EVIDENCE OF POSSESSION AND TITLE, 11 B. 221, Note (b)=P.J. 1883, 262.

See POSSESSION—SUIT FOR FOSSESSION, A.W.N. 1887, 52, 14 W.R. 41, 18 W.R. 151, 8 B. 371, 51 P.R. 1904, 5 N.L.R. 33=2 Ind. Cas. 25.

Suit for possession—Title-deeds in plaintiff's name—Onus of proof—See TITLE, 6 B.L.R. 144.

——29—Pre-emption.

See PRE-EMPTION.

(1)—Suit to establish pre-emptive right—Proof of preliminary ceremonies—Appellate Court—Questions of fact—Reasons.—In a suit to establish a right of pre-emption held that the plaintiff was bound to prove the performance of preliminary ceremonies. It is not necessary for a Judge in every case to give his reasons in detail for agreeing with the lower Court on a question of fact, the case turning entirely on the weight of evidence. SYUD SHAH EKBAL HOSSEIN v. BUNSEE SAHOO, 25 W.R. 12.

(2)—Pre-emption—Allegation as to deed being ante-dated—Limitation Act, 1859, s. 1, cl. 1—Onus.—Where A seeking to enforce a right of pre-emption alleges that B's deed of purchase is ante-dated, the onus of proof is on A, who, on failure, is barred by cl. 1, s. 1, ACT XIV of 1859. KUMUR ALI v. AZMUT ALI, 8 W.R. 383.

Burden of proof*—continued.

——29.—Pre-emption—continued.

(3)—Pre-emption under Mahomedan Law—Onus of proof.—Where a party claiming a right of pre-emption impugns the correctness of the price stated in the deed of sale, the burden of proof is on him to show that the property had in fact been sold below the stated price. SHEIKH MAHOMED NOORUL HOSSEIN v. SHEIKH HYDER BUKSH, W.R. 1864, 304. [Con., 5 A. 184.]

